THE EX-QUEEN OF HAWAII.

BY HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD.

(Concluded.)

She has lived a spotless life as child, woman, and wife; It was not till she was fifty years old that scandal assailed her, and then only in furtherance of the plans for her overthrow. One who visits her islands, eight of the fourteen of which are in full civilization, will not only fail to substantiate one word of anything that has been uttered against her, but will find that it is all both untrue and impossible. She is a deeply religious woman, a member of the church, in good standing; one of her first acts after coming to Washington this year was to attend divine service and partake of communion. She is refinement itself; a lady who has visited in king's palaces and been received on equal terms by the Queen of England and other sovereigns. She has never been known by any near her to utter a questionable word or do a clandestine act. Her table is of the simplest; she never drinks wine there, nor has she ever been in the habit of taking anything of the sort in her life. She talks no gossip, and allows none in her presence; she has never been heard making an unkind remark about her enemies as individuals. That falsehood which has been most persistently urged against her is that she declared such people merited beheading. She never said it or anything like it. The agent who had called upon the other government, but granting her no such courtesy had summoned her into his presence, had a stenographer concealed behind a screen; and the stenographer, by a slight and careless movement, exaggerated the sign which signifies "punishment" into the sign which signifies "beheading." Doubtless the Queen might think that treason on her soil should receive the same treatment that it would elsewhere, but she said nothing about beheading. As a matter of record, in her official statement she promised them all amnesty. It was owing to her extreme horror of bloodshed that she surrendered her kingdom, relying on what she deemed a sufficient pledge, protection from the United States; and she said, only the other day, in the course of conversation, "I thank Heaven, at any rate, that I have no blood upon my soul!"

The Queen is the very soul of active charity. Her resources have never been large, as such things go, but she has spent them for others, not herself. Most of her jewels are the gifts of princes. She has now the property of her husband; the sum customarily voted her from the treasury and the revenue of the crown lands that belonged to her ancestors, amounting yearly to some eighty thousand dollars, more or less, has been appropriated by the new government. Besides her countless lesser charities and her support of a native retinue of three hundred she has maintained as many as twenty girls at the Missionary Seminary, and as many more at various other schools. Finding it necessary once to cut down the items of an appropriation bill, she said to her Minister: "It is going to be very hard for the poor school teachers to have their salary reduced. I will tell you. Begin with me." And she drew the pencil through the sum called her salary. She provided, moreover, for the maintenance and education of a great number of children. It is a Hawaiian custom, no matter how large the family already to adopt the child of a friend of the poor, of the unfortunate. The custom arising among the high chiefs, for the purpose of cementing affectionate relations between the great families, spread to the lesser

INTERCEPTED TELEGRAMS.

ANNEXATION CLUB TO THURSTON.—You draw like a soap and sugar poultice. What do you do with all the stuff we send you? We passed the hat again the other day among our business men and all of them, with the exception of the missionary firms, refused to dig up any more. One man put up but did not want to have his partner know about it. You cannot count upon receiving another remittance after this. Don't come home.

DOLE THE COURTIER.

It was amusing on Saturday afternoon to watch President Dole in his role as a courtier at the Maternity Home luau. The President of this "democratic" Government arrived accidentally a few minutes before the Queen Dowager, and waiting her arrival, assisted Kalakaua's widow from her carriage to the grounds of the Home. Some people wondered whether Dole remembered his position in 1887 when he was one of the five who — well, never mind it is ancient history; or whether he still remembers 1893; or whether—(most likely)—coming events are throwing their shadows ahead. It was a refreshing sight anyway.

ET TU BRUTE?

And now comes the Advertiser saying: "View the conditions from any standpoint desired the student of the situation cannot get away from the fact that Hawaii to-day is 'in the air.' Just where it will drop an all-powerful Providence alone can say." To what a lame and impotent conclusion have the conspirators of January, 1893, come when their organ can utter the above language. The "best government these islands ever had" has run public affairs until "Hawaii to-day is in the air."

The monarchy had both feet on the ground until the forces of the United States under Stevens and Wiltse overturned it, and would have had the conspirators "in the air" but for the said forces and all would have been well to day. However, we live in 1897 and by-gones should be by-gones.

But when the Advertiser attempts the pious act, in saying: "Just where Hawaii will drop an all-powerful Providence alone can say"—THE INDEPENDENT must put in a demurrer and hold the "best government" down in the court of Mr. Thurston's partner, where proceedings were first taken and have been continued up to this time. No praying good Lord and good devil. Should Providence take hold of Hawaiian affairs in dead earnest the "best government" may take to the woods. Just now Mr. Thurston and his partner have the swing!

SOME PERTINENT REMARKS.

We are permitted to make the following extracts from a letter from San Francisco, written by a gentleman who is well informed and who has exceptional opportunities for securing information: "The feeling in regard to annexation has changed; the very men who three years ago talked loudly of the American flag floating out in the Pacific Ocean, are now in favor of the policy of non-intervention. There are many causes which influence this change of opinion. The first is a far better acquaintance with the situation and the circumstances of the dethronement as you knew it on the spot at the time. The feeling amongst those sympathizing with the native Hawaiians is that they have been quiet hitherto because their Queen told them to remain so, with a view of having her wrongs righted by the United States, yet just as soon as it is known that the United States accepts the Senate report as final and will do nothing unless absolutely forced to act, the native people will no longer accept the condition of things, but make alliance with any disturbing element for the purpose of restoration of the monarchy. I think that so far as the present dread by the Dole government is sincere this is the course of things they fear. Then the tariff question with us is a very serious matter; we must have more revenue say the financiers. It is suggested that we have allowed 140,000,000 of sugar to come in free of duty in less than twenty years; that neither our own country nor Hawaii has benefited by it; that the treaty has been solely for the benefit of a few sugar planters who hoard their millions. This view of matters is helped along by the growth of the beet sugar interest, which has ceased to be an experiment. California, once your ally for closer relationship, now has the strongest of reasons for keeping you at a distance. The State needs the protection for beet sugar which a duty on your cane sugar will bring to her, and I see nothing but financial ruin for your sugar estates unless they can do business on a four to eight per cent profit. They can pay no such dividends as in the past. One man of whom it was asked what would become of the islands in case annexation was refused and abrogation of the reciprocity treaty became a fact, replied: 'They must go back to just where they were prior to 1878; their commercial prosperity was overthrown in 1893; the treaty never benefitted the common people and in time their situation would be as it once was.' It is hard to see or say how the treacherous overthrow of the former government has worked the ruin of the present rulers, yet such is the general belief. I have heard it said that the men now in power, if their pride would allow it, would like to see the monarchy reestablished. Claus Spreckels, who has done a great deal for the commerce of the islands is, I think, thoroughly sick of them; his capital and his interests in business are far more likely to be devoted to building up the beet sugar industry. In Washington just now it is all Cuba, upon which resolutions are offered in Congress and columns of discussion in the newspapers. You could not get up any excitement there just now on Hawaii whatever the issue."

There seem to be many people here who do not realize that Hawaii has a Hawaiian Press, which is entitled to the same courtesy and consideration as are the newspapers published in the English or other languages. There are newspapers here printed in the Hawaiian language which are read and known by many more people than are the "foreign" papers. Whenever the services of the Hawaiian papers are considered of consequence, the good people who manage "luau" enter-

Escaped From the Marion.

A sailor belonging to the U. S. S. Marion, who is under a very heavy sentence for having committed an unnatural offense, has succeeded in escaping in spite of being under a strict guard and it is stated in irons. No trace of the escaped convict has yet been found.

It is reported that the acting jailer will place a double guard at the jail to prevent the escaped sailor from entering the premises where a certain missionary pet is confined and that similar precautions will be taken at the Police Station where another "Wilde" has taken up his residence.

A Suggestion.

To-morrow is the Philadelphia and Marion's shore drill day. The troops will land at the usual hour. THE INDEPENDENT suggests an attack on Punchbowl for a change, the forces dividing for attack and defense.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The "Hawaiian Amusement Company" seems to have a patent back action that furnishes anything but amusement.

Messrs. Warren and Chamberlain of the police force have been more or less justly dealt with for violation of the rules set to govern them; while Lieut. Kekai and Gus Cordes are permitted to slip through the meshes of the same rules. Carry an even hand Mr. Marshal.

So Parson Beckwith went from Makawao to Wailuku to pray at the opening of the Second Circuit Court of this "funny little republic" that John W. Kalua presides over. You made a mistake, Mr. Beckwith, you should have come to headquarters; but, then, you might have failed just the same. "Like master, like man."

The Advertiser says: "The political and commercial stability of this country can be assured only by one of the great national powers reaching out a positive protecting arm." How would it do, by way of a change, to institute a home "government of the people, by the people and for the people." Just let the people have a word at the ballot box and let the majority have a voice in directing the so-called Republic of Hawaii.

There seem to be many people here who do not realize that Hawaii has a Hawaiian Press, which is entitled to the same courtesy and consideration as are the newspapers published in the English or other languages. There are newspapers here printed in the Hawaiian language which are read and known by many more people than are the "foreign" papers. Whenever the services of the Hawaiian papers are considered of consequence, the good people who manage "luau" entertainments, shows, etc., etc., can always find them. Whenever an exchange of courtesy is in order the Hawaiian papers are forgotten. Eventually the native press will not be as accommodating as it is at present.

The Hawaii Herald treats the killing of the Chinese contract laborer at Hakalau in a merry, sportive manner; hardly in keeping with its brave motto: "Independent in all things. Neutral in nothing." Civilization has not reached a high standard when its exponents may crack jokes over the remains of a Chinaman dove to death by cruelty that is barbaric. The killing of the Chinese at Lihue and Hakalau has its serious side to all but fools.

Combination of Congregations.

At the morning service of the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral, the Rev. Alex. Mackintosh gave notice of a meeting of the Congregation for 7:30 to-morrow evening in the Sunday School Rooms. It is understood that the subject to be discussed is the future welfare of the Church, and incidentally the union of the two congregations, a proposition which is supposed to have the warm endorsement of the Bishop and many excellent churchmen.

The Maternity Home Luau.

The luau given by the ladies connected with the Maternity Home on Saturday last was well attended and the financial result was highly gratifying to the management of that worthy institution. Many prominent citizens were present, with ladies and children and all enjoyed the sumptuous luau, the beautiful flowers, and other good things furnished by the leading ladies of Honolulu. It is understood that more than $1000 will be realized from the luau.

IT IS PURE.

Timely Topics.

Honolulu, June 5, 1897.

CREAM COMES FROM COWS

and so does milk. Probably you know that, but do you know that the De Laval Cream Separator is just the very thing you want, for it will save you in actual cash results, alone, at least $10 a cow a year, and make your dairy work profitable and satisfactory instead of the reverse. It saves in skimming and in churning, it saves in time and in labor, and IN ICE AND WATER, and that is important in view of the scarcity of that element, and a threatened drought. It ensures a pure product and an increased butter value, and while giving a much superior cream-REMOVES TUBERCULOSIS and disease germs and gives warm, fresh, sweet skin milk. Now the Alpha machines are the best simplest and most scientific in the market, and we can by special arrangement sell them at reduced prices. The "BABY" HUMMING BIRD is an easily operated hand machine, simple enough for a child to run, and just suitable for home use. There are other sizes. Then if you want a churn we can safely recommend our Cylindricals, from $2.50 upwards, or a good substantial box one. If you have a cow, and like to make your own butter for breakfast call and inspect our stock.

Sharkey Will Defeat Maher.

"There can be no doubt," says a prominent sportsman, "that Sharkey will defeat Maher when they meet at the end of this month." If this prophecy comes out correct the Sailor's victory can be attributed to the fact that he "rubs" his inner man down with the fine brand of O. P. S. whiskey now imported here by J. H. Lovejoy & Co., and cools off on pure Seattle beer, which wholesome beverages are now being served at the Anchor Saloon.

A GOOD BALL GAME.

The Regiments Defeat the Stars in a Close Game.

The game played on Saturday last on the Recreation Grounds between the Regiment and Star teams in the baseball championship series was one which well repaid those present to witness, and the absent ones lost the opportunity of seeing the most interesting game so far played this season. By reason of the rainy weather, which made the ball "greasy" and the ground slippery, the game was marked by numerous errors to either side, the Regiments making 10, and the Stars 8. The evenness of play made the game at times exciting, and the interest was maintained until the last innings. The Regiments had the game won two or three times but the Stars pluckily stayed on deck and bucked adverse fate in such a manner that it was a close call for the Regiments to pull out victors which they did finally in a score of 15 to 14. Time of game, 2 hours 20 minutes. Umpires, Whitney and Lucas. Scorer, Blackley. Following is the score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Stars	0	1	0	2	4	0	1	6	0-14
1st Reg.	3	1	0	1	2	3	3	2	*-15
Time...	8	15	9	13	22	14	20	23	7

FIELD NOTES.

A close call—15 to 14.
 'Twas a Star game, "allright, allright."
 Moore done more than his share. He was "in it" with both feet.
 THE INDEPENDENT called the turn right, "an interesting and hard-fought game."
 The Stars faced the music of the sphere as pluckily as usual.
 "Chester Lightdier" was a heavy weight at work in playing ball. Foul flies died in his hands.
 Umpire Harry Whitney minds neither wind nor weather. Wind was used for "time," but Harry said "nit."
 Duncan should be "roasted," only he is really not in condition, but worked hard.
 Old reliable "Duke" O'Connor stopped the game.
 Babbitt worked hard and made a good showing. Reserve Lionel was also on hand.
 A greasy ball and slippery play by both nines.
 Even the bleacher kids got "on to" Gorman when he "panted" in the 8th.
 Cincinnati, May 14th.—Cincinnati 6, New York 5; 11 innings. Both played ball in the presence of 4000 people.
 The exchanges say that the Australian players were "expected to be at least 3rd class professionals, but they are not even 1st class amateurs." Get on, some local club!
 Harry Wilder had short touch with several hot ones but severed connection quickly.
 Luahiwa's home run in the first was well earned. Gorman should have stopped that collision in the 5th.
 The audience was well pleased with the changeable events in the game.
 Both teams "played ball" for blood, never mind the errors; the weather and ground were against close play.
 Pahau, as usual, played well, but Gorman and Bowers did lay him out neat in the second.
 Moore is liable to be jailed for stealing so many bases. So are Mahuka and Percy Lishman.
 Gorman played well behind the bat, as did Cunha and Wilder, but some of their "second" throws were wide.
 Kaonohi held a hot one from Cunha, in the 6th, which gave the Stars a cipher instead of a tally.
 Scorer Blackley is the delight of the press "den." Affable and up to date.
 The chances are, that there will not be any game next Saturday. Too much horse.
 Gorman is all over the field in a ball game. On Saturday he got inside another mau's pants.
 They never stopped for weather, Both nines played ball together, And Gorman made much laughter, With his "change" pants on.

THE TUG-OF-WAR.

A Merry Time of It and a Good Evening's Sport.

There was plenty of fun and excitement at the opening night of the Tug-of War contest on Saturday at the Bristol's pavilion on the corner of Beretania and Alakea Streets, and the managers gave the large attendance full value for the gate money, and there were no kicks registered. The Hawaiian Quintette Club boys furnished capital music, and in fact by their muscle stirring strains of Moanalua scored a credit for that team, proving that music has charms to stir the hugging breast and make the manly bosom swell off into the muscular tissues of arms and thighs.

The able officers who honestly and judiciously discharged their important duties were, Judge, Thomas Wright; referee and starter H. E. Walker; time keeper, Charles Crane, and marker W. Nott.

The first contest was between two brawny, stalwart and massive teams of natives, handsome specimens of physical manhood, representing the Honolulu Iron Works and the Pakaka, or wharf boys. This was a splendid contest of 33 minutes, and then as the Foundry boys won to the 5 feet notch, the roof was lifted with such uproarious cheers that Dole Cabinet probably trembled at the thought of another revolution, but the military were not despatched to Tantalus or Waikiki.

Considerable interest was taken in the next tug, for the appearance of the team of the sailor boys of the Philadelphia was more promising than that of the Waikiki native fishermen and boat boys; but it was soon seen that the rule that appearances are often deceiving was a good thing to bet your hat on, for the kanakas downed the Navy in nine minutes.

The third pull should have been with a team that showed its discretion by running away to fight another day, so the Moanalua team was pitted against a scratch kanaka team. Things were going very evenly until the biased band boys struck up on their twangers "Moanalua." This was quite enough; the scratch team couldn't stand such "music" as that, and they quietly fainted away into ethereal space leaving their rope wraith as a memento in the hands of the boys from the haunts of Sunday luau, okolehao and other friskinesses.

To-morrow evening the contesting teams will be:
 1 U S S Marion vs Moanalua.
 2 Honolulu Iron Works vs Waikiki.
 3 Pakaka vs U S S Philadelphia.
 The admission will be of and 25 cents.

people, and became general. The Queen herself, although born of parents of sufficient resource, was adopted by the chief Paki, and brought up with his daughter, afterwards Mrs. Bishop. The children adopted by the Queen were of rich and poor alike, and this noble generosity of hers is one of the things that her enemies have misconstrued and used against her. It is not desirable here to speak of Hawaiian politics; but it is due to the Queen to say that those who wrested her power from her claimed that she had favored a lottery bill; they have omitted to say that the bill was passed in the Assembly contrary to her wishes, and that the power of veto had been taken from her. They then complained of an opium bill; but in this the Queen, finding it necessary to regulate a traffic which on account of the resident Chinese, it was impossible to abolish, had merely favored the adoption of measures in force under the rule of Victoria. They also omit to say that since her deposition the present government has itself sold a large quantity of opium. They further contended that she attacked the Constitution. But if our own Constitution allowed aliens, resident, but not citizens—indeed, the citizens of another nationality—to vote upon our affairs, we might think it worth while to change it. But here again it is omitted to say that it has always been a prerogative of the Hawaiian sovereigns to propose a new Constitution to the people when they chose.

When the Queen was made prisoner she was confined for eight months in her palace of Iolani, a large building of light coral stone, with columned front and galleries, standing among its palms and other tropical growth; behind it a magnificent mountain horizon, and before it the sea. Here she was at first allowed a prayer book, but not a newspaper. She loves her people passionately and pitifully; she has seen them dwindle from 400,000 at the time of the islands' discovery to the 40,000 of to-day; she knew that armed resistance meant their extermination. Doubtless she has heard the statement that such races go down before the conquering white race. Perhaps she hopes—I do not know—that the white race will here take advantage of its opportunity and for once forbear. At any rate, she believes, as we do, that government depends upon the consent of the governed, and remembers that to-day in Hawaii her people are disfranchised. She knows that they are intensely devoted to her and her rule, and give no consent or countenance to the plan which urges the United States to annex, fortify and defend a group of islands as far as Ireland is. It seems that all who, like myself, have no friendship, for monarchy, and believe in the least possible government, must yet feel that this people have a right to choose their own government, and must sympathize with an unfortunate and maligned woman.

Since coming to Washington the Queen has remained very quietly, receiving few guests. She is accompanied by her friend, Mrs. Kia Nahaolelua, by Mr. Joseph Heleluhe, her secretary for the last sixteen years, and by Capt. Julius A. Palmer, of Boston, who, having been resident in Hawaii on three different occasions, and having visited the Queen there, joined the party when he found her Majesty in need of some one conversant with American customs and affairs. Captain Palmer is a man who has taken cargoes of gunpowder round Cape Horn, with fire-balls playing about the mast-head, and he is not afraid to speak his mind, and he does not hesitate to say what he thinks of the present government of Hawaii, considering the Queen a greatly wronged person, and attending her now in the fulfillment of a promise made to the Hawaiians that should they at any time need his services they should have them—a promise of which they reminded him when the Queen came to our shores.

All these people are tenderly attached to the Queen, while her delicate sensitiveness to their feelings is hardly more than that which she shows to all with whom she comes in contact. Declining to see interviewers and promiscuous individuals here, she has now and then allowed a friend to visit her, and has received the ladies of the hotel where she stays, and the polite calls of various prominent persons. To the young girls of a school who wished to see her, her Majesty could not refuse an audience. "Oh, how beautiful are their sweet young faces!" she exclaimed as they came into the room; and before they left she said: "I wish to extend to you my thanks for the honor you have shown me by this visit. It shall always be remembered as a bright spot in my memory of this stay in America. I am glad to see you all, and to know that each of you is desirous of attaining intellectual advancement. It shows the progress of the world. The world cannot stand still. We must either advance or recede. Since my arrival in this country I have been impressed with its grandeur, but nothing more favorably impresses me than the advantages you have for learning. Again I desire to thank you, and I wish you all a prosperous and happy future."

The Queen spends a great deal of her time with her work and her music. She is a very accomplished musician, having reduced to notation many of the native airs, and having composed a great number of melodies and verses herself. But indeed there is little sweeter melody than the sound of the liquid Hawaiian vowels from her lips.—Harper's Bazaar.

Only Enterprise.

The first question put to Jim Dadd by the pilot yesterday, on board of the Australia was "did you bring a cable?" The next question was, "Jim, did you go to Washington?" Then came, "how about annexation?" Jim looked mysterious. He winked a wunk and then he said: "Come up boys to the Pantheon, and I will tell you all about my Enterprise" and the boys are coming.

Ned Doyle at the Cosmopolitan is recommending the celebrated Putnam's Blackberry Brandy, a tonic which is unrivaled, assisted by Jim Thompson formerly of the S. S. Australia an excellent "half and half" is served to the thirsty customers of the Cosmopolitan.

Buffalo Beer has proved its immense popularity at the Royal, Pacific and Cosmopolitan Saloons. The celebrated Pabst is also retained there in draft or in bottle. The interchangeable check system that has proved such a convenience to the patrons of these popular resorts is also in vogue.

One ounce of prevention is better than ten ounces of cure. The Empire boasts of infallible remedies against the varioloid. Wieland beer on draft beats vaccination, and Doctor Charlie Andrew presides over the finest stock of "remedies" that can be found in town. All for medicinal purposes—and cash.

Jurors as a rule get out now-a-days very late in the evening. In the morning the wise men who have been drinking the ice water of the Supreme Court and eating dry sandwiches need something to clear their throats. That is the reason why the Pacific Saloon serves Rye and Rye every morning to the "rocky" who walk through the Rye.

THE EX-QUEEN OF HAWAII.

BY HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD.

(Concluded.)

She has lived a spotless life as child, woman, and wife; It was not till she was fifty years old that scandal assailed her, and then only in furtherance of the plans for her overthrow. One who visits her islands, eight of the fourteen of which are in full civilization, will not only fail to substantiate one word of anything that has been uttered against her, but will find that it is all both untrue and impossible. She is a deeply religious woman, a member of the church, in good standing; one of her first acts after coming to Washington this year was to attend divine service and partake of communion. She is refinement itself; a lady who has visited in king's palaces and been received on equal terms by the Queen of England and other sovereigns. She has never been known by any near her to utter a questionable word or do a clandestine act. Her table is of the simplest; she never drinks wine there, nor has she ever been in the habit of taking anything of the sort in her life. She talks no gossip, and allows none in her presence; she has never been heard making an unkind remark about her enemies as individuals. That falsehood which has been most persistently urged against her is that she declared such people merited beheading. She never said it or anything like it. The agent who had called upon the other government, but granting her no such courtesy had summoned her into his presence, had a stenographer concealed behind a screen; and the stenographer, by a slight and careless movement, exaggerated the signs which signifies "punishment" into the sign which signifies "beheading." Doubtless the Queen might think that treason on her soil should receive the same treatment that it would elsewhere, but she said nothing about beheading. As a matter of record, in her official statement she promised them all amnesty. It was owing to her extreme horror of bloodshed that she surrendered her kingdom, relying on what she deemed a sufficient pledge, protection from the United States; and she said, only the other day, in the course of conversation, "I thank Heaven, at any rate, that I have no blood upon my soul!"

The Queen is the very soul of active charity. Her resources have never been large, as such things go, but she has spent them for others, not herself. Most of her jewels are the gifts of princes. She has now the property of her husband; the sum customarily voted her from the treasury and the revenue of the crown lands that belonged to her ancestors, amounting yearly to some eighty thousand dollars, more or less, has been appropriated by the new government. Besides her countless lesser charities and her support of a native retinue of three hundred she has maintained as many as twenty girls at the Missionary Seminary, and as many more at various other schools. Finding it necessary once to cut down the items of an appropriation bill, she said to her Minister: "It is going to be very hard for the poor school teachers to have their salary reduced. I will tell you. Begin with me." And she drew the pencil through the sum called her salary. She provided, moreover, for the maintenance and education of a great number of children. It is a Hawaiian custom, no matter how large the family already to adopt the child of a friend of the poor, of the unfortunate. The custom arising among the high chiefs, for the purpose of cementing affectionate relations between the great families, spread to the lesser

INTERCEPTED TELEGRAMS.

ANNEXATION CLUB TO THURSTON.—You draw like a soap and sugar poultice. What do you do with all the stuff we send you? We passed the hat again the other day among our business men and all of them, with the exception of the missionary firms, refused to dig up any more. One man put up but did not want to have his partner know about it. You cannot count upon receiving another remittance after this. Don't come home.

DOLE THE COURTIER.

It was amusing on Saturday afternoon to watch President Dole in his role as a courtier at the Maternity Home luau. The President of this "democratic" Government arrived accidentally a few minutes before the Queen Dowager, and waiting her arrival, assisted Kalakau's widow from her carriage to the grounds of the Home. Some people wondered whether Dole remembered his position in 1887 when he was one of the five who — well, never mind it is ancient history; or whether he still remembers 1893; or whether — (most likely) — coming events are throwing their shadows ahead. It was a refreshing sight anyway.

ET TU BRUTE?

And now comes the Advertiser saying: "View the conditions from any standpoint desired the student of the situation cannot get away from the fact that Hawaii to-day is 'in the air.' Just where it will drop an all-powerful Providence alone can say." To what a lame and impotent conclusion have the conspirators of January, 1893, come when their organ can utter the above language. The "best government these islands ever had" has run public affairs until "Hawaii to-day is in the air."

The monarchy had both feet on the ground until the forces of the United States under Stevens and Wiltse overturned it, and would have had the conspirators "in the air" but for the said forces and all would have been well to day. However, we live in 1897 and by-gones should be by-gones.

But when the Advertiser attempts the pious act, in saying: "Just where Hawaii will drop an all-powerful Providence alone can say"—THE INDEPENDENT must put in a demurrer and hold the "best government" down in the court of Mr. Thurston's partner, where proceedings were first taken and have been continued up to this time. No praying good Lord and good devil. Should Providence take hold of Hawaiian affairs in dead earnest the "best government" may take to the woods. Just now Mr. Thurston and his partner have the swing!

SOME PERTINENT REMARKS.

We are permitted to make the following extracts from a letter from San Francisco, written by a gentleman who is well informed and who has exceptional opportunities for securing information: "The feeling in regard to annexation has changed; the very men who three years ago talked loudly of the American flag floating out in the Pacific Ocean, are now in favor of the policy of non-intervention. There are many causes which influence this change of opinion. The first is a far better acquaintance with the situation and the circumstances of the dethronement as you knew it on the spot at the time. The feeling amongst those sympathizing with the native Hawaiians is that they have been quiet hitherto because their Queen told them to remain so, with a view of having her wrongs righted by the United States, yet just as soon as it is known that the United States accepts the Senate report as final and will do nothing unless absolutely forced to act, the native people will no longer accept the condition of things, but make alliance with any disturbing element for the purpose of restoration of the monarchy. I think that so far as the present dread by the Dole government is sincere this is the course of things they fear. Then the tariff question with us is a very serious matter; we must have more revenue say the financiers. It is suggested that we have allowed 140,000,000 of sugar to come in free of duty in less than twenty years; that neither our own country nor Hawaii has benefitted by it; that the treaty has been solely for the benefit of a few sugar planters who hoard their millions. This view of matters is helped along by the growth of the beet sugar interest, which has ceased to be an experiment. California, once your ally for closer relationship, now has the strongest of reasons for keeping you at a distance. The State needs the protection for beet sugar which a duty on your cane sugar will bring to her, and I see nothing but financial ruin for your sugar estates unless they can do business on a four to eight per cent profit. They can pay no such dividends as in the past. One man of whom it was asked what would become of the island's in case annexation was refused and abrogation of the reciprocity treaty became a fact, replied: 'They must go back to just where they were prior to 1878; their commercial prosperity was overthrown in 1893; the treaty never benefitted the common people and in time their situation would be as it once was.' It is hard to see or say how the treacherous overthrow of the former government has worked the ruin of the present rulers, yet such is the general belief. I have heard it said that the men now in power, if their pride would allow it, would like to see the monarchy reestablished. Claus Spreckels, who has done a great deal for the commerce of the islands is, I think, thoroughly sick of them; his capital and his interests in business are far more likely to be devoted to building up the beet sugar industry. In Washington just now it is all Cuba, upon which resolutions are offered in Congress and columns of discussion in the newspapers. You could not get up any excitement there just now on Hawaii whatever the issue."

There seem to be many people here who do not realize that Hawaii has a Hawaiian Press, which is entitled to the same courtesy and consideration as are the newspapers published in the English or other languages. There are newspapers here printed in the Hawaiian language which are read and known by many more people than are the "foreign" papers. Whenever the services of the Hawaiian papers are considered of consequence, the good people who manage "luaus" entertainments, shows, etc., etc., can always find them. Whenever an exchange of courtesy is in order the Hawaiian papers are forgotten. Eventually the native press will not be as accommodating as it is at present.

Escaped From the Marion.

A sailor belonging to the U. S. S. Marion, who is under a very heavy sentence for having committed an unnatural offense, has succeeded in escaping in spite of being under a strict guard and it is stated in irons. No trace of the escaped convict has yet been found.

It is reported that the acting jailer will place a double guard at the jail to prevent the escaped sailor from entering the premises where a certain missionary pet is confined and that similar precautions will be taken at the Police Station where another "Wilde" has taken up his residence.

A Suggestion.

To-morrow is the Philadelphia and Marion's shore drill day. The troops will land at the usual hour. THE INDEPENDENT suggests an attack on Punchbowl for a change, the forces dividing for attack and defense.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The "Hawaiian Amusement Company" seems to have a patent back action that furnishes anything but amusement.

Messrs. Warren and Chamberlain of the police force have been more or less justly dealt with for violation of the rules set to govern them; while Lieut. Kekai and Gus Cordes are permitted to slip through the meshes of the same rules. Carry an even hand Mr. Marshal.

So Parson Beckwith went from Makawao to Wailuku to pray at the opening of the Second Circuit Court of this "funny little republic" that John W. Kalua presides over. You made a mistake, Mr. Beckwith, you should have come to headquarters; but, then, you might have failed just the same. "Like master, like man."

The Advertiser says: "The political and commercial stability of this country can be assured only by one of the great national powers reaching out a positive protecting arm." How would it do, by way of a change, to institute a home "government of the people, by the people and for the people." Just let the people have a word at the ballot box and let the majority have a voice in directing the so-called Republic of Hawaii.

The Hawaii Herald treats the killing of the Chinese contract laborer at Hakalau in a merry, sportive manner; hardly in keeping with its brave motto: "Independent in all things. Neutral in nothing." Civilization has not reached a high standard when its exponents may crack jokes over the remains of a Chinaman done to death by cruelty that is barbaric. The killing of the Chinese at Lihue and Hakalau has its serious side to all but fools.

Combination of Congregations.

At the morning service of the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral, the Rev. Alex. Mackintosh gave notice of a meeting of the Congregation for 7:30 to-morrow evening in the Sunday School Rooms. It is understood that the subject to be discussed is the future welfare of the Church, and incidentally the union of the two congregations, a proposition which is supposed to have the warm endorsement of the Bishop and many excellent churchmen.

The Maternity Home Luau.

The luau given by the ladies connected with the Maternity Home on Saturday last was well attended and the financial result was highly gratifying to the management of that worthy institution. Many prominent citizens were present, with ladies and children and all enjoyed the sumptuous luau, the beautiful flowers, and other good things furnished by the leading ladies of Honolulu. It is understood that more than $1000 will be realized from the luau.

CREAM COMES FROM COWS

and so does milk. Probably you know that, but do you know that the De Laval Cream Separator is just the very thing you want, for it will save you in actual cash results, alone, at least $10 a cow a year, and make your dairy work profitable and satisfactory instead of the reverse. It saves in skimming and in churning, it saves in time and in labor, and IN ICE AND WATER, and that is important in view of the scarcity of that element, and a threatened drought. It ensures a pure product and an increased butter value, and while giving a much superior cream REMOVES TUBERCULOSIS and disease germs and gives warm, fresh, sweet skin milk. Now the Alpha machines are the best simplest and most scientific in the market, and we can by special arrangement sell them at reduced prices. The "BABY" HUMMING BIRD is an easily operated hand machine, simple enough for a child to run, and just suitable for home use. There are other sizes. Then if you want a churn we can safely recommend our Cylindrials, from $2.50 upwards, or a good substantial box one. If you have a cow, and like to make your own butter for breakfast call and inspect our stock.

Sharkey Will Defeat Maher.

"There can be no doubt," says a prominent sportsman, "that Sharkey will defeat Maher when they meet at the end of this month." If this prophecy comes out correct the Sailor's victory can be attributed to the fact that he "rubs" his inner man down with the fine brand of O. P. S. whiskey now imported here by J. H. Lovejoy & Co., and cools off on pure Seattle beer, which wholesome beverages are now being served at the Anchor Saloon.

A GOOD BALL GAME.

The Regiments Defeat the Stars in a Close Game.

The game played on Saturday last on the Recreation Grounds between the Regiment and Star teams in the baseball championship series was one which well repaid those present to witness, and the absent ones lost the opportunity of seeing the most interesting game so far played this season. By reason of the rainy weather, which made the ball "greasy" and the ground slippery, the game was marked by numerous errors to either side, the Regiments making 10, and the Stars 8. The evenness of play made the game at times exciting, and the interest was maintained until the last innings. The Regiments had the game won two or three times but the Stars pluckily stayed on deck and bucked adverse fate in such a manner that it was a close call for the Regiments to pull out victors which they did finally in a score of 15 to 14. Time of game, 2 hours 20 minutes. Umpires, Whitney and Lucas. Scorer, Blackley. Following is the score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Stars	0	1	0	2	4	0	1	6	0	—14
1st Reg.	3	1	0	1	2	3	3	2	*	—15
Time...	8	15	9	13	22	14	20	23	7

FIELD NOTES.

A close call—15 to 14. 'Twas a Star game, "allright, allright."

Moore done more than his share. He was "in it" with both feet.

THE INDEPENDENT called the turn right, "an interesting and hard-fought game."

The Stars faced the music of the sphere as pluckily as usual.

"Chester Lightdier" was a heavy weight at work in playing ball. Foul flies died in his hands.

Umpire Harry Whitney minds neither wind nor weather. Wind was used for "time," but Harry said "nit."

Duncan should be "roasted," only he is really not in condition, but worked hard.

Old reliable "Duke" O'Connor stopped the game.

Babbitt worked hard and made a good showing. Reserve Lionel was also on hand.

A greasy ball and slippery play by both nines.

Even the bleacher kids got "on to" Gorman when he "panted" in the 8th.

Cincinnati, May 14th.—Cincinnati 6, New York 5; 11 innings. Both played ball in the presence of 4000 people.

The exchanges say that the Australian players were "expected to be at least 3rd class professionals, but they are not even 1st class amateurs." Get on, some local club!

Harry Wilder had short touch with several hot ones but severed connection quickly.

Luahiwa's home run in the first was well earned. Gorman should have stopped that collision in the 5th.

The audience was well pleased with the changeable events in the game.

Both teams "played ball" for blood, never mind the errors; the weather and ground were against close play.

Pahau, as usual, played well, but Gorman and Bowers did lay him out neat in the second.

Moore is liable to be jailed for stealing so many bases. So are Mahuka and Percy Lishman.

Gorman played well behind the bat, as did Cunha and Wilder, but some of their "second" throws were wide.

Kaonohi held a hot one from Cunha, in the 6th, which gave the Stars a cipher instead of a tally.

Scorer Blackley is the delight of the press "den." Affable and up to date.

The chances are, that there will not be any game next Saturday. Too much horse.

Gorman is all over the field in a ball game. On Saturday he got inside another man's pants.

They never stopped for weather, Both nines played ball together, And Gorman made much laughter, With his "change" pants on.

THE TUG-OF-WAR.

A Merry Time of It and a Good Evening's Sport.

There was plenty of fun and excitement at the opening night of the Tug-of War contest on Saturday at the Bristol's pavilion on the corner of Beretania and Alakea Streets, and the managers gave the large attendance full value for the gate money, and there were no kicks registered. The Hawaiian Quintette Club boys furnished capital music, and in fact by their muscle stirring strains of Moanalua scored a credit for that team, proving that music has charms to stir the hugging breast and make the manly bosom swell off into the muscular tissues of arms and thighs.

The able officers who honestly and judiciously discharged their important duties were, Judge, Thomas Wright; referee and starter H. E. Walker; time keeper, Charles Crane, and marker W. Nott.

The first contest was between two brawny, stalwart and massive teams of natives, handsome specimens of physical manhood, representing the Honolulu Iron Works and the Pakaka, or wharf boys. This was a splendid contest of 33 minutes, and then as the Foundry boys won to the 5 feet notch, the roof was lifted with such uproarious cheers that Dole Cabinet probably trembled at the thought of another revolution, but the military were not despatched to Tantalus or Waikiki.

Considerable interest was taken in the next tug, for the appearance of the team of the sailor boys of the Philadelphia was more promising than that of the Waikiki native fishermen and boat boys; but it was soon seen that the rule that appearances are often deceiving was a good thing to bet your hat on, for the kanakas downed the Navy in nine minutes.

The third pull should have been with a team that showed its discretion by running away to fight another day, so the Moanalua team was pitted against a scratch kanaka team. Things were going very evenly until the biased band boys struck up on their twangers "Moanalua." This was quite enough; the stratch team couldn't stand such "music" as that, and they quietly faded away into aetherial space leaving their rope writh as a memento in the hands of the boys from the haunts of Sunday luau, okolehao and other friskinesses.

To-morrow evening the contesting teams will be:
1 U S S Marion vs Moanalua.
2 Honolulu Iron Works vs Waikiki.
3 Pakaka vs U S S Philadelphia.
The admission will be of and 25 cents.
