

A Newspaper Published Weekly. HAWAIIAN ISLANDS $5.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

SAVED BY THE PRESS. SATURDAY OCTOBER 1, 1894

NO POLICY. If the writer were asked to name the besting sin of newspaper reformers, he would answer "smartness."

It is the practice of many residents of these islands to import from San Francisco and eastern cities goods and products of various sorts, for their private use.

As if this were not bad enough, the government itself continues this policy of several years past.

These islands are very small—in area and in population. We have a community of interests.

As the government of this kingdom is at present constituted, it is impossible to maintain a civil service as the highest point of efficiency.

The death of Henry May is a loss to the community and to the commonwealth. The nation can ill spare a single citizen of such independence, integrity, charity and kindness.

last legislature had denounced the Gibson policy in every specific detail of its rank viciousness.

And yet what is the use of all this without organization and trusted leadership. Organization that shall mean anything more than a great deal more than content itself with "the formation and the public expressing of healthy sentiment."

The English speaking portion of the Independent press is most noteworthy a very harmonious regard for the welfare of the party.

The wealthy citizens of Honolulu have not done their duty in the matter of cleanliness. We cannot depend forever upon the friendly trade winds.

The people of Kohala have generously contributed money sufficient to purchase a school building.

Adulteration prevails in every composite article which enters largely into human consumption, and it is alleged some years since by Doctor Hassell that even the meat sold in the poorer quarters of London is not always what it seems.

The Candian Pacific railway has barely passed the summit of the Rocky Mountains, by the way of Bow Pass.

It is now certain that the outbreak of cholera in Europe, of the present year, has not nearly the intensity it had on former occasions.

compulsory disinfecting process, prevail upon them to exchange their first-class tickets for the return halves of the local tickets which the enterprising natives have just bought—giving, of course, a substantial consideration for the exchange.

A newly-invented safety brake for vessels is now in use on the great lakes of the United States and Canada. It is constructed as follows: On each side of the vessel's stern is hinged a great iron, 9x9 1/2 feet made of boiler iron, braced by angle iron.

An ingenious French noble, who was out of elbows, discovered a new opening for impecunious members of his class. It is to "recognize" children who are inscribed at mayoralties as beneficiaries of unknown fathers.

There is altogether too much of good-doing in the methods often urged to reach and influence young men and women in behalf of their life and duty.

Lochman, a Pennsylvania photographer, has been taking some photographs of plants which are the delight of botanists, and of great assistance to physicians, since the species illustrated are chiefly those having medicinal properties.

The U. S. consul-general at Frankfurt, Germany, states some interesting facts which show how little basis of truth there is in the often impressed notion that the fondness of Germans for beer saves them from the evils of intemperance.

A Hindoo outlaw of the genuine Robin Hood type has for some time been baffling all the attempts which the Indian police have made to capture him.

Of all out-of-the-way modes of earning a living, perhaps the most curious is that which is flourishing just now at Geneva—being disinfectied!

As the mail leaves here in an hour, I drop you a line to acknowledge the receipt of Mrs. Armstrong's letter of April the 20th.

Long may they live, happy and good. In the evening a most brilliantly dressed assemblage met by invitation at the palace and the evening passed off apparently much to the pleasure of all.
