ARMY VETERANS TO ORGANIZE

All men who served honorably between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, in either the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, and who were honorably discharged from such service, and are citizens of the United States, and are now on Kauai, are requested to meet at the County Building, in Lihue, at 7:30 p. m., on Saturday, September 20th, 1919, for the purpose of organizing a Local Post of the American Legion of the Territory of Hawaii.

The American Legion is an organization of American Veterans of the World War. It is non-partisan and non-political. It is a civilian organization—not military or militaristic. Nearly all of its members are men who were civilians before the war, and are now again civilians. It makes no distinctions of rank and no distinctions between overseas men and men who did not get overseas. The Territorial Organization has already been established and it is desirable that there be one or more local posts on Kauai. The above meeting is called by authority of the Territorial Executive Committee.

William Grote Receives Promotion

Wm. H. Grote, for the past ten years head bookkeeper for Lihue Store, has been chosen as manager of Kealia Store, the change to take place the first of October. This is a well deserved promotion, and the management of Makee Plantation is to be congratulated upon their choice. Mr. Grote is a wide awake, up-to-date young business man and has the training and experience necessary to conduct a successful business in these strenuous times.

During their long residence in Lihue, Mr. and Mrs. Grote have made many true friends, who, though rejoicing in their good fortune will be genuinely sorry to see them leave.

It is understood the Makee Sugar Company will establish a branch store at Kapaa in the near future, which will also come under the management of Mr. Grote.

Important Notice

The following announcement, received this morning, is of more than usual interest to Kauai folk: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Horner request the honor of your presence at the wedding reception of Miss Phyllis Raab and Mr. Albert Horner, Jr. on Tuesday, Sept. 30, 1919, at half after eight o'clock, 2433 Nuuanu Avenue, Honolulu, Hawaii. At home after October 20, Kapaa, Kauai.

The Mauna Loa will take passengers at Nawiliwili on Thursday next.

Mr. E. A. Corey, of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A., is spending a week on Kauai studying the work of the local association with a view to entering a similar field elsewhere. Mr. Corey is an entertainer of recognized ability. He will visit a number of the Y clubs and contribute his own program. Lihue Sunday Evening Club will have him next Sunday night.

Mr. T. H. Gibson, assistant superintendent of the board of education, spent a good part of last week on Kauai looking into school matters. For most of the time he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wishard. He returned to town on Saturday.

Delinquent Tax Payers Must Dig

J. S. Gawne, of the Internal Revenue Department, arrived Friday morning. He has a list of firms and individuals who failed to make their returns, and says he intends to see them all. He says it will be much better for the delinquents to call on him at the Lihue Hotel than for him to have to hunt them up. Delinquent tax payers are subject to a penalty running all the way from twenty-five to fifty percent, according to the circumstances of the case. So those who want consideration shown them, would do well to call on him.

Mr. Gawne will be on Kauai two weeks or so and his services will be at the disposal of those who desire help on their individual or corporation income tax returns.

BASE BALL NOTES

We have panned little Joe Tuxera pretty severely once or twice when he was playing short. The trouble was Joe was not in his right position. When he was taken out of short and put in the field he immediately made good. Joe is a dandy little stickler and stands third in Lihue's batting list with 322 average.

Bob Okuda, Lihue's star twirler, is also the star stickler of that aggregation, and wins the silver cup offered by Capt. Fernandez for the best batter in the team. With 20 times at bat, Bob bangs out 11 hits for an average of 550. Enoka Lovell takes second place with an average of 333.

There were about 150 machines parked around the field at Waipouli Sunday. Honolulu fans take notice.

Dock Wood, the Makee's old war horse, plays the game every minute and we hope to see him on the mound again next season.

Denchi was the head ump last Sunday and was most satisfactory at that thankless position.

The Lihue baseball team will give a dance at the Armory on the evening of October 4th. A committee has arrangements in hand and promises an enjoyable evening to everybody that comes. This will be a fine opportunity to meet the new school teachers of the island. An admission of $1.00 for gentlemen will be charged.

To the Philippines

Mr. and Mrs. A. Grandhomme, for years resident at Hanamaulu, are leaving for the Philippines today. Mr. Grandhomme has secured an excellent position as chemist and sugar expert at La Carlotta Central, on the Island of Negros. La Carlotta is the largest mill in the Philippines, and everything there is civilized and up-to-date, even to the climate.

H. Andermann, Jr. is the engineer there, and there are a couple more leading men from Hawaii.

Lihue Team Wins Championship

With a record of only one game lost during the season, Lihue cinched the cup by beating the Makees in a runaway game at Waipouli last Sunday.

The game was a play-off to decide the championship of the second series both teams being tied for first place with one game lost for each team.

It could hardly be called a game—it was a slaughter, in which the dauntless old warrior, Doc Wood, met his Waterloo and was hammered out of the box.

Lihue scored in every frame with the exception of the seventh and seemed to be able to place their hits just where they would do the most good.

Score 23 to 3

With the exception of the third inning, in which they scored three runs, the Makees got goose eggs, and at the end of the long, drawn out game it was found that Lihue had amassed twenty-three runs.

It was not expected, however, even by the Makees themselves, that they would win, as they did not have the cracker-jack line-up they had handed Lihue her only defeat on July 24th. The backbone of the Makee team were Wolters, Bun Hee and Lazima, who are students in Honolulu, and had to go back to school, so could not be present at this most important game. The Makees are all good sports, however, and have no kick coming. They are satisfied, that the cup and the championship is on their side of the island.

An Enjoyable Dance At Lihue Hotel

An impromptu dance was arranged at Lihue Hotel last Friday evening at which a goodly number of Lihue's young folks gathered and had a most enjoyable time. The event was in honor of the young ladies who arrived last week to teach in the Lihue schools.

Returning to School

The young people returning to school swelled the Kinau passenger list to the utmost capacity of the accommodation on Saturday, and there were anxious fears that she might not be able to take them all.

Among those leaving for the various school openings were: Mortimer and Homer Lydgate, Josephine Moragne, Corey and Imogene Menefoglio for Punahou; Paul Rice, Neill Moler, Nelson Young, Hugh Brodie and Harold Danford for H. M. A., and a number for Kamehameha and Mills.

The Hanapepe Lands

One needs to go away from home to get the news. "Facts about Sugar" reports that negotiations have been opened by the Territorial Government with the Hawaiian Sugar Company, and Gay & Robinson, looking to the continued cultivation of the Hanapepe lands.

SERVICES RESUMED

Church services will be resumed this coming Sunday at Lihue Union. A large attendance is requested, and a good start for the new year.

Sunday School will be resumed at the same time.

J. M. LYDGATE.

Mrs. Lucy Wright of Waimea returned from town this morning.

All Pau

The baseball season is pau and has been an unqualified success. The class of ball played throughout was far ahead of any other season we have had, and the attendance at the games goes to show that practically the whole population of our island are rabid fans. This speaks well for the future of the game on Kauai.

The season just ended was started two weeks too late, as the school boys had to return to Honolulu before the season was over, thereby seriously crippling some of the teams. The next season should start about the middle of June.

The Champions

It must be acknowledged by everyone that Lihue has developed a mighty good ball team. A great many of their games were won in the last innings, by a single run or so, and seemed to be just luck. But to the close and unbiased observer, it is something else beside luck. It was teamwork and the thing they call inside baseball.

Capt. John Fernandez

Capt. John Fernandez is responsible for the Lihue team. He knows baseball inside and out, and this knowledge he has used to develop a team that would win games when they looked like they were lost. He trained his team to follow his signals both at bat and when in the field. He, with the generous backing of manager Moler, has worked untiringly and deserves a lot of credit for the excellent machine he has created.

Moonshiners Get Seven Months

The two moonshiners, Kinosta and Miyamoto, gathered in by J. S. Gawne revenue agent, on his first visit to Kauai, received seven months each at the hands of Judge Vaughan of the United States District Court. If a few more amateur distillers were gathered up in this community and handed similar sentences it would have a wholesome effect.

Getting Ready for Action

Attorney General Harry Irwin was on Kauai last week on matters pertaining to the condemnation of the land required for roadways and warehouse sites for Nawiliwili Harbor.

Mr. Irwin says that Governor McCarthy and he are going to Washington in January, and that if the Kauai Chamber of Commerce and others interested, will guarantee that railway connections will be made when needed, and send that guarantee to the Governor, he will take it to Washington and present it. He believes that is all the Government will require to get work started on the harbor.

It is now up to the Kauai Chamber of Commerce to get the necessary guarantee.

Miss Gertrude Cutler, who taught in the Kauai High and Grammar School two years ago, returned last Tuesday to again take up her duties in that school. Miss Cutler spent last year as principal of a school in her home town in Boston, but longing for Hawaii, and especially Kauai, was too great, so she has joined the Come Back Club.

V. Cobacha, who has been long in the sheriff's office, is leaving for the Philippines where his intelligence and native ability will give him signal advantages.

Personals

Miss Elsie Wilcox returned to Lihue this morning.

Mrs. P. L. Rice returned from Honolulu this morning.

Miss Wilson, who will be one of the teachers at the Kauai High School, arrived Friday morning.

Wm. McCluskey, principal of the Kauai High and Grammar School, accompanied by his family, returned Friday morning from their vacation. They spent part of their vacation at the Kilnuea Summer Camp.

Albert Horner, Jr., went to town on Saturday for a few days and returned this morning.

Mrs. Ralph Wilcox spent a few days in Lihue last week, and returned to town on Saturday, where she will remain indefinitely.

Sister Albertina, who has been visiting Mrs. Isenberg, returned to town by the Kinau Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Romane of Koloa, were passengers to Honolulu Saturday. They are off for a two week's vacation in the course of which they will visit Molokai.

James Kula, formerly of Koloa, was a Honolulu passenger by the Kinau Saturday. Mr. Kula intends to return to Koloa in the near future to settle there again.

Wm. Stewart went to town on Saturday for a few days, in connection with the A. S. Wilcox estate.

Laws, the roof man, said a temporary good bye to his friends on the wharf on Saturday. He will be back again.

Mrs. H. T. Sheldon, formerly of Kealia, returned to Kauai this morning. She will teach at Kapaa school.

Mrs. A. G. Kaulukou returned from Honolulu this morning.

The Eggerking family, bag and baggage left by the Kinau on Saturday. For long years they have been living at Waialua where Mr. Eggerking was in charge of the ranch interests of Lihue Plantation.

Capt. and Mrs. Geo. B. Leavett of Port Allen left by the Kinau on Saturday on the way to the mainland for a vacation holiday of three months or so.

Mrs. Burke left Kauai for good on Saturday, having settled up her affairs and sold off her household goods, at Kapaa. She will resume work at Ewa, where special advantages will be given her by way of return for the unfair treatment she has received at the hands of the Board of Education. Thus Kauai loses a most efficient teacher, and a most valuable factor of child welfare and school betterment.

Furniture for School Cottage

At a meeting of the interested parents of the grammar grades of the Kauai High School, held at Lihue Monday evening, it was decided to furnish the school cottage, and Mrs. W. H. Rice and Mr. McCluskey were appointed a committee to attend to the matter as promptly as possible. The cost of the same will be made up by subscription among those interested.

There was some disposition to undertake the furnishing of all the school cottages in the district, but this was finally decided as too big an undertaking, as well as, perhaps unwise in view of the fact that there is an appropriation of $5,000 for this purpose.

Chas. M. Kephart Arrives

Mr. Chas. M. Kephart, sales agent for the Pond Company, Ltd., arrived on the Kinau this morning and will be on Kauai about two weeks. The purpose of Mr. Kephart's visit is for the purpose of interesting Kauai capital for investment in his company. During his stay Mr. Kephart will make his headquarters at the Lihue Hotel.

Cheatham Gets Concession

E. M. Cheatham has secured the hau wood concession for the Government Waialua lands at 85 cents a cord. The upset price was 50 cents. The sale was by auction. Hau wood is good, bad, and indifferent. Much of this is good, being mature wood of long standing.

Philippine Sugar to Go to Japan

A new departure in sugar marketing comes onto the stage in the disposal of the greater part of the growing Philippine crop to Japan. San Carlos has sold to Japanese buyers and Calamba has been offered ten cents a pound for the balance of the 1919 crop.

Most of the Philippine crop heretofore has gone to the Western sugar refinery in San Francisco, the loss of which now gives room for a much larger proportion of Hawaiian sugar, so that hereafter it may not be necessary to send any more of our sugar to the Eastern sea board—a manifest saving of freight expenses.

Insurance Survey

G. E. Kastengren, insurance surveyor is on Kauai making an insurance study of all the manufacturing plants, sugar mills, canneries etc. This includes careful plans showing all necessary details of fire information which will affect insurance risks and insurance rates.

These plans will be published in atlas form, and will be of great possible value to insurance companies and others interested in such information. This survey of the Island will take about two weeks.

Mr. Kastengren is an expert on this sort of thing with many years experience. He comes from Seattle.

To Use the Waialua Water

The proposed Waialua water scheme is roughly as follows: The Lihue Plantation Company will impound the Waialua water and thus secure an adequate supply for its own needs, and furnish water to homesteaders. The plantation will pay for the water it uses, and will turn over to the Government all profits on the sale to other purchasers in excess of six percent.

Properly safe-guarded, this is a proposition worthy of the most favorable consideration. It is a shame and an economic disaster to have water running to waste and lands lying idle for lack of the initiative and enterprise to use to use them.

DECADENCE OF COUNTRY LIFE

Whether or not the Hawaiian race as a whole is passing away, it is pretty evident that it is passing away from the country places.

A few years ago Wainiha was one of the most populous and independent of rural Hawaiian communities. They owned their kuleanas and their Hui lands, and were content to stay on them. They raised their own taro and other produce, had cattle more or less, caught fish in river and sea, and were nearly self contained and contented. The valley was dotted all over with simple homes and cultivated fields, even far mauka.

But that is mostly gone now, and lone mango trees, or clumps of flowering ginger, or red-leaved foliage plants, betoken, in the wilderness, the places where homes used to be.

What has happened? The old people who were bred on the land and attached to it are dead, and the young people have moved away to town; partly because of the superficial attractions of the town life, but partly also because they were no longer able to make a living in the simple ways of their fathers.

The almost universal blight of the taro crop has made it very difficult, if not impossible, for the ordinary Hawaiian to produce his living from the soil. It is simpler and safer to lease his lands to the Oriental for rice and seek a home and work elsewhere. And once having got weaned away from his childhood home, he never comes back to it.

It is perhaps one of the inevitable changes that may not be prevented however it may be deplored. To one who has known the valley intimately for years back, and every one in it, it is a melancholy experience to inquire about the sturdy leading families one after another, and learn that they are all gone, dead or moved away.

PRICES

A dollar is worth what you can get for it. A dollar now isn't worth much because you can't get much for it. It will be worth more next year and twice as much five years from now when production catches up with demand.

Profiteering, no doubt, has something to do with the present depreciated value of the dollar but it is not the big factor.

In 1865, according to a Chicago accountbook dated February 21, 1865, Chicago consumers were paying 29 cents a pound for sugar, a dollar a gallon for kerosene oil, two dollars a pound for tea, and seventeen cents a pound for rice. Even in the face of present high prices a dollar now is worth about twice as much as it was then.

It was worse after the Revolutionary War. Martha Washington paid three dollars a pound for sugar, one to two dollars a pound for meat, and $25 a bushel for wheat.

The moral of all this is that prices are going down within the next five years which means that a dollar saved today will be worth at least twice as much five years from now. Therefore cut out luxuries and some necessities. Invest every dollar you can in United States War Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates. They bring four per cent interest compounded quarterly. Five years from now $4.12 will be worth nearly ten dollars, taking into consideration interest and a certain drop in prices as production catches up with demand.

RUBBER STAMPS made at this office on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

CHILD WELFARE

The Kauai Child Welfare Board appointed, by the Governor recently in pursuance of act 129 of the last legislature, met on Wednesday evening last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lydgate in Lihue and organized for business by the election of C. B. Hofgaard as chairman, and J. M. Lydgate as secretary.

A study of the act revealed the fact that the authorized activity of the Board is limited to the assistance of needy widows with children, and apparently does not include any other children, however needy they may be.

For this specified purpose the Board may call upon the County Supervisors for the necessary funds for such work.

Attention was called to the fact that cases of extreme need are found mostly among those not appurtenant to the plantations, such as homesteaders, small farmers, rice planters etc. unattached to large interests. The plantations, as a rule, are very ready to care for any needy individuals among their people.

Mrs. Glaisyer was appointed a committee of the Board to make investigation and report on any cases of need that may come under the law.

The members of the Board are C. B. Hofgaard, J. M. Lydgate, Dr. J. M. Kuhns, Mrs. A. R. Glaisyer and Miss Elsie Wilcox. Judge Dickey as judge of the Juvenile Court is also an ex officio member.

The World Price of Sugar

From Facts About Sugar)

Under existing conditions the question of what is the actual world price of sugar is an interesting one. It is a question more difficult to answer than one unacquainted with the situation might assume. Before the war there was no difficulty in determining the world market price because of the quotation f. o. b. Hamburg was universally recognized as the world basis, even though it became at times a purely theoretical figure so far as concerned its relation to sales values in any particular market.

With the outbreak of the war Hamburg quotations ceased and "Hamburg parity" has now become an obsolete term in sugar reports. With available supplies far below normal consumption the governments of the various belligerent nations found it necessary to establish control both of prices and distribution and the prices thus fixed bore no direct relation to the rates that would have prevailed under the unrestrained operation of demand and supply. As the principal consuming and producing nations were directly involved in the war the prices established by authority of their governments became the basis for such sales to neutral countries as were permitted.

Regulations and agreements governing prices and distribution are still in effect in most of the belligerent and in many of the neutral states. The principal European nations, under the necessity of collecting vastly greater revenues than formerly, have imposed very heavy taxes on sugar so that within their borders, even though they were not artificially regulated, would not represent the equivalent of a world valuation. The nearest we can come to an accurate estimate of the figure that will represent the present world price is by considering quotations for shipments f. o. b. in those primary markets in which prices are not controlled, or c. i. f. at ports of principal consuming countries.

Another difficulty is met in the fact that there are almost no sugars available for prompt shipment in any market. Such sales as are being made are mainly for future delivery. With the greater part of existing stocks under control, both as to price and distribution, the offers made by purchasers who have particularly urgent requirements to meet do not represent the true ratio of supply and demand under conditions that would exist were a free movement permitted.

Of the primary markets not under restriction as to prices the most important are those of the Far East. In Java recent f. o. b. quotations for late delivery from the crop now in the making are given as approximately 10.5 cents a pound for whites while reported sales of Philippine centrifugals at between eight and 8.5 cents f. o. b. Manila for delivery after January first are not far below parity with this quotation. Reports are current that small transactions in refined held in second hands have taken place in the New York market at 12 cents. These represent speculative transactions or sales to necessitous purchasers and are too small in volume to establish a basis that might be accepted as normal in the absence of restrictions upon general wholesale prices. Statements of recent sales c. i. f. European ports indicate that the reported Java figure perhaps comes nearest to a reasonably accurate indication of the world price under existing conditions. Would these quotations hold good if all restrictions upon prices and distribution were removed? It appears probable that a steadily ascending price scale would rule for the remainder of the year in view of lack of available stocks to meet world demands, and that wholesale prices for refined ranging as high as 15 cents might become a reality before the turn of the year made available fresh stocks in large volume.

Such a wholesale price as this, however, with the addition of the heavy taxes that must be paid by European consumers, would result in a sharp scaling down of European consumption and it seems reasonable to anticipate that a movement toward a more normal price level would set in as soon as new crop supplies became available in considerable quantities. The leading European governments already are taking steps to supervise purchases, regulate distribution and limit consumption during the coming year. Apparently, therefore, the consuming markets that will be in a position to offer whatever prices may be necessary to attract supplies will be very limited in the extent of their requirements. It is reported that unofficial representations already have been made to the government of the United States and Cuba suggesting concerted action for the stabilization of prices and for the adoption of measures to assure an equitable distribution of available supplies.

With the final removal of control, whether at the end of this year or next, where will the world price be determined? From present indications the New York quotation on export refined and the quotation for Cuban raws c. i. f. New York will provide the most reliable basis for determining world values. New York is the natural clearing house for the sugar of the Western Hemisphere and the probable continuation of an extensive export business in refined, in view of the fact that no other country has any considerable surplus refining capacity, will tend to make this port, for some time to come at least, the principal sugar mart of the world.

A Great Gain

The United States has made rapid studies in exporting chemicals and dyestuffs. $75,000,000 worth of chemicals were exported in 1918, a gain of $148,000,000 over that exported in 1913, while $17,000,000 worth of dyes were exported in 1918.

Previous to that never more than $500,000 worth were exported as over against imports of the same commodity running all the way from ten to fifteen million dollars a year. Never again will we be forced to look to Germany for large supplies of dyes.

The temporary Waiakalua bridge, on the road to Kilauea is being replaced by a durable concrete structure. This is one of a lot of bridges taken out a few years ago by a big storm, and the temporary bridge installed there was intended only as an emergency affair to meet immediate demands.

A Sound Investment

When a rapidly growing corporation in a city with such a brilliant future as that of Honolulu offers you shares of stock at par, you have a proposition well worth considering.

When you realize the rapid growth of Honolulu in the past five years and the expansion of the automobile business and the assured continuance of thier growth, you will readily see why an increase in our capital is necessary in order to handle the ever-increasing volume of business.

When you are informed that this concern has grown from a small company of $13,000 to its present size, with a capital of over $165,000, you will admit that the Pond Company, Ltd., offers one of the most attractive and soundest investments in Honolulu's future prosperity.

The following table will show at a glance the rapid growth of this Company in three years.

Date	Capital	No. of Stockholders
May 31, 1916	$ 13,700	4
Dec. 31, 1916	20,800	11
June 30, 1917	28,930	15
Dec. 31, 1917	33,650	17
June 30, 1918	33,650	17
Dec. 31, 1918	64,050	18
Jan. 31, 1919	66,100	30
Mar. 31, 1919	66,350	31
Apr. 30, 1919	73,850	31
May 31, 1919	74,850	49
June 30, 1919	103,140	228
July 31, 1919	131,340	410
Aug. 31, 1919	159,060	500
Sept. 9, 1919	165,000	510

The last six months has seen such a great expansion in our business that we found it necessary to increase our capital stock from $75,000 to $200,000, and since placing this stock on the market the response has been so enthusiastic that without any great effort on our part we have already doubled our original capital and have less than $35,000 worth left for sale.

Here is an opportunity to become financially associated with an established Honolulu business whose plans and policies are in accord with the best business practices

The Wainiha Hui

The regular annual meeting of the Wainiha Hui was held at the Hui House on the beach at Wainiha with a fair attendance of those interested recently.

After the manner of that Hui there was a luau at noon which always helps to stimulate the attendance and keep up the interest. The usual reports were presented and accepted, the various officers were re-elected and the annual dividend was declared, $15 a share, about as usual.

This is perhaps the most successful and best conducted Hui of its kind on the Islands. Very largely because of its guaranteed income from the Kauai Electric Co. for the water-power, on a basis of $1500 a year for 50 years. There were originally 71 shares, practically all held by local Hawaiians. These original shares have been very largely divided up among heirs, and by sale, and nearly half of them have drifted into the hands of three or four interested parties the chief of which naturally is the Kauai Electric Co.

That the lease to the Kauai Electric Co. was a wise one is evident from the fact that shares are worth five or six times what they were before that deal was made.

Figures About the War

Our two years in the war cost us about 22 billion dollars or more than a million dollars an hour. Starting at less than $100,000 an hour for the first three months, the cost rapidly increased, until during the last year it was nearly 2 million an hour.

Germany spent 39 billion, the British Empire 38 billion, France 26, Austria Hungary 21, Russia 18, Italy 13, Turkey three, and Japan and Greece one.

The American war dollar was partitioned roughly as follows:—Quartermaster's department for supplies, food, equipment, clothing etc., 44 cents; the ordnance department 29 cents; the paymaster's department 13 cents; air service 6 cents; engineers 4 cents; medical department 2 cents; miscellaneous 2 cents.

A little over two million men reached France and of these 1,390,000 saw active service at the front. At the battle of St. Mihiel 550,000 Americans were engaged which is more than five times as many as fought on the northern side in the battle of Gettysburg. The American artillery fired in this battle more than a million shells, which is the most intense concentration of artillery fire recorded in history. The Meuse-Argonne battle lasted forty seven days, during which 1,200,000 American troops were engaged.

The biggest ship in the transport service was the "Leviathan" formerly the Hamburg-American liner the "Vaterland,"—the fastest were the "Great Northern" and the "Northern Pacific." The "Leviathan" landed 12,000 men a month in France, and the "Great Northern" made full return trips in 19 days.

The largest response to the call to the colors came from the central or Mississippi Valley States from North Dakota to Texas. The poorest response came from the extreme East and the extreme west, New England on the one side and California on the other. The above statistics are from the Independent.

TALENTED ACTRESS
PLAYS MINOR ROLE

In Elsie Ferguson's newest Art craft picture, "The Marriage Price," which will be shown at the Tip Top theatre next Thursday, Zelda Crosby, long associated with the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, will be seen in a minor part. Miss Crosby, while as talented and as beautiful as many of the stars in the motion picture firmament, is one of those young women who appreciate that all cannot be stars, else there would be nobody to play the small parts. She is therefore quite satisfied to do little character studies and ingenue roles that particularly suit her, as she did in "Prunella" and "Bab's Diary," with Marguerite Clark, and later with Miss Ferguson in "A Doll's House."

But aside from her work before the camera, Miss Crosby has a special line that very few women have attempted. She is an expert in the technique of continuity and is in daily consultation with some of the best known scenario writers who constantly seek her advice and never find her lacking in the information they desire. She has written several complete scenarios herself and is a tireless worker when she has a plot to weave into a screen story.

FROM BROADWAY TO DESERT BIG JUMP

Running the gamut of human emotions from the pleasure-hunting crowds that throng the Great White Way to the grim battle for existence in the Great American desert, "Partners Three," the new Paramount picture, starring Enid Bennett, will be shown at the Tip Top theatre next Saturday.

It tells the story of a girl who longs to be removed from the distasteful life of cabaret dancer and who accepts a Westerner's proposal of marriage as her salvation, only to discover, too late, that the man with whom she has linked her life is a drunkard and a coward.

She is first seen in a mental struggle, trying to maintain her ideals amid surroundings of depravity; later she appears in a fight against nature, lost on a desert where she is confronted by the immensity of space, the poison of reptiles, the lack of water; and still later she must battle against society, trying to uphold the cause of charity in the face of false ideals of propriety.

It is one of the greatest emotional parts ever entrusted to Miss Bennett, and gives her a wonderful scope for acting. It was designed to portray a woman confronted with all the great problems of life—the struggle against nature for existence, the inward fight for the establishment of ideals and the relationship she must bear to society and its laws. The story was written by J. G. Hawkes, and the director was Fred Niblo, husband of the star.

There is no better business investment than simple courtesy. It costs less than any other factor of business success,—it yields better return on the investment than any other factor.

Precious Stones in Hawaii

No one dreams of finding precious stones in Hawaii, that is, anywhere outside of a jeweler's store surely not in a state of nature. Yet they are to be found—very commonly, and in considerable quantities.

Among the precious stones mentioned in the Bible there is one called chrysolite; this is known to science as olivine, and that is a pretty common mineral in these Islands. In the perfect specimen it is a yellow, transparent crystal, of various and rather complicated crystalline structure, varying from the size of a pin-head to that of a large pea, or a small marble. It somewhat resembles an emerald but is a warmer, yellower, green.

Many of the lavas are stirred thick with these crystals, like currents in a pudding, and in places the volcanic sand is very largely made up of them. The difficulty is to find perfect specimens that are clear, transparent and free from flaws. But when such are found they can be cut and mounted, so that they make very attractive jewelry.

A prominent man in Honolulu has a large and valuable collection of them, running into the hundreds, all graded and classified, as well as a bag full of more or less promising possibilities.

From boyhood up he has had an eye out for them, but without making any great haul, until a few years ago he was prospecting the desert lava wastes of Kau, on Hawaii, and stumbled onto a veritable mine of them, where you could take them out by the shovel full. It was from here that he got most of his collection.

Like all jewels, they have to be cut—really ground—to bring out the beauty; and like a diamond in the rough, an olivine in the rough isn't much to look at. When cut and polished these olivines, small size, are worth $20 or $25.

This gentleman has had a very rich and elaborate necklace specially designed and made for his wife, in which these olivines of uniform size, scores of them, are set in combinations with seed pearls. It is a very unique as well as beautiful thing, and she is naturally very proud of it.

There are plenty of olivines on Kauai. We recommend the boys and girls to keep an eye out for them—but we warn you that you will find a great many before you will get one clear enough and sound enough to warrant cutting.

CONGESTION AT LANDING.

The largest measure of congestion yet seen at the Nawiliwili landing was that of last Saturday when the machines were two or three tier deep all the way from bridge on the East to the foot of the hill on the West.

This means that the roadway is cramped to a narrow irregular thread through which navigation is dangerous to both cars and pedestrians.

The need of additional parking space becomes more and more imperative with each passing week.

PETITIONS

The right to petition is one of the inalienable rights of a free people, and one which, it is to be hoped, they will not lightly surrender or neglect. But—there is undoubtedly a good deal of bunkum, and manipulation about petitions and their signature, which tends increasingly to discredit them, so that more and more they will go, more or less directly, into the waste paper basket.

There are doubtless some petitions which a man really wants to sign, and will make an effort to do so—but mostly he signs as the line of least resistance—often without taking the trouble to read the petition or get any clear idea of what it is all about. We are in receipt of a "Meter-Gram" petition from the mainland with a booklet of 23 pages telling all about it and why, and ending with two coupon sections of the same to be signed and forwarded to President Wilson and Premier David Lloyd George. And—we signed and forwarded the same. No, we didn't read the booklet, and don't know what it is all about, but guess it is a good thing.

The almost universal reason for signing a petition is that somebody wants you to, it costs nothing and you don't want to refuse. Even with intelligent and responsive yourself and indolent—aff with ignorant and indifferent people it is more so.

Many of the long petitions, here and elsewhere, are monuments to the patience and perseverance, or shall we say, the impertinence, of those who have interests to farther by means of them—an axe to grind.

The Governor has them pretty well sized up. Not long ago in private conversation he said, "Oh well, a good many of these petitions don't amount to much! Perhaps you have heard the story of Judge Wiedemann's experiment to prove it. He got up a petition to have a bridge built from Honolulu to Lahaina so that people might be saved the evils of sea-sickness,—and he got hundreds of signatures."

The moral is: Sign when you want to—otherwise, don't!

If you have anything to sell, or there is something you want, put a little notice in the Garden Island, and you will get results. It does not cost much.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Board of Supervisors

To the Editor of the Garden Island:—Adverse criticism, perhaps, is human nature,—at least the common way of comment is the adverse way. I wish to register an exception. It is with regard to our Board of Supervisors.

No intelligent, fair minded man, I believe, can read the monthly record of the County Supervisors, and check it up by what he sees in practical accomplishment, without being impressed by the excellent quality of the work that they are doing. They are all busy men, of necessity pretty closely tied down to their daily vocations,—it is most commendable that they give so much intelligent attention to County affairs. The affairs of the County constitute a big business, widely scattered and of the most various and heterogeneous nature,—that they should know how to handle it wisely and efficiently, and that they should be willing to give the time and attention to it, which it requires these are qualifications which are worthy of public recognition and praise.

We are fortunate in having trained men. Experience is a most valuable asset in supervisors, as well as in other trades and professions. In addition to good nature ability we have mostly men who have seen a good many years of special service, and during these years they have gained a lot of most valuable special knowledge of the problems with which they have to deal.

Furthermore there is a stability and coherence about the policy of such a Board, that can't be expected from one whose personnel is shifting all the time, and which has one policy today and an entirely different one tomorrow.

They are fair-minded men, alive of course to the interests of their own particular districts, but also alive to the interests and well-being of the County at large. Whatever factional lines of cleavage there may have been in other lines of life, they have not jarred the unity and sanity of the Board of Supervisors.

Every worthy interest can count on a fair and impartial consideration, and a square deal on its merits.

Finally they are men of integrity. It is significant that in all these years there has never been a breath of suspicion or reflection on the absolute honesty and business integrity of our Board of Supervisors. No one has even suggested an "investigation" of any kind. No one has seen the shadow of a "nigger in the wood pile;" and there have been no rows or rackets within the fold, with loud recriminations, and large head lines in the Honolulu papers. They have been public servants with a large sense of responsibility, going about their business and doing it well, and without any flourish of trumpets or beating of drums.

We may well take great satisfaction in our Board and in the good work which they have uniformly done in all these years, and I beg to bear this testimony to their integrity and efficiency,—and I have no axe to grind.

THE Y. M. C. A. AND SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Editor Garden Island—Since some kind friend in last week's issue of the Garden Island mentioned the Y. M. C. A. as giving silent approval to Sunday movies as shown by its failure to be represented at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors when the Sunday ordinance was passed, be it known to all men just what the Y. M. C. A. stands for with respect to the Sunday question.

The Y. M. C. A. was represented at the first meeting considering the question of granting the petition of Mr. Fernandez and voiced its objections clearly. The result was that action on the matter was deferred until the next meeting. At the time of the second meeting however all three Kauai secretaries were in conference at Honolulu. At this conference with some 35 secretaries present and voting the Young Men's Christian Association of Hawaii defined their attitude and went on record as favoring, first, the Saturday half-holiday to be generally granted to laborers; second, the support of all regularly conducted religious services on Sunday; third, the favoring of Sunday afternoon recreational sports.

We regard Sunday in America as a Christian holiday, instituted and maintained by the Christian church. If anyone is inclined to dispute this we refer him to American history. It would be presumptuous upon the readers' intelligence to cite the facts. While it is now a matter of law of the several states it nevertheless grows out of the spirit of the Declaration of Independence, the modern political creed of all liberty-loving nations. In this great declaration, second in sacredness only to the Bible itself in the hearts of the American people, the Christian's God is mentioned four times in as many different ways.

If history does not furnish reasonable evidence of the connection between Christianity and the Sabbath, we may point to the non-Christian nations today—do they have a rest day once in seven? Do our Oriental neighbors on Kauai, excepting the Christians, observe the day of rest? Look in the rice fields and fishing quarters next Sunday before you answer.

We submit therefore that the American Sunday is a sacred day of rest instituted by Christianity in lieu of the Hebrew Sabbath. Is it fair play then to devote the entire day to personal business or pleasure, without supporting materially and morally the Christian organizations primarily responsible for maintaining such a day? Are the people who spend Sunday forenoon shooting doves, Sunday afternoon at the baseball game, and Sunday evening at the movies really good sports?

We do not object to the movies on Sundays as such. We show them ourselves occasionally on Sunday as most up-to-date churches do on the mainland.

It is the spirit of the day for which we contend. We object on the one hand to the commercializing of Sunday; on the other, to the keeping of Sunday hilarious instead of keeping it holy. Of course if it is the policy, like some governments, to prevent the mass of people from ever thinking a serious or lofty thought, this jaz program for Sunday is most efficacious. We waited to see if the people of Kauai really approved of the Punahou team playing baseball on Sunday morning at the church hour and were glad to note that some did not. That game certainly contradicted the convictions of Punahou's founders.

The Y. M. C. A. believes in keeping the Sabbath holy. We allow plenty of freedom of conscience in determining just what sort of restriction that means. But we feel safe in our stand that it forbids the commercializing of Sunday and allows some time to worship. We believe in plenty of fun, an abundance of recreation, moving pictures, church and social pleasures all in their proper places. We believe in the Americanization of the stranger within our gates and that those of us who are free-born have a responsibility to our weaker brothers that we cannot escape.

We believe in the spirit of American manhood as expressed by the man whom Marshall Foch styled "the greatest individual hero of the war" and to which the American people assented by the reception they gave to Corporal Alvan C. York of Tennessee. This true-blue American killed 20 Germans, captured 132 prisoners, put 35 machine guns out of action and broke up an entire battalion in the Argonne sector on October 28th. On the fourth-of-July last, while Dempsey and Willard were pommeling each other to amuse 40,000 people at Toledo, O. York was being welcomed on this sacred American holiday by 100,000 church folks at Columbus in the same state. When the Columbus throng became quiet enough for him to be heard, York made a short, simple speech, with scarcely a reference to his historic exploits in battle, closing with these words: "People ask me what I am most interested in, whether in movies or vaudeville, or something like that. Well, the thing I am most interested in is Christianity and what I can do to help those who have drifted away from God get back to Him. The greatest work in the world is the spreading of the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Kauai Y. M. C. A. stands for that type of American manhood and will strive both Sundays and week days to develop it.

J. O. WARNER.

Editor Garden Island—As there has been a great deal of publicity lately in regard to Kauai school affairs, I think a little more wont do any harm and request that you publish the three enclosures in your next issue.

Yours truly,
ERIC A. KNUDSEN.

Kekaha, Kauai, T. H.,
Sept. 8, 1919.

To the People of Kauai:
Greetings: I just want to express my thanks to the 758 friends of Kauai, who in no uncertain manner showed their appreciation of my work as School Commissioner for Kauai for the past four years. It has been my constant aim to improve the standard of teachers, and today the schools of Kauai are better equipped than ever to furnish the children of Kauai with better education.

Unfortunately the Governor has seen fit to take sides in a purely local fight and has listened to a few lies emanating from the office of the counsel hired by my opponents.

It is not for me to question the Governor's right in seeking for my resignation and I gladly hand back to him the office to which he appointed me on the 4th of August, but I just want you all to know that I appreciate the unsought and wholehearted support given me by so many on Kauai.
ERIC A. KNUDSEN.

Honolulu, Aug. 29, 1919.

Eric A. Knudsen, Esq.,
Commissioner of Public Instruction,
Kekaha, Kauai.

Dear Sir—In view of the recent disturbance in school matters on the Island of Kauai, I feel that the best interest of the Department would be served by your severing your connections therewith.

I have not asked for your resignation up to the present time, as I believed that under the circumstances you would have handed it in without waiting to hear from me.

While I want your resignation I wish to save you as much as possible and knowing that you intend to leave for a trip to the mainland in October, it would be satisfactory to me if you delay handing in your resignation until the eve of your departure. However this matter I will leave to your own judgment.

Very truly yours,
C. J. MCCARTHY,
Governor of Hawaii.

Kekaha, Kauai, T. H.

Sept. 8, 1919.
To His Excellency, Charles J. McCarthy, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, Honolulu, T. H.

Sir—I beg herewith to acknowledge receipt of your letter of August 29th, and hand you my resignation as requested. Having just received my commission on the 4th of August, and an overwhelming vote of confidence from the people of Kauai, some 758 votes for me against a paltry 79 against me, I had every reason to believe that my efforts to improve the standards of education were appreciated, and I cannot understand how you could have expected me to resign especially as I am conscious of no improper actions on my part, and I most emphatically deny and brand as utterly false the charge made by Mrs. Burke's friends that I was at the bottom of the Kapaa rumpus, and it seems strange that you should have given credence to a story which all Kauai knows is false.

That you give me credit for hard work—I thank you. Your method of showing approval is unique. That you have listened to a small but wealthy clique, and taken sides in a purely local fight I think most unfortunate, for by your act you have destroyed the dignity of the office of Commissioner of Education on the Island of Kauai, so that in the future no independent, self-respecting person would care to take it. As for your sympathy, pray do not waste it on me.

Yours very truly,
ERIC A. KNUDSEN.

Kapaa, Sept. 13, 1919.

Editor Garden Island—Please find enclosed resolution adopted by the Democratic Club of Kawaihau, which Please publish in your paper:

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the people of Kauai, by an overwhelming vote, as shown by their petitions to the Governor, have expressed their absolute confidence in the impartiality and integrity of Mr. Eric A. Knudsen, while holding the office of commissioner of Kauai schools;

AND WHEREAS, upon due investigation by the Democratic Precinct Club of Kawaihau, Kauai, that the said Mr. Eric A. Knudsen, was in no manner connected and affiliated with either side in the differences among certain of the school teachers of Kauai;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the said Club express its regret in the action taken by the Governor and that it make known its unchanged confidence in his integrity in the discharge of his duties, both as such commissioner and as a citizen.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the press and Mr. Eric A. Knudsen.
Adopted this 12th day of September, A. D. 1919.

Beware of Stills

The manufacture of stills, to be used in making liquor, is a crime punishable by a severe fine and a term of imprisonment, and S. C. Huber, United States district attorney wishes this fact known. Many Oriental tinsmiths, he states, are making these stills to meet the large demand for them, in ignorance of the fact that it is a violation of the law.

Revenue officers have discovered tinsmiths making stills in the past, but they were apparently ignorant of the fact that they were violating the law. They also did not know that if they make stills for distilling water or medicine they must report the fact at the office of the internal revenue collector.

The manufacture of stills for the making of okolehao is punishable by a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $5000, and by imprisonment of not less than 30 days and not more than 2 years. This makes the minimum penalty for the offense 30 days in jail and a fine of $100, and it is the intention of the federal officials to enforce the law to its fullest extent.

Hand Grenade Banks

San Francisco, August—Banks of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District have ordered 60,000 hand grenades which were ready for shipment to the American Expeditionary Forces when the Armistice was signed and which have been turned over to the Treasury Department for use as savings banks to stimulate thrift. The only alteration made in the hand grenades to convert them into savings banks was the removal of the TNT charge and the cutting of a slot as a coin way.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, which is handling the distribution of the grenades to the banks and trust companies, anticipates orders aggregating 100,000 of the war souvenirs. Robert E. Smith, director of the War Loan Organization for the Twelfth Federal District, said "These American-made hand grenades constitute one of the best souvenirs of the war one could possibly get. Some months ago an eastern firm managed to get some of them and disposed of them readily at one dollar each.

It is planned to distribute the grenade banks to the public through banks and trust companies exclusively. The only conditions imposed by the Treasury Department are that to gain ownership of a grenade:

Persons 1 to 12 years of age must purchase one $5 War Saving Stamp;

Persons over 18 years must buy either $100 or one $1000 Treasury Savings Certificate which is the big brother to the War Savings Stamp bearing the same four per cent interest compound quarterly and running for five years.

"Naturally the supply of grenades is limited," said Director Smith. "Orders for them will be filled in the order received and after the supply is exhausted, no more will be manufactured. Eastern banks and trust companies have asked for hundreds of thousands of them. In all the War Department had only 15,000,000."

The grenades are expected to arrive in San Francisco within thirty days.

AFTER LIHUE'S GOAT

A meeting of the Kawaihau Improvement Club was held last Wednesday evening at the Social Hall, Kapaa at which Manuel Aguilar, Jr. was elected president. We do not profess to know the objects of this organization, but from expressions of some of the members it would appear to be of a revolutionary character. One member favored a small membership fee in order that all could come in and buck Lihue.

Eat Bread

It seems that Bread, on the authority of the Youths Companion, is the greatest and most economical source of physical energy which has been found, far out-running meat and even milk.

If a man has a limited amount of money to spend, and wants to get the most power out of it, he should put it into bread. The comparative results are as follows. If he puts it into beef it will carry him one thousand steps; if into milk two thousand five hundred; beans seven thousand five hundred; rice five thousand, and potatoes seven thousand five hundred. But if he spends it for bread, made from wheat flour, he can take more than sixteen thousand steps. Wheat Bread is the "most nutritious and best all-round food devised by man."

Our Portuguese friends, who are great bread eaters and fine bread makers, are blest with an inherited wisdom, which perhaps they themselves do not recognize. We take off our hats to them, and will join them as devoted bread eaters.

ALLIGATOR PEAR COCKTAIL

Peel off skins and then cut pears into small dice. Place on ice to cool—then add the following mixture which makes a most appetizing dish.

Run pear thru colander to remove strings; with the pulp thus secured mix in very slowly olive oil, in the same way that you make mayonnaise dressing. Add pepper and salt and then drop in slowly vinegar to taste. Finally mix in carefully, enough catsup to make it smooth and soft enough to pour over the diced pears. Serve in individual glasses, with a small lump of ice in each glass. The most jaded appetite will relish this.

It is stated that Kauai is soon to receive a visit from a flying machine from Luke field. Officers are expected over soon to choose the best place for landing.

If you have anything to sell, or there is something you want, put a little notice in the Garden Island, and you will get results. It does not cost much.

Maui and Kauai on the Polo Field

(From Star-Bulletin)

Superior team work and better horses gave to Maui the polo championship of the Hawaiian islands yesterday afternoon at Kapiolani park after a hard battle in which Kauai went down to defeat by a score of 11 to 6 1/2 points. It was the best game of the season filled with sensational playing, clever passing, good horsemanship and brilliant headwork both on the part of the men and ponies.

Big Crowd

The biggest crowd for a polo game this year was on hand to witness the match and excitement ran high. The fans were well divided although Kauai, being the team behind throughout the game, apparently received the greatest backing on the principle that the Maui team being the stronger did not need verbal support.

The Garden Island quartet did not go down easily. The men from the slopes of the greatest extinct volcano crater in the world had to work hard to win. There were no idle moments when horses could be rested. It was nip and tuck and away throughout the entire afternoon.

Stars

Pat Collins and Edward Baldwin were the big stars for Maui while Jimmy Spalding and Johnny Malina earned the glory for Kauai. Collins was in wonderful form yesterday and literally played a rover's game, appearing unexpectedly and getting away with a speed that was astounding. Both he and Edward Baldwin scored four goals each. Sam Baldwin, Johnny Malina and Jimmy Spalding had three goals each and Frank Baldwin got one but for the wrong team.

Edward Baldwin demonstrated his debut as a star player. Sam Baldwin played his usual strong and clever game and Frank Baldwin held up the defensive end in an excellent manner. Malina was the shining star for Kauai. Jimmy Spalding was also bright in the foreground and the Rice brothers proved that they are still the reliable players of old.

Maui Starts

After the preliminary ramble back and forth in the opening chukker, Maui took the lead and drew first blood when Pat Collins tallied. He came right back four minutes later for the second. Hard luck kept Kauai from scoring; the ball hitting the posts twice. Kauai got a goal in the second chukker, when at the start with but three Maui men on the field, the Garden Islanders carried forward, and Malina scored. In the third chukker Edward Baldwin came to the front with a tally.

Maui opened the fourth chukker in a whirl with Sam Baldwin getting through in 40 seconds, and scoring again two minutes later. Kauai staged a rally in this period and after several hard luck attempts Jimmy Spalding finally scored, picking the ball out of a scrimmage and tallying with a back-hand stroke. Kauai came on again and Malina scored a little later.

Half Time

After the intermission, Maui took up the burden of the play, but Kauai rallied and the battle became a saw-saw affair. Philip Rice was forced into a safety. Collins followed with a tally from a difficult angle after riding off his man in grand style.

The sixth chukker saw the northern men begin team work which resulted in a score by Malina. Twice more, Kauai, threatened by Maui, rallied and Edward Baldwin made a goal before the session finished.

The seventh chukker was a fast one with both teams fighting it hard. Spalding scored in 21 seconds and Pat Collins came back in a minute and evened up that tally. Edward Baldwin followed with a goal and then Kauai threatened. Frank Baldwin of Maui, attempting to deflect the ball, scored a goal for Kauai. Edward Baldwin scored for Maui shortly after. The final chukker saw a goal each in the early part and hard work and no tallies in the latter stages.

Progress in Hanalei

The march of progress is not entirely overlooking Hanalei by any means.

Failing any electric franchise from legislature, private enterprise is meeting the requirements of private needs there.

Some time ago Mr. Faye put in a gasoline-driven electric plant for his summer home there, and now W. F. Sanborn is installing one for his beach place and that of Mrs. Isenberg. They are entirely satisfactory plants and light up things in genuine city style.

Probably other homes there will adopt the same plan.

The beach road at Hanalei is at length, after all these years of patient or impatient waiting, to be macadamized. Rock crushing is under way at the mouth of the Hanalei river for that purpose.

The College of Hawaii

The College of Hawaii yesterday, entered upon its most successful year thus far. The enrollment already is larger than ever before and the type of young men and women coming promises much for the well-being of the College.

The freshman class will number about fifty students and the sophomores will be numerous enough to make life interesting for the first year men. The upperclass students will be fewer in number but what they lack in quantity they will make up in quality, some being service men.

Considerable regret is felt that the legislature failed to appropriate for a College dormitory, for it represents a vital need in the growth of the College. Rooms are scarce and expensive for students from the other islands and from the mainland and a dormitory is much needed to offset this difficulty. Then, too, college spirit is much enhanced by dormitory life, a real asset to any college.

Considerable repairing and altering has been done in the main building of the College this summer. The library has been enlarged to relieve the pressure until the new library building is erected and general renovation of walls and floors has been the order of the day.

The new chemistry building is waiting for the territorial bonds to be sold. In the meantime the congestion in the old building can be partially relieved only by working the larger classes in several shifts. That makes much more work for the instructors but it cannot be avoided until the new building is put up.

Professor Herbert Bergman, the new Botany man at the College of Hawaii, is having his share of troubles getting transportation from San Francisco. Mr. Bergman has been in Washington, D. C. the past few years, and several months ago thought that he had secured passage through an eastern agency. It was discovered recently, however, that the agency had failed to make the arrangements and while Dr. A. L. Dean, President of the College, was in San Francisco recently he arranged for Mr. Bergman to come out on the Great Northern Transport.

Unfortunately, this will bring about two weeks late, delaying the botanical work in the College.

Professor Rock, the other College botanist, also will be late returning from the far east where he has been for several months on a special mission.

Mexican bandits held up and robbed Prof. Irving Otis Pecker, the new professor of Spanish and French in the College of Hawaii. Mr. Pecker has been spending the past year in Mexico in study and on his way out recently was robbed of everything he possessed except the clothes on his back. Between bandit hold-ups and scarcity of steamers Mr. Pecker is prevented from reaching Honolulu at the opening of College, but will arrive one week late, coming on the Sonoma.

If you have anything to sell, or there is something you want, put a little notice in the Garden Island, and you will get results. It does not cost much.

Electric Franchise Popular

The Electric Light and Power Company is abroad in the land—or at least the franchise of the same is.

The recent session of Legislature passed no less than five bills granting or confirming same in the following various districts, Hamakua, Hawaii, Paho, Hawaii, Hana Maui, Makawao, Maui, and Kapaa, Kauai.

These franchises are pretty explicit, and carefully guarded. They must be made valid by execution within a reasonable time and may be taken over by the Territory on the expiration of 20 years.

With the exception of one they seem to be justifiable enterprises, in old, well established communities, with every probability of success. But the assurance of Paho a "busted" lumber camp, out in the lava wilderness of backwoods Puna, miles away from anywhere,—why should Paho indulge in the luxury and extravagance of electric light and power? But its alright if she can "put it over."

A Clever Invention

"You can't fit a round peg in a square hole" is an old saying, but you don't have to know that. A clever inventor has discovered the way to make a square auger make a square hole!

The "Wellspring" tells all about it—"An auger to bore square holes is a new invention, and the indefatigable inventor has been working at his idea for seventeen years. It is really five augers in one—five conical rotary cutters milling out the corners of the square after the main shaft has made a round hole. Instead of consuming four hours in drilling a square hole through a one-inch piece of marble, which is the time that that operation ordinarily takes, this new invention does the task in five minutes. There are only a dozen parts to the machine and it can be manufactured at a comparatively low price. A simple variation in the shape of the cutters makes possible the boring of holes of almost any shape."

A Growing Trade

Two striking features rather accurately size up the present situation. There seems no limit to the buying of automobiles, and the point of "saturation" seems increasingly remote. It is easy enough to moralize about this apparent extravagance. The real reason is that automobiles are as much a part of modern civilization as the telephone and the telegraph, and likewise nearly as necessary to the transaction of everyday business. The owner of an automobile once, is an owner always unless he goes dead broke. He recognizes the broadening of his mental horizon incident upon the possession of a car and acquires the habit. It is one of the many indications that we have risen to a higher level of material and mental living, and that we—meaning the multitudinous many—will resist to the uttermost any attempt of man or of fate to bring us back to a lower plane.—The Independent.
