EXECUTION AGAINST A SENATOR IS UNSATISFIED

Sundry Claims Filed in Court by the Bishop Estate--A Woman Sued Under the Wrong Name.

Judge Robinson has signed an interdictory decree in the Bally-Cushingham partition case. A one-seventh undivided interest is awarded to each of the following named: Harriet Bally nee Lewis, Charles Lewis, Alexander Lewis, Elizabeth M. Cushingham, James D. Lewis, Margaret B. Grieve and L. L. McCandless. Cecil Brown, trustee, is the mortgagee of the interest owned by James D. Lewis. James Auld is entitled to a life estate in one-third of one-eighth of the lands and premises described in the complaint. Harry Auld and his wife Miriam have no interest in the property. The property sought to be partitioned consists of the following designated pieces: Land at the southeast corner of Bethel and King streets bounded by the post-office premises, Bethel street, King land and containing an area of 6960 square feet. Land in Waikiki road opposite Sunny South. Lots in Kalia, Waikiki, containing respectively 3.5, 2.9 and 5.7 acres, a total of 12.1 acres. As previously reported, W. Austin Whiting is appointed commissioner to report upon what parts of the property may be partitioned by metes and bounds and what may be sold for the purposes of dividing it between the parties according to their respective rights.

An execution for $254 in the divorce suit of S. Kahilina vs. I. H. Kahilina has been returned by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth unsatisfied, the return being made at the request of Kinney, Ballou & McClanahan, attorneys for plaintiff. Defendant is a member of the Senate for Kauai.

In the suit for partnership accounting of E. C. Rowe vs. Stanley Stephenson, it is stipulated that respondent may have ten days additional from June 20 to answer.

E. A. Mott-Smith, attorney for the Bishop Estate, has filed claims in court as follows: Estate E. C. Macfarlane, deceased, nine months' rent for leasehold at Kalia, Waikiki, Oahu, $750; six months' rent for bath-house premises, Helemano, Waikiki, $70; nine months' rent of lease hold at Helemano and taxes, $1425. Estate J. K. Kaunamano, deceased, seven years' rent of leasehold at Kekela, Waimanu, Hawaii, taxes and interest, $146.60; principal and interest of note, $387.20.

Thomas Fitch, attorney for defendant in the suit of James H. Cummings vs. Lousana Noble, files an answer of general denial, incidentally stating that, instead of the name under which she is sued, the real name of defendant is Susannah Angelina Hunt.

SHERIFF BROWN BACK.

High Sheriff Brown returned from Molokai in the Lehua last evening. While on the island he spent most of the time at his brother's place near Halawa. Sheriff Brown states that things are very quiet on Molokai and that the police situation is very satisfactory. It was the intention of Mr. Brown to go right over to Maui upon finishing his Molokai trip, but he concluded it best to return to Honolulu first. He will start out on his Maui trip on Tuesday of next week. While on Molokai, Mr. Brown did not get a chance to either hunt or fish.

FUTURE SUGAR PRICE LOCAL BUSINESS MAN MAKES HIS PREDICTION

Views Result of Careful Following of Leading Sugar Journals Throughout the World--Possible Action of the Trust.

A business man who has followed the world's sugar conditions very closely made an interesting prediction this morning that seems very feasible to say the least, though the desire may be father to the thought.

The prediction is that in event of Austria following the lead of Germany in wiping out the sugar bounties, the Sugar Trust will withdraw a large portion of its sugars from the market and hold the product till the effect of the reduction in beet sugar plantings is felt and higher prices prevail. This will enable the Trust to make large profits and also hold up prices in the mean time.

This gentleman says he has followed the sugar journals of all countries for many years past. Last year there was a general prediction all along the line that lower prices would prevail. This prediction is fulfilled in the present depression of sugar prices. These same journals are now predicting a general advancement in sugars of all grades. Judging the future by the past the Bulletin's informant is convinced that bed rock has been reached, and a stronger market may now be reasonably expected.

BOER LEADERS ALL WANTED PEACE

New York, June 9.—A cable to the Sun from Durban, Natal, says: Schalk Burger, former acting President of the Transvaal, in an interview published in the Mercury, says General Joubert died of illness and not of wounds as had been reported. Steyn was in favor of peace, and illness alone prevented him from attending the meeting of the Boer leaders at which the terms concluding hostilities were signed. Schalk Burger said that there had been no correspondence with Kruger concerning the peace negotiations. The Boers admired the conduct of Kitchener, and visited the various camps showed that the people are glad that the war is ended.

The Mercury publishes a translation of the circular of the Boer leaders instructing the readers to sign the peace conditions. The document points out that there was no further hope of procuring independence, the country was being devastated and means of subsistence were disappearing. The Boer leaders were also influenced in favor of peace by the distress among the families in the British concentration camps, moreover, the Boers could not retain thousands of prisoners like the enemy. A small number of Boers and overwhelming number of British precluded the hope of victory despite sacrifices.

CIVIL SERVICE ROW

New York, June 8.—The Herald's Washington special says: A sensational severance of the cordial relations existing between President Roosevelt and Senator Hanna is the possible result of charges filed against Federal officeholders in Cleveland, Ohio, by Representative Burton of that district. The President is determined to investigate. Senator Hanna is strongly opposed to such a course. Friends of both say a serious break is threatened.

Should this break come it would be the most spectacular and disastrous breach between the President and the chairman of the National Committee of the ruling party that has occurred since the falling out of President Harrison and Senator Quay, who managed the campaign in which the former was elected.

CABLE BILL KILLED

Washington, June 11.—The House today dispatched the Corliss cable bill by the same method it adopted yesterday in the case of the forest reserve bill. It struck out the enacting clause of the measure by a vote of 116 to 77, thus giving no opportunity to test the strength of the Dingle substitute, which authorized the President to contract with a private company for the laying of a cable.

Educational Institutions ON BRINK Of Summer Resting Spell

These are ghosts that come to haunt us.

While the hot weather prevailing at present would make school work almost unbearable at any other time, the tone in the schools now is cheerful in spite of the heat, because of the rapid approach of the long summer vacation. While the pupils in the various schools in the city are preparing industriously for the examinations, many are also employed in preparing programs for their stunts for commencement days, class days, etc. Up on the whole, anyone who happens to go into one of the larger schools early in the morning would see that there was something in the air.

At the Kamehameha Schools, the printing press is now busy getting out programs for the various events which will take place as a closing of the year for the various branches of the school.

The first of these events will be the Class Day exercises of the Kamehameha Girls School, for which elaborate arrangements are now being made and invitations issued, as this is a strictly private affair.

The exercises will take, more less, the form of a reception, as there is only one pupil in the outgoing class, Miss Awana. This event will take place on the evening of Friday, June 20. The program is as follows:

"O Lovely Night".....Abt Glee Club.
"Listen to This Indian Legend, To This Song of Hiawatha."
"All the tribes beheld the signal, The Pukwana of the Peace-Pipe."
"Thus the Four Winds were divided, 'Hiawatha, Child of Wonder."
"See the Sun in Splendor Rising".....Donizetti Quartette.
"The Song of Minnehaha".....Quartette.
"As unto the bow the cord is, So unto the man is woman."
"Give me as my wife this maiden."
"Thus it was they journeyed homeward."
"Aloha Wale!".....Quartette.
"Sumptuous was the feast Nokomis Made at Hiawatha's wedding."
"O Werd Thou in the Cauld Blast!".....Mendelssohn Glee Club.

"Into Hiawatha's wigwam Came two other guests As silent as the ghosts were."
"Farewell, O Minnehaha! Farewell, O Laughin Water!" K. G. S. Call.

The commencement exercises of the Girls' School will take place at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, June 21. This is the sixth commencement of this school and quite an elaborate program has been arranged. It is as follows:

Motto--To Stand.....Richards
The Bridal of the Birds.....Brinley Chorus.

THOUSAND MILES FINISHED NEW CUBA SCANDAL ONE MILLION FUNDS WERE APPROPRIATED TO SHAPE LEGISLATION FOR FIRE CLAIMS

London, June 9.—The officials of the Commercial Cable Company have received advices to the effect that 1000 miles of the San Francisco-Honolulu section of the company's Pacific cable, which is being manufactured for them here, have been completed.

BOERS PRAISE THEIR AMERICAN ALLIES

Pretoria, June 10.—Boer commandoes arriving here bring reports of fresh instances of fraternization between the Boers and the British troops. The surrender of a commando at Balmoral, Transvaal, was followed by a big "sing song." The British soldiers stationed at the blockhouse in some instances held up the trains and proffered coffee and tobacco to their late enemies.

ROOSEVELT THE QUEST

West Point, N. Y., June 11.—The celebration of the 100th anniversary of the West Point Military Academy reached its climax today. President Roosevelt was the chief guest, and there was a brilliant crowd, including many Army and Navy officers, cabinet officers, ladies in bright costumes and handsomely uniformed diplomats.

LYNCH IS ARRESTED

London, June 11.—Colonel Arthur Lynch, who fought with the Boers in South Africa and who, in November last, was elected to represent Galway in the House of Commons, was arrested this morning on his arrival at New Haven from Dieppe, France. Colonel Lynch, who was accompanied by his wife, was brought to London and was afterward taken to the Bow street police station.

Dr. Charles F. Rand, who is accepted as being the first volunteer for the Civil War, is still living in Washington, D. C. He was also the first soldier to win the Congressional medal of honor for distinguished gallantry in action.

STOPPED NINE SHOT FISHES THAT FISH AND WALK AND FLY

Albatross Returns From a Very Successful Cruise.

SAW NOTHING OF THE ABANDONED SHIP KERR

After a very successful cruise around the island of Kauai the United States Fish Commission steamship Albatross, Captain Thomas, returned to her berth at the Navy wharf in this harbor about 11 o'clock this morning. She will remain in port but a day or two, however. She may start out again tomorrow on another cruise.

The Albatross was gone a little over a week. All aboard, scientists, officers and crew, were busy all the time, for the nets were constantly in commission and the deep was made to give up many curious and valuable specimens of living things. Surface nets, intermediate nets and nets constructed to scour the bottom were used every day except Sunday.

Captain Thomas and all his officers are enthusiastic in their praise of the Garden Isle, thinking it one of the most beautiful of this group. The weather during the trip was most pleasant and nothing of a nature calculated to mar the pleasure of the enterprise occurred.

The Albatross did not enter any of the ports of Kauai, although some of her people went ashore at Waimea, Makawale and other ports.

Two of the boats of the abandoned British ship Fannie Kerr were seen at Waimea, but nothing was seen or heard of the Fannie Kerr herself. The Albatross was not far away from Kauai at any time and it was not likely that she would see anything of the burning ship.

In the laboratory of the Albatross numerous jars and bottles containing many wonderful little creatures of the ocean show how successful the cruise of the vessel has been.

A large quantity of specimens of surface life has been collected and the scientists of the Albatross have secured countless numbers of the young of many varieties of fish.

Two or three jars of "surface soup" are among the most interesting things. This "soup" was taken from the water by the very fine surface nets. It has something of a jelly appearance. This surface life is to be found all over the ocean. It is the food of fishes and would not be at all bad eating for humans, especially in the case of shipwrecked mariners.

Deep coral in numerous beautiful forms is included in the collection. Coral that grows to a considerable height, a stalk bearing long, feather-like leaves of enduring material, colored in various hues.

In one jar is to be seen a most peculiar sight. A small star fish is in the middle, surrounded by dainty sticks of coral, sticks that seem more like delicate stone flowers strung on a slender rod. The star fish has its arms wrapped many times around bunches of these pretty stalks. The net brought him to the surface in this position and so he will remain as long as science has use for him as a specimen.

CASE OF BEN HAAHEO IN POLICE COURT TODAY

Ben Haaheo, the native who was arrested on Saturday night last on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon on Mrs. Becky Houghtailing, appeared in the Police Court today. He was defended by Attorney J. L. Kaulikou, while the side of the prosecution was represented by Attorney Gill.

The first witness on the stand was Mrs. Houghtailing herself, who told the story of the trouble of Saturday night. She stated that she had gone home to her house in Kailua and that upon her arrival there she was greeted by Haaheo, who took a package of beer she had with her, threw it on the ground and broke it to pieces.

This having been done, she went into the house, where Haaheo took $20 from her, which she supposed he wanted for gambling purposes. At any rate, she never saw the money again.

Upon sitting down at the table for supper, Haaheo picked up a plate of fish and hit her on the head with it. She called him a lazy brute or something of the kind, and she supposed he did not like being addressed in such a way.

Even the assault with the broom was not enough, and Haaheo procured a broom handle for use on her person. Then he said he intended to kill her and started after his shotgun.

She ran down the steps and out into the back yard, and, upon turning around to see if Haaheo was behind her, she saw the man standing on the porch upstairs with a gun in his hands. At the same moment, the weapon was discharged and she was struck by nine shots.

Witness stated positively that she saw the gun pointed at her and that the threats by Haaheo were made in the presence of others.

The prosecution put on two men who saw the trouble and their testimony was substantially the same as that offered by the first witness. They heard the threats and one of them saw the gun pointed at Mrs. Houghtailing.

Attorney Kaulikou, in the course of the proceedings and when the gun was being introduced as evidence, stated that there was no evidence to the effect that the weapon had been pointed at the plaintiff. Judge Wilcox replied that Becky herself had testified that she had stopped nine of the shots.

Mr. Kaulikou further stated that there was no evidence that the gun was a deadly weapon. Judge Wilcox smiled and said there was no need of any expert testimony to prove to his mind whether or no the gun was a dangerous weapon.

The testimony was wholly against the defendant and he was committed to the Circuit Court for trial, his bail being fixed at $500.

TABLEAUX PROGRAM IS DECIDED ON

The following program for the tableaux exhibition which is to be given by the Kihohama Art League during the latter part of June has been arranged:

Six tableaux — 1. A dream of Fair Women. Pygmalion and Galatea — Mrs. May Mott-Smith Bird and Galatea and J. Tarn McGrew as Pygmalion. Two parts — one representing Pygmalion chiseled in hand, contemplating the statue; the other representing the statue attaining life.

Four pictures representing the four seasons, three persons in each group. Four pictures, representing the different sports, golf, tennis, ping pong and yachting.

Two Hawaiian subjects — one representing Queen Kaahumanu defying the Gods Pele, while standing upon the brink of the crater with the natives crouching at her feet in amazement. All in relief against a background of red light. Another group will be lawmakers, showing several Hawaiian girls preparing the flowers for market. Juliet on the balcony. Marguerite. Minuet scene.

Two Japanese tableaux, one showing two Japanese girls walking in a garden under cherry blossoms and reading a poem suspended from a branch. Ten scenes from Omar Khyyam. Mrs. Bird will accompany these pictures by reciting during the exhibition of the same.

All the people for the various scenes have not yet been chosen but the list will be complete by the end of the week. The ladies who have interested themselves in the affair and who will act as patronesses are: Mrs. S. B. Dole, Mrs. S. M. Damon, Mrs. J. S. McGrew, Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Mrs. W. F. Allen, Mrs. F. M. Swamy, Mrs. F. M. Hatch and Mrs. Widdfield.

ANGUS-GRACE NUP-TIALS

Miss Elizabeth Grace and George Angus were united in marriage in Central Union church last evening, the Rev. Wm. Morris Kincaid officiating. After the wedding in the church there was a reception at the home of Mrs. John Angus, mother of the groom, which was participated in by the bridal party, relatives and immediate friends of the couple.

The church was very tastefully decorated for the event, the scheme of color being pink and green. During the assembling of the guests, Prof. Ingalls played softly upon the organ.

It was shortly after 8 o'clock that the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march were heard, announcing the arrival of the bride and her party at the front entrance. At the same time, the groom and his best man, Southard Hoffman, appeared at the pulpit door. The bride and her escort advanced along the Waikiki aisle. First came the ushers, two by two, followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Lillian Bacon and Miss Mollie Grace. Miss Myra Angus, sister of the groom, preceded the bride, who entered leaning on the arm of J. A. Magoon, who gave her away.

The ushers were F. B. Angus, Charles H. Teaf, George E. H. Baker, E. J. Waterman, W. F. Dillingham and Harry Wilder.

The bridal party stood in a semi-circle before the platform, where Rev. Wm. Morris Kincaid met the bride and groom and performed the simple ceremony that made them man and wife. The party left the church to the strains of the Lohengrin march.

After the reception at the Angus home, the newly married couple were driven to one of the cottages at the Waikiki Annex where they will spend their honeymoon.

Credit for the beautiful church decorations is due the following: Mrs. Gardner Wilder, Mrs. Frederick J. Church, Miss Roth, Mrs. J. Lucas, Miss Paty, Miss McLain and Miss Stella Love.

CONTESTED WILL.

Judge Humphreys admitted the will of Mary Macpherson to probate. Cecil Brown, guardian of Mary Alice Porter, contested the admission. By the will the testatrix left all of her property to J. H. HOW WILY CHINESE BAFFLED THE POLICE

Ninety Six Men Caught in Gambling Den But Not One of Number Was Playing.

The biggest raid by the police in many months was made this forenoon by Detective Kaapa and others on a Chinese gambling den in the upper story of a building on Hotel street, near Kekaulike. Ninety-six cooks, yardboys and others were arrested and, although the case is not a very clear one, it is believed that the police will put forth some evidence that will be sufficient to show that the Chinese were gambling in the room.

At the time agreed on by Detective Kaapa, the officers made a dive for the gambling den, but, upon their arrival there, they found their further progress blocked by four strong doors, barred and locked. It was impossible to get into the place and, for a half hour, the officers stood on the outside waiting for a chance to get in. This finally came and the rush was made. Upon the arrival of the police in the room, the ninety-six Chinamen were standing or sitting about but not one was gambling. A lot of gambling paraphernalia, showing that different kinds of games were conducted in the place, was found scattered about in various parts of the room. The Chinamen were lined up and taken to the police station, where clerks were kept busy for a couple of hours straightening up names and making out bail receipts. The police have information that shows what a wily lot Chinese gamblers are. It seems that the head man of the gambling concern escaped through a trap door in the roof which had been especially arranged for just such an emergency as occurred today. He took with him a couple of tin boxes and a couple of bags filled with money. The alarm had in some way been given to the gamblers and it was not until they were good and ready that the police were admitted.

THE FEDERAL RULE

In connection with the application of the Federal civil service rules regarding political activity of officials to the Territorial civil service, the following circular, issued by P. C. Knox, Attorney General of the United States, under date of November 22, 1921, will be of interest: "Your attention is directed to a circular of this Department issued August 20, 1920, in which section 2 of the Civil Service Act of January 16, 1883, forbidding any executive officer or employee, among others, to solicit or receive political contributions from any officers or employees of the United States, was quoted, and all persons serving under this Department were required to observe strictly the prohibitions of that law, and were recommended to refer to the circular on political committees charged with the collection and disbursement of campaign funds. I now repeat the injunctions of that circular, and add the following further directions on this subject: "Rule 2 of the Civil Service Rules provides that no person in the executive civil service shall use his official authority or official influence for the purpose of interfering with an election or controlling the result thereof. The spirit of the civil service laws and rules renders it highly undesirable for Federal officers and employees to take an active part in political conventions or in the direction of other parts of political machinery. Persons in the Government service under this Department should not act as chairmen of political organizations, nor make themselves unduly prominent in local political matters. It is expected and required that all officers and employees of this Department shall act in entire conformity with the views herein set forth. "United States Attorneys and United States Marshals are hereby directed to post conspicuously in their respective offices a copy of this circular and otherwise to use every available means to direct the attention of their subordinates, and of all those who are in the Government service under this Department, to the injunctions of this circular."

FISHES THAT FISH AND WALK AND FLY (Continued from page 1.) sponge, intricately and beautifully formed. From a depth of 477 fathoms the net secured a queer little fish. He is entirely new. He is the possessor of four legs. They could be called fins or legs, but are more like legs than fins. The hind legs are built on the kangaroo principle, or are not unlike the legs of a frog. The front legs are more like the flippers of a turtle. The little fellow has a big head and a pointed snout. He is a sort of combination frog and fish. The Albatross has some infant sword-fishes. They are only an inch or two in length and their little swords are more like the weapons of mosquitoes. Young flying fish, more like butterflies than one might imagine; dog fish of many varieties; deep-water dog fish and some hitherto unknown fish, very long in proportion to their size and with buffalo-shaped heads, are also to be seen in the aquarium of the Fish Commission boat. Dr. Gilbert has a fine specimen of the "ashing frog," a fish that is wonderfully constructed. Jelly fish, deep water sharks, little fellows, star fishes and other fishes too numerous to mention, all came to the nets of the Albatross. A little flying fish, a new variety, with a multi-colored body shaped like a Chinese kite and wings like Japanese fans, is one of the most peculiar things in the whole collection. The scientists are very well satisfied with the success of the cruise and look forward to many more valuable acquisitions on the next trip.

In the Police Court today, Wallace Hindsell was fined $5 and costs on the charge of assault and battery on Miss Mersberg, a young lady of about fifteen summers. Defendant said he meant no harm but only wanted to know where the brother of the girl was. He had a bone to pick with him.

The Oceanic steamship Sierra docked at the Oceanic wharf at 2 o'clock this afternoon from San Francisco, whence she sailed on the 12th inst., at 10 a. m. She was sighted this morning off Waimanalo at 11:15 o'clock. She was off Diamond Head at 12:35 o'clock this afternoon. She brings six days' later mail and newspaper files. A short time ago, Wray Taylor, Commissioner of Agriculture, secured from Washington a bag of red clover which he distributed among those in the city interested in having it grown on this island. A short time since, quite a patch was planted on Tantalus with the result that the clover is fairly sprouting from the ground like so many weeds.

A small Japanese boy appeared in the Police Court this forenoon on the charge of truancy. It seems that he had been absent from school since January 27 and for carelessness in allowing any pupil to remain away for such a long time. Judge Wilcox "roasted" the teacher under whom the boy was being instructed. When Truant Officer Shaw went to the home of the boy yesterday to make the arrest, he was attacked by the mother and another woman. The defendant was sent home with a warning by the Judge.

DESPERADOES ESCAPE

Portland, Or., June 9.—After having shot and instantly killed two guards, Harry Tracy and Frank Merrill, two desperate long termers at the Oregon State penitentiary at Salem, held another guard in front of them as a shield while they made their escape. Then they disappeared into the timber, and up to a late hour this evening have not been located, although posses of determined men, armed to the teeth, have surrounded the woods in which the convicts are supposed to be, and will have them, dead or alive.

HE EXPOSED FRAUD

New York, June 16.—The possible restoration of Willbur F. Wakeman to the place of Appraiser of the Port on account of the developments in connection with the Japanese silk cases and the arrest of Rosenthal and Cohn, charged with fraud, interested Wakeman's acquaintances tonight. It was reported that the Merchants' Association, backed by the American Protective Tariff League, would take the initiative in asking the President to restore Wakeman to his old place. Albert Gallatin Riddle, the well-known lawyer and author, who has just 'ced in Washington, D. C. while in the House of Representatives, was the first man to advocate the arming of the slaves and the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia. Prince Bernadotte, second son of the King of Sweden, is a deeply religious man. He is president of the Young Men's Christian Association of Sweden, the chairman of a missionary society, and of many like institutions. He frequently preaches. Mrs. Margaret Anne Neeve, of St. Pierre Port, Guernsey, one of England's beautiful channel islands, was born May 18, 1792, and is still well and hearty. An order for 400,000 fairy lamps for coronation illuminations in London has just been received by a Birmingham firm.

A LESSON IN PING-PONG

Algy Seymour, champion ping-pong player of the Mayfair Club, and Sylvia Marchmont, a pretty and audacious coquette, with whom he is in love, meet at an afternoon "at home" given by Aggy's mother, in Pont street. From the balcony, where they are seated a constantly recurring noise, and animated voices, raised in triumph or exhortation, are heard in the room below.

Sylvia (fanning herself faintly)—What is that horrid noise? Algy—What, don't you know ping-pong? Sylvia—Good gracious, yes! But I thought it was an after-dinner game.

Algy—After dinner? You don't know much about it, I suspect. I have played it before breakfast—for practice. Sylvia—What energy! Kipling will be obliged to find an opprobrious name for you in his next poem.

Algy—Oh, Kipling! Who cares for him? Have you seen me play, Miss Marchmont? Sylvia—No; the only people I have seen are the Beretanos, and they are still learning. Poor Mr. Beretano. He is so stout, and he is always crawling about on his hands and knees looking for lost balls.

Algy—Poor old Bery! He doesn't look fetching on his knees, does he? Sylvia—It seems to me that the majority of ping-pongers spend half their time on the floor. Do you crawl? Algy—No; I am passed that stage! By-the-way, have you heard that ping-pong is called the honeymoon game? All newly married couples carry a set with them now when they go off. A rip-off fun, isn't it?

Sylvia—But the box with the racquets and things will give them away at the railway station, just as the rice used to do on their clothes. But what a relief it must be to have something to entertain the dull solitude a den! I must make a note of that, and set about learning to play the game at once. Do you know a teacher?

Algy—The best in England! Sylvia—How nice! Is he expensive? Algy—He will teach Miss Sylvia Marchmont for love.

Sylvia—How sweet of him, and how economical! I think I know him. When shall we begin? Algy—Why not tomorrow morning? Sylvia—Then it is you. How good of you! And now, when you hear that I have started on my honeymoon you will know that he and I will be able to amuse ourselves with ping-pong—your might give me a set for a wedding present.

Algy (sarcastically)—It would be a delicate attention. I suppose you are thirsting for tomorrow in order to begin? Sylvia—I am counting the hours. I hope he—the happy bridegroom—will not hope you will pick up my balls for me; they will be all over the place.

Algy—There is a page somewhere about it. I'll charter him. I hope he—the happy bridegroom—will not be too stout to crawl about the floor for you during the honeymoon.

Sylvia (archly)—You forget that the bride will be your pupil, sir, and an expert player! There will be no balls on the floor.

Next morning in the dining room at Pont street. Algy (in flannels, admiringly)—You might have been ping-ponging all night; your get-up is so workmanlike. Will you let me choose your racket for you? But I see you have chanced upon the very best of the lot. Now, then, the first thing to be done is to give you an object lesson and then an explanation of each stroke in turn. Then you must try to imitate me as well as you can.

Sylvia—Isn't there a stroke called screw? Let us begin with that. Algy—All right, but let me tell you that very few beginners can master it. You have to make the ball curve in mid-air and break at an angle—see— (Algy does the stroke perfectly three times.)

Within a few years the accuracy in the production of both flat and round surfaces has been so increased that the speed of engines has been multiplied by three. With the accurate bearings of the present the tripled speed gives less trouble from heating and cutting than did the slow speed of former years.

or four times and looks at his pupil for approbation.) Sylvia—Very pretty, indeed. It looks so easy. Do it once more, please, and then I'll try.

(Algy tries again, misses, and sends the ball flying off the table.) Sylvia—Poor thing! I am so sorry. Now see me screw! How do I hold this thing—see? Algy—No—no! This way.

(Five minutes are lost while he is placing the racket in her hand.) Algy—Now! Take your time. (Sylvia pauses for a moment and then makes a perfect screw.)

Algy (who is very much astonished secretly, says tenderly)—Ah! If you would but learn as quickly all that I long to teach you.

Sylvia—That is what I am here for, but if we spend as much time over every stroke the dinner bell will ring before we have done. What is "Fore-hand play" and the "Crouch smash"? I met a man the other night who says he can't be beaten at any of the smashes.

Algy—What a bouncer! Sylvia—And there is the "Top Spin." I should like to do a "Top Spin." But time is passing, and mamma is to call for me at 12. You are so slow. Let me play and you can set me right.

Algy—I wish I could hope for such a privilege. Sylvia—(interrupting)—Don't say it, please. I am not anxious to be always in the wrong! Come (taking up her position at the end of the table opposite to Algy), you observe.

Sylvia (looking up at him)—I propose an amendment. Say every wet day, please.

DIET FOR SUMMER TIME

A well known writer and teacher in domestic science who has charge of the new dormitory at Wellesley College, when talking recently on the subject of food values, said:

"I certainly advocate a change in the dietary for spring and summer. Following a scientific dietary cannot mean better health. It is my opinion that less meat is an absolute demand of good health. But less meat does not mean no meat. Ordinarily, the lighter meats—white meats, fish and eggs—are preferable to beef and other heavy meats. These lighter meats supply all the requisites of the body, and are not so stimulating, nor do they carry with them many of the evil effects of too much flesh. By all means, now, substitute fish and eggs for beefsteak at breakfast, and increase the use of vegetables; these, if properly cooked furnish all the mental and muscular energy needed. The energy required in the winter for the production of heat can now be directed towards muscular and mental work.

Salads are a pleasing addition to the dietary. Fruit, vegetables, and nut salads are hygienic and popular. Fruit should be regarded as a necessary rather than as a luxury. From the standpoint of health and economy it is always cheap to have fruit for breakfast, and during the warm spring and summer days it is wise to use it as a relish for luncheons and for dinner to replace the puddings and heavy desserts of winter. Ice cream, if properly made and frozen, is a wholesome, nutritive dish, both appetizing and economical. If properly— that is, slowly—eaten it will not lower the temperature to such a degree as to be unhygienic.

"As to the effect of such a diet upon health: Less meat in itself means a clearer head. Less meat, more vegetables and fruit, mean freedom from spring fever and from generally heavy feelings. If the health is not good, do not attribute it to too little meat and too much fruit, salad and vegetables.

"Science is back of the spring and summer dietary. Nature supplies the needs of the flagging appetites in the springtime."

Algy (interrupting)—Don't say it, please. I am not anxious to be always in the wrong! Come (taking up her position at the end of the table opposite to Algy), you observe.

Algy (instead of obeying, flings down his racket, saying angrily)—I hanged if I'll teach you to play in order to make some other fellow happy during the honeymoon.

HAWAII LIKES VOLCANOES

"In Hawaii we pray for Mount Kilauca to become active, and the more eruptions there are the better we like it," said Philip Peck, a banker of Hilo, at the New Willard last night. "An eruption does no harm," he added naively.

"That was a different kind of activity from Mount Kilauca, in Hawaii, where Mount Kilauca has not been disturbed for two years, the eruption is of slight consequence. But it is a great sight to see the great lake of lava boil over the sides of the crater and push its way down into the bowl-like valley which has been formed by eruptions more violent in the ages past."

"The sight is such an unusual one that it causes a great influx of visitors each year, and that naturally is a good thing for the island financially. That's why we like the volcano so much."

"Kilauca's crater is the largest in the world. People used to go and sit by its edge to watch for an overflow of the lava. The guides could tell almost to the minute when these overflows would occur."

"In 1882 there threatened a great eruption, and the natives were afraid that the town of Hilo would be injured. The Princess Ruth, of the royal family of Kamehameha, went to the mountain down which the lava had begun to flow. With her she carried several chickens and one or two other animals. Standing by the edge of the crater, she threw up her head—she was one of those imperial looking women, and weighed about 400 pounds. She called out, addressing the Hawaiian god:

"Pele, you promised never to hurt Hilo; now I come to remind you of your promise."

"With this she threw the chickens into the lava. The next day the disturbance somewhat subsided, and the natives attributed to the princess the credit of it."—Washington Times.

On the summit of Mount Zappitze, in the Bavarian Alps, more than nine thousand feet above sea level, there is an important meteorological observatory, which is occupied all the year, but in winter is cut off from communication with the lower earth because storms destroy the telegraph and telephone wires. A wireless installation has been made there now, connected with a postoffice in the valley, three miles away, and the observer is thus made independent of storms, as the wind has no effect on the ether waves that carry his messages.

The United States Weather Bureau employs more than 1400 trained officials at 180 stations.

At the Kaunamano School, arrangements and preparations for the event have been the order for some time past. The larger girls have kept the sewing machine humming making up dresses and costumes to be used at the exercises and have succeeded in turning out some very pretty things indeed in a very workmanlike manner.

ELKS AT PING-PONG TOURNAMENT WILL BE IN FULL SWING SOON

Titles of Exalted Pingster and Exhausted Pongster to be Conferred—Numerous Entries Already.

Ping-pong has struck the Elks' Club and the members thereof are hard at the game daily, in preparation for the tournament to take place next week and which has been announced as follows:

PING PONG TOURNAMENT. A Ping Pong Tournament will be held in the club room, beginning Monday, June 23, 1902. The first prize will be a suitable trophy and the title of Exalted Pingster; second prize, the title of Exhausted Pongster.

Rules to be catch-as-catch-can, best two of three falls. Anchor nurse barred. No hobbles or blinders will be allowed and no hitting in clinches.

Regulation racquets will be used but any member having a pet swatter may use same without extra charge.

Entries will close Saturday night, June 21. Leave name and money for entrance fee with Japanese Jimmie, the Chesterfield attendant de douffe.

Admission to tournament, four bits if you have it; if not apply to F. M. Brooks, the welter-weight banker.

PROST. Already the entry list is a long one and it is thought that the tournament will result in many fine games.

F. M. Brooks is the present champion at the game in the club but he was beaten by an outsider yesterday and his admirers are losing some of their faith in him.

Among the crackerjacks entered for the tournament are Tom Holloway, Tarn McGrew, Jack Atkinson, Sonny Cunha, Dunie Hartman, J. Lovett Rockwell, String Woodbridge, F. E. Richardson, Lorrin Andrews, B. K. Rice, and many other doughty players who have been making it warm for each other at practice of late.

A SENSELESS AFFAIR.

He was a wireless politician— She was a thoughtless maid— Out on the grassless lawn together, Under the treeless shade, Playing a game of netless tennis, With a bounceless ball— When, from the glassless hotel window Echoed a soundless call.

Then through the pathless walk they ambled, Each with a steplike gait; Into the flyless room for dining; Each to a footless plate; Down into a seatless chair she flutered; He to a chairless seat.

First, 'twas a meatless steak they ordered; Then tried a crustless pie; Next o'er an iceless iced they dabbled, Each with a blinkless eye.

Ah, what an endless end we're reaching— End of this wordless wreck— He, with a centless dollar settled All of the payless check.

—From the Baltimore American

Apiculture, far from being a minor industry in this country, patronized by a few gentlemen farmers and country housewives, is one of very promising growth.

The agricultural product of the country at present is estimated at $20,000,000 annually, but this is but a small part of the benefit which the country derives as a whole from the industry, since the part the bees play in the proper cross-fertilization of seed crops and fruits is of inestimable value.

At present there is a demand for information in regard to the diseases peculiar to bees. Whole colonies are often carried away by contagious diseases, and epidemics occasionally occur that sweep whole sections of the country.

The drought-resisting wheat of Russia and Algeria has lately been the subject of much attention among the biologists of the country. It is believed that it is specially adapted to the semi-arid plains that extend from North Dakota to Texas, and that its general introduction in that part of the country would have the best results.

This wheat differs from ordinary wheat, not only in its ability to withstand the effects of drought, but in form and appearance. It has big, flat heads, with much chaff, long beard and large, yellowish white, extremely hard grains. It is said that it makes excellent bread, and is particularly suitable for macaroni.

There is no more interesting or curious sight on this earth than the interior of the extinct crater, Aso San, about thirty miles from the city of Kumamoto, in Japan. It is inhabited by 20,000 people, who live and prosper within its vertical wall 800 feet high. The inhabitants rarely make a journey into the outer world, but form, as it were, a little nation by themselves.
