THE Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party, But established for the benefit of all.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 6, 1889.

LOOK ON THIS PICTURE.

This morning's Advertiser says: "Regarding the recent trial, we repeat with firmness what we have before said, that the result was a miscarriage and a disgrace to the jury, the court, the Government and to the whole country. And this is the general sentiment of the community."

AND ON THIS.

The Advertiser on the 2d inst., referring to "the recent trials," said: "We have not found any two men whose opinions agreed upon these matters in all particulars."

What has contributed in these four days to reduce the mind of the community from chaotic diversity to general unanimity of sentiment?

SELF-CONDEMNED ADVERTISER.

This morning's Advertiser refers editorially to some observations in the last two issues of the BULLETIN, touching the jury system and the native Hawaiian, in the following terms: "We charge the writer of the above articles with uttering a base falsehood, and more than this, that he knew it to be such when he wrote it." There now! And, "On the other hand, every person connected with this paper as publisher or stockholder is known as a lifelong friend of the native Hawaiian, seeking his elevation and advancement politically and socially by every means in his power." (Oh, my!) "A life's record attests this and bears with it more convincing evidence than the assertions of any new comers that may happen to locate here."

Let us see. Out of their own mouths let them be judged:

"There would be just as much sense in having a Chinese jury to try Chinese, a Portuguese jury to try Portuguese, and so on, as a Hawaiian jury to try Hawaiians. This practice is not known elsewhere that we are aware of; certainly not in Tahiti, or in any American or European country, where mixed races exist."—Daily P. C. A. Oct. 25.

"Recent events have proved that the natives of this group are not above other Polynesian races in the scale of intellectual endowments; and most people now come to the conclusion that the confidence hitherto placed in them, by allowing them to take part in the functions of a civilized government, has been an error."

"Determined obstruction on the part of native Hawaiians can only have one result, viz.: foreign annexation and total exclusion of natives from the political franchise, the same as in Tahiti, Fiji and New Caledonia, or similar to the state in which the American Indians are now held."

"For the past half century the Hawaiian race has received every encouragement, and had every chance offered to succeed; but what is the result?"—Daily P. C. A. Oct. 26.

"The Courts are powerless in Hawaiian criminal cases, so long as acquit criminals even of their own race."—Daily P. C. A. Nov. 1.

THE ADVERTISER'S DEVOTION.

The publishers and stockholders of the Advertiser cannot evade responsibility for the general tone of their paper on a particular subject. There has been nothing more exasperating to the native mind of late than that paper's articles and "contributions" indiscriminately condemning the Hawaiian people for the misconduct of one native juror and the verdict of one native jury. The BULLETIN has taken the position that foreign juries could be as easily condemned for similar reasons. If the Advertiser's recent sentiments are a fair specimen of the "life's record" of devotion to the welfare of Hawaiians, made by "every publisher or stockholder" of that paper, all we have to say is that we are sorry for such a mean record.

The sneer at "new comers" by the Advertiser is become very stale from frequent repetition. It comes with an ill grace from a paper that is subsisting on the fruits of the ideas and action largely of new comers. The old Gazette (lineal predecessor of the present Advertiser) was fighting the battle of a clique for a change of administration, without regard to a policy that would be acceptable to all friends of good government, until the BULLETIN tris (conducted by a resident of only a few months) whipped it into recognition of the fact that people outside of its clique must be consulted, in efforts to secure permanent advantages. If this is denied the article in which the Gazette admitted that it was wrong and the BULLETIN right can be produced from the former's file. This repeated chirping about "new comers" only shows the narrow spirit animating the conduct of the Advertiser. It looks as if those using the term were puffed up with senile conceit over the accident of their early appearance on this soil. They seem to be unpatricially adverse to the infusion of new blood fresh from scenes of the world's greatest progress. There is, moreover, ground for suspicion that it angers these selfish fossils to be disturbed in every comfortable arrangement they had made in their snug preserves, for having the country raled and run exactly to suit the pleasure and profit of themselves and their family compacts.

The Advertiser's reference to the BULLETIN'S "hope of an elevation to the peerage of the nation" is very funny. Our contemporary is so little benefited from having a life lord and a biennial noble on its stock list, that the appropriate emotion for the BULLETIN at the prospect of any similar distinction should be fear rather than "hope."

SOUTH SEA BUBBLES.

Interesting Account of the Trip of H. B. M. S. Cormorant, from Honolulu to Coquimbó.

(Continued.) Left Tahiti June 29th, arrived at Pitcairn on 10th July. I sent on shore the remainder of my stock, explaining to Miss Young, the school-mistress, organist, writer, and poetess, how they were obtained and I hope she has written to Honolulu. They were very acceptable, especially the illustrated children's books and toys. Some drawing materials from Mrs. D. evoked a wish that we had brought an art teacher. Miss Young is very talented. She is engaged in writing a history of the island, giving illustrations of the many stone implements, found in digging, and also of the curious figures drawn on the rocks by former inhabitants. Our surveyors went over a line of soundings taken by Capt. Beeby in 1825, and found that in most cases the water is ten fathoms shallower than then. Here is food for a geologist, and argument for those who teach that the present Pacific Ocean was at one time a continent in which was the Garden of Eden, that the remains of pre-historic man are under this ocean, and that the now dry land was then submerged. How comes it that the above mentioned stone tools are of the same shape as those which were in use by the Indians of British Columbia about a century ago? Their shapes are so similar that one is prone to believe that their users were formerly in communication either by land or short water journeys. The history of the present amiable inhabitants is well known. They live a pastoral life, each tilling his own land. The widows and single women get their living thus, and I think that the lot of these is rather hard. Boots are seldom worn, clothing generally obtained by barter from passing ships, 97 passed last year. It was curious to talk to Miss McCoy, the corresponding secretary with outside religious bodies, I say it was curious to hear her propound knotty theological questions and to find that she had been to work that day in the fields, and had brought off a dish of Irish potatoes of her own growing as a present to our mess. Miss Young herself often handles the spade, she says she is fond of field work, and I can personally testify to the deliciousness of her pineapples.

When we were here last I asked them as to their jubilee celebration. I suggested that our Sovereign Lady might have been pleased to receive from them some token of their veneration and adoration. They had discussed the question but were perplexed as to what form to send their offerings in. I suggested that some of their basket work might show that their hearts were good though their means were small. In a week after we had left they had worked hard and made their collection and it was sent home in a sailing ship, together with a small sum of money. Her Majesty sent them a letter, which we brought, and they were exceedingly joyed to learn that their offerings were accepted and placed with the other jubilee presents. Her Majesty had also sent some of the jubilee coinage for distribution. The magistrate, Mr. McCoy, received a sovereign. Our captain then apportioned the other coins, about 60, among the females. Mrs. Young, the elder, was the first recipient. She is the mother of eight children (one son was killed with Bishop Selwyn), the grandmother of about thirty-six, and the great-grandmother of one. A nice, amiable, guileless old lady that it is a great pleasure to meet. Her husband is the schoolmaster. The old lady was joyed to tears at receiving her present, she called down God's blessing on Her Majesty for long life and happiness in this world and the next, and finally sobbing out the words, "She is a good woman," she was silent. The other females followed according to age, so that all but the very little ones received a jubilee memento. After this three lusty cheers for the Queen were given, and the national anthem sung right through, the smallest toddlers knowing the words, and the parts beautifully rendered. (To be continued.)

A HAWAIIAN PATRON OF THE RING.

Billy Jordan, master of ceremonies at the California Athletic Club, deposited a certified check for $5000 in San Francisco, Sept. 17, as the first deposit for a stake fight to a finish between Jimmy Carroll and Billy Myer, of Streator, Ill., for the light-weight championship of the United States. It is proposed to have the battle come off upon Mexican soil, where there will be no interference. Since Carroll defeated Sam Blakelock so handily he has had many warm admirers. Among them, it is stated, is a millionaire who is largely interested in the Hawaiian sugar trade. It is understood that he is the one who puts up the $5000, and will back Carroll against Myer for any amount.
