THE FUTURE OF HAWAII.

The Washington Star Twinkles for Annexation.

The Hawaiian question will not be put down. Events crowd upon each other in a conspiracy to force the subject upon public and official attention. The ex-Queen has contributed to this end by her presence in Washington during the winter and by the various statements that have been issued from her "court" to mystify the people as to her real purpose in remaining here. The matter of Japanese immigration in Hawaii just now holds the popular interest, through The Star's correspondence from Honolulu and the news reports from the same place, which have been explained and analyzed by ex-Minister Thurston and commented upon by the counsellor of the Japanese Legation here. A controversy has arisen between these two as to the part played by the Government of Japan in the rapid mongolization of the islands. From the latest statements it is plain that the situation with regard to the prospects of Japan's influence in the future in Hawaii is such as to call for prompt consideration by this government as to the course it is to pursue toward Hawaii. One of the most significant facts in connection with the case is that the friends of royalty in the islands, former supporters of the dynasty and advocates of a restoration of Liliuokalani, are joining the ranks of the annexationists. It is said that they see the fast-approaching Oriental wave that cannot but overwhelm them along with the rest of the native and the American-born population unless stayed by a marked political change and that between Japan and the United States as a dominant, governing power, they readily choose the latter. It is fast becoming a certainty that if Hawaii is not annexed by the United States it will be taken, either by conquest by annexation or by assimilation, by some other power. Japan and England stand ready to take advantage of the situation. The islands are valuable for their own resources, as well as for their geographical and political importance. They are to-day the key to the Pacific, and their importance will be increased when a canal is cut through the isthmus, swelling the tide of commerce that crosses the great ocean. The nation that owns or controls this group, then, will have a great advantage in the Pacific, and should it be another country than this the western shores of the United States will not be safe from attack. The American people and policy are opposed to territorial extension and conquest, but they are jealous of the other powers of the earth that seem to seek to draw the lines more closely around the republic. With Canada on the north, Bermuda on the east and Hawaii on the west Great Britain would have a tremendous advantage over this country which could not be offset by thousands of men and hundreds of warships. It is, therefore, a matter of self-defense rather than of expansion that lies at the bottom of the Hawaiian question as it is now presented.—Washington Star.

Glasgow's Municipal Clocks.

One of the most interesting of Glasgow enterprises is what may be described as municipal time for the entire city. Some years ago the experiment was tried of placing municipal clocks in prominent positions all over Glasgow and regulating them by synchronization. The present scheme is much more elaborate, and is nothing less than the establishment of a system of standard time, by electrically controlled clocks, regulated every second from the stellar clock at the observatory. A regulating clock, directly controlled from the observatory, has been placed in the City Chambers, and this in turn controls three circuits of public clocks at various points in the city. In the meantime, only about a dozen clocks have been provided, but if the trial proves successful, the corporation intends to erect from 200 to 300 18-inch dials, thus providing a reliable system of standard time for all parts of the city. This extension of the circuit will involve the laying of sixty-one miles of wire. It is hoped also to include time-keeping in private houses.—Westminster Spectator.

AS TO ANNEXATION.

In an article for the Forum, for April, entitled "Has the Senate degenerated," Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, says: * * * The Senate when Washington delivered his first Inaugural, had twenty-two members. It will begin the twentieth century with ninety. It is likely that before many years five more States, formed from our present territory, will bring up the number to a hundred. If—which Heaven avert!—there shall be additions from the continent on the South, or from the islands of the sea, they must come in and take their equal share in our self-government, and the number will be still further increased. Neither our institutions nor the temper of our people are adapted to the government of dependencies. We wish for no vassal states, nor subject citizens." * * *

How this utterance must grieve the souls of our Hawaiian Society of Sons of the American Revolution, who counted upon the Senator from Massachusetts to help them get away with the plunder secured when U. S. Minister Stevens and the forces of the U. S. S. of war Boston overthrew the Monarchy of Hawaii.

To those men who seek annexation to the United States as a territory, lest a state government should submerge them and their policy, we commend the following, also from Senator Hoar's article in the Forum: * * * "Now when we consider the great evil of governing these States in a Territorial condition—a very eminent statesman of large experience in the Cabinet and in the Senate told me the other day that a Territory was not much better than a bundle of snakes—and considering the fact of the rapid future growth to be expected from nearly all of them, I do not think so great a mistake was made in their admission as is sometimes supposed. Without accepting the above statement, I think it must be admitted that the government of Territories by our methods is very bad for Governors and governed." The Senator was alluding to the admission of the Dakotas, Montana, Washington, Wyoming, Utah and Nevada. If what the Senator says is true of contiguous territories how much more so it would be of a territory separated by 2000 miles of ocean. However, the subject is not one that need vex us for annexation is not on the cards.

SOCIETY COLUMNS.

It is a surprise to us that the members of Honolulu's "400" show an anxiety to be paraded in the public journals whenever they dine, or ride in a canoe or drink tea or go on a bicycle. One of the worst features in American journalism, and the gods know that there is an abundance of "features," is the recent style of personalities. Only the "shoddies" care to have their names paraded in the newspaper.

In Massachusetts a bill has lately been introduced in the Legislature, making it an offence punishable by imprisonment and fine for any newspaper publishing the picture of any one living in the State without written permission.

Who cares to know whether Miss Jones and Mr. Brown were lunching at Waikiki, and went out canoe riding with their boat? Who cares a fig for the names of those who accepted Mrs. Smith's or Mrs. Jones's invitation to play progressive euche? Who in fact cares for the "society" events which are now appearing in our "modern" official newspapers ad nauseam, once or twice a week? We read that Mrs. So-and-So had a number of friends in a chowder. Good heavens! if Mrs. So-and-So disposes of friends in such a manner let it be done without publicity.

We are more and more drifting into the lines of shoddy society and it is about time that a halt is called. We are informed that already several prominent and highly respectable society people have requested the "society" newspaper to omit from the "society" columns the names of their wives and daughters, a step in the right direction. If this "society" slobbering is not stopped, THE INDEPENDENT will feel obliged to open a similar column in its own way—and won't you enjoy it, dear girls and boys!

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Labor Commissioner Fitzgerald of California will not accept the suggestion of a correspondent of THE INDEPENDENT and wield a hoe in the cane field. Nor will his secretary. The gentlemen, however, are perfectly willing to draw the stipends put up by certain "planters" and will give quid pro quo by writing rot in California papers.

Annexationist organs claim that through fear of conquest by Japan, or seizure by Great Britain, Hawaiians are in favor of annexation. If this is so, then test it by a plebiscite. THE INDEPENDENT will assist in having an honest vote on the propositions as to our future form of Government. It is the Government that is afraid and not the people. The people can bide their time, the Government cannot.

We were in hopes that the Island Districts would come to the rescue of the government in the matter of registration of voters for the September election. Apparently they will not, and are following the example of the Honolulu electorate, for we read that Hilo has only rolled up 75 registrations. The indications are that the vote at the next election will be polled by less than one-twentieth even of those entitled to vote under the Republic's disenfranchising regulations. This will be an admirable showing for annexationists to present at Washington as an evidence of the unanimity of the people in support of the Hawaiian "Vestry."

It is rather sad to have to call attention to the fact that a consumptive patient is a resident of a very respectable but popular lodging house almost in the heart of the city. The young man is reported to be of a very deserving character and is being quietly assisted in his illness by well disposed persons of prominence. The other lodgers in the house think that their friends should secure for him treatment in a more isolated spot. In their vivid imaginations aided by public discussion on this dread malady the other lodgers almost believe that their colds are the incipient stages of consumption. Can the matter be remedied by the charitably inclined?

It would appear to the average publicist that the sooner the Government gather together sufficient moral courage to seriously act in the Lihue plantation matter the better it will be for their own reputations and the future of the plantations generally. The present Chinese Minister at Washington is not a man to be trifled with, and it is well known that the United States Government permits its representative in Hawaii, when necessary, to lend his friendly services to the Chinese here. Even were this not so now, as in the past, an unpleasant feeling will be created at Washington when it is known that position and influence have permitted a man slayer to go practically unscathed through clever legal manipulations.

Michael Davitt, the great Irish homeruler, passed through Honolulu a few months ago, and is now talking very much about the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. Davitt, the advocate and champion of home rule claims that Hawaii ought to be annexed to the United States, never mind whether the Hawaiians desire such a move or not. Funny kind of home ruler this same Mr. Mike Davitt of Ireland. But then he also advocates the annexation of Ireland to the United States and deliberately said so in the Grand Opera House at San Francisco a few years ago.

The Rev. O. Nawahine of Wahee made a speech at the Sabbath school meeting at the inauguration of the Wahee Church at Lahaina, Maui, which did not please the "reverend" annexationist present on that occasion. Mr. Nawahine, speaking in the allegorical style peculiar to the Hawaiian, called the attention of his audience, in which Sereno E. Bishop, Professor Alexander, Dr. Hyde, H. P. Baldwin, and others were present, to the fact that when the speaker, now an old man, was a boy the Hawaiian forests were full of birds. He, then, listened to the soft tones of the Iwi, Amakihi, O-o, and other Hawaiian birds. His birds were dead now and had been replaced by the lantana-spreading mynabs introduced by the men who came here from the West and who had spread dissatisfaction and contention among his people. The reverend speaker, while making his little speech, looked hard at the "reverend" foreigners who believe that they yet pull the legs of the Hawaiians. Mr. O Nawahine is the same Hawaiian who, a while ago, when exhorted by our moral Judge J. W. Kaku, the pet of Judd and Owen-Smith, to join the Annexation Club, listened in silence to the eloquent words of the moral judge, and finally bent down, took up a piece of soil, kissed it, and said in his own language, "fellow citizens, this is good enough for me."

Frank Lincoln's Entertainment.

There will be a very merry time at the Opera House this evening, for Frank Lincoln never allows his audience to grow stale on his infinite variety of jest and joke and quip and song. We hope for the sake of the Hawaiian Amusement Co. the house will be crowded and the audience endorse the comments of the Foreign press. Mr. Lincoln comes to us well recommended and should prove a success.

BASEBALL TO-DAY.

St. Louis College and First Regiments Meet.

From all indication the game of baseball this afternoon, in which the St. Louis College and First Regiments teams will contest for honors promises to be a very interesting, if not an exciting one. The hard and steady practice gone through by both teams during the past week is a guarantee that "business" is meant and each will strive to be victor. The First Regiment pitcher has become far more speedy than in the Star game and is apt to bother the St. Louis batsmen. On the other hand Lemon of the St. Louis is an unknown quantity to the soldier players and is beside a pitcher who has a good headpiece. Both pitchers put out their catchers during the past week and substitutes may have to appear behind the bat in both teams thus making honors on that score easy. From appearance the day will be a delightful one and the game a very well contested one. Gorman will act as captain of the Regiments and the change is deemed to strengthen the team sufficiently to make them play better together than when they met the Stars but they depend greatly on Bowers their pitcher. The score will probably be held down by both battings to single numbers with the chances slightly in favor of the Regiments. Following is a list of the players in position and batting order:

Table with 4 columns: ST. LOUIS, POSITIONS, 1ST. REGIMENT, and names of players like Bowers, Davis, Willis, etc.

The batting order of the teams is: St. Louis—Wood, Hansmann, Lemon, Willis, Thompson, Gleason, Cummings, Simerson, Akiwa. First Regiments—Moore, Ducau, Davis, Gorman, Luahiwa, Kaanoi, O'Connor, Scaulau, Bowers.

Death of Mrs. Waterhouse.

As THE INDEPENDENT goes to press the sad news reaches our office of the death of the wife of Senator Henry Waterhouse at the Peninsular residence of the Senator.

Not on Deck.

A deserter from one of the vessels now in port was locked up this morning at the Police Station. He was given the freedom of the yard and he took advantage of his "freedom." The turnkey was outside the Station which at that time was being photographed by an amateur kodac fiend and the deserter used the opportunity, jumped the fence between the prison yard and the yard of the Inter-Island S. S. Company's office, and escaped. Even the Marshal and his officials ought not to be photographed during working hours.

Low priced articles are not always cheapest. Closing out and clearance sales are usually made up of goods priced 75 percent above selling value and double what they are worth.

The cut down does not make them cheap, it's the advertisement. Inspection often proves the quality. Our store has been for years headquarters for good values—it makes no difference whether it is for a spool of thread or a silk dress pattern.

Once we have had a clearance sale but it was to rid our shelves of an accumulation of old goods. They were sold for what they were worth and the people were satisfied with their bargains. If we put new goods on our shelves to-day and to-morrow tell you that we would sell them at prices below cost you would imagine there was something wrong in us or the goods. Our prices are right so are the goods.

The World's Common School

There are many ways of doing things in shop and mill and store, And some are very curious and some are something more, But one thing I have learned, 'tis best, adopt one gen'ral rule And use a little common sense in the world's common school.

We are learning something ev'ry day, and no one knows it all; We are hunting for and storing grains of truth however small, But when we're puzzled in our search and try some proffered rule, We turn to common sense to guide the world's common school.

There are teachers that environ us in many irksome ways; There is knowledge that will flee from us and effort oft betrays. We care not what the plan may be which men adopt to rule There's nothing like Old Common Sense to guide the common school.

We'll find that it is best to be in "averages" all right; To keep our heads all bright and clear—our lessons all in sight, And when it comes to gathering the knowledge that will rule, 'Tis common sense will surely lead the world's common school.

In city schools the plan employ when other "orders" fail; When "systems" clash and "modes" appear to falter under sail, Just look aloft and see the clouds go scudding far away, When common sense asserts itself and gaily wins the day.

—John C. Shea.

The Popular Man.

You see his name everywhere printed each day— This "Popular Man About Town;" He seems quite ubiquitous, too, in a way, This popular man about town. At balls and receptions, at dinners and teas, At golf clubs and horse shows and like jubilees, In fact, at all functions 'way up in degrees— This popular man about town.

He wears smartest togs from old London town, too, This popular man about town; He's right up to date, from his tile to his shoes, This popular man about town. He tells all the funniest bon mots that go, He cracks all the jokes on the swells, don't you know, In fact, in this chap there is nothing that's slow— This popular man about town.

At all the first nights he stands first on the list, This popular man about town; At races he's seen with a "wad" in his fist, This popular man about town. He's always a winner, in lover or in strife, An heiress is always his prospective wife, He's born with a cinch all his natural life— This popular man about town.

But strange it is now that whatever may roam This popular man about town. No one ever found the great statesman "at home"— This popular man about town; In fact, I've a sneaking conviction within That if I should sift down his glories quite thin, I'd find him a myth—but 'twould be quite a sin— This popular man about town. —New York Journal.

The Touch of Nature.

One touch of nature, Shakespeare said, Will make the whole world kin; Alas! in these prosaic days, Kinship is very thin.

Behold the wild herd turn against The steer with drooping head, And gore the broken-hearted brute Until it topples dead.

To-day man apes the stupid ox. Don't stumble, then, or pine, For if you do your kin will just Help kick you down the line!

THE FUTURE OF HAWAII.

The Washington Star Twinkles for Annexation.

The Hawaiian question will not be put down. Events crowd upon each other in a conspiracy to force the subject upon public and official attention. The ex-Queen has contributed to this end by her presence in Washington during the winter and by the various statements that have been issued from her "court" to mystify the people as to her real purpose in remaining here. The matter of Japanese immigration in Hawaii just now holds the popular interest, through The Star's correspondence from Honolulu and the news reports from the same place, which have been explained and analyzed by ex-Minister Thurston and commented upon by the counsellor of the Japanese Legation here. A controversy has arisen between these two as to the part played by the Government of Japan in the rapid mongolization of the islands. From the latest statements it is plain that the situation with regard to the prospects of Japan's influence in the future in Hawaii is such as to call for prompt consideration by this government as to the course it is to pursue toward Hawaii. One of the most significant facts in connection with the case is that the friends of royalty in the islands, former supporters of the dynasty and advocates of a restoration of Liliuokalani, are joining the ranks of the annexationists. It is said that they see the fast-approaching Oriental wave that cannot but overwhelm them along with the rest of the native and the American-born population unless stayed by a marked political change and that between Japan and the United States as a dominant, governing power, they readily choose the latter. It is fast becoming a certainty that if Hawaii is not annexed by the United States it will be taken, either by conquest by annexation or by assimilation, by some other power. Japan and England stand ready to take advantage of the situation. The islands are valuable for their own resources, as well as for their geographical and political importance. They are to-day the key to the Pacific, and their importance will be increased when a canal is cut through the isthmus, swelling the tide of commerce that crosses the great ocean. The nation that owns or controls this group, then, will have a great advantage in the Pacific, and should it be another country than this the western shores of the United States will not be safe from attack. The American people and policy are opposed to territorial extension and conquest, but they are jealous of the other powers of the earth that seem to seek to draw the lines more closely around the republic. With Canada on the north, Bermuda on the east and Hawaii on the west Great Britain would have a tremendous advantage over this country which could not be offset by thousands of men and hundreds of warships. It is, therefore, a matter of self-defense rather than of expansion that lies at the bottom of the Hawaiian question as it is now presented.—Washington Star.

Glasgow's Municipal Clocks.

One of the most interesting of Glasgow enterprises is what may be described as municipal time for the entire city. Some years ago the experiment was tried of placing municipal clocks in prominent positions all over Glasgow and regulating them by synchronization. The present scheme is much more elaborate, and is nothing less than the establishment of a system of standard time, by electrically controlled clocks, regulated every second from the stellar clock at the observatory. A regulating clock, directly controlled from the observatory, has been placed in the City Chambers, and this in turn controls three circuits of public clocks at various points in the city. In the meantime, only about a dozen clocks have been provided, but if the trial proves successful, the corporation intends to erect from 200 to 300 18-inch dials, thus providing a reliable system of standard time for all parts of the city. This extension of the circuit will involve the laying of sixty-one miles of wire. It is hoped also to include time-keeping in private houses.—Westminster Spectator.

AS TO ANNEXATION.

In an article for the Forum, for April, entitled "Has the Senate degenerated," Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, says: * * * The Senate when Washington delivered his first Inaugural, had twenty-two members. It will begin the twentieth century with ninety. It is likely that before many years five more States, formed from our present territory, will bring up the number to a hundred. If—which Heaven avert!—there shall be additions from the continent on the South, or from the islands of the sea, they must come in and take their equal share in our self-government, and the number will be still further increased. Neither our institutions nor the temper of our people are adapted to the government of dependencies. We wish for no vassal states, nor subject citizens." * * *

How this utterance must grieve the souls of our Hawaiian Society of Sons of the American Revolution, who counted upon the Senator from Massachusetts to help them get away with the plunder secured when U. S. Minister Stevens and the forces of the U. S. S. of war Boston overthrew the Monarchy of Hawaii.

To those men who seek annexation to the United States as a territory, lest a state government should submerge them and their policy, we commend the following, also from Senator Hoar's article in the Forum: * * * "Now when we consider the great evil of governing these States in a Territorial condition—a very eminent statesman of large experience in the Cabinet and in the Senate told me the other day that a Territory was not much better than a bundle of snakes—and considering the fact of the rapid future growth to be expected from nearly all of them, I do not think so great a mistake was made in their admission as is sometimes supposed. Without accepting the above statement, I think it must be admitted that the government of Territories by our methods is very bad for Governors and governed." The Senator was alluding to the admission of the Dakotas, Montana, Washington, Wyoming, Utah and Nevada. If what the Senator says is true of contiguous territories how much more so it would be of a territory separated by 2000 miles of ocean. However, the subject is not one that need vex us for annexation is not on the cards.

SOCIETY COLUMNS.

It is a surprise to us that the members of Honolulu's "400" show an anxiety to be paraded in the public journals whenever they dine, or ride in a canoe or drink tea or go on a bicycle. One of the worst features in American journalism, and the gods know that there is an abundance of "features," is the recent style of personalities. Only the "shoddies" care to have their names paraded in the newspaper.

In Massachusetts a bill has lately been introduced in the Legislature, making it an offence punishable by imprisonment and fine for any newspaper publishing the picture of any one living in the State without written permission.

Who cares to know whether Miss Jones and Mr. Brown were lunching at Waikiki, and went out canoe riding with their host? Who cares a fig for the names of those who accepted Mrs. Smith's or Mrs. Jones's invitation to play progressive euhre? Who in fact cares for the "society" events which are now appearing in our "modern" official newspapers ad nauseam, once or twice a week? We read that Mrs. So-and-So had a number of friends in a chowder. Good heavens! if Mrs. So-and-So disposes of friends in such a manner let it be done without publicity.

We are more and more drifting into the lines of shoddy society and it is about time that a halt is called. We are informed that already several prominent and highly respectable society people have requested the "society" newspaper to omit from the "society" columns the names of their wives and daughters, a step in the right direction. If this "society" slobbering is not stopped, THE INDEPENDENT will feel obliged to open a similar column in its own way—and won't you enjoy it, dear girls and boys!

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Labor Commissioner Fitzgerald of California will not accept the suggestion of a correspondent of THE INDEPENDENT and wield a hoe in the cane field. Nor will his secretary. The gentlemen, however, are perfectly willing to draw the stipends put up by certain "planters" and will give quid pro quo by writing rot in California papers.

Annexationist organs claim that through fear of conquest by Japan, or seizure by Great Britain, Hawaiians are in favor of annexation. If this is so, then test it by a plebiscite. THE INDEPENDENT will assist in having an honest vote on the propositions as to our future form of Government. It is the Government that is afraid and not the people. The people can bide their time, the Government cannot.

We were in hopes that the Island Districts would come to the rescue of the government in the matter of registration of voters for the September election. Apparently they will not, and are following the example of the Honolulu electorate, for we read that Hilo has only rolled up 75 registrations. The indications are that the vote at the next election will be polled by less than one-twentieth even of those entitled to vote under the Republic's disenfranchising regulations. This will be an admirable showing for annexationists to present at Washington as an evidence of the unanimity of the people in support of the Hawaiian "Vestry."

It is rather sad to have to call attention to the fact that a consumptive patient is a resident of a very respectable but popular lodging house almost in the heart of the city. The young man is reported to be of a very deserving character and is being quietly assisted in his illness by well disposed persons of prominence. The other lodgers in the house think that their friends should secure for him treatment in a more isolated spot. In their vivid imaginations aided by public discussion on this dread malady the other lodgers almost believe that their colds are the incipient stages of consumption. Can the matter be remedied by the charitably inclined?

It would appear to the average publicist that the sooner the Government gather together sufficient moral courage to seriously act in the Lihue plantation matter the better it will be for their own reputations and the future of the plantations generally. The present Chinese Minister at Washington is not a man to be trifled with, and it is well known that the United States Government permits its representative in Hawaii, when necessary, to lend his friendly services to the Chinese here. Even were this not so now, as in the past, an unpleasant feeling will be created at Washington when it is known that position and influence have permitted a man slayer to go practically unscathed through clever legal manipulations.

Michael Davitt, the great Irish homerule, passed through Honolulu a few months ago, and is now talking very much about the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. Davitt, the advocate and champion of home rule claims that Hawaii ought to be annexed to the United States, never mind whether the Hawaiians desire such a move or not. Funny kind of home ruler this same Mr. Mike Davitt of Ireland. But then he also advocates the annexation of Ireland to the United States and deliberately said so in the Grand Opera House at San Francisco a few years ago.

The Rev. O. Nawahine of Waihee made a speech at the Sabbath school meeting at the inauguration of the Waihee Church at Lahaina, Maui, which did not please the "reverend" annexationist present on that occasion. Mr. Nawahine, speaking in the allegorical style peculiar to the Hawaiian, called the attention of his audience, in which Sereno E. Bishop, Professor Alexander, Dr. Hyde, H. P. Baldwin, and others were present, to the fact that when the speaker, now an old man, was a boy the Hawaiian forests were full of birds. He, then, listened to the soft tones of the Iwi, Amakihi, O-o, and other Hawaiian birds. His birds were dead now and had been replaced by the lantana-spreading mynahs introduced by the men who came here from the West and who had spread dissatisfaction and contention among his people. The reverend speaker, while making his little speech, looked hard at the "reverend" foreigners who believe that they yet pull the legs of the Hawaiians. Mr. O Nawahine is the same Hawaiian who, a while ago, when exhorted by our moral Judge J. W. Kalua, the pet of Judd and Owen-Smith, to join the Annexation Club, listened in silence to the eloquent words of the moral judge, and finally bent down, took up a piece of soil, kissed it, and said in his own language, "fellow citizens, this is good enough for me."

Frank Lincoln's Entertainment.

There will be a very merry time at the Opera House this evening, for Frank Lincoln never allows his audience to grow stale on his infinite variety of jest and joke and quip and song. We hope for the sake of the Hawaiian Amusement Co. the house will be crowded and the audience endorse the comments of the Foreign press. Mr. Lincoln comes to us well recommended and should prove a success.

London, Eng., Morning Post, July 23, 1893.—"H. R. H. the Prince of Wales laughed heartily, and repeatedly complimented Mr. Lincoln upon his wonderful humorous powers. No American has ever before gained such a high reputation in critical London as has Mr. Lincoln. His humor is refined, spontaneous, and peculiarly unique."

There is a current rumor in certain circles that Mrs. Nabaolelua, lady in waiting to Queen Liliuokalani will return to Honolulu by the Monowai next week, and that Mrs. Helulupe will leave by the Australia to be in attendance on the Queen, and remain in Washington until the Queen is joined by H. The Band plays at Hon. W. R. Castle's this afternoon, instead of at Emma Square. It is the May Day Festival of that excellent Society the Gleasers, and all who wish to aid the little ones in having a happy day should call in with their merriest faces and a modicum of loose cash in their pockets.

Robert W. Wilcox has sold his paper the Ke Aloha Aina Oiaip to the Hui Kalaiaina for $2000 having paid off the mortgages on the property. The purchasers it is said, mortgaged property to Mr. W. R. Castle to raise the purchase money. This may have an influence on the future political character of the paper.

BASEBALL TO-DAY.

St. Louis College and First Regiments Meet.

From all indication the game of baseball this afternoon, in which the St. Louis College and First Regiments teams will contest for honors promises to be a very interesting, if not an exciting one. The hard and steady practice gone through by both teams during the past week is a guarantee that "business" is meant and each will strive to be victor. The First Regiment pitcher has become far more speedy than in the Star game and is apt to bother the St. Louis batsmen. On the other hand Lemon of the St. Louis is an unknown quantity to the soldier players and is beside a pitcher who has a good headpiece. Both pitchers put out their catchers during the past week and substitutes may have to appear behind the bat in both teams thus making honors on that score easy. From appearance the day will be a delightful one and the game a very well contested one. Gorman will act as captain of the Regiments and the change is deemed to strengthen the team sufficiently to make them play better together than when they met the Stars but they depend greatly on Bowers their pitcher. The score will probably be held down by both battings to single numbers with the chances slightly in favor of the Regiments. Following is a list of the players in position and batting order:

Table with 3 columns: ST. LOUIS, POSITIONS, 1ST. REGIMENT. Rows include Lemon, Akina, Willis, Thompson, Gleason, Cummings, Hansmann, Simerson, Wood.

The batting order of the teams is: St. Louis—Wood, Hansmann, Lemon, Willis, Thompson, Gleason, Cummings, Simerson, Akina. First Regiments—Moore, Duncan, Davis, Gorman, Luahiwa, Kaanoi, O'Connor, Scaulau, Bowers.

Death of Mrs. Waterhouse.

As THE INDEPENDENT goes to press the sad news reaches our office of the death of the wife of Senator Henry Waterhouse at the Peninsular residence of the Senator.

Not on Deck.

A deserter from one of the vessels now in port was locked up this morning at the Police Station. He was given the freedom of the yard and he took advantage of his "freedom." The turnkey was outside the Station which at that time was being photographed by an amateur kodac fiend and the deserter used the opportunity, jumped the fence between the prison yard and the yard of the Inter-Island S. S. Company's office, and escaped. Even the Marshal and his officials ought not to be photographed during working hours.

Low priced articles are not always cheapest. Closing out and clearance sales are usually made up of goods priced 75 percent above selling value and double what they are worth.

The cut down does not make them cheap, it's the advertisement. Inspection often proves the quality. Our store has been for years headquarters for good values—it makes no difference whether it is for a spool of thread or a silk dress pattern.

Once we have had a clearance sale but it was to rid our shelves of an accumulation of old goods. They were sold for what they were worth and the people were satisfied with their bargains.

If we put new goods on our shelves to-day and to-morrow tell you that we would sell them at prices below cost you would imagine there was something wrong in us or the goods. Our prices are right so are the goods.

The World's Common School

There are many ways of doing things in shop and mill and store, And some are very curious and some are something more, But one thing I have learned, 'tis best, adopt one gen'ral rule And use a little common sense in the world's

common school.

We are learning something ev'ry day, and no one knows it all; We are hunting for and storing grains of truth however small, But when we're puzzled in our search and try some proffered rule, We turn to common sense to guide the world's common school.

There are teachers that environ us in many irksome ways; There is knowledge that will flee from us and effort oft betrays. We care not what the plan may be which men adopt to rule There's nothing like Old Common Sense to guide the common school.

We'll find that it is best to be in "averages" all right; To keep our heads all bright and clear—our lessons all in sight, And when it comes to gathering the knowledge that will rule, 'Tis common sense will surely lead the world's common school.

In city schools the plan employ when other "orders" fail; When "systems" clash and "modes" appear to falter under sail, Just look aloft and see the clouds go scudding far away, When common sense asserts itself and gaily wins the day.

—John C. Shea.

The Popular Man.

You see his name everywhere printed each day— This "Popular Man About Town;" He seems quite ubiquitous, too, in a way,

This popular man about town. At balls and receptions, at dinners and teas, At golf clubs and horse shows and like jubilees, In fact, at all functions 'way up in degrees— This popular man about town.

He wears smartest togs from old London town, too, This popular man about town; He's right up to date, from his tile to his shoe, This popular man about town. He tells all the funniest bon mots that go, He cracks all the jokes on the swells, don't you know, In fact, in this chap there is nothing that's slow— This popular man about town.

At all the first nights he stands first on the list, This popular man about town; At races he's seen with a "wad" in his fist, This popular man about town. He's always a winner, in lover or in strife, An heiress is always his prospective wife, He's born with a cinch all his natural life— This popular man about town.

But strange it is now that whatever may roam This popular man about town. No one ever found the great statesman "at home"— This popular man about town; In fact, I've a sneaking conviction within That if I should sift down his glories quite thin, I'd find him a myth—but 'twould be quite a sin— This popular man about town. —New York Journal.

The Touch of Nature.

One touch of nature, Shakespeare said, Will make the whole world kin; Alas! in these prosaic days, Kinship is very thin.

Behold the wild herd turn against The steer with drooping head, And gore the broken-hearted brute Until it topples dead.

To-day man aces the stupid ox. Don't stumble, then, or pine, For if you do your kin will just Help kick you down the line!

—Cleveland Leader.

Bicycle boys remember that we have the finest brews of Buffalo Beer and the Pabst genial shandy gaff at the Royal, Pacific and Cosmopolitan and with our interchangeable checks you can take a turn around the blocks between refreshments.

Ned Doyle at the Cosmopolitan is recommending the celebrated Putnam's Blackberry Brandy, a tonic which is unrivalled, assisted by Jim Thompson formerly of the S. S. Australia an excellent "half and half" is served to the thirsty customers of the Cosmopolitan.

The people flock to Enterprise Bock, Where Jimmy is bucking the goat. As ticks the clock, that grand old stock

Goes flowing inside the coat. The Pantheon boys with cheerful noise

Call John and Harry to fill The beaker with Bock, and to look at the clock, Awhile they put dimes in the till.

One ounce of prevention is better than ten ounces of cure. The Empire boasts of infallible remedies against the varioloid. Wieland beer on draft beats vaccination, and Doctor Charlie Andrew presides over the finest stock of "remedies" that can be found in town. All for medicinal purposes—and cash.

The Anchor Saloon has the only original Seattle bock beer on tap. This superior beer was received by the Warrimoo and will be the drink of the hour during the next two months. Paddy Ryan claims that it was wagt of bock beer which made Pompador succumb to the Australian Kangaroo. The original "bock" is invigorating, healthy and refreshing. Also half and half.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Goddard Lectures.—The second of the Goddard lectures was given last night before an audience which was thoroughly in accord with the lecturer and listened to his splendid descriptions of the art of brewing "Rainier" beer. He remarked that only the best of hops and malt were used thus insuring a healthful beverage. On tap or in bottles at the Criterion saloon.
