The Widemann Estate.

The master's report on the accounts of H. R. Macfarlane, F. W. Macfarlane and John M. Dowrett, trustees of the estate of Hermann A. Widemann, was filed yesterday in the Circuit Court. It shows that all of the legacies under the will have been paid, and that there is cash on hand amounting to $11,319.83 which is recommended to be distributed. It is noted that one son, Otto Widemann, has not been heard from in 30 years and a determination by the court of the disposition of this balance seems necessary. The accounts are approved.

The following paragraphs in the report are of general interest:
Of the real estate only the land described in Royal Patent No. 4040 has been disposed of and that has been done under the following circumstances. The heirs have all agreed that this property was held by decedent as trustee for Carl Widemann, and they have all in writing requested the trustees to convey the same to the Wainae Co. for the sum of $150,000 in partial satisfaction of the debt due it from Carl Widemann, and they further authorize and request the directors to pay the balance of $2,545.45 due the Wainae Co. from said lease and charge the same to their account in equal shares.

This has been done and each heir has been charged with $280.60 on account of his share of the residuary estate. This will allow the trustees, if they should see fit, to pay over to Carl Widemann the legacy of $15,000 left in trust for his benefit.

The heirs have also done another gracious act in permitting the trustees to charge to each of them the sum of $297.70 on account of each one's share in the residuary estate for the purpose of paying off the debts due by their mother's estate in order to render effective the legacies and bequests provided for by the will.

D. B. Smith's Insurance

D. B. Smith's Insurance the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States in an answer filed to the suit brought in the Circuit Court by Cecil Brown as administrator of the estate of David B. Smith denies all liability in the case.

It is claimed that an aunt of the deceased, Mrs. Olivia A. Brown, of Statesville, N. C. has been granted letters of administration of the estate in New York.

It consists largely of a life insurance policy of $25,000. Smith was connected with the Manufacturers Shoe Company in this city and dropped dead in a San Francisco hotel last December.

Mrs. Auld's Estate.

James Auld has applied to the Circuit Court for the appointment of George R. Carter as administrator of the estate of Catherine P. Auld, his wife. Mrs. Auld died on October 7th, 1900, and left an estate valued at $1,100, besides a life interest of J. L. Lewis, her former husband, valued at $80,000. She left eight children.

An old suit which was brought by Thurston & Carter on behalf of Ed. Hoffschlaeger & Co. against G. C. Akina et al was returned yesterday to the Circuit Court, it having taken over a year to secure service on the defendants who live in North Kohala, Hawaii. It is for $481.56 for materials furnished for a society building for the Lock Shin Tong society.

Kentucky's famous Jesse Moore Whiskey, unequalled for its purity and excellence. On sale at any of the saloons and at Lovejoy & Co., distributing agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

We give considerable space in this issue to the brilliant speech delivered by Mr. McClanahan at the mass meeting at the Orphenum. Let the voters read it carefully and they find in it food for thought which will show to them for whom to vote and with which party the welfare and honor of Hawaii rests.

When Mr. Achi ranks Col. McCarthy as an annexationist and a P. G. he states what he knows is a low falsehood. The popular chairman of the central committee of the Democratic party in Hawaii was at Aliiolani Hale during the trying days of January 16 and 17 in full command of the forces which were at the disposal of Marshal Wilson. When Mr. Sam Parker threw up the sponge, McCarthy and other loyalists present in the government had to retire. The colonel did never accept an office of emolument although offered to him and it was only when the Dole republic was firmly established that he accepted a position in our local militia. A comparison between McCarthy who was ready to fight for the Hawaiian, and John Emmeluth who wanted to change them, is ridiculous indeed. However Charlie McCarthy's name and reputation among themselves that he and his fellow Democrats can afford to laugh at Achi's misstatement.

Houdlette in Charge of the Sierra

The Sierra, the first of the O. S. company's new fleet of flyers, sails from Philadelphia for San Francisco to-day. She is expected to make the run in 25 days and will therefore be here to take up the November running on the Mail Company's mail contract.

On her trial the Sierra proved herself to be a smart and fast vessel and easily averaged 17 knots.

The officers who will bring the Sierra to San Francisco are all old employees of O. S. company, Captain H. C. Houdlette was formerly master of the Mariposa; chief engineer Nelson was formerly of the Australia. Purser Walton, was formerly of the Mariposa, Dr. Milan Soule was formerly of the Australia, and chief steward Haunigan was former of the Mariposa.

The dimensions and a general description of the new steamers have already been published in The Call.

They will be the largest handiwork and best equipped vessels that have ever come to this port and the advent of the Sierra will mark a new era in the history of the commerce of San Francisco.—S. F. Call, Oct. 11th.

A BRILLIANT SPEECH.

The Words Used by McClanahan to Show Why Hawaiians Should Vote the Democratic Ticket.

Mr. Chairman and fellow-citizens: Because there may be some of the older generation of the Hawaiians here who will be unable to understand my talk I have asked Mr. Wise to interpret for me what I have to say.

Political parties are a good deal like men, for "by their works ye shall know them." You don't have to label with a name a man in order to know him. I am going to venture the assertion, that when I state to you what has been said to be the principles of the two great political parties of the States, you will know those parties without my naming them.

A great and good man has said that one political party of the United States is the party of "the dollar" and that the other great political party of the United States is the party of "the man," and I will wager, that every man in this room knows the name of the political party to which each of these terms apply. (Applause.) When we say that the Republican party of the United States is the party of "the dollar" and the Democratic party of the United States is the party of "the man," we express to you the true sentiment and trend of these respective parties since their foundation. And in this great issue now before the American people the Republican party insists upon discussing "the dollar" question and declines to discuss the question of "human rights."

Since the foundation of the Republic the fundamental principle of that republic—that upon which the Constitution itself found its firmest resting place—was the principle "that all men are created free and equal" and, that "governments derived their just powers from the consent of the governed."

At the inception of the movement which led to the formation of the Republican party, in the year 1853, there had grown up in the United States a sentiment opposed to the slavery question in the South, because its continuance involved among other things a violation of one of the fundamental principles of the Constitution, and in those days the Republicans took the stand declaring for the equality of man, declaring that all governments derived their just powers from the consent of the governed, and in maintenance of their cherished principles they poured out their life-blood on the battle field, and not until 18 months ago was the question of the equality of the man and the right of the governed to govern themselves ever again questioned in the United States. Prior to the breaking out of the Spanish war the Republican party, and the Democratic party joining hands, declared, that it was a war of "humanity" and not of "conquest." And they made a solemn pledge to the world that when that war was finished the island of Cuba, then fighting for its independence, should have what it wanted. They might have gone farther and have said, "If this war extends so far as to put in our possession the Philippine Islands we pledge to the world that we shall give the struggling Filipinos, too, their independence and liberty." But the Republican party is now saying, "We didn't promise to give the Philippine Islands their independence, it was only Cuba, and therefore we are under no binding obligation to the Philippine Islands." Fellow citizens, it should bring the blush of shame to every man's cheek when he thinks of the treatment of the Philippine Islanders by the Republican party of the United States and the administration of President McKinley. (Applause.) And the heart of every Hawaiian here should go out in sympathy for those struggling people there, for you feel and know that you have suffered as these men down there are suffering, and I say that there should not be on these Islands one vote cast by the Hawaiian—the free Hawaiian—for that policy of the Republican party that is to-day shackling the liberties of the Filipinos. (Applause.)

As an American, proud of my country, the only apology which I have to offer to the world for the treatment by the Administration at Washington of the Filipinos is this: that the question as to the right of the American people, or an American President, to send soldiers down there and take from the Filipinos their liberties, has never been submitted to the American people themselves. (Applause.) No American Congress has ever passed upon the question, and I believe that when the votes are counted on the 6th day of November the American people will have expressed their disapproval of the policy of President McKinley. (Applause.)

Do you, American citizens, know that the Philippine Islanders were fighting for their liberties just as Cuba was when the Spanish war broke out, and fighting the same power of Spain? Do you fellow-citizens know that Mr. McKinley knew, when he accepted of the services of Aguinaldo and his army in fighting the Spanish forces in the Philippines, that Aguinaldo was fighting Spain for the liberties of his own people? (Applause.)

Do you, fellow-citizens, know that at the request of Aguinaldo Admiral Dewey, on the 17th day of July, 1898, sent to President McKinley a copy of the provisional Constitution of the Philippine Republic? And do you know that at the same time Dewey, at the request of Aguinaldo, sent to President McKinley a copy of a proclamation—which Aguinaldo had published, declaring that the Philippine Republic was a free and independent nation? (Applause.)

Do you know that with that knowledge President McKinley allowed American troops to fight side by side with the Philippine allies against the Spanish forces? Was it, I appeal to you, honest or honorable then, if Mr. McKinley expected to make a colony of the Philippine Islands, to have accepted the services of Aguinaldo and his men when he knew that they wanted to be free and independent? (Applause.)

If I accept of the services of a man, knowing that that man expects to be paid for it, can I in justice decline to pay that man after the work is done simply because I did not promise to pay him? I say that good morals, honesty and good faith called upon President McKinley to acknowledge the independence of the Philippine Republic after he knew that they were fighting for their liberties, and with that knowledge accepted of their services. When you hear this history, which I just touch upon, do you wonder that the Republican party refuses to discuss the rights of human-kind and wants to discuss the question of the dollar. (Laughter and Applause.)

Now I appeal to you fellow citizens, whether or no this is a time or this is a place for the "party man." Is it not a place where manhood should assert itself above party? Are you Republicans so hide bound in your affiliation to your party that you cannot see the wrong which a man seated in the Presidential chair has done? (Laughter and Applause.)

I heard an Independent speaker the other night saying, that the political parties in these islands, the Republican party on the one side and the Democratic party on the other side, were not the same parties as those in the States, and that the issues there were not the issues here which interested us. I appeal to you Hawaiians, if the story I have outlined to you about the treatment of the dark-skinned people of the Philippine Islands by President McKinley be true, is that not a subject which comes near to your hearts and which calls for an expression of your approval or your disapproval? And if you send Mr. Parker to Congress, is that not sending your message to the American people in language as plain as a, b, c, "We approve of the policy of Mr. McKinley in the Philippine Islands?" (Applause.) Is that the policy that the Hawaiian people in their hearts approve of? Is that the policy which any free, brave, liberty-loving man approves of? (Cries of "No" from the audience.) If it is not then you cannot vote for Sam Parker, for he represents the party that is led by the man whose policy that is. (Applause.)

I venture to say, ladies and gentlemen and fellow-citizens, that with the exception of some pivotal States in the Union, there is no vote watched with so much interest as the vote of the Territory of Hawaii. The people of the American union want to know how the Territory of Hawaii is going to vote on this question, and a Republican victory means an approval of that policy, and a Democratic victory means a disapproval of it. (Applause.)

And in all seriousness, an Independent victory means a blank. Will some Independent here answer to himself this question; "Will the American people know by an Independent victory here how we stand on President McKinley's Imperialistic policy?" (Laughter.) How will the Hawaiian people feel if the news comes back from the United States that William Jennings Bryan has been elected President of the United States, and you Hawaiians have not expressed here and by your wish your disapproval of the policy which has been rejected by the Democratic party of the United States? (Great applause.)

How, I say, will you feel? The Hawaiian here does not love his liberty and does not cherish his manhood, who refrains from this duty of expressing himself at the polls on this question in November. And that expression can only be made intelligible to the United States and the people of that country by sending to Congress a Democratic or a Republican Congressman. (Applause.) Mr. Wilcox sent there as an Independent Congressman gives no idea to the American people of how you Hawaiians feel on the question of President McKinley's policy of Imperialism.

I want to say now just a word or two, Mr. Chairman, if my time is not limited. I want to say a word or two, on the question of what Mr. Wilcox can do for the Hawaiian people if they send him to Congress and what he can't do. Of course this business of American politics is new to the Hawaiian people and I trust that they will bear with me if I assume to know somewhat more than they do about American politics. Ignorant of American politics, it is so easy for the Hawaiian people to be misled as to the truth of American politics. Do the Hawaiians know that Congressmen are sent from different parts of the United States to Congress, representing the section of the country from which they are sent in, Congress? Do they know that the public funds of the United States are there sought after by Congressmen for the benefit of their respective constituents? The Congressman from San Francisco is working for his constituents in that city, and in the great city of New York, and Chicago and New Orleans—and in every Congressional District, Congressmen have their own strings to pull in Congress. The Republican Congressman in San Francisco wants a million dollars for a new harbor. The Democratic Congressman in New York City wants a million dollars for a new post office, and those two Congressmen get together and one says to the other "If you scratch my back I'll scratch yours, and we will push our respective bills through." (Laughter and Applause.) And even, gentlemen, under such a system in vogue there, appropriations are hard to get. Now you will see from this general statement—of the condition of things there, of what little influence and how small are the possibilities of a man who doesn't belong to either of the two great parties getting anything. (Applause.)

The Independent Congressman can't vote. He draws his bill for $100,000 for the harbor of Honolulu and he goes to the Republican side of Congress and he says, "Gentlemen, help me out with my bill." They look at him for a minute and say, "Are you a Republican?" and he says "No" and they say, "Then go over to your friends the Democrats, because we help only our friends here and need all our money." And then Mr. Wilcox goes with his bill to the Democratic side of the House and he says, "I want a hundred thousand dollars for Honolulu Harbor," and the Democrats look at him and say, "What are you a Democrat?" and he says "No, I am an Independent." And they say to him, "Well, you will have to go to the Republicans, because we have to take care of ourselves. You can't scratch our back and we can't scratch yours."

I understand that the Independents favor that political party of the United States that will make a State of the Territory of Hawaii. I take it for granted then that the Independent party and the Hawaiian people generally favor statehood for the Territory, and that if Mr. Wilcox is your Congressman you will expect him to get that for you. And so Mr. Wilcox is in Congress, and he has drawn his bill for statehood for the Territory of Hawaii. And he goes again to the Republican party in Congress and he says, "Wasn't you favor my bill for statehood for the Territory of Hawaii?" And the Republicans turn to him and say, "Mr. Wilcox, aren't you an Independent?" "Yes, I am an Independent." "Well, Mr. Wilcox, don't you know that if we give you statehood that you will send two Independent Senators to the United States Senate, and we can't allow any such thing?" (Applause.) "The Republican party, Mr. Wilcox, is only in favor of admitting territories who, when they become States, can send two United States Senators that are of our party." And Wilcox wonders how that is, and wonders what he will say to his people, when he goes home and then he turns with his forlorn hope to the Democratic Senators.—"Give me statehood." And he says to them, "Our people in the islands are Democrats at heart; they believe in Democracy. It is true they didn't vote for Democracy, nor did they express themselves on the principles at issue in the last election, but they are Democrats at heart. Won't you help me?" And the Democratic Congressmen will turn to Mr. Wilcox and say, "Mr. Wilcox, go back to your people and tell them, when they have declared themselves as men, at the polls, to be in favor of the Democratic party and in favor of the principles of that party,—when we know where they stand, they can send you here and we will help you, but not before." [Laughter and applause.]

And the Democratic Congressmen will wonder how it was that their National Committee omitted to send missionaries down to the Hawaiian Islands to teach the people of the new Territory political truths. They will wonder how it was that the Hawaiian people, Democrats at heart, could vote for an Independent and send him to Congress and expect them, the Democratic party of the United States to take him to its bosom and make him a part of that great party, when the regular Democratic nominee, Prince David Kawananakoa, had been defeated. [Applause.]

What would those Democratic Congressmen say to Mr. Wilcox if they knew that Democratic speakers are night after night telling you Hawaiians these truths and you refuse to listen to them. I tell you, Independents, that you are following blind men when you follow the advice of Mr. Wilcox and his associates in this matter. Your safety as a nation lies in giving support to one of the two great parties, and believing, as I know you do, that your sympathies are with the Democratic party, your vote should be cast for that party, if we cast at all. I tell you that now is the time that you should take the stand for manhood and civil freedom. [Applause.]

Wants to be Admitted.

Ching Ahoo, a Chinese who was refused permission to land by Collector Stackable, has brought habeas corpus proceedings in the United States Districts Court to secure his release. In his petition he alleges that he was born in China on November 21, 1865, and that he came to Hawaii in 1880, remaining here until 1899, when he went back to China for a visit. He was refused permission to land on his return. He tells of many people in Honolulu and about the Islands by whom he was employed, among them being John Cummins, at Waimanalo, John Paty, at Waiialua Ranch, Dr. Day and F. M. Hatch. His certificate for return permitted him to be absent but a year but for reasons beyond his own control he was compelled to remain longer than he had intended and so was absent over a year. He returned on the America Maru, October 2nd.
