GIANT Horned Lizards.

Some years ago—several hundred thousand perhaps—a branch of fresh water lake existed which extended for 800 miles along the eastern flank of the Rocky mountains, and many strange monsters wandered up and down its shores.

Professor Marsh named one of the triceratops, which means that it wore three horns on its face. Its skull was enormous, measuring in an old individual 7 or 8 feet in length, was somewhat wedge shaped, and the back and sides of its neck were protected by a huge fanlike ruff or projection of bone, extending from the skull and forming a part of it.

The brain was smaller in proportion to the size of the skull than in any known animal. The mouth was a kind of beak, like that of the turtle, and similarly sheathed in horn. Its food was of the luxuriant tropical vegetation which flourished along the borders of the great lake.

The animal was about 25 feet in length and 8 or 10 feet in height, being considerably larger than the largest existing elephant.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Electric Treatment of Plants.

About 30 years ago an ingenious physician of an inquiring turn of mind was struck with the idea that if electricity was good for feeble people it might be equally good for feeble plants.

Change of Climate Brought on Rheumatism

Perfect Cure Effected by Hood's Sarsaparilla— Better Health Than Ever.

Many homes are sad because of the falling health of some dear one,— mother breaking down under heavy household cares, father weakened by advancing years and hard, incessant myself or under, and some days I could not walk across the room. One time I thought I should have to use crutches. I was attended by two doctors and they did me no good whatever. Reading about Hood's Sarsaparilla, I made up my mind to give it a fair trial, and

I Bless the Happy Day I did, for the good it has done me. I can't speak too highly of it, and I am sure all who suffer with rheumatism, if they will have the faith in Hood's Sarsaparilla and give it a fair trial, it will do the same for them as it has done for me. I am now taking the eighth bottle and I can safely say I feel as well today as any day in my life. My age is 23 years, and I have lived in New Zealand since 15 years of age.

I am glad to learn from a copy of your 'New Banner' that Hood's Sarsaparilla is now on sale in New Zealand, and that the headquarters is at Christchurch. I am well acquainted in that city and know many of The Leading Drug Stores there, some of which I will mention. There are: G. BONNINGTON, G. S. COOKE, W. P. TOWNSEND, GOLD & CO., COOK & HOSS, J. HAYWARD, HANRETT, W. J. COOPER, STEVENSON, and others.

I shall write to my friends in Christchurch and recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to them. We also lived in Fort Lyttelton toil, brother or sister growing thinner every day, or suffering from some insidious disease of the blood. Such homes may be made bright and happy again by the restoration of health and vigor which will follow the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It makes pure blood and thus cures disagreeable eruptions, gives nerve strength, good appetite, and perfect digestion. In the the shipping port of Christchurch—in Wellington, Timaru, Oamaru, and Dunedin.

"We intend to go to New Zealand again soon, and I shall be glad to uphold the above testimonial and advertise Hood's Sarsaparilla for the benefit of our sufferers."

"I am still taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills and feel better and stronger every day. These medicines certainly eclipse all others, and must soon have a large sale in New Zealand."

"Truly yours," "Mrs. ANDREW GRAY."

Hood's Pills cure all Liver Ills, Biliousness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Sick Headache.

SEASIDE SIRENS.

In Lempiere's classical pages Of Ophelia's madonna we have read, Fair Venus, whom poets adore, Have called Aphrodite instead. No matter what scandal has sprung from Her name, even critics agree There's truth in the story she springs from The foam of the sea!

Such fanciful fables no longer Are whispored to excite or sell, Though fiction is certainly stronger Since Venus stepped out of her shell. If tucked into a corset, she is no longer The goddess of love, but a girl who is true. Their sweethearts, yet many there be Who sigh for the sirens who cling to The foam of the sea.

To Keep Eggs Fresh Forever. In France a process has just been invented by which eggs can be preserved fresh for ever a year and retain for an indefinite period the freshness of taste characteristic of a new laid egg.

The previous attempts to accomplish this had all consisted of various ways of varnishing the outside of the eggs so as to prevent the ingress of air to the contents. Every one of these attempts has, however, failed.

A distinguished chemist, M. Stroehlein, has conceived the idea of preserving the contents of the egg by injecting a liquid into it.

Each egg contains within its shell a little air chamber, containing sufficient air to decompose the albumen even without the aid of any which might filter through the pores of the shell.

The chemist drives out this air by injecting into it a solution of salt and water. This he does by means of a little syringe similar to those employed for administering hypodermic injections of morphia.

When every particle of air has been exhausted, the tiny opening is hermetically sealed by means of a drop of sealing wax. The egg then will keep pure and fresh any length of time.—New York Recorder.

The Hairy Woman. About the middle of the seventeenth century the earliest tract on the subject in my collection bears date of 1653; a hairy woman—Barbara Ursin Vautich—was exhibited in all of the principal cities of continental Europe. The tract above referred to, which bears this extraordinary title, "Barbara, the Human Bear, a True Relation of a Woman as Hairy as Any Animal," gives the following account of her: "Her name is Augusta Barbara, and she is the daughter of Barthazar Ursin, and at this time (1653) is in her twenty-second year. Her whole body, even to her face, is covered with the curled yellowish hair, verrie soft like wool. She has besides a thick lousie beard that reaches to her girdle, and from her ears hang long tufts of hair of the same yellow colour." Some writers on human monstrosities believe that to be the person described by Bartoline under the title, "Barba, the Female Esau," although there is even more than a slight discrepancy in dates.—St. Louis Republic.

Why He Lost the Seat. A once famous English barrister who dearly loved a lord, on arriving one day at Hamburg, learned that a distinguished member of parliament was staying at the hotel which he had selected. He at once called a waiter and ordered him half a napoleon, at the same time requesting that a place might be reserved for him at table d'hote adjoining that of the noble lord. When dinner was served, however, he entered the room and found that the seat was already occupied. He summoned the waiter.

"Why was not that place reserved for me?" he demanded angrily. "Well, sir, I'm very sorry," replied the waiter. "You gave me half a napoleon to place you near his lordship, but he gave me a napoleon to put you on the far side of the table."—San Francisco Argonaut.

"Take the sticks," pleaded the other, but the old man shook his head and kept on counting, and at last the hour was up. "There, by thunder," he exclaimed in a tone of exultation and relief. "I knowed I could do it. Now, hand me over that money and pay for yer dinner and the horse feed, and say," he continued, as they handed it out, "sippets you give me $25 extra for wear and tear."

"They kicked, but he threatened to drive them before his gun to the nearest town and hand them over to the authorities, so they gave him $25 for wear and tear."

"Now, get out of here," he said, kicking them both out of the house and calling the dog, "and if you've got any friends that think as you do, send 'em around."—Detroit Free Press.

FUTURE POLITICS.

The organization under the annexation banner of persons who have been called royalists is a matter that does not seem content to await the attention promised it "after martial law is ended." A new element in the field political fails to see any particular reason for delay. The maneuverings just now are preliminary to a campaign of the future. Issues are growing. There will be in time an opposition to the present dominant party. In order that the "going may be good," as the race horse men say, the STAR hopes that the opposition will present a platform of principles that is reasonable, sensible and in every way worthy of serious consideration.

It is remarkable that for two years the various parts of the party which made the Republic a possibility, have held together. Only those who have been behind the scenes realize at what effort harmony has been preserved. That unanimity in the ranks be continued is simply of vital importance. The present is certainly no time for discord. There is at hand the most serious tasks the party of progress has yet confronted. That these can and will be wisely handled is assured by the satisfactory disposition in the past of important problems. The thing most to be avoided, is the petty local quarrel. It is the small grievance serving as the nucleus for the bundle of complaint that causes big trouble. To avoid these there must be exhibited patience, toleration and the manly liberality which scorns at smallness. Very often a few words will close a threatening breach. This is the time, if there ever was an occasion, that the annexation party, with its splendid record and its brilliant prospects, should present a front solid and unbroken as a line of knights of old.

The old, old story. One of the prominent rebels has broken down and says: "The woman did it."

CONSTRUCTION of a new prison is suggested as a use to which the labors of the increased convict clan may profitably be applied.

The testimonial to Deputy Marshall Brown is a deserved tribute to a capable and brave officer and a gentleman popular in all circles.

The destruction of the opera house by fire will be keenly regretted by everybody. The enterprising men of Honolulu will not permit the city to be long without a theater.

SOLDIER ARRESTED.

Member of Co. A, N. G. H., to Answer a Serious Charge.

The Marshal issued the following order this morning: "You are commanded to arrest without delay Mr. Honeck of Company A, volunteers, on the charge of conspiracy to overthrow the Republic of Hawaii, and having arrested him to deliver him at the station house receiving office."

Honeck was arrested at the Executive Building with uniform on at 9 o'clock and locked up. He is charged with complicity with Cranston, Mueller and others in a scheme to prevent the volunteers from assembling. Honeck served with his company through the war and made a good record. His friends are very much chagrined over the turn affairs have taken. Honeck was a member of the Schuetzen Club in his hey-day.

New Adherents.

The following persons have taken the oath at the Judiciary department: H. B. Schroder, W. S. Edings, Henry Pierce, David Kakuha, James T. Leach, George Overbeck, Ed. Sanstrom, W. B. Sanstrom, W. B. Scott and Emil Keisel. Of these one is Hawaiian, two are Germans and six are Americans.

Ten Sentences.

The ten men placed in Oahu jail yesterday were sentenced as follows: Bipikane, Palau, Poole, Joe Clarke, 10 years; Kanai, Kiakahi, 8 years; Lot Lane, Kiliona, Wm. Widdfield, 5 years. The fines of $5000 each were remitted by the resident.

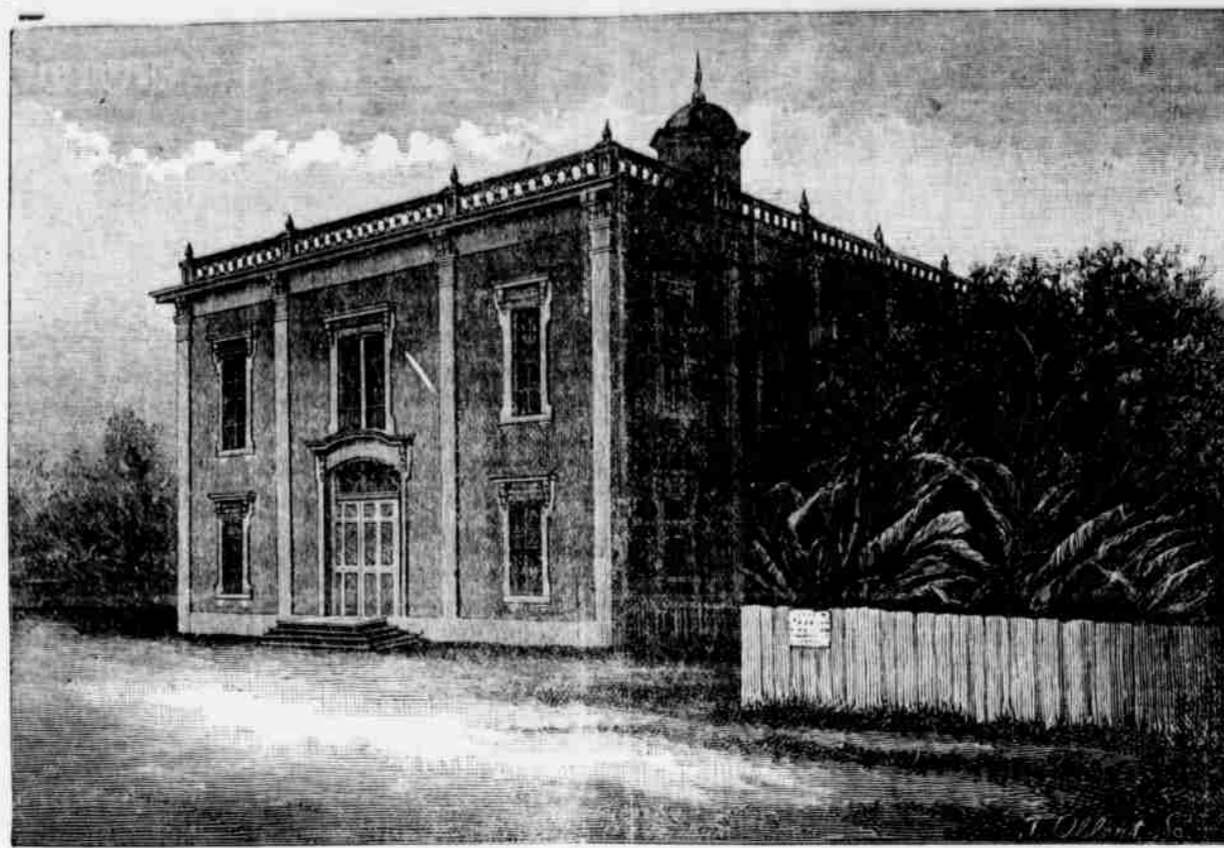

Timely Topics.

February 12, 1895.

Congress seems to be awakening to the advisability of taking steps towards the annexation of Hawaii, but it is not to be expected that anything definite can be accomplished until the 54th Congress convenes. If it is true that the Democratic Party was the greatest opposition two years ago that same party is still in power and not much in this line can be expected from it. On the other hand if annexation to the United States depends solely upon a Republican Congress the matter should be satisfactorily settled soon after March 4. It is a question whether annexation was defeated in '93 simply on party lines. Both sides seem to be divided on the merits of the movement and unless it should be brought up now on a strictly party vote there may be a doubt as to its passage. And how stands Hawaii on the proposition? are there more people here who would advocate annexation than there were in 1893, or less? Does the majority feel that it is for the best interests of the masses to pool issues with the older Republic rather than go it alone? Annexation has disadvantages that cannot be counted upon the fingers of one hand, but it is argued that the benefits to be derived from such political union would more than compensate the country at large. An independent Government has been tried and those who are in close touch with it are best able to judge whether it has been a success. It's nice to be independent, if one can, better yet if that one happens to be a government. We know what the people of the United States contend with year in and year out, we are able to judge from non-partisan papers whether the people there are prosperous and happy and we can make a pretty close guess as to whether under the conditions which exist here, prosperity would be any closer at hand than it is under the present circumstances. An objection heretofore has been in the fact that the voting franchise has been too general for certain purposes. As an offset certain aliens were given certain rights which with annexation to the United States could not exist. There could be no special rights of citizenship under the Constitution of the United States nor would there be any property or income qualification upon the citizen of Hawaii who wanted to cast his ballot. Considering this matter in the light in which it appears to the non-participant where will our Government be improved by annexation.

We have sufficient plain galvanized and barbed wire to build a fine wire fence around each island in the group. We have it now, but we do not believe we will have it all in a fortnight. We sell wire, you understand, we make no attempt to keep it because there is more money in the sale than the storing. Our barbed wire is the best made and will stand all the tests wire may be subjected to in this climate. Our plain galvanized wire is the best that has ever been brought to the country. Our prices are lower than you have ever paid for it. We have a few of the only genuine fruit pickers in town, and they are really very good and will save you lots of fruit. They are a cheap but well made article and cannot wear out or break. Fifty cents is the price. If you think the rainy season is over you must also think it is time for you to begin tivating your house. The first step in this direction will be in painting the outside and you cannot do better in this respect than by using Henry's Ready Mixed Paints. Try them once and you will never use any other. They will retain their gloss and color longer than those mixed by painters and will give better satisfaction in every way. They go further than other paints and cost you less money. We have all colors for house, floor or veranda painting in quart, half-gallon and gallon containers. The Wertheim Sewing Machine that does three distinct stitches without change of any part of the machinery is the cheapest thing you can have in the house. The price is lower than that of an ordinary machine.

ARTHUR M. BROWN, DEPUTY MARSHAL.

THE DEPUTY MARSHAL.

ARTHUR M. BROWN, ABLE AIDE TO THE CHIEF OF POLICE.

Has Made an Envyable Record—Finds Present Him With a Testimonial—Deserved Recognition.

In the conduct of the Marshal's office Mr. Hitchcock has been singularly blessed in having as an assistant such an able deputy as Mr. Arthur M. Brown, whose likeness is shown here.

Arthur, as his intimates call him, is a Honolulu boy and received his education at Punahou from which institution he was graduated. Having shown a predilection for the law his desires were encouraged and he was sent to the Boston University Law School from which he graduated in 1891.

Returning to Honolulu he entered the office of Judge Hartwell, embarking shortly afterward as an active practitioner at the Honolulu bar.

At the time of the overthrow in 1893, Mr. Brown took the side for good government and became active among the citizen soldiery and was given command of a squad of men on guard at the Judiciary building.

When it became necessary for a transfer of arms and ammunition from the police station to the Government buildings on King street Mr. Brown volunteered his services in the undertaking and accomplished satisfactory results.

In recognition of his services during those tempestuous times he was proffered and accepted the office of Deputy Marshal of the Republic, an office which he has so satisfactorily filled.

OPERA HOUSE IN RUINS.

A SPLENDID STRUCTURE DESTROYED BY FIRE THIS MORNING.

All Ablaze Inside Before the Alarm Was Given—Department's Good Work—Great Crowds.

The Hawaiian Opera caught fire at 7 o'clock this morning, and within an hour was a complete wreck. It is entirely gutted. The roof has fallen and only the trembling walls remain.

The blaze was first noticed by some one on the streets, and the alarm was turned into the Mutual Telephone office. At that time the smoke was coming through the windows around the stage and the roof.

The tower was wrapped in flames. Many people on the streets saw the fire and congregated around the building, even before the alarm had been turned in.

Before the bell rang No. 2's big engine was flying to the scene, following the chemical. No. 1's horses were out for exercise and did not get there until some time later.

In perhaps fifteen minutes China engine No. 5 put in an appearance and dropped hose from Alakea down King street.

By the time water was procured the building was doomed. Smoke and flames were emerging from windows and doors and from the eaves of the roof on every side.

The main auditorium caught overhead, the chairs in the parquet and dress circle seeming to remain almost unscathed until the roof fell in. Another singular thing was that the curtains fronting both boxes down stairs were not burnt when the windows opposite had been eaten away by the flames.

Water was thrown through the windows and doors, but with no effect whatever for some time. The firemen acquitted themselves nobly, however, frequently risking their lives to get water upon the flames.

Several thousand people had gathered on Union Square and contiguous streets. Policemen and members of the Citizens' Guard kept them back. The first fear was of a gasoline tank in the corner of the Judiciary building, connected with the opera house.

Had this gone off the result might have proven disastrous. The gasoline tank happened to be empty.

PREACHER AT THE BAR.

REVEREND NATIVE CHARGED WITH MISPRISION OF TREASON.

Declined to Plead—Ke-ke His Attorney State's Case and Defense—Small Audience.

This was the twentieth day of the sitting of the Military Commission. There were not a dozen spectators in the hall when Lieutenant Jones read the record. The defendant was Sam'l K. Ka'ili, who has been a preacher. He was charged with misprision of treason.

The accused has as counsel Sam'l K. - Rev. Mr. Ka'ili last charge was at Waipio, Hawaii. He is a large, fine-featured native.

Mr. Ke-ke filed the well-known and justly celebrated Neumann objection to the jurisdiction of the court. Overruled.

Mr. Ka'ili, on advice of counsel, declined to make answer to the charge and thirteen specifications. Pleas of not guilty were entered.

San Nowlin called for some weeks prior to January 6 I was engaged with Messrs. Rickard, Seward and others in the business of conspiring against the Government and concocting a rebellion.

Johnny Paaoo—Live near Diamond Head. Saw defendant Thursday night January 3 at Kaala. He was in my house. We were called about midnight. I followed Ka'ili outside. He disappeared. Next I saw a boat inside the breakers. It was walked along on the beach. When the boat came ashore I saw there were guns in it.

Jos. Pahia—Live at Kaala. Defendant lives there sometimes. He was there January 4, in the morning. He went fishing. Saw party of footprints on the sand. A cart-ridge belt was found. Ka'ili left Kaala for town on Saturday. Nets were dragged over the footprints.

Kahalamani—Sometimes live at Kaala. So does Ka'ili. I was in one of the boats that brought arms ashore Wednesday, January 3d. Went again late the next night. Carried guns into bushes. Right after this saw near there Wilcox, Charles Warren and others. Soon we met defendant. Wilcox said to Ka'ili to take care of "the things that were landed," and showed him where they were landed. Ka'ili also took some morning obliterate all the tracks made. Ka'ili agreed to do this.

Charles Warren corroborated the last witness as to seeing Ka'ili. Mr. Kane, defendant's counsel, moved a discharge on the ground that prosecution had not shown his client to be present when arms were landed. Overruled.

R. W. Wilcox was called and testified that Ka'ili was not present when arms were landed, but was there about fifteen minutes afterward. Ka'ili took the stand in his own behalf. Lease the fishing rights out there. Was at Kahala Thursday night of 3d. Saw two boats in front of house during the night. Called out, "who is there?" but received no answer. Then a number of people came up from along the beach. Recognized Charles Warren and Robert Wilcox.

Warren said they had brought some stuff and landed it on the sand. That was all that was said. Was in town Saturday. Defense closed.

MATE KNUDSEN. Andrew Knudsen, Norwegian, mate of the Waimanalo, at the bar. Charge, misprision of treason. Sam Nowlin, Captain Davies, Charles Warren, George Townsend and W. O. Smith testified for the prosecution. The accused then took the stand in his own behalf. Corporal Evanson of Company E sworn as interpreter. Witnesses for the prosecution testified that Knudsen went with Waimanalo after arms, helped to load them on the steamer and was present when they were landed at Diamond Head. It was the general impression that accused knew for what the arms were to be used. The prisoner understood and spoke English very poorly.

STORY OF OPIUM BROWN.

MENTIONED AS A POSSIBLE ASSISTANT TO THE REVOLUTIONISTS.

Reviling Accounts of How the Desperate Smuggler Probably Disposed of Some Illicit Freight.

A late San Francisco Chronicle has a local item in which Opium Brown, so well known here, figures prominently. The article is in the shape of an interview in which a gentleman says:

"During my residence in Victoria and the surrounding towns last October I saw a great deal of the band of smugglers who have their headquarters along the Sound. It was there I met Billy Stewart, who is known as 'Honolulu' as 'Opium Brown,' and Jack Forbes, alias Jack Regan. These men are well known opium and Chinese smugglers, and are the owners of the South Bend. It was they, you remember, who brought down twenty Chinese two years ago to be landed in this city. It was alleged that when the schooner reached the heads the captain found out in some mysterious manner that the authorities were watching for him, and he did not care to return with the Chinese he ordered them all thrown overboard. That was the current story.

"At the time there was a good deal of talk over the mysterious disappearance of the Mongols, and since then the Chinese of Victoria refused to hire either Stewart or Forbes to transport coolies."

"Both men are notorious smugglers and swindlers, and are wanted by the authorities of Seattle and other Northwestern towns. For a number of years they have been openly engaged in opium and Chinese smuggling and have succeeded in accumulating considerable money."

The Chronicle's informant continues with a circumstantial story to the effect that Stewart and Regan loaded the South Bend with arms and opium for the islands.

Political Prisoner Known in a Venerable Yankee Town. PLYMOUTH (Mass.), Jan. 22.—Arthur P. Peterson, who has been arrested for being one of the agitators on the Royalist side in the recent rebellion in the Hawaiian Islands, is well known here, where he resided several years ago.

He comes of Plymouth stock, his father being Daniel Porter Peterson a native of South Plymouth, but he was born in Honolulu, where his father was in business. He is about 35 years old and received his college education in the University of Michigan, being a student in the law school.

He graduated there about 1877 and located here for a short time and studied law in the office of the present Chief Justice Mason of the Supreme Court.

He was admitted to the Plymouth County bar and practiced law here for a few years. He was a member of the Standish Guards, then Company H, First Regiment, and was corporal and company clerk in 1879. In company with William E. Chase of Boston he established a daily newspaper.

Substitute for Rifling. Fitting the Projectile to Give It the Rotary Movement. A substitute for the rifling of cannon, which is the chief cause for the great cost of modern guns, has been devised by Mr. Unge, a Swedish engineer, who also expects to put an end to the deterioration of the bore due to the combustion of gases which the new powders develop.

He fits the projectile with gas checks, which prevent the passage of any gases, and gives to it the axial rotary movement which is now obtained by rifling the barrel by a mechanical device which gives the twist to the gun itself at the moment of firing. The motion conveyed may be kept constant or increased. He claims that the effect is the same as that obtained by the twist in the rifle; that the accuracy of fire obtained by his system is equal or superior; that by it heavy guns can be produced at half the present cost and will last twice as long as they do now.

NATIONAL CANE SHREDDER. Patented under the laws of various Republics. One of these Shredders has recently been installed at the mill of the Paahau Plantation Company, Hamakua, Hawaii, and Mr. Andrew Moore, the manager, writes concerning it

PAAHAE PLANTATION CO., HAMAKUA, Jan. 10, 1895. We, W. O. IRWIN & CO., LTD., HONOLULU, GENTLEMEN—The mill has been running during the past two weeks, with the National Cane Shredder lately installed, giving the most satisfactory results.

Our mill consists of three sets of two rollers, 32 in. in diam. in long, the shredder does being 5 ft. 7 in. long, driven by an automatic engine 11 in. dia. cylinder by 14 in. stroke. The rollers are being milled in as hard as it is possible for cane to be, having been subjected to a steam pressure of 100 lbs. per square inch, and growing on land with a trade wind exposure. Our experience with the shredder, particularly with above cane, proves it to be just what our mills required, the shredded cane being better prepared to have its juice extracted than formerly after passing through the first mill. The first mill is now allowed to open 9-16 in. instead of 5 in. as formerly, so that the trash now leaves the first mill, better ground, than it formerly did the second, and this, without the old time grinding, churning, and straining of the machinery.

Behind the shredder we have installed a new roller, the quantity for the last 12 days, as per statement attached, has averaged 35 per cent. on the total juice from the cane. The trash from the last mill is cut up much finer than before the shredder was applied, and it is estimated that it contains as per statement 25 per cent. of moisture and makes good fuel, the juice from the last mill stands 12 degrees Brix, so that the moisture in the trash is of 5 per cent. sugar solution. The rollers make steam much cooler than before, now cane has to be taken to keep them from blowing off, whereas before great care was necessary to keep the steam from going too low when the Pan was on.

By the use of the shredder we have dispensed with six sets of rollers necessary to distribute the cane on the carrier, feed the first mill, and throw back the long pieces. The Shredder Machinery is a good substantial job, and should cause little or no trouble, as it is constructed to last long strains. You will see that by applying the shredder, our work in all departments has been very materially improved. We are satisfied that a better extraction at less expense than formerly. The great improvement in our steam, causes much satisfaction to those engaged in the Mill. Yours Respectfully, W. O. IRWIN & CO., LTD.

Plans, specifications and prices of these Shredders may be had on application to W. G. IRWIN & Co. Ltd. Wholesale Agents for the Hawaiian Republic. 561-1f
