Had $75,000 Worth With Her When She Died

WHAT WILL THE CHEMISTS FIND?

THE NEXT MOVE OF HIGH SHERIFF HENRY IN THE STANFORD CASE WILL DEPEND ON THE RESULT OF THE CHEMICAL ANALYSIS OF THE CONTENTS OF THE STOMACH AND OF THE BICARBONATE OF SODA BOTTLE.

The jewelry among the effects of the late Mrs. Stanford in Honolulu is estimated to be worth about $75,000. It is now in the possession of J. F. Hackfeld, as representative of the Stanford estate. Yesterday afternoon Judge Stanley took charge of it and it was left in the Moana hotel safe, with an officer on watch all night. This morning it was brought down town. Among the jewelry is a magnificent pair of pearl earrings, one of the pearls white the other black.

It is said Mrs. Stanford has gone shopping wearing $20,000 worth of diamonds.

High Sheriff Henry went to the Moana Hotel this afternoon. He is understood to have had another interview with Miss Hunt and Miss Berner, and will leave nothing undone to unravel the mystery.

Attorney General Andrews this morning received a cable from Acting Chief of Police Spillane of San Francisco, asking him to take all possible precautions to protect evidences of crime in the Stanford case. The cable asked that evidences of poisoning be carefully preserved before the body was embalmed and that all other evidence be preserved. The cable was dated at San Francisco last night. If the action requested had not already been taken, it would have been too late, but the autopsy had been performed, the contents of the stomach had already been partially analysed and everything possible done to preserve evidence in the case.

The cable was directed to the "district attorney, Honolulu." As R. W. Breckons is the only district attorney in Honolulu it naturally fell into his hands. He sent it to Andrews, who at once notified High Sheriff Henry, who has charge of the Stanford matter. Henry had received a similar message yesterday, and replied to it.

The body of the late Mrs. Stanford has been embalmed, and now rests in a cloth covered steel casket in the undertaking parlors of H. H. Williams, awaiting further instructions from the coast, though in all probability it will be sent to the coast by the steamship China due here March 19.

J. F. Hackfeld has been requested by cable from Mrs. Stanford's representatives to take charge of affairs here for them, and the arrangements regarding the body and any services that may be held, will be under his control, with Judge Stanley as the legal representative.

Cabled instructions were received by Mr. Hackfeld to have the body thoroughly embalmed and placed in a metallic casket. This has been done. The casket is of steel, but covered with black cloth so that it is indistinguishable from a wooden casket similarly covered.

There has been no decision reached yet as to whether there will be services over the remains here before they are sent to California or not. There is a good deal of talk among alumni and former students of Stanford about the propriety of their following the remains in a body, when they are taken to the steamer, and this will be decided on.

A call has been issued, and is published elsewhere in these columns, asking all Californians to meet at the Alexander Young Hotel next Monday evening to consider such acts of respect as it may be possible to show, at the departure of the remains of "Our benefactress and altime friend, the late Mrs. Jane L. Stanford." The call is signed by W. H. Hoogs for the committee.

The funeral services, when the body is consigned to the magnificent Stanford Mausoleum beside the bodies of her husband and son, will be from the splendid new chapel at Stanford University, which in its mural decorations and cathedral glass windows is said to be the most splendid edifice of its kind in the world. The Mausoleum is a magnificent structure in classic Doric, the front finished in perfect Carara marble. The remainder is finished in the same style but in polished granite.

"I had an interview this morning," said High Sheriff Henry "with Mr. Duncan the government chemist. He said that he would be unable to make his report until late tonight or possibly tomorrow. Practically nothing further had developed during the course of the chemical analysis of the powder taken from the bottle marked bicarbonate of soda. This is being subjected to a careful examination by Mr. Duncan assisted by Dr. Shorey the chemist of the experimental station. Yesterday Dr. Duncan was satisfied from the first part of his examination that there was reason for looking carefully for traces of strychnine in the powder. His test has not of course, been concluded but his report will be made to me as soon as possible. As can be understood it is imperative to determine first whether strychnine actually caused the death of Mrs. Stanford. While the matter is being investigated thoroughly by the authorities still it is imperative to be acquainted with the chemical features of the matter. The police will be better able to express some opinion publicly after the reports from the chemists will have been received.

"In addition to the analyses of the powder the various organs of the deceased were removed at the autopsy and are to be examined by the chemists. I have requested the various surgeons present at the autopsy not to discuss the matter, until after the chemists will have had the opportunity of completing their work.

"The case is certainly mysterious, and owing to this fact and the importance of this case the utmost care has to be taken by the authorities. I cannot at this time express any opinion as to the nature of the terrible death. It was a shocking affair and one which certainly shall be investigated to the fullest extent.

"The coroner's inquest can certainly not be held before tomorrow and probably not then. No steps will be taken in this matter until after the chemists will have completed their work. As soon as we are able to lay this evidence before the jury together with other facts that might tend to clear up the terrible affair the inquest will be held."

Until after the reports from the chemists shall have been received the police are practically at a standstill in their investigation of the mystery of Mrs. Stanford's sudden death last Tuesday night. While the official

THE PACIFIC CLUB DISTRIBUTES LIQUORS

BRECKONS MAKES A CHEERFUL ADMISSION IN THE CLUB LICENSE CASE—THE QUESTION OF WHETHER THE PACIFIC CLUB SELLS, DISPOSES OF OR DISTRIBUTES INTOXICATING LIQUORS WITHIN THE LAW'S MEANING.

Does the Pacific Club sell liquor, or distribute liquor? was a question which arose in the Supreme Court this morning, during the argument of the Pacific Club license case, before Hartwell, De Bolt and Robinson. Attorney General Andrews argued that the serving of liquors to members was a sale, and quoted authorities to show that the transfer of possession which takes place when an Elk reaches out his left hand constitutes a legal sale. Breckons argued on the other side and then Justice Hartwell proceeded to ask him a few questions.

The chief justice wanted to know if Breckons contended as a legal proposition that there was no sale at all, or that there was not a sale within the meaning of the license law of Hawaii.

Breckons replied that he was not very certain about there being no sale at all. He was quite sure, however, that it was not a sale within the meaning of the license law. He was ready to admit, for the purpose of argument, that the club did "sell" liquors under the ordinary legal definition of the term, also that it "disposed of" liquors, which is a fact with which everyone is acquainted.

It was De Bolt, who did not at all look like a humorist, who brought up the question of whether the club was engaged in the "distribution" of liquors. The court unbended its supreme dignity considerably when Breckons admitted that the club did distribute liquor. Breckons said in reply to a suggestion of Justice Hartwell that there was a transfer and disposal when his honor entertained guests, but that it by no means constituted a sale within the meaning of the license law.

The question has been argued at three or four separate sessions of the court, during hours when the circuit judges who are sitting with Hartwell, could leave their other duties. Andrews is seeking to secure a decision that the Pacific Club should pay a $1,000 retail license.

ANOTHER CANE FIRE AT ELEELE

FIVE OR SIX ACRES OF SUGAR CANE SWEEP BY FIRE LAST MONDAY.

A cane fire occurred at McBryde Plantation at Eleele last Monday five or six acres were burned over. The fire started from a spark from a plantation locomotive. It is thought and was extinguished without a great deal of difficulty. This is the second fire that McBryde has had within a month and while the theory of a spark from the locomotive causing the present fire and also the first one may be correct still the fire may have been caused by something else. In any event no great amount of damage has been done the plantation the loss being in both instances nominal.

FOREIGN NEWS BY CABLE

JAPANESE WINNING AGAIN.
ST. PETERSBURG, March 2.—There is no news from Manchuria. The impression is that Kuropatkin has withdrawn, abandoning the bridge over the Shakhe and inflicting heavy losses on the Japanese.

OKU'S HEADQUARTERS, March 2.—The Japanese left is repelling the Russians. Oku's outposts repulsed an attack on Lantian after desperate fighting. The Russians left 60 dead on the field and the Japanese loss was slight.

SACHELUN, March 2.—The Japanese are bombarding Putiloff.

REJECTS POISONING THEORY.
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 2.—There is general sorrow here over the news of Mrs. Stanford's death. The flags of the University and of Palo Alto have been half masted. Charles G. Lathrop, brother of the deceased, and Mr. Wilson, her attorney, do not believe the poisoning story and attribute Mrs. Stanford's death to natural causes. The investigation by detectives of the previous poisoning charge has been resultless, the presence of poison in the mineral water which Mrs. Stanford drank being unproved.

COLORADO STATESMAN DEAD.
DENVER, March 2.—Ex-Senator Wolcott is dead.

Edward Oliver Wolcott was born in Longmeadow, Mass., March 26, 1848. He was for a few months a private in the 150th Ohio Vols. in 1864. He entered Yale in 1866 but did not graduate. In 1871 he graduated from Harvard Law School. Soon after he removed to Colorado and established an office in Denver. He was U. S. Senator 1889-1901 and was chairman of the committee appointed by President McKinley to visit Europe in the interests of international bimetalism.

THE LEPROSY BILL.
WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Senate and House have passed the bill for the investigation of leprosy.

AN UNSAFE ISSUE.
LONDON, March 2.—The indications are that the government will sidetrack the fiscal controversy.

THE OREGON ON FIRE.
EUREKA, March 2.—The steamer Oregon, beached near here, is burning. The fire is probably controllable.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

The House of Representatives held a short session yesterday afternoon and after winding up necessary business adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late Mrs. Stanford.

After an objection by Representative Fernandez to the bills being only type written in Hawaiian while they are printed in English, Representative Harris moved that all bills be printed in both languages and this carried.

The following recommendations were made by the Reference Committee on the bills referred to:

Act providing licenses (Broad) to be tabled as a Senate bill is pending.

Act relating to the retailing of intoxicating liquor (Mahelona) to be tabled, Senate bill pending.

Act to amend the Civil Code relating to summary proceedings to recover possession of land (Broad), to be tabled, Senate bill pending.

Rules for administering oaths and holding elections (Broad), indefinitely postponed by request.

Act creating city and county of Honolulu and providing for government thereof (Mahelona), referred to County Committee.

The following letter from the Secretary of the Territory was read and was loudly applauded:

Hon. Eric A. Knudsen, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Sir: It affords me pleasure to notify your Honorable body that I have just received a cable from Washington to the effect that the bill appropriating $150,000 for experimenting and testing with cures for leprosy in Hawaii has just passed the United States Senate. It had already passed the House of Representatives.

Respectfully,
A. L. C. ATKINSON,
Secretary of Hawaii.

FISHERY RIGHTS CASES.
Judge De Bolt gave judgment yesterday for the plaintiff in the suit of Victoria Ward vs. Territory of Hawaii to establish a sea fishery vested right under the Organic Act. Kinney, McClanahan and Cooper and S. H. Derby for plaintiff, Attorney General L. Andrews for defendant.

The fishery rights of the B. P. Bishop estate were also established and with them, on a general question that had been argued, the fishery rights of the estate of James Campbell, M. E. Foster et al., Sol Kama and Anna Perry et al. Attorneys appearing against the Territory were Bailou & Marx, Cecil Brown, W. A. Whiting and S. H. Derby. In a separate judgment the fishery rights of L. L. McCandless are established.

KILAUEA ACTIVE

The following wireless message was received last night:

VOLCANO HOUSE, March 1.—Sheldon, Love, Smith and Wall report Kilauea a great sight. Molten lava comes from the lake and an artesian well is making a fiery stream 300 feet long, while the floor of the crater is covered with lava. Notify Trent.

THE ADLER ESTATE.

Mrs. J. J. Harvey, nee Adler has petitioned for probate of the will of the late Louis Adler, and that David Dayton be appointed administrator of the estate. The estate is valued at $3,000 consisting of a leasehold in Vineyard street and cash in the Bank of Hawaii, though the will says:

"The estate consists of the following: 115 shares of stock in Ewa plantation, cash in the Bank of Hawaii, cash on hand, leasehold on five cottages situated on Vineyard street near Miller, Honolulu, Oahu."

The will leaves the estate, share and share alike to Rose Adler, now Mrs. J. J. Harvey; Lizzie Adler, now Mrs. Ward Adams Rowell, and Louis Adler, only son of the testator, who also is bequeathed his father's gold watch and chain. The will was executed on April 7, 1903, in the presence of H. J. Teel and E. A. Miller.

PACIFIC CLUB CASE.

The matter of the Pacific Club's license was before the Supreme Court yesterday with Hartwell, De Bolt and Robinson as Justices, Frear and Wilder being members of the club. Argument was adjourned at ten to allow the circuit judges to sit in their own courts and was resumed at 1:30 in the afternoon. Judge Stanley and Breckons appeared for the club and Attorney General Andrews for the Territory.

BAR ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Bar Association will be called very shortly to take up the matter of J. Alfred Magoon referred to it by the Attorney General.

meister "that the bond had no incidentals whatsoever. It has been stricken out when all got 20 per cent down so the bond has to make the best of it, but hopes that the Legislature will restore us the incidental appropriation to buy new roads, strings, new music, repair instruments, car fare and express hire for long distance service and we will thank them for it.

Yours as ever, CAPT. H. BERGER, Bandmaster.

The Treasurer was more expensive, his incidentals come to $365.59. President Pinkham of the Board of Health wrote inviting the members of the House of Representatives to visit the Insane Asylum. He said nothing about their staying permanently so the letter was merely filed.

A long report from Supt. of Public Works Holloway giving details of the following amounts: Total appropriations under the loan act $2,397,270 75 Total expenditures 1,601,735 89 Total unexpended 1,365,534 86 Total reserved for contracts 448,476 01

Rep. Kaniho's bill for the protection of employes as voters has been printed and is before the House of Representatives. It is a curious document. By its provisions every employe of any kind whatever may absent himself for three hours on election day from whatever business or employment he may be engaged in. Not only this, but any person, company, partnership or corporation which refuses to grant that favor or who shall subject an employe to a penalty or reduction of wages on account of his three hours absence, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. A provision in the act expressly states that the act applies to government employes as well as to those of private concerns.

A motion to change the name of the Kaniho bill to read "An Act for the robbery of employes" will be in order. Chief Justice Frear filed a report showing $432.30 for expenses of the Judiciary Department for six months and $609.67 for stationery and incidentals.

Secretary Atkinson notified the House that the Governor had signed the joint resolution empowering a committee to burn up paid warrants.

The following bills were transmitted to the House from the Senate:

Relating to the bonds of public officers.

Providing for indexing the records in the office of the Registrar of Conveyances.

Chief Engineer Thurston of the Honolulu Fire Department submitted a report showing an expenditure of $4128.27 for incidental expenses. The principal single item was one of $1525.01 for horse feed.

An invitation was received from the Hooulu and Hooula Lahue Society requesting the company of the Speaker and members of the House at lunch at the Kapioalani Maternity Home on Friday, March 3. The invitation was accepted.

Rep. Lewis introduced a bill to protect life and property from injuries resulting from the operation of steam boilers and engines and to provide for the licensing of engineers. It was read by title for the first time.

The following resolutions were introduced:

For $5,000 for maintaining and improving Moehau Park, Hilo. (Lewis).

For $10,000 for purchasing balance of right of way, Bridge street, Hilo. (Lewis).

For $3,000, completing King street, Hilo. (Lewis).

For $25,000, road from Honolulu to Pahuhau. (Lewis).

For $15,000, for High School building at Hilo. (Lewis).

For $10,000, extending River street from Vineyard to School street. (Kaleiopa).

For $2,000 for a school house at Kahikahi. (Mahikoa).

For $6,000 for a school house and teacher's cottage at Papaia. (Mahikoa).

For $20,000 for the extension of Vineyard street from Liliha to Insane Asylum road. (Broad).

Rep. Fernandez introduced a resolution aimed at Col. Jones and his gallant men. It ran to the effect that as a newspaper had said that the money appropriated for the military department had been spent for "booze and high jinks" and as public rumor also said so, a special committee should be appointed to examine the accounts of the Military Department and report on the same and that the commission have power to subpoena officers and other witnesses.

It was agreed that a committee of three shall be appointed by the Speaker.

The Finance Committee reported favorably on Coelho's bill to encourage diversified industries.

A number of bills were reported by the Printing Committee as having been printed.

Chairman Holstein of the Police Committee reported favorably on the application for the appointment of a Deputy Sheriff for Honouliuli, Maui.

The Committee on Public Lands and Improvements reported by Chairman Mahelona. It recommended the tabling of the petition of North Kohala asking for $55,000 for different road works, a former petition covering the ground.

The petition for $15,000 for a court-house and jail at North Kona was recommended, referred to the County Committee.

The petition for $35,000 for a wharf at Kailua bay was recommended tabled, as the present wharf is good.

WANTS EVIDENCE PRESERVED

analysis has not been received, every circumstance goes to indicate that death was due to strychnine poisoning. There seems little reason at the present time for believing that Mrs. Stanford committed suicide. She gave no indication of such intention and her entire conduct since she had been in Honolulu was such as to indicate quite the contrary. Her lively interest in affairs and people about her was such as to indicate a desire to continue to live. Circumstances incomplete as they are, go to show that death was not due to natural causes as was hinted by her brother but rather to strychnine poisoning. The autopsy shows unmistakable signs of poisoning and the investigation of the contents of the bottle marked "bicarbonate of soda" will it is thought, throw much light upon the manner of her death.

The interest so far as can be learned today centers about the report of the chemists on the contents of this bottle. The chemical analysis goes to indicate the presence of strychnine. The chemical tests will it is thought be completed late tonight or by tomorrow and then the authorities will be in a better position to follow up the solution of the mystery.

The local authorities are naturally concerned in first determining whether a poison was in the bicarbonate of soda bottle. It is not thought that the poison was secured in Honolulu. In fact from the statement of Miss Berner published exclusively in The Star yesterday nothing seems to be known of the bottle. Mrs. Stanford had had it for some time but neither Miss Berner nor the maid can recall anything about the bottle. Mrs. Stanford was in the habit of occasionally taking the powder from this bottle but not often.

There is of course a possibility that a mistake might have been made by the San Francisco druggists in filling the prescription. Were it not for the fact that Mrs. Stanford so firmly believed that an attempt had been made upon her life last January there might be strong reason for thinking that perhaps the terrible tragedy was the result of a mistake.

It is probable that the inquest will not be held for a day or so. The police have to wait until after the chemical analysis of the medicine and the organs of the deceased shall have been completed. At least a day will be required for that of the medicine, while perhaps longer may be required for the organs.

Miss Hunt the maid and Miss Berner the private secretary to the late Mrs. Stanford were interrogated yesterday by Deputy High Sheriff Rawlins. The statements were it is understood, in effect what had been made to the Star representative during the morning. Miss Hunt says that she entered the employ of Mrs. Stanford February 9 joining her at the request of Mrs. Stanford herself. Miss Hunt was not in the employ at the time of the first attempt to take the life of Mrs. Stanford. The maid was so far as is now known, the last person to see Mrs. Stanford before the latter retired on Tuesday night. Miss Hunt responded with Miss Berner when the dying woman was heard to cry for help and the maid and private secretary tried to afford Mrs. Stanford relief.

So far as High Sheriff Henry can ascertain there appears to be no motive for the murder of Mrs. Stanford. It has been hinted by an old friend that there was about a million dollars of her money which had not been made over to the Leland Stanford University and perhaps some of those interested in this money wanted to see her out of the way. No evidence of such a condition has been made known to the local authorities. In fact practically nothing is known by the local police about the details of the will of Mrs. Stanford. The idea of some one having entertained some personal animity against the dead philanthropist has been suggested but at present the authorities appear to have no information on this score, at least they will not disclose any such knowledge.

MRS. STANFORD

Mrs. Stanford was born in Albany, N. Y., August 25, 1825, and so was nearly eighty years of age at her death. She came early with her husband to California where he was one of those who built the Central Pacific Railroad and with her founded Leland Stanford Jr. University. The University was opened in October, 1891. She built the Children's Hospital in Albany at a cost of $100,000 and endowed it with another $100,000. She gave $100,000 to the kindergartens of San Francisco.

She has visited Honolulu several times, and on one occasion was the guest of honor of the Stanford alumni and students resident here.

United States Judge Dole yesterday sentenced Konda, the Lohaina Jap who pleaded guilty to a charge of running a distillery, to six months imprisonment and to pay a fine of $500.

Circuit was referred to the County Committee.

The committee recommended the appropriation of $25,500 for roads in South Kohala. rejected; sums of $2,500 for a wharf at Kawahae and $2,000 for a roller. It recommended that the application for $2,400 for a doctor in South Kohala go to the Health Committee.

The resolution for $29,000 for roads in North Kona was reported adversely. A petition was received for the appropriation of $2,500 for macadamizing Paia avenue.

Rep. Liliakani presented a petition for two electric lights in Kakaako. The House adjourned at 11:30.

SENT TO JACK A GOLD MEDAL

THE SECRETARY IS TOO MODEST TO TELL WHAT IT IS FOR—IT IS FROM THE PHILIPPINES.

Secretary Atkinson has received from the government of the Philippine Islands a gold medal of honor with a certificate, for services rendered by him to the Philippine Islands. The certificate says: "The Government of the Philippine Islands, with the approval of the Secretary of War confers upon A. L. C. Atkinson a Medal of Honor of the second degree as awarded by the Supreme Jury of the International Jury of Awards of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition for services in rendering the welfare and progress of the Philippine Islands. 'THE PHILIPPINE EXPOSITION BOARD, ON BEHALF OF THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.'"

Secretary Atkinson was asked what he had done to merit such an award from the Philippines but he declined to tell about it. "My native modesty" he said "prevents me from telling what I did for the Philippines. I am thankful to them for sending me the medal."

IN THE SENATE

came in during the reading of the minutes, and Achi was close behind him.

Secretary Atkinson notified the Senate of the receipt of a cablegram that the leprosy bill had passed the United States Senate.

President Pinkham of the Board of Health sent a polite invitation to the Senate to visit the Insane Asylum at its convenience. The invitation was received with thanks.

The House informed the Senate that the joint resolution to give copies of the Revised Statutes to members of the commission had been laid on the table.

There were, besides a number of communications from the House relating to bills and regulations.

House Bill 42, to regulate the pay of laborers, passed first reading by title.

Senator Wilcox introduced a bill to provide for the creation of a Board of Archives. Passed first reading and sent to the Printing Committee.

Hayselden from the Committee on Education reported favorably on the Hilo school bill, but wanted more money than the bill called for. The committee wanted $35,000 for the building, and $9,000 to pay teachers. The report was laid on the table to be considered with the bill.

Paris introduced a bill to create a Leprosy Commission. Passed first reading, and went to the Printing Committee.

Lane introduced bills to amend sections 1392 and 1393 of the Revised Statutes and to compel second hand dealers to procure licenses. Both bills passed first reading and went to the Printing Committee.

From the Judiciary Committee, Achi reported on Senate Bill 8, making certain amendments to the Revised Statutes. Laid on the table to be considered with the bill.

From the Public Expenditures Committee, a long report on Senate Bill 42, to collect taxes from territorial employes. The report favored the passage of the bill, to make the present law on the same subject operative. Laid on the table to be considered with the bill.

Senate Bill No. 4, on motion of Dickey, was taken from the table and put on the order of the day, the Board of Health having reported upon it. This is the Spitting bill.

The regular order came now on the third reading of Senate Bill 34, providing for the filing of maps and surveys of land. Bishop questioned the sense of the bill, and McCandless made a somewhat extended speech in favor of amending the bill so that the Territory could not be held responsible for the accuracy of maps drawn by outside surveyors. His amendment carried, and doubt whether the bill should pass at this time Paris made a speech expressing all. Dowssett also doubted the advisability of passing the law. Bishop moved to strike out section 4, making the maps so filed available as evidence in any court in the Territory.

The Bishop amendment carried, and after the bill had been amended as to the sequence of sections the vote came upon it and it passed with only Brown and Paris voting against it.

Senate Bill 35, amending the Revised Laws relating to the duties of the Registrar of Conveyances, came up on third reading. It passed. Dickey and McCandless only voting in the negative.

Senate Bill 42, which is the bill to collect taxes from territorial employes, came up on second reading. It was read section by section, and the very first section, which the committee had amended so that all a man's salary could be taken to pay his taxes, instead of one-fourth. The amendment passed by the following vote:

Ayes—Achi, Bishop, Dickey, Dowssett, Gandall, Hayselden, Hewitt, Isenberg, Paris, Wilcox—10.

Noes—Brown, Kalama, Lane, McCandless, Woods—5.

The consideration of the bill by sections was then resumed, and the bill finally passed second reading. It will come up for third reading on Saturday morning.

Senate Bill 23, to provide for a high school in Hilo, on second reading was accompanied by the committee report calling for an appropriation for the building and for a teacher's salary. On motion of Paris the bill and report went to the Loan Committee.

Senate Bill No. 8, to amend 1418 of the Civil Laws of 1897, came up on second reading with the report of the Ju-diary Committee. The bill passed, and will come up for third reading on Friday.

Senate Bill No. 4, the Dickey Anti-Spitting Bill, came up with an adverse report from the Health Committee on second reading. The report of the committee recommended that the bill be laid on the table, and on a motion to adopt the report Dickey made a strong plea for his measure as a sanitary measure. He was willing to have the portion of the bill relating to tuberculosis stricken out on the advice of the Board of Health. He had asked the committee to strike out that portion of the measure. In basing their report upon that section, therefore, he thought the committee had not treated him quite fairly. But there should be a distinction made in spitting upon the sidewalks and in the streets. The distinction was one that should be made, not only in the interest of public health but of common cleanliness. He moved that the bill be taken up and considered section by section, and this carried, the report of the committee being thrown out.

The bill was then read by section, and the tuberculosis section was stricken out. The bill, as amended in accordance with the recommendation of the Board of Health, merely makes it unlawful to spit on any sidewalk, street crossing, or on the floor of any street car, public building, hotel, theater or place of public resort. The penalty for violation was placed at not to exceed $500 for each offense, and the bill passed second reading. It will come up for third reading on Friday.

Achi, from the Judiciary Committee, reported in favor of Senate Bill 46, relating to proceedings to recover rents for leased lands. Laid on the table to be considered with the bill.

Brown presented a petition from a native woman of Hilo asking that she be awarded the land now occupied by her as a home be declared to belong to her. The land comprises 2 1/2 acres, and was granted to D. Casti by the Court of Land Claims. The petition went to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate Bill No. 61, to amend the Registration laws, on second reading, went to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate Bill 60, to amend Section 2683, 2684 and 2685 of the Revised Statutes, on second reading went to Judiciary Committee.

Senate Bill No. 59, to fine violators of the market ordinance, one dollar, on second reading went to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate Bill 51, to regulate the admission of attorneys and counselors at law, passed second reading and went to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate Bill 50, to repeal Sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 of the Session Laws of 1898, passed second reading, and went to the Public Lands Committee.

Senate Bill 49, the McCandless Sunday law, was read second time by title and went to a special committee of one from each island, on motion of Wilcox. The committee will be announced later.

The Hooulu and Hooula Societies invited the Senators to luncheon at the Maternity Home on Friday. The invitation was acknowledged.

And the Senate took a recess until 2 p. m.

San Francisco Attempt On Mrs. Stanford's Life

EFFORT TO POISON HER ON JANUARY FOURTEENTH AN INSOLUBLE MYSTERY TO DETECTIVES—POISON PLACED IN HER BOTTLE OF MINERAL WATER AFTER SHE HAD DRANK HALF CONTENTS OF BOTTLE.

The San Francisco attempt to poison Mrs. Stanford, on January 14, proved an insoluble mystery to the detectives and newspapers of that city. The Chronicle came to the conclusion that Mrs. Stanford had not taken any of the poison, though at first stating that she had been made very ill by it. It was stated by some that the strychnine was placed in her mineral water after she had finished drinking from the bottle in which it was found. The Examiner on the 20th stated the conclusions as far as reached in the following paragraph:

"The statements of those familiar with the water that day all agree that whoever was the perpetrator of the crime threw the crystals in that bottle while Mrs. Stanford was taking her dinner and prior to her return to her room between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock that night. It was at 9 o'clock when she took the dose that caused her illness. It was the second glass she drank from that bottle, the first having been taken by her at 11 o'clock in the morning and the bottle having remained in her room all day."

The original account as appearing in the Examiner of the 19th contained the following:

An attempt was made on the 14th of January to poison Mrs. Jane Lathrop Stanford, the widow of Leland Stanford, one of the founders of the university that bears his name.

Had the plot succeeded in accomplishing the death of its intended victim, the case—mantled as it is in mystery—would have outrivaled the famous Molineaux poisoning case in New York City.

Mrs. Stanford's escape from the deadly drug that was poured in a mineral water bottle is remarkable, for it contained sufficient strychnine to kill a dozen persons.

Although the assassination was attempted more than a month ago, it was only made known yesterday by some person who intended to direct suspicion toward Albert Beverly, who had up to a year ago been a butler in the Stanford mansion on "Nob Hill" at California and Powell streets.

After Mrs. Stanford had drunk the deadly poison on the evening of January 14th, she fell very ill over its effects. There was an immediate nausea. Mrs. Stanford at once called her maid, Evelyn Richmond, and hurriedly telling her of the occurrence, the latter also drank sparingly from the same glass of water and was also made to feel its effects.

The maid, however, hurried to the kitchen and brought some hot water and salt, which was administered to Mrs. Stanford, and the secretary, Miss Bertha Benner, was called. She tasted of the contents of the bottle and at once noticed a bitter taste. Mrs. Stanford was cursed that evening by Miss Richmond and Miss Benner, and the following day the bottle containing the erstwhile fatal drug was taken to Chemist Wakelee for analysis and Dr. Boericke was hastily summoned, as Mrs. Stanford grew very ill.

The poison was placed in the bottle by some person or persons between 11 o'clock in the morning and 9 o'clock of the evening of January 14th. The bottle was brought to Mrs. Stanford's room by Ah Young, a Chinese assistant to the Chinese butler, who had been brought from the Stanford residence in Palo Alto. Young denies having carried the bottle up to the room that day, but Nora Hopkins, a housemaid, says emphatically that she knows Young did carry the bottle to the room on the morning in question.

When the chemist who analyzed the water found that it contained strychnine a hurried consultation was had between Mrs. Stanford, her brother, Charles G. Lathrop, and her attorney, M. S. Wilson. It was concluded to employ private detectives and find the culprit at any expense, if possible. Every employee of the house was closely cross-examined. Chinese interpreters were brought in to question the Mongolians.

Meanwhile Miss Richmond, who had some time prior to the day of the attempted poisoning, given notice of her intention to resign because of her impaired health, did leave and took up her residence temporarily at 1114 Sutter street. From the time of the discovery of the heinous crime Miss Richmond was shadowed by the detectives. She was always aware of it, she stated last night, "because if I had felt in the slightest degree perturbed by these amateur sleuths," she added, "I should have turned them over to the police."

The case was never reported to the police, as it was the intention of the relatives of the Stanford family to ferret out the mystery themselves. They believe that some of the servants attempted the deed.

The individual who gave out the story yesterday desired to throw suspicion on Beverly. A statement was made by this person to the effect that about nine months ago Beverly was discharged and that Miss Benner, the secretary, used every effort on her part to urge his reinstatement.

This is positively denied by Beverly. He stated he was never discharged, but because of other and more lucrative business which he took up he voluntarily left Mrs. Stanford and arranged with her to return to her employ some time when he had concluded his personal business affairs.

Miss Richmond last night gave this full account of the attempt on Mrs. Stanford's life:

"I was sitting sewing in a room adjoining Mrs. Stanford on the evening of January 14th. Suddenly I was called by her. She said, 'Richmond, there is something wrong with this Poland water.' I tasted it and it was very bitter. I felt the bitterness all night.

"Mrs. Stanford asked me what to do. I immediately got her some hot water and salt, which acted as an emetic. We then called Miss Benner. She also tasted it and felt somewhat ill from its effects. Mrs. Stanford was taken very ill.

"The following day I took the bottle myself to the chemist and a few days later we got his analysis.

"Mrs. Stanford, on learning of the attempt, cried aloud, 'My God, I never thought any one would wish to hurt me. What could it benefit them?'"

The Poland water was supplied in bottles in cases by Ludwig the caterer. Early in January preparatory to a proposed entertainment. The remainder of the bottles in the case from which the bottle containing the poison was taken, were all removed to the chemist for analysis and they were all found to be in good condition.

It is obvious that the poison was thrown into the bottle during the day while it was in Mrs. Stanford's room. A diligent search was made about the house by the detectives but no evidences of strychnine could be found.

On the 20th the Examiner said: Although detectives have been diligently working on the case of the attempted poisoning of Mrs. Jane Lathrop Stanford for twenty-seven days, not the slightest clue has been obtained.

There are intimations made by Charles G. Lathrop as to what might have been the incentives to the commission of the crime by Albert Beverly, the former butler, who left Mrs. Stanford's employ voluntarily nine months ago. There also is a wide disparity as to the person who carried the bottle of Poland water to Mrs. Stanford's room on January 14th, the day she took the almost fatal drink.

It is well settled by those interested in ferreting the plot to kill Mrs. Stanford that the first important point to settle is the motive. This it is agreed was either greed by some one who anticipates financial benefit by her death or it was the desire for revenge for a supposed grievance.

Mr. Lathrop, Mrs. Stanford's brother, says emphatically: "We must find the motive."

Whether or not Mrs. Stanford had recently made a codicil to her will or changed the testament only Lathrop and M. S. Wilson, Mrs. Stanford's attorney, are supposed to know. Neither, of course, would discuss this phase of the case.

Evelyn Richmond, the former maid, who resigned, stated positively that Nora Hopkins declared that Ah Young carried the bottle to the room, not only on January 14th, but on the two preceding days. Nora herself says that Miss Richmond carried the bottle up that day.

Two detectives, accompanied by Lathrop, called on Nora yesterday at the Palo Alto residence. She explained to them that her duties were confined to keeping Mrs. Stanford's room in order except to do the sweeping, which was attended to by Ah Young.

The Bulletin of the 22nd had the following:

"The steamer Korea, on which Mrs. Stanford sailed for Honolulu, was scheduled to arrive in the island city last night, and this morning the philanthropist probably learned for the first time that the investigation of the attempt to take her life on January 14 had been made public.

"In this city the efforts of the detectives detailed on the case have not relaxed, and the search for additional facts in the case and for a motive still continues. Those interested in the matter of running the offenders to earth declare that the investigation is not yet half through, but that it will be continued to the end, no matter in what direction it may lead or who it may involve.

"Doubtless the detectives know more than they are willing to disclose at this juncture, but they state emphatically that no one has yet come under suspicion and that no one has been placed under surveillance. Though the task is almost endless, a thorough inquiry at all available drug stores is being made to determine where and to whom the strychnine was sold. Not even a preliminary report has been turned in to the employers of the detectives, but a formal statement of the facts is expected before long."

The Call on the 19th dismissed the whole matter with the following:

"A sensational story that had been in circulation for several days to the effect that an attempt had been made to poison Mrs. Jane Stanford at her home on California street was emphatically denied yesterday by her friends. According to the story that had rapidly spread about town, Mrs. Stanford had drunk some mineral water that made her ill and an analysis of the liquid had later revealed the fact that it contained poison. The story continued to tell how Mrs. Stanford, suffering from nervous prostration resulting from the effects of the poison, had been ordered abroad by her physicians. In company with her private secretary, Miss Benner, Mrs. Stanford left for the Orient on the steamship Korea several days ago.

"The facts of the case are that, about seven weeks ago, Mrs. Stanford one morning drank a glass of mineral water, which nauseated her for a few moments and on the advice of friends she had the water analyzed but without sensational results. Being of a nervous temperament, she turned the matter over to a local firm of detectives, which, after a day's investigation, satisfied her that no attempt had been made to injure her and the affair was finally told to her friends as a joke.

"Professor David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, referring to the matter last evening said:

"The report that Mrs. Stanford left for the Orient because of an attempt at poisoning is entirely unfounded. The fact is that Mrs. Stanford was threatened with pneumonia and her physician advised a warmer climate than San Francisco. It was for this reason alone that she started on her trip. She did, however, tell me a month ago that she had been served with a bottle of mineral water which had a peculiar taste, but she did not drink it. She did not think for a minute that any attempt was being made to poison her, and I do not believe there was."

The Call also had the following:

Stanford University, Feb. 16.—Mrs. Stanford has gone to Japan in order to improve her health. Mrs. Stanford's recent illness began in a severe cold, which developed into an attack of tonsillitis. Thinking to escape the cold and damp of San Francisco she went to San Jose, but on her return to her San Francisco home she suffered a relapse, which was so severe that the doctors advised her to leave at once for a warmer climate. She has chosen Japan, and will remain away from the university for some time.

REAL MENACE TO LIBERTY.

But there is more real danger to our liberties in a "boodle" bill at Albany or a "boodle" measure in the board of aldermen than in a regiment of "men on horseback" or a palace full of "monarchs." There is more menace to American liberties in "graft" than in all the machinations of foreign powers and "holy alliances" pictured in the fevered brain of a yellow journal writer or a blatherskite senator.—Wall Street Journal.

The superintendent's report showed a total of eighty-one patients treated during the year. Twenty-nine patients were in the home at the beginning of 1904, fifty-two were admitted during the year, three patients were discharged cured, twenty patients left in an improved condition, five patients left unimproved, twenty-eight died and twenty-five remained in the home at the close of the year.

George Cooke, '05, Captain of the Yale swimming and water polo teams, made a new world's record of 85 feet in the plunge at the games of New York Athletic Club, Saturday evening, February 11. It may be necessary to say to the uninitiated that the plunge is now a recognized event in water sports, in which the competitors try for distance after a shallow dive, the body being held motionless after the dive and face downward. It is an event which requires skill and great lung capacity.—Yale Alumni Weekly.

Molokai Leprosarium

"One of the most important bills regarding Hawaii that has ever been passed by Congress is the leprosy bill which has just gone through," said Secretary Atkinson this morning, "and I am surprised that it has attracted so little attention here. This is the bill to appropriate $100,000 for a leprosy station on Molokai and $50,000 for its maintenance. It means an annual appropriation of fifty thousand dollars to keep the station going and will be of incalculable benefit to us all. Molokai will have the best laboratories, the best experts and hospitals in the world for the treatment of lepers and study of leprosy.

"The bill is the best one upon which Delegate Kuhio has yet worked, and its final passage by Congress is a gratifying fulfillment of a Republican campaign promise. We promised during the campaign to try to have such a bill passed, and we have done it. President Pinkham of the board of health and Dr. C. B. Cooper have both done a lot of work towards pushing this measure through.

"The existence of such a fine experiment station as will soon be erected on Molokai as a result of this bill will soon do away with the many complaints now made about the Settlement. In every session of the legislature we have half a dozen bills about the settlement, most of them dealing with the supposed fact that there are many people at the Settlement who are not really lepers and ought not to be there. There will be no chance of such reports when the federal station is in operation."

MAUI TESTIMONY

There are also charges of use of liquor in the leper settlement, which Galbraith will look into.
