THE LABOR COMMISSION.
When this paper expressed doubt of any great good coming out of the Labor Commission, no disparagement of the measure creating it or of its author was intended. The law seems to be all right and the intentions of its chief promoter are generally conceded to be most admirable. It is difficult to expect, however, that the planting interests as a whole will have any more sympathy with the objects of the commission than they have formerly had with the popular movements in behalf of protection to the mechanics and traders, who form the bone and sinew of civilized institutions in these islands, when legislation in that regard was being attempted. How the planting interests insisted before legislative committees in effect that the paramount consideration was to get cheap, cheaper, cheapest labor in unlimited supply, so as to keep wages down to a price approximating, as near as possible, that paid for the most servile labor in other countries where tropical agricultural products are the staples, and that all other interests must take what they could get of protection to their right to exist in this country, is fresh in the memory of all who have been resident here for a few years. There is also a vivid remembrance of labor bills being so loaded with complications and limitations as to make them practically inoperative, excepting as they always left a door open for the introduction of shiphloads of Japanese and large consignments of Chinese, with no restriction upon their employment or term of residence after the expiration of their labor contracts. Some leading planters profess to be in sympathy with the struggle to conserve those parts of the population which support western civilization, a proportion of these attesting the sincerity of their profession by experimenting with free labor and paying living wages to European and Hawaiian overseers and mechanics. By many accounts, though, it is to be believed that a majority of the planters are still governed by the selfish motive of making money now by the shortest cuts possible, regardless of the cause of civilized society in the future of Hawaii, and oblivious of any obligation toward those who at present share with them the burdens of civilization. From all sides are heard reports of white mechanics and overseers being supplanted by Japanese who have watched them closely enough to have acquired sufficient of their skill to take their places. Whether such action is intrinsically wise economy or otherwise on the part of the managers, the fact remains that it shows only the contrary of sympathy for the cause whose aim is to build up the country with intelligent and progressive peoples born and bred to western civilization. When all this has been said, however, it is apparent to observers that there is a better general tone of sentiment among the planters as a whole, upon the question of labor, than there was a few years ago. There is indeed reason to hope that their ideas will, within a measurable period in the future, have become revolutionized. Had the country ever had a Government independent of the planting influence, the necessity for a revolution of opinion in this matter would perhaps long ere this have been obviated. If there was a Government powerful and disinterested enough to tell the planters that, while there were thousands of native Hawaiians procurable for living wages and decent treatment, hundreds of Portuguese leading a precarious existence about Honolulu in the same category, and thousands of vagrant Chinese and Japanese who should be compelled to work, either on the plantations or for the Government, results the most beneficial to the country would doubtless immediately appear. Perhaps such a consummation may be hastened by the operations of the Labor Commission, but the Government could if it would strike out upon a shorter cut toward the goal. It would have been in this line of duty had it passed a law, when in the provisional term of its existence, to suppress vagrancy and vicious idleness instead of the unnecessary enactment it made, in a moment of ilily panic, against the admission of "dangerous persons" into the country. The country is now swamped with idle people of all nationalities, and the trade and industry of those who, in the support of civilized institutions, have hitherto borne the burden and heat of the day, are rapidly being swamped by people who were introduced into the country at great expense to work on the plantations. There is a condition and not a theory confronting the Government, and its concession of a Labor Commission is nothing more than a piece of temporizing with a grave question, in the face of which it has thus far only evinced either insincerity or impotency. It is for the foregoing reasons that the Bureau has little faith in the outcome of the Labor Commission.

With the sentence of Dr. Cornelius Herz, the Panama lobbyist, this month to five years imprisonment and to pay a fine of 3000 francs, virtually the end of the famous prosecutions has been reached. They ought to have a good effect on the future politics of France. Many a shining escutcheon has been tarnished through the exposures and punishments. Count Ferdinand de Lesseps, the maker of the Suez canal, although sentenced has not been assigned to prison owing to his extreme age and weakness. Many of the bourgeoisie and former active statesmen have gone to prison or been muled in more or less heavy fines, or have suffered both classes of penalty. The greater number of those whose reputations have been besmirched, however, have escaped from the clutches of the law. One who has not is M. Eiffel, builder of the tower that hoisted his fame to the skies, he having been sent into two years' servitude and fined 20,000 francs. It is highly creditable to France that she has had a public opinion that kept Justice blindfolded when so much of genius and glitter was paraded before her tribunal.

Not the least of the reasons for hastening an improved water supply is the danger from fire involved in the periodic scarcity. When King street was without water in its main the other day, it is fortunate for its property owners and the town in general that no fire started in that street.

NEW BOARDS FOR HAWAII.

Schedule of Proposed Work and Funds Available.

The Minister of Finance informs us that the Government are about to direct a portion of the loan fund of the Act of 1893 to the above purpose. Thirty-five prisoners are to be sent from Honolulu to join those who have been working on the Volcano Road. Of the combined force about 75 will be sent to make the Hilo road from Pakaou to Haka-lau and widen it to 40 feet. A gang of 35 to 40 will begin at once on a road to Puna. The road from the Volcano House to Punaluu is to be undertaken, and the road from Hilea to Punaluu, which reaches to within a mile or two of the latter place, completed. The road from Hailuu to the main road in Kona will also be completed. Mr. Bunker, who has done good work in other sections, will be the local superintendent of these roads. The road to Puna opens up fine coffee lands hitherto inaccessible. Parts of these lands are owned by the Government. The Roman Catholic mission also owns part. This road to Puna will go as far as Mr. Ryeroff's place and then join the road now known as Ryeroff's road. The funds for present set apart are $10,000 from the present account, and of the total of $27,000 the balance is taken from the funds under the Loan Act of 1893. Messrs. Rowell and Dodge leave on the next trip of the Kinau to start the work at once. The Government are not attempting to start more work now, as they have to look out for the pumping plant and new piping for which the tenders will be in in November.

Times Are Changed.

EDITOR BULLETIN:
The Advertiser staff have always publicly taken the credit of overthrowing the Police and Customs departments of the monarchical regime by what they termed exposures of their alleged rottenness and corruption, mismanagement and favoritism. Now that the brother-in-law is the head of the one and the brother of the other, the publicly-proven absolute mismanagement, dissension, corruption, stealing, and smuggling that go on in both departments is taken no notice of in the Advertiser. Go in again, "Tiser. Turn the rascals out."

Miss Richards of Kamehameha Schools, a soprano who has sung beautifully in Central Union church since her arrival, has consented to sing at Prof. Bradley's concert in September. Also Miss Severance, whose vocal powers are well-known, who will take part in the lovely trio, "Old Memories." Mrs. J. Lewis will sing, as a soprano solo, Braga's Serenata. Miss Dickson and other ladies will also take part, in solos, duets and trios. Prof. Bradley will play piano and cello solos, in selections from "Martha" and "Lucrezia Borgia." There will be two instrumental quartets.

Mechanics' Home, corner Hotel and Nuuanu street. Lodging by day, week or month. Terms: 25 and 50 cents per night; $1 and $1.25 per week.

BIG BETTING.

People Don't Back the Horses as They Once Did

"They may talk about the good attendance at the races," said Bob Minehan, an old-time devotee of the turf, at Willard's, "but the people that go don't put their money on the horses as they used to. I was interested myself in bookmaking not so many years ago. There were four of us in the venture, and I shall never forget the result of eight days' work at Saratoga. Every night we used to throw the money in an old-fashioned grip and carry it to the safe, actually too exhausted to count the roll. There were plenty of big bills, though, and no ones and twos—nothing smaller than fives."
"My share was 30 percent, and when we divided up $65,000 as the profits of the eight days you can rest assured I was very well satisfied with the returns. Men didn't any more mind putting up $100 than they do a $5 note now. Our best patron during that siege was a woman, a noted member of the New York demi monde. She knew nothing of horses, but the name of one, Wild Irish Girl, caught the woman, who, it seems, was born in the old country. She plunged on the animal from sentiment to the extent of $3000, without ever enjoying the pleasure of seeing her favorite win a single race."

Saturday, Aug. 11, 1894

The conditions in Honolulu during the past eighteen or twenty months have been such that to awake now and find the harbor free from a war-ship would be like witnessing the play of Hamlet with Hamlet out of it. Not that it is necessary to have a vessel of this character present at all times, but the people are so accustomed to seeing them, and there has been such an interchange of hospitality among the officers and citizens that neither the "Champion" nor the "Philadelphia" should be allowed to leave except upon the assurance that they will be replaced by as good ships with as efficient and agreeable officers. We say "as good ships" because it would smite the dignity of the people here, if, after a season or so of vessels of the White Squadron the foreign governments should consider this place too insignificant for anything above a wooden hulk. This would hardly be, however, after the advertising we have had. It is not so much what a man or a locality is as what the world is led to believe is the case.

When a person tells you that they have used a piece of rubber hose for eighteen months without its having a break in it, don't ask where it was bought but come to us and get a piece like it—we sell that sort in preference to the inferior grade that wears out when you look at it. We have earned a reputation for selling good rubber hose, and we do not propose to lose it by dabbling in an article that will not give satisfaction.

Genuine Hawaiian Salt is an article used more than people imagine. When we took the agency for the sale of the entire product of one works we did so because we had investigated, not only the demand for such an article, but the quality. Experts whom we called to our assistance decided that ours is the best for all purposes. You can get a bag or a hundred tons as your needs call.

We are selling fine Porcelain Lined Bath Tubs with as much ease as we do nails or anything else in every day use. We bought them to sell, not to keep, and we put a price on them that brings them within the reach of almost anyone. The other articles we sell in Enamel Ware—closets, sinks, wash stands, enamel pipe and such things as are used in sanitary plumbing—not the cheap don't-care-how sort, are sold by us at such low prices that there is no reason why people should contract disease through causes which ensue from using bad materials in plumbing. Our assortment is large and contains articles of the most improved designs.

The strikers in the United States have learned that 'though the Declaration of Independence declares all men to be endowed with certain unalienable rights and among these are "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," the government does not provide the power to assist one man in the exercise of his right to the injury of his neighbor; Jones may give up work, if he wishes, but if he attempts to stop Smith at his employment and he objects, Jones cannot look to the army to assist him in depriving Smith of one of his "unalienable rights." A few years ago the price of stoves was high; it continued so until we introduced the "Pansy" and practically gave them away. It would be depriving other dealers of a right they now enjoy if we attempted to force them to stop charging exorbitant prices for such goods, and they would deprive us of a certain amount of pleasure derived from doing good, if the dealers would attempt to force us into increasing our prices. We have a sort of declaration of independence and we look to the public for assistance in enforcing its tenets. Having "right" on our side and "might" represented by our customers we experience no difficulty.
