TALLIARD UNDER ARREST
THE CAPTAIN CAUGHT WITH OPIUM IN HIS VALISE.

The Police on the Track of a Large Amount of Opium But Their Plans Were Foiled—Midnight Search.

For two months, ever since their return to the islands, an eagle eye has been kept on "Opium" Brown and "Captain" J. W. Blake, alias Talliard, by the police and custom house authorities. Their actions have been very suspicious throughout this period, but they were allowed to go their way until an early hour this morning. Detective David Kaapa arrested Blake at 2 o'clock this morning. He was taken to the police station, along with his valise, which contained a sample of opium. At the same time a search was made on the premises of Frank Lillis, the hackman, but nothing was found. "Opium" Brown, the alleged ring leader of the gang, was not molested, nor will he unless further developments warrant his arrest. That Blake and his partners have in their possession an immense quantity of opium, which they have just smuggled into the country, the marshal firmly believes. He has evidence and information to substantiate this. The plans of the police had been carefully laid and the big lot of opium was to have been seized last night, but Blake and his associates, if he had any, were too oily for the police. A hunt for the opium is still in progress under the direction of Detective Kaapa. Blake, or Talliard, as he is known in Victoria, was up in the Police Court this morning. He has retained George A. Davis for his counsel. The case was postponed for trial until next Tuesday.

A CURE FOR LAME BACK.
"My daughter, when recovering from an attack of fever, was a great sufferer from pain in the back and hips," writes Louden Grover, of Sardinia, Ky. "After using quite a number of remedies without any benefit she tried one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and it has given entire relief." Chamberlain's Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. Sold by all druggists and dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., wholesale agents, H. I.

The Kewalo Prize Lot.
Contestants have only two days more to send in their suggestions for the name of the beautiful little lake at Kewalo. Everybody has an opportunity to compete for the handsome prize of a good lot 50x100 in the Kewalo Tract. Send in your suggestion to Bruce Waring & Co., 314 Fort Street. The award will be made next Monday.

TROUBLE OVER THE LEASE

PROCEEDINGS MAY DELAY WORK ON NEW PLANTATION.

S. M. Ballou, One of the Attorneys, Files a Statement—He States that Work May Be Delayed One Year.

A motion for rehearing in the matter of A. F. Judd trustee, et al. vs. C. A. Brown has been filed in the Supreme Court. L. A. Thurston withdrew from the case on account of his intended departure and another justice has to be substituted. S. M. Ballou, one of the attorneys in the case, makes affidavit that the decision of this case involves the question of whether the title to the large tract of land required by the projected Oahu Plantations is in Irene E. Brown, or in trustees; that the said Irene Brown and her husband, C. A. Brown, on belief that the title of said land is in them, have entered into an agreement giving Lincoln McCandless a right to pasturage on the lands in question, that said McCandless refuses to release said pasturage in order that a lease may be made to the projected Oahu Sugar Company unless he is paid $6,000 per year.

The promoter and agents of the Oahu plantation have informed the parties interested that a good title must be given forthwith, or the projected Oahu plantation will be abandoned entirely. Besides the threatened abandonment of the Oahu plantation, there is danger of it being postponed for a year on account of the pending controversy. Certain pumps must be ordered at once if the plantation is to be started this year, and the promoters and agents of the plantation refuse to take any steps whatever until they are assured of the lease in question.

COURT NOTES.

Breach of Promise Suit Commenced for $10,000.

Alfred A. Todd has filed a libel for divorce against Louisa M. Todd. The libelee is confined at Molokai.

Charlotte Boyd has brought an action for $10,000 damages against John Gandall for breach of promise. Both parties are Hawaiians and reside in Honolulu.

Isabel E. Davis has filed an action against her husband, Foster A. Davis, for a divorce. Alimony and costs are waived.

An appeal has been noted in the Republic vs. Ah Kim for opium in possession. Sentence in the District Court was for one month's imprisonment and $1 costs.

A petition has been filed by Nancie R. Rice, guardian of her minor son, Robert E. Brewer, for permission to sell property belonging to the son.

DEATH ON KAUAL.

Tax Assessor Kau Passes Away—Epidemic Among Horses.

Kapaa, January 28.
L. Kau, tax assessor and collector of the district of Kawaihau, Kauai, died at his residence at Waipouli at midnight Saturday, the 23rd inst., after a lingering illness, aged 62. The remains were interred at Lihue Sunday. The funeral was one of the largest that has occurred in Kauai for years. The deceased leaves a wife and one child and a very large circle of friends and acquaintances to mourn their loss.

John W. Neal, of Kapaa, has been appointed tax assessor and collector to succeed Mr. Kau, deceased.
Judge David Kua, Kawaihau district magistrate, is acting registrar of marriages, etc., for the district.

Capt. J. T. Blake, of Kansas City, Mo., U. S. A. is visiting Mr. John Toms of Kapaa. They were old army friends.

The prevailing epidemic among the horses is very general throughout the Island of Kauai. Quite a number of deaths have occurred.

M. M. WATSON DISCHARGED.
The case of M. M. Watson, who was charged with stealing a keg of beer from the Seattle Brewing and Malting Company, was dismissed by Judge Glasgow yesterday afternoon. The judge held that if the prisoner was bright enough to discriminate in favor of pure Rainier Beer he deserved release. On tap or in bottles at the Criterion.

SOLVING LABOR PROBLEM

KONA COFFEE PLANTER LOOKING AFTER THE FUTURE.

Interview With W. Muller, of the Kealahke Coffee Plantation in Kona—Guatemala Coffee in Hawaii.

Mr. W. Muller, proprietor of the Kealahke coffee plantation in Kona, is in Honolulu on one of his periodical visits to the metropolis. He will leave for Horner's plantation in a day or so, there to examine the Guatemala coffee trees which are now three or four years old.

"Coffee is not an experiment in Kona," said Mr. Muller this morning. "The past year has been a prosperous one to the Kona coffee growers and, as a result, all who can increase their acreage this year are doing so. I am putting in thirty additional acres of coffee seed this season."

"What am I planting? Guatemala coffee seed, the same as all the others in the district. Everyone is highly pleased with the success of the Guatemala seed in Kona. According to a test made in San Francisco not long ago coffee grown in the Kona district from the Guatemala seed is superior in every way than the coffee grown in Guatemala. The Hawaiian product has been pronounced to have a much finer flavor. The yield is also greater."

"This is due to a change in the climatic conditions. This same thing is true in the case of sugar. The planters on the islands now are beginning to exchange seed grown on the different islands."

"Another thing I would like to speak of is the fact that very old coffee trees are thriving in the Kona district today and yielding good crops that were planted many years ago. A relative of mine, Paluualole, who is now in his ninety-seventh year, planted some seed imported from this land fifty-five years ago, and these same plants are living today and yielding their share toward the Honolulu plantation crop."

"Have you any trouble in securing labor, Mr. Muller?"

"No; not at present. We have too many laborers in the district as it is. But this is not our most serious trouble. We realize that when the Kona district has attained its limit in coffee growing that it will be a difficult matter to secure men to pick off the crop. There is not enough work on a coffee plantation to employ help the year around, the rush being during the picking season. The coffee growers have been anxious to devise some way to hold the laborers in the district. It has now been determined to bring the uplands into use. With this end in view small tracts of land will be turned over to the Japanese and other laborers which they will farm. Several of us have tried the experiment and found it successful. Rice was planted out of season and in many places it turned out exceedingly well. Last year's experiment has taught us that by going farther up, about 2000 feet or more, that a good thing can be made of rice cultivation by planting it in season."

"Every coffee grower in Kona is very proud of his coffee. This pride has led each grower to place his own stamp on his product. This friendly rivalry between the planters is bound to prove beneficial to the district."

"Have you a brand, Mr. Muller?"

"Oh my, yes. Here it is: 'Kealahke Plantation, Kona Coffee, Prime Washed.' Now before you ask me I will tell you about prime washed coffee. You see, after the coffee has been pulped there is a red juice clinging to it. This juice will partly dry into the coffee and give it a red color when cured. In order to avoid this we foment the coffee, then thoroughly wash it. When it is cured the coffee has its natural horn green color."

NEWSPAPER MAN HAPPY.

City Editor Staeker of the Advertiser promises a good paper tomorrow, because of the arrival of a bright-eyed girl baby at his home yesterday. Weight, 12 pounds. Mother and daughter doing nicely.

THE NEW COMPANY.

Shareholders of the Oahu Sugar Company met in the Chamber of Commerce room this morning. The proceedings were in a nature private. It is understood that the directors were instructed to carry out details of planting and other matters connected with preliminary work.

WASH MATERIALS.

All wash materials are being closed out regardless of cost. Now is your time to buy at N. S. Sachs'.

KEWALO BICYCLE TRACK

WILL BE BUILT ON THE MANHATTAN BEACH PLAN.

The Foundation at Kewalo Said to Be of the Right Sort—An Enduring Surface Will Be Provided.

The opinion of those engineers or bicycle riders who are the least bit familiar with race tracks especially designed for cycle racing are now in great demand. Since the Kewalo bicycle park proposition of Mr. C. S. Desky met with favor at a mass meeting of wheelmen the other evening, popular enthusiasm over bicycling has reached a very high pitch.

Those wheelmen whose very hearts and souls are wrapped up in the new enterprise have held many consultations on this subject during the past couple of days. The consensus of opinion favors a track which, when completed, would be like the famous Manhattan Beach Bicycle course.

The lands in Kewalo addition were formerly meadows, the water being supplied by fresh water springs which are now in the bottom of the new lake. The soil is the best for track purposes. The bottom consists of hard white beach sand beds, separated by old meadow bottoms. This bottom, it is said, will make an admirable formation on which to build up a track.

In deciding upon a surface for the track, the new association will profit by the experience of wheeling associations in the States in selecting a most enduring and suitable surface. At Manhattan beach it was necessary to get a surface which would be enduring; resist climatic changes, and, by its composition and its top finish, enable the bicyclist to attain very high speed. It was decided to use artificial stone four and one-half inches thick, made of two layers, the lower one three inches deep, composed of granite concrete (seven parts granite, one Portland cement) the stone varying in size from one-quarter to one-half inch and the top layer one and one-half inches thick, composed of two parts powdered granite, one part sharp pure sand and one part Portland sand.

Objection has been raised by some of the local riders that this surface might be too smooth and that in case of rainy weather would be slippery. It has been shown that special tools can be used with the greatest ease to roughen the surface to allow tires to get a good grip on the track. Experience on the Manhattan track has shown that very high speeds have been attained even when the track is thoroughly wet.

That the new Honolulu track is to be one-third of a mile course is particularly fortunate. There was a time that it was firmly believed by all that the larger the course the better. Experienced riders, however, have succeeded in causing an evolution in this line. They have proved that if a track is properly banked on the curves, the best results would be attained on a course one-third mile in length. There is also a very evident difference in the cost of construction, which the organizers of the association thoroughly appreciate.

An oval track is invariably used for cycling. In railway alignment it has long been recognized that a transitioned curve is much easier to ride around than a circular curve starting from the tangent. This plan has been carried out on the Manhattan beach track.

The proper arrangement of the curves proves of great benefit to all the riders and is less dangerous. While an expert rider may be quite at home on a circular track, there is no doubt that the great majority of riders prefer long tangents and gradual curvature.

It has been conservatively estimated that a first class track can be built at Kewalo within thirty days, since it is not necessary to borrow the earth to form the foundation.

"If the association is formed there is no question but what a fast track will be built," said a prominent citizen this morning, who has deeply interested himself in the scheme. "Cycling has come to stay in Honolulu and we don't propose to take a back seat in the matter of race tracks. Our boys shall have the best."

"EVERY LITTLE HELPS."

The very smallest reduction made on staple dry goods at Kerr's means a great deal to purchasers. We are at present supplying about three-fourths of the population of Honolulu with dry goods, and are now straining a point or two to catch the remaining fourth. Will you help us to do it?

TWO FRENCH TRAVELERS

JOURNALISTS ARE TOURING THE WORLD WITHOUT MONEY.

On Board the City of Peking—Made a Novel Wager in Paris—Paper Published in Four Languages.

H. Pappilland and L. Leroy are French journalists who are touring the world without a sou in their pockets. They are through passengers on the Peking and since the arrival of the big boat have busied themselves taking in the sights of Honolulu and environs.

"Yes; we are a couple of eccentric globe-trotters," said Mr. Leroy this noon at the Hawaiian hotel, "and we are on a moral wager with the 'Petit Journal' of Paris, to accomplish the feat of touring the world without a cent in our pockets. We started from Paris about a year ago and up to this time have kept up our existence and traveling expenses without injuring our qualifications as journalists or our dignity as Parisians. We are depending entirely on our professional knowledge and hope to have completed our journey by this time next year."

Messrs. Pappilland and Leroy are very entertaining gentlemen. They are both friends of old standing and are on the present voyage more for the experience and knowledge it will bring. They started on foot, have taken to bicycles, ridden on horseback, in carriages, in a jinricksha, wheelbarrow, on the train and steamer. Mr. Leroy is an excellent lecturer. He has a general mass of information and can speak intelligently and entertainingly on nearly any subject. Mr. Pappilland is a writer of note among the journalists of Paris. He is somewhat of a musician and possesses a fine baritone voice. They have many experiences and adventures to relate, and are clever conversationalists.

Both gentlemen were favorably impressed with Honolulu. They promise to give the city a good writeup in the next issue of their paper, which will be published in San Francisco. The paper is printed in French, English and Japanese.

While in Japan they were guests of the Emperor.

GUILTY OF CONTEMPT.

The case against Mrs. Dimond for contempt of court in not obeying an injunction forbidding her to occupy the family residence at Waikiki, was up before Circuit Judge Carter this morning. A number of witnesses were examined as to how and when Mrs. Dimond entered the house. Judge Carter held that the order of the court had been violated, but declined to punish the lady. She was given the right to visit her child at any reasonable time during the contest now pending.

HOP AT THE HOTEL.

There will be a hop at the Hawaiian hotel next Tuesday evening in honor of the arrival of the Australia. An elaborate dinner will be served. The Quintette Club will provide the music.

WILL WAIT OVER.

Otis Spalding, of Kauai, who is visiting Honolulu friends, has decided to stay over until after the calico ball, before returning home. He goes to the Cooper Medical Institute in March to take up the studies of the junior class in that institution.

ROUGH WEATHER INTERFERING WITH STEAMER SAILINGS.

Three Steamers Come In During the Morning—Rough Weather on the Hamakua Coast.

The Peking sails at 3 p. m. Wilder's steamer Kinau is not expected until tomorrow morning.

Sugar brought by the Mikahala, 5156 Oceanic wharf and piled inside. Strong southwest wind is prevailing today. The harbor is rough in consequence.

Chinese steamer passengers by the Peking were not landed until this morning.

The Ceylon is still alongside the Amelia at Allen & Robinson's wharf, awaiting sugar.

The James Makee came in this morning from Kapaa with 2634 bags sugar for Brewer & Co.

The ship Henry B. Hyde will not be brought to the Oceanic wharf until a lot of sugar has accumulated there.

Inter Island steamer Noeau is loading at the landing next to the town side Oceanic wharf. She will sail tomorrow.

The W. H. Dimond is at the railway wharf. She will not sail today and may not get away until Monday. Her cargo is not completed.

The Mauna Loa sailed this morning for ports on Maui. She did not take passengers for Lahaina, as a landing might not be made there on account of bad weather.

The Iwalani arrived this morning from Hamakua with 3437 bags sugar. She tied up at the Kinau wharf. Her cargo goes into the bark Mohican, lying on the opposite side of the dock.

Chang San, a Chinese actor by the City of Peking, who comes for a season at the new Chinese theater, was not allowed to land until a bond of $500 was filed. This was done this morning.

Steamer City of Peking arrived yesterday, ten days from Yokohama. She brought three cabin passengers, 503 tons of freight and 188 Chinese. The Peking leaves for San Francisco at 3 p. m. today.

Five Japanese through passengers by the Peking wanted to view the sights of Honolulu yesterday, but were refused until each showed $50. The men went aboard the steamer and came back with money to burn.

The Noeau did not go out this morning. Capt. Campbell cancelled her sailing until tomorrow on account of the prevailing rough weather at Lahaina. The vessel will take passengers and freight left by the Mauna Loa.

Purser Tuft, of the Iwalani, reports extreme rough weather along the Hamakua coast. The Iwalani could not land at Lahaina on account of strong wind. The Claudine was unable to land freight at that place last Tuesday.

Hawaiian Electric Company.

The cleanest, brightest and really, in the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe; nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks." This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light. Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want. We have a complete stock of everything in this line and have just received a lot of the very latest designs in chandeliers.

COFFEE IN NICARAGUA

CROP FELL SHORT DURING THE YEAR 1896.

Planters Are Making Preparations to Cultivate Sugar Cane Instead of Coffee—The Sale of Free Labor.

A correspondent writes from Managua, Nicaragua, to New York as follows: A terrible state of affairs prevails in the labor market here. The system of selling labor has resulted in reducing very large numbers of men, women and children to a state of slavery. Owners of coffee estates recently held a meeting with the object of influencing the Government of Nicaragua to establish in Cuba a labor agency to induce Cuban laborers to migrate to Nicaragua.

Men and women here are now endeavoring by every possible means excepting an armed revolution, to escape from the servitude incident to the sale of their labor, authorized by the constitution of Nicaragua and enforced as vigorously as possible by the military power, until the money for goods advanced to them and interest thereon and heavy fines for delinquency have been paid in full by labor at low rates.

This year's crop of coffee in Nicaragua is estimated at about 80 per cent of a full crop. The deficiency has been caused by insufficient rains during the year. The twigs on which the coffee crop of 1897 is to be borne are from drought so short and small as not to be able to yield a full crop in many estates in Nicaragua this year. A number of persons in Nicaragua, especially in the eastern portion, are making preparations to cultivate sugar cane instead of coffee as heretofore.

THE HAGEY CONCERT.

Pleasing Program Rendered Before a Large Audience.

The first Hagey Club concert, given last evening in the big Y. M. C. A. hall, was a decided success. President Harrison of club, presided over the entertainment. A violin duet by Professor Yarnley and Mr. W. A. Love was a most pleasing number to open the concert. Mr. Donald de V. Graham, the San Francisco Bohemian, favored the audience with two songs. Mrs. W. W. Hall recited Lowell's realistic selection "The Courtin'" with excellent effect. Mr. R. C. Montague's song met with favor. Mrs. Monague Turner and Mrs. R. D. Walbridge gave vocal solos. So well did they please the audience that an encore was necessary to subdue the applause. Mr. J. F. Brown gave a humorous reading in fine style.

Mr. J. H. Kirkpatrick, of the Hagey Institute, spoke of the good that was being accomplished by the treatment. Wm. O'Halaran, a graduate of the institute, read an appropriate poem. James T. Stewart went over the constitution of the club. He also spoke of his experiences as a drinking man.

FORTUNE THROUGH A MISTAKE.

Orange Judd, who made a fortune by advertising, commenced very cautiously, and his first great success was owing to the error of his office boy, who ordered a page instead of a column in a New York paper. Mr. Judd was nearly wild at the pecuniary responsibility he had incurred, but the returns were prompt and within a week he was blessing the boy for the mistake he had made.—Printer's Ink.

THE BREWER BLOCK.

The Brewer block on Hotel street, is soon to be improved and modernized by iron fronts and plate glass windows. Work will be commenced when the material, which has been ordered, arrives from the Coast. Ripley & Dickey made the plans for the improvements.

The progressive ladies of Westfield, Ind., issued a "Woman's Edition" of the Westfield News, bearing date of April 3, 1896. The paper is filled with matter of interest to women, and we notice the following from a correspondent, which the editors printed, realizing that it treats upon a matter of vital importance to their sex: "The best remedy for croup, colds and bronchitis that I have been able to find is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For family use it has no equal. I gladly recommend it." For sale by all druggists and dealers. Sams, Smith & Co., wholesale agents for H. I.

"Put Me Off Batuffaio"

The title of this well known song as well as the song itself emanated from the brain of an employe of the Buffalo Brewing Company. This excellent beer is on draught at the Cosmopolitan, Pacific, and Royal saloons. The interchangeable check system is found very valuable to patrons.

DENY IT WHO WILL!

It is an absolute fact that buyers at Kerr's save from 25 to 50 per cent on every dollar spent. Kerr's has become a household word, which goes to prove that the ladies are well pleased with their bargains, and TALK about them.

QUEER PARIS CUSTOM.

Dandies Who Carry Canes and Ride in Long Trousers.

"In Paris," said a New Yorker who recently returned from the French metropolis, "it is considered the 'smart' thing for men to ride on the Bois not in bicycle costume, but in ordinary clothing, with long trousers, and quite as a man would dress for an afternoon walk. The only difference lies in the fact that the trousers are turned up very high, until they show the sock above the shoe. The socks were always elaborate, and if the shoes worn were not low patent leathers, they were of tan with white canvas tops, or of patent leather with tan tops—combinations very dear to the hearts of Frenchmen, although they have never become popular here among well dressed men. A conspicuous feature of the costume is the cane, which is carried in the hands, parallel to the handle bars of the machine. The cane is not merely ornamental, but is used for a very practical purpose. If a rider wants to stop and speak to an acquaintance on one of the walks along the road, he keeps the wheel upright by sticking the cane into the ground. This is regarded as the proper fashion for afternoon riding, but only by the dandies. Most of the Frenchmen who ride are quite as enthusiastic and earnest about it as we are here. Most of the women who wear bloomers now are of a class that is very distinct from those who have returned to skirts. A year ago bloomers were very general among all classes of women riders. But now they have practically been given up only to those who have no objection to attracting the sort of attention which the bloomers do even in Paris. It has become very general, too, to see women in this costume about the streets at night, and the Moulin Rouge, Bullier's, and other similar resorts usually show their share of women in that get up. Their excuse always is that they have just gotten off the bicycle, which is common enough in all classes of Paris life to make the explanation seem plausible."—New York Sun.

THE LIFE OF A WHEEL.

With Good Care a Bicycle Should Last Four or Five Years.

The question is asked, "What is the life of a good wheel?" Much depends, of course, on the usage it receives. Taking for granted that it is not abused, it may be said in a general way that a wheel should last four or five years without losing the essential quality of easy running. There are lots of bicycles of the 1892 pattern now in use. They do not move so easily as wheels made in 1896, but that is more often on account of improved methods of construction in the newer wheel than because the old one is worn out. This estimate does not, of course, apply to racing wheels or the wheels of men who do "centuries" every other day or so. It is based on the assumption that the rider is one of the moderate sort, who covers an average of about 75 miles a week during nine months of the year—that is, about 3,000 miles in the course of the 12 months.

In other words, a really good bicycle should hang together in fairly good condition till it has been ridden 12,000 or 15,000 miles. In that period two chains may be worn out and three pairs of tires, and possibly it may be found advisable to change some of the balls in the bearings. This does not mean that the rider will have all the satisfaction enjoyed by the man who always rides the wheel of the year. It simply means that, if he made a judicious selection in the first place, he will have a mount, more or less comfortable, for the period mentioned.—New York Post.

To "True" the Spokes.

The grating noise sometimes heard while riding, which is often attributed to the chain or sprocket, is frequently the result of the spokes being untrue. To "true" the spokes, get a piece of chalk, pencil sharpened; hold the chalk near the lower rim, so that it will just miss the spoke, and then revolve the wheel. As the spokes which need tightening come into contact with the chalk they will be marked and can be tightened. Then, in the same manner, find the next loose spoke, until all have been adjusted. Spin the wheel around once more, and if none of the spokes is marked the wheel is true, so far as the spokes are concerned.—New York Press.

The Useful Monkey Wrench.

Wheelmen and wheelwomen should never start on a ride without carrying a wrench. It is always advisable to carry a well stocked tool bag, but the average rider will not do this. A monkey wrench stowed in a convenient pocket will go a long way toward getting started in case something breaks or works loose.—American Cyclist.

WOMEN WITH WHEELS.

Miss Yatman, a member of the Exeol-sior Cycle club of New York, claims a record of 5,000 miles for the season.

"Let every woman remember," says the old rider, "that correct position calls for nearly straight arms. The bend at the elbow should be very slight."

Two women riding brakeless cycles recently undertook to coast some steep grades in Druid Hill park, Baltimore. Painful injuries, including several ugly cuts, resulted.

Princess Maud, who married Prince Carl of Denmark, will not lack for means of locomotion. Among the presents received are not less than 48 ladies' bicycles, for it is known that Princess Maud is an enthusiastic wheelwoman.

One of the first presents made by the queen of Italy to her new daughter-in-law, the Princess Helene of Montenegro, was a magnificent bicycle with ivory handles and decorated with the arms of Savoy and Montenegro in enamel and gold. The queen evidently means to keep on good terms with her daughter-in-law.

Have you a leaky gutter? If you have, make it perfectly clean and dry, apply a good coat of No. 3 P. and B. Paint over the leaky spots; then take a piece of stout Manila paper, or a piece of common cotton cloth, paint it well on both sides; lay it over the first coat, giving the whole a final coat, and there will be no more leak there. Or if the whole gutter is bad, make it clean and dry, and apply a paste of P. & B. Paint and Portland Cement.

FRIDAY, JANUARY, 29, 1897.
THE ADVANCEMENT OF OAHU.

The progress of Oahu in the sugar industry within the last few years is very marked. Within the memory of many of our citizens there was hardly a sugar plantation on the island, and what plantations there were, were but struggling concerns. In the sixties the late S. G. Wilder started a plantation at Kuaioa point. The chimney and mill building, together with the laborers' cottages, all built of stone, stand to the present day. But the location and land were alike unsuitable and the enterprise failed before 1870. The estate became a stock ranch, for which it is admirably suited. There were also plantations at Kaalaea, Heeia and Kaneohe, in the first of which Dr. Robert McKibbin was interested in, the second was the property of Mr. James McKeague, the third was owned by the late Judge Harris. Kaalaea struggled for a long time, but finally, having proved a bottomless pit to those who were interested in it, had to be abandoned, and went into the hands of Chinamen, who planted it with rice and who make a fine thing of it. This was another case of an unsuitable location and unsuitable land. By the way, the late Judge Bickerton was manager of this plantation for a number of years.

The failure of these two plantations was not very encouraging, and for a long time the opinion was prevalent that Oahu was not an island adapted for cane culture. Heeia, however, succeeded and so did the plantation started by Halstead and Gordon at Waiulua. Kaneohe has, within a few years, changed into a cattle ranch and rice plantation.

After 1870, however, men began to seek round for sugar land, and the sugar estates of Waianae and Waimanalo were founded. Waianae was a clear discovery. Before the plantation was started it was a little bit of a fishing village, and the back country was covered with scrub looking as dry and arid as possible. But it has brought a fortune to its stockholders. Waimanalo, on the other hand, was an ideal stock ranch, and seemed, with its flat, grassy plain, bounded on one side by cliffs and on the other by the sea, with an ample water supply, to invite the planter.

At this point the Island stayed for many years. And yet there were lands upon which thousands of acres of cane could be grown within sight of Punch-bowl. At last it dawned upon the minds of our energetic men that the plains about Ewa, which had been lying waste and which had been regarded as useless, might be utilized, and the Ewa plantation sprang into being Jan. 1, 1890. This was quickly followed by the plantation at Kahuku. And now we have the new plantation between Ewa and Honolulu, which is to be the largest of them all.

The change from the little one-horse plantations of the sixties, to the well equipped, prosperous plantations, with fields of cane stretching for miles, is wonderful to an observer who has lived to see them all.

But the development of Oahu has only just begun. There are thousands of acres yet lying idle, which energy and engineering skill will develop in the next few years, if political conditions are only favorable. The plateau which springs from the Ewa stream, reaches its highest point about Leilehua and then gently slopes towards Waiulua, only needs water to make it a paradise for the agriculturalist.

Cane can be grown on a large part of this tract of land and the upper parts, where cane cannot be grown, will supply homesteads and farms for a considerable population. The valleys also are yet untouched. Coffee and fruits, pigs, poultry and so forth can be raised.

Any one who remembers Kalih Valley as it was twenty-five years ago and who will visit it now, will see what the industry of a thrifty race can do. Twenty-five years ago Kalih Valley was a tangled wilderness. Today, from the mouth of the valley almost to the head, it is crowded with small farms. Where before you saw no one, you now see people by the score.

The development of Oahu has but commenced. The next decade will see a great advance. Oahu is quite capable of supporting a population three, if not four, times as large as it is now. All that is needed is good means of transportation to every part of the island, and this the extension of the railroad will soon give us, energy on the part of the inhabitants and proper political conditions. Advance Oahu!

TELEPHONE POLES.

There is a good opportunity of improving the appearance of our roads now, if the telephone company will only agree to it. It might have been done on King street, by using some of the by-streets, but the new poles are already up. On Nuuanu avenue, however, no poles have yet been put up. When altering the line why not put the poles back of the houses instead of along the street. There is plenty of room to do so and it is certain that no house holder would object, for every one would freely give permission to plant poles in the back lot if the unsightly objects could be removed from a position which mars the beauty of the view.

There are few cities in the world which give such a lovely view as can be seen every day looking up the Nuuanu Valley. It is never the same. Sometimes the crest of Mt. Lanihuli, that grand mountain mass to the north of town, is buried in clouds and its gorges look dim and distant through the mist. It seems miles away, and then again the atmosphere is as clear as a bell, and one can see every outline, and—as one walks along—a telephone post gets in the line of vision and spoils the picture.

We can't do without the telephone and scenic beauty must, in this prosaic age, always be sacrificed to utility. Have not the Falls of Niagara been harnessed to electrical utility, and on Hawaii, the great Hilaue falls at Waipio have practically disappeared, and the water which used to crash down 1,600 feet goes to fertilize the thirsty fields of the Kukuihaele Plantation, leaving only a little lace-like trickle, which is blown into mist as it descends.

But if there is a chance of restoring the scenic beauty of the Nuuanu avenue, why not take it? It is to be hoped that the dwellers on the Avenue will take the matter up and urge it upon the telephone company.

When Sir Edwin Arnold was asked by a reporter what he thought of American women, he replied "Affrin." This might have been interpreted "avaunt!" or something unpleasant of that sort. Nothing of the kind. The word is Persian and means "Oh, Allah, make many more of them," which is a very pretty compliment. So if any one asks in future about The Star's opinion of the beauties of Hawaii it will write "Affrin."

A reference was made the other day to the cremation of Kate Field's remains. The ease with which ashes can be carried without any ostentation is shown by the fact that the copper urn containing Kate Field's ashes were carried across the continent by Miss Lilian Whiting in a handbag, and no one knew but what the handbag contained a purse and pocket handkerchief. The bag was filled with fresh flowers.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen is to receive a special gold medal from the Royal Geographical Society of England. He had already received the "Royal medal," which is bestowed for the greatest geographical discovery of the year. His book is to be published in February simultaneously in the United States, England, Germany, France, Sweden, Norway and Russia. The American publishers are Messrs. Harper. They gave $25,000 for the American copyright. It pays to be a great explorer.

A Crocodile One Hundred Feet Long. It is a well known fact, even among those who make no pretense of having their heads stored with geological and paleontological lore, that the beasts and reptiles which existed in the early ages of the world were giants when compared with the very largest representatives of the same types which still survive. This fact has recently been strikingly illustrated by a find made at Poitiers, where excavations are being made under the auspices of the Oriental Academy of Science. At that place a crocodile tooth was found which weighs almost seven pounds. M. Gerard, the professor in charge of the working corps, says that there is no doubt that the tooth formerly belonged to a gigantic crocodile, and that there is no possibility whatever that he has confounded the tooth with that of the megalosaurus, as some scientists have hinted. M. Gerard says: "It is a typical crocodile tooth and is probably the largest specimen of the kind ever seen by man. In my estimation it is from the head of a reptile not less than 100 feet in length."—St. Louis Republic.

Have the Designer's Initial. It is said that the $20 and the $5 goldpieces and the Bland dollar are the only coins perpetuating the designer's name. Underneath the lower line of the medallion on the obverse of the goldpieces is J. B. L. (James B. Langacre). In nearly the same position on the obverse of the Bland dollar is the letter "M." It also appears on the reverse up on the left fold of the ribbon uniting the wreath, being the initial letter of Morgan.

KANE, NIVES, AND CUTLERY.

Plantation owners and managers of plantations of to-day have to look forward—to keep in touch with the advanced utensils necessary for their use, and whatever will do the most work in a given time is an investment that is not an expense.

We have anticipated their wants by placing on our shelves a large assortment of the "Hawaiian Special" Aluminum Cane Knives. The advantage of using this new and universally adopted metal in the manufacture of cane knives can be seen at a glance.

In English Razors we have the Wade and Butcher make, and the George Wostenholm make. These two represent the best to be had. It is only a matter of choice with the purchaser.

The Green River Butcher Knives, made by the John Russell Company, are the best on the market.

Seymour's Scissors are very highly tempered and keep their edge. That's why they find such a ready sale. We carry a large assortment of Bankers, Tailors and Barbers Shears, Hair and Horse Clippers, all of the very best and well known makes.

There are all kinds of knives for all kinds of business, but for cutting bread nothing has ever been devised that will equal a Chrysty. Made of aluminum steel, of the same quality as the best saw. Unlike the Clauss, the Chrysty Bread Knife has a wooden handle, and it has other advantages.

We have a perfect trousers creaser that surpasses even a flat iron for keeping trousers free from "knees" and wrinkles. Nothing bulky about them, and they will hang out of the way in any closet. Seventy-five cents a pair.

Aluminum lime and lemon squeezers are new as to material, but not in shape; their superiority is in their cleanliness.

Aluminum collapsible water cups are light and convenient for the pocket.

Many fine tables are ruined by careless people laying lighted cigars on the edges. The Pendegast cigar holder and ash receiver obviates the damage a very little cost. They are detachable and will fit on any table.

"Little Beauty" night lamp, to hang up or stand, is an article you have often seen advertised in the magazines. We handle them in Honolulu, and they don't cost much.

DELICIOUS DELICACIES

If a wife wants to have her husband think as much of her as he does of his maternal parent she must look to the larder and see that it is provided with plenty of things for the inner man. But quantity in this instance is not the only essential; quality plays an important part in food articles.

You can fill a dish with peas, but if they are not of good quality they will remain full. We are now selling genuine Petit Pois in one and two-pound tins that are remarkably good, and cheap.

Another delicacy is Preserved Mushrooms—new here—and we are selling them to people who regard a good dinner as a requisite to happiness on this earth. Black English Mushrooms, and many French Mushrooms go a long way toward filling a man out around the vest pockets.

Another trifle worth thinking about is genuine English Jugged Hare. Where is the Briton who would not go a long distance for a lunch where Jugged Hare is one of the courses?

We have a store full of such things—too many varieties to mention in a week. Pickles of every sort—from the ordinary bottled to Batty's Nabob; Tippo Sahib's Curry Powder; Orange Marmalade in stone jars; Cross & Blackwell's Jams in glass, and a thousand other things.

THE GUIDES OF JAPAN

JAMIE WILDER ADVISES GIVING THEM A WIDE BERTH.

A Thrifty Guide Association Which Looks After Tourists and Their Money—Made Large Amounts.

A certain young fellow who has many friends in Honolulu is contemplating a pleasure visit to Japan. He is anxious to see the attractions in this interesting little country, as thoroughly and economically as possible.
Naturally enough he approached Mr.
Jamie Wilder on the down town street
this morning and sought to extract from that gentleman what he most desired to know.

Now Jamie didn't put in a great many weeks in Japan without learning a few things, so he kindly led the young man around the corner, out of the rush of pedestrians and vehicles.
Then he said:

"You are going to Japan, eh? Well,
now I want to give you a little advice, young man, which I am able to give you through experience. It is this:
Beware of guides over there. Don't have anything to do with them. They are a heartless band of thieves and they wouldn't hesitate to rob a blind man of his last 'bean.'"

"You see there has been and is still existing probably, a guide association.
The hui is composed of two or three dozen Japanese. Their business is to show tourists over the country. These guides are scattered all throughout Japan and while, ostensibly, their purpose is to show you the sights, their real object is to fleece you and they generally succeed in doing so.

"They are as cunning as foxes. You give them a certain amount of money to pay your expenses. They look after your hotel accommodations, pay your carriage hire, secure your theater tickets, purchase curios, arrange for pleasure jaunts, and in fact, have charge of everything where money is to be paid.

The guide submits an itemized statement of the monies expended by him to the tourist employing him. This will be found to be correct to a penny.
Very often the guide will cheat himself
a few dollars for effect.

"But where the steal comes in is in the bills. He makes you pay above the regular rates in order that he and his association may make a good thing out of you. It is done in this way.
The guide patronizes favorite people and institutions. He has them raise your bill from ten to twenty per cent above regular prices. This is his rake-off. Besides this he is allowed ten per cent from the houses for your business. Thus the guide makes an excellent rake off on every dollar his tourist spends. Last year these guides divided $200,000 among themselves, this being their profits for the year."

"While I was in Japan," continued
Mr. Wilder, "this rotten guide association was broken up by William Furniss, a prominent Philadelphian, who is known in Honolulu. Mr. Furniss discovered that he had been robbed out of $60 by a guide whom he had entrusted with $120. He made complaint to the association. The Japs, fearing that Mr. Furniss would make public the theft by trickery refunded $6 and demanded that the guide withdraw. This action brought about a ventilation of the rotten company. The guide sued for damages. He failed to get damages, but managed to break up the association which had fired him."

"This is only the main association of its kind. There are others awaiting suckers to bite their bait, from all parts of the world. My advice to all Honolulu people who intend visiting Japan, would be to secure Murra's guide book. It gives more information than the guide could ever hope to impart to the tourist. There is not a bit of danger to anyone straying from civilization and the English language is well understood throughout the entire Kingdom."

Mr. Grocer: we can't get along without you. Here are thousands of people who want good tea, and tons of Schilling's Best for them.

Will you say to your customers for us: "Here is a tea that I am sure of. I'll give your money back if you don't like it?"

THE "1897" REMINGTON.

Many important new features are to be found in the "97" wheel. For example, the frame connections and reinforcements are placed on the inside of the tubing, adding greatly to the appearance and strength, and producing what is commonly called "concealed" or "flush" joints. Of great importance to the easy running qualities of the bicycle are the gearing, which in the "97" Remington has been improved by making the sprockets of a cycloidal cut, with the addition of a flange or shoulder to carry the side plates of the chain, thus distributing the friction and preventing the vibration which is very noticeable in a chain running over the ordinary sprocket.

In the crank-hanger bearings a decided improvement has been made.
The new form of construction being such that by the removal of one screw and the left crank, the entire bearing can be taken out intact, without displacing the balls.

Liberal option of tires, saddles and gears will be given on the new model.

GAMBLE ON THE WEATHER

RAIN GAMBLING AS CARRIED ON IN CALCUTTA.

One Coolie Character Won $30,000 in a Single Day—Thousands Won or Lost on the Falling of Rain.

One of the most curious forms of gambling in the world is "rain gambling," which at this season of the year is at its height in Calcutta. The principal rain gambling den is in Cotton street, Burra Bazaar, in that Oriental city, and a New Yorker who just returned from there says that no one who has not visited the place can have any conception of the vast crowds, which at every hour of the day and for into the night, pass in and out.

The great majority are Mawaris, who are born speculators, but there are as well plenty of well-to-do Europeans, Eurasians, Jews, Armenians and Greeks, and women, too. All swarm into the small courtyard where this strange form of gambling is carried on, through a narrow entrance barely three feet wide. The courtyard is about 100 feet square. The far-famed tank, with a spout falling into the courtyard, is the one spot where all eyes are fixed. This tank stands at the edge of a second story roof. It is about six feet broad by four feet wide and nine inches deep, with the spout opening inward some three or four inches from the bottom. From this it will be seen that it requires a pretty heavy downpour for at least ten minutes to cause the spout to flow. Intermittent drizzles, which partly fill the tank, do not count, as the shower to fill it must pour down uninterruptedly and then the bets are won or lost.

Chances are taken either for or against the spout running. A gray-haired, wizened old man is the owner of the den, and there is another similar place across the road, only smaller. On the roof, over the fifth floor, there is a small, square watch tower, in which are stationed five or six men, whose duty it is to scan the horizon closely and report on the formation of rain clouds or otherwise. On the reports of these men the odds rise or fall.

A bet made and won one day is always paid the following morning. Everything seems to be "on the square," and, indeed, there is little chance for cheating. The odds range as high as 1 to 75 on some days, even in the rainy season. Many have made a fortune in a single day. One coolie character recently won over $30,000 in a single day, with the odds 1 to 75. But he worked the system on scientific methods. He had agents at various places, who, on the occurrence of a heavy storm, would at once send him a telegram. He took advantage of these messages, made a heavy bet, and three hours later the rain fell in torrents.

Persons who are troubled with indigestion will be interested in the experience of Wm. H. Penn, chief clerk in the railway mail service at Des Moines, Iowa, who writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the merits of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For two years I have suffered from indigestion, and am subject to frequent severe attacks of pain in the stomach and bowels. One or two doses of this remedy never fails to give perfect relief. THIS YEAR'S ATHLETICS.

The Season of 1896 Has Been Unusually Successful.

Success crowned the season of track and field athletics, which closed recently with the autumn games of the New York Athletic club. Of course it lacked the spectacular effect that the international contests lent to the preceding year, but there has been no falling off in the interest taken in the sport.

The season opened inauspiciously. The withdrawal of the New York Athletic club from the Amateur Athletic union seemed to threaten the disruption of the union. The mercury foot organization evinced no hostility toward the national body, however, and from all indications it will speedily re-enter the fold.

A remarkable feature of the season has been the tendency toward innovations in the programme of events. The discus throwing and Marathon race have been adopted from the Olympic games, and a strong desire for variety has manifested itself.

A number of record breaking performances have been made during the year. Wefers, the fleet footed sprinter of the New York Athletic club, has established new figures for the 75, 100, 220 and 300 yard dashes. He met with defeat in the quarter at the hands of Burke, who seems capable of creating new figures for that distance. Burke lowered the 600 yard record at the Knickerbocker games. Aside from these, no new records have been made.

Among the colleges the sport had a successful year. Yale maintained her superiority and easily won the intercollegiate championship, with Pennsylvania second and Harvard third. Harvard had a strong individual team and proved a most formidable opponent in joint games. Princeton showed up poorly and was entirely outclassed by the other big colleges.

The most noteworthy happenings of the season were the revival of interest in track athletics at Princeton and Mike Murphy's withdrawal from Yale. The importance of the latter has been greatly overestimated. Of course the services of a good trainer will greatly aid the University of Pennsylvania, but it is not too much to predict another victory for Yale.—Exchange.

BASEBALL GOSSIP.

Billy Nash will winter in Boston. Pitcher Coyle has been reserved by Toledo.

Detroit won two games out of three from Cincinnati.

Ed Delehanty went through 30 games without an error.

Baltimore failed in its aim to finish in the 700 mark.

Under Joyce New York won 28 games, lost 14 and tied 2.

The Baltimores have been shut out eight times this season.

Killen is the only Pittsburg pitcher who has won a majority of his games this season.

This is the ninth consecutive season that the championship has been won by an eastern club.

Pitcher Corbett was the only one of the Baltimore tribe who won from Boston or New York in the last series.

Philadelphia began and ended the season with defeat. The club has not stood as low since 1883 as this year.

Minor league managers are already looking for talent to take the place of players who will probably be drafted.

Griffith, Chicago's winning pitcher, made only one wild pitch while winning 24 of the 33 games he has played.

It is said that Anson has decided to go behind the bat next season and allow Decker to take care of the initial bag.

Comiskey says that next season he will have players on his St. Paul team who do not drink or carouse around at night.

President Brush thinks that if the Cincinnati had gone east with the intention of playing for the pennant, instead of second place, they would have won more games.

Lavigne and Everhardt.

The coming fight of Kid Lavigne and Jack Everhardt on Oct. 27 will mark an epoch in the career of each. The two are equally matched, and both are hard hitters. Everhardt, moreover, is jealous of the Kid and is eager to wrest his laurels from him. They will fight at the Bohemian club in New York, and it is whispered that fabulous prices will be charged to see the encounter. Rumor has it, for example, that $20 will be charged for admission and $45 for a reserved seat.

Lavigne, by the way, is one of the smallest lightweight champions that ever stepped into a ring. His height is only 5 feet 3 1/2 inches. His manager has always been Sam Fitzpatrick.

As has been intimated, Mr. Lewis is one of the old time sports of the country. He backed Peter Maher against Fitzsimmons and lost heavily, but he still has a warm heart for the Irishman. He put his money up for George La Blanche, for Jack Dempsey, too, and backed Jim Hall against Ted Pritchard. Mr. Lewis is now interested in Corbett and has money to throw away to show that the big champion can put Fitzsimmons under the ropes.—Brooklyn Eagle.

May Abandon Southern Tours.

The sentiment among baseball officials appears to be largely antagonistic to training trips to the south. The disastrous experience of the major league teams that took the early spring trip to Dixie land has convinced the managers and club owners that the southern trips are financial losses to the club and physical handicaps to the players. "The majority, in fact all, of the 12 clubs in the major league will abandon the southern tour and order their players to report in condition for practice work on April 15," says J. Earl Wagner.—Exchange.

When Our Grandfathers

a hunting went, in the long ago, they took down, from its pegs on the wall, a gun of no mean dimensions, long of barrel and strong of stock. Over one shoulder was thrown the polished powder horn, and over the other the buckskin bullet pouch embroidered in fancy worsteds by the good man's wife. Then the flint was carefully tested against good steel that it might, without fail, strike fire, when the hunter took aim and pulled the trigger on the bounding buck.

And in those same days came a wonderful invention of picture taking. Our grandfathers "looked pleasant" for full twenty minutes so that we, their descendants, might see their features in little plush lined cases. Another generation comes, the flint lock is thrown aside for the percussion cap rifle, the Daguerreotype is superseded by the "wet plate" process. Another step, and man's ingenuity has perfected the repeating rifle and the KODAK. And to-day we defy the very elements we use. The crack of the sportsman's rifle is no longer accompanied by a puff of smoke. The photographer is no longer obliged to seek the dark room when reloading his camera. The nitrous cartridge has removed the "smoke nuisance," the Film cartridge has done away with the dark room.

The Falcon Camera

Takes a picture 2x2 1/2 inches and when reloaded with film will make 12 exposures before reloading. Full information to be had with each Camera by referring to the FALCON MANUAL sent with each Camera.

Price, loaded with film for 12 exposures, $6.50.

We have plenty of cheaper Shears and Scissors for those who wish to pay less for them, so can satisfy you on both quality and price.

Hair Clippers. Brown & Sharp & Swiss are the best to be had. We have cheaper, but the best are the cheapest on this article.

Horse Clippers. Buy the best of these, also—Brown & Sharps, or Clarks.

The cheaper ones we have may suit you, but we'd rather sell you the best as we know they will pay for themselves in wearing qualities.

We have just added greatly to our stock of Cutlery and can show you Carvers in many styles and prices. Also table and Pocket Cutlery in great variety as to style, material and price.

Do you use the "No Germ Filter?" If not, you ought to. It is very simple.

All you have to do is to screw it on to your kitchen faucet and every drop of water you use from that faucet will have to pass through a block of Tri-poli stone, just as it has to in the regular jar filters, except that it goes through quickly on account of the water pressure. Call and see the best faucet filter on earth.

THE PRIDE OF THE COUNTRYSIDE.

Oh, Phyllis is surpassing fair! I know no maid that's fairer. Her beauty is beyond compare— No beauty could be rarer. She scorns the fickle fashions' guide, And rancet is her gown, Yet she's the pride of the countryside, And the envy of the town.

A HELPING BIRD.

"Hi, hi! All right, all right! Now we shan't be long!" said the gray parrot. Forget to say that the irrepressible young man that brings the daily milk is the tutor of my parrot in the latest up to date slang of the day.

down the path of his own garden in his dot and carry one style, and, seeing me over the fence, he cried: "Hello, captain! You're quite a stranger. What's been up? Rachel has been talking about coming in to inquire after your health, as she was afraid something must be wrong."

THE VALUE OF A HUNTER.

It Depends Upon Speed as Well as Fencing Ability. Among hunters the best fences are found, though many horses of the cob kind are safe and easy, if slow in crossing country. It is on his manners at his fences that much of the value of a hunter depends.

Sensible Nursing Bottle.

The common, everyday nursing bottle is built on a poor plan. It has but one opening. Through this the milk is admitted, and from it, through a nipple, the child struggles to get it out. The law of physics cannot be ignored even in so simple a thing as a nursing bottle. The vacuum left by the milk must be filled. The nipple collapses, and to relieve this the child stops feeding for a moment. Air rushes into the bottle. The child starts feeding again, and repeats the performance until the contents are taken. The "Best Nurser" is made on a novel plan. A valve in the bottom of the bottle admits air as the contents are taken. The child feeds easily, without any danger of wind colic; no collapsing nipple, no worrying, crying infant. Price 25 cents.

A Little Knowledge

Is a Dangerous Thing.

A person unacquainted with Bicycle construction attempting to dismantle a wheel or effect a home repair will often do more damage in five minutes than a skilled mechanic can repair in a day. The mechanism of most Bicycles is very intricate, with left hand lock-nuts and very fine threads, which will slip if the least bit overstrained.

Many of the parts require special wrenches to turn them, of which we have a large assortment, together with the other tools used in Bicycle construction, and a skilled mechanic to do the work.

We make a specialty of repairing Bicycles. No matter how badly used up they are we can put them on their wheels again. Our work we guarantee. Our charges are moderate. We don't want the earth—only a chance to live.
