A GREAT SENSATION.

The great sensation of the day, the week, the month, will be found in to-day's issue of the BULLETIN, under the heading of "Exciting Volcano News" and over the signatures of "J. M. Lee" and "J. H. Maby." It is no longer merely smoke and steam at Kilauea, but the living, active, seething, bubbling lava has again come to the surface, and is now visible to the visitor. This is good news for us, good news to send abroad, news that will do more than anything else to attract tourists to our shores.

RETRENCHMENT AGAIN.

Mr. Gibson's speech on retrenchment, delivered in the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon, was sound, vigorous, and pointed. His reference to the general extravagance of the country, of Government and people, is an endorsement of the oft-repeated views of this paper. So strong a speech in advocacy of retrenchment, coming from so powerful a source, is hailed by us with satisfaction. With regard to the carrying out of the Minister's expressed wish, there should be no difficulty, seeing that he is the head of a Government supported by a majority of about two to one. Let us hear no more fiddle-faddle about the Opposition "running away with the Appropriation Bill." The Government not only have a majority in the house, but in the matter of retrenchment they have the support of the Opposition. Although most heartily approving of the movement to reduce expenditures, on general principles, we would again intimate that it is quite possible to use the pruning-knife in the wrong place and spare it in quarters where it should be wielded energetically, cutting off valuable fruit-producing branches and letting barren, unsightly limbs remain. As expressed by this morning's Advertiser, retrenchment, "to be truly effective, should be done intelligently, and reductions in each case should be considered with reference to the value and importance of the service rendered." That is, the dictates of common intelligence and ordinary business sagacity should be followed, and the necessary and important services of the country properly maintained, while useless appendages are excised. We badly need roads, bridges, wharves, school-houses, etc., but we can do very well without a genealogy board or a standing army. In fact, we should feel a trifle better and happier if the money thrown away on them were judiciously expended for the good of the tax-payers.

THE HILO PETITION.

A petition was presented to the Legislature yesterday by Mr. Kaulukou, from the district of Hilo, possessing the rare quality of common-sense. Considering that the assembly is pestered every week with dray-loads of documents called petitions, that none but the most gentle and charitable disposition can characterize by such moderate terms as "silly" or "ridiculous," it is a delightful change to see something come forward in that line bearing the impress of sanity and sense, and the occurrence is so rare that we are in danger of becoming unduly excited when it does happen. But to return to the Hilo petition, it prays "that the office of the Road Supervisor-in-Chief be abolished, as useless; that a board of road supervisors be appointed in each district, to serve without compensation; and that tax-payers have the option of giving labor instead of money for their road tax." This petition has three parts. The first part expresses a wish for the abolition of the office of road-supervisor-in-chief, on the ground of its being a useless office. Perhaps it is useless. We cannot verify or deny at present, not being sufficiently informed relative to its practical working. But we will say this much, that our impression has always harmonized with the view expressed by the Hilo people. In fact, we never credited the creators of the office with any other intention than to make comfortable billets for needy friends. If those gentlemen were actuated by nobler considerations, by disinterested motives for the good of the state, then we have done them a very great injustice, a cruel wrong, and shall envelop ourselves in sackcloth and place a bucketful of ashes on our head as soon as conviction of guilt touches our tender part. Passing over the second part of the petition for the present, we would remark that there appears to be no grave objection to conceding the tax-payer the option of working out his road tax, if he prefers that method of payment, and will give an equivalent of the coin assessed in labor. The road tax is intended for the making and repairing of roads, and roads can neither be made nor repaired without manual labor. Then why not allow those who wish, to contribute work instead of wealth? The poor man's labor is his capital, and it is often more convenient for him to part with a portion of it than to hand over an equivalent in gold or silver, of which his stock is small. Now returning to the second prayer of the petition, "that a board of road-supervisors be appointed in each district, to serve without pay," we announce it as our humble opinion that herein is embodied an idea of "statesmanship," marked by the impress of that common-sense alluded to at the commencement of this article. The people of Hilo believe in local self-government, and they ask for it in the form of a local road board. Their advanced views are tending in the direction taken ages ago by all free and enlightened countries, where decentralization has long since been adopted as an indispensable element of liberal government. Hilo asks to have a road board appointed for each district throughout the islands, and this is just exactly the form of local self-government suited to the country's needs and condition. A board, say of five members, for each district, "to serve without pay," should have the expending of the local road tax, and then the member for Makawao would have no further occasion to complain of unequal distribution. The Hilo people have sent up this petition to the rulers of the country. Have they that simple, child-like, implicit faith which expects a favorable answer? If so, it is good for them, for they will have to live on faith for a long time. We say this because our faith is very small, so small that we cannot put our hand on it; and what makes it so small is the perceptible tendency of those who govern to centralize all power, authority, and control. We have here in the capital city a board of health, a board of immigration, and a board of education; but they are all constituted mainly of cabinet ministers, or are entirely controlled by cabinet ministers, which is about the same thing. The nominal existence of these boards is a stupid farce, in which sensible men can see neither sense nor fun. If centralization is the order of the day in Honolulu what else can the people expect at Hilo. We are sorry for you poor Hiloites, but if you can keep up your faith and manage to live on it, you might pull through to a freer and more liberal era. If not, you had better hang your harps on the mango trees and sit by Hilo bay, sighing yourselves away into the land where politicians cease from troubling and editors are at rest.

EXCITING VOLCANO NEWS.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—The fire at Halemauana has until now shown a tendency to fool our expectations, and we have been somewhat disappointed, but the old Madam seems now to think that we have been waiting long enough and shows real business. As you know, it has been smoking heavier and heavier, steadily increasing all the time, and it has been fire for the last month or so, but not visible unless going right to the edge of the pit. The fire has now actually broken out as with a sudden blow, not only at the pit, but extending to half of the crater, where new lava is flowing and burning, so it is now no more fooling about it. Friday night did this encouraging change take place, and the reflection was visible last night from Punaluu. I will give you more detailed particulars with next steamer and remain yours truly.

THE LEGISLATURE.

FORTY-EIGHTH DAY.

MONDAY, June 28th.

The Assembly met at 10 A. M., Noble J. S. Walker, President, in the chair, and the following members present:—Ministers Gulick, Kapena and Neumann; Nobles Cleghorn, Kuhlalani and Kanca; Reps. Aholo, Kaunamano, Kaulukou, Hayselden, Baker, Lilikani, Keau, Richardson, Kaai, Kaubi, Dickey, Kekoa, Kaula, Paehole, Thurston, Kaulukou, Castle, Amara, Nahinu and Palohau. The minutes of previous sitting were read in both languages and confirmed.

The President said the house had decided on Saturday to make the tax bill the special order after the reading of minutes this morning, but it struck him it required a suspension of the rules to do so.

PETITIONS.

Rep. Paehole presented a petition from Kalaupapa, Molokai, that an English school be established at that place, that one of the Sisters of Charity from the branch hospital at Kakaako be appointed teacher, and that a separate building be provided, as the children to attend the school are not lepers. Signed by 54 residents, 37 of them parents of children. Referred to select committee on education items. Also a petition from seven persons at Kipahulu, Maui, that $99.75 be paid them, as due for work on roads. Referred to Public Lands Committee.

Rep. Palohau, a petition from Hanalei, that a separate mail bag be made up for three places in that district. Also, that the site of the church at Anahola be granted to the owners of the church. Referred to Public Lands Committee.

Rep. Castle, a petition from Honouliuli, that persons building on Government land have first preference of buying the land, that $1,000 be appropriated for making a break-water at Makena, and $1,000 for a road from Honouliuli to Kahikinui. Referred to Committee on Miscellaneous Petitions.

Rep. Kaulukou, a petition from Hilo, that the office of road supervisor-in-chief be abolished as useless, that a board of road supervisors be appointed in each district, to serve without compensation, and that taxpayers have the option of giving labor instead of money for their road tax. Laid on the table to be considered with bills on the subject. Also, a petition from Puna, that an English school be established at Kalehua and that $1,200 be appropriated therefor; and one from Kaunapali, for $500 to repair the schoolhouse there. Referred to Education Committee.

Rep. Kalua, a petition from Kilauea, that $900 be appropriated for building a schoolhouse there. Referred to Education Committee. Also, one from P. W. Waha for a royal patent for the land occupied by him. Referred to Public Lands Committee.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

On motion of Rep. Keau, the rules were suspended to take up the order of the day.

Consideration on second reading of the bill on "Internal Taxes" submitted by the majority of a select committee. A motion to suspend the rules and have the bill read a second time by title was lost, and the bill was read through in both languages.

Rep. Castle moved the house go into committee of the whole, and consider the bill section by section.

Rep. Hayselden moved in amendment that the house go into committee of the whole on the bill Friday next. In reply to Rep. Castle he said his reason was that there had been a good deal of discussion already on the procedure, together with complaint of members that time was not being given for consideration of the bill. The amendment would give ample time.

The amendment was accepted by Rep. Castle, and carried. The regular order of the day was then called, on motion of Rep. Castle, and Noble Cleghorn was asked to preside over committee of the whole on the Appropriation Bill.

Rep. Thurston said it was now a quarter to 12 and not worth while going into committee. He moved for a recess till 1:30.

Minister Neumann moved in amendment till 1 o'clock. Rep. Dole said it was hard enough to get a quorum at 1:30, it would be impossible to get such at 1, and he was sure the Attorney-General would not be on time.

Minister Neumann said he was always here at half-past 1, except when he took lunch with the hon. member for Lihue and lost time in disputing.

The motion for 1:30 carried.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The house was called to order at 1:40, by Noble Cleghorn, as chairman of committee of the whole on the Appropriation Bill.

Interior Department—continued. Bureau of Public Improvements. Salary of Superintendent of Public Works and Civil Engineer. $8,000.

Rep. Brown moved to substitute $6,000, as the incumbent was occupied partly with his own private business.

Minister Kapena said they must not appropriate salaries for the men, but for the offices. He moved the item pass as in the bill.

Rep. Kean was in favor of passing the item at $6,000. It was a good principle that they should not provide for the men but for the office. At the same time the man should not run about on his own business, while the Government was paying him to attend to the office. Besides, there were not a great many public works requiring attention of this official at present.

Rep. Kaulukou moved it pass at $7,000, as in the revised estimate. It would not do to fit the salary to the man, as the latter might go out of office to-morrow.

Rep. Palohau was in favor of the revised item. The Government had secured the services of a competent man, who might leave if his salary was cut down. He had observed with satisfaction this officer's work on bridges on the island of Kauai.

Minister Gulick spoke in concurrence with the views of the last speaker, and depicted personal salaries. There were some modest offices in the Interior Department, the holders of which came but infrequently into contact with the public, but which were highly important and required men of superior knowledge and experience to fill them. Among the very important officers were the chiefs of the postal, public works, surveying, and water works bureaus.

It was deemed that certain chiefs should be placed on about the same basis, and the salaries had reference to the duties to be performed and not whatever to the persons. Those who followed the report of the department would see that there had been an amount of work done and planned for in excess of any previous period. He was free to say that the officer in question was a competent one, and if ever a change was made one at least his equal would have to be sought. The office was deserving of the salary, and the house should vote the amount in the revised estimates.

Rep. Dickey thought this was the time to retrench. They must think of feeding themselves before building fine houses. The Government was poor and constantly pressed with back bills—bills due that cannot be met and on which interest at high rates has to be paid. It was now time to call a halt. He thought they could do without a head to the public works department for a year until the country caught up with expenses. There were plenty of competent men whom the Minister could get temporarily, as occasion required to do the work of this officer. He therefore moved that the item be struck out.

Minister Gulick did not want to credit the previous speaker with any earnest intention in the ideas he had expressed. The officer in question had just been engaged for 52 continuous hours in trying to raise a little steamer, owned by two young Hawaiians who tried to make an honest living with it, which had sunk at the mouth of the harbor. The idea of the Superintendent of Public Works not being needed was too ridiculous for anything. Right in the corner of that yard was a building that not another in Honolulu could compare with for substantiality and good construction, and there was a whole series of public buildings in the city now or soon to be completed, which attested to the skill and competency of the superintendent. With new buildings and improvements to water works, bridges and wharves, to be attended to, it was important that there be a Superintendent of Public Works who could do good and durable work.

Rep. Thurston thought, with the hon. member for Makawao, that this was the place where they ought to retrench. He did not think the item should be taken off entirely, but $6,000 was enough. It was $6,000 in 1882, and they had as good service then as now. This building in which they were was as substantial as any in the yard, and cheaper in proportion to its size.

Minister Gulick interposed a word of correction, and would say that this building represented six different constructions. Its foundation was on black sand and no two stones hung together. Fortunately he had the building on the corner under control, and its foundation long as this island.

Rep. Thurston said the Minister had not made much of a point in his correction. The subject of salaries they should grasp the right way. He quoted the salaries paid heads of departments, governors, etc., in the United States, to show that those having to do with infinitely more people and larger affairs did not have such great ideas of salaries as this kingdom. The Commissioner of Patents and the Commissioner of the Mint only got $4,500 a year each, the Commissioner of Lands, who managed transactions involving millions of acres annually, only got $4,000, several Governors of States got as low as $1,000 a year, and so on. They were come to a stone wall now, and had to retrench somewhere. He heard down town that there was a due bill of $130,000 at nine percent on demand running now. Where was the money to pay that spot cash, with only $9,000 in the treasury at the first of the session. It seemed to him that they had better go slow themselves before they had to go slow at the bidding of somebody else.

Minister Gibson thought it would be well to say a few words in reply to the hon. member, although there had been much discussion not applicable to the business in hand.

The hon. member wanted application made of the small salaries paid by a nation of millions. He did not think the application could be made as the member intended. It was true that the first Minister or first Secretary received very little more—he thought it was $8,000 a year—than the corresponding Minister here. If we were to have salaries in proportion to the number of people, then the salary of King Kalakaua would dwindle down to a very small matter. But that Secretary had a staff of five clerks and two hundred assistants, educated men everyone of them. Besides that the gentlemen were provided with a mansion to live in. He wished they could see their way clear to giving their Minister of Foreign Affairs an official mansion. There were no less than fifty men in the State Department, who, so far as regarded education and experience, were capable of taking the place of their chief. So that it was useless to cite to them that in a nation of fifty millions the men at the head of affairs were receiving salaries but slightly ahead of what was paid the heads of departments in this nation of a few thousand people. The minister there had little more to do a great part of the time than to sign a portion of the papers connected with his department. Many years ago he had occasion to reside in the city of Washington, owing to a remarkable situation in his experience, and, upon his honor, he could state that the Secretary of State of fifty millions had not as much work to perform as His Majesty's Minister of Foreign Affairs. But, gentlemen, the subject before you is retrenchment, the immediate object being salaries. Not exactly as the gentleman is informed. There is no due bill pressing, but the Government is owing money. Let the Assembly be honestly informed. There are obligations, I might say, in connection with honorable accommodations. But let there be no accommodations; let us retrench; I am at heart with you; let us retrench! (Applause.) We must come down to plainer sailing. Do not understand me, gentlemen, that I am standing here as a Minister wanting to put on a little here and there. Let Ministers' salaries be put down to $4,000—we can live on that—and other salaries in proportion. (Loud applause.) The Minister proceeded to remark on the inflated style of living induced among people in both public and private life by the prosperity following the reciprocity treaty. Although it cost more to live now than it did at the beginning of the recent prosperous times, people had failed to retrench along with the contraction in values. Let them combine and put the affairs of King Kalakaua on a sound basis. There was never a finer prospect for their little country than now. Why should the realization of that prospect be prevented by unwise action at this moment? Let it not be taken up that he was making a confession. Long ago, before he became a Minister, he saw that seventy or eighty percent of the revenue was spent on salaries, and the remaining fraction only went for public improvements. Let them reverse that, and devote the main portion of the national revenues to public improvements, and pay salaries with the twenty or thirty percent. (Applause.)

Rep. Wight said it was evident the house was very much gratified with the remarks of the Minister. Let them hope that he would carry them out with as much force as he had now expressed his sentiments to them. He had no hesitation in saying that if the Cabinet gave all their influence toward reducing expenses, they could attain to the position stated by His Excellency. It did seem ridiculous that out of the large receipts upward of two-thirds was spent on salaries. He did not profess that all the expense of improvements were to be borne by the present generation. He believed it was right to borrow money for improvements that their successors were to receive the benefit of as well as themselves. But to borrow money to pay salaries or to make temporary improvements he considered they had no right. He hoped that the Minister of Foreign Affairs would strenuously carry out what he had now proposed, and that salaries would not henceforth bear such a large proportion to receipts. It might look as if they were reducing this salary by $1,000, but last year he had only $7,000. If they had been reducing all others, they ought to begin at $7,000 and reduce from that.

Rep. Aholo was in favor of reducing to $6,000 without considering the man.

Noble Bishop said nothing he had heard in a long time pleased him so much as the remarks of the Minister of Foreign Affairs. Last session salaries had been put up ridiculously. The process began in 1882, and both sessions he opposed it as strongly as he could. If they all worked together they might accomplish something. He was in favor of making this $6,000.

The item passed at $6,000.

Traveling Expenses, Stationery and Incidentals of Bureau $1,500.

Rep. Brown moved it be $750. Out of the appropriation of $1,000 last session $340 was spent for express hire. If the Superintendent pays $340 for express hire to ride round the streets of Honolulu, he had better walk hereafter. It was these small leaks that made Government expensive. The officer had no rent to pay and required no messenger.

Rep. Thurston said that above $280 spent the last period there was nothing that would be necessary the coming period, therefore he moved that the item be $500.

Completion of new Police Building, Honolulu, $26,000 00

Rep. Kaulukou remarked on the absence of the Minister of the Interior, but said if the money was due it would have to be provided.

Minister Gibson said there was $23,000 due, and $3,000 more he understood would be required.

Rep. Dickey moved it be $23,000, the amount due.

Minister Neumann hoped the house would appropriate the amount named in the bill. This was not a salary, but a necessary expenditure.

Rep. Thurston wanted some explanation. The sum of $19,000 was appropriated last session for these buildings, that money had all been spent, and here was a request for $26,000 more.

If the Legislature appropriated a certain amount and the Government exceeded that, power was entirely taken out of the hands of the Legislature to say how money was to be spent.

Last session the hon. Noble Widemann said if the Assembly was going to maintain any power, it would have to keep its hand on the mouth of the purse.

As their hands were taken from the mouth of the purse down would go the hands of the Ministers after they had over the Ministry.

If they gave the Ministers anything they wanted, the latter would go on and do anything they pleased.

In addition to the important principle on which he had been speaking, there had been a great deal of street talk and scandal in connection with the way in which that building was constructed.

He had been told there were crooked things in connection with the work, and it was due to those having it in charge as well as to the public that there should be an investigation, and he therefore moved that the item be referred to a special committee to see how that $45,000 had been spent.

Rep. Dole referred to the Minister of Interior's report, by which it appeared that a contract was made with E. B. Thomas on April 24, 1884, a few days before last session began, to build new Police Court and Station House, for $16,599, and that another contract was made, August 2nd, with John F. Bowler, to erect concrete work, new Police Court and Station House, for $36,200.

He could not understand that two contracts for the same building. He was informed that the foundations were contracted for separately, but could hardly understand that the foundations would cost $16,000.

Rep. Keau said this item must be for some new building the Government proposed to erect.

Rep. Brown did not think it was necessary to refer this to a committee. The contract for $16,000 was for the building alone. The concrete walls of the cells was a separate contract.

The balance of $3,000 was for furniture and furnishings for the whole building. Everything belonging to the old station was destroyed in the fire, even to the blankets for the cells. When the building was erected it was discovered that a receiving room was entirely forgotten, and that cost $2,400. He was satisfied, from what appeared in the Minister's report, that everything was correct.

Rep. Thurston said the more he looked at the figures the more he did not understand the item. The motion to refer to a committee was put and lost. The item was about being put, when Rep. Thurston rose, saying he thought it should be only courtesy for the Minister of Interior to be present to explain the matter, but there his chair was vacant. He knew that money had been paid which was not in that account. He collected money on account of the work himself in the Interior Department and he did not see it charged. Without any explanation whatever they were just going to vote this lump sum. If it was perfectly straight he was as willing as anybody to vote it, but he did not want to vote it blindly. Therefore, he moved it be deferred till the Minister gave an explanation.

The motion to defer carried. Upon the chairman calling for the next item. Rep. Aholo said they were considering the Appropriation Bill in a branch of service under the Interior Department. They were not making satisfactory progress because the Minister of Interior was not there. One of the principal reasons for Ministers having seats in this house was that they should be enabled to explain affairs to the other members. He thought it was treating the house with a great deal of discourtesy that the Minister of Interior was absenting himself while appropriations were being made in his own department. It was no use going on without the Minister being there. He therefore moved the committee rise. Carried. The report of the committee of the whole was adopted by the Assembly. Rep. Kaulukou moved the house adjourn till 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, which carried, the house adjourning at 10 o'clock.

THE BASEBALL MATCH. Last Saturday's baseball match was marked with various features of peculiar interest. At first it looked as if the Hawaii was going to completely overwhelm the Benedict. The latter did not have his crack pitcher, Walter, on the ground till the beginning of the fifth inning, but after he came the Hawaii did not score a run, except one in the fifth, till the close of the ninth. So much had the Benedict to overtake, however, that the game was a tie at the end of the regulation match, and the clubs had to play off in tenth innings to decide the day. The Hawaii had a fine nine in the field, all except Perry, a dashing batter and runner, having been old players of the season. The Benedict's catcher, Chan, Wilder, was absent from indisposition, and Wodehouse of the Honolulu club acted as his substitute. It had another new man in Booth, who twice made two-base hits, but was unfortunate at other strong hits in being caught on flies. Lyons pitched till Wall came, Boardman taking his place in right field. Hawaii went first to bat, and runs were made by Desha, Perry, Muelonua, Kahai, Bright, Morton Friedenberg, and Kain. In the third inning Kahai and Bright scored; fifth, Perry; tenth, Kahai, Bright, Morton, and Friedenberg.

The Benedict's three runs in first inning were made by Chas. Wilder, Kinney, and Wodehouse; one in third by Wodehouse; three in sixth by Wodehouse, Lishman, and Lyons; six in seventh by Chas. Wilder, Kinney, J. Winter, Wodehouse, Lishman, and Booth; one in eighth by Winter, Wall, and Wilder.

The friends of the Hawaii were jubilant at the execution of that club in the early part of the game, and correspondingly depressed as the Benedict caught up; but their enthusiasm was unbowed when the opposing club failed to reach their fine score in the tenth, and the Hawaii had the day by 20 to 19.

A Woman's Sufferings and Gratitude. A Voice from Austria. Near the village of Zillingdorf, in Lower Austria, lives Maria Hans, an intelligent and industrious woman, whose story of physical suffering and final relief, as related by herself, is of interest to English women. "I was employed," she says, "in the work of a large farm-house, followed by a deathly fainting and sickness of the stomach, until I was unable to retain either food or drink. I was compelled to take to my bed for several weeks. Getting a little better from rest and quiet, I sought to do some work, but was soon taken with a pain in my side, which in a little while seemed to spread over my whole body, and throbed in my every limb. This was followed by a cough and shortness of breath, until finally I could not sew, and I took to my bed for the second, and, as I thought, for the last time. My friends told me that my time had nearly come, and that I could not live longer than when the year and one day had nearly run out. Then I happened to get one of the Seigel pamphlets. I read it, and my dear mother bought me a bottle of Seigel's Syrup, which I took exactly according to directions, and I had not taken the whole of it before I felt a great change for the better. My last illness began June 1, 1882, and continued to August 9th, when I began to take the Syrup. Very soon I could do a little light work. The cough left me, and I was no more troubled in bathing. Now I am perfectly cured. And oh, how happy I am! I cannot express gratitude enough for Seigel's Syrup. Now I must tell you that the doctors in our district distributed hand-bills cautioning people against the medicine, telling them it would do them no good, and many were thereby influenced to destroy the Seigel pamphlets; but none could help her. I told her of Seigel's Syrup, and wrote the name down for her that she might make no mistake. She took my advice and the Syrup, and now she is in perfect health, and the people around us are amazed.

More from the volcano. Hon. S. G. Wilder. Sir:—Last evening the crater of Kilauea awoke from its semi-torpid state and burst forth with the activity of former days. The reflection is exceedingly bright and it could be plainly seen through the gap in the trees while coming up on the Keauhou road. The lava has rushed back with great violence into Halemau-mau proper, and was distinctly seen by Mr. F. L. Clark and one of our guides, who descended into the crater last night. It was bubbling and gushing, boiling and raging, as if the goddess Pele had been disturbed in her slumber and was vexed. I remain yours truly, etc. J. H. MARY, Manager of Wilder's S. S. Co.'s Volcano Kilauea, June 26th.

Summer resort on Hawaii! There is a fine opportunity for people who are tired of Honolulu dust and want some fresh air and comfortable rest for a month or two, to enjoy these at the Halfway-House on Hawaii. This house is built as a resting place for tourists on their way to the volcano, and is acknowledged among all the traveling people as a charming little spot. It is situated halfway between the H. A. Co.'s plantation at Pahala and the volcano. Passengers are landed at Punahou every Wednesday and Saturday, and will find there a first class hotel in every respect. Having had a good rest there after the sea-trip, they will be transported to Pahala on tramway and further on carriage to the Halfway-House. The whole trip from Punahou will only take 3 hours, and is nothing but real pleasure. It is not like driving on a hard dusty country road, but one continuous carpet of soft grass. The surroundings of the Halfway-House are beautiful, lying right in the woods of everblooming Ohia and Mamane, with the majestic Maunaloa above, and views to the ocean on the other side. The climate is excellent and for sickly people the place is really a sanatorium. The nights are nice and cool, and your sleep is not disturbed by mosquitoes and nothing can be more refreshing and invigorating than a morning walk among the trees, inhaling the delicious balmy air, and listening to the music of twittering birds. Here are all varieties of ferns and many wonderful caves, and everything to attract attention of those who have a little interest in studying and enjoying nature. Good animals are always at hand, so a splendid ride can be had whenever wanted, and also a new elegant brake will be at the disposal of the guests. As mentioned before, the Halfway-House is only a short distance from the volcano, so no better opportunity can be had to visit this wonder of the world. The house itself is nicely put up with comfortable rooms and beds, and first class meals will always be served at a moderate rate. The charge will be $25 per day including everything. J. M. LEE.

Hurry up, come on, arouse yourself. Throw pen and ink and books on shelf. Let business get, and all its bother. Be left behind to someone other.

If you are sick or poor of health. And want to spare some of your wealth, You better leave the city—get away! And try the Halfway-House without delay.

Hurry up old boy and leave the city. It is indeed too big a pity. To see you slave in dust and sun, Come to the Halfway-House, that's better fun.

TRADE DEPRESSION IN GERMANY.

Much has been heard of late about the prosperity of Germany; but it seems not to be commonly understood that even Germany has at length entered upon a period of depression. During the ten years ending with 1884 the imports diminished by 388,000,000 marks, while the exports, the surest indication of commercial prosperity, augmented by the large total of 836,500,000 marks. During the decade the exports of large metal goods more than quintupled; ironmongery, jewelry and leather goods more than tripled, and machinery nearly doubled. During the last nine months, however, there has been a sensible falling off in the volume of several of the great Teutonic industries. The timber trade with Russia and Finland has contracted so seriously, owing to the fall in prices, that several great timber firms have been compelled to suspend payment. The competition of Russian and Polish refined sugar has likewise much diminished the consumption of German sugar in Finland. Almost simultaneously the Swedish bar-iron trade has practically ceased. By reason of the lowness of freight, 10,000 additional tons of coal were last year landed at Lubeck alone. The prices of textiles have fallen considerably; and, although in this, as in other branches of trade, there was an increase in the amount of business done, prices were so low as to leave the very narrowest margin of profit. It will be interesting to observe how Germany comes out of her first period of depression.— [Pall Mall Gazette
