JOHN C. WHITE,
Supt. Honolulu Water Works.
Honolulu, Sept. 6, 1892. 515-tf

THE APPROPRIATION BILL—IV.

The department next on our list is that of Finance, with a list of proposed appropriations which foots up $713,744.98. This period the Post Office Bureau is included for the first time in this department, so that to compare the amounts properly we have to take the amount voted for its service last period in the Interior Department, and add to the total then voted for the Finance Department, which gives us a total of $760,196.78 voted for these purposes in 1890. This shows an apparent reduction of $46,451.80 in the proposed expenditure for the whole department.

The amounts as passed in the second reading are under the separate headings of (1) the department itself, (2) the postal bureau, and (3) the customs bureau. We shall consider each separately in the order above given:

The amounts passed for the department provide for a Minister at a salary of $9000 for the period; an Auditor-General at $10,000, his deputy (including services during last term) at $5000; a Registrar at $6000; a Clerk at $3000; Tax Assessors for Oahu and Hawaii at $5000 each; Maui, $4600; Kauai, $4000; Deputy Assessors and Collectors, $45,000; Clerk Assessor Oahu, $1500; Tax Appeal Boards, $1500; Incidentals, Departmental, $3000, Tax Assessor's Office, $5000, Auditor-General's Office, $500; Dog Tags, $600; Messenger, $1200; Printing Certificates and Bonds, $4000; Interest on Public Dept and Exchange, $375,000; National Debt Falling Due, $10,200; Returns of Taxes illegally collected, $4,524.05; Judgment, $2600; Subsidy to Oahu Railway, $4600; Salaries not paid last period, $1516.93, making a total of $512,440.08.

The items of return of taxes illegally collected, subsidy to Oahu Railway and salaries not paid for last period did not occur in Section 1 last period, but then appeared in Section 2, where they amounted, respectively, to $313.20, $14,000 and $1764.91. These added to the departmental items in last period foot up a total of $564,426.89—an apparent reduction being thus shown of $51,985.91. This is made up by reductions as follows: $1000 or 10 percent from the Minister's salary, $1000 or 14 percent from the Registrar, $600 or 16 percent from the clerk, $1000 each or 16 percent from the Hawaii and Oahu assessors, $900 or 16 percent from the Maui assessor, $800 or 16 percent from the Kauai assessor; $1500 by striking out half the item for Clerk Deputy Assessors and Collectors, Oahu, and making it read clerk only; $500 less for departmental incidentals; $500 by striking out an item for stamps and dies; $400 less for dog tags; $15,000 reduction on the amount voted to pay interest on present debt; $30,000 by striking out an item for interest on money to be borrowed; $548.78 less for judgments; $9400 on the Oahu Railway subsidy, and $247.98 less for salaries not paid. Against these reductions are to be set the following increases: $5000 for the new position of Deputy Auditor-General, $1000 more for incidentals of Tax Assessor's office, $2200 more national debt falling due and $4210.85 more required for the return of taxes illegally collected.

Thus $45,000 of the reduction is caused by voting a smaller amount for interest on our national debt, the amount saved in the incidentals of one office is offset by the increase in the other, the judgment and unpaid salary reductions are not savings, and the Oahu Railway by not building more line cannot claim any more than is set apart for them. So it will be seen from the above that the only real reductions in the department consist in the amounts struck off the salaries amounting to $7800, and against this must be set the $5000 added for the new office of Deputy Auditor-General.

The Postal Bureau last period had $113,208 set apart for it and this period $110,120—a reduction of $3088. The appropriations provide for a Postmaster-General at $6000, a Secretary at $4200, Savings Bank and Money Order Superintendents at $3000 each, clerks $21,720, postmasters $30,000, mail carriers $28,000 and incidentals $13,000.

The reductions consist of $1000 or 14 percent from the Postmaster-General and $2088 less on the total voted last period for pay of clerks (including the Secretary and Savings Bank and Money Order Superintendents). As there has been an increase in the number of Post Offices and routes and business generally in this department, the amounts for the other items being the same in both periods, there is a negative form of retrenchment not able to be gathered from the figures here set forth.

The Bureau of Customs had appropriated for its service during the past period $98,640, against $91,184 for the current period—an apparent reduction of $7456. The items provide for a Collector-General at a salary of $6000 for the period, a deputy at $5000, a Harbor Master at $5000, a Port Surveyor for Honolulu at $3600, a storekeeper at $4000, his assistant at $2000, a statistical clerk at $3000 and two others at $2400, a book-keeper at $3000; Collectors, Kahului and Hilo at $3000 each, and Mahukona, at $1440, Port Surveyors at Kahului and Hilo, at $2000 each, and a Keeper Kerosene Warehouse at $1500; Assistants in Bonded Warehouse, $3224; Guards Honolulu, $11,520; Guards all other ports, $6000; Custom House Boat, $1200; Salary three pilots, Honolulu, $14,400; expenses pilot boats, $1500; Incidentals, $4000.

The reductions in this bureau are more regular and general, and so far are an exception to all the other departments we have noticed thus far. They are made up as follows: $1000 or 14 percent from the Collector-General, $1000 or 16 percent each from his Deputy and the Harbor Master; $800 or 16 percent from the store keeper, $400 or 16 percent from his assistant, $600 or 16 percent from the statistical clerk, $600 or 20 percent each from the other 2 statistical clerks, $3000 being a 4th statistical clerk struck out, $600 or 16 percent from the book-keeper, $600 each or 16 percent from the Collectors at Kahului and Hilo, $800 by striking out Collectors at Kawaihae, Lahaina, Koloa and Kealakekua at $200 each, $400 each or 16 percent from the Port Surveyors at Kahului and Hilo, and $500 or 25 percent from the Keeper Kerosene Warehouse; $1776 or 35 percent less for assistants in bonded warehouse; $2000 or 20 percent less for Guards at Honolulu. $4000 or 40 percent less for guards at all other ports, $800 less or 40 percent for Custom House boat; $1000 less for incidentals.

Against this must be set the increase of $15,900 caused by paying the pilots a salary and realizing their fees for the benefit of the Government instead of allowing them to keep the fees in lieu of salary as before. As these fees are calculated to return more revenue than the amounts set for pilots' salaries and boat expenses, we see for the first time a real reduction ($23,356) greater than apparent on the face of the totals.

To sum up, the real reductions are: Departmental $7800, Postal $3088, and Custom House $23,356, a total of $34,344, against which must be set off $5000 for the new office of Deputy Auditor-General, leaving $29,344 to the good instead of the apparent reduction of $46,451.80 shown by the grand totals which should have been further increased to $62,529.91 by the addition of the items voted in Section 2 last period, but this period found in Section 1.

Thirty-two years ago the appropriations for the department were $44,250, for the Post Office $10,800, and for the Custom House $37,402.25; twenty years ago, for the department $202,650, including debt and interest $160,000, for the Post Office $21,232, and for the Custom House $21,500; ten years ago, for the department $278,400, including debt and interest $134,300, for the Post Office $71,000, and for the Custom House $58,480.

The salary of the Minister followed the same changes as those of the Minister of Foreign Affairs noted in our third article on this subject. The salary of the Postmaster-General was, in 1890, $5000 for the period; in 1862, $3400; in 1864 and 1865, $3600; in 1868, $5000, at which it stayed till 1882, when it was raised to $8000, at which it stayed until 1888, when it was reduced to $7000. The salary of the Collector-General of Customs was $6000 in 1890, $5000 in 1862 and 1864, $6000 from 1866 to 1878, then $7000 until 1882, then $8000 until December 31, 1887, when it was reduced to $7000 again.

The Best Plaster.—Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain. It is better than any plaster. When the lungs are sore such an application on the chest and another on the back, between the shoulder blades, will often prevent pneumonia. There is nothing so good for a lame back or a pain in the side. A sore throat can nearly always be cured in one night by applying a flannel bandage dampened with Pain Balm. 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers. THE DAILY BULLETIN.

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party,
But Established for the Benefit of All.

TUESDAY, NOV. 22, 1892.

It is probable that the report of the select committee, to whom was referred the question of a new central fire station, will be acceptable to the Honolulu Fire Department. The report recommends an appropriation of $35,000 for the erection of a shapely and substantial building of brick, concrete and stone, interior finish and ornamentation to be left for a more favorable financial period. Leading firemen have been heard to express their satisfaction with this recommendation, saying that if the Department be afforded a respectable shell, the different companies may adopt measures to raise money by subscriptions for internal fittings and furnishings. Anyway, the construction of the shell will be a great deal done.

The Government has as yet taken no steps, that the public are aware of, toward filling the vacancy in the Registrarship of Public Accounts caused by the appointment of Mr. F. S. Pratt as Consul-General at San Francisco. It is of course rumored round town that certain persons have been promised the position. However that may be, the Cabinet have now an opportunity to show that they are opposed to the principle of political or family services or affiliations being recognized as a claim for position in the Government service. They may fill the vacancy out of the present number of public officials and by a judicious selection gain, not only praise from the public, but the opportunity to give a series of well-deserved promotions in lieu of increases of salary. When so many officials are threatened with loss of salary by their offices being abolished for the sake of economy, no one outside of the public service should be appointed to any office if there is one in the service already capable of filling the bill.

The Advertiser had a sudden and sever spasm of virtue on Saturday regarding the publication of anonymous contributions. Scripture says a man's foes are they of his own household. Most of the anonymous contributions which have appeared against both political parties exposing their contradictions or secret plans have come from members of their own political affiliations; those obliged by business, official, or family reasons and relations to keep their private and genuine opinions on the political situation, or the conduct of some official, or the Legislature, or other burning question of the day to themselves unless they can, under the secure shelter of the editorial sanction, publish their communications without their real signature. As the Advertiser has been the greatest sinner in throwing its protecting wing over the scurrilous and abusive emanations of our community by publishing ribald and libellous letters anonymously, we are glad to see its public confession of wrong-doing and repentance therefor, and its promise of amendment in the future. We trust that it is sincere, but shall wait for the fruits of its repentance before expressing any opinion in that direction.

Letter From Mr. Davies.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

Upon my return this morning from Hawaii I am rather appalled at the array of literature which has been elicited by the publication of the letter you did me the favor to print on the 10th inst. The three letters to which I will particularly allude appeared in your contemporary and consist of the courteous communications from Mr. Hartwell and Mr. C. L. Carter, and the characteristic letter from Mr. Thurston, who has apparently been bitten by a mad Englishman, and whose letter must have been very painful reading for his friends. Mr. Emmeluth has also written, but his letter was based entirely on an erroneous statement of Mr. Hartwell's to the effect that I had expressed views hostile to free trade with the United States. My letter did not express any opinion at all on that subject, as Mr. Hartwell will see, if he will do me the favor to refer to my letter again; and Mr. Hartwell's appeal to mechanics and others to take note of my free trade views, is without any justification on my part. The fact is that what Mr. Hartwell, Mr. Emmeluth and the rest of us want is not free trade, but a large protected market such as we have for rice, have had for sugar, and desire to have for fruits and other products.

The only point on which I wrote was Mr. Hartwell's recommendation of the cession of Pearl Harbor to the United States as a naval station: and this subject, for some inscrutable reason, Mr. Hartwell declines to discuss, leaving it, as he says, "to others." Cession, as I understand it, on one side means annexation on the other; but I find myself entirely at a loss to reconcile Mr. Hartwell and Mr. Thurston on the use of the word "cession." Mr. Hartwell declares that in 1873 the Hawaiian King and four Hawaiian Ministers, with the endorsement of the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court (of whom I believe Mr. Hartwell was then one), "desired to cede Pearl Harbor to the United States as a Naval Station."

Mr. Thurston as solemnly declares that "it never has been proposed that any territory should be ceded to the United States at Pearl River."

It is impossible for me to know which of these statements is authentic, but I happen to remember very distinctly that in 1873 a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was called at which it was proposed that the Chamber should urge on the Cabinet the cession of Pearl Harbor to the United States. The President of the Chamber was asked whether this involved the offer of the cession or the sovereignty of Pearl Harbor. Upon his replying that it did involve the sovereignty, the Chamber decided to omit any reference to Pearl Harbor in their conference with the Cabinet. This is particularly impressed on my memory by my recollection of the gratification which Chief Justice Allen expresses, in the presence of the Ministers, at the avoidance by the Chamber of any reference to cession of territory. Under these circumstances I am inclined to think Mr. Hartwell's memory may have led him astray with regard to the desires of the statesmen and judges whose names he publishes. Be that as it may. Mr. Thurston now declares that what has been proposed in the past and what is now proposed, is simply that the Hawaiian Government shall grant to the United States a franchise similar in principle to those granted to the Wilder Steamship Co. and to the Oahu Railway and Land Co.

If this is all Mr. Hartwell meant when he said that the King, Cabinet and Supreme Court desired to cede Pearl Harbor to the United States as a Naval Station, it seems almost a pity that he and Mr. Thurston did not talk it over together, and agree upon the terms by which their views should be described. The word used should have been "concession" which everybody understands, and with which everybody would have been satisfied. I now gather that your correspondents meant by "cession of Pearl Harbor," "concession at Pearl Harbor," and that appears to me to settle the whole question, and they ought to feel grateful to me for the opportunity I have given for the explanation. A concession such as Mr. Thurston describes of a depot for the repair and refitting of ships of war, in return for advantages which the United States can give to Hawaii, appears to me to be natural, politic, and fully consistent with the satisfactory and statesmanlike declaration of policy which the Cabinet has recently issued. If it had not been for the cloudy and vague language which has been so loosely used for years past, there would have been no need for the explicit announcement with which the Ministerial declaration opens, and I for one hail the accession of this Cabinet as one of the very best Hawaii has ever had.

Mr. C. L. Carter must have risen from the perusal of Mr. Thurston's letter with a singular sensation, for after publishing an elaborate defence of the position that under stress of circumstances "Pearl Harbor must go," he finds that the position has been vacated by his friends, or else has never been occupied by them.

But Mr. Carter is a man of great promise, and is marked out by birth and by character as a Hawaiian statesman of the future, and those words of his, "we want money badly," and "if necessary Pearl Harbor must go," are too cold and cruel to come from such a pen. May I in the most earnest and friendly spirit commend to his attention an extract from a work recently published by a Canadian friend of mine on this same subject of annexation:

"No truly noble individual life, much less any truly noble national life was ever yet built up on principles and purposes entirely mercenary. Prosperity must be an incident of noble national life; not the sole foundation on which it is built. We must constantly remember that the highest value of material prosperity, for nations as for individuals, consists as much in the discipline of the powers required for its acquisition as in the acquisition itself. If we have not the strength of brain or hand to wrest from Nature the success and prosperity which others have won, then let us not add to our weakness a spirit of mean dependence. THEO. H. DAVIES.

Thurston's Editorial.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

The editorial headed "The Maui Election," in this morning's Advertiser, bears the thumb and ear marks of Noble Thurston in such a conspicuous degree that I should not have taken notice of it, being so well acquainted with the honorable gentleman's inclination to throw mud, whenever an election is near, only that the statements made in regard to my career as a member of the Legislature are so unusually garbled and false that I consider it just to the voters of Maui to refute them.

The Advertiser and Mr. Thurston may be of the opinion that the lands in question in Kula, Maui, are Government lands, while the majority of the Legislature of 1890 thought differently, but it has yet to be learned that the opinion of the small family clique carries any weight in this community. On the committee, which recommended the passage of the act relating to said lands, were, besides myself, Nobles Hind, Muller and Peterson, and the report of the committee was based upon the statement and evidence of Prof. Alexander, whose opinion on such matters is probably as sound as that of any second-rate lawyer.

The reference to the lease of the Crown land is at par with the usual Thurston-Advertiser assertions. The Goodness-Roberts firm dissolved partnership at the expiration of the lease, which was granted to me, being considered the only responsible and bona fide bidder by the Crown Land Commissioners. I well remember that the Advertiser, through some hired scribe, tried to make political capital out of the matter against the then Ministers, but it failed miserably in the attempt and abandoned the case.

When the Advertiser and Mr. Thurston blame me for being a Royalist, I do not deny the accusation, and I feel proud of being denounced as a loyal subject of Her Majesty and her Government. As long as the Hawaiian Islands are a Monarchy, we, who have sworn allegiance to the sovereign and constitution, must either be royalists or traitors; and the Advertiser and Mr. Thurston will find that the latter are not backed by the people of the land, neither in Honolulu nor on Maui.

Mr. Thurston, who could not secure an election in his own district, but had to crawl into the Legislature under the protecting shades of his pocket borough on Maui, is of course anxious to see Mr. Hocking elected, but I have no fear that the voters of Maui, a great number of whom Mr. Thurston stigmatized in the Legislature as "toughs," know enough of my record and my sentiments of loyalty to the independence of this kingdom to cast their vote for me in preference to electing any secret annexationist at the bidding of Mr. Thurston or the Advertiser. W. H. CORNWELL.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

"Citizen's" complaint in Saturday's issue of the BULLETIN is a just one. When the present Station House was built, a sewer was laid for the purpose of draining the premises. The sewer has its outlet near the boat landing in the harbor. To save the expense of a cesspool and in violation of law, the sanitary fixtures on the premises were connected with this sewer, a bit of economy too frequently practiced in public works, the consequences being the odor complained of in Queen street and a still more palpable nuisance on the water front. The remedy lies in sinking a cesspool on the premises, connecting fixtures to same and providing means for ventilation by a pipe leading to the main roof of the building. This is the course prescribed for private premises and is equally applicable to public institutions. SANITAS.

Thanksgiving Day on the 24th, are you prepared for it?

Back in New England, where beans rank next in importance to a collegiate education, there's more fuss made over Thanksgiving than any other day in the year. For a month previous the turkeys are inspected and the choicest set aside to be fattened. The biggest, yellowest pumpkin is brought in from the field and transformed into great, thick pies—pies which make the mouth water just to look at them. Did you ever spend Thanksgiving day in Vermont? It's different from any other place in the world. The people there are sincere in their thanksgiving; they go to table and offer up thanks, not only for the good things received but that the bad things were no worse; they're thankful that the stones in the lot on the side hill are still far enough apart to let the sheep nibble at the pasture; for the abundant harvest they've had, or would have had it it "wa'nt for the drought," as the case may be; and last, but not least they're thankful that the cider's just as hard as ever. A sermon in the morning, a big dinner at noon and a chat at night comprise a Thanksgiving day in New England. Indigestion don't generally come until the next day.

But the feature of the meal is the cooking. The turkey is cooked to a turn, the beans are just right and the pie crust is properly done. The New Englander while adhering to the laws laid down by the Puritans, is progressive in other respects. The Fischer Steel Range meets with more ready sale in the Northeastern States than anywhere else in the world because the people insist upon their food being well-cooked. It's the same with some people here, they'd go without anything rather than part with their Fischer Range. If you're thinking about having a good Thanksgiving dinner think again and get a range from us.

Either there are a great many Bostonians here or the average man has cultivated a taste for baked beans. During the past twelve months there has been a steady run on our stock of Bean Pots but the "Irwin" brought a lot that enables us to supply you with any size you wish.

The attention of the aesthetic person, whose taste runs to sunflowers, is called to the imitation Cut Glass Rose Jars—the personification of loveliness backed up by a price that is suggestive of a gift.

An invoice of Alcohol Lamps made in France (the best place in the world for such things), go to you for exactly half what you've paid for them all your life. No home is perfect without a young baby, a bottle of carminative and an alcohol lamp. We can supply the lamps.

In the way of a Sewing or Night Lamp we have a symphony in polished brass and silver that commands the attention of anyone who appreciates good things in lamps. The shades are the same style, exactly, as those for piano lamps, only in miniature.

A Library Stand Lamp in hand-painted porcelain with genuine B. & H. burner is pretty enough for the parlor, the price only is against it—higher priced goods are usually selected for that part of the house.

There was a smallpox scare on board the steamer Mariposa a few days out from Honolulu. The ship's doctor unguardedly let out an opinion that a case of illness on board was one of that loathsome disease. Almost a panic was produced, although, in the case of many, quarantine at Honolulu was a greater terror than the immediate risk of catching smallpox. Further watching of the case, however, gave the doctor reason to change his diagnosis.

STOLEN CHICKEN.

A Chinaman Arrested for Stealing Fowl.

For some time past fowls have been found missing from the hen coops of residents of Palama. Last Thursday A. Fernandez missed twenty chickens and search as he might none of them could be found. Early this morning Mrs. Fernandez, his mother, came down town intending to go to the market. On Maunakea street she saw a fowl whose color and appearance seemed familiar to her. She asked the Chinaman to let her inspect it. As soon as the Chinaman took it out of the basket she identified and claimed it. When asked where he got it the Chinaman said that he bought it from a native. The Chinaman, whose name is Chan Chong, was arrested for the theft of the fowl, valued at $1. Chong had often came to Mrs. Fernandez and asked her whether she wanted to sell him chickens. When asked how she knew that the fowl was her property she replied that she ought to know, because she raised it when it was hatched.

THE LEGISLATURE.

129TH DAY.

TUESDAY, Nov. 22, 1892.

Morning Session.

Assembly convened at 10 o'clock for prayer by the Chaplain. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Clerk and by the Interpreter and were ordered approved as read.

The Minister of Interior presented a petition from the Chairman of Inspectors of Election of the First Precinct of the Eighth District (Ewa, Oahu) for reimbursement of expenses incurred in defence of certain acts and of which they had been acquitted by the Supreme Court. Referred to Committee on Finance.

The Minister also introduced a resolution that the Committee on Finance of the House visit the office of the Board of Health and destroy the vouchers for rations at the Leper Settlement and those of the store at Kalawao and relating to the past biennial period. Carried.

The Order of the Day being moved the Unfinished Business, consideration of the proposed Amendment to Article 83 of the Constitution, came up. On motion consideration was deferred until 11 o'clock.

Bill 194, relating to treason, the special order of the day, was also deferred until a future time.

Bill 127, to amend Chapter VII of the Session Laws of 1887 relating to Public Health, came up on second reading. The bill proposed to make the Minister of Interior ex officio President of the Board of Health. After a short discussion a motion to indefinitely postpone was put and lost, and one to re-refer the bill to a special committee carried.

Bill 191, to amend an act relating to Road Boards and Road Supervisors, was read a third time and passed.

Bill 65A, to authorize the sale of light wines and beer, came up on third reading.

Discussion was continued on the general subject of the bill, Rep. Ashford claiming that its passage would be a step in aid of temperance by reducing the illicit sale of vile compounds which were now given out all over the islands. He also favored the free and general establishment of dispensaries of light wines and beers, claiming that, to curtail the limit thereof as regarded location would be only an aid and assistance to gin and whisky sellers.

Noble Young was pronounced in his objection to the passage of the proposed bill. He pictured the misery already resulting from the freedom given in permitting Hawaiians to indulge in liquors. He moved the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Rep. Smith was in accord with the sentiments of Noble Young; he also favored the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Pending action the Assembly at 11:55 took recess until 1:30.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Proclamation Issued by the President of the United States.

President Harrison has issued the Customary Thanksgiving proclamation, which occurs on Thursday, November 24th, and is as follows:

The gifts of God to our people during the past year have been so abundant and so special that the spirit of devout thanksgiving awaits not a call but only the appointment of a day when it may have common expression. He has stayed pestilence at our doors. He has given us more love for free civil institutions, in the creation of which his directing providence is so conspicuous. He has awakened deeper reverence for the law. He has widened out philanthropy by a call to succor distress in other lands. He has blessed our schools and is bringing forward a patriotic and God-fearing generation to execute his great and benevolent designs for our country. He has given us a great increase in material wealth and a wide diffusion of contentment and comfort in the homes of our people, and he has given his grace to the sorrowing.

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States, do call upon all our people to observe, as we have been wont, Thursday, the 24th day of this month of November, as a day of thanksgiving to God for his mercies and of supplication for his continued care and grace.

The Banco Session.

Since last report the following hearings have come up in the Supreme Court in banco:

M. J. Silva and others vs. Anton Homen. Trover. Hatch and Magoon for plaintiff-appellant; Ashford for defendant. Argued and submitted.

In re Joseph Hubash, alleged bankrupt. Appeal from Bickerton, J., in Chambers. Carter for petitioners, appellant; Ashford for respondent. Motion of Ashford to strike from the calendar. Argued and submitted.

In the matter of the petition of the Wailuku Sugar Co. for a writ of prohibition against Claus Spreckels and others. Smith and Thurston & Frear for petitioners; Hatch for respondent; Ashford for kuleana holders.

The last mentioned case has given rise to the following: In the matter of the petition of Claus Spreckels for a writ of prohibition against W. H. Halstead and the Wailuku Sugar Co. Same counsel for the respective parties.

Both these cases were in argument when the Court took recess at noon to-day. The second one arises from the appointment pro tem of W. H. Halstead instead of S. E. Kaiue, on account of the latter's interest, on the Commission of Private Ways and Water Rights. The petition of defendant is against recognition of Mr. Halstead as a legal Commissioner.

THE PRESENT ISSUE.

Mrs. Leavitt's Views on Light Beverages and Woman's Rights in the Matter.

Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt, the temperance lecturer, delivered a lecture at the Y. M. C. A. hall last evening. There was a large attendance although there were seats for a few more. Seated on the platform besides Mrs. Leavitt were Mrs. J. M. Whitney, President of the W. C. T. U., and Dr. C. M. Hyde. The lecturer spoke for nearly an hour and a half, dwelling on the Wine and Beer Bill in the Legislature, saying that it would be the worst thing this country ever had, should the bill pass. She appealed to legislators, if any were present, giving incidents illustrative of her remarks. The lecture was interesting throughout. With regard to woman having a say in the granting of licenses for these wine and beer houses, she said that she certainly had a right and a forcible one too, and she was very much disgusted with the honorable Noble who said in the House that woman did not have a right.

If the bill passed light beverages would not only be on tap, but distilled liquors also. She gave an instance of a light beer saloon, where a certain tap was turned for the beer and another for whisky in the same barrel. Beer bloated people and made them fat, but it is not healthy fat. She applied this remark to Germans, who were great beer-drinkers. In closing her lecture she advised all interested in the welfare of Hawaii to preserve the autonomy of the Kingdom, and spurn annexation, as it would kill the country.

Dr. Hyde wished the audience to thank the lecturer and asked those who favored the bill to say "aye" and those who didn't to say "no." A solitary man responded "aye."

THE LEGISLATURE.

128TH DAY.

MONDAY, NOV. 21, 1892.

Afternoon Session.

The Assembly reconvened from recess at 1:45 o'clock, and the consideration of the resolution offered by Rep. Bush, in re the coming election at Hilo, was continued.

Rep. S. K. Pua considered that the matter should be investigated and speedy action was necessary. He favored the motion to refer to a committee and to report immediately.

Noble Peterson was doubtful about the propriety of the resolution. It would be instructing the Cabinet to do that which was not right. He offered the following amendment:

Whereas, according to information and rumor it is charged that there has been a gross neglect of duty on the part of Hon. F. S. Lyman, J. P. Sisson and G. W. A. Hapai, inspectors of election for the third precinct of the district of South Hilo, Hawaii, in refusing to act in their capacity as such inspectors and thereby obstructing the special election to be held in said district on the 29th day of November, 1892. Therefore;

Be it resolved, that the Attorney-General cause a strict and impartial investigation into the circumstances and facts concerning the same, and if legal grounds exist to take such steps towards prosecuting such parties as may be necessary.

Noble Williams sympathised with the motive yet could not approve of the passage of the resolution.

Noble Thurston did not favor the resolution. He had heard nothing which would cause him to have belief that any proof had been furnished which in any way impeached the well-known high character and standing of Judges Lyman and Hapai or Mr. Sisson.

Rep. Bush spoke very strongly in favor of the passage of the resolution. He referred to the statements made by other members, and was decided in his opinion that the acts of the inspectors were a trenching upon the rights of the general public. His voice would be heard, even if it had to be heard alone, in defense of the people's rights.

Rep. R. W. Wilcox did not know exactly how to vote in the matter. The cause, undoubtedly, originally lies with the inspectors up there at Hilo. If the inspectors are wrong they should be punished and he was of the opinion that the Attorney-General would punish them, rigorously, if he found that they had wilfully evaded the performance of their duties. It is evident that the inspectors did get the papers in time and therefore the matter needed investigation. He would not now state the way in which he would vote on the matter, but when the time came he would not hesitate to vote according to his view of the matter.

Rep. Kamauoha said that he considered that the trouble was with the inspectors, who got so puffed up with their dignity they considered they were really bigger than the Cabinet. He offered an amendment to the effect that the House instruct the Minister of Interior to forward the ballots, there being only one candidate, and that the election proceed forthwith.

The Attorney-General objected to the amendment of Rep. Kamauoha as being an usurpation of the rights of the Cabinet. He and a portion of the Cabinet did not care if the House passed the resolution. The proclamation and other papers only went forward on the 11th. The shortness of time would debar another candidate entering the field. The fault lay with the old Cabinet to a certain extent, that they did not leave lee-way enough, possibly from having thoughts on other subjects.

Rep. Kamauoha asked if Noble Peterson's amendment carried would it not postpone the election.

The Attorney-General aswered, yes. The purpose of the Ministry is to issue a new proclamation and send it up by the Kinau to-morrow.

Noble Thurston said that he did not care to prolong the discussion, but he had another point which should be investigated and that was that the petition and signatures of Mr. Nawahi are in the same handwriting. He suggested that that point also be investigated, whether or no Mr. Nawahi had authority from the voters of Hilo. He was not particular whether it was attached to this one or not.

On motion the amendment of Noble Peterson passed.

Rep. Bush said that he had another resolution to offer and to the effect that as there was a lack of money for election purposes the Minister of Finance be authorized to expend a certain amount. Out of order.

The Attorney-General read for the first time a bill relating to vagrancy.

Noble Marsden presented an invitation from the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to the members of the Assembly to attend the lecture of Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt, at the Y. M. C. A. Hall.

The same member moved that Amendments 55 and 83 to the Constitution be taken up for consideration on the Order of the Day. Carried.

The Order of the Day coming up the amendment to Article 83 of the Constitution came up as follows:

Article 83. The Legislature may from time to time enact such laws as it may deem proper for the supervision and control and identification of all persons or any one class or nationality who may be introduced into the Kingdom for the purpose of performing agricultural labor, and may also, by law, restrict and limit the term of residence in the Kingdom of such agricultural laborers and the business or employment in which they may engage."

Noble Marsden moved that the amendment pass.

Noble Williams said as representing the mechanical interests he would favor the motion by the Noble from Hamakua. There was strong objection to the unrestricted immigration of Asiatics, neither the foreign nor the Hawaiian workman could survive in competition therewith. He was not a sugar planter, but, speaking for mechanics, he knew that their prosperity depended thereon and he favored the passage of the bill. He did not desire in any way to see this country become an Asiatic colony, but he thought, that it was eminently proper to have a fair return for money invested.

Rep. Ashford said that the Act which was presented, including amendments to Articles 48, 56, 63, 62 and 83, should pass as a whole and not in pieces. What was to become of the rest of the proposed amendments after this 83 had passed? Were the rest to be cast away like cast-off garments? He contended that the various amendments proposed should be taken up as one bill.

Rep. Smith said that it was entirely competent to take any one of the amendments up separately.

Noble J. M. Horner considered that there was no good reason why that amendment should not pass. It was a benefit to the country and should so appear to those who had the interest of the people and the prosperity of the kingdom at heart. He favored the proposed amendment.

Rep. Kaunamano objected to the consideration of this amendment before that of No. 55. He was not very strongly opposed to the amendment under consideration for any other reason.

Discussion was ended by a motion to adjourn, but, before it was put, the Minister of the Interior announced that Her Majesty had been presented with the bill "to better define the practice in trial by jury" and also that "relating to internal taxes" for her signature.

The Assembly at 4:04 adjourned.

THE WRAMP CASE.

Memorandum by the German Consul Intended for Royal Audience.

Mr. H. F. Glade, German Consul, has furnished us with the following memorandum, which he intended to have used at an audience with the Queen. Owing to the action of the Privy Council in the matter, the audience was not requested:

Wramp was overseer on Kekaha Plantation and had a gang of Japanese under him. One of the men refused to work and had done so before; so Wramp, thinking that the laborer was possessed of ill-will, shoved him with his hand toward the work, but he did not beat him nor did he kick him with his foot. The laborer, after this, going to work with more zeal and vigor than before, soon afterward stopped and said that he could not possibly work any more. The overseer, noticing from the man's face and appearance that something must be the matter with him, let him quit work and sent him to the office. The doctor being near the laborer was given into medical care immediately and it was found that the laborer had a severe rupture of which he never had complained and of which the overseer Wramp did not know. No doubt the man, being harshly told to do his work, had overstrained himself and thus an inflamamtion was brought on which caused the man to die the following day.

Wramp was found guilty by a jury of assault and battery, but the jurymen did not mean to have the man punished with two years' hard labor, as the Judges made the verdict, and for that reason the jurors themselves signed the petition of pardon. Almost everybody on Kauai found the punishment too hard and entirely out of proportion. The petition will show Your Majesty the names of the people who pray Your Majesty to pardon Wramp. The petition is now in the hands of the Attorney-General and will be laid before Your Majesty.

Governor Rice was here to wait on Your Majesty, to speak about this same case and to state his opinion that he considered Wramp's punishment as far too hard and entirely out of place and proportion. But the Governor, who has also signed the petition, had no opportunity to speak to Your Majesty about the man, and therefore authorized me to do so in his name, as he was compelled to go back to Kauai last Tuesday. I have taken the liberty to lay my request for pardon for one of my countrymen before Your Majesty and hope that my request will meet Your Majesty's kindness, grace and justice.

The Number Nine!

The singular properties of the number nine are well-known to arithmeticians. The following is one of the most interesting. If the cardinal numbers from 1 to 9 inclusive, omitting 8, be used as a multiplicand, and any one of them, multiplied by 9, be used as a multiplier, the result will present a succession of figures the same as that multiplied by the 9. For example, if we wish a series of fives, we take 5 times 9, equal to 45 for a multiplier:

```
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 9
              4 5
-----------------
6 1 7 2 8 3 9 5
4 9 3 8 2 7 1 6
-----------------
5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5
```

A similar result will be obtained by using all the other numbers, including 8 (72).

Another interesting fact is that there are nine letters in "EQUITABLE," and nine words in the following sentence:

"Insure your life in the Equitable Life Assurance Society."
