NANCE O' NEILL TO PLAY IN HONOLULU

McKEE RANKIN, THE VETERAN ACTOR-MANAGER, ON HIS WAY HOME FROM AUSTRALIA, MAKES ARRANGEMENTS FOR A SPECIAL MATINEE PERFORMANCE ON THE 28TH—AN INTERESTING ITINERARY ARRANGED FOR THE STAR.

McKee Rankin, the veteran actor and manager, was a through passenger on the S. S. Sierra, homeward bound, after a most successful trip to Australia with Nance O'Neill and their company.

It will come as a pleasant surprise to Honolulu theater-goers to learn that in the short time at his disposal he made arrangements to give one performance here when the company, headed by Miss O'Neill arrives by the Sonoma on the 28th of this month, three weeks from today.

He engaged the Opera House and appointed Charles R. Frazier of the Pioneer Advertising Company to attend to further arrangements.

Schooner Concord Libelled

A libel was filed in the United States court this afternoon against the schooner Concord, for running into and demolishing a Japanese sampan off Honolulu harbor on August 27. The plaintiff is Tsunekichi Matsuno, a fisherman. His complaint sets forth that he is a married man and has three children dependant upon him, and that his boat was demolished and he received severe injuries by the collision referred to.

The Jap claims to have had proper lights burning and says that at about 2 o'clock on the morning of August 28 the Concord, in command of J. M. Moses ran into him. His boat was split and himself and all the contents were thrown into the sea. All the contents were lost and he received severe injuries. The plaintiff claims losses of $386.30 and says that all the Concord's owners have offered to pay him $25.

J. J. Dunne is attorney for the libellant. The Concord is a small island schooner which has been plying between here and other island ports for a number of years.

TAX RETURNS ARE WANTED

CLERKS WAITING FOR INCOME STATEMENTS AND EXPECTING A RUSH AT THE END.

The Tax office has established separate windows for different kinds of taxes, and this morning Assessor Holt put out a sign calling attention to the provisions of the law with regard to the making of returns and paying of taxes. The clerks in the office are waiting for income tax returns which do not show up as fast as they should and which will probably begin to come in in a big rush as the time limit for sending them approaches. November 15 is the last day.

"Everybody is hanging back now," said a deputy who sees trouble ahead, "and on the last few days I suppose they will come here and waste a lot of time standing in line to get their turns. I don't see why they can't come now, when we have time to attend to them, instead of making a big rush at the end."

ISENBERG CARRIED BIG INSURANCE

It is currently reported that the late H. A. Isenberg carried insurance to the amount of $135,000 in a single policy placed through the Waterhouse Trust Company's agencies only a little over a year ago.

The policy at the time that it was written was understood to have been the largest ever written in the Territory and certainly from every appearance the splendid health and physique of the lamented young man would justify any company in passing him as a first class risk. It is supposed that the New York Life carries the policy.

HEAD OF HACKFELD & CO. DIED IN NEW YORK YESTERDAY

H. A. ISENBERG EXPIRED FROM RAVAGES OF PNEUMONIA AFTER AN ILLNESS LASTING SIX DAYS—HAD ARRIVED ONLY FEW DAYS BEFORE FROM GERMANY WITH FAMILY AND WAS ABOUT TO START FOR HOME WHEN ATTACKED WITH FATAL MALADY.

News of the death of Heinrich Alexander Isenberg in New York yesterday at 6 p. m. was received by cable last night. Pneumonia was the cause of death. Although his death had been expected, still the news of his demise caused a shock to the entire community for the late Mr. Isenberg was a man of prominence in social as well as commercial affairs of these islands. As the vice-president and managing director of the firm of H. Hackfeld and Company he was an especially powerful factor in the development of the affairs of the Hawaiian Islands.

The last illness of the late Mr. Isenberg was of very short duration. He was sick only six days. While no positive news on the subject has been received, it is thought by friends here that he contracted his last illness while on the steamship bound from Europe to New York. In company with his wife and their two children he had arrived at New York the early part of last week. On Thursday came a cablegram apprising H. Hackfeld and Company that he was ill with pneumonia as was announced in The Star at the time. Yesterday morning a cablegram announced that the sickness had taken a serious turn and during the afternoon came a second cablegram to the effect that the patient was sinking and there was little hope for his recovery. Early last night came the last cablegram announcing his death. Mrs. Isenberg and the children were evidently with him when he died and it is thought that Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cooke were there also as they are known to have been in New York yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Isenberg were about to return to Honolulu when he was stricken with his fatal illness.

The deceased was a native of the Hawaiian Islands, having been born at Lihue, Kauai on January 17, 1872. His father was the late Hon. Paul Isenberg and one of the early capitalists to develop the Hawaiian Islands. Paul Isenberg died in Germany at Bremen in 1903. Alexander Isenberg left Honolulu when quite a child in company

Chamber Of Commerce Has Acted Planned Tour With Isenberg

MEETS THIS MORNING AND TAKES APPROPRIATE ACTION ON DEATH OF H. A. ISENBERG. GOVERNOR CARTER EXPRESSES HIS PERSONAL REGRETS AT THE DEATH OF H. A. ISENBERG.

A hastily called meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held at 11 o'clock this morning in the rooms of the Chamber, to take appropriate action in relation to the death of H. A. Isenberg, a former President of the Chamber.

President F. J. Lowrey, presided. There were a number of brief memorial addresses made. F. M. Swanzy in stating the purpose of calling the meeting, paid a most eloquent tribute to the deceased. Among those who heard it were some who said it was the most eloquent address on an occasion of the kind, they had ever heard.

A committee of which F. M. Swanzy is chairman was appointed to draft a letter to be sent to H. Hackfeld & Company, expressing the sentiments of the Chamber in the loss of Mr. Isenberg, the head of H. Hackfeld & Company. This committee is also to send a letter to the widow and family.

Another committee of which L. Tenney Peck is chairman was appointed to confer with a similar committee from the Merchants' Association to draft suitable memorial resolutions expressive of the sentiments of the commercial community.

President F. J. Lowrey was appointed a committee to confer with the family and H. Hackfeld & Company relative to setting apart a day for the general closing of houses of business. The day will probably be the one on which funeral services are held, whether the remains are brought here for interment or taken to Bremen.

The banks, earlier in the day, decided to close today at 1 o'clock in memory of Mr. Isenberg.

The Directors of the Merchants' Association will hold a meeting at 3 this afternoon, to decide on suitable action. The Stock Exchange held no meeting today out of respect to the memory of the deceased.

Governor Carter this morning expressed his sense of bereavement, in the death of H. A. Isenberg. The latter was a personal friend of the governor, and Mrs. Isenberg and Mrs. Carter were also close friends. The two families had planned a tour of Europe together. At the time of Carter's proposed resignation, the first resident of Hawaii to cable from abroad asking him to retain the office was H. A. Isenberg.

"I feel very keenly the personal loss as well as the loss to the community, in the death of Mr. Isenberg," the governor said. "With Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Isenberg and myself had talked over and planned making together the trip which he has been making. We hoped some day in the not distant future to do some touring of Europe in company, and were all looking forward to it. We had discussed taking in the Alps, the Swiss lakes, the Black forest, and other places, and Mr. Isenberg had pointed out that he could gain entrance for us, through his German connections, to parts of the Black Forest not generally open to visitors. Since they began their journey that has ended so unfortunately, Mr. and Mrs. Isenberg have constantly sent us postals as they went from place to place."

The governor paid a high tribute to the personal character of his deceased friend. Last night he and Mrs. Carter sent a cablegram to Mrs. Isenberg, expressing condolences.

MAY YOHE COMING

Putnam Bradlee Strong, the eccentric son of New York's ex-mayor and May Yohe—she of the erstwhile voice—having recently purged themselves of many obligations through bankruptcy will now become globe-trotters. They have engaged Ben Harris to manage the tour of their vaudeville company, and I am told that they recently planked down $9000 for tickets to the other side of the globe, and on around until they shall again reach New York. This means a trip across this continent, visiting summer resorts until they sail for Honolulu. Thence they go to the Philippines, China, Singapore, India, South Africa and up through Europe to the British Empire. Fred Hallen, Molly Fuller, James H. Gullen, Fred Niblo, Mlle. Latina, the Lawrence Sisters, Eddie Girard, Jessie Gardner and a few more vaudeville turns will help them to use up their tickets.—The Bill Board.

BOXING LID NOW OFF IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, October 23.—"The boxing lid is off in Chicago." This was the glad news passed rapidly among the sporting fraternity today. Mayor Dunne aided by Corporation Counsel J. Ham Lewis and spurred on by insistent demands of the new County Democracy Club, has decided that where any professional is a "member" of a club he may indulge in fights in the clubhouse. Thus Jeffries, Hart, Nelson, Britt or any others may come to Chicago, become enrolled as "members" and pull off their argument. Pressure from political sources has been unusually heavy upon the Mayor. The fact that the Chicago Athletic Association was permitted to witness mild boxing matches angered the "short-hairs," who demanded that they be given equal or perhaps better privileges. Jack Root and Jack Moffit are among the "members" of Bobbie Burke's new club and will poke each other's face for the edification of the faithful at the first meeting. Chief Collins of the Police Department insists that he will have officers at the ringside and stop any brutality. Mayor Dunne says "The chief will take his orders from me."

AN INTERESTING BALL GAME.
Four years ago a ball game was played between the Judiciary and the Government buildings when the Judiciary nine suffered defeat. During all those four years, it is said, the Judiciary men have been secretly practicing with the result that they now feel able to wipe out their defeat. A game has therefore been arranged for Thanksgiving Day. The teams will be drawn from the following: J. A. Thompson, George Lucas, J. Marcellino, Col. Jones, Deputy Assessor Neely Frank Winter, Paul Jarrett, W. H. Babbitt, W. Chillingworth, H. Peters, V. Fernandez, G. Ewaliko, G. K. Lowe, G. Kopa, W. Kaewe, David Sherwood, Land Commissioner Pratt, I. Ihilo.

AN ATHLETIC CARNIVAL.

It was decided to close entries for the athletic carnival to take place at the Boys' Field on December 2, on Tuesday, November 23. The following events were decided upon:
50 yards dash, 100 yards dash, 220 yards dash, quarter of a mile, half-mile one mile, 120 yards hurdles, one-mile relay, half-mile relay, one mile walk, hammer throw, shot put, pole vault, high jump, broad jump.

In the high jump the start will be at 4 feet.
In the pole vault a start will be made at 6 feet.
In the broad jump, hammer throw and shot put, each contestant will be given three trials in rotation and then the men making the best showing will have two more trials.

TEARING DOWN OLD NORMAL BUILDING

FORLORN APPEARANCE OF THE SCHOOL BUILT THIRTY-SIX YEARS AGO.

The old Normal School building at the corner of Fort and School streets presents a forlorn appearance just at present for the hand of the wrecker has been set hard upon it. Thirty-six years ago, when, in the reign of Kamehameha V, the building was completed, it was looked upon as a model of all that was perfect in school architecture and visitors were taken to see it as one of the show places of the town, but a change has come over it as changes will come over everything human or of human design.
With its door posts leaning awry, its sills at odd angles and its half open windows looking out on the streets with vacant stares the old place looks badly enough but the effect is heightened by the untidiness of the once well kept lawns and flower beds. The grass grows wild and rank and weeds over-run the pathways. A glimpse inside shows that the lumber has nearly all been ripped out, for a saving department of Public Works, in view of the present high price of lumber, wisely decided on using up the well seasoned planking of the old school house for building the new additions to the Molokai school.

Many hundreds of feet that have trodden in and out of the building are at rest for ever now and now the building itself has been marked by fate. It is to be demolished just as soon as the present lot is wanted and all of it that is useful will be used in the construction of other government works.

GUARDING SHIRASHI.
The police have had a guard at the Queen's Hospital watching Shirashi the man who attempted to kill a Japanese woman and then to commit suicide last Saturday at Iwilei. It is thought that the injured man will recover, so the police are taking especial precautions to guard against his escaping. As soon as he can be removed from the hospital he will be transferred to the hospital at the jail.

The Late H. A. Isenberg

In the death of H. A. Isenberg, Honolulu and the Territory of Hawaii, lose a citizen universally esteemed, and for whom life promised all that was desirable. He belonged to a family that for half a century has been identified with the progress of these islands, which in two generations has given to the islands men and women of worth and effective activity.

He represented a commercial house which had been one of the pillars of our commercial reputation and our commercial progress, which has been constant in onward effort for the development of our natural resources.

In his official capacity as Imperial German Consul, Mr. Isenberg maintained the best traditions of that office, and dispensed the courtesies and amenities connected with the position with a generous and courtly grace.

The church to which he contributed so liberally will miss him. His business associates will miss him. The community will miss him.

To the sorrowing widow and children the sympathy of Hawaii goes out.

The Proposed Party Rules

It is very unfortunate that the word "committee" as the designation of a nominating convention, was ever allowed to creep into the rules for the Republican party of this Territory, or that it was ever allowed to remain in. It is extremely confusing, and has more than once stood in the way of agreement and concord among Republicans, all earnestly striving for the good of the party, and of the community.

The "Friend" misled by this use of the word "committee," in a recent number, very violently attacked Representative Waterhouse, declaring that he ought not to have the support of decent citizens, all because it misunderstands this use of the word, and thinks that Representative Waterhouse is doing something and proposing something which he is very far from doing or proposing.

The report of the majority of the Committee of the Republican Central Committee on rules of the party, is very much less likely to be understood than its merits deserve, simply because the report, proposing changes in the rules of the party, is obliged to use the word "committee" in this unusual and confusing sense.

What the majority of the committee—Representative F. T. P. Waterhouse and John A. Hughes propose, is that there shall be, as now, a Territorial Convention composed of delegates from all over the Territory, which shall nominate the party's candidate for delegate to Congress, and shall appoint a Territorial Central Committee which shall carry on the congressional campaign and the affairs of the party between conventions.

Then there shall be a County convention composed of delegates selected throughout the County in which it is held. Where a County, a Representative district and a Senatorial district are the same in territory and voters, as Maui and Kauai Counties, this County convention shall nominate County officers, and candidates for the House and Senate, and shall appoint a County Central Committee which shall carry on the legislative and County campaigns, and the County and legislative affairs of the party between campaigns.

In Oahu and Hawaii Counties where the County and the Senatorial district are the same, but where there are two Representative districts in each County, there shall be one convention which shall nominate Senatorial and County candidates. The delegates from each Representative district to this convention shall separately form nominating conventions for the selection of candidates for the House of Representatives, and each shall choose its share of the County Central Committee which shall have charge of the County and legislative campaigns and of party matters within the County between campaigns.

Delegates to each of these conventions can be chosen at one primary, so that the machinery of the party is by this plan reduced to about the simplest proportions possible. The report of this committee also provides for a distinction between Territorial and County affairs in the matter of patronage.

Quarantine Anomalies

The Star has more than once spoken of the crude, archaic, irrational, preposterous, and often childish notions that so thoroughly pervade quarantine regulations in many parts of the world, and nowhere more than in the United States quarantine. With all the advances made in sanitary and medical science, it is still almost as crude and blundering as it was when it acquired its name from the forty days of isolation which was its essential characteristic. Seemingly the last persons to believe the things that science teaches in regard to infection and contagion, are those who are responsible, not for the enforcement of quarantine regulations, but for the formulation of them. As the only legitimate purpose of quarantine regulations is to prevent the spread of contagion, it would seem as if those charged with the duty of framing them would be the first to adopt the results of research into the subject, and seek to frame regulations guided by such results. It seems however, as if there were a panic dread of accepting any progress medical science makes, when it comes to applying it to quarantine regulations.

We are experiencing some or all of this now. Some of the experiences are very peculiar. Some of the results may be annoying.

Here are some of the anomalies of quarantine as it is being exhibited right in our harbor every time a steamer comes into port. Let it be remembered that the quarantine is for the purpose of preventing contagion from the shore from reaching the vessel. First, the cabin passengers from the vessel are allowed ashore, and when ashore may go wherever they please. Knowing nothing of the town, and having no guide or prompting motive but curiosity and the traveler's interest, they know nothing about what localities to avoid, and are much more liable to go where contagion is likely, than those of our own people are, who if they were traveling would be cabin passengers. These through cabin passengers may pass from the ship to the shore and back again, going where and how they will, while ashore, and undergoing no process of disinfection on returning to the vessel. Residents of Honolulu, no matter how important or urgent their business aboard the vessel may be, no matter how clean their manner of living, or wholesome their places of residence or associations, are not allowed aboard. Intending passengers from this port, may not be accompanied aboard by their friends, nor, having gone aboard are they permitted to come ashore again.

But while cabin passengers are thus given the freedom of the port, steerage passengers are not. They must remain aboard, although it is beyond comprehension why they are more likely to bring contagion aboard than cabin passengers are, seeing that if ashore they would walk the same streets, ride in the same street cars, visit the same places of interest and amusement. But that is one of the inscrutable things of quarantine regulations.

On the other hand, while the president of a bank or the minister of a church, or a leading lawyer or merchant of Honolulu is not permitted on the wharf even, much less on the vessel, a half hundred stevedores, who live in the very regions where contagion exists, if it exists at all, are allowed all over the wharf and on the vessel. They undergo no process of disinfection. They come to the vessel from their places of residence whether in Kakaiko or Iwilei or elsewhere, and go aboard the vessel with the clothes they have been wearing daily. When their work is through they go where they list, to be admitted in the same way on the next steamer.

Could anything be more full of contradictions or absurdities? The fault is not with the quarantine officers or the steamship companies here. What is done, is done so that there shall not be delay at the next port. But that neither mitigates nor justifies the absurdities. It simply proves the crudity and the clumsiness of the regulations. The quarantine regulations at the other end will accept as safeguards such contradictions and anomalies as these. It will not accept the evidence of health which approved tests, readily applied, would give by examination at the other end. But will accept as guarantees a system which needs only to be described to be ridiculed.

We have much to learn in the matter of quarantine from England, where quarantine, as we experience it, at every port in America is unknown. Yet exposed as England is above all others because of the extent and ramifications of her commerce, she suffers less than any other from contagious disease brought overseas.

What is needed is an entire reconstruction of our quarantine system by men brave enough to break entirely with tradition and to construct in the light of modern sanitary medicine.

It is just possible that the suits for damages brought by steerage passengers against the Mongolia because refused admittance to the vessel to continue the voyage after having come ashore at this port, may lead to a more sensible system of quarantine. The courts have more than once broken up hoary absurdities. The United States court in San Francisco a few years ago stepped in and with an injunction against the Board of Health of that city saved the city and the State of California from very grievous injury.

Considering the walls they have indulged in and the oceans of ink spent in expressing sympathy for them it seems strange that the Poles are not more hasty to take advantage of Russia's disturbances. Poland certainly has as good reason to revolt as Finland. But perhaps other nations than Russia would have to be opposed by Poland—Star November 6.

Very likely, considering that Poland belongs to Germany, Austria and Russia. The Poles, in not stirring up that triumvirate, show some sense.—Advertiser, November 7.

ST. PETERSBURG, November 7.—Poland is endeavoring to emulate Finland and obtain autonomy for herself.—Associated Press Cable.

The inciting motive, to a very large extent, which prompted the creation of the Home For Incurables, was the frequent discovery of cases of consumption for which there was no place where they could be properly treated. In a very large degree, the institution was intended as a hospital for consumptives. The selection of a location was influenced somewhat by this class of patients. There is not an equal location for a hospital for consumptives anywhere around Honolulu. The name of the institution has been found inappropriate because there are so many cures effected there. All things considered, the undertaker is a rare visitor. To very many this institution has been the open door of hope.

Something over a million recommended for expenditure by the war department in and about Honolulu, is a very comfortable sum.

Age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite variety of McKee Rankin's dramatic and managerial exploits.

TOPICS IN BRIEF.

"Ordinarily my experience has been that bears were not flurried when I suddenly came upon them," says the President in a magazine article. The bears probably failed to recognize him in his hunting-costume.—The Washington Post.

Tom Taggart's declaration that the Democratic campaign managers never received a dollar of insurance money tallies with Mr. McCall's statement. McCall intimated plainly that the importunities of the Democratic managers were fruitless.—The Kansas City Journal.

NANCE O' NEIL TO PLAY IN HONOLULU

The performance to be given here will be of a novel order for it will be a special matinee commencing at 12 noon, in order to allow the company to catch the boat at 3 o'clock.

"Of course there is a risk in playing at that hour," said Rankin after the arrangements had been closed, "but Miss O'Neill did so well here and has always wished to come before a Honolulu audience again as the people were so kind. She has talked so much of the islands and, like everyone else who ever visited here, she has a great-what do you call it?—'Aloha' for Hawaii."

"The play that I intend to put on is 'The Fires of St. John.' It made a tremendous hit in Boston, where she was the first to play it anywhere in English, for it is from the German by Sudemann. It created a furore in New York and in fact all along the line, but do you know the first time any criticism was leveled at it was in Australia, or rather, I should say in Melbourne, for in other cities in Australia and New Zealand, it was received with enthusiasm. One of the Melbourne papers attacked it fiercely, saying that the play was immoral, that in fact no decent person should go to see 'The Fires of St. John.' Of course you can anticipate the result. We had to turn people away after that and the feminine portion of the community was in the majority."

"Is the play immoral? Certainly not, there is nothing in it that could be adjudged so excepting by a foul mind, the sort of mind that finds immorality and not beauty in a classic statue. However, Honolulu will see for itself and I am willing to risk its judgment. "I am leaving a boat ahead of the company in order to make arrangements for the coming season," said the veteran turning to other matters. "We open our American tour at the Grand Opera House in San Francisco on December 2, then to Los Angeles and through the usual route of big cities winding up, as usual in Boston. On this Australian trip of ours we played nineteen weeks in all, fourteen in Australia—Melbourne, Brisbane, Sydney and so on and then five in New Zealand. It was a success from the start, even exceeding my expectations, which were most sanguine."

Asked as to affairs in Australia Rankin said that while, politically speaking, chaos was reigning, the country seemed to have recovered from the period of financial depression.

"Politics there are in a frightful state," he said. "It is a sort of farce comedy. The labor element is in control and the policy adopted is that of the dog in the manger. Capital is driven away, immigration is discouraged—in fact everything hinges on a perfect understanding of the cry of 'Australia for the Australians.'"

Next year, according to Rankin, arrangements by which Miss O'Neill and her company will tour the world have been made. They will be away a whole year coming through here towards the end of July, they will play in Yokohama, Kobe, Nagasaki, Shanghai, for four weeks, Hong Kong for two weeks, Singapore, Rangoon, possibly Batavia, Colombo, Calcutta for eight weeks opening November 5, Bombay for four weeks and Madras for two weeks.

Miss O'Neill had the best of health while away, as had the members of the company and by the way the company which passed through here ten in number is coming back numbering seventeen. McKee Rankin himself looks as robust as ever. He says he is fifteen pounds lighter but just where he took it off is not visible to the untrained eye. Incidentally he is raising a beard, a fact which will strike horror to the heart of the theatrical world. At present the beard looks like a badly needed shave, but he is very proud of it. "I am raising it on tch sly," he said, adding with a sigh, "but I suppose that I shall have to shave it off."

ANDREWS ENDS A CAREER OF CRIME

struck him on the head with an axe while the woman had tried to cut his throat. He was strong enough to beat them off however. When he recovered consciousness, they had fled. In the cottage were found knives and saws which indicated an intention of cutting up the body of the intended victim. Ellis further said that Andrews had confessed to him that he was the murderer of Bessie Bouton at Colorado Springs, a crime of peculiar atrocity the perpetrator of which had never been discovered.

The trio had come from Sydney, having bought tickets for Vancouver B. C. but it later transpired that Ellis, the victim of Andrews' assault was a "welder" from the Kensington Race track in Australia, where he had made a book, and was himself a fugitive from justice. They stopped off here in Honolulu and were at the Young Hotel for twenty days. Their signatures were seen on the register there. While here, so Ellis declared, Andrews tried to shoot him out at Diamond Head but failed, that the pistol had gone off by accident.

The people are well remembered at the Young as they quarrelled frequently and drank a good deal. A close search was made for Andrews and in the mass of evidence dug up, it became apparent that both Andrews and his intended victim were members of a gang of burglars who had been operating "across the bay." Policeman L'Estrange had chased them one night and they had given battle. The plucky policeman killed one man, Kelley, and escaped unscathed himself. Ellis and Andrews got away. Kelley was connected with the robbery of the treasure room of the Alameda several years ago.

Little is known of the woman beyond the fact that she was a Canadian from Montreal where she had a police record. She was with Andrews in Colorado Springs when he murdered Bessie Bouton and after the murder kept him supplied with food for two months in hiding. When the first hue and cry had died down, they slipped away to Vancouver B. C. and sailed for Australia on the S. S. Moana last December. The Moana passed through Honolulu on December 17, 1904.

SIERRA IS TAKING GOOD SIZED CARGO

VESSEL ARRIVED THIS MORNING FROM THE COLONIES AFTER A DELIGHTFUL TRIP—HAS SMALL CROWD ABOARD.

The S. S. Sierra arrived on time this morning from the Colonies after the most pleasant weather trip in many months. Nothing of special interest occurred during the voyage to this port and nothing was sighted. She is rather light with cargo and has a small crowd of passengers for the mainland. Five passengers stopped at Honolulu and a small crowd will depart this afternoon from Honolulu for San Francisco. The vessel left Sydney, October 23, Auckland October 27 and Pago Pago October 30.

Among the through passengers is McKee Rankin the theatrical manager of Nance O'Neill who has been playing an engagement in the Colonies.

W. Thornley is a business man of Sydney, going to the mainland on a trip. Among the passengers who stopped at Honolulu was Miss J. R. Hopkins who has been in the Caroline Islands for some time in missionary work.

F. Watson arrived from Pago Pago for Honolulu.

The Sierra is loading 5,000 bunches of bananas, 500 bags of coffee 400 cases of honey, and 3,500 bags of rice, in addition to a quantity of miscellaneous stuff. The vessel sails at 3 p. m. today from the Oceanic wharf for San Francisco. The usual strict quarantine is being enforced at the wharf, no one but those having business aboard are being allowed on the wharf.

FIGHT AT ONCE RESUMED

THE TERRITORY AND THE AMERICAN-HAWAIIAN ENGINEERING CO. LOCK HORNS AGAIN.

The American-Hawaiian Engineering and Construction Company case against the Territory was renewed in the Supreme Court yesterday within a few hours after the decision of the Supreme Court in favor of the Territory. Castle & Withington filed a third amended complaint, this time demanding only $723.75 from the Territory instead of about $2000 in accordance with the views set forth in the decision of yesterday morning.

This claim will not be contested by the Territory. It is stated, but the money will not be paid over without further litigation, because the Territory has a counter claim. The Territory has an action against the Engineering company for alleged failure to carry out the asylum building contract, and will file a cross complaint, instead of paying the $723.75.

ATTORNEYS MUST NOT TAKE PAPERS

which are on file shall be allowed to leave the court room or the clerk's office. Attorneys who have been in the habit of receiving for them and taking them to their offices, or to the library, are finding that this can no longer be done. Once filed, the papers are not to leave the office or court.

The order was due to disappearances of papers in a number of instances recently. Last week a bill of exceptions which was wanted and which had been filed, could not be found. A hunt was made through all the papers, and the document was missing. Later it was produced by an attorney who had had it in his office. Then the court made the order in question. There have been missing papers in other cases, which have never turned up. If taken away from the court they are likely to get mixed up with other documents in an attorney's office. Hereafter attorneys will have to have copies made, or do their studying of papers on record, in the court room or clerk's office.

OVER A MILLION IN SUGAR ARRIVES

ARIZONAN ARRIVES OFF THE BREAKWATER ON OCTOBER 30, AND THE SEWALL NOV. 4.

Two valuable sugar cargoes arrived at Delaware Breakwater last week from Hawaiian ports. The first arrival was the S. S. Arizona on October 30 from Hilo with a cargo of 10,365 of sugar aboard and on November 4 the ship Arthur Sewall arrived from Honolulu with a cargo of 5,563 tons aboard, an aggregate during the five days of 15,928 tons.

The price of sugar on the dates of arrival was $70 a ton which makes the combined cargoes worth $1,114,960. The Sewall made the run in 120 days which is a very fair trip. News of the arrival of the two vessels was received by the Marine Exchange.

THE MANGA REVA AS A HELL-SHIP

SAILORS TESTIFY TO BEATINGS BUT THE MATES DENY THAT THERE WAS ANY.

The charge of assault on a seaman of the ship Manga Reva, against Second Mate Joseph Boyd, against Second Mate Joseph Boyd, was on trial in Judge Dole's court this morning and is going to the jury this afternoon. The Manga Reva was a bad ship to be on, according to the testimony of sailors, and according to her competent crew, of Hawaiians and Porto Ricans. One man who shipped had a wooden leg and he worked aboard for four days, the second mate said, without the fact that one leg was wooden being discovered.

The assaults are alleged to have taken place at Kaanapali, last June. Nineteen new men were shipped here, and it was found, according to the mates, that they didn't know anything about the business at all. Two sailors testified that the second mate had hit Johnson and knocked him down, banged his head against the bulwarks and jumped on him. Johnson, at the preliminary hearing testified that the first mate told the second mate to make him dance and if he didn't dance to kick him till he did. The wooden legged man claimed to have been kicked down the ladder from the poop deck, in accordance with these benevolent instructions.

The first mate, H. E. Jones, who is also under indictment, was called by Attorney Rawlins for the defense. He testified that there had been no beating at all. The crew had quarrelled a good deal among themselves, using Hawaiian and Porto Rican languages, and he didn't know what it was all about. He had ordered Boyd to separate them into groups and Johnson had been told to go on the poop deck. He had refused to go there. Then Boyd took him gently by the arm and led him towards the ladder. Johnson refused to go, and the mate ordered other men to carry him. There was not even bad language used, said Jones. The crew of nineteen new men all refused duty on the morning of June 17.

On cross examination District Attorney Breckons got along very pleasantly with the witness for a few questions. The mate cheerfully admitted that all was very harmonious aboard. The crew didn't know anything about the ship, but the mates were teaching them. They had three good meals a day and very kind treatment. All had shipped to go round the Horn. After getting this pleasant picture, which he likened to a Sunday school picnic before the jury, Breckons suddenly sprung a new kind of query. "The men all quit and refused duty on the morning of the 17th?" he asked. "Yes," was the answer.

The little question ended the pleasant relations between attorney and witness. Jones said he didn't know why Breckons wanted to know if he entered the fact in the log, and the mate said he didn't, though he admitted that he was aware that it was his duty to do so. Jones continued to deny that there had been any violence used, and Breckons asked him if he had not testified at the commissioner's hearing that the stories of beating by Boyd were true and that beating them was the only way to get along with such men as those shipped. Jones denied having so testified.

Boyd took the stand in his own behalf and denied the beating of Johnson or any other member of the crew. He agreed with Jones that he had simply laid his hand on Johnson's arm to lead the latter to the poop, and that not even bad language had been used. All was going along all right on the ship, except for some wrangling among the crew, and he didn't know why they had suddenly refused duty.

Breckons called United States Commissioner Malling in rebuttal. Malling testified that First Mate Jones had taken the stand before him as commissioner and had testified that the stories of beating were true, though exaggerated and that he had ordered some of the beatings.

Before beginning the defense Rawlins moved to discharge, on the ground that the testimony showed the alleged assault to have taken place within 500 feet of Kaanapali wharf, where the Territorial court had jurisdiction rather than the Federal. Judge Dole ruled that he had jurisdiction.

SUPERVISORS MEET TONIGHT.

The passing of about $15,800 of warrants will be the most interesting feature of tonight's meeting of the Oahu County Board of Supervisors, to many people at least.

There will be several other matters to come up which will probably make the meeting a protracted one.

CHARLES MOORE GAMBLING CASE

Charles Moore was before Judge Whitney this morning on a charge of conducting and maintaining a gambling game. Moore is charged with running a pedro party game. The defence entered a demurrer and the court continued the case until day after tomorrow for argument.

SAILOR MEINELL FREE.

The interview in the Star with H. B. M. Consul Layard yesterday regarding the detention of the sailor who jumped overboard from the British ship Brenda yesterday apparently clinched matters for the man and he has been given his liberty. Consul Layard stated that he had no charge against the man, inasmuch as he had not been reported as a deserter, and probably never would be. The United States Marshal was not anxious to hold him even for illegal landing, the officials could not take cognizance of the fact that he had formerly been a deserter for that offence had been purged by his return to the ship. There being no charge against him Meinell goes free.

HOT AFTER LOAN FUNDS

the loan funds allowed by the legislature, and he is likely to have as merry a time as ever the legislature had, with petitions for appropriations. The battle ground for rival applicants for appropriations is transferred from the legislature to the executive chambers. Those who want certain items to be spent have to ask the governor, and there will probably be a lot of them before the money is spent, though the governor has announced in a general way what his policy is to be.

Senator Dickey is one of those who have been asking the executive for an appropriation. The senator called on the governor last week to ask that some of the $750,000 to be borrowed be spent on a court house at Makawao, Maui. The legislature, of which Dickey was a member, made an appropriation for this item.

"If the governor is only going to spend $750,000," said Senator Dickey, "I hope he will use money for this item. The present court house is far away from nearly all the residents of the district and the new one is greatly needed, as was shown during the legislature. I am not a resident of Maui, nor a member of the legislature any more, but I am interested in the district. I feel that this is an item which should be spent and therefore add my voice to others to persuade the governor to spend it."

There is a long list of items in the appropriation bill and it is predicted that various islands and districts will be heard from with petitions in favor of their items. The governor, it is understood, sticks to his classification of general and county items, but there are exceptions and Dickey has asked for one in favor of the Maui court house referred to.

Incidentally Senator Dickey stated that he had retired altogether from the legislature. He is now a resident of Honolulu, having moved from Maui. "I have served six years in the legislature," he said, "and I think I have done my share. It is an expensive and somewhat thankless business, and though I am glad to do anything I can for the islands, it is someone else's time now. Perhaps I can do something outside the Senate, but as a member I am through."

Dickey was elected as a member of the first Territorial House of Representatives. Then he went to the Senate for the term of the second and third legislatures.

PROFESSIONALLY CONSIDERED.

"Public opinion is a great power," remarked the earnest citizen. "Yes," answered Mr. Dustin Stax; "a great deal may be done with it. The trouble is that it is so hard to capitalize."

"If the world judged a man by what he starts," said Uncle Eben "instead of by what he finishes, every page in the city directory would be full of great men."

THE LATE H. A. ISENBERG

THE PARK SYSTEM EXPERT

CORRESPONDENCE REGARDING THE MAN WHO MAY BE BROUGHT HERE BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS—A VERY FAVORABLE OFFER RECEIVED BY PRESIDENT GRIFFITHS FROM A PROMINENT EXPERT IN SUCH MATTERS.

The following correspondence regarding the park plans proposition shows the nature of the offer to be considered by the Board of Supervisors in connection with the appointment of an expert and the standing of the man whom it is proposed to employ:

"Mr. A. F. Griffiths, Oahu College, Honolulu, T. H.

"Dear Sir:—I have your letter of the 7th inst, asking for information in regard to some artist who can lay out a comprehensive park system for your city. I have had a talk with Mr. Wm. S. Eames, President of the American Architectural Association, relative to Mr. C. M. Robinson's qualifications and he says there is no question about his ability to do the work; that he is a man of marked ability in that line and could be secured for much less money than Olmsted, Eames or Kelsey. Mr. Eames for example charges $100 a day and expenses when he leaves his office to draft plans. From what I know of the subject in general I should think that you could secure Mr. Robinson's services for $25 a day plus all expenses. He has recently done some work for Detroit and also for some of the western coast cities and he is very highly regarded by landscape architects. A trip to your beautiful island and the labor of drawing up a comprehensive park system for Honolulu, certainly should be inviting to any artist.

"If I can give you any further information on this question, I shall be pleased to do so. Yours very truly, MAYO FESLER, Secretary."

"Dr. A. F. Griffiths, President, Oahu College, Honolulu, T. H.

"My Dear Sir:—Your letter of September 7th came duly to my hand about a week ago, and I am so much interested that it has been a cause of regret that I could not reply until today; but this is a very busy time.

"If you have received and have had any time to read my books, you have already been able to form some judgment regarding me, and I shall be spared the necessity of trying to praise my own work. I am further spared this by the circumstance that the Syracuse 'Herald' of day before yesterday printed the enclosed articles, apropos of some work which I am just taking up in that city. As far as the statements of fact go, the record is correct.

"Now in regard to the terms on which I would be able to go to you: I shall make them as low as possible in view of what you say about the probability of other engagements there, because I want to go, and because I feel a very great interest in having a park system developed in your city, which we are coming more and more to believe is destined to become one of the famously popular and beautiful resorts of the world if it now have proper development. I will waive the regular charge of my expenses, and leave only the fee—$500 to cover everything, understanding that you wish the laying out of a comprehensive park system, and the giving of such advice to your organization as I can; but not at this time a detailed planting plan showing the location of every shrub and tree to be put into the park. I should be glad, however, to suggest the general character of the planting, if conditions seem to be sufficiently advanced for that. I am sure you will feel that my terms are reasonable considering the time the trip will involve.

"I should bring to the problems presented the greatest interest and would take them up with confidence and enthusiasm, and with a determination to reach the very best solution. I feel sure that I should satisfy you, but if you desire to communicate with the authorities in Colorado Springs, where I made my most recent report, you can write to Henry Russell Wray, Esq., who is the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Awaiting your further advices, I am, yours very truly, 'CHARLES MULFORD ROBINSON.'"

THE AUDITOR HAS DISCRETION

SUPREME COURT SUSTAINS HAWAII'S AUDITOR AND TURNS DOWN THE SUPERVISORS.

Two questions of construction of the County Act were decided by the Supreme Court yesterday in the case of Norman K. Lyman vs. Charles K. Maguire, auditor of the County of Hawaii. Both are questions which arose between the County Sheriff and Supervisors, and the Sheriff wins in both cases. The Lyman suit was to compel the County auditor to issue a warrant for his salary, the Board of Supervisors having appointed him clerk to Sheriff Keolanui. The Supervisors duly approved the claim, but when a demand was made upon the auditor for a warrant he refused to issue it, holding that Lyman's claim was not a lawful one, as the Board had no power to appoint the clerk to the sheriff. Judge Parsons of Hilo denied a warrant as asked for, and the Supreme Court sustains his rulings.

The opinion of the court is by Justice Wilder, and is unanimous. The syllabus sets forth the two propositions ruled upon, as follows: "The County auditor may refuse to draw a warrant on the treasurer for an invalid claim against the County al-

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN

For the Week Ending November 4, 1905.
 Local Office, U. S. Weather Bureau,
 Honolulu, T. H., November 6, 1905.

GENERAL SUMMARY.
 During the past week low night temperatures have been quite general, but the days have continued moderately warm. Considerably less rain has fallen during the preceding week, being confined largely to eastern and southern Hawaii and eastern Maui. Conditions are becoming very dry again in many leeward sections.
 Young cane is generally reported as in good condition and growing nicely, but in windward Hawaii would be benefited by less rain and more sunshine. In the windward districts of Hawaii, weeds continue to be very troublesome, and in some sections it has been impossible to keep them down, owing to shortage of labor. A decrease in the amount of water available for irrigation purposes is noted in central and windward Maui. The condition of cane in the Kau district of Hawaii has been much improved by good showers during the week. Tasselling of 1906 crop cane is becoming general, especially in Maui and Kauai. A marked decrease in the activity of leafhoppers is reported. Young pineapple plants are in good condition, and the harvesting of a small quantity of advanced pines of the winter crop is in progress at Haiku, Maui. The picking of coffee and the harvesting of second crop is in progress at Haiku, Maui. The picking of coffee and the harvesting of second crop rice are proceeding rapidly in all sections. Windward pastures are in good condition, but practically all leeward pastures need rain, especially in the lower levels.

GAS RANGE COOKING...

How to be Economical
 "Be thoughtful. There are so many little ways of saving gas, and just as many ways to waste it. Follow these three simple rules, which cover almost the entire question of economy:

1. Never light the gas until everything is ready.
2. Never use a stronger flame than is necessary.
3. Turn out the gas the instant cooking is finished.

HEAD OF HACKFELD & CO DIED IN NEW YORK

with his parents for Bremen where he attended various schools. After completing his education in Germany he served an apprenticeship in business houses in Bremen and London and in 1894 returned to Honolulu and entered the business house of which he was the practical head at the time of his death. Upon the retirement of J. F. Hackfeld from Honolulu and from active participation in the management of the affairs of H. Hackfeld and Company, Ltd., Isenberg was elected his successor as the managing director of the firm in 1900. He was also chosen vice president and German consul for the Hawaiian Islands to succeed Mr. Hackfeld who however, has been in the habit of making annual visits to Honolulu from Germany.

Commercially Mr. Isenberg had been identified with various organizations. He was at one time president of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, was the first president of the Sugar Factors' Company Ltd., had been president of the Chamber of Commerce and also a director of that institution. Mr. Isenberg was a director of practically every plantation with which H. Hackfeld and Company are identified in these islands, among them being Pioneer Mill, Kekaha Sugar Company, Oahu Sugar Company, Lihue and Hanalei Sugar Companies, Kulaiaua Plantation, Hawaii Mill Company, Kipahulu Sugar Company and Grove Farm Company. He was a member of the German Lutheran Church and was a director of the Queen's Hospital.

Mr. Isenberg married on February 16, 1897 Miss Virginia Dusenberg the accomplished daughter of the late Charles A. C. Dusenberg who was the first German consul at San Francisco, having arrived there in 1849. Two children, boys, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Isenberg. Mr. and Mrs. Isenberg entertained very extensively at their Punahoa residence in Honolulu and both were great favorites in local consular and social circles. Mr. Isenberg was a man of magnificent presence and personally had much grace and charm of manner.

He left an estate which is estimated in the millions but the extent of which cannot now be stated. No details of the disposition of his property are known at present.

At H. Hackfeld and Company's offices this morning, no advice regarding the disposition of the remains had been received. It was not known whether the interment would be in Bremen or in the Hawaiian Islands. No steps were taken therefore by W. Protehauer who is the acting head of H. Hackfeld and Company to arrange any details for memorial services. Such services will be held in the German Lutheran Church however even if the remains are not brought to Honolulu for interment. The offices of H. Hackfeld and Company were closed today out of respect to the memory of the deceased, the entrance being draped in mourning. The German flag was at half mast on the building, as were the flags at the various consulates about the city. Various business places and banks closed during the day, out of respect to the deceased and the flags on the various island steamers and other craft in the harbor were at half mast. All work in discharging the S. S. Nebraska at the Railway wharf was stopped this morning owing to the news of the death of Mr. Isenberg. Memorials of regret will undoubtedly be drafted by the various organizations of which the deceased had been a member.

The near relatives who survive the deceased are D. P. R. Isenberg a half brother who was the president of the Senate during the last session, Mrs. Dora Isenberg of Kauai and two brothers and a sister living in Germany. Mr. and Mrs. Isenberg and their children left Honolulu on March 10 of this year to visit Germany. They passed most of the time in Germany with their relatives.

"It is almost a year since I last wrote you, but you will be glad to know that we are still using your ZENOLEUM in our Agricultural Department with the same satisfactory results as reported to you over a year ago. Our farm horses and mules, which were so badly affected with the mange, are quite regularly washed with a Zenoleum solution and the mange easily kept under control, and since using Zenoleum solution in our piggery a year and a half ago, ticks, etc., are an unknown pest. We have many inquiries regarding Zenoleum, and are always glad to give it high praise, in fact, we often recommend it outright."
