FUMIGATING HULK COMING TO PLANT BATTLEFIELDS

DISINFECTATION TO BE DONE ON VESSELS.

Special Floating Apparatus to Facilitate Quarantining of Boats Touching Here Ordered by Government.

Dr. D. A. Carmichael, superintendent of the federal quarantine station and marine hospital service in the Territory of Hawaii, returned Sunday from an inspection of the quarantine stations at Hilo, Kahului and Kihel. None of these stations have any equipment, and it will be some months before they can receive the necessary apparatus. During his absence Dr. Carmichael appointed the following deputies, all of them being practicing physicians at the places where they are to serve. At Hilo, Dr. J. G. Grace was appointed deputy; at Kihel, Dr. R. H. Dinejar, and at Kahului, Dr. John Weddick.

The superintendent is expecting a very valuable addition to the quarantine station at Honolulu, which will be a cause of much satisfaction among shipping men who stop at this port. It is a portable disinfesting hulk similar to the old warship Omaha in San Francisco Bay, and will permit the fumigation of vessels a few hours after their arrival. The Government appropriated $75,000 to maintain the four quarantine stations in the Territory, and to supply Honolulu with the floating quarantine plant. It was intended originally to provide Hilo with one, owing to its remote situation a few hours after their arrival. The funds will not be sufficient, so the addition cannot be made this year.

Orders for the construction of the plant were placed with Kensington & Co. of Philadelphia, the cost being $25,000 to $30,000. The plant will consist of two steam chambers for the fumigation of clothes, bedding, etc.; a sulphur furnace, a formaldehyde generator, and two tanks for bichloride spraying fluid. This plant is on the hulk and will be placed merely in the steam chamber and clothes of a general character, for the passengers and their baggage will be required to go ashore as before for fumigation at the quarantine station. The sulphur tank supplies the material for fumigating the cargo, ship's hold and other portions of the vessel, while the formaldehyde tank will supply the gas with which the living apartments are sprayed. The advantage of this gas over the sulphur fumes is that it does not treat the goods and places sprayed as severely as the latter, sulphur always staining, while the gas does not. The bichloride is used in washing down the vessel after the other material has been used. In fumigating a vessel the hulk will be brought alongside so that it can be done quickly and anywhere in the harbor.

"The advantage in having such a plant in operation," said Dr. Carmichael, "is that it will facilitate the movements of vessels touching at Honolulu. This is, as a rule, merely a calling point, and in order to allow commerce to be moved as speedily as possible we will remove any suspicious case from the vessel, run the hulk to the side of the vessel, and without moving the cargo, fumigate the ship in short order. The vessel will be allowed to proceed if possible. We will not require the detention of any vessel during the incubation of any disease, while the circumstances on the ship's papers, and let her proceed to her destination, where the quarantine officials can pass upon the advisability of quarantining the vessel or not."

"Dr. Kingdon, the federal quarantine officer at San Francisco, is looking about to secure a hulk for us. When the Kensington Company will have finished the plant it will be shipped to San Francisco, and there placed on the hulk and sent here. I expect that this vessel will be about the same size as the Kaimiloa. Hilo cannot be provided with such an apparatus this year, owing to lack of funds. Vessels requiring to be quarantined can be ordered back from the two other places to Honolulu station. In addition to the quarantining plant we are expecting a steam launch very soon. I have no idea when the hulk will arrive, for it all depends upon the Philadelphia company."

Assistant Surgeon Dr. Hobby, who is at present at Southampton, will arrive here in August to join the quarantine force at this place. He will probably act as a boarding officer.

RECEIVED MANY ANONYMOUS LETTERS.

THINKS THE AUTHORS MEANT TO CONVEY THREATS OF HIS DEATH—MATTER PLACED IN HANDS OF THE AUTHORITIES.

The life of Yang Wai Pin, the Chinese Consul General, has been threatened by his enemies. So serious is the matter regarded that the Consul General has brought the matter officially to the attention of the Government, and protection will be given Yang Wai Pin to prevent any possible attempt upon his life.

As is generally the case, the threat was conveyed in anonymous letters. These letters did not state in explicit terms that the life of the Consul General was to be taken, but after reading the communications and discussing the matters with the members of the legal profession, Yang decided that the sentiment of the letters was quite threatening, so he wasted no time in bringing the matter before the Territorial authorities, with the request that he be given proper protection, and an effort be made to apprehend the authors of the unlawful communications.

While the Consul does not know the authors' identity, he is confident that some member of the Bow Wong Association caused them to be sent to him, for they contain reference to his conduct toward that organization. Both Yang and Yang decided that the sentiment of the letters was quite threatening, so he wasted no time in bringing the matter before the Territorial authorities, with the request that he be given proper protection, and an effort be made to apprehend the authors of the unlawful communications.

WANTS MATERIAL WITNESS

Judge Humphreys this morning issued an order to High Sheriff Brown to arrest a Japanese named Mita and hold him until he deposits bonds in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance before the Auditor General in regard to the Auditor General's order in the case of Amimoto, the Kaluku Japanese charged with murder, and there are strong reasons to suspect that he will either go into hiding or leave the country to avoid giving evidence. In an affidavit filed with a motion for an order to arrest Mita, the Attorney General, High Sheriff Brown states that Mita is a close friend of the accused, and that unless he is held will fail to give the facts known to him.

Henry Smith, clerk of the Supreme Court, has addressed a letter to the Auditor General in regard to the Auditor General's order in the case of Amimoto, the Kaluku Japanese charged with murder, and there are strong reasons to suspect that he will either go into hiding or leave the country to avoid giving evidence. In an affidavit filed with a motion for an order to arrest Mita, the Attorney General, High Sheriff Brown states that Mita is a close friend of the accused, and that unless he is held will fail to give the facts known to him.

HORACE CRABBE INJURED

WAS RUN OVER BY A HACK THIS MORNING.

Horace Crabbe, an old resident, was run over by a hack at the corner of King and Bethel streets about 10 o'clock this morning and sustained injuries which may prove fatal. Two wheels of the vehicle passed diagonally across his breast. He was taken to his home in Nuuanu street by the police. It may be a day or two before the extent of the injuries are known.

Mr. Crabbe was walking on the sidewalk on King street and had just stepped down into the street. The hack, driven by a Chinaman, turned rapidly around the corner, struck the old man and then passed over him. The horse continued on at a terrific rate until caught by L. T. Grant, who was a witness to the whole proceeding. Mr. Grant held the outfit until the police arrived and arrested the driver.

The injured man was too faint to make a statement. Mr. Grant says of the accident: "The hack turned the corner at a break-neck rate. An athlete could not have gotten on top of the horse. When the old man was knocked down and run over the Chinaman kept right on, making no effort to stop to see what damage he had done. I ran into the road, caught the horse and held the whole outfit until the police arrived. From all I saw, it is my unalterable opinion that the driver of the rig, in turning the corner at such a rate, was wholly and entirely to blame for the accident."

NEW MANSION FOR VALLEY

Beardslee & Page, the architects, with offices in the Arlington Annex on Hotel street, have prepared plans for a splendid residence for E. Faxon Bishop, to go on the premises of that gentleman in Nuuanu Valley. The building will set a little in rear of the site of the old home which was razed a few months ago. It will cost $15,000.

The new building will be of wood. Its most conspicuous exterior point lies in its verandas and arrangements for outdoor living. On the top is a sort of conservatory and roof garden. The front elevation will be one of the most attractive in the valley.

Mr. Beardslee is the contractor for the building. There will be two superintendents of the work, one being Mr. Page of the architectural firm, and the other John Oederkerk. The latter will have the charge of the business of building, while the former will attend to the carrying out of the plans and ideas to the work. Work on the foundation has already begun.

Mr. Bishop's old house was mysteriously burned some months ago while he was away. The fire department arrived on the scene, but on account of the scarcity of water in Nuuanu Valley, could do nothing. The new building will be much finer and costlier than the old.

A TWO-DOLLAR BRIDE.

J. Mathew was fined $5 and costs this morning for obstructing a sidewalk. He was arrested by Officer Keckip for placing a wheelbarrow in front of the entrance to the Salvation Army hall. The officer testified that Mathew offered him a bribe of $2 for liberty and the prisoner admitted that he did so. He said he only put the wheelbarrow in the entrance for fun.

JUNIORS START FOR CAMP.

They Will Gather Land Shells While Away.

The juniors of the Y. M. C. A. left yesterday morning for Manoa Valley for their two weeks' camping vacation. It is the intention of the crowd to make this the most enjoyable trip of the kind ever made to that valley. Several days ago the floors were laid and the party took the tents with them yesterday, together with a truck load of supplies. Among the articles carried were some tools with which to dam the stream for the purpose of making an artificial swimming hole near the camp.

WALKED INTO JAIL AGAIN

LONG SOUGHT MAN ARRESTED IN COURT.

William Miller, for whom the police have been looking for about five months, walked unsummoned into Judge Wilcox's court this morning to hear the testimony in the liquor case of Frank Fisher. He was pointed out as a witness for the defense by Attorney Strauss. A moment later Officer Hanrahan took Miller by the arm and led him away, and now he is in the tank, with a prospect of a term at hard labor on Alcatraz Island, as a deserter from the army.

Miller was in the guardhouse of the Sixth Artillery at Camp McKinley about six months ago, having been sentenced for stealing clothes from a comrade. He was held there awaiting confirmation of the sentence by General Shafter and became sick. After a term in the hospital he made his escape. Miller went to Hilo, and is said to have got a job on the police force there, which he held for four months, while the police were after him on a warrant from the military authorities. A few weeks ago he returned to Honolulu, and he was in Frank Fisher's Kakako resort on the occasions, when the latter he alleged on two nights last week, to have sold the bottles of beer to customers, one of whom was a police spy. The other was a man whom Fisher had "thrown out" of his place, as he puts it, and who got revenge by giving the police a tip and taking a spy to the Joint.

Miller was wanted in court by the defense, and Judge Wilcox was asked to punish Officer Hanrahan for contempt in removing the witness, but as Miller had not been subpoenaed there was no contempt. Miller simply walked into court. He is well known by Hanrahan, who was with him in the hospital for some time. As a result of his madness, Miller is in line for four years at hard labor in a military prison.

Fisher was fined $50 for selling liquor. He offered no defense, and gave notice of appeal.

BRICKLAYERS ARE SCARCE

CONTRACTORS NOW PAYING SIX DOLLARS A DAY.

A contractor stood at the corner of Fort and King streets this morning for several hours looking for bricklayers. Another man enlisted in the hunt was at the corner of Hotel and Fort. Every pedestrian having the appearance of a workman was accosted and asked if he was a bricklayer. Six dollars a day was offered to any white man or native who would help lay bricks. Not a man was gotten, and the contractor returned to his building alone, to work himself, and wait for laborers.

"Bricklayers are being paid $5 a day," said the contractor, "and I am still doing so. This week I need a lot of men for a new contract and cannot get them. The way matters are shaping themselves it looks like some of the new work around town will have to stand a long while until somebody breaks the ice and orders men from the Coast. So far as I and a number of other contractors are concerned, Asiatics are not wanted at any price. We prefer whites or natives, even if we have to pay the expenses of the former down from San Francisco and Seattle, and the Stungway and Rapid Transit building alone, 2,000,000 bricks are to be laid at once. At the new Honolulu Iron Works are 700,000 more waiting for masons. Besides these buildings there are nearly a dozen others going up that will carry millions more of bricks. I am sure I do not know what is to be done. There are now reports of other new brick buildings in the immediate future. If they are to 'go' men will have to be brought from the Coast."

"I know most of the bricklayers and carpenters in the country, and my idea is that Honolulu has not more than one-third of the men that are and will be required. It is well enough for some of the masons who are striving for top-notch, famine wages, to dispute this, but the facts are plain and must come out sooner or later."

Inquiry among carpenters seems to reveal much the same situation. There are plenty of Asiatic carpenters, but white men are comparatively scarce, and wages are decidedly on the upgrade.

When asked if he could handle hammer, and was offered a job; but had to decline because the contractor would not give him the new house and lot for his valuable services.

CAPTAIN WEEDON'S FINE IS REMITTED.

Collector-General Stackable this morning refunded to Captain Weedon of the custom house the $2,000 fine assessed against the vessel about two weeks ago for beginning to discharge cargo without a permit. The captain and agents of the vessel employed attorneys and appealed to the collector for a remittal of the fine, on the ground of ignorance of the law, and the collector finally decided to grant the remittal.

When the fine was made Captain Weedon was on his way from the vessel to the custom house to get his permit to discharge. In the meantime he had set the men to work, so that no time might be lost, and it was for the work they did while the captain was going to get his permit that the fine was levied, $1,000 each for the captain and mate.

Honolulu's custom house has become more strict than those of the mainland now, it is stated by many masters in port. Captain Weedon has been to many American ports, and though he knew Honolulu was American, he had no idea that he would be fined. The rules have been put in force without any leeway. The case of the collector is one that would not have caused fine in an American port on the mainland. It is stated, but under the new system the laws are being enforced here like machinery, and the captains are watching very closely to see that they keep in the line. Captain Goodwin, of the big ship Dirigo, the largest vessel that has been here this year, said this morning that vessels frequently begin to discharge in American cities before their permits are out. "I have entered at New York," said the captain, "and there was no trouble if I did not put ashore some cargo before the papers were all out. It is all a matter of business like other affairs, and the customs people in the states know whom they can trust, and do not rigidly adhere to all the routine."

Honolulu people have found that there is a good deal of red tape in Uncle Sam's customs rules, but a good deal of it will probably disappear when the new system has had time to adjust itself to local conditions.

TWO MONTHS MORE DELAY

THE NEW OCEANIC STEAMSHIP SERVICE.

Strike in Philadelphia Delays Completion of the Sierra—Mariposa May Continue for Another Trip.

The new steamer Sierra of the Oceanic Line, will not be here on September 12, according to the time table issued by the company. Owing to the strike in Philadelphia there has been a lot of delay in getting her finishings, and she will be at least two months later than expected. It is thought now that she will be here by the middle of November. The time for the arrival of the other two new steamers is also doubtful. It was the intention to have all three—the Sonoma, Sierra and Ventura—on the run by December 12. The Sonoma was slated for leaving the Coast on October 31, and the Ventura December 12. Now it is not known when they will come, and the difficulties of getting them built according to program are such that the people of Honolulu will be glad if the new service begins this year at all. In the meantime, if the old steamers are taken off, as was the intention, the Islands will have less mail, been looking forward to the beginning of the new service, which will relieve the present difficulties of passenger travel. It is a long time between steamers that can take passengers to the Coast now.
 The Sierra was on the time table to leave San Francisco on September 5, in place of the Mariposa, which, according to program, is now on her last trip over the San Francisco-Honolulu-Sydney route. The Mariposa is at Sydney, to leave August 1 and arrive here on the 17th, and in San Francisco on the 24th, after which she was to have been laid off for repairs and alterations. In view of the delay of the Sierra it is thought that she will be sent over the route again in place of the Sierra, arriving back in San Francisco on November 16, or just about in time to let the Sierra take her place on the following trip.

A PAINFUL RESCUE.

Inspector Hobson's Slow Life Saving Last Night.

A blood curdling yell, followed by splashes and loud cries for help, disturbed Customs Inspector Hobson just after 11 o'clock last night, while the inspector was patrolling his watch at railroad wharf. He ran to the end of the wharf and saw the man who was doing the yelling, struggling in the water. Hobson ran for a rope and threw it to the man in peril, who grabbed it and held on. He proved to be one of the hands from the schooner Inca, lying close by. He had been ashore for a time and was stealing aboard over the rigging when something broke and he fell.
 Hobson found the sailor too heavy to haul up on to the wharf, and Jack didn't seem to be in condition to do any climbing. No one else showed up to give assistance and all the customs men could do in the emergency was to hold the ropes while the two hung on to the other end and swore. "There'll be a change in the watch at twelve," shouted Hobson, "and then help'll come."
 For half an hour the customs man held one end of the rope and the sailor held the other. Jack circled about in the water below, trying to find a way to get up a pile, now and then yelling advice to Hobson, and all the time becoming more nearly sober. There was talk of sharks and Jack said it was getting cold, but he hung on. A little before twelve the change in watch appeared, and Hobson had help. There were two customs men then, and together they managed to haul the sailor out.

The sailor seemed to be a bit under the influence yet and he had another hard climb aboard. The customs officers asked him where he had been and he said he had been attending a Salvation Army meeting. He left a winding devious trail of salt water as he ambled across the deck to the forecastle.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
 A color screen for shutting off the blue light which surrounds the images of stars in refracting telescopes is the latest discovery made at the United States naval observatory. The invention is the work of Prof. T. J. J. See, who is in charge of the great telescope, and George H. Peters, the official photographer of the observatory. Very little has been given out about this discovery, which is expected to add new laurels to American science.

Alsen Portland Cement

WE HAVE JUST RECEIVED a large shipment of this celebrated Cement, which is the STONGEST AND MOST SERVICEABLE CEMENT MADE, and will permit the admixture of a larger amount of sand or gravel, with less loss of strength, than any other brand; it is therefore the most economical.
 ALSEN has no equal in color, fineness and sand carrying capacity. It weighs less per bushel, measuring about 10 per cent more cement to a barrel than other brands, which very materially reduces its cost as compared with other cements is therefore an economical cement to use, and specially adapted for fine concrete work.
 The following tests, made in actual work by Col. D. C. Houston, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., at the seawall around Governor's Island, New York Harbor, has never been equalled by any other cement. It is as follows: Tensile strength per square inch—One day, 334 pounds; seven days, 600 pounds; thirty days, 818 pounds.
 For sidewalks it gives the best color and the most enduring wearing surface.
 A few of the large contracts in which Alsen Cement was used: Cable R. R., Baltimore, 35,000 barrels; Quebec Harbor Improvement, 20,000 barrels; Northern Pacific R. R. bridges, 20,000 barrels.

LORD CURZON.
 Lord Curzon, the Viceroy of India, is causing considerable consternation in official circles by his unconventionally and disregard of precedent and red tape methods. He has discarded much of the pomp and ceremony with which his predecessors had invested themselves, and spends much of his time wandering in-cognite through the native quarters, familiarizing himself with the life and needs of the millions he governs. He penetrates the worst plague districts, with cheering words for the dying and care for the living. He is unlike his predecessor, Lord Elgin, in thus mixing freely with all classes, whom he charms by his kindness and courtesy, and the only men who look askance at the vigorous young Viceroy are the old-fashioned officials, with whose dilatory methods he shows little sympathy.—

HE NEVER LOST A BEAT
HERR BERGER ROSE SUPERIOR TO ACCIDENT.
 Stepped Off His Dais at the Very Climax of the Composition But it Never Touched Him.

There was a hearty laugh at the band concert at Emma Square last night at Kappelmeyer Berger's expense.
 As there was an unusually large attendance at the concert and nearly everyone saw the incident and joined in the laugh, there was a wave of hilarity swept over the grounds such as is seldom heard there.
 It was during the grand selection from "Martina," Berger's whole soul was in the music. With head and arms and body all active and thrilled with the movement of the music, he was leading the musicians to the best expression of the composer's sentiments the concerted efforts of the band were capable of. With the baton in his right hand he was leading the cornets up to the swelling crescendo of the theme.
 With his left hand he was guiding the soft obligato of the reed instruments.
 With the expression of his face and the movements of his head he was controlling the horns and basses in their accentuation of the theme as it was developed by the higher pitched instruments. With his whole body he commanded the concerted attack of the whole orchestra. He was absorbed, wholly, completely, in the music. So wholly was he living in the music that he did not observe that with each guiding wave of his baton urging on to greater musical effect, he was getting nearer and nearer the edge of the little dais from which he controls his musicians. At last, just as the composition with its crash of horns, its soaring bugle notes, its piping reeds, its descending bass of cellos and drums, reaches the climax, off he stepped.
 The very contra tems of it would have embarrassed another.
 Berger never lost a beat of his baton.

COMING ATHLETIC MEET.
 The Y. M. C. A. to Hold a Big One in October.

The Y. M. C. A. purposes having in October what will probably be the most extensive athletic meet ever held in the Islands. The proceeds of the meet will go to the matutonium fund. It is hoped to raise $200. There will be a first and second medal for each event. Of the meet the Association Review, which has just been issued, says:

"The meet will be for amateurs only.
 The amateur athletic rules will be used.
 The history of amateurism will be looked into, and in that way it is hoped to put athletics on a 'clean sports' basis here upon the Islands. Such a thing has never been done before. It is high time we were beginning.
 "The younger element of Honolulu should be kept out of professional athletics, but it never will be as long as nothing is done for amateur sports."
 "Not a few of our boys expect to go away to college at some future time.
 They will be forever barred from amateur athletics if they even so much as compete against a professional, and many of them are doing more for this, they are competing for money prizes, selling medals, etc. Now, if we have an amateur association we can keep the new element out of professionalism."

A GOOD THING.
 There's one good thing when they feel dry.
 That business men cannot pass by,
 For far and wide it's fame you hear,
 They stop to drink of "Rainier" beer,
 On draught or in bottle at Criterion.

MOLOKAI—IN PART.

The gentleman who represented The Star during the visit to the Molokai Settlement presented a very able report. He covered the ground very thoroughly and showed both defects and advantages very impartially. That the permission for friends to go and visit friends is an unwise one, almost every one will grant. But that it will spread the disease is a point upon which there may be much controversy. A single contact, unless one has an open wound to which the leprosy virus can be communicated from an open sore, is probably as harmless as brushing one's hand over a patient suffering from grippe.

Though the segregation system has during the biennial period ending in 1890, been challenged, it has worked well. 1890, over 800 lepers were removed from the other Islands to the Molokai Settlement. During the last biennial period 134 new cases were discovered, or an average of 67 per year for the last two years. Indeed as a menace to in general public health, leprosy has but a shadow of the former fear for it. Segregation has done its work, and done it well. It only remains to carry out the law as it stands on the statute book. We cannot go outside the law, no matter what the unknowing of our social system may desire.

It is a satisfactory thing to find that affairs are being conducted with such ability in the settlement. An old kamaaina who has not visited the place for some years expressed himself as wonderfully pleased with the appearance of the settlement. The houses were neat, the yards were pictures and the roads had been entirely cleared of stones. It was really an ideal settlement.

But however bright the place may be, it is but a gilded cage. Our duty lies in keeping the cage gilded. It is true that a large proportion of the inhabitants lead merry, careless lives, but it is better so than that they should lead sullen lives. The Molokai Settlement gives sufferers a chance to live out their lives to the end comfortably. It would be a sad day for the Territory if it ever gave up its paternal oversight and funds.

ON ALCOHOL.

The death of two Hawaiians brought about by drinking methylated spirits is a matter for grave consideration. Alcohol has to be used in many of the mechanical arts, and it was found out in Europe some hundred or so years ago that the workman was apt to drink the alcohol and let the art take care of itself. It caused a great deal of trouble for a long time till at last a chemist hit upon the plan of adding something to the alcohol which should make it nauseous. This was found in the spirit of wood ash or pyroxylic spirit, which added in one-ninth the bulk of alcohol was supposed to prevent even the most ardent drinker from attempting to gulp it down. Recently a law on this line passed the Hawaiian Legislature.

Till within half a dozen years ago alcohol, pure, could be sold in any drug store. It was found that certain wicked people bought pure alcohol, diluted it, and went on a quiet bat by themselves. Also it was found that some enterprising merchants brought down pure alcohol from the Coast and having fixed it up here sent it to be sold as "three star," "old Kentucky" and "Red Heart Rum" to the unsophisticated of other regions. So the sale of pure alcohol was wisely restricted.

As the law now stands no person can get pure alcohol without a physician's order, and the physician himself can only draw a limited amount upon his order. In consequence many people use methylated spirits for rubbing down with alcohol, where formerly they used pure alcohol. It is a question in some minds whether this rubbing with methylated is as efficacious as the rubbing with pure alcohol. However there is the law. No one can get alcohol without a physician's order and the physician has to be careful, because he can only draw so much. The legislation was grand-motherly.

The reason for all the legislation alluded to above is plain enough. It is to prevent the misuse of an intoxicant. The result as seen on Sunday was, that two men were killed by that legislation. It is a very bold way of stating a fact, but the fact is there. Had there been no law about methylated spirits, had they been able to obtain a purer intoxicant at an equally cheap price, those men might have had their drunken spree on Saturday and Sunday and been quite ready to go work on Monday.

The desire for alcohol in some natures amounts to a passion, a ruling passion. A wise community recognizes it and puts on restrictions which experience of centuries has shown to be necessary. All this we have attended to, in our community, and though we cannot eradicate the evil as some wish, we certainly curb it, as others wish. Lately the executive has been granting licenses above the normal number with the distinct idea of supplying an increasing demand, for the population of Honolulu today is very much larger than it was four years ago.

But however well the executive may strive to meet the demand of the drinking population, always with the desire of keeping moderation, it cannot control a commercial system which sells about seventeen drunks for a quarter and death at the end of it. This may seem a very harsh and an exaggerated way of putting the matter. But the fact is there. A liquor seller can be prosecuted for selling to a drunken man. Methylated spirits is put up in fifty cent and twenty-five cent bottles, and the results from it are infinitely quicker and more lasting than from two dollar or dollar bottles of gin or any other similar liquor.

It is very evident that the next legislature will have to grapple with the methylated spirits question. It is not only that two men died from excess of its abuse, but that many are slowly poisoning themselves by its moderate use.

HOMESTEADS.

The opening up of the unoccupied Oiaa lands will give a number of people an opportunity to obtain permanent homes, and should induce many a man to save money and acquire a neat little estate. The object in dividing up this public land into tracts of fifty acres is to get the homesteads into the hands of bona fide settlers and try and keep out the greedy land speculator, who as soon as he gets hold of the land is willing to sell out to some corporation.

With this end in view the acquirement of a land patent is put off for two years, and there is a residence clause which must be carried out, otherwise the contract is broken. Moreover a certain percentage of land must be cleared every year and a certain number of fruit or shade trees must be planted for each acre cleared. These trees need not be planted on the cleared land, but can be planted in a dump if the homesteader prefers it.

The whole object is to assist the poor man in obtaining a home. It being recognized that a poor man may not be able to undertake residence at once, but that he requires to work at some business or trade in order to support himself and family and make the necessary money to run his future farm, the residence clause is not enforced till after the fourth year. This gives a man time to do a great deal of clearing, to build a cottage and to put in crops which will be his main support when he has to take up his residence.

If the homestead plan can be carried out successfully on Oiaa, the present silent forest will team with life and energy and a sturdy race of people will grow up, independent in character, who will furnish the best of material for future citizens. It is this class of people that are needed on Hawaii, and as leases of government lands fall in, the land should be divided up more and more upon similar terms. We have very little land available for this purpose, but what there is should be thrown open in this way.

The sewer system is approaching completion, and November ought to see the very last of the work done. Then will come the connecting of the houses with the main sewer. This will take a considerable time, and will give the plumbing fraternity plenty of work and plenty of cash. Who wouldn't be a plumber for the next year?

The opening of a Club House in connection with the Y. W. C. A. will be acceptable to a class of young women who are roomers, who have to work during the day, and to whom a club room, with papers and magazines and the opportunity of social conversation with others will prove an invaluable boon. It will add very much to the opportunity for higher culture among young women.

The Bow Wongs celebrate the birthday of the Emperor today, but whether the Emperor be alive or dead is more than the Bow Wongs or any one else knows in the west. The Chinese Consul Yang Wai Pin is in a quandary also. If the Emperor is alive and in power he ought to celebrate his birthday with honors. But then he may still be in the clutches of the Empress Dowager, and it would never do to offend her. A Chinese consul's life, like a policeman's, is not a happy one.

It is a good thing that the police have got after the hack business conducted on the lines of Manuel Phillips. There is altogether too much of this kind of thing going on. While many hackmen are thoroughly respectable, there are some who carry on a regular soliciting business for a number of the fallen women. It is a most disreputable business and very demoralizing. In fact more demoralizing than the acknowledged vice of the Japanese. Those who are engaged in the social purity crusade might turn their attention to this class of hackmen with much advantage. They are regular social harpies.

It is well to be rid of loafers like Harry Lee. We shall, from time to time, have specimens of his class. They are young men of some education and of winning address. They manage to ingratiate themselves with some of the prominent citizens, and then they commence a double career, one of respectability and the other of debauching. The end generally comes with a crash. Some skip out, and some wait till they are made to skip. The moral: Indiscriminate hospitality has passed. Even in the old days we used to get taken in as witness the well known case of Captain Larkin, but that was some 25 years ago. We have had a good many since, including Commodore Weaver, but he took in very few.

COMPROMISING ON FINES

JUDGE WILCOX SITS ON THE SCHEME.

Promises to Leave the Country are Also Objected to as Means of Escaping Sentences.

Promises to leave the country and to pay previous fines that may be hanging over prisoners' heads on appeal won't do service any more in the police court. Judge Wilcox sat on the scheme this morning, announcing that he didn't want to be a party to any more compromises of the kind. It was in the case of C. Donahue, who was up again for selling liquor without a license. Donahue has a fine of $100 against him now, on which he has taken an appeal. When he was caught again he told the police that he would pay the other fine if he could escape being sentenced again, also that he was about to leave the country. This has been done in other cases, sentence having been suspended but this morning the judge had a kick when Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth stated the case and offered to move for a suspension of sentence.

"There are people all about who have promised to leave the country," said his honor, "and I don't see them going. How do I know this man will go and if he goes what is to stop him coming back in three weeks and opening up again? He has been convicted in this court and fined, and now he comes in and wants to be let off this time if he will pay the other fine. I haven't any use for that kind of compromise with criminals, and I don't want to be a party to any more bargain of that kind."

The judge gave Donahue, who had pleaded guilty, a little roasting on the side, saying it would be a fine thing if he would go and stay away, and then took the case under advisement for one day, stating that he would consult with the attorney-general before giving a decision or agreeing to any more compromises.

RECORD SUGAR YIELD.

A late number of the Louisiana Sugar Planter contains a letter that was written by Dr. Walter M. Maxwell, director of the experiment station here, detailing the results obtained with some varieties of cane received from the Louisiana experiment station.

There were three varieties of cane received by Dr. Maxwell, so he writes, from the Louisiana station. Each of these varieties were made to produce at the Louisiana station about five tons of sugar per acre. At the experiment station here in Honolulu, according to Dr. Maxwell's statement, these varieties have been made to produce, one of them 17.2 tons per acre, and another 16.5 tons per acre.

Both of these yields are record breakers. They are considerably above what Dr. Maxwell has ever been able to produce before with other varieties used for experiment.

E. P. Dole, telling of the threatening letter to the Chinese consul, and asking him to take whatever steps he deemed necessary for the protection of Yang Wai Pin. The high sheriff is inclined to think that the writer of the letter is insane. "I shall interview the consul," said Mr. Brown, "and find out what protection he desires. The letter was evidently written by some insane Chinese, who has a grievance against the consul, and thinks he might get revenge in the way described. It purports to come from Kauai and to be the letter of a plantation laborer, who says he will kill the consul and accompany him to hell. I do not think it is the work of Bow Wongs at all. There have not been, so far as I know, any threats among them or any other society, and I think the letter is the work of some single individual."

IN HONOR OF KWANG HSU.

Bow Wongs Remember the Birthday of Their Emperor.

There was an enthusiastic gathering of members of the Bow Wongs Society this afternoon, the occasion being the celebration of the thirty-first anniversary of the Chinese Emperor's birth.

Much surprise was manifested by the failure of the Consul General to repeat his former elaborate observance of the Emperor's birthday. Last year the consulate was the scene of a representative gathering, all of the prominent people of the island being present. This year, however, the Consul contented himself by merely displaying the Chinese flag. In explanation of this conduct Mr. Yang Wai Pin said that had it not been for the war and the Boxer trouble the present anniversary would have been handsomely celebrated. Minister Wu directed the Consul not to observe the day this year. In addition, the usual proclamation of the Emperor directing that the day be observed, was not issued. The birthday fell last Sunday, but the Bow Wongs preferred to celebrate today on account of the death of one of their Chinese Emperors on the 22 instant.

NATIVE WORKMAN KILLED.

Enoka, a native employed in discharging the schooner Robert Lewers at the old fishmarket wharf, was almost cut in two at about two o'clock this afternoon by the falling of a twelve-ton piece of machinery against the side of the vessel. He died before reaching the hospital, to which he was started in the police wagon a few moments after the accident. Enoka was standing between the vessel and the huge piece of iron, while the latter was being hauled when the gear broke, the machinery swung back, and the unfortunate native was pinned to the side of the vessel. It was necessary to push the schooner out from the wharf in order to free his body. The iron struck him in the abdomen and crushed him terribly.

HER MOTHER'S GIRL.
A bright, handsome girl on the borderland between childhood and womanhood, is at once a source of pride and anxiety to her mother. But she has grown fast and is still growing. Nature makes stern demands upon the slender body. The skin is dull, the eyes lustreless, the cheeks and neck are sunken, the appetite is capricious, and the movements languid. The trouble is impurity of the blood. It needs the life-giving elements from which alone the body derives its vigor and health.

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION, of the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry, has saved many such girls. It contains all the flesh-forming and strengthening qualities of the oil without its loathsome taste. Taken before meals it creates an appetite, stops the emaciating process, puts flesh on the thin and bony body, and ruddy cheeks soon tell the story of pure blood, good digestion and recovered health. It is a scientific modern combination of the best of curatives made palatable as honey. Taken in time it prevents consumption; taken in time it cures. "Dr. J. L. Carrick says: I have had remarkable success with it in the treatment of Consumption, Chronic Bronchitis, Catarrh and Scrofulous Affections, and consider it a marvelous success in medicine." It is food and medicine combined. To give it a trial is to believe in it always thereafter. Genuine only is effective from the first dose. "You cannot be disappointed in it." Sold by all chemists.

Debility
 Neuralgia, Biliousness.

When the nerves are weak there is no telling what may happen. You are tired all the time, depressed, restless, and suffer greatly with headache, backache, neuralgia, and general discomfort. But there is a cure, as Mr. J.
 Elliott, of West Perth, W. A., well knows. He sends us his portrait, and says:

"For many years I suffered greatly with neuralgia in my head and also with biliousness. I had tried many kinds of medicines but without help. I then tried

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Two bottles made such a difference in my feelings that I was greatly surprised. My general health improved at once, my nerves were stronger, my headache disappeared, and my severe attacks of biliousness were cured."

Constipation alone will often cause biliousness, neuralgia, and sick headache. Ayer's Pills are a safe and sure cure for all liver troubles. And they cure dyspepsia also.

THE MYSTERY OF DEATH BROODS OVER BEAUTIFUL PALOLO VALLEY

THE HAWAIIANS THERE SEEM AS IF LISTENING FOR THE RUSTLE OF AZRAEL'S WINGS; TABU CLOTHS ADORN DESERTED COTTAGES; CHARMS OF TI LEAF WORN.

The shadow of death still hangs over Palolo Valley. The entire native population of the valley seems as if it were in the attitude of listening for the rustle of the wings of Azael. In every native dwelling in the entire valley there is something to show that awe and apprehension of mortality brood there. Little pieces of red and white cloth tacked up over the doors, show it in some cases. Necklaces of ti leaves worn as a charm show it in other cases.
 In some instances it is only revealed by a subdued manner, and furtive references to kahunas and anaana.

In striking contrast to this state of mind among the natives of the valley, is the stolid, unmoved demeanor of the Chinese, who go about the ripening rice fields shouting and firing their guns to scare away the devouring birds, and the feoclastic operations of the Palolo Valley Improvement Company, whose signs of "Seventh Avenue,"
 "Tenth Avenue," and "Lots for Sale," mark all over the lower part of the valley the march of the materialistic suburban tract divider.

The cause of the somber sentiments that weigh upon the natives, is the seeming mystery of the death of six people out of thirteen in three kuleanas near the head of the valley since June 1. So heavily have these deaths weighed on the survivors that they have deserted their houses where the deaths occurred, and are now living in a house nearer the mouth of the valley waiting till opportunity offers to go to Hawaii where they have ancestral taro patches, that so far have been unmolested by the spirit of death and evil.

The deaths which have so disturbed the quiet, isolated life of this charming, but isolated region, as shown by the records of the Board of Health, are as follows:

- June 2—Kalkuana, girl, 13 years old, acute nephritis, sick four days.
- June 12—Pillipo, man, 40 years, single, cirrhosis of liver and nephritis, sick four days.
- July 3—Maka Kukona, male, 69 years old, fatty degeneration of the heart and pericarditis, sick three days.
- July 10—John Kapa, male, 69 years old, married, chronic interstitial nephritis, sick seven days.
- July 11—Keolai, male, 15 years old, single, typhoid fever, sick three days.
- July 16—Malaka, female, aged 15 years, married, typhoid fever, sick four days.

Palolo Valley is the next valley beyond Manoa, and like the latter pierces almost to the heart of the range of mountains that separates the Koolau side of the island from this. Most of the lower part of the valley is owned by the Palolo Valley Improvement Company, which is now subdividing it preparatory to selling suburban lots.
 The head of the valley is government land leased by the ex-Queen. Other owners have parcels of land in the valley, and scattered throughout are a number of kuleanas owned and occupied by natives. The head of the valley is cleft into two smaller valleys by a bold headland, a spur from the main ridge of mountains. High up in the mountains is an old crater, now a perpetual lake of water, from which a stream breaks over into the farther of the two smaller valleys, and runs, a noisy brook down the whole valley, watering the taro patches and rice fields as it runs. In the other fork of the valley is a smaller stream which has its source in a spring near the head of the valley. The house in which the first deaths occurred is near this second stream and about half a mile from the spring that feeds it. There is a small kuleana here fenced in on two sides by a stone wall.

 There is an orange tree and a mango tree, and a small patch of sweet potatoes. There are two houses on the kuleana, both small, white painted structures, now locked up and deserted.
 But over every door is nailed the tabu cloth of white and red. An irrigating ditch runs through one corner of the kuleana, and it was from this, it is said, the people got their water. This kuleana is at the left as you go up the valley, of the headland which divides the valley, and near the foot of the headland.

About a furlong from this kuleana, and around the foot of this headland to the right as you go up the valley, is the kuleana where the second death occurred. This is a small, dry, poorly cultivated patch of ground, with no trees on it of any size. The house is a small one, raised about three feet from the ground. An eave trough of bamboo carries the water from the roof, when it rains, to a barrel setting on the ground at one corner of the porch. It is said that the people used this rain water for drinking purposes, except in dry weather when there was no rain.
 In dry weather they got their water from the stream that breaks over the ridge from the crater lake Kauhelemoa. A trail down the hill from the house leads to this stream, which is distant twenty or thirty yards. This house like the others, has tabu cloths nailed over the doors.

The third kuleana where these deaths occurred is fully a mile away on the Ewa side of the valley, and farther down. Its situation and surrounding conditions are much the same as at the other two. Drinking water was obtained from the rain water from the roof or from a stream at some distance from the house.

While the sanitary conditions of all these kuleanas was much the same, they did not differ essentially from the conditions surrounding Chinese and Japanese taro cultivators in close proximity to them.

From all that can be learned regarding those who died, they had nearly all been born in this valley, but had been away from it residing on Hawaii until about eight years ago. Then they came back to the valley and lived an isolated, primitive life. They cultivated a little taro and a few sweet potatoes, and were occasionally employed by other land owners in the valley.

The idea is strongly but covertly conveyed by other people residing in the valley, that the distillation and consumption of okolehao and swipes was actively carried on by some of those in the death visited kuleanas, but of this there was no direct proof, except that the post mortems held by the Board of Health in some cases revealed alcohol-em. It is said that employment at wages has been more plentiful and lucrative lately, since the Palolo Valley Improvement Company began operations, and the ability to indulge in alcoholic drinks has been greater than formerly.

It is probable that the six deaths, which coming so close together, seemed like the visitation of some evil spirit, were all due to general conditions of a low tone of vitality due to a low and unwholesome plane of living together with insanitary conditions of life, and in some of the victims, insanitary habits. Such, indeed, though not expressed in the same way, is the opinion of most of the Hawaiians who were their neighbors, and still live in the same valley.

But the survivors hold an entirely different belief. To them it is undoubtedly the work of the kahuna, and the result of anaana. Indeed, the kahuna is pointed out. He points himself out as the one who is charged with being a kahuna, denying at the same time the fact and his belief in kahunism, but though the narrow necklaces of ti leaf which he wears, hardly corroborates his unbelief. He is an Hawaiian of fifty or more, who evidently once had a commanding figure and carriage, though age is beginning to show in his stooping shoulders, and in the gray of his hair and beard. He is a tenant of Liliuoka-lani, and looks after the pasturage of stock on the land she leases from the Government. He lives with his wife, a comely and much younger Hawaiian in a little cottage at the edge of the pasture land, in a tangle of guava and lantana brush.

"When those people got sick," he said Sunday, "I told them to go to the Queen's Hospital. But they were afraid to go, and then they got worse and died. They said I was a kahuna, I suppose because I am getting old and have gray hairs. People say that of anyone when he gets old."

Nearly the whole of Palolo Valley was once owned by Pauahi, an aged Hawaiian who still lives near the middle of it.
 It came to him as an inheritance from his first wife, a woman of chiefly rank, whose grave is pointed out, flower covered and surrounded by a neat stone curbing, a short distance in front of the house where Pauahi lives. Pauahi long ago sold the property, retaining a small parcel near the main road, and ran up the valley, and an annuity for life. On this reservation there are several houses, in one of which Pauahi lives, surrounded by relatives and retainers.
 Since the visitation of death to the valley, the survivors from the stricken kuleanas are living temporarily in a house a short distance from Pauahi, and nearer the Ewa side of the valley.
 Pauahi and his kinsmen are their nearest neighbors. The mystery of these deaths is the chief topic of conversation in the little community. The awe of it has evidently impressed them, for everyone wears the ti necklace charm, though in the case of some of the younger people its dimensions are reduced to a mere thread, as though they were wearing it rather in deference to the sentiment of the community, in which they live, than from any belief in its efficacy. Yet notwithstanding these charms are worn, the idea that kahunism or anaana had anything to do with the deaths is scouted by all of Pauahi's entourage.

But over in the house where the survivors live there is the most profound belief in the kahuna hypothesis. At first a little reserved about speaking of it, if once they become interested, assertions of the malign influence of the kahuna comes in voluble sentences, but subdued utterance. They thoroughly believe that their friends were prayed to death.

Palolo is a pretty valley. It has Hawaiian legends by the score connected with it. It is the fit scene for such a mystery as broods over it now.

ISLAND FREIGHT TRAFFIC MUCH LESS.

Passenger Travel Keeps Up—Wilder Steamship Company Introduces the Baggage Check System.

The bottom has dropped out of the island freight business, though passenger traffic continues large. The island steamers all had an easy time today, instead of the rush of work that has been the regular Tuesday experience for many months.

Instead of a large block of cargo being shipped, there have been made direct from the coast to other islands. During plague times there were very large orders placed and some of them are still coming in on sailing vessels.

None of the steamers lack passengers, as travel continues heavy, the Japanese especially contributing their share to the business. The island steamers going to windward are carrying large deckloads about. The rest—less Japs are spending their money in trips.

Commodore Beckley has introduced a scheme new to Hawaii for passenger baggage on the Wilder line. It is the "check" system, which is in vogue on American railways. The adoption of this plan by the Wilder Steamship Company will be a great convenience to passengers, who have had trouble in the past in getting their belongings from the holds of vessels. Travelers are given a steel check with a number on it. Another check with the same number is fastened on the trunk or package, and the traveler's check is a receipt for his belongings.

Arrangements are being made whereby the express companies may check packages to their destination as in the states. When this is done a great deal of trouble will be saved to both passengers and the steamship men. The system is to be in vogue on all the Wilder steamships and was introduced today on the Kinai and Claudine.

Executive Committee From All Districts, Though Oahu Has Majority—The Finance Committee.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED

MEN TO RUN CAMPAIGN FOR THE REPUBLICANS.

Chairman George Smith of the Republican Central Committee, last night announced his appointments on the two committees to be made up by him. It will be remembered that the Executive committee will select the organization and literary committees. The latter at least will be arranged at a meeting of the Executive committee, which will be held just as soon as its members can be gotten together.

The arrangement of the executive committee as below was the result of a motion of H. P. Baldwin before the meeting held a week ago. Honolulu members of the Central Committee selected all the districts equally represented.

Mr. Baldwin thought a majority of the committee should be on Oahu, so as to be reached at any time and gotten together quickly. His motion, coming from an outside district, as it did, met with no opposition. The Executive committee is as follows:

First District—E. Richards, Second District—J. D. Paris, Third District—H. P. Baldwin, Fourth District—A. V. Gear, C. L. Crabbe.

Fifth District—Enoch Johnson, J. A. Hughes, Sixth District—B. F. Sandow, George W. Smith, Chairman ex-officio.

This is the Finance committee appointed by Chairman Smith: First District—Albert Horner, John T. Brown, W. H. Campbell, Second District—E. L. Holstein, J. K. Nahale, J. H. Waipulani, Third District—Hugh Dowell, D. H. Kahauloalo, George Hons, Fourth District—J. H. Boyd, W. R. Farrington, Ed Towse, Fifth District—W. C. Achi, C. P. Iauke, Frank Arner, Sixth District—M. O. I. Blackstead, J. K. Kapunihi, B. F. Sandow, J. H. Boyd, treasurer Territorial Central Committee.

THE NEW SALOONS.

It is the intention of David Dayton and his partners to run the resurrected Pantheon saloon until its license expires, which will not be until January. What will be done after that is not yet known.

John Sullivan's saloon will be on the site of John Phillips' old plumbing shop. Sullivan was proprietor of the old Pantheon saloon.

Henry Vida's saloon will be in the new building of E. B. Thomas at the corner of Smith and King streets. A well known caterer has applied for a light wine and beer license for Kalia, and purposes establishing a resort there.

The jury in the case of the natives dying suddenly Sunday night has returned a verdict of alcoholic poisoning. The return has been approved by Dr. Garvin who assisted in the autopsy.

HAWAIIAN-AMERICAN.

"Hawaiian, American born" is the Board of Health's record of the nationality of a little child that died this morning. The child was born in Kailua.
It was decided sometime ago to follow the old custom, calling a native "Hawaiian," American "American," etc., but in this case at least the custom seems to have been departed from.

Good Teeth

Are worth more than their weight in gold to anyone. Some of us possess them; other do not. The most perfect white teeth, if neglected become worthless, pain-jumping stumps. You say I have good teeth. How can I keep them so? By taking proper care of them.

Cause of Decay

The cause of decay of the teeth was unknown until a few years ago. It is nothing more or less than lactic acid. The acid is produced by the particles of food lodged around the teeth, which owing to the warm temperature in the mouth ferment and produce this acid. Tartar is a deposit which discolors the teeth. As this increases it pushes the gums down from the enamel of the teeth to the bony structure, and in time, will cause the teeth to become loose.
