FEDERAL GRAND JURY AFTER HOTEL GUESTS

Evidently the Federal grand jury had an interesting session this morning, for they subpoenaed some prominent citizens and, apparently want to know a whole lot of things that are usually considered nobody's business.

They wanted to know the names of every man and woman who had stopped at the Alexander Young and the Hawaiian hotels, day or night, since June 11, Kamehameha Day, right up to date, including last night; and, also, they wanted to know the arrangement of bunks and berths and cabins and passenger aboard the steamship Mauna Kea.

They subpoenaed Manager J. H. Hertsche of the Moana, Alexander Young and Hawaiian hotels and commanded him to bring with him before the grand jury the hotel registers with all the names therein writ, and they subpoenaed Manager Brown of the Hawaiian Hotel for the same reason; and they subpoenaed Purser Pete Phillips of the steamship Mauna Kea; also subpoenaing James Whitney and Ivan Miller, the latter gentleman being an actor, and a good actor.

All of which has to do with the question as to whether or not certain prominent gentlemen of financial talents have been behaving or misbehaving, the application, as is common talk, having particularly to do with one financier, although it has generally to do with several gentlemen suspected to be guilty of indictable indiscretions.

MAHUKA CASH IS AVAILABLE

Acting Governor Mott-Smith this morning received a cablegram from Hawaii's Delegate to Congress Kuhio Kalaniana'ole, to the following effect:

The money for the Makuha site for the Federal building is available whenever the titles to the land have been proven and secured, whenever proper examinations of claims and titles have been made, or when condemnation proceedings have been completed.

This was in reply to a cable sent yesterday evening to Kuhio by Mott-Smith, which message was in the nature of an inquiry as to whether or not the money had actually been appropriated, there having been no definite news from Washington to that effect.

Kuhio's cable would indicate that the appropriation was law and that the money for the purchase of property on the site desired is available or will be available whenever the government proves its title clear to the Mahuka block through condemnation proceedings.

Yesterday Kuhio's cable stated that $350,000 had been added to the appropriation for public buildings to allow for the purchase of the remainder of the Mahuka block, bounded by Kinz. Port, Merchant and Bishop streets for the Federal building site.

There will probably be a "scrap" over the deal, $350,000 being not considered enough to cover the damages.

GIANT SLUGGERS FIGHT IN RENO

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—As a result of Manager Rickard's conference with the representatives of the various cities of Nevada, it has been definitely decided that Reno will be the scene of the fistic encounter between Jeffries and Johnston on July 4. Reno has all along been regarded as the most favorable location for the scene of hostilities and already preparations are under way for the bringing off of the long-talked-of fight.

From the highest authorities it is learned that Governor Dickerson will not interfere in the pugilistic encounter, although great pressure has been brought to bear on him to stop the fight in Nevada.

RODMAN'S FLEET FROM THE EAST

Looking trim and neat in their coats of white in spite of their long voyage from the far east, with immense homeward pennants flying proudly from the main trucks, the cruiser Cleveland, Commander Hugh Rodman, and Chattanooga, Commander John McDonald, arrived off the harbor entrance a little after eleven o'clock this morning and came alongside the naval wharves shortly after noon.

The Cleveland, senior ship of the fleet of two, came into the harbor at a good speed before noon, and when abreast of the Healan boat-house belched a salute of thirteen guns in honor of Admiral Rees, commandant of the naval station.

After the last of the thirteen guns had barked their noisy honor, the saluting battery of the naval station answered with seven in honor of the senior officer, Commander Rodman.

When the ships were half way between Pearl Harbor and the Honolulu entrance, the lighthouse tender Kukui started out to meet the disabled Chattanooga, and as soon as she was alongside took her line and towed her into the harbor and helped her to moor at naval wharf No. 1.

The two vessels that arrived in port today are the second vessels of the same type that have been ordered home to go out of commission at the Mare Island and Puget Sound navy yards. The action of the Navy Department in sending two ships to gether has been on account of the accident that happened some time ago to a ship that started home alone, the department deciding that hereafter two ships should always travel together when going home to go out of commission.

Both the Cleveland and Chattanooga are copper sheathed vessels rated as third class cruisers.

Four days ago the captain of the Chattanooga signalled to Commander Rodman that his port propeller had carried away, and asked that he stand by.

All night the Cleveland stood by her sister ship, so as to get a line to her the first thing on Saturday morning. Improvised towing gear was made ready in record time by the officers of the Cleveland and shortly after daybreak Commander Rodman gave orders to the engine room to go full speed ahead. For the first few hours slow speed was made on account of the swell, but at the end of the twenty-four hours it was found that the ships had covered over a hundred miles.

The last twenty-four hours which ended this morning, showed that over 150 miles had been covered. A stop of a few hours was made at Guam for coaling after a pleasant trip from Japan. Good weather with steady trade winds was encountered from Guam to Honolulu, the fact that good weather prevailed made it possible for the ships to arrive a day earlier than expected.

Chief Machinist's mate, Sinclair of the Chattanooga, who died on board on Sunday night was buried at sea yesterday afternoon when about 29 miles south of the island of Nihoa. The reason for his burial at sea was on account of the uncertainty of arrival.

The two ships will remain here for about a week, when they will proceed to the Mare Island navy yard, near San Francisco.

The Cleveland was the first ship to go to Hankow during the recent uprising in China, and remained there several weeks until relieved by the Helena and some of the American river gunboats.

Captain Rodman reports that Captain Edward Dorn, U. S. N., retired, has requested to be relieved as naval governor of Guam from September 1.

The crews of both ships were paid off a few days ago, and while here

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The Omnibus Public Building Bill, carrying a total appropriation of $22,383,500, passed in the house yesterday.

The bill was favorably reported on Saturday from committee, the total in the reported bill being $19,288,500, the additional amounts being added in the form of amendments.

STILL WITHOUT A PLACE.

RENO, Nevada, June 21.—Tex Rickard, promoter of the Johnson-Jeffries fight for the Fourth of July, arrived here yesterday to make some arrangements for the big pugilistic battle which has been driven out of San Francisco. He states that he will make a definite decision regarding the location of the battle ground today.

CARSON, Nevada, June 21.—Hundreds of telegrams and letters are pouring in on Governor Dickerson, containing protests against allowing the fight to be held in his state. So far he has made no statement of his intentions either for or against the affair.

AKRON, Ohio, June 21.—The mayor of this city yesterday sent a message to Tex Rickard offering him one hundred thousand dollars to bring the fighters to this city for their championship battle.

URGES DIRECT PRIMARY.

ALBANY, New York, June 21.—Governor Hughes sent a special message to the legislature yesterday, recommending the passage of a law providing for the direct nomination of State elected officials.

UPRISING NIPPED IN BUD.

CANNTA, Italy, June 21.—Martial law has been declared here and in a number of other border towns, following the discovery that large quantities of arms were being smuggled into the country. The towns have been filled with soldiers, and what is believed to have been a serious outbreak, planned to take place on election day, June 26, has been checked. The number of arrests runs up into the hundreds.

GHASTLY TRUNK MYSTERY.

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 21.—Evidence of another ghastly crime was discovered yesterday at the Union station here, when blood was seen oozing from a trunk shipped to this place from San Francisco. The trunk, when forced open, was found to contain the mutilated body of a young man. There was nothing about the body to lead to identification.

CHICAGO'S NEW TELEPHONE SERVICE.

The telephone service which will soon be established in Chicago, making use of the traffic tunnels which have been built under the business section of the city for the accommodation of the wires, will, at the start, undertake business contracts only, and after sufficiently built up, the residence service will be inaugurated. The company will inaugurate the service with about ten thousand instruments and a rate of $1.75 per month will be exacted until the number of installations reaches the twenty thousand mark, when the rate will be raised to seven dollars per month, which represents the maximum charge. The maximum charge for residential service will be $50 per year. This system will dispense with the services of the "hello girls" at the various centrals, as the exchange will be entirely automatic.

THE REASON FOR IT.

Ruth—Not at all. You may as well ask a woman her age as to ask her to acknowledge what year she graduated in.

PREFER AMERICA OVER SIBERIA

On the question of emigration and immigration a considerable change has come over the world during the last forty years, new countries being more careful about the sort of immigrants they receive and old countries being more concerned about the sort of emigrants they part with, a St. Petersburg correspondent of the Chicago News cables. Forty years ago the British government looked on emigration much as the doctors of those days looked on blood-letting. Now it looks on emigration, even from Ireland, as the doctors of these days look on blood-letting. Russia is now beginning to do the same, judging from a series of articles entitled "The Future of Russian Emigration to America," which has been appearing in the Novoe Vremya of St. Petersburg, from the pen of Julius Nelidoff, who has personally investigated this problem for many years in America. Mr. Nelidoff thinks that the Russian government should do all in its power to get its stream of immigration directed toward Siberia instead of New York, and that if a section of the Russian immigrants insist on going to America in any case the Russian authorities should do all in their power to make that section consist of men who will come back and in due time enrich their fatherland with the experience, the money, the knowledge of agriculture and of industry which they have picked up abroad.

He fears, however, that the stream of emigration which is floating Americanward cannot be stopped, and he calculates that it will soon consist of half a million persons yearly from Russia alone. As he also calculates that the British, German, Italian and Austrian emigration to America will shortly fall to insignificant figures, Slavonic immigration will be the last great billow of the kind that will strike the United States. It would be interesting, therefore, to speculate on the effect which this addition of Slav blood will have on the ultimate American type. It will probably make the type more dreamy, philosophical and artistic, and consequently improve it, but Mr. Nelidoff does not deal with this aspect of the question.

He sticks to hard facts and these show him that while the emigration from Russia formerly consisted chiefly of Jews, Finns, Germans and Letts, pure Russians now take the first place, Poles and Letts occupying the second. In 1907 our Russian writer found on Ellis Island Russians from the governments of Smolensk, Mogileff, Chernigoff and Volinsky. Now he finds them from the central governments and even from beyond the Volga. The emigration is kept up by the emigration companies, who are as active in Moscow as they are in Tokyo and have behind them American manufacturers, hungry for cheap labor.

AT THE THEATERS

The Park and the Art theaters had their banner audiences of the year last evening. At the Park passengers by the steamer Milhelmina had engaged the entire central section of the theater for themselves and their friends for the first program of the evening—and there were about twenty more of them than there were seats. Townspeople crowded into the other sections of the house, the aisles, the side walks and doorways until the place was packed almost to the point of suffocation. The sale of tickets stopped entirely early in the evening, after which people stood by the score and hundreds on the streets awaiting a chance to get into the play house. The Denmore sisters and Thompson were received with uproarious applause, and were showered with leis by the Wilhelmina passengers, as they stood in front of the Wilhelmina's big flag which had been draped across the stage.

The new trio at the Park made an immense hit for the first evening and their season promises to be most successful.

The Art theater was jammed to the doors and outside of the doors. Many, many people were turned away in the earlier part of the evening, there not being even standing room.

LIQUOR BOARD SESSION

The Liquor Commission sat yesterday afternoon, granting licenses and denying licenses as follows:

Wholesale Licenses Granted.

- Hoffschlaeger & Co. Kwong Chong Lung. Hop Heng. S. Azaki. Lovejoy & Co. Macfarlane & Co., Ltd. Gonsalves & Co. Saloon Licenses Granted. Conrad Bollman, Royal Annex Saloon.

- Frank Harvey, Kiloana Saloon. W. C. Bergin, Waikiki Inn. Dick Sullivan, Pacific Saloon. Alexander Young Hotel. Moana Hotel. Seaside Hotel. F. Johnson, Honolulu. Murioka, Waimanalo. Jos Medeiros, Waiakua. Jack Roberts, Kentucky Saloon. Prost Saloon. Aala Saloon. Y. Kimura.

Saloon Licenses Denied.

- Lishman & Day, Old Corner Saloon. Ichiki, between Aiea and Pearl City. Nekemoto, Aiea. Nakamura, Kahuku. K. Ono, Panzai Saloon.

The question of a renewal of Sunday privileges came up through the applications of Alexander Young, the Seaside Hotel and the Waikiki Inn, and the board, while granting all three licenses, went on record as being unalterably opposed to any Sunday business.

Only five applications were denied, though the applications of the wholesalers were granted only on condition that the license holders write letters to the board promising to carry out the new policy of the board as regards compounds, imitations and small selling.

Hoffschlaeger & Co., whose license was refused at the meeting last week, was granted a rehearing.

SWEDEN TO EXPEL MORMANS.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 2.—A movement is on foot to expel the Mormon missionaries who have been conducting a highly successful campaign in Sweden and who by their efforts have largely assisted in swelling the emigration which is in progress on a large scale.

Martinette and Grossi made a very favorable impression in their musical stunts, but the hit of the evening was made by Nada Moret in her Scotch costume specialties.

Some of the theatrical managers are discussing the necessity of advancing the prices a little on Saturday evenings, especially in seasons like the present one when expensive extra features are being put on. This it is stated, may be made necessary by a large element of the public who persist in sitting the whole evening out, seeing the same features over and over again. It is surprising how large a number of people do that, particularly on Saturday evening when they have little else to do. One manager figures his loss last Saturday night on this account as $100, and another at about the same.

AN ENLARGED SITE.

It is astonishing to hear any word of disapproval of the enlargement of the Federal building site, for which Delegate Kalaniana'ole appears to have found the money from Congress. With the acquisition of the whole block in which it is situated, the only practical objections to that location of the Federal building are removed. If only a building in keeping with the prominence it will have from the additional open space, and with the dignity of the national government which is at stake, be erected the whole aspect of the business center will be immensely improved in appearance. The building would then be among the first distinguished objects to greet the eye of the stranger on any route from the waterfront to the chief hotel and shopping quarter. Possibly some interests of present owners of adjacent property will be more or less disarranged at the outset, but everything would be readjusted before very long, with betterment of the retail section as a whole. The interposition of a whole block devoted to public business will tend to make the retail section develop more symmetrically than it has been doing. There will be a fairer proportion of breadth to length, a more compact effect without undue crowding.

It was a surprise to the management of the Honolulu Iron Works to be informed by the Hilo Enterprise, a Philippine newspaper quoted in yesterday's commercial department, that an agreement had been made by that establishment with the hacenderos of San Carlos, in the Philippine Islands, "to install a central, put in the railroads, mill the cane and do everything for preparing the sugar for the market, and take forty-five per cent of the product." Manager Hedemann states that while different propositions have been made to them to build sugar mills for the Philippines, no such scheme of profit-sharing as that mentioned by the Hilo paper has ever been offered or entertained.

Allioli College, started a few years ago in a cottage, has now quite arrived as a respectable acquisition to Honolulu's fine array of public and private schools. It appears to supply a distinct want for its neighborhood, besides aiding to solve the problem of school congestion for the city.

Earthquakes do not seem to fill the cistern of woes for Italy. Every now and then a crater of political discontent is discovered about to erupt. Italy is bearing a tremendous burden to maintain her place among the European war powers.

Governor Hughes is determined to land a primary law before he retires from politics to the national judiciary. If he succeeds it will depend on the people of New York state whether the institution shall be a monument in his praise or otherwise. In some states the direct primary seems to have worked with satisfactory results, while in others it has been nothing but an expensive farce owing to its being ignored by a majority of the voters.

Ohio has been regarded as an incubator of Presidents, but the mayor of Akron would have it the coop of pugilists. Probably, however, he is only a pin-headed aspirant for notoriety, with his offer of one hundred thousand dollars for the slugging match that is too tough for California.

The city of Augusta, Ga., took action recently which both illustrated Southern hospitality and revealed appreciation of the promotion value of a visit to them of the nation's chief executive. At a meeting of all the commercial bodies of the city, resolutions offered by the mayor were unanimously adopted, which said that "Augusta, Ga., the winter home of President Taft, stands indignant and mortified at the action of certain Democratic Congressmen in defeating by technical objection the proposition to make retroactive, so as to cover all the expenses of his last Southern trip, the appropriation of $25,000 for the President's traveling expenses." It was further resolved to tender to the Government of the United States the $5000 necessary to meet the deficiency of the President's recent continental trip, "which did so much to cement the ties between the different sections and bring the nation and the nation's chief executive in closer touch and sympathy each with the other." The telegram conveying the resolution gave the President great pleasure, but he could not possibly accept the offer of the patriotic Georgians.

Honolulu lately showed that it did not consider Shakespeare a dead one. Germany exhibits a wonderful attachment toward the great English dramatist. No fewer than 27 Shakespearean plays were performed in Germany in 1909, engaging 198 theatrical companies in their performance, and 1318 representations of the works were given. "Hamlet" was at the head of the list, performed 193 times by 68 companies.

New York also has some "steamer days." In one day recently six big transatlantic steamships left that port with crowded cabins. At the latter part of May over 17,000 persons had engaged passage from that port in June. These would pay $3,000,000 for first-class tickets on board 58 steamships. The amount these travelers alone will spend in Europe is estimated at $12,000,000.

BUILDING DUNGEONS

Building castles 'n the air has been a favorite pastime with mankind for ages. Not quite so popular is building dungeons in the air; but, nevertheless, many laboriously, if not so delightedly, build them and imprison themselves in their gloom and see neither sunshine nor blue sky. Building castles in the air is a profitable occupation if this is all one does. But, indulged in to a limited extent, it is harmless. Indeed, sometimes it is an incentive to ambition and effort. The castle we build is so alluring that we decide to make it an actuality. But building dungeons in the air is altogether profitless. They only sap energy and depress the spirit. Their gloomy shadows fill with dread and fear. They paralyze initiative. The dungeons built are of various kinds. The woman who builds dungeons begins immediately to erect one when her son starts out into the world for himself. She sees him succumbing to temptation. Bit by bit she builds her dungeon. First, he smokes; then he drinks, and so on through the catalogue of crime until she has a gray and forbidding dungeon erected in which her boy has made of his life a total wreck. Many a woman who has money to invest builds herself a dungeon in regard to it. If she puts it into a house and rents the house, the tenants will batter it to bits. If she puts it into a bank, the president will run off to some taraway country and the bank will fail. If she invests it in stocks, she will be cheated. If she takes a farm mortgage, crops will fail. She builds a regular skyscraper, and wherever she finally puts her money, if only in her stocking, her days are overcast with the gloom of the dungeon she has erected and knows brightness no more.

Uncle Walt

The Poet Philosopher

The wedding day is bright and gay, the bride is blushing like a posy; the happy pair are free from care as on their honeymoon they mosey. A little while they live on smile, and glance, and whispered adoration; but honeymoon pass by as fissions, and then there comes a strained relation. The husband sighs when eating pies suggestive of some kinds of leather; he gives a whoop when tasting soup that makes his insides run together. He never thought before he brought the blooming damsel to the altar to ask if she could cook so he could eat her grub and never falter. The bride is filled with grief and chilled with dread; the skies seem dark above her; he stays away for half a day, and doesn't swear he'll always love her. Have patience, though! This phantom woe will pass away as they grow younger! The bride will bake a dazzling cake, and pies to soothe her husband's hunger! And he will learn to pause and turn, when leaving for his daily duty, and tell his wife that she's his life, his solace and his dream of beauty!

How many have a dungeon already built inspired by the question of health? Doctor's signs are all over it. Halls and rooms are filled with medicine bottles. One room is labeled "nerves." The builder can't do this, that or the other because of her nerves. Another room is given over to the woes of the stomach. This food does not agree, that must not be eaten. It is a most forbidding dungeon. There is not a gleam of brightness about it.

And so it goes. Dungeons of all kinds are being built every day by the woman given to looking on the dark side. They are dungeons in the air, but to her they are very real; and the worry of their building and their gloom when built fake the joy out of life.

LIGHT BUSINESS ON STOCK BOARD

This has been another exceptionally light day in stocks, sales being few and of small consequence. Inquiries for and about different stocks have kept up, but nothing in the way of large dealing has transpired.

Between boards 15 shares Hawaiian Commercial changed hands at $39.75, which was low water mark for the stock. On the board this morning $39.50 was bid and $39.875 asked for the stock.

Five shares Koloa sold at $155, after which there seemed to be considerable of a slump. On the board this morning $150 was bid for the stock, but none offered.

On the street 25 shares Honokaa sold at $18.75, followed by 10 on the board this morning at the same. At the close of the session $18.625 was bid and $18.875 asked for the stock.

A sale of 13 Pioneer was made at $216, at which the stock appeared to be fairly firm. This morning bidding was at only $215, but holders were demanding $217.50.

Quotations without sales were: Waiialua, $131 bid and $132 asked; Ewa, $33.625 bid and $34 asked.

PRESENT STATE OF COTTON CROP

The Crop Reporting Board of the Bureau of Statistics of the United States Department of Agriculture estimates, from the reports of the correspondents and agents of the Bureau, that the area planted to cotton this year (1910) in the United States, including that already planted and expected to be planted, is about 192.3 per cent of the area planted to cotton last year, equivalent to about 33,196,000 acres, as compared with 32,292,000 acres indicated by the bureau's revised estimate of last year's planted area, an increase of about 904,000 acres, or 2.8 per cent.

The condition of the growing crop on May 25 was 82.0 per cent of a normal condition, as compared with 81.1 per cent at the corresponding date in 1909, and 89.9 per cent, the average condition for the past ten years on May 25.

Tenney And Waldron On Federal Site News

The cablegram received by the Acting Governor today from Delegate Kuhio, which makes it appear certain that the appropriation for the enlarged Federal building site has been obtained, is variously received in the business section.

"From the tenor of the information now on hand," stated E. D. Tenney this afternoon, "I should say that the entire block containing the Mahuka site will be acquired for government purposes. I know of no way to stay it now, and do not know that I would if I could. At the same time there will probably be serious questions raised as to whether or not $350,000 will cover the values to be affected by the deal.

"As for Castle & Cooke the principal immediate interest we take in the matter is that it breaks up our plans for occupying larger quarters in the Cummings block. Workmen have been engaged there for sometime, altering the building to suit our purposes. It is too early to say what Castle & Cooke will now do, but I suppose it will be a case of remaining where we now are, at least until some other plan for permanent arrangements can be made. However, it will most likely be a year or more before the government is ready to take over the property, as plans must be drawn and other preliminaries worked out.

"The position of Hall & Son in the matter is different from ours in that they have been established in their building for a great many years. Removal to any other part of the city would result in injury to them, for some time at least."

Fred L. Waldron, president of the Merchants' Association, is not kindly disposed toward the new scheme. "The more I think of it, the more I suspect again that this is a conspiracy of the Irwin site promoters to carry their point. It is plain to anybody that $350,000 will not buy the property it is proposed to condemn. At least $500,000 will be required, and I doubt if complete settlements could be made for even that large sum. Any attempt to get the property for $350,000 would bring on endless litigation, and probably the complete frustration of the plans—the delight of the boosters of the Irwin site.

"Not speaking for the Merchants' Association, but for myself individually, I would say that I still stand by the original cablegram sent to Prince Kuhio, to urge the Mahuka site and that alone. I believe that to be the correct policy to be followed at this time, for the reason that I regard it as our only show of getting a Federal building within a reasonable time."

ANOTHER JOB FOR THE NEWSPAPERS

The matter of obtaining funds for the entertainment of the members of the National Editorial Association, due to be in Honolulu during Floral Parade week next February, has been shifted around from shoulder to shoulder until it now bids fair to land on the neck of the Honolulu editor.

The association wanted about $5,000 for the expenses of the side trip by the entire bunch to Honolulu, and had been in correspondence with the Promotion Committee. That committee thought the object a good one, so passed it on to the Merchants' Association. The latter body has just about concluded that this is an opportunity for the newspapermen of Honolulu to shine, and thinks of passing it up to the local editors.

"We want to raise at least $5,000 for the entertainment of these editors," said President Waldron, of the Merchants' Association this morning; "and I think that the newspapermen are the proper ones to do it. Of course the merchants and business community generally would put up the money, the newspapers doing their part in keeping the subscriptions booming. We have set the figure at $5,000, but a little more than that sum would not hurt. I believe that it will not be hard for the newspapers to raise the amount, if they go about it energetically."

SOCIETY NOTE.

"There was a small German at Mrs. Max Stiefer's on Wednesday."

IMMENSE VALUE OF COTTON CROP

"On all sides, he who listens hears much big talk," as Sitting Bull was wont to say about conservation this and conservation that," said Henry S. Ross, of Atlanta, to a Washington Post reporter.

"There is one great product of our country, however, which has not been coupled with the much-used words, for in talking cotton there seems to be no such word in the vocabulary. Futures, bulls, bears, pools, tissue paper, chalk marks, and what-not terms having the smack of gambling and coniving are used with many flourishes, winks and nods, and often, too, by people who would not know a single thing named if met in the public highway or on Pennsylvania avenue. And yet the conservation of the great American cotton crop is among the giant undertakings of the near future.

"Did you ever stop to think a moment about the cotton crop? It keeps our nation from being a debtor nation now, and handled as shabbily as it is, it brings more new gold into the other farm products combined. The money it brings to our shores is so great in comparison the corn crop, the wheat yield and the exportation of fat cattle look like side issues to the cotton plantation; but our people do not seem to appreciate its economical importance, and the cotton planter is left much to himself in solving the great commercial problem of handling the mightiest single item of export in the annals of all the producing world.

"All men in all walks of life are interested in marketing our cotton crop. This is true, though many do not know it to be true. If the money cotton brings to the country was returned to the South and held there for the building up of Southern institutions, then the South might be interested alone, and it would be the richest country in the world.

"Some day this may become true, but Wall Street gets this new gold made possible by the cotton farmers, and Wall Street employs it as Wall Street sees fit. Hence the commerce of the whole land is benefited, and hence the man in the mines, on the plains, the man everywhere interested in this great product being sold for the highest possible price, that the new gold brought to our shores may be as great in volume as possible.

"The value of the annual crop is around the $800,000,000 mark. Suppose that price were doubled; the surplus new gold then would pay the expenses of our Government. "Each year we could build all the Drednoughts in the world; could build the Panama Canal with one year's surplus and have enough left to buy all the gold mined in America and Africa during any twelve months. Vast areas of waste and desert land could be made to bloom like the rose of Deseret, sanitariums could be founded for wiping out the greatest enemy of our people—consumption—schools and demonstration farms and a multitude of good things could be done if we would handle our natural monopoly in a wise manner. "The price of raw cotton does not affect the price of manufactured goods over the retail counter, except in the coarser counts, therefore, why not advance the price of cotton in the hands of the farmers?"

SPORTS

BY JAMES W. W. BREWSTER.

BURNS AND LANG TO GO 15 ROUNDS TONIGHT

Providing the Marama arrives in port on time, Tommy Burns and Bill Lang will meet in the squared arena at Aloha park tonight in a 15 round go. Both of these men have met before in the ring, and to predict which one will win tonight is something that no one here is able to do. Burns has made a name for himself as a boxer, and it is safe to say that he will do all in his power to get the decision over Lang.

In all their previous bouts Burns has defeated Lang and it would not surprise some of the fans to see Lang go in and defeat Burns tonight if possible. Before the big men meet, Young Gans and Bobby Johnson will go eight rounds in a bout that promises to be exciting before the winner is announced.

Johnson has made a great name for himself on the coast, while everyone here knows what a clever man Gans is.

Jack Scully and Henry McRae are both anxious to see the Marama arrive on time, as they have gone to a big expense to assure the public seeing Burns and Lang in action.

There is a chance that Manager Macintosh may want to put on another pair in a preliminary bout, and if he does, the public will see two instead of one match before the big fellows enter the ring.

Seats are still being sold at Fitzpatrick's cigar store on Fort and Hotel streets. To avoid the rush tonight, the management ask that all those who have ordered seats, take them up during the day.

MANOA CLUB RESULTS.

The semi-final matches in the handicap tennis tournament under the auspices of the Neighborhood tennis club were reached yesterday afternoon by Nowell and Schmidt defeating Kelly and Goetz 6-2, 6-3, and Steere and Singlehurst defeating Werthmueller and Macintyre 6-2, 6-1.

The final match between the winners of yesterday, will be played tomorrow afternoon at four thirty on the club courts. Both teams are confident that they will win, and before the match is over the spectators will be treated to some fast tennis.

OUTRIGGER PLANS.

Plans for the July 4 carnival at Waikiki under the auspices of the Outrigger club are being made, and before the end of the week a definite program will be arranged.

Great interest is being taken among the members of the club in all sorts of aquatic sports, and, judging from the entries already received the next surfing contests will bring out the largest list ever entered by the boys and girls of the club.

Six paddle races are being thought of, in addition to surf board and swimming races. Charles Royal, late comedian of the McRae Company, will have charge of the vaudeville stunts that promise to be well worth the price of admission alone. Allan Herbert, the chowder expert of the club, will have full say over the culinary part of the entertainment, which is enough to guarantee a large number of people coming for the chowder alone.

Music, dancing, vaudeville, chowder and water sports will help make the day the most successful ever held by the club.

ROBERTS TO WRESTLE.

"Sailor" Roberts, champion wrestler of Hawaii, will probably accept the challenge of Iriki, the local representative of the Meiji Sugar Co. of Formosa, who is willing and anxious to meet anyone in a catch-as-catch-can match for any purse and the title of champion of Hawaii. Iriki will meet some of the Waseda baseball players in jiu jitsu matches next month, and in addition to the Japanese game, is anxious to try the American wrestling style with any one who is willing to meet him on the mat.

Roberts has not done any wrestling since his match with Dettmers, but he is confident that he can defeat the Japanese. A challenge will probably be sent to Iriki some time this week and a date and place set for the exhibition which ought to draw a large crowd.

ICEMEN WIN GAME.

A fast game of baseball between teams representing the Hawaiian Electric and the Barnhart Ice Co.

met on the Kaploani park grounds on Sunday, the vendors of frozen water easily defeating the linemen by a 9-4 score.

Both teams played good ball considering the fact that they had never played together as a team before, and before the season is over the two teams are likely to be seen in action again, as the Electricians feel confident that they can win the next game.

On the same day the dry goods men from Ehlers went down to defeat at the hands of the Diamond & Co's team 10-8 while the gold makers from Wichman's defeated the sugar vendors from Levy & Co., 9-1.

The talk of starting a commercial league is ripe at present, and before the end of the month a meeting will probably be called to elect officers and arrange a schedule of games.

EXHIBITION TENNIS.

Invitations for the house warming of the Neighborhood tennis club are out and if the weather is good next Saturday, a large number of tennis enthusiasts are expected to be on hand to see the exhibition matches that have been arranged, and to partake of the refreshments that will be provided by the ladies of the club.

Greenfield and McKeever, the two Ewa cracks, will meet Castle and Nowell in a special match, the best three out of five sets being necessary to decide the winners.

The Beretania, Pacific and Manoa Clubs will enter their best teams, while the four best lady players will be seen in a double match.

WASEDA TEAM LEAVES.

A cablegram announcing the departure of the Waseda baseball team on the Chiyo Maru yesterday from Yokohama, was received early yesterday afternoon, and with good weather the big Japanese liner should arrive in Honolulu on either Thursday or Friday of next week.

A representative committee of Japanese will go outside the harbor to meet their countrymen on a special steamer, the teams that will play the Wasedas meeting them at the Alakea wharf, and escorting them to their headquarters, the Azuma club, headed by the Hawaiian band.

According to the management of the Oahu league, every detail has been completed for the reception and entertainment of the crack aggregation of players from the Japanese University.

The opening game of the International series will be started at 1:30 sharp on July 3, the second game between All Oahu and Waseda starting at 3:30. The games on Monday, July 4, will be started at the same time, as will all the games during the series.

THE SUMMER VACATION.

Spend the summer near at home where you may be in touch with your business and in daily communication by wire with your family and friends. Haleiwa is the nearest place to the city and the best place for recuperation. The management offers reduced rates to teachers who wish to get back some of the frazzled energy that is needed for the fall campaign and a number of them have already spoken for accommodations. It is a delightful spot and everything connected with the hotel is first class.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Willimantic, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles, causing backache, irregularities, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk upstairs without stopping on the way. I tried three different doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them, but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said nothing would restore my health. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. ETTA DONOVAN, Box 200, Willimantic, Conn.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

ALIOLANI COLLEGE HOLOS COMMENCEMENT

ALIOLANI COLLEGE AS SEEN FROM THE CAMPUS.

Aliolani College, Palolo, had its commencement exercises last night, in the presence of a large gathering of parents, guardians and friends of pupils and schools. Chinese lanterns illuminated the broad front of the lately enlarged main building.

It is a fast growing boarding school for boys, in which the Kaimuki suburbs take pride. At present the teaching faculty consists of Principal Leopold G. Blackman, H. Blackman F. Cartwright and Miss Holdsworth. The resident matron is Mrs. Stone.

Among the visitors last night were Rev. John Osborne, Portuguese Consul General Canavaro, Mrs. E. W. Jordan, and many residents of the vicinity including A. F. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Seely I. Shaw, Miss Lidgate, A. F. Clark, Mr. Kallimai, Mr. and Mrs. Bell. Before the exercises some of the visitors took a look through the dormitories and were delighted with their appearance of neatness, snugness, cleanliness and comfort. The location is most healthful, having the full benefit of the Palolo valley breezes.

After the singing of a couple of Mother Goose songs by a class to piano accompaniment Principal Blackman made some remarks and introduced Prof. W. T. Brigham, who delivered a short address, mainly to the pupils. Then the prize winners were announced, Mrs. Jordan handing out the prizes. Each little man was saluted with applause as he went forward to receive a book. There was more singing by the boys and afterward orangeade and cake were served to the guests.

Principal Blackman after words of welcome explained that the play which used to be given was substituted by more simple exercises because the preparation of a play interfered too much with the school work. Since Christmas, through the generosity of Mrs. Mary E. Foster, foundress of the college, permanent buildings had been erected sufficient for all present needs and in many other ways progress had been made toward making Aliolani an efficient unit of the splendid Honolulu family of educational institutions. "Among our many well equipped establishments," he went on to say, "we believe that Aliolani has a definite destiny as a boys' boarding school, offering at moderate fees a substantial education soundly based upon the elementary branches of instruction, an education in which habits of discipline cheerful obedience to constituted authority, courtesy and loyalty are given a recognized place as adjuncts to true manhood." Mr. Blackman introduced Prof. Brigham as one at whose feet he had sat for many years and for whom he entertained a most profound affection and respect.

Prof. Brigham made the theme of a short talk the history of the Prophet Samuel as illustrating the reward of obedience. He also told about the Boston Latin School, where obedience and honor were main objects. It was started twenty years after the Pilgrims landed and had down to the present time held a leading place among American schools. The speaker emphasized the value of strict discipline, quoting the proverb, "Spare the rod, spoil the child," as "one of the best things Solomon ever said." Boys who did not learn obedience would either be dead before forty or others would wish they were dead. Prof. Brigham closed abruptly by telling the boys to heed the motto over a door of the room, "E hoo kaka"—"Be a man."

Following is the prize list:
Form Prizes—VI. (and Latin), Q. Lum; Tyau, second; VI. B. Field, ma. IV., Potter, ma. first; Williams, second. III. Chang Him. II. Willis. I (and arithmetic), Judd. Primer, Reid, min.
Arithmetic—VI. B. Lino. IV., Harrison, ma. III., Potter, ma. II., Harrison, mi. I., Yuen Yau Jan.
Special prizes: VI. Cockett. Composition, Reid, ma. V. Reid, mi. (2nd prize).

JAPANESE POLICE ARE VERY POLITE

The Japanese police, one of whose chiefs has been studying English methods at Scotland Yard with a view to improvements in his own force, was originally the most aristocratic body of the kind in the world, says the London Chronicle.

Its establishment was almost coincident with the Emperor's decree forbidding the wearing of swords. By a stroke of the imperial pen the Samurai were deprived of cherished weapons, by which the gentlemen of Japan had been accustomed from immemorial times to advertise their rank. So they went into the police, where it was still possible to carry a sword, and a very formidable weapon it was, being of the two-handed variety.

Perhaps the police twenty years ago were rather too fond of chopping a prisoner in half instead of arresting him, but they were very expert, and there was seldom any evidence to contradict their own version of the incident.

To people of their own rank and to foreigners they are polite in a degree which would seem ludicrous anywhere except in the land of honorifics. The writer remembers an incident which illustrates this trait well enough. It was at Osaka during a water festival, and the bridges were kept clear of passengers much in the same way as our own on boat race day. A rope at either end guarded by a policeman was sufficient for the purpose.

With the contempt for authority which distinguishes the Englishman abroad, two or three tourists stood on the wrong side of the rope out of the crowd so as to get a better view, but the policeman was equal to the occasion. With apologetic bows he untied one end of the rope and then fastened it again in front of the foreigners, and they had the good sense to accept the rebuke.

"GREAT ACTIVITY"

This is the rumor brought from Kilauea by persons who returned on the Mauna Loa yesterday. The lake seems to be rising and the fountains growing higher in their outbursts. The sight, even from the veranda of the hotel, is said to be wonderful and some of the visitors go to the lake twice a day, following the new road along the edge of the water.

This bit of engineering is a boon to the visitors who have found the walk up the trail from the great crater to the house rather tiresome. The new road is an easy grade and the guests have a fine clear view of the little Kilauea-iki and Kilauea.

About seventy-five tickets for the excursion leaving here at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 2, have been sold and there is room for only fifty more passengers. Those who have not visited the crater, as well as those who have, and wish to go again should secure tickets today. Twenty-five dollars is reasonable for the trip, as passengers will get back here Tuesday morning in time for business.

MOST ENJOYABLE BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very delightful party was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Ryan, at the corner of Rose and Middle streets, Kalia, Saturday afternoon in honor of the sixteenth anniversary of Miss Evelyn Strout, daughter of Edward A. Strout. The premises were beautifully decorated with American and other flags. Games were indulged in, refreshments were served and there was lots of music of various kinds.

The special guests of Miss Strout on the occasion were: Misses Bina Nieper, Clara Smith, Hazel Ridley, Sarah Todd, Gwendolyn Mossman, Stella McAllister, Camella Johnson, Murfel Francis, Kathleen Ryan, Kathleen Walker, S. Sophie Walker, Vannie Rowatt, Beatrice Sarrach, Olivia Marques and Alice Seong. Besides those there were a large number of older folk present—parents, relations or friends of the younger people in attendance.

Moore-Brabazon.

DICKENS RECITALS.

Dickens' popular novel of "A Tale of two Cities" is the book to be recited tonight at the Kiloana Art League hall at 8 o'clock by Mr. Frank Speaight. The charm of this work is the strong love story which runs through its pages. The noble and self-sacrificing character of Sydney Carter should be a delightful study in the hands of Mr. Speaight, and students of the great author will no doubt get a finer and keener insight of the many characters contained in that great novel.

VERY PRETTY PLAY

It is much to be regretted that "Merely Mary Ann" was not presented to Honolulu audiences sooner before the great exodus to all parts of the mainland and the other islands began, and when a packed house would have rewarded the efforts of the McRae Stock Company in their presentation of this wonderfully beautiful play.

Beauty in the sense of scenic display perhaps does not apply, but the exquisite finesse of Miss Hudson's acting of the star role in which Eleanor Robson gained her reputation and fame, and the excellent rendering of his art by every respective member of the company made this play one of the most attractive that Mr. McRae has yet presented to the public.

"Merely Mary Ann" was especially written by Israel Zangwill for Miss Robson and as may be imagined every line is a gem, the whole theme combining pathos and comedy with quaint naivete.

The plot deals with a little English slavee whose name is merely Mary Ann, and whose chores consist of the blacking of boots and other repulsive labor. She has a canary that she calls "Dick," that is dearer to her heart than anything else in her unlovely life until she becomes friendly with Mr. Lancelot, one of the lodgers in the boarding house where in she works, and falls in love with him.

This man, a musician and composer, wins his way to her innocent heart and is about to elope with her when the news arrives of her inheritance of a vast fortune. This settles it, as far as Lancelot goes, and he leaves the house.

Some years later he meets Mary Ann now called Marion in the drawing room at Vine Hall, the palatial home of Lady Chalmers, of whom she has become the ward, and he instantly proposes marriage.

But the yellow satin gown trimmed with real lace influences her to shake her head in a flat refusal. Then suddenly she disappears and, returning in a cheek apron such as she was wont to don in the old days, rushes to him and the curtain falls.

Last night Miss Hudson's acting was further evidence of this talented woman's remarkable versatility, the character of the little slavee being perfectly sustained, with laughter continually dispelling tears. Honolulu will long remember Miss Hudson with aloha as one of the cleverest actresses ever having visited this city.

George Webb was unusually handsome and attractive as Mr. Lancelot and his love making was remarkably tender. Mr. Webb has a great future in store for him. Mr. Peter his friend was well portrayed by Griffith

Wray, who has won a warm place in the hearts of the people here.

Herr Graftson, a German, was the part portrayed by Louis Morrison, who is a great artist. In every role Mr. Morrison has reached the summit of perfection, leaving nothing to be desired. As a German his dialect was perfect.

James Dillon did perhaps the best work he has yet done here as Rev. Samuel Smedge, a country vicar, and Ivan Miller did his "hit" very naturally. Frank Howe, as a medical student, did a very clever bit of acting in the first scene, and Sherman Bainbridge won more laurels in his portrayal of Lord Valentine Foxwell. His makeup was excellent and his impersonation of the golden youth, was not in any way overdone. No great actor could have justified the character any better than Mr. Bainbridge did last evening.

Popular Miss Louise Melrose as Mrs. Leadbetter, the lodging house keeper, made a splendid cockney, her accent being very humorous and the lines of comedy well managed. Miss Melrose will be greatly missed by all of our city's theater goers.

Miss Lotta Brownson looked very handsome as Lady Chalmers in rose colored satin and played the part exceedingly well.

Miss Kenny in the double role of Rosie and the Countess of Foxwell displayed great talent and versatility.
