HAYNE ARRESTED FOR BIG SWINDLE

Once Famous in Hawaii, Charged with Embezzlement of $11,000 by the Hawaiian Government.

D. Hallen, most charming personality. He has traveled all over the world, speaks several modern languages, has been nobbled with royalty, has practised at the bar, knows something of medicine, has filled an editorial chair with ability, and throughout his life has been an industrious student of men, books and affairs. Hayne is the type of the intellectual, gentlemanly criminal who bears neither the earmarks nor other markings so predominant in the criminals of Lombroso and Dr. Fleury. Hayne, while in Sing Sing prison, was a tutor of young thieves and forgers. No one knows Hallan's real name. He was born at Addison, N. Y., and being orphaned at an early age, was adopted by a lawyer of Steuben County, whose name he took and still bears. His protector dying, Hallan married his widow and took up his practice. Subsequently he moved to New York. While practising at the New York bar in the firm of which Col. Campbell (disbarred) of Cincinnati, was the head, Hallan defaulted in 1884 in the matter of a trust fund amounting to $27,000. The affair included forgery. He left New York, visiting most of the earth and interrupting his forgeries here and there to marry a woman of fortune.

HONOBLED WITH ROYALTY.
In 1893 Hayne, alias Hallan, turned up at Honolulu, Hawaii, as a practicing lawyer. He soon met some of the leading citizens. These gentlemen wrote to the States about him and, learning his record, dropped him. However, he borrowed money from more than one of them. He left Honolulu in 1894, but in 1896 he returned to Hawaii with a bride and plenty of money. On this trip he published a royalist magazine, was prosecuted for libel, and made finished and forceful address in courts and elsewhere. He wrote ably and with a venom that was a bit too apparent. He became a friend of the then royal family and the agent of the late Queen Liliuokalani.

The treatment of his wife at this period was characteristic. He squandered her money until a grown son of the woman by a former marriage induced her to return to the States. In California Hayne became a fugitive by absconding with securities that constituted the remainder of the wife's fortune.

MADAM ARRAL A FINE ARTISTE

Singing at the Opera House Which Had Too Few Listeners.

It has been a long time since a Honolulu audience has had the pleasure of hearing an artiste possessing the gifts of Madame Arral. Had we more of such opportunities, thus giving us grounds for comparison, we would better appreciate such vocalists and not greet them with so small and cold an audience as Madame Arral faced last evening. Not until her last number did her auditors seem to realize the difficulty of her work so easily and gracefully performed.

This day—of music dramas rather than bona fide operas—it is comparatively seldom that we hear coloratura soprano of the old school who keep alive the tuneful, elaborate works of Meyerbeer, the Verdi of early years; Rossini and others. As long as we have Melbas, Smyrns, Tetrazzini, and a Madame Arral these old works of the past will be ever welcome. We are, therefore, most grateful to the artiste of last evening. She has a range of great scope, which is most unusual in the upper register, her high C being clear, powerful and resonant. It is a typical French voice—the middle register being rather nasal and the lowest notes inclined to roughness. This, of course, causes some laxness in tone-placing, but she makes us forget all else when she sings her high tones—so brilliant, clear and true.

The first aria was the well-known "Pages" from the "Huguenots," and was sung with great power and vim. As an encore a dainty little old-fashioned song, "Sing, Sweet Bird," was used.

The "Jewel Song," from "Faust," sung in costume, was one of the most delightful interpretations of the evening. In this Madame Arral displays her ability and charm as an actress, thus making the number doubly interesting. Being most generous with her encores, she sang next the old favorite of Gounod's, "Sing—Smile—Slumber."

The ever popular "Habanera," from "Carmen," was interpreted in a fetching Spanish costume with all the graces and abandonment of our ideal Carmen.

Madame Arral's last aria was the famous one from "La Traviata," "Ah fors e lui." Anyone at all familiar with this realizes its abundance of the most difficult runs, trills and cadenzas. In this number Madame Arral showed at its best the remarkable flexibility of her voice. Her high C, and even D, rang out true, clear and powerful, emphasizing her most unusual control. Her program closed with an encore, "The Waltz of the Birds," composed

GUY OWENS KILLED BY A LIVE WIRE

Heavy Current Passes Through His Body—Death Was Instantaneous.

Guy Owens, one of the best-known electricians in the city, was killed last night shortly after 8 o'clock by an electric shock received in attempting to disconnect the current of the Hawaiian Electric system from the Kamehameha Schools system. He had climbed a pole near the school tool-shed for this purpose, though he had been told not to do it, and when he did not return those associated with him in the work going on went out to see what was the matter and found his lifeless body resting on the cross-bar of the pole, in an attitude as though he might have been at work.

Until very lately the school buildings of the Kamehameha Schools have been supplied with electric light by the Hawaiian Electric Company. Recently the school has inaugurated an electric plant of its own operated by gasoline engine. The complete installation was made only a day or two ago. Owens was in charge of the electric installation for Frank Richardson, the contractor. It was stated last night that the Hawaiian Electric Company's connection had been cut when the school plant was started up. But yesterday afternoon there was some difficulty with the school plant or its engine, and in order to have light to work with at night Owens had, during the day and while the current was turned off, reconnected the Hawaiian Company's system. This furnished light during the early period of the evening while the school system was still out of commission.

At eight o'clock last night or a little later the trouble with the school system was remedied and its own current was turned on, rendering the connection with the Hawaiian Electric system unnecessary. Thereupon Owens started to Mr. Gill, the chief electrician of the school system, that he would disconnect from the Hawaiian Electric system, as otherwise the meter would show a consumption of current for which the school would have to pay. Mr. Gill replied that he had better not, as neither the determination to disconnect nor the suggestion that he had better not, seems to have been positive.

However, Owens went out of the building and a few minutes later, as he did not return, A. Lota, a Kamehameha student who has been working on the electric installation under Owens, picked up a lantern and went out to see what he was doing, it being dark outside the building. He went in the direction of the pole where the Hawaiian Electric connects, a distance of thirty or forty feet. A small electric light on the pole was burning, showing Owens apparently astride or seated on the wooden cross-bar, with arms and hands slightly higher than his body, resting on wires. Although he might be at work. Lota calls two or three times, but getting no response he rushed back into the building and told those there what he had seen and feared. Frank Richardson, Chief Electrician, Gill, Clifford Thompson and several of the Kamehameha boys at once hastened out. Richardson, when he saw the situation, went at once to a telephone and directed the Hawaiian Electric to cut off the current from that circuit, which was done. The body was then lowered by means of a rope and taken into the building, and the coroner was notified. Meanwhile, Dr. C. B. Cooper had been summoned and arrived quickly. Life, however, was extinct. Death had probably been instantaneous. The only outward sign of violence was a burned spot in the palm of the right hand at the base of the thumb, and a mark across the left forearm.

The body was laid on the floor, the arms composed over the breast, and a sheet was thrown over it. When Deputy Sheriff Jarrett arrived he summoned a jury, who viewed the body, and adjourned until 7 o'clock tonight, when the inquest will be held. Dr. McDonald was notified and a post mortem will be held.

Guy Owens was about thirty-five years of age and had lived in the islands about ten years. His mother and sister, who had also lived here for a short time, were victims of the Iroquois Theater disaster in Chicago, New Year's Day, 1904. Owens two or three years ago had a narrow escape in an automobile accident, his automobile going over the wall on the side of Liliha street, near Kings, and falling eight or ten feet. The young man originated and largely carried through the securing of the Standard Telephone franchise. He incorporated the Owens Electric Construction Company and had long been identified with electrical construction in Honolulu.

In August, 1903, he married Miss Jennie Murray, who survives him. At the time of his mother's death it was said that her surviving children besides Guy Owens were Mrs. J. W. King, Los Angeles, Miss Ivy Owens, Los Angeles, and Roy Owens, Los Angeles.

TWO DAYS BEFORE THE BIG REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Correspondent Walker, Who Was There, Tells of the Scenes and Incidents That Preceded Taft's Victory.

By Ernest G. Walker.
(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

CHICAGO, June 15.—The last four-year convention—the one that nominates Presidents—is in the midst of its session. Its great work is already done. The delegates have come from forty-six States and half a dozen territories. The mighty throng has come with them. Chicago is throbbing with the excitement of the convention. The program, that will mark the starting of the campaign, is almost as good as executed. Every step, since the delegates arrived, has been punctuated with shouting and hurrahing, and with those evidences of interest which are expected of thousands of full-blooded men who come to a national convention.

but the interrogation mark may be swept aside any moment. As a matter of fact the interest for several days has centered in that interrogation mark. One morning the swirling, whirling thousands in the hotel lobbies and in the streets, the conversation loving Republican throngs, have had one name on their lips. By night, however, it has been another name. Advancing and receding in their Vice Presidential suggestions, the delegates and the leaders have been hesitating, groping, seeking, and then, in the morning, the name has been again on their lips. It has been gone for a moment, but it has been gone for good. The name has been gone for good. The name has been gone for good. The name has been gone for good. The name has been gone for good.

FOR A MILITIA ENROLMENT BILL

Tax Commission Proposes a Military Service Roll.

One of the most interesting features of the report of the Tax Commission is the recommendation that the several assessors in their respective taxation districts shall be required to report once a year, and oftener if required by the Governor, a roll containing the names of all persons subject to military duty. The roll shall state the name, residence age and occupation of each of the persons named and also the previous or existing military service of each person.

The bill drafted by the commission to carry out this recommendation also provides, that, if the Governor direct, such enrolment shall show further, separately the names of all seafaring men of whatever calling or occupation; the names of all men engaged in the construction and management of ships and crafts, together with the names of all shipowners and their employees, yachtowners, members of yacht clubs, and all other associations for aquatic pursuits. This would doubtless include the Outrigger Club.

The bill provides that the assessor is to receive $5 for each one hundred names enrolled. Each person enrolled is to be notified by the assessor and if he claims exemption he has fifteen days within which to file his claim of exemption with the assessor.

The commission in its report says that measures of this kind have been passed in a good many States, in some states the laws going into much minute detail than has been considered necessary at this time here. The commission especially desires that such a measure be passed here.

THE MAN FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Second Talk to Honolulu Men at Pythian Hall Last Night.

That happy giant evangelist from Africa, Rev. David Russell, made his second address to Honolulu men at the Knights of Pythias Hall last evening and had a most attentive audience. This traveler, as big and as graceful mentally as he is physically, has decidedly taken hold of men here, and it is to be regretted that his mission is to be so brief. He is a picturesque and interesting figure. Born in Scotland, Mr. Russell has spent the greater portion of his life in the land of Cecil Rhodes and Paul Kruger, both of whom he knew intimately, in the land of Stanley and Livingstone and Gordon and Roberts, and many others of the strongheart type.

Mr. Russell is in Honolulu under engagement by the Y. M. C. A. particularly to speak to men. This arrangement is strictly in line with the policy and operation of the Association all over the world. Its field is wherever there are men, and when it finds a splendid, big individual like Mr. Russell, who has a genius for talking to men the gospel of the great organization, it secures that man and sets him at work. Thus Honolulu has Mr. Russell for a few days.

The address last evening was preceded by music under the direction of Mr. Stanley Livingston. The Kamehameha boys sang and there was almost applause. The speaker read from the Scriptures the account of the call upon the Savior by the delegation composed of the representatives of the three first sections or divisions of society in Palestine during the period of the Messiah. The actual text was based upon the reply of Jesus to the commoner who inquired concerning the greatest commandment and received the reply concerning loyalty in love of God and service in love of neighbor. Mr. Russell most vividly and effectively, and with an eloquence which displayed to the full the charms of his magnificent voice and his pleasing manner or presence, impressed upon his hearers their duty to the Creator and to their fellow men. That there was response was evidenced in several ways. Dozens of men pressed forward to meet Mr. Russell at the close of the service, and there was a quiet and earnest request on the part of many for the remarkable "Covenant Card" which the visitor has introduced here.

So far the evangelistic meetings have been a success. The concluding one of the series will be held this evening. Heretofore admission has been by ticket. Tonight tickets will not be required and all men are cordially invited.

At noon today Mr. Russell will be the guest of honor at the Commercial Club and will speak on "South Africa." At the Knights of Pythias Hall, tomorrow evening, Mr. Russell will give his illustrated lecture, "From Zulu to the Cape." Mr. Russell is making a tour of the world. He started from Natal. Next he visits China and Japan, then to Australia, thence back to South Africa. He will carry away with him from Honolulu, beside the earnest admiration and love of many men, a number of lantern slides to be used hereafter when he may have occasion to speak publicly of his visit to the islands, for which he sacrificed ten days of his time by waiting at Vancouver.

A BROKEN DOWN SYSTEM.

This is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (for they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same; the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is INCREASED VITALITY—VIGOR—VITAL STRENGTH AND ENERGY to prove that as night succeeds the day this may throw off these morbid feelings, and experience be more certainly secured by a course of the celebrated Life-reviving tonic.

This wonderful medicament is purely vegetable and innocuous in taste—suitable for all constitutions and conditions, in either sex; and it is difficult to imagine a case of disease or derangement, whose main features are those of debility, that will not be speedily and permanently benefited by this never-failing recuperative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion everything that had preceded it for this widespread and numerous class of human ailments.

READYING FOR THE BIG FLEET

The executive committee of the fleet entertainment and reception committee had a live meeting yesterday afternoon.

The request of the entertainment committee for $250 for Kapena Falls was withdrawn.

A petition signed by fourteen business men protesting against the erection of a public comfort station on Bethel street was read and referred to the committee at large.

It was reported that the sports program would be ready today.

A motion that the Governor be approached relative to a public holiday on July 16 was lost.

The date of the Press dinner to be given by the Commercial Club was changed from July 22 to July 18.

The committee meets at 1:50 p. m. today in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE.
The entertainment committee met yesterday morning.

Commencement of work on the walk and bridge to connect the Moana and Seaside hotels was reported.

The committee were authorized to provide the best available music for the fleet ball and to get plenty of it. The Hawaiian band will be increased in force during the stay of the fleet, the entertainment committee bearing the expense.

The following resolution was passed: "That invitations to the reception and ball be limited to the Governor and the Secretary of the Territory, resident and retired Army and Navy officers, the correspondents accompanying the fleet and the local newspapers."

Three invitations to the fleet ball will be issued to each of the numerous daily newspapers of Honolulu.

The commanders and officers of the fleet will be invited in a general way immediately after the fleet's arrival, and as soon as possible person invitations will be set them.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"That the uniformed men of the fleet be allowed to pay full fare if free transportation cannot be given by the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co., and that the chairman take up this matter with the executive committee, giving their views."

The next meeting of the committee will take place tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock in the office of Fred L. Waldron.

SHERIFF FEARS HIS JACKERS' COLD FEET

Sheriff Haukea is enquiring for the whereabouts of the ones who appear so anxious a short time ago that he should "enforce the law." His department has been at work at this enforcement now for some time and has matters about in hand for the enforcement against the "higher ups," the ones who receive the rents from the houses of ill-fame and the owners of the properties so used, the ones at the starting point of the evil.

The Sheriff appears to be of the opinion that the ones who began the agitation, Rev. E. W. Thwing and Theodore Richards, in particular, have sidestepped now that the course of the prosecution has been directed more against the property holders, the "higher ups," than against the unfortunate denizens of the slums.

JULIAN D. HAYNE

He then traveled in America as Julian D. Hayne, and as the advocate of the dethroned Queen Liliuokalani. In this guise he appeared at Melbourne, Fla., where he met among other guests, the widow of Jesse Brush, a banker of Osage, Ia., and married her.

Hayne and his bride returned to Osage, where a swell reception was given them at the Merchants' Hotel.

It was not long before the rich wife of Hallan learned his true character. Meantime Hallan had obtained her fortune by forgeries said to embrace the counterfeiting of a seal, making the crime its most serious form.

RELATIVES CHECK HIS GAME.

The story of his obtaining the woman's money was sensational. He had so ingratiated himself with his wife that she deeded to him all her real estate in Osage. This he quickly turned into money and then obtaining her consent to his withdrawal of her stock and securities in the Osage National Bank, he visited Osage for the purpose of obtaining the money. Avery Brush, president of the bank, refused to give the money up, and proceedings were threatened by friends of Mrs. Hallan, or Hayne, as she was known, to have a guardian appointed for her. Relatives interfered, the scandal was hushed and Hayne fled under an indictment for forgery.

The next heard of Hayne was as "John D. Hallen, Attorney, New York City." In 1899 he was charged with swindling a woman client out of $16,000, and there was a bigamy indictment behind the other charge. During the trial of the case in New York before Judge McMahon, Willard L. Eaton and the late widow of Hallan, from Osage, Ia., came to this city to assist in the identification. At the trial Hallan denied that he ever met the woman and attempted to make out that it was a case of mistaken identity was sentenced to serve eight years and four months in State Prison by Judge McMahon.

Released from prison in 1905, it was expected that Hayne, alias Hallan, would be returned to Iowa, where he was still under indictment for forgery.

IOWA CASE WAS DROPPED.

The Brush family at Osage had supposed from coming to their attention that William conclusion of his sentence in Sing Sing Hallan would be turned over to the Iowa authorities and that the State would prosecute. They afterward learned that this was not the case, and unless a large amount of bonds were put up to cover the cost of prosecution and incidental expenses of transferring Hallan to Iowa, he would be released, and so the Brushes did not feel like going to the large expense. In 1907 Hallan had found a new field and settled in an apartment on the upper west side. It was then that he changed his name from John to James. Later he has been living at No. 50 Morningside avenue. Hallan became an employe of a local detective agency and made his first trip to Nicaragua as a "shadow," following a Revolutionist from New York to St. Thomas. There he became acquainted with political conditions in Nicaragua, and during the past winter made a contract to ship 1,100,000 cartridges to Greytown. Hallan shipped 11,000 boxes, but instead of having them filled he had them put in shavings of wood. The 11,000 boxes were shipped a few days later, it is reported, and collected $11,000. An investigation was made by Washington authorities. Mr. Jerome was appointed by the State to investigate. He was put on the case Tuesday and took him to his office and late in the afternoon he had a conference with the Attorney General, who had been in the Produce Exchange when arrested said he had seen Hallan, said yesterday that he had a charge of jarcen against him. CONFIDENT OF THE RESULT

AN DIEGO, June 18.—The Lady Maud, owned by the Kyle family and the pride of the San Diego yachtsmen, will sail out of the local harbor on the afternoon of Saturday, June 27, with the entire population of San Diego on board. The Lady Maud will be the fastest of the local harbor on the afternoon of Saturday, June 27, with the entire population of San Diego on board. The Lady Maud will be the fastest of the local harbor on the afternoon of Saturday, June 27, with the entire population of San Diego on board.

Extra pains is being taken to prepare the trim craft for the race and as a precaution against accidents extra and specially constructed sails will be taken on the trip. A special dip topsail has been constructed and a new spinnaker boom is to be put in place.

Members of the Kyle family, especially John and Wilbur, are sanguine that the Lady Maud will give a good account of herself and they are confident of second place. Also they say they have an excellent chance to beat the Hawaiian, which was built especially for racing, while the Maud was built for pleasure cruising.

"We are going to do our best to win the big race," said John Kyle yesterday. "There is no doubt but what we can win from the Lurline, and it depends on the wind and the condition of things in our favor in the race with the Hawaii. We will surely win from the Hawaiian boat if we do not meet with an accident, or if we are favored by conditions."

The Lady Maud will be sailed in the race by Captain Tom Harris, a veteran navigator and Wilbur Kyle will captain the crew, which is to be composed of the best yachtsmen on the San Diego harbor. That the Lady Maud will acquire herself with credit to her owners and to San Diego in general there is no doubt. The boat is being overhauled in every department and will carry a draught of 81-2 feet of water. She is 691-2 feet in length over all and carries a water line of 55 feet. Her beam is 181-2 feet.

When the yacht leaves the quarters of the San Diego Yacht Club on the afternoon of June 27 she will take on crew and passengers: Captain Harris, John Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daniels, Miss Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Ledger, Commodore James Jessop, Herbert Bowles, Judge G. Bowles and Eddie Jackson. The trip to San Pedro will be made leisurely and the boat will arrive there either on the evening of June 28 or the morning of June 29.

Roberts has kept himself in good trim since he defeated Luka and this is the first match that he has been able to secure. He is apt to have his hands full but will have the advantage of going on the mat fresh, whereas the Jap will have been here several struggles a short time previously.

TUG-OF-WAR TEAMS ENTERED

Alohas, captain, Harry Klenme. Japanese, captain, I. Onouye. Honolulu, captain, Ed. Hopkins. Hawaii, captain, C. Coster. Portuguese, captain, J. Luiz.

All the teams have entered and have commenced training. The date of the first round contest will be announced tomorrow.

SIX GOOD MATCHES ON

Everything is going along well in connection with the boxing carnival to be held on Friday and Saturday nights at the Aloha Athletic Club.

Work on the arena has practically been finished and the ring will be constructed today or tomorrow.

The hall will be found to be airy and commodious and the bouts can be viewed to advantage from any seat in the house.

The cards for the two nights are as follows:

FRIDAY.

Four rounds—Kid Borges vs. Tommy Lane. Six rounds—Oakley vs. Richardson. Ten rounds—Kahaulio vs. Platt.

SATURDAY.

Four rounds—Castro vs. McCullough. Six rounds—Kupa vs. Peter Stanley. Ten rounds—Sailor Morch vs. Kid Crawford. Mike Patton will referee all the bouts.

The boxing will start at 8:30 p. m., and the sale of tickets will commence tomorrow in a downtown store.

The principals in the various bouts are working hard for all are anxious to make a good showing with the idea of winning more matches during the series.

SECOND SERIES IS DEFERRED

At a meeting of the Honolulu Baseball League of the Honolulu Baseball League in the office yesterday afternoon the following were present: Messrs. These present: Motta, Wise, On, Fernandez, Van-to the Diamond Head, Jess Woods handle a series of giving them to Reach team and the latter on the return of the Reachers, on from the Orient. Jess Woods, advance agent of the Reachers, will pass through here en route to Far East on Monday next.

The Jewels passed the matter to the league but the latter did not agree to 'Woods' terms and decided to accept thirty per cent. of the gross receipts to be divided as the trustees see fit.

The proposition will be placed before Woods on his arrival. It was decided to postpone the second series of senior league games till after the departure of the Santa Clara and Kelo University nines. This action will give the town big league baseball till well along into the winter.

SHORT BOUTS ARE LIVELY

There is this to be said in favor of limited round boxing contests: The spectators are always assured of fast work, no matter who the contestants may be.

The long drawn out fights may be pie for some, but for quick action and fast work the short route bouts are the candy.

In a ten-round battle the fighters know they cannot loaf and the result is that very often there will be more real fighting in five or six rounds than there is in an entire twenty-five round battle in some other locality.

The boys are trained to go at top speed in the limited round matches, while in the distance bouts they take their time and rest up when occasion demands.

For a championship contest, of course, long bouts are preferable, as they give the contestants a chance to win decisively, but for good snappy work the short ones are the best.

THE NINE FOR MAUI.

The Diamond Head baseball team which goes to Maui on Friday to play a game with the Maui Athletic Association's nine, will be as follows: H. Williams, c; A. P. R. Crook, 1b; J. Thompson, 2b; G. Park, 3b; S. Chillingworth, 4b; J. Worth, rf; R. Chillingworth, lf; J. Jones, cf.

Short and Sweet

Joe Enos is willing to box a preliminary, at 140 pounds.

It is said that the silver cup to be awarded the most finished roofer at the Newspaper Baseball League games will be presented to Mrs. Eleanor Langton.

The Newspaper Baseball League receive ten per cent. of the net receipts as their share of the proceeds of Saturday's baseball. A picked team from the press league will play a game with a picked team from the Riverside Baseball League at 2 p. m.

Jim Quinn will make the excursion to Hilo on Friday, and will take his big Peerless car with him.

The Honolulu Baseball League have accepted President Isenberg's offer of a cup. The trophy will go to the team having the best batting, fielding and baserunning averages at the end of the season.

During the visit of the Santa Clara and Kelo teams, two games will be played every Saturday and two games every Sunday.

The Santa Claras leave San Francisco for Honolulu today.

"Doc" Monsarrat, the champion heavyweight roofer of the Territory and manager of the Colts, left for Hawaii by the steamer Mauna Kea yesterday.

The regular weekly shoot of the Hawaii Gun Club will be held at the Kakaako traps this afternoon.

A golf tournament played at Haleiwa last Sunday resulted as follows: C. E. Copeland, 76; Dr. H. Wood, 81; St. C. Bidgood, 83; J. S. Orme, 86; A. S. Mahaulu, 88; H. Johnson, 90; J. Little, 88; A. E. M. Todd, 90.

Entries for the dog show close in a week or ten days. They are coming in most satisfactorily.

Eddie Fernandez now heads the big league batting list.

WALTER G. SMITH EDITOR WEDNESDAY JULY 1

HAYNE AND HIS CAREER.

Julian D. Hayne might have been a respected and even distinguished man but for the sinister twist in his conscience which made him prefer the wrong act to the right one.

A slight thing, a transient and untruthful boast, turned the eye of suspicion upon him. He claimed to have written the then popular opera—this was fifteen years ago—"The Isle of Champagne."

In revenge he turned on his whilom friends in the easiest way then possible, by becoming an active foe of the "missionaries" and of the Provisional government, a disturber of the peace on the side of the restorationists, the editor of a magazine which inspired race hatreds and sedition.

Hayne served his term in Sing Sing, where he was editor of the Star of Hope and a teacher of young convicts. With credits he was able to reduce the period of confinement to seven years and a few months.

Should it be reform and a brave fight then? Should he profit by his errors and use them as stepping stones to better things? Not he. The curious yellow streak in the man asserted itself, and, with his face scarcely free of the prison pallor, we find him at his old tricks, plotting crimes.

There is no use in trying to reform such a man as Hayne. His nature is criminal; and as well might one seek to change the spots of the leopard or the skin of the Ethiopian as to make this chevalier d'industrie honest.

"HONEST MONEY."

Editor Advertiser.—With much interest and pleasure I read the advertiser's report of Secretary Garfield's speech at Aala Park, but when I came to his reference to "honest money" and "dishonest money," I was disappointed.

Secretary Garfield ought to be wise enough to know, and patriotic enough to say, that any money which our government issues and guarantees is good money and honest money, and that it is treason to intimate anything to the contrary.

And yet some millions of Americans believe in a basis for the currency which other millions of Americans, a voting majority, as the record shows, hold to be dishonest. The argument is that currency, to be honest, should be redeemable in gold of the intrinsic value of the sum stamped on whatever medium of exchange, silver or paper, nickel or copper, may be used for convenience, take in place of it.

Money issued by any government is of no more worth, unless redeemable in something of stable and accepted value, than is the note of a rich man which contains no acknowledgment of indebtedness or no promise to pay.

The old Greenback party, the Populists and the 1896 Bryanites were, no doubt, honest in their views; but they had secured what they were after, the American people, themselves included, would have suffered disaster from which recovery would be slow.

A milk ticket that pretends to be milk, is a fraud. A car ticket that pretends to be a ride, is a humbug. An undredeemable dollar that pretends to be worth more than its intrinsic value, which may be five cents, is a swindle.

The financial situation of Japan may be seen at a glance with income a table prepared by the Bulletin Economique of Paris. The per cent of the Mikado's empire is but $31, while that of the United States is $72, of England $186, that of France $161, Germany $147, Austria $120, the United States is 3, Germany 8, England 9, France 12, and Italy 20 each.

Poor Guy Owens! He was just beginning to be shocked last night, when a stroke came that laid him low. His death by apoplexy came of a sudden and excited the deepest sympathy wherever it was known.

The man or woman who started a publicity which is sure to follow, had gone down, will, if discovered, deserve his or her fate.

It must be a satisfaction to Mayor of Greater New York, to know that he really was saving the sewer funds.

(Continued from Page One.) especially for her, which was a most difficult, unique and charming bit of melody. The management was most fortunate in securing the assistance of Miss Margaret Clarke, as accompanist, for she bore out most emphatically her reputation as a sympathetic and strong player. It is always a delight to hear her firm, musical touch. Mr. Carlos Caceres rendered most skillfully and with good taste a number of piano solos. These were well chosen and showed a surprising degree of versatility. Two flute obligatos were played by Mr. C. S. Desky in a perfectly satisfactory manner.

POLICING THE SAILORS.

The Chief of Staff of Admiral Sperry has written to Secretary Mott-Smith regarding the arrangements made for a marine patrol of Honolulu during the stay of the fleet here. The arrangements provide for the landing of a party of sixty-four men, under a chief of patrol, who will look after the behavior of the sailors ashore. The patrol is to be made up of four men from each of the sixteen ships of the fleet. The men will not be armed except with billies.

The Secretary has transmitted copies of this letter to the Sheriffs of Oahu and Maui. The letter in full is: "Referring to the visit of the Atlantic fleet to Honolulu I am directed by the Commander-in-chief to invite your attention to our usual method of assisting the local police among the liberty men ashore. In foreign ports, by permission of the authorities, a patrol party consisting of sixty-four men (four from each ship) in charge of four commissioned officers and four midshipmen, is landed each day with the liberty parties. These patrolmen are distinguished by wearing leggings bearing no weapons of any kind. Illicitly ports they carry a policeman's Seneflor landing liberty parties Chief of patrol officer reports to the Chief of Police or his representative in the range for cooperation. It is the patrol and the local police locality where liberty men social authorities, as indicated by order among ties and to preponderate the in-them. the parties average 200 men to or a total of about 3500 men, and upon special occasion 5000 have been granted liberty, but in cases the wishes of the local authorities govern. In small ports, where sleeping accommodations are limited, liberty was at midnight; otherwise, at 7 a. m. "It will be of great assistance if the proper authorities will consider this matter in advance of the arrival of the fleet and communicate their wishes."

There will be a special meeting of the Riverside Baseball League on Thursday night at the usual place. The league will consider the matter of postponing its games during the stay of the visiting nines.

Dreamland is a fine name for a boxing pavilion. Talk about the eternal fitness of things!

THE POOR... ABILITY OF... COFER ATTACKED

A. S. Humphreys Proposes to Test it by Quo Warranto.

Territorial and Federal officials were engaged yesterday in looking into the law concerning the appointment of Dr. Cofer as president of the Board of Health. None of these officials appear to be much worried; indeed, they seem to be quite well satisfied that Dr. Cofer has the right to act in his dual capacity. The section relied on by the persons who are objecting to Dr. Cofer retaining his position is 1854 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, enacted away back in the fifties, which reads as follows:

"No member of the legislative assembly of any Territory now organized shall hold or be appointed to any office which has been created, or the salary or emoluments of which have been increased, while he was a member, during the term for which he was elected, and for one year after the expiration of such term; but this restriction shall not be applicable to members of the first legislative assembly in any Territory hereafter organized; and no person holding a commission or appointment under the United States, except postmasters, shall be a member of the legislative assembly, or shall hold any office under the government of any Territory. The exception of postmasters shall not apply in the Territory of Washington."

At the time of the adoption of the Organic Act of the Territory of Hawaii there were but a few Territories in existence to which the above act might apply; and in none of the Organic Acts of these Territories was any provision, other than the above, made.

Congress, however, insofar as Hawaii was concerned, appears to have made a special provision with relation to one person holding two offices; apparently limiting the making a Federal official ineligible only as a member of the Legislature. Section 17 of the Organic Act provides:

"That no person holding office in or under or by authority of the Government of the United States or of the Territory of Hawaii, shall be eligible to election to the Legislature, or to hold the position of a member of the same while holding said office."

The question of Dr. Cofer's eligibility was raised yesterday by the handing of the following letter to Attorney General Hemenway by A. S. Humphreys, while the former was in court in the Territory versus Marx case:

"Honolulu, June 30, 1908.
Hon. C. R. Hemenway, Attorney General, Honolulu.

"Dear Sir: Being persuaded that, under Section 1854 of the Revised Statutes, United States, Dr. L. E. Cofer is holding the office of president of the Territorial Board of Health, contrary to the laws of the United States, I, as a taxpayer of this Territory, hereby request permission to institute a quo warranto proceeding to determine the question hereby raised. I am willing to give such surety as you may require for the payment of all costs and charges that may be incurred in the prosecution of the proceedings which I desire to institute. Yours truly,
"A. S. HUMPHREYS."

The Attorney General stated yesterday that he had absolutely no idea why the question of Dr. Cofer's eligibility had been raised by Judge Humphreys, nor whom the Judge represented in the matter, if anyone besides himself.

"I have not considered the matter at all since I received the letter, except to study up the legal point raised," said the Attorney General. "What other questions there may be behind the letter, I have not had time yet to consider."

Dr. Cofer, the Attorney General, Secretary Mott-Smith and the Governor were in consultation for some hours yesterday afternoon regarding the matter.

STRINGING WIRES FOR CAPITOL ILLUMINATION

On Friday or Saturday night the entire front of the Capitol will burst into a grand illumination and the public will have an opportunity of seeing that the preparations are the for the coming of the fleet. Yesterday the electricians began stringing the wire for the seven hundred-and-candescents that will outline the flagstaff to the top of the flagpole and A. Menegillo, the head electrician who is in charge of the work, is to be able to set the work on Friday or Saturday night.

In addition to the three hundred lights on the Capitol building about three hundred more will be strung on the grounds, enough to do a brilliant show but not illuminating the tract from the main building itself.

On Monday the streets in the rows of red, and blue will be begun. The already been done. Mr. Menegillo states that the preparations for the night before his force the battleships, but that the arrangements will be in readiness for the arrival of the city on the first illumination the sailors ashore.

The examination papers of the teachers of the public schools are now being examined and the results of the examinations will probably be announced in the next few days.
