PYROTECHNIC DISPLAY.

This evening a grand display of fireworks will be given by our courteous visitors, the Captain and officers of the Japanese man-of-war, Riujio, on board their vessels, from about 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock. An informal party will be given on board, His Majesty being present unofficially as also will be the Ministry and others. The Royal Hawaiian Band will also be on board and enliven the proceedings with harmonious music. By the kind courtesy of Captain S. U. Ito, we have been furnished with the following programme of the display which will be well worth seeing from the water front.

- Part I
1. White Chrysanthemums
 2. Drooping Willow
 3. Red and White Balls
 4. White Chrysanthemums in a shower
 5. American Liberty
 6. Willow
 7. White Chrysanthemums
 8. Gambler's precious
 9. Sunset of "Venice"
 10. Interlude

Part II

1. Drooping Willows
1. Red Stars
3. White Stars
4. Weeping Willows
5. Blue Stars
6. Red Stars
7. River Willows

The beauty of the designs, and the skill displayed in their execution, of firework displays by the Japanese nation is well-known, so that the citizens of Honolulu may expect a treat.

GARRIAGE ACCIDENT.

Yesterday a little before 12 o'clock as Mrs. H. Swinton jr., was driving home to the Lunailo building, the reins got under the horse's tail and frightened it so that it bolted and threw the occupants of the carriage out.

Mrs. Swinton had her collar-bone broken, her son had his face bruised and a Hawaiian woman who was with her was not injured. The accident occurred near Mr. West's house. Mrs. Swinton was immediately taken to Mr. F. Bolles' residence and as soon as she could bear it, was taken home. Dr. Emerson and Trousseau were in attendance. Her collar-bone was set and she is now doing well.

THE BOLD BUCCANEERS BADLY BROKEN.

Writing under date of 28th May from Vladivostock the Captain of the Ninito says, we have arrived here after 45 days passage in bad condition. A plank has started under the fore-chains and several butts. Beside this she is leaking badly in her water ways on deck. The crew have signed clear of the vessel so there is no one to bring her back.

Instructions were forwarded to the Captain by last mail to turn the vessel over to such of the owners as were there, and if she could be sufficiently repaired there she would be sold up there.

The mysterious part of the expedition seems not to have been touched on, and the fishing portion of it apparently cannot or will not be carried out.

POLICE COURT.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

Thursday, July 19—Drunk; T. Moore, N. Logan, forfeited $6 bail each; Joe fined $5 and $1.20 costs; Keopua remanded to 20th; W. McConnell, assault and battery fined $5 and $3.20 costs; Makawao, truancy reprimanded and ordered to school.

THE STEAMBOAT RALE

Did not come off yesterday, as announced. The "Lydia" was on hand on time, but finding no competitor on hand, Mr. Lucas took on board a number of friends and steamed out and around the Spar Buoy. Quite a number of people gathered along the city front to witness the contest, but returned home disappointed.

SHIPPING NOTES.

Schr Malolo brought 530 bags sugar. Schr Waioli brought 370 bags sugar. The brig W. G. Irwin will leave for San Francisco this morning at 10 o'clock. The D. C. Murray will sail Saturday. The Shandon will finish discharging to-day. The sugar brought by the Malolo and Waioli will be held over for the steamer Mariposa. The Courser will be discharged by the middle of next week. The steam scow, belonging to Hackfeld & Co., has been coppered. The schrs Jennie and Manukawai started for a race to Kawaihae yesterday afternoon. They had a good start, and when off the Bell Buoy the latter was two lengths behind. Sitr Lehua brought 567 bags sugar and 44 sheep.

LOCAL & GENERAL NEWS.

The Band Concert at Emma Square last night was well attended. The music was splendid.

If you want to get the best Manilla cigars ever seen or smoked in this country, go to Messrs. Bolles & Co., Queen street. Nothing to equal them is our verdict.

The spring near the lower reservoir, Nuuanu Valley, which ceased to flow during the dry weather has not commenced again. The water in the Artesian Well is still sinking.

The shaft for the pulsometer pumps to work in, at the Artesian Well near the Makiki reservoir, has been sunk to a depth of 61 feet. They have still to sink 57 feet more which will probably take another 2 weeks.

An occasional contributor calls our attention to the fact that the "Ziser" is out in its show of Biblical knowledge when it calls Rachael tender-eyed for it was Leah who was tender-eyed and in those days it was considered a defect and not a beauty.

MANY persons have commented on the extreme thoughtfulness of Mr. James Dodd who on Wednesday afternoon drove his sprinkling cart himself all the way from the Bethel to Judd's Hill thus keeping the road free from dust for the funeral.

To-morrow the first general meeting of the stockholders of the Mutual Telephone Co. will be held at the armory at 11 a.m. The business announced is the definite settlement of the amount of capital stock and the appointment of a committee on the charter.

We were yesterday shown in Messrs G. W. Macfarlane & Co's samples of some splendid cane grown at Waimea Kauai, sent down for the Boston Exhibition. It is a new enterprise and the cane will be ground at Mr. W. D. Schmidts mill. We have seldom or ever seen finer or heavier can this.

A nice sample of "how not to do it" could be seen yesterday on King Street in front of the building next door to S. Nowlein's saloon. A lot of rubbish had been left in the street there by the contractors. A native man had been hired to pick this up and throw it about 15 feet further on. The Road Supervisor should see to it.

The Knights of Pythias had their semi-annual installation of officers on Wednesday night. Mr. D. Dayton being the D. S. C. was the installing officer of the evening. The following is the Roll of Officers as now constituted: Henry Webb, P. C.; H. Smith, C. C.; M. Canavan, V. C.; C. Clarke, Prelate; G. Williams, K. of R. & S.; F. Godfrey, M. of F.; T. Sorenson, M. of E.; G. S. Hough, M. at A.

TO-NIGHT Mr. Mellis opens his new goods for the inspection of his customers. They have been specially selected with a view to keeping his stock here abreast of the most fashionable emporiums on the Coast and elsewhere. Feathers, laces, and flowers and every necessary for millinery and trimming are to be found in profusion and style. Dress goods, silks, plushes, mores, brocades, and hosiery to match, fit for any style of costume are there. We feel sure our lady readers will flock to inspect and then will purchase.

TALK ABOUT Acapulco for Centipedes. Honolulu can probably discount it. Here is the story: Yesterday morning, while lifting up a portion of the flooring in Messrs Castle & Cooke's warehouse, the workmen engaged in doing it found an enormous centipede about 6 inches long and very broad and thick, with a family of no less than 177 young ones. Doubters may dispel their doubts by calling at this office and trusting to ocular evidence.

On Wednesday evening about half-past 8 o'clock an accident occurred in the residence of Mr. Osley on Merchant St. near the corner of Alaska which might have resulted in a serious fire. In the parlour a three-light chandelier is suspended from a hook in the ceiling by three chains. One of these gave way and two the lamps were precipitated on to the table, smashing, and beginning to blaze up immediately. Those in the room gathered up the corners of the tablecloth and smothered the flames with it and a bedspread hastily brought for the purpose. The only damage done except the broken lamps were trivial to these two articles. The fire was extinguished solely with the aid of those in the house. No party of natives rushed in.

Herbert Spencer considers the wearing of pointed-toed shoes, and skin-tight trousers, a well-defined mark of mental imbecility.

A HAIRY RACE OF PEOPLE.

A writer in an English contemporary says:—Prominence has lately been given to a hairy race of people by the arrival in England of Farini's Krao, which came, I believe, from Laos. Some thirty years ago, travelling from Momein to Munipore, I spent a week with these people, and as the space at my command is very limited I shall give but a brief account of them. Crossing the Irrawadee River, fifteen miles north of Tshembo, situated in lat. 25, lon. 97, our cattle were so exhausted from their long and continuous march that a lengthened halt became necessary. Our guides, some Muni-poories returning to their own country, said, "Salib, these hairy people live not very far from this, and if you would like to visit them we will show the way." I most willingly assented, as I was most anxious to see them, as I had already made the acquaintance of their distant relative, "Maphoo," at Ava. Following the valley in a northerly direction, for a couple of days of eighteen hours each, we branched off to the north-east, and early on the third day arrived at an extensive plateau, densely covered with magnificent forest trees. We heard peculiar noises, somewhat resembling the coo-ee-ing of the Australian savages, which we were told were made by the people we were in quest of; but as not a house or any living thing was visible, and there was much whispering, smiling, and laughter amongst our followers, I thought they were playing on us some practical joke, and that the cries emanated either from monkeys or apes. Getting annoyed, I told them I had not come all this way to see apes, and if they had nothing better to show we had better go back. The men, after a hearty laugh at our perplexity, coo-ee-ed back, and, in about a quarter of an hour, we were surrounded by about twenty men and thirty women. To describe these people is almost impossible. The tallest male did not exceed five feet in height, the women being a few inches shorter. They were well made, broad-shouldered, sturdy looking fellows, somewhat dark in complexion—that is, as much of it as could be seen, for they were covered everywhere with long, fluffy, light-coloured hair, with the sole exception of the natural growth on the head, which was pitch black and most luxuriant, that of both sexes reaching considerably below their waists. Not an atom of their faces or their bodies was free from a growth of downy, fluffy, hair, which grew to a length of several inches. Even the eyelids were covered to such an extent that, to enable them to see, they had to push it aside. They much resembled Skye or Maltese terriers in face. The women were as hairy as the men, with the sole exception of their bosoms, which were quite bare. Many of the younger girls were almost comely. Two or three of our men could either speak their language or make themselves understood by means of some mixed dialect. The pigmies were much amused at the astonishment depicted on our countenances. We asked them how far it was to their village. At this there were peals of laughter, and a man going up to the nearest tree climbed up it rapidly, hand over hand, holding on by the creepers which enveloped the trunk, to a height of some fifty feet, than pointing to a row of pegs, which at that distance were all but invisible, he went up them until he reached the first lateral branch, and then disappeared. These trees, many of them of the wood oil species, grow to a great height, the trunks being often thirty feet in circumference and growing upright without a branch for one hundred or more feet. They grow close together, their branches intertwining. The pigmy pushed aside the leaves and smaller branches, disclosing rude machans or platforms on which these people live. They further aid towards their invisibility by planting orchids and other parasites, where the natural foliage is insufficient; these rapidly take root and form a natural screen. Looking up at their aerial abodes nearly dislocated our necks. The bark of the trees, though soft, is very adhesive and tenacious, and into this, when natural climbers are wanting, they drive pegs, which serve them as ladders.

Rejected lovers need never despair. There are four and twenty hours in a day, and not a moment in the twenty-four in which a woman may not charge her mind.

ONE PRICE MECHANICS' BAZAR

Corner of Fort and Merchant Streets,

We respectfully ask a call from the community to prove to them how far we excel some dealers in our lines of Gent's Furnishing Goods. Not alone in Superior Quality and styles, but in prices. New invoices are constantly being received, and for choice selections and varieties in all our large assortment we can safely say no one will be disappointed who buys from us.

Read the following:—What are your reasons for purchasing at the Mechanics Bazar? Because they sell 25 per cent cheaper than any other store in the city. How do they do it? Because they import direct from the manufacturers in the Eastern and California Markets, and buy for cash; thus we demand cash in return and allow 3 cents discount on all sales over $5; keep no book-keepers or books, and every article is marked down to the lowest figure in full view of the customer and thus money is saved by curtailing these expenses, and unnecessary talk is set aside.
