CALLING FOR LAND POLICY SUGGESTIONS

LOCAL LAND LAWS And What PINCHOTT IS DOING

Investigation of the land laws of Hawaii which seems to be on under the direction of Forester Pinchott, has gone forward locally with a great deal of deep mystery in certain quarters.

The first general intimation of what was going on began to see the light in Hilo. Personages from that town talked knowingly of what was being done in looking up the land affairs of the Territory. They could not tell just what it was as they had sworn to keep the great matter secret. When told that the Governor would probably be asked to give his version along with the rest, this made no impression. Finally, however, the Hilo Board of Trade had the good sense to give out its reply to a request made by Director Jared G. Smith of the Experiment Station. What the guardians of the secrets have done is not known.

The story of the land investigation in short is that a great many complaints have been filed as the result of homesteaders not receiving their titles to land after having fulfilled what they thought to be the law. A short time ago Gifford Pinchott of the Forestry Department and a member of the commission appointed by the President to investigate the methods of Federal departments, wrote to certain gentlemen in Hawaii asking that they not only give their views but secure the opinions of others.

The gentlemen asked were Director Jared G. Smith of the U. S. Experiment Station, Albert Judd and Governor Carter. Thus it appears that the original secrecy of the men round about Hilo was not necessary, and the final decision to open up the facts was equally good judgment. It is presumed that Pinchott will be glad to hear from others though they may not have been specially asked to give their views on the subject.

Riches May Await Him In Alaska

Today the following cable message came to Honolulu:

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Nov. 19, 1905.

To H. E. WAITY, Banker, Honolulu, H. T.

Daniel McCarthy, of Fairbanks, a miner, if in Honolulu, should wire son here.

KINGBORN.

H. E. Waity died some months ago. The cablegram was turned over to Mr. Brasch, of Whitney & Marsh, the son-in-law of the deceased.

Mr. Brasch did not know what to make of the message.

A man by the name of Kingborn was here some time ago. He knew Mr. Waity of Bishop & Co.

He is now apparently doing business in Alaska, being a man of money and many business enterprises.

Kingborn has been to Alaska before. When he came here it was with the idea of revolutionizing refrigerator transportation between San Francisco and this port, but he made nothing of his local venture.

Now he cables to Honolulu seeking to tell Daniel McCarthy, thinking it likely that he is in these islands, to communicate with his son at Fairbanks, Alaska.

If Daniel McCarthy is in Honolulu let him at once communicate with Mr. Brasch of Whitney & Marsh, that the request of the Alaska cable may be fulfilled.

It is thought that Daniel McCarthy and his son, going gold hunting in Alaska, the father may have acquired cold feet and come here to warm them, the son remaining behind to eventually strike it rich, now cabling his father to communicate with him, possibly to join him. This is but one theory in a hundred or so, and, as is usual in the reading of brief dispatches of a private nature, the reader has the whole realm of imagination to operate in and choose to suit himself.

Geo. F. Whitney, formerly tennis champion of California, arrived in the R. P. R. R. yesterday and is stopping at the Royal Hawaiian hotel. Mr. Whitney expects to spend the winter in Hawaii.

The abconer Concord was this forenoon released from attachment upon furnishing two bonds of $500 each.

Governor Carter attended the meeting of the planters this afternoon.

Says Judge Should Push Tobacco Kepoikails Powerless

The fight for the stay of judgment in the case of Moses Meheula vs Pioneer Mill Co. seems to be far from its conclusion in spite of the fact that the defendants, after the Supreme Court refused to grant a stay of judgment in the case, obtained from Judge Kepoikail of the Maui Circuit Court an order to show cause why a permanent injunction should not be granted prohibiting Clerk Hart of the Maui Circuit Court from entering the judgment in favor of the plaintiff.

As a matter of fact it seems certain that the plaintiff, represented by Attorney C. W. Ashford, intends to take active steps in the matter with a protest against the action taken by Judge Kepoikail, who was in the city when he issued the order to show cause, had no jurisdiction.

C. W. Ashford, when asked about the case this afternoon, stated that he intended to take steps in the matter, but could not state of what nature they would be.

"I have, however, no hesitation in saying that I hold that Judge Kepoikail had no jurisdiction to issue the writ. He was as much outside his own bailiwick in Honolulu, as if he were in China."

Ashford was asked if he intended to present this point in bringing up the matter.

"It is not likely that we will overlook any point when we bring the matter up," answered Ashford, and beyond that he would say nothing.

Should Push Tobacco And Prepare To Compete With Luzon

W. O. SMITH TALKS TO SUGAR MEN

Hon. W. O. Smith, secretary and treasurer of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, spoke extemporaneously before the planters gathered in annual meeting in the Judd building this morning, to the following effect:

"Tobacco may be considered a little subject, but when it is considered carefully, it will be seen to be a very big and a very important subject, when the possibilities are realized.

"The sugar planters not so many years ago discussed the possibilities of tobacco in these islands, with the result that a man was sent to India and elsewhere to look into the matter. He brought back some tobacco from Sumatra for experiment here.

"Now it seemed at that time that Sumatra had been laboring under the same difficulties that we labor under in this Territory, namely, to secure a leaf that would be marketable. It appeared that there was too much saltpetre in the soil for the development of the proper grade of tobacco. But now Sumatra has developed a large export trade and is doing a great business, the leaf being used extensively as a wrapper.

"Gentlemen, we in Hawaii are going to have the Philippine Islands for a competitor and we must be prepared to compete with success against the Philippines.

"The Philippines have three chief resources, hemp, tobacco and sugar. "It has been represented that the area that the Philippines has that can be put into sugar is limited! On the contrary, unprejudiced authorities have declared that the Philippines' possibilities in regard to sugar are very great. "But the Philippines will always be a great competitor of these islands, unless we get something besides sugar to depend on.

"The Philippines have three feet to stand on—hemp, tobacco and sugar. "We have tried rice here, but the Hawaiian rice industry is in a bad way. "I can say that Robert Wilcox of Peaseville, whose property has been turned mostly into rice rather than sugar, is in a bad way as to his rice, there being no Chinese labor to be had. This affects the Hawaiians very much. "The coming of steam vessels to take the place of the sailing vessels which

MOSQUITO EATING FISH ARE HATCHING

According to present estimates Mr. Van Dine of the Experiment Station has about three thousand mosquito-devouring fish which will soon be distributed among the streams of the Territory.

The first fish brought here by a representative of the U. S. Fish Commission were put in the water at Moanala for breeding purposes. This work has been very successful, though workmen have been busy the last few days preventing the freshet made by the rains carrying the newly hatched mosquito-eaters out to sea.

At the present rate of increase there will be additional thousands of mosquito eaters coming from the Moanala ponds.

COBB ON SICK CASE

Doctor N. A. Cobb, director of the Division of Pathology and Physiology, H. S. P. Experiment station, held the attention of the sugar planters in convention this afternoon, in an address on cane diseases, many charts and illustrations, to which he frequently referred, adorning the walls of the Planters' rooms.

Andrews' Resignation As Attorney General Received By Carter

The resignation of Lorrin Andrews from the position as Attorney General of the Territory arrived in a letter in the Doric yesterday afternoon. It was received by the Governor this morning.

The news of the resignation was also given out by Andrews in a letter to a personal friend. In this he stated that he had found advantageous business opportunities in Shanghai and intended to locate there, at least for a year or two. If he returned to Honolulu, it would be as a "wealthy tourist." Andrews mentioned in this letter that he had sent his resignation to the Governor in the same mail. He stated that he had seen F. M. Brooks, the former Honolulu attorney, and seemed upon the whole to be much pleased by his prospects.

Letters from Andrews were also received by Deputy Attorney General Peters, Fleming and Prosser. These, it is understood, were of a private nature and said nothing about the resignation. Andrews also wrote to the political organizations to which he belonged, stating that he wished to resign from them.

At the executive office nothing was given out in relating to the matter with the exception of the fact that the resignation had been received. No official intimation as to who will be Andrews' successor has been given out.

Andrews' resignation is in no manner a surprise to his friends. When he left for Shanghai he stated, confidentially at the time, that he had received a retainer of $1000 and an offer to represent certain large American business interests in Shanghai for the purpose of alleviating the boycott on American goods in China. He stated at the time that if things panned out as they promised he would remain in the Orient. He made arrangements with Governor Carter that his resignation could be sent by mail or cable, and departed on a leave of absence for two months.

Great interest in the appointment of Andrews' successor is shown about the Capitol building and the courts. It is most generally believed that Deputy Attorney General Peters will receive the appointment, in which case the personnel of the department will probably remain just as it is. There are, however, some who believe that there is a dark horse in the running, some young attorney whose connection with a prominent legal firm would render him acceptable to the Governor.

The news of the resignation of Andrews was received with much interest by those who are interested in the complications arising from the alleged acceptance of a fee by Andrews in the Douse case. The evidence so far gathered in this matter tends to show that Miki, the police officer, collected certain moneys from the Waituku friends of the deceased Japanese. Miki claims

CRUISER LENA FILES HOMEWARD BOUND PENNANT SIGNAL

With her homeward bound pennant flying in the wind from the mainmast the Russian auxiliary cruiser Lena is still anchored in Naval Row awaiting the work to begin of taking on 3000 tons of coal. This will begin as soon as the S. S. Supply from which wireless message was received this afternoon, leaves this port for San Francisco. It will take a week to complete the task. In addition to a large force of men from shore the Lena's crew will be put on the job and made to work their turns in with different shifts. Their visit to Honolulu will cost the Russian government in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Nine hundred tons of water are to be taken aboard by the foreign vessel. This was commenced yesterday by the water boat Pioneer. It will take several days to finish this job. The 900 tons of fresh water will fill all the water tanks of the vessel and she will be then prepared for a long sea voyage as far as the water question is concerned.

The officers and men of the Russian ship today are celebrating St. Nicholas Day and there is no work going on to amount to anything on the cruiser. Many of the men in squads are ashore and enjoying the sights. Many came on land today for the first time. Others have not as yet been in town but will be allowed the privilege before the boat leaves for Vladivostok. Usually on St. Nicholas Day Russian ships keep open house, but an exception to the rule was made here for reasons best known to Captain Ginter himself. The vessel is not dressed in honor of the day.

St. Nicholas Day is particularly the patron saint of the sailors and a popular saint of the Greek faith. The observance of the day corresponds somewhat with the Roman and Protestant Christmas. The encyclopedias give its date as December 6.

ART LOAN ENTERTAINMENT IS THIS WEEK'S FEATURE

If there is any confusion in the public mind over the Art Loan Exhibition, which is to be held on Thursday and Friday of this week this note should dispel such fogs and make a plain and complete distinction between the Loan Exhibition and the Art League exhibition.

The Art Loan Exhibition is made possible through the generosity of our citizens who possess rare and beautiful works of art from many lands.

We take long and expensive journeys from time to time in order to see pictures, statuary and various works of art in Europe or the Orient.

The Art Loan Exhibition will give us an opportunity to see many beautiful and curious things from all these lands, and to learn, through their works of art, much of interest concerning the inhabitants of strange countries.

Admission to the Loan Exhibition will be 75 cents and if you do not wish to spend more it will not be necessary.

The exhibition will be held in the Lewers & Cooke building on King street and doors open on Thursday afternoon, November 23, at 2 p. m., continuing through Thursday evening, all day Friday and Friday evening.

from the card or bill of fare) and which will save you the expense and bother of dinner at home; and on Friday a fifty cent lunch, of superior quality, will be served.

The entertainment committee have a fine program in view, and this will be extra, but it will be well worth the moderate sum of twenty-five cents for the best things the city affords will be there.

On Friday afternoon children in schools and all of school age will be able to attend for 25 cents for exhibition tickets and admission to the entertainment under Mrs. Cooper's charge will be only fifteen cents.

The object of all this is to raise funds to carry on the Free Kindergarten, a work which in its wide reaching beneficence ought to appeal to every kind heart in this very kind-hearted community.

The exhibition will be held in the Lewers & Cooke building on King street and doors open on Thursday afternoon, November 23, at 2 p. m., continuing through Thursday evening, all day Friday and Friday evening.

PUNAHOU WIN 1905 CHAMPIONSHIP

An athletic contest of any kind is never won until it is lost. This was clearly demonstrated yesterday at the baseball park in the championship football game played between the teams representing Oahu College and the Kam schools.

Already the Kam rooters were singing their songs and yelling that they were "Champions of 1905." There was one thing left for Punahou and that was a long run and a clear field. Little Heen barked the signal, the ball was passed to Lyman, who started for the Kams left end.

This was perhaps the best game of football that was ever witnessed on a local gridiron. The play was fast, clean and open. Sensational plays were numerous and the tide of battle changed at least three times.

Both teams, as the score shows, were very evenly matched and while Punahou excelled in the end running game the Kams played the better bucking game.

The individual play was also a feature of the game. The play was so open that the good qualities of many of the players could easily be seen.

The demonstration that was displayed by the supporters of each team after a score had been made was worth the price.

played by the supporters of each team after a score had been made was worth the price. Hats, buckets, coats and papers were thrown in the air—spectators danced for joy and fierce college yells were shouted.

Dr. Hobly and Captain Humphreys worked well as officials and the game went off as smoothly as could be expected.

Punahou won the toss and kicked off to Oliver on the 25-yard line. Oliver ran the ball in 15 yards before he was downed.

Kama's off-side and end set back 15 yards. Pa skirts right end for 15 yards. Punahou hit it up fast and try hard for a touch down. Pa goes 5 yards on an end play, placing the ball on the Kam's 29-yard line.

Time 25 minutes. Score 0-0. SECOND HALF. Oliver kicked off 45 yards to Ahrens.

Gas Range Cooking All Kinds of Baking Require Less Time

proportionately in a gas range than in a coal range. Furthermore, the baking should be done in TIN PANS, not sheet iron nor agate. The iron absorbs the heat, and is more liable to burn at the bottom and sides before the baking is done. You may not have noticed this in using the coal range, but the heat of the gas range oven is much more intense and direct.

CLIMATIC CONDITIONS AND FERTILIZATION

In the discussion of fertilization at the Planters' meeting yesterday afternoon, Director C. F. Eckart of the agriculture and chemistry division of the U. S. P. Experiment Station, had the following to say: I think the difference in results obtained on different plantations using fertilizer with seeds and without, is due in a very large measure to the difference of conditions, the climate as well as the soil. The fertilizing material which is going to be washed out of the soil between the time of planting and the rooting of the cane is not going to be potash or phosphoric acid to any extent—those materials are fixed very quickly in the ground. The loss is going to be nitrogen and a small amount which has passed into the form of nitrate during that period between the planting and the rooting of the cane. Now on Mr. Moir's plantation, if we assume that a certain amount of nitrogen has been washed from his soils during rains, between the planting and the rooting of the cane, it might be quite a loss and still that loss might not be so harmful as it would be in other places where probably nitrogen was a more important fertilizer needed by the cane. For instance Mr. Moir, on your plantation probably potash or phosphoric acid would be needed more than nitrogen. I think by carrying on experiments where we compare one area with another that there is always apt to be some difference in the conditions of the soil, the exposure of the land, and the climatic influences. If you had a large experimental field so that all of the conditions would be the same there would be no question about the results, I do not mean to say anything against what has been stated, but I think that we could feel absolutely sure then that there was no disturbing factor to throw out the accuracy of the results. For instance, where you did not ter-utilize with your seed, the climatic conditions may have been more unfavorable and the soil may have been less deep and there may have been less nitrogen in the soil in that locality than where you had fertilized with the seed. Field experiments are very difficult ones to carry out and feel safe over. There at the experimental station where we have these experiments continually under our eyes and can carry out the agricultural methods very carefully and subject the same influences to the different plots, we feel that our results are often only approximate because there are conditions in the soil which we can not measure nor can we see them. And I think on the plantation unless great care is taken to have the plots running through the field so that all the plots get exactly the same treatment with regard to climate and also artificial conditions which might be imposed, there would be a variation.

Andrews' Resignation (Continued from Page 1.) that he collected the money under Andrews' instructions and that he later on turned it over to him. The Governor took up the investigation of the entire matter with much zeal, but lately nothing further seems to have been done. It is understood that Miki will insist on having the investigation completed, so that his own connection with the matter can be cleared up. It is also claimed that certain drafts said to have been cashed by Miki will tell the whole story.
