GRAND FESTIVAL IN PREPARATION

In Aid of the Fund for Finishing Convent School.

OLD PEOPLE OF SCHOOL ARE RALLYING NOBLY

First Appeal for Help in Half a Century --- Large Meeting of Ladies This Morning.

Arrangements for the grand fair and luncheon in aid of the Catholic Convent School are now in full swing of development.

Former pupils of the Sisters are rallying nobly to the project with offers of personal services and promises of donations in kind. Many of the brightest and best minds of Honolulu society, irrespective of creed, have received a greater or less proportion of their education at the Convent.

For half a century Mother Superiors and Sisters have maintained this school of knowledge and refinement, but in all this time have never before solicited any assistance from the public. Now that the imposing new convent is approaching completion, they accept the free-will benefactions of their alumni and friends of education generally.

A meeting attended by fully two-score ladies was held at the music hall to promote arrangements for holding the benefit festival. Mrs. Samuel C. Allen presided, being supported by Mrs. John F. Wheeler, treasurer, and Mrs. A. E. Murphy, secretary.

Others taking part were Mrs. J. H. Soper, Mrs. T. J. King, Mrs. John Lucas, Mrs. John Ena, Mrs. F. W. Macfarlane, Mrs. J. J. Sullivan, Mrs. Charles Herrick, Mrs. Fred. Ward, Mrs. J. D. McVeigh, Mrs. Charles Stillman, Mrs. Lacey Peabody, Mrs. Charles Clark, Mrs. J. J. Caroen, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Charles K. Hopkins, Mrs. J. W. Podmore, Mrs. John Glennon, Mrs. C. W. Ziegler, Mrs. Imanishi and Mrs. W. Smith.

Mrs. Allen, in opening the meeting, briefly stated its object, that of holding a festival to help the Sisters to raise funds to finish the new school. "All we old pupils," said the president, "have been asked to assist and should do our best to make the event successful."

It was stated that the date of the festival had been fixed as Saturday, November 30.

Various suggestions were put forth informally and discussed, leading ultimately to a motion being passed that the luncheon and fair be continued at 6 p. m., and the fair be continued in the evening together with the ice cream service.

A suggestion to make two days of it received no support. Mrs. Macfarlane voicing the general sentiment when she said one-day involved quite enough work.

Dancing, a promenade concert and the singing of ancient Hawaiian odes were favorably regarded as corollaries of the evening's entertainment. An auction of articles left over at the close of the fair will be on Monday.

The secretary presented a list of donations from ladies and others. George Beckley, it was announced, had tendered free freight of supplies in the Wilder steamers.

John Ena had promised the same in the Inter-Island steamers, besides free passage for delegates to Hawaii next week. Furthermore, Mr. Ena, in addition to his wife's donations mentioned in the list, would give a cord of firewood, also the use of a shed on his land adjacent to the drill shed and erect a shed thereon for the convenience of the committee.

Mrs. Imanishi, wife of the banker, will conduct a Japanese booth at the fair.

Following are the committees named at this morning's gathering: Executive Committee: Mrs. S. C. Allen, chairman; Mrs. F. W. Macfarlane, Mrs. A. E. Murphy, Mrs. J. F. Bowler.

Good Lots Low Priced

Everybody knows that College Hills, with its fine air, good views, water supply, car service and good neighborhood is Honolulu's best suburb.

But not everyone realizes that College Hills lots are so much lower priced than those in the hot, low-lying district, with no view or car service.

A third-of-an-acre lot for $900 is only 6 cents per square foot.

Easy terms, too. Consult the Sales Agents.

CONCERT CO. MAY COME

Many of our prominent musical people here earnestly hope that Dr. C. N. Thomas, the manager of the Boston Concert Company, will see his way clear to have his company stop over in Honolulu during the latter part of November, while on their way to New Zealand and Australia.

Here are some comments on the Boston Concert Company: Bernhard Walltera, the brilliant Belgian violinist's appearance here was in the nature of an ovation.—Daily Inter-Ocean, Chicago.

Of Wagner's playing we can truly say that it was great.—The Monthly Queen, England.

Cyrus Brownlee Newton captured his audience immediately. He is an artist of extraordinary ability, and has few equals and no superiors.—San Francisco Examiner.

Newton is unusually versatile.—San Francisco Call.

Newton is peerless. He can make his audience laugh or cry. He seems to enjoy making his audience laugh. As a man he is as noble as he is funny.—J. W. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, California.

Lillian Norma, the mezzo-soprano of the Boston company, studied under the great La Bloek of London. Her voice is a rich mezzo-soprano of much sweetness and purity.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

WINLOW IN COURT AGAIN.

Dr. H. E. Winslow of Koolau, was arraigned in the Police Court this forenoon on the second charge of assault and battery on a female minor of Waialua. Attorney Peffer appeared for the defendant and asked that the case go over until Monday on account of the illness of Dr. Winslow, who had just come out of the hospital.

High Sheriff Brown stated that the matter of the complaining witness had not arrived from the other side of the island and that, therefore, he could offer no objection to the continuance. On this showing, Judge Wilcox granted the motion.

Dr. Winslow is certainly a very sick man. He showed a haggard countenance upon appearing in the Police Court this forenoon. His features were drawn and he showed every sign of a man on the verge of a nervous collapse.

MR. SWANZY'S HOUSE.

The bids for the construction of the new residence of F. M. Swanzy at Punahou, mentioned in the Bulletin a week ago as projected, were opened yesterday at the rooms of the Master Builders' Association, as follows:

F. A. Pettus, $22,440; J. H. Craig, $24,119; Concrete Construction Company, wood, $26,458; concrete, $27,691; Lucas Brothers, $28,289; Wm. Wagner, $29,943; H. F. Bertelmann, $29,517.

The residence will be erected on the property of Mr. Swanzy at the end of Punahou street above Oahu College, on the left hand side of Manoa road. It is a commanding site and an ideal situation for a valley dwelling.

BRILLIANT RECEPTION.

Mrs. Fanny Love entertained at her home on Fort street last night, in honor of Miss Eva Dennis, Miss Mabel Jones and Miss Elsie Church, the young ladies from Portland, Ore., who are visiting Miss Stella Love. There were in the neighborhood of a hundred and fifty guests present. The receiving party consisted of the following: Mrs. Fanny Love, Miss Stella Love, Mrs. Clarence Cooke and Mrs. Annis Montague-Turner. The reception was a brilliant one in every respect.

McBRYDE MILL WORKING.

Advices by letter from Kanae are to the effect that the McBryde sugar mill is doing excellent work.

At the present time the mill is being run on cane from a field of 180 acres. This is simply being harvested and ground in the mill in the nature of a test run, after which the regular crop will be harvested, at which time the various mechanical appliances will be in thorough working order.

SENATOR PARIS IN TOWN.

Senator John D. Paris of Kona, Hawaii, arrived in the Mauna Loa this morning for a short business trip. He will return home in the same steamer on Tuesday next. Asked as to politics on the Big Island, Mr. Paris showed a pair of badly sunburned hands and gave this answer: "We have had general rains all over Kona. While the downpours have not been very copious, still the water here has done us all kinds of good and we are thankful. There have at last been rains in the Hamakua district."

She—Mrs. La Salle is always charging husbands. He—Y's; she told me she was wedded to married life.—Smart Set.

GOOD TIME FOR THE YACHTSMEN

All Arrangements Now Complete for Luau and Races.

FEAST BEGINS AT 6 P. M.: SHARP SATURDAY EVENING

Races and Details for Two Days' Sport Committee on Arrangements Cannot Have Launch WaterWitch.

The yachtsmen of the city are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to the coming luau and yacht races at Puuloa. All the arrangements have been made by the very active committee appointed by the club and a fine time is expected. The luau is to take place at 6 o'clock Saturday evening. After the good things have been disposed of, there will be speeches and a general good time. The Quintet Club has been secured and music will be given throughout the evening's entertainment.

The first race will take place tomorrow afternoon. The yachts will start as follows: Fourth class, 2 p. m.; third class, 2:10 p. m.; second class, 2:20 p. m., and first class, 2:30 p. m. The preparatory gun will be fired at 1:55 p. m. All races will be started by the one-gun signal. Yachts making the best corrected time in each class will receive a pennant. First and second class yachts only to use topsails (spinnakers or balloon jibs not allowed.) On reaching Puuloa, yachts will come to anchor, the smaller classes anchoring near the shark pen, and the larger, west of the salt house.

Course—From an imaginary line from lighthouse to pilot office down channel, keeping spar buoy on port hand; thence around bell buoy, round same on port side; thence to Pearl Harbor, keeping twenty-five (25) feet from the flag stake on starboard hand; thence around shark pen, finishing between committee boat and club flag on Puuloa beach.

On Sunday morning, breakfast will be served ashore. At 8 a. m. colors will be made, the signal to be given from the commodore's flagship. At 9 a. m., yachts will "dress ship."

The races will begin at 10 a. m., with the Ford's Island event. A preparatory gun will be fired at 9:55 a. m. First, second, third and fourth class yachts will start in the order given, with intervals of ten minutes between the classes. The yacht making the best corrected time in each class will be awarded a pennant. Same rules apply as to racing sails in first and second class.

Course—Between a line from committee boat to club flag on beach; thence up channel to middle loch, keeping first and second buoys on starboard hand, and take on Walpo Point on port side; thence around Ford's Island, keeping fifty feet outside of stakes on mauka end of the island, and thence to starting point.

The last race of the day will be for the Commodore's Cup. All yachts will be allowed to participate, the boats receiving their respective time allowances at the start. The race will start at 2 p. m., and the yachts will be started from the committee's boat by megaphone. The prize is a silver cup.

Course—From line between committee boat and club flag on shore; thence out Pearl Harbor channel, and thence up the coast, rounding bell buoy, keeping same on port hand and finishing at spar buoy.

All the races will be governed by the racing rules of the club, except as otherwise provided in the foregoing statement of arrangements.

The committee has been unable to perfect arrangements toward securing the launch WaterWitch as the elder of the Young brothers who has charge of the boat whenever she is taken out, has gone to Kauai. The big launch now in the hands of Mr. Renear, will be used by the committee in its work.

The committee wish the guests of the Yacht Club to remember to take along blankets and mosquito nets with them. Port Captain Roth will endeavor to supply tents for all the guests.

BREWER GRELCK CAUGHT IN AN OUT GOING VESSEL

Is Now In Custody of High Sheriff ---Two Friends Put Up $500 ---Before Judge Gear Today.

A. Grelck, the assistant brewer of the local beer concern who was indicted by the Grand Jury on the charge of larceny in the second degree, is now in the custody of the High Sheriff and this afternoon, the prosecution will ask Judge Gear to raise the amount of bail which was reduced yesterday from $1000 to $500. Grelck, it will be remembered, is charged with having stolen a number of kegs of beer from the Honolulu Brewery Co.

Grelck appeared before Judge Wilcox in the Police Court yesterday and had his case nolle prosequi on account of the action of the Grand Jury. Immediately, F. M. Brooks, his attorney, went with the man to secure bail in the sum of $500. Two friends of the man put up the necessary amount and Mr. Brooks, handing the money over to the receiving station clerk, secured the release of Grelck.

The police authorities were a bit suspicious about Grelck's actions and so they kept close watch on his movements. The Sirene was one of the vessels supposed to sail this morning and she was on the boards to leave between 8 and 9 o'clock. At 8 o'clock, Captain Harry Flint of the water front police, went aboard the vessel and made a complete search. He was well rewarded for, stowed away in what is known as the "fore-foot" of the Sirene, was the man Grelck covered over with a lot of old bags. His trunk was also on the vessel.

Grelck was arrested and his bondsman were notified. In a short time, Attorney Brooks appeared on the scene and, in the name of the bondsman, surrendered the man into the custody of the High Sheriff. Grelck's actions is looked upon as a betrayal of confidence seldom equalled. Had he succeeded in getting away, his two friends would have suffered to the extent of $250 apiece.

Deputy Clerk Appointed.

Frederick C. Handy, having resigned as deputy clerk of the United States District Court, to take the office of Chief Deputy United States Marshal, Judge Estee has ordered that Miss Fannie L. O'Brien be appointed to act as such deputy clerk until the further order of the court. Miss O'Brien, who possesses accomplishments which will render her assistance valuable, commenced her new duties in the office of Chief Clerk Mailing yesterday.

FIRST 1902 CALENDAR.

The first 1902 calendar of the season has been published by the Woman's Exchange and is now on sale at its headquarters. This calendar is quite superior to former efforts in this line and will be much sought for local use and to send to friends. The cover is an artistic representation of Rainbow falls surrounded by tropical verdure. The twelve slips, one for each month, contain half tone reproductions of most attractive scenes of the Islands. Those in search of calendars should not fail to visit the Woman's Exchange before purchasing.

"Excuse me," he said to the applicant for the typewriter's position, "but I would like to know your age."
The young woman looked astonished.

"May I ask what that has to do with my fitness for the place?" she inquired.

"Nothing," he promptly answered. "You see, it's my wife that wants to know."

"In that case," said the applicant, who was pretty as well as young, "tell her I am forty-seven."
And the smile that followed this ingenious statement brought out four delightful dimples.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GOPIOUS SHOWERS FALL IN HAMAKUA

Big Forest Fires Said to Have Been Extinguished.

MAUNA LOA AND KAILUANI BRING THE WELCOME NEWS

First Rain Fell Monday Night Last ---Continued On Tuesday--- No Signs of Let Up Yesterday.

The old saying, "It never rains but it pours," has come true in the case of the District of Hamakua on the Big Island. For many months past Hamakua has suffered from a drought that for length and severity beats the record of any former experience of a like nature in the Islands. The oldest residents of the district cannot remember anything of the kind during their lifetimes. The drought did untold damage not only to the sugar interests but to the welfare of the whole district. Cattle have died off by the hundreds and people have been forced to send miles for their drinking water. Baths were a luxury. Not only did the lack of rain do all this damage but it resulted in the destruction of acre upon acre of valuable forests which, once on fire, burned for months. Rain was the only agent that could succeed in putting out the persistent flames, and rain there was none.

At last has come the long-looked-for relief, and now the District of Hamakua is being deluged by the frequent and copious showers which have brought glad tidings to the weary planters and the Government officials who have been watching with such anxiety the destruction of the forests that mean so much to the welfare of the Islands. The first rain of the rains was a great deal more to fall of the Island than the district of Hamakua came in with news corroborative of that received yesterday.

It is stated positively by the steamer's officers that, as far as can be seen, the fires in Hamakua are out. All along the coast of that district an inch and a half to two inches of rain have fallen during the past two or three days. On the Mauna Loa sailed yesterday rain was still falling and it looked very much as if there was a great deal more to fall. The skies were very much clouded and the atmosphere was heavy with moisture.

At Kona two and a quarter inches of rain have fallen. On the Kona side the weather continues fair with slight showers. However, there is no particular need of rain in Kona just now and people all over Hawaii are wishing that all the rain on the Island might be concentrated in Hamakua.

Captain Dower of the steamer Kailuani, which arrived from Hawaii yesterday afternoon, states that the rain began in the Hamakua District on Monday evening last, at which time, it is estimated, fully a half-inch of water fell. The downpour continued steadily all day Tuesday. This was practically the first rainfall since April last. The officers of the Kailuani state that the storm was general all along the Hamakua coast.

It seems to be the general impression that A. B. Loebenstien of Hilo will receive the nomination on the Republican ticket as representative from the Big Island in place of Ewaliko, deceased. A number of Republican senators and representatives, when asked today about Ewaliko's successor, replied that, so far as they knew, the Republicans had not taken any action whatever.

The steamer Meteor did not sail yesterday as expected as she could not get her freight for here all out. This was through the fault of the consignees who did not take their goods away from the wharf quick enough to keep room for more freight to come out of the vessel. The Meteor will get away today.

In the neighborhood of fifty young people of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church went for a moonlight boat ride in the harbor last evening. The launches of the Young Brothers were used. After the ride, the young people went to the Young Brothers boat house near the light-house, where refreshments were served.

A young son of John T. Bowler nearly made a long trip to sea in an open boat yesterday. He was at the Healan boat house and took the little sail boat out for a spin. Not being familiar with the handling of a small boat in a heavy wind he was soon being blown out to sea when Young Bros. launch, which was at the Wisconsin picked him up and towed him to safety.

The statement by the Advertiser that a hospital corps had been added to the National Guard is incorrect. The First Regiment has always had a hospital corps. The corps was perfected by Colonel McLean in 1895. L. W. Hough was placed at the head of it. Subsequently S. L. Rumsey was for years hospital sergeant. The change made by Dr. Cooper, surgeon major, recently is merely in the personnel of the corps.

At a meeting of the Murphy Club last night, it was decided to rush the work of fitting up their new quarters in Emma hall. The hall on Bethel street has been given up, so there will be no concert Saturday evening. However, a fine program for November 2 has been arranged. It has been decided to form a Ladies' Auxiliary to the club. A part of the new hall will be given over entirely to the use of the ladies. Mrs. Nakuna, Mrs. Bolla Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. May are the charter members.

WELCOME TO PASTOR

MR. AND MRS. MUCKLEY
STIAN CHURCH

Pleasant Social Reception Last Night With Addresses, Singing and Refreshments—Biographical Sketch.

The congregation of the Christian church gave a cordial reception to the new pastor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Muckley, at the church last night. The church was prettily decorated with palm leaves and trailing sprays of malle, and vases artistically placed about the pulpit, organ and tables, were filled with fresh flowers.

Judge and Mrs. Galbraith, assisted by several others, presented the people as they came to the guests of honor standing near the entrance.

For nearly three-quarters of an hour the gathering enjoyed free and easy converse, after which a more formal program was gone through. Addresses were delivered by Mr. Hartley, Mr. Parker of San Francisco, Secretary H. C. Brown of the Y. M. C. A., Rev. W. D. Westervelt and Pastor Muckley. Songs were given, Prof. E. Cook being accompanist, by Miss Luttied, Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Greenig. In starting the program D. Logan as chairman briefly assured the guests of a hearty welcome, later delegating Mr. Westervelt to make the main address of welcome.

Mr. Muckley, in responding to Mr. Westervelt's cordial remarks, spoke most pleasantly of his first impressions of Honolulu and his new flock and the hopeful anticipations of Mrs. Muckley and himself regarding the relations with both congregation and community henceforth. He proved himself the master of a quiet and effective humor, such as gives pliancy to earnest and serious address. Among other personal confidences that greatly interested his hearers, he expressed a desire not to be known by "the cloth" or as being a specimen of a class. He only wanted to be a preacher of the gospel among them, and he did not wish to be called "the reverend" by people or press. Plain "Mr." or "Brother" Muckley would suit him.

After the pastor's address, which received applause, the refreshment committee handed around ice cream and cake, another social season bringing the time up to 10:30, when the gathering dispersed singing "Blest be the tie that binds," led by W. M. Templeton.

Mr. Muckley was born near Canton, Ohio, his early years being spent on a farm, and on the farm he received the sturdy discipline which helped him to the success he has attained in his labor in the profession of his choice. He taught school before reaching the age of seventeen, and he followed teaching until he decided on the ministry as his life work. He was matriculated at Bethany College near Wheeling, W. Va., having completed the theological course prescribed by that institution, graduating in 1890. He began his ministerial duties in the pastorate of a congregation at Beaver Falls, Pa. His next field of labor was with the West Side Christian church in Kansas City, Mo., where he remained over four years, during which time the church had a remarkable growth and erected a handsome church edifice. His next ministry was for the church in Water-town, N. Y., where he also labored successfully for four years. From there he went to Bellefontaine, Ohio, where he took charge of one of the leading churches of the place, remaining there until he received the call to Honolulu.

Mr. Muckley is a young man of strong and commanding physique and with the thorough training with which himself and his wife are equipped for their chosen work, and the pleasing personal qualities of both, success is assured them in their new field.

DAMAGES FOR EVICTION

Ten thousand dollars is the sum which G. F. Gouveia and his wife Maria Gouveia would like to obtain as damages from A. M. Brown, former Marshal of the Republic of Hawaii, T. R. Walker, T. May and Rev. J. Osborne, trustees of the Episcopal church which has its church building and parsonage at the corner of Makiki street and Wilder avenue. Two years ago next month according to the statement made by the complainants in a suit filed yesterday in the Circuit Court Marshal Brown ejected them from the church premises where they were domiciled, rendering them homeless. Furthermore, and the plaintiffs lay great stress upon this fact, the Marshal locked up their clothes.

The plaintiffs also state that they are informed and believe that all of the acts of Marshal Brown were done at the connivance, instigation and at the request of T. Rain Walker, T. May and Rev. J. Osborne, the church trustees. Service could only be made upon High Sheriff Brown, as Mr. Walker and Mr. May are at present in England, and Rev. Mr. Osborne is in San Francisco in attendance on the Episcopal convention.

Judge Cook's Description of Czolgosz

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—Superior Judge Carroll Cook, who has returned from an extended trip through the East and North, is the first Californian who interviewed Leon Czolgosz, the assassin of the late lamented President.

Judge Cook was privileged to call upon the anarchist at the jail building in Buffalo just after Czolgosz had been arraigned, and before he was tried, and he made some intensely interesting observations during the visit that was made possible through the courtesy and personal care of District Attorney Penny of Buffalo.

When seen today and questioned as to the call he made upon Czolgosz, Judge Cook stated to a Post reporter: "In the first place, the assassin's name is pronounced as if it were spelled 'Scholgosz,' and not 'Shoss,' as has been so widely reported. I happened to be in New York when the President died, and proceeded on to Buffalo after that to take in the exhibition there. Of course I reached the city just at the time excitement was highest—when it was torn between the emotions of overwhelming grief because of the national calamity and rage because of the act of Czolgosz. I had a very strong desire to catch a glimpse of the scoundrel who had robbed us of our President, and while visiting the Buffalo City Hall one day I expressed that desire to District Attorney Penny, a very able and affable gentleman, who was in control of the situation.

"In Buffalo, as contrasted to our methods, the police and the sheriff have nothing to do with the orders affecting a prisoner, but the District Attorney has full sway and is the only person who grants permission that a prisoner can be seen. Mr. Penny explained to me that nobody, not even the newspaper correspondents, were permitted to see Czolgosz, but after considerable thought he said that he would make an exception in my case provided I would tell nobody in Buffalo of the same. He summoned some officer and told him to take up his post outside of the jail building, about a block away, and that when I passed to walk ahead of me into the jail building, giving the word as I proceeded that I was to be admitted, and still not appearing to be conscious that I was following him. This was done to divert the suspicion of the thousands who swarmed about the jail, clamoring for a chance to enter or to catch a glimpse of the prisoner.

"I thanked the District Attorney and did as I was directed. I saw the man at the jail entrance and followed him inside. I passed through several sets of steel gates, all under heavy guard, then ascended three flights of iron stairs at the heels of my guide and sponsor, and eventually found myself on the top floor of the jail structure.

"Here we were confronted by another set of huge iron gates leading to a corridor, and after some delay we passed inside. Again we encountered another set of bars and gratings also patrolled by a heavy guard, and again we had to go through with considerable red tape to get inside. I was finally ushered into a long corridor, however, which was lined on one side with steel cages. Just before the middle cage sat an armed guard on a stool, and on either side of him, at a considerable distance, were other guards. This man, as I soon learned, sat before the Czolgosz cell. I was told to approach, and taking off my hat, I stepped up to the cell. It was quite dark at first, and it was difficult to discern just who was within.

"Get up, Czolgosz," said the guard in a gruff voice, and then I saw the form of a man rise from a bunk to the left of the cell. It was Czolgosz, the President's assassin. He got up slowly and with some expression of annoyance, stretched his arms a bit and walked to the front of the cell, where he reached out his hands and laid hold of the bars before him. He regarded me with indifference and turned his gaze to the guard in an inquiring way. Meanwhile I regarded the loathsome fellow closely.

"Czolgosz has the appearance of an insignificant person—I might say that he is suggestive of an animal. He has a bushy head of reddish yellow hair, that is tousled and unkempt, and that reminds one of a very cheap sort of character. This gives his head the appearance of being very wide at the top, and his face tapers down then almost to a point, there being no chin that would denote character or firmness, and big, sensual eyes that bespeak his depravity and utter lack of manhood. I spoke to the fellow, but he did not answer me. He scowled at the guard as if he had been fooled in being aroused, and as I stood regarding him closely he turned and retraced his steps to the bunk, where he lay down again, reminding me of a whipped dog. The set, meaningless expression of his face was revolting and disgusting.

"I soon left the jail. I do not think the Buffalo police can be censured for allowing such a character to approach the President, but the special exhibition police, who were in charge of the grounds, should certainly have seen by this man's appearance that he was wild, low-bred and dangerous. I cannot imagine how he ever got near the Presidential party, with vigilant men all about.

"Words fail to depict the demonstration of suffering and grief that plunged the cities of the East in sorrow after the assassination. Men cried in the streets, and women lamented as if their very own had been torn from them. It was pitiful, inspiring. New York donned a black mantle in one night, even outside Buffalo in this regard. Chicago was in the deepest mourning as well. The tragedy will never be forgotten by the people of this country. It was terrible."

ROOSEVELT'S MOTHER AND HER LOVE FOR CONFEDERATE FLAG

The Savannah News gives the following review of President Roosevelt's ancestry that traces back to a leading Southern family:

From the father's side may have come some of the blood that gave President Roosevelt his indomitable spirit, but certain it is that the maternal branch was rich in that quality that marked the Bullocks of Georgia for their resolution, pertinacity and strength of will. No better exponent of those traits could be found than Martha Bulloch Roosevelt, the mother of the President.

Not long after the Civil War Mrs. Roosevelt was on a visit to Savannah, where she had many friends. She was a Georgia woman, of distinguished ancestry, the Bulloch family being one of the best in the state and its representatives having served with distinction in the highest positions. It was but natural, therefore, that she should have been well received upon her visit to this city, and that there should have been rare pleasure to her, and unconstructed "rebel" in her intercourse with her own people, those who had fought and bled upon the field of battle or fought the greater fight of waiting and watching.

Reunion with her Southern friends, after the years of the war that she had spent at her home in New York, was a pleasure to Mrs. Roosevelt, and it was with the keenest relish that she recounted stories of the times and of the trials that she suffered in the city of her adoption through her unswerving loyalty to the cause of the South—a cause in which one brother, Irvine I. Bulloch, fought as an officer aboard the cruiser Alabama, and which another brother represented at England's capital city. One of these stories clearly revealed the character of the woman and leaves little difficulty in determining whence the President gets some of those qualities that have tended to his preferment.

It was at a dinner given in Mrs. Roosevelt's honor by Mrs. Henrietta S. Cohen, that she told the story. Of late years, because of Theodore Roosevelt's rapid advancement, it has been recalled by his mother's old friends, who feel pride in having known the mother of the President, and gladly ascribe to her some of the traits that are seen in the son.

It was just when the spirit of peace, uncertain as to whether it should alight, was hovering over the land, New York was aflame with passionate patriotism, and anything smacking of the Confederacy was not tolerated. Feeling ran high, and was it for any who braved the popular tide and showed a leaning toward the cause of the South.

Theodore Roosevelt, the older, decided at about that time to give some great social function. The Roosevelt mansion was accordingly bravely decked in bunting and with American flags. From every window, save one, flew the Stars and Stripes. That one was of Mrs. Roosevelt's boudoir. Her husband had not designed to omit it from the decorative scheme, but she would none of it. Instead, she hit upon a plan that would clearly reveal her sentiments.

Stopping not to consider the peril in which it might place her and her husband, but determined to show that all in that house were not of the cause of the North, she drew from among her most cherished treasures of the South, going to the window, she firmly fixed its staff and allowed its folds to flutter from the breeze.

On the instant, almost the hostile malign was noted. A passer by in the street below described it. In hot indignation, he pointed it out to another As mobs will, so one began to grow, and soon the street was choked with angry people, who shook threatening fists at the Confederate flag and in weighed most bitterly.

Alarmed by the gathering that was swelled every moment and that directed its wrath against his home, Theodore Roosevelt sought the cause that had stirred the people to anger. He was not long in finding it. Fierce acclaim directed his gaze, which rested upon the fluttering emblem of the South. The Roosevelt nature has never quailed before a crowd. Theodore, the elder, saw that imminent danger could probably be averted only through his persuading his wife to remove the objectionable flag. With a word to the crowd, he left, entering the house and finding his wife. He told her what she already knew—that the anger of the mob had been excited by her indiscreet display of her colors, and that it would be well for her to take in the flag.

"I shall not do so," said the mother of the President. "The flag is mine; the boudoir is mine. I love the flag for it represents my native land. No ruffian hand shall invade the privacy of my boudoir to drag down that flag, nor shall ruffian shouts force me to remove it from the window of a room that is wholly mine. Explain to them that I am a Southern woman; that I love the South. Do anything you like except touch that flag. It shall not come down."

And it did not. Theodore Roosevelt went again to face the crowd. He made a speech, dwelling with finesse upon his wife's love for her own land and moulding the mob to his will and to an indulgence of Mrs. Roosevelt in her desire to fly the flag of her beloved South.

The crowd dispersed, but the story remains to show a maternal quality that has made a President.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1901.

The man who has not the courage of his convictions might well ponder on what use he is to himself or anyone else.

Again Thurston's organ refers to Humphreys as a blackleg but he hasn't yet taken up the Bulletin's challenge that he publish proof of his statements.

Those departments praised by the Grand Jury are to be congratulated and urged to press forward in the good work. By not meriting criticism they are fulfilling their duty.

The ladies of the Catholic church are taking up a most worthy work in which they are entitled to and will unquestionably receive the enthusiastic support of the community.

Thurston's Bar Association meeting called through the ponderous medium of the official organ proved nothing but a myth, an abortion and a fake, like many other things the official organ is responsible for.

Rain has come to Hamakua. Weather Prophet Lyons' reputation is upheld, plantation men are happy and the drouth becomes a detail of unpleasant history soon to be forgotten in present progress and future prosperity.

Rain in Hamakua ought to have no dampening effect on the plans to store water in reservoirs for the district. Measures for storing the water now running to waste should be pressed forward with all the haste possible that the next dry season may find the district prepared.

The propriety of continuing the night schools is a matter that cannot be open to marked difference of opinion among progressive minds. Even Tammany hall, the most retrogressive organization of the Nation would not have the temerity to close any educational institution whether a day school or a night school.

DISPLAY THEIR CHARACTER.

The impression has gained ground that the Dole-Thurston ring had gained wisdom. How ill founded is this impression is shown in the following published editorially by the Advertiser, owned by Thurston and the accepted organ of the Dole government:

In the case of one Territorial Judge, a blackleg from Arizona, the Hawaiian Bar Association branded him by a vote of 37 to 7, not because he could not be "controlled" for no one has ever tried to control him, but because he is an unfit, mentally and morally to be a judge as a bunco man is to be cashier of a bank.

Bear in mind that the Advertiser and the Dole-Thurston political ring did all in their power to substantiate before the Attorney General of the United States, this charge now reiterated, against this Territorial Judge, A. S. Humphreys.

Bear in mind that Attorney General P. C. Knox investigated these charges carefully and in detail, and not only vindicated the Judge, but rebuked his defamers in most pointed and telling language.

Then draw your own conclusions as to the honor, the decency, the loyalty and character of manhood found in this political ring in Hawaii of which the Advertiser is the recognized and accepted mouthpiece.

Is there any wonder the people of Hawaii call for a change in the administration of the Territory?

CRITICISM AND SOLUTION.

The report of the Territorial Grand Jury carries with it a pointed rebuke for administrative capacity of the past and marks out a pathway of reform well within the power, the province and the duty of the Territorial Executive to perform. It is not couched in supercilious terms and by reason of its general conservatism in expression become all the more forceful in its suggestions to minds capable of accepting suggestions or willing to use their time and influence toward improving conditions in the public departments.

In some instances the burden of responsibility rests solely with the legislative branch on account of its failure to provide funds; in others the report is a direct criticism of the Chief Executive since the Territory of today is merely a continuation of his administration and indicates that during the period when his power was practically absolute no effective measures were set in motion to modernize or advance the conditions in our public institutions more especially the Insane Asylum. The report shows that he allowed the administration to drift, and the organization, whether public or private that drifts is merely performing a retrograde movement.

The condition of streets that called for critical comment is the direct result of a lack of public funds. This is where the legislative branch shares in the blame. Departments cannot keep pace with the rapid growth of the city tenement district without money.

The amount of space given the Insane Asylum seems fully warranted as it sets forth a state of affairs almost unbelievable. In fact such a statement coming from a private citizen would be accepted "with a grain of salt."

When it is known that the equipment for this Territorial institution is so lacking in ordinary conveniences as to require inmates to drink from tomato cans, no great argument is necessary to convince the most thoughtless citizen that radical action is needed some where.

The decaying floors of asylum buildings, the necessity for crowding inmates into cells and the generally retrogressive conditions of the institution are not the work of a day nor the result of a sudden increase in the number of patients. It shows little if any endeavor to properly care for the inmates of the place, official indifference of more than one month or one year. It shows that in the official mind this institution has been a place, and a pretty poor place at that, for detention rather than treatment.

The report on the rock crusher comes as a direct rebuke when the fact is still fresh in the public mind that Governor Dole made a personal investigation and a personal fight in the Board of Health to prevent President Stoggett from carrying out his determination of having the crusher removed from the precincts of the asylum or at least its operations stopped in that vicinity.

It may be offered in defense that removal of the asylum is being discussed. But removal of the Asylum was not even suggested until a clash between departments occurred over the rock crusher.

The situation at the prison so far as the warden is concerned offered no ground for criticism, yet here the indifference of administrative officials is shown by the lack of provision for those held in confinement but not under sentence. A man who may eventually be found to be innocent is the associate of criminals.

The Reform School alone, of all the institutions dealt with in the report has received some attention which promises an improvement in the future when funds are available. The institution as it exists today does not nor has it for years been a place for carrying out the ideals of modern reform. It is a place for boys to serve out sentences imposed by a court.

It is not sufficient to criticize. This the Grand Jury has done. The facts have been pointed out, and the citizens and officials must act.

An active desire and honest intention of officials to work for improvement is the first necessity. Given this stable quantity the officials must have money to do with. Money can only be obtained through legislative action.

The past is on record and will be judged by independent progressive men of the Federal Government.

Is it possible, however, for the Governor to continue blind to the fact that the Territorial departments must have money; that the only way to secure it is by a special session of the Legislature.

The Grand Jury has pointed to only a few of the necessities of the hour.

The solution rests with the Governor. The Territory is under his administration. What will he do?

AFRAID TO VOTE.

Judge Estee of the United States District Court was very much surprised yesterday afternoon to have the Federal Grand Jury come into his court and ask if it was proper for members of the jury to refrain from voting.

The gentlemen who sought this remarkable privilege of not being forced to express their opinion are not known nor is the reason given for the request known.

The immediate presumption is that members of the jury hesitate to go on record for fear of antagonizing certain interests or individuals with whom they have dealings and suffer discrimination in consequence. This presumption is immediate because the past history of these islands has been so prominently marked by the endeavors of powerful men to crush those opposing to hold an opinion differing from that of a ruling faction. It is to be hoped the presumption is not correct, for two reasons. First because it is distressing to any community to number weak minded, hesitating individuals afraid to say their soul is their own for fear of antagonizing a powerful influence that may do them an injury. Second because a continuance of past customs can only result in increased bitterness, increased strife and the eventual downfall of those attempting to overawe any citizen or interfere in any way with absolute freedom of thought and action along independent lines.

Novel Honeymoon. A ride over the Chilcote Pass in a sledge by dogs is included in the wedding itineraries of few Chicago brides, yet this is one of the incidents of the journey to her new home in Alaska Miss Belle Weissenbach, of 839 Prairie Avenue, is looking forward to. Miss Weissenbach's wedding to Henry Isaak took place Wednesday September 18, at the family residence at 5 o'clock in the afternoon with neither bride attendants nor reception. Miss Weissenbach confesses to no timidity at the prospect of making the trip through the perilous pass, and as for Mr. Isaak, he has braved the dangers of Alaska for three years and won wealth, of which he himself is too modest to say much, but which his friends estimate at a large sum. Henry Isaak and his brother Charles left Milwaukee for Alaska three years ago, and after a little successful prospecting embarked also in trade. Besides claims in the gold fields, which they expect will prove valuable, the brothers have become the leading merchants of Dawson City, where Henry will take his bride. Among the gifts he has bestowed on his bride is a main made entirely of gold nuggets—a novelty in jewelry calculated to inspire envy in other young women whose lovers are not Alaskan gold miners. There are hints of other unique gifts, but Miss Weissenbach declares their value has been exaggerated. Miss Weissenbach is the daughter of Mrs. Charles A. Weissenbach.—Chicago Tribune.

THE MERRY HA HA

[Advertiser, October 24.] [Advertiser, October 25.]

By inadvertence the meeting of the Bar Association was called for tonight to consider the report of the special committee appointed to formulate and present charges against Judge Humphreys. The fact that ten days' notice is required was overlooked. Yesterday the mistake was rectified, the date of the call being changed to the evening of the 6th of November. The meeting will take place in the rooms of the Supreme Court.

The above is a reflection on the officers of the Bar Association who did not "change" any date for the meeting of the Bar Association. The first and only call was issued yesterday by Vice President J. L. Kaulkou and Secretary D. H. Case.

JUDGE HUBBARD'S FEELING

Judge N. M. Hubbard of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, general counsel for the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, was the leader of the anti-Cummins forces, in the recent Republican campaign in his State. At the Cedar Rapids convention, Judge Hubbard's faction of the party was badly worsted, Mr. Cummins being nominated on the first ballot, to the great surprise of his own lieutenants. Judge Hubbard took his defeat gracefully, although it was a severe blow.

A short time after the convention, he judge was asked to go to an entertainment, and replied:

"No, I can't go."

"Why?"

"Well, I don't feel like it."

"What is the matter?"

"Well," said the judge, reminiscently, "I feel like a gambler I once knew, who had played all night and drunk or quench a great thirst. About a o'clock in the morning his head was tropy and he was groggy on his feet, and the last of his money had disappeared. He got up and staggered to the bar and said to the bartender:

"I want you to do something for me."

"No," said the bartender, "I can't."

"But you don't know what I want."

"Yes, I do; you want whisky, and you have enough now."

"No, there you are mistaken. I don't want whisky. I only want a couple of glasses of cold water and a few kind words."

To another inquirer, who asked how he felt, Judge Hubbard told the story of a well-known character of his State, "Uncle Jimmie" Jordan, who was once a candidate for State Senator in the Polk district. Jordan received the regular Republican nomination, and had a big majority to go on, so felt perfectly confident about his election. A man named Mitchell, who lived down in the eastern corner of the district, was nominated against "Uncle Jimmie" on an independent ticket, and was endorsed by the Democrats. Election day, to the amazement of all true-blue Republicans, Mr. Jordan was beaten by Mr. Mitchell. Jordan retired to his farm and was not seen in his city for several days. Finally, one day he drove in, and a citizen hailed him as he was going by on the street and asked him how he felt.

"Uncle Jimmie" leaned out of his wagon and, in a high voice, which was heard all over the street, answered:

"Well, I tell you how it is. I feel like Lazarus when he had been licked by the dogs."—Chicago Tribune.

NEEDED IT.

"There are any number of wretched people in this world who think it funny to play practical jokes!" snarled the insurance agent. "If I were any way about it, I would banish the whole lot of them to some desert island and see that they stayed there. With me, life is real, life is earnest and the grave is not its goal—not by a long shot, or at least till everybody is protected against loss by fire.

"The other day a while, I was engaged in my legitimate business, I met a friend who said that he knew of man by the name of Murphy who was in need of fire protection.

"A hint was all I wanted, and, getting his address, I started to look him up without loss of time. I found him at home and got down to business at once.

"Are you Mr. Murphy?" I asked.

"Oh, am," he answered.

"I understand," said I, "that you are in need of fire protection."

"I have only a faint idea of what followed, even happening so rapidly that I could not keep track of them all. All I knew was that I was facing a mad Irishman who seemed intent on murdering me in cold blood, without taking the trouble to explain why he was doing so. The neighbors say it was a beautiful fight. I don't know about that. I considered that I was lucky to escape with my life, and had no desire to dwell upon the fine points of the contest.

"It wasn't until I learned that he had just been excommunicated by the church that I realized the situation."—Detroit Free Press.

GRAND JURY CRITICIZES AND GIVES CREDIT TO DESERVING

Following is the complete report of the Grand Jury was read by Chas. T. Wilder, secretary, before Judge Gear yesterday afternoon: Honolulu, Oahu, T. H., Oct. 24, 1901. Honorable George D. Gear, Second Judge Circuit Court, First Judicial District, Territory of Hawaii.

The Grand Jury empaneled and sworn and charged before you on the 19th day of September, 1901, having concluded its duties begs to submit herewith the following general report. The Deputy Attorney General has brought to the attention of this Grand Jury 71 cases, all of which have been carefully considered, and in 49 cases true bills of indictment have been found and returned to your honorable court, and as to the balance of the cases numbering 22, no bills have been returned, as the evidence adduced was not deemed sufficient to warrant conviction on the respective charges preferred.

Pursuant to the general instructions contained in your charge, the Grand Jury has seen fit to inquire into the conduct of various Territorial institutions, as well as into the administration of certain functions of the Board of Health and of the Department of Public Works and in connection therewith beg to report further, as follows: Jurys Visit to Asylum.

The visit of the Grand Jury to the Territorial Insane Asylum was made on Monday afternoon, October 7th, at half past 1 o'clock. The jury was met by the recently appointed superintendent, Dr. R. M. Malster, who is also resident physician, and accompanied by Mr. Kilby, the assistant superintendent, proceeded to inspect the buildings and grounds and methods of management as far as the limited time at its disposal would permit.

The location of the asylum is well chosen, the summer heat being tempered by cool winds from the near by mountains. The grounds are well shaded and neatly kept and the various buildings standing detached about the lawn are also kept in orderly condition and the general appearance of the institution is to be commended.

Rock-Crusher Dangerous. To the rear and mauka of the men's wards, though in the asylum grounds, stands a large stone crushing plant, owned by the Territory and operated by the Department of Public Works.

The rock to feed the crusher is quarried from the adjacent hillsides, being blasted in large masses from the main ledge, and reduced by subsequent blasting with giant powder to the proper size for further reduction by the crusher. After passing through the machine it is elevated and screened into assorted sizes and stored in bins whence it is hauled off as needed by the Street Commissioner.

The continuous rattle of the revolving screens is distressing to many of the patients, and the blasting of the rock is not only an additional cause of disturbance but a source of imminent danger to the life and property within the asylum enclosure.

Rocks on Roofs. The jury was shown several places where stones had fallen on buildings with sufficient force to bend the iron roofing and in one of the wards a rock had evidently plunged through the roof to the main floor below. To minimize the danger to the patients, warnings are given before each blast and all are huddled under cover until the blasting is over. The plant, though stopped for a while past through orders from the Board of Health has started up again and we would earnestly recommend that further blasting be prohibited and that the crushing plant itself be removed from the asylum grounds and vicinity.

The buildings of the asylum are one-story frame affairs, and consist of six wards for patients, an administration building, a cottage for the captains of the guard, and another for the guards, one for the women attendants or nurses and a small dead house or morgue. The wards or dormitories consist of rooms with bare floor and walls, called cells, which in fact they are. They are usually furnished with an iron springless cot and bedding, though in many instances the mattresses are laid upon the floor, as there are not enough bed-rooms to accommodate all the patients. Yet in some cases it is regarded advisable to limit the furnishing to a mattress, pillow and quilt.

Asylum Cells. Ward No. 1, known as the violent ward, consists of eighteen cells, all occupied. Its ventilation should be improved. Ward No. 6 has twenty cells, which are poorly ventilated and eight of them are without cots, mattresses being placed on the floor. Eighteen cells are available and there are seventeen men in the ward. The roof of this ward has been punctured by a rock from a quarry blast. Ward No. 2 is the oldest ward in the asylum. It is in a bad state of repair and though, as we were told, it had been condemned three times by different grand juries, it is still crowded with occupants. Its floors and porches and foundations are decayed and the building is unfit for its present occupancy. In this building are the men's dining room and the general kitchen from which the meals of the women patients are carried to them in baskets and are eaten by them on the grass in fair weather and otherwise on their ward porches, as their dining room has been turned into a dormitory owing to the crowded condition of their quarters.

Asylum Equipment. The general kitchen is furnished with a good range, but otherwise its equipment is primitive, there being no steam table, or any of the improved cooking appliances usually found in similar institutions in other States and Territories of the Union. The utensils are old and badly worn and for drinking cups the patients use old tomato cans, there being no other cups provided.

Ward No. 3 has thirty-two cells, occupied by thirty-three patients. Here the floors are more or less rotten. The cells have overhead ventilation and the solid doors are fitted with a small grate.

Ward No. 4 is the woman's ward and has normal accommodations for nineteen patients, yet thirty-three women are housed there, many sleeping on the floors of the cells owing to the scarcity of cots. In this ward the ventilation is better than in some others, the ceiling being open work.

Ward No. 5 is a private ward for pay patients and is not in use. The bathing facilities for men is good. The women's quarters are provided with two tubs. Drainage System Bad. The drainage system of the place is to be commended. Mauka of the main enclosure is an open ditch which runs close to the men's sleeping quarters. In this ditch stands continually all the slop from the kitchen and the wash houses and the stench arising is most offensive. What runs off empties into a larger ditch which receives also the slop from the pol house. The sewage from the men's closets empties into cesspools, but the women's closet is built over a vault and the building itself needs repairs. A sanitary system of sewage should be installed and the health of the inmates be safeguarded from the danger of the stagnant ditches above described.

Employment Necessary. The patients numbered on the day of our visit 126, of whom 115 were men and 11 women. There is no work provided for the inmates except for a very few in the taro and garden patches and about the kitchen and wards. Neither are there any forms of amusement and there is no music, nor are there any appliances for physical exercise nor are outdoor games encouraged for either sex.

We would recommend that for every patient who is able to work at all, some employment, however light, be provided, and that rational amusements and physical exercises be introduced as far as practicable, so as to mitigate as far as possible the condition of the unfortunate inmates, who are deserving of the widest sympathy of our citizens and of the considerate care of the government of the Territory.

Commitment Method. Finally we would recommend to the attention of the honorable court and to the law making power of the Territory the propriety of changing the method now in vogue regarding commitments to the asylum.

A magistrate, on the certificate of a single doctor of medicine, should not commit any person to the Insane Asylum, and in all cases the patient should be produced in court. And we would suggest that a commission of at least three doctors, one of whom shall be a specialist in nervous diseases, pass upon the merits of every proposed commitment before judgment be rendered in the case, and we further suggest that from time to time, a visiting commission of three well qualified physicians might well be appointed to visit the asylum to ascertain if all the inmates, thereof were properly treated and rightly detained therein.

At the Reform School. This institution was visited by the Grand Jury next after the Insane Asylum. It seems to be kept as well as the present facilities and appropriations will permit. The great need of the institution is occupation for the boys. At present there is nothing outside of the primary school to supply this need except a small carpenter shop. In order to maintain a proper system of discipline over a number of boys gathered from the streets, as most of these boys have been, they should be given employment.

The Grand Jury strongly recommends that a farm be established in connection with the school, where the boys, in order to maintain a proper system of discipline over a number of boys gathered from the streets, as most of these boys have been, they should be given employment.

As there is no regular medical attendance at the school, the jury recommends that the prison physician be instructed to make periodical visits thereto. The additional expense would be comparatively slight and these wards of the Territory should have proper medical attendance.

Need of New Prison. A short visit was made to the Territorial prison and the Grand Jury heartily commends the efficient manner in which the institution is conducted. Its investigations were extended to the various buildings, the cells and the dispensary, the kitchen and the food, and it was found that everything proper was being done by the warden and his force for the safe-keeping and proper care of the prisoners. The jury would call particular attention to the injustice of confining witnesses and those convicted of minor offenses with those under sentence for grave crimes and felonies. The 184 persons in the prison were made up of United States witnesses and convicts, sentenced in the Federal Court for petty offenses as well as serious crimes and of offenders committed by the Territorial courts for offenses ranging from misdemeanors to rape and murder. The impropriety of housing all these people together is evident. The Grand Jury calls to the attention of this court and the legislative powers of the Territory, the great need of a new prison, of a larger size and appointments shall be in keeping with the increasing necessities of the Territory and with modern standards of jail construction.

Where Stars Shine. On our visit to the station house we inspected the kitchen, found it in good order, with the exception of the stove, which we condemn and recommend that a new one be installed at once. The sanitary conditions we found in good order, the various cells were found to be kept very clean. We condemn the placing of so many drunks in one cell. More cells are needed now than in former days on account of the new immigrants who are coming to the Islands. There seems to be ample room in the rear where more cells could be placed, and we recommend that there should be a property room and a clerk in charge. We found two or three cells filled with furniture, cases of liquor, etc. We suggest that these goods be placed elsewhere so that the cells may be ready for the use of more prisoners.

We condemn the practice of the Police Department in charging with public administrators and having to take charge of and keep in their possession for an unlimited time large quantities of furniture, liquor, etc.

Recommendations for Police. We recommend that a receiving hospital be placed in the police station, in charge of competent surgeons, and that purpose alone. We condemn the system of having misdemeanors, petty larceny and malicious mischief cases brought before the Grand Jury, they should be disposed of in the Police Court and would not keep a prisoner some six months awaiting a hearing. We heartily approve of the new police call system about to be put in and feel sure that it will be of great assistance to the department as well as a better protection to citizens.

One on the Auditor. We would respectfully call the attention of the Federal Grand Jury to the fact that there is still a large amount of audit work going on about Honolulu, and that although the attention of some of the Federal officers has been called to it by the Police Department, they have not seemed to pay any attention to the information. We also suggest to the judges of the Police Courts that they inflict more severe sentences in the many petty cases. In giving this class of people the limit of the law, we think vagrancy will diminish. We find that the appropriations for the Police Department were so slaughtered by the last Legislature that it has hampered the present efficient police officers, in being unable to see the citizens police protection they are entitled to. We find that sums of money are constantly being paid out of the private resources of the High Sheriff and his deputy, in caring for the public safety and would suggest that the Auditor be more liberal with the Police Department emergency fund. We recommend that the police force be increased as the present force is not sufficient. We find that there are twelve mounted police, six doing day duty and six night duty. Each watch doing duty from the tramway car stables at Palama to Kapiolani Park, including Nuuanu as far as the tram terminus, Punchbowl and Kakaako, thereby leaving that portion of the residence section of the city, from the pumping station on Bertania street - mauka, and to Punahou, without any police protection day or night.

Kewalo and Kakaako. As many of the cases brought to the notice of the Grand Jury during its session at Kewalo and Kakaako, the jury visited those localities and inspected two of their principal tenement houses and their surroundings. As rain had fallen the streets were found to be in a wretched condition. They should be drained and graded by the Government, wherever it is the duty of the engineer claimed as property of individuals or corporations they should be improved at the compulsion of the Board of Health, as they constitute not only a nuisance but are a menace to the health of the entire neighborhood.

The present law the Board of Health authorizes the construction of dwellings upon ground that has been drained to a level of four feet above tide datum, but it does not compel the filling of the streets upon which it abuts or of adjacent property.

Insanitary Conditions. The result is that hundreds of people are living amidst insanitary surroundings. The Grand Jury therefore recommends that the streets in the neighborhood of the junction of Queen and South streets and makai thereof be put in a passable and sanitary condition, and that in the future dwelling house permits be withheld as to lots in low-lying districts until the surroundings thereof, shall also have been put in proper sanitary condition. Although but little money, comparatively speaking, is expended upon the streets of this section, the road taxes thereof alone amount to hundreds of dollars each year, while the total assessed value of real estate for the year 1900 exceeded half a million dollars, and taxes collected for the same period exceeded $84,000, which figures will show a large increase for the current year.

Vile Places Visited. A tour of inspection was made, accompanied by the Deputy Sheriff, on the night of October 19th, and many notorious places were visited. We feel that the police force is doing everything possible in their power to patrol that part of the city where so much vice exists, with the limited number of men at their command. We would call the attention of the Board of Health to the insanitary condition in and about Palama and especially around the Chinese quarter, on Liliha street. The odor arising from these nuisances is very nauseating and very dangerous to the community. We would think that a general cleaning up of that part of the city would be in order. It seems to this jury that if the last Legislature had attended to their duties as public servants and looked more to the protection of our citizens and the public welfare in general, that these facts would not exist.

Free Passage Obstructed. In this district, poles carrying light or telephone wires were found to be placed outside of what would be proper curb lines, thus obstructing the free passage of vehicles in the present houses were inspected in this district which were occupied by people of a half-dozen nationalities. Violation of sanitary and other regulations were noted which have since been called to the attention of owners, agents and proper Territorial authorities.

Building Laws. With regard to the building laws of the Territory, the Grand Jury found that the administration thereof by the Department of Public Works, while in compliance with their letter, was to a large degree ineffective in that, while building permits are only issued upon the approval of plans and specifications first filed with the department, actual inspection of the buildings themselves while under construction or upon completion is not made, and variations from plans and specifications can easily be effected without detection or hindrance. The old law which required approval of building plans by the Fire Marshal seems to have become ignored with the abolition of that office, that duty not having been specifically placed upon the Chief of the Fire Department since its reorganization on a salary basis. As a result proper attention to the erection of chimneys and of stairways for fire escapes is lost sight of.

To Counteract "Swipes." The Grand Jury found six saloons established in a contracted area in the said district of the city, and while it is informed by the High Sheriff and the Territorial Treasurer that beer licenses were granted largely in order to diminish the manufacture of and indulgence in "swipes" and "okole-hao," which result had been practically achieved, with fewer arrests for drunkenness than formerly by the Police Department, it would recommend that, as heretofore indicated, the Federal authorities use the means within their power to break up by summary measures the illicit manufacture of all kinds of liquor so that amongst other good results the matter of the granting of saloon licenses may be put under a legitimate basis.

Open Night Schools. In the matter of the discontinuance of night schools in the city of Honolulu, the Grand Jury is of the opinion that such action was unwise for the general reason that ignorance and crime go hand in hand, and for the special reason that drunkenness, at least seems by reliable testimony to have increased in special localities since these schools were abandoned.

Physical Examination. The Grand Jury has seen fit to inquire into the matter under the old established regulation of the Board of Health which requires physical examination at least once a year by Government physicians of all children in public and private schools, not provided with health certificates, in order to detect contagious and infectious diseases. While the duty given to the public health, the Grand Jury finds upon investigation of the various methods under which it has been carried out on this and other islands and in the city of Honolulu, that there is much to be desired. When it is known that the duties given to the physician under this rule is without qualification or restrictions, so that boys and girls (sometimes entirely disabled) must submit to the requirements arbitrarily fixed by the respective physicians, it will at once be apparent that positive rules of practice should be adopted in the premises, so that the proper sensibilities of parents and children and of teachers who are usually expected to be present at these examinations are not in any way ignored, nor even affected.

The Grand Jury would, therefore recommend that the board of health hereafter employ women physicians exclusively in the annual physical examination of school girls and provide also that no physical examination be made by any physician of any children unless due notice thereof be first given to their parents or guardians.

Jury's Time Wasted. The Grand Jury would respectfully call the attention of your honor to the trivial character of many of the offenses examined during its session, especially those cases where the amount of loss involved did not exceed fifteen cents in value or consisted perhaps of a battered hat, an old calico dress, or a common razor. It seems it will and should be every business man should freely serve the community and preserve the every person suspected of the commission of an infamous crime the constitutional right of a secret investigation as to his probable guilt or innocence, but it submits to the honor of the court whether it is necessary and proper to compel Grand Jurors to inquire into the many petty offenses of daily occurrence which seem properly to belong within the jurisdiction of a Police Judge or a District Magistrate and would recommend that the next Legislature take proper action in the premises.

The treatment of the practice of certain Territorial officials of paying to their subordinates and clerks amounts of salary less than the specific sums appropriated by the Legislature for the respective positions filled by said employees, it is of the opinion that such practice should be condemned even though adopted in good faith and ostensibly for the purpose of curtailing expenditure of public money.

Much Oughted, Late-arr. In concluding its report the Grand Jury desires to express its appreciation of the ability, thoroughness, fairness, dignity and courtesy which have been the outstanding characteristics throughout its session, of John W. Catheart, the Deputy Attorney General, and would furthermore thank your honor for your kind efforts in our behalf in securing for our use the commodious and well-furnished room in which our long session has been held, and we are confident that the privilege has not been abused and that the room is now in like good order and condition as when first entered by us.

A list of all cases investigated by the Grand Jury, showing those in which true bills were found, and those in which bills of indictment were ignored is hereto attached and made a part of this report.

Recorded October 21, 1901. The vagaries of the moon have been so often described in verse and love story that it seems a shame to make that poor, overworked "bright regent of the heavens" stand for an ordinary prosaic tale.

ONE OF MAN'S ODDITIES. "I really believe that men who wear belts become attached to them just as a man does to an old pipe," said a haberdasher recently.

HIS QUESTION OF FAITH. A religious old ducky had his faith badly shaken not long ago.

MEXICAN COFFEES LANDS. St. Louis, Oct. 14.—W. H. Conner, a coffee and rubber plantation manager, resident on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, Mexico, is at La Cade.

From the Reports of the dealers in this city, we think no proprietary medicine has a larger sale than PAIN-KILLER.

NO SALOON LICENSE FOR PUNAHOU SUBURB

Treasurer Wright Has Respect for Wishes of Residents Conveyed in a Written Protest.

Owing to a protest signed by sixty-three residents of the neighborhood, Treasurer W. H. Wright will not grant a beer license for a place on Artesian street in Punahou.

"I am not in favor of increasing the number of licenses. Most of all I am stoutly opposed to granting licenses in residence sections of the city.

"It is not my intention to grant any licenses in residence districts unless the application be supported by the endorsement of the residents," says Mr. Wright.

Varicose Veins

DR. McLAUGHLIN OFFERS A PERMANENT CURE OR NO PAY.

Sapping the vigor of youth from the body of the unfortunate sufferer; eating away his courage, ambition and happiness day by day; causing him pain and languor; making him tired at night, worse in the morning, and rendering his life miserable in general, this terrible malady goes on, and there is no cure for it except the surgeon's knife or ELECTRICITY. Which will you choose?

DR. McLAUGHLIN'S ELECTRIC BELT CURES OR NO PAY. I guarantee an absolute cure by my new method. You have only to wear my Belt while you sleep, with special attachment carrying the glowing current direct to the parts, washing out the stagnant blood, restoring vigorous circulation and new strength. It is a positive cure.

"Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt cured me of Varicose and weakness of ten years' standing. I shall always be grateful for it."—LOUIS FOSCALINA, Mokenama Hill, California.

CAUTION!—Don't accept imitations of my Belt. All imitations burn and blister when they have any current at all. Call and test my Belt free or send for free book with full information. It will tell you if you have varicose. Inclose this ad.

In Liverpool, recently a sentimental young lady was on the Cunard steamship quay, when she saw a young girl sitting on a trunk in an attitude of utter dejection and despair.

"Poor thing," thought the romantic lady, "she is probably alone and a stranger. Her pale cheeks and great sad eyes tell of a broken heart and a yearning for sympathy." So she went over to the traveler to win her confidence.

"Crossed in love?" she asked, sympathetically.

"No," replied the girl, with a sigh, "crossed in the service."—Tit-Bits.

ANOTHER ANANIAS.

There was a crowd of catinists huddled in a hotel rotunda during the great drought of the past month, and each was telling the other that all the crops would be burned up and everybody would starve to death. An old man, who had the reputation of being a man who can always tell a story better than the one just told, put in his voice and said that the present drought was nothing to the one they had when he was a boy in "Carliny."

They all listened carefully to his wonderful story of how so many people starved to death, and how, when they cut their bodies open, they found that they had actually eaten grass before they died. He told the story through without interruption, but as soon as he finished, one of his listeners asked: "But why did they cut open their bodies?" This was a poser for the old man, but after spitting reflectively at a spot on the wall, he said: "Why, to see what they starved to death on, of course."

Then he wondered what they all wanted him to buy the drinks for.—Memphis Scimitar.

During the battle of Shiloh an officer hurriedly rode up to an aid and inquired for Grant. "That's the man with the field glass," said the aid. Wheeling his horse about, the stranger rode furiously at the general and touching his cap, address him thus: "Sheneral, I wants to make one report: Schwartz's battery is took."

"Ah," said the general. "How was that?" "Well, you see, sheneral, der sheccisionists flanked us, under der sheccisionists came in der rear of us, and den Schwartz's battery was took."

"Well, sir, you of course spiked the guns." "Vat?" exclaimed the German in astonishment. "Schpikie die gunst! Schpikie dem new guns? V'y, it would spoll dem!"

"Well," said the general, sharply, "what did you do?" "Do? Py tam, ve took dem back again!"—Cleveland Leader.

shirts sacrificed

NEWS FOR MEN THIS WEEK.

The New York shirt manufacturers are already showing their 1902 patterns of shirts. Anomalous as it may seem, these shirts will be worn on the streets of Honolulu before they are seen on Broadway. That's because it's always summer here.

We have ordered our quota of the new shirts, and in order to make way for them, we place the balance of the old stock on sale at 35c A PIECE.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that these are inferior shirts just because they are cheap. They are regular dollar shirts of the Madras, solid colors and perfect fit. A dollar does today what it would have taken three to do a few short months ago.

With the negligible shirts we have placed a few fine Laundered White Shirts, which will go at the same price

35 CENTS.

As a bait? Well, yes—as an extra inducement to get you men coming in here for your furnishings. These shirts are of "Wachusett" and "Garland" manufacture, with fine 2400 linen bosoms and wristbands, felled seams, reinforced back and front, and with long, full dress or short bosoms. But there are not many of them, so you'll have to step lively, gentlemen, if you would participate in the spoils.
