Montesori System Explained

On Wednesday afternoon last the Women's Aid Society had an unusually large attendance at the meeting held with Mrs. Frank Sommerfeld, when Mrs. Clarence G. White, of Haiku, talked for awhile in a very entertaining manner on the Montesori method of teaching small children.

This is surely the children's age. Those of us who in childhood laboriously struggled with

"Readin' an' writin' and 'rith metic, Taught with the aid of a hickory stick" might well be envious of the children of the Montesori schools whose little minds are developed as easily and naturally as buds blossom into flowers, and with as little assistance from adults as possible.

"We are too apt", said Mrs. White, "to try to do everything for the child instead of teaching it to wait upon itself, which every mother knows requires infinitely more patience."

That wonderful Italian teacher, Madame Montesori, originally studied out a method for the mentally deficient; it is now used with wonderful success on the normally intelligent child. By its use the sense of touch is highly developed, for which purpose rough and smooth surfaces are used and bits of fabric of varying thickness and texture; distinction in color by wooden cards wrapped with twine in every gradation of color; and the sense of proportion by geometrical designs and wooden blocks of different sizes.

While the little tots are playing games with these fascinating toys they are developing concentration and the power of close observation, and are thus preparing their minds for the more serious undertakings of their later school life. Mrs. White's experience with her own children has demonstrated, to her own satisfaction at least, that by becoming familiar by sight and touch with the forms of the letters of the alphabet outlined in sand-paper on cardboard, writing follows as a matter of course.

Mrs. White brought with her some of the devices used in the work to illustrate her lecture, and these were examined with interest by those present. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Enos Vincent.

Tourists Visiting Maui

Tourists who "did" the Honolulu Carnival are drifting along to Maui, and already three parties have made the Haleakala trip. More are expected soon and most of the visitors are making the round trip to Hilo via Maui.

The Inter-Island Company is inducing as many tourists as possible to visit Maui, either when going or coming from the volcano of Kilauca. The recent visitors come from all parts of the world. One was from Yokohama, two were from Canada, one from England and four from Chicago.

Hopes are expressed that a steady stream of tourists will now be maintained and that Maui will become the Mecca of all those who plan trips to the Hawaiian Islands.

Many Hogs Stolen

"Pigs is pigs", even when part of the animal is missing. Over on Molokai there has been much debate lately and much talk about the porkers of that island. The mysterious disappearance of sundry piglets and their subsequent appearance in the Honolulu markets, has given rise to much recrimination around Pukoo and a few other places on Molokai.

The strange part about the affair is that the pigs when roaming their owner's estates on Molokai, have always been recognisable by the fact that a registered ear-mark showed out plainly on each little piggy head. When the pigs arrive in Honolulu, the ear-mark does not show, for the simple reason that the whole ear has been, in all cases, sliced off.

The fact that pigs were constantly reaching Honolulu from Molokai, and that the bacon makers were all minus an ear, led the unsophisticated dealers in the capital city to imagine that a new breed of pigs was being raised on Molokai. The dealers wrote to the hog ranchers and asked about the new breed; then the fur began to fly. As no Molokai ear-mark was known to resemble a sliced off ear, the various owners began to muster their pigs and count noses. A vast shortage was shown on some ranches, and then traps were laid to catch the men who were first destroying the ear-marks, and then shipping the hogs to Honolulu. The sheriff of Maui and the county attorney journeyed to Molokai and looked into the matter. Some arrests are expected to be made in the near future, and meantime, the trade in earless pigs is falling off a lot.

Water Very Scarce

People who are dependent on water from the Kula pipeline are now in terrible straits, reports county engineer Brune, who is looking over the whole proposition with a view to remedy conditions.

Water has been non est for ten days or so, and the amount of the fluid at the waterhead is less than for a long time past. Residents of lower Paia are indulging in brackish water, and some people even have not got that to drink. Soda-water and beer is at a premium and even some "washing" is done with salt water—not beer.

The people who need water demand a reservoir somewhere, and it is said that only two places are suitable for the big tank. Olinda is one, and the Waiakamoi waterhead is the other, say people who knew the country. At any rate, water is short and the summer is coming on. Brune claims that a reservoir would be a revenue producer, and thinks that a private individual would make much money out of a reservoir if he were allowed to make a fair charge for the water.

NEWS OF WEEK AS TOLD BY SPECIAL WIRELESS Honolulu News.

HONOLULU, Mar. 6.—The Governor has pardoned Kam Kau, who attempted to murder his daughter at the Lyman residence some years ago.

The Bower jury disagreed. The votes stood at 9 to 3 in favor of conviction.

The Pioneer Mill Company gets the Wahikuli lands at $5 per acre for cane land, and 25 cts. per acre for pasture.

Mrs. Welch appeared in court yesterday and reserved her plea. She is out on bail supplied by Carlo.

The land board approves of policies of short leases and low rates. There is rumor of further reduction in the price of canned pines. Libbey, Libbey and McNeil, are said to be considering the erection of a cannery to cost $250,000.

HONOLULU, Mar. 5.—The Governor interfered with action of Land Board relative to Kapaa lands and cannery site, and the board now rests. The board was obliged to grant request for 19 acres or resign.

Mrs. Kate Welch has been indicted for perjury. A prisoner who escaped yesterday returned to get fifteen cents that he had forgotten and was arrested at once.

Judge Monsarrat says that he never refused to issue a penal summons for W. H. C. Campbell, and that that was the course he advised. Judge Cooper will retire from the bench on Friday next.

In a near-riot last night at Aala Park two soldiers were stabbed. E. H. Wodehouse predicts that there will soon be a shortage of labor in the islands.

L. L. McCandless says that he did not write the letter concerning the judgeships.

Alec. Desha and Emma Hanneberg were married here last night.

HONOLULU, Mar. 4.—Watson's name has been sent to the Senate. Wilder's has been held back, pending investigation. McCarn is said to have opposed the appointment of two men from the same law firm.

A prominent lawyer is said to have written Secretary Tumulty that Governor Pinkham is trying to fill judgeships with men who are favorable to the sugar interests, he having once been an employee of the Planters. Pinkham has published a denial of the statement that he favored the sugar planters friends.

The local democratic party is warring within itself over appointments.

Judge Cooper is ready to retire and, unless assured by Pinkham of reappointment, will do so.

The Harbor Commissioners are getting after Magistrate Monsarrat for declining to issue a summons or a warrant for the arrest of W. H. C. Campbell for smoking on wharf. The matter is up to the Chief Justice.

Two bank clerks from Chicago have been arrested for forgery. They say they had a good time and will go back without extradition papers.

The contractors of the Pearl Harbor Drydock have been relieved of responsibility for the damage.

Coast News.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—President Wilson appealed for a repeal of the Panama Canal tolls, as regards American ships passing through free. He said it was discriminating in favor of American shipping. A few minutes after the message was read, Senator Chilton introduced a bill to enable the President to suspend the provisions regarding American ships. Senator Kern is supporting the President.

NEW YORK, Mar. 5.—Relatives of the Becker gunmen are trying to get new trials for the men, now that Becker has been allowed one.

OAKLAND, Mar. 4.—Fifteen hundred idle men here refuse to go to work. Efforts are being made to drive them from the town.

NEW YORK, Mar. 4.—The I. W. W. advised hundreds of men not to work, and then the bums took refuge in a church from which they were hauled off to jail.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—Sir Lionel Carden approves of Wilson's policy regarding Mexican affairs. Thiuku Huerta will soon resign and then there will be peace—for a while.

NEW YORK, Mar. 4.—A witness in the Becker case has appealed for protection as he fears for his life.

Foreign News.

TOKIO, Mar. 5.—Baron Matsuda, the well known diplomat, is dead.

EL PASO, Mar. 5.—Louis Leez, the son of a wealthy rancher, is held for ransom by Villa, who demands $500,000. If the amount is not paid the lad will be murdered.

BUENOS AYRES, Mar. 5.—Despatches from Brazil report that Rio Janeiro is in a state of seige. Race war has broken out and the negroes, who number thousands, are fighting.

LONDON, Mar. 4.—England is becoming indignant over the action of the United States regarding Mexican affairs.

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 3.—Two more British subjects are missing.

NOGALES, Mar. 3.—Carranza has appointed a commission to inquire into Benton's death. England will not cause the United States to take action but will probably do so independently.

JUAREZ, Mar. 3.—Villa got angry yesterday when he heard of the murder of a Chinese.

Race Club Ball

All sorts of preparations are being made for the big fancy dress ball which is being promoted by the Maui Racing Association, and which is to come off on April 25. The executive committee, headed by Louis von Tempsky, is working on the proposition, and the members feel assured of the success of the undertaking.

The ball promises to be the one big social affair of the year, and all Maui will surely be present. Fancy dresses are being secured from all parts of the country, and many costumes are being made in Honolulu and on Maui.

The ball is expected to become an annual affair, and the patronesses are all working to make the initial venture a huge success. The best of music will be secured and everything possible will be done to make the race club ball the greatest function of the kind ever carried out on this island.

Paia Tennis Matches

Up at Paia the tennis tournament is going strong, and the play shown in the mixed doubles has been of excellent variety. Nearly every afternoon there is a crowd to be seen on the courts, and the interest is always well sustained, especially when the contesting teams happen to hail from different districts.

One match which was played last Sunday afternoon, was a very interesting one and it was between Mrs. Dale and T. D. Collins and J. Collis and Miss Couch. The first set was won by Collins and his partner, 6-3, but the second set went to the Paia pair by the same score. The third, and deciding set, was won by Collins and Mrs. Dale and, strange to say, the score was the same as in the other two sets—6-3.

The tournament is approaching the semi-final stage, and some really fine tennis should be seen during the next week or two.

St. Patrick's Birthday Dance

On March 17, St. Patrick's Day, there will be some tall doings at the Wailuku gymnasium when the Waihee basketball girls will meet the Wailuku team. The rival outfits are practising all they know, and the prospects of a fine, interesting game, are bright.

On Thursday evening last the Wailuku girls had a practise game and they showed that they are in the pink of condition. The visiting team will have a tough contract on their hands on the evening of Saint Pat's birthday.

There will be a dance the same evening and great preparations are being made for it. Dan Carey is working his head off about the arrangements, and that makes it a certainty that there will be a large attendance.

Juniors Going Strong

Results
Cubs beat C. A. C., score 8 to 7
Asahi beat Kahului, score 14 to 5

In the first game of the series of the Maui Junior Baseball League played on the Wailuku diamond last Sunday morning, the Young Cubs defeated the C. A. C. by a close score of 8 to 7.

The game started at 10:30 a. m. with the C. A. C. at bat, and the Cubs in the field. In the first inning, the C. A. C. scored two runs, but the Cubs gathered in 5 runs after bombarding Chong's delivery all over the field. C. A. C. managed to tally one run in their half of the second inning, and Willie Cummings scored one run for the Cubs. From the third to the last inning, both teams were playing an uphill game, and when it was over, the score stood 8 to 7 in favor of the Young Cubs.

The game was exciting throughout and some fine playing was done by the winning team. D. Chong showed a remarkable improvement in his pitching from the second inning on when he held the Cubs down to only 3 runs.

KAHULUI VS. ASAHI

The defeat of the Kahului club in the afternoon game by the Asahi team was due to poor sticking and base running on their part. They seemed to have grandstand fright in the beginning, and they could not hold together.

The Kahuluis could not find Manao's delivery until the fourth inning, when they scored four runs. They made one run in the eighth, and had the railroad boys gingered up from the start, they would have done better. From the beginning of the game, the Asahi boys just romped through them, over them and under them, and the result of the game was 14 to 5 in favor of the Japanese.

Tomorrow the Waikapus will meet the Valley Isle for the first time at 10:30 a. m., and the Paiaas will cross bats with the Wailuku Gymnasium in the afternoon.

The line-up and detailed scores for both games follow:

WHAT KAUAI THINKS.

THE editor of The Garden Island has the right idea of things, and his editorial about the way the County of Kauai is run by its supervisors appeals to the right thinking people of Maui. The editorial reads as follows:

"The compliment paid by the probe commission of Maui county to the county government of Kauai is gratifying. At the same time, when the facts are sifted, it is nothing extraordinary that our county officials have done that brings unto them this laurel wreath; but, in view of the experiences of the other counties, it would seem to be the things they have left undone that has supplied the reason for commendation and praise. Kauai's county government is composed of business men, who handle the public's affairs as they would their own. They have been beset by temptations to spend money with recklessness, precisely as have the supervisors of Maui, Hawaii and Oahu; but they have had the regard for their oath of office and the backbone to say "no", and to stay with it.

In all of the counties, except Kauai, public office has become very largely a "private snap." On Maui, on Oahu and on Hawaii, officials have paid more attention to dignity than to business. They have surrounded themselves with useless secretaries, bookkeepers, stenographers and what-not, giving "tone" to their offices, to be sure, but winding up in the inevitable scandals which have filled the air for sometime over in their direction.

County government is good, and can be made a success. It is a success on Kauai, and can be made equally so on Oahu, Maui and Hawaii. But before this is possible, the office-holders over there must get down to Kauai principles (which are merely the dictates of ordinary business policy), turn a deaf ear to the job-chaser and grafter, and shape their budgets of expenditures according to their respective incomes."

RESIGNATIONS ?

THREATS of resignations have been going the rounds and the people who have their ear to the ground think they can hear a noise something like a supervisor or a bunch of supervisors, for that matter, turning in their letters of resignation. And, although nothing has come to a head up to the present time, there is always hope. Many voters think that if the present Maui board of solons would resign, a real business board could be appointed by the Governor for the unexpired term. Then, some say, there would be a possibility of the voters keeping in office real business men who could run the county in the manner in which the County of Kauai is run. This is a beautiful dream that, possibly, won't work out, but still there are many people who would welcome the change. As one prominent citizen of Maui said the other day: "It would be a great thing for Maui if we could only get business men to sit on the board of supervisors. But, what chance would they have of being elected to office? If the members of the present board would only pack up their suit cases and worry no more with the cares of office, there would go up a sigh of relief from all over the county."

There was a lot of talk some time ago about the whole of the counties being brought under a general auditor who would "audit the auditors," if the expression can be used. The idea is a good one and, if it had been carried out years ago, the County of Hawaii would have been saved much money, and poor Charlie Maguire would not now be dying in a prison. The Territorial auditor "audits" the systems but is that enough? It certainly was not sufficient in Hilo. Governor Pinkham might institute some system that would give the people of the different counties full confidence that everything financial is alright.

LIFE IN ICELAND.

It is Not the Crude Existence That Many People Imagine.

Most people think of the Icelanders as being like Eskimos, a crude, unenlightened people, looking more like animals than people and living in snow huts, dressed in furs, whereas the Icelanders are handsome, cultured people, highly educated, with fair faces and brilliant eyes and a very dainty fashion of dressing. They live in neat, charming houses, have beautiful flower gardens and never wear furs, for the reason that it is never bitterly cold in Iceland on account of the gulf stream washing its shores.

As to their diet, it is somewhat wanting in variety on account of the lack of many food staples, but all their dishes have a certain odd richness that is very delicious to a stranger. It is largely because of the amount of oil they use. They eat many things in oil—a clear, sweet oil, though substituting olive oil in the dishes quite as tempting as they try to use their native products, as everything else has to come so far and the steamers call only once in ten days from England and Denmark, and the imported goods are expensive for Icelanders, who are not very well off, though never poor.

Their own products are fish in vast quantities; lamb, the chief meat; eggs, wild ducks, sheep's milk, cheese and butter; turnips, of which they raise and eat more than of any other vegetable; potatoes, onions and beets, beans and occasionally peas; spinach, cabbage and Brussels sprouts; no fruit to speak of and rarely any beef—it is imported from Denmark and Scotland. Pork is rarely eaten and then in the form of imported bacon.

But out of this meager list of staples they evolve some truly delicious dishes, for the island people are all good cooks and have a native knack that is like the French. They can make anything they cook taste good, no matter what the ingredients may be.—London Family Herald.

NITROGEN IS A LOAFER.

This Gas is Too Lazy to Do a Thing Except "Being Around."

Nitrogen in its normal condition—as it occurs in the air we breathe, of which it forms over 75 per cent—is a singularly lazy member of the family of elements. The average human loafer is ambitious by contrast. He will at least whittle a stick by way of occupation and scramble up with some alacrity if asked to "have something." Nitrogen gas just puts in its time "being around." And it doesn't do anything else. No ordinary stimulus can stir it to action. We breathe in gallons of it every day, but we breathe it all out again absolutely unchanged except that it is a little warmer. And this despite the fact that the body has to have a regular supply of nitrogen and that we spend much money on expensive food to get it.

In the outer world, too, elements of all sorts go wandering by, and nitrogen sits like a dummy uninterested and quite unresponsive to any advances they may make. To be sure, a few years ago the industrial chemists succeeded, by using powerful electric currents, in waking up the atmospheric nitrogen, and now there are several large factories in which nitrogen activated in this way is being turned into explosives and fertilizers. But in the laboratory and on the street it has continued to be the inert element par excellence.

In view of the very important part that nitrogen combined plays in the world, chemists, with the necessary idealism to make them great, have long suspected that if just the right conditions could be provided this indifference of nitrogen to its fellow elements would be overcome.—New York Post.

Frugality.

The daughter of a southern congressman had recently been a bridesmaid at the marriage of a college chum. On her return home she was telling the family, including the old colored mammy, of the ceremony. "And just think, Aunt Comfort," she finished, "the bride wore the lace veil that had belonged to her great-grandmother!" "Law, Miss Sidney, chile!" exclaimed mammy in tones of horror. "That sholy am one saving fambly!"—Judge.

Rough on the Plumbers.

"Are there any plumbers in heaven, dad?" asked a small boy. The gentleman addressed had just received a "small" bill from one of the plumbing fraternity as he answered, promptly and emphatically: "No, my boy. Certainly not! But what made you ask?" "I thought there couldn't be, because the sky leaks such a lot."—London Tatler.

Expected Reduction.

Grandpa Macpherson—How many do you and two make, Donald? Donald—Six. Grandpa—What are you talking about? Two and two make four. Donald—Yes, I know, but I thought you'd "beat me down" a bit.—London Punch.

Punishment.

"Pop!" "Yes, my son." "Did mamma ever punish you?" "Well, she married me, my boy."—Yonkers Statesman.

Wasted Effort.

"Few of us get credit for our effort." "True. I spent most of yesterday afternoon in an effort to get credit for a month's supply of groceries."—Buffalo Express.

Mauian Waxes Wrath

"I see", said a well known Maui man the other day, "that a banker from St. Paul declares that free sugar will not hurt Hawaii. I wonder what he would say if some one suggested that free overdrafts—without interest—would not hurt his bank?"

Then waxing wrath about the absurdity of outsiders, who know nothing of local conditions, "shooting off their mouths" about the sugar situation, the Mauian said, "The banker talks about small farmers. How in Sam Hill are the small farmers going to raise crops and transport their produce 2,100 miles and then compete as to prices with mainlanders who raise truck. Talk sense. These islands would not be with a cuss if it were not for the fact that sugar can be raised here."

The gentleman also made a few hot remarks about the President and his policies but, what's the use, anyhow."

CHURCH NOTES.

The Lenten services at the Church of the Good Shepherd for the coming week are as follows: A brief service of Prayer, each morning at 7 o'clock. Evening prayers and short address, suitable to the Lenten season, on Wednesday evening at 7:30. A service for young people at 3 p. m., on Friday, and prayers, preceding the Choir practice on Friday at 7 p. m.

The services on Sunday will be as usual, Holy Communion at 8 a. m., Sunday School at 10 a. m., and Morning Prayer and sermon at 11 o'clock, and the evening service at Puunene at 7:30. Friends and strangers are very cordially invited to all services.

Mrs. J. C. Villiers will give another Organ Recital, in the Church of the Good Shepherd, toward the end of the month, the proceeds from which will be given to the Kula Sanitarium.

Locals

The Junior Baseball League is attracting much attention nowadays.

The Iao Stables Company has been awarded the mail carrying contract for the next four years. Manager Garcia figures on putting a new truck into commission.

Kaunama Wine is a product of the "Big Island," and is absolutely pure. J. G. Serrao is the wine expert of Hilo and his winery is famous all over the group. Kaunama Wine may be obtained from all dealers, or direct from the winery.

"Jimmie" Foss dropped in from Hawaii the other day and all his friends were very glad to see him. There is a possibility of the well known contractor landing some more contracts on the Big Island.

Last Monday evening there was a dinner given at Mrs. Kekoikai's home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Vert, of Oregon and Miss Ethel Wilkie, of Scotland. The party is touring the world and met old-time friends on Maui.

Water is being carried by truck to the Kula Sanitarium where it is badly needed owing to the pipeline failing to bring a supply. Hugh Howell's truck is doing good work in carrying 1,000 gallons a day to the institution.

Mrs. C. Achuna Akina, of Kihei, died last Sunday from pneumonia. Her husband is seriously ill with the same complaint. Mrs. Luka Kalaeiwa, mother of Achuna, also died a short time after her daughter-in-law passed away.

Mr. A. Gross, of the Waikapu section of the Wailuku Sugar Company, entertained his uncle, Mr. B. Munster, of Yokohama, last week. The visitor has been engaged in business in the Japanese city for many years and has now retired. He came to Maui to see his nephew and returns to the Far East in a week or so.

BORN.

WICHERT—At Kahului, March 5, to Captain Carl and Mrs. Wichert, a son.

Telegraph News of the Week.

HONOLULU, Mar. 3.—A dark horse may be appointed postmaster at Honolulu. Senator Williams has put in the name of a new man, who, it is thought is a well known Honolulu citizen. Governor Pinkham issued land patent for 1500 acres for settlers. Lihue is developing 100,000,000 gallons daily water supply. Project well underway.

Chas. Barron goes to Washington after postmaster's job.

HONOLULU, Mar. 2.—Baseball—All Chinese 2, Oahu 1. It is rumored that desertions from the Chinese team will weaken that organization when it goes to the mainland. It is said that some of the best men will not go.

The Collector of Internal Revenue will keep his office open till midnight in order to give income tax payers a last chance to dig. Governor Pinkham will soon start for Hawaii where he will look into conditions.

Walter Behn's automobile was destroyed by fire at the Moanalua polo grounds last night.

CHICAGO, Mar. 3.—Christy Mathewson will stay with the Giants.

NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—The city is in the throes of the worst blizzard since 1888. Thousands of people cannot get to their homes in the suburbs.

NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—General Horston King is dead.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—President Wilson took the newspapermen into his confidence today and said that he is sure that the United States will get what it wants regarding Mexico and that intervention may be unnecessary. He said that war would mean the sacrifice of many lives.

NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—The blizzard has given work to 50,000 men who have been put on to clearing snow away.

SANTA BARBARA, Mar. 3.—The late Mrs. R. L. Stevenson left $125,000 to her daughter, Isebel Strong. The divorced wife of the dead writer was left $5.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—Carranza says that he is not responsible to the United States for the murder of Benton as the latter was a British subject. By order of Villa the investigation into the murder of Benton has been stopped. The commission could not exhume the body, as permission was refused by Villa. It is thought that Villa fears that wounds on the body will show that Benton was shot from behind, and then riddled with bullets. The next move of Great Britain is watched with interest.

SANTA BARBARA, Mar. 2.—Lincoln Beachey, when 1,500 feet in the air, found his aeroplane broken and useless. The machine fell to the ground but Beachey jumped when twenty feet from earth and escaped with slight bruises.

NEWPORT, Mar. 2.—Pinchot will oppose Penrose for the Senate.

CHIHUAHUA, Mar. 3.—It is now thought that the delay in the investigation of the murder of Benton is caused by Villa wishing to be sure that the body is so decomposed that no medical examination could show how Benton was killed.

NOME, Mar. 3.—Fred Ayer won the big dog derby. Johnson's team was second.
