A MODERN EDEN.

BY JULIEN D. HAYNE.

It is a matter of history, of record made by their own hands, that the early emigrants to the Sandwich Islands, missionaries and nondescrips, were not skilled thinkers.

In proof of this may be read the following enactment, contained in
"Ke Kumu Kanawai a me Na Kana-wai o Ko Hawaii Pae Aina" (The constitution and laws of the Hawa-ian Islands): Even if a man's animal do criminally enter the enclosure of another it shall be illegal for the owner of the enclosure to take the life of the animal. This is one of the laws of 1841, enacted hundreds of years after the most ordinary citizen had learned to know that statutes were enacted as the appointed rules of a community, or a state, for the control of its inhabitants, not its animals; and that animals cannot act criminally, because they have no mental parts. This statute, as well as most others that obtain in Eden, was drafted by missionary jurists, nearly all under the supervision of their "King," and as it has ever been the method of public jurists to draw a great part of the analogy upon which they form the law, from their knowledge of the laws of other civil communities, it gives light to the mental eye, which enables us to see what manner of man has given tone and tone to the social relations and influences of Hawaii now.

An old trick of the missionary, when he is found out in his ignorance and wrong doing, is to claim that the laws were made, or the order committed, because the Hawa-ians were primitive and they must be instructed according to their understanding. The writer's first desire in his description of a Modern Eden, is to give the missionary a fair play, therefore, before this criticism was written the writer saw the son of the King and the chiefest among the law givers of Eden, and called his attention to the incongruities of this act. The son of the King said: "Of course, you know, the natives were ignorant of our civilization and ideas, and our forefathers were compelled to write to suit the savage mind." This was granted, but the impropriety of the contention pointed out, by calling attention to the fact that the words, "criminally," "enclosure," and "illegal" were terms over which many eminent jurists and many learned judges had pondered without being able to clearly define, and that it was a grave question, to-day, just how "criminally," "enclosure," and "illegal" should be defined. To the writer's mind it is clear that this and many other laws that could be cited but demonstrate the fact that the missionaries were ignorant in two ways: they could not comprehend the needs of the native; and they had the desire of the illiterate to appear wise.

I believe that the early settler is well described in a little story which the writer overheard a native singing, out around the point of Damond Head, he sat on a jagged bit of lava rock and held forth as follows:

"These missionaries came to the Sanwich Islands.
They did, they did.
They were chuck full of wisdom and worldly ways.
They were there long.
But they had not a dollar, now these are the facts.
These whole stock in trade it was truckery and trade.
And they smiled on the natives most unkind and bland.
While they traded salvation for titles in land.
Sing hoo lo ka piika.
Now they soon wrote their friends in Boston, Mass.,
That the heathen Hawaiian was simply an idiot.
He was, he was.
And every old book that could preach on pay.
For fair Honolulu sailed gladly away.
And they multiplied faster than rats and mice.
And piled up large fortunes in ways not so
sing hoo lo ka piika.
Soon they were judges and big-wigs at law.
They were, they were.
And for every fat office they reached out their paw.
They did, they did.
Why they even insisted on naming the Queen,
But when it came to name when they voted for her.
So they thought it was better by Trade Society's grace.
To get on at once, the whole trouping power.
Sing hoo lo ka piika.
But the end is not yet, for there is a fool
There is, there is.
And he is, part of this gang who there is in the end.
He will be with them, in the end, but slowly, yet sure as sure.
The great from their grinding stones never lose it.
And he is, part of the day, when they Will be, they will be, more than that they will be.
Sing hoo lo ka piika.

CONSTITUTION OF NEW YORK.

New York State has a constitutional convention in session at this writing in Albany, the political capital. Some facts concerning the fundamental law of the Empire State will prove interesting, especially in view of the approaching submission of a new constitution for the Hawaiian Islands to a convention, by the oligarchy that has ruled this country by force for the past sixteen months.

The above named educators furnished them for the Maui Teachers who met at Wailuku last Saturday afternoon and evening. The afternoon meeting began with an exercise in clay modeling, with special reference to the teaching of geography, by Mr. J. L. Dumas, of Waiehe. Although it is perilous to say who first advocated or used any particular educational means or device, it is safe to say that it is through the influence of Froebel and his kindergarten that clay has become an important material in the best primary school work.

Mr. Dumas showed how this material can be used to prepare the concepts with which the learner's imagination may later construct pictures of lands, unseen, thus substituting for the dead cold maps, mountains and plains, hills and valleys, forests and meadows where men may live and play their vocations, animals may roam and birds may sing.

Next Miss Hammond showed, also after the model of Froebel, how a beginning in geometry, (the study of geometric forms) may be made with papers to fold. The admirable presentation of this subject was received with much enthusiasm by the assembled teachers.

Then followed a general discussion of Herbert and his system of education, led by Mr. Pinaia of Waikapu. Some valuable suggestions were called forth in this discussion, though "the educator among philosophers and the philosopher among educators" refuses to give up his treasures of thought on an hour's notice.

The main features of the evening session was a paper on the progress of the Kindergarten, by Miss Turner, of Waiehe. The paper was very full and interesting.

Mr. Abbott of Lahaina also introduced a motion picture, calling attention to the necessity of a normal school for the Islands, which were adopted by a standing vote, without one dissentient, many prominent citizens voting with the teachers. The principal speaker advocating them was Mr. John A. Moore, of Wailuku. Following are the resolutions, which speak for themselves:

Resolutions adopted at the evening session of the Wailuku branch of the Maui Teachers' Association, May 19, 1894. Resolved, Popular government must utterly fail without popular intelligence and character; and Resolved, Schools are the great sources of intelligence and noble purpose; and Resolved, The school receives its character from the teacher, being progressive when the teacher is progressive, of high purpose when the teacher is of high purpose, tending towards great intelligence when the teacher is highly educated and well trained and toward illiteracy when the teacher is untrained and ignorant; and Resolved, All teachers therefore need: 1) thorough education, 2) training in educational methods, and 3) thorough grounding in the principles of education; thorough education that they may not be unduly leaders of the blind; training in methods that each teacher may benefit by the experience of other teachers; thorough grounding in the principles of education that they may understand the nature of the immortal being whom they are to train, may know its needs and may do their work with an intelligent aim; and Resolved, The present means of such improvement in the Islands, consisting of schools designed for pupils rather than teachers, of the necessarily brief and infrequent visits of the Inspector General, and of the meetings of the Teachers' Association, though excellent, are utterly inadequate;

Resolved, That the proper training of our teachers is a matter second to none before the public in importance; and Resolved, That in the opinion of the gathering, the government should seize the earliest opportunity to establish a normal school, in which the present teaching force can be advanced to greater efficiency, and others fitted, at home, to fill places which for any reason become vacant; and Resolved, Further, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to teachers' meetings in other parts of the Islands, and to our newspapers for publication.

A Mysterious Cruise. The steamer Iwailani will leave this afternoon for a ten days' cruise, where, no one knows, she has taken in enough coal to last her that length of time. The purser says he will be back, so the steamer is not going for any cargo.

Minister King will be a passenger on her. It is reported he is going around Hawaii and Niihau to inspect the wharves. Mr. Ena when seen stated that the Iwailani was going to Niihau, just for a cruise, and that there was a thing special about it. Another officer of the U. S. N. Co. stated that the Iwailani was going to Hawaii.

H. M. S. Champion left this afternoon for a cruise. Mechanics' Home, corner Hotel and Nuuanu streets. Lodging by day, week or month. Terms: 25 and 50 cents per night; $1 and $1.25 per week.

MY ABSENCE FROM THE... I have the honor to inform you that I will not be present at the meeting...

ERITZ J. WILHELM. Honolulu, May 25, 1894.

At Last Something Definite is Done by the Association.

Eight members of the Kalakaua Monument Association gathered in M. P. Robinson's office at 2 o'clock this afternoon, pursuant to a call of the president, S. Parker. As twenty members constitute two-thirds of the association, consequently a quorum, there was some talk about holding the meeting, but two had resigned and one was absent from the country. However, several of the members held proxies, which advanced those present to a representation of twenty-two.

Mr. Robinson made a motion to accept the proposition of Mr. Hutchinson. In order to come to an understanding he would read the following statement of finances:

Total amount collected, $1,000.00. Disbursements, $100.00. Balance on hand, $900.00.

Mr. Robinson further stated that having had the money in his hands so long it was very natural that he had made use of it, and in consideration would make good the gross amount. He will be able to hand over the original amount, $1,000.00.

Mr. Robinson's generous offer to accept the proposition of Mr. Hutchinson was in favor of having the statue less elaborate and a pedestal included.

Mr. Ena made an amendment to Mr. Robinson's motion, making it so as to read, that the proposition embodied in Mr. Hutchinson's communication be accepted and that the board of directors be authorized to proceed with the negotiation.

Before the motion was put to a vote Mr. Robinson stated that two receipt books had not been returned, but that they were available at short notice. These would make the total amount to $1,000.

The motion was amended and then put and carried by twenty-two votes. The matter of filling the vacancy in the board of directors came up. W. C. King was elected by acclamation. The board now consists of S. Parker, C. J. McCarthy, John Ena, M. P. Robinson, E. F. Bishop, A. Rosa, E. C. Macfarlane and W. C. King.

"The mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceedingly fine," and that's about the way with an ordinary knife when used for cutting bread or cake. With the Clauss saw edge arrangement you can cut warm bread and cake with icing on top and not leave a crumb.

We've been out of this patent arrangement for some time, but the "Australia" brought us enough to carve the destiny of the country. One dollar for set of three.

"Leaves have their time to fall"—that is some leaves, but those on the Hau tree fall perennially. So it is with beans, they are in season at all times; but it requires a specially built pot to bake them in.

We have duplicates of those brought over on the Mayflower and are recognized in New England as the proper thing in which to cook them. Beans and culture go hand in hand in Boston and there's where we buy our bean pots.

We have a stock of them and they go to you at 50 and 75 cents each, according to size. Liquid Prutz is a good thing to polish brass or nickel work, with little muscle power.

Other things are made that answer the purpose and one of them is made by a man in Seattle from a deposit on a forty acre lot. Newspaper articles on the Sound state that it will outdo Sapolio because it will polish silverware.

There may be some of the new article on the next Canadian steamer—if there is you will hear from us. The run we have had on our stock of hose during the past ten days is something unprecedented in our business career.

It pays to buy good hose. We have four grades and each is sold as it is. We sell you the cheapest as the poorest and the most expensive as the best. You know what you are getting when you buy garden hose of us.

The Australia brought us enough to last an ordinary dealer in hose a lifetime, it will be gone from our store in less than three weeks. If you want hose that is really good, come to us.

We must sell silver-plated table ware lower than anyone else or our stock would be in our cases longer. Come and look at the new lot unpacked to-day.

So often happens that people want to do a little mending of furniture at home that a bottle of glue, ready for use, is an absolutely necessary article about the house. Le Paige's has stood the test for some years and proven satisfactory. We sell it. Another make is the "Challenge" which is said to be even better than the Le Paige. We have it in all sizes from the very small to the tin that holds a quart.

You might try it next time you want to mend a piece of broken furniture or a broken promise. We have also a preparation for mending broken glass or crockery that is really excellent. If you have a set of China with a broken piece you might possibly make it look like new. The best way, however, is to use Haviland ware, then if you break a piece you can get a duplicate from us.

You know our stock of Haviland ware is the only stock of real genuine in town. We have added to our stock of Hendry's Racy Mixed Paints a very superior quality of inside and outside white and black. This is as good as the colored shades and they have proven the best ever sold in Honolulu.

MARY E. FOSTER SUNK.

The Old Schooner Gets Her Deathblow from the S. S. Mikahala.

No Life Lost but a Narrow Escape from an Awful Calamity.

The steamer Iwawani, which arrived this morning from Kauai, brought the bad news of the loss of the schooner Mary E. Foster in a collision with the steamer Mikahala.

At the time of the collision second officer Shaw was on watch. Main and jib sails were set and the Mikahala was making slow progress.

The Mary E. Foster, as the sail proved to be, was struck three or four feet from the stern, and she began to settle. Boats were lowered from the Mikahala and the crew and their effects were taken off the schooner.

In about half an hour from the time she was struck the Mary E. Foster went down. Everybody on board was saved, but the cargo of 1000 bags of sugar went down with the ill-fated schooner.

The Mary E. Foster was coming to Honolulu with a cargo of sugar from Makawili and the Mikahala was going toward Kauai.

At the time of the collision the Mikahala was quite close, it being very dark. When he did see her he tacked so as to get out of her track, but there being very little wind, he was unable to avert the disaster.

Second officer Shaw of the Mikahala makes the same statement. He, also, did not see the schooner until it was too late. Captain Hipa and crew were brought to Honolulu by the Iwawani this morning.

An investigation will be made after the arrival of the Mikahala on Sunday morning.

The Mary E. Foster, built by Hall Bros., Port Blakely, has seen about seventeen years service. She was 73 1/2 tons.

The passengers on board the Mikahala at the time of the collision were the following: F. W. Glad and wife, E. W. Meier, Mrs. Meier, E. K. Hall, Mrs. Chas. and child, A. M. Miss Maudie Webster and from 25 to 30 tacking deck passage.

This is the second vessel the I. L. S. N. Co. has lost within the past few months, the steamer C. R. Bishop having been on Kauai not long ago.

It is reported that the winner has claimed the press championship, and will stand this season against all comers.

The following extract from a private letter of a passenger on board the Mikahala gives a graphic account of the disaster.

"You will most likely have heard how we ran into and sank the Mary Foster at midnight. I will give you my version as you are sure to hear other accounts. I was in my bunk, and sound asleep, while my room mate, who had had a good nap in the early part of the evening, was just going back to bed after eating some supper.

He heard a crash and jumped to the door, and there was the schooner right along side, and scraping our boats. I awoke and jumped out in an instant, and saw the schooner about 20 feet off. There was at once great excitement on board. The deck passengers appeared very scared and one Porto-guese woman came flying up to and lying on top me, shrieking at the top of her voice.

We could see the schooner quite near and very plainly as it was bright moonlight. The purser went off in the steamer's boat at once to rescue the schooner's company, and when he got to her, which could not have been longer than 10 or 15 minutes after the accident, the water was already three feet deep in the cabin.

"How such an accident could happen in bright moonlight and on such a calm clear night can only be proved by those whose watch it was. I was told that two minutes before the collision the captain was up and on deck, and asked the officer of the watch, if he had seen the Makoe. He replied, 'No.' The captain then walked to the other side of the deck and there right in front was the poor helpless schooner, doing all she could to get out of the way.

The captain at once ordered the steamer's helm, and managed to change her course so that she struck the schooner's stern. If she had struck amidships we should have gone down as well, because the schooner was so heavily laden with 100 bags sugar, and our bow would have been crushed in, and the steamer filled with water at once.

"It was a most narrow escape, and you may imagine our feelings of relief and thankfulness at being spared such a sudden death. The crew of the Mary Foster and two women besides were brought on board. The native captain felt very badly, if so, my schooner demolished. It was such a weird, phenomenal sight, to see the schooner when she was abandoned. She had all sides and through the hole in her stern we could see the lights in the cabin. The lamps presently turned over

VOYAGE OF THE NORMA.

Particulars of a Coconut Collecting Cruise to Southern Isles.

Captain F. D. Walker sailed from Honolulu in his schooner Norma about four months ago, for Fanning and Washington islands. The object of the voyage was to get a cargo of coconuts for Victoria, B. C.

From here to Fanning island, 1200 miles south, the Norma had a rough voyage. David Groig, son of the late governor of the island, was a passenger for home. At Fanning island 3000 coconuts were taken on board, and then the trip was resumed to Washington island. On arriving there, after another rough passage, it was found the coconuts were not collected and to wait for them would involve delay of a week.

Therefore the schooner sailed for Palmyra island. Palmyra is to the northeast of Washington, in direct line from Fanning. It is not a single island but a group of about forty islets, some of them submerged at high water. There are no inhabitants. The islets are of coral formation and extremely dangerous to navigation. There is no landing, not even a boat passage, and boats have to go over the reefs. The group is of crescent shape and on its convex side the surf breaks with tremendous force. There are from 300 to 400 coconut palms on the island, besides which there is no growth but scrub. No fresh water was found on the island. All that the Norma secured there were four land crabs, which Captain Walker has given to the museum of British Columbia. They had died of cold on the voyage. The Norma stayed at Palmyra about a week, then returned to Washington island. At Washington island the Norma took in 20000 nuts and, after a stay of three days, set sail for Victoria, passing through the Kauai channel on the way. Nothing unusual was observed on the voyage except the capture of a marine animal floating on the water with hundreds of birds feeding upon it. Its dimensions were estimated at 12 feet in length and nearly the same in breadth. What it was could not be decided, but it might have been a bell squid. The schooner reached Victoria more than a month ago, having encountered a hurricane 300 miles from the coast. No damage was done to the trim little vessel, although it is believed to be the same storm as captured the bark Archer, whose crew took to the boats and were picked up by another vessel.

F. G. Eytan Walker, son of the captain, secured six dozen photographic views on Washington and Fanning islands. They are 10x12 inches and will be exhibited shortly, being the finest ever taken in that vicinity. Captain Walker remained at Victoria to sell the cargo and the vessel, intending to go into business at that port. His two sons who accompanied him on the voyage, F. G. Eytan and Charles, returned to Honolulu by the steamer Warrimoo. To the former the Bulletin is indebted for the particulars of the cruise of the Norma.

By Hood's Sarsaparilla—Blood Poisoned by Canker.

Read the following from a grateful mother: "My little boy had scabies ever when 4 years old, and it left him very weak and with blood poisoned with canker. His eyes became so inflamed that his sufferings were intense, and for seven weeks he could not open his eyes.

I took him twice during that time to the Eye and Ear Infirmary on Charles street, but their remedies failed to do him the faintest shadow of good. I commenced giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and it soon cured him. I have never doubted that it saved his sight, even if not his very life. You may use this testimonial in any way you choose. I am always ready to send the proof of it.

National Cane Shredder

PATENTED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE BEEN APPOINTED SOLE AGENTS FOR these SHREDDERS and are now prepared to receive orders. The great advantages to be derived from the use of the NATIONAL CANE SHREDDER are thoroughly established and acknowledged by Planters generally.

The large number of Planters using them in the United States, Cuba, Argentine Republic, Peru, Australia and elsewhere, bear witness to the above claim.

The use of the SHREDDER very largely augments the quantity of cane the mill can grind (25 to 30%), also the extraction of juice (5 to 12%).

It is a great safeguard, making known at once the presence of any pieces of iron, stakes from cars, or anything which would be liable to damage the mill, and allowing ample time to remove same before damaging the mill. The SHREDDER is very strongly made, and from the nature of its operation it cuts or tears these pieces of wood or iron without often breaking the SHREDDER, and if anything breaks, it is simply some of the knives or cutters which can be quickly and economically replaced. The SHREDDER, as it is named, tears the cane into shreds of varying lengths, perfectly opening it and allowing the mill to thoroughly press out the juices without requiring the immense extra power necessary to grind or crush the whole cane. The SHREDDER spreads the shredded cane uniformly and evenly to the mill rolls, and does away with the necessity of spreading the bagasse by hand between the mills, where a grinding is in use. No greater amount of boiler capacity is required to operate the SHREDDER than that which was sufficient for the mill, for the above reasons. We furnish full working drawings for the installation of our SHREDDERS, enabling any competent engineer to successfully install and start them.

In ordering SHREDDERS from us, please send small sketch, showing the diameter and width of the mill rolls with which SHREDDER is to be connected also the side (either right or left hand as you face it) delivery side of the mill, upon which the mill engine is located, also the height from floor line to center of front mill roll shaft, and distance center this shaft to front end of bed plate. These SHREDDERS are now being used by the Hilo Sugar Co and Hilo Mill, Kailua, where they are giving great satisfaction.

Prices and further particulars may be had by applying to

HOMES

THE

Oahu Railway & Land Co.

OFFERS THE PUBLIC

Another Great Opportunity

To Secure Homes in One of the Most Delightful Localities to be Found in the Paradise

of the Pacific.

As a healthy resort Pearl City has already established an enviable reputation. Many good citizens in this community have experienced the wonderful effect produced by a few days' sojourn in that dry, cool atmosphere, and give grateful thanks for the relief they have almost instantly gained from severe and long-continued attacks of asthma. Physicians acquainted with the climate of Pearl City recommend it as a natural sanatorium.

THE WATER SUPPLY IS AMPLE!

And can be increased to meet the needs of a population equal to the largest city in the world.

Prof. A. B. LYONS of Oahu College is our authority for stating that the water supply is the purest yet discovered in this country.

Special Inducements to Early Settlers:

For ninety days from date we will sell LOTS ON SPECIAL TERMS favorable to home seekers. For a term of three months from date, lumber and all building materials will be supplied and delivered at Pearl City at much lower prices than ever before obtained.

For further particulars, call at this office or on any of the lumber dealers in this city. Those who now own lots as well as those who propose to become residents of that growing city, will do well to embrace this opportunity. Those who want their selves of this offer, within the time named will be entitled to, and will receive the following benefits:

For a term of ten years, this Company will carry such residents and their families from Pearl City to Honolulu in the morning (leaving a little before seven o'clock, and from Honolulu to Pearl City in the evening) leaving Honolulu station a little after five o'clock, for ten cents each way, a rate less than one cent per mile. The rates on all other passenger trains running during the day or night will be 15 cents per mile first class, and 10 cents per mile second class.

A good school is about to be opened in the peninsula in the fine, large, new school house erected by Mr. J. T. Waterhouse. Residents living at Pearl City (heights) above Pearl City station, and those having homes on the peninsula, will be allowed to ride free on regular trains between Pearl City station and from the peninsula.

Those who want to continue to send their children to school in their home, can have transportation and regular trains to and from Pearl City, on the proposed afternoon school, at five cents each way, for each pupil. This is equal to 25 to 30 cents ride for ten cents.

Special inducements for those desiring to secure homes in this country have never before been offered to the public.

This Company has been requested from abroad to name the price of all lots on our land in that locality.

Should a clearance sale be made to a valuable, no opportunity like the present would again occur for the purchase of homes at Pearl City.

OAHU RAILWAY & LAND CO.

B. E. DILLINGHAM,

General Manager.

TALKS TO WAGE EARNERS.

Prof. Bemis Tells of a Solution for Existing Evils.

In government ownership and control of railroads Prof. Bemis sees the only solution of such evils as legislative bribery, costly rate wars, by which many a road is wrecked, prolonged strikes extending over vast areas and impoverishing thousands of men, unjust rebates and secret rates, the scalping system, parallel lines built at a useless expenditure of millions of dollars, and unjust discriminations. The audience of workmen which heard him at Kimball hall last night agreed with him. Many wage earners made brief speeches on the question that showed much correct thinking. "High charges are not the greatest evil the public suffers at the hands of the railroads," Prof. Bemis said. "There are three greater evils. First, I may put the corruption of legislators, may, whole legislatures, courts, councils, assessors, and taxing bodies by means of passes and direct gifts of money. In the State of Wisconsin, six legislators and passes by the thousand for distribution among their constituents. I once asked a legislator in Tennessee why certain measures calculated to restrain the railroads were not enacted. 'Why, the railroads have bought us body and soul,' he said. A short time ago one road sent half this body to Washington to the inauguration and gave out of her half the transportation to the Mardi Gras at New Orleans. These pocketing tours are most pernicious in their influence. The railroads furnish the transportation and some other monopoly, such as a school book trust, provides the liquor. The connection between the railroads and our taxing bodies is alarming. The tax system should be reformed by law. It is a source of evil in the ruin of innocent investors through the machinations of corrupt directors and managers. The tendency among them is not to compete at all at certain times and then to enter upon a rate war that can but bring ruin in many cases. Competition is driving many a road to destruction, so it is not legitimate competition. Then the honest investor who has but little control of his stock, has to suffer. The third evil is the special secret rates and the rebates given to large interests by which the wealth of monopolies is enormously increased. It is claimed in defense of this evil that the large shipper deserves these rebates because of the large business he gives the road. But this system is carried too far. After the point of a car load is passed there is little difference in the expense of running a solid train and picking up cars from various points. This rebate system is very demoralizing and is one secret of the great development of combinations and trusts in this country. In this matter we should reach a higher standard of ethics and it is about time we reached it now. If the railroads and the courts are to stand in the way of remedies the people must insist upon government control of roads. But we must prepare for this. It is too tremendous a task to be assumed suddenly.

"In the interstate commerce law and the commission there is an inherent weakness that makes them ineffective. The interstate law provides penalties not for the great corporation, which is the criminal, but for the mere clerk who verbally gives the shipper the rate under orders from his superiors. The law is nullified, too, by the recent decision of the courts that testimony cannot be obtained from heads of railroads against their will. This is a great stretching of it in favor of the corporation. In Germany and Australia government control of railroads has worked to perfection and none propose a return to the old system. The Union Pacific may soon give the government a chance for this experiment. I should not be surprised if this feeling, which is developing through the populist and kindred movements, should result in this consummation, particularly if the plan can be postponed three or four years."

BEER AND BENEVOLENCE

Parallel to the Honolulu Feast of Nations. BETHESDA, Md., May 9. The German branch of the Young Men's Christian association will receive the benefit from the beer given last night, which was devised to raise funds to equip a gymnasium. The affair was a successful one financially. The women connected with other German institutions kindly lent a hand, as is the custom. 75 students were coming in freely and all were supplied with a large amount of beer was tendered. The Young Men's Christian association women, of rather the German branch, then appealed to the central board for guidance, with the result that a meeting was held at the central building and resolution adopted declaring that unless the fair management reconsidered its decision to sell beer the German branch could not accept the proceeds. The fair authorities, however, decided that they had gone too far to withdraw, and so held the beer, sold the beer, and gave the proceeds to the German hospital.

The Tagawa Coal Mine is located in Fukuoka Ken in the Island of Kinsui, Japan, and was discovered about twenty years ago. It was owned by the government and mined simply for the government's use.

Great improvements, however, were made since it was sold to a corporation about six years ago, by importing mining machinery from Europe and America.

Tagawa Coal is used more than all other Japanese coals in the following countries: China, Manila and Strait Settlements. It has found its way even to Bombay.

Two cargoes have been imported into the Hawaiian Islands recently, and it has no superior in this market as stove or steam coal.
