WHY THE Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States is the Best company with which to Assure.

I.—Because of its Safety. Its surplus is larger than that of any other assurance company.

II.—Because of its Promptness. Of 1,043 death claims paid in 1885, nearly one-half were paid the very day proofs were received; while of the remainder, the majority were paid within the following three days. No other company can show such a record.

III.—Because of its Liberality and Reforms. All policies are INCONTTESTABLE after three years. All incontestable policies are payable immediately upon receipt of proofs of death. The Society's policy contract is clear and simple, and liberal in its conditions. Its Non-forfeiting Tontine (or Semi-Tontine) policy affords all the ultimate benefits of the full Tontine, and has during its earlier years the surrender value and other material advantages of ordinary life policies.

IV.—Profit. No other company is paying on its policies, as large profits as are shown under the Equitable's matured Tontine policies with fifteen-year periods. Persons desiring assurance may obtain estimates of the probable results of similar policies, and of policies with twenty-year terms, which are expected to show even larger profits.

V.—Prospective Advantages. The unexampled progress of the Equitable in the past is the best guarantee of the increasing future value of assurance with the Equitable. Assets, $46,553,387.50 Liabilities, $2,691,118.37 Surplus, $43,862,269.13

TUESDAY, JULY 13, 1886.

THE NON-MEMBER SHOULD LEARN.

In the discussion which arose in the Assembly yesterday on Mr. Castle's resolution appointing a committee for the purpose of collecting information relative to the cultivation, use, and licensing of opium, Mr. Kaulukou is reported to have said that he "thought the idea of the resolution was very good, as showing the interest of the mover in the welfare of the people. At the same time it involved outsiders coming into the house to dictate legislation. The members elected by the several constituencies were competent to pass upon all matters affecting the prosperity and health of the people." The one thing which this speech most clearly indicates is, that the honorable speaker has erroneous conceptions in regard to the relationship of constituencies to their representatives. Lencency is due to those members of the house who have not had the advantages of enlightenment in modern state polity, either from reading or from experience in other countries, and intelligent men will generally excuse ignorance that is graced with modesty; but the ignorance that is accompanied by overweening pomposity is always unpalatable. That is just what makes the foregoing quotation superlatively distasteful. We can respect, for what he is, the modest, unpretentious, well-meaning member, who may be so simple as to believe in the feasibility of bridging the Pacific Ocean from Honolulu to San Francisco; but we cannot, by any process of manipulation known to artists or scientists, twist ourselves into an attitude of respectful attention to a voluble flow of conceited ignorance from an inflated wind bag. And this is why we cannot speak of the above-quoted speech in complaisant tones or serious terms. The honorable member for Hilo should learn that when a constituency elects a member to the Legislature that constituency does not relinquish its right to an independent voice in legislation, that the member is simply a representative of his constituency for carrying out its will, that his electors have the right to dictate to him his course in the Legislature, and, in short, that they are his masters and he their servant. He should learn that in the United States, whose precedents largely shape the legislation of the Hawaiian Islands, committees of Congress often seek information and assistance from "outsiders," who appear before and address the committees, and that recently the Hawaiian minister at Washington performed that office in the matter of the reciprocity treaty. He should also learn that in England, where Parliamentary Government had its birth and has probably reached nearer to perfection than anywhere else, committees of Parliament are sometimes engaged between sessions, glean information from people all over the country. The legislative bodies of those great nations, America and Great Britain, are not jealous of "outsiders coming into the house to dictate legislation." Their legislation springs from the "outside," is for the benefit of "outsiders," and they are careful not to legislate contrary to the "outsiders' will. Mr. Kaulukou does not believe in that sort of thing. He would have the Parliament above the People. Happily for the country there are not many in the Assembly of his way of thinking, and perhaps even he may yet become humble and acquire a degree of sound knowledge and true wisdom.

June 1st, the new law reducing marriage licenses from $4.50 to $1 went into effect in Baltimore and forty licenses were issued that day—more than had been issued in the entire previous week.

OPIUM LICENSE.

During the election campaign of last January, and on several occasions previously the BULLETIN asserted on what was believed at those times to be reliable authority that one of the projected measures of the National Degradation Party was the licensing of opium. And here it may as well be stated that one of the authorities in question was the Advertiser. The vigorous manner in which opium license was boomed in that paper was taken as a certain indication that the abominable measure would again be attempted to be foisted on the country. This forecast of the proposed legislation of the present session has proved absolutely correct. The bill, according to notice given on Thursday last, will be introduced by Representative Kaunamano, and will be strenuously supported by the Minister of Foreign Affairs, as he has already supported it, when Mr. Castle's resolution for a committee of enquiry was before the house. His opinion that license "would add considerably to the revenue and would not increase the consumption" will be accepted by all the members of the National Degradation Party as conclusive. The Minister of Foreign Affairs has been intimately acquainted with the condition of the people of this country for the long period of fifteen months, and during that time has spent some ten days or so outside of the city of Honolulu. Two out of these ten days were passed on the blue waves between the Fish Market and the leper settlement, another day or thereabout was spent among the lepers, at Molokai, all of which leaves some seven days' acquaintance with the country of which he is a Cabinet Minister. No doubt his Excellency made good use of his time, and gathered an incredible quantity of information, but the fatal objection to his opinion is that the most intelligent members of the house and of the community who have been intimate with the country and its people before there was a Hawaiian Minister of Foreign Affairs in existence, are of precisely the contrary opinion. Those who by personal observation know most about the country and the native race, testify in the most emphatic terms to the ruinous consequences of licensed opium upon the people. The opinion of even so formidable a personage as the Minister of Foreign Affairs does not possess the weight of a grain of sand against the opinion based upon the cumulative evidence of years of experience and observation. Whether the Minister knows it or not, those who are best acquainted with the effects of licensed opium in former years as compared with the effects of the prohibited drug, during the operation of the present law, know well that license will increase the use of the article tenfold.

The silly arguments advanced in favor of license ought to be sufficient to satisfy an intelligent man that the safe side of the question lies in the indefinite postponement of the bill. The first reason for backing down on absolute prohibition put forward both in the house and in the Advertiser is the incompetency of the Government and its officials to cope with the illicit traffic. "The means at the disposal of the Government," are insufficient. Certainly they are, and wherefore the insufficiency? Are the Government officials in collusion with the smugglers? Or is it necessary, at times, to prevent damning exposures, not to "cope" with the nefarious traffic? This little kingdom pays entirely too much for officials to be informed by a Cabinet Minister, twelve days old, that her executive has become wholly impotent. And suppose the National Degradation Party has already achieved success to the extent of debilitating the moral tone of the Legislative Assembly sufficiently to vote an ignominious backdown in the face of alleged rampant smuggling, is it not a contemptible admission to come from one of the Ministerial heads of the nation, that what the Government is impotent to accomplish will be an easy task for a private individual or firm? Referring to the Advertiser of yesterday, we find it roundly asserted that the licensee or licensees of opium will put down the illicit traffic. Although this view was not stated in so many words by the ex-editor of that paper in his place as Minister, it is distinctly implied. The utterances of the Advertiser and those of the Minister are so evidently identical in their origin, that the one may be taken as merely supplementary of the other. If the Government cannot suppress illicit traffic in opium, who can? The persons obtaining license, says the newspaper advocate. "The means at the disposal of the Government are not sufficient," says the Minister. Hence, the licensees of opium, according to both authorities, must be more powerful than the Government. If there is a firm doing business in the Hawaiian Islands of sufficient power to make and unmake cabinets, such a firm might possibly be able to prevent illicit traffic. No doubt the Advertiser that loses no opportunity of lauding the Oceanic steamship company as the nursing mother of Hawaiian Commerce will require no magnifying glass to see that company big enough to sit down on all the smugglers' rings in the Kingdom. If the representative, in this city, of the oceanic steamship company holds Cabinet Ministers on his finger ends, it is quite reasonable to suppose that the means at his disposal are amply sufficient to prevent the smuggling of opium. Under any other arrangement, it is difficult to perceive how smuggling is to be cured by license. But the suppression of smuggling by license cannot be depended on. If the Advertiser writer, yesterday morning, had read his Hilo correspondence, he would have found himself sadly mistaken on his pet theory. His correspondent at Hilo complains of the large number of illicit liquor shops in that locality. How can the Advertiser claim any credit for common sense by coolly asserting that license will stamp out illicit traffic while his news on the very next page, shows that license does nothing of the kind?

If this were simply a matter of prevention of smuggling, it would probably be expedient to offer the license to Mr. Spreckels, as there would be a strong probability, should he accept it, that smuggling would be stamped out. It is unreasonable to suppose that a gentleman who is able to manipulate Ministries would be thwarted by smugglers. And the public would have the added source of satisfaction that that gentleman's efforts in dealing with illicit traffickers would be seconded, for if the Ministers failed to back such prosecutions as might be necessary, they would be summarily dismissed. The recollection of the events of June 30th, 1886, would be a sufficient incentive to active exertion on the part of the Government to "go for" the smugglers without gloves.

Apart from the question of smuggling, there still remains the ugly fact that the licensed trade will bring the drug within reach of thousands to whom it is at present inaccessible. If the members of the Legislature are disposed, for the sake of the coin it will wrest from the unfortunate victims of the opium habit, to legislate for the demoralization and ruin of thousands of their constituents, they will have an opportunity to do so when Mr. Kaunamano's little bill makes its appearance. The reading of the opium license bill will be the formal opening, during the session, of the programme of the National Degradation Party. The fate of this bill determines the question whether the present Legislature is under the control of that party or whether it possesses intellectual and moral calibre sufficient to deal with questions of right and wrong on their merits.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Noble Bishop remarked that the striking of salt water at a certain depth did not prove that good water was unobtainable. Mr. Ward in Honolulu sank a well and encountered brackish water at first, but going down further struck a vein of good fresh water, which entirely neutralized the bad qualities of the water first met.
The motion was lost.
Rep. Richardson moved to insert Janitor for Alliohale Hale..... $1,000
Passed.
Rep. Kaulukou moved to insert Mrs. Antoinette Swan, for her undivided interest in Ulakoho, Honolulu..... $5,000
The land, he said, originally belonged to Paul Manini, who left it to his children, but this daughter did not sign the administration papers. The Government had used the land and should pay for it.
Rep. Brown held that the woman had slept too long on her claims to bring them before the house. She had allowed the question to rest from away back in the fifties till a few years ago, and ought to be debarred from claiming now by the statute of limitations.

Rep. Dole objected to the course of having a claim of this kind brought into the Legislature before being established by the courts. He disagreed with Rep. Brown on the question of limitation, as the law did not run against women in certain cases nor against people out of the country.

Rep. Castle referred to a precedent, which would be better observed in the breach than in the observance. The house had better confine itself to the manufacture, rather than the interpretation of laws. He had advised the claimant to have her case tested in the courts before it was too late. If she had lost her rights by neglect, it would be simply making her a gift outright to enact this grant.

Rep. Kaulukou regarded the statements of the hon. members for Lihue and Wailuku as good reasons why the house should pass the item. The woman had not contested her claim in the courts because she had not the means. It was competent for the Legislature to settle such a matter as this. Judge Preston had declared its competence in that regard when he was a member a few years ago. If it was a claim between one private party and another the case would be different.

Rep. Dole said they were not there to carry out their aloha to anybody, neither was this a charitable institution to help the unfortunate. This claimant had deliberately thrown away her opportunity for obtaining justice, choosing the Legislature rather than the law by which to gain her point. Her claim was doubtful at the best, and it would be very improper for the house to grant it without investigation.

Rep. Paehaole considered the house had no authority whatever to pass this grant. If the hon. member for Hilo wanted to exercise his charity, let him do it out of his own pocket.

The item passed, 15 to 11.
On motion of Rep. Aholo, the committee rose and reported progress.

Rep. Castle moved the report of the committee be laid on the table. He claimed that the house had a right to know how the Ministers of the Crown stood with regard to the grant of money recommended by the committee. They could not charge him with being a scold, but he believed they should not have evaded the vote on that item, as all but one of them (the Minister of Finance) had done.

Rep. Dole seconded the motion. The members who voted for the item had done wrong, but they were not so much at fault as the three Ministers who shirked the vote. Those Ministers knew the appropriation was an improper one, but had not the moral courage to vote against it. This was not in accordance with all the speeches the house had heard about retrenchment.

Rep. Kaulukou raised the point of order that the hon. member could not scold the Ministers under the motion.

Rep. Dole believed he was in order, and thought the Ministers could not object to criticism. Certainly he should expect to be criticized if he was a member of the Ministry.

Minister Gibson regretted that after the hon. member for Lihue had been away for a week in the refreshing air of the islands and the sea, he had come back among them the same parliamentary scold as before. This question had been sprung upon him this afternoon as a surprise. He was not consulted regarding it before, although he knew that a bill had been introduced on the subject. Some time ago the woman had spoken to him, and he thought that, at least, her claim was entitled to consideration. It was not right to charge him with shirking the vote, simply because he abstained on account of being doubtful in his own mind. Neither could a charge of being unfaithful to his professions of retrenchment be brought against him for having been silent when this matter came up. The members of the Opposition had joined with the other members in raising the Appropriation Bill $50,000, while he had sat looking silently on, knowing it was no use to interfere with the log-rolling process, in which the Palace party, the Independent party, the National party and the party of moral ideas all united.

Minister Creighton said he did not vote because he did not understand the question. He never heard of it before. Two of the gentlemen who had discussed it had been consulted professionally on the case, but neither of them agreed as to the merits of the claim. Rep. Brown saying it was barred by the statute of limitations. Rep. Dole considering there might be a claim in law, and Rep. Castle saying the claim was voided by the lady's own neglect. It occurred to him that, as this was not the final disposal of the question it was better for him to abstain from voting until he could inform himself better in the matter. He thought this explanation should exonerate him from an accusation of failure to back his opinion with his vote. When the gentlemen knew him better, they would find that he was ready to act up to his convictions. He would vote intelligently on this question when the time came, and would not blindly follow the lead of any man.

Rep. Dole said, after the explanations of the Ministers, perhaps he had misjudged them, but he thought it was his duty in such a case to move to refer the matter to a committee.

The motion to lay on the table was lost, and the report was adopted.

The President appointed the following committees, as ordered by the house: Ramie Culture—Rep. Thurston, Minister Gibson, Nobles Bishop and Cleghorn, and Rep. Aholo. Hayselden items—Reps. Keau, Richardson, Kauli, Dole, and Minister Gibson.

At 5:15 the house adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow.

SIXTIETH DAY.

TUESDAY, July 13th.
The Assembly was opened at 10 A.M., with prayer by the Chaplain. A quorum was obtained by 10:25, the following being present: Noble Walker, President; Ministers Creighton and Dare; Nobles Kuhlalani, Kaue and Kapena; Reps. Keau, Liliakalani, Baker, Kauli, Amara, Brown, Kaulia, Pahia, Kaunamano, Wight, Nabale, Nahinu, Kauhane, Keka, Aholo, Kaukau, Richardson, Paehaole, Dole and Palohau. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

COMMITTEES.
Rep. Brown, from the Judiciary Committee, reported on a petition of H. Kunukan, praying for a royal patent to issue to him, for a piece of land in Kanao, Maui. They are of opinion that the Minister of Interior should issue the patent. Adopted. He also presented the following report on the forestry bill:—

To THE HON. J. S. WALKER, President Legislative Assembly. SIR: The Judiciary Committee, to whom was referred the bill to create a Bureau of Forestry and provide for its Management, beg leave to report that they have had the same under consideration, and recommend that the bill be laid on the table for the reason that no preparation or information concerning the proposed bureau has been made, and that if said bill pass the same would be inoperative and not acted on before the session of the next Legislature, and that in the meantime the Minister of the Interior can collect facts and information, and be in a condition to present a proper or more feasible plan and estimate of expenses for equipping and running the proposed bureau, at the next session of the Legislature; another reason for laying same on the table is that the outlay will undoubtedly be large and at the present state of finances of the kingdom, retrenchment in all branches and bureaus of the Government should when practicable be the order of the day.
Dated Honolulu, July 12, 1886.

JOHN LOTA KAULUKOU,
JOS. H. S. MARTIN,
CECIL BROWN,
J. K. KAUNAMANO.

On motion of Noble Cleghorn, the report was adopted.

Rep. Brown also presented a report of the same committee on a petition from the district of Hana, praying that two polling places be allowed in that district, one in Hana and the other at Kihulu. They report that under the existing law the Minister of the Interior has the power to order the election to be held as prayed for, and upon representation or petition to him before the election, he would undoubtedly grant the prayer of the petition. They therefore recommend that the petition be laid on the table. Adopted.

Minister Gibson submitted a report from the Cabinet Relief Committee appointed in connection with the distress caused by the late fire. In all 1,948 persons were relieved, the committee expending $6,336.09 out of the $10,000 authorized by the Privy Council. This was an average of $3.40 for each person. Following is a statement of the work done, contained in the report:—

Estimated number Chinese relieved with food (off and on at Immigration Depot).....	600
Estimated number Hawaiians relieved with food.....	100
Total number clothed.....	910
" " assisted with lumber.....	216
" " " " cash.....	84
" " " " passages.....	28
" " " " tools.....	5
" " " " medical.....	5
attendance.....	5

Temporary relief only was commanded and that had been given to the extent required. A tabulated account had been prepared, all the accounts were closed, and some of the creditors of the committee were pressing for pay. The Government was not obliged to present a report until the next session in 1888, but as the work was all completed they had thought it better to do so this session, and he would move at the proper time to have an item for the required amount inserted in the Appropriation Bill. He now moved to have the report printed, which carried.

Rep. Kaunamano, from the select committee on the item of $35,000 for roads in Hilo, together with other road items, reported that he had called a meeting for 9 o'clock this morning, but no other member attended. He therefore returned a sheet of resolutions and petitions to the table.
After some discussion the report was, on the suggestion of Rep. Aholo, accepted as one of progress.
Rep. Kaulukou gave notice of an act to provide for five judges of the Supreme Court.

THE Attorney-General put Mr. Kaulukou down twice in rapid succession on points of order in the Legislature this morning. It was so rich an illustration of the bitter bitten that the whole house laughed.

A SPECIMEN of an artistically painted sign by Mr. Geo. Stratemeyer will be hung over the door of Hamilton Johnson & Co.'s, Merchant street, to-morrow. The sign reads "California Wines", and is a credit to the painter.

THERE are whisperings about town of a family intrigue, a fugitive and a successful capture, but the particulars are meagre. It appears that a widower was married the second time to a widow. This widow was rich, and transferred her wealth to her husband. Husband No. 2 got possession of the riches and departed from San Francisco for this insular paradise, on a sailing vessel. The wife followed on a steamer, got ahead, and arrived here first. The parties have met and the case will no doubt become interesting as it develops.

SUGAR DEPRESSION IN THE WEST INDIES. Mr. Herbert E. Reid, who has just returned from making a tour through the West India Islands, gives a most disheartening and depressing account of the state of affairs there. He says it is simply "a question of ruin to thousands of families, as estates are being abandoned and laborers thrown out of employ."

Mr. Reid confidently asserts that the only remedy is the imposition of a countervailing duty corresponding to the bounty, and concludes his letter to his lordship as follows:—"The low price of sugar, coupled with an unprecedented drought all over the West Indies—which really will mean a loss of about two-thirds of the average sugar crop—will entail ruin to countless thousands of our Colonists and those dependent upon the sugar trade, and all in order that a few million consumers in this country should obtain their sugar for a few years at an unfair rate. Merchants in this country and abroad are giving up sugar planting, which means misery to hundreds of poor families—being thrown out of work, with no visible means of support in the future, and the result that they must become parasites on society. Merchants have been heavy losers, and they cannot go on for ever dipping their hands into their pockets for the benefit of these starving laborers. The end of the tether in most cases has been reached, and unless Government comes to their rescue, and for a time protects its Colonies, and thus gives a fresh impetus to the sugar trade and new heart to the growers—I say, unless Government does this, it will not take much of a prophet to foretell the result."

Mr. Reid thinks it is highly improbable that Government will do anything for the sugar trade, and, convinced that something must be done to help the Colonies, he has determined to further reduce his charges for going West India business. In future he intends foregoing insurance brokerage, amounting to 2 per cent., and giving the shippers full credit for all the discounts received from the wharves and docks, which in some cases merchants look upon as their profit. He also intends in some instances, where special arrangements have been made, not to charge for fire insurance when sugar comes to London, but the same will be fully covered as heretofore. We only hope that the good example set by Mr. Reid will be followed by other West India merchants on this side. —[The Colonies and India, May 21.]

L. ADLER. Gentlemen.—It is with great pleasure that I add my testimony to the wonderful effects of Seigel's Syrup. For years I had been suffering from bilious attacks, which began with giddiness; then a mist would come before my eyes, so that I could not be able to recognize any one or anything at the distance of a yard or two from my face. This would be followed by excessive trembling of my knees, so that I could not stand without support; after which a severe headache would occur, lasting often two or three days. I have tried various remedies for these distressing symptoms, but until I tried Seigel's Syrup I had no relief. Since then I have enjoyed the best health in ever respect, and if ever I feel a headache coming on I take one dose of the Syrup, which arrests it. Hoping that this testimonial may be of some benefit to others who suffer from the same ailments, I used to try the Syrup, as I feel that they will receive speedy benefit and ultimately be cured. I beg to remain, yours faithfully, "A. H. HORTON." Seigel's Operating Bill prevent ill effects from excess in eating or drinking. A good dose at bed-time renders a person fit for business in the morning. If you have Asthma use "The Rosinwald Tar Mixture."

Great Excitement in Wales about a Marvellous Cure. Living Six Years Without Going to Bed. MR. EDWARDS.—While spending a few days at the pleasant seaside town of Aberystwyth, Cheshire, England, I heard related what seemed to me either a fabulous story or a marvellous cure. The story was that a poor sufferer who had not been able to lie down in bed for six long years, given up to die by "Joe Doctor," had been speedily cured by some Patent Medicine. It was related with the more implicit confidence from the circumstance, as was said, that the Vicar of Llanystradgwylio, in Wales, with the facts, and could vouch for the truth of the report. Having a little curiosity to know how such stories grow in travelling, I took the liberty while at the seaside of Aberystwyth to call upon the Vicar, the Rev. T. Evans, and to enquire about this wonderful cure. Though a total stranger to him, both he and his wife most graciously entertained me in their own parlour, and I was permitted to view the case of Mr. Pugh, in which they seemed to take a deep and sympathetic interest, having been familiar with his sufferings, and now rejoiced in what seemed to them a marvellous cure. The Vicar remarked that he presumed his name had been connected with the report from his having mentioned the case to Mr. John Thomas, a chemist of Llanoon. He said that he had formerly been a resident of their parish, but was now living in the parish of Llanello.

He strongly vouched for Mr. Pugh's character as a respectable farmer and a man of credit. He said that he had given Mr. Pugh with a lively sense of the happy relation of a pastor and people, feeling that he was one who truly sympathized with all who are afflicted in mind, body, or estate. On my return to Aberystwyth, I was impressed with a desire to see Mr. Pugh, whose reputation stood so high. His farm is called Pantom-Mawr, signifying "above the dingle," situated near the summit of a steep, round hill, overlooking a beautiful valley in which is situated the lovely ivy-mantled Church of Llanello. I found Mr. Pugh, apparently about 40 years old, of medium height, rather slight, with a pleasant and intelligent face. I told him I had heard of his great affliction and of his remarkable and almost miraculous relief, and that I had come to learn from his own lips what there was of truth in the reports. Mr. Pugh remarked that his neighbors had taken a kindly and sympathetic interest in his case for many years, but of late their interest had been greatly awakened by a happy change in his condition. What you report is having heard abroad, said he, is substantially true, with one exception. I never understood that my case was given up as hopeless by my physicians. I have been treated by several Doctors hereabouts, as good as any in Wales, but unfortunately no prescription of theirs ever brought the desired relief. Fifteen years ago, he said, I first became conscious of a sour and deranged stomach and loss of appetite, which the Doctors told me was Dyspepsia. What food I could hold in my stomach seemed to do me no good, and I was a little thrown up with painful retching. This was followed after a time with a heaviness and a raw soreness of the throat which the Doctors called "catarrh," and I was treated for that, but with little success. Then came shortness of breath and a sense of suffocation, especially nights, with clammy sweat, and I would have to get out of bed and sometimes open a door or window, or enter a room to fill my lungs with the cold air. About six years ago I became so bad that I could not sleep in bed, but had to take my unquiet rest and downward step sitting in an armchair. My attention seemed to be working downward into my bowels as well as upwards into my East street Mills, Cashfield, Leamington, London, E. C., Great Britain, 1886. "Sir.—It gives me great pleasure to be able to add my testimony in favour of your valuable Syrup as a remedial agent. I had suffered for some length of time from a severe form of indigestion, and the long train of distressing symptoms following that disease, had tried all possible means to get relief, by seeking the best medical advice. I had swallowed sufficient of your stuff to float a man-of-war, so to speak, but it to no avail. A friend of mine, coming on the scene in the midst of my sufferings, brought with him a bottle of your Syrup, and he advised me to try it, stating he felt confident it would benefit me. Being weary of trying so many drugs, I commenced it before trial, thinking it could not possibly do me any good, but ultimately determined to take the Syrup. After doing so for a short time it worked such a change in me that I continued taking it for nearly two months, and I then felt thoroughly cured, for I have discontinued its use for five weeks, and feel in the best of health, and can partake any kind of food with ease and comfort. I am therefore thankful to you that, through the instrumentality of your valuable medicine, I am restored to the state of health I now enjoy.—Yours truly, W. S. FORSTER. "To Mr. A. J. White." "The Asthma Fur nace" should lose no time in obtaining relief by the use of "The Rosinwald Tar Mixture," but do not use the medicine unless you will follow all the directions "about the use of the medicine." Poor Asthmatic sufferers, who are strangers to "The Nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep," should make use of "The Rosinwald Tar Mixture." Quiet refreshing sleep will follow its use. "Walpole House, London S.W., Chiswick." February 17th, 1886. "Messrs. White and Co., London. "Gentlemen.—It is with great pleasure that I add my testimony to the wonderful effects of Seigel's Syrup. For years I had been suffering from bilious attacks, which began with giddiness; then a mist would come before my eyes, so that I could not be able to recognize any one or anything at the distance of a yard or two from my face. This would be followed by excessive trembling of my knees, so that I could not stand without support; after which a severe headache would occur, lasting often two or three days. I have tried various remedies for these distressing symptoms, but until I tried Seigel's Syrup I had no relief. Since then I have enjoyed the best health in ever respect, and if ever I feel a headache coming on I take one dose of the Syrup, which arrests it. Hoping that this testimonial may be of some benefit to others who suffer from the same ailments, I used to try the Syrup, as I feel that they will receive speedy benefit and ultimately be cured. I beg to remain, yours faithfully, "A. H. HORTON." Seigel's Operating Bill prevent ill effects from excess in eating or drinking. A good dose at bed-time renders a person fit for business in the morning. If you have Asthma use "The Rosinwald Tar Mixture."

Great Excitement in Wales about a Marvellous Cure. Living Six Years Without Going to Bed. MR. EDWARDS.—While spending a few days at the pleasant seaside town of Aberystwyth, Cheshire, England, I heard related what seemed to me either a fabulous story or a marvellous cure. The story was that a poor sufferer who had not been able to lie down in bed for six long years, given up to die by "Joe Doctor," had been speedily cured by some Patent Medicine. It was related with the more implicit confidence from the circumstance, as was said, that the Vicar of Llanystradgwylio, in Wales, with the facts, and could vouch for the truth of the report. Having a little curiosity to know how such stories grow in travelling, I took the liberty while at the seaside of Aberystwyth to call upon the Vicar, the Rev. T. Evans, and to enquire about this wonderful cure. Though a total stranger to him, both he and his wife most graciously entertained me in their own parlour, and I was permitted to view the case of Mr. Pugh, in which they seemed to take a deep and sympathetic interest, having been familiar with his sufferings, and now rejoiced in what seemed to them a marvellous cure. The Vicar remarked that he presumed his name had been connected with the report from his having mentioned the case to Mr. John Thomas, a chemist of Llanoon. He said that he had formerly been a resident of their parish, but was now living in the parish of Llanello.

He strongly vouched for Mr. Pugh's character as a respectable farmer and a man of credit. He said that he had given Mr. Pugh with a lively sense of the happy relation of a pastor and people, feeling that he was one who truly sympathized with all who are afflicted in mind, body, or estate. On my return to Aberystwyth, I was impressed with a desire to see Mr. Pugh, whose reputation stood so high. His farm is called Pantom-Mawr, signifying "above the dingle," situated near the summit of a steep, round hill, overlooking a beautiful valley in which is situated the lovely ivy-mantled Church of Llanello. I found Mr. Pugh, apparently about 40 years old, of medium height, rather slight, with a pleasant and intelligent face. I told him I had heard of his great affliction and of his remarkable and almost miraculous relief, and that I had come to learn from his own lips what there was of truth in the reports. The Daily Bulletin.
 TUESDAY, JULY 13, 1886.
THE LEGISLATURE.

MONDAY, July 12th.
 Rep. Kaulukou thought the idea of the resolution was very good, as showing the interest of the mover in the welfare of the people. At the same time it involved outsiders coming into this house to dictate legislation. The members elected by the several constituencies were competent to pass upon all matters affecting the prosperity and health of the people. Unless the people of the other islands were consulted, the committee could only report the opinions of Honolulu, and there was no provision for the expense of extending the enquiry to the other islands.

After remarks by Reps. Lilikalani and Kaunamano in Hawaiian, without interpretation, the question was put, resulting in the resolution being tabled.
 Rep. Aholo presented a resolution for an appropriation of $2,500 for improving roads in Lahaina, and moved its reference to select committee on road items. Carried.
 Minister Gibson presented the house, on behalf of the printing committee, with copies of the military bill and a bill relating to labor contracts.

Rep. Thurston gave notice of the following question to the Minister of Interior:—
 "Whereas the Minister of the Interior is now advertising for sale the lease for 20 years of the lands of Opea, Peleau 1 and 2 and Awapuhi, situate about two miles north of Hakalau Plantation, district of Hilo, Hawaii, containing about 1050 acres, of which at least 150 acres is good cane land; therefore please state why this land is to be disposed of and why it is not reserved for settlement under the homestead act."
 Minister Gibson said the transaction belonged to his predecessor, and he would make enquiry and present his reply in writing.
 On motion of Rep. Kaulukou, at noon, the house took recess till 1:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
 The house resumed at 1:45.
 Rep. Kaunamano announced a meeting of the select committee on the item of $35,000 for Hilo roads, to be held at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning, and moved that all the resolutions, etc., relating to roads and bridges be taken from the table and referred to said committee. Carried.
 Rep. Aholo gave notice of a bill to amend the Auditor-General's act; also, a bill to provide a permanent settlement for Daniel Napela.
 Rep. Kaunamano read a first time an act to amend several sections of an act to repeal chapter 10, Civil Code, relating to the Bureau of Public Instruction, also to repeal and amend other acts on the same subject. Ordered to be printed.

ORDER OF THE DAY.
 On motion of Rep. Kaai, the house proceeded to the order of the day, resolving into committee of the whole on the Appropriation Bill, Noble Cleghorn in the chair.
 Bridge and Grading Punchbowl street..... $4,000
 Minister Gibson, in reply to Rep. Brown, said this was for work partly done.
 Noble Walker, in reply to the same member, said the Chinese labor on the work was engaged through a Chinese agent.
 The item passed.

Bridge and Grading Kinuau street $5,000
 Rep. Thurston thought this was very high, and said the road was being built through an old material dump, a costly work without much necessity. He presumed the bulk of the expenditure was on the bridge at the corner of Punchbowl street. There were now two good approaches to the place this street was intended to open up. With a limited fund for streets, it would be better to stop spending money there and have the extension of Kukul street, which was very necessary, carried out.
 Rep. Kekoa had been to see the place and could see no need for the expenditure, therefore moved the item be struck out.
 Minister Gibson, in reply to Rep. Kaulukou, said some money was due for work done, adding that he had ordered the work stopped, because the labor was costing too much. The house ought to pass this amount.
 Rep. Keau had observed a very strange policy adopted on the roads. Expense was incurred where it was not needed, and roads needing repairs were neglected. There was no appropriation for Punchbowl or Kinuau streets last session, but there were amounts voted for the extension of Queen street and the opening of the Kamehameha road, which should have been expended but were not. The extension of Maunakea street to meet Kukul street was really necessary. Therefore, he hoped that in future the Minister would spend money where it was appropriated for, and not waste it on unauthorized and unnecessary work.
 Minister Gibson replied that this amount was in the statement of indebtedness of the Interior now being printed. He agreed with all that the hon. member had said with respect to carrying out the will and purpose of this Assembly in the matter of appropriations. It was not improper for him to plead entire ignorance of the authorization of this work. Ministers could not look minutely into the transactions of each other's departments. For himself, he was not going to expend money on roads and bridges that are not ordered to be made by the Legislature. Of course there was a margin for general improvements in the contingent item, within which the Minister could exercise discretion.

 Rep. Kaulukou said Mr. Paty had advanced money on this work and should be repaid. The hon. member for Molokai said he ought to lose the money, but that was a narrow-minded opinion. He did not approve of the Minister spending money without authority, but good faith should be kept with a public creditor.
 The item passed.

Bridge—Wallua, Kaula—Balance due Estate of Jas. G. Hayselden on contract.....$4,554.78
 Bridge—Wallua, Kaula—Balance due Estate of Jas. G. Hayselden on contract.....$2,123.11
 Rep. Keau moved the committee recommend that these items be referred to a select committee.
 Rep. Thurston seconded the motion, and it carried.
 Sundry Rents.....$7,096.68
 Passed.

MISCELLANEOUS.
 Janitor Allohant Hale and Kapu-lawa, to reside on the premises and be always within call, at $100 per month.....$2,400
 Minister Gibson said there was not the same necessity for this officer now as when the item was inserted, as there was a regular guard to the building.
 Rep. Keau moved to strike the item out.
 Struck out.
 Pay of Six Messengers at $10 each per week.....$6,240
 Minister Gibson moved to strike out, in accordance with revised estimates. In answer to Rep. Kaulukou, he added that he overlooked the fact the original item left his department without a messenger, and moved to insert.
 Messenger Interior Department.....$1,200
 Rep. Brown moved to amend to $1,000, the same as last period, which Rep. Dickey supported and Minister Gibson accepted, and was carried.
 Incidentals Interior Office.....$5,000
 Rep. Brown moved $3,000, which carried.
 Incidentals Governor's Offices.....$1,000
 Rep. Brown moved $500, which carried.
 Government Printing.....$10,000
 Rep. Thurston moved $5,000, same as last period.
 Rep. Hayselden moved $8,000.
 Rep. Richardson wanted to know what was actually required.
 Minister Gibson replied that there was about $1,000 indebtedness for printing, and $500 for compilation of laws. Perhaps if the item was placed at $6,000 it would meet all the requirements.
 Passed at $6,000.
 Books and Stationery for Registrar of Conveyances.....$300
 Passed.
 Noble Bishop moved to insert Aid to Queen's Hospital.....$12,000
 At the proper place he would move to insert the hospital tax, with which this item would be sufficient.
 Rep. Keau moved $10,000.
 Noble Bishop said if the hon. member would show him that $10,000 would be sufficient it would be all right.
 Rep. Richardson asked if something was not likely to be paid over to the hospital, within the next two years, from the estate of Queen Emma.
 Noble Bishop—That is altogether uncertain.
 Rep. Kaulukou thought before money was voted the hospital, the Assembly should have an account of the expenditure of the last grant.
 Noble Bishop said the Queen's Hospital was not a Government institution, although largely aided by the Legislature. The accounts were published, according to the charter, every six months. That had been done every six months since it was established 25 years ago. Sometimes there was a small balance; and there had been slight deficiencies, when money had to be borrowed. He thought $12,000 would be barely sufficient this period.
 Passed at $12,000.
 Expense filing Certificates of Boundaries.....$200
 Passed.
 Expenses of Election of Representatives.....$1,000
 Rep. Kekoa moved to add, "including $10 to Halawa, Clerk of Election in Puna."
 Rep. Brown said this man was given an appropriation of $5 last session, and it was getting chronic. According to the way that Puna election was carried, he did not deserve a cent. Let them pass the item as in the bill, and if this man had a claim let him take it to the Interior Department.
 Rep. Kekoa said $5 of the $10 was for last period, which he had not received. According to the Finance Report the money was paid, but the man never received it.
 Rep. Brown said if he didn't collect it that was his own fault.
 Rep. Dole said the man might be entitled to this money, but this was not the way for a man to recover a claim for services to the Government. It was all right for them to rectify mistakes, such as taxes paid twice, but for services rendered the person claiming his pay should look to the Government.

 Rep. Aholo found in the report of the Minister of Interior that the $5 was still unpaid. He moved to insert a separate item.
 Minister Dole thought that was entirely unnecessary, as this was a Government debt.
 Rep. Kaunamano spoke at length on the difficulties of small public creditors getting their little bills paid. This man had exhausted all his remedies except, perhaps, suing the Government for $10 through the courts. Therefore, an item should be inserted to pay him, and not let a dirty speck be left on the reputation of the Government.
 Minister Gibson said they were spending a good deal of time, but the matter was important as regarded the principle. On a question of right and wrong, $5 was as important as $5,000. He did not think a properly certified account had been in or it should have been paid.
 Rep. Kaulukou doubted this, as he has presented a duly certified account for a coroner's inquest, which had never been paid.
 The item passed with the amendment.

Rep. Thurston proposed an item: Encouragement of Ramie Culture.....$10,000
 He spoke of the encouragement offered by the last Legislature, and what had been done by private enterprise. A machine for preparing the fibre had been advanced toward perfection. The company had spent $12,000, and had started a ramie plantation on the road from Keauhou to the Volcano. He moved the item be referred to a select committee. Carried.
 Expenses of Mausoleums.....$300
 Rep. Brown moved to refer to the select committee on Mausoleums.
 Minister Gibson could not say whether this was for work done or prospective caretaking or repairs, and thought it had better be referred.
 Noble Bishop said if it was for repairs to be done it was not sufficient, as the roof was leaking and other parts required mending.
 Minister Gibson, referring to the report, said it seemed the item was for expenses already incurred at the Nuuanu and the Lunalilo Mausoleums.
 The motion to refer carried.
 Rep. Dole moved to insert Lands at Molokai.....$5,000
 The money was appropriated last session, and a resolution of this session, as yet unamended, asked why the land was not purchased.
 Rep. Richardson thought the expenditure had better be provided for in the loan act. There was not likely to be money for the purpose this period any more than the last.
 Minister Gibson supported the motion, giving particulars of some action the Government had taken, through Mr. Meyers, the Superintendent of the Leper Settlement.
 The item passed.
 Rep. Paehale moved to insert Sinking Artesian Wells on Molokai.....$10,000
 A great many native Hawaiians were engaged in sugar-planting on that island, and to provide them with water would be a great advantage, in which the Government would share from the enhancement in value of taxable property.
 Minister Gibson called attention to the fact that $5,000 was appropriated for sinking artesian wells on Molokai and $6 was expended. An effort was made by private prospectors for water, who incurred an expenditure of $3,000. The site for experiment was selected by old residents of the island, but the water obtained was brackish and unfit for use. An appeal was made to him by some of the losers, who were his neighbors, for the Government to give them some relief. If the Assembly voted this item, he as Minister would make a binding contract, so that if water was obtained the money would be paid, and if not none would be paid.
 Rep. Castle related what he had seen of the operations to obtain water on Molokai. Judging by what some of the natives and one of the well-borers said, he thought there was more difficulty in getting water than on the island of Oahu. He believed the reason the contract was abandoned was because it was such expensive work, and the borers would not go on unless paid for the work done. If he had valuable land on Molokai and had money, he would go there himself and sink a well. There was valuable land on Molokai which was in need of water. If a contract was made it would have to be on so much a foot, and not on a condition of no water no pay.
 Minister Gibson could not oppose the proposed endeavor or the item, but it was proper to say that the experiment would not be an expensive one. A demijohn of the water hitherto obtained was brought to town, and it was fit for neither household purposes nor irrigation. He had declined to entertain the request for relief from those who had undertaken the experiment, and the Government would not make an unconditional contract.
