GENERAL TREAT AND 10 OFFICERS ORDERED TO MAINLAND

HIGH OFFICERS IN HAWAII DEPARTMENT ARE SOON TO LEAVE

Four Colonels, Two Lieutenant-Colonels and Four Majors Included in Transfer Order to States in Connection With New National Army—Command of This Department May Fall to Colonel Hunter Until Return of General Strong

BRIG-GEN. CHARLES G. TREAT, commanding Hawaiian department; Col. J. H. McRae, department adjutant general, and 10 other officers high up in the army here have been summoned to the mainland for assignment to duties presumably in connection with the new national army. The order was received here yesterday from Washington.

Gen. Treat will leave on the first commercial liner available, probably the Matson liner Maua due to sail from here on Thursday of this week. The other officers will leave on the transport Sherman which will sail from here toward the end of the month.

Officers Who Go To States

- Brig-Gen. Charles G. Treat, commander.
- Col. Lloyd M. Brett, 4th Cavalry.
- Col. Lucien G. Berry, field artillery.
- Col. James H. McRae, adjutant general.
- Col. Wm. Weigel, 1st Infantry.
- Lieut.-Col. Lewis S. Sorley, infantry.
- Lieut.-Col. Guy G. Palmer, infantry.
- Lieut.-Col. Hunter B. Nelson, 3rd Infantry.
- Maj. Benjamin B. Hyer, 4th Cavalry.
- Maj. Hamilton S. Hawkins, inspector general.
- Maj. Hugh D. Wise, quartermaster.
- Maj. Samuel P. Lyon, 2nd Infantry.

Unless a brigadier general is assigned to command here in the meantime, the department as a whole as well as the Hawaiian Brigade at Schofield Barracks will be left without a general of that rank. Until the receipt of a wireless message today from the transport Logan it was almost expected that Brig-Gen. Frederick S. Strong, formerly in command of the Hawaiian department, would arrive on that vessel. However, his name is not on the passenger list.

Gen. Treat's leaving will operate the law of "order of rank" in an interesting manner. Col. Lloyd M. Brett, commander of the 4th Cavalry, is next in rank to General Treat, and will accordingly assume command of the department unless cable orders instructing otherwise are received before the general's departure.

However, Col. Brett is one of those ordered to the mainland and will leave here, as will Col. Berry, next in rank, some two weeks after the general has sailed.

Col. Hunter May Command
When these two officers have left, Col. Alfred M. Hunter, coast defense commander of the Hawaiian department, will be highest in rank here and will accordingly assume command if no other orders arrive.

Col. Treat came to Hawaii last autumn to command the 1st Hawaiian Brigade at Schofield, and assumed command of the department proper on the departure of Gen. Strong some weeks ago. In the meantime in the absence of orders he has also retained command of the Schofield brigade and has divided his time between the big post and Honolulu. Before coming to the rank of general officer he served the artillery branch of the service. Previous to coming here he was on duty at the army war college.

Col. McRae came to this department a little more than a year ago, having been sent here to succeed Lieut.-Col. Archibald Campbell as adjutant. Before coming to Hawaii he was in the adjutant general's department at Washington.

Col. Brett arrived here January 13, 1917, from the Southern Department to assume command of the 4th Cavalry.

Col. Berry came May 13, 1917, from the 4th Field Artillery, joining the 1st Field Artillery upon arrival.

Col. Weigel came as a major to the 2nd Infantry April 13, 1916. Since then he has had the honor of two promotions, and was recently assigned to the 1st Infantry.

Lieut.-Col. Sorley arrived in Hawaii September 14, 1915, and has held various details at Schofield Barracks, the last of which was that of post adjutant.

Lieut.-Col. Palmer has only recently received his commission, having up to a short time ago been commander of a 2nd Infantry battalion. He came to the department January 13, 1916, first to the 2nd Infantry and later went to the 1st Infantry.

Maj. Hyer arrived here February 13, 1916, as captain and took command of Troop C, 4th Cavalry. The same year he was promoted to major.

Maj. Hawkins came from the 3d Cavalry to the 4th Cavalry, June 3, 1916, as captain, and was later promoted to major. A month ago he was assigned to the inspector general's department, succeeding Maj. H. O. Williams, ordered to the mainland.

Maj. Wise came from the 3d Infantry to the 25th Infantry, December 14, 1915.

Maj. Lyon reached here January 16, 1917, was assigned to the 25th Infantry and later to the 32nd Infantry.

The calling of Col. McRae from the adjutant general's office will mean the taking over of his work by Maj. L. L. Redington, national guard, unless another officer is named in his stead. Maj. Redington is now assistant to the adjutant.

MULLER FACES DETENTION FOR PERIOD OF WAR

Charge Against German Seized at Hilo is "An Alien Assisted into the Country"

"An assisted alien"—in gaining entrance to the United States—is the charge upon which Heinrich Muller, a German, was taken into custody by the federal immigration authorities. Muller, who was employed by Knack & Co., contractors, in South Kona, was arrested on a department of labor and commerce warrant by Inspector H. B. Brown of the Honolulu immigration service last week and confined in the Hilo jail until he was brought to Honolulu Saturday.

Muller is now in detention at the immigrant station where he will be kept until a hearing of the charge against him is held. The portion of the immigration laws said to apply to the Muller case is that part which prohibits the payment of the passage of an alien to the United States by a corporation, association, society, municipality or foreign country.

At the time the Marshall Islands were captured from the Germans by the Japanese in 1915, Muller was employed there by the Jaluit Co. After a time he was released by the Japanese government who held him as a prisoner of war. Through representations made to the American consul his passage was paid to Hawaii, the cost afterwards being reimbursed by the German government officials.

Upon arriving here, Muller took up his residence on the schooner Hermes, a German vessel owned by the Jaluit Co. During his two years and a half in Honolulu, Muller is said to have received $50 monthly from the Jaluit Co. Some time ago he went to Kona to accept employment with the contracting company.

Meanwhile it is evident that information regarding the admission of Muller to the United States and the financial transaction which preceded it was received by the department of labor, which ordered his arrest.

Under ordinary circumstances, if the charge of being assisted to enter this country was proved against Muller, he would be deported, but it is probable that he can be sent back to the Marshall Islands while Japan is still at war with his native country, or that he can be sent to Germany.

The probabilities are that he will be held in detention here until after the war with Germany is over.

Additional bond in the sum of $5000 has been required of the guardian of bond T. Chamberlain, a mutually insured person, in an order issued July 1, 1917, by a court of judgments

PLACES BLAME FOR HIGH FISH ON MIDDLEMEN

Figures of Food Official Show Wholesaler Earns 30 to 90 Per Cent of Catch, While Consumer Pays for It All

HERE'S a reason for the high price of fish.

That consumers of fish, not only in Honolulu but elsewhere in the territory are compelled to pay the expenses of six or more middlemen, including the fisherman and the man who sells either at the market or from the cart, is shown in a diagram which has been worked out by J. F. Child, assistant executive officer of the territorial food commission.

If these middlemen perform any actual service, then their existence is justified, thinks Mr. Child. If they do not, then the situation is vice versa, he adds.

Here is the way Mr. Child has worked it out, showing the earnings and expenses of those who take the fish from the ocean and those who deal in them.

Fisherman—Earns 70 per cent of 90 per cent of the catch. His expenses are for rent, food, distillate and ice.

Auctioneer—Earns 10 per cent of the catch. His expenses are practically no more than the $600 yearly license.

Wholesaler—Earns 30 per cent of 90 per cent of the catch, and profits on ice and distillate. Expenses include the upkeep of boats and dividends.

Landlord—Income derived from the rent of stall. Expenses include interest on investments and rents to land owner.

Lessee—Income derived from rent of stalls. Expenses include rents paid for stalls.

Sub-lessee—Same as lessee.

Mongers—Income derived from sales of fish. Expenses include rent for stalls and wages.

Consumer—Pays for it all, according to the way Mr. Child has worked it out.

The fish situation in Honolulu and Hilo is to be discussed at a meeting of the fish committee of the commission which is to be held some day this week.

Pearl Harbor Is Closed To All Shipping

Stricter rules for the entrance to and use of Pearl Harbor by all shipping have been issued by the navy authorities. Normally, Pearl Harbor is a "closed port," but since the war with Germany began extreme precautions have been taken to guard it against the agents of the enemy.

The new orders issued prohibit entrance to the harbor of all vessels except those engaged in public works or carrying naval supplies.

"Shipping in the harbor is being reduced to the minimum," said Capt. George Clark, Pearl Harbor navy commandant. He adds that the shipping is to be restricted to vessels engaged in public works.

It is learned from another source, though, that even the vessels given the privilege of entrance are very closely inspected. Every vessel going into the harbor is boarded by navy men outside the entrance and all proceed to their destination under the convoy of a naval tug launch.

W. C. Avery Made Inspector of All Schools

Board Authorizes Appointment of 100 New Teachers for Duty Here

W. C. Avery, principal of the Kaula high school, was appointed inspector-general of the public schools of the territory, to succeed William McCluskey, former supervising principal of the Maui schools, at a meeting of the board of commissioners of education this morning.

Mr. McCluskey will take Mr. Avery's place in the Kaula high school. Mr. Avery will be inspector-general of schools until the first of the year, when the position will be abolished. He will then become statistician of the department, a position created when the last legislature abolished the inspectorship.

At the last meeting of the board Mr. McCluskey was appointed inspector-general in place of George S. Raymond, who was made supervising principal of Maui. The changes made today do not affect Mr. Raymond's status, and he will leave for the Valley Island to assume his new duties the latter part of this month.

With the exception of the change in the Honolulu office, no new appointments were made. The appointments of teachers made by Supt. Henry W. Kinney since the last meeting of the board were approved. Superintendent Kinney was given authority to appoint 100 new public school teachers, the appointments to be subject to the approval of the board.

These new appointments will be made between now and the opening of the new school term in September. Superintendent Kinney announced today that a majority of the new teachers will be brought here from the mainland.

A number of applications for transfers have been filed with the department and action on these probably will be taken this afternoon when the commission will complete its work.

Will Probe Registration Obstruction

Chairman Wayne Going to Hilo to Find Out What is Trouble With Supervisors

Will Wayne, chairman of the central board of registration, will leave here Wednesday morning for the island of Hawaii, in attempt to make some settlement of the trouble in which the supervisors of that county are figuring as apparent obstructionists to registration work.

Mr. Wayne will be delegated full powers from the central board, and is making the trip at the suggestion of Governor Pinkham. He said this morning he hopes by his visit to get the whole difficulty straightened out.

"Whoever it is on Hawaii that is systematically obstructing the completion of registration will get themselves into serious trouble," said Executive Officer F. J. Green this morning. "The board has information as to whom these parties are and action will be taken at once."

Registration figures are all in from Kauai and Maui, but no returns have come from Hawaii, and this is one of the things over which difficulty has arisen.

Mau's figures show the following: Caucasians, 433, of whom 29 claim exemption and 136 do not; Hawaiians, 413, of whom 308 claim exemption and 105 do not; Japanese, 85, of whom 58 claim exemption and 27 do not; Mongolian, 65, of whom 43 claim exemption and 12 do not; Filipinos, 61, of whom 14 claim exemption and 47 do not.

This record for Filipinos who do not claim exemption is considered noteworthy.

From Hawaii has come the report of another case which Mr. Wayne will investigate. This is of a man who registered under a false name, later became married and bought an automobile under his real name. Wayne will also investigate concerning the Filipinos who have been arrested by Sheriff Pua.

Eloquence of attorney's pleading in Judge Irwin's court failed to produce results this morning, when William Brown, represented by Leon M. Straus, was sentenced to pay a fine

Volume of Business On Stock Exchange In Last Year Totals $14,698,420

Sugar Transactions Lead With Total of $7,250,000, While Unlisted Securities Represent $4,914,000 on Exchange of 4,237,866 Shares

L. Conking, secretary of the exchange, presented at the annual meeting held this afternoon.

Of the different kinds of stocks, sugar transactions lead with a total of $7,250,757.64, and the total of the unlisted securities is second with $4,914,589.75, which leads all the others by $3,500,000. Bonds totaled $1,265,860.50; miscellaneous securities $928,067.82 and mercantile $238,145. In the number of shares which exchanged hands, however, the unlisted securities led with 4,237,866, sugar is second with 301,776.

Of the sugar stocks Koloa had the greatest range of price from $165 to $225, Paia is second from $205 to $250, and Haiku third from $205 to $245, and others are Waihua $11.75 and Kekaha $10. Among the unlisted securities Honolulu oil went from $2.55 to $5, and Mineral Products from 10 cents to $1.25.

BOOZE TAKES 164 TONS RICE HERE MONTHLY

GRAIN USED IN HAWAII FOR MAKING OF LIQUOR

Hilo Sake Brewery—Rice, 36,168 pounds a month; bran, 6000 pounds a month.

Hawaii Sake Brewery—Rice, 100,000 pounds a month.

Honolulu Brewing & Malting Co.—Rice, 42,000 pounds a month; malt, 80,000 pounds a month.

Honolulu Sake Brewery—Rice, 150,000 pounds a month.

Rice total—328,168 pounds (approximately) a month, or approximately 164 tons.

Letters on file in the office of the territorial food commission, from the Honolulu Brewing and Malting Co., the Hilo Sake Brewery, the Hawaii Sake Brewery, and the Honolulu Sake Brewery, give evidence that approximately 328,168 pounds of Japanese rice, or about 164 tons, are being used in the islands each month for the manufacture of sake. The letters were written by the companies some weeks ago at the request of the commission.

Aside from the utilization of rice, the letters show that about 6000 pounds of bran and about 8000 pounds of malt are being used each month for the manufacture of liquor. All of the letters assert that the rice is imported from Japan.

As announced in the Star-Bulletin yesterday, the commission has power to prohibit the use of grains in Hawaii for the manufacture of liquor. That the commission would consider exercising this power if public opinion demanded it, and if reasonable necessity was shown, is the statement of members of the commission.

Under date of July 6 the Hilo Sake Brewery wrote to the commission that it was using 36,168 pounds of imported rice a month and 4340 pounds of "maka," or bran. As a by-product of the sake, it said, 6000 pounds of dregs were secured which is suitable for feeding cattle or pigs.

The Hawaii Sake Brewery, a sake brewery, writing on June 23, reported it was using 100,000 pounds of imported rice each month. It was also producing it said, 24,000 pounds of dregs which sold at 1 cent a pound and which was used by the Japanese for soup and manufacturing pickles. It is also used as a poultry feed, this company added, although it costs more than corn.

On June 28 the Honolulu Brewing and Malting Co. reported it was using 21 tons of broken rice a month and 40 tons of malt. The malt is imported from San Francisco and practically all the rice from Japan, the letter says. The grain not used is being purchased by a local dairyman at the rate of three tons a day.

Writing under date of July 10, the Honolulu Sake Brewery reported it was using 150,000 pounds of imported Japanese rice a month and that it was securing about 240 kegs, 80 pounds to the keg, of dregs each month.

5-MILE BOOZE ORDER NOT YET RECEIVED HERE

Regulations Published in Star-Bulletin Last Week Not in Force in Honolulu

President Wilson's executive order establishing the five-mile areas within which liquor and commercialized vice are strictly prohibited, has not been officially received here, and is therefore not in force in the territory, as far as U. S. Attorney S. C. Huber has been able to learn.

"Personally, I have not officially received the order nor instructions to enforce it," he says. "I believe, however, that the army authorities would receive the first word and, if they had received it, they would have advised me."

The text of the executive order, as contained in the Official Bulletin sent out from Washington, D. C., was published in the Star-Bulletin last week.

"As regards section 13 of this order," says Mr. Huber, "this may be effective here now, as it strikes a blow at commercialized vice, although I have reason to believe the proper authorities will not take steps to enforce it until they are further advised as to the interpretation of the section."

Attorney Huber says he is not in a position to interpret the order, as he has yet to find out the use and meaning of certain words. One portion of the order relates solely to military camps, and what is meant by "camps" is one of the things the federal officials want to find out. The section relating to vice, however, uses the terms "military camp, station, fort, cantonment, post," etc., which is much more inclusive than the other section.

In Mr. Huber's opinion, the word "camp" does not include the other words.

In commemoration of the twentieth anniversary of his arrival in Hawaii, John Deter, manager of the Union Grill, it is expected will entertain a few of his friends with a "wela ka hoo" luncheon Wednesday.

DAWLIGHT SAVING UP TO COMMERCE BODY WEDNESDAY

Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock the members of the Chamber of Commerce will meet to consider the question as to whether they will go on record as endorsing the daylight saving plan for Honolulu.

The daylight saving plan has been advocated for Honolulu for nearly two years but it was only recently that sufficient backing could be obtained to put the scheme directly up to the members of the chamber for a decision, although it has been discussed informally at times.

Letters were sent to all the members of the chamber last week by the secretary, Raymond C. Brown, asking them to post themselves on the subject as thoroughly as possible and also pointing out many of the advantages which would accrue to Honolulu if the plan is put into operation.

There is a bill now before congress which, if passed, will give the mainland an extra hour of daylight during working hours, but as it does not apply to Hawaii the real object of the meeting Wednesday will be to decide whether Hawaii shall adopt the plan if it becomes a law on the mainland.

JOHNSTONE MAY BE ENDORSED BY CHAMBER FOR JOB

Alvin Blom and C. D. Pringle Mentioned as Aspirants for Revenue Collector

According to a report current in business circles today, Ralph S. Johnstone, acting collector of internal revenues, will be endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce for permanent appointment to succeed the late John F. Haley.

A meeting of the Chamber will be held Wednesday. Johnstone is known to be well liked in business circles for his work in the revenue office and is held by many as the proper man for the place.

The names of Alvin Blom, recent candidate for treasurer on the Democratic ticket in this city and C. D. Pringle, recent candidate for mayor, were mentioned today as possible candidates for the place. The name of Palmer P. Woods, secretary to the mayor, who served for a time under Collector Haley, was also on the lips of several men who discussed the appointment today.

PUNCHBOWL ST. WILL BE PAVED

Because Punchbowl street mauka of Beretania in front of the Queen's hospital is in such a bad condition that the continual patching which it has received does very little good, City and County Engineer George Collins said this morning that he is preparing a resolution proposing a frontage improvement district on Punchbowl street from Beretania to Lualaba street to be introduced at the meeting of the board of supervisors this evening.

For months there have been a large number of petitions from doctors and from the hospital asking the board to repair the street, as patients being taken to the hospital suffer considerably from the jounces and nearly every time an attempt has been made to fix it. The result, however, was far from satisfactory and now a concrete road will probably be constructed.

REGISTRY CARDS FOUND ON PRISONER

U. S. Officials Puzzled to Know What Accused Embezzler Intended to Do With Them

JUST what J. E. Higgins, former employe of the Honolulu postoffice and now under arrest on a charge of embezzlement, intended to do with two bundles of numbered registration cards which were secured by Marshal J. J. Smiddy when Higgins was placed in custody last week, is a problem which is puzzling federal officials today.

Marshal Smiddy says that when he arrested Higgins Friday evening he took a bundle of numbered registration cards from him, the same kind of cards that were used for enrolling military enlistees on July 31. On Saturday morning the marshal searched Higgins' room and there found another bundle of cards, also a numbering machine. U. S. Attorney S. C. Huber has some of the cards and the remainder have been turned over to the central registration board.

Higgins was chief registrar at Aala Park on July 31 when more than 700 men enrolled for military service. Federal officials are not inclined to believe, however, that Higgins could have used the cards with any damaging effect unless he filled them out, signed them and turned them over to men who had not registered and whose names, therefore, would not appear on the official lists.

It is alleged that Higgins, while employed in the registry division at the postoffice, rifled registered letters containing coin. His alleged defalcation is said to amount to about $150. Bond in the sum of $5000 has been fixed in his case. He was in Dahu prison today, having failed to secure surety on the bond. He has waived preliminary examination before U. S. Commissioner G. S. Curry and his case will go to the grand jury when it meets again, probably in October.

Fearful Drift, Say Friends
That dislike of army life and fear that he might be drafted into the new national army have been responsible for the postoffice defalcations charged to Higgins is the belief of some of his acquaintances. They make this assertion when wordment is expressed that he made little, if any attempt, to cover up his embezzlements.

Believed he preferred going to jail to having to re-enter the army, which he feared, said one of his acquaintances today.

A search of the registered mail records is being continued by the postal inspectors. So far, this has divulged that some letters were extracted from the mail and marked as delivered. All four of the registered letters were sent from Honolulu, Maui, to Honolulu. While Postmaster MacAdam is adverse to discussing the alleged embezzlement, he thinks that the amount taken is much less than $500.

REACTION IS EXPECTED IN SUGAR MARKET

Reactions in the sugar market in New York are expected, according to word received from there. Expectation of this state in the sugar market is indicated in the weekly market cable received by Alexander & Baldwin from their New York office this morning. The cable read as follows: "Market easier and apparently due for some reaction. Sellers offering for August and September at $7.75. Rumored sales for September at $7.65 withdrawn by buyers. Considerable quantity raws for August and September purchased, and also refined."

EXAMS FOR CARRIER TO BE HELD IN HILO

An examination for clerk and carrier will be held at the postoffice in Hilo, Hawaii, September 3, 1917.

The age limit is 18 to 45 years. Married women will not be admitted to the examination. This prohibition, however, does not apply to women who are divorced or those who are separated from their husbands and support themselves, but they are eligible for appointment only as clerk.

Applicants must be physically sound, and male applicants must be not less than 5 feet, 4 inches in height without boots or shoes, and must weigh not less than 125 pounds without overcoat or hat.

For application blanks and for full information relative to the examination, qualifications, duties, salaries, vacations and promotions, address John W. Short, secretary board of civil service examiners, Honolulu.

During the next two months work on the water supply in the Kooiaua range will again be undertaken and as a result economy of water must be exercised at Castner. The swimming tank has been drained and will not be used, and lawns and flower gardens can only be watered between 5 and 5:30 p. m., and then only by hand.

CITY HOSPITAL HAS BUSY TIME OVER WEEK END

Many accidents over the week-end kept the police busy making calls and the Emergency hospital busy bandaging the victims. Most reports were for minor accidents.

A 2-year-old Chinese boy ran in front of a street car and was badly cut Sunday morning when he crossed to a group of friends who were on the other side of the street. Officer M. M. Nekua reported the child's name as Kuan Kee and the accident occurred in front of the Colonial hotel on Emma street. The motorist driving the car is held blameless for the accident. The child was rushed to the Emergency hospital and will recover.

Just before midnight, Saturday, S. Kubata, a Japanese, ran into an auto belonging to Gonsalves & Co. when he suddenly turned into Ahina Lane off King street on his way from Wai'iki. Mr. Gonsalves, who was driving the car, was on the right side of the road going out King when the Japanese crashed into his car.

Another automobile was damaged late Saturday afternoon when it was run into by a street car. The machine, driven by S. Saaki, a Japanese, was coming out of Cedar street onto King when the electric car, which was going along King street, hit the automobile and damaged a headlight, the right fender, a spring and a tire.

An automobile accident occurred at the corner of Kinau and Keaunouku streets when a car driven by a sailor crashed into a car driven by Miss G. Falke. Miss Falke was going mauka on Keaunouku when her car was struck on the left by the sailor's machine which was crossing on Kinau going to Wai'iki. Although Miss Falke's car was damaged in the collision, she complained that the occupants of the other car hastened away.

Joe Ferreira received a cut on his right leg when the motorcycle he was riding skidded at Luso and Alapai streets. He was rushed to the Emergency hospital late Sunday afternoon shortly after the accident had occurred.

An automobile driven by K. Kurowa, a Japanese, was damaged by car 2397, owned by E. T. Lam, when the latter tried to pass it at a narrow place on the road through Waikakalau gulch Sunday afternoon. Both machines were coming in towards Honolulu.

Driving an automobile across the School street bridge, A. Blom took off the right wheel of a Japanese fish peddler's cart on Sunday morning. Although he took off the right wheel of the cart, Blom claims that he obeyed the traffic rules and went to the left of it. The cart is owned by J. Misuta, a Japanese.

The motorcycle driven by Herbert Bandage was wrecked in Kipapa gulch on Sunday afternoon and the rider so badly hurt that he had to be taken to Schofield Barracks' hospital for care. The wreck was reported to the police by Burt Mayo.

Manuel Medeiros, a Portuguese, was knocked unconscious on Saturday afternoon when he fell off the King street car near Kekauliki street. He had dropped a package and in an attempt to recover it went off the car. He regained consciousness a short time after he had been rushed to the Emergency hospital.

Rudolph M. Duncan, road master of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company, who has been visiting in Molokai returned yesterday in the Mikahala. Mr. Duncan, a member of the Kamehameha Alumni Association, will present a resolution this evening at a meeting of the association called for at the club house.

POLICE COURT NOTES

Refusing to pay for the automobile which he had hired, Manuel Dias took refuge from the demands of the driver of the machine by locking himself in a room. The driver of the machine, Sam Meheua, anxious to get his money and unwilling to spend the time necessary to blockade the room, went to the police station this morning and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Dias.

U. S. IS URGED TO RECOGNIZE PACIFIC UNION

Promotion League Points Out to Secretary Lane Necessity for Exploitation

WITH the announcement that the Melbourne government in Australia would send a special representative to Washington to exploit that country, it is expected that the United States government will take recognition of the Pacific-American Union which was fostered by A. P. Taylor, secretary of the Hawaii Promotion committee.

Mr. Taylor has written to Franklin C. Lane, secretary of the interior, pointing out the necessity for the exploitation of the Pacific-American countries. He has also written to a number of senators and representatives urging them to work on the plan for a real organization.

Inasmuch as the United States at the present time is doing much to advertise the Central and South American republics, it is thought that Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, Guam and American Samoa should also be given publicity. At the present time this is only carried out in the routine way. With Australia sending a special representative to Washington, and a plan of campaign outlined, Mr. Taylor believes that the possessions bordering on the Pacific should be given real recognition.

MINERAL PRODUCTS CO. REPORT IS FAVORABLE

The regular weekly report from Manager Anderson of the Mineral Products Company was received this morning. It said that Engineer Pike's magnesia carbonate experiments were being continued with results which were successful and promising. The sampling campaign for the concentration of low grade chrome ore is also to be continued.

FIVE CASES TO BE PRESENTED TO GRAND JURY

Two cases of forgery, two of assaults with weapons, and one of first degree burglary were to be presented to the territorial grand jury for investigation this afternoon by City Attorney Arthur M. Brown.

The jury-men will probably present a partial report to Circuit Judge Heen at 4 o'clock.

Juan Villanueva, a Filipino, charged with first degree burglary, is alleged to have entered an outbuilding on the premises of Associate Justice James L. Coke and stolen articles of value.

Albert Manners is alleged to have signed "J. A. Victor Express" to a check for $250 payable to the Victor Express and drawn on the Bank of Hawaii. Manners was formerly employed by the express company in the capacity of truck driver.

Two cases of assaults with knives involve Leon Bilan and Toribio, Filipino plantation laborers, who are charged with having cut up Francisco Loyosa and Estaban Algosca, respectively, following rows over gambling games. According to the complaint, Loyosa was in a plantation hospital for 20 days following the alleged knifing.

Sam Peters, a chauffeur, is charged with having forged the name of Francis H. L. Brown to a check for $35.50 drawn on the Bank of Honolulu. Peters is said to have confessed to Deputy City Attorney A. M. Cristy.

A motion to strike certain portions of the allegations from the return of the respondent to the petition for an alternative writ of mandamus asked by Mrs. Julia Loane against Walter A. Engle, chief clerk in the land office, has been filed in circuit court by the petitioner. Mrs. Loane is seeking to have her name reinstated among the list of persons who drew homesteads in the Kapa, Kapa, district. The land office holds that both Mrs. Loane and her husband were not entitled to apply for lots.

JAPANESE WOMEN ASK AID OF FOOD BODY FOR EXHIBIT

Honolulu Association Plans to Participate in Conservation Meeting in September

Financial assistance is asked from the territorial food commission by the Honolulu Japanese Women's association in preparing for participation in a Pan-Pacific food conservation exhibit which, according to a letter to the commission, is being arranged by Alexander Hume Ford to be held here next September. The commission says it has no details regarding the proposed exhibit.

The letter to the commission from the Japanese women is as follows: "The Pan-Pacific club, through Alexander Hume Ford, has requested the members of the Honolulu Japanese Women's association in the coming Pan-Pacific food conservation exhibit to introduce the foodstuffs used daily by the Japanese, to show the methods of preserving fish and vegetables as employed in the household, the preparation of palatable dishes and the simple construction of tasty soups, the ingredients of which are obtainable in these islands."

"You are thoroughly acquainted with the incentive which prompts this exhibit and to make this a success will necessitate some expense which, while not a great deal, this association does not feel it can carry alone. We appeal to you to help us financially. Our members are interested, having met and discussed this several times, and will do their share to be of assistance."

"There's a Reason"

JOYLAND CIRCUS STILL FAVORITE

While there is no reason for fear on the part of the management of either Ringling Brothers or Barnum and Bailey as a result of the activities of the Joyland Circus, the attraction par excellence at the Bijou theater, there is no doubt but that the purveyors of amusement in Hawaii will be green with envy that it was not they who first thought of introducing a circus in the crossroads of the Pacific after a drought of 15 years standing.

There are two classes of people who attend circuses, boys and girls, between the ages of 1 and 100. Both of these classes have been in attendance at the Bijou during the last several evenings and on Saturday afternoon.

The Joyland Circus proves a real surprise to all. There were but a few followers of amusement but were skeptical when the announcement of a circus was first made.

CROOK PLAY IS SEEN AT HAWAII

It is not infrequent that a detective turns crook but for the reverse to happen is rather unusual, but as it is the unusual that makes the popularity of photo dramas, "The Phantom," the Hawaii theater feature, should prove a big attraction.

Farrell, a crook of the famous Raffles type who defies the activities of the police to effect his capture. They are suspicious of Farrell, but can fasten nothing onto him.

Farrell commits a fatal error and falls in love with his intended victim. He gives up the idea of purloining the jewels which are stolen instead by Ratcliffe, a friend of Avic's brother, Bertie. Ratcliffe has Bertie in his power through gambling debts.

STRONG DRAMA AT LIBERTY THEATER

"Out of the Wreck" is the rather gruesome title of the Oliver Macosco feature film now showing at the Liberty theater. It is a strong drama but not near so gruesome as the name would indicate, although filled with tense scenes and situations.

The story is based on a famous murder trial, related to the author, Maud E. Cornwell, a prominent attorney. Occasionally, the story carries a vivid indictment of the liquor evil, although it makes no pretense of being a temperance picture or sermon.

The wife tells her story in a vivid manner. She relates the death of her parents, her meeting with a young man, their marriage which she later learns is illegal, how this man gradually becomes a victim of drink and how, to save her own life, she shoots him.

MAUI VEGETABLE CROPS DAMAGED

That the vegetable gardens on Maui are being damaged by the drought to a greater extent than the sugar crops, and that the pineapples have not been touched by the dry spell, is the word brought from the Valley Island by John L. Fleming of James F. Morgan Co.

The sugar crops of 1918 and 1919 have been somewhat damaged in places but not to the amount which previous reports have had it, Mr. Fleming says. Large areas of the sugar field are yellow, particularly on the Wailuku and Maui Agricultural Co.'s plantations, but a good rain in the near future will save all but a few inches of the stock at the butt. As a result of the drought the 1918 estimate may have to be cut a few thousand tons.

The vegetable crops are suffering considerable and in some instances truck gardens have almost been burned up. The grass on the ranges is also very dry and the cattle are not getting the proper feed and are looking poorly.

TERRITORY ASKS CITY TO SHARE PUMP EXPENSE

Three bids were submitted Friday by local firms for an electric pump to be installed at Kalihii pumping station. These bids were as follows:

Caillon, Neill & Co., $12,650; Honolulu Iron Works, $14,750; Hawaiian Electric Co., $19,360. As the equipment named in the Caillon, Neill offer did not comply with specifications, the attorney general's office has rendered an opinion declaring the bid cannot be accepted.

The loan fund commission, which has charge of the work, has sent a letter to the board of supervisors asking if the city will assume the cost of installing and all cost of purchase above $14,000. This latter would amount to $750 if the Honolulu Iron works' bid is accepted. A letter was sent to the city on June 30 but has never been heard from, it is said.

It is probable that as soon as the Maole ditch job is ended in September the commission will close up its books and business, awaiting the time when the pump is installed some 13 months from now. After that the commission will definitely cease business.

MADERA JUMPS ANOTHER NOTCH

Another listless day was the record of the exchange today. Madera continues its upward strike registering an advance of another cent and is now quoted at 44 bid and 45 asked. Bingham held its own at 49 but Mineral declined to 8 cents. Engles held firm at $6.75. Sugar stocks were also listless with little trading and practically no variation in quotations.

CONFUSION IN NAMES LEADS TO SAFETY REPORT

A plausible solution of the puzzle which was caused by the reported safe arrival of the Union liner Wairuna, on the coast by the Associated Press of which no further details have been received, is advanced by shipping men who think that the names of the steamers Waimarino and Wairuna were confused.

The arrival of the Wairuna was reported about 10 days ago and when that ship was 34 days out from Sydney to San Francisco on a voyage that usually takes only 17 days. No news of the ship has since been received.

The reported arrival of the Wairuna was given about the date the Waimarino was due in San Francisco. This latter vessel called here for coal after an unsuccessful search for the Wairuna in the South Seas. That report was a mistake is now accepted without doubt.

Little hope is held for the eventual landing of the crew of the Wairuna, which must now be starving, it still alive. The food supply carried by the ship was sufficient only for a normal voyage to San Francisco.

RALPH JOHNSTONE TO BE TEMPORARY HEAD OF REVENUE OFFICE

Ralph E. Johnstone, first deputy under the late John F. Haley in the internal revenue office, has been appointed by cable from Washington as acting collector to serve until a new official has been appointed and confirmed.

Mr. Johnstone has been in the revenue office for the last 14 years, having served under four different collectors. During the recent illness of the late collector he has had active charge of the office work most of the time and is in touch with all angles of it.

MANOA HAS BIG PASSENGER LIST

Every first cabin on the Manoa will be occupied for her last voyage to San Francisco from this port under the present schedule. With three in a cabin, the Manoa can take over 90 passengers, but this is seldom practical and it is expected that she will take 67 first cabin passengers.

The Manoa will also take out a total of 8110 tons of cargo. This will consist of 6181 tons of sugar, 500 tons of molasses and 10,000 cases of pineapples. She will sail from Pier 13 at noon Thursday, four hours earlier than first announced.

GULFPORT GOES ON I.-I. DRYDOCK

The new U. S. Navy auxiliary, the Gulfport, went on the inter-island drydock this morning to have her bottom cleaned and painted. This is the former German navy collier Locksun which was interned in Honolulu since the beginning of the European war. She was partially destroyed by her crew after the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany, but has since been repaired by the Navy department at Pearl Harbor. No announcement has been made by the naval authorities as to where the new auxiliary will be used. The Carl Schurz, the former German gunboat Geier, will also be ready soon for United States service, at the repairs on the vessel at Pearl Harbor are rapidly nearing completion.

HARBOR NOTES

The C. E. Moody, which is discharging a cargo of nitrate at Pier 13, will be unloaded by tomorrow.

The Yuki Maru, with entire cargo destined for island merchants, is due here from the Orient on August 27.

The U. S. transport Dix, which arrived early yesterday morning with a cargo of lumber from Bellingham, began discharging today.

According to advices to the department harbormaster, the transport Logan for San Francisco will dock at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The Kherine is loading ballast at Pier 16 on a voyage to Manila, where she will take on a tobacco cargo for shipment to Spain. She is expected to be ready to sail before next Thursday.

It is expected that the A. J. Fuller will be ready to sail for Uruk, Alaska, tomorrow. She came here with nitrate from the coast and is going in ballast to the Alaskan port, where she will load canned salmon.

The only transpacific arrival and departure at this port yesterday was the fish steamer Coolgardie from Adelaide, South Australia. She came in bunker coal and sailed for San Francisco at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Dutch liner Goentiaer sailed for Yokohama August 10 for Honolulu. She is due here on August 21. On the same date the Princess Juliana is due here from San Francisco. She will leave San Francisco at noon tomorrow.

The American-Hawaiian steamer Pican is due here Thursday morning. The Texan of the same line is due from Hilo for the coast with all cargo of sugar on last Friday morning. This was a day earlier than was expected the sugar carrier would be despatched from the Crescent City.

INVESTIGATES SHIPPING MOLASSES TO BRITAIN

Believing that by mixing molasses with food, the amount can be increased and the price cheapened, B. Brombak, a recent arrival in Honolulu from England, is investigating the feasibility of shipping Hawaiian molasses to the cattle ranches of the British Isles. Because of the cost of transportation, the ultimate cost of the molasses will be quite high, according to Mr. Brombak. Insurance rates are as high as five and six per cent, he says, because of the great risk in traveling the ocean. Upon these considerations and the price of the molasses, Mr. Brombak is expecting to make some decision concerning the purchase of molasses, within the next 10 days. He is representing himself and not the Danish government as was believed.

Big Men For Big Work

The call for big men is ringing out with increasing force every day of the war.

Everyone now knows that although the man who told of the million men who would spring up over night, may be neither fool nor knave, he did not at any stage of the proceedings know what he was talking about.

Mention of this need for big men has been made in these columns before. Mention will be made again, and for the particular reason that big men are needed in this section of the country as well in that portion immediately bordering on Pennsylvania avenue.

At every place, and in every official position where petty, peevish, partisan politics enter in to impede the nation's business or public business of any character, the man and the men responsible for it "must go." The departure may be delayed in some instances more than others, but in the final solution the little men and the incompetent men have got to go.

This is a terrific task which the nation has undertaken. And this is a terrifically big nation. To bring all the forces to bear so that the task shall be properly done demands the best that big men can give, and when these men are giving of their best the impedimenta of small minds must stand aside.

Sam Blythe has put it in a paragraph written for a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post:

"This is not a small man's war or a small country's war. There must be neither penuriousness nor politics in it. This is not a party war or a partisan war. There must be a realization that the ambitions of no man—or any set of men—are superior or to be considered against the need of the country. There must be a hard, cold-blooded, business policy—the policy of winning, at whatever cost and regardless of the needs, desires, feelings or aspirations of any individual or any set of individuals whatsoever. When the people find out about it, when they get a realization of what it all means, there will be no holding back by the people; but the people deserve, and must have, in the conduct of this war, the best brains and the best efficiency we have, regardless of party, of affiliations, of favoritism or prejudice; or the people will ask, and know, why."

If it is a question of utilizing our big men, or trying them out in the process of qualification until the right man is found—or the right men. The process must be one of trial and elimination.

There is no present disposition to hurry matters, but there will be that disposition soon, for though it may be true that the people in general have not an acute or concrete realization of all the problems and difficulties presented to this country by this war, it is also true that there is a certain lack of understanding, complicated with personal ambition, egotism and political aspiration among some of the men who are trying, officially, to run it; and a total lack of understanding of new conditions among most of the others. It is the business of these men to know. If they persist in not knowing there will still exist methods by which they will be accurately and pointedly informed."

All that Blythe says of the national management is equally true of local management. This great nation is made up of units. If the men managing the units are not up to the mark the work of the big men who may be handling the national program must be seriously hampered if not brought to naught.

The test of ability is found in results. Excuses and complaint of not having a fair show will pass for a time, but eventually the course of events calls for results, and if they are not forthcoming, the little men, the partisan, pettifogging, factional cute politician will have to go.

Great Britain, France, Italy, the United States and even Russia have all made their war aims clear to the sun, and if the Stockholm conference can "force" the other belligerents to do the same, why, let them go to it.

After being practically ignored in the news for some time, Mexico is reported as rapidly approaching the normal in conditions. Wilson's patience with that distressed country would seem to be having its perfect work.

"Kultur" is advanced with a vengeance by the wanton destruction of historical documents wherever the Hun has set his foot. Not forgetting the slaughter of innocent women and children.

"Commerce depends on an exchange of differences and not an exchange of similarities," Gavin McNab of San Francisco says. In other words there are no dividends from swapping jackknives.

Instead of killing each other, the Chinese are talking about going after people that "need killing," as Puddhead Wilson says, by joining the forces of democracy in Europe.

Mexico will not need to worry where the next day's cash is coming from after she gives her inexhaustible resources a chance to be developed.

Britain has ordered the formation of a new camel corps. Now the song will be, "The camels are coming, the Tergons are running, aha, oho."

Cuba's Sugar Crop Prospects

The present very satisfactory price of sugar, from the producer's point of view, makes statistics on that very necessary commodity of utmost interest, and more so when these statistics are a resume of sugar production of plantations other than those of Hawaii.

Cuba determines the price of sugar in the United States and for this reason special interest attaches to the summary of Cuban crop conditions given in a recent issue of the Bureau of Commerce reports. By advanced methods in fertilization, cultivation and harvesting Cuba has made wonderful strides in sugar production. In six years Cuba's sugar crop has increased from 1,480,217 tons in 1911 to 3,006,625 tons in 1916. The estimate for this year's crop was set at 3,500,000 tons, but now, taking into consideration the great amount of destruction chargeable to the revolutionists, and the time lost through the inability of the mills to grind while disturbances lasted, estimate is now made, that with the aid of favorable weather, it is possible the output of sugar may reach 2,800,000 tons.

Noting the weather that has prevailed during the time of disturbances, when large cane areas were destroyed, and all sugar making work was at a standstill, it is fully believed by those conversant with cane growing, that Cuba's estimate of the 1917 crop would have been exceeded. It has been pretty well established by estimates that carry conviction, that the actual destruction of sugar will amount to upward of 600,000 tons.

The number of acres under cultivation in cane throughout the island of Cuba will easily reach 1,400,000. This is divided as follows: Pinar del Rio, 22,777; Habana, 153,835; Matanzas, 270,400; Santa Clara, 404,900; Camaguey, 183,000; Oriente, 350,800. Smaller holdings will swell the amount to the estimated acreage.

The present high price of raw sugar permits the Cuban mills to harvest and grind cane which yields only 8 per cent sucrose. Under exceptionally favorable conditions, generally in February and March, a per cent as high as 20 has been reached, but the general run is in the neighborhood of 12.

Little hope is entertained that next year's crop will exceed or even equal the 1917 crop. Since the revolutionists passed through Oriente district, destroying cane fields as they went, there has been no attempt made to clean up the damaged fields, and the new crop will not only be hindered in its growth, but there will be much extra labor involved in cutting the burned cane as well as the new.

Conditions between Alto Cedro and Antilla will not be so bad, as the planters in that section of the island, to a large extent, cleared away all the burnt trash and cane, and the ration is reported as a good stand. The prospects for a large crop in this section next year are good.

The mills in Oriente East are now grinding, and with no more disturbances, will continue to grind until September. The provinces of Camaguey and Santa Clara suffered the heaviest at the hands of the revolutionists. Practically one-half of the cane crop was ruined, and in the neighborhood of Jobabo the cane fields were devastated.

In the northern part of the island, at Chaparra and Delicias, where are located some of the largest sugar mills in the world, the revolutionists destroyed about 100,000 tons of cane.

There are 201 sugar mills in the island of Cuba, and of this total 68 are owned and operated by citizens of the United States.

Very little definite information has previously reached the public concerning the amount of crop damage done in Cuba by the revolutionists. Censorship has minimized the activity of the rebels. But with the Cuban crop estimated at less than three million tons during this war period, it is easy to understand the present high price of raw sugar, and there is no reason to expect a drop in price.

When President Wilson sees fit to close the ports under his jurisdiction against exports of commodities that are harmful to the interests of the Allies, it will render a most important aid to the Entente nations. It will make the British blockade all unnecessary.

Perhaps it may reach the point where the large taxpayers of the city will feel called upon to pay a trained man to act as volunteer inspector on the road construction of the city and county. High cost of governing might be materially reduced by such a plan.

Again on this day ask yourself what you have done for your country. It is a mighty poor American who lives through one day without having tried to do some good turn for the United States.

No less an authority than Mabel Boardman gives the sign of approval to the Col. Ebert Ad Club plan of sending guava jelly to the boys at the front. This should make guava jelly parties popular.

When the city hall is populated by job hunters of the type that is always looking for something to do and to do that well, the city management will be somewhere near what it should be.

When in doubt go to the Territorial Market. This enterprise is supported by a portion of your tax money. To trade there helps home production and hurts no one.

Some day the Honolulu Stock Exchange will have to take up the subject of whether business in Honolulu is to be done on the basis of "the buyer beware."

Somebody ought to tell La Follette to have his pompadour trimmed.

'JIM' HALEY IS BORNE TO LAST RESTING PLACE

Large Number of Friends Pay Last Tribute of Respect to Late Collector

The body of John F. Haley, late collector of internal revenue, rests under a green mound of turf in Nuuanu valley cemetery as answer to one of his last wishes—that he be buried in Hawaii.

Funeral services of a beautiful and impressive nature were held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the Knights of Pythias order, of which he was a member, and was attended by men from many walks of life.

The sunny and generous disposition which characterized the former newspaperman even through years of poor health and through these last long weeks of illness, before dawn broke in the East for him, was reflected in the big crowd of friends that gathered to pay their last respects over his body.

District Attorney C. Huber delivered the funeral oration, touching upon the many points of character that made "Jim" Haley's life worth while, and one or two hymns were sung by the Knights of Pythias' quartet. Chaplain Adolph B. Angus read the funeral service.

"There are doubtless many persons who knew John F. Haley better than I did," said Mr. Huber, "but perhaps the shortness of my acquaintance may help me to appreciate the unselfish and cheerful nature of the man."

"Even when he himself was sadly in need of help and sympathy, he was always looking around trying to find some one who he could aid. When he was suffering most, he never said one word to indicate it, never made complaint, never allowed himself to say or do anything that might cause sorrow or pain to others or cast gloom over them."

"For some time a few months ago I lived next door to Mr. Haley. We were neighbors and I saw him nearly every day. I used to see him walking on the beach where he went to take his baths that he hoped might help him to recover his health. He was so weak then that he used to have to stop to rest two or three times in that short walk. One day I caught up with him and said: 'How are you getting along, Mr. Haley?'"

"Oh, I'm fine," was the reply. "I'm getting along all right. I think I'm getting better all the time. Always cheerful."

"That was Jim Haley's way. He was always cheerful and he refused to do anything that might hurt his mind or his body. He always wanted to help others. The system of benevolence seemed to be a part of his Pythianism that he had most thoroughly assimilated and he practiced it always."

186 FAMILIES ARE CARED FOR BY CHARITIES

478 Individuals, Representing 12 Nationalities, Given Assistance During July

Families and individuals of 12 different races were cared for by the Associated Charities during July, according to the monthly statistical report just issued by Edgar E. Brooks, manager of the Associated Charities.

A total of 186 families and 75 individuals were included in this number. During July, 23 new families came into the care of the charities, 14 old families returned again for care, and 149 continued in the care of the organization.

With the 75 separate individuals that were on record, a total of 478 persons were administered to in one way or another.

Among those treated by the charities was an orphan, three widows, 18 married couples and 9 single transient men. One widower and two deserted families came to the organization for care.

More Portuguese were under the care of the charities last month than people of any other race. Eight Portuguese families were cared for and 34 individuals. Porto Ricans, Chinese, mixed races, and Americans were treated in number slightly less than the total number of Portuguese, while the English, Hawaiians, Filipinos, Irish, Spanish, Russian, German and Koreans cared for, numbered even less.

Not one Japanese was treated by the charities last month, according to the report. In spite of the large Japanese population of the islands, they seldom come to the Associated Charities for care, says Manager E. E. Brooks.

Regular relief was given to 130 families during the month and emergency relief to 22. Doctor's care was secured for 13 families, and hospital care for 10.

Twenty-three different organizations and individuals rendered some service to the charities during the month while 14 were asked to render service. The total value of relief given was $1,176.40.

LETTERS

MEDICAL CORPS NEEDS

Editor Star-Bulletin: "Dear Sir: It may be of interest to medical men here to know that in a letter from the director of Department of military relief—American Red Cross—I learn that at present no more base hospital units are to be organized for service abroad."

"There is, however, need for medical men on the other side. My suggestion would be that as many men as you have available (in Hawaii), apply for a commission in the medical reserve corps."

"We will advise you of any change in the present writing. E. S. GOODHUE, "Hilo, August 8, 1917."

MR. RICHLEY'S VIEW

Editor Star-Bulletin: Honolulu, T. H.

Sir: Allow me space in your valuable paper to express my sentiments in regard to the treatment of our navy boys, on the roof garden of the Young hotel, as printed in the morning paper.

Who are the manager and his assistant, that they will not allow men in uniform, other than officers, to dance on the roof garden of the hotel? They must be slackers, as they are not Americans in spirit, at least. The very act of theirs will keep our young men from enlisting if such treatment is allowed to pass unnoticed by the public.

Such conduct of public men if tolerated by the public will cost the United States many recruits, to the army and the navy.

Such men ought to be fired out from any job of being managers of such a fine hotel as the Young. I am sure the proprietors of that hotel do not approve of such treatment of the men in blouses, as he called navy men. I am sure Mr. von Hamm-Young is not that kind of caliber. I know he is American, and would treat men in uniform as gentlemen, especially at such a time as at present, being at war with a foreign nation.

Out upon such scum of the earth, as these two have shown themselves to be. I stand up for the uniform as I went through the Civil war, and was an soldier at that time, were not treated in like manner, and from the expressions I have heard in the streets today, know the public will not tolerate such treatment of our boys that

WAR AND BUSINESS

The truth is that the war has released dormant, even unsuspected capacities for production in the English people, and as a result millions of them—working people especially—have more to spend than ever before. It is a characteristic effect of necessity; there are such dormant capacities in every people.

To avail himself of the new conditions, however, the British business man has had to do two things.

First, he has had to make his workers more productive. That is, he has had to eliminate waste in method and material. He had to do this, not only to let go the men and capital required by the government, but to keep from being destroyed by the higher costs of material and labor. Second, he has had to adjust his business to the changed demands. That is, instead of insisting that people buy tennis rackets when they want rubber trench boots, he has had to stock the boots.—Advertising News.

THAT FURLONG SWIM

Fort De Russy, H. T., August 11, 1917. Sports Editor Star-Bulletin. Sir: For the fact that I was among the spectators in the recent swimming meet held in the Y. M. C. A. tank last evening, I would like to pass my remarks on the 500 yard race which was claimed to be a furlong. What was to blame for the error? Why did Murray quit on the tenth lap? Why was not first and second places given to the two men who finished the 11 laps? It is widely believed here among the service men that there will never again be another boom in swimming as two of the fastest service swimmers shook hands after the meet and said that they would never swim against each other again. It is the belief of the supporters of this form of sport, that Walker would have broken the tank record for this distance, as he took the lead from the start but stopped three times on account of someone's error.

SCOUT CAMP TO OPEN SATURDAY NEAR WAIALUA

The Annual Boy Scout rally will be opened at 12 o'clock next Saturday at the capitol grounds when about 300 boys will gather to leave for a week's encampment at Waiialua. Automobiles furnished by members of the Honolulu Automobile Club will convey the campers to their chosen camping ground.

With but a little over four days in which to complete preparations, plans for outing are now rapidly taking shape. The choice of a camping spot, the arrangement of the camp, provision for supplies, and plans for the work in camp have about been finished.

A spot about half a mile from the Waiialua mill has been chosen for the camp. This place has the advantages of good water, good swimming, more or less seclusion, and the facilities available to the men at the sugar mill.

To assure the boys well-cooked meals an army mess sergeant has been secured to take charge of the kitchen. He will direct this work of the scouts and will teach them the latest methods employed in this line by the army.

Although friends will be welcomed at the camp on any day of the week, Friday, August 17, has been set aside as "visitors' day" when all interested are asked to come to the camp.

MAUI NEWS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) WAILUKU, Maui, Aug. 10--H. L. Sauer of Haku has received a letter from his son, Lester Sauer, who has been attending school in Washington, stating that he has enlisted in the navy, and that his other son, Crayton, although not yet of age, will possibly do likewise. Both boys left the islands about a year ago to attend school.

George H. Dunn, agent of the Inter-Island company at Lahaina, has just heard from his son, Edward A. Dunn, now in Kansas City, to effect that he had been drafted into the army. Young Dunn has been in the moving picture business. He did not claim exemption.

Through the breaking of a brake on a wagon heavily laden with pineapples, a serious runaway occurred in the Kulaha homestead district a week ago last Monday. The outfit was the property of the Haku Cooperative Association. As a result one horse was killed, another badly hurt, and the driver, a Hawaiian named Imalo Pale, injured so badly that he is still in the Pala hospital.

As a result of a fishing trip off Kahoohalae and Molokini on Thursday and Friday of last week, in which D. T. Fleming, John Fleming, Dr. Harry Foss, A. C. Capwell and E. R. Lewis took part, 21 fish were taken, aggregating over 270 pounds in weight. A 20-pound one hooked by Lewis made a game fight. Two tuna, of about 35 pounds each, a fine mahimahi, and a variety of other fish were taken.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL REPORT

The July report of the boys' industrial school, presented at a meeting of the board of industrial schools, gives the following facts: Enrolled on July 1, 1917, 100; admitted during the month, 10; paroled, 2; sent to jail, 1; remaining at the end of the month, 107.

The earnings of the school during the month amounted to $200.00. A new reservoir has been started owing to the present poor condition of the water tank.

Dorothy Dix Talks

THE TELEPHONE PEST

By DOROTHY DIX
The World's Highest Paid Woman Writer.

A YOUNG man asks me to write a few feeling words about the telephone pest, and more especially about the female of the species, who is more deadly than the male. Also, they are more of her, which makes her a proportionately greater menace to the peace and happiness of the community.

Says this young man: "I know a very nice girl of whom I used to think a good deal. In fact, I was on the verge of falling in love with her until I discovered that she was a victim of the telephone habit—and, believe me, I'd about as soon marry a woman with the morphine habit."

"I am beginning to dislike and dread this girl because she makes my life a burden to me by telephoning me. There is never a minute of the day or night that I am safe from her. She calls me up at my business office and she insists that every evening at eight o'clock I shall call her up, no matter where I am. It's a confounded nuisance. I see this girl two or three times a week and we've got nothing on earth to say to each other over the telephone, but there I am held up on the end of a wire to chatter like an idiotic monkey about nothing."

"Why, oh, why, do girls annoy men by ceaselessly calling them up on the phone? Why haven't they got enough sense to know that nothing gets on a man's nerves so quickly as to be interrupted in business hours, and that there is absolutely no other one thing on earth that a girl could possibly do that so surely makes him feel that she is an old woman of with wire that she can't break, as for her to always be on his track with the phone?"

That's what one young man says, girls, and take it from me, he's no peculiar old grouch. It is what every young man would like to say to every girl he knows, if he had the courage. Indeed, so great have been these sufferings in the matter that I have heard more than one youth express the fervent wish that Mr. Bell had died with his great invention un-invented.

"When the odds would destroy they first make mad," says the old adage, a modern feminine version of this ancient bit of wisdom might be, "the girl who would make herself unpopular with men gets busy with the telephone."

Certainly there is no way in which a young woman can queer herself quicker or more completely. It dispels every scrap of illusion about her. It shows her up, baldy and coldy, as a huntress stalking her prey, instead of a timid dear that the man must pursue at the risk of his life to capture. It puts her in the light of a sleuth forever dogging his steps. And it drives a man to frenzy by interrupting him in the great game of business.

Try to look at the subject from the man's point of view, girls, and you will see how idiotic a thing you do every time you take up a telephone receiver and call up a man.

Suppose the man is in business for himself. He is a merchant or broker, or lawyer or doctor. It is in business hours. He has a customer that he has been working over for a couple of hours to get him to the buying point. Another minute and the trade would be clinched. Ting-a-ling-ling, goes the telephone. He picks it up. A voice at the other end of the wire says: "This is Mabel. Didn't we have a perfectly lovely time last night at the party? Wasn't Sally Jones' dress just perfectly sweet, and wasn't Tom Smith mad," etc., etc., and so on, and so on.

The man grinds his teeth in helpless rage. He can't beat a girl over the telephone, though he would like to, and by the time he has choked Mabel off the customer has had a sober second thought and backs out of the bargain.

Or, if the man is a lawyer, he may be just on the point of catching a subtle point in a perplexed case that he's been studying over for hours, when the fool ring of some fool girl knocks the elusive idea out of his head. Or, if he is a doctor, he may be interrupted in a consultation that was all important to him and where every minute was more precious than gold.

If the man works for somebody else it is nothing less than criminal for a girl to call him up in business hours, because every time she does it she jeopardizes his job. Telephone Johnnie, who has to be dropping his work a dozen times a day to run to the telephone booth, lasts as long in an office as a snowflake does on the equator.

Think of these things, girls, and try to decide how much of a hit you make with a man by calling him up on the telephone in business hours.

Most of the girls who call men up do it to make dates. They say, "Won't you come up to the house tonight?" And if a man says, "No," they say, "What are you going to do tomorrow night? Or the night after? Or the night after that?" Or the next night following? And so on until they badger the poor, harried creature into naming some day for which he can think of no adequate excuse to refuse. Do you imagine for an instant, girls, that that kind of a holdup business gets you a husband? Never on earth. None of us like to be coerced into doing the things we don't want to do, and the most unwilling person in the world is the unwilling guest.

Personally I am convinced that the telephone has had more to do with the falling off in the marriage rate and the increase in bachelor girls than any other one thing in the world.

It shows a woman's hand too completely when she starts out husband hunting. When she importunes a man to come to see her who doesn't desire to go to see her, when she tried to nag him into coming when he doesn't come, and reproaches him over the phone for not coming, it simply rouses the stubborn donkey that is in every man and makes him put his back up and say that he'll be hanged if he'll go to see any woman except of his own volition.

Of course many women do invade men into coming to see them, and taking them to places and eventually into marrying them, who never would have thought of it themselves, but these women ply their arts at close range. Their appeal is softened and etherealized by proximity by smiling lips and wistful eyes, and rosy cheeks and fluffy hair, and all the graces and charms of femininity. Such an appeal coming over a cold, hard, prosaic telephone wire—and coming in an inopportune time—is another story altogether yet, Morris.

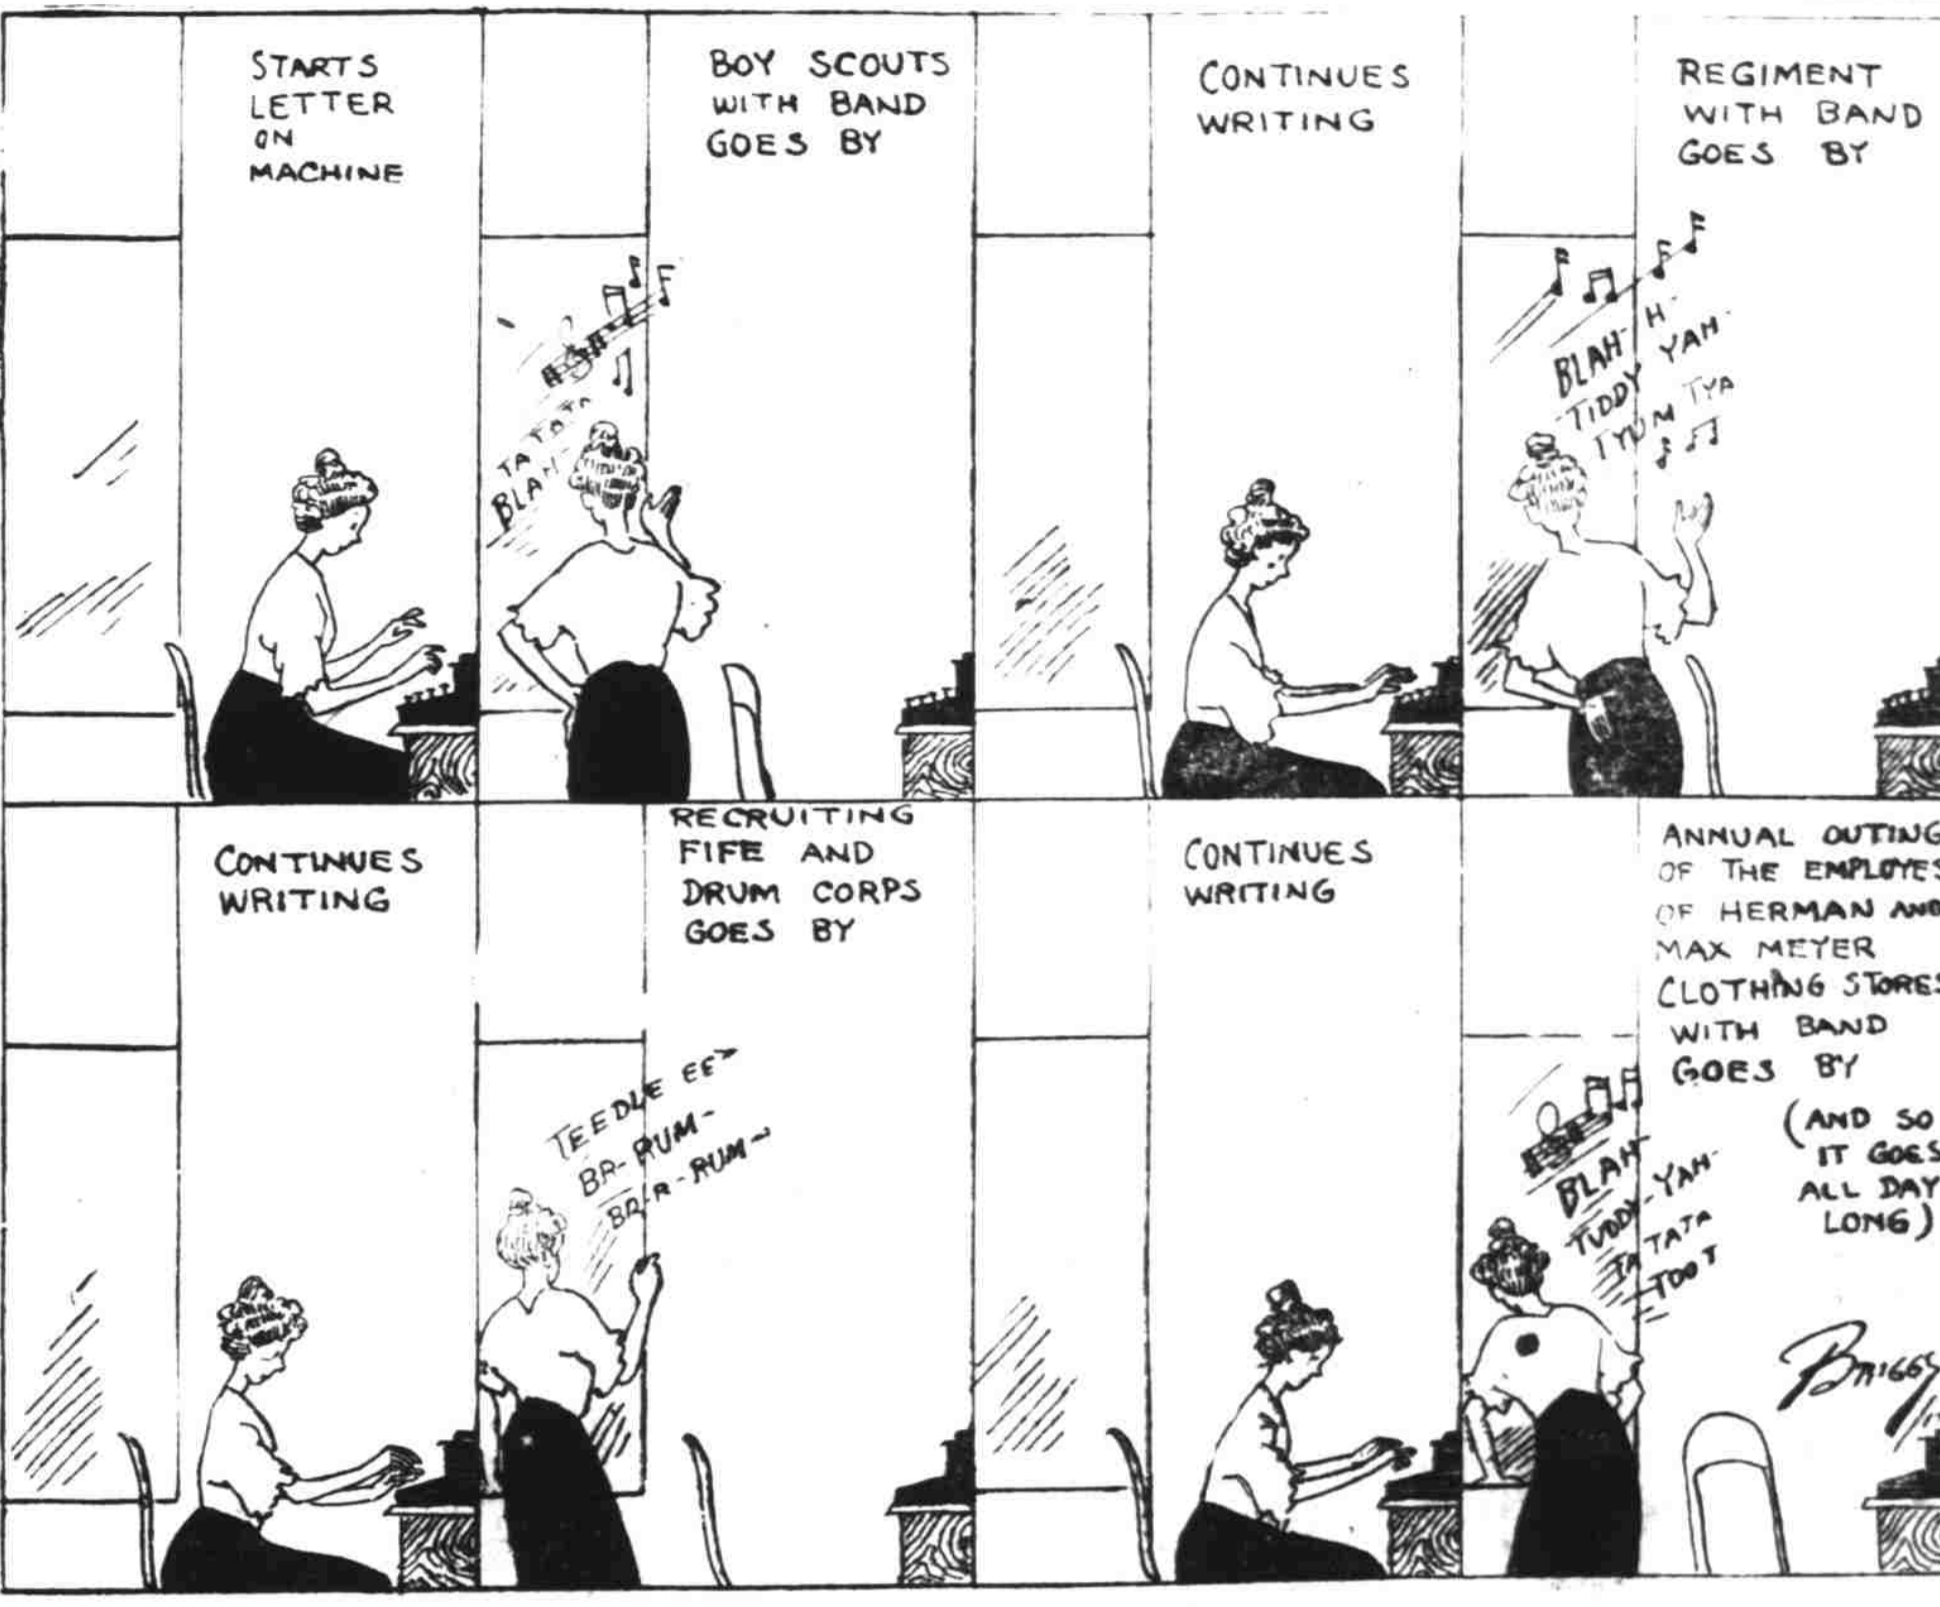

Kindly bear these few facts in mind, girls. Just remember that the telephone ring never changes into a wedding ring, and that the very surest way to alienate any interest a man may feel in you is to harrumph his life out of him by calling him up over the telephone. Reflect that the telephone is intended for business, and not for gossip or chatter or spooning; and when you do have to use it, let your communications be of spartan brevity.

Don't be one of those foolish virgins afflicted with telephonia who can no more pass a desk telephone without calling up every man they know than a drunkard can get by a saloon. And so, as a reward for your virtue, men will rise up and bless your name, and a millionaire will marry you through sheer gratitude.

BEAUTY CHATS

EDNA BENT FORBES

This Is For Men Too!

THIS IS FOR MEN to read also—oh, yes, they do read Beauty Chats, as they diligently read women's pages. And here you are—good stiff hats, because it's just something else to read, sometimes for information. For this Chat is about baldness, and perhaps should be headed "For Men Only." Few women are afflicted with baldness to a harmful extent.

First—its prevention.
Rule 1. Use "Don't wear stiff devices or straw hats." Artists and musicians are noted for their thick hair—watch, and you will see that most of them wear soft hats in winter and panamas or soft straws in summer. Also that they go hatless when possible. Indians and savages are not bald; they do not wear stiff hats. And there you are—good stiff hats, and your hair will take care of itself.

Also, be careful about the barber shop you patronize. The brush used on the man next to you may transfer from his head to yours any number of dandruff germs—infectious creatures the shape of carrots. And dandruff, in spite of what many doctors say, is a diseased condition, and will lead to grayness and falling hair. Have your own brush and comb, only, used upon your head, and have these cleaned and sterilized before they touch you. Don't let any instrument come in contact with you, if first it has touched someone else. Barber shops are usually breeding places for these tiny parasites.

And now I have almost used up my space without mentioning a cure. If the bald surface shows numbers of rough places, ridges or lumps, each only the size of a pore—then your hair is still alive at the roots. If there is a suggestion of fuzz over the spot, it is alive. If the place is absolutely shiny and smooth, then there is no hope. The roots are dead. But treatment can bring out hairs around the edge of the spot, which is never shiny, and thus reduce the size of the bald place.

There is a certain combination of waters that foams upon touching the scalp, that acts as antiseptic, cleanser and general stimulant.

hair every night. Wash with tar soap, use tonic nightly—keep the head absolutely clean, never wear stiff hats, and go out of doors without any hat as much as possible.

This is not vanity, dear sir. Thick hair makes you look young, and the world has little place now for the man growing old.

Men and women alike must give their hair attention to avoid baldness

MAUI FINISHES UP ALL WORK ON REGISTRATION

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WAILUKU, Maui, Aug. 10.—The Maui registration board finished its work Sunday night after most strenuous labor for an entire week. At that time 3677 cards of Maui registrants had been properly arranged alphabetically and numbered, and a duplicate set made out for the Washington authorities, besides the required summaries completed. At last reports none of the other counties had finished the work.

Sheriff Crowell put every man he could possibly spare at the work and all worked almost night and day until it was finished.

The board besides had the maintenance for two days of 11 boys from St. Anthony's school in making duplicate cards. This work was also gratis.

So far as has yet been learned there was no actual evasion of the registration on Maui. This in spite of the report given out from the U. S. marshal's office in Honolulu to the effect that the Portuguese of Makawao were refusing to register. Practically all the cases of non-registering yet brought to light, Sheriff Crowell says, have been due to misunderstandings, chiefly in the matter of age.

One case like this is that of John Morreim, Jr., of Makawao, who came to the sheriff's office after registration day offering to register, but carrying a certificate from a Catholic priest to the effect that he was less than 20 years of age. In spite of this the boy admitted having voted at two elections. He claimed he thought he was 21 year old until school records controverted this on registration day. He then had the church records searched with the result as stated above.

Whether action will be taken against the boy for false voting is not yet known. He does not have to register.

Priest Opposed Registration
The story that a priest on Maui had counseled his parishioners not to register on the grounds that an act against Germany was an act against God, has been under investigation by Sheriff Crowell and County Attorney Bevins, but as yet they have not been able to trace the report to its source. Sheriff Crowell discredits the report.

HAPA'S KICK ON HINDRANCE TO REGISTRATION WORK STARTS ROW

Big Island Citizens Think Supervisors Should Aid National Government Every Way

should be placed in the way of Uncle Sam and that the money, or as much as can be shown to be absolutely necessary at the present time, should be appropriated at once.

Paid Clerk Himself
"I did employ an assistant," said County Clerk Hapa, later on, "and he worked some days before I found out that the finance committee would not favor an appropriation to cover this expense. I had, therefore, in justice to myself, as I would have to pay this man out of my own pocket, to discharge the assistant. This morning one of the police station clerks was put on by the sheriff to try and help out on the segregation job. Those 7000 cards have to be duplicated, also, and that is a long job ahead of me. This all causes delay in winding up the registration work and I thought that Honolulu should be informed of the matter."

The whole matter has caused a lot of talk around town and it seems to be developing into a real row. That the sheriff's department, the county clerk and the board of supervisors are all at loggerheads in some manner or another is evident. Some of the supervisors claim that the sheriff is also trying to get an appropriation for an "intelligence officer" who would be used to gather information for the board of registration, and that such an official is not needed.

The consensus of opinion around town seems to be that if the appropriation asked for by the chairman of the local board of registration to assist the United States government and to facilitate the work that has to be done, the money should be appropriated at once. Hawaii, the largest island in the group, does not want any garbled reports sent to the mainland and there played up as sensational stories to the effect that the supervisors of this island are trying to block the registration and draft work.

Hapa's Statement
"I need four or five assistants to get through the work," declared Hapa yesterday. "We were expected to do the necessary work in five days following Registration Day. By myself I could not do the work in a month. Sheriff Pua, the chairman of the local board of registration, held a meeting and he was instructed to request the supervisors to appropriate $1000 to cover the cost of finishing up the registration work and to provide for the work that will be necessary in the future when the draft is begun."

"Five hundred dollars had been appropriated before for registration work, but that sum did not go very far and has all been expended. The chairman asked for the additional $1000 in order to provide for finishing up our present work in the most rapid manner possible and also to provide for future work along the same lines, when the draft becomes a fact in Hawaii."

"I was informed that the finance committee of the board of supervisors had decided not to recommend the appropriation of $1000 and, as I know the board will never pass anything that is not recommended by that committee, I saw we were up against it, and therefore informed Chairman F. J. Green of the difficulty. I alone cannot segregate all these registration cards, attend to the other clerical work and have the completed job forwarded to Honolulu in any reasonable time."

What Lyman Says
Supervisor Eugene Lyman stated that the board of supervisors, as a whole, had not taken up the matter of the extra appropriation. He believed that the finance committee of the board was not in favor of the appropriation, but the matter had not been settled yet.

While some people say that County Clerk Hapa acted hastily in telling Chairman Green in Honolulu that the Hawaii board of supervisors would not assist in the finishing of the registration work by appropriating money, other citizens say that, as the work is a national one, no obstacle

HILO HOPING TO SEND BIG GROUP TO CIVIC MEET

HILO, Aug. 11.—Steps are being taken to have as many delegates as possible from Hilo to the Sixth Civic convention to be held in Honolulu in September. The board of trade of Hilo has taken up the matter with keen interest and each of the directors of the organization has been given a number of members to canvass and ask if they are going to the convention.

The proposition of getting a large delegation from Hilo and the island of Hawaii is an important one for the Honolulu people have announced, that while each of its civic bodies will be allowed 10 delegates only, Hawaii, Maui and Kauai can send as many delegates as they see fit.

The generous preparations that are being made for the entertainment of the delegates to the Sixth Civic convention should appeal to the members of the board of trade for it shows that the Honolulu people are determined to give their guests as good a time on Oahu as they themselves had while in Hilo last year.

HONOLULU ASTONISHED BY MERCHANT'S STORY
A merchant relates the following: "For years I could not sleep without turning every hour. Whatever I ate caused gas and sourness. Also had stomach catarrh. ONE SPOONFUL buckhorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka relieved me INSTANTLY." Because Adler-ka flushes the ENTIRE alimentary tract it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has: QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. ## CLIMBED STAIRS ON HER HANDS

Too Ill to Walk Upright. Operation Advised. Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This woman now raises chickens and does manual labor. Read her story: Richmond, Ind.—"For two years I was so sick and weak with troubles from my age that when going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said he thought I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new home, did all kinds of garden work, shoveled dirt, did building and cement work, and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if these facts are useful you may publish them for the benefit of other women."—Mrs. M. O. ## HOMESTEADER ADMITS THEFT OF PINEAPPLES

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WAILUKU, Maui, Aug. 10.—Following his confession in court that he had stolen pineapples from the Florence Wood homestead, in Kulaha, T. W. Ferguson, a homesteader, was given a suspended sentence for 13 months on his agreeing to leave the county at the end of September for a year. Ferguson was caught carrying off a bag of pineapples last Saturday morning, by W. I. Wells and his son, Douglas Wells, who had been watching the field. In the Makawao district court, on Tuesday, he entered his plea of guilty and asked for clemency.

MAUI LOANS $30,000 TO TERRITORY TO RUSH OLINDA RESERVOIR JOB

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WAILUKU, Maui, Aug. 10.—Because the territory will have no money for continuing the work on the Olinda reservoir, the county supervisors have passed a resolution under which the county will lend $30,000 to the territory for finishing up the work.

The last legislature provided this $30,000 as a loan fund item, but it looks now as no loan fund money will be available in time to take up the work when the present contract is completed, which will be in about two months.

The $30,000 is expected to be sufficient to put in the concrete lining of the reservoir, which work will be let as a separate contract. The actual construction of the reservoir is being done under contract let to J. C. Potts, Jr., by the Baldwin National Bank, which was on Foss' bond.

The Prince of Udine, who was the head of the Italian Mission to the United States, will resume his duties as a captain in the navy.
