WONDERFUL Blood-Purifying Effect —OF— Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Mr. Charles Stephenson, a well-known Railway Employee at Kalapoi, New Zealand, writes:

"About ten years ago, while engaged in shunting, my foot caught between the rails, and my leg was fractured below the knee. It healed in time, but I have been troubled ever since with swollen veins, and have been obliged, at times, to wear a bandage. About a year ago it became much worse, and I feared I should be obliged to give up my work. A friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I did so, and after taking four bottles the swelling disappeared, and I have not been troubled with it since."

THANKSGIVING LUNCH.

Extras to Make a Dinner for Bulletin Carriers.

Herr Nolte served the patrons of the Beaver coffee saloon with stuffed turkey and chicken friansee for lunch yesterday at the ordinary price with extras at a trifling advance. The large "dudes' table" was reserved for an out and out dinner to the carrier boys of the BULLETIN, with waiters instructed to give them whatever they called for and as much as they wanted. They came dressed with scrupulous neatness to the feast, and displayed thorough happiness while acting like young gentlemen. The dinner was given the lads by the delivery overseer, Frank Wilburton, and the editor, jointly—the former in token of gratitude that none of them misses a sub-scriber's paper more than three times in succession, and the latter out of pious revenge for the racket the whole troop makes every day while he is reading the last proofs.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

ELOQUENT SERMON BY PASTOR BIRNIE AT CENTRAL UNION.

He Gives a Reason for Decadence of the Day—Good Music in All the Churches.

Thanksgiving services in the different churches holding such were well attended. Rev. Alex.
Mackintosh, who preached the sermon, was assisted in the services at St. Andrew's Cathedral by Revs. V. H. Kiteat and L.
Byrde. The music was of a high order. It included the Te Deum in E flat by Woodward and the Jubilate in F by Wray Taylor, organist of the cathedral. Solos were taken in soprano by Miss McGrew and in tenor by Tom May.

At the Methodist church the congregation was joined by that of the Christian church, whose pastor, Rev. J. M. Monroe, preached the sermon. Rev. H. W. Peck made brief remarks. There was excellent music conducted by Dr.
Burgess. Rev. Mr. Monroe spoke on "Divine Providence," illustrating by numerous examples in history and the lives of great men in all ages how the ends of Providence are worked out.

High mass with the Te Deum was celebrated at the Roman Catholic cathedral.

There was a goodly congregation at Central Union church, a considerable proportion being women and youth. President Dole attended the services, also Chief Justice Judd, Senators Schmidt and McCandless, J. A. Hopper, P.
C. Jones, W. F. Allen, J. B.
Atherton, W. R. Castle, W. W. Hall, C. A. Brown, Goo Kim, Chinese Commercial Agent, with a party of his fellow countrymen, Consul General Shimamura and wife, besides other well known people. The platform and choir loft were beautifully decorated with flowers and plants. Very fine special music was rendered by the full choir, and the congregational singing was quite hearty.
The order of exercises was as reported below.

Rev. Hiram Bingham, D. D., offered prayer. Rev. Oliver P.
Emerson read President Dole's proclamation of Thanksgiving.
Rev. O. H. Gulick led the responsive reading of Psalm 103. The choir sang an anthem. Rev. Mr.
Ledingham read the first sixteen verses of Matthew 5. Hymn 1050 —"Praise to God, immortal praise, For the love that crowns our days" —was sung by choir and congregation. Rev. S. E. Bishop, D. D., offered the prayer of the day. The choir sang another anthem.

Rev. D. P. Birnie preached the thanksgiving sermon. He had two texts: "Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice; and let men say among the nations, The Lord reigneth."—L. Chron. 16:31.
"Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord."—St.
John 20:20. The preacher had observed a decline in the observance of Thanksgiving day in the home land. He had seen the old Fast day of New England die and be buried. The cause of the decadence of Thanksgiving lay in its being "not properly observed.
People returned thanks for dividends on their wealth and for abundant harvests. They showed their gratitude for good things received and for deliverance from ills and woes, by engaging in joyous pastimes and by feasting in their homes. These manifestations of thankfulness were not to be condemned in their way, but what Thanksgiving lacked was acknowledgment of the fact that the Lord reigns, that there was a living Christ in the world's affairs. Upon this fact all people of all conditions could unite in rendering thanks to God. The reigning Lord belonged as much to the subject of grinding poverty as to him who counted large dividends of wealth. All nationalities should join in thanks for this greatest boon to the race.

The Chinese and the Japanese were included, and the day should be observed here, not as an American but as a cosmopolitan institution. Mr. Birnie proceeded to elaborate several points indicative of the Lord's working in the affairs of this world. Some of the greatest rulers of today recognized the overruling hand of God.
The venerable Queen of Great Britain was a sincere and devoted Christian. Likewise the young Emperor of Germany exhibited a profound faith in the King of kings. And the man lately elected to the presidency of the great neighboring republic was well-known for his Christian profession. There was a time not long ago when high birth or conspicuous genius would enable the possessor of either to do pretty much as he pleased in public or private life. Today the man who would hold a public trust by the will of the people, in the United States or Great Britain, needed to be blameless in his private life.
Those who lived immoral lives tried to conceal their habits from the world. The preacher had seen an entry, made not so very long ago, upon the records of a church in central New York, of the amount expended for liquor at a religious function. It used to be common for strong drink to be offered a minister when he made his pastoral calls. Such practices were now of the past. The laws of life and of health were better known and respected. He read an extract from a recent address by President Cleveland before the faculty and students of Princeton University, in which the President said it was one of the functions of that institution to send men out into the world to teach national dependence upon divine guidance for realizing true prosperity. Atheism and infidelity were steadily weakening in their campaign against the truth and receding into the background.
The adoption of arbitration for the settlement of international disputes by the United States and Great Britain was another example of the influence of Christ's doctrines. There had been a steady development of human sympathies in these latter days.
An instance was the feeling aroused on both sides of the Atlantic over the sufferings of the Armenians. He could on any Sunday morning move the hearts of his congregation to their depths by an appeal on behalf of distressed fellow creatures. Christianity was wiping out distinctions of class and condition. The privations and sorrows of the poor were receiving attention in the great cities which they did not have formerly. There was a new sympathy for criminals—he did not mean the morbid kind shown in sending bouquets to felons. Crime was studied in relation to its causes with a view to its prevention. The preacher wished he had time to describe the work being done in some of the reformatories of the Eastern States with which he had been intimately acquainted. It was his hope to see some of their methods adopted in Hawaii, and that a reformatory for girls should be established here. The sermon concluded with a fervent utterance of thanks for a reigning Lord.

After the congregational singing of Hymn 236—"Joy to the world, the Lord is come"—Rev.
C. M. Hyde, D. D., offered a brief prayer and pronounced the benediction.

TO SEE "THE SENATOR"

ANOTHER BIG AUDIENCE FILLS THE OPERA HOUSE.

And the Frawley Company Scores Its Biggest Success So Far—Two Performances Tomorrow.

If the audience which greeted the production of "The Senator" last night has been equaled in number it has certainly not been exceeded during the Frawley season. In spite of the lateness of the hour set for the raising of the curtain there were many tardy arrivals. It is to be hoped that this is a practice which will not become fashionable here, or that if it does the management will adopt the course now obtaining in some theaters in the United States, viz: that of closing the doors when the curtain is up.

"The Senator" is a typical American play from the pen of William H. Crane, the well known playwright. It deals with social, political and diplomatic life in Washington in the year 1892, and most of its characters have their living prototypes. Senator Hannibal Rivers, the leading character in the comedy, is only another name for the well known author of the Bland Silver Bill, who owes his defeat for the presidential nomination of the Democratic party at the recent election to the magnificent eloquence of William J. Bryan. The Denman claim, the passage of which through both houses of Congress forms the framework of the play, is none other than the Reid claim, which has been before Congress so many years.

In the character of Senator Hannibal Rivers, Mr. Maelyn Arbuckle showed to better advantage than in previous impersonations, although they have all been good. He is the moving spirit of the piece, and his rapid movements, quick speech and brezy Western manner are typical of Missouri. His forcible acting carries the audience with him all through the different scenes, which follow in such quick succession there is no lagging of interest even for a moment. It was apparent at the end of the first act that the evening's program was to be another success and the audience settled down to enjoy it to the full.

In Silas Denman, the old super-annuated claimant, broken down in body and spirit, Mr. Wilson Enos had a part eminently suited to him and he acted it well. In the scene where he warns his daughter against the wiles of the Austrian Count and again where he awaits the issue of the vote on his claim in the Senate Committee room he was particularly fine.

Mr. Harry Carson Clarke presented one of his best impersonations as the unscrupulous attorney and ex-Congressman, Isaiah Sharpless, who is always looking for a chance to turn an honest penny, even by underhanded means. In the scenes where he attempts to bribe the Senator and later where he offers to sell him a letter and gets kicked out for his pains he was at his best.

Miss Alice Pixley as Mabel Denman, the old claimant's daughter, had a part better suited to display her abilities last night than in the minor characters she has heretofore assumed. Her acting was fresh and natural and justifies the statement made in the first review of the company in these columns that there were no "sticks" in it. This was also noticeable in the case of Mr. H. S.
Duffield, who made his first appearance as Secretary Armstrong.

As the susceptible young widow, Mrs. Hilary, Miss Blanche Bates fascinated the audience as much as she did her numerous admirers in the play, while Miss Lansing Rowan as Secretary Armstrong's wife, who narrowly escapes eloping with a gay deceiver in the shape of the Austrian, was admirable.

It goes without saying that Miss Hope Ross and George W. Leslie made the most of their parts and renewed their hold on the affections of the public.

Mr. Frank Worthing's studied drawl and careless aristocratic nonchalance was a finished piece of acting, and he was at his best in the scene where he demands and obtains an explanation from the Senator. The other characters were all well taken, but space will not permit further description.

The staging of the piece was good and in the first act there was a splendid view of the capitol at Washington to be seen through an open window. At the end of the third act the leading actors responded to repeated calls and bowed their acknowledgments before the curtain. The native orchestra is improving and gives good satisfaction, while the really admirable singing of the Quintette club is always encored.

For the matinee tomorrow, "The Highest Bidder," a sparkling comedy, will be produced, and in the evening "The Ensign," an historical naval drama, which is rich in thrilling situations, historical reminiscences and elaborate scenery.

THE MILLS OF JUSTICE.

Case for Supreme Court—Work of Both Circuit Judges.

By order of the Circuit Court, Deputy Marshal Hitchcock has released the property of Kwong Fat, bankrupt, to the assignee.

Judge Carter heard the jury waived case of Republic vs. Ah Pai and others, charged with illegal fishing. He discharged the defendants. Magoon for prosecution; Thurston & Stanley for defendants.

Judge Perry heard the jury waived assumpsit suit of J. W.
Luning vs. W. C. Achi, on note for $40 and interest.
Judgment for plaintiff for amount claimed and costs. Humphreys for plaintiff; no appearance of or for defendant.

Eliza A. Hickey vs. Wm. P.
Hickey, divorce. Thurston & Stanley for libellant; Kinney & Ballou for libellee. On trial this afternoon. The libellee was brought into court from jail where he is serving a two months' sentence for assault and battery upon one of his wife's relatives.

William M. Mahuka has brought a bill in equity to require A. Rosa to render a complete account of his doings, first, as guardian of complainant when a minor and, secondly, as his trustee since majority. Humphreys and De Bolt are attorneys for the complainant.

In the suit of W. C. Peacock & Co. against the Collector of Customs, claiming a refund of duties alleged to have been paid excessively, Judge Perry has filed a decision sustaining the demurrer of the Hawaiian Government, that such actions are exclusively matters for the determination of the Supreme Court. Kinney & Ballou for plaintiffs; E. P. Dole, D.
A. G., for the Government.

Service has been made by J. F.
Colburn, assignee, and H. J.
Moors, creditor, of H. F. Poor, bankrupt, upon both the Government and James Ashford, agent of V. V. Ashford, of the grounds of their objection to the claim of the Hawaiian Government upon the estate for $13,000 including interest. They are are that the claim is barred by the statute of limitations and the matter has been already determined in the courts.
They maintain that if the Government has paid the claim to V. V.
Ashford it had no right so to do.
Also, that Poor, having been but a clerk in the Post Office when he withdrew Ashford's money from the Postal Savings Bank, was not responsible to the depositor, but that the Postmaster General, under whose care and custody the said money was, is the persona responsible therefor.

SAVINGS AND DOINGS.
Poetry and Vegetables—Postal Eccentricities—Sundry Storyettes.

Tennyson once tried vegetarianism, but with no great success, as he relates: "Once, in imitation of my friend Fitzgerald, the translator of Omar Khayyam, for ten weeks I ate only vegetables. At first it gave great lucidity of mind. At the end of that time I felt light, and almost foolish. Late one chop, and a more genial glow came over me than if I had drunk brandy."

A young woman of Hartford, Conn., was telling her Sunday-school class of small boys the other Sunday about the "Shut in Society," whose members are persons confined with sickness to their beds or rooms. "Whom can we think of," said she, "who would have had great sympathy for those who are so shut in?" "I know," said a little boy, "some one in the Bible, ain't it, teacher?" "Yes, and who, Johnny?" "Jonah," was the spirited answer.

One day, at a political gathering, Governor Henry A. Wise, of Virginia, was approached by a well-dressed individual, who shook hands warmly with him. The Governor confessed he could not recall the hand-shaker's name. "Why, you must remember me, Governor," said the latter; "I'm from Richmond. I made your shirts." "Why, of course," said the Governor, with a politician's tact; "gentlemen, this is my very excellent neighbor, Major Shirts."

As some compensation for the omission of curious facts concerning strange addresses and stranger parcels in the British Postmaster General's new report, a Chronicle representative has been gathering together some of the postal eccentricities of past years. One of the oddest requests ever recorded was that of an Indian gentleman, residing in London, to know whether the Parcel Post would allow him to send home the cremated ashes of his brother for burial in the Ganges. He was informed that if he could limit the weight of his brother to eleven pounds the Post Office would undertake the duty.

Writing in Messrs. Hatchard's book circular, Mr. Arthur Pendenys revives an old story very pertinently. He is alluding to Mr. Lang's edition of Burns. "At the end of the Introduction," he says, "Mr. Lang cleverly rejects Carlyle's theory of Burns' failure through lack of education. He ought to have quoted that excellent joke of Lamb's, when someone was praising our public schools to Charles Lamb, saying: 'All our best men were public school men! Look at our Poets. There's Byron, he was a Harrow boy—', 'Yes,' interrupted Charles, 'and there's Burns, he was a ploughboy.'"

A story of King Humbert's un-musicalness is told by a correspondent of the Daily News. On one occasion Queen Margherita, wishing to decipher some music which the Prince of Naples asked to hear, put on some spectacles, to which the King particularly objected. He protested. The Queen pleaded that she could not see the notes without them. His Majesty said in wrath, "If you wear those dreadful glasses, then, I'll sing!" As he is without the sense of time or tune, this threat was too terrible. The Queen and their son renounced their practice, and the unmusical monarch remained master of the situation.

The late Eugene Field, the American poet, and his wife once entered a street car, to find all the seats taken save one at each end of the car, and they seated themselves accordingly. When the conductor collected the fares, Mr. Field announced, in audible tones, as he gave him a dime, at the same time pointing to the far end of the car:—"This is to pay the fare of the lady over there—the one wearing the new, beautiful brown silk dress." All eyes were turned to her, and her pretty face took a most becoming rose color, but back of the reproving glance she threw him was one of mingled indulgence appreciation, and mirth at the unexpected and apparently truthful announcement.

The famous rebel yell of the Southern States was heard recently at Chickering Hall, New York, where Major-General Thomas L. Rosser, C. S. A., delivered his war lecture, "Hilt to Hilt." There were about two hundred persons present, of whom, says the Sun, half were veterans of Stonewell Jackson's command, if their part in the performance can be taken Drs. Maybe and Mustbe.

You choose the old doctor before the young one. Why? Because you don't want to entrust your life in inexperienced hands. True, the young doctor may be experienced. But the old doctor must be. You take no chances with Dr. Maybe, when Dr. Mustbe is in reach. Same with medicines as with medicine makers—the long-tried remedy has your confidence. You prefer experience to experiment—when you are concerned. The new remedy may be good—but let somebody else prove it. The old remedy must be good—judged on its record of cures. Just one more reason for choosing AYER'S Sarsaparilla in preference to any other. It has been the standard household sarsaparilla for half a century. Its record inspires confidence—50 years of cures. If others may be good, Ayer's Sarsaparilla must be. You take no chances when you take AYER'S Sarsaparilla.

as evidence. No sooner had the heroic Southern leader's features been flashed upon the sheet than they leapt to their feet and let out that rebel yell as if it had been fighting to get out for years.

Chancellor Walworth, according to Mr. Clinton, was responsible for the abolition of the Chancery Court in New York State. He interrupted counsel continually, his interruptions often becoming a discursive and aggravating warfare on the pleader.

The lawyer replied: "Since your Honor went on the bench there has been no counsel at the bar to whom I could have applied who would have given such advice."

Tennyson often condemned the immorality of extreme Calvinism. He once said: "I remember one woman who used to weep for hours because God was so infinitely good. He had predestined (she said) most of her friends to damnation, and herself, who was no better than they, to salvation."

Remark of Dickens

A story of Dickens, which may be old to many readers, but is certainly good, is told in the "Ladies' Home Journal." One night there was a row in the Flagstaff Inn on Gad's Hill, and Dickens and some of his guests went over to inquire into it.

POLITICAL UNION.

Knowledge of the past, with regard to the effecting of important or radical legislation in the United States Congress, is anything but encouraging to the fond hope that Mr. McKinley's election will result in bringing about Hawaiian annexation right off the reel. In this connection, let the BULLETIN express its opinion that the term used in our constitution—"closer political union"—is a happier one than "annexation" implying, as it does, somewhat of the idea of conquest of the country annexed by the country to which it is joined. Such an idea is obliterated in the phrase of "closer political union," from which may also be eliminated the element of abruptness in attaining the complete consummation desired. Union would signify that Hawaii became an integral part of the great Federation with dignity and self respect altogether unimpaired. Some approach to the advantages of being a State in the Union may be attained before the full measure of that exalted position can probably be realized. To raise the cry of "Annexation or nothing!" at this juncture would be supremely foolish. As has been already argued in this paper, it is extremely doubtful if the United States would annex these islands on the request, simply, of the present government—the term is used in the broader sense of system—and its very limited electorate. It is held, taking all the risks of prophecy, that the bulk, or at least a respectable majority, of all the elements eligible for the American franchise will be necessary to back a requisition from Hawaii for admission to the Union.

Closer political union can be promoted in no better way, probably, than by more intimate commercial relations. A complete reciprocal exchange of products and manufactures, free of duties, would give a mighty impetus to the cause of Hawaiian incorporation into the Union as a State. It would display before the eyes of Hawaiians the material advantages of having their country's welfare bound up irrevocably with that of the great Republic. Also, it would give the planting fraternity time to set their house in order for the abolition of contract labor. The objection may be raised to any proposal for widening the scope of the reciprocity treaty, that the opening of that subject at all might imperil even the existence of the treaty as it now stands. This is an objection that should not weigh for a moment. If there can be mustered in Congress a majority that would knock Hawaii down for presuming to propose an improvement of her present relations with the United States, then it would be well for the government and people of these islands to meet the shock and test the country's competency to exist independently first as last. In the meantime the campaign on this side of the water, on behalf of the cause of complete union, should take the form of systematic endeavor for reconciling all who remain unconvinced to the idea of Hawaii's manifest destiny.

An article from the Irrigation Age elsewhere reprinted advocates that convict labor should be employed in the United States for making and improving roads instead of manufacturing articles in competition with free labor. Hawaii is ahead in this matter.

GOOD FOOTBALL.

Town Team Defeats the Punahou in a Strong Contest.

In spite of the damp and threatening weather, the grand stand at Makiki ball grounds was well filled, many ladies being there, wearing either buff and blue or red and white colors. The carriage enclosure was crowded with vehicles, in which many people watched the contest on the gridiron in comfort, and quite a crowd of men and boys with tin horns and their melodious voices gathered on one side of the field to encourage their favorites. The game began at about 3:45. The Punahou team took the ball and started with a kick off. One of the Townies got the ball, but could not get far before he was tackled. During the first half the ball was kept in the Town team's territory most of the time. Several times the Townies lost ten yards by one man playing off-side. In the second half the Town team started the fun with a kick-off. The ball was quickly snatched by a student who carried it back a distance in the direction from whence it came. Other students then tried in turn for gains, but failed to advance five yards, so the ball went to the Townies again. One Towny then advanced 25 yards towards the Punahou's goal. A drizzling rain was then falling which made the turf slippery. This was an advantage for the Townies when it came to a push, they being the heavier team. Bucking through their opponents' center was now in order with the Town boys, and they gained steadily. The ball was about two yards from the Punahou goal when the students made a solid wall, through which the Townies failed to pass. On a fumble the students secured the ball and carried it a slight distance from the goal. Failing to advance the necessary five yards, the students had to surrender the ball to the opponents. After a short, sharp struggle, the Townies scored a touchdown, August Conrad having the honor of carrying the ball over the line. The Townies were unsuccessful in kicking for a goal. Score: Townies 4, Punahou 0. A kick-off was again made by the Punahous. After the ball was carried back and forth for a few minutes, the students lost ten yards by an off side play. After this the ball was kept in Punahou territory until the finish, at 5:15. No one was seriously hurt. Men on both sides had to lie down quite often on account of having their wind knocked out, but were in the scrimmage again in a few seconds. The students showed great skill and courage throughout, and the Townies put up a hard, honest game. The band was stationed in the grand stand, and played at intervals during the contest.

THE STRANGER WINS.

Boat Race Between Two Myrtle Club Crews.

An exciting boat race took place yesterday forenoon between the Alice M. and Stranger of the Myrtle Boat Club. The start was made off the Marine Railway, the course being round the Spar buoy and back. It was a close contest to near the Spar, with the Stranger in the lead, after turning which the Stranger crew rowed easily towards the finish, the Alice M. crew digging in a quarter of a mile astern. Arriving at the boat house, the defeated crew made all sorts of excuses, but the truth was they "weren't in it." The fact that the winning boat is heavier than the other only added more glory for the crew. The crews were as follows: Stranger—O. Sorenson (stroke), W. Lyle, Geo. Clarke, L. Scott, Geo. Martin, J. Logau, and W. Love (coxswain). Alice M.—H. Giles (stroke), Bert Petrie, W. Thrum, Tom King, Ed. Paris, Sam Lyle, and Charles Crane (coxswain). Harry Wilder started the race with a rifle shot, announcing the finish in the same way. Frank McIntyre acted as judge.

Sound Bases

You Are in Need of a Time Piece.

You cannot make up your mind what kind to get; it bothers you, because every one has an opinion of his own as to the best make. Let us suggest something to you. When a watch is backed by a responsible house, money backed, so guaranteed that if the slightest defect is found, your money is returned, or another watch is given in place, should you worry as to the kind to get? A watch is made to keep time, the one coming the nearest to being correct is the one of most worth. It matters not if it cost Ten Dollars or a Hundred. The matter of expensive cases is left entirely to your taste and the length of your purse. As Agents for the high grade "Elgin" and the medium priced "Waterbury" both makes of which there is an endless variety, we are enabled to offer an unusually large assortment of complete watches, and at prices far below former rates.

Guaranteed Watches From $3.00 Up.

Timely Topics

TELESCOPE COFFEE POTS, TEA STRAINERS AND OTHER USEFUL THINGS.

THE TELESCOPE COFFEE POT is constructed with an inner chamber extending one-sixteenth of an inch from the bottom of the Pot, thus preventing any possible escape of the steam and aroma.

DIRECTIONS

The coffee used should be ground very fine and placed in the inner chamber. Pour boiling water over the coffee, cover and allow to remain on the stove six or seven minutes. When the coffee is made, raise the inner chamber and fasten with the set screw to strain. The clear amber coffee remains in the Coffee Pot ready to serve. The inner chamber may be lifted out if desired.

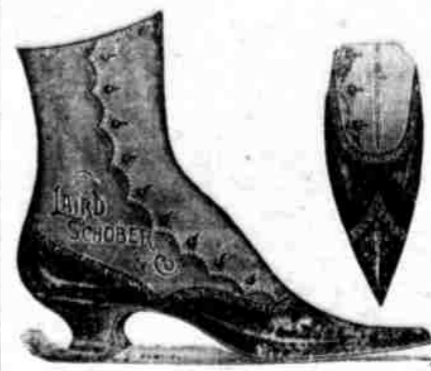

POINTS OF EXCELLENCE

1. ECONOMY—It is a coffee saver. In a short time it pays for itself.
2. By using finely ground coffee you are enabled to obtain every particle of strength contained in the coffee.
3. The cloth being stretched tightly across the bottom of the inner chamber to strain the coffee, making a large flat surface, the coffee is strained very readily.
4. The cloth used on the inner chamber being adjustable, it is easy to remove.
5. There is no place in the inner chamber, Coffee Pot or strainer to collect the sediment that may make the coffee muddy.
6. There is no reason why you should not make coffee exactly alike 365 mornings in the year, without the slightest variation.
7. The coffee will keep hot longer, because the Coffee Pot consists of two thicknesses instead of one.
8. You can make one cup of coffee as well and as satisfactorily as a pot full.
9. The inner chamber may be removed and washed, and the clear strained coffee may be saved for lunch.
10. By not subjecting the Coffee Pot to extreme heat it should last a lifetime.

We have these new coffee pots in one, two, three and four quart sizes and sell them at the San Francisco retail price. We have also a fine line of the old fashioned earthenware tea-pots and something new in the shape of improved tea strainers, which are both ornamental and cheap.

We have a full line of kitchen ware in tin and agate.

W. W. DIMOND'S

Santa Claus is extremely fond of receiving letters from the little ones. He generally offers a valuable prize of some kind to well behaved children and this year he has notified Wall, Nichols Co., who are to act as his agents here, to offer in his name a beautiful French doll to the Honolulu girl or boy who writes him the most original letter. Any little one under ten years of age may compete for the doll which is sure to be highly prized by the lucky recipient. Now, girls, this is your opportunity. Brush the cobwebs and dust of puzzling questions out of your minds and write the old gentleman a nice letter; something different from anything you have ever written before. You may ask your papas and mamas how to spell the words but the thoughts and good wishes should be all your own.

On honor, now! Letters may be mailed in the letter box at Wall, Nichols Co's store between 9 o'clock next Saturday morning, Nov. 28th, and 12 o'clock noon of December 24th, the day before Christmas.

The doll will be on exhibition in one of their large show windows during the above period. The judges of the merits of the letters received will be decided upon by representatives of the press of Honolulu.

Men and women are but older children and enjoy receiving gifts quite as much as the little tots. Some mothers and wives enjoy baubles; others of a more useful turn of mind appreciate something for the table or the home generally. We have heard of ladies who hung up their stockings, expecting to find a box of bonbons in it on awakening, but instead were gratified to find a set of French China. We do not advise this, because, unless it is especially strong, the stocking is apt to be injured.

We received ex Miowera an invoice of the finest Royal Worcester Ware ever brought to this country. The cases will be open on Monday and the goods ready for your inspection.

On the S. G. Wilder, almost due, we have $5,000 worth of American cut glass, suitable for everyday use, and a new assortment of Onyx tables and piano lamps combined. Also five o'clock teas and chafing dishes in new designs. And on the 24th via Sydney, we will have an invoice of French China in three new designs. Also a number of pieces of statuary.

We are ready for Christmas.

The rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 this morning amounted to 70-100ths of an inch at Frank Brown's place. At Kapiolani park and in town it was about a tenth of an inch more. Five hundredths of an inch fell in this morning's shower.

Great Holiday Display.

Books and toys; toys and books. A handsome toy for every child and a valuable book, beautifully bound, for both children and grown people. Music galore; musical instruments in profusion and a still greater profusion of artistic, useful, ornamental, pleasure giving, enchanting HOLIDAY NOVELTIES constitute the articles on to be exhibited at Wall, Nichols Co.'s big store, commencing tomorrow morning at 9 a. m. The grandest display of holiday goods ever seen on the Islands. Everything is new, attractive, interesting and intended to captivate. It's a show in itself and can all be seen tomorrow morning at the new Stationery, Toy and Book Emporium of Wall, Nichols Co. Don't miss it.

Information for Tourists.

A passenger by the last Colonial steamer was met on the dock by a Milesian American friend, who resides in Honolulu. As the pair waited to have the newcomer's gripsack scrawled over with chalk marks by the Customs Inspector at the gate the stranger remarked to his friend "Do you 'ave much rain 'ere?" RAINIER me boy, gallons of it, just come up to the Anchor Saloon where they keep it always, clear and cool. We'll just be in time for lunch too and that's the only place in town where they serve it up in proper style with a glass of RAINIER BEER to equilibrialize the solids—They went!

Highest of all in Leavening Strength.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

The "Best" Nurser.

Here is a nursing bottle that will prove a comfort to infants. It has 4 points in its favor. 1. It has a valve or air inlet in the end of the bottle which admits air, back of food, as fast as food is drawn out, rendering suction easy and making it impossible for nipple to collapse, thus preventing wind colic. 2. The valve does not leak, just as it is pulled out by the baby. 3. No secretion is possible, as there are no angles or corners in the bottle. 4. This nurser having an opening at each end, can be easily and thoroughly cleaned, a point of the greatest importance.

Good Roads.

Never before in a political campaign has there been manifested such an interest in "good roads" as is shown at the present time. The bicycle associations all over the country have taken up the battle for good roads, and are requiring pledges from their local candidates favoring the use of convict labor upon the roads, instead of using the inmates of penitentiaries as heretofore in producing manufactured articles in competition with free labor. No one, except the companies and individuals who benefit thereby, will contend that the contract system in vogue in many of the states is a wise method of employing those who have been convicted of felony, and it has long been seen that a change must be made. The building of good highways would benefit not only the particular localities through which they pass, but it would benefit the state at large, and no one would derive more benefit from this improvement than the farmer. As an instance, it is estimated that in the state of California alone the cost of transporting products over roads, good, bad and indifferent, was $66,000,000 last year, whereas, if the roads had all been in good condition, it would have cost only $36,000,000. This saving would have been placed to the credit of the farmers. While it is true that there has, in the past, been a feeling of antagonism between the farmers and the wheelmen, it is now time that both sides should be willing to make concessions, in order that both may benefit. The movement in favor of good roads deserves general and hearty support. —The Irrigation Age.

Send something Hawaiian to your friends at home this Xmas. King Bros. have some dainty little cards as well as more pretentious pictures of our Island scenery which they are selling very reasonably.

Many well-known English military men have taken to wheeling. Lord Roberts is a devoted wheelman, unlike Lord Wolseley, who will not learn. But Sir Evelyn Wood, the quartermaster-general, may be seen any afternoon, when office hours are over, mounting his bicycle at the door of the War Office. The military secretary, General Grove, is also a proficient bicyclist.

THE WIDDER WHARTON.

Her Dan Was Gone, but There Seemed to Be Others.

A couple of miles west of Prairie City I was overtaken by a man on horseback, who informed me that there had been an accident in the town by which a man had been killed, and that he was then on his way to break the sad news to the widow. She occupied a dugout about a mile farther on, and as we reached the place we found her sitting on an old box at the door and puffing away at her pipe. She gave us a nod and a look of inquiry, and the man with the mournful news cleared his throat and blew his nose and finally said:

"Mrs. Wharton, in the midst of life we are in death."

"What you drivin' at?" asked the woman as she gave him a sharp looking over. "We are here today and gone tomorrow," he continued. "We cometh up as a flower and are cut down."

"Who's goin' tomorrow?" she demanded. "If you think I am, you've made a mistake. What's the matter with you, stranger—got cramps or sunthin'?"

"Mrs. Wharton, I am the bearer of news."

"Waal, what is it?" "It's bad news."

"Let'er come and don't be beatin' all around the bush. Is taxes goin' to be higher?"

"No—not that."

"Got to give our lands back to the Injuns?"

"No."

"Judgment day comin' purty soon?"

"No. Widder Wharton, we know not what a day may bring forth."

"Waal?"

"We are a wife in the mornin' and a widder at night, and sich is life."

"Who's the widder?"

"Mrs. Wharton, our husbands go forth—go forth at the rising of the sun, and—"

"Look here, mister man," said the woman as she rose up and lifted a handy club from the ground; "hev you got anythin' in pertickler to say to me?"

"I hev, widder," he answered.

"Then spit 'er out and don't act like a fool! What's happened?"

"Your husband is no more on this earth."

"Why ain't he?"

"Cause he's dead. He fell agin the saw up at the mill this mornin' and was cut in two."

"Humph! You mean Dan?"

"Yes."

"Gone fur good?"

"Gone to a better land, I hope. Widder Wharton, may heaven gin you strength to bear up agin this awful blow."

"Y-e-s—um! See them critters over by that haystack?"

We looked where she pointed and saw five men sitting in the shade of a haystack, each one with his face in his hands and his elbows on his knees.

"Who's them?" asked the messenger.

"Callers," she replied, "callers to see if I was a widder and on the marry, and at least five more will be along afore dark. I guess heaven will gin me strength to bear it, and I'm much obliged to you. And now I must go in and change my apron and put on my shoes and git ready for a rush."—New York Sunday Journal.

VIOLIN PLAYING.

Management of the Left Hand—Playing in Tune—in Regard to Strings.

After a reasonably good bowing has been acquired, says a writer in The Ladies' Home Journal, the study of the left hand should be taken up. The neck of the violin must be held between the thumb and the first finger where it joins the hand.

The first difficulty encountered is that of playing in tune. As the violin is not supplied with frets like the guitar or mandolin the ear is the only guide.

In regard to strings, the best are the cheapest, as they last longer and give a better tone. The G should be of gut wrapped with pure silver wire.

His Way of Putting It.

STEAMER MIKAHALA LEAVES FOR MAUI AND HAWAII.

The Bark S. C. Allen Sailed for the Coast—Passengers—Other Waterfront Notes.

The bark Albert has begun loading for the Golden Gate. The P M S S China will be due from Yokohama on Dec 4. The bark O. D. Bryant is discharging Newcastle coal at the P M S S wharf. The steamer Lehua will leave on Saturday at 4 p m for Kaula and Oohala. Customs inspectors did patrol duty yesterday, all the guards being given a holiday. Captain Clarke of the Kinua was a passenger for Lahaina in the Mikahala today. Tomorrow, high tide large 7:57 a m; high tide small 9:59 a m; low tide large 3:33 p m; low tide small 5:36 a m. The bark S C Allen, Captain Thompson, sailed at noon for San Francisco with a light cargo and a few passengers. The German bark H Haackfeld received another instalment of sugar at Pacific Mail dock for San Francisco today. The steamer Mikahala sailed on the W G Hall's route at about twenty minutes to twelve today. She took about as much freight as she could carry and a fair passenger list. Tom White, freight clerk of the Hall, went out in the Mikahala to assist her partner. The Hall is to be laid up for a while to be overhauled. A horse in a light dray, which was waiting for a load from the steamer Kaula at Claudine wharf yesterday, suddenly got a whiff of most incense and cranberry sauce from Nute's restaurant and started up town. Several natives tried to head him off, but he was not stopped until a man succeeded in jumping aboard and bracing back on the reins near I I S S wharf.

"Put Me Off At Buffalo."

The title of this wellknown song as well as the song itself emanated from the brain of an employe of the Buffalo Brewing Company. That enterprising firm, believing that a man who could compose so catchy an air must have a large and well balanced brain, straightway raised his salary. This has proven to be a good move on their part as is testified by the excellent qualities of their beer, which is dispensed over the bars of the Cosmopolitan, Pacific and Royal saloons at the rate of two glasses for 25c; half and half is also served at the same price. It is always fresh and cold and life sustaining. Or you can get one glass of Buffalo and one of Pabst beer, the fine product of the Milwaukee brewery. Exchangeable checks good at all the above-mentioned resorts are given in change if you only want one drink. "Best beer ever in Honolulu," is the verdict of many of our prominent citizens.

He Was Right.

Mr. Cholly Fitzwater—What illustrates these country people and their that whole family standing out there laughing at nothing.—New York World.

Possible Reason.

"The poet says," remarked the teacher, "that 'Freedom shrieked when Kosciusko fell.' Why should freedom shriek?" "Mebby Kosciusko owed him something," hazarded the tough looking boy at the foot of the class.—Chicago Tribune.

The Wrong Place.

Customer—I suppose in case we have a smash up on this bicycle, you can supply the damaged parts. Dealer—No, madam. This is a cycle store, not a hospital.—Truth.

Strategy In the Household.

"How early do you clean house, Mrs. Perkins?" "Well, I always try to get started before the neighbors begin to borrow my soap-lender."—Chicago Record.
