AMALGAMATED AMERICANS AMUSED.

The Glorious Fourth Celebrated in Honolulu.

The weather bureau did its duty pretty fairly yesterday when the celebration of America's national day took place, although it allowed a few summer showers to fall during the day and evening.

The celebration was a grand success, and the crowds around the town, at the parade, the sports, and the ball showed that Honolulu is rapidly increasing in population as well as in size, and that it is gradually becoming an important cosmopolitan center.

The respective committees had done the work assigned to them very satisfactorily and the principal events went off without a discord. The judges who awarded the prizes in the street parade are, as a matter of course, being criticized and condemned for their decisions. What are judges for if not to furnish material for those who win no prizes to "roast?"

When the doors were opened to the Opera House at 11 a. m. the large crowd waiting outside made a rush for seats, and in a few minutes there was not even standing room. The house was crowded with nondescript patriots. There was P. C. Jones and his silk hat being pushed by Ah Chew, the cook, who does not understand English except when asking for his wages. There was "Anglo-Saxon" Armstrong, elbowed by a Teutonic sailor and there was W. R. Castle, followed by an influx of Japanese laborers. All wanted to go to a "free" show and the Chinese, Hawaiians, Teutonics and Japs thought that the doors of the fashionable theatre had been thrown open to give them a chance to see a minstrel show without cost.

The Amateur Orchestra had offered its services and, directed by Professor Taylor, rendered some very fine music. After the overture Rev. W. M. Kincaid said prayers, evidently feeling that the Ernest Patriots in the audience needed praying for. He was followed by Mr. F. Boggs, who read the Declaration of Independence. It seems that somebody fears that the time-honored document will be forgotten, and hence it is inflicted on Ernest Patriots every year. Then Mrs. Annis Montague-Turner arose and rendered the "Star Spangled Banner," and was of course rewarded with wild enthusiasm. Mrs. Turner's beautiful voice may not be what it used to be, but it is always a pleasure to hear her sing.

The orator of the day took the floor and eloquent words of spread-eagleism fell from the lips of Rabbi M. S. Levy. He threw the usual amount of bouquets on his adopted country and told his audience that America was the land of the free, etc., etc., etc., but forgot to mention the conquered Cubans, the slaughtered Filipinos, the robbed Hawaiians, the burned negroes, the murdered strikers and the poor "red man." Of course mentions of these trifles should not mar a 4th of July oration. The eloquent exponent of spread-eagleism made a slight error when, in referring to the Volunteers of the United States, he said that "no army ever marched to war more thoroughly democratic in its composition. Wealth matted with poverty; culture was under the same canvas with rude manners; education bunked with illiteracy," etc., etc. The learned Rabbi must certainly know that such is the case in the armies of the Continent of Europe, not casually as in the instance of the recent farce of a war, but day in and day out from year to year, when the nobleman stands shoulder to shoulder with the tramp, the savant next to the peasant. But of course it all sounds very well when the eagle screams.

Mrs. Turner sang "Columbia," and then our future governor, Mr. H. M. Sewall, delivered one of his usual patriotic sermons, which have been heard so often that they need no special mention.

Mr. P. C. Jones introduced a set of resolutions, in which Mr. McKinley is requested to make Hawaii a territory as soon as possible and let the laws and constitution of America be enforced here. In supporting his resolution Mr. Jones made a few remarks, in which neither Bunker Hill nor the Sons of Revolution were referred to.

Minister Cooper seconded the resolutions, which were passed by a unanimous aye from the five framers and a painful silence from the audience, the majority of which didn't know what it was all about, and felt that they were not there to do political work, but to screech with the eagle and hear Mrs. Turner sing.

In the afternoon the Amalgamated Americans wended their way in different directions and took in the events which had been arranged for the jollification of the day.

At 1 p. m. the match race between Amarino and Antidote came off at the race track. The match was for a purse of $500 a side, and Amarino came out an easy winner in 1:47. Very little money changed hands, as Amarino is the solid favorite in Honolulu.

A closely contested and very exciting game of baseball was the next event. Nearly 4000 people and three policemen must have been present to witness the game between the Kams and the Stars. The policemen were mostly needed. After an exciting game the Stars quit as winners, the score being: Stars 12, Kamahamehas 10.

It was more quiet on the other field where Great Britain's favorite game was indulged in.

The match between the elevens of the H. C. C. and T. H. Davies & Co. was an interesting one. Robert Anderson captained the club eleven, and Clive Davies his own team. Victory fell to the club team by a close score, on the first innings, of 38 to 32. For the loss of three wickets in the second innings the club scored 121, to which Anderson contributed 74 and Lane 22.

The field game was enjoyed by a large number of people, among whom the young generation predominated. Some very good running and jumping was witnessed. The winners were:

One hundred-yard dash for boys under 14—J. Campbell first, Kauhana second.

One hundred-yard dash for girls under 14—Berth Lyceff first, L. Hopkins.

Sixty yard dash for girls under 12—Mary Krouse, Sarah Coleman. For boys—Thomas Nahale, Robert Wilcox.

Fifty-yard dash for boys under 10—Malcolm Ross, Charles Hokan. For girls—Ella Murray, Lucy Wilcox.

One hundred-yard dash, free for all—There were fifteen starters. Al Moor won, with En Chang second; time, 11 seconds.

Running high jump—Sproat first, Mahoe second. Height, 5 feet 6 inches. For his boyish height the jumping of—Lemon was almost phenomenal for he jumped higher than he stood in his stockings feet.

One hundred and twenty-yard hurdle, free for all—Kalua first, En Chang second; time, 18 seconds.

Two hundred and twenty-yard dash, free for all—Al. Moore first, En Chang second; time, 24 seconds.

Fifty yards, wheelbarrow race—Robert Wilcox, R. Chilton.

Running bases—En Chang first, J. Lane second; time, 1:15 2-5.

Pole vault—L. Lemon first, En Chang second; height, 9 feet 6 inches. Judges—A. G. M. Robertson, W. H. Hoogs.

Timekeepers—Frank Kruger, C. Willis.

Clerk of the course—Maj. McCarthy.

The fireworks in the evening were a disappointment to the great crowd which had gathered in the Palace grounds to witness the promised grand pyrotechnical display. If we remember rightly $700 were appropriated for fireworks, and Mr. Jas. A. Kennedy, who had charge of the business, ought certainly to have done better with that amount of money at his disposal. A number of Japanese and Chinese bombs, making a hideous noise were sent off to Berger's accompaniment by "brass." The public got extremely tired craning their necks to see a bomb going skyhigh (no reference to Kihei) and dissolving in stars and smoke, and then look at the same thing over and over again. A few of these bombs would be enough for an exhibition. They are pretty but you can get too much even of pretty things. No Roman candles, none of the glorious national sky rockets, no set pieces in which pictures of Dole, Aguinaldo, "Kauhane" or McKinley could be illuminated in showers of burning fires (as an indication of a hereafter), were produced. We understand that all the fireworks and material needed could have been obtained here, and that Mr. Pollard if engaged in time could have made the "pieces" which are the delight of the public and necessary for any decent pyrotechnical display, that Mr. Kennedy should prefer to patronize Japanese and Chinese and pay to them moneys subscribed by Americans for the celebration of an American holiday is surprising. Because he is only an American by adoption, there seems to be no reason why he should prefer spending the 4th of July committee's money in Asiatic stores to buying the fireworks from an American establishment. The fireworks were "punk," and if $700 have been spent on that exhibition, we feel sure that there is something "rotten in Denmark." The people who subscribed to the 4th of July fund and drove or walked to the Palace grounds last evening in showers of rain, registered a big kick against Mr. Kennedy's Japanese bombs.

The decoration of the palace was very pretty in its simple and classical lines with the brilliant colored shield in the center, and Mr. Geo. W. Smith who had charge of the illumination is to be complimented on his good taste. It is very frequent that a decoration with electric lights is overdone, but that error was avoided last night.

At 9 o'clock the carriages began to roll up to the entrance of the drill shed, where the grand ball took place. The large hall was beautifully decorated under the supervision of Mr. Geo. W. R. King. The floor was in excellent condition for dancing, and a balcony had been erected for the lookers-on. The ball was attended by a very large number of people, among whom were many tourists, naval and army officers and other strangers who all enjoyed themselves and spoke in most complimentary terms of the manner in which Honolulu celebrated the national holiday of the United States of America.

 Private Geo. M. Watson, of Battery N, Sixth Artillery, died yesterday afternoon at Nuuanu hospital. The funeral will take place to-morrow. E. A. Williams is in charge of the remains.
 W. H. Marshal paid $1 to the treasury this morning for making a "pass" at Mr. Schnack, who claimed he was assaulted. The Court evidently didn't consider the "eruption" a very serious offense.
 The funeral of the late Edward Dowsett took place from the family residence at Palama, at 3 p. m. today. The Rev. Alex. Mackintosh officiated and the interment took place at Nuuanu Cemetery. There was a very large attendance.
 A mate on one of the sailing vessels in port was fined $25 for a brutal assault on a 70 year old sailor. The magistrate made some very pertinent remarks in regard to the shipping of a feeble old man as the sailor in question and regretted that the master of the ship was not in court.
 The Argentine training ship Presidente Sarmiento dressed ship in honor of the Fourth. Her officers are: Captain, O. Betbeder; commander, E. Thorne; lieutenants, V. Oliden, S. Mulyany, M. Beasocochea, E. Morene, L. Gard, F. Trizar; chief engineer, E. Codwell, second assistant engineer, S. Moraly; third assistant engineer, F. Brady; fourth assistant engineer, H. Segui; surgeon, L. Plaza; paymaster, L. Sears.
 Judge Wilcox gave a matrimonial lecture this morning to a well-known couple. The learned magistrate remarked that according to the experience he had gained (on the Bench) matrimony was something like the weather. One day it was sunshine, the next day cloudy weather, then thunder and lightning followed by rain, then a very hot season prior to a storm. The couple went home to ponder over our local Solomon's word and regulate the domestic barometer.

THE TRANSPORTS.

The Zealandia Sails and the Sheridan Arrives.
 The U. S. T. Zealandia with the well behaved and gallant 24th (colored) regiment sailed for Manila Sunday, and the U. S. T. Sheridan arrived with 1776 officers and soldiers for the Philippines aboard, including 1900 recruits and casuals, two troops the Fourth United States Cavalry, two companies of the Fourteenth Infantry, a detachment of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, and forty-one men of the Signal Corps. Col. Daggett is senior officer in command of the recruits.
 The officers of the Sheridan are: Captain, Higgins; chief officer, V. Pierce; second officer, Hillman; third officer, Randall; chief engineer, R. S. Paul; first assistant engineer, Dill; second assistant engineer, Bunker. She carries a crew of 130 men.
 Capt. T. R. Rivers is in command of the troops of the Fourth Cavalry on board. Lieut. Royden is Adjutant. Lieut. J. A. Moore is in charge of the detachment of the Twenty-fourth Regiment. Lieut. E. O. Surratt is ordnance officer in charge of the Signal Corps, and will return with the Sheridan to San Francisco. Capt. Eldridge and Yate-man command the two companies of the Fourteenth Infantry.

An Unpleasant Incident.
 A number of soldiers from the Sheridan evidently instigated by copious draughts of beer and some local Earnest Patriots, succeeded in making fools of themselves yesterday by tearing down a German flag which was flying over the Orpheum Hotel of which Capt. Carl Klemme is manager.
 Mr. Klemme is a German and naturally hoisted his national flag in honor of the 4th of July. The front of his building was decorated with American bunting as were numerous other buildings owned by Germans. A man named West entered the Hotel and told Klemme that the German flag must go down.
 Klemme could not see it and the next thing he knew was that a mob of soldiers some armed with pistols entered his premises, climbed to the top of the building, removed the German flag and tore it to pieces. In the scramble a stepladder was thrown down striking and injuring the wife of Mr. Klemme.
 The police was quickly on the rescue and several soldiers were arrested but later on sent on board the Transport. A warrant for the arrest of West was sworn out this morning. Mr. Klemme has given the matter into the hands of the German Consul but it will hardly be considered worth taking any official notice of the foolish actions of a number of drunken toughs, who undoubtedly will receive their punishment when in the ranks.
