ARCHIE GILFILLAN MEETS MANY GOOD FRIENDS.

Something About Honolulu's Next Mayor—Information About a Noted Scientist—Geo. W. Smith Writes.

Archie Gilfillan, the efficient dock superintendent for the large house of H. Hackfeld & Co., is now in San Francisco, enjoying "a well earned vacation," as the papers put it. Archie is a good theater goer and has seen all the shows worth seeing. He recently visited the Orpheum, and enjoyed the performance; in fact, he enjoyed one act so much that he gave vent to his feelings with a hearty "Wela Ka Hao." To the amazement of himself and the audience the cry was taken up in other quarters. It turned out that there were about a dozen Honolulu people in the house. The story goes that Archie was carried to a nearby ice cream saloon, where they all had several kinds of ice cream and cigars.

When our next mayor, George Ashley, retired from the Finance Office to accept the position of paying teller in the well known banking house of Bishop & Co., The Star tried to say a few pleasant words for George, because he is a mighty good fellow. The San Jose Mercury copied the story and added:

"Mr. Ashley was born in this city, received his education in the public schools, and when he grew to manhood was first clerk in Morton's music store and then secretary of the San Jose woolen mills. He was an accomplished player of the pianoforte, and often appeared at concerts and public performances. About twenty years ago he went to the Hawaiian Islands. For a time he was superintendent of a railroad, and when the Provisional Government came into power he was first marshal of the Islands and then registrar of accounts. His mother still resides in this city."

It is not generally known that Honolulu is now sheltering a scientist with a national reputation. His name is Martin H. Boye. He came to this city for his health and will remain here for a year, attended by his daughters. Mr. Boye has won fame as a geologist, as a professor of natural philosophy and chemistry, and as an author on science. This able man was in an important sense a pioneer in the discovery of smokeless powder. He also invented a process for refining cotton seed oil. Mr. Boye has a home in Coopersburg, Lehigh county, Penn.

The Misses Mabel H. and Mary A. Laughlin, of California, both graduates of Mills' Seminary, recently arrived in this city and are guests of the Frank Cooke's. Both young ladies will visit Hawaii and Maui to see the grand natural sights on those islands.

The Western Druggist for October, a trade journal published at Chicago, publishes a valuable story on Hawaii and its business possibilities, written by George W. Smith, of Benson, Smith & Co. In a supplementary note the editor says:

"George W. Smith is a native American but, as stated by himself, he has been a resident of Honolulu for the last eighteen years, where he has succeeded in building up a valuable drug business. Mr. Smith was one of the first students of the National Institute of Pharmacy, completing the course in 1887, with a very excellent rating. He is an accomplished pharmacist, attended the meeting of the American Pharmaceutical Association in San Francisco in 1889 and will no doubt, now since the annexation, be more interested in American pharmacy than ever."

TYPEWRITERS!!

In no line of mechanics is excellence of construction of such vital importance as in Typewriters.

The PEERLESS is especially noted for its durability, simplicity and its speed.

Considering first cost only the PEERLESS is not one of the so-called "cheap machines," but looking at it from a business point of view, comparing quantity and quality of work, loss of time from breakdowns on steamer days, when the Typewriter is most needed, and cost of repairs, as well as the life of the Typewriter, the PEERLESS is without an equal and is the cheapest machine on the market.

FAMOUS PIANO CASE DECIDED IN FAVOR OF PLAINTIFFS.

Dr. Mauritz Draws First Blood in an Ejectment Suit—Guardian For the Brown Minors.

Judge Perry this morning heard the demurrer of defendants in the ejectment case of Dr. A. Mauritz vs. Elizabeth Cockett et al. Demurrer was overruled and the defense given ten days in which to make another answer.

Mrs. Irene H. Brown was this morning appointed guardian of the persons and property of her two minor sons, under $10,000 bonds. Their property consists of an interest in the estate of the late John H. valued at $40,000 or $50,000.

The case of A. Jones vs. Pooloa et al. is on before Judge Stanley and a mixed jury this afternoon. This is an action in ejectment to recover a piece of land situated on King street, in Honolulu.

The Telles-Trask case, involving a piano, which has been before the courts for five years, was decided by a foreign jury yesterday afternoon in favor of the plaintiff, for the restitution of the musical instrument and damages in the sum of $10.

W. E. Edings has entered a civil suit against a King street merchant for the recovery of $80 attorney's fees.

NO REVOCATION.

Inquiry made at the legal office of Kinney, Ballou & MacGalan, and also of officers of the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's cathedral, shows that the statement made that Bishop Willis had been served with judicial summons from the courts is entirely untrue. Bishop Willis says that there has yet been no revocation of any license.

PIES ARE WANTED.

Mrs. Lewers Plans for the Engineers' Thanksgiving Dinner.

About a dozen ladies met with Mrs. Robert Lewers at the residence of Mrs. J. M. Oat this morning to plan for the dinner at the engineers' camp on Thanksgiving day. The menu for the dinner was decided on. In order to carry out the plans it was decided that Mrs. Lewers should ask that all who are willing to provide any of the articles needed will communicate with her as early as possible before next Wednesday. The things wanted are chickens and ducks, cooked pies, fruit, nuts, raisins and cigars. These should be left at the Executive building before 9 o'clock Thursday morning. From there transportation to the camp will be provided.

It is believed that there are many who would like to co-operate in the entertainment and Mrs. Lewers takes this means of extending the invitation to do so.

ELECTRIC LIGHT SYSTEM

TWO REPORTS ARE MADE ON THE SUBJECT.

Experts and Superintendent Agree that Much Reconstruction Should be Done—The System Faulty.

The report of Experts Coolidge and Cross on the government electric lighting system had the consideration of President Dole, Minister Damon and Attorney General Smith at a short conference held yesterday. Although no conclusion was reached as to what would be done, the whole subject is being most seriously handled by the cabinet.

The report is lengthy and exhaustive, going most fully into all the details of the subject. It is found, in brief, that the whole system is faulty and the work being done upon it is like repairing an old, worn out bridge. No blame is attached to Superintendent Buck. In fact it is stated plainly that he is doing the very best possible with the appropriation at his disposal.

The experts are of the opinion that if enough money is appropriated to put the system in thoroughly first class condition once and for all, it will be the cheapest and best solution of the difficulties. There should be money available and sufficient force to rush the work through. The interest on this additional sum, it is said, would not be nearly so much as the amount now thrown away annually in repairs. The renewed system on modern lines would be very easy to keep in thorough trim all the time.

Stearns Buck, superintendent of the Government electric light station, makes the following report of the condition of the system:

Honolulu, Nov. 14, 1898.

J. A. King, Minister of the Interior.

Sir: In accordance with your communication of October 31st, I have shown Messrs. Cross & Coolidge the Government lighting system. I have explained to them as minutely as possible all defects in the system, and presume you will receive their report without further delay.

A good part of the system has already been repaired and improved and is now in very good condition.

I have rebuilt completely the main lines from the power station to town which formerly ran through private property a great part of its length. I have done the same with the lines running out King street to Palama. I have rearranged completely the lines in the center of town, equipping all branch lines with the latest pattern junction boxes.

I have nearly finished rearranging all the arc light circuits and have taken out an enormous amount of superfluous wire. I have now some new lines in Makiki district in order to install new street lights. I have taken down hundreds of old, rotten poles, replacing them in some cases with new poles and in some instances running on the poles of the Hawaiian Electric Co. I have repaired the line running to the Insane Asylum; Underwriters' wire has been the wire used in most cases.

I have completely rewired the Judiciary building and the postoffice and pilot office, and have done considerable wiring in the Executive building, library, Y. M. C. A. building and the Bungalow.

I have had a chart of the city made which will show the location of every wire, light, transformer, etc., in Government and other systems in the city. I have spent much time in teaching a man the trade of making arc lamps, and he is going through all the lamps in the city systematically and completely rebuilding them.

For this purpose I have equipped a repair and testing shop on Queen street.

I have purchased a number of new street lights which I shall install as soon as I consider that I have rendered the more dangerous parts of the system safe.

At the power house I have found a great deal of work necessary, most of which I have had to do personally. I found no switchboard and have built one. I found nearly all the gates and piping connected with the station in very bad condition and have put everything in working shape. I found the wreck of a water wheel plant installed by the old Union Iron Works. This I have torn out and sold as junk and installed a new plant which runs a new generator of the same capacity as the generator which has always run the incandescent lights, so that I have a reserve plant which can be started at a moment's notice in case of trouble with the other one.

This new plant will also run a number of street lights. I also found an old street lighting dynamo which had been cast aside and have put same in working order, and have installed pulley and shaft extension to run the same. I have found one of the water wheels badly cracked and the Honolulu Iron Works has just finished a new one to take its place. With the new arrangement of machinery when finished there will be a very appreciable saving of water, as it will permit the use of much smaller nozzles on the pipes when running a light load.

I found the largest water wheel was discharging a large part of its water at random under the station, whence it was led through a ditch to the fields below instead of running into the reservoir, thereby wasting enormous quantities of water as well as making

SALOON MEN AND CABINET

LENGTHY CONFERENCE BETWEEN THEM THIS MORNING.

Government Outlines Its Policy—No Small Side Rooms—One Bar for One License.

"Small side rooms must be abolished; entrances to saloons must have signboards over them, reading rooms must have large arched doorways leading to the bars, for one license there must be but one bar."

That is the conclusion of the cabinet with respect to the future arrangement of saloons for the sale of liquors as stated by President Dole to a delegation of wholesale and retail dealers in the Executive chamber this morning.

At the conference were President Dole, Minister Damon, Attorney General Smith, Secretary Hassinger, Chas. J. McCarthy, David H. Lewis, E. C. Macfarlane, J. G. Rothwell, E. S. Cunha, James Dodd, Larry H. Dee, H. Klemme, and Attorney L. A. Thurston.

President Dole stated the objects of the meeting. The government, by licensing saloons, became practically partners with the owners in the liquor traffic. It was therefore best for all interests that they meet and consult together respecting measures for carrying on the business and guarding the general welfare. The original scheme of doing away with screens had as its object the doing away with disorder and preventing the sale of liquor to men already under its influence. It seemed, however, that a bar-keeper should be able to tell when a man has had enough and if he was conscientious in upholding the law he would refuse such a person liquor.

Mr. Dee reported that he was hiring a policeman to stay in his place every Saturday night. The scheme had worked well, and he could recommend it as a splendid safeguard.

Mr. Damon said: "I look upon this whole matter as one of business. In future our condition will be different. From a business point of view we must consider that Honolulu will become a center of travel and immigration. This travel will be largely from countries where the people are accustomed to no screens, their beer gardens, etc. We are between extremes here. It occurs forcibly to me that it is to our best interests to have the saloons conducted in the most respectable manner possible. A spirit trade is a necessity. I am no prohibitionist. There could be nothing so foolish in a community of this sort. At the same time your saloons must be conducted in a respectable manner. That will help the reputation of the city and encourage travel and business. I am willing to go to any extreme to ensure respectability. As a member of the government I wish to compliment the saloon men upon the advance you yourselves have made along this line. There has been wonderful improvement in the way the business is conducted since I was a boy. You should remember, too, that in all the discussion there has been no thought on the part of the government of injuring the business of the saloon men, except perhaps in so far as the public interests might positively demand."

Mr. Dee, in the name of the saloon keepers, claimed protection of the government in the matter of collecting saloon bills. It was necessary to give some credit. Frequently a man would not pay, however, and the law would not allow a suit for a liquor account.

The matter of one bar for one license was discussed at length. This regulation was admittedly aimed at the Royal saloon and annex. Mr. Dole argued that the arrangement was contrary to the spirit of the law and unfair to other saloon men. Mr. Thurston argued for the other side. It appeared, upon being questioned, that none of the saloonmen present objected to the arrangement inaugurated at the Royal. It was merely a plan frequently resorted to in the east, of separating the two classes of trade any saloon would have. Both bars were in the same room, separated by a partition.

This subject in all its details was discussed at great length. The cabinet is to give the saloon men the advantage of the information and opinion imparted to them.

MARCHING THROUGH MUD

SOLDIERS START FOR THE VOLCANO IN THE RAIN.

New Yorkers Leave Hilo for Kilauea on Monday, Wet but in the Best of Spirits.

HILO, November 16.—The New Yorkers started Monday morning about 9 o'clock for their march to the Volcano, in a heavy downpour of rain. It began raining Sunday night and has not ceased yet.

It was a somewhat dismal prospect that confronted the New Yorkers when they started on their thirty mile march to the Volcano. But they did not let it deter them in the least in their plans to see the great wonder of Hawaii, or in following out their plans for their visit here. They simply loosened up their leggings a little tighter, rolled up their blankets a little more carefully and started up the road in the mud. They were in the best of spirits and laughed and joked as the rain poured down as it only can pour in Hilo. They expected to make the march up to the Volcano house in two days.

They arrived in Hilo Wednesday, November 9, but did not land until the next morning. Since then they have been feted and entertained by the people of Hilo and have been having a glorious time. Their health is good.

A CHEYENNE DINNER.

Wyoming Artillerymen Entertained by Resident Cheyenne Compatriots.

There was a genial reunion of former residents of Cheyenne, Wyo., at the Hawaiian hotel last evening. The Cheyenneites who have become kamaainas entertained the Cheyenne member of the Wyoming Light Battery at dinner last night, at 6:30. Covers were laid for twenty. The dinner was served in one of the private dining rooms. The decorations were elaborate and handsome. There was no speech making, but there was plenty of good fellowship and reminiscences of old Cheyenne days.

The members of the Wyoming battery present were: E. F. Fay, C. A. Bristol, Leslie Snow, G. S. N. King, W. C. Wolcott, William C. Mills, John T. Lane, E. G. Abery, Herman Brookhardt, Clifford Buck, William Dillman, John F. Farrell, Emil A. Sandberg, William Schilling, J. Schwartz, Joe Dyer and F. Roubidoux.

HAWAIIANS ON THE YUKON

WILLIAM EASSIE IN WINTER QUARTERS.

News of Honolulu People Who are Wooing Fortune in the Icy North—Hopes are Bright.

A letter from William Eassie from the Klondike region has just been received. It is dated Rampart City, September 7, 1898, and came out on one of the last if not the very last boat to descend the Yukon this season. Among other things Eassie says:

Here we are in a city of tents on the shore of the Yukon; we have been here just one month today, and I can tell you that we have been busy. What with building a house, going out on the creeks, making locations, etc., it has more than kept us from getting the blues; the only thing that troubles us is not getting our letters. We left San Francisco on the 20th of June and since that time have not received a letter, neither from the Islands, nor anywhere else.

I have bought a mine on Idaho Bar and think it is a good bargain, but cannot tell much about it until cold weather sets in, as the ground can only be worked when it is frozen. I have located on Leonora creek three claims, one claim on Baker creek, and on Chicago creek one claim; they may not all prove good, but hope some of them may. I saved out all of the lumber for the house with my own outfit and it works finely. The weather has been very bad, the oldest residents say they never saw the like of it, rain, rain, but still we have to work in it, as the cold weather will be here in a short time and we must be under cover. There are about 300 houses or cabins in the course of erection; they are principally long cabins.

You remember Gus Mauer, who used to be the barber at the hotel, he and Ed Hopkins are here; Hopkins runs a saloon; Gus has eleven claims and I think will do well. Young Grace is looked for from up the river in a few days, while young Conradt and Willie Wilder are on their way up the river. The Conradt and Wilder outfits have had hard luck. They left San Francisco the same day I did; their steamer cannot stand the current of the Yukon; if they do not hurry up they will get frozen in before they reach here. I saw a paper of the 19th of July and see that you are now a part of the great United States; also hear that the United States is the greatest nation on earth. How I would like to have letters and papers from some portions of the globe, but then you know we came to this country with the knowledge that we would have to rough it, and you can bet that it is all of that.

I have just heard that the "Dawson City" (that is the name of the boat August Conradt is on) is just below here on the river; they say the she will be here some time tomorrow. They have had a long and tedious trip, as they left San Francisco on June 23rd. I hope that they get along all right, although I think the boat a failure. If Conradt concludes to stop here, I shall take him in with me and Willie Wilder also. Everyone is busy here like myself. Any kind of labor is $10 a day and scarce at that.

OSMAN DIGNA.
Osman Digna is not an Arab, but the son of a Turkish trader, and he is said to have commenced life in the slave trade. As a reward of his devotion to the Mahdi and his cause he was made Emir of the Eastern Sudan. He copied this fanatic in every way, dispensing with shoes and stockings, and only riding when forced to, claiming that when the Mahdi condescended to walk upon the earth he thereby made it holy.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1898.

Since the Cubans have been supplied with food free of charge by the United States they have ceased to have any desire for work. It is a perfectly natural result. Man is essentially a lazy animal. It is only a hungry belly which drives him to exertion. But the amusing part of the position is that as the Cubans would not work, laborers have been brought from Jamaica, Hayti and other West India Islands. They came readily enough, but as soon as they discovered that the Cubans had free grub, they promptly became "Cubans," and threw up their jobs. General Wood, however, is a man of firmness, as he showed by his threatening to hang a Cuban general the other day, and he will be quite able to cope with the men who will eat but who won't work.

The German Emperor has had some set backs in his trip to the Holy Land. The gift of land which the Sultan gave him and which the Kaiser very promptly made over to the German Catholics, appears to have been acquired by the former potentate by methods most eastern than just, in point of fact the Sultan grabbed the property from the rightful owner and then made a present of it to the Emperor. The attitude of the French has also been displeasing to the Emperor. This may be an indication of political aims on the part of France against Germany. It is pretty plain that France and Russia are in accord about the Eastern question and Russia is intensely jealous of Germany, while France hates with a very thorough hatred.

INQUESTS.

The suggestion of Dr. Day at the meeting of the Board of Health that an inquest should be held upon every case of death where there has been no physician in attendance is worthy of consideration. There has always been a certain amount of laxity about holding inquests on these Islands. In consequence of that laxity people get an idea that an inquest carries some slur upon those who have been around the deceased.

This idea is entirely wrong. The object of an inquest is not necessarily to detect crime. It is simply an inquiry to decide upon the cause of the death. When a physician attends the inquest may or may not be necessary, but where no physician attends most assuredly an inquest should be held.

There are many things that the state should know relative to the death of a person. Take for instance the case of children who die unattended. It should be clearly shown whether the parents are responsible for neglect of duty.

There is no doubt that our present Board of Health is a body which is anxious and willing to do its duty, and it is satisfactory to see that questions such as these are brought up by the members and are not put before it through outside pressure. The above suggestion of Dr. Day, however, will bear more discussion than has been given it, and in the opinion of The Star should be acted upon. The question of the responsibility for the death of any person, old or young, rich or poverty stricken, is not one to be lightly laid aside.

How this matter of responsibility is regarded in England is shown by the following extract from a recent paper:

"LONDON, November 8.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the death on October 19th last of Harold Frederic, the correspondent of the New York Times, rendered a verdict today of manslaughter against Kate Lyon, a member of the late Mr. Frederic's household, and Mrs. Mills, a Christian Scientist."

As will be remembered by most readers Harold Frederic was a brilliant writer, and his last novel, "Gloria Mundi," is just finishing its last chapter in the Cosmopolitan. Frederic fell under the influence of the Christian Scientists and discarded his doctors. The result is stated above.

SEWING.

In the line of industrial teaching in schools nothing is perhaps more important for girls than proper instruction in sewing. For many years there was no attempt to teach sewing in our primary schools, happily during the last ten years sewing has been introduced into a large number of schools.

Many people consider that the mothers will teach their girls to sew, of that sewing comes naturally to women and girls, but in the former case many of the mothers are either too busy or too idle to give the girls systematic instruction, while nothing comes "naturally," and to do anything well we need application.

There really is no valid reason why instruction in sewing should be confined to girls. It would be an excellent thing to extend to the boys. At Kamehameha all the boys are taught to sew and the fact that they have acquired the power to sew on their own buttons properly and mend rents in their garments makes them none the less manly nor any the less skillful as carpenters or blacksmiths or school-masters.

Among those who have done much for introducing sewing into our primary schools, Miss Laura Duncan, principal of the Pohukaina school, stands pre-eminent. At the request of the Board of Education she devised, some years ago, a thoroughly systematic course. This she has gradually improved upon and the Board has now had printed her completed work in this direction. The Board has done well to carry this out. Miss Duncan has displayed great judgment in her course and the words of advice that she gives to teachers are eminently wise and practical. The Board intends that every school should have copies of the course and that it should be followed out strictly.

There is no doubt about the need of such a pamphlet and the advantage of thorough system, and yet the pamphlet would never have seen light if the desire of one of the Board's officials had been consulted. Fortunately the Educational Commissioners believe in practical education more than in theory.

BEWARE.

The condition of the second bridge in Nuuanu valley is becoming a menace to the traveling public. The timbers underneath have become rotten and on the lower side the bridge has sagged several inches, while on the upper side, which was braced some years ago, the large piece of 12x12 shows the strain and is somewhat bent.

The Star understands that the attention of the Interior Department has been called to the condition of the bridge by a citizen of prominence and up to the present nothing has been done. It only requires a person to use his eyes in order to see in what poor condition the bridge is. Of course it may stand for some time without falling, but then again it may not.

It must be considered that the trams cross the bridge six times an hour between the hours of 6:10 a. m. and 10:30 p. m., and that is not taking into account the Fort street cars, which would make two cars an hour more during certain times in the day. There is a very large carriage and hack traffic and there are also many heavy days. One of these days there will be too much of a strain and the whole thing will collapse. Of course the chances are that it will not do so, but in matters of this kind no chances should be taken, and The Star recommends that the Interior Department take immediate steps to put the bridge in proper order.

The war with Spain is almost at an end. It is ended so far as actual hostilities are concerned, and only awaits formal declaration of peace by the commission now in session in Paris. It is not so with the war in the tropics against the hot weather and constant care is required to keep your commissary from spoiling. We have just received another shipment of those perfect which admittedly have no superiors. They are here in all sizes, from the small one for the family of two, up to the large size suitable for hotels and boarding houses. There is one feature we desire to call particular attention to in the Alaska Refrigerator.

It is lined with mineral wool and has an air chamber between this and the inside lining, thus insuring economy in the amount of ice required to such an extent that the saving in the cost of ice will, in a short time, pay for the refrigerator.

THAT IS ECONOMY.

For those who are satisfied with a less fancy receptacle, but just as good, we have the

in all sizes, from the very small to one that holds five hundred pounds of ice.

Hawaiian Electric Company.

The cleanest, brightest safest and really a long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe, nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks." This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light. Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.

A Great Sufferer from General Debility and Weakness Says

DR. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

SAVED HER LIFE.

We give below a testimonial from Mrs. M. Cricknell of Hilton, So. Australia, who also sends us her portrait:

"Some two years ago I was suffering from general debility, weakness, etc., and was so ill that I thought I never would be well again. I had the advice of two medical men and took much medicine, but I derived no good whatever. My husband was telling a friend how very ill I was and this friend told him to get me

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

He did so and I took three bottles. I felt a great deal better. I continued taking it and in all I took eight bottles and was able to resume my household duties as well as I ever was. I feel sure that Ayer's Sarsaparilla was the means of saving my life. I strongly recommend it to anyone who is suffering as I did and if they will only persevere in its use I feel positive it will cure them."

For constipation take Dr. Ayer's Pills. They promptly relieve and surely cure. Take them with Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla: one aids the other.

USBORNE'S FIERY LETTER

HIS APPEAL TO THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

"The Church is Sunk to the Depths of Degradation in the Eyes of the World."

In addition to an oral address before the committee on the "Increased Responsibilities of the Church" of the Protestant Episcopal convention, Rev. John Osborne addressed a letter to the committee while in Washington, of which the following is the essential part:

A source of dissension has been the fact of there being no canon law to regulate, determine or limit the duty or conduct of bishop, clergy or laity. I herewith enclose a copy of the constitution, such as it is. The law governing the conduct of the clergy or laity has been the bishop's own will, and there has been no appeal from his decisions. The bishop controls both the synod and the board of trustees, through the power of his controlling all church funds, thereby making these bodies his creatures.

The reports of the diocese, published by the S. P. G. will neither bear the light of investigation nor comparison with the church records. The church is weaker today in clergy and laity than she was fifteen years ago, although the population has doubled; nor is any aggressive work being done now among the Hawaiians, Japanese or Portuguese, although these nationalities represent three-fourths of the whole population of the Hawaiian Islands.

The church in 1890 was almost unanimous in its petition to his lordship to resign, stating as its reason for such request, that neither peace, harmony nor church extension were possible under his rule. Clergymen have been disgraced, publicly disgraced or dismissed without warning or form of trial, whilst as innocent as any man attending this convention, and there has been no appeal. Eldress Phoebe, of St. Andrew's Priory, on her death bed, refused the bishop admission to her chamber, pleading to be allowed to die in peace, and the lives of the remaining sisters have been made a burden to them by reason of the bishop's actions.

The church is sunk to the depths of degradation in the eyes of the world and is a scandal upon religion. The head of the church is constantly being held up to scorn and ridicule by the public press, which reflects upon the church members. A great many of the people have united themselves with the dissenting bodies to avoid scandal, but a greater number refuse to attend or recognize any church until this reproach is removed. The greater part of the native members have been scattered and taken in by the Roman Catholics or the Mormons. Many of the best and most influential members of the church have been forbidden Holy Communion at the cathedral, because they have communicated or intend to communicate at St. Clement's chapel, which was lawfully built by thirty-five churchmen, and is in every respect a well appointed chapel and much needed.

The church in Honolulu comes to the Protestant Episcopal church of America, asking for admission and shelter. She does not seek financial aid, nor does she want it. She asks for admission that she may have secured to her members the freedom to worship Almighty God in His own house, in a peaceful and quiet mind. She asks that her children may have accorded to them the same chance that is accorded to children in other Christian lands, of growing up good church men and church women, which they have not now, under the present condition of the church with its baneful influence and example before and around them. She asks that her clergy be permitted to perform conscientiously, faithfully and un molested, the duties entrusted to them, without a constant fear of being disgraced without cause or reason; and that there may be a code of canons by which the bishop, clergy and people shall be governed, and that there may be some tribunal of appeal. This, surely is not too much to ask of a natural protector, when five hundred men gather from every quarter of this great country to unite in spreading the interests of the church and religion. The two memorials in your hands practically represent the entire church in Honolulu. The large majority of churchmen in Honolulu of English sentiment have welcomed annexation because of the protection to the church which they thought it promised, thinking that the American church would at once absorb that of Hawaii, and feeling that under no circumstances or considerations would the American church permit or tolerate a continuance of the disgrace on American soil. In looking for annexation for years, the people have been very patient until this hour, when they have expected relief and help from this convention, to which they feel they are entitled as sons and daughters of this great republic, and doubly so since the Hawaiian mission is the result of joint action between the English and American church.

NANCE O'NEIL AS LEAH

SHE IS GREETED BY A CROWDED HOUSE.

Is Satisfying and Triumphant—Miss Foster is Equally Satisfactory in an Equally Difficult and Trying Role.

The largest house of the present theatrical season was drawn last night to see Nance O'Neil and the Meikee Rankin Company in Leah. Judge by the satisfaction and commendation expressed Miss O'Neil scored the greatest triumph she has yet achieved before a Honolulu audience. In Leah she has a role in which her superb physique and her masterful, dominating presence seem the very essence and quality of the character. But as the play is arranged they make more difficult the denouement and closing scenes. So thoroughly does Miss O'Neil engage the sympathies and the sense of justice of her audience in behalf of Leah, that it is indeed hard to make mild forgiveness and gentle self-abnegation satisfying. That Miss O'Neil was able to do it is a crowning tribute to her art.

But little if any less exacting was the character presented by Miss Gertrude Foster. To present the character of Leah so that the very gentleness of it, the unselfish constancy, the equilibrium of maidenly and domestic virtues, all standing in the way of the supreme that the grand passion is capable of, shall not create absolute aversion for these qualities and the character that embodies them, is a very high artistic triumph. And Miss Foster achieved it.

As Father Lorenz the village magistrate, H. A. Weaver was clear cut, capable and thoroughly good. Herbert Carr, in the passion tossed scenes of struggle between love and filial duty, rose to all the demands made of him.

Mr. Trimble as the Apostate Jew made all that was possible out of the somewhat dissonant treatment the playwright has given the character.

The comedy elements of which there are very few to relieve the tension of the strongly wrought theme were well handled by Leslie Morosco, the village barber, and Leech, Mrs. McVicker, the hostess of the inn, William Henderson, Frank Robbins and James Crane.

For the Saturday matinee, the new East Lynne, written by and produced under the personal direction of Meikee Rankin, and Saturday evening, Oliver Twist, are the attractions.

PHYSICAL EXERCISE.

The following exercise is said to be excellent for correcting and straightening curved shoulders: Take a perfectly erect position. Place the heels together with the toes turned out at an angle of 45 degrees. Then step the arms by the side, inflating and raising the chest to the full capacity, muscularly, keeping the chin well drawn in and the crown of the head feeling as if it were attached to a cord suspended to the ceiling above. Slowly raise upon the balls of the feet to the greatest possible height, thereby exercising all the muscles of the legs and body, and then drop once more into the standing position without swaying the body backward out of the upright, straight line. Repeat the exercise standing first on one foot and then on the other. It is really remarkable what a straightening out power it has upon round shoulders and crooked backs.

A FINE SWORD.

Perhaps the most precious sword in existence is that of the Gakwar of Buroda. Its hilt and belt are encrusted with diamonds, rubies and emeralds, and it is valued at $220,000. The Shah of Persia possesses a sword valued at $10,000. There are some costly swords in India, and both the Czar and Sultan possess jewelled sabers of great price. The most valuable sword in England is one that was presented to Lord Wolsley. The hilt is set with brilliants, and it is valued at $2,000.

Believing an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has kept me in good health." Mrs. W. E. Beckwith, Lompoc, California.

Bailey's Bike Bits

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO BICYCLE BUYERS AND READERS.

The signs are that prices on well known makes of wheels will be cut, and cut deep. One very large maker has made a cut of 33 1-3 per cent, and at the same time advertises the fact that '99 wheels will be the same as '98, with 30 inch wheels as an extra line at $5.00 more.

With cheap bikes and good, the trade may be said to have only just begun in the matter of quantity of sales. One hundred wheels at $10.00 can be sold where one would sell at $100, or even $75. Always we have the cheapest bike in town. A good second hand bike for $15.00. Good for a track or to learn on. Good value anyway, anywhere.

A special feature made of contracts to repair punctures and to clean your wheel for $1 per month.

ABOUT REPAIR WORK.

There is a great deal that might be said about repair work and a great deal that it is better to leave unsaid.

We claim to have the facilities, workmen and experience which enables us to turn out work that is entirely satisfactory to you and to us. We never slight any work entrusted to us but rather, the reverse, by making a little better job than you anticipated. In the long run it pays us—for when you next have a job—you naturally bring it to us.
