Hawaii Wins Race

Captain Crozier Tells How He Won
From Captain Harris.

The yacht Hawaii arrived in Kahului last Friday evening, and remain in port till Sunday morning, when she sailed for Honolulu, on her return from her winning race to Hilo with the Lurline.

Captain Crozier was quite elated over his win, as he beat the Lurline in her own kind of weather,—light winds.

By dousing her lights just at the last hour and using all his knowledge of sailing a yacht to best advantage Capt. Crozier brought the yacht Hawaii across the line ten minutes ahead of the Lurline which was in command of Captain Lew Harris. After the boys went on shore Captain Harris claimed the win, stating that he had got to Hilo two hours ahead of the Hawaii but the figures taken by Captain Colcord and two quartermasters from the bridge of the steamer Columbian, which was lying at anchor in the bay show that the Hawaii crossed over at 12:34 a. m. and that the Lurline followed suit ten minutes later.

The yachts made an extra long passage of it as they left Honolulu at three o'clock Saturday afternoon and did not arrive in Hilo until Tuesday morning. Crozier gave a splendid exhibition of sailing and completely outclassed Harris.

The yachts had an ordinary sailing breeze until Monday morning and then they ran into very light winds. Striking the Hamakua coast Harris brought the Lurline in close expecting Hawaii to follow him. Instead of this, however, Crozier kept well out into the Channel and while those on the Lurline thought they were leaving the Hawaii away behind she was in reality holding her own well.

Captain Colcord of the steamer Columbian undertook to keep a look out for the boats and stayed up on the bridge until they came in. He had two quartermasters with him so that there should be no doubt as to the decision being right. Shortly after twelve o'clock he sighted the yachts coming out of the gloom and at thirty four minutes past midnight the Hawaii slipped across the line firing her gun as she did so. Ten minutes later the Lurline crossed the line on the port side of the big steamer.

Where Crozier beat Harris was that while the latter had kept to the coast all the way along the former had sized up the situation better. Just at the last moment and when the Lurline was looking for wind the Hawaii was slipping through the water under stiff breeze and sailing right for the line while the Lurline was tacking about trying to get across to a winning position.

There remained just one more tack to make. Crozier looked at his chart and saw where a rock was marked about twenty square feet. It was either a chance of hitting this or of losing the race and he took the chance. The boat slipped through the water. Would they hit the rock and lose out? This was the thing that was worrying everyone. "Wear ship" the cry rang out and round came the graceful little yacht. They had cleared the rock and a few moments afterwards their winning gun rang out.

Oahu Wins First Game

Maui, Without Their Best Ponies Put Up Desperate Battle.

(Special Correspondence.)

Honolulu July 23, 1912.

Oahu 8, Maui 7 3/4.

When the man from Hilo was asked if he considered polo good sport he replied quickly:

"I ha'e me dots."

To me it is the swellest kind of a function; something greater, as to fashion, than the great balls that are given here during a season, lacking only evening dresses for the ladies. Whatever polo may be in India, where I believed it originated, there is not here a function greater than that at which all Honolulu society gathered in Moanalua field last Saturday.

The players were as fit as the ponies and better ponies never pranced a field. And how they did go across as the ball hurtled from one end or side to the other. Gay jackets and gay costumes. White among the ladies predominated but there were those who wore the colors of their favorite sides. It was a great sight and a great game. Personally I counted two hundred and fifty eight automobiles and followed the count with a mental calculation of the gate receipts. I figured that each driver paid his ten dollars for a position. Figure that out. Then I estimated the gathering, in autos and out, at fifteen hundred and put the receipts for the day at four thousand, or more dollars. As a matter of fact the receipts were about fifteen hundred dollars for there is a reserved section sufficient to accommodate only eighty automobiles; the rest just stick around where they can get good holding ground.

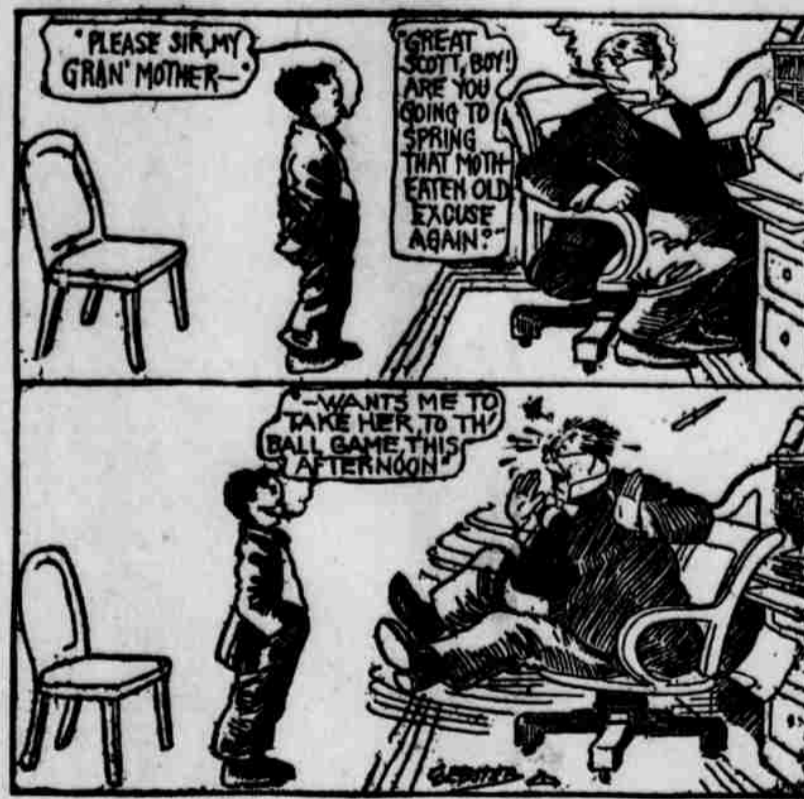

It is conceded on all sides that a better game of polo was never seen here. And while Oahu won by a small margin the Maui boys made them work for every tally and during every period. It was a hard game for the players and it is common remark today that the quality of the play as well as the quality of the horse flesh was never equalled in an inter island contest. I talked with John Fleming before the game and he gave it as his opinion that "the winners would be playing in luck; neither side had an advantage in men or animals and the men who gave odds in the betting were taking a gamblers chance; the decision would go to the team that had luck behind it."

And Oahu got the decision with or without any element of luck. The gameness in the pulling up won the team all sorts of praise after Maui had Oahu virtually in the door. The local team was practically beaten for at half time Maui was six to Oahu three. But the ten minutes rest probably saved the local team. At the call of time they showed team work that was remarkable for its exactness. Then Maui was weakened by being deprived of the service of three of the team's best ponies. All the way through the team work was almost beyond criticism and neither side had any the better of the other. Perhaps in the last half the team work of Oahu stood out a bit and the men showed team training and each player had his turn at the spectacular and no opportunity was lost.

This was the first big inter Island polo game where not a man was unhorsed and this may be attributed

What the Wrestlers, Boxers and Base Ball Artists Are Doing.

That many of the contests at the recent Olympic games must have been of a heartbreaking nature can easily be seen by the following description of the 1500 meter race, when Jackson made a new world's record.

Perhaps never before have there been two such contests as the 5000 meters and 1500 meters run on the same day. In the latter it was a gruelling contest from start to finish. Abel R. Kiviatt and Norman S. Tabor, the American representatives, came into the stretch together. Jackson went all the way round the last lap at a terrific pace, passing the four men in order to get up with the leaders. With Kaviatt slightly in advance ten yards from the tape, Jackson fairly leaped ahead and fell exhausted into the arms of his friends. So close was the race for second place between Kaviatt and Tabor the judges reserved their decision until a photograph of the finish was developed before announcing the second and third man.

The final heat of the 100-meter swimming race was won by the Hawaiian, "Duke" Kahanamoku. Healy of Australia was second, and Kenneth Huszagh, Chicago Athletic Association, third. Time, 1:03 2-5. This is one second slower than the world's record established by the winner in his previous heats. Bretting, Germany; Longworth, Australia, and Raume, Germany also competed.

The Hawaiian, who has become one of the most popular characters at the Olympiad, had a distinguished assembly to witness his triumph. The royal box was crowded, the party including the King, Queen, the Crown Prince and the Crown Princess.

When the pistol sounded the six bodies hit the water with one splash. The Hawaiian was easily ahead, and half way down the tank turned to survey the field. His nearest rival was ten feet behind. Kahanamoku let up after that and seemed to swim leisurely. The others, extending themselves to the limit, gained on him, although he grasped the platform two yards in advance of Healy. The Hawaiian was given an ovation when he passed to the dressing-room.

Albert Griffith, known in the pugilistic world as "Kid Griffo," and for several years the lightweight champion of Australia, was arrested in Chicago recently charged with soliciting alms. The former champion, shabbily dressed and hungry, was lined up at the station-house before Sergeant Harden, who knew him well in his palmy days and recognized him despite the 200 pounds of flesh which concealed his once athletic frame.

"Fifteen years ago," said Sergeant Sheridan, reminiscently, "Griffo used to bet $1000 no one could knock a cigar from his mouth while he stood on a handkerchief. He did not step off the bit of cloth and he did not strike a blow. He merely dodged, and always won his bet."

His first fight in this country was for a purse of $4000 at the Broadway Athletic Club. He won, and the cashier brought him a big roll of greenbacks—three one thousand-dollar bills and $200 in one-dollar bills. He could not read or write, and had never seen any of these bills of larger denominations.

The Annual Affair at Puunene Promises to be Full of Interest.

The Harvest Festival at Puunene, which has come to be looked upon as one of the events of the year, will be held on Saturday, August 10th this year. Nowhere in the Territory has anything ever been attempted along this line, which compares with the one at Puunene. It is one big day of sports and jollification.

Beginning at about 10 a. m. with the tennis championships between the Maui players and a team from Honolulu, the sports will follow one another in rapid succession, finishing with the water carnival in the evening. After the tennis the spacious lawn will be used for open air dancing pavillion, where under the light of the August moon, will be a scene unequalled anywhere in America.

In addition to the tennis and swimming, bowling will be taken up this year, and it is hoped to have a bowling team here from Honolulu to compete with Maui's bowlers. A large delegation is expected from Honolulu this year, and as usual the Mikahala will be held to take the visitors home after the festivities.

The swimming events are as follows:

1st. Event—Ladies 25 Yards Race. Championship of Maui. Silver Cup. Free for all. Entries to close 1 hour before race. 2nd. Event—Spring Board Diving. 3rd. Event—25 Yards Race. Championship of Maui. Silver Cup (Club). 4th. Event—Tennis Relay, 6 men or more. 5th. Event—Tower Diving. 6th. Event—Special Challenge. 7th. Event—Rice and Deinet. 8th. Event—Trapeze Diving. 9th. Event—Relay Race. 10th. Event—220 Yards. 11th. Event—Water Polo.

Maui Hospitality.

Commodore Warren Wood, commenting on his recent trip to Hawaii and Maui, on board the yacht Hawaii said:

"When we arrived in Kahului the people simply took me off my feet. Everything they had was mine, except their wives, and I almost made up my mind that I could easily spend my remaining days there."

Tourist Hotel Bubble Bursted.

We are not surprised or grieved that the "big tourist hotel" bubble in Hawaii has burst. We are willing to be convinced that it is not the rankest folly to spend a cent of taxpayers' money to lure globe-trotters and sight-seers here; but such an influx has never spelled permanent prosperity in any land we have seen.

The time may come when such "big hotels" will be profitable, then they will be only an incident to our prosperity. Small homes, and not big hotels are the touchstone that will make Hawaii rich. We need to anchor this idea in the centre of our noodles, and sidetrack tourist promotion while we bend every energy to getting good men on the land, and protecting them there in making a living. One man on the soil is worth a dozen tourists on the "big hotel" verandah.—Kohala Midget.

The Passing of an Emperor.

THE passing of the Emperor of Japan, which, according to the despatch seems to be expected at any hour, will mean much to that empire. Practically all that Japan is today both commercially and politically, as come to her during the reign of the present monarch. He and his noble wife have done much to lift the masses out of their former ignorance, and place them on an equal footing with their brethren of other lands.

Still many of the traditions, which have been handed down for centuries in this ancient empire, still live. Men who have had their learning in the old schools, and by whom the emperor was surrounded, cling to them, and it has been an uphill fight for the younger and more progressive element in the nation to carry them along in their more modern tendencies.

With the coming of the new emperor, many of these old customs will be cast aside forever. He is a bright, broad minded, wonderfully acute young man. His associations have been all men of the modern school. He speaks English and French fluently, and is said to especially enjoy the society of foreigners. All his tastes and tendencies are democratic in the extreme.

The coming of such a man into the power which lays in the hands of the Emperor of Japan, cannot help but continue to increase the prestige and good feeling of that nation among the powers of the earth. A work which was started and nobly performed by his illustrious father.

Reason for Retarding Spark Lever.

"Many owners have not taken the time nor pains to understand why spark levers should be retarded for pulling and advanced for speed work," says S. G. Chapman, the Hudson distributor. "As soon as the motor slows a little in going up hill retarding the spark enables more power to be obtained from the motor at this slow speed, that is to say, if the spark is not retarded the motor will go slower than if it is retarded. Do not retard the lever to the utmost under these conditions. On the contrary, retard the lever just far enough so that the knocking or pounding ceases. Retarding the spark to the proper position causes the maximum pressure of the explosion to occur at the best point of the stroke.

"To slow the motor cut off as much mixture as the throttle allows, then slow the motor still further by retarding the spark, but on no account retard the spark fully when the throttle is well open for the purpose of slowing the motor.

"When the spark is advanced too far with the motor running slowly the explosion takes place before the piston has reached the end of its compression stroke, thus giving it a tendency to run backward. The momentum of the motor, of course, forces it forward past the dead center, thus placing undue strain on the bearings, causing considerable loss of power and a knock in the motor. If the spark is too much retarded when the motor is running rapidly the explosion occurs so late that it finds the piston part of the way down on the powerstroke."

Services at the Church of the Good Shepherd Sunday, July 28, as usual. Early Communion 7 a. m. Morning Prayer and Sermon 11 a. m. The Rev. Knox Bodel, of Lahaina, will officiate, and a service will also be held in the Club House, at Puuene, at 7:30 p. m. Both Sunday Schools will be omitted till further notice.

to the perfect knowledge the men had of the game. There were no intentional fouls and at the close the umpire remarked that if there were any they were unobservable. Following the game there was a dinner at the Rathskeller when all the conventions were forgotten. Victors and vanquished enjoyed the repast, the music, the sayings and the well,—let it be another story.

The game up to half time saw Maui playing rings around Oahu. The local team didn't seem able to get going, and appeared to be suffering from a bad attack of stage fright. Frank Baldwin, the most dangerous hitter on the Maui team, was left practically alone, to get off with spectacular runs and marvelous shots that kept the ball perilously near the blue goal. Walter Dillingham, usually the coolest and most reliable of players, was missing easy black-hands, and wasn't paying anywhere near to form. Arthur Rice was badly off, and Harold Castle seemed to be having all sort of trouble with his mounts, which kept him out of the game a good part of the time.

All the more credit then, for the fine brace and ultimate victory. A team that can pull itself together and deliver the goods against odds, is a good team to tie up to in the long run.

And all credit to the losers, who carried their keen disappointment behind the smiles of true sportsmen, and who didn't beef over the hard luck which kept three of their best ponies out of the game at a time when they were most needed. Individually, as good fellows, and collectively as good polo players, the men from Maui deserve the highest praise.

It was not until the seventh period that the crowd woke up to the fact that Oahu had a chance, and that the men were making one of the finest fights ever seen on a polo field, at home or abroad. Play started with Oahu at the big disadvantage of knocking uphill, but right here the tide of victory turned, with the scoring of the game's most sensational goal.

Soon after the throw-in Maui worked the ball down to the lower goal, and threatened at any moment to put it through the sticks. It was hit sharply toward the Wai-kiki side-boards, and in a flash Harold Castle was on top of it, for the minute clear of the field. He gave it a mighty crack that lifted the white willow high in the air, and hit again for good distance before David Fleming, the Maui back, reached the ball and stopped it with a back-hander, which also sent it into the air. Sam Baldwin was thundering along behind his team mate, and as the ball rose off Fleming's stick, he made a desperate pass at it in mid-air. The odd chance in a hundred came of the ball striking the cane of Baldwin's mallet and falling just in front of Arthur Rice, who was the third galloping Oahuan of the line. Rice hit with all his might, but the ball curved even nearer the side-boards, and went bounding and hopping toward the line, but far away from the posts.

TOOK LONG CHANCE.

And then Arthur Rice made one of those rare shots that so seldom come when really needed. Leaping forward in his saddle and steadying his pony for the final effort, the Oahu back hit a mighty stroke under his pony's neck. So sharp was the angle that the stick bent almost double as the cane brought up against his mount's neck. The ball quartered for the white posts, with three Maui men almost on top of it, and trickled over the coveted line as the foremost man reached out for it. Not until the goal judge threw up his arm did the crowd that had been following the rapidly changing play in breathless silence realize that it was another score.

The close of this seventh period saw the wildest play of the game. There were several minutes of play remaining after the Baldwin-Castle score, and Oahu drove the ball to the upper end of the field, and made a desperate effort to score through the mauka goal, which would have tied the score and given the locals the down-hill advantage for the next count. Four separate and distinct times the ball hovered between the posts, but each time Frank Baldwin, or Collins, or Harold Rice, or Fleming, made a desperate save, and sent it out of danger toward the sideboards. Try as they would, the blue players couldn't get that much-needed goal, and after the bell rang the ball went out of play a few feet to one side of the pillars.

Here the Oahu supporters almost gave up hope. That had been the great chance to even matters and start off the final period with the advantage, they argued, and it was too much to expect the team to continue pressing the fight in mauka territory. But Oahu had the encouragement of pulling down a hopeless lead, which Maui was suffering the moral handicap of seeing sure victory snatched away, and that element told in the final stages of the struggle.

Maui opened with a rush, and carried the ball down the field for what would almost certainly have been the winning goal, but time and again the Oahuans made a miraculous save, and finally they worked the ball back to the upper end, and started to make things hot for the visitors. Sam Baldwin finally lined out a shot for goal, and Harold Castle, riding neck and neck with a Maui man, gave it the last touch needed to help it over the line.

The score was tied, but four minutes remained to play, and Oahu was hitting down.

And in the last minutes of this red-hot game, Maui nearly turned the trick by scoring a deciding shot through the difficult goal.

Men and mounts were going for all that was in them, and again Maui seemed the stronger. But Walter Dillingham had a little in reserve and catching the ball on his stick as it was perilously near to goal, he laced it over to the Ewa boards, and had it three-quarters of the way down the field when the gong sounded the end of the last period.

Heaving ponies and exhausted men came off the field to prepare for the extra period of play that would determine the winner. The luck was with Oahu, for, although the rules say that in case of a tie the ball is thrown in at the center of the field, there is no change of goal, and, on a sloping field like Moanalua, the locals knocking with the slope of the ground and the wind, had a big edge on the situation.

Lieutenant Naylor, hoping most earnestly that he would not be compelled to call a foul and thereby end the game in an unsatisfactory way, bowed the willow between the ponies legs. Walter Dillingham caught it, and sent it on its way toward the Maui posts. It was the last ditch for the Valley Islanders, and they knew it, and fought accordingly. Three times a score seemed certain, and three times Oahu missed by narrow margins.

The fourth time, instead of scampering to their positions for the knock-in, the players crowded together.

"What's the matter?" "Was it a foul?" "Anyone hurt?" A volley of excited questions was fired by the spectators.

And then came the explanation. David Fleming had hit a safety, subtracting one-quarter of a goal from the Maui score, and ending the game. Of course, it wasn't an intentional safety. He had seen what he thought was a certain goal coming and had tried to deflect it from the posts, but the ball had gone off his stick at an angle, and had crossed the line. After three minutes' play in the extra period, the game was over, and Oahu had secured one leg on the cup.

For the Children

Miss Mary Taft Holtz a Youthful Suffragist.

A short time ago the Women's Political Union of New York City offered to pay 1 cent a word for the best article of 300 words on the subject. "Why Am I a Suffragist?" Among the many responses received there was one from a girl of twelve years, living in Brooklyn. The judges who were selected from the officers of the W. P. U. decided that Mary Taft Holtz, for that is her name, was entitled to the prize, and she received the money.

When interviewed later Mary said she had become interested in votes for women through the parade last year and that she had then decided to study up the subject. She became convinced that it was right for women to have the ballot, although her parents are not much interested in the subject of suffrage. Here is one of the reasons she gave for wishing the ballot:

"Because women are human beings. They have each a soul and a brain as well as a physical body. They are therefore as clever and noble minded as men. Yet they are not allowed the same rights that men have. Why? There is no good reason."

Bachelor's Kitchen.

All the children sit around the room on the floor, with a grownup as "it" in the middle, who asks each player what he or she will give to an old bachelor for his kitchen.

Anything can be named that enters a boy's or girl's head, from a cow to a soap dish. "It" goes from one to the other, asking all sorts of questions, to which the answer must be the name of the thing given by that particular player.

For instance, "it" might inquire, "What is your head made of?" The answer must come with a perfectly straight face. "Potatoes," "Door scraper" or "Tabby cat"—a thing easier said than done. Whoever laughs must pay forfeit.

Personations.

To play this game the company seats itself in a circle, while one of the players begins to describe some persons with whom most of the other players are familiar and continues until one or other of the company is able to guess from the description who the person may be.

The one guessing correctly then proceeds to describe some one. If, however, the company is unable to make a correct guess the player goes on until some one is successful.

Conundrums.

What is the difference between 100 and 1,000? O (nought).

What kind of a robbery may be said to be not dangerous? A safe robbery.

When is a schoolmaster like a man with one eye? When he has a vacancy for a pupil.

Why is love like a potato? Because it springs from the eyes.

Why are young ladies so partial to sunset and twilight? Because they are daughters of Eve.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Chinese Names For Other Nations.

England is known to the Chinese as Yinkwo, or "the flourishing country," kwo meaning country or nation. France is Fakwo, "the law abiding country." Germany, known as Twa-kwo, is "the virtuous country," and Italy is Ikwo, or "the country of justice." The United States is the Melkwo, or "beautiful country."

The "Tootums."

Johnny started in at school. He recites the Golden Rule (Not the rule of three). But every morning you can hear him recite a table queer, and it puzzles me. It's the Tootums family. Twelve of them there seem to be. Such odd people too. For I cannot understand All about this Tootum band, Such queer things they do. "Tootums won ertu"—dear mel Now, what can "ertu" be? That a Tootum's won? I've asked Tommy to explain, But he cannot make it plain. Just what Tootum's done. "Tootums threeer's sick"—poor thing! Thus does Tommy ever sing. "Tootums forer ate." What he ate I do not know. "Tootums ate a sixteen," though I've heard him relate. Tommy knows the Tootums well. But he really cannot tell Of this family anything. But he says that is the way That the children every day Stand in line and sing.

Many Auto Accidents.

What came very near being a fatal accident occurred at Kahului, last Monday morning. Joe Medeiros was driving a Hudson belonging to the Iao Stables, and had as passengers Drs. Pratt and McCoy of Honolulu and Sanitary Inspector Trevenan. As is usually the case, accounts of the accident differ greatly. Medeiros claims he was not going over 20 miles an hour, while eye witnesses of the affair aver he was going at least 25 miles. Medeiros claims he did not see the flagman at the railroad crossing until he was within six feet of the crossing. The trainmen say the flagman was out long before either train or automobile was near the crossing.

The facts are that the auto driver seeing he was in danger and could not get across ahead of the train, and could not stop, turned his car, trying to run parallel with the track, ahead of the train. He was not quick enough, and the first car caught the auto behind, smashing the upper works all out of shape. Drs. Pratt and McCoy were in the back seat and escaped with only a severe shaking up, while Mr. Trevenan was slightly cut.

An auto standing on the wrong side of the street, was run into Sunday evening, and a broken wheel and bent axle was the result.

Wednesday evening, while two automobiles were returning from the show at Puunene, they encountered some roaming horses belonging to the Iao Stables, on the road. The first car slowed up quickly to avoid the horses, and the second car ran into a tree standing by the side of the road, to avoid smashing into the car ahead.

Last Saturday evening a wildly driven auto, came very near causing a bad accident on the beach road, which was averted only by the quick action of others.

We do not wish to be pessimistic, but the chapter of automobile accidents which have occurred during this week, is what we have been looking for, for some time. There is no reason under the sun for this, and it shows nothing but laxity in those to whom we should look for protection in those matters. The police are lax in enforcing the regulations. The regulations themselves seem to be faulty, and the police claim they can do nothing. If this thing keeps up it will not be safe to ride on our streets.

Baseball Last Sunday.

The games last Sunday were both rather tame. The J. A. C.s were only conceded an outside chance before the game started. That was all they had, and all they ever will have, so long as they continue to throw games away by their bonehead plays. They threw away enough runs last Sunday to at least have tied the Stars, and have made it interesting. As it was, there was very little scoring, and though the fielding was good,—exceptionally good—on both sides, there was very little enthusiasm shown either by the players or the fans. The Stars won by a score of 5 to 2.

In the second game, the Camp One team had four new players, but this did not strengthen them a particle. Kahului made a runaway race of it. Camp One was hopelessly outclassed, and though they crawled up a bit on Kahului towards the close, it was easily seen that McCauley was only loafing, and giving his team mates some needed fielding practice.

The game between the Stars and Kahului next Sunday should be a good one, if Bill Montcastle, will give his team a dose of ginger before the game. If he don't they have no chance, as Ginger is the middle name of every man on the Star team.

The Paia-Camp One game should be only practice for the former. Baseball is very uncertain, though, and such a thing as the tailenders waking up is not at all impossible.

A Japanese was given a verdict in a damage suit against DeRego & Edwards in the district court at Wailuku Thursday. The evidence showed that the Japanese after looking around, rode in front of the automobile and fell off. The automobile was stopped before completely passing over the man. The judge stated that although there was no evidence of negligence on the part of the auto driver, he would give judgment for damages.

Dance at Wailuku Sugar Mill.

The annual dance at the Wailuku Sugar Mill, which a few years ago, was one of the events of the season, but which for various reasons had been discontinued, was revived this year, with all the splendour and beauty of former years, with many added attractions. Better facilities and better arrangements for handling a big crowd could hardly be imagined. The attention to detail which showed at every turn, proved that those in charge had put in many hours of hard work.

Everybody was there and still there was not the least suggestion of congestion. It was more like a big fair than a dance. Dancing there was aplenty, but for those who were not dancing, there was left ample room for promenading. Manager Penhallow and his corps of workers may well feel proud at the many notes of praise expressed over the whole affair.

Notes From Up Country

News of General Interest From Out-lying Districts.

During Friday, the 19th, the 11th, Precinct Republican Club at the regular meeting held at the Makawao Court House elected the following officers: F. W. Hardy, president; P. F. Peck, vice-president; S. R. Dowdle, secretary; A. D. Morton, assistant secretary; M. Alameda, treasurer; A. R. Souza, G. M. Maalo, and Jos. Pires, judges of election; W. O. Aiken, A. F. Tavares, J. A. Aheong, L. von Tempesky, and Alfred Furtado, executive committee.

At this meeting which was a representative one, resolution against the change of the site of the Makawao Court House to Paia was passed unanimously and the following reasons against the proposed change were advanced: Makawao is much more nearly the geographical centre of the district than Paia which is on the extreme boundary line. That such a change would work great hardship to the residents of the far-reaching Kula section. That a large majority of individual landowners reside at a distance from Paia and hence a majority of cases involving land and other important matters originate in Kula, Makawao, Kaupakalua and other places outside the limits of the Paia section. That it is good policy to keep the courts as independent as possible and the removal of the district court to Paia plantation would be a step in the wrong direction. That as recently it has been found expedient to raise the rate of taxation to meet county expenses, any additional expenditure such as the purchase of the Paia Hotel property for a district court house should not be incurred unless absolutely necessary.

On Saturday, July 20th, the 10th Precinct Republican Club of Kula elected the following officers for two years: Edgar Morton, president; Lot C. Kealoha, 1st. vice-president; Warren Newton, 2nd. vice-president; David Morton, secretary; D. K. Morton, assistant secretary; Antonio Fernandez, treasurer; Allen Newton, F. C. de Cambra, and Isaac Wallace, judges of election; George Copp, Josiah K. Haole, D. K. Kapioho, Mahiai Kahoopaki, and Kaula Kaai, executive committee.

This club also passed a resolution protesting against the proposed change of site of the Makawao court house to Paia.

The grape-crop of Kaupakalua is unusually small this season. More and more pineapples are being planted in this section.

Miss Mauerman of Paia and Miss Hilen of Puunene, returned on the 23rd from a circuit of East Maui via Huelo and Haleakala crater.

Hon. A. F. Tavares and family of Makawao are spending the summer at their Kamaole ranch.

Miss Lucy Adams of Lahaina is building a tiny summer cottage in Makawao near the Pookela Chuch.

Charles Romé of Hamakuapoko is fast recovering from his "Fourth of July" accident, as the guest of L. von Tempesky of Haleakala ranch.

George Tripp of Kailua is building a pretty residence near the Mrs. H. G. Alexander premises in Makawao.

On Monday, the 22nd, a Filipino sneak-thief who has been troubling residents of Kokomo and Makawao recently was arrested on the charge of petty larceny at the Haiku Cannery where he was working.

The County is constructing a large reservoir on the Mrs. H. G. Alexander premises in Makawao for the use of the pipe line.
