HAWAII'S TRIBUTE TO MRS. STANFORD

KRUGER AND KOHALA Are Almost TIED FOR LEADERSHIP

Hanawaki Kruger leads the crowd by just 145 votes in the last unofficial count for the automobile. The end is not yet, though the figures given below are the last that will be published previous to the result of the count made by the official committee on the evening of the 27th of March.

The Kohala Club gave the Honolulu contingent a jolt last night that made the fellows who have been around the head of the list open their eyes. They are not yet done wondering what the Hawaii people have up their sleeves, and the friends of the Hawaii people are not telling.

The mail this morning brought in a list of coupons for all the Honolulu men, but Kruger had a considerable number more than his competitors in the town. This does not mean that the others are quiet. The Thurston men and the Kelle men are making strong claims of what they will show in the final count and Tim and Lee and Sheldon are not out of the race.

There will undoubtedly be some lively work done today. The last ballot issued in the weekly was sent out yesterday afternoon. No subscription coupons will be issued after the 5 o'clock whistle blows tonight. The last ballot to appear in the daily will appear in this evening's issue. From 5 o'clock tonight till 5 o'clock Monday evening, March 27th, the people will devote themselves to collecting the ballots and getting them to the ballot box for the final count. The members of the committee having the count in charge are W. T. Lucas, John F. Soper, Ed. H. Paris, Jess Woods and O. Hillefeld. The standing of the vote after this morning's count follows:

DR. JORDAN AND HOPKINS PUT ASIDE POISONING THEORY

The following official statement was given out by Dr. Jordan this morning before departure for San Francisco:

In our judgment, after careful consideration of all facts brought to our knowledge, we are fully convinced that Mrs. Stanford's death was not due to strychnine poisoning nor to intentional wrong doing on the part of any one. We find in the statements of those with her in her last moments, no evidence that any of the characteristic symptoms of strychnine poisoning were present. We think it probable that her death was due to a combination of conditions and circumstances. Among these we may note in connection with the advanced age, the unaccustomed exertion, a surfeit of unsuitable food and the unusual exposure on the picnic party of the day in question. These conditions were perhaps somewhat aggravated by the presence of strychnine, and other drugs in a medicinal capsule, and possibly also by the presence of a small amount of strychnine contained in a dose of bicarbonate of soda. The occurrence of this strychnine in the bicarbonate of soda is as yet unexplained. The fact that it is not in excess of usual medicinal proportions suggests either an error of a pharmacist or else that the combination was prepared for tonic purposes.

We must recognize that the preliminary hypothesis of accidental poisoning seemed a natural one under the extraordinary circumstances. We regard it, however, as without foundation and wholly incompatible with the evidence in our possession.

We cannot express in too high terms our appreciation of the hospital sympathy and friendly hospitality shown by all the people of Hawaii with whom we have come in contact. We have come to Honolulu on the saddest of errands, and we leave with the warmest feelings of gratitude towards the beautiful island, the generous-hearted city and its helpful and sympathetic citizens.

DAVID STARR JORDAN,
TIMOTHY HOPKINS.
Honolulu, March 15, 1905.

LAST HONORS TO MRS. STANFORD

The Territory of Hawaii paid a splendid tribute to the memory of a great philanthropist and benefactress this morning, when its leading representatives escorted the remains of the late Mrs. Jane L. Stanford through the streets of Honolulu.

A fair sized congregation was in the Central Union Church at 8 o'clock, when the funeral cortege arrived in front of that religious edifice. It was a thoroughly representative gathering. A large number of floral offerings had been tastefully arranged in front of the Golden Gate, and included a magnificent floral vase standing about five feet in height, a gift of the Native Sons of the Golden Gate. The design was by Mrs. Highton and executed by Mrs. Ethel Taylor, the florist. A superb cross bore the card of Mr. Hackfeld, and a lily wreath that of the Alumni of Stanford University. J. H. Wilson sent a large wreath made of red carnations, the Stanford color, and Mr. and Mrs. William Mutch, a white feather kahili. A costly feather lei came from Mrs. K. R. G. Wallace and a similar offering bore the names of Dr. David Starr Jordan and Timothy Hopkins.

The Territorial Senate, headed by President Paul Iseberg, and nearly the entire membership of the body, occupied pews at the right of the church. The Native Sons of the Golden West were well represented by a delegation and the graduates of Stanford University made up an imposing body of mourners.

The hearse containing the remains of Mrs. Stanford left Williams' undertaking parlors promptly at 7:45 o'clock and headed by a platoon of police under command of Captains Parker and Kanae proceeded up Fort street to Be-retania and thence to Central Union church.

Marching on both sides of the hearse were the pall-bearers: Governor George R. Carter and U. S. Judge Sanford B. Dole, representing the Territory of Hawaii; Charles Dole, Abram Lewis, Carl Smith and D. L. Van Dine, representing the Stanford Alumni and the Native Sons of the Golden West; J. F. Hackfeld and C. M. Cooke, representing the Stanford estate, and President David Starr Jordan and Timothy Hopkins, representing the faculty and trustees of the Stanford University. A guard of honor consisting of Policemen Charles Willis, H. B. Mau-mea, John Aea, L. M. Needham, A. Manu-nuwal, John Wallace, Frank Kanae and John Thomas, escorted the hearse and

Mystery Of Jordan Message

The Alameda has gone, Detectives Calland and Reynolds have gone, Miss Berner and Miss Hunt have gone, Dr. Jordan and Timothy Hopkins have gone and the mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford remains unsolved in so far as Honolulu is concerned.

And this strange case was not with out its finale of mystery at the very last moment.

A statement was made and then recalled, and whether it was fate or what, the statement was associated with Miss Berner about whom has clung an air of mystery and possibilities on account of her close association with Mrs. Stanford.

The official statement made by Dr. Jordan is published in another column. Last evening shortly after midnight Dr. Jordan, after a conference with Miss Berner, met Carl Smith, representing the Stanford Alumni, and as a result of their conversation Mr. Smith was given a cablegram to send to Mr. Lathrop in San Francisco and turn over to the press. The statement in this cablegram was that Miss Berner had taken the same doses of capsules and bicarbonate of soda as Mrs. Stanford, at the same time, and had suffered no ill effects. The wording was: "Berner took same doses capsules and soda same time. No discomfort."

"JORDAN."

One of the last things Dr. Jordan did before the steamer left the wharf was to recall this cablegram as he said it was "not quite true." The incident, evidently started to wipe out mystery, has only increased it. Many think that Dr. Jordan on a later talk with Miss Berner found that he had not understood her correctly. On the other hand there is the contingent who feel that the detectives learned some thing and shut Jordan's cable off. The least that can be said is that the combination of circumstances has been very unfortunate for Miss Berner.

Miss Berner and Miss Hunt attended the services at Central Union Church this morning occupying a pew by themselves at the right of the pall-bearers. Miss Berner was very much overcome and was the only mourner to give outward evidence of her great grief.

BOURKE FOR WARDEN

A number of candidates were in the field this morning for the position left vacant by the death of Warden Kamana of Oahu prison. Mort Oat and Clarence Crabbe were said to have some influential backing, but High Sheriff Henry had already made up his mind to promote Deputy Bourke to the wardenship. Temple Bourke has been connected with the Police Department for the past nine years, and all that time in the service of Oahu prison. He was for many years head lina of the Makiki quarry and upon the changes which took place in the Police Department some three or four months ago, when Henry became High Sheriff and Kamana warden, Bourke was promoted to the deputy wardenship. He was endorsed for the position of warden on Monday morning by all the officers and guards of the prison. A strong effort is being made to have Pat Gleason, bookkeeper of the prison, promoted to the deputy wardenship.

A great sale of ladies', misses', children's and infants' shoes is now in full swing at Kerr's.

HENRY KAPEA IS UNDER ARREST

QUEENSTOWN, England, March 15.—A man giving his name as H. K. Kentwell of Honolulu was arrested here today for embezzlement on request received from Washington. The man was remanded pending the arrival of the papers.

This is undoubtedly Henry Kapea, the absconding clerk of the Hawaiian Trust Co.

JAPS AT SINGAPORE

SINGAPORE, March 15.—Four Japanese cruisers have arrived here.

STEAMER TACOMA IS SEIZED BY JAPANESE.

TOKIO, Japan, March 15.—The steamer Tacoma has been seized by the Japanese. It is expected that Vladivostok harbor will be free from the ice March 21.

FIERCE GALE IS ON BRITISH COAST.

LONDON, England March 15. A fierce hurricane has swept the British coast. The ship Kligber has been wrecked and twenty-three of her crew drowned. Three were saved. The ship Wray Castle is ashore.

ARRANGING FOR PRISONERS.

TOKIO, Japan, March 15.—The Japanese Government is arranging quarters for 43,000 prisoners.

$200,000 FIRE.

BOSTON, Mass., March 15.—Fire in the hold of the German steamer Widenfes did damage to the amount of $200,000.

HEALTH BOARD WORK ASKS ORDER TO SELL GUMMINS EST. BONDS

President Pinkham in his opening address to the Board of Health this afternoon said:

There are no items of moment regarding the leper settlement. The superintendent is making the necessary arrangements to receive the Legislature.

At a call made on the president of the Board by the chairman of the Senate and House Committees, it was mutually agreed that it was inadvisable to permit a general visit to the interior of the Settlement, that all visitors should be restricted to the corral, except the members of the Legislature and certain officials, ex-officials and those having direct business connection requiring attention of which there may be possibly five persons, and of course the band. The president requests authority to issue permits on the basis mentioned above.

Although much injudicious legislation based on mis-information and inexperience has been proposed, I believe that final action will not disturb the humane and judicious treatment and consideration now given every person coming under the authority of the Board of Health.

Louis Berndt, fish inspector, requests a leave of absence from April 1st to June 1st. I recommend the request be granted.

The Board of Medical Examiners report the following applicants have passed their examinations successfully: Drs. F. W. Marotz, Joas Pinto, Jr., and H. B. Cooper. I recommend the usual course be pursued.

The year agreed upon with Dr. Rice has expired and the stipulated examinations have been made. The reports are ready to place before you on receipt of a further communication from Dr. Rice.

Mrs. William Kamana and family desire to express their gratitude for the kind sympathy extended to them by their friends and acquaintances during their recent bereavement, and sincerely thank all those who so considerately sent many beautiful floral offerings, particularly High Sheriff Henry, the members of the police force and the guards of the prison.

TWO BILLS PASSED

Rep. Holstein's bill to repeal the $10 license on salmon selling passed third reading in the House this afternoon.

Much of the afternoon session was taken up with discussion as to the passage on third reading of Rep. Cox's act relating to internal taxes, giving collectors commissions on collections. The bill was passed, Rep. Kanho alone voting against it.

SENATE MAY REFUSE TO ACCEPT INVITATION OF HOUSE

At the meeting of the Senate this afternoon the most interesting feature was the discussion of the Molokai trip.

The House sent a communication inviting the Senate to go with it to Molokai on Saturday. Dowsett moved that the invitation be accepted and that the Senate offer to pay one-half of the expenses and obtain fifty permits. Dickey said the Senate should pay only one-third, as it was a much smaller body. Achi spoke against going as guests of the lower House. McCandless thought it best to table the invitation and to stay at home. Paris said that if the invitation was accepted it would mean that the Senate endorsed the payment of exorbitant expenses. The matter was finally referred to the Health Committee.

Nebo, the Japanese detective, was yesterday arrested by U. S. Marshal Hendry on a charge of bigamy. It appears that last June Fusayo Hatakama came from Japan and on her arrival she was married to one Shigamatsu. Shigamatsu sold his wife. Nebo informed the authorities of this and the unnatural husband was sent to jail. A few days ago he was released and discovered that the woman, from whom he had not been divorced, was married to Nebo. Both Nebo and the lady were arrested.

FATHER MAGOON'S IDEAS

ON SUNDAY OBSERVANCE

Following is John Magoon's letter on the Sunday law presented to the Senate and House of Representatives: Honolulu, March 10th, 1905.

Gentlemen:—About four hundred years ago there landed at Pilgrim Rock a little band of immigrants and one of the first things they did was to fell trees and erect a house in which they might worship God on the Sabbath day. They believed in keeping the Sabbath day holy. Those men were not admired or honored by any of the tyrannical governments of those days but now the United States send their influence through the world. The character of those pioneers has given character to the United States government. That the Hawaiian Islands are a civilized land is due to them. I petition your Honorable body that in the matter of Sunday legislation you take no step backward in weakness, because any poor steamship passenger has not provided himself with clean clothes for his day ashore in Honolulu on his way to the Orient. A drink of soda even is not so important nor the traveler who wants it one who should be favored more than the men and women who live here. America was made great by men who worked but six days a week. Let us not by letting down the bars lead more of our own people to work seven, but keep our standard high.

Yours respectfully, JOHN MAGOON.

ACT 4.

AN ACT

PROVIDING FOR INDEXING THE RECORDS IN THE OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR OF CONVEYANCES.

Be it Enacted by the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii:

SECTION 1. The Registrar of Conveyances shall keep a book, to be known as the "Daily Entry Book," each page of which shall be divided into appropriate columns, with titles or heads in the following form:

Date Received					From Whom		No.
Year	Month	Day	Hour	Minute	A.M. or P.M.	Received
Grantor	Grantee	Class of Instrument	Date Delivered	To Whom Delivered	Recording Fee
Fee For Acknowledgment		Fee For Copies	Total	Paid Treasurer		Amount
					No. Auditor's Receipt

SECTION 2. He shall enter in said book in the order in which they are received, all deeds and instruments left for record, all copies left as cautions, and any plan filed; noting in the first column the year, month, day, hour and minute of reception, and the other particulars in the appropriate columns; and every deed or instrument shall be considered as recorded at the time so noted.

SECTION 3. He shall keep two sets of Indexes, each divided into eleven columns, with titles or heads in one set as follows:

Kind of Instrument	Grantor	Grantee	Date of Instrument	Book	Page
Situation
Date of Record	No. of Award, R. P. or G.	Name of Land	District	Island

And in the other as follows:

Kind of Instrument	Grantee	Grantor	Date of Instrument	Book	Page
Situation
Date of Record	No. of Award, R. P. or G.	Name of Land	District	Island

SECTION 4. He shall, within a reasonable time, cause the name of each and every Grantor, Grantee, or other party thereto to be entered at length and alphabetically in its appropriate index.

SECTION 5. When an instrument, by which one person by authority of law transfers or conveys the real estate of another person, is left for record, the Registrar shall enter in his entry book and Grantor index both the name of the person making such transfer and conveyance and that of the person whose estate has been so transferred or conveyed, if the latter name appears in such instrument.

When a return of a commissioner appointed to make partition of real estate is left for record, the Registrar shall enter in the entry book, and in both the Grantor and Grantee Indexes, the names of all persons whose estates plainly appear to be affected by such return.

SECTION 6. The Registrar of Conveyances shall within the first six months of each year, or within such further time during the year as he may think proper, cause to be made by competent persons, copies of the indexes to the instruments recorded in the Bureau of Conveyances during the preceding year, in which copies the Grantors and Grantees shall be classified by their respective surnames in alphabetical order, and arranged under such surnames in the order in which the deeds and other conveyances to which they refer were left for record. He may also cause the christian names of Grantors and Grantees, as well as their surnames, to be arranged in alphabetical order in such lists. He shall cause the entries composing such indexes to be segregated into four divisions by islands as follows:

(1) Oahu and all outlying islands under the jurisdiction of the Territory of Hawaii not hereinafter mentioned; (2) Hawaii; (3) Maui, Molokai, Lanai and Kahoolawe; (4) Kauai and Niihau.

SECTION 7. The Registrar of Conveyances shall cause a re-classification and consolidation of the yearly indexes referred to in Section 6 of this Act, to be made at least once in every ten years in the same manner as set forth in Section 6 hereof. And he may cause copies of the indexes or new indexes to the records existing in his office, to be made by some competent person in the same manner as set forth in Section 6 hereof.

SECTION 8. This Act shall take effect January 1, 1906.

Approved this 14th day of March, A. D. 1905.

G. R. CARTER,
Governor of the Territory of Hawaii.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15, 1905.

The tribute paid the memory of the late Jane L. Stanford by Rev. Dr. Kincaid was an able review of a strong character, whose impress upon the nation and perhaps the world has been and will be exerted through the most powerful of human agencies, a University. The assembly of representative officials, citizens of the Territory and of California, and former students of Stanford University was a fitting appreciation of the great work developed and given permanency by a good woman.

A STRONG ENDORSEMENT.

The County government measure, practically as framed by the County Commission, and passed by the House of Representatives, has been passed up to the Senate with the added endorsement of the Republican organization of the Territory. This is what was meant by the unanimous passage of the resolution presented to the Republican Central Committee last evening.

The inference of the morning paper, the accepted enemy of County government, had been singled out for criticism in more amusing than otherwise. It suggests that the enemy as usual is trying to start a rumour in other directions in order to defeat the pledge of the party and the purpose of the people.

The resolution passed by the committee makes a complete recitation of the pledges made by the candidates of the party quoting Senators Lane, Bishop and Dowsett as examples of specific utterances. If any of these Senators were known to be forgetful of the promises made during their tour on the stump, then and not till then could the spirit of the resolution be said to be critical toward individual Senators. A clear conscience and a clear record for fulfillment of promises is a panacea for all imagined wrongs. The record of the Senators referred to has not been such as to justify the inference made by the morning paper that they are being criticised. There is nothing to indicate that they object to this or any other reference to their campaign speeches.

The County bill is before the Senate and the people and the Republican organization expect the Senators to keep their promise and pass it without unnecessary bickering or the slightest heed to the desires of enemies of local self-government who are working by every scheme of trickery and misrepresentation to befog the issue and get the Republican Legislature to act a lie.

Nolle Pros' Entered

BY FLEMING IN

Fifty-Five Cases

Fifty-five cases appeared from the District Court were this morning moved on Judge Robinson's criminal calendar. As soon as they had been placed there Deputy Attorney General Fleming entered a nolle pros' in every one of the cases.

The cases in question were as follows: Chong Him, Higaki, Ito, M. T. Sylvia, M. S. Freitas, Paakapu, M. Souza, Chas. Lambert, Kimoto, Kaaluae, Dan Carrias, Ah Kun, Pang 'hong, Antone Fernandez, Frank 'isher, Ah Wong and M. Souza, all charged with selling liquor without a license; Kawasaki, Ah Lum, Kawasaki, Hong Chew, Yoshida, Kogi, Wm. McKinley, Harry Haywood, C. F. England, W. C. Achi, Malle Pimoku, Ho Sau and eight others, Komatsu, Matsunishi, Ah Chee et al., Ah Tam and eleven others, Ogawa Harimoto, Jane Doe Cerino and Ah Hoy, all charged with violating the gambling laws; Sing Loy and Wo Chan, working on Sunday; Manuel Ferreira, Kimura, Pedro Ferreira and Ah Koon, larceny in the second degree; Kaahue, M. and B. Keli-holokai, Thos. Tilton, Mano, Ho Chong and Nakamura, assault and battery; Frank Fisher, keeping a disorderly house; Kato, soliciting; Domingo Ferreira, affray; Watanabe, vagrancy; Tago, bribery; Kapena Richard, Albert Gomes and Alfred Gumbs, profanity; Manuel Vasconcelos, drunkenness; Cheong Lat, selling opium, and C. K. Chow, common nuisance.

BIGAMISTS FROM JAPAN COMMITTED

Acting U. S. Commissioner Maling this morning committed Nebo and Fusago, both charged with bigamy. District Attorney Breckons presented a strong case. Rev. G. Motokawa, who married Fusago and Shigamoto, at the Immigration Station in June, 1903, testified regarding this wedding, as did also Dr. Katsunuma. Rev. O. H. Gullick and Mrs. So told of the marriage between the two defendants in January, 1904. Secretary Charlock of the Board of Health showed the records of the two marriages and Breckons stated that neither of the defendants had obtained divorce, as there was nothing to show this on the records. Both the defendants declined to offer a defense and were committed. Bail was fixed in the sum of $1000 each.

DR. JORDAN SCORED LOCAL POISON THEORY

Dr. David Starr Jordan evidently does not have a very high idea of some Honolulu physicians especially those connected with the Stanford case.

Dr. Jordan stated this morning, before his departure, that Dr. Humphris, according to his opinion knew little or nothing about strychnine poisoning and the other physicians took Humphris' statement of the case on which to base their conclusions.

Dr. Jordan has gone into the details of the Stanford case very thoroughly and one of his last assertions in connection with the scientific side of Mrs. Stanford's death was practically that Dr. Humphris and his associates don't know what they are talking about.

When a man begins to pat you on the back it is time to tell him that you are broke.

INJURED ADMIRAL STOPS OVER HERE

"Come in! Come in! Come in and have it out!"

Rear-Admiral William Whiting, U. S., sitting bolt up-right in a straight-backed chair in a cozy little bedroom fronting on the veranda of the house of Mrs. Hana Evans on King street, near the Melrose, his distinguished head shaved close, Dr. Herbert dressing a dangerous wound on the left side of his head, thus called out to a Bulletin reporter who looked him up early this morning to enquire as to his condition after a heavy fall from an electric car about 8:45 o'clock last evening.

"I guess I look pretty bad," said the Admiral, when the newspaperman entered. "A man looks queer with his hair off and his scalp all ripped up. But I'm feeling pretty strong. It was only a scalp wound, though a pretty big one, to be sure. I'm waiting for Dr. Taylor now, so the doctors may talk it over. Dr. Taylor is the boss. If he says I can resume my journey on the Siberia to Manila this morning, I will go ahead. If he tells me to stop over here awhile, I will remain in Honolulu until I'm patched up. He'll be here soon."

"Do you feel sick again?" enquired Dr. Herbert who was busy with the Admiral's wound.

"No, not yet," was the sturdy reply; "not just yet."

Admiral Whiting was severely injured at the time noted by stepping off a moving electric car on King street opposite the Melrose. The car was going in the direction of Waikiki. He sustained a scalp wound on the left side of the head about seven inches in length. He was rendered unconscious, remaining in this condition until nearly 11 o'clock, being unconscious for about two hours. Shortly before 11 o'clock he was able to talk to the doctors in attendance. Soon after regaining consciousness he had a nose hemorrhage.

The Admiral, it is understood, pressed a button on the car, when near the Melrose and, before the car came to a stand, jumped off. He was thrown very heavily to the ground, striking on his head and tearing the scalp in a serious manner.

Dr. Herbert, while he admitted the seriousness of the wound, stated that he would not necessarily prove fatal. He said it might be possible for the Admiral to continue his voyage to Manila in the Siberia.

Admiral Whiting was taken into the home of Mrs. Evans immediately after the accident and Doctors Herbert, Moore and Walters were quickly sent for. Chloroform was administered while the wound was stitched.

The Admiral left the Afong residence on Nuuanu and School streets early last evening, going to the Hawaiian Hotel, meeting there some of his fellow passengers on the Siberia. For awhile he listened to the band at the hotel. Thence he walked to King street to take a Waikiki bound electric car.

Admiral Whiting married Miss Afong, Albert and Henry Afong, being notified of the accident last evening, lost no time in reaching Mrs. Evans' residence. Commandant Lyon of the Naval Station sent Yeoman White to make inquiries. Dr. Taylor was also on hand.

Admiral Whiting was for a time Commandant of the Hawaii Naval Station. He is now Commandant of the Goat Island Training Station, San Francisco. He is en route to Manila with Admiral Miller and Captain Lyon to serve on a court martial. He is not accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Dr. Taylor, the U. S. Navy Surgeon here, took charge of Admiral Whiting's case this morning and advised that he remain a while in Honolulu, believing that he will be himself again within a week or ten days. The Admiral is now at the Queen's Hospital, resting quietly.

SIBERIA LEAVES WITH BIG PASSENGER LIST

The Siberia got away for the Orient promptly at 11 o'clock this morning. She did not get out of the harbor easily, however, as several mud-banks were torn up by the big liner when the tug turned her around. It was quite half an hour before the tug finished maneuvering the Siberia and finally cast off.

The scene on the docks was in strange contrast to that when the Alameda departed only an hour before. The Navy dock, where the Siberia was tied up, was crowded with friends and spectators when the hour of departure came, and the band was there with the usual music. The band gave a short concert on the after part of the hurricane deck in honor of the departing navy officers, after which it adjourned to the dock.

The Siberia carries little freight from this port, mostly miscellaneous packages. The main cargo goes through from San Francisco. Many flowers were in evidence on the departing passengers. O. Kakuzo, the noted Japanese artist on his way home after a European trip, was literally covered with leis as he ascended the gangplank. The Siberia carries fifteen passen-

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Tells How He Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters by Using Pe-ru-na.

MR. ISAAC BROCK, BORN IN BUNCOMBE CO., N. C., MARCH 1, 1788. His age is 115 years, vouched for by authentic record. He says: "I attribute my extreme old age to the use of Peruna."

Born before the United States was formed. Saw 22 Presidents elected. Pe-ru-na has protected him from all sudden changes. Veteran of four wars. Shod a horse when 99 years old. Always conquered the grip with Peruna. Witness in a land suit at the age of 110 years. Believes Peruna the greatest remedy of the age for catarrhal diseases.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of McLellan county, Texas, has lived for 115 years. For many years he resided at Boque Falls, eighteen miles west of Waco, but now lives with his son-in-law at Valley Mills, Texas.

A short time ago, by request, Uncle Isaac came to Waco and sat for his picture. In his hand he had a stick cut from the grave of General Andrew Jackson, which has been carried by him ever since. Mr. Brock is a dignified old gentleman, showing few signs of decrepitude. His family Bible is still preserved, and it shows that the date of his birth was written 115 years ago.

Surely a few words from this remarkable old gentleman, who has had 115 years of experience to draw from, would be interesting as well as profitable. A lengthy biographical sketch is given of this remarkable old man in the Waco Times-Herald, December 4, 1898. A still more pretentious biography of this, the oldest living man, illustrated with a double column portrait, was given the readers of the Dallas Morning News, dated December 11, 1898, and also the Chicago-Times Herald of same date. This centenarian is an ardent friend of Peruna, having used it many years.

In speaking of his good health and extreme old age, Mr. Brock says: "For special directions everyone should read 'The Ills of Life,' a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Peruna is for sale by all chemists and druggists at one dollar per bottle or six bottles for five dollars. Those wishing direct correspondence with Dr. Hartman and can wait the necessary delay in receiving a reply should address Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A. Benson, Smith & Co. will supply the retail drug trade in Honolulu.

Kapea Arrested In London

Secretary of the Territory A. L. G. Atkinson this afternoon received a telegram from the State Department at Washington to the effect that Henry Kapea, the absconding clerk of the Hawaiian Trust Co. of this city, had been arrested in London.

On Feb. 28 The Bulletin published the exclusive story of the locating of Kapea in London, England, this having been the belief of persons in Honolulu who about that time received a letter from London regarding the doings of one who claimed to be Herbert Kalani Kentwell.

This young man ran up a bill for $1,000 at a London establishment. He claimed his father was David Kentwell. L. K. Kentwell of this city said he knew of no Herbert Kalani Kentwell, he had no relatives in England who could correspond with this "Henry Kalani."

Kapea is likely in good time to find his way back to Hawaii for trial. Deputy Sheriff Henry Vida will be sent to England to bring back to Honolulu Henry Kapea, the absconding clerk of the Hawaiian Trust Company. There have been many who desired to obtain this commission in the event of Kapea's being arrested, but Vida has been chosen by the Secretary of the Territory.

Vida will be ready to depart on his long journey probably by the next steamer, all preliminary matters being arranged in the meantime. Vida has relatives in the British Isles.

Attorney General ROASTED By Jas. Fullerton

George A. Davis, attorney for James E. Fullerton, this morning filed a motion to dismiss the defendant in the case of malicious injury against him. A notice is further filed with the First Circuit Judge of a motion directing a speedy trial of the case, Monday, March 20, at 9 a. m. The motion will be presented at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

The above motions are accompanied by an affidavit of Jas. E. Fullerton, broker, wherein he states that the Attorney General, in order to evade the order of the court, intend a nolle pros on an indictment for the same offense and he was denied a speedy trial. The Attorney General's Department purposely avoided trial for the purpose of vexing and harassing the deponent.

He finally states that he has been put to great trouble and expense in connection with the indictments and was tried once but the jury disagreed. He would consequently have been tried but for the wrongful and improper conduct of the prosecuting officers.

The Weekly Edition of the Evening Bulletin gives a complete summary of the news of the day.

Color Mixing

It is a belief fostered by those outside the painting trade that if the color is mixed ready for use by a practical man it is easy enough to make a practical job. Although this is far from being a correct view it is nevertheless perfectly true that unless the color is properly mixed no man can make a practical job with it. The mixing of paints can rarely be made the subject of definite recipes, each particular case of ground, finishing and intermediate color must be governed by the particular circumstances of its own case and more harm is done by cut and dried instruction on this point than good. ### COUNTY ACT WILL HAVE THE SUPPORT OF LANE

"I am in favor of the County Act," said Senator Lane this noon, when asked his views on this burning question. "I intend to stand by the County Act. The plank of the platform adopting the Act unanimously had pledged us to stand by it. A promise made on the stump is as binding as one made off the stump. We were elected to give the people the County Act, and it is our duty to see that they have their wish. "I suppose you ask this question with especial regard to the resolution passed by the Central Committee last night. In reference to this I can only say that I suppose it is the duty of the leaders of the party to see that we carry out our promises faithfully."

WOULD ENCOURAGE SMALL FARMING

By Subsidizing Island Steamers Instead of Coast Boats

REPORT ON RESOLUTION BY HARRIS IS Tabled

LONG WANTS REVISED LAWS SOLD TO TAXPAYERS AT $5 EACH—THE JUDICIARY REPORT.

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY.
The Miscellaneous Committee of the House today reported on Rep. Harris' resolution for $50,000 for a subsidy to a California-Hawaii passenger steamship, recommending that the appropriation be disallowed; that the financial condition of the Territory does not admit of any such large outlay and that if any subsidy is granted it should be extended to those steamers plying between the different islands in order to encourage small farmers. Report tabled to be considered with the Appropriation Bill.

Miscellaneous Committee also reported on a petition introduced by Rep. Kanio for repeal of leper suspect law, and of vaccination law; for addition to Makapala, N. Kohala, school; for permission for relatives of lepers to visit Molokai every Legislature's session.

Report recommends referring the school house matter to the Education Committee, the leper suspect and vaccination matters to be taken up with other similar matters. In re visiting Molokai, committee would grant this prayer of the petition so far as the Legislature is concerned. Report adopted.

Rep. Harris put in a bill relating to the construction, maintenance and inspection of buildings in Honolulu and defining the boundaries of said district. Referred to Reference Committee.

For Homestead Lands.
The Public Lands Committee recommended that a certified copy of a petition for opening homestead lands at Hoonaa, Kau, be forwarded to Land Commissioner Pratt. Report adopted.

Rep. Long introduced a resolution that the Secretary of the Territory be instructed to sell copies of the Revised Laws to any taxpayer at $5 each. After lengthy debate the resolution was referred to the Public Expenditures Committee.

Rep. Holstein had a resolution that the clerk furnish the members with copies of the Special Session (1904) laws. Adopted.

Judiciary Committee.

The Judiciary Committee handed in a bunch of reports, recommending Coelho's usury bill with slight amendments, recommending Sheldon's Revised Laws amendment bill; recommending Andrade's costs of court bill with a few amendments; recommending Andrade's procedure for partition of real property; recommending Andrade's Act relating to attachments; recommending that Sheldon's Act to regulate the employment of Government employes be tabled; recommending indefinitely postponing Long's Act to provide a docket fee for attorneys, feeling that litigation is expensive enough at the present time; recommending Senator Achi's Act amending Sec. 1815, Revised Laws, with minor amendment; recommending Senator Dowsett's Act to facilitate the collection of certain debts (tabled by the House to be considered with the bill); recommending Sen. Achi's Act to amend Secs. 2090, 2091 and 2093, Revised Laws, summary proceedings; recommending Achi's filing of plans and surveys Act; recommending indefinitely postponing Achi's Act to amend Sec. 86, Revised Laws (report tabled by the House); recommending Achi's Act to amend Sec. 50 Revised Laws (report tabled by House to be considered with the bill); recommending, with amendments, Lewis' bill to amend Sec. 1919, Civil Laws widow's election of dower.

Resolutions Presented.
Resolutions were introduced as follows: Rep. Smith, $4,000 for stationary rock crusher, S. Hilo; $2,500 for mounted patrol and wagons for Hilo. Rep. Maholua, that the Public Works repair Kaawa school, Oahu, lately burned. Rep. Pulaa, $200 for water tank for Kawaihae, S. Kohala, school. Rep. Holstein, $20 to pay W. A. Schwalle, M. D., for services in post-mortems in Kau. Referred to Police Committee.

Rep. Kanio, $100 for constructing steps to the wharf at Hoopuoa, S. Kona.
Rep. Greenwell, $4,500 for roads in Kau and court house at Waiohinu, W. Kau.
Rep. Lewis, $3,000 for constructing and macadamizing road from Volcano road to 13-mile road, Puna, Hawaii.
Rep. Coelho, that the Health Committee be authorized to employ three physicians to visit the leper settlement to examine persons there, to accompany the committee on its visit. Referred to Health Committee.
Kalakaua Avenue.

By a vote of 25 ayes, no nays, the House today adopted Senate Joint Resolution No. 4, making the highway in Honolulu, from King street to Kapalani Park to be known as "Kalakaua Avenue."

Resolution Adopted By Central Committee Hustling County Act

Whereas, the Republican Party pledged itself to local self-government in its platform, and advocated the same in the campaign of 1900; and, in 1901, its Territorial Central Committee appointed a Commission to draft a Municipal Act for Honolulu; and

Whereas, such Act was framed and introduced by Senator Clarence L. Crabbe in the Legislature of 1901; and

Whereas, the party again pledged itself to County Government in the campaign of 1902, and emphasized that pledge through its candidates; and, in the fulfillment of its pledges, passed a County Act in the Legislature of 1903, which Act was duly signed by the then Governor, Hon. S. B. Dole; and

Whereas, when said Act was nullified by the Supreme Court of the Territory on the ground, that the same was in conflict with the Organic Act, Governor George R. Carter, in a laudable desire to keep faith with the people, made a special effort to secure county legislation from Congress; and

Whereas, at the special legislative session, held in April, 1904, the demand of the people for a County Act was recognized by the Legislature in its Joint Resolution, approved April 19, 1904, reciting that "the people of the Territory have expressed themselves in favor of County Government; and authorizing the Governor "to appoint a Commission of five members to draft a County Act;" and

Whereas, the platform of the Republican Party, which was unanimously adopted by the Republican Convention, at Hilo, contains the following plank, to-wit:

"We reiterate our adherence to the principle of decentralization of power and demand the immediate establishment by the Legislature of County Government throughout the Territory, and also the passage of a general municipal government Act under which cities and towns may be established. We will secure, if necessary, such amendments to our Organic Act as may be required to enable the Legislature to enact such legislation fully and completely and upon approved modern lines. And in this connection we point with satisfaction to the appointment by the Governor pursuant to the Resolution of the Legislature of a Commission to draft a new County Act;" and

Whereas, the party and its candidates went before the people in the months of September, October and November, last, and gave solemn pledges to abide by our platform, especially our candidates for Senators and Representatives on the Island of Oahu, where the contest was particularly strenuous, Hon. John C. Lane making special and repeated pledges; Hon. E. Faxton Bishop promising the people, especially at meetings of Hawaiians, to work for County government if elected to the Legislature, and Hon. J. M. Dowsett saying to the Convention, which nominated him: "I pledge myself to support the platform as adopted by the Republican Convention at Hilo. I endorse it from beginning to end;" and saying repeatedly to public meetings, which he addressed in the presence of hearing of Hon. E. F. Bishop and J. C. Lane: "The lawyers made a failure of a County Act, now elect us business men, and let us see what we can do in giving you a County Act;" and

Whereas, on every island, county government was promised by our candidates, who knew at the time the condition of our finances, as the Legislature had just been called in special session and the matter of our revenues thoroughly gone over; and

Whereas, a public office is a public trust, and can no more be honorably obtained under false pretences than can private property be acquired by false representations; and

Whereas, this Committee believes in the principle announced by President Roosevelt, the head of the National Republican Party, in the following words, to-wit:

"It is absolutely essential, if we are to have the proper standard of public life, that promise shall be square with performance. A lie is no more to be excused in politics than out of politics. A promise is as binding on the stump as off the stump, and these are two facets of that crystal, in the first place the man who makes a promise which he does not intend to keep and does not try to keep, should rightly be judged to have forfeited in some degree what should be every man's most precious possession—his honor;" and

Whereas, a County Act has been carefully prepared by the Legislative Commission, appointed by the Governor, and is now before the Legislature on its passage; and

Whereas, County Government under the County Act prepared by said Commission does not materially increase taxation; and

Whereas, Congress had shown its special interest in popular government in this Territory by passing in quick order an Act enabling the people to elect its local boards and officers, thus removing all doubt as to the right to elect boards of supervisors; therefore be it

Resolved: That this Committee respectfully but earnestly urges the Republican members of the Legislature to pass the County Act prepared by the County Act Commission, making therein and thereto such changes and amendments as may appear to be advisable, if any such should be deemed necessary.

Resolved: That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded by the secretary to the Senate, and that a copy thereof be sent to the House of Representatives, and that the Chairman of this Committee be and is hereby authorized to appoint a Committee to urge this matter upon said Republican members of the Legislature, said Committee to consist of the Chairman of this Committee and one member from each Representative District.

The above resolution was last night unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Republican Central Committee held at the Fort street headquarters at which there was an attendance of sixteen, including proxies.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman A. G. M. Robertson shortly after 7:30 o'clock. Secretary Harry Murray called the roll, took note of the proxies and read the minutes of the previous meeting. These were approved, when the chairman calling off the schedule of business and finding nothing that had precedence, invited any and all who had new business to present to bring it forth.

James Quinn stated that he had a resolution.

"Is it very long?" asked Charles Clarke.

"No, it is not very long," replied Quinn, with a smile and proceeded to read the resolution above quoted in full.

Following the reading, E. R. Adams suggested that the resolution appeared to be something in the nature of a whip which was calculated to be held above the heads of the Senators mentioned in the resolution.

"Nothing in the nature of a whip is intended," said Quinn; "this is simply to remind them of their promises to the people in the way of local self-government legislation."

Adams still labored under the impression that the gentleman with the resolution had a whip hidden in the document.

"I think if you will talk to some of the Senators," said Quinn, "that you will find that some of them are not as enthusiastic over the idea of County Government as you might imagine."

"It sounds as if you were picking out these men mentioned in the resolution," said Adams, "to go for them in particular, as if they had in some particular manner failed to live up to their promises."

"Nothing of the kind," replied Quinn. "It is merely a matter of reminding them of their promises." Murray also suggested that the resolution was to serve as a reminder; that it was nothing in the nature of a whip.

Quinn went on to say that the resolution was not binding as to any particular County Bill in toto; the Legislature was naturally at liberty to make such changes in the bill as presented to them by the County Commission as it saw best.

Adams asked why the resolution did not bring in all the Senators for a reminder in regard to their pledges as to County Government.

Quinn said that the men mentioned in the resolution, as far as he knew, were those who had been prominent in making promises on this island during the campaign. "If we are to be successful in giving the people a County Law," said he, "we have got see a law passed that you can't drive a six-horse tally-ho through."

Adams remarked that he had heard it said that the law presented to the Legislature by the County Commission was not above having a six-horse tally-ho driven through it in places. He had heard such remarks from men supposed to know something of the facts. He did not know of his own knowledge as to the merits of the proposed law, but he wanted to tell the meeting what he had heard.

"What are we going to do about it," said Adams, "if the proposed law is passed and then knocked out like the last Act?" He inquired as to other County bills in the field. Quinn thought Dickey had a bill in the Senate on County government. Adams reiterated the proposition of the possibility of driving a six-horse affair through the Commission's Act. Chairman Robertson intimated that this might be said of any law.

"My only objection to the resolution," said Adams, "is that it picks out, for example, Senator Lane; he's always stood solidly for County Government. I'd like to see some of the others mentioned."

"Have you talked to Senator Dowsett on the subject?" asked Clarke.

"Never mind what Dowsett said," interrupted the chairman; "it is out of order. Does anybody want the floor to talk on this resolution?"

Clarke said Senator Kalama was as much bound as any as to pledges. Adams thought it would be more like the proper thing if all names were left out of the resolution. Quinn stated that he had not heard the speeches made by candidates on the other islands and so he did not know to what they had pledged themselves, but he did hear those whose names were mentioned in the resolution promise the people from the stump that they should

MOTHERHOOD

How To Gain The Happiness Of Children

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and most holy desires. Yet thousands of noble women, through the derangement of the female generative organs brought on by female weakness and disease, are unable to produce children!

Ninety-nine times out of every one hundred Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will so restore and strengthen the female organism as to make child bearing possible, easy, and safe.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

with its record of thousands of cures, is the remedy for women. Thousands of women are happy mothers of beautiful children to-day because in time of need they took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No matter what your female weakness or disease, it will afford you speedy relief and cure. Every woman who desires to become a mother should read these letters:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I had been married seven years and had no children, owing to a female weakness and womb trouble, which caused me severe suffering each month. A lady advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did so, and now I have no more pains and am perfectly well, besides having a fine baby boy. Mrs. ROSA F. KARL, Ravenna, Neb.

Another happy and grateful mother writes to Mrs. Pinkham as follows:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I was very anxious for a child, but could not carry one to maturity. My husband advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and soon began to feel better in every way. I continued its use and was enabled to carry my next child to maturity. I now have a nice baby girl, and I feel like a new woman. Mrs. FRANK BATES, 22 S. Second St., Meriden, Conn.

Actual sterility in woman is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., whose advice is given free to all would-be and expectant mothers. Her letter will give you valuable information.

Books, Bookish People and Things

"The Manitoban: A Romance," by Henry H. Bashford, author of "Tommy Wideawake," 12 mo. $1.50.

John Lane has just published a new romance entitled "The Manitoban," by Henry H. Bashford, who will be remembered as the author of "Tommy Wideawake." The story concerns itself with the Canadian pioneer life in Manitoba. The hero, Roddy, is carried from his boyhood to his full manhood in the rough struggles of a new country.

Roddy is the type of a young and lustier people "upon whom in days unborn our more decadent East shall come to lean; the true Heir, bred of the old traditions, but the product of a new and simple life; the true Heir, sound, sane and intrepid, facing the future in the might of optimism." The various types of Englishmen in the Dominion from Laville, the most deluded sort of "remittance man" to the sturdy frontier people born to the land, and building its destiny, and the greenhorns of good family and gentler traditions, suddenly thrown into an existence, the strenuousness of which his fancy had imperfectly painted, bear their share in an earnest down-right romance and vivid picture of the rough struggle for existence. Manitoban under snow varies with Manitoban under wheat, and the scene shifts to England where the hero makes a brief and informing visit to his kindred and old world friends. Among the many phases of frontier life depicted, a striking description of a prairie fire will hold the readers' interest.

Other books by the same author: "Tommy Wideawake."

Discussion Over Bills On Vaccination And Cremation.

SOME MERRIMENT AT LAST NIGHT'S SESSION

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE ON REP. PULAA'S LEPROSY SEPARATION UPHeld BY BIG MAJORITY.

The House was called to order at 7:30 p. m.

Senate Bill No. 29, prohibiting the spraying of clothes by water from the mouth, and providing a fine of $5.00 for the offense, came up for third reading in its amended form.

Rep. Smith made an oral report on House Bill No. 21, by which the bill was sent to the Printing Committee.

Rep. Coelho stated that H. B. 8 and H. B. 63, relating to liquor regulations, had been tabled, waiting for the Senate to act on similar bills, which had not been done.

House Bill No. 58, an Act to prohibit the Board of Health or health officer from condemning for destruction any property without compensation, was indefinitely postponed.

House Bill No. 13, repealing sections of the Penal Laws relating to compulsory vaccination, called forth an extended discussion on the second reading.

Rep. Kanioh said that the doctors did not vaccinate for smallpox alone but whenever any disease appeared.

House Bill No. 4, also repealing certain sections of the vaccination laws, was deferred until the same time.

House Bill No. 68, introduced by Rep. Pulaa, "An Act to prohibit the cremation of diseased persons without the consent of the family of the deceased," came up for second reading.

Rep. Nakuina brought Rep. Andrade again to his feet by declaring that the report of the Judiciary Committee as submitted by Rep. Andrade was meant to ridicule the bill in question.

All classes of Building Work promptly and carefully executed. Office 'Phone Blue 1801.

LAST HONORS TO MRS. STANFORD.

(Continued from Page 1.) carried the casket into the church. The cortege was received in the vestibule of the sacred edifice by Dr. Kincaid and Bishop Restarick, robed in their vestments of office. Dr. Kincaid wore the hood and gown of Doctor of Divinity. With an impressive voice Dr. Kincaid began the 123d Psalm: "The Lord is My Shepherd I Shall Not Want." The entire congregation arose and remained standing until the end of the Psalm when the casket reposed in state in front of the pulpit and Dr. Kincaid began the reading of the short Congregational service. This was concluded by the singing of the hymn, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," by Wichman, Mr. Wall, Mrs. Otis, Mrs. Tenney Peck, Mrs. Damon, Miss Hall, Mr. Howland and Mr. Dillingham.

Right Rev. Bishop Restarick of St. Andrew's Cathedral then read the solemn service of the Episcopal Church, the words, "I am the Resurrection and the Life," pronounced in a clear voice, reverberating through the edifice. The double quartette sang "Nearer My God to Thee," and the Rev. Dr. W. M. Kincaid ascended the pulpit and taking as his text the words of Paul to Timothy, "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith," delivered the following oration:

DR. KINCAID'S ADDRESS

The passing of great personages from the stage of Time, especially under circumstances which are deeply sad and solemn, calls for consideration and commemoration. A hush falls upon the world in such an hour, and we are constrained to think of some of the meanings and duties of this mysterious human existence. I can think of no passage in Scripture so appropriate to the present hour as that great saying in which St. Paul, himself conscious of the near approach of death, summed up his life: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness." Let these words serve, then, this morning, to direct our thoughts for a few minutes, towards some of those lessons which are most salient not only in the life of Paul, but in all who, like Paul and this noble woman whose memory we have met to honor on this occasion, have lived and toiled to serve their generation by the will of God.

That which strikes me most in these great words of the Apostle is their indomitable courage. Courage that was the keynote of Paul's life and character, and as I have studied the remarkable career of Mrs. Stanford it was the keynote of her life and character also. Undoubtedly it takes some courage to live at all. When we consider what life means—its risks, vicissitudes and perils; its possibilities of dire physical and mental agony; of overwhelming bereavement and disappointment; and defeat; the difficulties in the way of carrying a great enterprise forward to successful completion; the few that prosper in great undertakings, and the many that fail; the disproportion between the aims of life, and the rewards; the brevity of life, and the still more pathetic brevity of hope and happiness,—when we consider these things it is wonderful that man has the courage to live at all. But here was a life that was lived in a great way; a life that triumphed. How did it triumph? What was the secret of its sublime fortitude? We find that secret in the three memorable phrases of this last confession of the great apostle: Struggle, Purpose, Faith. Paul recognized that the very essence and meaning of life is struggle.—"I have fought."

That the joy of life is accomplished purpose: "I have finished my course."

That the strength of life is Faith: "I have kept the Faith."

The man or the woman who lives thus will live bravely, and, dying, will be more than conqueror.

Take the first note of a great life-struggle. The very essence of life is struggle, and when there is no struggle the force of life decays. It was the struggle with the forces of the business world that created the great fortune that founded the splendid university with which the name of Mrs. Stanford is indissolubly connected. It is the struggle of the mind which produces literature, the struggle of the conscience which produces virtue. Make life so easy for everybody that strenuous effort is relaxed, and inevitably the finest qualities of character as well as the best strength of mind and body would deteriorate, for these qualities can only exist by effort. Those who leave their mark on their day and generation are those who, not merely accept struggle as the principle of life, but they rejoice in it, and would not have it otherwise. And it is in this that their greatness lies—they are men and women in whom the fire of hope burns when it has gone out of others, who even in old age rouse themselves at the call of the trumpet, and ask nothing better than to die struggling, planning, hoping, aspiring for what they believe to be good and true. Such a man was Paul. He fought a good fight; he lived intensely, and to the last the fire of life burned clear and bright. Such a woman was Mrs. Stanford. That was the secret of her courage in her relations to the university which she not only helped to found but to build up. "I fight." This, then, is the motto of every great life. The great man is greater than his fellows because he knows how to live more intensely. And any one who knows anything of American life knows that intensity of living is one of the most marked characteristics of that life. To have aspired and struggled and achieved,— that is ever the noblest kind of life; but noblest of all is that life whose strength is spent not for personal ends and ambitions, but for the good of others, and the glory of God.

Take the second note of a great life—Purpose. At the root of most of the misery of life is lack of purpose. Definite aims and purposes are in themselves a source of joy and inspiration. Our aims in life will differ, but it is always a source both of strength and joy to have an aim. The years pass slightly over the man or woman who has an aim to pursue; time is all too short for their energies; they live too intensely for the morbid maladies of life to sow their seeds of bitterness in their mind; they remain buoyant, energetic, hopeful to the last; and whatever bereavements and trials they may suffer, they at least know the benediction of noble effort, and find the pursuit of a great purpose its own exceeding great reward.

And it is so that Paul speaks; and it is so he lived. Life to him was a course, a long striving towards the goal a ceaseless progress; and an infinite satisfaction breathes in the word, "I have finished my course." To touch the goal at last—to see one's work rounded out to completion—what matters the method of one's dying, if dying eyes see this? Let grief itself be hushed before the vision of this victory which came to this noble woman who saw the highest and who followed it with intensity of purpose. There is triumph, but no mourning, in this trumpet note, "I have finished my course."

The third note of a great life is Faith; for just as nothing corrupts life like lack of purpose, so nothing enfeebles so soon as lack of faith. The words of Jesus are literally true; all things are possible to him that believeth. They are true in things apart from religion. Can any one doubt that the greatest faith was needed to found and carry to such splendid success the great university that bears Mrs. Stanford's name? To her all things were possible, even things that once seemed impossible, because she believed. And so behind both struggle and purpose there must be faith. Struggle, Purpose, Faith,—these, then, are the notes of a great life.

And now note that, when life is lived in this spirit, the entire aspect of death is altered. It is hard to avoid the conviction that death is extinction. In all that mighty Rome that thrived around the dungeon where Paul lay, outside the narrow illumined circle of Christianity, there was scarcely a man or woman who did not think of death as extinction. Men parted from the dying and wept unavailing tears above the dead, with the conviction that they would never see them again. There were many poets, thinkers, and philosophers in that vast and splendid city, but not one who had the least hope of any conscious life after the swift flame had consumed the body to ashes. Paul uses two words, undreamed of, by the wisest of philosophers—and they illumine all the dreary Gulf of death. One is "my departure is at hand." He does not recognize the extinction of personality. Whatever death may do to him, he conceives that his own conscious identity will remain. He departs—he, the conscious, thinking Paul—and death is not the wrenching apart of the elements of personality, but the passing them on to some other and higher state.

And the other word is henceforth—"henceforth there is laid up for me a crown." The grave is not an end but a new beginning; not a goal, but an opening gate. "Henceforth" implies a life, a conscious life—a widening vista of life; and so when we combine these ideas into one statement, what it all comes to is this: that the plan of the future is continuity, the basis of the future is identity, and the promise of the future is progress.

What proof have we that these things are true? The proof lies in the nature of life when it is lived as the great soul lives it. I may find it difficult to believe that the ignorant, the brutal live again, but there is no difficulty in believing that the great spirits of humanity survive. No one who has stood at the bier of a great soul ever believes it quite gone; no one can fancy the genius of a Shakespeare wholly dissipated and lost. All that is left of Paul, a little dust, a speck of lime in some secret outcanyon of time—impossible, we cry. There must be something in this great spirit called Paul that survives. And so this "henceforth" of Paul is pregnant with the world's hopes. It is a sure voice sounding to us from beyond the grave; it is the perfect round which fulfills the broken arc of earth, and it reveals the future to us as continuity, identity, progress. The watchwords which Christianity has written over the grave are—continuity of life—"I go to prepare a place for you." Identity—"In my flesh shall I see God." Progress—"What I know not now I shall know hereafter." Believe in life as the great souls of the ages have believed in it, use it as they have used it, and you will soon find yourself believing in the life to come also. And when you have done that you will find that the question of how to live life nobly and truly, has settled itself. And how to live it courageously too. He who has no fear of death will certainly have no fear of life. Mrs. Stanford's faith in the other life was deep and abiding. How could it be otherwise? It was the beautiful and perfect fruit of the life she had lived. The world is better because she lived. So exalted was her character, so illustrious her achievements in the cause of higher education, so noble and unselfish her ideals and ambitions, that life gives her up reluctantly and death is proud to take her. But death cannot take from the American people the memory of what she was and of what she did. Men and women come and go; they alone live forever in human hearts who truly love and serve their fellows.

Late one afternoon last summer I stood upon the shore of the Pacific coast with which the name and life work of Mrs. Stanford will be forever associated, and as I watched the sun sink beneath the ocean horizon and the glowing twilight blend into darkness, I turned away with sadness; it seemed to me as if the orb of day had disappeared never to return. But the coming morning brought it back again in resplendent glory and beauty, giving strength and vitality to a slumbering earth, so may we not hope that in the bright morning of the resurrection we shall meet again this noble woman whose earthly life went out so suddenly in our midst. Strengthened by Christian faith, calm in the thought of accomplished life-work, consoled by the vision of eternal life, this beloved soul has passed into the shadow of mortality followed by a multitude of grieving eyes. And behold I heard a voice from heaven which said, "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord; for their works do follow them, and it is forever well with them." Though dead, this immortality, this endless life in human hearts and history, is the supreme, the sovereign reward of this elect lady.

At the conclusion of the address, Bishop Restarick read the burial prayers of the Episcopal Church and the service in the church concluded with the hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light," by the choir.

After the service the procession formed on Beretania street and headed by the police, made its way through Beretania and Fort streets, between two lines of sympathetic and reverent spectators. Besides those mentioned above, the long line included the students of the Kamehameha Schools and Mills Institute, Detectives Callahan and Reynolds, members of the Senate and House, Native Sons of California, graduates of Stanford University and hundreds of citizens of Honolulu. A number of stores closed while the sad procession passed by, and numerous flags were half-masted through the town.

A large space had been reserved on the Oceanic wharf for those who would participate in the final services and a squad of police attended to the successful and orderly arrangements. The port hole of the Alameda through which the casket was to be transferred into the mortuary chamber was draped in black with a tasteful decoration of violets. A record breaking crowd was present on the wharf but was kept at a distance by a rope stretched across the shed and guarded by the police. The floral offerings had been arranged on the dock near the entrance to the vessel and no one was allowed there except the officials, the clergy, the mourners, the choir and representatives of the press.

The cortege was received at the entrance of the Oceanic wharf by High Sheriff Henry in full uniform, Deputy High Sheriff Rawlins, Captain Dowdell of the Alameda and Wharf Superintendent Whitney of the Oceanic Steamship Company. The casket surrounded by the pallbearers and guard of honor was laid upon a table and the final service begun. Bishop Restarick read the last prayers, the double quartette sang the hymn, "Hark, Hark My Soul Angelle Songs Are Swelling," eight stalwart policemen lifted the casket and all that is mortal of Jane Leland Stanford was carried across a plank into the hold of the Alameda.

ALAMEDA DEPARTURE

Attended by the lingering echoes of sacred songs, the Alameda sailed at 10:05 this morning for San Francisco and with her went the flower-decked bier that contained the body of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford. The vessel went slowly out of the harbor, as if even the conveying tug knew the sad story whose final chapter here ends with the going of the Alameda.

On the deck of the Alameda stood Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of the university so well and generously supported by the woman whose remains he was accompanying to her last resting place. He was an impressive figure, standing there tall and erect, and though hands were waved to him from the dock he responded only with an inclination of NEW SEASON BATISTES, 30 in. Wide, 12 1-2c yard. ALL CHOICE DESIGNS.

Elaborate preparations had been made on board the Alameda for the reception and conveyance of Mrs. Stanford's body. In a specially-built chamber fifteen feet square, the body lies in state, the bier covered with flowers, and above all lying a magnificent wreath of leis the tribute of Hawaii. The walls around are draped in deep mourning. Black and purple bands stretch from floor to ceiling, tied with knots of crape and fastened with bunches of purple violets. Four electric fans are constantly in motion and night and day the body is guarded by three details from the ship's crew.

On arrival in San Francisco the body will be as closely guarded as now, until turned over to the proper authorities.

The Alameda besides carrying Mrs. Stanford's effects, has aboard under guard and insured the package of jewelry valued at $50,000, the death mask made here, and the box containing the vital organs taken from the body.

The last meeting of the Ancient Order of Hibernians before the St. Patrick's Day celebration will be held this evening at the Catholic Club rooms. Final arrangements will be made and a large attendance of members is requested.

POLICE ARE SATISFIED. Deputy High Sheriff Rawlins did not go to San Francisco on the Alameda this morning. In answer to a question High Sheriff Henry stated that notwithstanding all unfavorable criticisms he felt conscious that the Police Department had done its duty in connection with the Stanford case and was no longer directly concerned with it. The murder, if murder was committed, was done in San Francisco and it is up to the police authorities of that city now to proceed with the case if they feel so disposed.
