Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party, But established for the benefit of all.

SATURDAY, NOV. 8, 1890.

Mr. Gladstone says the American Tariff is, in his eyes, a "deplorable error." This is just what Mr. Blaine and the most of the Americans seem to think of the English policy of free-trade, as supported by Mr. Gladstone. Its strange how great nations, like great men, differ in guarding the antics of the nimble penny.

The first of October was a notable day in Germany. In February last the restrictive laws on the Socialist Democrats were abrogated, by the defeat on third reading of the bill extending their term further from Oct. 1.

The laws were in force from 1878 under several renewals. During their operation the Socialists maintained a highly developed secret organization, also a propaganda that completely baffled the finest detective service. The law had the effect of driving out all time-serving adherents from the party, and consolidating those who were earnest in its principles into an organization of impregnable fidelity.

Thus the date of the abolition of the laws witnessed a society of over a million members, with a very largely increased representation in the new parliament. Moreover, Emperor William has been showing marked sympathy for the young and resolute party. He has invited one of its leaders to drink beer with him, and he has declared, in one of those striking sentences of his, that he is prepared to honor the man who will assist him to a just settlement of the labor question, and crush all who oppose him in the effort to better the condition of the working classes.

The abolition of the restrictive laws has given Germany a freedom of the press almost equal to that enjoyed in America.

As usual, when "the editors" of the Advertiser find they cannot play a game of bluff on either the public or their patrons, they declare the unanswerable facts brought against them, out of their own columns and office books, to be "blackguardism" and, making a valor of "cowardly discretion," withdraw behind a third statement concerning their daily circulation, which every employee of the Advertiser office and the public generally knows to be a base and unmitigated falsehood.

But the Advertiser is as always thoroughly inconsistent in every article it prints in its own defense. Listen: Wednesday: "But if they shall again be uttered, this paper [the Advertiser] * * * will give them [threats of Bush and Wilson] the benefit of a circulation of 2,500 issues." Friday: "We [the Advertiser] printed during the month of October 30,366 of the Daily Pacific Commercial Advertiser, or an average of 1,120 copies per day." (The patrons of the Advertiser will notice the difference between 2,500 daily circulation and 1,120 daily circulation). Saturday: " * * * to-day's edition [of the Advertiser] being 1200 copies, as is usual on Saturdays."

Yesterday it was claimed the average daily circulation was the same number (1,200) in round figures, now it is only 1,200 copies on Saturdays. As before stated the bona fide circulation of the Advertiser, is about 700 copies daily, as the books of the office and employees will testify if put under oath; and if 1,200 copies were printed this morning it is another piece of bluff,—the papers will be either distributed gratis or the patrons of the Advertiser will find the bulk of them stored away under the office counter on next Monday morning.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

As per previous announcement the Honolulu Athletic Association met last evening and transacted some important business pertaining to apparatus, apartments, etc. The Association has already secured a lease on the Rifles' Armory on Beretania street, where they have lately made numerous improvements and alterations for the convenience and better accommodation of the Association.

A complete athletic apparatus is to be obtained at once and all portions which cannot be made at home will be bought by the club leader, Mr. Jones, who expects to go to San Francisco therefor by the next steamer. The first instalment of apparatus, in the shape of dumbbells, will be presented to the Association by the Union Iron Works Company.

During the evening the following new members were elected: Messrs. C. L. Hopkins, Geo. E. Smithies, Hugh Gunn, J. A. Mehrens, J. J. Egan, A. P. Peterson and H. M. Dow.

The Association expect to have their new quarters ready for occupation early next week and as soon as possible arrangements will be made to give some public exhibitions in the near future either by transient or home talent or by both.

The Athletic Association is destined to be one of the features of Honolulu sports hereafter, as it certainly deserves to be, and the Bulletin, to keep abreast with the times, is now making arrangements to have an athletic column published weekly, which will be edited by a noted all-round-athlete of the United States, assisted by home talent with local notes and comments.

Auction Sales by James F. Morgan.

AUCTION SALE OF Property at Pearl City

By order of the OAHU RAILWAY & LAND CO. I will sell at Public Auction at Pearl City,

On SATURDAY, November 29th,

AT 2 O'CLOCK P. M.

A limited number of those desirable

Building Lots at Pearl City

The Company have expended $20,000 to procure an ample supply of pure mountain water, resulting in the completion of two large Reservoirs with storage of nearly 2,000,000 gallons.

From a distributing Reservoir with a capacity of 700,000 gallons, at an elevation of 100 feet above sea level, water has been laid along Lehua Avenue to the Pearl City Depot in a 6-inch Cast Iron Pipe, from which water will be supplied by the Company at Government rates.

The Company will bind itself in the Deeds to carry purchasers and their families and servants by rail between

Honolulu & Pearl City

At 1 Cent Per Mile, 2d Class

AND

1-2 Cents Per Mile, 1st Class,

During a term of 9 years from the date of purchase.

These special Rates of Fare will be transferable with the property during the term named in the Original Deed. Trains will always be run for reasonable accommodation of residents at Pearl City. Trains will reach Honolulu at 6:45 and 8 or 8:45 and 11:50 a. m., leave Honolulu for Pearl City and way Stations at 8:15 a. m. and 1:45 and 4 to 4:30 and 5:15 to 5:30 p. m., subject however to such changes as may be from time to time found necessary for the convenience of the public or business interests of the company. Evening Trains will also be run whenever there is a reasonable demand.

BEAUTIFUL VIEW!

Those desiring lots where the most charming view can be had from the veranda of cottage or mansion, can obtain lots fronting on Lehua, Maile or Woodlawn Avenues; this is a most charming location for residences, as all agree who have taken the trouble to walk up Lehua Avenue above the Ewa Court House. As a health resort, a better situation cannot be found. To assist settlers, the following easy terms are offered:

One-Third in Cash, One-Third in 3 years, One-Third in 5 years,

With Interest at 7 Per Cent.

This making it possible for the most limited means to procure a fine healthy residence. Distance is annihilated by railway communication, so that people living at Pearl City will reach Honolulu in less time than it takes to come from Waikiki by the ordinary means of travel, while the expense for a person will not be more than five cents per day greater than the present cost of travel to Waikiki by Tramway.

Now is your time to procure

Homestead & Business Lots at PEARL CITY

At Prices lower than they can ever be bought in the future.

Don't Let Your Opportunity Slip

If you do you will live to quote the "hind sight" sayings we so often hear from people who had a chance to buy the whole of Kuuikohala Plains for a song, but they didn't! A word to the wise is sufficient.

Maps of the Lots can be seen at the offices of the Pacific Hardware Co., Hawaiian News Co., and T. G. Thurum's, and at my Salesroom, Honolulu, where all further information can be obtained.

THE LEGISLATURE.

124TH DAY. SATURDAY, NOV. 8.

The House had a quorum at 10:15.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES. Noble Macfarlane presented the report of the select committee on the lease of harbor property to the Oahu Railway and Land Company.

On the strength of expert testimony they condemn the granting of the lease by the late Government. The surrender of revenue-producing property and the damage to the harbor from the improvements of the company are cited, and the committee have come to the conclusion of the great importance of immediately stopping all infillings by the O. R. & L. Co. on the leased premises and of the necessity of the Minister of Interior immediately proceeding to the cancellation of the lease for the following specific reasons among others:

1. Under no consideration should the Government give up the rights and privileges in, or the immediate control over, any part or portion of the deep water front in the harbor, and yield gratuitously large revenues to be derived by the Government therefrom.

2. The law under which the lease was made, does not contemplate the relinquishment of valuable terminal franchises of Government property to railroads, which will not only cut off future revenues but embarrass our absolute necessities in harbor improvements.

3. The obstructions which will necessarily be built up in the harbor under the terms of this lease, must be avoided in the public interest.

4. The lease will cause heavy expenditure in the Customs department and will render more difficult and much more expensive the control of, and means to prevent smuggling, as the testimony taken clearly and amply shows.

5. The lease will practically prevent the construction of Government wharves on the west side of Honolulu Harbor, which is the only available and convenient place for such public works.

6. The rent provided for in the lease is entirely inadequate. Your Committee, therefore, beg to recommend to this Legislature that the Cabinet be directed to take steps to cancel the lease on the best possible terms and conditions, which can now be made in the interest of this Government, by immediately giving notice as by the terms of said lease provided.

In conclusion your committee wish to again state that the above report is based entirely upon competent and reliable expert evidence given by disinterested parties, well known in the community; and that our conclusions have only been reached after very careful consideration of all the facts in the case made by all the members of your committee.

Respectfully submitted, E. MULLER, H. A. WIDEMANN, E. C. MACFARLANE, H. P. BALDWIN, J. MARSDEN.

Rep. Brown said no doubt the conclusions of the committee were correct, but the Government was in an unfortunate position. The Appropriation Bill having become law the Cabinet has no money to pay for the improvements.

Noble Widemann said they could pass a new Appropriation Bill—double the other one.

Rep. Brown, continuing, said the Bishop Estate had a Royal Patent on the property and in fact the whole harbor.

Noble Widemann held that they could make a new Appropriation Bill. This matter had nothing to do with the Bishop Estate, whose claim had been asleep certainly for over twenty years. The claim at all events only covered a small portion of the harbor. Mr. Bishop had never seen fit to make a claim, and what he did not see fit to claim was not worth anything.

Noble Muller said the committee did not go into the legal phase of the question, as the House had refused to pay for legal advice to them, and they did not care to consult the Attorney-General because he might have to take the matter up later. The lease said "that piece of land covered by water," and he did not think any part of the harbor could be called land any more than the Molokai channel.

Noble Baldwin thought there would be no trouble, as the company was willing to give up the property. Noble Widemann held that the Minister of the Interior had power, without a law being enacted, to terminate the lease.

Noble Macfarlane thought that whatever method was to be adopted, the House should take steps to have the required notice given. He did not think it was necessary to take extreme measures, although he believed the company had forfeited its lease, because the lease required a monthly statement of improvements.

Noble Phillips understood that one of the chief grounds of complaint was the damage done to the harbor, therefore wanted to know how this was to be remedied by the Government taking over the property. Would the Government demolish the wharf?

Noble Macfarlane said that was not the intention, but the lease gave away the only site for a wharf on the west side of the harbor.

Noble J. M. Horner said they had here an important report and the whole matter had better be turned over to the Cabinet.

The report was adopted.

RESOLUTIONS. Noble Phillips presented a resolution that the claim of Skinner & Co. on account of Portuguese immigrants by the Thomas Bell be taken from the table and given to a select committee.

Rep. Brown did not believe in turning the Legislature into a court of law. The firm had not exhausted its legal recourse.

Minister Peterson said several matters had been considered by the House, which had not exhausted the remedies of the courts. A committee should be able to deal with the case in question as well as a jury.

The resolution passed, and the President referred the claim to Messrs. Phillips, Hind, Hookano, G. N. Wilcox and McCarthy.

Noble J. M. Horner presented a resolution, that it is hereby declared that when the item for carrying freight, mail, etc., from Hawaii to California (Lalo), $15,000, was passed by the House it was understood, both by those who voted for and those who voted against the item, that such item applied and was intended to apply to San Diego in Southern California and not to any portion of Lower California or any place in the Republic of Mexico. He moved that the resolution do pass, also moved the previous question.

Noble Macfarlane thought that, in all decency, when the hon. Noble tried to spring a question like this on the House, he should not add to his offense an attempt to shut off discussion.

Noble Marsden held that the previous question was out of order, as a member could not make two motions at once.

Noble Macfarlane said that was all right; he just wanted to characterize the conduct of the hon. Noble. An agent of that company had been lobbying there the last three days.

Noble Phillips—That's so. The President ruled that a member could move the previous question with a resolution, but the House did not need to pass it.

Rep. Lucas objected to railroading a thing through in the way attempted. The previous question lost.

Rep. Lucas moved that the resolution be indefinitely postponed.

BIG CONTRACT. The Union Iron Works of Honolulu signed a contract to-day, to make a complete diffusion plant for the Ewa Plantation Company. Everything will be made at the works, and the price is $203,000. This is probably the largest contract ever made for mechanical work in the Kingdom.

THE TOWER YOU DO NOT HAVE TO CLIMB AND THE WIND-MILL THAT RUNS WHEN ALL OTHERS STAND STILL

THE EVER LASTING STEEL ARMOTOR—give us a call or drop a postal card and we will send a completely illustrated matter showing every phase of wind-mill work and construction, including the geared outfit on bars, which does the work of four horses for the price of one.

For Irrigation, 8 Compared with 12. The 8-ft. Armotor you sent me last year has given good satisfaction and has done more than you claimed it would do. I attached a 5-in. lift pump to it and it will pump water from a 100-ft. well to a 100-ft. tank and do so easily. Several gentlemen from Stockton came to look at my mill. They had seen one there pumping from a tub and they did not think it was strong enough to pump from a deep well, but when they saw mine in a 60-ft. well they were convinced of its power and they much pleased with it. My Armotor power and they much pleased with it. My Armotor power and they much pleased with it.

Same Work, Same Wells, 8 Equals 12. I am entirely satisfied with the 8-ft. Armotor, as it is doing the same work the 12-ft. is doing and both with same advantages and same depth of wells. Oxnarda, Cal., Nov. 6, 1890. H. H. HARRISON.

Regulates Well. I pump water for about 100 head of cattle with my 8-ft. wheel. It runs lighter than any mill I ever saw. Requires well and gives no work to the pump. Dixon, Cal., Feb. 15, 1890. S. O. LITTLE.

Less Wind, More Water. With the Armotor there is absolute no breaking of the pump. It runs with much less wind than 12-ft. wheels of other makes, and hence will pump more water. Yolo, Cal., Feb. 15, 1890. J. A. T. HALL.

Supplies House and Garden. My Armotor supplies water for the house and garden. It regulates all rights, runs better in light than any mill I have ever seen. It does not require any oil. It is the best mill I have ever seen. San Francisco, Nov. 15, 1890. Feb 5-90

THE LEGISLATURE.

129th DAY.

FRIDAY, NOV. 7.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Committee of the whole resumed at 1:37, the third subdivision of Sec. 1 of the labor bill pending, as follows:

Third. That such bearer shall not engage in any other occupation than that of agricultural labor.

Rep. Brown moved to add: "Provided that the term 'agricultural laborer' shall be held to include laborer in sugar mills, rice mills and coffee mills, and all labor incident thereto."

Rep. Bush held that this provision was an infringement of the liberty of the individual. No matter if the laborer consented to it before leaving China, the moment he landed in this country he was accorded personal liberty under our Constitution. The Supreme Court seemed to evade the question on which this House wanted to be instructed. He was there pledged to protect the interests of the working classes as well as of the wealthy. This measure would bring relief to the planters, but he was convinced that, when the contracts expired, the Chinese laborers could not be deported without violation of our Constitution. He could not see that the entry of Chinese was a detriment to the natives so far as labor was concerned, but their unrestricted admission was a menace to the independence of the kingdom. In answer to a question by Noble J. M. Horner, as to whether the laborer could not be deported just before the contract was out, he said the laborer was not bound to his master but to his contract. He moved that the subdivision be indefinitely postponed.

Noble Widemann said the hon. member for Koolapoko had built a pretty structure, but his argument did not support his conclusions. He (Noble W.) wanted to know whether our Constitution was operative in China. He did not think it was. Why should not invite Chinese to come, if they were willing to come under the conditions we imposed, he could not understand. This bill was for the protection of Hawaiians in their own country to do the work for which the Chinese were wanted. This country was a Paradise for the Chinese, and this bill proposed to give them a taste of it, and then send them back if they did not renew their contracts. The necessity was upon us and we had to make the best of it.

The subdivision was numbered "Second" and passed as amended by Rep. Brown.

Fourth. That if such person shall be found out of employment at any time during such term or engaged in any other employment than that of agricultural laborer or shall be found in this Kingdom after the expiration of such term, he may thereupon be arrested and held in custody until an opportunity occurs to return him to China.

Changed to "Third" and passed. Fifth. That one-fourth of the money due to such person as compensation for work done shall be retained by the employer each month and forwarded by him to the Board of Immigration, to be by it deposited in the Treasury of the Kingdom as a special deposit, subject to the order of the President of the Board of Immigration, and to be returned by the said Board to such person upon his leaving the Kingdom. Provided, however, that such retention and deposit shall cease, whenever the sum to the credit of any one laborer shall amount to the sum of seventy-five dollars. The said Board shall have the authority to pay the return passage of such person out of such sums so deposited. If such person shall enter into any other employment than that of agricultural laborer or shall desert his employer, such money so deposited may be forfeited to the Hawaiian Government.

Noble Baldwin moved to strike out the words, "such money so deposited may be forfeited to the Hawaiian Government," and insert the following: "or should the employer or person giving the bond provided for in Sec. 2 of this Act be compelled for any cause to pay the penalty prescribed by such bond, by reason of the failure to comply with the terms thereof, that then the sum so deposited shall be returned by the Board of Immigration to the principal or surety of said bond so paying said penalty." He considered it was only fair to the planter that, if the laborer ran away and the planter had to pay the bond, the planter should get that money.

Noble Widemann considered the bond a farce. The planter could not get a man out of the country unless the Government helped him. Noble Muller said a deposit of $75 was required from the laborer, while his passage only cost $60. That was a premium of $15 on runaway Chinamen to the planter. If this amendment passed he should vote for the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Noble Macfarlane said that although he was on the committee that submitted this bill, he was never quite satisfied with it. While those who desired Chinese restriction were willing to meet the planters half-way, there was a disposition on the part of the planters to strike out every restriction in the bill. He did not at all like the attitude assumed by the planting classes in the House. The mechanic and working classes were entitled to protection from Chinese competition, and they had made concessions in all reason to enable the planters to obtain a supply of labor. The question was an industrial one and should be discussed as such without party feeling. But it must not be understood that this view absolves the legislator in any way from his pledges made to the working classes. At all hazards and in all events the material interests of Hawaii cannot excuse political perfidy; and especially at this time and in this place where so many faithless promises have been made to the workingmen and broken afterwards in the interests of one class. But the industrial feature of the question in many cases had been used as a cover by the very class that wanted to run everything in their own interests. If party feeling had been excited on this question the planters had themselves to thank, for during the past three years when they had things all their own way they disregarded the just and reasonable demands of the working classes. If now the planters labor under a disadvantage in the solution and settlement of the labor problem, let them ascribe it to the fact that their interests have been made paramount at all times, and have crowded out of consideration the claims of everybody else. If now the planters whose interests I personally claim should be protected, and themselves encountered by opposition to their demands upon this Legislature—if they find their friends among the working classes loath to assist them, may it not be ascribed to the position they have taken during the last two sessions, where they had the upper hand; a position of direct antagonism to the working classes and everybody else except their own class, and of disregard of all interests except their own? But solving this question practically and at the same time protecting free labor, the industries of Hawaii need not be handicapped. The planters must meet those who are opposed to making a Chinese colony out of this Kingdom, at least half way, and must pledge themselves faithfully and honestly to cooperate with us in bringing about a satisfactory result. Such result can be satisfactory only if the further admission of Chinese is made under such restrictions and such guarantees, that the laborer admitted shall confine himself solely to the work and purpose for which he is brought here. How these guarantees are obtained is immaterial, but they must be valid and not bogus. Personally I am inclined to the opinion that such guarantees can be obtained only by a convention with the Chinese Government. The National Reform Party and the present administration are both responsible to see that these guarantees are not empty shadows. If a convention cannot be made, or if delay in making it is disastrous to the planting interests, let the performance of the restrictive conditions be secured by other means suggested; but a convention is the safest, and removes the most serious doubts against the carrying out of the restriction. He would have something to say on the question of the bond, but, in the meantime, if this provision was nullified by the amendment, he should vote for the indefinite postponement of the bill, because there was no certainty that when the House reached the bond clause, they would agree to the amount of the bond—in this case Noble Baldwin's amendment could not be entertained.

Rep. Brown was not elected on any pledge to any party and was therefore enabled to speak with freedom. He held that when the planter paid his own bond on account of the violation of terms by the laborer, if there was any money on deposit from the laborer it was nothing but right that the planter should get it.

Noble Widemann, in reply to a remark made by Noble Macfarlane, denied that he was actuated by self-interest in anything he said or did in the House. The hon. Noble had talked big of things about which he knew nothing, in regard to bills before the last Legislature. The hon. Noble would fine the planter and turn the Chinaman loose. He (Noble W.) had done all he could, single-handed as he was, in killing the bond business last session. He would ask the hon. Noble from Maui to withdraw his amendment, and then they would strike out the bond.

Noble McCarthy moved that when the committee rise it recommend the indefinite postponement of both bills. For several years there had been a strong demand on the part of the working classes for relief from ruinous Chinese competition. These classes were willing to let the planter have all the labor he needed, only under such restrictions as would prevent the industrial classes from being driven out by Chinese. This bill was drawn up with that object, but, whenever the planters came to believe that they had a majority and could carry anything, they began at the first to have every restriction struck out.

Noble Widemann said that if the bill made the planter pay so much to the Government he had not a word to say, but he could not vote to lay a burden on the planter of conditions that he could not fulfill.

Noble J. M. Horner asked who were the industrial classes. The planters constituted nine-tenths of the industrial classes of this country. Yet they heard members of this House—a Representative over there, an hon. Noble over there, another hon. Noble over there—talk about the planters being opposed to the industrial classes. Men who perhaps never did a day's work in their lives calling themselves representatives of the working classes!

Noble McCarthy called the hon. Noble to order, as his remarks were insulting. He insinuates that I am not fit to represent the workingmen.

Noble Horner—That is just what I say.

The Chairman asked the hon. Noble to confine himself to the question before the House. He had nothing to do with those who represented the working classes.

Noble Horner said he would try to obey the Chair. If Noble Widemann called himself a representative of the workingmen he would bow to him, or to Noble Hind, or Noble Wilcox, or Noble Baldwin. These were the industrial classes of the country who produced its wealth.

Noble Baldwin would withdraw his amendment owing to the feeling developed, but he should move for striking out the bond. He was surprised at the feeling shown. The object of this bill was as much in the interest of the workingmen represented by Noble McCarthy as in that of the planters.

Noble Macfarlane held that the bond was the essential part of the bill. The planters had no objection to laying a bond on a Chinese syndicate and should not object to assuming the same thing themselves. He wished to protest against the insulting language of Noble Horner. Perhaps he had not done as much physical toil as the hon. Noble—such as ploughing, digging potatoes, etc.—but while listening to his insulting and vulgar language, his boasting of what "he ain't agoing" to do, one could not help regretting that he had not spared some time from the soil for the benefit of his own education. If he had he would have been on better terms of intimacy with the English language, and would not be convulsing this House with his private system of grammar. This bill proposed to introduce Chinese in unlimited numbers and without restrictions as to their occupation in this country. It could not be acceptable to the working people. The present unsatisfactory state of affairs was due to the shirking of responsibility by the late Government, which was a planters' administration. The National Reform Party was prepared to meet the planters halfway, but must insist on retaining the reasonable restrictions in the bill.

Noble Muller said that if the bond was struck out he should have to move the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Noble Widemann referred to the "argument of threats" and intimated that if the bond went in he should move for the indefinite postponement of the bill.

The Section was numbered "Fourth" and passed as in the bill. Sixth. That the said bearer shall not be entitled to exercise the rights of an Hawaiian citizen as to the term of residence or employment while in the Hawaiian Kingdom, but shall be restricted to the term and employment named in such permit. Changed to "Fifth" and passed. The section as amended passed.

Noble Macfarlane moved to insert a new section as "Sec. 2. Not more than four thousand Chinese shall be permitted to enter the Kingdom under the provisions of this Act." He believed this number would supply the immediate needs of the planters.

Noble Baldwin was hopeful of having a convention with China. While it was doubtful if four thousand would be admitted under this law, it might be unwise to place this limit on the number. For his part he preferred almost any other labor to Chinese, but some planters preferred Chinese. He would move, if they were to adopt a limit, that it be 500.

Noble Macfarlane accepted the amendment. Rep. Brown said to place a limit might induce the Chinese syndicate to dictate terms.

Noble Macfarlane's only object was to prevent an overwhelming influx of Chinese. He was willing, however, to leave it to the Cabinet, which knew the sentiment of the country and would withdraw his motion. He was disposed to assist the planters in every way, recognizing that it would be disastrous to their interests to place any obstacles in their way to prevent their getting labor, particularly at this time. He admitted that there was force in Rep. Brown's argument that if a limitation was put upon the number of Chinese to be introduced at this time, it would defeat one of the objects of the planters and that was to reduce the price of labor from the high rates now being paid to Chinese, viz: $25 to $30 per month. He would therefore put the responsibility on the Cabinet and trust to them to act in good faith—if they did not they would have to meet the consequence later.

Rep. Lucas renewed the motion but put the limit at three thousand.

Noble W. Y. Horner considered that the oath required of the planters as to the number he needed, was a sufficient limitation.

Rep. Bush moved to make it five thousand.

Noble Widemann thought 5000 was more than sufficient. Chinamen were not imported here for the fun of it. The point was, however, that a limit would cause dictation of the terms of pay.

Noble Baldwin considered this a very important point. No more laborers would be imported than were needed.

Rep. Brown pointed out that the second industry of the Kingdom—rice—was suffering from the same scarcity of labor as sugar.

Noble Macfarlane assented to the force of the argument against a limit. He was in favor of leaving the matter in the hands of the Cabinet.

The amendment was lost.

Section 3. Before issuing the special residence permits as hereinbefore provided, the Minister of Foreign Affairs shall require of the persons or parties applying for the same to execute and deliver a bond to him for the use and benefit of the Hawaiian Government, with one or more sureties in the penal sum of $200 in the blank.

Noble Muller moved to insert the following as a substitute for the section:

Sec. 3. The Board of Immigration shall allow all allotments of laborers introduced for the different agricultural industries before named to be taken away from the Immigration Depot, upon the employers or their legalized agents, with the employee, signing a contract for the faithful fulfillment of the stipulations therein contained. To wit: The return of all such laborers to their own country after the expiration of their contract service time, or the sending away of a substitute in the place of said contract laborer if he be missing and not dead. He maintained that a contract was a practicable security, which was not the case with a bond.

Rep. Brown moved that the section pass as in the bill, excepting with the penal sum at $100, and the following addition, "except as to deportation from the country."

Noble Muller moved the following amendment: "Except as to deportation from the country, but that he will surrender such laborer to the Government at the expiration of the special residence permit." He was willing to leave the amount of the bond to the House.

Noble Marsden moved to strike out all the words after "kingdom."

Noble Widemann said he was against the bill in toto, but, in order that this bond business could be discussed coolly and not bungled, he moved that the committee rise sit again to-morrow. Carried.

Rep. Paehole presented the report of the committee of the whole, which was accepted.

The House adjourned at 4 o'clock.

REUTER'S SYRUP

No. 2

The hereditary blood poison of scrofula develops in the delicate tissues of the brain, mental weakness and infirmities, idiosyncrasy. It enlarges the glands of the throat, impairs the sense of smell and taste, or breaks into consuming ulcers on the neck. It destroys the lungs, or fills them with tuberculous abscesses. It eats away the coating of the stomach, enlarges the liver, clogs the kidneys, creates constipation and induces piles. No human agency can so speedily, permanently and economically cleanse the blood of scrofulous poison, clear the complexion and skin, scalp and blood, as Reuter's Syrup No. 2, the great blood purifier.
