PRATT SUES HOLLOWAY

LAND COMMISSIONER AND SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS DISAGREE OVER A LAW QUESTION, WITH THE ATTORNEY GENERAL ON THE SUPERINTENDENTS' SIDE AND THE CASE IS TAKEN BEFORE SUPREME COURT.

Land Commissioner Pratt and Superintendent Holloway have been unable to agree as to their respective powers in connection with Public lands in and about Honolulu, even after submitting their differences to the attorney general, and as a result Pratt this morning filed a proceeding in the Supreme Court against Holloway to secure a settlement of the points involved and, if the court so rules, to prevent Holloway from disposing of certain lots. Pratt is represented by Thompson and Clemons, while Attorney General E. C. Peters and Deputy Milverton appear for the superintendent of public works. The agreed statement of facts in the case sets forth that Holloway, under the Organic Act and other laws, claims the control and management of certain tracts of land, on the ground that they come under the classification of "city lots," whereas Pratt claims that Holloway does not control them at all except to use them for public purposes.

The Acme of Horror

The mainland papers have been filled with marvellous stories of what happened in San Francisco at the time of the earthquake and following. As a rule, the farther the narrator was away from San Francisco, at the time he told his story, the more marvellous it was. This is especially true of the stories of ghouls and looters, and shootings by the soldiery. Indeed, it almost seems that all the people who saw looting and looters shot for looting, especially if there were anything astonishing or dramatic in the incidents, left San Francisco, which may account for the fact that there are so few stories of this kind narrated in San Francisco or in the San Francisco papers. Because, in San Francisco, the narrators might be confronted with other witnesses, or be called on to prove their stories.

But of all these tales of terror so far discovered in the mainland papers, it is believed that the following surpasses all others. The man who saw the incident is a Salt Lake man and he did not tell about it until he got to Los Angeles. Here it is as given in a mainland paper:

But most ghastly of all is the statement by Willis Ames, a Salt Lake man, who escaped to Los Angeles. He says: "While I was walking about the streets I saw man after man shot down by the troops. Most of these were ghouls. One man made the troopers believe that one of the dead bodies lying on a pile of rocks was his mother and he was permitted to go up to the body. Apparently overcome by grief, he threw himself across the corpse. In another instant the soldiers discovered that he was chewing the diamond earrings from the ears of the dead woman. 'Here is where you get what is coming to you,' said one of the soldiers, and with that he put a bullet through the ghoul. The diamonds were found in the man's mouth afterward."

ALAMEDA CREW WERE PAID OFF IN HONOLULU

IT WAS NOT CONVENIENT TO PAY OFF MEN ON THE ARRIVAL AT SAN FRANCISCO LAST TRIP SO THE CREW GOT DUE BILLS WHICH WERE PROMPTLY HONORED BY LOCAL OFFICE OF THE COMPANY.

For probably the first time in the history of the company a crew of the Oceanic fleet was paid off in Honolulu. This occurred with the crew of the S. S. Alameda last week and the disaster in San Francisco was responsible for the change.

Under ordinary circumstances the crew of the vessel would have been paid off at San Francisco on the arrival of the vessel from this port last month, but when the vessel reached San Francisco it was to find the city in ashes and no money to be had with which to pay the crew off. The crew were given due bills for their wages and these bills were kept by them until they returned to Honolulu last Saturday when the bills were all cashed at the office of W. G. Irwin and Company the local agents of the Oceanic S. S. Company. Undoubtedly the normal conditions so far as the payment of help is concerned will prevail when the vessel returns to San Francisco next week and the crew will probably secure their money as usual.

EARTHQUAKE SUNK TWO STEAMERS IN SHIP YARD

THE TWO NEW STEAMERS OF THE AMERICAN-HAWAIIAN LINE UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT THE UNION IRON WORKS, WERE SO BADLY DAMAGED THAT THEY WILL HAVE TO BE ENTIRELY REBUILT.

News from San Francisco by mail is to the effect that very serious damage was done to four vessels at the Union Iron Works by the earthquake. Two vessels were sunk and two large steamers under the course of construction, will have to be rebuilt. The vessels that will have to be rebuilt are the two new 10,000 ton boats of the American-Hawaiian Company. Both of these boats were on the ways in the course of construction. Both were lifted up 5 feet and then toppled over by the force of the earthquake. The result is that they will have to be taken apart and the work of rebuilding them have to be started again. Fortunately the construction of the two vessels had not progressed very far, so the loss will not be so extensive as had the construction been farther along. The accident will necessitate a delay in all likelihood, in the delivery of the two steamers.

DEATHS OF A MONTH

The total number of deaths in Honolulu during the month of April was 83. Of these 53 were of males and 30 of females. The annual death rate per 1000 of population was 28.865. There were 30 more deaths this April than there were a year ago. There were 58 births reported and 57 marriages. There were fourteen deaths from tuberculosis, and thirteen from pneumonia. In all there were 1 death from diseases of the respiratory organs; 18 from constitutional diseases; 12 from febrile diseases; 9 from diseases of the nervous system; 8 from diseases of the digestive system; 7 from diseases of the circulatory system; 4 from developmental diseases; and 2 suicides. There were 6 deaths from heart disease and 3 from cancer. Of the deaths, 35 are of Hawaiians; 16 of Japanese; 13 of Chinese; 6 of Americans; 3 of British; 3 of Germans; 3 of part-Hawaiians; 1 Porto Rican; and 8 of other nationalities.

READY FOR REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN

CHAIRMAN HUSTACE DECIDES TO CALL A MEETING OF REPUBLICAN LEADERS TO DISCUSS PREPARATIONS FOR THE CAMPAIGN—A MOVE TO COMBINE THE PARTY INFLUENCES FOR NOMINATIONS OF GOOD CANDIDATES.

Charles Hustace, chairman of the Republican County Committee, will issue a call next week for a gathering of presidents of precinct clubs and other leaders of the party, for the purpose of discussing the coming campaign and starting the party at work. It is proposed to hold the meeting a week from next Saturday night at the party headquarters on Fort street. "It is not too soon to begin the work of preparing for the campaign," said Hustace, who has recently taken the chairmanship and has all along been in favor of a strenuous fight. "What we want to do is to get together the best men for the good of the next County government, and line up the forces in favor of good nominees. We want good candidates on the Republican ticket all through, and I believe the time has come to work for them. I shall have a lot of calls printed and shall send them, not only to the presidents of precinct clubs, but also to others, and I hope many will come and discuss plans for the work to be done. It is getting to be time the Republican began work and formed their organization for the campaign that is coming." Hustace's call will be the first step taken by the party organization here to get ready for the campaign. Some private cliques have been at work quite a while, notably those who are making Kuhio's fight for renomination and several men anxious to be elected to various offices. The call of Hustace is something in the nature of an effort to consolidate and organize the "good government" element within the party. Hustace declares it is up to the party men to make the fight within the party for suitable nominations and he urges the opening of the fight without delay.

ALAMEDA INSURANCE ADJUSTMENTS LOST

Among other things that were lost in the San Francisco fire were the insurance adjustments made of the loss occasioned by the going on the rocks by the steamer Alameda on September 30, 1905. The adjustments were made by Johnson and Higgins and related to the difference amounts lost by the business houses who had shipments of freight on the vessel. Now that the records are burned it will be a very difficult matter to settle the loss.

FRASER TO AZORES

E. A. Fraser will join E. R. Stackable in San Francisco and will accompany him to the Azores. If things go as expected Fraser will remain in Europe after Stackable returns. Fraser is the man who has had charge of the Hawaiian relief bureau in San Francisco. He is well known here as a business man. Stackable was the man chosen by the Board of Immigration to go to the Azores to obtain laborers for Hawaii. He was customs collector here and obtained a six months leave of absence that he might act as the agent of Hawaii in the matter.

MOLOKANS AGAIN

"Mike" the Molokan had another conference with Acting Governor Atkinson today. He arrived at the executive chambers early and took a seat the same as yesterday, to await the governor's arrival. An appointment was made for him at two o'clock this afternoon, at which hour he returned to discuss Molokan matters with Atkinson. Mike is interested in behalf of numerous companions, in the new plan for individual settlements of Molokans at Kealia.

AN AMERICAN REMEDY There is probably no medicine manufactured that can be found in more homes in the United States than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has been in general use for over thirty years and each successive epidemic of diarrhoea and dysentery during this time has tested the merit and proved its superiority over all similar preparations. The reliability and prompt cures of this remedy have won for it the confidence of many physicians who often prescribe it in their practice. No case has ever yet been reported where its use has failed to give relief. This remedy is for sale in this city by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

WRITES OF THE WRECK AT STANFORD

MRS. A. D. LARNACH WRITES FROM PALO ALTO ABOUT THE EFFECT OF EARTHQUAKE.

The following is an extract from a letter received from Mrs. A. D. Larnach at Palo Alto:

Dear Margaret: First of all, let me say that we are alive and well. That will set you at rest. Then, please forgive me for writing you a typed letter, but you will laugh when I tell you that I am writing seven at a time. You see, each of my friends expect to hear all about our experiences, and I can scarcely settle down enough to write to each one individually, so am taking this means of trying to please you all.

Rumor runs wild these days, as does everything else, and the latest is that a steamer is on the way to take home all Hawaiians. It must surely allude to boys and girls who are alone here and in San Francisco—that is if there is any truth to the report at all. We have received no letters at all since the disaster and are worried lest the misfortune has struck Honolulu, too. The Sonoma and Alameda have both come but no letters.

During the night, that awful night, Alec had lain awake for hours worrying about his work, and towards morning was pretty soundly asleep, when we both waked with the violent rocking and pitching of the bed. We held on to each other for a little, thinking it would pass, but instead, it grew worse and worse. Alec tried to get to Donald's bed, intending to grab him and run out-of-doors, but in trying to get there he was pitched every which way not being able to stand on his feet enough to walk. All this time the hanging light (electric with two bulbs) was swinging wildly and threatening to brain him who was under it. Then I tried to get to Donald's bed, finally reaching him. We grabbed the child shook him violently (he now tells us he was dreaming that he was on a steamer and it was pounding on the rocks) and I got him wide awake enough to put his arms around my neck tight while I sitting on the edge of his bed, braced myself against the wall to keep from being thrown senseless. In the meantime, Alec went for the door, falling all over the rocker which was upside down, the bookcase, the flower bowl, hat boxes, broken water-pitcher, in fact everything from that corner of the room. When he got up from this heap of debris, he found that the key was on the floor somewhere and as the shades were down the room was in darkness. Horrors! We thought we were going to be caught like rats in a trap. Then he rushed, as quickly as the fearful pitching of the room would permit, to the window threw up a shade back to the door again, eventually finding the key and not losing any time to open the door, he grabbed the frightened young one and ran down stairs. Mind you, all this time, the house—the whole house rocked wildly from side to side, backwards, forwards, sideways, up and down, and corkscrew-wise, so that he were sea-sick to the point of nausea. The oak trees were whipping the ground in a great way, the air was full of dust, the house creaked worse than even the little island steamers in the fiercest storms one hears of, and threatened to fall on our heads any instant, people screamed, yelled, the furniture was rolling around the room, plaster falling, chimneys crashing down, and oh, Heavens, the sound of it all will ring in my ears to my dying day. I feel sea-sick all over again when I think of that awful time. Then it finally seemed to subside a little; we were out and down stairs in a moment where everything was confusion. In one room where two of the girls slept, the furniture was all in one heap in the middle of the floor, so that their way to the door was blocked. Everybody was in night-gowns except the boys. They seemed to have considered their appearance long enough to stop and get something on. I had thrown on my flannel bath robe over my nightgown, and slipped my shoes on. Everybody was everybody else's brother. Madame Grady was not 'in it.' Finding out that we were all alive, we went back and dressed in the greatest kind of hurry. In these clothes we remained till Sunday, not daring to take time enough in our rooms to change them. On getting down stairs we heard that Stanford was wrecked, so started out. University Avenue here in town was a sight. Fraser's dry goods store had the side and front completely blown out, a three story building was leaning over at an angle and all brick buildings in town were more or less, (nearly more) ruined, except Allen's hardware store; it suffered comparatively no loss. Some had their roofs gone, others were so badly demolished as to be condemned. One frame house in town, a large one at that, went down perfectly flat, and another of about the same size slid on its slim foundation and now sits perfectly upright on its flooring on the ground. The beautiful priest seminary at Menlo suffered terribly and will have to be rebuilt in parts. The great tower eaved in from above, right in through the building, and one wing, a dormitory, now stands with the roof supported by a single column, as it were, of brick. The statue of the patron saint, lies on the lawn at the foot of its pedestal, face downwards. Here let me tell you of the statue of Agassiz which used to adorn the front of the Zoology building with another. The other still stands in its place but poor old Agassiz flew from his niche and was hurled head downwards on to the pavement below, where he continued his downward course right through the hard flagstone, and now lies, no stands, buried up to his shoulders in the walk, his book still in one hand, the other pointing at something, I know not what.

Poor old Stanford is a sad sight. That morning, we continued our wanderings in to Evinas where they were hard at work digging out some of the boys who had been caught under the falling chimney, which fell clear through to the basement, carrying with it all in its path. Luckily all were taken out alive except one poor fellow, he was past aid. The other six or seven are doing well, at the hospital, and are glad to be alive. It is wonderful that out of 300 men asleep at the time there, only these should have been hurt. The Memorial chapel had its front blown out and the Sermon on the Mount in the beautiful mosaic no longer adorns it. They say now that with all the other parts that have been damaged the church will be boarded up and not built for years. The clock tower fell in, the chimneys are all gone and the place looks strange. The new Library and Gymnasium are a heap of ruined walls and stone, and the former looks queer as it stands,—this mass of debris surmounted by its beautiful dome on its steel supports. Noble too suffered though it still stands. The chemistry building has not a chimney left and is cracked in many places. The mausoleum is the only thing intact, but the weeping angel seems sadder than ever, surrounded with a heap of broken marble, from the canopy and with one wing broken. At the engineering building the tall smoke stack came down with a crash, catching one of the workmen and burying him in the pile of brick; when he was dug out it was too late. The work shop and new book store are damaged and almost every arcade suffered here and there. The class rooms are cracked in ever so many places, but these they expect to have attended to first thing. The grand arch still stands but looks like a ghost of the past, most of the top being off, and huge cracks showing all through it. I have heard that it will be demolished immediately. No one is allowed on the quad, as it is dangerous, and only the Profs work about in their offices getting them to rights. One of my first thoughts when I looked upon what was left of Stanford was of Mrs. Stanford, and I was glad that she had not lived to see her life's work destroyed in a minute. A few of the frat. houses on the campus are wrecked so as to have to be torn down and rebuilt. Others got off with loss of chimneys only.

PAINS AMERICAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

The Case of Miss Irene Crosby is One of Thousands of Cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that it is not the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely.

Thousands of American women, however, have found relief from all monthly suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and robs these periods of their terrors.

Miss Irene Crosby, of 313 Charlton Street, East Savannah, Ga., writes:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a true friend to women. It has been of great benefit to me, curing me of irregular and painful periods when everything else had failed, and I gladly recommend it to other suffering women."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising women free of charge. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

GENERAL SUMMARY.
During the week just closed, cloudy and showery weather, with light trade winds, continued in practically all sections of the group. The rainfall in Hawaii, which was considerably less than during the preceding week, was quite uniformly distributed throughout the island, and relieved the drought situation somewhat in the lower levels of leeward districts. Fairly heavy showers have fallen in the windward districts of Maui, and in the Koolau-poko district of Oahu, giving these sections an increased rainfall over that of the previous week, but in other localities only light scattering showers were reported.

In Hawaii and Maui only slight changes in temperature have taken place since last week, but in Oahu and Kauai the weather has been noticeably cooler, the weekly mean temperatures for these islands being three degrees lower than for the previous week.

A thunderstorm, on the 4th instant, passed over the Koolau-poko district of Oahu. During the progress of this storm an excessive rainfall of one inch in the hour from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. occurred at Maunawili ranch.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal islands and for the group:

	Temp.	Rainfall.
Hawaii	70 deg.	1.95 in.
Maui	72 deg.	1.46 in.
Oahu	72 deg.	0.88 in.
Kauai	71 deg.	0.32 in.
Entire group	71 deg.	1.57 in.

FIRE LOSSES ONLY WILL BE PAID

INSURANCE COMPANIES ISSUE NOTICE SAYING THEY WILL PAY ONLY FIRE LOSSES.

OAKLAND, Saturday, April 28.—No losses will be paid until they are properly adjusted, and only such as the insurance companies are properly responsible for. Such was the sense of a meeting of the San Francisco board of fire underwriters, held this morning.

Rola Watt, manager of the Royal and Queen companies, brought the matter before the board and it met with general approbation.

"I met ex-Mayor Phelan on the street yesterday," said he, "and he asked me to get some sort of a notice given out to the public that their losses would be protected. I do not believe that this is the proper thing and I told him so. The companies I represent will pay what they are liable for and no more, and it is better for those whose spirits are drooping to allow them to drop rather than to buoy them up with false hopes."

The companies will undoubtedly pay only fire losses and not those occasioned by the earthquake. Mr. Watt declared that he was confident that the San Francisco board of supervisors would prohibit the use of any chimneys in Oakland, Alameda or Berkeley until they had been inspected.

"People are using chimneys throughout the cities on this side of the bay that are dangerous and liable at any time to start a conflagration," he said, "and I will make a motion now that our inspectors be put to work inspecting chimneys and also notifying all of our policy holders that the companies will not be responsible for any fires until such time as their chimneys have been properly passed upon."

PUNAHOU TAKES GAME NUMBER ONE

WIN FROM KAMS BY A SCORE OF 15 TO 3—EASY VICTORY FOR PUNAHOU.

The interscholastic game yesterday between Oahu College and Kamehameha Manual resulted in an easy victory for the former. The game was played on the Punahou diamond and a score of 15 to 3 was the result. The two teams are to play for the best three out of five games.

Ahrens for Punahou pitched a good game with the exception of one inning. McCandless and Kalpo were in the box for the Kams. McCandless tried very hard but he lost his control of the ball. He is a fairly good player but his place is not on the slab. Kalpo was not much better, the Punahou team scoring heavily.

The line-up of the teams was:
Punahou: Lo On, 3b.; J. Desha, ss; F. Hoogs, rf.; D. Ahrens, p.; D. Desha, lf.; Lowrey, 2b.; Achi, c.; McDougall, cf.; Winne, lb. Lyman substituted for Winne in the seventh.

OCEAN YACHT RACE COMMITTEE TO MEET

COMMODORE H. E. COOPER IS TO GO TO THE COAST IN THE ALAMEDA TO INSURE RACE.

The yacht race committee will meet this evening to consider their final plans. It is planned to send Commodore H. E. Cooper to the Coast in the Alameda in order to insure the coming race. The meeting tonight is for the purpose of giving the Commodore his final instructions as how to carry out that end of the race.

Many journals on the coast are giving space to the event. The Chronicle under date of April 24, contains about a quarter column on the race. This shows the spirit of the affair for they have time to think of the race even in the midst of the calamity that has overtaken San Francisco. The local yachtsmen are working hard to have the race pulled off.

GUN CLUB SHOOT.
The Oahu Gun Club held its first shoot on last Sunday. This club is organized of the Chinese residents and has its traps in Palolo Valley. Fifteen members were present on last Sunday. Robinson scored 9 out of a possible 10. Chang was second with 8. During the summer regular Sunday shoots will be held.

Points to Consider When Piano Buying

The piano must be full toned—deep and resonant, not shallow and thin. It must have a good action—not too easy, because the too-easy kind soon get loose and rattle. The case must be made of genuine hard wood—not a cheap stained imitation. Then the material must be of the very best. If you buy a Fischer piano you are getting all these good points and we sell the Fischer on easy monthly payments.

A German Look Into The Future

"Seestern 1906" is the title of a somewhat remarkable book published anonymously in Germany at the close of last year, which deals with the possibility of a war between Great Britain and Germany, and seems to be intended as a warning to all whom it may concern of the terrible and far-reaching effects of such a conflict. The author or authors, for the book, according to a recent review, would appear to be the work of several hands, have the interests of the Navy League at heart, for throughout the book emphasis is laid on the necessity of having a stronger fleet and the importance of the present German navy against the naval forces of Great Britain, while various other defects such as the lack of submarines, are also severely criticized. The idea of the book is that the United States, recognizing that in the event of an Anglo-German conflict British naval supremacy would more or less counterbalance Germany's military predominance, and that such a struggle would leave the United States the "tertius gaudens," deliberately sows the seeds of discord by distributing arms to the natives of Samoa.

An American missionary, whose preaching incites the natives, is sufficient to light the train, and there is a disturbance, in the course of which four American sailors are killed. Thereupon the commanders of an American man of war and two British warships in the Apia roadstead inform the German Governor that they are going to land troops to protect their Consulates. The Governor replies that the German Government is sufficiently capable of looking after foreigners on its own territory, and that he will not allow troops to be landed. The Englishmen finally land, and there is a fight, in which the German gunboat Moewe is sunk by the British warships, but the arrival of two more German vessels put a different complexion on affairs, and the result is that one of the British ships is sunk and the other run on a sandbank. War, of course, follows. France joins Great Britain, and England openly disregards the neutrality of Holland and Belgium. The former is treated as if it were British territory, thus, as the author says, giving the Netherlands a forcible example of their foolishness in rejecting in former years the mere idea of German protection. Great Britain delivers to Italy an ultimatum to the effect that she must retire from the Triple Alliance, and as a guarantee of her neutrality allow Great Britain the use of Venice for her own purposes. The British fleet is at Naples, and, on Italy refusing to abandon Germany, a severe naval engagement takes place, whereby the Italian fleet is totally destroyed. The whole course of the war, as depicted in the book, shows the British superiority at sea. The German fleet reduces the British navy to great straits, so that at the end of the war Great Britain has entirely lost her command of the sea, and has to take a back place after America. However, practically every vessel in the German navy is sunk.

A publisher's note to the book states that the work was completed before the publication of the "Matin" revelations, yet the author gives a telling description of a British landing of only 5000 men, however, in Schleswig in favor of France. Meanwhile, on land the Germans are everywhere successful, and finally defeat the combined French and English armies in Holstein. After the destruction of the docks at Kiel, which gives him an opportunity to urge the necessity of fortifying Kiel on the land side as well as the sea side. Cuxhaven is bombarded, and the forts completely destroyed, the excellence of the British marksmanship being attributed to the presence on board the British ships of Englishmen who had been accustomed to act as pilots to vessels entering and leaving the harbor—an interesting point in view of the recent agitation against the use of foreign pilots in British waters. Austria is unable to give effective help to Germany, as a revolution breaks out in Hungary. A "millionenschlacht" occurs on the centenary of Jena between Laons and Rheims, where 600,000 French and British troops are opposed to 400,000 Germans. The war is finally brought to a close by the rising of the black and yellow races all over the earth. The whole of Africa is in a turmoil. The Hottentots, under an Ethiopian missionary, are massacring and burning from Swakopmund to Bloemfontein, and the English and German inhabitants unite against the common foe. In Egypt the English are driven out and massacres of whites take place at Fez, where the Sultan of Morocco is also murdered. In China Japan has incited the Chinese against the white population, and ghastly slaughters are reported from the interior.

In view of the terrible state of things abroad, England sues Germany for peace. Germany receives 5,000,000 of marks indemnity each from France and England, while Walfisch Bay and Zanzibar are ceded to her. She also takes the Portuguese possessions of Angola and Benguela, and all the territory in Central Africa north of the former South-West African boundary and the course of the Zanzibar. England gets Portuguese East Africa south of the same river. Germany and France divide Morocco, Germany being allowed to erect a coaling station at Mogador, and the Congo State is partitioned between Germany, France and England. Germany receives the whole of New Guinea, against which England is granted the Portuguese possessions on the Sunday Lake. France cedes Nice to Italy, which also receives Tripoli as far as the Egyptian boundary, and in exchange for her renunciation of her claims on Albania, the island of Crete. The northern portion of Holland is amalgamated with Belgium, while the rest of the Netherlands is taken under German protection as one of the Federal States. Luxembourg becomes German. In compensation for the loss of Hungary, Austria gets Macedonia. The fortifications of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus are removed, and the Black Sea is closed to foreign ships, Russian warships being permitted to pass the Straits. Turkey takes Palestine, which is placed under Austrian protection. It is shown that Russia becomes the supreme military power of the world, and the United States the predominating naval power. All the world's sea trade has fallen into American hands during the "Weltkrieg," which was precisely what America intended.

The book closes with a scene in British House of Commons, where the announcement is made that America demands the evacuation of all Great Britain's West Indian Colonies, which has to be agreed to as the British Navy is not in a position to enforce Britain's command of the sea. A certain disconnectedness shows that the book is written by several authors. The part dealing with the sea campaign is most certainly the work of a naval officer, and one of no mean literary ability. Some of the descriptions—for instance, the picture of the scene round the torpedo tubes below the water-line of a battleship during an engagement—are very clever. On the other hand, the accounts of the land fighting are carelessly put together, and are inclined to go into unnecessary detail, uninteresting and tiresome to the reader. This book will probably create some sensation in Germany, as it is infinitely superior in literary merit to Niemann's "Weltkrieg Deutsche Traume," which made such a stir when it was published some time ago. "Seestern, 1906," is of particular interest, inasmuch as it shows clearly the ideas held in Germany as to England's probable part of campaign in an Anglo-German war. The peace term also probably represent certain German views of an eventual redistribution of power in Europe.

Special dispatch to the Advertiser from Del Monte: "Governor Carter was greatly improved by the earthquake. He was recovering slowly and had contemplated a short postponement of his return to Honolulu. His physicians prescribed excitement, but none could be experienced until the morning of April 18. Then came an earthquake shock which almost completely restored his health. It is thought that if there is another like it he will return to Hawaii at once."

The diverting theory has been worked up here that the alarmist telegrams from here will do the town good by calling attention to it. The same idea might apply to bogus news that a sound bank was in trouble. Interest in the bank would of course, be greatly stimulated by telling people that there had been a run on it.—Advertiser.

Confidence in the bank would also be greatly increased if it survived the run. San Francisco is even now boasting at the demonstration of the soundness of her institutions by their having withstood such a crisis as the present one. But of course it is not at all "the same idea." The difference between a report that tends to empty a bank of the material coin in its vaults by which it is able to do business, and a report which for a few hours alarms people over a community, until they find out and are duly impressed with the fact that there is no occasion for alarm, surely does not need pointing out.

The insinuation that Mayor Schmitz and Abe Reuf have already begun to do politics with the relief fund in San Francisco is not at all borne out by the facts. It probably originated in political animosity to Schmitz, or a slanderous spirit. The entire handling of the relief supplies has been turned over to Gen. Greeley and the army, by Mayor Schmitz, the Citizens' Relief Committee, and the Red Cross, as is shown by Secretary Metcalf's report to the President, published in another column. The handling of the relief fund has from the first been in the hands of a committee of Fifty of which James D. Phelan is chairman, and two of the Spreckels and many others of the best and most representative men in San Francisco are members. This committee from the very first established a complete system of audit and accounts, by which every item could be traced. In fact, so complete and elaborate was their system that Father Yorke in a public speech attacked the committee and its system declaring there was too much red tape.

Congress, at least does not seem to have been very seriously impressed with the "alarmist" stories about Hawaii. The House yesterday passed the bill setting aside a site for a federal building in Hilo. Congressmen apparently take no stock in the idea that Hawaii has been overwhelmed, or is likely to be.

Lawyers in the Smoot case have had a term of years to think the matter over, and ought to have something worth while to say.

King Peter says he will not abdicate. Well, Dowie talks the same way.

"Castro not out for good," a headline announces. Nobody who had studied the career of Castro supposed such to be his purpose.

The President's announcement that he will hunt no more while in office will be distinctly cheering to the big game of the country.

HOW GRAND JURY ACCUSED THE KOREANS

REMARKABLE INDICTMENT CONTAINED IN THE RECORD OF THE CASES OF THE FIVE MURDERERS UNDER DEATH SENTENCE—HOW THE VICTIM WAS HANGED BY THE WRISTS AND BEATEN AND CUT AND WAS FINALLY BURNED.

The record in the five Korean murderers' cases has been received from Hilo, and the transcript of testimony is being awaited, by Acting Governor Atkinson. The record simply shows the indictment and the various court proceedings under it. The indictment is a remarkable document of its kind and establishes a record that is not likely to be beaten in the territory, for grossness detail. It charges that the five defendants Shim Miung and others, of Kukulau, in December 23, 1905, "with force and arms, feloniously, willfully, and of their deliberate premeditated malice aforethought, and with extreme atrocity and cruelty, and without authority, justification or extenuation by law, in and upon one Pak Han No, then and there being, with intent in them the said Shim Miung Ok, Kang Yong Bok, Woo Miung Sook, Han Sang Won, Chang Chee Yuel and Kim Yong Yee, him the said Pak Han No to kill and murder, divers assaults did make; and that they then and there feloniously willfully and of their malice aforethought did bind and fasten a certain rope around the wrists of him the said Pak Han No and did hang and suspend the said Pak Han No by means of said rope so bound and fastened around the wrists of the said Pak Han No as aforesaid, to a certain tree, then and there being; that the said Shim Miung Ok, Kang Yong Bok, Woo Miung Sook, Han Sang Won, Chang Chee Yuel and Kim Yong Yee, then and there and whilst the said Pak Han No was so suspended from said tree as aforesaid, did strip the clothes from the body of the said Pak Han No and then and there feloniously, willfully and of their deliberate premeditated malice aforethought, divers time with small sticks held in the hands of them, the said Shim Miung Ok, Kang Yong Bok, Woo Miung Sook, Han Sang Won, Chang Chee Yuel and Kim Yong Yee, with great force and violence, in and upon the stomach, breast, back, and sides of him, the said Pak Han No, did strike, beat, bruise and wound, and that the said Shim Miung Ok, Kang Yong Bok, Woo Miung Sook, Han Sang Won, Chang Chee Yuel and Kim Yong Yee, then and there and whilst the said Pak Han No was so suspended from said tree as aforesaid, feloniously, willfully and of their deliberate premeditated malice aforethought, and without authority, justification or extenuation by law, and with intent in them the said Shim Miung Ok, Kang Yong Bok, Woo Miung Sook, Han Sang Won, Chang Chee Yuel and Kim Yong Yee, him the said Pak Han No to kill and murder with certain large sticks or clubs, a more particular description of said large sticks or clubs being to the members of this grand jury unknown, which said large sticks or clubs were then and there held in the hands of the said Shim Miung Ok, Kang Yong Bok, Woo Miung Sook, Han Sang Won, Chang Chee Yuel and Kim Yong Yee, in and upon the naked head, stomach, breast, back, sides and limbs of the said Pak Han No, with great force and violence did strike, beat, bruise and wound, and did then and there lacerate, bruise and tear the flesh of the said Pak Han No, and that the said Shim Miung Ok, Kang Yong Bok, Woo Miung Sook, Han Sang Won, Chang Chee Yuel and Kim Yong Yee, did then and there and whilst the said

THE JAP LIBEL CASES

CONSUL SAITO'S ABSENCE RESULTS IN POSTPONEMENT OF THEM FOR THE TERM.

The criminal libel cases against Editor Shiozawa of Hawaii Shunpo and Nozawa, one of his staff, were set for trial before Judge De Bolt this morning, but they were postponed for the term, on account of the absence of MIKI SAITO, the Japanese consul, who is the complaining witness in the case.

A. S. Humphreys, special counsel for the prosecution, read an affidavit in support of a motion for a continuance, in which it was set forth that the consul had been called away by his government and was expected back soon. The alleged libel was, it is claimed, an accusation that the consul had accepted a bribe in connection with the Douse case on Maui. The affidavit stated that the consul, if called as a witness would absolutely deny this charge, and A. Perry also counsel for the prosecution, explained matters regarding which the consul was the only person who could testify and said that without the consul's testimony prosecution of the case would be hopeless.

J. W. Cathcart, for the defense, opposed a continuance. He said that the defendants had been indicted in the middle of last September and had a right to a speedy trial. Attention was called to the fact that the indictments had been returned October 15, and Cathcart said that the Grand Jury, for some reason or other, had held the indictments back for a month after finally voting them. He said the month counted as part of the delay.

Judge De Bolt said that the defendants were not supposed to know they were indicted until the indictments were returned and that the time didn't begin to run until then. However, he stated his opinion that Grand Jury should return indictments to court as soon as found. Humphreys said he agreed with that view, but it had not been done.

The court finally allowed the continuance, saying that all the circumstances appeared to justify it. The cases were postponed for the term.

On motion of Cathcart, Attorney S. B. Kingsbury was placed of record as additional counsel for the defense.

CARTER PLANNING TO RETURN

REPORT THAT HE SUFFERED A RELAPSE IS CONFIRMED—REASON FOR RETURN.

Advises by the Alameda are that according to present plans Governor and Mrs. Carter will return on the Manchu, arriving here on the last day of this month. Whether he will resume the governorship at that time, is a matter to be settled. Even if in the Territory, he will not be governor in a legal sense until official records show a cancellation of the filed medical documents setting forth his incapacity through illness.

The report published in The Star yesterday, of unfavorable developments in the governor's case, is confirmed. It is understood among those who are best informed, that the return to Hawaii is not on account of a complete recovery of the governor's health, but because under present conditions in the vicinity of San Francisco Carter can hardly longer enjoy the vacation which his physicians ordered him to continue up to next fall, as published some time ago.

PLANS FOR THE OPENING OF SEASON

BOYS WILL BE TAKEN FOR A CAR RIDE THROUGH CITY AND THEN THE FIGHT WILL BE ON.

Saturday will be a gala day for the baseball fans for then is when the season of 1906 opens, and it will open right.

At one o'clock all of the teams will gather at the corner of Fort and King streets. A "Seeing Honolulu" car will be on hand for the players and one for the band which will precede the players. Then the teams will be whirled through the city to the grounds where at 2 o'clock the Oahu will cross bats with the Punahou.

The boys are getting into fine trim and the game Saturday promises much in the way of excitement. The league fight will soon be earnest Saturday.

Dr. Rosler, who had been attached to the local Naval Station for nearly three years, departed on the Manchu yesterday. He will go to Baltimore where he will await further orders. Dr. Rosler made many friends during his residence in Honolulu and his departure was the cause of much regret.

WHERE IS THE OLYMPIA?

Where the Olympia would go first after leaving Honolulu was not openly stated and there is a strong suspicion she went back to Hilo to get the house servant left there on the last trip. Few people know where she has gone but there are many willing to pick out a destination for her and not bother about insurance risks. But that is another matter what we wish to impress upon your mind is the fact that purity is the motto of the Hobron Drug Co. in the class of its drugs and excellence, the standard of the men who compound prescriptions in this establishment. Every clerk in the store is a master in his particular line and every ounce of drugs the best that can be produced. And the best of it all is that the prices charged at Hobron's are lower than in any other Honolulu drug store—there's a reason for it, maybe it's in the buying. When you have another prescription to be filled take it to Hobron's.

SOLE PROCEEDED.

A nolle prosequi was entered this morning by Deputy Attorney General Fleming in the case of E. Maull, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. Maull was tried last January and the jury disagreed. It was decided that there was little hope of a conviction if a second trial were had and the prosecution therefore withdrew.

SAM'S FOWL GOT AFOUL OF RAT TRAP

AND NOW HE WANTS BOARD OF HEALTH TO REIMBURSE HIM FOR LOSS OF THE FOWL.

Sam Stone, of Kakaia, has a kick against the Territorial Board of Health. His kick would seem to be a just one and it may result in litigation that is certain to become famous, if instituted. Sam claims that the Board of Health owes him $1.50 in payment of a chicken.

In an effort to exterminate rats the Board has caused a number of traps to be put about the city. A number of traps have been placed in Kakaia. The traps were supposed to attract only rodents, but Sam says that one of his chickens fell a victim to one of the Board's rat traps. And now he wants the price of the chicken, $1.50. He will probably sue the Territory or somebody for the money if the Board does not reimburse him. A meeting of the Board, in extraordinary session, will probably be called to pass upon his claim.

But if that one claim be paid it will probably be surprising how many chickens will start to commit suicide in the various Board of Health rat traps all over the city.

THIS "MAY" WAS VERY BLUSTERY

CHAUFFEUR OF A BEER WAGON GETS HUSKY ON STREET CAR AND GETS IN POLICE COURT.

Frank May, the chauffeur of a beer wagon, was before Judge Derby this morning to answer to a charge of assault with Joseph Kamakau. The latter was also present, but the prosecution entered a nolle prosequi in both cases and then charged May with assault and battery on E. K. Yap, a Chinese clerk in the employ of the Hawaiian Trust Company.

May, who appears to be of a pugnacious bent of mind, was riding on a street car yesterday afternoon on King street. May's elbow protruded through the window and interfered with Yap who took a seat inside of the car and brushed against May's elbow. The latter possibly having aristocratic pretensions, although his appearance would not create such an impression in his favor, resented Yap leaning against his elbow and proceeded to smash him in the face.

Yap was, in point of size, the inferior of May, and was practically at the mercy of the larger man. Kamakau remonstrated with May for attacking a man so much smaller and finally May and Kamakau left the car and adjourned to Aala Park to settle their differences with a fist fight. Officer Wright arrested them for assault. The court fined May $10 and $240 costs today for assault and battery on Yap.

May was arrested today on a second charge of assault and battery on Kamakau, and a second prosecution will follow.

INDICTMENTS

The Territorial Grand Jury will make a report to Judge De Bolt tomorrow. There is quite a number of indictments to be returned, at least one of them, it is rumored, being in connection with the investigation made into the Circuit Court funds which are short.

HOW THE NEWS REACHED NEW YORK

THE FIRST MESSAGE SENT WAS ALMOST EXACTLY LIKE THE ONE WE RECEIVED HERE.

The experience of New York on the day of the San Francisco earthquake was very similar to ours in the matter of messages. "The Editor and Publisher" thus tells the tale.

The first news of the disaster came over the Postal Telegraph Company's wires about 9 o'clock Eastern time, or 6 o'clock Pacific time. It evidently came from the one operator on duty at the time, and the characteristic message will go down in history. It read as follows:

"There was an earthquake hit us at 5:15 o'clock this morning, wrecking several buildings and wrecking our offices. They are falling dead from the fallen buildings. Fire all over town. There is no water and we lost our power."

"I'm going to get out of office, as we have had a little shake every few minutes, and it's a me for the simple life."

"R., San Fran., 5:50 a. m."

The man who sent the dispatch has not been heard of since. After the message came it was some time before the Postal could get "Frisco" again. Then Supt. Storer of the office in that city took the key and sent this message:

"We've on the job and are going to try and stick."

A little later this came from him: "Terrible earthquake occurred here at 5:13 this morning. A number of people were killed in the city. None of the Postal people killed."

"They are now cutting the dead from the fallen buildings. There are many fires, with no one to fight them. Postal Building roof wrecked, but not entire building."

For hours on Wednesday there was practically but one wire out of San Francisco—that of the Postal. At that end of the wire heroic telegraph operators stuck to their posts while buildings were tumbling about them and the flames were drawing nearer and nearer. At this end stood Clarence Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph Company, and other officials encouraging the operators to hold on until their lives were in danger. "We have got to run soon," said the San Francisco men finally, and at 2 o'clock New York time, came the clicks "Good bye."

The Postal from then on got its news from Oakland across the bay.

Vice-president Barclay stood over the wire most of the time as these messages were being received. One of the first orders given was that the cable operators should remove their instruments and get over to the place where the cable lands. The Pacific cable comes ashore near the Cliff House. This is eight miles from the business district. There is a hut where the cable comes in, and the cable operators were told to make for this.

Whether they got there nobody had learned Wednesday afternoon. They might have sent a message around the world telling of their arrival there, but they didn't. That was the only way of getting news over the cable then, because communication with the land wires was destroyed.

Assistant General Manager J. C. Barclay took command of the situation in the Western Union office as early as 11 o'clock and remained in

KEKAUOHA MADE HIMSELF AT HOME

WALKED INTO DEPUTY SHERIFF KALAKIELA'S OFFICE AND TOOK POSSESSION OF A DESK.

Deputy Sheriff George Kekauoha of Koolau, who is on the supervisory carpet, called at the police station this morning and proceeded to make himself perfectly at home. He walked in to the office of Deputy Sheriff Kalakielia and proceeded to possess himself of a desk and chair, just as if he owned the place.

More evidence of incompetence or whatever it may be called, on the part of Kekauoha has been received by the local police. Last February the lifeless body of a Chinese was found hanging to a tree. Kekauoha ordered the body cut down and buried, saying, it is reported, that it was not necessary to hold an inquest.

Another case was with a Japanese child. The body of the boy was found dead in the bottom of a well. Kekauoha decided, the report says, that it was unnecessary to hold any inquest.

Mr. Henshall's is quite unique in its simplicity of expression and frankness.

COASTWISE MAIL TOMORROW.

The S. S. Alameda will sail tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for San Francisco with mail and passengers.

communication with the San Francisco manager from time to time during the day and far into the night. Mr. Barclay for most of the time operated the key himself.

The first news to the Western Union came from Sacramento. In less than an hour Oakland, across the bay from San Francisco, sent its first message. Shortly after noon the San Francisco office was heard from direct. Mr. Barclay explained that the 100 wires from the San Francisco office in cables across the bay to Oakland had not been damaged. Interruption was due to the breaking of the wires inside San Francisco.

The fire so menaced the main office of the company early in the afternoon that word was received that the office had been moved to the ferry houses. Half an hour later the San Francisco office telegraphed that some of its force had gone back to the main office again, and that they were able to send some messages from there. Later there came a message saying that the building would probably be dynamited. Then came dispatches saying that all the wholesale district had gone up and Mr. Barclay gave up expectation of saving the main building.

At one o'clock Thursday morning the operator in the ferry tower at San Francisco wired that every newspaper building in the town had been destroyed, the Chronicle building, which was thought to be safe, having been destroyed with the rest.

We have now a combination, in the proper proportions, of pure white lead and zinc. It is

Michigan Seal White Lead

Being ground and mixed by specially constructed machinery, the combination of the two materials is much more thorough than when done by hand.

It is put up in steel kegs which prevent absorption of oil, keeping the lead in perfect condition. The kegs are light and have a handle, making a handy paint bucket.

It is a well known fact among painters that white lead and zinc in proper proportions is the best material for this climate. It gives a harder and more durable surface.

Good appetite, good digestion, refreshing sleep—these are essential to good health; and the following testimonial shows how they were obtained by using

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Six years ago I had an attack of indigestion and liver complaint that lasted for weeks. I was unable to do any hard work, had no appetite, food distressed me and I suffered much from headache. My skin was yellow, and sleep did not refresh me. I tried several remedies without obtaining any relief. Finally, one of my customers recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It helped me from the first—in fact, after taking six bottles I was completely cured, and could eat anything and sleep like a child."

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "AYER'S."

VICTOR H. METCALF, SECRETARY OF COMMERCE AND LABOR, WHO WAS SENT TO SAN FRANCISCO TO REPORT ON CONDITIONS THERE MAKES HIS REPORT—HE RECOMMENDS THAT CONGRESS PROVIDE FOR THE RECONSTRUCTION OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Victor H. Metcalf, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, attended the meeting of the general relief committee yesterday and read a long telegraphic report he had made to President Roosevelt on conditions in San Francisco, based on his personal investigation during the past several days. His telegram to the President was as follows:

"Headquarters Pacific Division, Fort Mason, Cal., April 26, 1906. To the President, White House, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sir:—I have practically completed inspection of the ruined districts. I do not believe the loss of life will be as great as was anticipated. In my judgment it will be impossible to determine the exact number of deaths, but conservative estimates place the number at not to exceed three hundred.

"There are about one thousand sufferers in local hospitals, and probably not over four hundred are seriously injured. No necessity exists at the present time for nurses or doctors, and they should not be sent except on recommendation of General Greely, or Dr. Devine.

"As regards industrial and commercial losses, the conditions are appalling; figures and distances convey slight conceptions or realities. Not only have the business and industrial houses and establishments of 500,000 people disappeared, leaving them destitute financially and their means of livelihood temporarily gone, but the complicated system of transportation indispensable to the daily comfort and interests of one-half million of people, has been almost destroyed. The hilly configuration of San Francisco made movements by street railway almost indispensable. Over the city's area of twenty-five square miles the entire system of railways was damaged or destroyed, and has not as yet been operated. The scanty supply of animals and carriages remaining after the fire, has been largely impressed into civil and military service, in order to prevent starvation. The entire telegraphic and telephonic systems were destroyed, making communication impossible.

"Practically every municipal building is destroyed, forcing the city officials into scanty quarters, necessarily situated in localities difficult of access, owing to distance and lack of transportation.

"Three hundred thousand people were made homeless, and their ordinary methods for providing themselves with food, clothing and shelter, being entirely destroyed, their feeding and sheltering demanded extraordinary action and engrossed the attention of every one as soon as the ravages of the fire were checked. Remedial methods, adopted and prosecuted with great efficiency, have relieved this unprecedented disaster. The Citizens' Committee, appointed by Mayor Schmitz, is composed of the ablest business men of the city, and their efforts united and harmonious, to an astonishing degree, speedily brought order out of chaos, and introduced systems of relief, which have accomplished wonders. The efforts of the Mayor and municipal officials of the Citizens' Committee, and of the regular army and the State Guard of California have been practically as efficient as though the separate authorities were under one head. Neither friction nor reflections have at any time appeared, and the work of relief has proceeded harmoniously, continuously and efficiently. The street railway system is rapidly approaching such state of repair as to promise partial renewal of operation soon. The Signal Corps has established a military system of telegraphic and telephonic lines, connecting the headquarters of the Army and the Mayor, which are at Fort Mason, with the Mint, Hall of Justice, District Headquarters, and the Ferry, and every point of special importance. Without this system communication about the city would have been impossible, and with the National and State authorities would have been greatly delayed.

"General Greely returning from leave, re-assumed command Sunday evening, and commends in the highest terms, the efficient and tireless efforts of General Funston, whose orders and actions utilized and inspired the Army to most efficient action, in staying the progress of the flames, and saving the remnant of the city. General Greely's opinion is concurred in by the Mayor and the Citizens' Committee. Most threatening conditions existed, as regards the water supply, but the extraordinary efforts on the part of the water company have remedied the situation which is improving from day to day so that physical sufferings from lack of water is impossible although it cannot be delivered in sufficient quantities for proper sanitation and fire purposes for some time. It would appear impossible but I am assured by General Greely and others that the methods of relief and restoration were so efficient that no person has suffered from lack of food, water or shelter.

"The question of sanitation is receiving special attention. The entire city is inspected daily by four trained mounted officers who report regularly the situation and necessities.

"The fortifications are practically uninjured. Considerable damage was done to the military buildings at the Presidio and on Angel Island. Reports indicate that there was no damage to the buildings on Alcatraz Island. The army warehouses in the city were entirely destroyed. The Mint and appraisers' building are practically intact. The Sub-treasury is entirely destroyed. Opinions differ as to the extent of injuries to the Postoffice. It is not believed that any vaults in the Sub-Treasury, or any banking institution in the city have suffered any material damage.

"It is almost impossible to give an accurate estimate of the cost of repairs to public buildings but from personal inspection of the buildings and from figures given me by competent builders I should say that the Appraisers' Building would cost for repairs about $10,000, Mint, $15,000 and the Post Office building not to exceed $500,000.

"Doctor Devine arrived Tuesday and co-operative action is already initiated insuring harmony between the Citizens' Committee, the Red Cross agents and the military authorities as to lines of action to be followed in the future. General Greely has agreed in writing to take over, as asked by the Mayor, by the Citizens' Committee and Doctor Devine, the responsibility of handling the relief supplies and their delivery under suitable regulations to the needy and destitute.

"It is reported to me that no discrimination of any kind has been shown against anyone on account of race or color. The spirit has been and is to assist the suffering whoever and wherever they may be. Cases of violence and crime have been exceedingly rare.

"The health of the city is remarkable good, everything considered. Stories regarding pestilence and epidemic are destitute of foundation. Every care is being taken to prevent epidemics or extended sickness in the future especially by providing against contamination of water supply and for the proper disposal of refuse of all kinds.

"At the meeting of the Citizens' Committee this morning at which were present Governor Pardee, Mayor Schmitz, Doctor Devine, Generals Greely and Funston and other officers of the army, it was determined to move the Chinese to the military reservation at the Presidio where they will be under the direct control and supervision of the army and where special attention can be paid to matters of sanitation. The Chinese consul called on me today and when informed of this arrangement, expressed his gratification. I shall visit the Chinese camps this

WHEN THE MARINES WERE LANDED

THE STORY IN ITS MOST WIDELY PUBLISHED FORM OF THE TIME WHEN PEOPLE RUSHED TO THE PLANTATIONS TO SAVE THEMSELVES FROM FALLING BUILDINGS, AND WHEN THE MARINES WERE LANDED FROM THE WARSHIPS.

Here is the story of seismic disorder in Honolulu in the form in which it seems to have been most widely published. It appears in afternoon papers of April 20, and morning papers of April 21, as a dispatch from Honolulu published in the Chicago Chronicle of the morning of April 20. To have been published at that time, it must have been sent from here, if sent at all, April 19. That was before cable communication between here and San Francisco was restored. That any number of words, from which such a story could have legitimately been written, should have been sent from here to New York by way of Europe, is preposterous. The only other horn of the dilemma is that it was built up in Chicago out of whole cloth.

The story does not seem to have been taken very seriously. The afternoon papers do not give it an especially prominent position, and the morning papers relegate it to a very subordinate position.

There are many indications that the Associated Press did not take it up at all, but that whatever circulation it got, after its publication in the Chicago Chronicle, was by being telegraphed from Chicago by special correspondents and by minor news agencies.

It was evidently written by some one who knew something about Honolulu but not very much—who knew or thought that Fort street was one of the principal business streets, and that is about all. The touch about the landing of the marines, sounds exactly like the echo of a general familiarity with newspaper accounts of disturbances in oriental or South American seaports.

The version here given is from the Brooklyn Eagle. The Washington Star and the St. Paul Dispatch publish it verbatim. The Philadelphia Public Ledger publishes it in a slightly abbreviated form.

The Manila dispatch published as a part of the same story by the Brooklyn Eagle shows clearly that nothing serious could have happened in Honolulu.

Chicago, April 20—A cablegram to the Chronicle from Honolulu says:

For six minutes yesterday a repetition of the San Francisco disaster which would involve the capital of the Hawaiian Islands in destruction was feared. Vibrations which were evidently the result of seismic disorders were felt quite plainly throughout the city.

While earthquakes are by no means infrequent in the islands, that of yesterday was much severer than any which has occurred in recent years. It caused the buildings along Fort street and the other thoroughfares in the business district to sway to and fro, and in the residence districts some of the less strongly constructed buildings were partly demolished as the result of the vibrations.

The disturbances by the vibrations caused the water in the harbor to rise rapidly and fear was felt that a tidal wave might sweep over the city. However, inside of six minutes the vibrations ceased and no further ones were noted during the day.

The vibrations had the effect of causing almost a panic among the inhabitants, who had learned of the catastrophe which destroyed San Francisco. Crowds rushed into the streets when the vibrations were first felt and endeavored to make their way out of the business district as soon as possible, preferring to take their chances in the sugar plantations in the open rather than to endure the danger of having the buildings falling upon them.

Fears of possible disorders as a result of the panic resulting from the vibrations caused the landing of a considerable force of marines from the men-of-war in the harbor. These, with the assistance of local police, were able to restore order shortly and within an hour after the vibrations had ceased and conditions had become normal again business was everywhere resumed and the population went on its way as if nothing out of the ordinary had happened.

Manila, April 20.—Honolulu reported at noon today that tests showed the San Francisco cable to be intact, but that San Francisco apparently had no instruments.

Thousands of Americans here who have relatives in California are exceedingly anxious for news of their safety.

METCALF REPORTS TO THE PRESIDENT

afternoon for purpose of ascertaining their exact condition from personal inspection. It is almost impossible to describe the ruin wrought by the earthquake and especially by the conflagration. The conflagration was due entirely to the absolute lack of water supply. The people however are confident and hopeful for the future and have not in any sense lost their courage. They feel under deep obligations to you and the National Government for the prompt and efficient assistance rendered them. I strongly urge that Congress at once appropriate sufficient money to repair the damages to the public buildings and for the building of another Sub-Treasury in place of the one destroyed. I shall report to you later the damage caused in other sections of the State.

(Signed)

"V. H. METCALF."

In reply to his telegram, Secretary Metcalf received the following message from the President:

"WHITE HOUSE, Washington, D. C., April 27, 1906.—Hon. V. H. Metcalf, Fort Mason, San Francisco, Cal.: Am greatly gratified and relieved by your full report. I shall recommend to Congress exactly as you suggest.

Editor "Trade Journal"—For the first time since the upward swing of the market set in at 3.42c. per lb. for 56 deg. Centrifugals which carried prices up last week to 3.56c. on the spot and 3.61c. for shipment, we have to report a retrograde movement in raw sugars, quotations for the week showing a decline of .06c. to .11c. from the high point. Exactly what is causing this recession is difficult to say, particularly as Cuba Centrifugals are still .24c. per lb. below the parity of beet sugar. The reaction, however, has extended to the European markets, which are now quoted at 8s. 4 1/2d. for August beet, or 1 1/2d. to 2 1/2d. below the highest recent quotations. The Cuba mills are quite sure of having eight good grinding weeks up to June 1st, in which it is quite probable that the crop will show conclusive evidence of reaching the last season's figures, and if the weather in June and July holds propitious the excess above last year may become quite noticeable. It is always well to bear in mind that there is plenty of cane in the fields and the amount of it to be used in present crop is only a question of weather and labor. If beet sowings are to be regulated in

MAY CHANGE OCEANIC LINE

REPORTED THAT THE LINE MAY OPERATE OUT OF SAN DIEGO FOR THE PRESENT.

It was stated in San Francisco when the S. S. Alameda left that the Oceanic S. S. Company might transfer its home port from San Francisco to San Diego for the through Colonial line. This transfer would, according to the report, be but temporary.

The Spreckels have extensive interests at San Diego which is in the southern part of the state. Ample railroad facilities enter San Diego to enable the mails to be handled with promptness so the change might be made under the present conditions. There would be no change in the local vessel and the Alameda will still be operated out of San Francisco.

CONSUL MIKI SAITO WAS EXPECTED HERE

CONSUL SAITO IS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE FROM HIS VISIT TO JAPAN SOME TIME THIS MONTH.

Miki Saito, Consul General of Japan at this city, was expected to arrive from Japan on the S. S. Manchuria, but he did not arrive. He is due to arrive sometime this month.

K. Matsubara, vice consul, who has been acting consul general since the departure of Saito, stated this morning that Saito was almost sure to arrive here this month some time. It is thought by the Acting Consul General that Saito will bring with him complete plans for the new consulate that is to be erected here at a cost of 200,000 yen by the Japanese Government. Saito has been absent from Honolulu for about five months.

DECIDED LOWERING IN PRICE OF STOCKS

THERE HAS BEEN CONSIDERABLE OF A FALLING OFF IN PRICE OF STOCKS LATELY.

The report of the Honolulu Stock Exchange shows a decided lowering in the price of stocks and bonds. The case of the Hawaiian Sugar Co. is noted especially. It has been selling at 34 and 35. This morning 19 were sold at 29. Other stocks show a decided weakening especially those which are largely held in San Francisco.

Bonds are also falling off. Plantation and other 6 per cent bonds which have been selling from 105 to 107 are now bid for at 100, with the 8 1/2 cent of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company for which 102.75 is bid.

The disaster at San Francisco is said to be certain to be felt here. It is said that over $300,000 worth of corporation bonds are held in San Francisco which must be thrown on the market here soon for the owners will have to realize something on them. It is thought that the people here can buy all that is offered them.

Willard Brown, of Halstead & Co., left on the steamer yesterday for San Francisco. He expects to be gone only a short time. While there he is to look over the Hawaiian securities and see how they were effected by the disaster.

ACHI SAYS BOARD HAS NO JURISDICTION

HE FILES A PLEA TO THE JURISDICTION OF THE BOARD OF IMPEACHMENT.

William C. Achi has filed a plea to the jurisdiction of the Board of Supervisors sitting as a Board of Impeachment in the Kekauoha case, claiming that twenty-five legal voters of the district in which Kekauoha was elected did not sign the petition to have Kekauoha removed.

In order that the Board of Supervisors may sit as a Board of Impeachment and try a county official they must have a petition from twenty-five legal voters asking that they remove such an official from office. Achi claims that the Board has no right to try Kekauoha as they did not receive a petition signed by twenty-five voters asking for Kekauoha's removal.
