A REVIEW.

Are Historical Events Repeated?

Wise Words of "Old Father Damon" Spoken Three Decades Ago—Colated for the Special Benefit of the Present Generation.

"Some of us were among 'the people from foreign lands,' to whom the late King addressed the speech which I have quoted. For more than twenty years we and our children have enjoyed a degree of peace and prosperity under the mild sceptre of the Kamehameha Dynasty which calls for our devout thanksgiving to God. In no part of the world, and under no form of government could we have enjoyed greater social, civil and religious privileges. (This statement may also be justly applied to the following thirty years.)

"I propose speaking, firstly, upon the provisional session; secondly, upon the restoration; thirdly, upon the acknowledgement of independence, and fourthly, upon the happy results of the restoration and independence of the Hawaiian Kingdom."

"In order to understand the peculiar circumstances under which this transfer was made, we should endeavor to dismiss from our minds the history of all the islands of the Pacific, for the last twenty years. The social and political conditions of these islands and other groups in the Pacific, is vastly different now from what it was in 1843. Twenty years ago there was a most jealous rivalry between England and France, with reference to possessions in Polynesia. In 1841, the British Government took possession of New Zealand; in 1842, the French took possession of Marquesas and Society Islands. There was a strong and prevailing feeling that the French had similar designs upon these islands."

"On my arrival here in October, 1842—I can distinctly remember the uneasy state of the public mind. Affairs were ripening for an explosion of some kind. (In October, 1892, at a caucus of a party faction of the Legislative Assembly, it was proposed that the Sovereign of the Hawaiian Kingdom be dethroned.) 'Dr. Judd has just taken office under the King. Messrs Richards and Haalilio had left for the United States and Europe.' * * *

"It should be borne in mind that at this date the Hawaiian Kingdom had not been admitted into the brotherhood of civilized nations. Under all these circumstances it surely is not to be wondered at that ambitious, selfish and unprincipled, men were ready to blot out this nationality and obtain its annexation to the British Empire, by unfair, if they could not succeed by fair means.

"According to the representations of Mr. Charlton to the British Admiral at Mazatlan, in Mexico, the Carysfort was despatched to Honolulu to settle the difficulties. * * *

"There is no doubt there was on the part of the representatives of England, a fixed and settled determination to substitute the British for the Hawaiian flag. The whole tenor of their claims bore in that direction. * * * 'In order to carry out their views, they felt, their way very cautiously and hoped so to cover over the baseness of the transaction, that their proceedings would be approved by the British Government.'"

Fifty years afterwards, similar events to those narrated in the foregoing paragraph transpired in Honolulu. On the latter occasion, however, the foreign representatives who were concerned in the attempted transfer and substitution of their own flag for the Hawaiian flag, were those of the United States of America.

Port Surveyor George Stratemeyer has made the following details of Customs officers for the month:

Inspector C. C. Rhodes assisting the Port Surveyor.

Discharging Inspectors: J. W. Short, W. F. Storey, R. M. Macaulay, M. G. Johnston, W. F. Drake.

Day Guards: J. Nunes, H. Kinney, J. Kanuu, G. Koamea.

Night Inspectors: W. H. Drummond, W. Charlock.

Night Guards: J. Kekahio, J. W. Mabelona, B. Kaunahi, J. Kaloomakai, J. Mahasha, E. Stone, S. Hanohano, A. Mossman.

Special Duty- F. Manoha, J. Kanuha.

With the Band.

There was an immense attendance at the Emma Square band concert last evening, and it was very evident that Miss Kanoho's singing was the main attraction, for a large body of the audience wended their ways homeward at the conclusion of the first part. Professor Berger should now organize a chorus of pretty girls and then Palace Square would not contain his admirers. The concert will be at Thomas Square this evening and Miss Kanoho is advertised to sing there.

Captain of Co. B.

Co. B will this evening elect a captain to succeed Oscar White who is compelled to resign for business reasons. His successor will almost undoubtedly be Lieut. Louis Kenake, formerly of that company but now adjutant of the First Battalion and a staff officer. Good men, sound and true are both gentlemen, and the company may feel proud of them.

The Waverley Club.

The Waverley Club elects its officers to-morrow evening. All members and would-be members are requested to be present to aid in the selection of a strong committee of management. Read the notice of meeting.

THURSTON TO JONES—Got 58, sure; want two more; send more money. Why did you send Dole? Why more Japs imported now? Be happy; annexation dead; get Damon's place; better than cabbage at Waikane and new bank.

MR. DOLE AND ANNEXATION

Minister Damon and a few councillors of state who, with him opposed the sending of Mr. Dole to the United States, at public expense, are now in the position of saying "We told you so."

Mr. Dole received a very frigid reception in San Francisco and he could certainly not feel encouraged by the "news" received from Washington, and which is well expressed in the following dispatch:

WASHINGTON, January 17.—President Dole of Hawaii will not be the guest of the United States during his stay in this country. The State Department has made no plans for his entertainment, and can make none, though the fact that the visiting Executive had to stay over night on the Peru instead of being taken ashore at once is deplored. This is attributed to an oversight on the part of a Treasury official. The State Department has no funds at its disposal, nor has it banquet-rooms or apartments for receptions, so that there can be no official reception or entertainment. In all visits of foreign rulers there have been previous announcements enabling Congress to make provision for entertainment. The time is too short for this action now, and it is felt, also that there might be objection and a debate which would be unpleasant and detrimental to the interests of Hawaii.

Mr. Dole, however, went on to "burn" on the private purses of Mr. McKinley's officials, and we hope that when he returns to Hawaii, he will hand back to the Treasury the $10,000 which the councillors of state kindly allowed him to take along at the expense of the "hard-up" taxpayers.

Is Mr. Dole in a position to assist the annexationists in Washington, who are working tooth and nail for the accomplishment of the steal of Hawaii? We think not. The proposed amendment to the treaty of Senator Bacon of submitting the question of annexation to a vote of the Hawaiians has caused Mr. Dole to express himself to the irrepressible interviewer saying that such a step would mean the death of the annexation scheme. He is reported as having added to his remarks that the majority of the Hawaiians were ignorant and opposed to annexation but that the "intelligent" classes were unanimously in favor of seeing their country an integral part of the Great Republic.

It is difficult to believe that Mr. Dole could have made such statements in public. We yet believe that there is some honor left him, even if the S. F. Chronicle publishes a picture of him, looking as if he had come out from a spiritualistic seance and seen his ancestor who was honest and loved the Hawaiians who fed him, and who would have condemned his present course. It is hard to believe that Dole can have come "down" to the level of a cheap prevaricator, dishonestly misrepresenting facts.

Mr. Dole is now aware of the fact that his "trip" was a blunder. He has learned that his "whiskers" and smiles and lies do not help the annexation cause. He has seen Grover Cleveland, the giant of the Democratic Party, entering the political battle field and crying into the face of the subsidized "jingo," Senator Morgan, the significant words, "You lie! you lie! you lie!"

Annexation of Hawaii is impossible under present circumstances. We are pleased to record the fact, but all citizens of these islands feel extremely humiliated over the failure of the head of the Government, never mind how unjustly and iniquitously he got there—to gain recognition in a country which we have been told daily is our special protector and guardian.

Probably our "great and good friends" at Washington have realized what a tremendous "fake" the Republic of Hawaii is.

May Fight.

A duel is forthcoming and the people who were on Merchant Street this morning are trembling and speaking in low tones about the serious event.

Dr. Sereno E. Bishop of Sunspot fame tackled Mort Oat, the genial Post Master-General, and in an excited manner demanded to know why his letters had not yet been delivered and why "island mail" was to be assorted prior to Honolulu letters and, in fact, why the Postal service was so bad as it is.

The Post Master-General tried to smooth down the reverend gentleman refraining from calling a d—d liar, but asserting that the mail from the Australia had just arrived and that no efforts were made to assort mail for the other islands, as no steamers would leave during the morning.

Words were followed by more words and at last friends intervened before any bloodshed took place.

LATER—A meeting between the P. M. G. and the irritated Dr. Bishop has been arranged to take place at the Makiki baseball grounds. The P. M. G. will be supported by Capt. Kenake and his weapon will be a stamp with plenty of mucilage on, while the irate doctor, as usual, will wield a pitchfork, and be supported by a horse.

The event will be very exciting. Free lunch for the survivor.

On their arrival Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane received the disagreeable news of the destruction of their Peninsular residence by fire last night. The house was unoccupied and the origin of the fire is a mystery. Nothing was saved, the neighbors not knowing even that the mansion was burning until this morning when the house was in ashes. The premises were insured for $3000, an amount which does not cover the loss by half.

Annexation Regarded as Dolefully Defeated—Morgan Getting Into Pilikia—Our President Personally Well Received

CALL OFFICE, RIGGS HOUSE, WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.

It grows more and more evident that President McKinley regards President Dole as a trump card to be played for annexation. As indicated by The Call, the annexation game right now is for delay and nothing more will be done toward that end until a display of Dole is made. Elaborate preparations have been made for his reception. All the troops in Washington have been ordered to meet him at the depot and escort him to the quarters provided for him at the expense of the Government. President McKinley will exchange visits with him and will give an elaborate dinner in his honor. Everything is to be done that will have a tendency to increase his importance and open the way for him to make a good impression upon the Senate.

President McKinley intends that nothing he can do to bring about a ratification of the treaty shall be left undone. In this matter of the annexation of Hawaii he has gone beyond his party. The national Republican platform of 1896 favored "control" of Hawaii by the United States, but no mention of annexation. The Harrison administration endeavored to bring about annexation, but the Republican party did not express its approval of Harrison's Hawaiian policy. President McKinley has adopted the Hawaiian policy of the Hawaiian administration, and is, therefore, the leading person in the matter of Hawaiian annexation.

What can President Dole do to influence the Senate to ratify the annexation treaty? With the Senators who oppose ratification he does not stand very well. They regard him as the chief figure in the conspiracy which overthrew the rightful Hawaiian Government and forcibly took the Hawaiian Islands from the natives. His influence as a lobbyist, therefore, is not likely to be great. Indeed, it is probable that he would have served those who are supporting the annexation scheme much better if he had remained in Honolulu. It would have been more dignified, certainly, for him to have done so. By visiting Washington to lobby in behalf of annexation, he gives color to the charges that he has been and still is only an agent in the hands of others to rob the Hawaiians of their country and annex in to the United States. There may be some curiosity to see him, but there will be no disposition to honor him except by those whose purposes he serves.

It leaks out, from talks of prominent friends of the treaty, that there is great disappointment in annexation circles over the turn affairs have taken in executive session. While they do not dare do anything to drive from them the support of the venerable Senator from Alabama who went out and saw the Huluhula girls last summer, it is a fact that they are saying in private many things against Senator Morgan, and they are charging that the Senator's insistence upon speaking for days at a time has hurt their cause. Senator Frye voiced the general sentiment when he said before the debate began that if Morgan would speak for half an hour annexation would win, but if he persisted in speaking for several days his speech would be absolutely valueless. At times during his speech there were not five Senators listening to him. As one of those close to him put it: "I don't know what the old man means. I can understand how he is willing to take up the time of the Senate in open session when his remarks get before the country through the Record and when, as he frankly states, he does not speak to the Senate, but to the country; but how he can spend day after day of executive session when nobody is listening and none of his speech can get before the country is beyond my comprehension. Yet that is just what he has done."

Those who agree with Morgan on his Hawaiian argument attribute to the Morgan harangue a great part of the present apathy on the subject among Senators who were regarded as open to conviction. It is the general opinion that he has hurt rather than helped his cause, and that it will take all the power of the administration and the aid of all other influences to get the treaty through the Senate. Indeed, the friends of annexation have almost lost hope. They are now looking to the Morgan bill as the most practical means to their end, and even with that they see a great stumbling block in their path in the shape of the shapely gentleman from Maine who is the "whole thing" so far as the House of Representatives is concerned.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—President Dole and party will leave Chicago via the Baltimore and Ohio Railway at 2:05 a. m. to-morrow for Washington, where they will arrive at 1:15 a. m. Wednesday. The party will occupy one of the Baltimore and Ohio officials cars and be under the care of Third Assistant Secretary of State Cridler and Major Heistand, military attache of President McKinley. During the journey on Tuesday the party will pass through a thickly settled portion of Ohio, making brief stops at such points as Defiance, Tiffin, Mansfield, Newark and Zanesville, and in the morning they will pass through the historic battlefield along the Cumberland River between Cumberland and Washington.

The program for the entertainment of President Dole in Chicago consisted to day of a trip to Fort Sheridan and a review of the United States troops, an informal dinner at Kinsley's immediately after the party returned and a reception at the Union League Club.

President Dole, Consul Fred W. Job and Chief Secretary Iaukea left their quarters at the Auditorium annex and took carriages for the Chicago and Northwestern depot, where a special train for Fort Sheridan was ready. Major-General Brooke and his staff were in waiting at the depot, and with the distinguished party took their places in the private car of General Manager Whitman of the Northwestern road. Mrs. Dole was somewhat indisposed.

As the distinguished delegate stepped off the train he was met by a volley of cheers from a crowd of students from Lake Forest. The boys had obtained a day off to see the Hawaiian official and lavished the college yell on him, for which the President showed his appreciation by bowing and lifting his hat. At the east side of the station was the First Regiment, which acted as escort for Major-General Brooke and his guests. A carriage stood ready and the rest of the party were taken to the barracks in wagons.

President Dole and others of the party were taken to Colonel Hall's house, where a brief informal reception was held, and then the party boarded the train for Chicago. Carriages were in waiting and President Dole and his escort drove to Kinsley's, where the dinner given by Dr. Lyman, to which a number of Hawaiian born Chicago residents were invited, was served. At 3 o'clock a formal reception to President Dole was given at the Union League Club which lasted until until 4 o'clock. Judge and Mrs. P. S. Grosscup gave a supper to Mr. and Mrs. Dole, at which were Mayor Carter Harrison and his wife, General and Mrs. John R. Rooke, General and Mrs. John C. Black, Consul and Mrs. Job and Judge John W. Showalter and others.

Senator Bacon's Amendment to the Annexation Scheme.

(Special Dispatch to the Call)
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Senator Bacon of Georgia to-day followed his action of yesterday in offering an amendment to the treaty providing for a vote upon it by the people of Hawaii by offering the amendment to Senator Morgan's bill for annexation, thus making the amendment public. It is as follows:

"That this act shall not be operative and of binding effect upon either the United States of America or the Republic of Hawaii until the same shall have been consented to and approved by the majority of the voters voting at an election to be held in the Hawaiian Islands, at which election all male natives of said islands of the age of 21 years, and all naturalized male persons of the age of 21 years shall be qualified voters. Said election to be held at the time and in the manner and under regulations to be prescribed by the President of the United States."

THE HAWAIIAN VOTE.

Final Action on the Measure Not Likely Until Late in February.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The present outlook is unfavorable to the Senate's giving much attention to the Hawaiian treaty during this week. The agreement to vote on Thursday on the Teller resolution confirming the doctrine that United States bonds are payable in silver at the option of the Government will, in all probability, result in the Senate's giving the major portion of its time until that date to this measure, with the exception of that necessary to the consideration of appropriation bills. Senator Turpie has given notice of a speech on the Teller resolution this week, and it is expected speeches for it will be made by Senators Teller, Pettigrew, White and others, and that there will be some addresses in opposition. Senator Nelson has offered an amendment declaring for the maintenance of the parity of the two metals, but the silver men, considering this proposed modification hostile to their purposes, will not accept it. They say they will insist upon a vote upon the resolution as it stands.

The pension appropriation bill will be called up Monday, and as soon as it is disposed of the Senate will be asked to take up the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Each of these will provoke some debate, but it is not expected to be prolonged in either case. When the treaty next comes up Senator Teller will be recognized to speak in its support, and he probably will be followed by Senator White in opposition. The vote on the treaty now appears at least three weeks distant.—S. F. Call.

Street Paving.

Paving Piikoi street is certainly a great public improvement just at present. The pedestrians find the street crossings rather primitive, but very little complaint is heard. People appreciate that street paving is a good thing. The torn-up condition of the streets, however, has not prevented C. J. McCarthy from delivering the celebrated Rainier Beer regularly. The consumption of Rainier Bottled Beer for family use is growing larger every day. Phone 783.

Sweet Alice Is New.

Oh, do you remember sweet Alice, dear boy, sweet Alice so coy and so shy, how she'd faint if the wind showed an inch of her nose, and displaying two inches, would die? Oh, do you remember the shudder she gave when you spoke of a "leg" unto me, and how she nigh sank to a premature grave when you rudely referred to a "knee?" I saw this sweet Alice to-day, my dear boy, and I would not believe were I told, for the bloomers she wore were a sight to annoy and her limbs were right out in the cold; and her knees, as pedaled, were plain to be seen, though I gazed in the opposite way, for she looked like a sylph on a flying machine, with her petticoats lost in the bay. Sweet Alice is New; she no longer is shy, and her blushes are laid on the shelf, but when she remarked, "I my garter must tie," I—really—I—fainted myself.—S. F. Examiner.

Are Historical Events Repeated?

Wise Words of "Old Father Damon" Spoken Three Decades Ago—Collected for the Special Benefit of the Present Generation.

"Some of us were among 'the people from foreign lands,' to whom the late King addressed the speech which I have quoted. For more than twenty years we and our children have enjoyed a degree of peace and prosperity under the mild sceptre of the Kamehameha Dynasty which calls for our devout thanksgiving to God. In no part of the world, and under no form of government could we have enjoyed greater social, civil and religious privileges. (This statement may also be justly applied to the following thirty years.)

"I propose speaking, firstly, upon the provisional cession; secondly, upon the restoration; thirdly, upon the acknowledgement of independence, and fourthly, upon the happy results of the restoration and independence of the Hawaiian Kingdom"

Speaking under the first heading, the speaker continues:

"In order to understand the peculiar circumstances under which this transfer was made, we should endeavor to dismiss from our minds the history of all the islands of the Pacific, for the last twenty years. The social and political conditions of these islands and other groups in the Pacific, is vastly different now from what it was in 1843. Twenty years ago there was a most jealous rivalry between England and France, with reference to possessions in Polynesia. In 1841, the British Government took possession of New Zealand; in 1842, the French took possession of Marquesas and Society Islands. There was a strong and prevailing feeling that the French had similar designs upon these islands."

"On my arrival here in October, 1842—I can distinctly remember the uneasy state of the public mind. Affairs were ripening for an explosion of some kind. (In October, 1892, at a caucus of a party faction of the Legislative Assembly, it was proposed that the Sovereign of the Hawaiian Kingdom be dethroned.) 'Dr. Judd has just taken office under the King. Messrs Richards and Haalilio had left for the United States and Europe.' * * *

"It should be borne in mind that at this date the Hawaiian Kingdom had not been admitted into the brotherhood of civilized nations. Under all these circumstances it surely is not to be wondered at that ambitious, selfish and unprincipled, men were ready to blot out this nationality and obtain its annexation to the British Empire, by unfair, if they could not succeed by fair means.

"According to the representations of Mr. Charlton to the British Admiral at Mazatlan, in Mexico, the Carysfort was despatched to Honolulu to settle the difficulties. * * *

* * * There is no doubt there was on the part of the representatives of England, a fixed and settled determination to substitute the British for the Hawaiian Flag. The whole tenor of their claims bore in that direction.' * * * 'In order to carry out their views, they felt, their way very cautiously and hoped so to cover over the baseness of the transaction, that their proceedings would be approved by the British Government.'" events to those narrated in the foregoing paragraph transpired in Honolulu. On the latter occasion, however, the foreign representatives who were concerned in the attempted transfer and substitution of their own flag for the Hawaiian Flag, were those of the United States of America.

With the Band.

There was an immense attendance at the Emma Square band concert last evening, and it was very evident that Miss Kanoho's singing was the main attraction, for a large body of the audience wended their ways homeward at the conclusion of the first part. Professor Berger should now organize a chorus of pretty girls and then Palace Square would not contain his admirers. The concert will be at Thomas Square this evening and Miss Kanoho is advertised to sing there.

Captain of Co. B.

Co. B will this evening elect a captain to succeed Oscar White who is compelled to resign for business reasons. His successor will almost undoubtedly be Lieut. Louis Kenake, formerly of that company but now adjutant of the First Battalion and a staff officer. Good men, sound and true are both gentlemen, and the company may feel proud of them.

The Waverley Club.

The Waverley Club elects its officers to-morrow evening. All members and would-be members are requested to be present to aid in the selection of a strong committee of management. Read the notice of meeting.

INTERCEPTED TELEGRAM.

THURSTON TO JONES—Got 58, sure; want two more; send more money. Why did you send Dole? Why more Japs imported now? Be happy; annexation dead; get Damon's place; better than cabbage at Waikane and new bank.

MR. DOLE AND ANNEXATION.

Minister Damon and a few councillors of state who, with him opposed the sending of Mr. Dole to the United States, at public expense, are now in the position of saying "We told you so."

Mr. Dole received a very frigid reception in San Francisco and he could certainly not feel encouraged by the "news" received from Washington, and which is well expressed in the following dispatch:

WASHINGTON, January 17.—President Dole of Hawaii will not be the guest of the United States during his stay in this country. The State Department has made no plans for his entertainment, and can make none, though the fact that the visiting Executive had to stay over night on the Peru instead of being taken ashore at once is deplored. This is attributed to an oversight on the part of a Treasury official. The State Department has no funds at its disposal, nor has it banquet-rooms or apartments for receptions, so that there can be no official reception or entertainment. In all visits of foreign rulers there have been previous announcements enabling Congress to make provision for entertainment. The time is too short for this action now, and it is felt, also that there might be objection and a debate which would be unpleasant and detrimental to the interests of Hawaii.

Mr. Dole, however, went on to "burn" on the private purses of Mr. McKinley's officials, and we hope that when he returns to Hawaii, he will hand back to the Treasury the $10,000 which the councillors of state kindly allowed him to take along at the expense of the "hard-up" taxpayers.

Is Mr. Dole in a position to assist the annexationists in Washington, who are working tooth and nail for the accomplishment of the steal of Hawaii? We think not. The proposed amendment to the treaty of Senator Bacon of submitting the question of annexation to a vote of the Hawaiians has caused Mr. Dole to express himself to the irrepressible interviewer saying that such a step would mean the death of the annexation scheme. He is reported as having added to his remarks that the majority of the Hawaiians were ignorant and opposed to annexation but that the "intelligent" classes were unanimously in favor of seeing their country an integral part of the Great Republic.

It is difficult to believe that Mr. Dole could have made such statements in public. We yet believe that there is some honor left him, even if the S. F. Chronicle publishes a picture of him, looking as if he had come out from a spiritualistic seance and seen his ancestor who was honest and loved the Hawaiians who fed him, and who would have condemned his present course. It is hard to believe that Dole can have come "down" to the level of a cheap prevaricator, dishonestly misrepresenting facts.

Mr. Dole is now aware of the fact that his "trip" was a blunder. He has learned that his "whiskers" and smiles and lies do not help the annexation cause. He has seen Grover Cleveland, the giant of the Democratic Party, entering the political battle field and crying into the face of the subsidized "jingo," Senator Morgan, the significant words, "You lie! you lie! you lie!"

Annexation of Hawaii is impossible under present circumstances. We are pleased to record the fact, but all citizens of these islands feel extremely humiliated over the failure of the head of the Government, never mind how unjustly and iniquitously he got there—to gain recognition in a country which we have been told daily is our special protector and guardian.

FOREIGN NEWS NOTES.

Items of Interest From All Parts of the World

There has been serious riots in Paris, Lyons and other large French cities inspired by the action of the Government in the Dreyfus matter and hatred of the Jews. The military charged on the people. The condition of affairs is considered alarming.

The European and Asiatic news is very much mixed; the Great Powers watching each other closely and playing diplomatic chess.

Governor Budd of California is opposed to annexation.

The anti-annexationists won in two test votes in the Senate by 39 to 27 and 41 to 25.

May Fight.

A duel is forthcoming and the people who were on Merchant Street this morning are trembling and speaking in low tones about the serious event.

Dr. Sereno E. Bishop of Sunspot fame tackled Mort Oat, the genial Post Master-General, and in an excited manner demanded to know why his letters had not yet been delivered and why "island mail" was to be assorted prior to Honolulu letters and, in fact, why the Postal service was so bad as it is.

The Post Master-General tried to smooth down the reverend gentleman refraining from calling a d—d liar, but asserting that the mail from the Australia had just arrived and that no efforts were made to assort mail for the other islands, as no steamers would leave during the morning.

Words were followed by more words and at last friends intervened before any bloodshed took place.

LATER—A meeting between the P. M. G. and the irritated Dr. Bishop has been arranged to take place at the Makiki baseball grounds. The P. M. G. will be supported by Capt. Kenake and his weapon will be a stamp with plenty of mucilage on, while the irate doctor, as usual, will wield a pitchfork, and be supported by a horse.

The event will be very exciting. Free lunch for the survivor.

Clarence looks in excellent health and says that he carries with him a stunning race horse, two hunting dogs and a full set of sporting paraphernalia. His yachts and boats are coming "mit the Horn around."

On their arrival Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane received the disagreeable news of the destruction of their Peninsular residence by fire last night. The house was unoccupied and the origin of the fire is a mystery. Nothing was saved, the neighbors not knowing even that the mansion was burning until this morning when the house was in ashes. The premises were insured for $9000, an amount which does not cover the loss by half.

RED VELVET.

You should always purchase the very best, if the prices suit your pocket, for it is the cheapest way in the long run. Let us then call your attention to our stock of which we have in 1/2, 3/4, and 1-inch sizes. It is impossible to break or kink, and will outlast any two of the ordinary kinds. You can hardly cut it with a knife. We have also by the use of which the life of your hose can be lengthened almost indefinitely. The

California Lawn Sprinkler,

after all others have been tried is the best one: All have to come back to it. The last thing you will need to complete your outfit is a good lawn mower, and every one knows that the

Annexation Regarded as Dolefully Defeated—Morgan Getting Into Pillikie—Our President Personally Well Received

CALL OFFICE, RIGGS HOUSE, WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.

It grows more and more evident that President McKinley regards President Dole as a trump card to be played for annexation. As indicated by The Call, the annexation game right now is for delay and nothing more will be done toward that end until a display of Dole is made. Elaborate preparations have been made for his reception. All the troops in Washington have been ordered to meet him at the depot and escort him to the quarters provided for him at the expense of the Government. President McKinley will exchange visits with him and will give an elaborate dinner in his honor. Everything is to be done that will have a tendency to increase his importance and open the way for him to make a good impression upon the Senate.

President McKinley intends that nothing he can do to bring about a ratification of the treaty shall be left undone. In this matter of the annexation of Hawaii he has gone beyond his party. The national Republican platform of 1896 favored "control" of Hawaii by the United States, but no mention of annexation. The Harrison administration endeavored to bring about annexation, but the Republican party did not express its approval of Harrison's Hawaiian policy. President McKinley has adopted the Hawaiian policy of the Hawaiian administration, and is, therefore, the leading person in the matter of Hawaiian annexation.

What can President Dole do to influence the Senate to ratify the annexation treaty? With the Senators who oppose ratification he does not stand very well. They regard him as the chief figure in the conspiracy which overthrew the rightful Hawaiian Government and forcibly took the Hawaiian Islands from the natives. His influence as a lobbyist, therefore, is not likely to be great. Indeed, it is probable that he would have served those who are supporting the annexation scheme much better if he had remained in Honolulu. It would have been more dignified, certainly, for him to have done so. By visiting Washington to lobby in behalf of annexation, he gives color to the charges that he has been and still is only an agent in the hands of others to rob the Hawaiians of their country and annex in to the United States. There may be some curiosity to see him, but there will be no disposition to honor him except by those whose purposes he serves.

It leaks out, from talks of prominent friends of the treaty, that there is great disappointment in annexation circles over the turn affairs have taken in executive session. While they do not dare do anything to drive from them the support of the venerable Senator from Alabama who went out and saw the Hulahula girls last summer, it is a fact that they are saying in private many things against Senator Morgan, and they are charging that the Senator's insistence upon speaking for days at a time has hurt their cause. Senator Frye voiced the general sentiment when he said before the debate began that if Morgan would speak for half an hour annexation would win, but if he persisted in speaking for several days his speech would be absolutely valueless. At times during his speech there were not five Senators listening to him. As one of those close to him put it: "I don't know what the old man means. I can understand how he is willing to take up the time of the Senate in open session when his remarks get before the country through the Record and when, as he frankly states, he does not speak to the Senate, but to the country; but how he can spend day after day of executive session when nobody is listening and none of his speech can get before the country is beyond my comprehension. Yet that is just what he has done."

Those who agree with Morgan on his Hawaiian argument attribute to the Morgan harangue a great part of the present apathy on the subject among Senators who were regarded as open to conviction. It is the general opinion that he has hurt rather than helped his cause, and that it will take all the power of the administration and the aid of all other influences to get the treaty through the Senate. Indeed, the friends of annexation have almost lost hope. They are now looking to the Morgan bill as the most practical means to their end, and even with that they see a great stumbling block in their path in the shape of the shapely gentleman from Maine who is the "whole thing" so far as the House of Representatives is concerned.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—President Dole and party will leave Chicago via the Baltimore and Ohio Railway at 2:05 a. m. to-morrow for Washington, where they will arrive at 1:15 a. m. Wednesday. The party will occupy one of the Baltimore and Ohio officials cars and be under the care of Third Assistant Secretary of State Cridler and Major Heistand, military attache of President McKinley. During the journey on Tuesday the party will pass through a thickly settled portion of Ohio, making brief stops at such points as Defiance, Tiffin, Mansfield, Newark and Zanesville, and in the morning they will pass through the historic battlefield along the Cumberland River between Cumberland and Washington.

The program for the entertainment of President Dole in Chicago consisted to-day of a trip to Fort Sheridan and a review of the United States troops, an informal dinner at Kinsley's immediately after the party returned and a reception at the Union League Club.

President Dole, Consul Fred W. Job and Chief Secretary Iaukea left their quarters at the Auditorium annex and took carriages for the Chicago and Northwestern depot, where a special train for Fort Sheridan was ready. Major-General Brooke and his staff were in waiting at the depot, and with the distinguished party took their places in the private car of General Manager Whitman of the Northwestern road. Mrs. Dole was somewhat indisposed.

As the distinguished delegate stepped off the train he was met by a volley of cheers from a crowd of students from Lake Forest. The boys had obtained a day off to see the Hawaiian official and lavished the college yell on him, for which the President showed his appreciation by bowing and lifting his hat. At the east side of the station was the First Regiment, which acted as escort for Major-General Brooke and his guests. A carriage stood ready and the rest of the party were taken to the barracks in wagons.

President Dole and others of the party were taken to Colonel Hall's house, where a brief informal reception was held, and then the party boarded the train for Chicago. Carriages were in waiting and President Dole and his escort drove to Kinsley's, where the dinner given by Dr. Lyman, to which a number of Hawaiian born Chicago residents were invited, was served. At 3 o'clock a formal reception to President Dole was given at the Union League Club which lasted until 4 o'clock. Judge and Mrs. P. S. Grosscup gave a supper to Mr. and Mrs. Dole, at which were Mayor Carter Harrison and his wife, General and Mrs. John R. Rooke, General and Mrs. John C. Black, Consul and Mrs. Job and Judge John W. Showalter and others.

Senator Bacon's Amendment to the Annexation Scheme.

(Special Dispatch to the Call.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Senator Bacon of Georgia to-day followed his action of yesterday in offering an amendment to the treaty providing for a vote upon it by the people of Hawaii by offering the amendment to Senator Morgan's bill for annexation, thus making the amendment public. It is as follows:

"That this act shall not be operative and of binding effect upon either the United States of America or the Republic of Hawaii until the same shall have been consented to and approved by the majority of the voters voting at an election to be held in the Hawaiian Islands, at which election all male natives of said islands of the age of 21 years, and all naturalized male persons of the age of 21 years shall be qualified voters. Said election to be held at the time and in the manner and under regulations to be prescribed by the President of the United States."

THE HAWAIIAN VOTE.

Final Action on the Measure Not Likely Until Late in February.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The present outlook is unfavorable to the Senate's giving much attention to the Hawaiian treaty during this week. The agreement to vote on Thursday on the Teller resolution confirming the doctrine that United States bonds are payable in silver at the option of the Government will, in all probability, result in the Senate's giving the major portion of its time until that date to this measure, with the exception of that necessary to the consideration of appropriation bills. Senator Turpie has given notice of a speech on the Teller resolution this week, and it is expected speeches for it will be made by Senators Teller, Pettigrew, White and others, and that there will be some addresses in opposition. Senator Nelson has offered an amendment declaring for the maintenance of the parity of the two metals, but the silver men, considering this proposed modification hostile to their purposes, will not accept it. They say they will insist upon a vote upon the resolution as it stands.

The pension appropriation bill will be called up Monday, and as soon as it is disposed of the Senate will be asked to take up the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Each of these will provoke some debate, but it is not expected to be prolonged in either case. When the treaty next comes up Senator Teller will be recognized to speak in its support, and he probably will be followed by Senator White in opposition. The vote on the treaty now appears at least three weeks distant.—S. F. Call

Street Paving.

Paving Piikoi street is certainly a great public improvement just at present. The pedestrians find the street crossings rather primitive, but very little complaint is heard. People appreciate that street paving is a good thing. The torn-up condition of the streets, however, has not prevented C. J. McCarthy from delivering the celebrated Rainier Beer regularly. The consumption of Rainier Bottled Beer for family use is growing larger every day. Phone 783.

Sweet Alice Is New.

Oh, do you remember sweet Alice, dear boy, sweet Alice so coy and so shy, how she'd faint if the wind showed an inch of her nose, and dis playing two inches, would die? Oh, do you remember the shudder she gave when you spoke of a "leg" unto me, and how she nigh sank to a premature grave when you rudely referred to a "knee?" I saw this sweet Alice to-day, my dear boy, and I would not believe were I told, for the bloomers she wore were a sight to amuse and her limbs were right out in the cold; and her knees, as pedaled, were plain to be seen, though I gazed in the opposite way, for she looked like a sylph on a flying machine, with her petticoats lost in the bay. Sweet Alice is New; she no longer is shy, and her blushes are laid on the shelf, but when she remarked, "I my garter must tie," I—really—I—fainted myself.—S. F. Examiner.
