HALEAKALA TRIAL COMPLETED.

Funds Here Being Raised To Repair House On Top of Crater—Easy access to The Largest Carter On Earth.

J. DUGGAN COMPLETED HIS WORK.

Waialua to Be The Largest Plantation on Oahu.— Report of J. R. Galt Trusted For The Board Holders.

Haleakala Trail Completed.

It will be of general interest to the people of the Islands to learn that the Haleakala trail is now completed to the top of the crater.
And what has hitherto been a somewhat difficult trip is now made easy to any one who can ride horseback. From any part of central or West Maui one may drive to Olinda which is but eight and one-half miles from the top of the Crater. Even a stranger may now ride to the Catholic Church at Makawao and from that as a land mark follow the finger posts to the top and not be under the necessity of taking a guide.

Contractor J. Duggan of Honolulu had the Contract to open the trail cleared out the loose stones and cut and cleared away
the bush to a width of twenty feet.
The finger boards are set one fifth of a mile apart and give the distance on each.

And in between each finger board post is a plain guide post so that any one should find his way
without difficulty.

S. R. Dowdle is collecting funds for the repair of the stone house built at the top of Haleakala by Hon H. P. Baldwin and it is predicted that he will meet with no difficulty, securing the required funds and soon have the house in good repair. Little Flea Cave, however, is near the top and provides ample shelter for all who may wish to make the trip.

No trip to the Islands is complete without including Haleakala
as it has the largest crater on earth,
being about thirty miles in circumference and two thousand feet deep while the top of the Crater is over ten thousand feet high.

As one stands on the summit
and views the surrounding horizon one seems to be standing in the center of an immense bowl and the ocean seems to be many feet above entirely encircling the island.

Come one: come all: and view
this the grandest sight of Maui.

WAILUA TO BE THE LARGEST PLANTATION ON OAHU.

Mr. Galt, trustee under the bond issue has submitted his report to the bond holders of the Waialua Agricultural Co. Limited. It shows an expenditure of over eleven hundred thousand dollars for permanent improvements.

The plantation will soon have 12000 acres under cultivation below the 700 foot level and 6000
acres below the 900 foot level. Mr.
Galt's estimate is that Waialua
will produce 45000 tons of sugar
per year.

His report is as follows:
Honolulu, T. H., October 24, 1905.
To the Bondholders of Waialua
Agricultural Company, Limited

Dear Sirs: Your Trustee has made several visits recently to the Waialua Plantation, and begs to make the following report.

Since April, 1901, the time of the original issue of your bonds,
up to October 1st, 1905, the following expenditures have been made on permanent improvements:

Big dam at Wahiawa	$ 292,751.35
Storage reservoirs, Waimea, Opauala	39,514.49
Small reservoirs for storage of night water for pumps and ditches in fields	19,265.10
Real Estate	13,867.50
Steam Pumping Plants	293,973.32
Permanent ditches, flumes and sy- phons	193,669.39
Buildings	55,591.43
Railroads	87,935.28
Mill leased lands, oil tanks, elec- tric plant, roads, bridges and fen- ces, telephone, lines	103,143.86

Making a total of $ 1,104,708.72

You will know from the above
that the great bulk of expenditures for permanent improvements have been in developing, transporting and conserving water for irrigation. As the life of the plantation depends upon its water supply, and as the cost of operating the plantation is largely increased or decreased by the methods used in distributing the water over the fields, for irrigation, the following information in regard to the water development at Waialua should be of material interest to you.

PUMPS

There are 10 Compound and Triple Expansion Pumps in five pumping stations, and one at the mill, with a total pumping capacity of 72,000,000 gallons of water every 24 hours, and ample water to run said pumps at full capacity
if necessary.

Also three Gasoline Engine
Pumping Stations. Capacity 3,000, 000 gallons every 24 hours.

RESERVOIRS.

There are twelve small reservoirs with a total capacity of about 60,000,000 gallons, all situated in the lower part of the plantation, below the 600 foot level used for the purpose of storing water from the smaller ditches, and from the pumping stations at night. There are two larger reservoirs, with total capacity of about 200,000,000 gallons, which are supplied with water from three gulches, namely Opauala, Kawaiiki, and Waimea.
These gulches depend for water
upon the rainfall in the mountains, and records show that the rainfall
at the heads of the first two gulches mentioned averages from 60, to 80 inches per year. There is a record of one year showing a rainfall of 151.46 inches, at the head of Kawaiiki.

A large dam is just nearing completion at Waialua which will hold the water from two large gulches which adjoin each other, at a short distance from the dam. -
There is a larger and steadier flow of water here than from any other stream in the island of Oahu,
draining a large watershed of several thousand acres of the summit and slopes of the Koolau mountains.

The dam is to have capacity of 2,500,000,000 gallons. There are two other streams of fresh water
coming from two other gulches, containing larger streams and draining larger watersheds than the Opauala and Waimea streams which up to the present time have been practically untouched. It is intended to make use of this at a later date.

With the water development above outlined, as coming from the gulches, and conserved by the dam and various reservoirs, it is believed that about 12,000 acres of land, all below the 700-foot level
can be irrigated by these mountain streams, the greater part of every year; and it is possible that when the streams have been further developed, experience will show that the water may be profitably used on lands above the 700-foot level, thereby producing large crops on the upper lands.

Above the 900-foot level, it is estimated that from four to six thousands acres of good land can be cultivated, with cane, a large part of which land is comparatively level, with soil of good depth and quality. The rainfall on these upper lands ranges from 40 to 60 inches per annum, as shown by records, which is about the same rainfall as in ordinary years is found in Hamakua, Hawaii; Kau, Hawaii and Lahala, Hawaii. And it is probable that from these upper non irrigated fields, the cane
will yield from three to four tons of sugar per acre.

RECAPITULATION.

The money expended on this water development proves to be a most wise expenditure, and for the best interests of the plantation, and all connected with it, whether stockholders or bondholders.

The result is that Waialua Plantation, is going to have 12,000 acres of land under sugar cultivation, all of which will be irrigated with fresh mountain water, brought on the plantation by gravity,
during a greater part of the year,
making it possible that the pumps
and the necessary expense of pumping will only be called upon occasionally, and in addition there will be about 6,000 acres of non-irrigated lands planted in cane,
with good soil and a sufficient rainfall to warrant a conservative estimate of from three to four tons of sugar to the acre, from these non-irrigated lands.

Assuming that the 12,000 acres
below the 700-foot level will produce 6 tons to the acre, which is about the average for the past five years; and assuming that the 6000 acres of non-irrigated land will produce 3 tons to the acre, this would indicate that Waialua will produce about 45,000 tons of sugar per annum, with possibly a still further expansion, in area and crop, in the future.

Respectfully submitted,
HAWAIIAN TRUST COMPANY,
LTD. J. R. Galt, Treasurer.
Trustee under Bond Issue.

Uncle Terry

By CHARLES CLARK MUNN

SYNOPSIS

Chapters I and II—Uncle Terry is the keeper of the Cape Light on Southport island. He has an adopted daughter Telly (Etelka) grown to womanhood, who was rescued when a babe from the wreck of the Norwegian ship Peterson. C. III—Albert and Alice Page are two orphans with a heritage of debt, living in the village of Sandgate. Albert is a college graduate, and through the influence of his chum, Frank Nason, gets a position in the law office of "Old Nick" Frye...

CHAPTER XXXVII

THE mountains around Sandgate were aflame with the scarlet and gold of autumn before life seemed quite a usual to Alice Page. The summer idyl had passed, and though it left a scar on her heart she had resolutely determined to put the sweet illusion out of her mind. "I was very foolish to let him see that I cared," she thought. "For it can never be, and by and by he will forget me, or if he does think of me it will be to recall me as one of his summer-girls who had a fit of silliness."

"I am very busy these days, sis," Albert replied, "and my mind is all taken up with work. Mr. Nason's business is increasing, and I have many clients besides him." Then he added, "How did you like Blanch Nason?" "Oh, she was very nice," replied Alice coolly, "and if she were a poor girl and lived here I could easily learn to love her. As it is, it is useless for me to think of her as a friend. It was good of her to pay me a visit, though, and I enjoyed every minute of it."

call there one evening. They need not know how long I have been in Boston." When morning and departure came Albert said: "I will do as you wish, sweet sister, and unless some of the Nasons should meet us at a theater I imagine it will work all right, only it is a little rough on Frank." CHAPTER XXXVIII THE proposed change did not seem to disturb Aunt Susan much, although Alice noticed that she was more quiet than ever and avoided that subject. "I'm ready an' willin' to go if you think best," she said, "an' I'll do my best as long as I can. I hain't got long to stay, an' if I see you two happy I'm content."

curiosity. "I should like to meet Miss Page," she said to Blanch when the latter had asked if she might invite her to visit them. "A girl that shows the spirit she does is certainly worth cultivating." When Alice's cool but polite note reached Mrs. Nason she was piqued to even a greater degree of curiosity, and when Albert's courteous letter inviting "Mrs. Nason and family to share a box at the theater for the purpose of meeting my sister" was received she returned a cordial acceptance by bearer.

Mrs. Nason began chatting with Alice. She found herself shaking hands with a rotund and gray haired lady of dignified bearing, but of kind and courteous manner.

Centrifugals has dropped steadily from 5 reales to 5.16 reales, the latter being nominal, and probably 41 reales is nearer the market. Buyers continue indifferent, the more so as American refiners are said to be momentarily supplied and do not care to make any bids for the time being. The slightly improving quotations from London of the past few days have not influenced conditions here.

Teacher's Meeting at Waimea.

During School Inspector C. W. Baldwin's visit to Waimea District he arranged for a teacher's meeting which was held at Waimea Friday, October 20th. Present were Mr. H. H. Brodie and Misses Lima, Le Toler and Hastie [?], from Hanapepe, Mrs. Lennox, Misses Bauham and Mengler from Makawae, Mr. Wells, Mrs. Omsted, Mrs. Wright, Misses Puuhau and Akina from Waimea, Misses Finkler, Whittington and Sheldon from Kekaha and Mr. Prigge from Mana.

After Mr. Brodie, acting a Temporary Chairman had called the meeting to order, Mr. Baldwin moved that Mr. Brodie be made Permanent Chairman and Mrs. Wright Secretary of the Meeting which was carried.

Mr. Baldwin then gave a very interesting discourse on the "five step method." To illustrate this Miss Akina took a class of beginners and told them the story of the Pancake, accompanying the same with pictures drawn on the blackboard. The little ones listened attentively and would readily repeat the story in their own words, pointing out the pictures applied to illustrate the words used.

Mr. Brodie suggested that the method be adopted more generally in the future as being very helpful in assisting the children in remembering the proper use of the words.

To illustrate the application of the method at a more advanced stage Mr. Baldwin took Mrs. Omsted's class, third grade, and explained to them what a city was at the same time telling them the story of the "Little Matchgirl." The pupils easily repeated the story in their own way, proving that they had understood the words used by pointing out the corresponding pictures drawn on the blackboard.

Mr. Brodie next gave the meeting a sketch of the conception and proper use of Arbor Day.

The next subject brought before the meeting was the course of study. Mr. Wells pointed out the difficulty for the country schools to follow a given course. He clearly stated all the pros and cons and the subject led to a very animated discussion.

After the meeting had decided to leave the time and place for the next meeting to the Normal Inspector the following resolutions were adopted.

First: That we heartily appreciate the sterling character, the thorough scholarship, and the devotion and ability of our former Superintendent Mr. J. C. Davis.

Second: That we heartily approve the efforts that he has made to increase the business and executive efficiencies of the department, to improve the schools and arouse in the teachers a higher sense of their duties and responsibilities.

Third: That we deeply regret his resignation, believing that he is thoroughly capable of carrying on the duties of the office, and also that frequent changes are not only detrimental, but disastrous to the best interests of the schools.—Garden Island.

The President's Trip To New Orleans.

The outcry at the risks the President is continually taking, on his hunting-trips, in a submarine boat, or in breakneck cross country horse-back rides, now-greets his determination to make a trip through the Gulf States and other districts where the yellow fever is raging. The Kansas City Journal (Rep.) says that his plan is "characteristic of his impulsive and fearless nature," but declares that "it is a question whether as Chief Magistrate of the country he should risk his life unnecessarily." The Columbus Dispatch (Ind.) holds a similar opinion, and suggests that his program be changed "not only for his own sake, but also for the sake of those who would erroneously take his visit as an assurance of safety and would themselves run into danger." The New Orleans press, however, are in accord in asserting that President Roosevelt will run no risk, for the reason that the fever is not contagious, and by the first touch of frost in October it will be entirely under control. The Times-Democrat (Dem.) says that in no wise will this trip put his courage "to the test," and continues:

"The visit of the President should serve the purpose of calling the attention of others to their excessive and needless timidity. There are now in this city thousands of persons who have never had the fever and have

There are without the city thousands of others who are trembling in their boots and making themselves generally uncomfortable over a danger that exists only in their fevered imaginations."

But while the tap through their infected regions will emphasize in a signal manner the fact that science and modern methods of sanitation have robbed yellow fever of many of its terrors, this is not supposed to be the impelling purpose of the visit. The Boston Transcript (Rep.) thinks that the President is trying "to strengthen, encourage, and intensify the spirit of nationality as opposed to that of sectionalism." But this explanation is not sufficient for the Washington correspondents of some other papers, who are making daring guesses in their quest for his motive. Thus a correspondent of the Boston Herald (Ind.), after referring to the opposition which the Senate showed to the President last winter, and predicting that he will encounter hostility from the same source during the coming session of Congress, makes the bald assertion that he has planned this trip with the hopes of securing that aid and support from Southern Democrats which he has been unable to get from his own party. Says this correspondent:

"It is a dramatic and daring thing Mr. Roosevelt is about to attempt. No Republican President since Hayes has been so denounced by the Southern press, and no President ever lived who so earnestly desired to be on terms of friendship with the men and women of Dixie. The dramatic feature will come when the President, braving yellow fever, visits New Orleans. This is a step which is characteristic of Mr. Roosevelt, and it is calculated to fire the enthusiasm of the South if it can overcome the prejudices of the shotgun quarantine maintained farther north. Democrats will be needed in a dozen different directions, and Democratic votes are what the President will be after during his October trip to the South."

The New York Herald (Ind. Dem.) takes this same view, and among the legislative matters for which President Roosevelt is supposed to be seeking Democratic as well as Republican votes, it gives the following:

"Ratification of the agreement with the Republic of San Domingo, prevention of a Congressional investigation of Assistant Secretary of State Loomis, adoption of such policy as the President may recommend with reference to Venezuela, prevention of the investigation of the campaign fund of 1904 by the passage of a bill prohibiting campaign contributions in the future, prevention of the investigation of the Panama Canal, and the passage of a bill empowering the Interstate Commerce Commission to establish rates where rates are found to be unreasonable, prevention of an investigation into the affairs of the Agricultural Department and the Weather Bureau, and passage of legislation for the Philippines which will be recommended by Mr. Taft, Secretary of War."

The entire South is manifesting deep interest in the trip, and the friendly tone of the press indicates that he will receive as cordial reception there as he has ever enjoyed in any part of the United States, in spite of the fact that he will pass through a section of the country "whose inhabitants," as the Chicago Evening Post (Ind.) remarks, "at times have been critical of his acts and in one instance have carried their criticism beyond the bounds of harshness. The journey south will begin on October 18 and the first stop will be at Richmond. Thence the President will proceed to Raleigh and Roswell, Ga., the early home and burial-place of his mother, and then to Atlanta, Jacksonville, Montgomery, Tuskegee, Birmingham, Mobile, and New Orleans. Unless the quarantine regulations of Arkansas and Tennessee interfere with the proposed itinerary, he will return by way of Little Rock and Memphis. But if the barriers against yellow fever should still be up in those two States he has announced his intention to make the return from New Orleans to Washington by sea.—The Literary Digest.

How To Resign.

In view of the fact that resignations seem to be the order of the day, the following from the New York Times is given with the suggestion that it be given careful consideration.

"Going to resign, are you?" asked Assistant Postmaster General Wynne of an indignant person, who had been pouring his grief into his ears. "Can't stand it another minute, eh? Put up with it as long as you could, and now you're going to throw up your job and tell your chief what you think of him? Yes, I know. Last straw and all that sort of thing? Uh-huh.

"Did you ever see my set of rules for resigning?" I framed them up

"It's the Oil" Says the Painter

If you could put a coating of pure, raw linseed oil on your house, and that oil would stay there, it would protect your house from the elements; and preserve the material underneath. Any honest painter will tell you that oil is the life of paint and that the pigment mixed with the oil is put there to prevent the oil from drying out and dropping off, and to hold the coloring matter. Therefore to have a good, durable job of painting, you must have pure linseed oil.

Kinloch HOUSE PAINT

is the old-fashioned thick pigment that you mix gallon for gallon with raw linseed oil—mix it yourself (or let your ten-year-old boy mix it) and you know what you are getting. Kinloch Paint will preserve the lasting qualities of linseed oil and produce the most durable and economical job of painting possible to procure.

Buy Kinloch Paint, the paint that "likes" linseed oil—the paint that does not fight the oil and destroy all its protecting and durable qualities—the paint that you mix yourself and know what you are getting

The Paint that Saves you Money.

For every gallon of Kinloch Paint buy a gallon of fresh, pure, raw, linseed oil in bulk of any reliable dealer, get a good painter to apply it and you can have a job lasting four or five years for a smaller outlay in the first cost of materials and a saving of one-third to one-half in the per year's wear cost of the job.

Important Memorandum—The painter is the most important factor in painting. A job complete, done by a good painter with the best quality of paint, costing say $60.00 ($40.00 labor $20.00 paint), will last five years. The same paint applied by a duffer ($20.00 labor $20.00 paint) will last only two years. Thus the "per-year-cost" of the good painter's job is $12.00—the poor painter's $20.00

See your dealer to-day about this and if he does not yet have Kinloch Paint in stock, write us for complete booklet of paint and painting, with color card. Sent free.

years ago when I was in the newspaper business, and I have used them ever since. I have resigned often since then, always in the way prescribed in these rules. Perhaps they will be of service to you. Here they are:

"Rule 1. After receiving the last straw don't do anything for two hours. Above all, don't write anything.

"Rule 2. At the expiration of two hours, write your resignation and make it as hot as you can. Relieve your feelings and say everything you have been penning up in your breast. Scorch the scoundrel, "Rule 3. Then go home.

"Rule 4. The next morning, immediately upon arising, read over your resignation and tear it up.

"Rule 5. Go to work at the usual hour.

"Take a copy of them," concluded Mr. Wynne, "and you will find that they are absolutely essential to any man who expects to resign frequently and still continue to rise in the world."—New York Times.

LOCALS

Do not forget to attend the Co. 1 Ball next Saturday evening.

Work on the new mill of the Wailuku Sugar Co. is progressing rapidly.

The board of supervisors of the County of Maui meets at the County seat next Wednesday.

If you are a lover of Hawaiian music, attend the Co. 1 Ball. You will not be disappointed.

Judge A. N. Kepoikai has issued commissions to George Weight and T. B. Lyons to act as jury commissioners for the Second Circuit Court for a term of one year from December first 1905.

The music at the bazaar to be given at the Knights of Pythias Hall under the auspices of the Ladies Guild of the Church of the Good Shepherd on the evening of the 18th instant promises to be very attractive.

Considerable improvement has been made on our dilapidated sidewalks during the last week.

Be sure that your Cremo Cigar has the word Cremo perforated in the wrapper of the cigar.

PERSONAL MENTION

See add in another column and send him your work.

E. H. Pieper of Paia paid the county seat a visit Saturday last.

Chas. Fishel representing Greenbaum and Co. was in town this week.

W. L. De Coto of Lahaina paid the County seat a business call on Monday.

Attorney C. W. Ashford paid Wailuku a professional visit this week.

Attorney Enos Vincent of Paia was in town on professional business last Saturday.

C. A. Buchanan, road supervisor of Lahaina District was in town on Monday of this week.

George Hawley at the Maui Hotel is prepared to take your orders for developing and printing your kodak films.

The invincible Billy Green of M. Phillips & Co. was in town this week and reports business on Maui as better than ever.

The adjutant is much pleased with the work and has promised to try and have the Honolulu band visit the local corps in the near future.

Adjutant Strawberry and wife left Wailuku on Wednesday's boat for Honolulu after having had a most successful series of meetings.

Billy has shaved off his mustache and it is reported that he has been mistaken for W. J. Bryan. At any rate his friends always greet him as "Billy Bryan."

Jack Dow of Lahaina was in town Monday nursing a broken arm, the effects of an accident of some weeks ago. He hopes to resume his business in a few weeks.

Bishop Restarick will preach at the Church of the Good Shepherd tomorrow Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, at the childrens service in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and at Puenene in the evening.

Judge A. N. Kepoikai has received a wireless from chief Justice Frear asking him to hold himself in readiness to go to Lihue to preside in place of Judge Hardy over cases in which Judge Hardy is disqualified.

C. L. Clement Late Editor of the Maui News Commits Suicide

Wailuku Maui November 1. At an early hour this morning a note was found addressed to Dr. W. R. Boot from C. L. Clement in which he announced his intention to commit suicide. The Sheriff's Office was at once notified and a search made which resulted an hour later in finding the body of Mr. Clement in the Wailuku Cemetery with a bullet hole through his brain and in his hand a revolver with the finger still on the trigger.

The note to Dr. Boot dated Monday morning Oct. 30, 5 A. M. says "This vale of tears is now over for me, ask the directors of the Maui Publishing Co. to write my mother and brother that my death was from natural causes heart failure"

Then follows a statement as to where the September and October vouchers and receipts may be found and directions to Dr. Boot as to his effects.

It is deeply regretted by the Maui Publishing Co. that it is impossible to carry out the wishes of the dead man, as Mr. Clement was a news paper man and well known throughout the Territory it is more than probable that some one will send to his relatives a copy of some paper containing an account of his death.

Mr. Clements tragic death is deeply regretted by the entire Community and we extend to the aged mother our heart felt sympathy in this her sad bereavement.

The funeral services were conducted jointly by Rev. Roland Dodge of the Foreign Church and by Captain Lyman of the Salvation Army.

The pall bearers were George C. Stratemeyer Dr. W. R. Boot Chas. Kerr, Solomon Kekipi Daniel Koki-pala, and Hugh M. Coke.

UP COUNTRY NOTES

Mrs. R. E. Ford of Lahaina who recently underwent a difficult operation at the Puenene Hospital is improving quite rapidly.

She had been suffering for some time past so her many friends will be glad to hear that she is on the road to recovery.

Owing to the heavy seas of the last ten days the Ship Spartan has at last broken up and disappeared.

J. Cumming, a pattern maker of Honolulu came up Saturday to take a position in the Puenene Mill.

Dr. Williams of San Francisco is visiting Maui, this week.

The weather is still exceedingly dry in this locality though there is a great deal of rain at the ditch heads. All the pumps of the H. C. & S. Co. are in operation and will continue until the rainy season comes on.

It is very dry in Kula and even the pasturage of Makawao is beginning to feel the dry spell.

Miss Nellie Crook is able to be out again after being laid up with a badly sprained ankle for the past few weeks.

Miss Fisher, who has been visiting Miss Irene Crook the past two months has returned to her home in San Jose.

Quite a few from Puenene attended Mrs. Carnegie's birthday dance Saturday evening and express themselves as having had a very jolly time.

A trial will be run at excursion rates on the evening of the 18th inst for the benefit of all who wish to attend the Bazaar given by the Ladies Guild of the church of the Good Shepherd.

Union Church Wailuku.

The first preaching service on the reopened Union Church in Wailuku will be held Sunday evening Nov. 5, at 7 o'clock. The usual order of service in vogue in congregational, Baptist and Methodist churches on the Mainland will be used. The singing will be by the congregation. It is hoped that all those who are not regular church attendants and all who would like to come to an evening service will be present. The church is to be a truly union affair and all are most cordially welcome.

In the next issue of the MAUI NEWS we hope to give a history of the church, and explain the work in which the pastor, Rev. R. B. Dodge, is engaged.

Wailuku School Notes.

The Wailuku Public School observed Arbor Day, Nov. 3 by making a beginning toward beautifying the school grounds. Since we have occupied the new school house our work time has been devoted to cleaning the grounds of brush, weeds and stones, and to cleaning away the thicket of panini and koa that disfigured the front, both inside and outside of the fence. It is planned to join the two entrances by a semicircular drive or avenue passing the main entrance. The avenue will be bordered with royal palms, and a row of palms was planted on Friday along the front of the grounds. The semicircle between this row of palms and those of the avenue will be devoted to flower gardens. The scrubby eucalyptus now there will gradually be removed.

No School in the Territory has grounds so well adapted to landscape gardening as ours; and it is the intention of Principal Copeland to make them a place of which Wailuku will be proud.

On Friday the exercises were held on the grounds and consisted of songs, readings and declamations appropriate to the occasion. Each of the five rooms of the school planted two trees, the care of which devolve upon the class which planted it. This plan was suggested by Governor Carter. Invitations painted by the pupils were sent out to parents and friends and a good number responded and were present.

Practice Arithmetic.

A teacher received the following from a complaining parent a few days ago:

"Sir:—Will you please for the future give my boy some easier comes to do at nites. This is what he brought home to or three nites ago; if fore gallons of bere will fill thirty-to pint bottles, how many pint and half bottles will nine gallons fill? Well, we tried and could get nothing of it all, and my boy cride and sed he wouldn't go back without doing it. So I had to go an' buy a nine-gallon keg of bere, which I could ill afford to do, and then we went an' borrowed a lot of wine and brandy bottles, besides a few we had by us. Well, we emptied the keg into the bottles and there were nineteen, and my boy put that down for an answer. I don't know whether it is rite or not, as we split some in doing it.

P. S.—Please let the next one be water, as I am not able to buy any more bere."—Hilo Tribune.

Atkinson To Leave to Investigate Immigration Matters.

Wednesday, Oct. 25. Among the matters discussed at the meeting of the Board of Immigration was the establishing of an office down town. After considerable discussion on a matter, in which the question of location and the expense connected therewith was discussed, Craig finally moved that the secretary of the Board be authorized and instructed to procure an office for the use of the Board. Passed.

Tenney moved that Cooke, Garden and Craig be appointed a committee of three to arrange for the opening of the office and to arrange clerk's furnishing employment for unskilled immigrants and others.

Carden thought that this would be a big job.

Tenney said the Board had advertised that it would furnish employment.

Craig objected to have the Board furnish jobs for others than immigrants. He did not think that was in the province of the Board. It should not look up jobs for Japanese.

Atkinson and Cooke said Japanese would not apply. None had answered Mr. Meade's advertisement. It was not right to keep out the local Portuguese and Hawaiian, who were anxious to get employment.

Tenney said a card index system would have to be used to keep track of the laborers. Otherwise the professional bums would abuse the office and apply for jobs just to get transportation.

Craig said the office should handle skilled labor also.

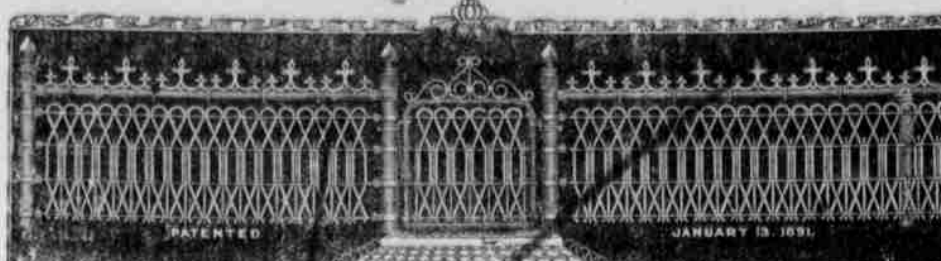

Cooke said unskilled laborers only would be advertised for.

Tenney said the office was not established for the purpose of furnishing jobs to everyone.

Atkinson suggested limiting it to agricultural laborers.

Craig objected to that. He thought all kinds of laborers should be given a chance. Good citizens of all kinds were wanted.
