VOL. XX--NO. 51. HONOLULU, HAWAIIAN ISLANDS, JUNE 17, 1876. WHOLE NO. 1047.

To The Aupuni.

SEE "AD REMPUBLICAN" OF HORACE, L 1. C 14.

Ill fated ship, what means thy sad condition?
Thy hull so weak; and threatening leaks appear,
To call from watchful men the admonition,
"Re-man your decks, for sad disaster's near."

Not rough the seas o'er which thy commerce called thee,
No furious gales have urged thee from thy course,
No bloody mutiny has e'er appalled thee,
Leaving thee helpless, and without resource.

'Tis not from age thy lower works are rotten,
No fight has swept thy deck of stalwart men,
Thy prosperous voyages cannot be forgotten,
And canst thou e'er be strengthless, aupuni?

Once on thy deck a noble crew were [illegible] Kara, Silk Umo[illegible]
Ready for any duty, day or night [illegible] Skin [illegible]
No sudden fear the skillful pilot [illegible]
No doubtful scheme enticed him [illegible] and Bit[illegible]

Now thou dost need a thorough ove[illegible] [illegible]STLE & C[illegible]
By skillful artisans, to know thy s[illegible]
Then by repairs, disaster sad forestall[illegible]
Thou may'st defer awhile the threa[illegible] fate.

And at thy helm a skillful pilot's needed,
To man thy deck, and guide thine onward way:
For if the threatened danger's still unheeded,
Thou'lt be a wreck, and that with slight delay.

VARIETY.

REMINDS HIM.—Perkins says a boarding-house breakfast always reminds him of a game of croquet—it is so hard getting round the steak.

SENSITIVE.—Some people seem to be extremely sensitive. At one of the churches, Sunday, the minister read the prayer for a person in deep affliction, and a man who had just been married got up and went out. He said he didn't want public sympathy obtruded on him that way.

ANGRY.—A Preston man was very angry on going home the other night to find that his wife had lent the only Bible in the house. He said it was a disgrace that in this period of Christian enlightment a family should have only one copy of the Bible. It seems he wanted to decide a bet as to whether it was Paul or Cephas who said, "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

A VISITOR'S BOOK.—Mrs. Veneering has discontinued a custom originated by her of having visitors write their names in a book in the hall in event of her absence. Why? Because the milkman came and wrote, "Bill Smith called to collect a bill of long standing, and is sorry Mrs. Veneering didn't leave the amount with the girl, as she agreed."

"I hope," said a serious looking gentlemen recently, "that the angel who ferries souls across Jordan has more than one boat in his service." His hearers looked upon him with such evident surprise that he quickly added: "I hope so because it would be so unpleasant for any of the Plymouth brethren to cross over at the same time with Dr. Storrs and Dr. Budington."

Boston Commercial Bulletin: Young Grogery-But got a little mixed after supper at the Centennial party the other evening, and was heard to remark to a brother swell: Zis Cillidelphia Penitential's big thing, but they ought to Bell old Shootknap 'fore it comes off; 's Andrew Jackson said, 'f any man flags down the American hauls, spot him on the shoot."

"This is my last call," remarked a flippant young gentleman to a young lady who was soon to be married, on a recent occasion. "I never call on married women or unmarried ladies after they have reached twenty-five." "You do well, sir," gravely remarked an elderly lady present. "At that age and, after marriage, they begin to know the value of time, and do not like to waste it."

APT TO.—It is well enough to talk of elevating the tone of social conversation, but when a well-meaning young man tries to introduce protoplasm as a subject, at a little gathering, and finds that everybody thinks that he is referring to a new kind of plaster and considers him indelicate in doing so, he is apt to feel that the life of the reformer is a kind of perpetual picnic on an anthill.

FIGURATIVE EXPRESSIONS.—How many common figurative expressions in our language are borrowed from the art of carpentry, may be seen in the following sentence: "The lawyer who filed a bill, shaved a note, cut an acquaintance, split a hair, made an entry, got up a case, framed an indictment, impaneled a jury, put them into a box, bailed a witness, hammered a judge, and bored a whole Court, all in one day, has since laid down law and turned carpenter."

A Connecticut express agent gives the following account of his experience in a recent railroad disaster: "I was pitched against the safe. I scrambled up with the other fellows, and then I missed something, and exclaimed, 'All is lost!' 'What's lost?' inquired the brakeman. 'Why, my ear. I always thought that I should lose one of 'em some day.' Then I looked up and saw it hanging from a hook where my head was plunged, and then I reached out and unhung it; and it wasn't my ear, but my canvas express bag."

COULDN'T STAND BOTH.—The custom of appointing young lawyers to defend pauper criminals received a back-set, the other day, in a Texas Court. His Honor had appointed two young lawyers to defend an old and experienced horse-thief. After inspecting his counsel for some time in silence, the prisoner rose and addressed the bench: "Air them to defend me?" "Yes, sir," said his Honor. "Both of em?" inquired the prisoner, "Both of them," replied the Judge. "Then I plead guilty," and the poor devil took his seat and sighed.

TOO PUBLIC SPIRITED TO BE HONEST.—"John Tompkins, what have you got to say for yourself," asked the Police Judge sternly of a stumpy, low-browed, bloated-faced man, who had just been found guilty for the ninety-ninth time of stealing potatoes on Davis street. "Wal, yer honor, yer sees," he replied, "I hev tried to be honest. The trouble wi' me is, I'm too public spirited. Ef I sees the sikewalk's structed wi' spuds, yer Honor, and well dressed gents a stubbin' their toes and a s'iling their fine duds agen'um, I kinder feel it my dooty as a good citizen to clear that sidewalk."

RAN AFTER HIM.—A stranger entered a Detroit wine shop where four men were drinking, and in a loud voice inquired for the proprietor. That person came forward, and the stranger said: "I'm hard up, and I want to sell you a recipe. For two dollars I'll show you how you can make a gallon of the best Catawba wine out of twenty cents' worth of drugs and whisky." "Would you insult me?" cried the dealer. "I have none but pure wines here! Get out of my place, sir!" The man got out but hadn't gone a block when a boy came running after him and said: "Come around the back-door if you want to sell that recipe."

After worrying his father for three or four years on the subject, a young man who has grown up with Detroit succeeded in becoming the owner of a time-piece the other day. His father purchased it on the sly, took it home, and when the young man turned over his plate at dinner, he found the watch.

"Good! Bully for me! You are a noble father," he exclaimed in delight.

As he opened the watch his smiles faded away. Noticing the change, his father asked:

"Isn't the watch all right?"

"It's a good enough watch," was the reply.

"Then what's the matter?"

"Why, you have had my name engraved on the case, and no pawnbroker will give me five dollars on it if I get hard up!"

THE HOUSE COVERS ONE ENTIRE Block, having a frontage south, east and west of over 100 feet. It is admirably located for the convenience of guests; is thoroughly built in the best manner, with all modern improvements. Every floor, from basement to roof, is underlaid with four inches of cement, which, with other safe-guards, renders it practically FIRE-PROOF. The VENTILATION is perfect, and the whole is being refitted with the addition of new and elegant furniture as required.
The service, table, and other accommodations (being the same to all guests) will be maintained fully up to the high standard of their predecessors, and equal to any house in this or any other country; but the proprietors have decided to meet the just expectations of the public in these times of financial depression by graduating prices at from $2 00 to $4 50 per day, according to the location of the rooms occupied.

FRIDAY, JUNE 16, 1876.

BUSINESS during the past week has been remarkably free from excitement or bustle, every branch of trade being apparently at a stand still while waiting for the news of the ratification of the Treaty, which has been looked for daily per W H Besse, from San Francisco, considered due for a week past. This quiet is perhaps the calm that precedes the storm of activity and enterprise which is to follow in a few months under the working of the Treaty, as we learn of quite a number (some 18 or 20) new sugar plantations that are spoken of as likely to be initiated in different parts of the islands.

These new enterprises, with the extension of Rice and Coffee culture, will, with the new supply of labor at hand and on the way, soon show their effects upon business generally.

While thus writing of our present attitude of business quietude, we would not have our readers misled into considering the state of affairs here as an exception to the general state of trade in other parts of the world; as by the statement of one of our merchants who has just returned from the centres of trade in the United States and Europe, France afforded the only exception to the general complaint of business stagnation he met with in all his travels. A careful and candid consideration of this question leads one to acknowledge that, not only are we better off than many others, but that we can appreciate and enjoy what we have better if we discard our ambitious notions; for, with the smallness of our people and resources, it is not consistant to expect to make "bonanza" strikes in trade, nor to become the millionares the Gazette would have some of us believe we may—not even with a Marine Telegraph Cable.

The Colombo, which arrived on Saturday morning last from Hongkong, brings 184 Chinese immigrants, among which there are four women and a number of boys. She is consigned to Chulan & Co, and brings a small cargo, consisting principally of Chinese groceries.

Bark Camden sailed yesterday in ballast for Port Gamble.

We may expect activity next week in shipping movements, by the arrival of three barks from the coast, and the steamer from the colonies. Bark M B Roberts will get off early after the arrival of the next mail, having considerable of her cargo already on board.

Sugar continues to accumulate in the city, nearly all the available storage being occupied, and cellars up town being engaged therefor. A counter movement is hoped for soon.

THE SCAB ACT.—In view of the act now before the Assembly relative to scab in sheep, the following from the Albany Country Gentleman will be read with interest by our graziers:

A few weeks since we gave an account of some sales of thoroughbred cattle in Australia, and the large prices realized. We now add to this some sales of sheep lately made at Melbourn, including Lincolns, Leicesters and Merinos. Lincoln rams ranged from 21 to 34 gs, each ($118 to $190), average from 30 to 31 gs. ($68 to 173.60). The Leicester ewes averaged £21 10s. ($114, 90). 150 Merino rams sold at prices varying from 30 to 76 guineas ($168 to $425) each. The first 26 sold averaged £53 ($282,50) each. The Merino ram Sir Thomas, called by the Hobart Town Mercury (from which paper these figures are taken) the "far-famed stud, pure Merino ram 'Sir Thomas,' one of the grandest sires in the colonies, and in every respect a most perfect sheep," brought the extraordinary sum of £714 ($3,805)! The 150 rams mentioned were either of his or by rams of his get. The Mercury gives as one reason justifying such high prices, the good results following the passage and enforcement of the "scab act," which makes it a felony to allow sheep having the scab to run at large, or even accidentally escape from enclosures.

Equalizing the License System.

MR. EDITOR—If the system of licenses for the purpose of raising the means of paying the necessary expenses of government is to be continued, let it be equalized, so that one class or a number of classes of the people shall not be allowed to escape taxation in this form altogether, while another class or any number of classes are made to pay license for similar causes or employments.

Why should the merchant, doing a business of $2000 a year, be obliged to pay the same amount for his license as the one doing a business of $10,000, or even $100,000? Who is there that would not gladly avoid paying taxes of any kind if he could do so honestly? Taxation is necessary. Every man who is under the protection of the government owes something to the government. If he is able to pay something for the support of the government he should be made to pay. He who will not do so is not worthy of that protection. Licensing business may not be the best way of raising taxes, but if used at all, let it be equal. Why should the man who sells a fifty pound sack of flour be obliged to pay for a wholesale and a retail license, when he, perhaps, is only doing a business of $500 per quarter, while a wholesale (?) house or firm pays the same amount for the same licenses?

The true plan would be to tax every one on their quarterly sales,—obliging merchants, if necessary, to swear to their receipts and statement. We are told that our taxes are to be increased to meet certain deficiencies. Now, for instance, if the license tax is increased from $200,000 to $400,000, that increase makes other classes of taxation just so much less; the increase of taxation by licenses reduces in the same ratio the tax on real estate.

This fact is something for the consideration of owners of real estate in this city. What do that class of citizens say to the proposition to equalize the license system, so that all who are liable on the same principle shall be required to pay an equal tax?

Our yearly license law is a mistake; it should be quarterly, and every one in business, of whatever kind, be obliged to pay a license on equal terms.

SATURDAY, JUNE 17.

☞ TO SUBSCRIBERS.—We shall send bills at once for all subscriptions remaining unpaid; and we ask the kind co-operation of our patrons to enable us to commence the new volume on the system of payment invariably in advance.

OVER A year since, we repeatedly directed the attention of the government and prospective legislators to the importance of procuring a carefully compiled and printed descriptive list of all government lands throughout the group. As things are now, a person who might be desirous of investing in land with a view to engaging in agriculture, can get no information of value at the government house as to any particular parcel of land belonging to the government, simply for the reason that the lands are known only by their names as given in the "Mahele Book" of 1846. Now if we expect to improve the golden opportunity afforded by the reciprocity treaty by largely increasing our sugar and rice production, we must radically change this do-nothing policy in regard to the public lands. And we are pleased to note in this connection that the Hon. Mr. Gay last week introduced a resolution in the Assembly, "Requesting the Minister of the Interior to have, in connection with the surveys of all government lands, a special survey of those parts which would be termed agricultural land; also a written report to accompany each survey, stating what facilities if any were attached to each land,—such as shipping, water privileges for irrigation, road for transport of produce, &c., &c."

THE GENERAL impression seems to prevail that the next arrival from San Francisco—or at all events, the steamer due the latter part of this month—must assuredly bring the announcement that the treaty of reciprocity has already become a law in the United States. Our sensational contemporary the Gazette, some ten days ago expressed its belief that the treaty was then a law on the other side of the Pacific. But there are certain steps to be taken and prescribed acts to be done, even after the Senate has passed the Act to carry out the treaty, and until we hear that these are fully accomplished we fail to see any ground for the aforesaid great expectations. Article 5 of the treaty begins thus: "The present convention shall take effect as soon as it shall have been approved and proclaimed by His Majesty the King of the Hawaiian Islands, and shall have been ratified and duly proclaimed on the part of the government of the United States," &c. The ratifications were exchanged at Washington on the 3d day of June, last year, but by the terms of the treaty itself, as quoted above, it must be proclaimed by both governments before it can go into effect. This has yet to be done by the King of Hawaii, and we may fairly consider it an open question whether the American government will not await the official announcement of the required proclamation here, before itself taking final action. And herein we are forcibly reminded that the electric telegraph would be of great utility just now.

THE REMARK has frequently been heard during the past six weeks—or ever since the beginning of the present session—that the anomalous spectacle was presented of a Ministry before the country without the first inkling of a policy. Absolutely nothing that may be termed a progressive measure has thus far been presented by any one of the Ministers, and they are apparently quite destitute of any plans, or even ideas of what the country needs. On the vitally important subject of immigration—a subject which has been discussed and fully ventilated in this community during the past twenty years—the Minister of Foreign Relations had the weak temerity to tell the House on Tuesday last that the reason why the Ministry had proposed no scheme was because they were waiting to learn the views of members on the subject! Just think of the desperate blank that must exist in the minds of Ministers when they are compelled to ask for enlightenment on such a subject from the honorable members for Kahoolawe or Niihoa! Can a parallel be found in the history of Hawaiian Cabinets? Can anything be conceived more lamentably puerile?

But we believe that we have made a discovery—no less a one than the fact that the Ministry have a policy, after all. If we are right in our conjectures, it will be found that they have formed a deliberate plan to continue to fritter away the time by allowing Representatives to fool themselves to the top of their bent in speechmaking and attempts at impossible legislation, until they are not only tired of the amusement, but—what is far more to the purpose—until they have expended their pay; and then, when they have become pilikia and are anxious to return to their homes, anything that Ministers may present will be passed without hesitation, including the appropriation bill. To be sure, this is not an entirely new policy, but one for which a precedent can be remembered, not so very far back in our history; and it is neither an honorable nor a safe policy.

LEGISLATIVE JOTTINGS.

On the 9th, the Assembly adjourned over to the 13th, so that we have but four days proceedings to report upon—and it cannot surely be expected that the present Legislature would accomplish much in that brief space of time.

On Tuesday a resolution was introduced by the member for Kau, to the effect that the Attorney General be instructed to cause the law relating to the Sabbath to be enforced. This was brought forward avowedly for the purpose of putting a stop to the loading and unloading of the trans-Pacific steamers on Sunday. The government side voted solidly against the resolution, but there was a thin house and a number were absent who would have voted on the same side, and so it was carried by a majority of one. It remains to be seen whether the passage of this expression of the will of the majority of the Representatives will put a stop to the occasional practice complained of. It is always an unavoidable accident that causes the boats of the P. M. Co. to break the Sabbath, and it occurs but seldom. The resolution merely amounts to a reminder that the law—which applies to the delivery of mail matter as well as to the dispatch of mail steamers—has sometimes been disregarded.

On the same day, the Hon. Mr. Rhodes vainly attempted to draw out an intimation of the policy of the government on the question of immigration, by the introduction of a comprehensive resolution, which appears in the report of proceedings in another column. That resolution, together with one on the same subject by the Hon. Mr. Preston, was referred to a special committee for consideration and report.—We shall look for the report of the committee with no little interest.

On Wednesday the Minister of Finance gave notice of several amendments to the tariff laws,—notably two respecting the duty on wines and spirits and the tax on personal property; projects undoubtedly having in view a making up of the deficiency in the revenue which will result from the operation of reciprocity.

On Thursday, a resolution was adopted to send a special committee of thirteen to visit the leper establishment at Molokai on the steamer Kilauea, and enquire into alleged grievances. The same thing was done by the Legislature two years ago, the affair turning out a mere pleasure trip and an occasion for dissipation and license.

The introduction by the Ministry on Thursday of an act to carry into effect the treaty of reciprocity,—after such an expenditure of words and declaration of "plucky" resolves not to do anything of the sort,—gave occasion for both admiration and amusement. In this, and also in the matter of the immigration question, the action of the Ministry forcibly reminds us of the "artful dodger" of pugilistic fame. To use another illustration: the Ministry may be compared to the wary mariner, who, when he finds it impracticable to steer just the course he would prefer, trims his sails and veers his vessel in accordance with the breeze, and eventually, in view of a threatened storm, goes quite on the other tack. But unfortunately the illustration does not hold good, for the reason that our Ministry have really settled upon no course to steer, but are "backing and filling" like the Irishman's brig, "with both main tacks aboard."

The following is the text of the act above referred to, which, when read, will lead everybody to ask—Why on earth could not this have been brought in at first, and saved all the hullabaloo, bother and ill-feeling in the House? The Minister of Foreign Relations declared that on PRINCIPLE, he should refuse, so long as he held His Majesty's commission, to submit this treaty to the present Legislature. On what PRINCIPLE does he now take the backward track?

AN ACT to carry into effect a Convention of Reciprocity between His Majesty the King and the United States of America, signed at Washington on the 30th day of January, 1875. WHEREAS, His Majesty the King did on the 30th day of January, 1875, enter into a Convention with the United States of America, at the city of Washington, which said Convention was ratified by His Majesty at Honolulu on the 17th day of April, 1875, and ratifications were exchanged at the city of Washington on the 3d day of June of the same year;

AND WHEREAS, the said Convention provides in its fifth article that it, the said Convention, shall go into effect as soon as it has been approved and proclaimed by His Majesty the King of the Hawaiian Islands, and shall have been ratified and duly proclaimed on the part of the government of the United States, but not until a law to carry it into operation shall have been passed by the Congress of the United States; NOW THEREFORE, Be it enacted, &c., that whensoever His Majesty shall have received satisfactory evidence that the Congress of the United States has passed laws to give full effect to the provisions of said Convention, and shall proclaim that he has received such evidence, from and after the date of such proclamation, the following articles, being the growth, manufacture or produce of the United States of America, to wit: [here follows the list of articles as contained in the treaty] shall be introduced into this country free of duty, so long as the said Convention shall remain in force.

Yesterday the Minister of Finance laid before the House "A Plan for supplying the deficiency in the revenue of the kingdom anticipated upon giving effect to the Convention of Reciprocity with the United States of America." We shall give details in our next.

Normal Schools in America.

The following extract from a letter from Mr. Hitchcock, the Inspector General of Schools, now on a visit to the United States, will be read with interest.

"On the 6th of this month, I went to Trenton, N. J. in company with Mr. Slack, a Trenton man, to inspect the State normal school established in that city. Connected with the school is a 'model school,' for the young 'normals' to try their hand at. But this is not allowed, except in the primary classes. The class rooms of both buildings, the normal, and model schools, are partitioned off with glass sashes, which are raised or lowered in the same manner as window sash, thus permitting a whole floor to be thrown into one room, if desirable. When these sashes are down, no sound is distinguishable from the various rooms. The pupils were engaged in written examinations, at the time of my visit, these examinations having been ordered by the State Superintendent, for the purpose of exhibition at the Centennial. I passed around the various rooms with the principal of the model school, overlooking the work of the pupils, and was favorably impressed with the neat appearance of their papers; drawings in colored crayons were very beautifully executed on the blackboards surrounding the rooms. Great attention is paid to this art.

"Passing over to the normal school situated in the same enclosure, I was shewn into the recitation rooms of the different classes. Of these there are three, numbering in all nearly two hundred students, of which at least four-fifths are ladies. There are two courses, one of three, and the other of two years. The curriculum of study is almost identical with the one which I proposed for Lahainaluna last year. I was surprised at the youthful appearance of the students. The graduating class could not have averaged over eighteen years; whilst the entering class were mere boys and girls. I attended a recitation of each class, and was much struck with the intellectual development manifested. The lowest class represented the raw recruits, struggling to master the mysteries of arithmetic, the middle class had left arithmetic behind, and with barks slightly battered in coming in collision with arithmetical icebergs, steered on to meet the unknown dangers of higher mathematics, and physical science. The graduating class were at their moorings, taking in their last stores, rating their chronometers, and receiving their last sailing orders previous to acting as convoys for numerous fleets of small craft awaiting their guidance.

"After spending two very agreeable hours in this state institution, I went with Mr. Slack to the state house, and examined the various collections of specimens, principally geological, which the pupils of the state schools had made for exhibition at the Centennial. These will make a very handsome show, and were collected at the State Department of Education, previously to being shipped for the Centennial grounds. On the 13th inst., in company with Rev. C. Forbes, formerly missionary at the Islands, I visited the Philadelphia Northern Home for friendless children, and its sister institution the Home for soldiers and sailors orphans. Here again were written examinations going on, by order of the Superintendent of Instruction. Both institutions numbered about 400 pupils of both sexes, and are controlled by a board of ladies. Everything about the establishments was perfectly neat, and the pupils appeared to be well cared for. Still I saw a great many old faces on young shoulders, telling the tale of early trouble. The gem of these establishments is the 'Kindergarten School,' where the little ones were taught. In a large room wherein flowers were made to bloom at all seasons, and a canary made music at all hours of the day, was a low form in the shape of a parallelogram. Around this form, seated in comfortable little rocking chairs were some twenty little midgets, the oldest of whom was not more than six. Here they were amusing themselves in drawing on slates, making variegated paper mats, modeling fruits and animals in clay, unconsciously learning and studying, whilst in reality playing. I was assured that the little things, some not more than three years old, generally learned to read by the time they mastered the alphabet. Variously colored blocks with the letters upon them were placed in a heap together, and the little ones would form the word signifying the name of any object in the room, after seeing their teacher print the same on the black board. And their clay models were very good in many instances; they were but a step in advance of childhood's mud pies. At the request of the matron I talked a little to the children and wound up with a sentence or two in Hawaiian; whereat the young ones laughed heartily as did also their teachers. This Kindergarten School is to be exhibited at the Centennial in the Pennsylvania Building."

WE clip the following from a late number of the Republican Standard (N. B.

THE DESERTERS FROM BARK BARTHOLOMEW GOSNOLD.—Our readers may remember that some two months ago statements were made in some of the papers, with reference to Capt. James M. Willis of this city, master of bark Bartholomew Gosnold; substantially to the effect that a tree was cut down at Strong's Island, in August last, for the sake of capturing two Kanaka deserters from the bark, by which action one of the men was killed and the other wounded.

The vessel arrived home Thursday, and the wounded man is on board, having recovered from his injuries. The officers are reticent in regard to the matter, but the crew talk freely concerning it. It appears that the captain paid the King of the islands $10 each to capture the runaways. Some of the crew state that the tree upon which the runaways had climbed was cut down by order of the captain, while others say it was by order of the King. They agree that the captain was present at the time.

CONSULATE OF PORTUGAL.

HONOLULU, June 10th, 1876.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF Antonio Margarida Lopez, deceased. City Office, 418 California Street, San Francisco.

HAVING HEARD THAT OWNERS OF

SPANISH MERINOES

Recently imported at the Islands, have created the impression among buyers, that their flock was the purest and best on the Pacific Coast, that this importation is superior to any other hitherto brought to this port, seeming to somewhat reflect upon the quality of Stock just previously introduced, and leaving unpleasant inferences with purchasers of the same, as to purity and possible deception regarding quality, we hereby assert our readiness to guarantee every Animal sold in the past or future, as Quite Equal in Purity, and no Less Thoroughbred than the above named flock, and offered at quite as reasonable figures. Above parties are not the sole Breeders of Spanish Merinoes.

For the purity of our Band, or for straightforwardness of representation on the part of the dealer, we are permitted to refer to the following well known parties.

Mr. Amasa Pratt, President Oahu College, Honolulu.
W. H. Dimond, Esq., San Francisco;
J. S. Bacon, Esq., Agt. Boston Board Underwriters, S. F.
H. W. Severance, Esq., Hawaiian Consul, San Francisco.

THE RIDGE HOUSE!
KEALAKEKUA BAY HAWAII.
THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS ARE noted the world over for their unrivaled salubrity of climate. Certain localities in the group are especially favored in this way.—The District of Kona, on the leeward side of Hawaii, has long been famed as a place of resort for invalids with bronchitis, or lung diseases. With its pure and mild atmosphere, with its absolute freedom from storms or high winds, with its porous soil which, with all its rich vegetation, retains no dampness and yields no malaria, and with an unvarying temperature—that of the American or Southern European June—ALL THE YEAR ROUND, the climate of Kona is one of the healthiest and most luxurious on the globe.
The undersigned, at his house at Kaawaloa, a house unequaled in the district for size, cleanliness, commodiousness, and thoroughness of furnishing, is prepared to give boarders excellent rooms and all obtainable comforts in the way of diet,
THERE ARE FRESH WATER BATHS on the premises, and fine sea bathing within a short distance. The steamer Kilauea and the schooners Uliana and Prince, run regularly between Honolulu and the Kaawaloa landing.
The undersigned employs no agents nor runners. His house speaks for itself upon inspection. A. A. TODD.

CAPT. DANIEL SMITH, Harbor Master.

SATURDAY, JUNE 17.

VOLUME XXI.

With the issue for July 1st, commences Volume Twenty-one of the PACIFIC COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER, and the occasion will afford an appropriate opportunity for those who have not heretofore become subscribers to do so, and for those whose subscriptions expire at that date to renew them, by the payment of Five Dollars in advance. The system of payment in advance, it will be apparent, is much the best for patrons as well as for the printer. Besides the saving of a dollar, there cannot but be a feeling of satisfaction in the reflection that one's paper is paid for a year ahead, instead of being called on by and bye to pay Six Dollars for an enjoyment that has passed; and on the other hand it is hardly fair to compel the printer to wait a year for the small sum which he demands for fifty-two issues, besides keeping your account.

With the brighter prospect before the country which Reciprocity assures, we appeal with confidence to the public for a renewal and an increase of that support which the ADVERTISER has enjoyed in the past, pledging, on our part, that no effort shall be spared to make it a welcome visitor to every household throughout the land—our aim, the advancement of the best interests of the whole country.

BRIEF MENTION.

THERE will be a match game at Baseball on the plains this P. M.

THE U. S. S. Lackawanna from Hilo, arrived this morning.

THE REV. J. BICKNELL will preach the annual sermon on Home Evangelization, to-morrow evening at the Fort Street Church.

CORPUS CHRISTI.—This summer festival of the Catholic Church was observed last Thursday at the Cathedral, but owing to the illness of some of the clergy, the usual out-door procession was omitted.

HOW TO KILL COCKROACHES.—A friend sends us the following recipe. We are assured that the pests will devour the mixture greedily and that it is sure to kill them: "Mix equal parts of brown sugar, cornmeal and Paris green."

BRITISH SUBJECTS.—It is currently reported that the recent importation of Chinese are to a man British subjects, having taken the oath of allegiance to the British crown before leaving Hongkong. Now then, if Mr. Aseu's 300 shall come in as new-made Yankees! In fact "for deeds that are dark, and tricks that are vain." &c.

RECIPROCITY SUGAR.—A friend sends us a keg of sugar made from the crop now coming off at the Kohala Plantation, Hawaii, and which he names "Reciprocity." For whiteness and a large handsome crystal, it is ahead of anything in the way of table sugar that we have seen. Rah for Reciprocity, say we, if this is the way it works.

MUSIC THIS AFTERNOON.—The band will play at Emma Square this afternoon, commencing at half past four o'clock. Following is the programme:

Coronation March, Opera—The Prophet.....Meyerbeer
Grand Cavatina, Clarionet Solo.....Schreiner
Selection, Opera—La Dameblanche.....Boieldieu
The Bat's Quadrille.....Strauss
Fantasia, Opera—The Count of Ory.....Rossini
Soldier's Life, Austrian Tattoo.....Kela Bela

FOURTH OF JULY.—See advertisement in to-day's paper of a meeting to-night to concert measures for a proper celebration of the Centennial Fourth. Every American ought to feel doubly spread-eagleish this year; and Hawaiian-Americans will be excused if, for well-understood reasons, they also go in for having a good time. We note also that the mirth-provoking association known as the "Antiques and Horribles," have a meeting next Monday evening, also with an eye to the 4th.

NOTES FROM EAST MAUI.—A correspondent writes: "It is a fine thing to have a concentration of talent every two years and call it Legislation; it gives everybody a chance to get off steam, and shows to the world that we have not forgotten the principal things upon which the prosperity of the country and the perpetuity of our independence depends—the abolition of the dog tag and the reduction of the horse tax.

"The communication signed 'H.' in your issue of the 10th inst. is the most sensible thing that has ever appeared on the Chinese question. It is an enigma that cannot be solved, that government should continue to send agents and money to get those people here, while there are thousands of families in other countries—civilized and Christianized—who would be glad to come and settle here, if aided to do so, and given time in which to pay back the price of passage.

"It is reported that preparations are being made to have a rousing celebration at Wailuku on the 4th of July, in three pieces: Part 1st, American Independence; Part 2nd, Centennial; Part 3rd, Reciprocity! Well, why not? Wailuku is the second city of the kingdom, and should be the seat of government of Maui."

WE BELIEVE it was Mr. Kelley of Pennsylvania, (commonly known in and out of Congress as "pig-iron Kelley,") who first pronounced the Hawaiian treaty "a well-defined job." Our planters will be amused to learn that they are credited with having expended a half a million dollars in getting it through the House of Representatives. The following is clipped from the Chicago Times:

LET IT BE RECORDED—THE DEMOCRATIC HOUSE AND THE BOGUS HAWAIIAN TREATY.—[Special Telegram.]—Washington, May 8.—The democratic house stands discredited with the responsibility of another indecent job. The Hawaiian treaty, pushed by a plentifully-provided lobby, was crowded through to-night by a majority of 15 votes. The bill is an iniquity pure and simple, devised by a gang of plundering adventurers who have bought up the sugar plantations on the Sandwich Islands. The bill has been engineered in Congress by Fernando Wood and lobbied by a disreputable New York gang. It is asserted that $500,000 have been expended where they would do the most good in securing supporters to this palpable fraud. The main arguments in the house have been that the bill was a step toward free trade, whereas the truth is the principle of free trade has no more to do with it than the theory of infant baptism. The inventors of the scheme have perfected arrangements for bringing in the produce of the islands free of duty, but this monopoly will in itself amount to a big duty in the end. There is no hope of the Senate refusing concurrence, since Fish is interested in the success of the measure. Members of both parties claim that money was used freely to push the bill through.

According to current report in Washington, the Hawaiian sugar planters have expended half a million dollars in convincing the obtuse grangers in the house of representatives that the lop-sided reciprocity treaty with Kalakaua's kingdom ought to be ratified. The labors and liberality of the saccharine lobbyists have at length succeeded, and the bill conforming the tariff to the treaty passed the house on yesterday.

...NIC No. 1, I. O. O. F.—At ... evening the following officers ... the ensuing term: S. L. Lew... Priest; G. West, S. W.; J. ..., Scribe; C. S. Bartow, J. W.; A. S. Cleg..., Treasurer.

GENERAL DULLNESS.—That is what everybody is complaining of in Honolulu just now. The streets, day after day, wear the quiet appearance of a continuous Sunday. We beg to suggest that this is but the calm that precedes the coming breeze. Numerous new agricultural enterprises are on the tapis, as we are informed, which only await the news of the final action in the matter of the treaty, to assume definite shape. These will untie the "old stockings" of capitalists and cause all branches of business to become generally active.

DEATH OF JUDGE MONTGOMERY.—This gentleman, a resident of twenty-four years standing, died in this city on Monday afternoon, after a lingering illness of several months. Mr. Montgomery was born in the city of Belfast, Ireland, November 5, 1802, and was consequently in his seventy-fourth year at the time of his decease. He came here from California in 1852, and soon after commenced the practice of the law. August 24, 1864, he was appointed Police Magistrate of Honolulu, which office he continued to hold until 1874, a period of ten years, when he was succeeded by the present incumbent. He was noted for his taste and skill in arboriculture and floriculture, and to his exertions the public are indebted for much of the ornamentation of the pleasant resort known as Emma Square.

OUR HAWAIIAN NAST.—On several occasions of late, there have appeared on the bulletin boards in front of our office some very well executed and amusing caricatures of men and things suggested by current topics of discussion, and which have attracted amused and admiring crowds of both foreigners and natives. The last and decidedly the best of the series was a cartoon which appeared last Saturday morning, and which nobody could look at without enjoying a hearty laugh—except, perhaps, the philo-Chinaman of the Gazette. It represented a sketch of the business portion of Honolulu as it will appear a few years hence, when all the trades and avocations of life shall have been monopolized by the Celestials. Even the household troops, the government band, and the governor of the island, were represented as shaven-headed, que-ed and almond eyed. The sketch has been photographed for preservation. The artist, we understand, is a young Hawaiian, a half-caste, who under favorable circumstances might become a second Nast.

COMMEMORATION DAY.—Monday, June 11th, Kamehameha 1st Day, was first designated as a public holiday by Kamehameha V, to take the place of Restoration Day, July 31st. It was duly observed in this city on Monday last by the cessation of ordinary employments and the very general closing of stores. In the afternoon there was a drill on the plains by native volunteer soldiery, infantry and cavalry, concluding with a sham fight, which appears to have been almost a reality to some of the "awkward squad." Horses and men in several instances are reported to have received more or less hurts from the unskillful handling of bayonets. However, it was as near as we shall ever come to actual war, and that's a consolation. A noteworthy fact was that much less drunkenness was seen during the day than is usual on holidays; for which gratifying result we may thank the police authorities, who last month closed out an illicit Chinese grog-seller, who it appears had been doing an extensive business among the natives.

Haleakala School, East Maui.

The annual examination of this school for boys, was held on Thursday, June 8, and was largely attended by an interested audience of natives and foreigners, who, by their frequent expressions of applause, shewed that they were much pleased with the exercises. We quote from a correspondent:

"The school-room was crowded at an early hour, and from the beginning to the end of the examination there was exhibited on the part of the teachers an earnest endeavor to draw out the capabilities of the scholars; and this was satisfactorily responded to by the latter in their answers to the various questions propounded. We were struck with the range of topics. "Arithmetic" embraced questions of practical importance not found in the books, but of first value to the resident of these Islands; "Geography," (in which super-excellence was shown) embraced a wider range than is usually seen in its study; and the questions in Orthography evinced careful study, and a sensible idea of what is demanded of the young Hawaiian.

"Ease of delivery, correctness of gesture, and distinctness in elocution, made the duty of listening to the selections a pleasure.

"One thing struck us as peculiarly happy—the majority of the pieces spoken gave prominence to our duties and obligations to God; and as all the pieces spoken were the selections of the scholars themselves, we are lead to the inference that "out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh."

Oahu College.

The annual examination of Oahu College took place on the 7th, 8th, 9th and 12th of June. It was a very impartial and thorough examination, no class being omitted. The first day was devoted more especially to the classes of the primary department, all of which did well, particularly the reading class. Throughout the examination we noticed with pleasure the attention which was paid to this usually somewhat neglected exercise. The second day was also spent in the examination of the younger portion of the school, an interesting feature being a spelling match in which, after a severe struggle, the well-earned prize was borne off by Miss May Richardson.

On the third day the examination of the more advanced classes was commenced. Both the classes in Geometry did well. The recitation in Rhetoric was a very pleasant one, and did great credit to the teacher, Miss Trowbridge. The reading in Mr. Pratt's division was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The day closed with a spelling match between the older scholars. The contest between the last two, Master Arthur Richardson and Miss Kate Mossman, was close; but at length an unfortunate word, to the chagrin of the boys and the delight of the girls, floored Master Richardson, leaving Miss Mossman to carry off the prize, a handsome dictionary.

On the last day, the recitation of Mr. Pratt's class in "Outlines of History," was one to be remembered with pleasure. Mr. Damon's class in Virgil, was as usual a success. The Rhetorical exercises occupied the afternoon of the last day, every one of which was fine. The recitations delivered by the young ladies could scarcely have been improved; we could hear every word, and think the boys had better look to their laurels. The audience were favored with Weber's "La Polacca," well executed by the already famous pianist, Miss Castle. We were filled with regret that the "Centennial Echo" was to die so young. The compositions were all well written and well read.

The entire exercises, from the first class Wednesday morning to the final song Monday afternoon, were a credit to both teachers and scholars. There were faults; but for our part we should much rather in every examination see a few faults. The audience, through the kindness and skill of Mrs. Pratt, were provided each day with an abundance of the good things of this life. We very much regret that there is to be any change in teachers for the coming year. The past year has been one of both work and pleasure. Mr. Pratt is evidently "the right man in the right place," and long may he remain with us as President of Oahu College.

The Kawaiahao Seminary.

The closing exercises of this very prosperous institution were largely attended on Wednesday last at Kawaiahao Church. The school, at present, numbers forty-two pupils; the principal, Miss Bingham, being very ably assisted by Miss Rowell and Miss King, and by two resident graduates, Miss Napoleon and Miss Aswan. The examinations in the different studies were varied by recitations and music,—the whole programme being one which could not but be interesting to all present. The exercises were characterized by a degree of exactness and thoroughness which most emphatically testified to the great faithfulness and zeal of the teachers. We were especially pleased with the attention paid to the little ones, who appeared to great advantage. It is well that they have so early found a safe and pleasant home.

All the pupils seemed animated by the same spirit, and the quiet and order,—the lady-like and earnest manner in all the performances was very gratifying. Those who understand the many difficulties attending the culture and education of the Hawaiians, will appreciate the efforts which must precede such results.

Of the classes, all of which were very interesting, we would mention, in particular, Miss Bingham's, in Botany; Miss Rowell's, in Philosophy; Miss King's in Physiology; and Miss Napoleon's, in Scripture Recitation. The Gymnastics were led by Miss Aswan, and were admirably executed, calling forth genuine applause from the audience. The singing was exceedingly satisfactory: Two pieces, 'Charity,' and 'Jesus, Lover of my Soul,' being especially well rendered.

A very pleasant feature in the entertainment was the distribution of useful and ornamental gifts, the handiwork of the girls, to their parents and to the patrons of the school. Great skill and taste was exhibited in the different articles thus presented, and all seemed very heartily to enter into the spirit of this Christmas in June. At the close of the morning's exercises there were a number of articles offered for sale; the proceeds of the sale, nearly fifty dollars, to be sent to aid in the support of a Bible-Reader near Erzeroom, Turkey.

We are sure that all who were so privileged as to be able to attend, felt that a truly noble work was being done by the Principal and her Assistants. In the midst of so many perplexing questions relative to the education of Hawaiian girls, the earnest faith which enables these teachers, with others in kindred institutions on the islands, to patiently continue their efforts for the up-building and saving of the race, should excite our warmest sympathy and admiration. Truly did one of the speakers, in his remarks, characterize their work as one, not for time, but for eternity; that the impressions they were leaving on the immortal souls intrusted to their care and guidance, were not a polish or veneer, easily destroyed, but resembled rather those inscriptions found in old historic lands, and which, cleared of the dust of centuries, reveal the grandur and glory of long buried nations. When the stain and dust of earth's sins and trials shall be removed by the Master's own hand, we doubt not that these faithful teachers will see with unspeakable gladness the divine and eternal beauty of the work which they have wrought.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

SESSION OF 1876.

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY—June 9th.

Hon. Mr. Nahaku moved that the vote taken yesterday, adopting the report of the Special Committee to whom was referred the petition against the seat of the Hon. S. M. Kamakau, be reconsidered. Carried.

From Honolulu, that $1,000 be appropriated for a road from Waipilopilo to Kalihi.

From Koolaupoko, that $2,500 be appropriated for a breakwater at Waiahole.

RESOLUTIONS, ETC.

Hon. Mr. Rhodes presented the following resolution: "Whereas the state of the country demands a fresh supply of population, particularly of women, and whereas certain persons, owners of plantations are desirous of bringing male laborers to work on their plantations, therefore be it Resolved, that the Minister of Foreign Relations is hereby authorized and instructed to act in concert with the above named persons for the purpose of introducing women with the men; also to place himself in communication with the British Government through its Commissioner for the purpose of ascertaining whether families can be brought from British India to these islands, and if so at what cost; also to take initiatory steps for procuring families if obtainable, under proper agreements, from the Azores or other islands in the Atlantic Ocean; also to reopen negotiations with Mr. Peccenini for the introduction of Italian families."

On motion, the resolution was ordered for consideration in Committee of the Whole, with the question of immigration.

By Hon. Mr. Barenaba, that the Minister for Foreign Affairs be requested to inform the house whether the sum of $40,000 paid to Chulan & Co., for importation of Chinese laborers, is to be paid back to the government or not.

On motion, the resolution was ordered for consideration in Committee of the Whole, with the subject of immigration.

By Hon. Mr. Kahuila, that the Attorney General be instructed to enforce the law relating to the Sabbath. After considerable discussion, in which His Ex. the Minister for Foreign Affairs, Hon. Messrs. Kaai, Lilikalani and Kauai, spoke against, and the Hon. Messrs. Kahuila, Kalaukoa and Pilipo in favor of the resolution, the motion to adopt was put and carried—16 to 15.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

The House went into Committee of the Whole, on the consideration of the resolutions on the general subject of immigration, the Hon. Mr. Kauai in the chair.

After discussion of two hours, the motion that the committee rise and report, recommending that the resolutions relating to the subject of immigration be referred to a Select Committee was put and carried. His Ex. the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Hon. Messrs. Gay, Isenberg, Nawahi and Halstead were appointed on said committee.

The House adjourned.

SATURDAY, JUNE 17.

[Communicated.]

In your issue of the 29th ult. you published proposals for the introduction of paper currency as legal tender and pointed out some of the advantages which would accrue to planters and others when a law was enacted to bring this system into force; but omitted to mention one particular advantage which would result and that is the recovery of all the money that planters have been overcharged by their agents in their quarterly accounts current for compound interest, which charge is unlawful; for the law laid down in Sec. 1484, Chapter 35, of the Civil Code, reads as follows:

"No action shall be maintainable in any Court of this Kingdom to recover compound interest upon any contract whatever."

There can be no doubt but that planters have been obliged to submit to this over-charge, as they were at the mercy of their agents, who could at any time close on the plantation were any objections raised against this over-charge for compound interest; but the introduction of a paper currency will enable them to clear themselves with their agents, and instead, have the government for their creditor, whose charge will be only five per cent. per annum, simple interest.

The Hawaiians, who have been the victims of unscrupulous and avaricious usurers ever since the work of civilization was commenced on these islands, and whose property has been alienated from them year after year until the number possessing kuleanas or other property upon which a mortgage could be effected, have become very few indeed in comparison with what these were in former years; few, however, as they are, they will be saved from the clutches of these social vampires. I would wish to point out the disadvantages they have been laboring under heretofore and the advantages which must accrue to them when this proposed system is adopted. Hitherto when they have mortgaged their property to the class of men referred to, they have been charged with interest from 1½ to 3½, and in some instances as much as 5 per cent. per month; the first year's interest being deducted in advance from the amount of the loan, so that in the event of their being unable to pay up the principal at the expiration of the first year the money lenders, if they chose, could foreclose the mortgage and become the owners of the property. I would draw the attention of the victims of these usurious money-grabbers to the fact that all interest at a rate higher than 2½ per cent. per month, charged on mortgages, is unlawful; for the law laid down in Sec. 1483, Chapter 35, reads thus: "No action shall be maintainable, in any Court of this Kingdom, to recover a higher rate of interest than 2½ per cent. per month, upon any contract made in this Kingdom," &c., so that having the law to protect them, we would strongly advise all those Hawaiians who have mortgages bearing a higher rate of interest than 2½ per cent per month, to have them annulled, and have fresh ones drawn out, stipulating for the extent of interest only as provided for according to law.

Under the proposed new system they can, when they wish to do so, obtain loans from their own government to the extent of one-third of the appraised value of either freehold or landed property at a nominal rate of interest of 5 per cent. per annum only. Will not this be far better for the Hawaiians in every way? As matters are now, if we take the lowest rate of interest, i. e., 1½ per cent. per month on a loan of say $300, it will amount to $54 per annum, whereas the government rate will be only $15, thereby giving a difference in saving on interest of $39; and not only this, but should the loan lapse, the property mortgaged will revert to government, and I should like to know who has a better right to it? These kuleanas were originally, I believe, the gift of a former king or government. I would also propose, in modification of paragraph nine of the proposals, published in your issue under advertence, that the government, as a special case, but not as a rule, assist with loans those who now have property mortgaged so as to enable them to effect a transfer of their property to government, the government will then become the only creditor; by this means the interest on their mortgages will be reduced and they will have a fair chance of ultimately redeeming their property.

There is no doubt but that the introduction of a paper currency will meet with strong opposition by the few interested, but it is to be hoped that the government will take such immediate and decided steps by introducing a law for carrying into effect the introduction of paper currency as legal tender as will break down all opposition on the part of plantation agents and money lenders.

Spontaneous Generation.

Professor Tyndall is again deeply involved in controversy; this time not with the clergy or theologians, but with the supporters of the "spontaneous generation" theory. Dr. Bastian, the distinguished naturalist and experimenter, is his most prominent antagonist, and the war is carried on not only through the columns of scientific journals, but in the Times, and other popular newspapers. Several years ago Professor Tyndall conducted some experiments which led him to concluded that atmosphericair held the germs from which sprang all the various forms of life found in the mixtures and infusions of Dr. Bastian and others, and consequently the notion that they come into existence de novo is a fallacy. In Tyndall's experiments with air, he found it loaded under all ordinary conditions with minute particles and organisms, which alone conferred upon it the power of scattering light. An absolutely clean volume of air has no diffusive power upon rays of light; consequently, if the atmosphere was entirely free from impurities we should be involved in darkness. This condition of the atmosphere awakened his suspicions that the experiments alleged to prove spontaneous generation possible were not reliable, and he therefore instituted a series in his own laboratory, the results of which he recently laid before the Royal Society.

He states that he boiled a large number of organic infusions so as to distroy any bacteria or germs existing in them, placed them in tubes exposed to air which had been deprived of the floating particles, the presence of which produced the scattering effect upon a beam of transmitted light, and the result was that not in a single instant did life appear, or the phenomena of putrefaction occur. On the other hand, tubes containing similar infusions, exposed under like conditions, as to time and temperature, to ordinary air, fell into active putrefaction and developed an abundance of life. Results of this nature, if reliable, of course at once deprived Dr. Bastian and others of all ground to stand upon, and stamped them as empirics. Dr. Bastian states in his book, "Evolution and the Origin of Life," that "we now know that boiled infusions exposed to air filtered or calcined, or shut off altogether from contact with air, are more or less proved to swarm with bacteria and vibriones in a few days." Tyndall boldly attacks the doctor, and asks contemptuously, "Who are the 'we' that possess this knowledge?" Dr. Bastian replies in Nature by naming an array of distinguished scientists who advocate the doctrine of spontaneous generation, which would appal any less confident experimenter than Tyndall, and so the contest goes on.

Bastian claims that Tyndall's experiments are unreliable, from the circumstance that he did not conduct them with due regard to the temperature at which the infusions were to be maintained. He urges that instead of keeping them at a temperature of only 60° or 70° F., as did Tyndall, he should have tried 80° or 95° F. This matter of temperature he claims is of immense importance to the success of the experiments. He goes on to say that, looking to the very striking manner in which Professor Tyndall has deviated from the requisite experimental conditions in regard to temperature, it is impossible to have full confidence that he prepared the infusions in the manner prescribed. As regards the hundred and thirty-nine instances in which Tyndall failed to obtain the results indicated by him as being obtainable, Bastian says that "if so grave a question were not concerned, all this would be truly laughable, and, as it seems to him, far more like burlesque than the sober pursuit of science." Tyndall replies to this in the Times, and says that the "temperature hypothesis" of Dr. Bastian will not answer, as he prepared his infusians with scrupulous regard to his prescriptions, and the temperature was maintained for weeks at from 80° to 90° F., and nevertheless they remained perfectly sterile throughout. It is, however, apparent from the admissions made by Professor Tyndall that he did not fully comply with Bastian's conditions, and so the question remains an unsettled one.

The matter is one of grave importance, and it has for years remained in a state of confusion and uncertainty. Why cannot the question be decided once for all? If Professor Tyndall and Dr. Bastian, who represent the most able of the opposing investigators, will drop their acrimonious disputes in the journals, and join in a series of exhaustive experiments, under such conditions as will be satisfactory to both, then we may, perhaps, have results which will set the question at rest. It is certainly very desirable that some joint undertaking of this nature may be entered upon at an early day.

Foreign Intelligence.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Henry C. Bowen will be publicly excommunicated this morning from Plymouth Church.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—The number of paying visitors at the Centennial yesterday was 17,000. A mass-meeting in favor of opening the Exhibition Grounds Sundays will be held here to-night.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The President sent to the Senate the nominations of Attorney-General Pierrepont for Minister to England, Judge Taft for Attorney-General, and McDonald Cameron, son of Simon, for the Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Senate, in executive session, confirmed the nominations of Pierrepont, Taft and Cameron.

BERLIN, May 23.—It is stated that the Northern Powers have resolved to proceed according to the programme of the Berlin Conference relative to Turkish reforms, without the co-operation of England.

The telegraph reports that a second massacre of Christians has taken place—this time in the town of Piedor, in Bosnia. The Mussulmans having some reason to think that a number of Christians were about to leave town, made an attack on the Christian quarter and killed about one hundred, including women and children.

Count Andrassy yesterday said in conversation: "I am now able to state that the peace of Europe will not be disturbed. The proposed reforms will be accepted by Europe and Turkey, and joyfully greeted by the Insurgents, who now only desire guarantees for their execution. The recent action of the great powers is directed toward the peaceful removal of all obstacles preventing the accomplishment of reforms."

RAJASA, May 22.—The latest advices from the insurgent campaign indicates that, in consequence of the improved position which has resulted from their victories, the insurgents will not be satisfied with the concessions which they demanded at the conference with Baron Rodich. They now demand the absolute independence of Herzegovina and Bosnia and scout the idea of an armistice. They are actively preparing to proclaim a provisional government.
