ABOUT BALANCE.

The "Daily Hawaiian Gazette," the Government wind bag, in its issue of Wednesday, publishes an interview with the Minister of the Interior, occasioned by editorial remarks in this paper on Tuesday morning.

ACQUITTED.

The Jury Find W. S. Luce Not Guilty.

The Addresses by Counsel for the Crown and Defense—The Judge's Charge—The Jury's Verdict.

The case of the King vs. W. S. Luce, conspiracy first degree, was resumed at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. Hatch asked that he be allowed to ask Mr. Luce one more question.

His Honor overruled the objection, and Mr. Luce went on the stand.

W. S. Luce—I do not remember remarking to the Attorney General that no part of that liquor was for Canavarró's use.

Cross-examined—At the time of this transaction I had an account with Hayley. Previous to that transaction I don't remember whether I had any dealings with Canavarró.

The Attorney General here asked that the books be produced or the evidence referring to them stricken out.

jury as to leaving that part out with reference to the books.]

Cross-examination continued—At the time of this transaction I did not know about Hayley's financial standing.

Cross-examination continued—I have had dealings with Canavarró since that transaction; probably I have sold him from $50 to $60 worth of liquor.

A short recess was taken after which Mr. Hartwell addressed the jury for the defense.

He went on to refer to the mode of withdrawal and to the exemption of certain foreign representatives from the payment of duties.

Mr. Ashford objected to these comments, as being irrelevant.

The objection was sustained. Mr. Hartwell said we all knew what we did know, that opinions had been formed for and against Luce and he asked the jury to dismiss from their minds all prejudice or sympathy.

Mr. Ashford denied having said that Hayley was a scallawag.

Mr. Hartwell said they were not there to vouch for him. If he was a bad man he was capable of deceiving Luce.

At noon the Court took a recess, and on reassembling Mr. Hartwell resumed.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Ashford in his opening remarks spoke at some length on the relation of sympathy to criminal prosecutions.

His Honor, in summing up, said the jury must not confuse the term conspiracy with gross cheat.

were to return a verdict of acquittal on it. It had not been shown that they intended to obtain anything from the Government.

WEDDING CAKE.

Ladies or gentlemen who contemplate giving orders for the above article respectfully requested to call at the Honolulu Pioneer Steam Candy Factory and Bakery, established 1863, before going to any other house, as my establishment

POSITIVELY the only establishment in Honolulu, notwithstanding all the ridiculous, empty, and pompous newspaper blowing and puffing, and to be procured to give the greatest satisfaction to the most refined tastes, and to be ornamented of exquisite workmanship on your table which will not crumble in pieces when cut, but be a credit to the fine art of the Confectionery, which has only for twenty-five years, but still bids competition defiance to this day.

tempts in any other establishment are inferior to mine, and not worth the price you pay. It is an indisputable fact that all over the world a good workman's productions are always cheaper than half-made ones are. Having had over half a century's practical experience, the undersigned is enabled to ornament Cakes in the and the highest styles of the art.

PROFITABLE HORSES.

The Relative Merits and Value of Light and Heavy Animals.

At the outset every one must stop to consider what kind of horses he will raise. The "general purpose horse" is a very convenient and useful animal upon the farm, but he is not wanted anywhere else, and he is generally a low-priced horse in the market. We do business to make money, and the money return must be our first consideration. We must therefore breed for a definite purpose. What shall it be?

The present prices of different grades of horses at the Twenty-fourth street market in New York City are as follows: Common street car horses, $125 to $150; best street car horses, $160 to $175; roadsters, fifteen and a half hands high, of good quality, $250; roadsters of extra quality, and capable of trotting in three minutes, $400 to $500; coupe horses, from $275 to $400; coachers, from $800 to $1,200 per pair, with higher prices for great excellence; express horses, weighing 1,300 pounds, $350 to $375; truck horses weighing 1,400 pounds and upward, $375 to $400 each, with those of extra size and quality, from $450 to $500 each. We can study these figures with advantage.

It does not pay any one to raise horses of the street car class, and when electricity is generally used for street car propulsion, these horses will have almost no market whatever. How uncertain is the breeding of the roadster class. All the others are large sized horses. Coachers are high priced when of good quality, but it is difficult to get them good enough. They must have fine heads and good necks well put on, and high knee action, and a lofty carriage of the tail, and their color must be good. Then much time and expense are necessary to get them "shaped up" properly. The truck horse commands nearly as high an average price as does the coacher, and his value is not affected by a big head or a little one, and but little by his neck whether it is long or short. He can carry his tail where and as he pleases, and it matters little what his color is. In other words, there are five or more blanks in raising coachers to one in draft horses. The new French coachers and the Cleveland bays are magnificent and I wish there were more of them, but we are now looking only for money.

In breeding draft horses from any but pure-bred mares there will of course be a difference in the size and action of the progeny. Fortunately all these drop into good classes. If not heavy enough for draft purposes they command good prices from the express companies, while the best in style and action make excellent coupe horses. The very lightest are well tinted for the increasingly popular hansom.

Colonel Ravenhill, who examined American horses with a view to their purchase for the English army, stated in his report that our horses are only suited for the lightest mounts, while the horses large enough for artillery service and for use in the commissary department can not be found here in sufficient numbers to warrant any reliance to be placed upon them. There can be no question but that this correctly represents the inferior size of our average horses. Similar statements are given in the reports made to the French and German Governments by their officers who made examinations here. We thus have additional reasons for breeding and feeding for greater size.

The figures I have given were obtained from the largest dealer in New York, and this important statement was added, that draft horses can always be sold for ready cash, while coachers, roadsters, etc., often eat off a good part of their heads in finding buyers. We therefore conclude from the foregoing that our farmers will find much greater profit in breeding heavy horses than can be expected from those of any other character.

It is not our purpose to enter into the consideration of the relative merits of the various large breeds, or to indicate whether Normans, Clydes or Shires will give the greatest profits from their colts. We will content ourselves with the statement that soundness of feet, level-headedness, quietness of disposition and rapidity of walk are prime considerations, and are here named in the order of their importance. The breed that possesses these qualities in the greatest degree should be preferred.—James Wood, in Farm and Home.

—Lay a piece of white cotton cloth, say one foot square, over a pint bowl; turn into it a cupful of thick, sweet cream; draw up the corners of the cloth tying them so as to press the cream into a spherical mass. Hang this in a dark, cool closet for three days; on the fourth day transfer the cream, already solid, to a clean cloth well dusted with salt. At the end of three days more you will have a little round cheese of the same texture and of nearly the same flavor as the delicate Caprea cheeses so justly popular.—Good Housekeeping.

—The kind of a horse to have: Naomi.—"George, why in the world did you trade your beautiful bay horse for that ugly old thing? I'm sure I'll never ride behind it." Why, Naomi, this is the best horse I ever had. Much better than the bay." "In what way?" "Well, it'll keep in the middle of the road whether you hold the lines or not."—Lincoln Journal.

—Cold water is decidedly the best to use for the face, as it is nearest to the temperature of atmospheric air, to which the face is continually exposed.

Sluggish Liver,

ETC., ETC., ETC.,

UNLIKE many kinds of cathartic medicines, do not make you feel worse before you feel better. Their operation is gentle, but thorough, and unattended with disagreeable effects, such as nausea, griping pains, etc.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition.

The best remedy extant for the bane of our lives—constipation and sluggish liver.

These Pills prevent fevers and all kinds of sickness, by removing all poisonous matter from the bowels. They operate briskly, yet mildly, without any pain.

If you take a severe cold, and are threatened with a fever, with pains in the head, back, and limbs, one or two doses of Seigel's Operating Pills will break up the cold and prevent the fever.

A coated tongue, with a brackish taste, is caused by foul matter in the stomach. A few doses of Seigel's Operating Pills will cleanse the stomach, remove the bad taste, and restore the appetite, and with it bring good health.

Oftentimes disease, or partially decayed food, causes sickness, nausea and diarrhoea. If the bowels are cleansed from this impurity with a dose of Seigel's Operating Pills, these disagreeable effects will vanish, and good health will result.

Seigel's Operating Pills prevent ill-effects from excess in eating or drinking. A good dose at bedtime renders a person fit for business in the morning.

These Pills, being sugar-coated, are pleasant to take. The disagreeable taste common to most pills is obviated.
