PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, DEC. 10, 1893.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

For each and every day which goes by, the government shows its utter lack of ability, common sense and decency. The latest exhibition of its asinine qualities is the correspondence which the government has entered into with the American Minister Mr. Willis. The minister of foreign affairs has addressed a note to Minister Willis the contents of which if translated from the usual diplomatic language would read something like this: "Look here; what does Gresham mean by that confounded letter which he has been writing to Cleveland? Is that letter as we see it in the newspapers really genuine, and if so, what do you think about it? What are your intentions and instructions anyhow, and where are we?" The temperature around the government building must have been rather chilly when the answer was received, and the American minister politely called the attention of the provisional jackanapes to the fact that a communication from the Secretary of State to the President of the United States was eminently a domestic matter, which could certainly never be a concern of the American minister to Hawaii (nor to the Hawaiian Government) and that he did not doubt that Mr. Cleveland would in due time frame his policy in regard to Hawaii and carry it out.

The snub which the government received in this their latest folly must have been very trying, but it was indeed well-deserved.

A more undiplomatic act, a worse breach of all etiquette and diplomatic courtesies can hardly be imagined. Fancy a government addressing themselves officially to a foreign representative and asking him to interpret the action of his superior—an action of which neither the government, nor perhaps himself had any official recognition. The Hawaiian government may have read the letter of Gresham in some American newspaper, but we feel sure that it has never yet received notice of Mr. Gresham's policy officially either through the Hawaiian representative Thurston, or through the American representative Willis. To presume that a minister will read newspapers at all is absurd enough, but to presume that he would for a minute enter into a discussion or an explanation of the alleged actions of his home government, actions of a purely domestic nature is simply outrageous. It seems more and more that the Provisional Government is getting desperate and intends to throw all forms and decorum to the winds. If it was composed of men it could be expected that they would meet the defeat staring them in their faces with dignity and propriety, and not go out of existence behaving like a lot of irresponsible school boys or an assembly of hysterical old women.

An esteemed correspondent is taking exceptions to the attitude which the HOLOMUA has so far adopted towards Minister Damon and is criticizing both him and us pretty severely. We are not yet ready to admit that we have been wrong in our judgment of the minister, although, we cannot understand how he can consider it appropriate to his dignity and political standing to remain in office after an expression of want of confidence in his ability as an Executive Officer, and in his loyalty to the annexation cause has been carried by the Advisory Council, with an overwhelming majority. Mr. Damon may have reasons to remain in office which he has not given to the public and of which our correspondent we presume, is as ignorant as we are. It is possible that Minister Damon combines with his well-known patriotism and his love for Hawaii, a well-developed aloha for the interests of Bishop and Co., and that this is the cause for his meekness after receiving the snub furnished to him last Thursday. It may be that he does not desire to turn over to anybody the keys to the public safe as long as he represents the creditors of the government. It may be that he has personally guaranteed the payment of claims against the government and fears that the creditors if not paid by his successor, will look to Damon the banker, as they now do to Damon the minister. These are all possibilities, and we are of course not in a position to judge what the motives of His Excellency can be in what now appears as a back-down. The truth is perhaps that if Mr. Damon resigned from his office he would have a mighty difficult time in collecting his claims—and it is proper to remember that the $95,000 which the government boasted of having paid to Claus Spreckels were not paid to that gentleman, but that the notes for that amount have simply been transferred to other parties, and are still overdue and apt to be called for at any moment. As Mr. Damon represents the holders of some of the notes he is perhaps anxious to get them cashed while the P. G. is in power, and some cash is left. But who would ever accuse His Excellency of being led by selfish motives?

The finances of the government don't seem to be in a very blooming condition at the present moment. The cash-balance according to the last financial statement was smaller than it has ever been under the P. G. regime. We are informed that a large amount of money was transferred from the treasury to Bishop and Co.'s bank last week, but we are unable to state for what purpose this transfer took place. $30,000 have got to be forwarded as interest on the English loan this week while, if we remember rightly, the amount of $47,000 due the Risdon Iron Works have got to be paid. Minister Damon in his palmy days when he still believed in the prospects of a permanent government of the P. G. stripe expressed in the councils a hope that the Risdon Iron Works would accept P. G. bonds instead of cash. Does

His Excellency still think that such scheme is feasible? We doubt that any sound firm or any sane individual would pay one cent for a bond issued by the Provisional Government. The prospects of ever getting them redeemed by a legitimate government of Hawaii are extremely slim. The only chance for a recognition of such bonds lies in the possibility of the individual members of the Provisional Government being compelled to pay the debts contracted by them out of their personal estates. The Hawaiian tax-payers will undoubtedly repudiate all obligations incurred and assumed on behalf of Hawaii nei by the revolutionists.

The Official Guillotine.

The provisional hangmen took a rest this morning, and we have heard of no official scalp falling under the axe to-day. The scalp-hunters will please take notice of this neglect on the part of their cabinet and will stir their obedient servants, the ministers, up so they can fully realize their duties towards the mob. We desire to state that no blame can possibly be attached to Mr. George Smithies for not picking up his hat and walking out of his office. His position is of the greatest responsibility and importance and he owes to his bondsmen to turn over his office to his successor in perfect order with books and cash fully checked and approved. This is a work which will occupy some time and it is possible that Mr. Smithies will have to be tolerated in the sacred precincts of Mr. Damon's palace for a few days more. His successor Mr. George Ashley who has been around the finance department in some non-descript capacity will of course be able to carry on the business in a satisfactory manner.

It will be interesting to see how many of the "boys" round the club and the league will receive offices. We guess the "family compact" will be to the fore as usually.

An Advertiser Poet.

The morning organ plays a most somniferous tune this morning, and there is absolutely nothing in it which could tempt its straggling readers to lose their time over. On the front page though we notice a piece of poetry (?) "written for the Advertiser" by some Maui fellow who signs himself "1776." The Advertiser poet is at liberty to plagiarize or steal, anything formerly written and found in all standard works, but when he attempts such a frightful parody on Tennyson as the one appearing in this morning's P. C. A., we wish that he would sign his true name or else use a fitting nom de plume. How would Dumb Ass do?

Mr. Bertie Peterson the secretary of the annexation club has been appointed third statistical clerk in place of Mr. Palmer Woods guillotined. We are surprised that the secretary will be satisfied with a job yielding only $100 a month.

A small steam launch was travelling between town and Sans Souci yesterday. Hah! Hah!!

The Hawaiian Muddle.

The Secretary of State, carefully examining and weighing all the facts in the Hawaiian imbroglio, reaches the only conclusion which these facts will justify, that the revolution was not act of the people of Hawaii, and was not even accomplished by the resident foreigners, but was due altogether to the armed intervention of the United States. It was Minister Stevens, with the aid of the marines and sailors from the Boston, that overturned the monarchy and set up the provisional government, which never could have acquired even a provisional authority or recognition without such support.

This is the bald truth of the situation. What is the duty of an honorable nation under such circumstances? To perpetuate the wrong? To follow it by another? To draw out altogether and leave the Hawaiians to settle their own affairs? Or to undo what was ill-advisedly done and restore the government which existed before our representative poured its overthrow? Mr. Gresham, viewing the question from the broad standpoint of right and justice, inclines evidently to the last suggestion. What the President thinks should be done he will probably make known in his message to Congress. Meantime the subject ought to be discussed dispassionately.

Many people will dislike the idea of setting up again the feeble monarchy, which is clearly destined to destruction sooner or later. At the same time it is clear that the considerate judgment of the country has not upheld the scheme of annexation, which would be nothing more than forcible conquest, since the proposed treaty was really to be made with men who had no authority to make it and had been given the only power they possessed by the guns of our navy. Certainly we must get out of this bad business in the way that is most compatible with honor, and considering the embarrassments of the situation it is a patriotic duty not to complicate it further by prejudice or passion.—(Philadelphia Times.)

AN AWFUL CURSE.

Briggs—You don't mean to say that you are smoking a cigarette, do you?

Griggs—Certainly. Why not?

Briggs—Why not? If you had any conception of the injury they are doing you, you would stop. Why not? Do you know that these harbingers of death are killing more men than all the liquor in the land? Are you aware, sir, that this trump card of the devil is even now sapping away the vitality of the chosen youth of this great country? Look around you and see the hideous trail of this deadly serpent that is sucking away the life-blood of the nation. You haven't got another one, have you?

Mockery.

If we "at first do not succeed."

We're told, "try, try again;"

But unto me a broken reed

The sage support has been;

For at the race tracks, far and wide,

My losses back to get,

For twenty years I've tried and tried,

And not succeeded yet.

John Ludlow.

WHAT THEY SAY IN WASHINGTON.

Events are proving that no matter how great may be their abilities as sailors, our naval commanders of foreign stations are not successful as diplomats.

Naval officers have not ceased wondering why Admiral Skerrett was so suddenly relieved from the command of the Pacific Station, and ordered to exchange with Admiral Irwin, and the Secretary's action has been productive of no end of gossip in official circles here. The cause of this sudden change, if a statement coming from high authority may be credited, arose from a circumstance very similar to that which caused Admiral Stanton to be relieved from command at Rio, though while the principle involved is the same, the Pacific Admiral's fault was not so grave.

It is said that the Secretary of the Navy was led to make the change by representations to the effect that Admiral Skerrett's course at Honolulu was not entirely in harmony with the views of the Administration on the annexation question. His attitude there is said to have been rather friendly toward the annexation party. The station is noted as one of the most social on the list, and American naval officers are much thought of and very popular in Honolulu.

Representations are said to have been made to the Administration that Admiral Skerrett's social relations with the members of the Provisional Government, added to by the presence of his family in Honolulu, were construed in Hawaiian political circles as indicative of the friendliness of the United States to the annexation movement. While it was undoubtedly not the intention of the Admiral that his position should be so construed, the mistake is said to be the secret of his having orders to proceed to China and relieve Admiral Irwin.—Washington News.

Want Thurston Punished.

The State Department Clique Eager for His Scalp.

New York, November 22.—The Sun's Washington special says: The reply of Minister Thurston to some of the more flagrant misstatements contained in Blount's report and his bold accusations of untruthfulness against the ex-commissioner have given great offense to certain officials of the Administration who are supposed to represent the views of the President and the Secretary of State.

The indignation of those gentlemen is so great that they do not hesitate to intimate that Mr. Thurston's passports will be issued by the President. He is accused of violating all known rules of diplomatic etiquette, and there is a loud demand from the State Department clique for his punishment.

It cannot be learned to-night what steps the Administration proposes to take, if any, to discipline the plain-spoken representative of the Provisional Government.

The new name for the man who throws a banana peel on the sidewalk is a bananarchist.—Texas Siftings.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or the utterances of our correspondents.]

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

Your readers have read with some surprise your frequent laudations of Mr. Damon.—As one of them, I have differed from you in your flattering estimate, but as I supposed you had superior opportunities for judging the minister's immaculate worth, I have held my peace. I was thoroughly satisfied that the manful (?) assertion and vindication of a principle which so charmed your editorial judgment was a bluff. I was well convinced that no pique, principle or consistency would ever induce Mr. Damon to resign and no power less than a force sufficient for drawing and quartering would ever sever him from his office. The sequel of the late dramatic show at the Government building demonstrates that the brave (?) stand taken by Mr. Damon was a cowardly evasion and shifting of responsibility. He has carried out a policy of his own and can now calmly lay it on his partner Levy. ZION.

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

Can you inform the writer—what is the matter with Mr. Hatch? I saw him one day last week—when he appeared as though he had been drawn through a knot-hole, and had passed many sleepless nights. May his health be spared for a few weeks longer, to enable him to play before the public the insignificant ass to the end. IN SORROW.

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

The Advertiser says that the strength of the P. G. is likely to be put to a crucial test, should a renewal of the orders from Washington be received. In this, the Advertiser is right; but the Morning Deceiver can rest assured that the U. S. Government will make such a demand upon the P. G. which if not acted upon within the prescribed time, is very likely to put them to a "crucial test" that they little dream of. The very thought of this rabble of a government, insinuating that they intend to resist the authority of the U. S. seems so ludicrous, that the writer is led to believe that the Insane Asylum is the only proper place for them. Should they be mad enough to defy the U. S. authorities, let us hope the flood-wood company otherwise called the P. G. Army, will compel Dole, Hatch & Co., with their entire outfit of scribblers and suckers, with old Stevens if here, to place themselves at the front of battle—when at the first appearance of the American troops, there will be such a severe attack of dysentery at the front, that there will be no call for the firing of a single gun. The only "crucial test" left then, will be for the physicians.

ANTI SWASH-BUCKLER.

"Do you see that man over there?"
 "Yes."
 "Well, he is Dr. Jinks. He saved my life."
 "What did he do for you?"
 "Advised me to get another doctor."

LOCAL NEWS.

P. G. Band at Emma square this evening.

A Cabinet Council was held at eleven o'clock this forenoon.

The Planets won the game of base ball last Saturday. The score stood 8 to 6.

Remember that the Misses Albu give another Concert on Thursday evening. Have you got your ticket?

The Bktns. George C. Perkins arrived this morning 13 days from San Francisco. No later news of any importance.

It is noticed by the Star, that J. S. Bishop follows in the footsteps of his paternal parent, and is becoming untruthful.

Owing to the drought on the Hamakua coast, the steamer Hawaii took about 2000 gallons of water up there this afternoon.

A P. G. spy and a P. G. soldier were seen to dodge into the Central Union Church through one of the back doors last Saturday evening. What was that for?

The Spanish Gymnasts gave a performance at the Opera House last Saturday evening. The show was not of the best, nor did a large audience have the pleasure of being "taken in."

Two boxes of eggs (?), or rather two egg boxes containing opium are said to have been landed from the Australia last Friday and brought up town in a hack. Where was the Port Surveyor?

To-morrow night Miss Carmelita Vida will be married to Mr Porter Boyd the American Vice-Consul General. The wedding will take place in Central Union Church, and later on a reception will be held at the residence of the grandmother of the bride Mrs. A. Cornwell.

Will Not Move.

Ex-Minister Stevens does not think well of the Cleveland Administration and its policy toward Hawaii. He says it will lead to bloodshed. Possibly, but we doubt it. That could only come from the schemers of the provisional Government, and the men who did not dare to move without the guns of United States marines to protect them will not move fast or far when those guns are in their way. The authority of the United States kept the peace while a great wrong was done in Honolulu. It will not fail to keep the peace while that wrong is being righted.—New York Times.

The Ruling Passion.

"So Scribble, the reporter on the Daily Hooter, has got married!"
 "Yes, I was at the wedding at the Little Church Around the Corner."
 "Was Scribble nervous?"
 "Nervous? Not much. While the minister was praying Scribble yanked out a note-book and took down the prayer in shorthand for the afternoon issue of the Hooter."

Don't Worry About Hawaii.

It was not only the President Harrison and Secretary Foster who were deceived by Minister Stevens in his reports of his conspiracy to seize the Sandwich Islands, which he represented in the light of a popular revolution. The public was even more deceived, and the gradual awakening to the truth was all the greater disappointment because it brought with it a sense of shame.

Many people have still clung to the hope that in some way the wrong would right itself, without any further effort on our part. To these it is a fresh disappointment to find that matters cannot be left in the impossible situation in which the present administration found them and that the President has resolved boldly to set this country right on the record and thus to reaffirm the established American doctrine of non-intervention, which lies at the basis of our American policy to protect the independence of every nation on this continent or the islands adjacent.

With those who do not stop to consider the importance and significance of this policy and its necessity to the preservation of American diplomatic influence, the course of the administration is not popular. It is just now the object of violent attack. That was to have been expected. But it is none the less right and for that reason it will be approved as soon as it is really understood. Those who are howling the loudest would have howled just as loudly whatever this administration might have done. The great heart of the nation always comes out right in the end.—Philadelphia Times.

The Sandwich Islands at the Fore Again.

The only censure to which the administration at Washington is amenable in the matter of the Sandwich Islands, is on account of delay in performing its duty as it is now doing. The whole business is in a nutshell. From purely mercenary motives, and in the interest of a handful of American adventures and speculators, who are mere squatters, the Harrison administration without semblance of cause or warrant, dethroned by naval force the rightful sovereign, attempted to steal the islands, and avowed a purpose to annex them, with their mongrel and debased population, to the United States. As it was on the eve of consummation of the scheme, the Cleveland administration came into power and at once commenced to undo the wicked work that had been done, and is now near to completion of the task. It has moved in accordance with the maxim, let justice be done though the heavens should fall. At any and every cost the United States were bound to restore the Sandwich Islands government to the status it enjoyed before the piratical raid of marines from a United States vessel of war was made upon it, and maintain its independence against all comers. And the administration is simply discharging this obligation upon them.—Rochester Advertiser.
