MAY TIE UP ISLAND STEAMERS.

Engineers on Local Boats have Demanded Higher Pay and have Resigned.--Strike may take Effect next Week.

WILD WEST SHOW BY COWBOYS.

Broncho Busting Contest, Stage Coach Hold Up, Wild Horse Race, Wild Cattle Roping and Riding and Calf Catching on Kona Nightingales will be Features of the Show.

MAY TIE UP STEAMERS.

The engineers of the Inter-Island steamers have prepared a schedule of wages which they think is the proper rating and have presented the same to the company. It is possible, from the whisperings that reach outside of the engineer's department, that a strike may follow should the Inter-Island Company refuse to accept the revised schedule.

That there is more in the movement that appears on the surface is made manifest by the statements of some of the men that resignations of a number of the engineers have been received at the head office of the company.

It would seem that the new schedule has been in the hands of the company for some time, but any action on it has been delayed until the men have come to the conclusion that a move either for acceptance or rejection of the schedule must be made and made in short order.

Engineers not holding U. S. licenses, no matter how proficient they may be in the art of engineering, cannot serve on these Island steamers.

The company has kept the matter of the new schedule very quiet in hopes of arriving at some settlement of the trouble and avoiding a complication of matters, but it seems that the men have become a little tired of waiting. The matter has now been brought to a climax by the engineers demanding an acceptance of the schedule as presented, or they will quit.

Passengers returning from Honolulu on the Kinau state that the schedule of wages demanded is $175 per month for the chief engineer, $150 per month for the first assistants and $120 per month for the second assistant engineers.

It was the understanding that all of the engineers have resigned and unless their demands are complied with they will all refuse to work after Saturday of this week.

As far as is known employees of the company in other departments are not concerned in the demand, which is the action of the Marine Engineers' Benefit Association.

Honolulu, November 26.—The Marine Engineers' Benevolent Society held a meeting last night in the Knights of Pythias hall, at which there were over thirty members of the profession present. While nothing in detail could be learned from those present in regard to what passed at the meeting, it is said that the situation was discussed but that no action toward a strike against the Inter-Island company at the present time was taken.

The meeting held was a regular one of the lodge, which holds sessions semi-monthly. Until the next meeting on December 9, there will be nothing doing. That the question of strike is a serious one with the men is also certain, and if their demands are not granted they will leave the employ of the Inter-Island and seek other positions, as they claim that the scale of wages is by no means commensurate with the cost of living in Honolulu.

THE WILD WEST SHOW'S PROGRAM.

Honolulu, November 26.—The arrangements for the big Wild West show to take place in Honolulu on the 14th of next month have now been fully completed and preparations are being made rapidly for the coming event. An essential feature of the show—wild cattle—has already been provided for and the cattle for the second cowboy tournament will be as lively as anyone could desire. Wild cattle are being trapped as rapidly as possible on the big cattle ranges and corralled ready for shipment to Honolulu at the right time.

One of the Cheyenne cowboys is already on hand to compete in the various events and entries are pouring in by every mail from the other islands. Everywhere on the Big Island ranches groups of cowboys can be seen at all times and seasons discussing the forthcoming contest and practise is being carried on daily.

The first big cowboy contest which occurred two years ago was a tremendous success and there is every reason to believe that the coming show will be even greater. The first was gotten up on the spur of the moment and without preparation. The forthcoming show is being very elaborately prepared and will undoubtedly be a big feature for Honolulu.

Below follows the program as now arranged but subject to change. Only first prizes are now published; the second, third and fourth prizes will be announced later:

FIRST DAY.
1. EGG RACE.—Prize, elaborate souvenir watch fob. By members of Hawaiian Polo Clubs.

2. BRONCHO BUSTING CONTEST.—Entrance fee $2.50. 1st prize, $75.00; 2nd and 3rd prizes will be given later.

3. POTATO RACE.—Prize, $25.00. By two teams selected among the cowboys.

4. WILD STEER RIDING.—Prize, $15.00.

5. STAGE COACH HOLDUP.—By cowboys in wild Comanche Indian costumes. Showing hardships endured by pioneers of the western plains.

6. STEER ROPING CONTEST.—For championship of the world. Entrance fee, $5.00. 1st prize, $100.00; 2nd and 3rd prizes will be announced later.

7. WILD HORSE RACE. Horses furnished and drawn by lot. Horses have never been ridden. Each rider to saddle and ride his own horse once around set stakes at the baseball grounds. Riders allowed one assistant. 1st prize, $50.00; $10.00 to man riding the worst horse.

Fancy roping exhibition by J. W. Winters of Cheyenne, Wyo., during intermissions.

Show to begin at 1 p. m.

Program subject to change.
Grand parade in the morning by cowboys, cowgirls, native boys dressed in Indian costumes, and old stage coach representing the pioneer days.

SECOND DAY.

1. WILD HORSE RACE.—Same conditions and prizes as on first day.

2. BARREL RACE (mounted).—Around baseball park and turn around. Three barrels placed at intervals. 1st prize, $15.00.

3. COWBOY RELAY RACE.—Cowboy to saddle his own horse with the assistance of man holding horse. 1st prize, $15.00.

4. BUCKING BRONCHO CONTEST.—Same conditions as first day.

5. HAT CONTEST.—Distance, the length of baseball park and return. Rider to pick up six hats from ground placed at regular intervals, and deposit same on opposite side of horse. Rider picking up all the hats and making best time. 1st prize, $15.00.

6. STEER ROPING CONTEST FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE WORLD.—Entrance fee, $5. By four best ropers of the first day's contest. 1st prize, $100.00 and championship. Championship and prizes will be awarded to cowboy making best average time for both days.

7. GREASED PIG CONTEST.—For boys only. Prize, the pig itself.

8. STEER ROPING CONTEST.—For boys up to 15 years old. No busting the steer allowed in this race. 1st prize, $15.00.

9. GENTLEMEN'S ROPING CONTEST.—Contestants to ride Kona nightingales. Prize to be given to the one that catches his calf in the fastest time. Prize, Stetson cowboy hat with fancy hatband.

SATURDAY, NOV. 30, 1907

Maui Story was a Fake. Editor Hawaiian Star, McCandless Building, Bethel Street, Honolulu.

Dear Sir:—In your paper of Monday, November 25, 1907, you published an article under the heading of "Carter Pinched."

"On the fifteen instant Z. Pali, a police officer, rounded up ex-Governor George R. Carter, A. F. Judd, W. Kent, S. G. Wilder, R. Ivers, George Chase, George Cushing, C. A. Hartwell and James Munro and requested that they produce their licenses or pay to him the required fee or accompany him.

This statement would be very interesting if it were true, but there is not a grain of truth in it.

From November 12th to November 16th no one of the gentlemen mentioned was requested to produce his license or to pay a fee or to accompany any policeman. The reason for this was that previous to November 12th, on which date most of us reached the Island of Molokai, the matter had been arranged, and the $5.00 license fee for each of the above gentlemen had been paid to the county authorities.

Faithfully yours, ALBERT F. JUDD.

[The article in question was from the MAUI NEWS and was published in The Star as a clipping from that paper, treating the matter rather as a joke on the Honolulu hunters than as a serious disregard of law. The MAUI NEWS appears to have been much misinformed.

EDITOR STAR.]

The above letter and editorial comment is reprinted from the Hawaiian Star of the 26th instant. In reply to the same we will say that the story was told to us by E. H. Rogers, Clerk of the Sheriff of the County who was on Molokai at the time that he says the gentlemen in question paid their license fees to Z. Pali, the police officer there. He again reaffirmed the truth of the story and in the presence of the Sheriff went further into the details than he had at first and to prove his contention referred the News representative to the office of the County Treasurer.

On making an examination of the hunting license records of the Treasurer we found that the licenses to each of the above named gentlemen was dated November 15th and yet Mr. Judd says "that previous to November 12th, on which date most of us reached the Island of Molokai, the matter had been arranged, and the $5.00 license fee for each of the above gentlemen had been paid to the county authorities."

It would be of interest to Maui people to know to what authorities the license fees were paid and just how the matter was arranged as Mr. Judd says it was.

We understand that Mr. Judd is a lawyer and as such he should know that no one of the County officials can legally permit another to violate a law and if the gentlemen were hunting previous to the issuance of a license, which in this case was according to the records of the Treasurers office, November 15th under what authority were they hunting?

The News published the story as a good joke on the Honolulu gentlemen and not with the intention of conveying the idea that any of them are wilful lawbreakers. Mr. Judd has, however, attacked the truth of the story and we would be pleased to publish a full and clear statement from him and for his guidance we will say that the authorities here state that Z. Pali, a police officer, was ordered to go to the camp of the gentlemen on November 15th with instructions to demand the production of their licenses, or the fee or to place each of them not holding a license under arrest and let them off on a ten dollar bail. They state further that the Deputy Sheriff and Clerk E. H. Rogers went to see the policeman later and found that he had collected the fee on that day and that the same was turned over to Mr. Rogers, who in turn brought the money to Wailuku and paid it to the Treasurer some days later and on the statement of Mr. Rogers that the same had been paid on the 15th instant the treasurer issued the licenses as of that date.

Clean Sport. By request we again call the attention of the ball players of Maui to the necessity of playing clean games of ball if the support of those who pay for the upkeep of the sport is to be retained.

A great majority of those who pay to see the games attend for the purpose of seeing good playing and do not care one bit whether it is one team or the other which wins. They expect to see good playing and clean manly sport but will not tolerate foul playing on the part of any player.

The spirit of fair play pervades the heart of every man who has any right to call himself a gentleman.

A number of persons have expressed themselves in the strongest terms in protest against the act of one of the players last Sunday when he is said to have fouled another boy and unnecessarily endangered the life and limb of his opponent.

Let us have clean sport on none at all.

Road Building on Hawaii.

If all goes well the Grand Jury will have a lot of interesting information handed it at the coming session regarding the devious methods of some of our County Supervisors, and their manner of disposing of road funds. A letter from James B. Edward Jr., of Kona tells a delightful story as to the way that roads are built over there. Kona, by the way, is the constituency that elected the Reverend Kalaikawa to the Board of Supervisors.

According to Mr. Edward, a force of men have been "working" for over two weeks and have succeeded in building no less than sixty feet of road! There were twenty-seven men employed in this remarkable task and each, of course, got his $1.25 a day.

Even as bad an arithmetician as I am could figure out how much that sixty feet of road cost, but Hilo has the melancholy satisfaction of knowing that Hilo taxes paid for most of it. In celebration of this great piece of road work the road laborers knocked off for a day—of course on full pay—and had a luau.

They explained to the guests that the Board of Supervisors had sent them the pig on account of the good work they had done.

It seems a pity that after all this the road was built so badly that J. A. Maguire had a narrow escape from being upset with a big load of wood. The Kona road builders figured it out that so much stone had to be put on a road anyhow and that it would save time to put it all in the same place. Thus they built a road with a cross-section which looked like that of a razor-back hog. Au-we—Hilo Tribune.

The Art of Milking.

Suburban Resident—Yes, I want a useful man about my country place. Can you milk?

Applicant—Yes, sor.
"Which side of a cow do you sit on when milking?"

"Well, sor, Oi niver milked but wan cow, an' she wuz a kicker, sor; an' bedad a good dale av the toime Oi was on both sides av her, sor."

A country minister had just received his first call to the charge of a small church, and his wife, of course was highly excited; so much so that she was obliged to tell everybody of the good news.

One day she met a farmer's wife, and began the conversation.

"Do you know, Mrs. Close," she said, "my husband has just secured the incumbency of a church, I can't tell you how delighted I am. I—"

"Yes," replied the sympathetic old lady, "I quite understand your feelings. I felt just that way when our pig took the gold medal at the cattle show."

How He Catchers Them.

"How does it happen that you are retained in so many divorce cases?"

"Well," replied the lawyer, "seeing that you are not in my line, I'll tell you. I look over the marriage licenses every morning and send my card around to the contracting parties."—Ex.

One Minister Who Sees.

The Rev. J. Charles Garth, Pastor of the Nat. Baptist Church, delivered an address before the Pacific Baptist Association at Santa Rosa this week in which he shows that he is much unlike some other men. He not only doesn't believe that San Francisco is the worst place on earth, but he sees why it is a good deal better than some other places. Among other things he said:

"I turn my thoughts now to commercial and political conditions and find that here, too, there is too much rubbish. Some will say that the world is getting worse and everything is going to the devil anyway. Can it be true? After 2,000 years of the Christ spirit working in the hearts of men are they worse than they were? If they are, then put a padlock on the doors of the church. Put a padlock on the lips of the pastors and people and let us turn the world over to the devil at once. But the world isn't worse.

Enterprising.

We were talking of the recent collapse of a get-rich-quick concern when the plantation manager remarked that he had recently come across a plan for making money which was quite commendable inasmuch as it was safe and apparently legitimate.

"Somebody has been sending an enterprising magazine to our house for a long time back," he said, "it is one of those Home and Fireside propositions and is nearly all advertisements. My wife noticed an advertisement offering to send a perfect up-to-date sewing machine to any part of the United States for the sum of one dollar. She sent the dollar along and the sewing machine came back by return mail. What was it? Well it was just a plain needle, that's all."

"I heard of a similar trick being played in the Eastern states some years ago," said another of the crowd. "An advertisement was published offering a steel engraved portrait of George Washington, prepared under the superintendence of the government, for one dollar. People who bit on this were rewarded by the receipt of a two cent stamp."—Hilo Tribune.

Land Tax in Germany.

Nowhere have Henry George's ideas in regard to the abolishment of rent found a heartier reception than in Germany; i. e. They have been met there by the suppression of speculative rent. In a number of the larger German cities they have a progressive tax on land values. In the same measure as vacant land in a city becomes more valuable with each succeeding year, so the tax on it becomes higher.

In Schoenberg, a suburb of Berlin, they have gone so far as to tax vacant lots twice as high as improved ones. Necessity, the great teacher, has compelled Schoenberg to this equity in land taxation. Germany is so limited in area that an artificial increase in land values cannot be allowed, as that would create intolerable conditions. But this higher taxation of vacant land is not all; the intention is to go a step farther and municipalize land wherever possible. A number of cities seriously consider the advisability of buying large tracts of land and thereby reach a double aim, to keep down rent and to create an income for municipal purpose.

In this country the George idea has not taken root so well, partly because land is comparatively cheap, and partly because our extensive electric transportation facilities work against an artificial enhancing of values.—Cincinnati Volkszeitung.

A Scientific Opinion.

There is a certain cooking school in the hoop district where every day in the week large classes of girls convene for instruction in the gentle art of raising the dough.

Last week a class of thirty rather impractical girls, as most of them are, was studying the doughnut scientifically.

One of the dullest pupils in the class, who never could learn to boil water without burning it, was rather inattentive while the teacher was lecturing on "slakers."

Thinking to catch her and administer a rebuke on her inattention, the teacher suddenly broke off and asked: "Miss Smith, what is the healthiest part of the doughnut?"

Miss Smith straightened up, flushed, stood up and replied: "Why, why, the hole, I believe."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Hawaii's Largest Sugar Crop.

An output of 440,017 short tons of sugar for the 1907 crop is Hawaii's record. Evidently the fears of those who looked for a reaction in the industry to follow annexation have been groundless, though it undoubtedly is true that, with the expansion in quantity, there has been a contraction in the price to the producer. With the average crop of the last five years at 420,180 tons, and that of 1903 at 437,991 tons, there has been but little gain in the yield for 1907. A comparison of the growth of the industry by islands within ten years, since the Joint Resolution of Annexation was signed by President McKinley in 1898, and now is of interest. Thus:

Island	Output in Tons 1898	1907
Hawaii	91,606	143,891
Maui	45,633	104,772
Oahu	34,181	119,273
Kaui	54,414	72,081

Totals, 229,414 440,017

The percentages of increase on the different islands will undoubtedly surprise many. While Hawaii still holds the leadership as to quantity of sugar produced, it is being closely pressed by Oahu where it was, not so very long ago, claimed that sugar would not grow. But brains, irrigation and fertilization have proven differently, and to men like E. D. Tenney is due much of the success for sugar production in the vicinity of Honolulu. On Maui we can turn to H. P. Baldwin, whose management of the largest sugar plantation in the world is a successful tribute upon which he can at any time retire with satisfaction and a consciousness of work well done. It is on those two islands that the plantations give the largest increased yields of sugar.

The Shipments of Sugar 1907.

Figures of the shipments of sugar during the month of October, show an increase over September, amounting to 26,834 tons, bringing the total for the season up to 395,480 tons up to the close of last month. By dates and vessels the October movement was as follows:

October 8, Hilonian	1,845 tons
" 10, Enterprise	1,833 "
" 10, Missouri	10,722 "
" 15, Alameda	280 "
" 26, Angie Johnson	181 "
" 26, Columbian	11,973 "
Total for October	26,834 "
" " September	21,921 "
" " August	52,066 "
" " July	49,101 "
" " June	57,441 "
" " May	50,956 "
" " April	59,594 "
" " March	39,662 "
" " February	23,708 "
" " January	22,197 "

Total for ten months, 1907 395,480

Japan's Power In Corea.

In all of her treaties and her representations to other governments Japan has given repeated assurance that she will preserve in Corea the principle of the open door and of equal opportunity for the commerce and capital of other nations on exactly the same footing as for Japanese commerce and capital. With this assurance the Powers have agreed to her having a free hand there.

In the matter of tariffs there has apparently been no discrimination. Because of Japan's closeness to the Korean market she possesses an advantage which makes such discrimination unnecessary. The promulgation of the new treaty has been followed by considerable agitation for a Zollverein or customs union that would mean free trade between Japan and Corea and the erection of the Japanese tariff wall around Corea, but as the existing treaties between Corea and other governments have to be respected it is not likely that much headway in this direction can soon be made. Even should the American government manifest a willingness to sacrifice American commerce, it is not at all likely that Great Britain or Germany or France would consent to anything of the sort.

In the discussion of the "open door" a tendency is often manifested to restrict its application to the narrow field of tariff duties. The treaty provisions and official assurances of open door and equal opportunity have a wider scope. These mean not only that the tariff duties upon imports shall be exactly the same, no matter whence the imported goods may come, but they mean that there shall be absolute equality of treatment under the laws of Corea for the citizens and subjects of other governments with the subjects of Japan.

Documentary proof of Japan's disregard of these pledges in the matter of timber concessions is furnished by the text of the treaty made between the Japanese and Korean governments on October 17, 1906. There are enormous forests of merchantable timber along the Yalu and Tumen river. Japan took the first step toward excluding other foreign capital from developing these timber resources in 1905, when a treaty was made with China under the terms of which the forests were to be turned over to a company of capitalists consisting solely of Chinese and Japanese.

Again, after a large force of Japanese mining engineers had been sent through the country making geological and mining reports, the Japanese prepared a set of new mining regulations which were issued in the name of the government of Corea. The end and aim of these regulations, as any fair analysis of them will show, was to secure to the Japanese practical, if not absolute, control of the development of Corea's mineral resources; and while they are worded in general terms with a view to making it difficult for other governments to officially object, their inevitable effect will be to give to the Japanese exploiters opportunities to secure concessions by unfair advantage, and to alarm and deter foreign investors not associated with Japanese.

In other words, it seems to be the purpose of the Japanese authorities, as revealed by these mining regulations, to make it impossible for other foreigners to obtain capital for Korean mining propositions, existing concessions to which cannot be taken away; as for new concessions, the Japanese are, by the terms of these regulations viewed in the light of Japan's absolute control of the Korean government, possessed of very possible advantage.

HILO, November 25.—Judge Parsons, in his charge to the Grand Jury, presented a number of cases to that body including use of deadly weapons, robbery, burglary, and other acts of violence.

He defined the legal powers of the grand jury, acting as a deterrent to malfeasance in office. He referred to the needless waste of public funds by those in public office through extravagance and ignorance. He also called the attention of the jury to excessive expenditure of funds for labor and material, the appointment of persons as clerks to do the work for which useless officials are paid, the dismissal of skilled overseers and the appointment of petty politicians in their places and the employment of laborers who will not labor.

He says the jury must make no concessions to charlatans nor pander to the ignorance of the electorate. If the laws are to be upheld no other question need intervene.

WILL GIVE NEW YEARS BALL.

The Knights of Pythias have decided to give a ball on New Years eve at their castle hall.

At the last convention of the lodge a committee was appointed with full power to carry out all necessary plans and make all necessary arrangements.

The plans will doubtless be to issue invitations to those who are desired to be present.

Those of the better element who dance have shown their appreciation of the efforts of the Knight by their presence in the past and it is safe to say that a large number will be present and a pleasant evening enjoyed at this entertainment.

It is probable that an entrance fee will be charged in order to make the dance self supporting.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor "MAUI NEWS"—

In your last issue I note that the facts in regard to the unfortunate fracas in the District Court of Wailuku on the 18th, inst, are so distorted as to lead me to believe that your informants "EYE WITNESSES" as you call them are trying to make out a case against me and therefore in the name of fair play, I ask you to kindly publish these lines and the accompanying affidavit.

AFFIDAVIT OF J. M. VIVAS, Wailuku, Co. of Maui ) ss.

Ter. of Hawaii.

J. M. Vivas being first duly sworn on his oath deposes and says, that on the 18th, of November in the District Court of Wailuku, while trying a case before judge McKay affiant objected to a question put to a witness who was testifying as an expert on gambling, that following the objection judge McKay ordered affiant to sit down not allowing argument on the objection, that affiant immediately sat down, that upon the question being put the second time by the prosecuting attorney affiant stood up and said "I object on the further ground" and that before affiant could proceed any further was ordered to sit down, and not sitting immediately but being in the act of looking around for a seat was ordered to jail by the judge as follows "you are fined five days in jail, officer take him down", that affiant was sent to jail the first time without any mittimus or other process, that after he was sent to jail with mittimus offer was made by the judge to apologize.

Sound Advice to Hawaii.

HONOLULU, November 21.—The twenty years fight between the citizens of Los Angeles and the Southern Pacific railroad and the final victory of the people over the corporation in the matter of a free harbor was related in an intensely interesting way before the members of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular bi-monthly meeting yesterday afternoon Charles D. Willard, of Los Angeles, being the speaker.

The theme of Mr. Willard's address was to point out the advantages that may accrue to Honolulu through the completion and opening up of the harbor at San Pedro, through which two transcontinental lines will seek an outlet to the Orient. He prefaced his remarks by stating that he was speaking in no official capacity, but at the request of H. P. Wood, a man to whom it was extremely difficult to say no.

Honolulu today is in about the same position commercially speaking that Los Angeles was twenty years ago, when the harbor fight began, stated the speaker, not twenty years behind the times, but in the same relative position as an isolated community. Los Angeles then and Honolulu now were in the position of a good store on a back street, a place which had things to offer but which had to advertise to attract those who would buy. Then, the flow of travel was past Los Angeles, just as it is past Honolulu. But the Los Angeles people, through their Chamber of Commerce, had advertised, freely to the extent of a million dollars, and the result has been remarkable. The struggle was a long one but the people there realized that advertising was a long range proposition, the results of which could not be seen at once.

The advantage of Southern California, the same as Hawaii, was climate, but the community had to overcome the same idea that will have to be overcome in Hawaii, that it was a rich man's country, a place where large ranches and farms could prosper but which did not have advantages to attract the small farmers and the smaller enterprises, the real backbone of prosperity to any country. This idea is gone so far as Southern California is concerned.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce worked industriously in bringing in and interesting settlers, and laid down as a cardinal principle the rule that the farmers and manufacturers should raise and make for themselves everything that was needed in the country that could be made there, and the good money that had been going out of the country for these things was kept and added to the prosperity of the community. And all the time the work of advertising the city of Los Angeles was kept up, until it has now become known as one of the best advertised cities on the continent and to which people, tourists and settlers are pouring in all the time.

Mr. Willard then told many interesting details of the struggle between Collis P. Huntington and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The former wanted to secure Federal appropriations for the development of a harbor at Santa Monica, while the latter, backed by the State's representatives in Congress and all the important commercial bodies of California, contended that San Pedro should be developed as being a free port. With the various threats made by Huntington, the bribes offered by him, the intriguing in Washington and the other details of the long drawn out fight, the speaker dealt.

The fight was now over. The people had won and within eighteen months ship and rail would be brought together at San Pedro. The result of this on Hawaii will be an increase in the number of vessels touching at these ports and an immense increase in the tourist possibilities. The tourist trade now brings to Los Angeles from five to ten million dollars a year and from forty to fifty thousand people come yearly. From Southern California Hawaii had much more to expect in the way of tourists than from San Francisco, while tourists would prove to be the forerunners of settlers for the country.

Mr. Willard concluded his address by expressing the hope that the completion of the San Pedro harbor work would bring the relations of Los Angeles and Honolulu, commercially and socially, nearer and nearer.

Grinding Season Begins.

On Tuesday afternoon the great Puunene mill of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company was started up at four o'clock in the afternoon for the grinding of the 1907 crop.

The mill was set in motion by manager F. F. Baldwin and the machinery moved smoothly showing that every thing was in first class condition for the work to be done.

The crop that this mill will grind during the present run will probably be some where between forty five and fifty thousand tons of sugar.

It is one of the largest mills on earth and is capable of turning out more sugar per day and at a less cost than almost any other mill on earth.

During the present year Mr. W. Searby has been the superintendent and with the assistance of a corps of able assistants he has kept the mill up to its former excellent condition.

PUUNENE LINES.

The Puunene Mill commenced its grinding season for 1908 on Tuesday last, about 3 p. m. Mrs. Frank Baldwin accompanied by the Manager Mr. F. F. Baldwin set the wheels of the two immense mills in motion.

On Monday 400 laborers were put to work cutting cane, which soon filled the cane yard at the back of the mill, presenting the usual busy appearance of the Grinding Season.

A prosperous and successful year is anticipated.

Baseball is still the popular amusement Sunday afternoons on the New Diamond, the Mill team beating the Field team 4 to 1 in the last game.

Mr. C. Hansen and Arthur Betts are spending their vacations in Honolulu to attend some of the Baseball games, they are expected back on Saturday.

Mrs. Wm. Lougher will return Friday per Kinau from Hawaii, where she has been to attend the wedding of her brother-in-law Mr. J. R. Lougher.

Mormon President Released on Bond.

Honolulu, November 21.—Melvin Harmon, acting president of the Mormon Church in Hawaii, who was arrested Monday for subornation of perjury in connection with the trial of George Kekauoha before Judge Doie last week for adultery, was released this morning on a bond for $1500. The bond was signed by Chas. Davis and John Waterhouse. No indictment against Harmon has yet been returned by the Grand Jury, but there is little doubt but that he will be indicted.

The Grand Jury has been busy for the past three days. On account of the fact that Tam Fong is on trial in the court room, the Grand Jury has been obliged to find quarters elsewhere, and Marshal Hendry, at considerable inconvenience to himself and his force, has turned over his offices to them for their meeting room. They are supposed to be busy with the examination of witnesses in connection with the alleged perjury and subornation of perjury at the trial of Kekauoha, and several indictments will probably be returned, possibly tomorrow.

One on the Doctor.

The other night one of the leading physicians of the city was awakened about 2 o'clock in the morning by the violent ringing of his telephone bell. He sprang from his nice warm bed in not too much clothing and less good humor, thinking that it was more than likely a hurry call to take him out into the night. He answered the phone and, to his surprise, the voice on the other end answered, "Is this the slaughter house?" The doctor says that, even as cross and tired as he was from a previous hard day's work, he could not help bursting out laughing.—Bulletin.

Charles Creighton Passes Away Suddenly.

Charles Creighton, a practicing attorney in Honolulu for over twenty two years, died suddenly at nine o'clock yesterday morning, at the home of his mother. He had been about town on Sunday. The end came in convulsions, to which he had been subject for many years. His mother and a sister, Miss Agnes M. Creighton, are his only relatives known here. His father was the late Robert U. Creighton, for two or three years editor of the Advertiser and in 1886 Minister of Foreign Affairs, who came here with his family from San Francisco early in 1885. Previous to his residence in San Francisco the elder

Mr. Creighton was in public life in New Zealand, where Charles was born somewhat over forty years ago.

The deceased attorney was a graduate of Hastings College, San Francisco. He was a keen and clever lawyer, able in handling witnesses and juries, a hard but fair hitter. In criminal business there were few who outclassed him when he was in good form. Even in his most depressed periods a natural geniality oozed out in his demeanor. In the stormy legislative session of 1892, he was a member of Queen Liliuokalani's cabinet, as Attorney General, just for the fifteen minutes it took the Legislature to pass a vote of want of confidence after that particular ministry was announced.

The funeral will take place from Williams' undertaking parlors at 3 o'clock this afternoon.—Star.

WHERE ARE THE GIRLS.

Where, oh, where are the Popularity Voting Contest girls who were sent to the Coast for a tour with Edythe Crozier Weathered several months ago?

When the P. M. S. S. Mongolia left San Francisco, C. Gerald Bockus, business manager of the Evening Bulletin of this city, was not a passenger, although he had intended coming this trip. His family arrived in the Mongolia but Bockus remained behind to go hotheels on the trail of the versatile Weathered and her pretty wards. The conductress of the little party is stated to have cabled not many days ago for six hundred dollars with which to bring home the young ladies, but the money was not formally acknowledged and the first news of the whereabouts of the coupon contingency was that they were en route to Alaska. Bockus told people in Frisco, who came down in the Mongolia, that he was going after them to bring them down.

The young ladies were expected back here before now.—Hawaiian Star.

Murders Girl and Attempts Suicide.

A most brutal murder was committed last Thursday evening between 6 and 9 o'clock in a cane field near the Hana Plantation Camp. The victim was a young Japanese girl, Hotaro Harada, daughter of Harada Tokkichii, a locomotive driver on the plantation.

The girl went out about 6 o'clock that evening to take her bath at the Japanese camp and not arriving home at the usual hour her father became anxious and summoning several friends went out to search for the missing girl.

After searching several cane fields they found her in a field near the camp lying dead alongside of a Japanese named Higaki Rioto, who was more dead than alive when found.

The Jap had his loin cloth tied around his neck and one end of it tied loosely to the girl's hand. It is supposed that after he had raped the girl, he then choked her to death and then tried to strangle himself. The tying of the cloth to the girl's hand was perhaps to lead people to believe that the girl had strangled him.

The searching party did not touch the couple but immediately called the police, who upon arriving on the scene loosened the cloth from the Japanese neck and saved his life.

He is now under arrest and being given medical assistance. He will doubtless have to answer to a charge of murder.
