Secret Service Chief On Business In Orient Not In Philippines

John E. Wilkie, chief of the United States Secret Service, returned on the Coptic today from the mission to the Orient that took him through here several months ago. At that time there was a rumor confirmed by dispatches from the States that the head of the Secret Service Department was on his way to the Philippines to organize the secret service of that country. Mr. Wilkie was seen today by a Bulletin reporter and denied the truth of the rumor outright. "As a matter of fact," said Mr. Wilkie, "I have not been to the Philippines at all. Therefore the rumor cannot be true. I have been in the Orient on business in connection with the secret service department, but of its nature or results I have nothing to say for publication."

Chief Wilkie speaks of his visit to the Orient with evident pleasure. He enjoyed it, he says, although there is a large variety of odors there. "On my way home," he said, "I shall visit Portland and that section for two or three days to look over the work there. Then I shall continue East."

While Chief Wilkie would not state the nature of his visit to the Orient, there is a rumor that it is in connection with the appearance of counterfeit coin in various Japanese towns. He admitted having been busy on his visit, and evidently has not gone merely for a pleasure trip.

WAIANAE JAILOR PALAU NOT DISCHARGED

There seems to have been considerable trouble about the reported discharge of one Palau, the jailor of the Waianae jail, but fortunately this has now been straightened out. It was reported that High Sheriff Henry had discharged Palau from his position for political reasons and the Republican committee of Waianae, wishing that Palau be retained, adopted resolutions to that effect, which were sent to Acting Governor Atkinson and High Sheriff Henry.

"I immediately investigated the matter," said Acting Governor Atkinson in discussing the subject this afternoon, "and I find that the High Sheriff is not going to drop Palau."

GUESTS AT LUNCH WITH SECRETARY TAFT

While the complete list of those who will lunch with the Taft party at the Hawaiian hotel tomorrow has not been determined, the following is a partial list of Honolulu folks invited:

BOND CONTRACT SIGNED

Officers of the Bank of Hawaii and of the McBryde Sugar Co. today signed the contract closing the McBryde bond deal. As exclusively told by the Bulletin yesterday, final arrangements for the consummation of the deal were then made. Nothing but the formal conclusion remained.

M. Rosenberg will represent the local Aerie of Eagles at the annual convention of the fraternal order. He was chosen delegate last night. Mr. Rosenberg will leave Honolulu for the mainland on the Siberia, July 23. The convention meets at Denver, Colo., this year, beginning August 15th, and will be in session several days.

Emigration from Spain is increasing so fast that the press and government are alarmed. Loss of population is a very serious matter in Spain. Only the other day 4,000 laborers left Valencia and Tarragona for Brazil and Argentina; 5,000 are awaiting transportation from Malaga, and thousands are leaving from other Spanish ports. This exodus of labor is the theme of constant discussion.—New York Sun.

The Weekly Edition of the Evening Bulletin gives a complete summary of the news of the day.

ALL IN READINESS FOR TAFT PARTY

Pearl Harbor Trip To Be Featured By Committee

LAND ON HACKFELD WHARF AT EWA END OF HARBOR

FLOWERS FOR ALL — LAUNCHES, AUTOMOBILES AND CARS WILL BE BUSY—THE BADGES.

As stated in The Bulletin yesterday, Secretary Taft and his party will land from the Manchuria tomorrow morning on the Hackfeld wharf at the Ewa end of the harbor.

The morning paper today makes the absolutely wrong statement that the party will land on "the Hackfeld wharf near the Honolulu Iron Works." Those who desire to be on hand at the landing will do well to remember that the disembarkation occurs at the Ewa end of the harbor, at the Hackfeld wharf.

The probabilities are that the Customs House launch will leave the Allen street wharf to meet the Manchuria about 5 o'clock in the morning, possibly before.

Captain Lyon of the Naval Station has offered the reception committee the use of the Naval launch. In this may be conveyed the leis to be provided for each member of the Taft party. It will leave for the Manchuria before 6 o'clock.

The United States tug Iroquois will be the disposal of a private party headed by Col. Sam Parker.

It is expected that an immense crowd will congregate on the Hackfeld wharf, where the principal general public reception will occur.

Through the courtesy of Dr. L. E. Cofer, U. S. M. H. S., the quarantine launch will carry the members of the receiving committee to the Manchuria.

The tug Fearless may be placed at the disposal of a private party.

The sub-committee on Army and Navy met yesterday afternoon and arranged to feature the trip to Pearl Harbor. Arrangements were made for a train either to carry members of the party to Pearl Harbor or to return in the Iroquois or to bring back those who take the trip to Pearl Harbor in the Iroquois.

The transportation committee has completed arrangements for the Pall and Honolulu plantation drives.

The party will be photographed at the landing and photographers will be taken to the Pall in busses and automobiles. A Gartley will look after this end of the business.

The Pearl Harbor cruise starts at 2:30 p. m. If the weather is unfavorable for the sea trip the Pearl Harbor party will be conveyed by train.

Superintendent Gaines of the Pacific Commercial Cable Company will send a man to the steamer at an early hour, so that members of the party who wish to send messages home can do so without loss of time.

Members of the party will be provided with souvenir silver badges with red ribbons attached which will entitle them to free passage on street cars, boat rides, bathing suits and other accommodations at the resorts. Members of the escort committee and press will wear red ribbon badges.

The Hawaiian Hotel luncheon at 12:30 is to be invitational.

It is hoped by the Promotion Committee that the Taft party will be given (Continued on Page 4.)

BARON WAS PAYMASTER AND J. MACHMATOFF WAS THE CAPTAIN

Trouble On Russian Hospital Ship Oriel—Nurses Take Commander's Side At Table

The horrors and ludicrous things of war are sometimes intermingled and this is one of the times. There is—or was—a Russian hospital ship and the name of it was the Oriel. The captain's name is J. Lachmatoff, and the captain is something as his name implies—bluff and abrupt in manner.

The protogee: Assigned as paymaster to the Oriel is Baron Osten-Saken, presumably of blue Russian blood. Also assigned on duty as sweet sisters of mercy are twenty nurses, some of them young and all emotional.

Act I begin when Baron Osten-Shaken arrives on board the hospital ship. Laying his hand on his heart and advancing to right centre he announces: "I am the only person of title aboard. Therefore I command the Oriel. I am Baron Osten-Shaken."

Capt. Lachmatoff, bluff old warrior, cares not the snap of his finger for titles on board a war vessel and he makes his opinions known to the Baron without much ceremony. In short the captain tells the Baron that he is only a paymaster and that the commander of the vessel is one J. Lachmatoff. As the curtain falls, there is a look of deadly enmity flashing between the two men.

When the curtain rises on the next act it is to disclose to view the dining-room of the hospital ship. Alas for blue blood and barons! At Captain Lachmatoff's table sit eighteen of the nurses; at the Baron's table—only two. It is to smile!

Now on the Oriel are the captain and two mates of one of the English vessels sunk by the Russian cruisers. They are treated virtually as prisoners. In the comic-opera scene they remain neutral.

Act III—the logical climax—opens with the great naval battle. Out of the smoke rushes a Japanese cruiser, bears down upon the Oriel—and the hospital ship is soon taken. But when the Japanese officers come aboard they are met with the smooth explanation that this is a hospital ship, therefore the honorable gentlemen surely will not confiscate it.

The honorable gentlemen have their suspicions and proceed to make search. They find the captain and two mates of the British vessel. "So!" comment the Japanese. "You have prisoners. Very well. We shall confiscate your ship." Which was done forthwith. Meanwhile the Baron-paymaster had been issuing orders, but it is probable that no one noticed him except perhaps the two loyal nurses.

The fourth act is still in progress. In fact, the Baron and Capt. J. Lachmatoff are passengers on board the Coptic, and in Honolulu today. The scenario above is vouched for by a passenger on the Coptic. Presumably the Baron and the captain will go all the way to Russia looking askance at each other, and all because the paymaster-baron was the only gentleman of title aboard the Russian hospital ship Oriel, confiscated in Sushima Straits.

BASEBALL EDITOR EVENING BULLETIN:

Under heading of Sports in today's Advertiser I noticed an article in regard to the Mid-Winter League meeting about league players and my name appears that I am against league players. It's not so. To make it clear as far as I am concerned, I desire to make the following statement: I was the very one that made the motion to allow all league players that cannot or have no chance to make the team in the Honolulu League to play with the Mid-Winter League, barring all league players after the opening of the latter league, but did object and still object to allowing two or more league players to play with both leagues at the same time, which I consider is unjust and unfair.

My proposition was a good one and still they bucked against it. For instance players that have played in the Honolulu League, namely Pimental, Bushnell, Kila and a few others that could not play or were not able to make the team, I was in favor of allowing them to play with the Mid-Winter League, but the majority of captains and managers bucked against it.

The reporter's remarks are uncalled for, incorrect and unjustified. The reporter can refer back to the minutes and he will see that I was the one that made the proposition to allow league players to play with the Mid-Winter League as stated above.

I ask the reporter of the Advertiser through your columns to be careful in the future in regard to reporting what passes in the Mid-Winter League meetings.

RAPID TRANSIT IS MAKE PREPARATION FOR LUNCHEON OF TAFT'S PARTY

Work on the Kahaui extension of the Rapid Transit is going forward at the speedy rate that usually characterizes the construction work of the city line.

It is the plan of the company to extend the main King street line from its present terminus near the fertilizer works to the foot of the hill this side of Moanalua. From this point a spur will be built to the Kahaui tract for freight purposes during and after the construction of the army barracks.

This new scheme will extend the King street service about a half mile into the country and make the trip to Moanalua by trolley a very comfortable one with a short walk.

Rear Admiral Enquet complains because Togo's ships were so green the Russians could not see them. It is not charged that Togo's gunners, too were green.—New York Press.

Manager Fred. Church of the Hawaiian Hotel is at present working hard with his preparation for the luncheon of the Taft party tomorrow, when about 250 people altogether will lunch at the Hotel. The committee of ladies met this forenoon to complete their arrangements for the decorations. The semi-circular lanai on the Ewa side of the Hotel, which will be reserved for Secretary Taft, Miss Roosevelt and the other honoraries, will be decorated in a beautiful green and yellow color scheme worked out in golden showers and ferns, while the square lanai on the Ewa side will be resplendent in gorgeous poinciana regia. Several traysloads of ferns, calladiums, orchids and palms from S. M. Damon's place on Moanalua will be used in the decorations. A table will be reserved for the press, where the speeches made during the luncheon can be easily heard.

IN MISS ALICE'S TRAIN

Washington, June 20.—Fate and the Secretary of War have so ordered that Miss Alice Roosevelt is to have a great many eligible as fellow travelers on her coming trip to the Philippines.

How much of it is really fate, how much is due to the designs of Secretary Taft and how much the result of the young men's own interest in the matter remains much a matter of conjecture.

To the minds of Stuyvesant Fish Jr., young Mr. Stillman, Roger K. Wetmore, son of Senator Wetmore of Rhode Island, and Nicholas Longworth it is evidently in accord with the eternal fitness of things that they should play a leading role in a little drama of a southern summer sea, with perhaps Miss Roosevelt as "leading woman."

Certain it is that these men have booked passage over with the party which Miss Roosevelt is to grace. This fact has not escaped attention and Cupid will do well to look sharply to his darts.

DEATH OF MISS SCOTT

Hilo, Hawaii, July 11.—No greater shock has been received by the community than the sudden death yesterday at noon of Miss Florence Scott, after an illness of only five days at the home of her uncle, Mr. John A. Scott at Reed's Bay.

Miss Scott contracted a severe cold at the Fourth of July ball at the Hilo Armory, which developed into tonsillitis. She was up and about the house until Saturday, when her condition assumed a more serious turn and symptoms of diphtheria developed.

Dr. Milton Rice, the attending physician, determined upon tracheotomy, and calling in Dr. John J. Grace, an incision was made into her throat affording her temporary relief. She began steadily to sink and although otherwise a robust young woman, the physicians after working all Sunday night with the patient, at 5 o'clock Monday morning gave up her case as hopeless. Every means known to medical science was resorted to without avail and the beautiful and brilliant young woman died while in an unconscious condition at 11:40 a. m. Monday.

Florence Wolcott Scott was born at Milwaukee, Wis., July 17, 1882, the oldest daughter of Hector Munroe Scott and Harriet Walker Scott. She spent her early childhood at Salt Lake City, but received her education and has resided since seven years of age with her parents at Holyoke, Mass.

She came to Hilo on June 29, 1903, for a year's visit with the family of her uncle, John A. Scott and prolonged her stay until the departure of the Enterprise this month. She leaves a widowed mother and two sisters, and was twenty-three years of age at the time of her death. She was an accomplished young woman, one of Hilo's favorite belles and had a host of friends.

The funeral, to which only the immediate family and friends were invited, took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the Reed's Bay residence. Owing to the contagious character of the disease the family and premises have been quarantined for ten days.—Tribune.

Congressman Hepburn
At Orpheum Rally
Inspires Republicans

MEN OF ALL PARTIES HEAR GREAT ORATOR

“I am not kindly in my political feeling to that party who, neglecting the duties incident to campaigns, fails in participating in the initiative, and then criticizes the action of those who have taken the lead, and who, following doubtless, their best impulses and best instincts, have tried to lay out those plans, formulate those ideas and nominate those candidates that they believe will bring success to the party and prosperity to the State.”—Congressman Hepburn, in his address at the Orpheum last night.

furnished by the Ellis Quintet Club. Acting Governor Atkinson called the assemblage to order, announcing that the Republicans were there to ratify the party's success. He introduced A. G. M. Robertson.

Robertson a Party Man.
Said Mr. Robertson: “When these islands were annexed the matter of the readjustment of our political lines immediately came to the fore, and the question arose as to whether or not it was advisable for us to divide ourselves upon national party lines. Some contended that the bulk of our electorate was unprepared for it and they feared dangers from the reconstruction on political lines. The ideas of a few prevailed and we broke away from the anomalous political conditions that had obtained for many years, and decided to affiliate ourselves with the greatest of the national parties on the mainland.”

A message carrying strength and cheer was borne to the ears of those who appreciate the mission of a great political party in the shaping of the affairs of a nation, at the Orpheum last night. The voice of one who has lived long in the midst of national events and who has learned the lessons of party influence, spoke to the representatives of America's greatest party in Hawaii and urged continuance of effort and persistence along party lines, in eloquent words pointing out what the Republican party has done for the Union, declaring that the Republican party is the party of construction, that all the great studies in the progress of the United States have been the result of the work of this political power.

Rousing Reception.
Colonel W. P. Hepburn, United States Congressman from Iowa, held a large and very representative crowd at the Orpheum theater for over an hour, attentive to every word he uttered, interested in all he had to say, in sympathy with his every sentiment. His is the manner of the orator convinced of the truth of his assertions, sure of the lessons taught by experience, earnest in his desire to bear home to others the knowledge acquired from the teachings of history.

His words reached all. He spoke with a voice that all could hear and in a way that none could fail to understand. He called upon the young man to consider well his party allegiance, to study carefully the power of his party, to remember always that the Republican party was the party of success. He called upon the women with whom lies that great first influence over the young mind, declaring that with them lay much of the good that was to come.

Throughout his address, Col. Hepburn was frequently and enthusiastically applauded. He was rousing cheered when he stepped to the front of the platform and he was given a great ovation at the conclusion of his splendid speech. His message was one to encourage local Republicans, one to make more determined those in Hawaii who have the interests of the party at heart.

Ratifying Victory.
The gathering was the occasion of a big Republican rally to ratify the victory in the County campaign. On the platform with Col. Hepburn, Acting Governor Atkinson and A. G. M. Robertson, chairman of the Republican Territorial Central Committee, sat members of the Senate and House of Representatives, officers of the County of Oahu and members of the County and precinct organizations. In the audience were members of all political parties. Flags and bunting decorated the hall, a large American flag draping the table on the platform. Music was ern—not men. We talk about Lincoln's administration, of Grant's administration, of Roosevelt's administration. It is the party that controls, not simply the affairs of state, but those men who administer them. (Applause.)

“The philosophy of the ballot is not always understood. The ballot is not given to men as an asset. The ballot imposes duty and obligation upon the men who have it. The man who has the right to cast a ballot has a duty imposed upon him of casting it righteously and rightly, of knowing what it means, and recognizing the fact that when he voted for his candidate, not because he loves the man, or believes in immediate personal benefit, but because he knows that man is pledged to administer his office along the lines that the voter believes to be right and possible. That is the philosophy of the ballot, and therefore there is imposed upon every man an obligation to vote his ticket.”

Duty at Primaries.
“It is his duty to be at the primary and see that honored names alone constitute that ballot, representative names, men who are Republicans, men who will carry out Republican doctrines, men who are wedded and welded into Republican faith.”

Col. Hepburn gave a ringing and a stinging reference to the “purists” who criticize when they don't take part in primaries and conventions. This having a direct local application to recent events, brought out tremendous applause. He believed in “voting the ticket” though it might have a man on it not quite as good as another. The whole atmosphere of this portion of the speech was a rebuke to those who had attempted to line him up as favoring the opponents of regular party workers.

“The Republican party ought to be continued in power. It is the party that does things. It is the party of the young man, the man who has red blood in his veins, the man with hope in his heart, the man with expectation in his vision, the man who expects to live long among the blessings of government and who is intent upon preserving them. I say the Republican party is the party that does things. Look back over its record, at its wonderful achievements. Born as it was under clouded skies; born as it was almost within the sound of those rumbling cannon that a little while afterwards belched death and destruction over thousands of battlefields; born as it was to inherit a bankrupt treasury; divided government, filled with treason and with revolution with its bloody banners flaunted in its face, it took possession of this government; it quelled the storms of war; it brought peace to a distracted land; it wiped out the causes of belligerence; it inaugurated new methods and measures of government that raised the nation from its abyss of war, upward and onward in the path of progress, enabling it to reach the goal of prosperity, such as no nation ever saw, such as no people elsewhere ever enjoyed. It is the party that does things.

Democrats Antagonize.
“There has been an antagonist to the Republican party. The Democratic party. I am glad that it exists. Until I studied the matter somewhat philosophically, thinking as I always have of the wisdom of God, I was unable always to find a reason why He permitted it to exist. But it was for a wise purpose. One great trouble with that organization is that its leaders and its membership have never had a proper conception of what this government is, and what its powers are.”

Col. Hepburn then turned to history and told how the great Democrats had always opposed the advancement of national affairs, declaring that only the exact letter of the Constitution could not be used. Jefferson was the enemy of the Constitution. Democratic leaders had always sought to limit the power of the government. This was particularly so in the early days when the government was forming. San Francisco, Feb. 7, 1905.

To the Parents of children having Bright's Disease—

I feel impelled to write you my personal experience with this disease, the gravity of which I feel strongly through the death of my father some twenty years ago from that trouble and the serious illness of my son when he was pronounced by two physicians to have Bright's Disease, with recovery impossible. His whole body was swollen with the Dropsy, and death at any moment would not have surprised us. We put him on Fulton's Compound for Bright's Disease. In six months his recovery was complete. Hearing that the son of a friend (an attorney) was dying of Bright's Disease, I told him, and at last reports the boy had recovered. Last year a Mr. Baruch of New York, doing business with us, shocked us by his appearance. He said it was Bright's Disease. I told him, too, of my boy's case. Eight months later I hardly knew him. He was nearly well. There are lives to be saved and it is my duty as well as my pleasure to lay these facts before you.

Yours, etc.,

THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1905.

Be thankful for harmony when the Territory is allowed to use the band.

It is gratifying to learn that Dowle is not bankrupt. His followers have yet to be heard from.

There's no reason why Chief Wikie should say anything of how many secret agents he has had kicking around in Hawaii.

Among other things, Congressman Hepburn believes that the beneficiaries of American progress should be American citizens.

Who under the heavens can it be that is writing long screeds to the morning organ of prejudice and deceit over the signature "J. W. G."?

Just twenty-four more hours of this weather will make just one hundred and four more enthusiastic promoters of Hawaii as a summer resort.

It was a type of partizanship and good citizenship disposed to jar Demos Scudderites and their great and good friends, the Willie Achilles, off the political perch.

"Alice, Where Art Thou," would be more appropriate for Berger to play when the steamer approaches. Then he will voice the united subconsciousness of the assembled multitude.

Should the Manchuria be sighted twelve hours ahead of time, as was the case when Prince Fushimi first approached, the people may know that it's only a case of buck fever in official circles.

People worrying over what Hepburn thinks of Hawaii may take it for granted, he will tell all his friends that he lived several weeks in Hawaii and was treated first rate. That's an absolute truth and diplomatic besides.

It isn't everyone that has a throne handed to them on a silver platter as the throne of Norway has been passed out to Prince Charles of Denmark. The percentage of those who would take the job in these days when thrones totter so easily, isn't as large as many might suppose.

The Honolulu audience applauded vigorously when the Republican leader made his points against the American allowing his goods to be manufactured

One man said in his heart, "It doesn't do me any good to advertise."

That man was a wonder, to put it mildly.

The Irishman who sat on the limb he was sawing couldn't see that it hurt him any till he hit the toboggan side and bit the dust. The man who doesn't need to advertise has reached the point where he is standing stock still. He may keep comfortable for a while but it is a matter of a short time when a wide-awake, progressive competitor will get in, and, with the judicious and intelligent use of advertising, get the business.

by alien labor. The spirit behind the applause was indicated by a gallery remark "Japanese," which is evidence that alien labor in a tariff discussion and alien labor before a Honolulu audience don't always tally.

When men are willing to take the time to become proficient in marksmanship, their employers, whether private or public, should reciprocate in allowing them every assistance that they may participate in the national contest at Seagirt. It would be a great and entirely probable feather in the cap of Hawaii if the representatives of an unsupported militia were to carry off the prize among the marksmen of the nation.

COL. HEPBURN'S SPEECH

Congressman Hepburn treated the citizens of Honolulu to a good old fashioned Republican speech last evening. Good because it was old fashioned and old fashioned because it was good.

Mr. Hepburn's speech was one that would inspire enthusiasm and be applicable in his own town. It was broadly Republican. It was especially timely however for Hawaii because in some of its leading features the address dealt with principles of partizanship and citizenship which have recently been on trial here, and, we are happy to say, were settled along the good old fashioned Republican lines.

Citizens of Hawaii could not fail to derive extreme pleasure and a great deal of educational benefit from an exposition of Republicanism at the hands of one who was in at the beginning, saw it through the darkest days and is still in the front rank, though representing the old guard. It brings the people in closer and better touch with the spirit of things which we are now a part. It is a reminder that American citizenship should not be insular. It recalls to those who have gone astray, or have been led, that the "holier than thou" platform is no place for an American citizen with a proper appreciation of his civic duties.

Of course anything that has to do with the American nation has a bearing on Hawaii. In dealing with the principles of partizanship and the protective tariff however, Mr. Hepburn got right down to the details that make the people here look up a little more promptly. The former has to do with the effectiveness of the citizen's activity in government and the latter with our bread and butter.

It is perhaps as natural for some people in Hawaii—born and bred under a monarchical form of government and educated by the New York Nation instead of the New York Tribune—to assume a supercilious air toward partizanship, as it is for others in Hawaii to flock together on account of former national conditions. The usual assumption is however that the former having presumed "higher" sources of education ought to know better. But since we have these divisions in our political life, it is the province of the home missionary and the missionary from the mainland to give backsliders as often as possible a preaching on the doctrines that have made the American nation what it is today, the doctrines of common political honesty and common sense on which any nation and especially any American community must base its hope of future progress.

Men like Hepburn are just as much American missionaries as the men who came in the early days to lead the benighted ones out of their religious darkness. Americans can't slight political morality. Such men are needed just as much today as were those pioneers of a few years back. They bring the thoughts of the people down to first principles and practical facts. They smash the political idols that have been erected by such as would pray in the synagogue and rob in the market. They point to the equality of duty and equality of work that leads humanity generally to an equal participation in liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

They don't call names. They draw their examples and the application to be made by intelligent men is obvious. They do not speak in a spirit of criticism but rather aim to point the way that will avoid error.

Hawaii will remember Congressman Hepburn and remember him very kindly. If he has got a great deal of pleasure and information out of Hawaii, Hawaii can return the compliment and be convinced that it has been the chief gainer from his visit here, his talks among the people and his attractive personality. He has gained the Aloha of the people of Hawaii and he has been here long enough to know what that means.

The usual assumption is however that the former having presumed "higher" sources of education ought to know better. But since we have these divisions in our political life, it is the province of the home missionary and the missionary from the mainland to give backsliders as often as possible a preaching on the doctrines that have made the American nation what it is today, the doctrines of common political honesty and common sense on which any nation and especially any American community must base its hope of future progress.

WE LOOKED UP TO FIND A QUEER LITTLE OLD MAN IN THE DOORWAY.

CONGRESSMAN HEPBURN INSPIRES REPUBLICANS

(Continued from Page 3.) ...and Washington, the country being without a circulating medium, deemed it necessary that there should be a fixed agent. The Democratic party cried that it was unconstitutional, and so the Democrats always cried when any great progressive move was started by the Republicans.

"The Democratic party," declared the speaker, "is always opposing, never constructing. When Lincoln sent the boys in blue to coerce a people who sought to break from the Union, the Democratic party declared that it was all unconstitutional. The Republican party is a party of construction, of advancement. It is responsible for the splendid condition of our country today. This is not bravo, it is an appeal to history. It is not mere catch-trap, it is the truth borne out by facts—it is the result of that careful reading which every prudent man must give to the transactions of past generations that bear upon the welfare of the land we love.

"Where have you heard of any proposition of the Republican party for the amelioration of the condition of men, for the uplifting of society among all classes of people that you have not also heard that old battle cry of Democracy, 'It is unconstitutional; you cannot do it'?"

"I defy any man living after he has searched the history of this country over all that period, from the 24th day of April, 1789, down to this moment, to find one great constructive measure ever proposed, advocated, or accomplished by the Democratic party."

Homestead Law. Col. Hepburn, enumerating the works of the Republican party, spoke of the homestead law, saying: "The homestead law, under whose operation you will find on the prairies, on the hillsides and mountain slopes and in the valleys, a million, ay, nearly 2,000,000 homesteads pecking the landscape, was the gift of the nation to the settler who would go upon this land, redeem it from the wilderness and contribute to the wealth and prosperity of the nation. The Democratic party, with the exception of two or three western men, said, 'No, you cannot do it, it is unconstitutional.'"

Gold Standard. The Congressman then took up the gold standard. He said: "A dollar must be the same—there cannot be two dollars of different value—in the contemplation of every honest man. Chicanery could be accomplished with a double standard. When the Republican party said gold should be the standard, the Democratic party said a single gold standard would be unconstitutional and even quoted the Constitution which forbade anything but gold and silver.

"Now I want to talk tariff. "Among all the political blessings showered upon the heads of the humble and the great by the Republican party there has never been a greater one than that of the Dingley tariff bill.

Dingley Tariff Blessing.

"This protective tariff has brought the United States to the proud position among the nations of the world which she occupies today. Today the United States is the leader in the financial world.

"It is the protective tariff that has brought plenty where there was want, wages where men were searching in vain for work.

"The Dingley bill has been in operation now for eight years, during which time America has secured the balance of trade."

Col. Hepburn then went into statistics, showing how without a protective tariff, America sent raw material to Europe and then sent her wealth out of the country to purchase the finished articles manufactured abroad; how, under the Dingley bill the wealth of the country was kept at home. Without a protective tariff America had often looked to Europe in the early days for capital for her enterprises; American enterprises had been dependent upon the wishes of foreign money men.

Hawaii's Plantations. These gentlemen of splendid courage who put up your great sugar mills would not make their great investments if they thought the prosperity of the country was to exist but a little time. If they feared the repeal of the Dingley bill they would not look forward to increased prosperity."

Addressing the young men, the orator said the main thing was to start right. "If you believe all men are created equal with certain inalienable rights—life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—to labor how, when, where and with whom you please—then your place is in the Republican party."

Guarding the Flag. Col. Hepburn felt that the Republican party was peculiarly the guardian of the nation's flag.

He did not want to deprive people of any other party of any of the blessings under the flag, but the Republican party had always stood for the flag.

The flag was as much Hawaii's as the mainland's the Constitution belonged to Hawaii now. Hawaii was more likely to be hampered by Democratic opposition than was any other part of the country.

Labor was the salvation of a country. The great problem before American statesmen today was to keep the vast army of labor employed. France had suffered in her great disturbances because labor was unsettled. Russia was suffering today because of labor troubles. The women of the country were the most affected, the first to bear the suffering when there was no work for the breadwinner. In America all women should be Republicans, should influence the minds of their children in this direction. Under Republican administration came prosperity and work for the laboring man.

The Pope Urges

CATHOLICS TO Enter Public Life

Rome, June 19.—Pope Pius has issued an encyclical encouraging Catholics to participate in public affairs. While seeking the advice of ecclesiastical authorities, the encyclical says: "Catholics should retain complete liberty of action regarding their temporal interests."

Members of the clergy are recommended to refrain from participating in party strife.

The encyclical has created a sensation. Its object is to induce Catholics to enter public life so that they may be a force against the threat of Socialism.

This morning's newspapers comment on the importance of the Pope's encyclical, the effect of which, they say, will be to do away with the reluctance of the Catholics to recognize Italian legislative institutions. It is the first time that the Vatican has invited Catholics to vote.

No one questions that the Czar is burning anxious for peace. He is in the very difficult position, however, of having to consider whether unfavorable terms will make him more hated by his own people than a continuation of the calamities which have attended his tests at arms. His government does not fail to realize that it cannot hope to beat Japan now for many years to come.—New York Press.

best for the welfare of the people. If there was to be a custodian of the flag, the flag was the Republican party's to guard.

The flag was as much Hawaii's as the mainland's the Constitution belonged to Hawaii now. Hawaii was more likely to be hampered by Democratic opposition than was any other part of the country.

KAUAI COUNTY WORK

SUPERVISORS LAY PLAN FOR HANDLING THE BUSINESS

ROAD LUNAS APPOINTED AND FUTURE IN VARIOUS DISTRICTS I SCANNED—THE APPOINTMENTS.

Lihue, Kauai, July 10.—The meeting of the Kauai Supervisors adjourned on 1st inst, was called to order at 11 a. m. on the 5th by the Chairman.

Mr. Brandt seconded by Mr. Pauiki moved that the Board consider the appointment of a road luna for Waimea. Carried.

The Board had received four applications for this position, viz: from W. Hastie, J. M. Perreira, G. W. Maiana and Chas. Aki.

Of these applications the one from Mr. Hastie was accompanied by a petition from 72 voters living within the District besides an endorsement from the following corporations: Kekaha Sugar Co., Waimea Sugar Mill Co., G. B. Hoffgaard & Co., Ltd., and Waimea Stables.

Mr. Perreira's application was accompanied by an endorsement from the former Road Board.

Mr. Pauiki thought that the only application to be considered would be the one with the strong recommendation of 72 voters.

Mr. McBryde would suggest that the Board follow the wish of the Supervisor from the district for which an appointment was to be made, unless something derogatory to the applicant was known to any member of the Board, in which opinion Mr. Brandt concided.

Mr. Brandt moved that the Board appoint Mr. Hastie a road luna for the District of Waimea at a salary of $80 per month, it being understood that he perform all the clerical work in road matters necessary in the district. See-onded by Pauiki and carried.

Mr. Brandt informed the Board of the fact that there were only between $400 and $500 left of the road funds in Waimea. The former secretary to the Road Board had told him that he thought the district had still some money coming from the Tax Collector. How much this amounted to he had not been able to ascertain, not having found Mr. Kapuni at home.

In spite of this scarcity of funds he would move that the district be allowed to spend $300 during the month of July, as there were four miles to feed under all circumstances and it was better to have them working than standing idle. Seconded by Mr. Pauiki and carried.

Mr. McBryde moved that the former road luna, J. K. Palama, be appointed in the same capacity in Kolpa district and that his pay remain the same. He had hitherto been paid $2 for every day actually at work. Seconded by Mr. Brandt and carried.

Mr. McBryde stated that there was at present an amount of $1,100 available for road work in his district and moved that it be allowed to expend $250 a month for such purpose. Seconded by Mr. Brandt and carried.

Mr. Pauiki desired to have the matter of appointing a road luna for Kawaihau deferred to next meeting.

There were no applications on hand for the position. He had had some conversation with Mr. S. Hundley on the subject of funds, and found that there were some $2,000 on hand and that the monthly expenditure had in the past amounted to about $350.

Mr. McBryde moved that Mr. S. Hundley be appointed road superintendent for Kawaihau until next meeting of the Board and that $350 be appropriated out of the road funds for work in Kawaihau district during July. Seconded by Mr. Pauiki and carried.

Pauiki moved that, as the Supervisor from Hanalei had not qualified, road matters for that district be left till next meeting of the Board. Seconded by Mr. McBryde and carried.

The County Clerk, Olaf Ousted, presented a new bond by the U. S. Fidelity and Guarantee Company and asked for the return of the temporary one offered on the 1st inst. The request was put as a motion by Mr. Brandt and was carried, after having been seconded by Mr. Pauiki.

Mr. E. Ousted's bond from the U. S. Fidelity & Guarantee Co., for $2,500, was approved and he was declared to have duly qualified as County Auditor.

Mr. F. Crawford, as head of the Lihue branch of the Bank of Hawaii, was requested by the Board to attend the meeting as they desired to hear what proposition he could make for handling the County's funds.

After having had the conditions explained he agreed to arrange with Honolulu Banks to have the County's warrants pass at par, if the County would deposit all its money with his bank, the road funds to be credited at par and the monthly warrants from the Territorial Treasurer less 2 per cent. discount.

Mr. Brandt, on the strength of this information, moved that the County Treasurer communicate with the Territorial Treasurer in order to ascertain what amount of road funds were available and when, and that the Board of Supervisors approve of the Treasurer using the Lihue branch of the Bank of Hawaii as a depository. Seconded by Mr. McBryde and carried.

Mr. McBryde moved that the seal of the County of Kauai be adopted as per design presented by the Clerk. Seconded by Mr. Pauiki and carried.

DAUGHTERS OF FAITH

ROMAN CATHOLIC WRITER ON THE DIVORCE PROBLEM

SAYS CATHOLIC WOMEN WHO MARRY AGAIN EXCOMMUNICATE THEMSELVES—AUDIENCE WITH POPE.

New York, June 18.—The organization fostered by prominent women of the Roman Catholic Church under the title "The Daughters of the Faith," which, because of its proposed radical position on the divorce question attracted so much attention, is soon to issue a manual defining its purposes and the method it intends to pursue to accomplish them.

The author, Miss Eliza O'Brien Lummis, treats of questions of interest to those burdened with the preservation of the home and the faith in a manner that most attract attention even if it fails to gain converts.

"Our own country, whose morality has not kept pace with its enlightenment," says the chapter on divorce "has thrown off all restraint and allows divorce for the slightest cause and with almost unlimited frequency. Society is, in consequence, on the verge of moral ruin and nothing but the religious and social recognition of the horror of this crime can arrest the evil that, with cyclonic force, has in a comparatively short time, overturned domestic peace and uprooted the safeguards of purity and honor. To condone the sin is to partake of it, and we should realize its effects as well as its nature; for, if we so condone it, we become moral participants, not alone in the sin, but also in the evils that follow."

Of the American girl the author says: "There are many evidences that her training has been so far somewhat theoretical and superficial, and education rather of books than of practice, and the daughters of wealth have been more fully prepared for the uses of society than of home life."

The women of the Roman Church who remarry after divorce are harshly criticised.

"The Catholic divorcee who remarries excommunicates herself. She enters into what she knows to be a sinful relationship and by that act openly sets at naught the teachings of the church. It is not the church that has cast off. It is she herself that has broken the filial tie. The Catholic divorcee who remarries must be socially ostracized."

Miss Lummis went to Rome and had audience with the Pope to whom she explained the purpose of her organization. She left the Holy See with a brief from Pius X approving of the Daughters of the Faith.

Cardinal Gibbons, Mgr. Falconio and Archbishop Farley have given official endorsement and benediction.

SECRETIVE LESSONS

JAPANESE WERE SUCCESSFUL IN KEEPING OUT PUBLIC

AMERICANS FIND MUCH THAT FURNISHES GOOD FOOD FOR THOUGHT IN PREPARATION FOR WAR.

Washington, D. C., June 20.—The American public has been so educated up to the point where it wants information in advance if possible, that certain departments of the Government are sometimes seriously embarrassed by reiterated inquiries concerning public business. Attorney General Moody's recent protest, published in these columns, is a case in point. At the same time the Navy Department did its level best to preserve its secrets, arising from the naval maneuvers in Chesapeake Bay, and the White House, which is one of the best fortified places in Washington for keeping news from the public, owing to the fact that whatever news there is passes through few hands, is holding on to all secrets about the pending peace proposals between Russia and Japan. The question is, can the American public, whose hunger for news is only minutely reflected by the newspapers, be taught the secretiveness practiced by the Japanese?

Prolonged Two Years by Newspapers. A newspaper man in Washington, who served in the Union army during the Civil War and whose experience in newspaper work makes him a competent judge, recently asserted privately that the Civil War was prolonged two years by the newspapers. The aggressiveness of the war correspondents on both sides frequently tipped off to the enemy the movements of their antagonists and in more than one instance made a crushing blow a mere pigmy scratch. During the Spanish-American war, had the issue been made stronger by Spain, the Government would undoubtedly have been forced to take more coercive measures to suppress information than it did. The attitude of the Government at that time in giving out information as soon as an event had happened now shows up glaringly in comparison with the Japanese, who successfully suppressed the official information of the loss of a battleship for a full year.

Three years ago the British Government undertook to put the screws on leaks during naval maneuvers similar to the maneuvers now going on in and around Washington. They applied the Japanese system of allowing their soldiers to receive communications from home, forwarded through the Naval Office, but refused to permit them to communicate with home. In their endeavors they were fairly successful. A former naval attaché of this Government at London told the other day of his endeavor to communicate with a man on one of the British ships, whose mother was anxious to inform him of important family news. He was utterly unable to secure a reply from the son until the maneuvers had been completed.

Gets No Information in Japan. Still more recently an attaché of the United States, sent to Japan to observe certain movements of the Japanese navy, tells a story on himself in his reports which is not only ludicrously funny, but well illustrates the manner in which the Japanese mind has been trained to know absolutely nothing about Governmental affairs in time of war. This attaché was located at a great Japanese naval base, the harbor of which was full of transports and a great naval convoy, the streets teeming with thousands of soldiers and littered with piles of munitions of war.

For two weeks the work of loading men and munitions on the ships went on, the attaché in the meantime doing his level best to ascertain their destination. He was in almost constant contact with the Japanese officers of both the army and navy and was nightly dined and feted, but no information could be got. He even sought out the residents of the town and inquired of nothing about Governmental affairs in time of war.

Finally he concluded that the time had come for him to return the many social favors of the Japanese officers, so he prepared a sumptuous dinner for them, including in the bill of fare a liberal allowance of liquors. Many of the leading officers of the army and navy attended and all partook with great freedom of the good things set before them, both meat and drink.

Late in the morning the attaché went to bed, his guests having departed. When he awoke next morning not a ship or transport was in sight. The soldiers had all gone and the munitions of war also. It was some time subsequent that he learned the final destination of the men with whom he had been in daily communication for two weeks without learning anything about their future movements.

A naval officer cognizant of the above circumstance recently said that if the United States ever went into a big war it would first be necessary "to lick the friendly enemies at home." Of course, he referred to the desire of all Americans to know at once just what is going on. It will be interesting to see whether or not the Japanese system of secretiveness, which is undoubtedly one of the lessons of the war, will become a "fad" among nations.—Leroy T. Vernon, in the Chicago Daily News.

You Attend Baseball At Your Own Risk

New York, June 20.—Persons who attend baseball games do so at their own risks, according to a decision handed down by Civil Justice McLaughlin in a damage suit brought by a young woman who claims to have been injured by a foul ball. While a spectator at the Polo Grounds a foul ball smote her on the nose. The doctors saved her from permanent disfigurement, but suit was brought for damages, in the sum of $500 against the New York Club's management.

The complainant's counsel asserted that the management was responsible for everything that went wrong on the grounds and that the woman's injury was clearly due to the lack of proper safeguards. The Justice, however, ruled that those who entered the grounds did so at their own risk.

CAN DRILL CHINESE

New York, June 25.—Reformers in Chinatown were thrown into excitement tonight by news that the Chinese Government had lodged a protest at Washington against the drilling of Chinese troops in this country. The Celestial Government fears these men are to be used in a revolution against the Empress and the court party at home. The information came as a shock, for they had been believing that their work in organizing and drilling was understood to be merely a social and not a revolutionary movement.

Homer Lee, who is organizing the recruits in association with Kwang Yue Wei, the great reformer, is well known in this city, almost as well, in fact, as he is in Los Angeles. He is a teacher of Chinese and a great missionary among them, and members of the reform association said that he would never assent to the use of his services in a propaganda that means warfare or rebellion.

"It is absolutely untrue that we have been drilling to raise troops to fight the Emperor," said T. M. Singleton, the president of the Chinese Reform Association. "I know from whom this charge emanates, and it has been given out by our enemies in the hope that it will injure us in our work for our fellow countrymen."

GREATNESS OF MANILA

San Francisco, June 18.—Major General Henry C. Corbin, who is now in Manila in command of the Division of the Philippines, has accepted at the hands of Governor-General Wright the chairmanship of a committee appointed to investigate the harbor conditions of Manila relative to the restrictions thrown around American and foreign trade and to promote a plan for improvement. In writing to San Francisco friends about the matter his letter says in part that Manila should be the distributing center for the Asiatic coast from Singapore to Manchuria if sufficient encouragement is given the city's commercial interests.

Continuing his letter state: "Manila will soon be provided with modern docks for the economical handling of cargo and it will be the only city along the China coast possessing such facilities. At Shanghai cargoes from large steamers have to be lightered a long distance in junks, launches or river steamers. At Hongkong there are no docks and ships must lie out in the harbor. Conditions are the same at Singapore. With the new docks at Manila, ships can go alongside and discharge and take on freight with the same facility they can in San Francisco and New York or Liverpool.

"What is needed here is a system of modern bonded warehouses. Allow the large firms of the United States to ship their goods to these warehouses and store them while their salesmen cultivate the trade of Asia. Here will be large stocks of goods and, for example, should a Hongkong firm wish a shipment of American goods of a line carried here, it will be able to get them in less than sixty hours. Instead of about thirty days, as would be the case were it necessary to have them shipped direct from San Francisco on a cable order. All the principal Asiatic ports are within easy reach or distance from Manila and the fact that stocks were carried here in sufficient quantity to supply the demands would unquestionably operate greatly in favor of American trade in the Orient."
