What the Wrestlers, Boxers and Base Ball Artists Are Doing.

Antone Kao says: I'm going to run in the Maui marathon. If I win I'll get what's coming to me, and that's more than I have done in Honolulu, sometimes. We should like to have Kao, but this race on the Fourth is for Maui Amateurs, and if Kao entered he would scare the others out.

Yesterday afternoon Charles Barron dispatched a letter to P. A. Rohrabacher, who is at present residing at Wailuku, inviting him to take part in the marathon race which Barron is hoping to pull off on July 2d at Athletic Park. Rohrabacher is the "dark horse" whom Barron spoke of earlier in the week, but yesterday Barron declared his identity. Rohrabacher is a German, and has run in several marathons in San Francisco. He has records to substantiate his claims, and will no doubt be an additional attraction if he agrees to take part in the race proposed.—Star Barron certainly is the candy kid with the hot air, as Rohrabacher says he never ran a marathon or any other distance in his life.

George Moriarty is one of the Detroit players who believes that it behooves the Tigers to win every possible game they can right now, if they are to keep ahead of the world's champion Athletics. "Lots of people seem to think that we have the pennant already won," said Moriarty, "but I don't believe any of the boys on our team feel that way. Down back there in the road there's a cloud of dust, and occasionally when that dust cloud lifts you can, by looking closely, make out the tall form of one Cornelius McGillicuddy. There are other dust clouds back there in the road, and they are likely to get nearer to us as the season advances. Of course, we have a pretty nice lead at present, but these extra victories will come in a little handy later in the season when the other championship contenders settle down." Moriarty is playing a wonderful game at third this year, and is again exhibiting that splendid pluck that characterized his work in the championship series of 1909, when, regardless of cuts and bruises innumerable, he withstood the savage attacks of the Pirate base runners without flinching.

When Papke was in disgrace in San Francisco owing to a bad-looking fight with Joe Thomas, he was asked how he accounted for the fact that in some of his fights he seemed the personification of force and speed, while in others he was as slow and inoffensive as the traditional ice wagon. "I can't tell why it is so, but I'm willing to admit it's a true bill," said Papke. "There are times when I simply can't get started, try as I may. I was that way with Joe Thomas and I was that way when I fought Ketchell both times in San Francisco." From which it will be seen that Papke is quite ready to admit that his ring performances are not by any means of an even character. It was often said that Ketchell was the only man of his poundage Papke really feared and for this reason, now that Ketchell has passed away, it is believed Papke will make things hum in the middleweight division when he returns to his native land. But it is as well to remember that Sam Langford keeps insisting it is Sam for Death Claims Clarence M. Roberts From a Sorrowing Community.

The shadow of death never fails to cast a gloom over a community, but there are circumstances which cause that gloom to deepen. It is probable that never before in Wailuku has there been such a widespread feeling of sorrow at loosing a fellow citizen, as last Monday when the remains of Mr. Roberts were followed to the grave. Everyone in the community knew him, and to him was to honor and respect him. Those under him on the plantation, both Orientals and Europeans loved him, while his associates looked upon him as a true man. Mr. Roberts gave up only a few days before he died, and here again his character was shown. He had been ailing a long time, but rather than alarm his friends he bore his sickness in silence until he could bear it no longer. An operation was performed, but his system had been too much weakened, and he could not rally sufficiently to recover.

Clarence Melbourne Roberts was born at Glenwood, Yarmouth County, Nova Scotia, December 7th, 1870. He began work first as a carpenter, then was in the express business, and for several years was connected with the traction lines in San Francisco. He came to the Islands about ten years ago, was five years at Waipahu, Oahu, on the Ewa plantation, and on April 5th completed five years of service with the Wailuku Sugar Company, having been head luna of the Waikapu division during this time. He began his work here under the management of Mr. C. B. Wells. In June 1910, Mr. Roberts was elected to the trusteeship of the Wailuku Union Church of which he was a faithful member. He was also a member of the Golden West Lodge of Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Mr. Roberts leaves a wife, a son, Weymouth, who the past year has been preparing for college at the Oberlin preparatory school. Mrs. Roberts' mother is still living in Nova Scotia. The floral offerings at the funeral were gorgeous, and were a loving tribute of many sorrowing friends. The pall-bearers were D. H. Case, District Attorney, Judge McKay, H. B. Penhallow, Manager Wailuku Sugar Co., C. E. Copeland, Leslie West, E. E. Battelle, Geo. Wilbur and A. Gross.

The Maui Marathon.

It is important that those intending to enter the marathon on the morning of the Fourth send in their entries to the Maui News at the earliest possible date, so that those having the race in charge, can make arrangements to care for the runners while on the road. It must not be forgotten that all runners must be examined by a physician before starting in the race. There will be at least three prizes, and the first prize will be $50.

him to come in as a middleweight, and if Langford goes about proving his claim in a business-like way it will seem as though Papke has a second Ketchell to reckon with. Papke has now defeated the best men in Australia and England and can lay claim to the middleweight title of the world with some reason.

Racy Paragraphs From the Capitol On Current Topics.

(By Oscar Brenton.)

I notice that the name of Mrs. John Hall is not on the list of teachers assigned to schools in the Territory. This is the lady who walked out of Kalihiwaena school the other day when Principal Cox "threw at her" a rather sarcastic, not to say impertinent note, after he had been sustained by the Commissioners of Education. Taking it by and large this is rather rubbing it in. All of the teachers at Kalihiwaena were asked to contribute literature bearing on the discipline of the school. I have been told that Mrs. Hall was the last to yield, holding out until Superintendent Pope insisted that she send her opinion in writing for the good of the service. "I know not what the truth may be; I tell it as 'twas told to me."

I note, now, that Secretary Gibson says the letter was more in detail than any from the other teachers, so much in detail that it, apparently, did not please the powers. At all events when it came to passing out positions for the season to come Mrs. Hall was not in the running and this after Pope had compelled her to write an honest criticism. The trouble seems to be that Cox is oversupplied with friends and Pope is not. Hence the protection given by the latter to Cox. No one questions the ability which Mrs. Hall has. There are few who do not recognize her as one of the most capable teachers in the county but ability has no chance against pull where the head of the department has the last say.

I heard something from a Compton sympathizer that does not surprise me in the light of events subsequent to her "advance on Richmond." It seems that the department has to pay her a salary up to the end of August. She was engaged for the Hilo school and was transferred at the will of the department, rather than on her own request. Of the two schools offered she selected Wailuku because she liked the principal and accepted the assignment. Before going down, I understand, she has told this to her friends. Mr. Gibson was sent to the principal with the information that the assignment had been made but that if she did not want her she had only to make a protest to Pope. And she says Pope sent Gibson to Mrs. Churchill with that message. If any part of that is true it seems to me Pope must be a bad one. He has been proven unable to cope with the duties of superintendent of instruction. As a teacher in the College of Hawaii he did well and should return there.

It looks very like a crusade and the men who have been bringing in the poppy-gladness via Hilo and Kahului will be off for the tall timber or I am a buzzard in search of carrion. The other day the federal lightning struck the S. S. Mexican 'midships, 'tween decks abaft the shaft and in the neighborhood of the galley. The cook was on the line of least resistance and consequently felt the shock. I have no information to this effect but I would not be surprised a few weeks hence to learn that the lightning was generated somewhere in the vicinity of Honolulu. Smugglers are on the run these days and everyone is trying to get the ear of the district attorney before some other

Rev. Mr. Smith, in the course of his very interesting remarks, emphasized the need of high ideals, will-power, push and character. He urged the members of the graduating class to do their very best in the world. The speaker's anecdotes and illustrations were fully appreciated by the audience.

Principal C. A. MacDonald presented diplomas to the eleven young men whose names appear on the program. After the literary exercises a game of tennis was played, and a generous luau was served on the lawn, numerous visitors enjoying the repast.

Ball Game at Haiku.

Last Sunday the Haiku ball team entertained a team from Paia, and a rattling good game was the result. The Haiku team won out by a score of 5 to 4. The following players composed the Haiku team:

Joe Morris, pitcher; Ah Ki, catcher; Kaikai, first base; Chas. Awai, second base; Ting Young, third base; Aiao, shortstop; Julio, left field; Ah Kai, center field; R. K. Kaholokula, right field.

After the game was over the Haikus escorted the visiting team to the home of Mr. Kaholokula where a luau was spread, and a general good time was the result.

welcher shows his nose in the sheriff's office. I am prepared not to be surprised to hear of others than Chief Barker looking for bail when the Wilhelmina arrives in port. Keep your ear to the ground for the next stroke may hit your town, or the one nearest thereto, if there is a steamer in port when the next arrest for smuggling is made. While on the subject of smuggling, which seems correlative, let me say that a wonderful piece of evidence was introduced in a perjury case the other day. It was one wherein an unfortunate drunk was used as a dummy by the liquor

Taft Explains Opposition to Reciprocity.

(San Francisco Call.)

PRESIDENT Taft realizes that if reciprocity with Canada is to be enacted by Congress it will be due only to the force of public sentiment compelling the Senate to act. That body is still dominated by the special interests, which will employ every form of political chicanery to kill the measure. An instance in point is the amendment of the treaty of agreement offered by Senator Root. Root knows better than anybody that the agreement must be enacted as it was made or not at all. The proposition to amend it is merely a plan to kill the measure.

In his address on Saturday Mr. Taft made clear the nature of the interests that are financing the campaign against reciprocity. These are chiefly the paper trust and the lumber trust, whose activities in "putting Lorimer over" have been the subject of extensive publicity. These interests have been compelled to admit in a public way that they hired a firm of lobbyists to appear before Committees of Congress as ostensible representatives of the farming interests. The real farmers know that their business will not be affected in any respect otherwise than favorably by improved trade relations with Canada. The only competing crops produced by Canada are cereals, whose price is determined in a foreign market under free competition and without any sort of protection.

On the other hand, Canada is a large consumer of agricultural products of the United States, such as the canned, dried and fresh fruits of California, the cotton seed oil of the south and, in fact, an endless variety of food products that can not be grown in that climate. Mr. Taft describes the opposition in these words:

"From what source does the opposition proceed? In the first place, it comes from two classes of the business interests—those who own and control the lumber supply of the United States and those who are engaged in the manufacture of print paper and of whom the largest manufacturers own much of the spruce wood supply of the United States, from which the print paper is made; and the second class opposed to the treaty are those who claim to represent the farmers and agricultural interests of the country."

These two classes might fitly be reduced to one. The real farmers may be eliminated altogether, because in fact their interests will be advantaged greatly by increasing the demand for many of their most profitable products.

The wail has gone up that the Maui automobile men held up the excursionists last Monday. It may be possible that some were overcharged, but that is bound to happen anywhere. We have actually known people to have been overcharged in Honolulu. Yet this is no reason to cry down everything and everybody in Honolulu. Neither is it necessary to threaten against the Maui Racing Association because an auto driver thought he saw a chance to make a little extra money. We have absolute knowledge this was not the rule among the automobile men, as the most of them are always satisfied with a legitimate charge at all times.

It is not very edifying for the pupils that these squabbles continue in the public schools. These things are becoming all too common. There must be a cause; and we would submit that this cause can and should be unearthed no matter who suffers, for the good of the service. The brand of whitewash dished up recently by the Board of Education, continues to leave a bad taste in the mouth of a large number of people.

Bullion, Raggles and Me.

(By John P. Meakin.)

OLD Bullion rode by in his auto;
I rode in a trolley car;
But Raggles he walked on his journey,
Though it led to a place afar.
The fact was very evident,
As you can plainly see,
That I was better than Raggles
And Bullion was better than me.

Old Bullion lived in his palace;
My cottage was rather neat;
But Raggles he slept in a hovel
When he wasn't kicked out in the street.
It was plain that God, who made us,
Intended that we should be,
I a little better than Raggles
And Bullion better than me.

At least this was so until Raggles
Struck gold in a mine that he found,
When his millions eclipsed old Bullion's,
And he went to the top with a bound.
Then the world, which is wise in such matters,
Took never an hour to agree
That Raggles was better than Bullion,
And both of them better than me.

The Fourth on Maui.

Everything points towards the most successful race meet ever held by the Racing Association. The track is now in fine condition. Many new horses are at the track and more will arrive next week. A notable acquisition last week was the mare Mary Winkfield from Honolulu, and she is in fine condition. Maui is going better than ever, and will take a lot of beating when he starts on the Fourth. A large number of promising fillies are at the track, and there is no doubt some genuine speed burners are among the bunch.

That sterling performer Coppit is in fine condition and will be ready to run for a king's ransom when the gate goes up for the big race. Assurances have been received that a boat will surely come up from Honolulu, though it has not yet been decided which boat it will be.

Lahaina Lines.

Mr. Chauncey Miles has received another valuable horse, named Blue Grass Chief.

Miss Lucy Adams has returned from Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have removed into their new cottage.

Rev. William Meritt, Superintendent of Sunday School work in the State of Washington, gave a very interesting address in Hale Aloha, on June 9. Many years ago Mr. Meritt was President of Oahu College in Honolulu.

A number of Lahainaluna boys sang English and Hawaiian songs on the wharf, previous to sailing for their homes on Friday evening of last week.

Mr. T. W. Ralston has returned from his two weeks vacation. During his absence, operator Vincent has been on duty at the wireless station.

KAMEHAMEHA EXCURSION TO LANAI.

At 5 a. m. on Kamehameha Day, Postmaster Arthur Wall, Messrs. J. E. and J. K. Kennedy, H. Bruss, and Mr. Sandstead, embarked on a 60 foot gasoline boat, and cruised around for a few hours, while trying their luck at fishing. The weather conditions were exceptionally fine. About 9 o'clock they landed on Lanai, and remained there until 2 p. m. They visited the Gay family, and were generously entertained. The boat also was well supplied with viands. In the near future this party and other guests will visit Maneli ranch, on the fur side of Lanai, and will probably extend the trip to Molokai.

Shot at Coconut Island.

The presence of the Enterprise in this port makes timely the publication of a complaint which was made to this paper just after the vessel had left Hilo on her last voyage. It is stated that during her former stay here an experiment was made with the ship's signal cannon, a rather formidable piece of ordnance which carries a projectile described as similar to an overgrown window weight. The cannon was aimed straight at the Coconut Island beach. In explanation of this weird maneuver it was later stated by an officer of the steamer that they "wanted to see where it struck." The projectile did strike the island, thanks to the excellent marksmanship of the gallant sailors. Incidentally it struck very close to some children who were playing on the beach, and a scar on the rock bears mute witness of the force with which the missile struck. It is to be hoped that if such a damnable practice is repeated, the authorities will find a way to punish those responsible therefor which will make the punishment recently inflicted for the carrying of opium look like the merest slap on the wrist.—Hilo Tribune.

AUCTION SALE.

THE FORD has always been a car of class. A car for the man of moderate means; a car that will do all and more than the manufacturers claim for it. A salesman never has to talk about the good qualities of a FORD, they are always apparent. The 1911 FORD is a great improvement over the 1910 Car. They have all that any other car has, and then some. Then the price should be an inducement. When you can buy a car which you know is good, by its record, for $800, why pay more? You can not possibly get any more value. See the latest model and be convinced.

The June term of the Circuit Court opens in Lahaina on Wednesday.

Don't fail to attend the concert and sale at the Kahului Young Men's Club rooms tonight. A good time is guaranteed.

There will be a basket ball game at the gymnasium, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock between a gymnasium team and a team from the Kahului Young Men's Club.

A meeting of the Maui Aid Association was held at the Baldwin National Bank on Thursday morning to discuss important business connected with the Maui Churches.

The Pastor, Board of Trustees Deacons and members of the Kaahumanu Church cordially invite the Public to the services of rededication of their renovated edifice Sunday, June 18, at 10:30 o'clock.

It will be unnecessary for those coming from Honolulu for the Fourth of July to fill the boat with liquid refreshments as they did last year. Maui has enough to supply the wants of the excursionists.

R. N. Corbaley says the mosquitoes at Kaimuki are not nearly so bad as they are at Kahului. Except for the skeeters, however, there are lots of worse places to have to live in than the township by the bay. The good fellows in that district make one overlook minor annoyances.—Star

The liquor commissioners granted licenses to all applicants yesterday, except Antone Borba Jr. This application was refused on the ground that the signatures of a majority of the property holders had not been secured, and also that the board is opposed, as it was last year, to granting more than two saloon licenses in Wailuku.

The excursion last Monday from Honolulu, proved a rather costly experiment for all concerned. The steamship people lost money, as the excursion was not so well patronized as they expected, and as it deserved. Billy Field lost money, for the same reason. Alexander Hume Ford lost some of his self esteem, as he failed in his attempt to climb the needle in Iao Valley.

The latest cable received from the coast regarding the condition of Mr. H. P. Baldwin just before we go to press, is to the effect that he has rallied from the recent reverse, and that while he is a very sick man, still strong hopes are held out for his ultimate recovery. Mr. Harry Baldwin goes on the Sierra to see his father, and also to accompany his wife, who is returning home.

C. J. Schoening, who has been a salesman for the Von Hamm Young Co. of Honolulu, and who is well known as a thorough automobile man, bought the lathe and other equipment of the Maui Auto. Co. at the auction last Saturday, and has opened up at the old Stand. Mr. Schoening will have the best repair men available, and he guarantees to give satisfaction in the repairing of autos. He also proposes to carry a line of auto sundries, oils, and gasoline.

Jordan's Carry Goods With Value.

A great many ladies on these islands send to the mail order houses on the mainland for their goods. This may have been necessary in times past, but now goods equal to those carried in the mail order houses can be secured here. Mr. Curtis of Jordan's has just returned from a complete tour of mainland cities. He has secured a line of ladies' dresses that cannot be equalled, and at prices that will compare favorably with those of Eastern shopping centers. Buyers can not do better than to let Jordan's supply them. Wearing apparel of all descriptions will be sent on approval. Mail orders will receive the most careful and prompt attention.

ALOHA LODGE NO. 3 KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

license inspector in the purchase of a half bottle of gin. Testimony was adduced to show that a man named Hart had given false evidence. Young Strauss, a very keen follower of Blackstone, was the attorney for the accused. It was shown that the man who had been in the house, according to the testimony, was, as a matter of fact, a block and a half away and this was brought out in the evidence that could not be questioned. Strauss made no argument; the evidence for the prosecution was all the argument he needed for his client and in five minutes the jury came in with a verdict of acquittal. Everything depends upon how a case is handled in order to get results.

I had the satisfaction of meeting one of the hula girls in the employ of Madame Puahi, the woman who maintains an establishment on the road to old Camp McKinley, and has young girls dance for the edification of tourists and others. I was told that the one I saw was the "Emily" of the fatal motor car accident near Pond's Dairy. In appearance she looked to be about fourteen or fifteen years of age, though she wore longer dresses than the fashion calls for women twice her age. She had no claims to beauty or even good looks and she impressed me as one who might be worn out from working through a dance du Venture to satisfy the morbid curiosity of men, and occasionally women. It surprised me to learn that a place of this character is permitted to go on without interference from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Girls. In my salad days the majority of hula dancers bore a closer likeness to the proverbial battle axe than the fresh young girl. I have been told that the Puahi Academy of intricate Dancing is conducted on strictly moral principles. In fact every muscle in the torso of each individual twister is so finely trained that it cannot move out of time. Mind that, please, and say it quickly or someone will hear it. According to a law passed by the old Advisory Council, in the days of the Republic morals and hulas do not dovetail so that statement must be a mere rumor. As long as this establishment is kept up for the benefit of Madame Puahi, and the entertainment of tourists, I suppose it should be permitted to continue. There are lots of sins committed and condoned in the name of promotion and this may be one of them. Twelve or fifteen years ago it would cost forty dollars to see a good hula. Now they can be seen for ten and sometimes they are marked down to eight, which is not too much considering the training the girls have to keep up in order that their muscles may continue elastic. Some evening when I am in the dumps and feel that my mind must be taken from the cares which beset one in this Garden of Eden I am going to have a heart to heart talk with Mrs. Puahi and see such a dance as her pupils do. I never like to deprive myself of a pleasure when I can get it on credit.

The first Morse message sent from Washington to Baltimore by the inventor of the dot and dash system of communication was "What God has wrought." It was an epoch in the history of mankind. I am obsessed by a desire to paraphrase the quotation to "What Time has wrought." And this is why. Yesterday with other young folks I hied myself to Moanalua where the gladsome songs of the happy boys and girls from the Sabbath schools mingled with the notes of the mynah birds and the ordinary pake variety of ducks honks. As I sat me under the spreading branches of a banyan Jim Quinn came up in his seven seater with some of the public benefactors of Central Union as his "load." Then it was that my mind went back to the days when John Cummins, Jim Gay, Billy Cornwell and the Kealia stables were represented on the track at Kapiolani Park, for then it was that only gold coin could induce Jim to lend his hack to a service that took it in any direction but the track. I believe a funeral would have had to be postponed in those days if it had been set for the eleventh. It was the harvest day of the hackmen, and a sporty day, too. And here was Jim Quinn running a six cylinder, carrying persons to a Sunday School picnic on Kamehameha Day. Verily things are changing. It is a confession I am making when I tell you boys on Maui that Jim looked far from being satisfied. Staid Bruce Cartwright and his less staid brother, Aleck, were prominent figures around the club house in those days. And it was natural that they should be there for they came from sporting blood stock. Alexander Cartwright, Sr., was one of the organizers of the old Knickerbocker Base Ball club in New York fifty odd years ago, and his love of sport went to his two big boys. I think Aleck is running a ranch in California, or was the last time I saw him, and Bruce has just retired from a profitable business here in the city.

Chris Snyder, the man brought from the coast as a smuggler is to go back on the Honolulan if he is not held as a witness. He says the case is ended as far as he is concerned. But wait until he gets among his friends and the lawyers on the mainland. He may see the affair differently and be persuaded to bring suit. The Wilhelmina is due in the morning and Barker is to be arrested, I am informed. His love of money has brought him to a bad end as far as his position goes.

The more I lend my mind to the subject the more I am convinced of the wisdom of Governor Frear in withholding his signature to the holiday proclamation until requested to act otherwise by the representatives of the interests here. Before the days of Sunday Quinn in the senate, the "Monday following" might well have been made a holiday because Sunday was what it should be in these pacific isles. But here we are today in as nearly a wide open town as one would expect to find anywhere. Sunday was a sport day as much as if it had been a week day for there was base ball in four quarters of the city and motorcycle races at Kapiolani Park. Crowds were everywhere so I see no reason why the honest working man who had his holiday and sports on Sunday should be compelled to lay off from work the next day. Some persons may say they need not lay off if they do not wish but that is not correct. In many lines of business when one department closes down the rest have to and if the management asks them to work it means time and half time pay. I believe that a majority of the residents and work people in Honolulu would have been better satisfied to work. Booze was confined to the blind pigs on Sunday while on Monday any licensed victualler could sell the conventional three hapooth's of beer.

The juggernaut is working overtime these days and, I believe, booze has as much to do with accidents as defective steering gear. I believe there are accidents, though none of them fatal, which the papers do not record, out of consideration for the people who sell the machines, and in others, those who drive them. It would not do to expose to view an atom in the whole of the joy rides we know take place. If they were published, in skeletonized form only, there would be so much for the officials peering for violations of the white slave and the Edmunds acts, that the courts would be holding night sessions. The last death from a motor car occurred last night over near Waikane where Joe Kalama was taking his car to meet a party attending a luau. No one knows how the accident happened. He was alone in the car and when found he was dead, pinned under the machine. Kalama is said to have been a careful driver and was working for Sonny Gay, driving his car when he met his death.
