Congress Puts Up Million to Check Flood

Both Houses Make Money Available Immediately; Disaster Spreads Over States and Levees Break

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) WASHINGTON, April 21—The house and senate have rushed through an appropriation of a million dollars and making it available immediately to aid in checking the Mississippi River floods.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) CAIRO, Ill., April 21—It is estimated that a hundred thousand acres of Jackson, Union and Alexander counties are inundated or will be soon.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) CARLETON, Ill., April 20—The breaking of the Hartwell levee of the Illinois river near here last night completed the flooding of the thirty thousand acres in Greene county. Few if any lives were lost as the population had been forewarned. A big breach is reported southwest of Murphysboro and thousands of acres of farm lands are flooded.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) NEW ORLEANS, April 20—The Mississippi river reached the highest stage ever known at this point. The weather bureau predicts a continued rise until about May 10th. Thirty five miles along the Yazoo and Mississippi valley road north of Vicksburg are under water.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) McCLURE, Ill., April 20—It is estimated the water flooding this section, pouring through six breaks in the levee, will cover 40,000 acres and inundate McClure two feet deep by nightfall. Residents are fleeing.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) NEW ORLEANS, April 19—Thousands of square miles of the lowlands of the Mississippi valley are inundated and the situation is the most damaging in years. A dozen towns in Phillips county, Arkansas, are under water and it is reported that 1382 square miles of Yazoo, Warren and Issaquena counties are flooded. The Salvation Army is caring for flood sufferers.

Accident Board Has Important Meeting

Maui Industrial Accident board which has been operating with a temporary organization since the resignation of W. A. McKay as chairman and member of the board, perfected a permanent organization yesterday morning. George Freeland, who has been acting chairman is the permanent chairman and Mrs. Frances Wadsworth was regularly named as secretary. Worth O. Aiken was present for the first time since his appointment to the board which was made while he was absent on the mainland.

The Industrial Accident board now consists of George Freeland, George Weight, J. H. Gray, Worth O. Aiken and W. H. Field and is still left with only four members on the island. Yesterday's session was largely occupied by a hearing on a claim by Kaiwi, former employee of the Island Electric Company arising from an injury, he alleges to have been sustained by him about two years ago but which came to the attention of the board only at its March session. Enos Vincent represents the insurance company and there are points involved which he thinks will render it necessary for his client to take the case to the supreme court in case of an award by the board. Matters of delay on the part of the employe to make a claim and neglect on the part of employer to notify the board of an accident enter into the merits of the case.

Packers Tell Public of Drop in Prices of Meat

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) CHICAGO, April 21—The American Institute of meat packers announces that the wholesale price of meat has declined tremendously since the peak in war times. Motion Pictures of Islands Much Liked By Fernandez Guests

Motion pictures taken by himself in the Islands and on a voyage home from San Francisco were shown by E. K. Fernandez to a number of invited guests at the Grand Hotel and were much enjoyed. The fact that places and the same or similar scenes had been visited and seen by most of the party added much to the interest as did also the fact that many of the persons appearing in the pictures were known to the spectators.

Undoubtedly the best of the films shown were the Kilauea pictures, some of the most remarkable views of the boiling pit that have ever been filmed and a number of them "close ups". They seemed to have been taken right at the edge of the lava and Fernandez says it was the hottest experience he has ever undergone. Some of the volcano were colored and their realism thus greatly enhanced.

Pictures of the last Maui Fair were shown which included the mile and a half running race and the live stock parade as well as pictures of those in the grand stand where the spectators saw their friends and neighbors and sometimes themselves. Preparations for a luau, a hulaiau at Halewa, Oahu, and swimming pool scenes taken on Kauai were other films that were shown, and the exhibition closed with pictures of the Burroughs Wild West Show performance at the Elks Carnival in Honolulu.

M. Fernandez on his present visit to Maui has been up to the crater where he took motion pictures which he considers among the best that he has ever taken but they are not yet ready for showing. He also took a number of snap shots which were very fine and has had enlargements made of two which have been beautifully colored. He hopes to show his Halekalea pictures on Maui at a subsequent visit. The pictures shown Wednesday night make a very comprehensive story of a visit to the Islands and would be especially fine advertising when shown on the mainland.

Good Results at Genoa Expected By Lloyd George

British Premier Meets 500 Newspaper Correspondents And Answers the Questions Put Freely

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) GENOA, April 21—Facing 500 newspapermen, representatives of the press from nearly every country, David Lloyd George, the British premier, answering questions announced that the Germans have accepted the allies conditions concerning the Russo-German treaty and predicted that the Russian reply to the allied proposal would permit of further hopeful negotiations. He expressed his unshakable conviction that the conference will yet prove a success. He expressed confidence that it will accept a treaty whereby all European countries will refrain from aggression and said that without such a pact the conference would prove a failure.

Lloyd George got the correspondents in the Royal Palace. Entering, he removed his overcoat and stroked his white hair wearily. "I have come not to make a speech but rather to answer your questions," he said, "to clear up misunderstandings." Lloyd George answered the questions put to him promptly and positively. Replying to questions from neutral correspondents, he said that he considered informal conferences a necessity and said they had been used successfully at the conference for the limitation of armaments at Washington.

The British premier declared that Russia and Germany should be admitted to the league of nations and said that without them the league would prove impotent. He departed amid an ovation, saying as he left: "When you have other questions that you want to ask, let me know."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) BUENOS AIRES, April 21—A dispatch to Zancon from Genoa says that the Russo-German treaty was intended to remain secret until after the close of the conference but that it leaked out through an Italian communist whom the Russian delegates had taken into their confidence.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) PARIS, April 20—Premier Poincaré with the approval of the French cabinet has instructed French ambassadors in allied capitals to insist that penalties be applied to Germany if the Russo-German treaty be permitted to stand, regardless of what the Genoa conference may decide. Poincaré insists that there be no hesitation in the execution of the treaty of Versailles.

The Russian reply which was made this morning says that if the Soviet government is granted full recognition and ample financial help it is willing to admit Russia's war and pre-war debts, waive counterclaims and restore the use of nationalized property to former owners or satisfy foreign claims for loss of such property where it cannot be restored. The British spokesman said today that there would be no objection to Richard W. Child, American ambassador to Italy, attending the sessions of the commission of the conference that is dealing with Russian affairs in order to secure information for the United States government.

Famine Conditions in Russia Are Relieved

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) WASHINGTON, April 21—Former Governor Goodrich of Indiana, who has been in Russia and returned Tuesday, has arrived here from New York and reported to Hoover and President Harding on famine conditions in that stricken country. His report is highly optimistic. Goodrich says the American relief workers have the famine well under control in all of the accessible districts and that transportation is the only difficulty that has not been solved. Child mortality has been reduced toward the normal and deaths from acute starvation are rapidly diminishing and the health of the people has been much improved.

OUTSIDE IS OUT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) DENVER, April 21—Fred Fulton knocked Bob Roper out of the ring in the fifth round of a scheduled twelve round bout last night. Hundreds Killed and Thousands Injured By Monastir Blast

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) BELGRADE, April 20—Four hundred carloads of high explosives went off about noon Tuesday at Monastir railroad station, killing hundreds and wounding thousands of persons and destroying the heart of the city. Half of the population of Monastir was rendered homeless.

Most of the victims of the disaster were soldiers and children. A church wherein the children were worshipping collapsed from the shock of the explosion crushing and burying the inmates. The barracks wherein 1,500 soldiers were at mess were destroyed. Roll call shows that 400 soldiers are missing. Fire broke out in various parts of the city and the panic stricken populace fled to the hills and watched their homes burn from a distance. Telegraph communication was cut off and refugees coming to Belgrade brought the first authentic news of the disaster.

University Singers Will Render Concert

People of Maui have been looking forward with much keen expectation for the coming of the University Glee Club, since the announcement that they would be here. It has just been learned that in addition to the glee club itself, Madame Peacock, who is so well known on the Islands for her brilliant singing, will be a member of the group. She is to sing three or four selections of classical numbers. The young men of the club will not fail to secure a hearty response it is expected. They have already captivated several of the organizations in Honolulu who have heard them. This is their first appearance off of Oahu, and it is hoped the coming of the club may be an annual feature in our Maui musical year. The flash and fun that they furnish is of the type peculiar to a bunch of live college fellows.

Mrs. D. L. Crawford of the university, a talented pianist, will accompany Madame Peacock, and in addition will probably render two or three numbers of her own. The date is Saturday evening, the 29th and the place, Territorial Building, Kahului.

Japan Expected to Enter China Should Civil War Spread

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) TOKIO, April 21—War Minister Amanashi told the Kenseki members of the house of deputies that reduction of Japanese forces in Siberia is impossible until an agreement is reached with a responsible Russian government for maintenance of order. The minister also said that it is generally believed Japan will be called upon to act if Japanese are menaced in Shantung and if the threatened civil war in China affected Quosai and the neutral zones of Peking and Tien Tsin.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) PEKING, April 20—Troops of Chang Tsao lin, governor of Manchuria, have taken possession of the Peking-Tien Tsin railway, replacing the local police. No disorders are reported.

President Hsu Shi Chang regards the threatened civil war between Chang Tsao lin and Wu Pei Fu as taking on a grave aspect.

Baldwin is Seated as Delegate From Hawaii

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) WASHINGTON, April 19—Harry A. Baldwin was sworn in and seated as Hawaii's delegate to congress yesterday.

This dispatch apparently refutes the report that Democrats would make an effort to prevent the seating of Baldwin. There have been reports that papers were sent to Washington in an effort to show that an undue expenditure of money for campaign expenses was made not by Baldwin but by others in his behalf.

Maui Should Secure Delegate at Large N. E. A. Convention

Maui will have one delegate at least at the National Educational Association on the mainland this summer and the Maui Teachers Association is working to make it two, to secure the delegate at large of the territory for Maui. Oahu is to have two delegates, each of the other counties one and there is to be one delegate at large. The delegate at large will be from the county which secures the largest proportion of new membership in the National Educational Association. H. M. Wells, supervising principal of Maui Schools will be the delegate from this county and William Hoopii, principal of the Kahului school is Maui's choice for delegate at large. Mr. Wells is president of the Hawaii Educational Association this year. The delegate at large is to be an educator who can sing the Hawaiian songs and melodies and Mr. Hoopii answers that and other requirements splendidly, in the view of Maui teachers.

Speaking of the convention on the mainland and Hawaii's plans, Mr. Wells said last night: "Briefly stated, these are some of the things the delegates to the N. E. A. convention are planning to do:

1. Work at the convention and at Washington for recognition of Hawaii's claims to a share in all benefits in National Educational grants.
2. Work for relief from federal tax low paid by teachers.
3. Distribute attractive magazines that shall advertise Hawaii as well as set forth her claims.
4. Distribute paper leis and polished kukui nuts as a reminder to work for Hawaii.
5. Display samples of typically Hawaiian hand work.
6. Advertise Hawaiian industries and scenic attractions through slides and films.
7. Have a Hawaiian reception at which we shall serve pinetart and canned pines.
8. Boost Hawaii for the 1924 convention.

"The drive now on for membership in the N. E. A. is purely a move to beat Hawaii in the race for Delegate at large. The $2 membership fee all goes to Washington and has no connection with the effort to raise money to send Maui's delegate to Boston. No matter who goes, Maui is pledged to raise a fourth of his expenses. Remember that Hoopii is Maui's choice. Maui must go over the top in N. E. A. membership in order to beat Hawaii. A membership fee is a vote for Maui's man. Vote for Hoopii! All teachers and ministers as well as Settlement workers are eligible."

Labor Calls on Irish Dail and Goes on Strike

Demonstration is Made for Effect; Authorities Told to Shoulder Responsibility or Give Way to Others

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) DUBLIN, April 21—The Labor Party issued a manifesto last evening calling a one day strike to express the disapproval of the labor element with the disorders and chaotic conditions in Ireland. The manifesto demanded that the Dail assert its authority, renege the army and accept the responsibilities of government or else admit the impotence of the cabinet and make way for the people to decide the issues.

Heavy firing broke out last night about Wellington Barracks, Beogars bush and at other points. Rory O'Connor, the Republic army leader, denied that he had attacked any barracks in Dublin. He attributes the trouble to a third army faction or some Republican officials and says he is not supporting their activities.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) BELFAST, April 21—Three hundred men armed with rifles participated last evening in the first street fighting that Belfast has seen. The fighting lay prone in the streets in the east end and fired frantically. Hot encounters freely.

The gunmen fired until their ammunition was exhausted, killing one boy and wounding four persons of whom two were women.

DUBLIN, April 20—Last night was the worst since Easter and was marked by continuous rifle and machine gun fire. Several buildings including provincial government headquarters were attacked. The terrific firing of the attackers was beaten off by provisional government troops and armored cars took a hand in the street fighting. Only one casualty was reported.

The adjourned conference of the Free State and Republican representatives met and adjourned again until next Wednesday with no agreement reached. It was announced that the labor party will issue a manifesto calling for a general strike throughout Ireland as a protest against militarism. Reports from Belfast say that sniping was resumed and placed the total death toll since Tuesday at eight.

Firing has been renewed in the eastern part of this city. A constabulary sergeant was killed.

Three men caught looting by the Republican Army police were sentenced to be tarred and feathered and were marched through the streets wearing placards "Looters beware." The arrival of soldiers ended the ordeal of the thieves.

SPORTS

Boxing as Major Sport Urged by Island Supporters

Let the past bury its dead. Its a good slogan. But according to flat fans on the Valley Isle many believe that the long buried skeleton of the roped arena should be exhumed and placed in a better state of preservation than has been accorded it of late on Maui. A few attempts had been made in East Maui prior to the advent of the smoker staged recently by the Sports and Pina Athletic Clubs but none had met with the success as did that event and it is evidenced by the ardent enthusiasm shown by the fans that witnessed the smoker that hearty welcome would be extended a similar one.

Boxing of a real high class was not shown at last months smoker, they agree, but it could not be expected from fighters of little or no experience and little time given to training as was the case of the preliminary matches. However, once shown the way the younger participants have not let the desire to become better go state and in the majority of cases have been undergoing a steady training in the hope that future boxing contests would result from the start, once given. More than that, newcomers to the ring have witnessed the previous matches are now aspiring to pugilistic fame in local junior circles and with the proper handling should in time be able to uphold the tradition "Maui No Ka Oi".

The Kihauea Athletic Club of Hilo made a similar start, beginning at the bottom, although better material was available at the outset. That club is now second only to one, the Pearl Harbor A. C. in Honolulu with its thousands of navy and marines boys to pick from in the making of a good fighter. Already in Hilo have there been bouts between men like Takahashi and Clapham been staged and bouts by the best of the Territories fighters. Maui, with the proper interest shown could in time also bring in some of the top notchers to meet on the mat and in the ring here. Time and training are thought to be the only essentials necessary to revive the boxing and wrestling game here, by its supporters, and it is felt by them that in a comparatively short time amateur pugilism will be a major sport on Maui.

California Net Star Plays at Puunene Tomorrow and Sunday

Robert Kinsey, California tennis star will arrive on Maui accompanied by Billy Hoogs of Honolulu, on tomorrow morning. Maui fans are to see Kinsey and Hoogs in action on the Puunene courts tomorrow and Sunday afternoons. Saturday, Kinsey will compete in a singles match against Hoogs following which a doubles set between Kinsey-Hoogs and Eddie Tam-Young Ting will be played. The games for Sunday afternoon will be announced during Saturday's play. No admission will be charged and play will begin at 3 o'clock both afternoons.

Robert Kinsey with his brother Howard, rank third in the national doubles teams of the United States. Their coming to the Islands was principally to take part in the Mid-Pacific tournament recently played at Honolulu where they were a big feature of the games. Only one defeat was received in Honolulu by the California tennis stars and that in the singles when Bowie Detrick of Hilo won from Robert Kinsey in three sets 3-6, 6-1, 6-3. The match was one of the fastest and most interesting ever seen in Hawaii and was hotly contested from start to finish.

The Kinsey brothers are in reality tennis pilgrims. They have made a practice of helping the game for the games sake, and help the beginner as well as the old time performer. Howard Kinsey has been especially instrumental in making tennis the popular sport that it is in San Francisco and the Bay region and is in charge of a club in Golden Gate park that has 70 junior players who are showing a marked ability for the racket game.

In the finals of the singles matches of the Mid-Pacific Tournament Howard Kinsey won from Van Dycke Johns by the score of 6-1, 7-5, 7-5. Statistics for the match show that Kinsey placed 38 returns out of bounds to Johns' 41; knocked 35 into the net against Johns' 24; scored 36 times on passes to Johns' 12 served 2 double faults to Johns' 7; and served one ace to Johns' 4.

Tennis in Hawaii is hitting a faster stride each season and interest in the game promises soon to rival that displayed in matches in the mainland.

Junior League Pennant Hinges on Saturday And Sunday Games

One of the first of the crucial games to determine the championship of the Wailuku Junior league baseball series will be played on Sunday afternoon when the Wacs and Sports clash in the second game of the doubleheader. With the Sports less than a game behind the league leaders, a victory by them over the Wacs would place them at the head of the division and well on the way to the pennant and Manager Lewis says his team will win. That his statement is not an idle one is supported by the fact that the Sports have the heaviest hitting aggregation of ball players on the junior circuit.

The Wacs depend upon their superior ability at inside baseball and the top notch form of their infield to stop any slugging rally the Sports may start. The game will probably be the best yet seen in the junior league. Sakura versus Walhee will open Sunday's activities and it is expected will result in a victory for the Sakura nine. Saturday's game bringing the Wacs and Maui Hi School together in an evenly matched contest will be another struggle in which the leadership of the league is involved.

With Maui's Girl Scouts

No need to say "Don't forget Scout Day", for that is the one thing that Girl Scouts are thinking, talking, and breathing these days. Every troop is working with great enthusiasm on its part of the program, and from all indications April 29, is going to be the biggest date yet in the history of Maui Girl Scouts.

Miss Seibert is in Honolulu this week attending the social workers' conference, and we know her inspiring presence was very much missed at the various troop meetings. In the meantime, however, reports from several faithful scribes have come in, and appear below.

Makawao

Here is the story of Makawao's birthday party: "Makawao, April 18, "Dear Miss Seibert: "Although tomorrow is our troop's birthday, we celebrated it today. The teachers were invited and then real fun began. All of the scouts and teachers went to Lieutenant Miller's room where we stayed until they were called by Captain Yap, and Lieutenant Miller to hunt for the hidden eggs. Blue, brown, green, red, and pink were the colors of the eggs. It was fun to look for them in the long grass under the buildings and flowers, and on the trees. At the end of the hunt it was found that two scouts and one of the guests had four eggs a piece, which was the largest number found by a single person. Two of the guests and one scout had not found a single egg.

"To whom to give the two prizes was the next question in the minds of all. At last it was decided to give the first prize to the guest, and second prize, which was a package of candy, to the two scouts. Eggs and candy were shared with the unfortunate ones.

"After this all sat on the grass and guessed riddles. A game of pewee was played by the scouts while the guests looked on.

"The time was spent so pleasantly that it was time to go home before we realized it.

"However, before the scouts were dismissed one of them had a chance to complete her last test in the second-class work.

"Your mountain scout, "DOROTHY CUP CHOY."

Wailuku

"On Thursday, April 13th, about half past two, the scouts met at the Kindergarten. Eleven girls were present and five absent. We have a lieutenant now; Miss Ruth Whitehead. "Miss Seibert was with us that day and presented the tenderfoot pins to the eight girls. Each girl was trusted and received it with a smiling face. "The girls who received the tenderfoot pins were Tome Nishimura, Hama Watanabe, Hinayo Kodama, Hatusko Tanabe, Tsuneyo Kurio, Omasa Haramoto, Misao Beppu and Mary Waiwaiole.

"Business meeting was soon called to order by Hama Watanabe as chairman and the secretary was substituted by Yoshie Kunioki because the secretary was absent.

"Miss Seibert did not stay with us very long but her stay was a worth while one, and gave some suggestions for our Scout Day. She left the fire-building picture which was drawn by Mr. Hutton. There were eight ways of building fires. "We chose four ways of building fire. The Scout Day program was read by the secretary. After reading the captain discussed the things we can do and she said, "Its up to us to get the five dollars."

"It was a long and interesting meeting and we talked about Scout Day. After the business meeting we played long ball, which we enjoyed.

"After playing ball we went in and we had the closing exercise. We also repeated the Scout Promise and then we were dismissed."

Hamakua

"April 19, "My dear Miss Seibert: "I am writing you these few lines to let you know about our last Scout meeting. Last Thursday we waited very long and you did not come, so we decided to start our meeting. The meeting was opened by giving the scout laws and scout salute and singing one verse of the Star-Spangled Banner.

"Then we started our business meeting. The secretary called the roll. There were 18 girls present. We did not have any captain. After the meeting was over we had closing exercises and then we played volley ball, dodge ball and kick ball. We played long ball too. Mrs. Hair is sewing my uniform. Many of the girls want their uniforms. Evelyn and Bella paid $6.00 for their uniforms, hats and all the buttons and the neckerchiefs. We are embroidering our crests now. Tuesday we started to embroider them. We are also finishing our neckerchiefs so we will be ready for Scout Day. We are real anxious for Scout Day to come.

"Your loving scout, "CRESSIE RIOS."

Kahului

Roselani Troop had a good meeting Monday with 10 scouts, Captain Gardner and Lieut. DeKay present. Practically all of the time was spent on rehearsing for Scout Day and in starting the crests. We had a short business meeting and Sueko Yoshida made a very good chairman. Two more of the girls, Eva Enomoto and Emma Kahoopii, are getting their uniforms and hope to have them ready for Scout Day.

Keahua

Keokea

"Keokea School, April 12 "Dear Miss Seibert: "I know you were up here to see our play but I am sure you would like to know how much money we made. We shall make a hundred dollars when all the money is turned in. Isn't that a lot of money for scouts on the mountain? We are very proud of it and proud that we did our part well. There were certainly a lot of people and I wonder if there were as for you people as you were late.

"We were watching for you people all the time and it is too bad you missed our minstrel show as I think that was the best. The Coons looked so funny that the people could not stop laughing. I think you saw part of the flag drill but did not hear the yell in the first part. You shall hear it when we come down. Oh we worked so hard but everybody said we did very well so we felt very happy. "I don't know when we'll have another show but I think all the girls would like to have one.

"We are waiting for a treat from our captain. She is going to take us on a picnic. That will be the best part of all. Come and see us when you can. "Your loving scout, "LAURA DE PONTE, "Calla Lily Troop."

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES

The Deer Circle
By DADDY
Copyright 1921, by Public Ledger Co.

Jack and Janet go out to play in the snow-filled woods. Dame Instinct turns them into rabbits, so they can go with Hoppity-Hop Rabbit and Hoppity-Hop Rabbit to the Peppermint Shop for a sweet lollipop. They meet Brave Buck and Dear Deer, who are very hungry.

CHAPTER II The Peppermint Shop

JANET looked pityingly at Brave Buck and Dear Deer. She was sorry for any one who was hungry. And Brave Buck and Dear Deer said they were very hungry. "Why can't they come with us to the Peppermint Shop and eat a lollipop?" whispered Jack to Hoppity-Hop Rabbit. "Because they are too big—they would eat out the Peppermint Shop and leave nothing for us," mumbled Hoppity-Hop. "I would gladly give them my lollipop," whispered Jack. Dear Deer have sharp ears, and Brave Buck and Dear Deer heard every word that was whispered.

She nibbled at the leaves

"We will not eat much," said Dear Deer. "We want just enough to last us until we get to our regular feeding place where we are sure to find plenty of food beneath the snow and lots of tender shrubs on which to browse."

Hoppity-Hop twitched his whiskers and scratched his head. "I don't want you to go hungry," he said to Brave Buck and Dear Deer. "And if you will promise not to eat everything in the Peppermint Shop I will take you there."

Dear Deer and Brave Buck quickly promised, so Hoppity-Hop Rabbit hopped on ahead and Jack and Janet and Hoppity-Hop Rabbit hopped on after him.

Soon they came to a rippling stream where the current ran so fast over the rocks the water could not freeze. At the edge of this stream were bubbling springs and around these springs were green plants. "Here we are at the Peppermint Shop. Here you will find your sweet lollipop. With a berry or two to go on top."

Jack and Janet couldn't see anything that looked like a shop—nothing but the stream, the springs, the green plants and the woods all around. Neither could they see any lollipops. But Hoppity-Hop Rabbit and Hoppity-Hop Rabbit began to eat the green leaves. And as they ate the green leaves a happy grin came on their faces.

"Eat! Eat! While you have a chance," mumbled Hoppity-Hop Rabbit.

Thus urged, Jack tasted one of the green leaves. At the instant he tasted the leaf Jack began to eat as eagerly as Hoppity-Hop and Hoppity-Hop. And no wonder, for the leaves were peppermint leaves—as sweet to his rabbit tongue as the sweetest peppermint candy he had ever eaten.

"Where is the berry or two to go on top?" asked Jack.

"Hoppity-Hop scratched away the snow, and there were tender, delicious wintergreen berries.

Brave Buck and Dear Deer ate also, but they were true to their promise and they did not eat very much. They munched just enough of the green peppermint leaves and the red wintergreen berries to give them a fine appetite, and then they began to browse on nearby bushes.

But as they ate there came a sound that caused the rabbits and deer to prick up their ears in fear.

(What the sound was will be told Tuesday.)

ANSWERS TO TUESDAY'S QUERIES

Franklin Pierce was the only president born in New Hampshire. Factory chimneys are usually built quite high in order to disseminate the smoke and gas well above the surface of the earth, where it might easily injure vegetation and public health.

There are ten secretaries in the Cabinet of the President of the United States.

The Chicago fire occurred in 1871. Benjamin Franklin was born in Boston.

The Daily Fun Hour

DOWN BROADWAY

This game is amusingly absurd. All the players are supposed to have gone down "Broadway," when the conversation opens, the first player announcing, "I have been down Broadway." The second player asks him, "What did you buy there?" He may answer, "A pair of dancing pumps," sliding his feet in and out as he speaks, and keeping up the motion throughout the game. The second player says to the third, "I have been down Broadway." The third asks, "What did you buy?" and receives the same answer, "A pair of dancing pumps." The second player then begins the dancing motion. The same chat goes on all around the circle until every player is doing a sitting dance.

Then the first player says again, "I have been down Broadway," and when asked what he bought there, replies, "A palm-leaf fan." He immediately begins fanning himself, still keeping up the dancing motion with his feet. This talk and pantomime circles around the room in the same manner until all the players are at once shuffling and fanning. On the next round the first player states that he has purchased a pair of tortoise-shell spectacles and to prove this, opens his eyes wide and shuts them again. This also is a continuous performance all around the circle.

On the fourth round the first player may say that he has bought a mouth organ, and immediately begins to hum or whistle an air. By the time the circle has been rounded again all the players are sliding their feet, fanning themselves, opening and closing their eyes and humming a variety of tunes, and—if they are young enough—are enjoying their ridiculous performance.

MALIHINI TEACHERS

Three more months of school and then back home again. You have just enough time left to learn to play the ukulele or steel guitar. Remember that your friends are going to ask you about Hawaii's music. Surprise them by learning to play one of those instruments. It's easy. Just try it.

Humane Week Will be Observed Beginning On Monday Next

Next week will be "Humane Week" in Hawaii. In Honolulu its observance is being urged by the Hawaiian Humane Society and on this island by the Humane Department of the Maui Woman's Club. It has grown to be of annual observance here as it has on the mainland and Governor Farrington has lent his support to it on behalf of the Territory by the issuance of the following proclamation:

"Whereas, there are, unfortunately, conditions throughout the World that demand constant attention by humane agencies, and

"Whereas, it is highly desirable that the people of Hawaii continue to devote a part of their attention looking to a betterment of such conditions; to a more humane treatment of children and dumb animals, and,

"Whereas, the splendid work now performed by the Hawaiian Humane Society, in attempting to ameliorate such conditions as they obtain in our Territory, can be greatly benefited by the cooperation and assistance of all the people:

"Now therefore, I, W. R. Farrington, governor of Hawaii by authority vested in me do hereby proclaim the week of April 24th to 30th, 1922, as Humane Week and urge that the week be observed in such manner as will benefit the worthy cause for which it is set aside.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Territory to be affixed.

"Done at the Capitol, at Honolulu, this 11th day of April, 1922.

(Seal)
W. R. FARRINGTON,
By the Governor:
RAYMOND C. BROWN,
Secretary of Hawaii.

It will be the purpose during the week to bring home the desirability of more kindly treatment for animals and birds, especially in the schools and teachers will be asked lessons on the subject to the children of their classes.

The Humane Department of the Woman's Club has offered prizes for posters drawn by school children and such posters are to be turned in to Maui Book Store on or before Friday next, the last day being April 28.

That there is need of attention to the subject of humane treatment for animals is evidenced by the following article from a Honolulu paper, the event recorded having occurred early in March.

"An unhappy trip from Lahaina, Maui, was experienced yesterday by 12 chickens which were found almost dead in two boxes at the wharf by Otto Ludloff, agent of the Humane society. One small box appeared to be airtight and had five chickens crammed into it. The other contained seven chickens and had only one small crack for air.

"The chickens had been packed and shipped by a Japanese in Lahaina in such a way that freight clerks did not know that the boxes contained living creatures. The chickens were nearly smothered to death but finally revived when given air. The Humane society is making an investigation and will probably make an arrest.

"F. H. Hons of the Inter-Island Co., is cooperating with the society in its efforts to prevent cruelty to animals on ships and is notifying all freight clerks of the Inter-Island to carefully inspect freight and prevent the shipment of animals under inhumane circumstances."

FRIDAY : : : : APRIL 21, 1922

HUMANE WEEK

Few persons will admit that they are inherently cruel and take delight in causing sufferings to others or to helpless animals and birds. But there are many who are careless or thoughtless and it is the purpose of humane week to reach some of such persons to make them care a little and to think somewhat of weak and helpless children and of birds and animals. One may shower care and attention on a pet animal and yet thoughtlessly make a shipment of fowls or animals in such a way that the birds or beasts suffer for hours, perhaps for days. A man who would fight if some one kicked his dog may maltreat a horse or a mule. In one instance he cares, in the other he is careless even to brutality.

Often it is said that there is not the need of humane societies now that there was a few years ago when the horse was as common on the streets and roads as is the automobile today. It is true there are fewer horses overworked and underfed, overloaded and beaten and abused now than formerly since there are fewer used, but this fact does not eliminate the need of humane workers and societies, now they may turn their efforts into other lines of endeavor and in other directions. In Hawaii this has resulted in efforts to ameliorate the conditions that have surrounded the shipment of cattle, swine and fowls.

In the schools lies a fertile field for work. The doctrine of kindness to the weak and helpless instilled there will bear fruits later. He who is kind to animals is generally kind to children as well and he who lets fondness for little folk well up in his heart has a more kindly feeling for all humanity, for the weak and the helpless he may meet. So it is that humaneness directed first toward dumb creatures grows into kindness and care for all humanity.

But it is not only to ameliorating the condition of dumb animals that humane work is directed. Most important of its endeavors is the relieving of children from pain and suffering, ameliorating ill conditions, surrounding them with better, improving the moral atmosphere in which they live and breath. The writer has seen the picture of a child twisted and crooked and a later photograph which shows him strong and straight. This was accomplished through the assistance of the Humane Department of the Woman's Club here.

The coming week is a time for each to pause and think, to do an occasional kindness to some dumb creature or little child. Such a start may bring habit for one will be surprised at how much happiness he can bring to himself, how much satisfaction will come to him even from occasional acts of such nature.

THE CURFEW LAW

Approaches have been made to Sheriff Crowell asking a strict enforcement of the Curfew Law on Maui such as has been undertaken in Honolulu and has been urged at Hilo. The subject has been brought up before the Maui Woman's Club and is under consideration of the Humane Department of that organization. Chiefly complaints as to children being out late into the evenings have come from Wailuku, which is natural as there are more crowded housing conditions and more to attract the attention of the youngsters. Maui News is told by a member of the Humane Department that there is little complaint heard and little cause for complaint in the vicinity of the plantations or the canneries. As a matter of fact the main cause of criticism of conditions has been found on Market street, Wailuku.

Attendance at picture shows is not objected to by those back of the movement so much as the gathering of children outside the picture houses, of those who have not the price of admission but linger eagerly just outside, night after night. They may go in once a week, perhaps, but they have not the money for nightly attendance yet still are attracted to the doors, whence they wander back and forth through the streets.

Man is a gregarious animal and he is only a child of a larger growth. Just how young the "gang spirit" starts it is hard to tell, but when very young there appears the inclination to "follow the crowd" that is seldom ever outgrown, to "go where they all go." The Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts have taken advantage of gregariousness, the "gang spirit" and have made and are making it a source of benefit and usefulness instead of harm as it formerly was. Each troop is only a "gang" with activities directed rightly instead of wrongly in social instead of unsocial directions.

It is probable that much of the street wandering of children at night as well as by day comes from unattractiveness of the homes, the greater attractiveness of other places. That is an old, old problem in the towns as well as in the cities. A curfew law may send such children reluctantly scampering homeward and to bed, but they go under the compulsion of the law. It is the parents, more than the children, who should be blamed for the conditions that exist and they may not have the knowledge or ability to keep their offspring with them. It is with the parents then, that the law enforcement suggested should have the most influence. If they had to accompany a child to court once or twice to explain, to leave work or business to do so, they would likely see that the child was at home evenings thereafter. In that way law enforcement would be beneficial.

Lack of attractiveness at home is shown by the number of children who visit the Library reading room evenings and stay till closing time. Occasionally some of them are so wearied that they go to sleep over a book or magazine and have to be awakened and sent home. If they are to be out they could hardly be in a better place. They have merely sought surroundings that please them and they indulge their sense of pleasure at the cost of health and growth and strength in later life.

In most instances there is nothing wrong in youngsters seeking the streets. Here in Hawaii perpetual summer leads to the tendency of spending as much time as possible out of doors. But it must be admitted that street life, away from restraining and governing influences is not good for the young. They are more apt to fall in with evil associations there than elsewhere. Yet the problem is to make the children see this and to exercise restraint where necessary in time. To that end, it may be enforcement of the Curfew Law that is needed.

THE OPTIMISTIC PESSIMIST

The slang word of today is likely to be accepted in "good" language of tomorrow.

Many a business man while wishing his customers no harm wishes they would cough up.

If the "self made" man who thanks only himself for his start is not careful he can thank his wife for his "finish."

Dame Fortune is the one woman who in bestowing smiles is not influenced by a handsome face.

No one ever did and no one ever will get the spice out of life until he puts some pep into it.

William Jennings Bryan is quoted as saying that the "world is going to dry up." In all kindness it may be suggested that he set the world an example.

It is remarked that a mere sucker can locate a swindler when the most skilled detectives are baffled. There's an opportunity for lots of poor suckers on the New York plain clothes force if the assertion be carried to a logical conclusion.

In Wall street the lambs are the goats. In Arizona the goats are served as mutton. Turn about is fair play.

It has been suggested that all scandal should be made public. There's not room enough in the newspapers and the shortage of news print would become accentuated, even if the libel laws could be amended.

Some persons claim to be supporters of the community when in reality they are only holding it up.

It would seem that if Conan Doyle and other spiritists really want information as to the disembodied the time to get it would be before disembodiment. If there is a spirit which persists after death it must exist in life, and should be more get-atable at that time.

If a scrap of paper started the world war a flood of paper has followed it.

It looks as if Sheriff Rose had determined to make the Desha Bathing Suit Law so unpopular in Honolulu that it can be repealed at the next legislative session. There's a chance for the outside Islands legislators to make their bargains. "Give us what we want or keep your coats on."

Honolulu policemen are reported to have taken the Desha Law onto the beach at Waikiki. The general impression has been that it applied only to streets and alleys and that the bather could discard the superfluous covering after reaching the beach. If sun baths are to be taken only in robes and mackintoshes, the remaining popularity of the much sung of strand will still further wane.

Russia and Germany, the two outlaws of Europe, got together at Genoa just as might have been expected they would. Working while the others drowsed they secured results for themselves right at the jump, but the results may not be all that they hope for.

As remarked before, it appears to be just as well the United States did not send a delegation to Genoa.

In Honolulu the county officials are begging that the assessed valuation be not cut down and the tax payers are equally insistent for the cut. The money paid by the taxpayers is supposed to come back to them in government but the tax payers are not in the market to buy more at present prices.

Letting of the contract for work on the Kuiaha-Kakipi road is good news for the pineapple industry of Maui. It is taking long chances to grow pines in certain sections of Maui until roads that will stand up under rains shall be furnished.

Irrespective of the good time that the attendants at the vaudeville show and dance will have tomorrow night there is every reason to attend. The funds will be devoted to the sending of a Maui delegate to the National Educational Association convention to work for better educational facilities for the children of those who are staying at home. It is a disinterested move, to a large extent, on the part of the teachers. Many of them are malahinis but they're working for the interests of the communities in which they find themselves. But aside from the good cause, it is a worthwhile entertainment that is being offered and the dance will be a jolly affair too.

Clarence Demar won a 25 mile road race 11 years ago. Wednesday he won the event over the same course with 78 contestants in the fastest time ever made over the course by more than three quarters of a minute. And yet it is asserted that athletes go back in a very few years. Demar seems to have demonstrated that there is no need of going back if one cares for himself and it is a lesson to business men as well as athletes. A man should improve with years, not recede.

Truly is a sorry state of affairs shown by the reports as to the situation of the Waiakea Homesteaders. When only one man out of 220 is "ahead of the game" there is something radically wrong aside from the slump in sugar prices. Area under cultivation in cane has shrunk more than a third and productiveness has shown a large decline as well. Who wants a homestead that cannot be made self maintaining?

And "PATHE NEWS"

Mary Miles Minter who is now resting in our "Moonlight and Honeysuckle" a picture that all Honolulu went crazy over. It was hoped that Miss Minter would be up to Maui but at time of writing no further word has been received, but it will hardly be expected that Miss Minter will wish to return to the mainland without taking in the wonderful mountain trip of the Valley Isle.

In another part of the paper will be found news of interest in connection with the reserve seat sale of the Wailuku Hippodrome which will without doubt receive the hearty appreciation of the patrons of this house. If you want to give the kiddies a regular treat don't fail to take them to the Special Children's performance at the Hippodrome on Friday night.

"DON'T TELL EVERYTHING"

The spirit of the outdoors is evident in "Don't Tell Everything." It is a Paramount Picture and produced with the usual excellence that characterizes these offerings. The notable thing, of course, is the combination of Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson and Elliott Dexter in the picture which in itself is a superior attraction. But when there is breezy story, a tangle of fabrications and a lot of good situations enlivened by real acting—becomes of added interest. Sam Wood directed. Lorna Moon wrote and A. S. LeVino adapted the story. It has to do with two women who love the same man, a self sacrificing friend who loves one of the women and who helps his friend to win her even against his own chances of happiness. There is a spirited polo game and a realistic accident during its progress. It is a real picture with real people in it, and it is handsomely staged.

"PRAIRIE TRAILS"

"Prairie Trails" is the fastest, most exciting picture that Tom Mix, the daring cowboy star, has done.

While there are differences of opinion about what type of stories are best adaptable to motion pictures, there are no two opinions about such tales of the great outdoors as Tom Mix provides. They have an irresistible appeal to all classes of theatergoers. "Prairie Trails" is a breezy, racy story of the great west by James B. Hendryx, the celebrated novelist. Tom Mix fits into the story so perfectly that it might have been written for him. Only recently he appeared in another picture, "The Texan," by the same author, and played with great success the same role, that of Tex Benton, the hotheaded young ranchman.

"Prairie Trails" is the story of the inward conflict that takes place when Tex Benton, lover of the manly life and despiser of womanish manners and custom, falls in love. While one side of his nature cries out for the companionship and love of Janet McWhorter, the other side yearns for battle and strife and all manly things.

The part of Janet McWhorter is very ably played by Kathleen O'Connor, a charming actress.

"MOONLIGHT AND HONEYSUCKLE"

The latest Reart picture will give mothers something to think about.

"The very ideal" you can almost hear the more conservative mothers snort. But then that's what makes them conservative, their reluctance to deviate from the ways of their forefathers, or foremothers, to be more correct.

For the idea is really a feminine one as formulated by Mary Miles Minter in her latest Reart picture, "Moonlight and Honeysuckle."

You really can't blame Mary, what with two men falling all over themselves and each other to get her to whisper the fatal "Yes." And then there was another man off in the of-fing. What could the poor girl do? Especially as she seemed to like each one thirty-three and a third per cent. But trust a woman to find a way out of matrimonial triangle. If you have any doubts about the matter, be sure to see the picture.

"HER STURDY OAK"

Since poets are temperamentally and inevitably dreamy, impractical, infirm of purpose and unfitted for the struggle for existence, the question arises, what sort of wives should they choose? Strong, efficient, resourceful women who will take good care of them, or weak, helpless clinging vines, who will force them to brace up and be supports instead of dead weights?

This is the question threshed out in "Her Sturdy Oak," Wanda Hawley's latest release.

Miss Hawley plays the clinging vine role, Walter Hiers the hero role, that of a bit, good-natured, futile poet, and Sylvia Ashton is the strong-minded business woman who would care for him.

There is fun galore in this breezy domestic comedy by Elmer Harris. The hero in this instance chooses the clinging vine, who is as helpless and impractical as he is, and how they muddle through the first years of married life is amusingly shown.

"LITTLE MINISTER"

Nigel Barrie, who plays the heavy role of Captain Halliwell in "The Little Minister," Betty Compson's new Paramount picture produced by Penryhn Stanlaws is no relation to the author of the play, Sir James M. Barrie. But from the beginning, the studio folk started calling him either Sir James or Sir Nigel.

"But I'm not related either to the long dead knight of Canon Doyle's novels, or to the living author," says Mr. Barrie. "When I first came to the United States, they feared I'd be regarded as a son or some relation of Sir James' and so I was induced to change the spelling to 'Barry.' However, I've gone back to the original now. My grandfather and great grandfather were both in the British military and in this role I made up to resemble the latter as nearly as I could, especially as to the arrangement of my hair."

Betty Compson in the stellar role of Lady Babbie and George Hackathorne as Gavin, are other members of a really excellent cast.

Screen Depiction of Rufus Wallingford Scores Success

J. Rufus Wallingford and Blackie Daw Juniors, scored one of the greatest hits in the career of the Hippodrome Theatre upon its initial showing on the screen Wednesday night.

The two confidence operators, characteristic of the stories of their predecessors in the Cosmopolitan magazine, lived up to, and beyond, the tales of their ering parents. The smoothness and duplicity shown by the would be swindlers in swindling a deal involving half a million dollars, and how their gust of bravado succeeded in winning over the financial support of the leading men of a small town kept the audience keenly interested throughout the play. Love of course, finds its way into the lives of the two men and is responsible for leading them to the straight and narrow path and Wallingford's invention turns out a huge success bringing prosperity to the little Iowa town.

Advance Sales For Hippodrome

The management of the Hippodrome Theatre, Wailuku has made arrangements with the Maui Drug Company to handle the reserved seat sales for feature attractions. During the showing of "The Sheik" considerable trouble and annoyance was experienced by patrons who had booked seats in advance and then changed their minds at the last moment causing a delay at the box office on the evening of the performance. In future the date of the opening of any advance sale will be advertised and the ticket rack will be at the Maui Drug Company where patrons will be able to buy their seats and obtain their tickets at the time of booking, thus avoiding waiting at the box office on the evening of the performance.

Under no consideration will either the ticket seller or any of the staff be permitted to take orders for seats or promise to hold any seat for any patron, those that have any desire for any regular seat must obtain their tickets the same as any one else and apply for same at The Maui Drug Store. Tickets must be paid for at the time they are purchased, the rack will be checked up on the evening of the performance at 6:45 when it will be taken to the box office and all tickets left will be sold to the patrons awaiting general admission.

The advance sale for the special feature "Don't Tell Everything" with Wallace Reid, Elliott Dexter and Gloria Swanson which will be shown on Wednesday 26th will open at The Maui Drug Store on Monday 24th. The management requests that all patrons will take advantage of this service, as the above ruling will be strictly enforced and Manager Harris feels confident that this extra service will be appreciated by the many patrons of Wailuku's popular playhouse. All tickets must be paid for at time of booking, as no tickets will be given out by the Maui Drug Company unless paid for at the time, anyone calling by phone for tickets must call for same before the rack leaves the store otherwise same will be sold.

Pertinent Paragraphs

Sickness at Lahaina—Numbers of cases of illness from colds are reported from Lahaina this week. Will Render Cantata—For the benefit of the Pala Hawaiian Sunday School a cantata will be rendered at the Pala Orpheum on the evening of May 13. Luau Sunday—The Alumni Alerts will celebrate their basketball triumphs with a luau to be held Sunday afternoon at 4:30 at the St. Anthony School. Will Play Bridge—The biweekly bridge party for the benefit of the sisters' cottage fund given by the Catholic Ladies Club, will be held at the Grand Hotel tomorrow afternoon. Wilhelmina Saturday—Bringing about a thousand tons of inward freight the Wilhelmina will arrive at Kahului tomorrow night. She will load about 3000 tons of sugar and 10,000 cases of canned pines and depart for Honolulu Sunday night. Dice Popular—Eight Japanese of Wailuku were found gambling with dice on Wednesday and brought to the police court where bail was deposited by each in the amount of $5. Not caring to appear before Magistrate Mossman yesterday the $40. was declared forfeit. Lahaina Easter Service—Easter services at the Lahaina Community Church drew a fine attendance. Special music by William Hoopili, principal of Kahului School, Mr. Mookini and Mrs. Charles Thompson delighted the congregation. Mr. Hoopili has consented to pay another visit to the church in the near future. Dry But Drunk—Despite the 18th amendment officer Kahoohanohano of the Wailuku police force found Herman Hilde on the public road near Wailuku in drunken condition. The price of the beverage which no doubt was high added to the $12 fee of the District Court has probably made it an expensive spree. Library Reopens Today—In time to meet the week end needs of the school children the Maui County Free Library expects to reopen this afternoon. It was impossible to start work on putting up new metal, fire-proof shelving until Wednesday, instead of Monday so the building was kept open on Monday and Tuesday. It will be ready for general service tomorrow in any event. MAUI WOMAN'S CLUB "The wonders of the Heavens" is the topic of a fascinating lecture to be furnished by the Maui Women's Club at its last meeting of the year. It has been felt that the subject is one of such widespread appeal that the meeting should be an open one at which the Club members might invite their friends. Accordingly it will be held in the evening of the 28th, Friday, at the Territorial Building, and the Club members invite the public to be their guests on that occasion. The lecture is to be illustrated with the use of stereopticon slides, and will show every side of this amazing branch of science. The giant whirlring spots on the sun, the dark craters and valleys on the moon, the canals of Mars, the cloud belts of Jupiter, the rings of Saturn, the rushing comets, and the mazes of worlds upon worlds in the Milky Way, all this and more will be thrown upon the screen and bring the startling things of the heavens within the room and before the audience. The address is to be given by Rev. Augustine Jones, who has been following for his own pleasure the subject of Astronomy for a dozen years and more. He is acquainted with most of the important observatories in the United States, and will tell of the special work that each is doing. The slides for this special lecture are from the Lick Observatory in California, and arrived for Mr. Jones use two days ago.

Wild West Show Goes to Lahaina

Performances are to be Given There Tomorrow and Sunday; Horses and Steers Are Taken Over

West Maui will have the chance to see Burroughs Wild West Show the bucking horses and steers, fancy and trick riding and feats of horsemanship and horsemanship which delighted more than 2000 persons at the shows at the Fair Grounds in Kahului Friday, Saturday and Monday. Arrangements have been made for its presentation at Lahaina at the ball park and shows are to be given Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon. The hours will probably be 7:30 Saturday evening and 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. People of East Maui displayed a growing interest in the attraction as appeared from the attendance at Kahului Monday night when an extra performance was given and it is a safe assertion that if the show be produced at Kahului again in the future it will draw much larger crowds than it did at the last week end. E. K. Fernandez went over to Lahaina on Monday and started things going for the taking of the show over Tuesday evening and was back Wednesday with the report that all had been arranged. The horses and steers were driven across the Pall Road last night and are now quartered in Lahaina. Riders of West Maui will have the chance to see whether they can do as well with the buckers as did those of East Maui. They will find animals worthy of the best and most skillful men that can be found to try them out. There are especially one horse and one steer that East Mauiites are willing to wager will be too much for their West Maui neighbors, Lightning is the horse, and his bucks are worthy of his name and Mulhall is the steer. Lightning starts the game quickly kicks out several times his hind legs without touching the rear feet to the ground between kicks and keeps going through the same tactics without giving the rider a chance to recover. The big steer employs very much the same tactics. Floyd Stillings and Grady Smith are great riders and their exhibitions are worth going a long way to see and the exhibition given by Miss McGinnis is a genuinetreat.

Advance Sales Good For Vaudeville Show And Teachers Dance

Six good numbers in the vaudeville show followed by a dance, is the program offered for tomorrow night at the Territorial Building, Kahului by the Maui Teachers' Association. Reports that have come in from the various sales committees tell of good advance sales and several of the school principals have sent in for further allotments. Rehearsals of the various acts have gone on steadily and reports from all the cast tell of readiness. Several of the numbers are reported by those who have seen them as more than ordinarily attractive and the bill promises to be easily the best thing of the kind that has been produced in Central Maui for a long time. The Hawaiian number and some of the dance numbers promise to be particularly pleasing. Maui's teachers are guests at nearly all of the dances during the school year and this time they will take the new role of being hostesses, of giving the dance themselves. Good dance music is promised and the floor of the Territorial Building should be well taxed for capacity to accommodate the numbers that will attend the dance after the curtain is rung down and the room cleared for dancing.

HEARD IN PASSING "When You've Got a Cold"

You can't enjoy the music when your eyes are flaming red. You can't enjoy the singing for the buzzing in your head; The Sunbeams may be dancing all about you on the floor, And Mr. Opportunity be standing at your door; But you have no wish for glory and you've lost the love of gold, When your bronchial tubes are wheezy and you're suffering from a cold. You can't be very happy when you're forced to cough and sneeze; There is nothing that is pleasing in the things that ought to please. Your dinner may be dainty and your food exactly right, But there's nothing on the table that can tempt your appetite; And you cannot start a chuckle when a funny tale is told, Life is just one dismal burden when you've got a rotten cold. Your friends may throng about you, but your thoughts are far away, And your cold seems more important than the things they have to say; Though there's comfort at your bedside, there is none for you to know, And you slip through chills and fever to the deepest depths of woe; Life may have a thousand blessings for it's joys are manifold, But you're doomed to gloom and torment when you're suffering from a cold. And the darn thing keeps you guessing, When your girl you go to hug; So take a tip from one who knows, CALL UP THE MAUI DRUG.—Adv. Have you seen Karl Jetter and his Pony Ballet? It is their boast that they give the biggest values for the money that can be secured. Their success is shown by the customers that always await the opening of their sales and keep coming during continuance. They hold their old customers and gain new ones on each visit.
