GRAND JURY CHARGED

JUDGE ROBINSON COUNSELS 'EXPEDITION FOR ECONOMY'

Rapid Transit Case Taken Under Advisement—Widow Didn't Know She Was Signing a Deed.

Judge Robinson delivered his charge to the grand jury this morning. In view of expositions of the duties of grand juries previously given by his colleagues and widely published, he did not consider it either necessary or expedient to dwell at length on such subjects of general knowledge. He defined capital offenses and infamous crimes, quoting authorities for the proposition that all crimes punishable by imprisonment for more than one year are in this Territory infamous, therefore requiring prosecution by indictment. Then he goes on to say: "While admonishing you to be thorough and efficient in the discharge of your duties, I charge you that the present depleted condition of the Territorial treasury, which is a fact doubtless known to each and all of you, should urge you to be prompt and expeditious in your investigations and deliberations. The expense incident to each day's session of a grand jury is considerable and each day unnecessarily employed in inquiring into a trifling offense alleged to have been committed or into the management of a public institution against the officers or employees of which there has been directed no charge or suspicion of mismanagement imposes a useless expense and an unnecessary financial burden upon the taxpayers of this country."

While it was their privilege to inquire into crimes alleged to have been committed, still it was not strictly their duty. The same thing he charged regarding the management of public institutions. General instructions constitute the remainder of the charge. In enjoining secrecy of proceedings, Judge Robinson said: "It is the policy of the law that inquiry on the part of a grand jury as to the guilt or innocence of a person accused of crime should be secretly conducted. At the common law a grand juror disclosing evidence before the jury was made an accessory to the offense if a felony other than treason, or if treason a principal."

The hours given were those of the court—10 a. m. to 4 p. m., with a recess from 12 to 2, except on Saturdays, when the day's labors would end at 12 o'clock.

The grand jury retired to the House of Representatives chamber in the Capitol.

J. B. Castle was excused from the grand jury on account of illness, as was Kanawani. C. H. Atherton and C. F. Herrick were excused for business reasons. Godfrey Brown could not serve not being an American citizen.

Captain William H. Tell was appointed bailiff to the grand jury. Robert and Edgar Williams were put on trial for larceny first degree. Assistant Attorney General E. A. Douthett for the prosecution; C. F. Reynolds for the defense. The following jury was sworn: B. W. Houghtaling, Jas. Blecknell, F. J. Church, J. W. Akana, Hiram Kolomoku, W. H. Babbitt, John A. Legros, A. D. Larnach, L. D. Timmons, Henry Zerbe, E. Henriques and L. K. Sheldon.

J. D. Paris vs. J. A. Magoon, administrator, went over for the term, the witnesses being released from attendance. There was a mistrial of this case last term.

Judge Humphreys this morning heard Sun Kwong Man Co. vs. Wai-kiki Land & Loan Association and Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co., reserving his decision.

The Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co. by its attorneys, Castle and Weaver, has filed an answer of general denial, further saying it is not guilty, to the complaint of Manuel P. Ferreira, who asks $10,000 damages on account of the killing of his son by an electric car.

Judge Gear ordered the return to A. T. Atkinson or his attorneys, Atkinson & Judd, of $632 deposited in the case of Slater Abertina, trustee, vs. Kapiolani Estate et al., the plaintiff having filed a discontinuance. Appeals have been sent up from District Magistrate Lyle A. Dickey in the following cases: Uemura and Yoshinaga vs. Jas. W. Pratt, tax assessor, replevin. This case arises from the seizure of goods for delinquent taxes at an auction sale in Baileys Honolulu Cylinders. Judgment was for defendant. Lewers & Cooke vs. D. B. Kawahina, judgment for plaintiff for $136.47. Wilder's Steamship Company vs. T. W. Rawlins, judgment for plaintiff for $78.55. W. W. Graham vs. John F. Colburn, judgment for plaintiff for $54.68. Lewers & Cooke vs. Joe Corea, judgment for plaintiff for $137.62. Hausjoke Matsui vs. Hamada Tatji, judgment for defendant.

David Dayton, guardian of the Ka-hoakano minors, has petitioned for leave to pay a mortgage of $400 out of the estate. The property he considers of much more value than the amount of mortgage and it is only just now that he has learned that there was a mortgage and that it was being foreclosed.

Plaintiffs in the case of Won Kee et al. vs. Wong Ling et al. have filed a substitution of H. W. Robinson for C. D. Ballard, who is absent from the Territory, as their attorney.

Another case of signing away one's property without knowing the nature of the act has come up. Kaululu, widow, complains of having been induced to do such a thing by Kalai, a woman on whose friendship she relied. Robinson & Kellett have brought a bill in equity to cancel the deed and for an injunction. Judge Humphreys has ordered the injunction to issue, restraining defendant from disposing of the property, on the filing of a bond in $250 by plaintiff.

IN THE Y.W.C.A. CIRCLES

At the Thursday noon song service at the Y. M. C. A. this week, Miss Edith Rogers will be the soloist. This will be the last opportunity to hear Miss Rogers as she intends to depart for the Coast shortly. Miss Rogers has sung before at the noon song service and at other places and has always given her audience a great deal of pleasure. Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, Mrs. C. M. Hyde will speak in the Y. W. C. A. rooms on "Table Etiquette." At the end of the talk, Mrs. Hyde will be pleased to answer any questions on this subject which may be brought up by her hearers. Members of the association as well as all other ladies interested in the subject, are invited to be present.

UNITED STATES LOSES CASE

Judge Estee Denies the Motion For New Trial.

TWO VERDICTS CONCUBING THE COURT GIVES WAY

Full Text of Decision in the United States vs. the Honolulu Plantation Company --- Not Appealable.

Judge Estee this morning rendered a decision denying the motion of plaintiff for a new trial in the case of the United States of America vs. the Honolulu Plantation Company, a corporation, et al. Messrs. Breckons and Daine, District Attorney and Deputy Attorney, respectively, noted an appeal from the decision, which was entered. There is no appeal in the Federal Courts, however, from denial of a new trial as there is in State courts. In this case the appeal must be from the judgment upon the verdict and then only on alleged errors of law. Following is the full text of Judge Estee's opinion:

On the 23 day of March, 1902, the above case came on for the second trial before a jury. Witnesses were produced and sworn for both sides, and the case heard. On the 11th day of March, 1902, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the complainant condemning the leasehold interest in the 561.2 acres of land as described in the bill of complaint, and also rendered a moneyed verdict in favor of the defendant, assessing the just compensation for the said leasehold interest of the defendant in said lands at the sum of $102,523.

On the 20th day of March, 1902, a notice and motion for new trial was made and filed on the part of the complainant in the action. The grounds of such motion were stated generally to be the following:

1. Insufficiency of the evidence to justify the verdict.
2. That the verdict was contrary to and against the law and the evidence.
3. That said verdict is not sustained by either the law or the evidence, or the weight of the evidence herein.
4. That the said verdict is excessive in this, that it attempts to award excessive, unreasonable and inconsequent compensation or damages herein.
5. That the verdict is contrary to and against the charge of the Court herein.
6. Errors in law occurring at the trial and excepted to by the plaintiff.

An assignment of errors under each of said grounds is also specified, which it is unnecessary to herein set out. The hearing on said motion for new trial was postponed from time to time, but was finally submitted on briefs on the 5th day of May, 1902.

This case has been twice tried before a jury, the object being to fix the value of the defendant's leasehold interest in the 561.2 acres of land described in the complaint; and in both cases the verdicts were practically the same, the difference in amount being nominal.

The verdict in the first case was $105,000 and it was deemed excessive by the court, who for that reason granted a new trial unless the defendant would accept a diminished amount, namely, $75,000. This the defendant declined to do and the second trial was therefore had, resulting in the verdict of $102,523, as before stated. This amount the Court also believes to be excessive above the sum of $75,000, in view of all the testimony in the case as it presented itself to the mind of the Court. And while it seems to be well settled that under the law the court can again set this verdict aside and grant a new trial upon the same terms as in the former trial if in its discretion it sees fit to do so, yet the consensus of the best judgment of the courts as found in the decisions is that where no rule of law has been violated, the Court will not after two concurring verdicts, grant a new trial if the questions to be tried depend wholly on matters of fact, although the verdict is, in the judgment of the court, against the weight of the evidence. Joyce vs. Charleston Ice Manufacturing Co., 50 Fed. 371-5; Clark vs. Barney Dumping Co., 109 Fed. 235. I may say in this case, as was said by the Court in the case of Frost vs. Brown, 2 Bay. 139, where as in the case at bar two trials were had resulting practically in the same verdict, that a plain and certain rule of law to the caprice of a jury or any number of juries, yet in a case where the law is complicated with facts so that the construction and application of it must depend on the findings of facts, two concurring verdicts even against the opinion of the judges, ought to be conclusive." Joyce vs. Charleston Ice Co., supra.

I have made an examination of the very lengthy assignment of errors of law alleged to have occurred at the trial of the case, and have read with much care the elaborate brief of the counsel for complainant in addition to the brief of defendant's counsel; I do not, however, deem it necessary to go into an exhaustive discussion of those alleged errors. No reason has been presented to me which I think is sufficiently forceful to lead me to change my views as indicated by my rulings at the trial; and while some slight errors may have and doubtless did creep into the record, yet I find none which in my judgment were material or so prejudicial to the interests of the complainant as to have materially influenced the verdict of the jury.

The motion for a new trial is therefore denied. ESTEE, Judge.

THE FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY

MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY ANNIVERSARY

Extensive Preparation for Celebration History Will be Read in Five Sections --- Fine Musical Program.

The fiftieth anniversary of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society will be celebrated in a fitting manner next week. On Saturday evening of this week the regular meeting of the society will take place at the residence of J. B. Atherton on King street. At this meeting, final arrangements will also be made for the jubilee celebration proper which will take place on the evening of Thursday the 22d, the exact date of the foundation of the society. The meeting will be held in one of the city's churches and the public will be invited to attend.

An extensive program is being prepared. There will be literary exercises, among which will be the reading of the history of the society. This history has been divided into five decades each of which will be treated by a different speaker. These will in all probability be Rev. O. H. Gulick, Rev. Sereno Bishop, Miss Martha Chamberlain, Mrs. Coan and Prof. W. D. Alexander. There will also be a musical program, including vocal as well as instrumental music. Among the performers will be Mrs. Otis, Mrs. Whitney and Miss Barber.

On the afternoon of Friday, May 23, there will be a jubilee social at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Richards on Kinua street, to which only the members of the society will be invited. The reception committee consists of the following: Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Gulick, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Miss Martha Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dickey and Mrs. Mary E. Nott.

KAU POISONING CASE.

Referring to a communication from the district of Kau in the Bulletin yesterday afternoon, relating to the alleged poisoning of Kaimana in that district, High Sheriff Brown said this morning: "I have it from Sheriff Andrews that he and Detective Kaapa, when the latter was on the island, made a complete investigation in the center and did not succeed in finding a single bit of evidence which would justify the police in making an arrest or even of bringing the matter to the attention of the Grand Jury. If Kaimana was poisoned, the police have done their best to detect the guilty party or parties and have not been able to find a single scrap of evidence."

SOLD 300 SHARES.

Three hundred shares of Rapid Transit Co. stock were sold on the Stock Exchange this morning at par ($100). The stock was the property of Alexander Young and was bought by Messrs. J. B. Atherton and J. B. Castle. This is the largest sale that has been made on the Stock Exchange for a long time.

FAST HORSES OUT KAPIOLANI PARK

Every Promise of Successful Meet June Eleventh.

SEVERAL NEW HORSES HERE FROM THE COAST

Road Race Will Be Exciting Event Cornwell Will Bring Two Runners in Alameda Friday.

All the men who are in charge of the fast pacers and runners at the race track state that there was never a more promising outlook for races than the present one; that the horses now at the track, numbering in the neighborhood of thirty, are in the very pink of condition; that there have been added to the list a number of fast ones from the Coast which will make the events for the Eleventh of June more interesting than on previous occasions, and that the track, under the able care of Tony Valentine, is faster and better than it has ever been before. This is a good deal to get out of the men at the track, for they are not usually prone to take such a rosy view of the situation previous to any big race meet.

A reporter for the Bulletin called at the track stables yesterday afternoon and found the trainers hard at work doing an hour stunt walking up and down with the horses in their care. "What is that dusty-looking horse over there that does not seem to have life enough in him to get up off the ground for a meal?" asked the reporter. "That's Dusty Roberts," answered one of the men about the place. "He may look like an old played-out plug, but don't want to keep your eye on him on the Eleventh. He did things on the Hilo track."

The reporter then sat down with a number of trainers and indulged in horse talk for about an hour, during which the following interesting details of the track work and the stables were learned: Nearly all the horses that are to take part in the races of the Eleventh of June are already at the track. There are a couple owned by Billy Cunningham being kept at this owner's place, but which are being taken to the track every day for the customary training. Then there are a lot of polo ponies that are also being trained in town by their owners for the polo pony race which, by the indications, promises to be one of the best events of the day.

It well-founded rumor goes for any thing, the Alameda will bring Co. W. H. Cornwell back to Honolulu with a couple of fast runners from the Coast to be pitted against the fast ones that have been counted on here for so long. No horses are expected from Hawaii, Maui or Kauai, but it is said that there is one runner still to be heard from and which is now at the Gay ranch on the other side of this island.

The men at the track are of the opinion that the best race of the day will be the road event, in which there will be entered some of the fast horses that have for months past been seen behind phaetons and buggies driven by prominent business men and others of the city. It seems certain that at least the following will be entered in this event: Viola, Artie W. Wiat-a-Little, Abdine, Wayboy and Frank Murphy.

Following is a list of the horses at the track with the men in charge and, in most instances, their owners: J. Callan—Tom Hollinger's Leah Lacer; son of Creole; Eda G. pacer, bay mare, and Dexter Prince, a green pacer that has not raced here before. Capt. Soule's Artie W. pacer, brown gelding, on the track last year. M. H. Drummond's Los Angeles, pacer, bay gelding, record of 2:24 1/2. Los Angeles, it is thought, will do great things on the track here. He has never before been on a Hawaiian track.

Charles David and Jack Gibson—J. Ouderirk's Steamplough, pacer, has done nothing yet on the local track. Vivian Richardson's Wait-a-Little, pacer, bay gelding, will be in road race. Tommy King's Creole filly, pacer, Hawaiian bred, has never been on the track before. Seely I. Shaw's Billy Lempa, pacer, recently arrived from the Coast, and counted on by the horsemen to give the local pacers a hard rub.

Jim Quinn—Waldo J. the well-known pacer, Cyclone, pacer, black gelding, arrived here about six months ago, and has not been on any Hawaiian track. Alex. Harris—D. H. Lewis' Oak

POLITICAL PINGPONG.

Cuba and the reciprocity game. —Minneapolis Journal.

Grove, pacer, bay gelding, new arrival from the Coast, did a mile in 2:28 on the track the other day, the last half in 1:11. It is expected that this horse will do wonders on the track here.

Mike Costello—Prince Jonah Kalaianoa's Viola (2:16). "Wild" Bill Norton's pacer wonder Directress (2:24). Larry H. Dec's Albert M. pacer (2:29 1/4). W. H. Smith's Abdine, pacer (2:17 1/2).

Bonnie Judd—Dusty Roads, roan pacer, the wonder from Hilo recently bought by Judd. Charlie Bellina's Wayboy, formerly owned by William Cunningham (2:18 1/4).

Everett Richardson—Vivian Richardson's Frank Murphy, pacer, bay gelding, never raced here before, recently arrived from the Coast.

George Thomas—Carter Harrison. This is the horse that gave Weller such a close race on the Hilo track on New Year's day, the latter winning by just a neck. Alta Stacey, bred on Maui and raced once on the Kaula track.

Bob Burns (in charge of Geo. Mackenzie's string)—Socialist, bay gelding. Del Vista, sorrel filly, Nullah, bay mare, recently arrived from the Coast. General Cronje, bay gelding, and Time Center, bay gelding.

Bob Ballentine—Amarino, the Hawaiian bred wonder that has won so many races on the Honolulu track, and Molly Connors.

As has been stated, Billy Cunningham has two pacers which he takes daily to the track for training. They are Trump, a brown gelding which the owner traded for Wayboy and Effie Logan, formerly the property of E. McInerney. This animal is the mother of Sir Albert S and arrived here some time ago from the Coast. As yet, she has never raced on a Hawaiian track.

The men at the track are very much elated over the prospect of races here the latter part of July in connection with the proposed "Merchants' Day" and on Maui, August 12th. They are particularly anxious to go to Maui, for the prizes offered there are very large and that, of course, is always a great attraction. In fact, the purses are larger than the ones offered here by the Jockey Club for the Eleventh of June races.

HONOR GRANT'S MEMORY

The Buckeye Club held a meeting at the home of C. L. Garvin, Emma street, last night, in honor of the memory of Ulysses S. Grant, Ohio's greatest soldier. The meeting was well attended. Among those present were: Mrs. C. F. Gulick, whose first husband, Mr. Thompson, served with Grant in the Mexican war; Captain U. S. Grant White, U. S. N., whose father was a boyhood chum of Grant; C. H. Dickey, who, as a bugler on the staff of his father, General Dickey, was almost constantly with Grant at the beginning of his career in the West until the fall of Vicksburg.

After routine business had been attended to, there were addresses and music, followed by the serving of light refreshments. In the parlor where the meeting was held was a large engraving of Grant, surrounded by male lais. Rev. W. H. Rice spoke on "Grant as the Statesman," and E. S. Gill followed with an address on "Grant, the Soldier." Mrs. Schmitz sang a solo with piano accompaniment by Mrs. W. L. Whitney. Captain White gave some reminiscences of the great soldier and then came some personal memories by C. H. Dickey. Mrs. W. L. Whitney gave a piano solo. At the conclusion of the meeting it was announced that the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. H. H. Williams.

WARDE AS "KING LEAR"

One of the greatest treats in the legitimate line this season, will be the presentation of Shakespeare's "King Lear" at the Opera House this evening, by Frederick Warde, the eminent tragedian and his selected company. "King Lear" is one of Shakespeare's greatest plays. Some insist and advance reasonable arguments that prove that it is the greatest of all the many products of the immortal bard's brain.

The King is old, weak, credulous and vain. His two married daughters tell him in the presence of their husbands that they love him dearer than any man or else on earth. With smiles and expressions of love he bestows his fortune upon them. The unmarried daughter, who refuses to stain her soul with the lie, denies that she loves the King with more than a daughter's love, and while paying tribute to his worth as a father, breathes loyalty to him upon whom she expects to bestow the love of a wife. The weak old man becomes enraged, and sends the one true daughter into the world bearing his curse and dinner-bled. As usual, when the time of trouble came, when the white haired patriarch wandered through the storms without shelter or succor, it was the disinherited daughter who came to perform the offices of love, and prove as true in ministering to his wants as in telling him the truth when his vanity called for living hypocrisy.

In portraying these emotions, in holding up the mirror to those who listen with delight to the fawning sycophancy of dishonest courtiers and whose hearts turn cold at the sound of honest friendship—who are never so happy as when surrounded by flatterers, and never so unjust as when dealing with those whose friendship and integrity refuse to surrender to the ambition or financial gain. "King Lear" is the master's glory. The picture which "Lear" presents is seen every day in the year.

In some of its great characteristics "King Lear" surpasses all of the other Shakespearean dramas, and Frederick Warde is to be congratulated and applauded for having brought it back to the stage to which it has too long been a stranger, and revived it with such splendid conception and acting. The study of such a masterpiece is a liberal education in the salient phases of human nature and the more generally it is read, the fewer will be the disappointments, the heartaches, and regrets and the nearer will mankind approach to happiness. Mr. Warde considers the part of "King Lear" his masterpiece, and theatergoers may rely upon seeing a grand performance, and a perfect production in every respect.

Thursday evening "Othello" will be produced with Mr. Warde in the title role.

Statistics prove that nearly two-thirds of the letters carried by the world's postal services are written, sent to, and read by English speaking people.

Willie Roth, the young man who since he entered tennis circles in the city, has yet to be beaten by anyone in singles, was the champion of the Pacific Tennis Club who stood up before Charles A. Elston of the Beretania Tennis Club on the courts of the P. T. C. yesterday afternoon and fought so hard for supremacy and to keep the honors with his club.

There was a large attendance on the grounds of the tennis club on Capitol Square yesterday at 4 o'clock, the hour announced for the struggle between the champions of the two rival clubs. Everyone expected an exciting match and they got it.

In the first set, there was but very little show for Elston. He did not seem to play with very much spirit. On the other hand, Roth was playing a brilliant game and he seemed to be bent on winning the first set in order to have something to work on. He was a very easy winner, the set going to him by a score of 6-2.

There was another story in the second set and Elston pulled together all his reserve force and attacked his opponent on all sides, sending swift balls down the side lines past Roth and making all manner of brilliant plays. Roth, however, was equal to the occasion and when he saw that Elston was playing a much better game than in the first set, he too played a little better with the result that after a stubbornly contested match, the set stood 5-5. Roth had a little something still in reserve and shot the balls back at Elston with such good effect that he won the two straight games necessary and secured the set, 7-5.

It looked very much as if Roth had a "clinch" on the match but when he came out to play the third set, he showed signs of fatigue, while Elston seemed as fresh as at the beginning and throughout the set, played a most brilliant game, winning by a score of 1-6.

In the fourth set, it looked very much as if there would be a tie in sets for Roth was very tired. At one time he was forced to take a breathing spell of a minute or so. However, he clung to his work with the tenacity of a bulldog and succeeded in winning out by a score of 6-1. The last point and the one which gave him the match and the championship, was sent outside the singles lines by his opponent.

WITH SUSPICIOUS CASE OF SICKNESS

Transport Buford With Troops From Philippines—Felipe Buencamino a Passenger—List of Those Aboard.

With a large number of cabin passengers and troops aboard, the United States Army transport Buford arrived in port about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, twenty days from Manila, and docked at Navy wharf No. 1. The Buford experienced anything but a pleasant time in getting away from the Philippines. The presence of the cholera in Manila is making a lot of trouble for the military and the transport service. The transport was first of all detained in quarantine for five days, the usual time required. She then set sail, bound for Honolulu. She had not proceeded more than one hundred and twenty miles to sea when, in the night time, while all the cabin passengers and most of the troops were asleep, the vessel was headed about and steered for Manila again.

A very suspicious case of sickness had been discovered among the crew and the ship's surgeons deemed it advisable to put back to Manila and make sure of the nature of the disease, rather than run the risk of the disease being cholera and having the sickness spread among the hundreds of passengers aboard during a long passage to Honolulu.

As soon as it was learned that the transport was heading back for Manila there was great excitement aboard the transport. At first people did not know the reason of the changing of the course and supposed that something had gone wrong with the machinery. The soldiers, as well as the cabin passengers, however, soon found out that there was a suspicious case of sickness aboard and it was for this reason that the vessel was heading about.

Great disappointment was manifested all around. The soldiers were particularly dissatisfied at the new order of things. They had looked forward to a speedy passage to Honolulu, thence to San Francisco and now they were to be taken back to Manila, perhaps to be quarantined there for another five days.

At Manila an examination was made of the suspected case of sickness and it was found, after a day or so, that it was nothing more than cholera morbus. The transport again put to sea, sailing from Manila on the 22d of April.

The Buford is coaling and taking on water and expects to get away for San Francisco tomorrow or Thursday. About a year ago she was here for repairs. She is now in splendid condition, shining in her well kept paint and model cleanliness.

Nothing beyond the incident above related occurred to mar the pleasure of the trip. Fine weather was enjoyed throughout.

On Sunday afternoon last the United States Fish Commission steamer Albatross was passed, heading for Laysan Island.

Two troops of the Third Cavalry, commanded by Colonel Woodson, are in the transport. There are also about eight hundred casuals and short termers and a few men of the Hospital Corps. Cabin passengers number about sixty-five. Altogether there are over twelve hundred people aboard.

Felipe Buencamino, is among the cabin passengers and is on his way to Washington to appear before the Senate Committee on the Philippines. It is said by some of the officers aboard the Buford that Buencamino was formerly secretary of war under Aguinaldo and is now a member of the civil service board.

Fourth Officer Breed of the Buford is well known in Honolulu, having at one time been employed by Wilder's Steamship Company. His industry and perseverance have rapidly advanced him since he left Honolulu.

The complete list of cabin passengers is as follows:

Colonel Ibert E. Woodson, Third Cavalry; Major Otto L. Hein, Third Cavalry; Major I. W. Littell, Q. M. U. S. A.; Captain Henry L. Ripley, 3d Cavalry; Capt. G. H. Morgan, 3d Cavalry; Capt. Daniel D. CHILD EXPOSES MURDER

Portland, Or., April 30.—The District Attorney and Sheriff are investigating whether Mrs. Nellie Palmer died by her own hand or was murdered. Mrs. Palmer was killed a month ago at her home in Fairview, and the Coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide, saying that the woman thrust the muzzle of the gun in her mouth and pressed the trigger with her foot. Fred Wagner, whose wife is a sister of Mrs. Palmer, cast suspicion on Edward Palmer, the husband. Wagner wrote to the authorities that Gertie Palmer, aged 2 1/2 years, said "Papa killed mamma and jumped out of the window," telling her to get out of the way. Wagner declares that Palmer abused his wife and demands that a thorough investigation be made of the facts in the case. A deputy district attorney visited Fairview today and will report soon what steps to take. So far no arrests have been made.

SETTING OF HEARINGS

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE HUMPHREYS AND GEAR

Ashford Is Apprised of Change in Practice—Hawaiian Tramways Company the Whole Thing.

Judge Humphreys sat and concurred with Judge Gear in rendering his oral opinion yesterday on the question of plurality of Circuit Court sessions at one time.

When Wundenberg vs. Markham and Cummings was called, Mr. Dillon for plaintiff asked for a continuance, as a settlement was in prospect. Judge Gear said the case came within the new rules, which provided that a matter coming before a judge in chambers must be heard to the end by the same judge. Therefore, he would continue the hearing until Friday or until the next week that he sat in chambers.

C. W. Ashford, appearing for Markham, suggested that it was a term matter, but was informed by Judge Gear that since he had formerly practiced here a law had been passed allowing a demurrer to be heard in chambers.

E. B. McClanahan came forward to ask that time be set for the case of Sun Kwong Mau Co. vs. Waikiki Land & Loan Association and Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co., saying it was a matter of more than personal interest. Judge Robinson had assigned it to Judge Humphreys.

R. D. Sullivan stated that the objections of the Hawaiian Tramways Co. to the answer of the Rapid Transit Co. on the ground of scandalous contents, had to be heard before the merits of the case.

Judge Humphreys said he had no engagements for the week, but could hardly set a time if counsel for plaintiff were not present. Someone said F. M. Brooks represented the plaintiff and Mr. Brooks informed the court that he did not know whether he did or not. He was attorney for the plaintiff when the complaint was entered, but in subsequent proceedings the other counsel had dropped his name out.

Judge Humphreys observed that he was entitled to represent the plaintiff all through.

Mr. Brooks said he would see Messrs. Dunne and Breckons, who represented the Hawaiian Tramways Co., and Judge Humphreys appointed a hearing on the matter of setting a time the same afternoon.

In the case of Yuke, charged with interfering with an officer, a suggestion of death was noted, and the case ordered stricken from the calendar. This is the second defendant in a criminal case to die since the last term of court.

Rehne Rodanet has brought suit against Eugene V. Todd, Louisa F. Todd, Albert W. Todd, a minor, Alice C. Todd (Rodanet), a minor, all children of A. A. Todd, deceased, and Henry Smith, to settle rather vexing question of ownership of property left by A. A. Todd to the plaintiff. In trust for the care of his children. From the petition it appears that on October 5, 1896, A. A. Todd made a trust deed conveying to Rehne Rodanet one thousand acres of land in South Kona, Hawaii, known as "Onouli," the deed providing that she should pay the debts of Todd and care for his children until they attained their majority, for which she was to receive compensation, and in case of the death of all the children before they reached the age of 21, the property was to revert to her, Todd thereafter went to Apia, Samoa, where he died.

The plaintiff alleges that in order to pay the debts of the said Todd it became necessary to borrow $2500 from Henry Smith, for which she gave a mortgage, and which she is now unable to pay without disposing of the property in question. The petitioner alleges that she has kept an accurate account of the monies spent by her for the care of the children, and that she has so far advanced the sum of $1485.81 for this purpose. Because of the trust deed and the unsettled condition of the property, petitioner represents that she is unable to dispose of the land and asks that the court straighten out the tangle in which she finds herself.

The court is requested to appoint a guardian for Alice C. Todd and Albert W. Todd; that plaintiff be allowed to credit herself with the sum of $4936.96; that the court provide for the maintenance of the child adopted by her, the same as if she had not been adopted; that the sum of $1650 be allowed to her for services in connection with the trust, and that the property may be sold to satisfy the note of $2500 due to Henry Smith and the claim made by the plaintiff. The property at Kona, according to the petition, is of the value of $20,000.

C. F. Reynolds, as commissioner in the case of Victor S. Buffandeau vs. A. A. Montano, bill for partition, made his report, and the matter will be formally presented next Monday.

The attorneys in the case of C. A. Long vs. H. Armitage, were not in court yesterday when their demurrer was called up, and Judge Robinson postponed the matter for one week. He announced also that if the matter was not ready for argument next Monday the case would be dismissed.

COUNTESS DE TALLEYRAND-PERIGORD.

The friendly suit brought in the New York Supreme Court by former Governor Levi P. Morton against Count de Talleyrand-Perigord, the husband of his daughter Helen, reveals a triumph of the marriage laws and customs of France over the forthrightness of a shrewd and wealthy American father. It has been decided that the husband of the countess has control of almost her entire fortune.

TUESDAY, MAY 13, 1902.

Why not arrange a competitive drill with a company from Waialua or Hilo, to add to the inter-island attractions of Merchants' week?

Frederick Ward touches a foundation fact when he says actors and managers are forced to give the public what it wants rather than what it ought to have.

Soldiers from the Philippines say that when a Filipino is pumped full of water and kerosene he will tell the truth. Agents of the Standard Oil Trust ought to be sent out to replace the school teachers and missionaries.

If, under the law of the Territory which does not allow three courts in one, the judges have any spare time on their hands, it is some consolation that Uncle Sam pays the salaries until the Legislature can put the laws in proper shape.

Nine out of ten of the arrivals from Manila seem to be in sympathy with the newspapermen who have recently come in conflict with the civil authorities of the Philippines. The sentiment of the Americans is that the military power of the islands is conducting itself in a manner to make it possible for Americans to live in the country, while the Civil Commission lends its assistance to the whims of the wily Filipino whose loyalty is far from being a constant quantity.

The Bulletin cordially concurs with the Advertiser that the strings on Governor Dole as a result of the President's endorsement are a fictitious quantity. The strings that control the Governor are the same old strings, and the President has put his seal of approval on the meshes. Would that this were a guarantee of political peace in the future. It is interesting to note, however, that the attitude of the Hilo Tribune, which the Advertiser criticizes, is identically the same as that taken by the morning paper after the close of the Humphreys fight, while the only difference between the Humphreys endorsement and that of Dole, is that Humphreys' enemies got a raking over the coals while the integrity of Dole's opponents was not questioned. Time, however, is wasted in dwelling on the squabbles of the past when there is so much important work ahead that requires all the energy, unity and integrity the people of these islands can muster. So far as the officials are concerned, Washington evidently considers the war closed. The Advertiser is free to take the responsibility of reviving it.

FEAR OF MUNICIPALITY.

One of the most interesting, because of its childlike, arguments or excuses in behalf of the continuation of our centralized form of Government is offered by the man who has figured that our Territorial Legislature furnishes one representative for every 249 voters. It is held that this is sufficient representation, that the voters ought to be able to get what they want, finally, for this reason, local self-government for cities and towns is unnecessary.

Following this line of argument to its logical conclusion, the States of America could solve the municipal problem by doing away with the town, county and city identity and a State legislator for every 249 voters, satisfactorily perform all the duties of government in the sessions of the Legislature. In the same manner, the State governments might be wiped out by merely increasing the representation in Congress. The nonsense of the logical conclusion is not a whit less apparent than the original proposition as applied to the government of this Territory.

If this is the basis on which the opposition to municipal government in Hawaii intends to operate, the supporters of the opposition program must admit themselves all but convinced, and their arguments as weak as their numerical force. It may be admitted that there are citizens who advocate municipal government because of the so-called multiplicity of offices it brings. This class of grafters is very likely as strong though no more numerous than those who uphold the centralized form of government because they can control its officers, its patronage and its policies.

The solid sentiment of the Territory, however, approves the local self-government provided in town, county and city organization because the centralized system has proved unwieldy and incompetent, while independent municipalities provide the ways and means for the aggressive progress that should be and will be the result of independent action. The claim is made that municipal government is corrupt. It will be just what the people make it. Corrupt if the honest sentiment of the community by its indifference and inactivity allows corruption; honest and businesslike if these same voters perform their proper civic duty. The man or men who can discern no integrity outside a select circle take a pessimistic view of the situation fully as retrogressive in its tendencies as the influence of individuals out for the graft. By their injustice to men of honest thought and action they arouse antagonisms which destroy.

The honest opposition to municipal government in this Territory is largely the creature of fear. The ground is fertile. The advantages of local self-government are recognized, but some citizens are afraid the benefits will not be realized, hence the construction of a line of excuses offered in lieu of argument, that would never be listened to in the private business operations of any individual who has made a success in life. Fear never won a struggle of any character.

Facts of history, facts of each passing day prove conclusively that the progressive interests of would-be towns or cities in this Territory are not served by our present governmental system. Island districts are constantly clashing over their share, over delays here and favoritism there. Certain districts assist in the payment for improvements from which only an individual, if any, benefit is derived. In cases of emergency the Territory is in a worse condition than in former days, when it was possible to secure action through a council of state.

Our Territory is established as an American Territory, which presupposes the independent municipal organization and decentralization. And the citizens of Hawaii cannot evade the fact that Territorial progress is best accomplished through an acceptance of the American program in all its details.

THE WORLD'S COFFEE CROP

The world's production of coffee for the season of 1901, according to the best statistical information at hand was 15,460,000 bags of 132 pounds each. Of this immense product Brazil's share was 11,500,000 bags. In other words, Brazil produces nearly four-fifths of the total crop; and in spite of the glutted markets, its production is increasing every year.

Santos is now exporting about two-thirds of the entire crop of Brazil. Although Rio de Janeiro is next to Santos, the greatest coffee port in the world, it is far surpassed in shipments by the smaller port south of it. The Central American States and Mexico and the other South American Republics, Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru contributed to the markets 2,200,000 bags. For a little place the Republic of Haiti is a remarkable contributor to the coffee supplies, its product last year amounting to 450,000 bags. The berry of Haiti is particularly esteemed in France, which takes two-thirds of the exports, very little coming to our market, as Brazilian coffee is cheaper and gives larger profits to importers.

Porto Rico and Jamaica supplied 200,000 bags. Thus Latin America produced 13,900,000 bags, leaving 1,560,000 bags to come from the rest of the world. The other producers were the Dutch East Indies, 480,000 bags; British India, Ceylon and the Philippines, 215,000; Africa and Mexico, 225,000 and Java, 240,000.

The surplus over and above consumption was 1,312,000 bags. This large overproduction is almost equal to the total annual consumption of France. As a consequence the price of the commodity is still low and coffee growers are complaining of hard times though those of Brazil seem to suffer less than the planters of other countries. This is probably due to cheap production, the result of the enormous plantations equipped with the very best machinery for preparing the crop for market and branch railroads running right from the coffee houses on the large plantations to the ports. Labor is also very cheap on the Brazil plantations.

It is predicted that the Brazilian growers, though they too are complaining of low prices, can stand the strain better than the small planters of other countries, many of whom are now reaping no profit and are soon likely to be compelled to give up the struggle and devote their hands to other crops.—New York Sun.

LUCAS DISCHARGED

The case of A. Lucas, charged with assault with a weapon on J. Namani the other night on one of the Transway Co.'s cars, came up in the Police Court this forenoon. The prosecution could not make out a case against the defendant as the only witness it had was the driver himself who, while he was sure that Lucas did the work with a knife, could not swear positively that he saw the act committed. In fact, he did not know that he had been stabbed until after the fracas. The defendant had two witnesses from Camp McKinley, whose testimony was damaging to the prosecution. The defendant was discharged.

DOWN IN MAORILAND

'Free Lance' Tells of His Work—Reference to Addison Mizner and Hornets' Nest Episode.

If for no other reason, C. Melvin Vaniman, formerly connected with King Brothers' art store on Hotel street, will be remembered by the great cameras which he succeeded in manufacturing and operating successfully in this city. His pictures of marine views about Honolulu have become the wonder and admiration of the people here and abroad, and from recent letters and notices in papers from various parts of New Zealand, he is making a great reputation for himself in the land of the Maoris. This is what the 'Free Lance' of Wellington, N. Z., has to say of the photographer:

C. Melvin Vaniman, when he is on terra firma, is a medium-sized American, with an amused expression and a four-foot camera. He is in Wellington just now, making pictures up to six feet long, and his photographs are perhaps the finest specimens of landscape work this country has seen. He is full of anecdote and enthusiasm, and if there's a ship in harbor whose skyls and rig are away up nearer heaven than any other in port, Melvin gets hauled up, and takes a snapshot of twenty or thirty miles of country with the biggest plate in the world. He had never heard of New Zealand a short time since, but he dropped on a little book in a hotel in Honolulu, saying there was scenery here. That settled it.

C. Melvin Vaniman chartered a big lorry, and got his machine on board a 'Spreckels' right then. There were twelve Americans on board that boat looking for scenery, and not one except himself landed in Auckland. They were going to Australia looking for landscape! The San Francisco photographer is glad he came. He gets better pictures in New Zealand than he does at home or in Honolulu, and Wellington makes the finest picture of the lot. If he cannot get a boat with a high topmast, he gets a pole erected instead. In Honolulu a person who wanted a photograph of his ironworks put up a pole 107 feet high, and the aerial artist got his four-foot negative from near the top of it.

There is now a big enough camera in New Zealand to effectively photograph the possessor of the largest kind of swelled head. Gentlemen of upwards of twenty stone may stand on Mount Victoria, and Mr. Vaniman will snap them off from the skyls' yard of a man-of-war. He'll get them in a moment. It took twenty horses and a stage coach to carry Vaniman and his camera from Taupo to Wanganui. At least, he was the only passenger. Sometimes, he has adventures. At Honolulu, he wanted to make a picture of the crater Kilanea, and Addison Mizner, the local Beau Brummel, was dying to go too. Would Addison M. help drag the machine? 'Why, certainly.' And he dragged it through a hotbed's nest!

The landscape, like the resultant photograph, was extremely picturesque. Mrs. Vaniman, who is an artist, travels with her husband and his gigantic photographs. She colors these photographs until they look like the most exquisite water colors. Mr. Vaniman finds that the New Zealand people are very hospitable. He is having a 'right royal time,' and he guesses he will stay right along for a further spell until he gathers all the beauty spots of New Zealand within the scope of his portfolio.

The Evening Post of Wellington has this to say:

New Zealand is being visited by Mr. C. Melvin Vaniman, artist photographer, of Chicago and San Francisco. They are making a world's tour, for the purpose of preparing a unique exhibition of photographs, plain and colored, for the St. Louis Exposition, which is to be held in 1903. Mr. Vaniman already has some splendid panoramic pictures of California, Hawaii, and New Zealand scenes. His pictures of Rotorua, printed direct by a new process of his own from a negative three feet long, are the most striking and beautiful photographs we have seen. Mr. Vaniman says New Zealand is a lovely country for pictures, and he has his monster camera constantly in use. It is his intention to get a panoramic picture of Wellington from the harbor. He has already taken a fine view of the city from a northern aspect.

HELP FOR CANE SUGAR.

[Philadelphia Telegraph.] Great Britain has been trying most earnestly for years past to give aid in some way to her sugar producing colonies, but up to this time, without success. In the Island of Jamaica, in British Guiana, and in Trinidad, the sugar plantations have been ruined by German beet sugar-makers, who do not depend on making a market, but are supported by the Imperial Government. It goes without saying that no sugar producers care to compete with rivals who undersell them to market what the market price may be and so the British planters have found it. Their German rivals, paid a compensating bounty by the German Government, had only to drop prices below the cost of production in

PIN-MONEY PICKLES

It brought me great trouble, and one of three things must occur: 1. You must stop making them; or 2. I must get them at less expense; or 3. I am a ruined man.

Since my first venture I've had many "jars." My family from early morning city "Pickles"; neighbors ring the door bell and about "Pickles"; relatives visit me in expectation of "Pickles." Your pickles are my Nemesis. Please, dear sir, quote them by the keg, barrel, hoghead, ton or shipload, and "preserve" me. Yours very truly, CARROLL WHITTAKER. P. The man of sense is he who best preserves those faculties with which Nature has endowed him. He may "hate to wear glasses," but sentiment is not sense. Glasses are not always an evidence of weak eyes, but rather of strong intellect. Men and women of strength, both mental and physical, wear them for the preservation of nerve force and vitality, as much as for the betterment of vision.

ROBERT LISHMAN DEAD

VIOLENT DEATH AFTER LONG AND USEFUL LIFE

Tossed By Bull on His Own Premises --- Record of Industrious and Honored Career.

Honolulu received a shock yesterday like what news of a great disaster gives, when the word flashed over telephones and went from lip to lip that Robert Lishman had come to a sudden and violent end. He was tossed by a Jersey bull and falling upon his head and neck died immediately after having been carried into his house. The fatal mishap was seen from the house. Assistance was quickly rendered and Doctors Humphris and Mays promptly responded to telephonic summons. Mr. Lishman was beyond the reach of skill to restore, however, though still breathing when borne into his home.

Mr. Lishman had gone into a paddock where the bull was kept with a whip to discipline the brute which had shown an ugly temper to his son George earlier in the afternoon. The animal turned on him and just as he was retreating over the fence, gave him a toss that sent him hurtling in the air to his deadly fall.

Robert Lishman was one of the oldest inhabitants both in years of his life and Honolulu residence. Few citizens were more closely identified with what may be called the city's great middle stage of development, yet Mr. Lishman continued diligent and prosperous in business until the hour of his death. He was born at Hordly, Northumberland, England, on April 17, 1831, and was therefore a little more than 71 years of age. In 1871 he was summoned from Australia, where he had been living for many years, by King Kamehameha V, to come to Hawaii to superintend the construction of the present Judiciary building, which was the house of the Legislature, the higher courts and the departments of government under the monarchy. He was afterwards under Minister of the Interior S. G. Wilder, and for many years following his public service was a contractor and builder. Among the monuments to his skill are St. Andrew's Cathedral and the Lunalia Home.

Two years ago Mr. Lishman and his wife visited England, returning hale and hearty. They kept the forty-eighth anniversary of their marriage at home in April last, surrounded by their large family. Besides his wife Mr. Lishman leaves four sons—William, Thomas, Percy and George—and five daughters—Mrs. Jane More, Mrs. Isabel Creighton, Mrs. George Ross, Misses Margaret and Daisy Lishman. A grand-daughter, child of Mr. and Mrs. William Lishman, is the wife of Lieut. Merriam, U. S. A., now stationed at New York. John Lishman, another son of the lamented patriarch, was killed about sixteen years ago by a fall from a horse.

Mr. Lishman selected a homestead at Makiki when nothing but a wilderness of scrub existed between there and downtown, and lived to see "The Plains" become one of the most populous and highly valued residence districts of Honolulu. Besides his trade as a builder, including the extensive quarrying of building stone, Mr. Lishman engaged in the dairy business, primarily to provide wholesome nourishment for his family, but incidentally doing a goodly trade in the surplus products. He was a man of kindly and quiet disposition, while a broad and shrewd intelligence gave him opinions of his own which he was not afraid to utter. For honor and integrity his name was almost proverbial. Mr. Lishman was a member of Central Union church and a regular attendant of its services.

The funeral takes place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the house, the pallbearers being J. O. Carter, George W. MacFarlane, Robert Catton, W. F. Allen, John F. Soper and F. J. Wilhelm. Kaubumama school, of which Mr. Lishman's daughter Isabel is vice principal, closed for the day and its flag was flown at halfmast out of respect to the memory of the patriarch.

Father (who had caught Patrick stealing)—I thought you knew better than to commit a theft. You know how the law punishes people for small offenses? I got penal servitude for life, and am doing it now.—Tit-Bits.

USED A "BULLDOG"

Sayo, a Japanese woman of questionable type, appeared at the police station this forenoon to swear out a warrant for the arrest of Harano, her brother-in-law, on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The details of the case are as follows:

Some time ago, Sayo took up her residence on the other side of the island and there carried on an unlawful business. Harano, who was married to her sister, was in the habit of taking all the money she received from different persons and when she refused to obey his commands, he beat her unmercifully.

Some time ago, Sayo came to Honolulu and took up her abode at the corner of Smith and Pauahi streets. There she carried on the usual business, but cast her fortunes with another Japanese who lived in the same place with her. Harano heard of the doings here in town and came over from the other side of the island to see what was going on. With him he brought a .44 calibre English bulldog revolver. He went to Sayo's place this morning and was in the act of shooting her down with the revolver when the second Japanese, who has been staying with the woman for some time past, jumped in and a struggle ensued.

Harano was finally overpowered and the weapon wrested from his grasp. He immediately ran away and now the police are after him in all directions. It is believed that he will be apprehended before nightfall.

SMALLWOOD INSANE

F. E. Smallwood, a white man, aged about 29 years, a Virginian by birth and a machinist by trade, was this morning, on the information of Dr. Emerson, committed to the insane asylum by Judge Wilcox. The man was arrested yesterday afternoon after he had been imbibing quite freely. He was on the verge of delirium tremens.

It was seen soon after his arrival at the police station that he was in a mood very dangerous to himself. He hurt himself by running into the brick wall and a police officer was detailed to watch him. Watch was kept over Smallwood until his removal to the police station this afternoon.

The poor fellow imagines that there are three men after him and that their intention is to hang him. He is bent on suicide and during the night, made several attempts to end his existence by rushing against the hard walls of his cell. The presence of the officer detailed to do duty in the cell was the only thing that saved him.

It is the opinion that the present derangement of the mind of Smallwood has been caused by the abuse of liquor and that he will get over it after a few weeks in the insane asylum.

A 35,000 HAUL

News arrived from Hanalei, Kauai, in one of the Inter-Island steamers this morning that H. Birkmyre, who is running an extensive fishing business at that place, succeeded yesterday in making a haul of 35,000 akule to his big net. This is a record haul and one of which Birkmyre is justly proud.

The fishing business since Mr. Birkmyre took hold of it, is booming. He has a large number of men working for him and has a steam launch and a number of boats at his command which are always used whenever the net is sent out. While big hauls have frequently been made by Mr. Birkmyre at Hanalei, the one yesterday was the largest he has ever succeeded in taking.

MEAT PRICES PROMISES TO TAKE A DROP

New York, April 28.—Relief is promised definitely from the present abnormal price of meats, and within a month they will have reached nearly their former level. This statement will appear tomorrow in the Press, which will also say:

"The promise of relief was made last Sunday night by Ferdinand Sulzberger, one of the 'Big Six,' when he was conferring with the committee of investigation of this city. While this conference was only preliminary to the important one to be held in Washington with all of the meat barons, Mr. Sulzberger felt called upon to make some definite promise to the insistent committee."

"I can say with assurance," he said, when pressed for some promise of relief, that in a month from now prices will have sought their former level, or close to it, and that that level will be found soon thereafter. I can make that promise because there will be an influx by that time of the new grass-fed cattle from Texas, and with thousands of them on the market a break in prices is bound to follow."

WHITE STAR LINE GOES INTO COMBINE

London, April 30.—The Morgans, who had until today the option of confirming or withdrawing from the provisional agreement by which the White Star Line was to enter the Atlantic shipping combine, have notified that line of their intention to carry through their part of the agreement.

An official statement on the subject was issued by the White Star line this evening. It says:

"The White Star line entered into a provisional agreement with the Morgan Company in February, with the object of securing community of interest between the American, Atlantic Transport, Dominion, Leyland, Red Star and White Star lines. The agreement was binding on the White Star line, but it was optional as regards Mr. Morgan until April 30, upon which date the agreement expired, unless extended by mutual consent. Mr. Morgan today has given notice to the White Star line of his intention to use the option and of proceeding with the agreement. It is now in order for the agreement to be submitted to the shareholders of the White Star line and other companies. The affirmation resting absolutely in the shareholders' hands. The shareholders of the White Star line will meet in May."

INFLUENCE OF DRAMA

FREDERICK WARDE BEFORE SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

Shakespeare and His Imprint on Minds of People For Three Centuries Past—Questions Asked Tragedian.

The Social Science Club had the great pleasure last night of listening to Frederick Warde, the eminent tragedian, who spoke on "The Effect of the Drama Upon Civilization." Although the weather was bad, the great desire to hear Mr. Warde, called out a large attendance to the home of Judge Frear Punahou, where the meeting was held.

Mr. Warde traced the influence of the drama upon history from the earliest times. He said that the plays of Shakespeare have had, for three hundred years, a powerful influence on the literature and the thought and conduct of the time. They have been studied more than any other works of poet or dramatist, have been more widely quoted and their impress upon the thought of humanity is more visible. They have been a text book of philosophy and of human nature for three centuries, and for ages to come, they will mold the thoughts and habits of men. In concluding this part of his discourse, the speaker said: "And did not William Shakespeare write these plays? I would as soon doubt the authenticity and holiness of the Lord's prayer, which I learned to lip at my mother's knee, as to doubt that Shakespeare was the author of the works that bear his name."

The speaker appealed to the students of Shakespeare to seek for his spirit, to regard his clearness and simplicity, the majesty of his teachings, the breadth and humanity of his view and not to worry over misplaced commas and minor anachronisms.

The next point taken up by the speaker was the worthiness of the stage as a factor in civilization. "Have we a higher need stage? If not, whose fault is it?" were questions asked by Mr. Warde. He contended that it was not the dramatist's fault, for to produce an immortal play is the natural goal of his art. Nor was it the manager's fault, because he is only too eager to meet the approbation of the public. No more was it the actor's fault, because it is his ambition to win fame in the noblest interpretations. The fault was that of the public. What it asks for and pays for, the manager provides. Perhaps the public might be educated to better things but managers will not do that at their own expense. If the public would support the drama as a chance for a playwright and the actor to mold public taste. As things are now, the must accept and follow it.

Mr. Warde registered a rebuke against the plays which turn upon the sins of sex, saying the subject had no place on the stage but should be left to each man's conscience.

Next came a discussion of the character of the players. The speaker urged that as the stage was never so full as now of high-minded men and women who lead earnest, sincere and studious lives, there should be a closer union between it and other agencies of public good. Said Mr. Warde in conclusion:

"In New York we have the Actors' Church Alliance, headed by Bishop Potter, an organization which has its chaplains in many cities. Actors and preachers are often brought together at our meetings and thus many false impressions are removed on both sides. The preacher says: 'Why surely these are not evil minded people, and actors say: 'These men are not narrow and austere,' and they part with a just opinion of each other. I hope to see the time when the church, the stage and the school will be united in the work of civilization. The day will come the sooner if people will go to good plays and avoid bad ones. Then they will help us to build up a drama that is an honor and an inspiration to its time; a drama that is noble and pure; and actors who can attain the best that is in the sphere where God has been fit to place them."

When Mr. Warde had finished speaking, one of the members asked if it was not possible for the stage to deal with the social evil in a way to achieve a moral purpose. Mr. Warde said he preferred to leave such things to the individual conscience or to books. Problem plays brought the secrets of the dissembling room upon the stage where they had no right to be.

Another member referred to the Baconian theory and Mr. Warde answered that there was no evidence in any of the plays of Bacon's hand. He was a writer of pure logic, a man without imagination. His bent of mind made it impossible for him to conceive such a play as "Romeo and Juliet," to say nothing of writing it.

Continuing the speaker said it could be seen that the dramas of Shakespeare were written by an observer rather than a scholar of university training. Shakespeare was one "who looked quite through the deeds of men."

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Warde at the conclusion of his remarks.

FRANK WYMAN WRITES

The following letter published in the San Francisco Dramatic Review tells its own story: Dear Review:—Sent under a cognomen not daunting with the euphoric food of the island, "poli," the thought struck me to drop you a line and let you know how we are progressing in "The Paradise of the Pacific." The day is beautiful, sunny and enlivened by a swell mosquito band. Our trip down taken as a whole, was very nice, although we did occasionally get a seasick roll for breakfast. We arrived on Friday and opened the next night to a house that was not only crowded but jammed, which has continued so up to date. The company made good and jumped into favor from the start. The members are being entertained sojournly. Yesterday they went on a tally ho ride and next Saturday evening will be the guests of the 1902 Club at a barge dance. The barges are anchored out in the stream, and steam launches carry you to and fro. Numerous inquiries are made for Miss Jessie Norton who made such a hit here last season. We were met at the wharf by a large crowd, and as the different members who were with us last year stepped off the Alameda, they were greeted with a hearty aloha. Some one sent Tom Bates a wireless telegram that we were not on board, so he engaged a steam launch and came out to quarantine to see for himself. Since our last visit there have been many large buildings erected which into one in mind of Market street. Joe Cohen, who is geniality itself, is the only theatrical manager on an island in the Pacific ocean. He is getting round shouldered from carrying the rein sacks. While enjoying this paradise, we still have a lingering for the raito in good old "Prisco." Dick Scott and Frank Fanning paralyzed the natives with new suits of duck. Al Watson has a corner on root beer. With best wishes to all, I am,

Yours truly, FRANK WYMAN, Elletford's Big Company, Honolulu, H. I., April 11.

WAIHAWA COLONISTS NOW HAVE WATER

The head gate of the irrigating ditch just completed by the Waihiawa Water Co. was opened Saturday last at 2 p. m. There was a goodly representation of the Waihiawa colonists at the headwaters of the Kaukoanahua stream in the Koolau mountains, mauka of the Waihiawa settlement. The opening of the head gate allowed the water to turn from its natural course down the cañon into the artificial one leading through a series of tunnels on the lands of the colony.

Just previous to the lifting of the levers that opened the gate L. G. Kellogg, manager of the Waihiawa Water Co., spoke in part, as follows: "In the development of this water supply the first and vital point was the settlement of all controversies in regard to the ownership of the water and water rights by an agreement with the Waihiawa Agricultural Company, Ltd., and others."

The preliminary survey and levels were commenced June 1, 1900, and trails constructed in order to be enabled to make the surveys accurately it was necessary to construct two trails, one upon the top of the backbone or ridge of the mountain in order to get in to the headwaters of the stream. This was completed in July, 1900. The contour trail was then begun by ascertaining the point at which it was desired to discharge the water upon the colony lands to the point at which the water could be taken from the stream. The contour surveys and check levels were then run over this trail, by which the course and extent of the proposed ditch were ascertained and plotted, showing the number and length of the tunnels. The tunnels are thirty-seven in number. The longest one is 1855 feet in length; five others are over 1000 feet in length. The ditch from the headgate to the mouth of the last tunnel is three and three-quarter miles in length. In this whole distance there is only 1500 feet of open ditch.

SILVER CASKET RECENTLY GIVEN TO ANDREW CARNEGIE.

This unique gift was recently presented to Mr. Andrew Carnegie by the Alumni association of Stevens Institute of Technology in commemoration of Mr. Carnegie's gift to the institute of a building for a laboratory of engineering. The casket is of solid silver, weighs 152 ounces, is twelve inches in length and was made by Tiffany. It shows on its face a picture of the first train which ran between Camden, N. J., and Aubrey, N. J. The train is preceded by a rider who signalled its approach. On the reverse side of the casket is a picture of the new Carnegie laboratory just completed at the Stevens Institute, Hoboken. At the ends are bust portraits of Robert L. Stevens and Andrew Carnegie, all in bold relief. At the corners are four medallion figures representing a man of the iron age, with primitive implements; a metal worker of the middle ages, a modern iron worker and a designer representing a modern putting a steel rail through a rolling mill. The inscription, which is engraved on a plate upon the inside of the cover, reads: "This casket is presented to Andrew Carnegie, Esq., by the Alumni association of the Stevens Institute of Technology in commemoration of his gift to the institute of the building for the Carnegie Laboratory of Engineering and contains a portion of the first rail ever manufactured, the same having been rolled in 1831 at the mills of Sir John Guest in Wales under the personal supervision of Mr. Robert L. Stevens, who devised the rail and contracted for its manufacture in quantity for the Camden and Aubrey railroad, of which he was president."

BEST SUGAR SENATORS AFRAID OF CONGRESS

Washington, April 24.—Senator Aldrich did a little missionary work in the Senate before his departure today, with a view to holding a Republican caucus on the Cuban question. He urged his fellow Republicans to get together on the proposition, at least to the extent of caucusing, for the party's sake, and said he had no doubt a conclusion would be reached satisfactory to all the interest involved, but the best sugar Senators did not agree with Aldrich. They have all had experience with caucuses in which the majority gradually absorbed the minority, so they objected vigorously, though not going to the extent of flatly refusing to caucus.

The reason for not giving this refusal, according to one of their number, was because they feared that Aldrich had an alternative proposition in view which might prove more embarrassing to the best sugar and anti-sugar men than a caucus. Until they know what this alternative is they will be cautious. Aldrich, just before leaving, expressed misgivings as to the success of his plan for a caucus, and intimated that everything in regard to Cuba would be held in abeyance for a week, during which time he will be absent from Washington. He still believes, however, that the Senate will strike off the amendment removing the differential on refined sugar and pass a bill granting at least 20 per cent tariff reduction to Cuba.

The members of the House from California and Michigan declare that if the bill comes back thus amended they will fight it to a finish. Most of them would not dare to go home on any other record than that of flat-footed opposition to tariff reduction.

The Republican members of the Committee on Relations with Cuba today considered the course to be pursued on the resolution introduced by Senator Teller directing the Cuban committee to investigate the report that the present crop of Cuban sugar is held by the sugar trust. No definite determination was reached, but from the exchange of opinions it was made evident that a majority of the Republican members are disposed to accept the first part of the resolution, while none of them will stand with the opposition members in supporting the second part of it. The portion favorably considered is that directing an inquiry into present sugar holdings. The other portion directs an investigation of the entire question of reciprocity with Cuba, and it is to this portion of the resolution that especial objection is made.

SELL THE TRANSPORTS

Washington, April 26.—According to information obtained from the quartermaster's department, the matter of the reduction of the Army transport fleet and disposal of some of the vessels has been tentatively settled. It has been decided to sell the following vessels from time to time, as they can be spared: Hancock, Relief, Lawton and Rosecrans, which are subject to American register, and Meade, Sedgwick, Sumner, Egbert and McClellan, which were of foreign register when purchased by the War Department, and which under existing laws cannot be admitted to American registry. It is the intention of the department to retain the Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Logan, Thomas, Kilpatrick, Buford, Dix, Warren, Burnside, Liscum, Wright, Ingalls Crook and Seward indefinitely in the service. The Seward is being fitted out as a refrigerating ship for the transportation of meat fresh vegetables and other perishable commissary stocks. "All these vessels are in the Pacific except the Sedgwick which is laid up at New York. Secretary Long strongly urged Congress to provide for American registry for the transports sold by the War Department.

"The best of us," said the man of generous inclinations, "are occasionally betrayed into a deviation from the strict paths of truth."
"George Washington never told a lie," was the rejoinder.
"That is only hearsay. There is nothing on record to show that Washington, personally, ever made the claim. He was too truthful a man to venture any such assertion."—Washington Star.

TORNADO STRIKES STRICKEN INDIA

Calcutta, May 1.—After the perils of plague and pestilence, a fresh agency of death and destruction has made its appearance in stricken India, a tornado having devastated the City of Dacca, capital of the district of the same name, in Bengal, and swept the surrounding towns, the total loss of life being 416. The crops were ruined throughout the district.

Dacca City is situated on the Ganges, a considerable auxiliary of the Brahmaputra, which is itself a mingled stream of the Brahmaputra and the Ganges, and an affluent of the lower course of the former stream. Down to the close of the eighteenth century Dacca was widely celebrated for the delicate texture of its muslins, which, in the phraseology of the East, were characterized as "flowing water," "evening dew" and in connection with this manufacture, the French and the Dutch, as well as the English, had extensive establishments in the place. Since 1801, however, these European agencies have disappeared, while the annual value of the elegant textile under the influence of British competition, has fallen from £250,000 to virtually nothing at all. The latter-day aspect of the city has been in keeping with this utter decay of its staple trade. In many quarters the ruins have been long overgrown with jungle, the haunts of the tiger and the serpent, and this remark is applicable to many splendid edifices, such as the residences of its former sojourners. Still Dacca, within a space of four miles in length, by one and a quarter in breadth, contained at the last census a population of 69,540 souls. It seems of late years to have partially recovered from the effects of its commercial decline, and has produced much lace, soap, cheese and gold and silver ornaments, while sometimes as many as 300 elephants are to be found for sale at its bazaars. Three years ago there were no fewer than 180 mosques and 119 pagodas, besides a college and several good schools. The city is connected with Calcutta, 150 miles distant, by the Eastern Bengal Railroad.

We are now paying especial attention to catering to Family Parties, Receptions, Weddings, etc., and the success that has attended our efforts to please, together with our reputation for serving the best that the market affords, is a sufficient guarantee that we will give you perfect satisfaction.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS HEISSINGER WRITES

Some time ago, the Bulletin published a sensible and well-written article on Manila from the pen of Carl F. Heissinger, a bright young linguist who was attracted to the Philippines from Southern California by the evident advantages that one of Uncle Sam's singular possessions offered a person of polyglot proclivities. A private letter just received in Honolulu from Mr. Heissinger gives an interesting sequel: "I hope these lines will find you and all your family well. It could hardly be otherwise in such a lovely climate as Hawaii has. If one only had your climate here it would be all right. But I must say the Philippines will always be handicapped by the chances one takes here as regards health. I heard that the English consul here said that his Government considered Manila the third worst place on the face of the globe and therefore paid their consuls here accordingly.

"I have concluded to leave the blooming place, and if nothing happens I shall be half way to Germany when you get this letter. I intend to leave here for Singapore next Saturday (April 12), and then from there to Hamburg. My ambition to circle the globe will then be satisfied, and perhaps my 'wander lust' will cease.

"It is now beginning to get hot here, and the people tell me the hot weather will last for about five months. I am therefore doubly glad to get away. You have no doubt heard that we are having some cholera here too. It affects business quite a little. But the authorities are doing their best to stamp it out, and it seems that they have the situation well in hand."

A case was being tried in a country court. A horse had been stolen from a field, and the evidence all pointed to a certain doubtful character of the neighborhood as the culprit. Though his guilt seemed clear, he had found a lawyer to undertake his defense. At the trial, the defendant's counsel expended his energy in trying to confuse and frighten the opposing witnesses, especially a farmer whose testimony was particularly damaging. The lawyer kept up a fire of questions, asking many foolish ones, and repeating himself again and again in the hope of deceiving the witness into a contradiction.

"You say," the lawyer went on, "that you can swear to having seen this man drive a horse past your farm on the day in question?"
"I can," replied the witness, wearily, for he had already answered the question a dozen times.
"What time was this?"
"I told you it was about the middle of the forenoon."
"But I don't want any 'abouts' or 'middles.' I want you to tell the jury exactly the time."
"Why," said the farmer, "I don't always carry a gold watch with me when I'm digging potatoes."
"But you have a clock in the house, haven't you?"
"Yes."
"Well, what time was it by that?"
"Why, by that clock it was just ten minutes past 10."
"You were in the field all the morning," went on the lawyer, smiling suggestively.
"I was."
"How far from the house is this field?"
"About half a mile."
"You swear, do you, that by the clock in your house it was just ten minutes past 10?"
"I do."

The lawyer paused and looked triumphantly at the jury. At last he had entrapped the witness into a contradictory statement that would greatly weaken his evidence.

The farmer leisurely picked up his hat and started to leave the witness stand. Then turning slowly about, he added:
"I ought, perhaps, to say that too much reliance should not be placed on that clock as it got out of gear about six months ago, and it's been ten minutes past 10 ever since."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A HORSE TRAINER BREAKS HIS LEG

Alce Harris, the colored horse-trainer, got his leg broken this morning while he was driving a young horse belonging to Mr. Conrad. Harris was driving the horse in a common road cart. When he arrived at the corner of Queen and Millian streets, the animal suddenly began kicking. In soon managed to break one of the shafts and when a minute or so later, the other shaft broke, Harris was thrown forward right under the hoofs of the horse, which was still kicking frantically. It was then that he received a kick which broke one of his legs. The horse managed to free itself from the cart and made a dash down Queen street. The ends of the shafts which had both been broken off right at the breaking, were dangling against the sides of the animal and increased its fright. However, his career was short. The horse went in the direction of the police station and four or five gallant custodians of the law formed a line across the road and secured the animal with little trouble. The patrol wagon went up to the place of the accident and took the injured man to the Queen's Hospital.

CATHOLICS MASSING TO WEDELIN'S AID

After the public meeting of the Catholic Benevolent Union which was held in the Catholic Club rooms last night, there was a meeting of the Union which was attended by members only and at which the Union decided to back the committee working for Father Wedelin with every dollar in its treasury.

This evening the Concordia Society will meet in its hall, on Punchbowl street and the San Antonio Society in its hall on Vineyard street.

It is understood that these societies will take the same course as the Union has and will back the committee with both moral and financial support. This is especially important with regard to the San Antonio Society, which counts 2,000 members and is one of the richest societies in the group.

ONLY ONE EWA.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—In answer to Cane Sprezer in the Sunday Bulletin I would state that it is quite true Ewa has two nine-roller mills working at the present time, but I fail to see what that has got to do with the record for turning out sugar for a stated time. It simply proves that Ewa is not in the same class as Ewa. Whenever any mill or plantation on these islands does "a" in any one thing, the article always winds up with "this is better than Ewa," or "this is as good as Ewa," but when it is lifted down it always ends with Ewa still in the lead.

As the correspondent from Oahu lays great stress on the fact that Ewa makes No. 2 sugar, probably it will surprise him to learn that Ewa has shipped No. 2 sugar this year polarizing 99 and the average polarization of No. 2 sugar for the crop of over 55,000 tons will average over 97. There are others as far as Oahu is concerned, but there is only one Ewa. Next.

Not long ago Captain George Blakeley of the United States Army, professor of mathematics at West Point, came to this, his native city. Desiring to renew old friendships, he telegraphed to Prof. Robert Hart Bradbury of the Manual Training school requesting him to call at his hotel at his earliest convenience. Prof. Bradbury wrote a reply, instructing the maid to have it telegraphed to the captain at once. The message reached Captain Blakeley, who, after reading it, sent Prof. Bradbury the following dispatch: "Why don't you buy some?" When this reply reached Prof. Bradbury he was nonplussed. He hastened to the hotel and found the captain. "Jack, what the deuce do you mean by such a reply as this?" he asked. "What do you mean by this?" said the captain, handing the professor his message. It read: "I'm out of socks and can't come." Prof. Bradbury had written: "I'm out of sorts and can't come!" The error was the operator's—Philadelphia Times.
