An Unkind Friend.
EDITOR BULLETIN:-
It is not often that I see a copy of the Friend, but by some chance the issue for the current month was put into my hands, and on looking over the first or editorial article I was astonished, not at the tone of the article itself or at the charitable spirit of the writer, but at the amazing ignorance - or worse - which could crowd so many misstatements into so small a space.

We are told that the "nobility of England tends to profligacy," and that "the State Church habitually leans towards a low standard in morals."

I have little personal acquaintance with the nobility of England and so shall not pretend to any; the editor of the Friend, however, "most ignorant of what he's most assured," pronounces their profligacy as a dogma of his own. Merely judging from history of the past and the current literature of the day, I assert that the British House of Lords as statesmen, scholars, orators and gentlemen need not fear comparison with any legislative chamber in the world.

The morals and teaching of the "State Church" need no defense. Wilberforce and Magoe, Threlkell and Elliott, Tait and Kyle, Selwyn, Patteson and Huntington are amongst the leaders "towards a low standard of morality," and surely a good democrat ought to feel kindly towards the Bishops of the "State Church" - are they not all self-made men?

Further on we come to the statement that brewing, distilling, etc., are almost "the only commercial occupation fit for the aristocracy." What the qualification "commercial" may be worth is not clear. If it mean any person who has enriched and raised himself and his family by merchandise, inventions, authorship, or other fruits of talents and perseverance, then we may suppose Lyon Playfair, Lord Playfair, and Wm. Thompson, Lord Kelvin, to be of the brewers, and Wm. Armstrong, Lord Armstrong, must certainly be the distiller, for I have been confidently informed that he puts a distillery into every vessel he builds, and the consequence is that the crew are always, by day and by night, distilling - fresh water from salt.

Mr. Gladstone's father followed a commercial occupation and earned a fortune and a Baronetcy. Dr. Johnson thought no worse of his friend Thrale because Thrale was a brewer!

But the real pity of the article in the Friend is the glorification of certain persons who it seems know not to tolerate "a racing Premier." If the Friend does not know it, "every large and small bettel" does know, that Lord Rosebery was no more a racing Premier on the day of the Derby than he was on the day that he was chosen by his party to succeed Mr. Gladstone.

Lord Rosebery has owned race horses ever since he was at Oxford twenty-five years ago and has never concealed the fact. He was known on the turf before he was known in the Legislature, and in both scenes has always approved himself an honest, upright gentleman, and is not, so say the papers, a betting man. For a quarter of a century - through his whole public career - Lord Rosebery has been known as an owner and occasional starter of race horses. This terrible vice, has been condoned for all this time, and now it seems that the real crime affecting this peculiarly partial conscience is owning, not only an ordinary racehorse, but an extraordinary one, not only starting but winning.

The wearers of these very eccentric consciences are to be found in other than the British Islands.

Killed in the Streets of London.
In the streets of London in one year no fewer than 241 passengers have been killed by the movement of vehicles. On the 20,000 miles of railway in the United Kingdom, the trains of which run nearly 300,000, and carried about 800,000,000 passengers and 282,000,000 tons of goods and minerals, only 17 passengers were killed last year and 181 injured by accidents to trains, rolling stock, permanent way and other essentials in the movement of this vast traffic.

Prevention is Better
Than cure, and those who are subject to rheumatism can prevent attacks by keeping the blood pure and free from the acid which causes the disease. You can rely upon Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for rheumatism and catarrh, also for every form of scrofula, salt rheum, boils and other diseases caused by impure blood. It tones and vitalizes the whole system.

Hood's Pills are easy and gentle in effect.
Victoria's Long Reign.
During the reign of Queen Victoria France has changed her government four times and lost part of her territory. The German Empire has been organized and Italy has been united. The Government of the Indian Empire has passed to the crown of England and the British Empire has been vastly extended.

Pledges to neither Side nor Party, But Established for the Benefit of All.

MONDAY, JULY 16, 1894.

Oliver Mowat has been Premier of Ontario, the Chief Province of Canada, continuously for twenty two years, and his administration has just been sustained in the elections for another term. He is a Liberal in politics. Instead of a debt the Province has a surplus, and it is no wonder the people stay by Oliver.

Much if not most of the expected benefit to Hawaii anticipated from the restoration of a duty on sugar by the United States Congress, would appear to be rendered nugatory by the action of the Senate on the final passage of the bill in that body. An amendment was passed which, while abrogating the reciprocity clause of the McKinley bill, kept in force all existing treaties under that clause. This leaves Hawaiian sugar to compete on equal terms with the German beet and Cuban and other Spanish countries' cane sugar.

THE GREAT STRIKE.

It would be hard to conceive of a more presently calamitous or prospectively disastrous industrial situation than that which exists in the United States. While manufacturing industry is still prostrated throughout large sections by a formidable coal miners' strike, all the important railway routes are closed by a strike of the American Railway Union. The enormous loss from the stoppage of mail, freight and passenger traffic is a staggering fact enough, but the wanton destruction of millions of dollars' worth of railway and other property by anarchists in Chicago, who have long been waiting for such an opportunity, is even more deplorable in its exposure of the unreadiness of constituted authority to cope with a serious emergency. There is really nothing surprising in the strike itself, immense and damaging although it is, almost beyond approximate estimation. It is simply in proportion to the magnitude of the American railway enterprise. The labor necessary to operate the many thousands of miles of railway constitutes a large army in itself, and, with any degree of unity for the protection of mutual interests in the different systems, this army can easily compel the capital owning these great arteries of traffic to consult labor before doing anything that adversely affects the recompense of labor. While it may be open to discussion whether, as in the present conflict, the workers for a single corporation might not better have been aided in their struggle than by a general railway strike, involving the interests of the general public so disastrously, it would be hasty to conclude that the railway men have not the right of their own judgment as to the means to be employed for aiding their fellow-workers of Pullman. That they have the sympathy of the public in a large degree is evident from the voluminous newspaper reports to hand. They have been defended from many pulpits and they have the support of influential journals. Their fellow-countrymen enrolled in the militia have in some cases simply declined to suppress them by force when brought forward to suppress their acts of interference with the working of the lines. The case appears to be infinitely different, however, with the lawless elements let loose in Chicago. Leaders of the strikers repudiate the anarchical actions of those elements, and the President of the American Railway Union adjures the whole membership to refrain from all vengeful violence and wanton mischief. Upon the degree of promptitude and precision with which the authorities shall utterly suppress the lawlessness raging, at latest accounts, in Chicago will depend the reputation of the United States for stable government. That such lawlessness will be ultimately suppressed there is little reason to doubt, but if the accomplishment be unduly delayed the peaceable people of Chicago and other large cities will not feel assured against the recurrence of similar disorders on future favoring occasions. If the question of State sovereignty, which has arisen between President Cleveland and Governor Altgeld in presence of blazing property and slaughtered persons, has to be settled in the courts or by protracted correspondence before order is restored, then Chicago is to be pitied and the United States is confronted with the problem of a readjustment of the relations between the Federal and the State authorities, which it had been fondly hoped were definitely settled by the war of the rebellion. The President seemingly was taking the sensible view of the matter, namely, that order should be restored first and the constitutional question settled afterward. As Lincoln said, when criticised for straining the constitution in his efforts to suppress the rebellion, he preferred to save the Union before the Constitution. Governor Altgeld angrily protested to the President that the forces of the State of Illinois were quite adequate to the preservation of order, but, when the latest intelligence by last mail closed, Chicago's sky was lighted with an incendiary glare, and its people's slumbers were disquieted from gloomy forebodings of the morrow. As to the strike proper, it is to be hoped that a peaceful settlement may be reached. What is wanted is commanding leadership on behalf of the nation at large to bring about arbitration of the dispute. Great Britain and the United States have given several object lessons to the world of the settlement of grave international differences by peaceful arbitration. Lord Rosebery, sometime before he came to the Premiership of Great Britain, had sufficient influence to have the same beneficent principle applied to social war, with the result of composing a most disastrous coal miners' strike that had inflicted untold loss upon national interests and dire distress upon thousands of workingmen and their families.

Hawaiian Hardware Co., L'd

Saturday, July 14, 1894.

We have unpacked our wash stands and bath tubs from the Standard Manufacturing Co., and are well pleased with them. You can find others of the same style and quality in large establishments but they have never been shown here before. We bring to Honolulu a stock from which you may select what you want without having to depend upon a catalogue or the judgment of your friends abroad. A gentleman remarked to us yesterday that a friend of his has the finest bathroom he ever saw. The information did not surprise us because we furnished the pool, and we have the article that will make another bathroom look just as elegant. We have, in addition to tubs and pools, closets of the latest patterns and improvements; we have wash stands either corner or wall, and in enamel ware or marble. We have very beautiful nickel plated towel racks and soap dishes made by the same company and which harmonize with the fittings on the tubs. There is no reason why the fittings of a bathroom should receive less attention than the decorations in a parlor. True enough it is not used as a place for lounging in but it is a spot at which most people take a great deal of comfort. The idea that the bath tub may be poked in the darkest corner of the house has given away with other things to the march of progress; the larger and brighter the room the better for sanitary arrangements. Another mistake is to put the tub in a corner; place it far enough from the wall to allow walking around it and enable the housekeeper to maintain a policy of cleanliness. Wherever bath tubs and wash stands are under the old order of things there you will find roaches; with our bath tubs—made entirely of metal and raised from the floor—they will never be. Our wash stands are made so that every part is "get-at-able" with broom or brush. Some are made of iron and enamelled to imitate marble and it is so well done that it is difficult to tell the difference; the marbletops to the more expensive ones are beautiful specimens of the product of the Tennessee quarries; with the nickel plated trimmings that go with them they make handsome pieces for any room. Take it all in all we have the bath goods the people want, people who like to scratch their backs without having to clean their finger nails afterward.

For the past week we have had a man adjusting our Sewing Machines and putting them in condition for delivery at the homes of the people who want "Wertheims," the only sewing machine made that will make three different stitches without changing the thread or needle. The action is perfect and the adjustment as perfect as a sewing machine can be made—"no Hood's Sarsaparilla feeling" after running a "Wertheim," the bearings are so regulated that a child can run the machine without feeling fatigued. When you are buying a machine just consider that in ours you get something that will sew three stitches without changing the shuttle, for less money than you will pay in other places for a plain every day sewing machine.

KANS AND CRESCENTS.

Pitcher Woods Admits He Sold the Game.

The Hawaii Baseball League held a special meeting in the office of W. F. Allen at noon to-day, there being a full attendance, a number of players being present.

Allen opened the meeting, stating its object. It was to consider a protest from the Crescent baseball team.

James G. Spencer, secretary, read the communication from the team mentioned, which contained in effect a petition to declare last Saturday's game off, on account of pitcher Woods selling the game.

Before discussing the merits of the protest, Theo. Richards, principal of Kamehameha School, in a few words denounced gambling on baseball, and urged the necessity of a ruling by the league on its occurrence on the league grounds.

If, he said, he was convinced that any member of the school team had participated in gambling, he would see that he was banished from the team and from the school for that matter.

Delegate Anderson for the Kamehameha nine wanted to see the matter sifted to the bottom, but was unwilling to declare the game off even if pitcher Woods did really sell the game. He wanted to see equity according to Blackstone.

Antonio Perry, delegate from the Crescents, had no objection to seeing equity. He was willing to take evidence under oath in the matter.

Having obtained leave he asked Woods, the Crescent pitcher, whether it was true he had sold Saturday's game. Woods answered in the affirmative.

After further remarks by different delegates everything was left to be settled between the representatives of the Crescents and Kamehamehas, and they will report to a subsequent meeting of the league. Their decision will be final.

The Kamehamehas defeated the Crescents by a score of 15 to 5 on Saturday, the worst game of the season.

Following is the official score:

Table with columns: SCORE BY INNINGS, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9.

GREASE AND POI.

Captain Hookano and a Lieutenant Make a Haul.

Captain Hookano, of the third watch and his efficient Lieutenant Kanae, made a capture of twenty-six tins of what was thought to be opium last night, in a Chinaman's house on the corner of Queen and Alakea streets.

On information procured by Kanae a Chinaman was arrested, it being claimed that he owned the stuff. At the Police Station two tins were punctured and found to contain a mixture of sour poi and lard or some other greasy substance.

The Chinaman was locked up nevertheless and the twenty-six tins were stored in the Marshal's office. The man appeared in the District Court this morning and the officers thought they had feathered a nice little nest.

The captain and his lieutenant gave evidence telling about how they made the haul and the subsequent arrest and visions of the ultimate "divy" floated before their vision. C. W. Ashford asked that the tins be punctured and the contents be examined.

The request was allowed and the contents were all found to be a mixture of the kind just described. The prosecuting attorney promptly asked that the case be nol. pro'd. The tins had previously held opium.

The officers were badly fooled and, for a week at least, it won't be safe to go near either of them with any dope yara.

JUDICIARY JOTTINGS.

Sundry Probate Matters—Contempt of Court.

Before Judge Whiting, the will of the late E. C. Damon is admitted to probate, and letters testamentary ordered to issue to Cornelia B. Damon, widow, without bond.

The accounts of the estate of Jas. Gay have been referred to Henry Smith, master, for examination and report.

C. Brown for petitioners. The accounts of the Gibson estate have been referred to George Lucas, master, for examination and report.

Judge Whiting's decision in the contempt case against H. N. Castle, editor of the Advertiser, is on file. It holds that a purported news article reflecting on W. H. Aldrich, against whom a contempt case was pending, was more in the nature of editorial than news.

The publication is decided to be direct and not constructive contempt. Mr. Castle, being proved to have had no knowledge of the article before its publication, is discharged. C. W. Ashford for the motion; W. R. Castle for respondent.

Judge A. N. Kopekaik, of the Second Circuit Court, Maui, is in town. To-morrow will be the last day for service of summons for the August term of First Circuit Court.

The jury for the same term was drawn on Saturday before Judge Cooper.

Geo. Lucas, master, is taking evidence this afternoon in the case of J. H. Hannio and others vs. Chas. Kaiaki, suit in equity for accounting from Kona, Hawaii. Achi for plaintiff; C. Brown for defendant.

Sam Hookano has been appointed District Magistrate for Ewa in place of Frank Archer Keliinohopono, being an exchange of that office with that of Deputy Tax Assessor, Archer now taking the latter position.

Judge Cooper has filed a decision in the matter of the estate of George E. Richardson, deceased. His conclusions will indicate the points under consideration. Richardson died April 14, 1892, leaving a widow and four minor children. The widow died April 28, 1892, and on the following day one of the children died.

Richardson's will made a division of his estate among the children and his widow, the widow's portion being $400 in full settlement of all her right or other interest in the testator's property.

There were both real and personal property, the latter including two life insurance policies—one payable to his son Edward Vivian, the other to his estate. The personal estate, exclusive of the insurance, was insufficient to pay the debts. Mrs. Richardson, prior to her marriage, had an illegitimate daughter, after which she married C. Hanson of Ewa and by him had a son, Hapai, and she then married Richardson.

On July 27, 1891, Mrs. Richardson executed an instrument conveying all her estate as a married woman to her four children by Richardson. According to the Civil Code a widow for whom provision has been made in her husband's will must elect within six months whether to take her share under the will or be entitled to both under it, plainly appears by the will that such was the intention of the testator.

Mrs. Richardson died prior to the probate of the will and without making her election. As the statutory time for making her election had not expired, the Court by this decision makes it for her, being that she takes the dower which is the larger of the two rights.

The insurance policy payable to the estate is subject to the widow's dower. As dower is not the subject of bargain, sale or gift—although capable of being released to one who holds the fee—the Court holds that Mrs. Richardson's conveyance of her right of dower, as mentioned above, was outside of her power.

The Civil Code makes every illegitimate child an heir to his mother. It is therefore found that upon the widow's death her estate went equally to the four children of George Richardson, the child of C. Hapai, and the illegitimate daughter. The deceased minor Henry Richardson's property is inherited by his brothers and sisters by the same parents, and his kindred of the half blood are also entitled to inherit with those of the full blood in the estate derived from Mrs. Richardson. The Court finds in conclusion that Mrs. Richardson's estate is now to be divided equally between all of the five children surviving her.

Of course it is inferred that, apart from the widow's interest, the will of George Richardson will be carried out as executed.

The accounts of the executor are approved, and he will be discharged on filing the necessary receipts.

W. O. Smith, executor, in person; W. A. Kianey for the illegitimate child.

J. W. Chapman caters for Banquets, Socials, Private Dinner Parties, Wedding or Garden Parties, etc. He will be pleased to call upon any ladies or gentlemen who will kindly address him through the Post Office.

National Cane Shredder

PATENTED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE BEEN APPOINTED SOLE AGENTS FOR these SHREDDERS and are now prepared to receive orders. The great advantages to be derived from the use of the NATIONAL CANE SHREDDER are thoroughly established and acknowledged by Planters generally.

The large number of Planters using them in the United States, Cuba, Argentine Republic, Peru, Australia and elsewhere, bear witness to the above claim.

The use of the SHREDDER very largely augments the quantity of cane the mill can grind (25 to 50%), also the extraction of juice (5 to 12%).

It is a great safeguard, making known at once the presence of any pieces of iron, stakes from care, or anything which would be liable to damage the mill, and allowing ample time to remove same before damaging the mill.

The SHREDDER is very strongly made, and from the manner of its operation it cuts or tears these pieces of wood or iron without often breaking the SHREDDER; and if anything breaks, it is simply some of the knives or cutters, which can be quickly and economically replaced. The SHREDDER, as its name indicates, tears the cane into shreds of varying lengths, perfectly opening it and allowing the mill to thoroughly press out the juices without requiring the immense extra power necessary to grind or crush the whole cane.

The SHREDDER spreads the shredded cane uniformly and evenly to the mill rolls, and does away with the necessity of spreading the bagasse by hand between the mills, where regrinding is in use. No greater amount of boiler capacity is required to operate the SHREDDER than that which was sufficient for the mill, for the above reasons. We furnish full working drawings for the installation of our SHREDDERS, enabling any competent engineer to successfully install and start them.

In ordering SHREDDERS from us, please send small sketch, showing the diameter and width of the mill rolls with which SHREDDER is to be connected, also the side (either right or left hand as you face the delivery side of the mill), upon which the mill engine is located, also the height from floor line to center of front mill roll shaft, and distance center this shaft to front end of bed plate. These SHREDDERS are now being used by the Milo Sugar Co. and Hawi Mill, Kohala, where they are giving great satisfaction.

Prices and further particulars may be had by applying to those who propose to become residents of that growing city, will do well to embrace this opportunity. Those who avail themselves of this offer, within the time named, will be entitled to, and will receive the following benefits:

For a term of ten years, this Company will carry such residents and their families from

Pearl City to Honolulu in the morning

(arriving a little before seven o'clock), and from Honolulu to Pearl City in the evening (leaving Honolulu station a little after five o'clock), for ten cents each way, a rate less than one cent per mile. The rates on all other passenger trains running during the day or night will be 1 1/2 cents per mile first class, and 1 cent per mile second class.

A good school is about to be opened in the Peninsula, in the fine, large, new school-house erected by Mr. J. T. Waterhouse. Residents living at Pearl City heights, (above Pearl City station) and those having homes on the Peninsula, will be allowed to ride free on regular trains between Pearl City stations to and from the Peninsula.

Those who want to continue to send their children to schools in Honolulu, can have transportation on all regular trains to and from Pearl City, for the purpose of attending school, at five cents each way for each pupil. This is equal to 34 to 36 miles ride for ten cents.

Equal inducements for those desiring to secure homes in this country have never before been offered to the public.

This Company has been requested from abroad to name the price of all their unsold land in that locality.

Should a clearance sale be made to a syndicate, no opportunity like the present would again occur for the purchase of homes at Pearl City.

THE GREAT PLAGUE.

Still Spreading—British Warship Protects Americans.

The steamer Oceanic arrived yesterday from Hongkong and Yokohama, bringing further particulars regarding the plague in Canton and Hongkong.

Purser Tuttle says that the disease is spreading rapidly and that 150,000 people have recently left Hongkong. They went away in steamers, sampans and all manner of things that float.

At Canton the total number of deaths is estimated at 120,000. Dead bodies do not receive a decent burial, but are thrown into pits partly filled with lime. The latest reports from Canton city are that the plague there has about spent its fury.

Other districts are suffering still and superstition is rife. Near Canton two American women, attaches of the American Presbyterian Mission, were attacked by a mob because they tried to aid two natives who had been stricken down in the streets.

The heathens thought that the ladies caused the men to die and attacked them with stones. The women, whose names are Miss Fulton and Mrs. Hayes, were nearly killed before rescued by the police.

There is great excitement over the outrage. There was no United States warship in port, so the British gunboat Hatter was sent to the harbor, and offered protection to all English and American residents.

Some of the natives of Hongkong think that the cable road recently built there caused the plague, while others declare that a certain French provincial Governor came especially to the country to destroy it.

While the Oceanic was in port at Hongkong coolies were dying in the streets and on the wharves. The German mail steamer, and the French mail steamer will not land at the docks, but instead transfer all their passengers by lighters.—Call.

A SAILOR'S HARD LUCK.

One of the Hesper's Crew Caught by a Half-Interest Swindler.

Hans Olsen, who was one of the witnesses against the Hesper crowd of murderers, St. Olaf, Sparf and Hansen, has had a very trying experience. While the trial of the trio was pending he was detained on Alcatraz island, receiving $1 a day while he was on the rock. When the sailor came out he had more money than he ever had before, there being $200 coming to him. Olsen, who is a cook by profession, thought that he would remain ashore for the rest of his life.

He went to the Sailors' Home, and while there saw an advertisement offering a half-interest in a restaurant. Olsen immediately repaired to a Fourth street office mentioned in the advertisement and was induced to part with $140 of his money. It was the same old game, the half-interest swindle, and the man who took his money he never saw again. He managed to get back $20 from the "clerk" in the office, and Captain Staples of the Sailors' Home got back $20 more for him yesterday morning. Olsen shipped as cook on the S. N. Castle. He wants no more restaurants.—Chronicle.

COMPLIMENTARY TO ENGLAND.

The Hewston Case Arouses the Eloquence of Bayard.

LONDON, July 4.—Embassador Bayard at a dinner given to-day at the Savoy by Consul-General P. S. Collins of the United States, referring to General John Hewston of California, whom the Grand Jury recalled to indict for causing the death of George Burton, an itinerant musician, and who sat on the right of the American Minister, said:

"What has excelled the kindness and hospitality of England? Where has greater justice been found? We, although not asking favors, acknowledge with the greatest gratitude the justice of this great nation. This it is that bears us across the ocean to each other. Let us become rivals with Great Britain in kindness and justice. Let us be rivals in only what elevates our nation."

After the band had played "Hail Columbia" Consul-General Collins responded to Mr. Bayard's speech, saying that he was sure it expressed the feelings of the American "Exiles" in London.

Last June, Dick Crawford brought his twelve months old child, suffering from infantile diarrhoea, to me. It had been weaned at four months old and being sickly everything ran through it like water through a sieve. I gave it the usual treatment in such cases but without benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds. I then started the father to giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Before one bottle of the 25 cent size had been used, a marked improvement was seen and its continued use cured the child. Its weakness and puny constitution disappeared and its father and myself believe the child's life was saved by this Remedy. J. T. MARLOW, M. D., Tamarac, Ill. For sale by all dealers. In a recent lecture, Dr. Cohn, a German scientist (Elektrische Augen), says that poor illumination is often the cause of near-sightedness. The minimum intensity of illumination that should be used for reading is 10-metre candle—about the intensity of one candle at a distance of one foot. Daylight at an open window is equal to about thirty times this. In La Nature, Henry gives a number of interesting figures bearing on the same subject. He estimates that normal daylight equals fifty candles at one metre, and the full light of the sun, 50,000 candles at the same distance. The smallest illumination that the eye can detect is equal to that given by one candle at a distance of nearly three and one half miles.

LUCOL :-

IS THE BEST PAINT OIL!

The following testimonial has been received from a prominent plantation owner and manager:

HONOLULU, H. I., May 29, 1904.

PACIFIC HARDWARE CO. L'D, Honolulu.

Gentlemen:—

You ask my opinion of Lucol as a Paint Oil.

I have experimented with Lucol Oil for one day before it is to be used, then add a third more Lucol, and the paint will be found to cover well and have a good gloss.

Yours truly, A. C. DARRIN.

Direction for Use.

Use Lucol in every respect in the same manner as you would linseed oil, with the single exception that you may add fully one-quarter more Lucol to the same quantity of pigment than you would of linseed.

In using metallic, Venetian red, the ochres, and other dry pigments, it is advisable to mix up the paint at least one day before it is to be used, then add a third more Lucol, and the paint will be found to cover well and have a good gloss.

NEVER USE JAPANS.

Where hard surfaces such as floors, steps, etc., are required use litharge only, never use Japans.

LUCOL MIXES WITH VARNISHES

and assists their working and improves their appearance BUT THEY SHOULD BE USED SAME DAY THEY ARE MIXED, otherwise the gum of the varnish may be precipitated or the mixture curdled.

The addition of from 1/4 to 1/2 of Lucol to varnishes does not reduce their lustre nor retard their hardening and drying and it prevents their cracking.
