

THE WOMEN WHO TOLL.

GIRLS WHO FIND EMPLOYMENT IN THE CIGAR FACTORIES.

The "Tenement House Work" Done by Married Women—Personal Traits of the Factory Hands—Faithful and Hard-Working Wives—Means of Amusement.

But from all appearances these girls took no more interest in the lockout difficulties than they did in the courses of the suns. Nothing seemed to occupy their thoughts but the rough-and-ready enjoyment of the hour.

All the girls were foreigners, and they differ widely from the tidy little shop girl of what might be called the Grand street order, though only a lower variety of the same grade.

They were all dressed comfortably, but carelessly, in some instances approaching slovenly. Their hands showed the effects of rougher work and greater physical strain than the girls who wait at the counter.

But all of them looked healthy and some as robust as young athletes—thick hips, stout wrists, and strong ankles.

Some of them were foreigners, and they differ widely from the tidy little shop girl of what might be called the Grand street order, though only a lower variety of the same grade.

They were all dressed comfortably, but carelessly, in some instances approaching slovenly. Their hands showed the effects of rougher work and greater physical strain than the girls who wait at the counter.

But it is a noticeable fact that girls who earn their living in cigar factories marry very early.

Comparatively few of them remain single until they are 20 years old. After a girl is married she usually retains her place in the factory until she becomes a mother.

Then she joins the constantly growing army of tenement house cigarmakers and works at home with her husband. A man and his wife, fairly capable and industrious, will have no difficulty in earning $30 a week between them.

As families increase the women's fingers become less nimble, until they are finally crowded from the ranks altogether. Though, as a rule, but little fitted for domestic service, these women make very good as public as to reach the police.

The married women save and have savings bank deposits, but the girls seldom do. They enjoy themselves in their own way while they are young, and a policeman who is on duty in that part of the city where they are thickest says it is a rare thing to see one of them on the street in the evening without a sweetheart.

They make the most of the liberty they have when working hours are over. They have their evenings and Sundays at their own disposal, with no employer to ask any question concerning their whereabouts so long as they are at their premises during working hours.

The girls work hard all day, for they are paid by the piece, and they must work hard to earn much. Their evenings they spend in the open air when not in the halls. Their social meetings in these places never break up till late. The girls get along with very little sleep—seldom more than five or six hours.

They impress the observer as being abundantly able to take care of themselves in their independent, willful means of enjoyment. As a rule they are religious, have their standard of morality, and are regardless of all but their own rules of propriety.—New York Times.

Persia's Religion and Bible. "In Persia church and state are practically one. The Koran is the law of the land and of the family. It goes into family matters in the minutest way. If it was published in New York 10,000 Anthony Comstocks would rise to suppress it. It leaves nothing to be supplied by the imagination and calls a spade a spade in every case. There is great religious toleration in Persia, however, and a man may believe in any God or no God, or may announce himself as God, as long as he acknowledges that Mahomet is his prophet and obeys the secular laws of the Koran.

"The people are quick-witted and given to poetry and philosophic speculation more than to the exact sciences. The executive ability of the rulers is developed to a high degree and justice is dispensed impartially, with occasional exceptions of despotic cruelty and bribery. There are 35,000 Fireworshippers in Persia, and the sacred flame has burned uninterruptedly for 2,300 years. There is one good point about the Fireworshippers. Fire with them is sacred, and therefore they object to smoking. No greater insult can be offered to a Parsee gentleman than to smoke in his presence."—Ex-Minister Benjamin's Lecture.

First Two Patents Ever Issued. In 1776 Congress passed "An act to promote the progress of the useful arts," which was the first stimulus to inventive genius through government protection. This act clothed the secretary of state, the secretary of war and the attorney general with plenary power to issue certificates of merit, which were to be countersigned by the president and become letters patent. The first patent issued was to Samuel Hopkins, July 31, 1790, for making pot or pearl ash, the second invention that received this exalted favor was a shoe stank, and the inventor was from that part of Yankeeedom which has ever since been most prolific in the inventive skill—the state of Massachusetts.—Washington Cor. FRIDAY, APRIL 23, 1886.

THE recommendations of the Committee of six citizens appointed by the Chief Justice of the Kingdom in regard to the widening and extension of the streets throughout the burnt district will doubtless receive the hearty endorsement of both property owners and citizens generally.

The fire of Sunday last has removed that old historic landmark, the Bethel Church, around which so many recollections of fifty-two years are twined, calling forth many expressions of regret and sympathy with its pastor and congregation in their loss.

The need of a new church building has been forcing itself gradually upon the congregation and general public the past few years, and initiatory measures had already been entered upon which would, perhaps, have taken many months to consummate.

At two recent meetings of the Trustees it was deemed advisable to open subscription lists at once for a new church. A committee was appointed from their number to canvass among the members, and the pastor, Rev. E. C. Oggel, was authorized to circulate a list throughout the community.

It is, of course, early for suggestions, but in this connection we may be pardoned if we state here that memorial windows, or tablets, might appropriately take a prominent place in the proposed church, to the memories of the late Dr. Damon, for so many years its pastor, and Mrs. Lowell Smith who came out in the same vessel with the first Bethel Church, and was an active and inspiring member to the time of her death.

London Papers.

The Post's London special says: A sensation has been caused by the sudden right-about face of the daily News, the ministerial organ and the only London journal which hitherto supported Gladstone's home rule scheme.

CONDENSED FOREIGN NEWS.

A large and disastrous fire has occurred at Key West, Florida.—The anti-Chinese memorial to Congress from the Pacific Coast, is reported to have been lost "in the mass of insignificant documents that are presented to Congress every day."

Discussing the Hawaiian treaty at the inception of the pending attack upon it, we said that England stood ready to take the commerce of those islands the moment we dropped it. The fight upon the treaty went on. It was understood that Mr. Morrison, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, favored abrogation, and the prospect of the fall of the treaty appeared stronger than during any previous assault.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The Tribune says: There has been no settlement of the differences between the transcontinental lines although negotiations have not been abandoned.

EL PASO (Tex.), April 12.—A bloody tragedy occurred last night at a Mexican residence on San Francisco street. Lucero Gutierrez, the head of the house, suspected his wife of infidelity, and in a moment of madness was maltreating her and at the same time displaying a dirk and threatening her life.

LONDON, April 12.—The House of Commons was again densely crowded this evening, as it was announced that Lord Randolph Churchill would attack Gladstone's Home-Rule bill.

LONDON, April 12.—The House of Commons was again densely crowded this evening, as it was announced that Lord Randolph Churchill would attack Gladstone's Home-Rule bill.

THE House Committee has reported favorably on forming the new territory of Oklahoma.—The labor troubles continue in the West; the situation at St. Louis is unchanged; the laborers have struck at Galveston, Texas; Jay Gould has been bitterly denounced.—Perry Belmont is in favor of the exclusion of Chinese laborers who come into competition with Americans.—Ex-President Arthur is very much improved in health.—The Astor House property fight in New York has been settled.—M. de Lesseps has declared that no tidal barrier will be needed at the Pacific terminus of the Panama canal.—The Haytian revolutionists are reported to be preparing for a larger revolution than ever in Hayti.—Another railway is projected along the grand canal in China.

LOCAL NEWS.

To-day is Good Friday.

Hot cross buns are the order of the day.

For Barry's "Tricopherous" go to Benson, Smith & Co.

Large numbers of idle Chinamen were parading the streets yesterday and last evening.

Messrs. Wing Wo Chan & Co., have a temporary office in the store of C. Afong, Nuuanu street.

Spaulding's Official Base Ball Guide for 1886, has arrived and is now for sale at Thurm's and Oat's.

Fifty-six Chinese and fifteen Japanese have taken passage by the City of Rio Janeiro for Yokohama and Hong Kong.

A cabin passenger on board the City of Rio de Janeiro, named J. Gill, died on the passage from San Francisco.

Two cases of smallpox are reported amongst the Chinese passengers on board the steamship City of Rio de Janeiro.

Several sailors from H. B. M. S. Heroine were making an unusual racket on Fort and Queen streets last evening. They had got a little too much grog aboard.

Geo. Dunn was arrested last evening on a charge of drunkenness, he having been found prowling around the residence of Mr. G. W. Smith on Kukui street, in a state of intoxication.

The continuation of the Hawaiian legend entitled "Keinohonawanui and Kaleleluauka," is crowded out of today's issue on account of the abundance of foreign news. It will be continued as soon as space permits.

A wooden building, belonging to Mr. Colburn, is in process of erection on King street, near Maunakea, makai side. Mr. Olds is also erecting a square building on the makai side of Hotel, near Nuuanu street.

One hundred and nine more poverty stricken heathens arrived here from San Francisco by the steamship City of Rio de Janeiro, yesterday, and were landed at the quarantine station. Where does the Chinese Restriction Act come in?

The S. S. Mararoa may be expected here any time to-day or to-morrow. Owing to the non-arrival of the English mails at San Francisco, and the repairing of parts of her machinery, she was detained and was to leave San Francisco on or about the 16th inst.

In another column appears the removal notice of Lewis & Co. This firm since its inception has steadily advanced in public favor. By strict attention to business and unvarying courtesy to all, they hope to merit increased patronage at their new stand, No. 111 Fort street.

The jolly tars were doing the equine act yesterday to an ad libitum extent. All along our streets could be seen Her Majesty's marines guiding the fiery, untamed couriers. Some of them shouted "let go" when they wished more speed, and "belay" when they wished a halt.

A large crowd gathered at the Shooting Gallery last evening to witness the shooting of some of the contestants for the prizes. As the score stands now, Mr. C. K. Miller is in the lead with a score of 22, out of a possible 25. The tickets for the match have been mostly all sold, only a small number remaining.

Mr. E. B. Thomas, the contractor, will commence tearing down the walls of the large brick building on Nuuanu between King and Hotel streets, which was occupied by Chu Lan & Co., and which was destroyed by the late fire. A new building will be erected on the same spot as soon as the walls are removed.

Two man-of-war's men had some difficulty in the Royal saloon yesterday morning. By mutual consent they adjourned to the back yard to settle it. It was settled to the satisfaction of one and the dissatisfaction of the other, when the gallant police hero in sight and took them both in charge. They will now have an opportunity to adjust the matter with the Police Justice, who has taken no part in the matter as yet.

One hundred and twenty persons were fed by the Relief Committee yesterday, and one hundred on the day before. An employment office will shortly be opened by the Committee. The prompt and timely assistance rendered the unfortunate sufferers reflects great credit on the Committee and its agent.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of F. Horn, confectioner and baker, appearing in this issue. Mr. Horn's business was established in 1863 and has thus far stood the shocks of time and even fire. His facilities for manufacturing are unequalled and his skill is the result of long experience and information.

The following notice appears in Oat's window: "J. M. Oat—The steamer State of California collided this morning with the bktn. Portland, and was cut down to the water's edge. The Portland had bow stove in and lost bowsprit, stem, etc. The Mararoa is postponed until April 15th on account of mails being delayed by an accident to the Britannia, April 7th, 1886."

Mr. W. H. Richardson, who was formerly with Benson, Smith & Co., will open a drug store at the corner of Sixteenth and Market streets, San Francisco, on or about the first of June. Residents of the Islands while visiting San Francisco, and needing anything in the drug line, may be sure of prompt and gentlemanly attention by calling at Mr. Richardson's place of business.

The S. S. City of Rio de Janeiro, Captain Cobb, arrived and anchored off port early yesterday morning, a little more than eight days from San Francisco. During the first five days she experienced strong S. W. winds, with heavy sea; thence to port moderate N. E. winds and fine weather. She has nine cabin and several hundred Chinese passengers in transit for Yokohama and Hong Kong. She sails for the above ports some time during the day.

The mail yesterday brings the sad intelligence of the death of Mr. E. N. Walker, on the 7th inst., at Santa Cruz, Cal., from injuries sustained by being thrown from his wagon three days previous. He leaves a widow and several children to mourn his loss. Mr. Walker was formerly a cane planter at Pahala, Kau, Hawaii, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. Mrs. Walker and family have the sympathy of relatives and a large circle of friends on these Islands.

They say: That the Mararoa will be here next Saturday sure; that the famous Campobello troupe will come with her; that the first operatic concert will be given next Tuesday night; that the Chinese merchants who can afford it are renting stores in the haale district for the time being; that the news from the United States is not of a very interesting nature; that there are several romances connected with the late fire which are being told piecemeal; that the Minister of the Interior is greatly to blame for the disappearance of the volcano; that the report that the Mararoa had given us the "go by" started from a paragraph in the Sydney Herald; that there have already been over a hundred plans offered for rebuilding the burnt district; that the cry about the natives being against the Chinese was raised for a political purpose without political prudence; that the members of the Legislature from the other Islands will all be in town by the end of the week; that it has now transpired what beat Frank Brown in the late election; that the hope of better times is springing from the ashes of the fire; that the good work at the Immigration Depot is being carried on bravely; that there was a very, very select party in Honolulu last night; that there is some dissatisfaction about certain base ball changes; that the clubs ought to remember that in unity there is strength; that the Bethel Church is to be rebuilt soon; that the demolishing of buildings in the burnt district will be continued to-day; that the Honolulu Rifles are the prettiest company in town; that the new Postmaster had to pull off his coat and vest last night and "fall to"; that the Post Office is to have some needed improvements soon; that there will be no use denying it about the sailors this time; that the mail was brought ashore from the Rio de Janeiro yesterday evening; and that we will likely have two more mails within the next week.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. held their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. This was a meeting adjourned one week owing to the death of Mr. L. L. Rice, father of Mrs. J. M. Whitney, the President. After devotional exercises, Mrs. A. B. Southwick read an interesting paper on the "Hereditry of Drink." Formerly, any defect in the human body or mind was attributed to the visitation of a just and angry God. Now, however, the laws of our physical being are better understood. They are as immutable as those that govern the universe. These mental and physical defects are the direct consequences of a violation of these laws. The sins of the father are visited upon the children. Death annually claims thousands of victims who have entered life without sufficient vitality to battle with existence. Statistics show that drunkenness of the present is the principal cause of impaired systems, shattered frames, imbecility, idiocy, apoplexy, and premature death in the offspring. It is sad to realize the craving for strong drink that is transmitted to children Social or moderate drinking should be discouraged if strong and healthy children are to be brought into the world. Plato, Plutarch, Aristotle and other early philosophers recognized the doctrine of hereditary transmission and denounced the injurious effects of intemperance. An instance was adduced from our midst of a youth who after years of abstinence, took his first drink and is now a confirmed drunkard at the age of nineteen. His father was a drunkard. The taste was not acquired but inherited.

After the report of the various committees, the meeting adjourned.

Y. M. C. A.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. adjourned on the 15th, was held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall with J. B. Atherton in the chair. Under the head of unfinished business the Society listened to the report of the Treasurer, Thos. S. Southwick:

Table with columns: RECEIPTS, DISBURSEMENTS. Includes items like 'Amt. rec'd from membership dues', 'Salary of Secretary', 'Major Dues for lectures', etc.

Total receipts for the year, $3,188 60. Balance on hand from last year, $327 44. Total, $3,516 04.

Table with columns: RECEIPTS, DISBURSEMENTS. Includes items like 'Major Dues for lectures', 'Pacific Hardware Co.', 'Auction sale for chairs and table', etc.

Report of Devotional Committee, W. A. Bowen chairman, showed 124 noonday meetings with a total attendance of 1,367, average 11. Fifty Sunday evening sessions. Total 2,143, average 43. Two special Sunday meetings. Total 104, average 52.

Report of Temperance Committee showed 49 meetings. Largest attendance 48, smallest 8, average 21. The Committee on Entertainment, Theo. H. Davies, chairman, then made a report of the entertainments held during the year past.

The Committee on Reading Room and Library reported through W. W. Hall for its chairman, Dr. Hyde, 14,248 visitors, average daily, 40. A list of the periodicals supplied and donated was also read.

The General Secretary reported on the work done for eleven months during his incumbency, and in glowing terms detailed his gratification at the cordiality which greeted him on every hand. Fifty-two names have been added to the roll making now an active membership of 210. There have been 12 meetings of the Board of Directors with a total of 66, average 5. Donations, two maps from the Hawaiian Government and 135 cane seat chairs. The retiring President then delivered an address, subject "Sabbath," after which with appropriate remarks he installed his successor W. A. Bowen, who delivered his inaugural. On motion of Mr. A. F. Judd arrangements are to be made with the editors of the Friend to publish the proceedings, reports, etc., of the meeting, and also Mr. Atherton's retiring address. The chair then appointed committees for the coming year. Owing to want of space the publication of the names of committees will be postponed till to-morrow's issue.

After singing a hymn the meeting adjourned to the contemplation of ice cream, and if the interest had been great before it now became perfectly fervid. Mr. Theo. H. Davies announced a social next Tuesday night, to which fifty marines from each man-of-war were to be invited. He extended a cordial invitation to all present to participate. He said ice cream would be a feature. Tremendous applause.

Report on Streets in the Burnt District. The following improvements and surveys are recommended by the committee of citizens appointed by His Honor, the Chief Justice of the Hawaiian Kingdom, to aid the Minister of the Interior and Legislature in arriving at a decision in regard to the future redividing of the district. The committee recommends:

- 1. The widening of Bethel street through-out its length to fifty (50) feet, from the Ewa side of the Post Office.
2. The widening of Rose Lane to forty (40) feet, from the Waikiki side of Messrs. Castle & Cooke's premises.
3. The widening of Nuuanu street, between King and Hotel streets, to fifty (50) feet, from the present line on the Ewa side.
4. The widening and straightening of the line of Smith and Meek streets to a clear width of fifty (50) feet, from Beretania to King streets, as indicated on the accompanying map.
5. The widening and straightening of Maunakea street to a clear width of fifty (50) feet throughout its length, condemning for this purpose as far as possible an equal area on each side of the present street line.

6. The opening of a new street of fifty (50) feet clear width from the proposed extension of Hotel street to the proposed extension of Queen street, parallel with and one hundred and eighty (180) feet north-westerly from the proposed new line of Maunakea street.

7. The extension of Queen street, from the Fish Market to King street, with a clear width of fifty (50) feet, as indicated on the map.

8. The widening of King street to a clear width of fifty-six (56) feet, running south from Hasilliaman bridge, as indicated on the map.

9. The widening and extension of Hotel street to the full width of fifty (50) feet, from its present mauka side, beginning at the Ewa side of the Campbell block and running northwesterly to the Nuuanu stream.

10. The opening of a new street of a clear width of fifty (50) feet, which shall commence at a point on the Ewa side of Nuuanu street, two hundred and fifty (250) feet mauka of Hotel street, and run northwesterly parallel with Hotel street to the Nuuanu stream, and at a distance of eighty (80) feet from said stream, a new street, running in a general manner, parallel with the stream to King street as indicated on the map.

CHANGE FROM PREVIOUS METHODS.

In the Treatment of the Victims of Alcoholism - Gradual Learning.

A controversy has arisen in and about the Inebriate home at Fort Hamilton, down the bay. The difference is in opinion as to whether sets under curative treatment ought to have alcoholic drink. It used to be the practice in this institution to deprive the patient altogether of liquor from the moment of their entrance, and no form of alcohol was put into the medicine administered. A radical change of medical policy has been made whereby a tapering-off process is employed; and this is assailed by the total-abstinence people on both moral and physical grounds.

The departure from previous methods in such institutions is chiefly due to Dr. Lewis Mason, the home's consulting physician, and upon him the wrath of the radicals descends. He says: "I have had an anym experience of almost twenty years, and I am fully satisfied that no hard drinker should be suddenly cut off from all intoxicants, but that his supply should be gradually reduced until a point of total abstinence is reached. In this home and others I have seen that awful sufferings result from the usual mode of treatment. The inebriates are brought in with their nervous systems all quiver, their digestion disarranged and their appetite for stimulants wildly aroused."

"We formerly shut them off entirely and spells of delirium tremens commonly followed. Hardly a patient escaped a period of this acute mania. We were loath to let any drinking be done in the home on general principles, but we have had to come to the belief that we were mistaken in that view of the subject. We now administer ale, but sometimes distilled liquor, beginning with as much as a pint of malt fluid every two hours until the patient sleeps naturally. Then we diminish the quantity and frequency, so that usually in a week or two he is a total abstinence man." The condemnors of this plan will undertake to thwart it by appeal to the courts.—New York Cor. Chicago Tribune.

Misdeeds of Macedonia Highwaymen. The Haidouk bands, composed of Greeks, Bulgarians, Arnauts, and Vallocks, are so numerous that no one is in safety. They attack solitary travelers and caravans, besides villages, levy contributions on inhabitants, and even carry off as hostages public functionaries and influential citizens from large towns.

In addition to the misdeeds of highwaymen and the maltreatment of functionaries Macedonia suffers from the rapacity of another set of vultures perhaps even more insatiable—the clergy, which, whether Muselman or Christian, shows that its understanding of its mission is to grind down its parishioners. The first teach that it is praiseworthy to kill an infidel and incites to violence knowing that impunity is certain, as in that case at Okride in 1879, when a wedding breakfast party was fired into and the bride shot dead, as also were her two bridesmaids, for which the murderers were reprimanded by the governor, while the moblar remarked publicly, "that it surely would not have happened if those kiupeks [dogs] had sent him a present!"

Of the other class quite as much evil may be said. If they do not actually murder they instigate its commission, and no one ever pretended to doubt that when a newly-appointed curate at Katorska fell dead at the altar it was the former incumbent who poisoned the chalice to prevent his own removal by the despot, or bishop, by whom he had been warned that "only the direct interference of God could prevent his removal, as the stranger papas had paid the 250 which were in arrears on diocesan dues." This is textual, and the case is authentic!—Paris Cor. New York Times.

Steel Railroads Over in England. It is something less than thirty years since George Francis Train obtained power to lay down an experimental tramway from Kensington common to Winchester road, a distance of about a mile, and, although the work was most unsatisfactory to the promoter, as it had to be taken up at his own expense after a very short existence, in it we must recognize the germ of a great industry from which the public is, perhaps, deriving greater advantage than those whose money has brought about its development.

The experimental mile has now grown to 650 miles in England and Wales alone, representing a total expended capital of £2,818,074 out of the authorized £4,951,846. These miles and money are divided between 130 undertakings, which gives an average length of a little under five miles for each, with an average capital of £22,155. This is made up, of course, of small lines in remote provincial towns and undertakings of greater magnitude by which the metropolises and large cities are served, from Blackpool, with its mile and a quarter of road, constructed at a cost of some £7,000, to Liverpool, London, and Manchester, where the capital is counted by hundreds of thousands.—Philadelphia Record.

Custom of Wearing Wraps in Church. A heavy silk plush, fur-trimmed wrap is the fashionable rage among the women this season. The silk plush coat of this year is trimmed with either or beaver fur, from three to six inches deep. Even a seal skin coat without trimming is not so fat, although it is not altogether without caste.

One of the most eminent specialists upon diseases of the throat and lungs says that the improper use of heavy cloaking in this climate has been the cause of more diseases of the throat and lungs than anything he knows of. "But," said he hopelessly, "they will wear them if they all die, and I am only given credit for having a spite against the furriers. Women go in heated rooms with these heavy wraps on, and with a heavy collar about their necks. They keep on the cloaks until they are in a profuse perspiration; then they throw back the collars and half unbutton the garments. Perhaps in a few minutes they go out in the cold air again, and do not close up the coats until warmed by chilly blasts that buttons are needed. But this is not all. Such garments are too warm for this section, and are not safe outdoor wraps even; except in the coldest weather.—Chicago Times.

Upon an Economical Basis. King Humbert, of Italy, it is said, recently quarreled with Queen Margherita because she insisted upon having strawberries every day in the year. Peace was finally declared upon the economical basis of two plates of strawberries a week for the queen.—Detroit Free Press.

First Poem Written in Oregon. An Oregon old-timer says the first poem ever "rhymed" in that country was by a Yamhill woman. It reads: "The Willamette valley is the prettiest place that ever was made; It lies between the Coast range and the Cascade; In the spring of the year, just after the rains, there are lots of wild geese, and a few blue cranes.—Exchange.

The Smithsonian institute no longer gives away its publications, but offers them for sale at about cost price.
