NATIONAL GUARD FLURRY OVER DUTY OF TERRITORIAL EMPLOYEES

'TIS FINALLY SETTLED TO SATISFACTION OF ALL

What promised to be a beautiful row broke out between C. H. Merriam, Territorial Registrar of Conveyances, and the National Guard this morning. Upon the upshot of the trouble appeared to depend the very life and existence of the Guard. It is settled now and peace reigns forever, thanks to the diplomacy of the Acting Governor and Merriam's good sense.

President Chas. K. Notley of the Home Rule party is very indignant at George R. Carter and W. F. Frear, the former and the present Governor of the Territory of Hawaii. NATIONAL GUARD

Just at this time any action which would tend to injure the National Guard or cause any of the men to have to drop out in order to hold their positions would be very unfortunate. As is announced elsewhere in this issue, orders have been received from the War Department that the National Guard of Hawaii must be recruited up to a full regiment if it is to receive its share of the Federal appropriation for National Guards. This means that the number of men now in the organization must be nearly doubled. This is going to be a rather hard proposition, as already the percentage of men belonging to the Guard is much higher than in any other community. Four new companies must be raised in Honolulu alone.

For this reason the Acting Governor is very anxious to have peace between the Guard and the heads of departments. At the same time he states his position unequivocally. Membership in the National Guard is not to be a prejudice to any man's holding his job in any department of the Government.

The matter thus appears to be settled and the Government still lives. The same difficulty has arisen in virtually every other State and Territory, and the Federal Government has taken the ground that nothing should be allowed to interfere with the efficiency of the organized militia. In some States the matter has been fought out in the courts, with decisions in favor of the guardsmen.

GOVERNOR'S VIEWS

The Governor's office gave out the following statement:

In connection with the service on the National Guard, the Acting Governor this morning took up the question as to whether or not the requirements of such service decreased or interfered with the efficiency of the several departments of the Government, by reason of withdrawing men employed in such departments for the time required for such service.

The particular question arose by reason of the fact that four men of the office of the Registrar of Conveyances are National Guardsmen. The Registrar submitted to the Acting Governor that the withdrawal of these men for service on the National Guard would interfere with the efficiency of his department.

After the conference, however, the Acting Governor stated that the National Guard, as well as other departments of the Government was a department in the efficiency of which the Executive is equally concerned. For this reason, the chief was called on to see to it that the National Guard for such times as the reception of the Governor or other such occasions. The National Guard is required to drill... under consideration, as it is deemed advisable that for the purpose of administration the regimental organization should be maintained, and it is therefore desirable that other companies will be organized.

Consistently the National Guard is called out for parade and inspection by the Executive and this, for the reasons above stated, is usually done on a Saturday. In order to promote the efficiency of the Guard and to insure its conformity with the rules and regulations of the United States Army, the Guard is usually called out for about the preceding or succeeding day.

In view of the fact of the security offered by the presence of the National Guard and the necessity of its establishment as evidenced by the establishment of National Guards throughout every state in the Union, such service is not altogether too much to require.

With a view of maintaining the efficiency not only of the National Guard, but of the other departments, care is exercised by the Executive in requiring such service and when such service is required the Executive has in view the efficiency of the other departments of the Government. When the Executive calls out the National Guard, it expects that the call will be responded to, as it is the policy of the Executive to maintain and increase the efficiency of the Guard as one of the Departments of the Government.

ORDER DOES NOT COME FROM WAR DEPARTMENT

Adjutant General Jones of the National Guard desires to correct the statement made that orders have been received from the War Department that the National Guard of Hawaii must consist of twelve companies. He made the following statement this afternoon:

The statement in the Advertiser this morning that orders have been received from the War Department to increase the strength of the National Guard of this Territory to a full regiment, is a misconception. The ruling of the Department in its recent orders is that all regiments of infantry shall consist of twelve companies. Under that ruling with our present organization we would have one infantry and two detached companies of artillery. The organization of such companies is a matter entirely for the local authorities to determine. At the present time the matter of the advisability of increasing the strength of the Guard is

AMERICAN FINANCE

By JOHN PAUL RYAN BEGINNING IN THE JANUARY

METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE

The first instalment goes into the causes of the October panic; its effect on all wage-earners as well as on men of means; it shows you why trust companies have privileges denied National banks; it opens to you for the first time the doors of the dramatic secret conferences between the millionaires, philanthropists, and Government officers which helped to carry the country over the crisis; it tells you how the people have suffered through carelessness and mismanagement.

All this is in January. In succeeding instalments Mr. Ryan will consider the question of currency and the commercial, industrial, and financial future of America and Americans as it may be conditioned by war, politics or the tariff.

FRIDAY JANUARY 10, 1908

It is always worth while for Honolulu to stand by the booster policy.

"When in doubt take Optimism" does not appeal to a man without honor or a despised knocker.

Hepburn's bills for Hawaii have always been reasonably certain of the favorable consideration of Congress.

Increase of the National Guard to a full-sized regiment will have a good effect on the service in Hawaii by bringing in a larger representation from the outside districts.

Schmitz and Ruff free will furnish another opportunity for San Francisco to show whether it is really tired of being good, and is willing to let them stay free if they so desire.

A writer in Success says the Chinese Government can stop the massacre of Europeans when it wants to. The recent cablegram reports indicate that the Government is not as strong as he supposed.

Delegate Kuhio is a member of the House Committee on Territories at the request of the Committee's chairman. That's a pretty good recommendation of the desire of the Committee that Hawaii be represented.

Senator Hale's proposal to increase the pay of the men in the Navy is good. As to the technicalities of the consideration due officers of the line and those not officers of the line, all the people want is a decision that will assuredly increase the efficiency of the American Navy.

KUHIO'S COMMITTEE PLACE.

The extracts from the Congressional Record published in this issue puts a quietus on all political campaigns that were hatching as a result of Speaker Cannon's failure to appoint Delegate Kuhio to the House Committee on Territories.

Hawaii's Delegate though left off the Speaker's slate gained membership by the unanimous consent of his fellow Congressmen and possibly strengthens his position as a result. It is quite probable that the plan of finally placing Kuhio on the committee was understood before the appointments were made. Not having a vote in the House or in the Committee, the Delegate could well afford to give way to the desire of the Speaker to place a voting friend on the committee.

The position of a Territorial Delegate on the committee in any event is a matter of courtesy. And, received at the hands of the House by unanimous consent, there is no occasion for any unpleasant feelings over the matter.

There is no doubt that Hawaii's interests are being well guarded at Washington and the Territory's friends have not become less.

HAWAII'S IMMIGRATION BILL

A favorable report for Hawaii's immigration bill is a good point gained for increased European immigration to these islands.

The people of the islands have been led to believe that this amendment to the immigration law cannot pass this Congress. We know of no reason to doubt this information, but having got the measure so quickly through the House committee and before the House, there is always a possibility that it may find one of the loopholes by which amendments go through in a twinkling.

In view of the action of the committee it is particularly fortunate that the record in Hawaii has not been complicated by the Chinese immigration matter. It will indeed be an assistance just as this time to have the fact known that the principal business organization of Honolulu has taken the position of doing one thing at a time.

The European labor program is the one for the leaders of this Territory to stick by until it is put through. After that, it is time enough to consider what should then be done.

CIVICS AND CEMETERIES.

The resumption of the cemetery agitation renews the hope that this really important problem for the city of Honolulu may finally reach a settlement.

Every Board of Health for the last ten years has had periodical struggles with the subject and little progress has been made. Reports presented to the Board from time to time show there is still work to be done and the recommendations made by the Board itself recognize the fact.

The subject has apparently been a hard one to deal with because people protest at the thought of the remains of dear ones being disturbed by an official mandate, yet don't hesitate to use a burial ground that is perhaps insanitary and where old graves are disturbed in making a place for the new.

It has been said of more than one good cause which involves public protest from some sections of a community, that it has to advance gradually in order to allow the sharp edge of the protest to wear off, or the community sections to become educated. If the Civic Federation has tackled the subject at the psychological moment to overcome the last protest all those interested are to be congratulated.

Hawaii Is After All Possible

"The Hawaiian Government wants everything it can lay its hands on," cried Lieutenant-Colonel Anderson, of the United States Inspection Service, laughing to a representative of the Bulletin this afternoon. "Here the Hawaiian people want us to turn a lot of country land and city lots over to them and we are suffering a constant drain on the Treasury all the time because of the high rents we pay for what buildings are used here."

"Seriously, though, there is nothing of any moment or importance connected with my visit here; just the routine inspection visit. It was here on the same business last March. I have been inspecting a little, but everything is so well-ordered here that there is nothing for me to do. Consequently I am just loafing and enjoying myself in the Garden of the Palace, and that is all I intend to do until I leave."

Colonel Anderson travels continually inspecting the various foreign departments for the U. S. Government. He came down on the China, and will return on the Mongolia.

MRS. SPALDING DIES ON COAST

A cable message was received here yesterday announcing the death in Los Angeles of Mrs. S. S. Spaulding of Kaula. Since 1889 Mrs. Spaulding has been living abroad, principally in Italy, on account of her health. During the past year she came and lived in Los Angeles, where she had improved in health. She died of paralysis last Wednesday night. Col. Spaulding is on his way to meet his wife, having left here in the Alameda last Wednesday. Mrs. Spaulding was the eldest daughter of the late Captain and Mrs. Makee. She was born in March 1847, and married to Col. Spaulding thirty-five years ago.

Two sons and three daughters survive. The sons are Rufus and James Spaulding, and the daughters are Mrs. Brodero, the Countess Senni, and the Countess Bonzi.

Mrs. Spaulding was a sister of Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Mrs. Noonan, Mrs. George Herbert, Mrs. Hastings, Mrs. Clarence V. Macfarlane and Chas. Makee.

There was also a falling off in taxes collected on personal property last year, but $147,907.51 being collected in Honolulu against $156,741.51 the year before. The amount collected in the whole island in 1907 was $341,731.74.

HAWAII DEMOCRATS

It appears from the dispatch sent to the Columbus Sun of Georgia that the Democrats of Hawaii were bunched with Porto Rico in the person of the Hon. Hoke Smith. The following dispatch tells the story:

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 12.—(Special.)—According to the varying accounts received here, Governor Hoke Smith is very much of an expansive statesman.

Some time ago Governor Smith secured the proxy of a member of the National Democratic Executive Committee, and has been attending the meeting of that body in Washington today.

According to the Journal, Governor Smith held the proxy of the committeeman from Porto Rico, while a special dispatch to the Constitution today states that he is representing Palmer P. Woods, of Hawaii. It is a little difficult to state, therefore, whether the Governor is representing Porto Rico or Hawaii on the committee, but it would perhaps be safe to put him somewhere between the two. The Governor's visit to Washington with a committee proxy was somewhat of a surprise to the politicians, but Governor Smith is accus-

tom to dealing out political surprises, and others may be looked for. That the Governor went to Washington determined to be heard from in the councils of the committee, there is no question here. It is pretty well understood that his purpose is to get on the next national committee.

CEMETERY SITUATION

Mr. Castle further gave a description of some of the fearful conditions which he had found in some of the best-known cemeteries of the city, where old coffins and skeletons have been unearthed during recent burials. It is the intention of the committee to make a complete tabulated statement, showing the size and character of each cemetery, the number of burials and the vacant space left in each and such other facts as have a bearing on the subject.

ROSENBERG'S FATE DEPENDS UPON NAILS

The trial of Rosenberg, the junkman, who is charged this time with buying fifteen pounds of stolen brass nails, is proceeding along the same lines as the previous trial which was abruptly ended by the Judge. The same witnesses, the four boys, are being used by the prosecution, and their stories all appear to agree closely.
David Kuela, the first witness on the stand this morning, told a straight story which severe cross-examination failed to shake. He related how he and Ben Duncan on the last Sunday of August went to the Government shed on the quarantine wharf, broke into it, and stole some brass lamps and fifteen pounds of brass nails.
These they took to a Korean and sold. A week later, after they had been arrested, they went with Officer Reeves, U. S. District Attorney Breckons, and others, to Rosenberg's place and found the nails.
On cross-examination, A. G. M. Robertson, Rosenberg's attorney, asked the boy how he knew the nails offered in evidence were the same nails which he stole and sold. He said the weight was the same and the nails were new and had never been used.
"How do you know that these are not the nails?" asked Robertson, producing a basket containing fifteen pounds of brass nails. The boy looked them over and shook his head. "There are crooked nails here," he said. "No crooked nails was in those I sold the Korean." Repeated questions failed to shake his evidence or his identification of the nails offered in evidence as the ones he stole. Robertson moved to strike out his testimony and the nails, but the motion was overruled.

KUKONA GOT AWAY WITH KHAKI SUIT

Private Henry Kukona, Co. I, of the National Guard, was this morning summoned before United States Attorney Breckons on the charge of having taken property of the United States, to-wit: portions of the uniform furnished by the War Department and issued to Company I of Wailuku, Maui Private Kukona left Maui, bringing the property to Honolulu and was apprehended by United States Marshal Hendry with the property in his possession.
Orders have been issued by the War Department that no uniform or parts thereof are to be used for private purposes or any other purpose than that of the organized militia, and in conformity therewith orders have been issued to the National Guard of Hawaii that all such property is to be kept in the armories.
This is the first arrest made, but Kukona will not be prosecuted, as he returned the property, and the desire on the part of the Government is to have this case serve as a warning to several other members of the Guard who are wearing Government property. All members of the National Guard to whom property has been issued, and who retain or do not account for the same, or who use the same for private purposes, are subject to similar prosecution by the United States Attorney. The penalty for retaining United States Government property or using it for private purposes may be five years' imprisonment.
The Federal officials will render every assistance to the local militia authorities to stop the practice of wearing United States uniforms or any part thereof for private purposes.

IN WOMAN'S WORLD

THAT DOUBLE CHIN.

When reducing a double chin by massage, shrink the flesh on the neck or the skin there will be loose and flabby after the cushion of fat has been rubbed away. To tighten the skin during this vigorous treatment use astringents constantly.

In massaging away the flesh applications of some smooth preparation are essential to prevent the fingers from adhering to the skin during the rubbing.

The actual massaging must be done vigorously and with such strength that flesh will be literally rubbed away. If only slight pressure is used the stroking will be developing. Without exception all the rubbing must be done with an upward stroke. This is because a downward motion would make the muscles sag and the whole face would become drooping in effect.

Simple Movements will Reduce Chin.
Very simple are movements to be used when only the chin is to be reduced. For this work the face should be wet with the lotion or cream; if the latter be employed, then the tips of the fingers of both hands are placed touching each other directly under the middle of the chin.

With firm pressure an upward stroke is made until the ears are reached, the fingers sliding along until at the completion of the movement the whole hand is flat against the face on each side. This motion should be repeated for at least ten minutes.

When that has been gone through with one begins again under the chin, this time drawing the hands across the throat back to the under part of the jawbones.

Lastly, one puts the fingers a little above the tip of the chin and draws them back until the middle of the ears are reached.

Massage Chin Regularly Each Night.
At least ten minutes and preferably fifteen, should be consumed each night in taking this treatment, and if one has time it will hasten the cure to repeat the operation in the morning. Another help in the work is always to soak the face in hot water before beginning to rub. This is not imperative, although it is taken for granted that the skin will be quite containing the brooch was opened, and the jewels shone forth in great splendor. The globe trotter's wife, a delicate looking woman, who seemed to be fired out following her husband around the world, admired it immensely.

"Anything more of me?" asked the expert after stating that the jewels were the same or at least of equal value to those he had seen at the store.

"Nothing more, thank you," replied the customer, slipping a bill into her hand. "Now," he continued to the jeweler, "I want this brooch with these identical jewels, and you want $5,500 in good money. I don't ask you to trust me, and I wouldn't trust anybody. I once bought a diamond in Constantinople, and before I got it into my possession a paste facsimile had been substituted. What I propose is this: I will put the brooch in this little box, seal it up, stamped with my own seal and you take it back to the store with my check for $5,500. As soon as the check is pronounced good at the bank you send me the box, still sealed. What do you think of that?"

"I think it an unusual method."

"Very well, if you object I suppose we shall have to call the sale off. I don't come to take."

"As you like," said the jeweler, who knew there was $500 profit in the transaction.

The globe trotter placed the brooch in the box, put a piece of wrapping paper about it, tied with a string, sealed it with a ring he wore on his little finger and was about to hand it to the jeweler when the wife shrieked and put her hand to her heart. For a moment all eyes were turned to her, then, recovering, she said:

"Don't mind me. It's only one of those sharp pains I have so often."

The husband, with an anxious expression, advancing to her, handed the box and a check to the jeweler as he passed and, apparently dismissing everything else than his wife's condition, stood over her fainting her. The jeweler withdrew, expressing a word of sympathy before closing the door.

The next day the protest clerk of the bank on which the check had been drawn called on the jeweler and presented the check, on which was written "No Funds." A suspicion that something was wrong came at once to the jeweler, who took the box from the safe, broke the seal, destroying the imprint of a very pretty crest, and took out a bit of newspaper. No brooch was there.

A telephone to the hotel elicited the information that the globe trotter and wife had gone on, trotting with ten minutes after the jeweler had left the hotel. The trick consisted in changing the box for one exactly like it when the trotter's wife shrieked, thus momentarily withdrawing the jeweler's attention.

Notwithstanding the police made a special effort to capture the thieves and the brooch, neither was ever found. F. TOWNSEND SMITH.

The Globe Trotters.

"Will you show me some bracelets?" asked a modest looking man, very gentle in appearance and wearing clothes of a British cut.

The clerk pulled out a tray of gold bracelets, and the gentleman looked them over critically.

"Talk about the jewelry abroad," the customer remarked in a pleasant voice, "I think our American jewelry is much more tasteful. I've bought over the stock in London, Paris, Vienna, Berlin and St. Petersburg—I'm a globe trotter, you know—and I give you my word I've not seen any such unique designs as these."

After hesitating a long while between two or three bracelets he bought one for $50, paid for it by check from a pocket check book and told the jeweler to send it to the hotel as soon as the check was reported to be good.

The next morning, the check having been pronounced "good," the bracelet was delivered.

A week later the same gentleman strolled into the same jewelry store and asked to see some diamond solitaire rings. The same clerk waited on him and drew forth a case containing diamonds worth from $10 to $100.

"Something better, please," said the customer, and putting back the tray, the clerk pulled out another with gems of far greater value.

"Rings are the same everywhere," said the customer after looking over the lot. "Let me see some brooches. Ah, these are better. There is more chance for originality in design. By Jove, that's a beauty! Quilt price? 'Pon my word, I've stopped so often in Paris that I forgot I was in America. How much, I mean?"

"Fifty-five hundred dollars."

"Isn't that a big price?"

"There are two diamonds in it worth $2,500 each used."

The gentleman looked longingly at the brooch, went away, came back the same afternoon, looked over the stock again and again clung to the brooch.

"I'm unaccustomed to American ways," he said to the clerk. "I don't know anything about this house, and, though I'm a fair judge of diamonds, I don't like to put so much money into them without the opinion of an expert. Would your house consider it improper for me to bring an expert here to look at this brooch?"

"Certainly not."

So the customer went out and the next day brought an expert, who pronounced the diamonds of the first water, and the customer, being satisfied, requested that the brooch be sent to his hotel for his wife's approval. That afternoon it was brought there by a shrewd looking man, who said he was one of the members of the firm. He was obliged to wait till the globe trotter sent for the expert; then the boy clean. Mopping the flesh with hot water will open the pores and make the flesh softer.

After the massage cold water should be dashed over the face or the skin should be wiped with cologne or other toilet water to act as astringent stronger than that used with massage.

As there is no high road to beauty, one will not get rid of a double chin overnight. Six weeks must elapse before one sees any change, but it will come gradually and surely.

SHOE-SHOP VERNACULAR.

"What is a skiver, what a hand stabber, what a crap shaver?"

The speaker, an etymologist, flourished a clipping.

"This is from the 'Want' column of a boot and shoe journal," he said. "It has opened up a new tongue of me. Listen to some of the strangely worded wants:

"Wanted, an experiment calf castrator."
"Wanted, competent crap shavers; none others need apply."
"Wanted, good man in rough stuff, also one used to sorting up."
"Wanted, leg outter."
"Wanted, a good hand stabber, also a girl to finish off."
"Wanted, a good skiver."
"Wanted, sharp lad, to punch and eyelet."
"Smith & Co. require two table carriers."
"Hand closers wanted; girl for socking, and an experienced man at the wicket."

QUEER NAMES.

"We Chinese," said the law student, helping himself to oysters, "give our children queer names. Our girls, for instance, are not called Mabel, Jenny or Mattie, but Cloudy Moon, Celestial Happiness, Spring Peach, or Casket of Perfumes.

"Our boys get less delicious names. Boys are made for work and wisdom rather than for dancing and pleasure, and their names show this, as—Practical Industry, Ancestral Knowledge, Complete Virtue, Ancestral Piety, Discreet Valor.

"To our girls we give still another set of names. Yes, those dear pathetic little slaves of ours, some girls, some boys, who do a hundred various tasks about the house—these lowly creatures have names like Not for Me, Joy to Serve, Your Happiness, and Humble Devotion."

Alabastine,

A Fire-Proof Cement

Alabastine is not only the best inside coating in the world for churches, opera houses, club houses, office buildings and dwellings, but is used everywhere for factories, cotton mills, army posts, plantation buildings, hospitals, asylums, etc., largely on account of its fire-proof properties. Alabastine is perfectly fireproof in its nature, is a cement that can be mixed thick and used in filling cracks, and sets very hard over night. Is cheaper than and superior to paint.

THE SCHOOLS

Sanitarians say that the closely packed school room with the large surface of wall exposure demands careful attention; otherwise is a breeding ground for disease germs and a fruitful source of disease. They recommend Alabastine only. Write for particulars.

THE HOME

Here life is spent. The little ones are born and reared, and are entitled to all the safeguards that the intelligent housewife can surround them with.

Alabastine is not expensive, promotes health, renders home beautiful and is durable. Alabastine is not a kalsomine. Examine package and refuse if not labeled Alabastine.

DON'T forget that Alabastine being durable is worth many times its price as compared with other wall-coating materials, which are dear at any price, and remember there is Only One ALABASTINE.

ALABASTINE is a powder put up in 5-pound packages. We carry it in stock in White and in a large number of beautiful tints. Anyone can mix it with water and apply it, no skill required.

It can be used with splendid results right over old wall paper and the beautiful finish will surprise you.

Let us send you a color card of ALABASTINE.

NEW SPARS AND MAST FOR YACHT

Designer Crownshield
Says Hollow Timbers
Are Better

It is now an assured fact that the mast and spars brought down on the S. C. Allen from Grays Harbor will not be used on the yacht Hawaii. In a recent letter to the Yacht Committee, H. B. Crownshield, the designer of the yacht, made several suggestions for improvements on the yacht, naming the most important as the use of hollow masts and spars. This suggestion was at first thought impracticable on account of the expense involved; but now that Lyle & Sorenson have agreed to take the trees off the hands of the committee, it has been practically decided to order another set. These will probably come overland from some place in the East, and they will be rushed down here as quickly as possible.

The lines of the new yacht are beginning to take on their permanent shapes of symmetrical beauty. There is no doubt but that the boat will prove a source of pride and satisfaction to all, for she certainly is a hummer. One point that has not been spoken about as much nor given as much prominence as it deserves and that is the interior finishing of the boat. When the Hawaii is taken to the Coast she will be the object of more sightseers than almost any other entering the race on account of the distance which she will have travelled in order to start with the rest, and naturally the impression that is given to the visitor on board will be the one that will be talked about. The lines of the yacht are a credit to the builder, the fittings of the yacht will be a credit to the people of Hawaii.

Therefore it behoves everyone to do everything in his power to make the interior of the yacht beautiful. There is no doubt but that the Yacht Committee is exerting itself to the utmost, but this little assembly of men cannot make the yacht a complete success without the cooperation of the people at large. It is to the credit of the people here, and especially to those who have come forward and donated either money, material, or skilled labor, that nothing has yet been suggested for the yacht that has not been forthcoming.

TWO FOOTBALL GAMES TOMORROW AT MAKIKI

The first game of the season for the Honolulu Soccer Football Association will be played tomorrow afternoon at Makiki. There will be two games played, the first one beginning at 2:30 in the afternoon and the other at 3:45 p. m. The teams which will battle for supremacy will be the Punahou A. C. vs. the Diamond Head A. C., and the Y. M. C. A. team vs. the Maile team. Although it is a little early in the season as yet to make any conjectures as to the probable outcome of the championship series, it is acknowledged that both the Punahou and the Diamond Head clubs have some very strong players and these aggregations must be reckoned with when the time comes for figuring out the winners.

All of the players have not been selected as yet. There are several players in each team who have got to work for their positions. Nearly all of the players are old stars at the game, and there are some cracking good contests assured. The following is a list of the probable players in the games tomorrow:

Punahou—Frazier, Spencer, Burnett, McKinnon, Davis, Dodge, Catton (Capt.), Mon Yin, Thompson, MacCauley, Witherton.

Diamond Head—E. Fernandez, Lemon, S. Chillingworth, W. Chillingworth, A. Smythe, R. Chillingworth, D. Sherwood, A. N. O'Her, Jno. Clark, R. Clark, E. Grune.

Y. M. C. A.—Zeliger, Woo, Blackman, Waterhouse, Oss, Anderson, Spalding, Chalmers, Macconell, two others.

WHO WANTS A CHINESE DINNER?

A challenge has been issued by the members of the Alliance baseball team to the Chinese A. C. team to play a match game of ball, the losers to come through with a good old-fashioned "chop-suey" dinner, the kind that mother used to cook. With the take a Chinese dinner there is no doubt but that the game will be fought hard. The following is the unique challenge which was sent out by the Alliance boys. Their original names are given.

Honolulu, T. H., Jan. 9, 1908.
To the Manager of the Chinese Athletic Club, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Dear Sir:—The Alliance Baseball team hereby challenges your team to a game of baseball on February 3rd, 1908, 1:30 o'clock p. m., at Aala park, for a Chinese dinner. Our players are to be selected from the following:

P. Lou, "Orator" Tom Ayoy, "Pretty" Ernest Loo, "Ice Wagon" Chang Yow, "Handsome" E. S. Kong, "Butter" Kau (asst. mascot), "Alec" Eddie Ayau, "Smoothy" Ching Yet, "Studdios" Chang Loy, "Banker" Chas. Ahook, "Valedictorian" Ho Tong, "Daisy Waikiki" Akana.

Respectfully yours,
THE ALLIANCE BASEBALL TEAM.

ANOTHER TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The Miller street tennis court, the property of the Portuguese church, is to be the scene of a lively tournament some time in March. These courts are played upon by three clubs composed of single men, married men and ladies. The single men and the married men have entered into a dual league. Fifteen single sets have been signed for.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS

The annual field meet of the High School takes place a bit earlier this year than it did last. It is planned to have the inter-class meet two weeks before the big March meet, when all the athletes of the Island come together. The High's meet will be in the nature of a try-out, as the High School intends to put up a team in competition for running honors, as well as for the other events which are a feature of the March meet. Such well-known names as Rice and Andrews figure prominently in the High School list.

Every day a fair-sized bunch can be seen trying their prowess at jumping. A jumping pit, which Coach Blanchard finally induced the Board of Education to put in, is a new feature and one which the boys appreciate very much. While the practice season is yet young, some good heights have been achieved. In Andrews the Highs have a tower of strength. His pole vault record is the highest at the school and he has made some astonishing jumps in practice.

Tennis interest is being revived. While the High School has no courts, a number of the students have access to the various club courts in the city and a number of fine players are being developed.

An inter-class league is being formed and the tournaments are being held at both the Quarantine Island and the Miller street courts. As yet only boys' doubles are being played, but later on it is proposed to play mixed doubles and also singles. The winner of the single set is to be the champion of the High School. Some talk is going around of taking up a subscription to give the winner a silver cup.

SPORTIVE SPLURGES

The best laugh of the season has been brought on by the statement that the yacht Hawaii would surely capsize if she were to be launched with her masts in her.

Suffering Skylights! What would happen when the valiant craft should put out to sea where the waves, it is said, are fully two feet high, sometimes. Think of it!

Horror!

We are saved.

We shall never send our boat to sea, for it surely will turn turtle and everybody on board will be lost.

Of course, if the brave Captain and his valiant crew should get real angry and take the matter into their own hands.—Oh, but they won't. After the lesson in seamanship that has been taught us, we could never think of allowing our pretty little boat to go out in the rough, rough ocean. And, by the way, it would be a good idea not to launch the boat at all, for she would get wet if she were put in the water. She would look just too cunning for anything on dry land all the time. Oh, watermelons!

Thank you, Brother, for the suggestion and warning. Had it not been for you, our boat would surely be due to win the race.

Talk about strenuous! The ladies of the Young Woman's Christian Association are just about the real candy in the Teddy Roosevelt line. That is, some of them are. Two afternoons a week, Tuesday and Friday, they dress up in their daintiest gowns (Tom might pass by) put on soft rubber-soled slippers, and go out and play tennis the whole afternoon. In this manner they keep in good physical condition all the time. There are some real devotees of the sport among the members, it is said, and also some excellent players. Anyway, it's a "love" game, and that is something that every lady is an adept at. Here's to 'em.

Tomorrow afternoon will see the football season on in full force. The Punahou and Diamond Heads clash on the gridiron for the first game of the season. No, hardly the first game, for the alumni and students of Kamehameha have smashed noses already. That game, however, was more of a junnin' match than a real old-fashioned-tumble. Tomorrow the men will go to it for blood, as every point counts in the race for the championship.

President Vierra announced today definitely that there would be a game of baseball at Aala Park Sunday. The game will be between the two most prominent teams of the Kalaniana'ole League and there is promised one of the snappiest diamond contests of the season.

The Diamond Head Glee Club wishes it to be known that they will not sing at the Chinese celebration, as was previously stated.
