WHY THE Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States is the Best company with which to Assure.

I.—Because of its Safety. Its surplus is larger than that of any other assurance company.

II.—Because of its Promptness. Of 1,043 death claims paid in 1885, nearly one-half were paid the very day proofs were received; while of the remainder, the majority were paid within the following three days. No other company can show such a record.

III.—Because of its Liberality and Reforms. All policies are INCONTTESTABLE after three years. All incontestable policies are payable immediately upon receipt of proofs of death. The Society's policy contract is clear and simple, and liberal in its conditions. Its Non-forfeiting (or Semi-Forfeiting) policy affords all the ultimate benefits of the full Forfeiting, and has during its earlier years the surrender value and other material advantages of ordinary life policies.

IV.—Profit. No other company is paying on its policies, as large profits as are shown under the Equitable's matured Forfeiting policies with fifteen-year periods. Persons desiring assurance may obtain estimates of the probable results of similar policies, and of policies with twenty-year terms, which are expected to show even larger profits.

V.—Prospective Advantages. The unexampled progress of the Equitable in the past is the best guarantee of the increasing future value of assurance with the Equitable. Assets, $96,533,387.50 Liabilities, 52,691,148.27 Surplus, $43,842,239.23

The Daily Bulletin.

Pledged to neither Party
 But established for the benefit of all.

MONDAY, JUNE 21, 1886.

GERRYMANDERING.

The Government party is not satisfied to be in an overwhelming majority this session. It is not enough that it should confirm two or three members in their seats contrary to the Constitution and statutes. But as if it considered itself a perpetual organization, that party is laying ulterior plans for the future. During the absence of the representative for Lihue and Koloa, Mr. Dole, on Thursday last, his constituency was riven of an important section. There was neither demand from the residents of the district, nor reason on the part of the gerrymandering clique, for the alteration of boundary. Mr. Dole, on the matter being reconsidered on Friday, challenged the tamperers with his district to show cause for the change, but the only reply was the dumb show of meddlesome hands that confirmed the shabby trick. The tyrannical majority in our Legislature show that they have either not read history, or have failed to acquire its lessons. Nascent politicians like Mr. Hayselden, Mr. Richardson, and others in the present house, would have a care, if they only had the sense to profit by recorded experience or the presence to see past their noses, not to become too tensely inflated with the insolence of passing power. Moss will not likely gather about their legislative careers before a turn in the wheel of political fortune will place them in a minority. Suppose they will then feel called upon to resist any exercise of arbitrary power, on the part of the majority against which they will have to contend? How, in that case, can they compose their faces in any aspect of candor and ingenuousness, to demand argument or reason for the acts that they desire to prevent? How poignantly bitter should their remorse not be, again, supposing they find themselves in a minority through a sufficient number of opponents being elected in violation of law, according to the precedent which they have just established at the present session of the Assembly! In view of the future, the majority had better "go slow."

STATE STEWARDS.

A steward is a person entrusted with the care and management of another's property. All public servants are stewards of the State. Cabinet Ministers and other high officials are stewards, and their subordinates under-stewards. The Legislative Assembly, who in addition to the legislative function controls the public funds, is a State steward. These views are a necessary corollary of the doctrine that "the land is the people's and government their creature." Without a due sense of the correctness of the foregoing conclusions ministers, members of parliament, and subordinates are apt to be arrogant, overbearing, oppressive, self-assertive, careless of their acts, and reckless in the use of the public revenues. A thorough realization of their true position and of the nature and responsibility of their trust will imbue the same class of individuals with a thoughtful spirit, a carefulness in the disposal of moneys which do not belong to them, and a constant endeavor to expend the public revenue in a way to effect the greatest public good. A conscientious and faithful steward is more careful of his master's property than of his own. A reckless or dishonest steward may deceive his employer for a season, but he cannot for ever escape detection, dismissal, and disgrace. A judicious and diligent steward generally receives the reward of his merit sooner or later and in some way or other. It is for the stewards of the State to consider carefully how best to dispose of their master's money, i. e. the public revenue, always remembering that they are acting for another, the State, and that they have no right to waste the public funds on useless and foolish objects. If they act wisely and patriotically their country will commend them as "good and faithful servants;" but if they play the rogue and the spendthrift they will be ultimately bundled out "neck and crop," and compelled to "dig" or "beg."

THE TWO VERSIONS SHOULD AGREE.

Exact agreement, as far as attainable, between the two versions—English and Hawaiian—of our laws is of the first importance. These laws are administered partly in one language and partly in the other. That is, some magistrates base their decisions on the English version, and others, familiar with the Hawaiian language only, render their decisions in accordance with their understanding of the Hawaiian version. The judges of the Supreme Court, being foreigners, have no use for the Hawaiian version. If the two versions do not agree it is easy to understand that two judges of equal intelligence may reach antagonistic conclusions based on the same law, one being guided by the Hawaiian and the other by the English version. As a matter of fact, there are serious differences between the two versions of some of the session laws of past sessions, and this fact is sufficient to account for some of the apparently erroneous decisions of minor courts, which have been reversed on appeal to higher courts. Proper care and attention at the time the laws were being made would have prevented discrepancies. The present legislative session seems prone to follow in the track of its predecessors. Several disagreements in measures under consideration have been already pointed out by members of the house who are familiar with the two languages. Others may have escaped their notice, for it is scarcely the duty of members to examine the two versions. A competent and reliable translator should be appointed by the Assembly, whose duty it would be to see that the two versions of every bill agree, and not leave the work to incompetent and irresponsible men. No man is competent who has not a thorough knowledge of the two languages. A full knowledge of one, with a smattering of the other, is not sufficient. A strictly accurate translation from English to Hawaiian cannot in every case be made, but the sense can always be conveyed by a paraphrase, and this is what should be done where a close translation will not answer.

THE LEGISLATURE.

FORTY-EIGHTH DAY.

MONDAY, JUNE 21st.

The Assembly met at 10 A. M. and was opened with prayer by the Chaplain, Rev. J. Wainman. Present: The President, Hon. J. S. Walker; Ministers Gibson, Gulick, and Kapena; Nobles Wilder, Kaee, and Kanoo; Reys, Wight, Brown, Kauka, Aholo, Dickey, Kekoa, Keau, Nahale, Kaulia, Paehaole, Kaulukou, Pahia, Kalua, Castle, Amara, Nahuu and Palohau.

PETITIONS.

Rep. Brown presented a petition from 25 residents of Koolauloa, that the appropriation for the Government Survey be stricken off the Appropriation Bill, because all necessary surveys of land had been accomplished. Also, that $15,000 be appropriated for building a bridge over the Waimea river and making necessary repairs to roads in that district. Laid on the table, on motion of Rep. Aholo, to be considered with the Appropriation Bill.

Rep. Dickey, a petition from Makawao, that the place of holding court be changed to Paia, and that $1,000 be appropriated for that purpose. Referred to Public Lands Committee. Also, that Makawao have two representatives, which he moved be laid on the table, as another of the same purport had been presented. Laid on table.

Rep. Castle, a petition from Puna with 77 signatures, asking that the election in Puna be set aside on the ground of fraud, etc. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Rep. Kaulukou, a petition from Puna, with 101 signatures, that the house would not set aside the election of Hon. E. Kekoa. On suspension of the rules, he read the petition, which was a lengthy document. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Rep. Palohau, a petition that $500 be appropriated for building a schoolhouse for an English school at Anaholu. Referred to Education Committee.

water be conducted to Lanipahoehoe in pipes; that Lanipahoehoe be made a collection district, or port of entry; that $1,000 be appropriated for making a landing at Lanipahoehoe; that the courthouse at that place be repaired and renovated; that a railroad be built from Hanakia to Hilo, and that the house pass an act authorizing a loan of $2,000,000 for the purpose, and that coroners' jurors be paid for their services. Referred to Public Lands Committee.

Rep. Kaai, a petition from Kipahulu, District of Hana, with 200 signatures, asking for $500 to build a courthouse and lockup at that place. Referred to Public Lands Committee. Also, one that two polling places be made in the District. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Rep. Lilikalani, a petition from Honolulu, with 200 signatures, that licenses for selling beers be granted outside of the limits of Honolulu. Laid on the table to be considered with a bill introduced on the subject.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Rep. Kalua presented a report of the Committee on Public Lands and Internal Improvements, on a petition from Puna that the road supervisor-in-chief for that district be removed, on one from Hanakua that the law providing for road supervisors be repealed, on one from Makawao and another from Kaunapali that a road supervisor be appointed in each of those districts. The Committee recommend that the first and second be laid on the table to be considered with a bill to repeal the law in question. They find, in regard to the third and fourth, that this house has no authority to appoint road supervisors, and recommend that these petitions be laid on the table. Adopted.

SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

Rep. Dole presented a report from the special committee on taxation bills, on a bill introduced by Rep. Palohau, providing for ten sureties more or less for the bonds of tax collectors. They consider the requirement to be "of a too indefinite character to make it a desirable feature of our tax law;" therefore recommend that the bill be laid on the table.

Rep. Palohau did not approve of the report, because it hit him. Instead of the bill being mixed, the committee he thought was mixed.

Minister Neumann, for the information of the hon. member, said an amendment had been put in another bill, requiring two sufficient sureties for collectors.

Rep. Palohau was satisfied with the explanation.

Rep. Dickey moved the report be adopted, which carried.

Rep. Dole presented a report from the same committee, on a bill to amend the act of 1882, by introducing a provision for the payment of road taxes to the school agents, to be drawn upon by the road supervisor; also, that vehicles be taxed only if used for amusement and recreation, and that the tax on two-wheeled vehicles be fixed at $2.50. They recommend that the bill be laid on the table.

Rep. Kaui said he had introduced the bill at the request of people of his district. It was believed that in having the road taxes sent to Honolulu, they were lost in great part to the people who paid them for the purpose of having the money spent on local roads. The taxation of brakes was also felt to be a hardship.

Rep. Dole, in reply, said if the member for Waimea introduced an act to reduce the taxation on brakes he would support it.

Reps. Keau, Kaunamano and Aholo each made remarks, after which the report was adopted.

RESOLUTIONS.

Rep. Dickey gave notice of an act to fix the place of holding court in Makawao district.

Also, a resolution that $2,000 be appropriated for improving the building of the East Maui female seminary, which he moved be referred to the select committee on educational items. Carried.

The same member presented the following resolution:—"Whereas, Article 60, of the Constitution, provides that the Representatives of the people shall be appointed by the Legislature according to the population, and

"Whereas, the representation has become very unequal by reason of the shifting of the population since the last apportionment in 1868;

"Therefore be it resolved, that a committee of three shall be appointed to divide the Kingdom into twenty-eight election wards or districts of nearly equal population, each of which shall have the privilege of electing one member only, and report the same to this house for its action."

Rep. Dole offered an amendment that the committee report to next Legislature.

Rep. Castle called attention to the existence of a special committee to consider bills relating to election laws, and moved the resolution be referred to that committee, which was carried.

Minister Gulick read a first time an act to indemnify the Minister of Finance for various expenditures aggregating $61,843.10.

Rep. Brown said that in the indemnity bill of last session the Minister of Finance was required to report to this session a detailed statement of the expenditure of $51,882.63 for Government buildings and hospitals.

Rep. Hayselden said the Finance Committee was examining those items.

Rep. Brown said the bill required the Minister to present them to the house.

Minister Gulick referred the hon. member to table 9 of page 26 of the Minister of Interior's report, for an account of the details in question.

Rep. Dole gave notice of a resolution to amend the rules of the house by adding a new rule.

The same member presented the following resolution, which was adopted:—"Resolved, that His Excellency the Minister of Finance be requested to furnish to the Assembly, on or before Thursday next, his written answer to the following inquiries:

"1st, How much rice was entered in the Custom House from the Japanese steamship Yamashiro Maru on or about the 17th June, 1885?"

"2nd, What other goods were entered from the same steamer at the same time?"

"3rd, Whether the said rice or other goods were entered free of duty, and if it was paid on any of said goods, upon what goods was it paid, and to what amount?"

"4th, How much rice was entered in the Custom House from the steamship City of Pekin from Japan on or about the 14th February, 1886?"

"5th, What other Japanese goods were entered from the said steamer at the same time?"

"6th, Whether the said rice or other goods were entered free of duty, and if duty was paid on any of said goods, upon what goods was it paid, and how much was paid?"

"7th, If no duties have been paid upon the said rice and goods brought by the said two steamships, or if duties have not been paid upon a part thereof, to whom were such goods, upon which no duties were paid, delivered, and who received the benefit of such release of duties?"

"8th, At what prices was said rice entered at the Custom House?"

Rep. Brown, reverting to the matter about which he had just been enquiring, said that the amount of which details were given in the Minister of Interior's report did not seem to be the same as that mentioned in the act of indemnity.

Rep. Kaulukou said he rose to a point of order, and moved that the house take a recess till 1:30 o'clock, which carried, the house rising at 12 noon.

CRATER OF KILAUEA, HAWAII, June 17, 1886. The party from Honolulu by the Kinaiu last Monday reached here in fine spirits on Wednesday, and found the crater smoking and steaming at a great rate.

The party went into the crater and visited the great break down on the site of the great lava lakes. There was a great deal of smoke and steam to be seen and strong indication of the reappearance of the liquid lava in the very short time.

MURDER ON KAULA.

Intelligence of a shocking murder comes from Kaula. An old man, named Neilson, who was a Norwegian and a laborer at Kekaha plantation, is the victim. It appears that the deceased left Waimea for Elele on the evening of the 12th instant, and was found by some natives on the following morning in a dying condition, a short distance from Gay's ranch.

A PIGEON THAT LOVES GUINEA PIGS.

"A Hen Which Hovers Kittens," an account of which, taken from the Los Angeles Times, appears in this issue, is no more remarkable than a male pigeon taking care of a drove of guinea pigs, and an instance of this latter kind can be cited from here. A lady living at Lele, near the King's stable, keeps a half dozen or so guinea pigs, in a small latticed enclosure.

THE BASEBALL MATCH.

On Saturday afternoon the Honolulu and Benedict baseball clubs met in a friendly tussle on the Makiki diamond. There was a smaller concourse of spectators than usual, although, excepting one or two slight sun showers, the weather was pleasant.

THE ROTHSCHILD LOAN.

The banking firm of Rothschild is reported to have taken the greater part of a $6,000,000 loan on the St. Paul Railroad. It is also said that this is the first time in twenty-five years the Rothschilds of London have allowed their name to be used in connection with American railroad securities.

GRANT AND THE PICKETS.

After we had secured the opening of a line over which to bring our supplies to the army I made a personal inspection to see the situation of the pickets of the two armies. As I have stated, Chattanooga Creek comes down the center of the valley to within a mile of Chattanooga, then bears off westerly, then north-westerly, and enters the Tennessee River at the foot of Lookout Mountain.

We should Blot Out Disease in Its Early Stages.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and in fact the entire glandular system, and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering.

"East-street Mills, Cambridge, health, London, E. C., July 24th, 1882. 'Sir—It gives me great pleasure to be able to add my testimony in favor of your valuable Syrup as a curative agent. I had suffered for some length of time from a severe form of indigestion, and the long train of distressing symptoms following that disease, I had tried all possible means to get relief, but seeking the best medical advice, I had swallowed sufficient of their stuff to float a man-of-war, so to speak, but all to no avail."

"To Mr. A. J. White. 'Those who are in the "Asthma Furnace" should have no time in obtaining relief by the use of "The Rosinweed Tar Mixture" but do not give up, medicine unless you will follow all the directions to the letter."

"Messrs. White and Co., London. 'Gentlemen,—It is with great pleasure that I add my testimony to the wonderful effects of Seigel's Syrup. For years I had been suffering from bilious attacks, which began with giddiness; then a numbness of the face, and I ever felt a headache coming on, and I take one dose of the Syrup, which arrests it. Hoping that this testimonial may be the means of inducing others who suffer as I do to try the Syrup, as I feel sure they will receive speedy benefit and ultimately be cured. I beg to remain, yours faithfully."

A HEN WHICH HOVERS KITTENS.

A Maltese cat in East Los Angeles increased the population of the earth by six kittens on Saturday, and during the day went off to meditate by herself in the garden. Upon returning she found a large and motherly hen hovering the kittens, who were peeping out from under the feathers and crying anxiously for food. The hen refused to abdicate in favor of the cat, and the cat, recognizing the superiority of a biped creature, failed to insist upon her rights. The result is that the hen still holds the fort and hovers the kittens, and the cat mother supplies them with nourishment during the brief moments that the hen is absent in search of food. Like Poe's raven, the hen "still is sitting, still is sitting," while the poor mother cat's eyes are gazing at her both day and night.—[Los Angeles Times.

GAMBETTA'S BRAIN.

Gambetta's brain was stated by A. Bloch a few months ago to be of unusually small size, weighing only 1,160 grains, or 38.4 ounces. At the meeting of the Societe d'Anthropologie of March 18th Professor Duval added, further, some interesting details of its conformation and structure. In comparison with brains of subjects who were known to have been of deficient mental powers such as possess only a feeble development of the third frontal convolution, Gambetta's brain was found to have an extreme development of this convolution, and the fissures very numerous and very complicated. This development furnishes confirmatory evidence of Broca's discovery of the localization of speech in this convolution. In addition to other peculiarities, the right quadrilateral lobe was found to be very complicated, with numerous fissures in its lower part; and the occipital lobe was extremely reduced, especially on the right side.

DEVELOPING EARLY.

Mexicans may be slow in many things, but not slow to love. The laws of Mexico claim girls at 12 and boys at 13 years old are eligible to marriage, and it is not an unusual sight to see a woman who looks no more than 35 years of age a great-grandmother. As children the Mexicans are rather pretty, but when a girl passes 20 years she gets "mucho-mucho" avoirdupois, and at 30 years she sports a mustache and "galways" that would cause young bachelors in the States to turn green with envy. The men, on the contrary, are slim and wiry, and do not boast of their hirsute charms, especially when in company with women, as they have little desire to call attention to the contrast, and the diamond ring often means to display than stroking and twisting an imaginary mustache. Yet this exchange of charms interferes in no way with love making, and the young man wafts the kisses from his finger-tips to the fair—no, dark—damsel, and enjoys it as much as if that black, silky down on her lip were fringing the gateway to his stomach.—[Correspondence Pittsburg Dispatch.

ON THE WARPATH.

A resident of one of our valleys, whose name we will not mention, went to Silver Reef some months ago and entered the butcher business. Having been married but a few months before he went to the Reef, he had a longing to see his wife, who was living on the ranch with the family of his partner, so the other day he mounted a horse and started for Spring valley, arriving there at 1 o'clock in the morning. He entered his wife's room, lit the light, and to his great amazement and horror sitting up in the bed was the handsome district pedagogue, who had been aroused by the entering of the husband, while nestling at his side lay a form completely hidden from view. The staggered and horrified husband on beholding this spectacle, with blood in his eyes and murder in his heart, drew his knife out from the back of his neck, whipped out a pistol, and the pedagogue, beholding these warlike demonstrations, gave a yell and crawled under cover. The yell aroused the other sleeper in the bed and up popped the yellow head of one of Charley Lyttle's boys, who went from Eagle to attend the term of school in Spring district. It appears that the man's wife had left that very day to join her husband at the Reef, and had taken a different road from the one traveled by her husband, and the teacher and scholar were given the room. The teacher now never retires at night without first trying the pupil's head to the headboard of the bed, so that he cannot put it under the cover, and ties the covering down at the foot of the bed so that he cannot pull it up over his head, and on a person entering the room they are now able to distinguish the color of the pupil's hair. On the wall, painted in large letters with charcoal, is the sign, "He Is Not a Woman."

During the twelve years following the death of Charles Dickens, no less than 4,239,000 volumes of his works were sold in England alone.
