HAWAIIAN BILL IN HOUSE

REPRESENTATIVE HITT MAKES A REPLY.

He Answers the Main Objections of the Opponents of the Bill in Committee on Territories.

WASHINGTON, January 15.—The bill providing for a form of government for Hawaii was taken up today by the House Committee on Territories, and Representative Hitt of Illinois, a member of the Hawaiian Commission, explained its general purpose and the need of early action. Hitt said that the present laws caused much trouble among the people and the business interests, and as the political destiny of Hawaii was no longer an open question it was much desired to bring all conflicts of authority to a close and establish a stable system as soon as possible. He took up the three main objections raised to the Territorial form of government proposed and answered them.

The proposed property qualification for voters for members of the Senate farmed somewhat upon our sensibilities and customs, Hitt said, but it was in line with the local sentiment and usage in Hawaii, and the desire had been to yield to the reasonable desires of the people of the islands.

The reference of contested election cases to the courts and the provision giving to the Governor the appointment of Judges were urged by the people of Hawaii. The people who would colonize Hawaii with office holders from Washington and they therefore wanted their own Governor to make the appointments.

The committee arranged to take up the bill by sections at the next meeting. Chairman Knott says he hopes to report the bill to the House during the present month.

SOME NEW PLAGUE SPOTS

FEARFUL CONDITIONS AT KUKUI AND NUUANU.

Two Large Fires Ordered Outside of the Quarantined District—Board of Health Inspection.

More condemnation of property, this time outside of the quarantined district was the result of the Board of Health meeting this morning. The Board met on the premises at Kukui street and Nuuanu avenue, where two cases have occurred, and at Aala, the members making and voting upon motions as they proceeded the houses.

Though the buildings are new, and at one end not even completed, the Board found at Kukui and Nuuanu conditions as bad as anything yet reported. The house where this morning's case was found was first visited. Behind this are three fearful cesspools. They are on the surface, just behind the back doors. The front store is full of baggage probably removed from Chinatown during the fire. In a dirty little back room, is a mattress, on the floor on which a Japanese plague victim was found dead this morning, not six feet from a filthy pool as any in Honolulu. The room is packed with stores, except where the mattress lies.

Dr. Wood expressed the greatest indignation at the existence of the conditions discovered in a place yet in course of construction. "This is an abomination worse than anything in Chinatown," said the doctor. "Here we are burning down plague spots in one part of the city and people go ahead and make cesspools without a bit of covering and without even digging deep into the earth. The quicker it is all cleaned out by fire the better."

All the buildings, just erected, were condemned and ordered burned today if possible. There are three long two-story structures, extending along Nuuanu and Kukui streets. They are on the property of the Bishop estate.

At Aala, the Board found a large district, in which the conditions called for immediate condemnation. Some of the houses were above cesspools and swamps, some of them had any decent sanitary arrangements, and in some of them was a stagnant pond. This pond was infected with cholera during Honolulu's last fight with disease, and it was condemned at that time. On the King street side, beyond the Nuuanu street, is a row of Chinese laundries, stores and restaurants. Dr. Wood entered one door way where there was a sign "rooms to let." There were dirt and bad smells everywhere. A long, low passage way led to the rear. Cracks in the floor showing the green swamp underneath. Stitches in the middle of houses and a combination pool factory, bakery and livery stable, were some of the features.

All was condemned on the spot, to be burned as soon as accommodations can be found for the inhabitants. These are mostly Chinese. There are about twenty-four buildings in all in the newly condemned district, beyond the river. The whole block fronting on King street is included, extending up Aala road to where high ground begins.

Every thing in Aala lane must go. The main problem is to find homes for the people. There are about three hundred in the district and it may be some days before they can be put anywhere. They will have to wait for the emptying of Kawaiahao church. Work is being hastened as much as possible at Kahlili. "We have got every man who can be secured in Honolulu at work," said architect Ripley, who was with the Board of Health. "We have been to very contractor and gathered up all the men they could let us have, and as far as Kahlili is concerned, not a thing could be done that is not being done, no matter what was the emergency."

While the Board was at Kukui and Nuuanu streets, Dr. Wood was notified of the presence of a sick woman in the house next to the Honolulu hotel. The doctor went to visit here, but found nothing serious. It is more a case of fright than anything else, apparently.

FOR A FIRE CLAIM COURT

The Executive Council this morning adopted a resolution requesting President McKinley to create a court of claims to adjudicate controversies growing out of the action of the Board of Health in burning buildings and destroying property in its efforts to stay the plague. It was also voted to have blanks prepared for filing claims.

The request for a court to adjudicate these claims is not because the present courts have no jurisdiction but because they are already fully occupied and these fire claims are so numerous they will entail an immense amount of new business.

An adjourned meeting of the Council of State began shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon to take up the business interrupted by the events of Saturday.

F. L. Dorch came back from the States on the Hongkong Maru.

THE BOERS WAR UNCERTAIN

RUMORS UPON RUMORS CANNOT BE VERIFIED.

Warren Reported Across Tugela With 11,000 Troops—Boers Concentrating at New Point—Colenso Deserted.

NEW YORK, January 15.—A cable to the Tribune, dated London, January 16th, says the military situation in Natal remains unintelligible till a hour last night. One rumor contradicted another.

Two plain facts remain unchallenged. Poigeter's bridge, had been seized on Thursday morning, and Warren, with a flying column of 11,000 men, with a supply train, had started either east or west. To these are added the third fact in the message of today in the Times and other journals, from Ladysmith, namely, that the Boers are removing their guns from the Tugela and concentrating their forces elsewhere. A large camp has been located fifteen miles west of Ladysmith, corresponding to the force which Buller reported in the message of today in the Times and other journals, from Ladysmith, namely, that the Boers are removing their guns from the Tugela and concentrating their forces elsewhere.

The Ladysmith garrison has been put on full rations, and its immediate relief is confidently expected. Merchants there are ordering stores from Pietermaritzburg. While rumors that the Dutch are preparing to retreat in consequence of defeat in their desperate assault upon Ladysmith may be premature, there is at least evidence that they are weakening their central position at Colenso, and are concentrating their forces elsewhere.

News from other sections of the theater of war is meager. Methuen's reconnaissance into the Free State have not been followed by increased activity at Modder river. French is reported by various correspondents as holding new positions which were gained last week, but has not yet succeeded in cutting off the retreat of the enemy northward of Orange river. There was no change in Gatacre's front. No intimations are received from Cape Town respecting either the destination of the Sixth Division or the general plan of campaign.

NEW YORK, January 15.—A cable to the Sun dated Estcourt, Natal, January 13th says: Everything is quiet in this vicinity. There is an impression here that the Boers are concentrating elsewhere. A remarkable incident is reported in connection with the charge of the Devons up Wagon Hill in the fighting around Ladysmith on January 13th. Lieutenant Masterson was ordered to cross a fire-swept zone and deliver a message. He was hit by three bullets, but struggled on and delivered his message, which was very important. The lieutenant is getting well, although there are eleven wounds in his body.

CAPE TOWN, Saturday, January 13.—There is good reason to believe that the statement of Sir Charles Warren, with 11,000 men, has gone toward Weenen is correct, and we may expect important news shortly. Reports have been received here that dysentery is very rare in Ladysmith. Everything is phenomenally quiet at Sterkstroom.

THE PLAGUE SITUATION

One fatal case of plague today is the record so far, and the situation is somewhat brighter. Though the case, which was at Nuuanu and Kukui street, was outside the quarantined district, it was only just across the street from the line, so that it is not an example of spreading.

DEATHS SUNDAY.

Jan. 21, Min Chong, male Chinese baby, 8 months old. Found dead in the morning by a Citizens' Sanitary Inspector in alleyway on King street, opposite the Oahu railway station. The postmortem showed undoubted evidence of plague.

Jan. 21, male Japanese, aged 23 years. Discovered at Kahlili camp at about 4:30 p. m. by Dr. Herbert, and sent to hospital by Dr. Howard as a plague case. The man was in a wild delirium, and died at 10 o'clock at night. The nurses at the hospital were nearly scratched by the delirious patient. Came originally from Block 15, Waikiki side of Kaunakapili.

Jan. 21, Mizuno Sakuchi, a male Japanese, 57 years old, died at 12 o'clock at night at the corner of Nuuanu and Kukui streets. The body was taken to the morgue, where it was announced that plague was the cause of death.

GHOULS READY FOR WORK

BURNED DISTRICT TEMPTS SOME VULTURES

Men Caught Digging Among the Ruins for Valuables Summarily Ejected by the Guards—Government's Duty.

Yesterday forenoon two men who have been employed by the Board of Health in service within the quarantined district and hence had passed went into the burned district. As they have been working for weeks inside the district they were probably pretty well acquainted with conditions there before the fire and knew what houses contained valuables. At any rate soon after they got inside they began digging among the ruins of a house not far from the Kaunakapili church. It was said they were looking for diamonds and other jewelry they knew had been in the house.

As soon as the National Guard patrolman on duty in this quarter saw what was going on, he went to where the men were and inconspicuously marched them out of the district, and then went around from post to post and reinforced to the guardsmen the orders already given, "that if they saw anyone digging in the ruins to 'pinch' him."

There is supposed to be an immense amount of gold and silver coin, jewelry, diamonds and that sort of thing, lying about the ruins scattered all over the burned district. The fact seemed a great allure to many, as was shown by the efforts repeatedly made to get into the burned district yesterday. Some of the men who were sent in to shut off the flow of water from the water pipes in the district could not resist the temptation to desert their work and do "a little prospecting among the ruins."

Several times the guards had to go inside the district and stop this kind of work. To the credit of the guards, both those of the Board of Health, and the National Guardsmen, they were very vigilant in preventing this sort of ghoulish work.

"There is a heavy responsibility upon the government," said a citizen whose work in the quarantined district has given him special opportunities to know conditions there, "to see that the people forced by necessity to leave that district in such haste are not robbed or 'squeezed' out of the valuables they have hidden away, which may have escaped destruction. There is a great deal of coin, jewelry, and valuables of that sort in the district. Some of it is in safes and some of it is not. But much of it can doubtless be recovered. I do not think there is as much as is popularly supposed to be, but there is a good deal. It would be an awful outrage, if after all the loss that these people suffered, they should now be cheated, in any way, out of what little has escaped the flames. They are imprisoned in quarantine. They cannot look after their own interests. Therefore the most rigid and strenuous efforts should be made by the government to protect them. It seems to be the belief that the area on which Chinatown stood, should be allowed to remain idle and vacant for some time. Therefore there is an emergency to clear up the area. In that case it seems to me the most rigid exclusion from the burned district should be maintained until all the present emergencies have been fully met and the government can give the attention to this matter that will insure rigid and scrupulous care for the protection of every individual who may have valuables in the ruins that may be saved. There is very little necessity for anyone to go inside the district at present, and therefore no one should be allowed to go in except for those necessary business transactions and then only some thoroughly responsible and trusted agent of the Board. Unless this is done, there will not only be robbery and larceny outright of much that is valuable, but what is worse, and if possible more contemptible, a 'squeezing' process practiced on the unfortunates."

LOOT AND PLUNDER

During the exciting events of Saturday afternoon, the store of Yuen Chong corner of Maunakea and King streets was entered and ransacked from top to bottom and an immense amount of valuable property was taken away. One man was arrested by the police to carry the goods to the police station worth of the stuff recovered. Marshal Brown has three men locked up at the station who admit having gone in and taken some of the things. They assert however that by the time they got there the place had been practically looted. The firemen of having done it. This however remains to be seen. These three men are men who were put out as guards on behalf of the Honolulu Iron Works during the fire.

Boxes, lockers, drawers, everything that could be the receptacle of valuables were smashed open as with axes, and the contents rifled.

SANITARY FIRES.

The fire department had two sanitary fires this morning. One of them was the Boardman home, the other was the house where Mrs. Franz lived and the adjoining Chinese store where she is supposed to have contracted the infection.

CLOTHING FOR REFUGEES

GENEROUS RESPONSE IN THE EMERGENCY.

Hundreds of Holokus, Children's Garments and Other Clothing Sent in Before the Flames Were Extinguished.

The promptitude and liberality with which the people of Honolulu met the emergency of Saturday's fire, was in nothing more strikingly illustrated than in the manner in which clothing was provided for the unfortunate refugees. The need for clothing immediately rose from the fact that it was desired as quickly as the refugees could be assigned to detention camps to give each one a thorough disinfecting bath and put them in clean, uncontaminated clothing. It was impossible to purchase the clothing needed because the stocks of suitable clothing were practically depleted. Nor could the work of making clothing to meet the demand be set in motion from the fact that so large a proportion of the artisans in this kind of work were already in quarantine, or among the refugees.

In this emergency a call was made on the generosity of the public. C. Bolte and his associates in the house of M. Grintbaum & Company took hold of this work. At 2 o'clock Mr. Bolte telephoned to as many ladies throughout the city as it was possible to at the time, briefly explaining the situation, and asking them to spread the information of the need as far as possible, and get as prompt and generous a response as could be.

The response was both prompt and generous. Within an hour big bundles of clothing began coming in. It seemed as if people did not wait to pick out cast-off clothing but gathered up the first that came to hand and sent them down. In some cases it seemed as if they had gathered up their own bundles of freshly returned laundry and sent them. In other cases it seemed as if they had gone to their own wardrobes and gathered up everything not in use and sent it. There certainly was much of the "twice giving" which comes of giving quickly. Bundles came in containing half dozens of freshly laundered white shirts. Other bundles contained two and three freshly done up holokus, and quantities of clean, almost new, in many cases actually new ladies underwear. There were actually some new, silk underwear, costing several dollars a suit sent in.

By nightfall, Grintbaum's place of business, which had been given up entirely to this work was piled all over counters and floors with bundles of all sorts of wearing apparel brought from every part of the city in carriages, express wagons, on foot, by messenger boys, and in every way the generous donors happened to think would most quickly get them to where they were needed.

The force in the store was put to work sorting out the articles as they came in, making up bundles each containing one kind of garment. In one bundle were holokus, in another were short waists, in another women's underwear, in another children's undergarments, in another still trousers, and in other men's shirts, and so on. In this way the clothing was ready for distribution as fast as the people could be got ready for it.

There is still need especially for men's trousers. The kind needed are cheap but clean cast off ones, the sole need of them being to get the refugees in decent, uncontaminated clothing as quickly as possible. The question of fit is not considered, because it will not be possible to try and fit out the people. The same is true of holokus and all other garments. The need for this call on the generosity of the community is not because there is not money available to buy the things needed, but because the things needed cannot be bought.

To further meet the emergency a great many ladies set to work organizing sewing bees, especially to make children's and infants' garments. Mrs. Horace J. Craft organized such a movement, giving up her home to it. She was down at Grintbaum & Company's early yesterday morning to find out what was needed most, so as to direct her efforts the more efficiently. Another was organized at the home of Mrs. Corbett on Nuuanu street. More than 350 articles were made yesterday at this gathering. Among those who took part were, Miss Paty, Mrs. Alexander and daughter, Mrs. J. A. Thurston, Mrs. F. A. Potter, Mrs. J. C. Sesser, Mrs. Wilcox, Misses Green, Mrs. Mist and Japanese, Miss Mist, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. P. C. ### GOOD WORK AT KAKAOKO

OVER SEVEN HUNDRED PEOPLE WELL HOUSED.

New Clothing Given to Every Man, Woman and Child—A Mixture of Three Races.

The seven hundred and twenty-three men, women and children a part of the number made homeless on Saturday, who were taken to Kakaako yesterday are already more comfortably situated than they were before the fire. Every one of them has had a bath and a complete change of clothing, and thanks to the energetic work that was begun before the ruins of Chinatown ceased burning and kept up day and night ever since, they have been well fed. A large number of them are evidently delighted with their present circumstances, and show the greatest appreciation of what is being done for them.

Kakaako station was emptied on Saturday night of those who had been there under quarantine. Yesterday morning the homeless people began to arrive there, Hawaiians first, from Hackfeld's warehouse, then Japanese and Chinese from Kawaiahao church.

There are 253 Hawaiians in the camp, 131 men, 102 women and 20 children. As fast as they arrived they were bathed and given new clothing. They were put in the two story building at the Waikiki end, formerly a leper station. At the other end are the Japanese and the Chinese in the middle. Corral hays been erected all over the grounds, and different families have enclosures all to themselves. There are 193 Japanese, 100 men, 64 women and 29 children. The Chinese number 376, of whom 122 are children. There are 69 men and 85 women. In spite of the mixture of races and families there appears to be no cases of lost children. There has been no sickness whatever in the camp. Dr. Bowman makes examinations twice daily. If any illness develops the victims will be put in quarantine at once.

The work of getting the people into proper condition and feeding them has been an immense task, and A. L. C. Atkinson, who is in charge, as well as a large corps of assistants, have been at it almost all the time, without sleep. The work of bathing the Chinese, for example, was begun at ten o'clock last night. It was six o'clock before the last one had been given new clothing and made fit to live in the camp. Mrs. H. S. Townsend and Mrs. Davidson gave valuable assistance in looking after the women and children. Mrs. Davidson is the head nurse.

The people in the camp are given three meals a day. Each race has the sort of food that is most suitable. The Hawaiians get poi and meat or fish three times a day, with coffee, crackers, etc. For the Chinese there are rice, pork, salt cabbage, sugar and coffee and the Japs feast on soy, rice, meat, latkyo, miso, etc.

Among those who are working at the camp as assistants to Mr. Atkinson are G. E. Smithies, in charge of the office, head guard F. W. Tenant, A. W. Nealey, J. McComb, J. Merseburg. The camp has a good, like that of a good-sized business house, with desks and a safe. It is kept well with disinfectants all the time and whenever any of the force from the office, from the kitchen near by, or the store room, goes among the quarantined people, he is well sprinkled on returning. The homeless ones are to be kept for ten days at Kakaako.

Early this morning there was an addition to the population. A Hawaiian baby girl was born. The child is a bouncer and is getting along splendidly. Before many days pass there will be several others to be looked after.

SEWING FOR THE DESTITUTE.

The members of the Women's Guild of St. Clement and other ladies willing to assist are requested to meet daily this week at the residence of Mrs. T. May, Kinaiu street, to sew for women and children rendered destitute by the recent fire. Hours 9 to 12 and 2 to 5. Any contributions of material will be gratefully accepted.

MEMORANDA.

The schooner Surprise, which arrived on Sunday from San Francisco, is the new gasoline schooner built for McChe-ney & Sons, for island trade. Another one is in course of construction.
Captain Wickberg has succeeded Cap-tain Anderson as master of the ship Lucile. Captain Anderson took charge of the Charles E. Moody at the Sound.
The steamer James Makke was load- ing sugar into the schooner Etha Nei- son at Makaweli, when the Iwailani left there on Saturday.
After many days, the schooner Robert Lewers succeeded in getting away for Kauai yesterday, to load sugar at Ko- loa.
Night work is still continued on the Australia.

HEALTH INSPECTORS MEET. PRACTICAL TALKS BY THURSTON AND WOOD. Duties and Possibilities of Inspectors Explained - Thoroughness Urged.

The meeting of the Citizens' Sanitary Committee's inspectors and sub-inspectors at Progress Hall yesterday forenoon was well attended. Fully 250 were there. It was a meeting for discussion and for the purpose of making the work of the inspectors the most effective possible, and of unifying and systematizing it.

Mr Thurston especially impressed upon the inspectors the necessity for investigating and requiring the cleansing or filling up of insanitary cesspools, as nothing was more liable to spread the plague than excreta. He said this committee is primarily one for the discovery of plague cases and to remedy conditions conducive to the disease.

Dr. Wood's address were of a hopeful tone. He said that the Board of Health felt that it was more nearly in control of the situation now than at any time since the outbreak. The main center of infection had been destroyed.

THERE WERE GIANTS THEN. HENRION'S WONDERFUL BOOK ON THEM. Adam Was 123 Feet 9 Inches High and Eve Five Feet Less-The Giants of Today.

Old chroniclers tell wonderful stories of the giants that used to walk the earth, even as we read in the Bible of Goliath, who was slain by the youth David. In latter days perhaps the most interesting book on giants was written by a French scholar named Henrion in 1718.

It is an interesting fact that giants as a rule are both weak of body and of mind, while dwarfs are usually keen witted and healthy. A story is told that the Empress of Austria in the seventeenth century had all the giants and dwarfs of the Germanic Empire assembled at Vienna.

THE "GHOUL"

The ghoul who has no bowels of compassion has been trying to get in his heartless work among the ruins and embers of Chinatown. The ghoul is common enough around other cities, but we have been fortunate enough to be without him up to the present. The ghoul is the kind of off-scouring of humanity who would steal the pennies from the eyes of his parents corpse, or the wedding ring from his mother's dead finger, and sell it for drink.

No sooner had the fire cooled from the surface of the ground than a couple of men holding passes from the Board of Health, were within the burned district looking up coin and precious stones, which a previous knowledge of the place might enable them to locate. A national guardsman promptly marched them out, passes or no passes. Besides these two men, others were doing some prospecting.

The Board of Health should take prompt measures against such scamps as these. They are a disgrace to the Board of Health and a disgrace to humanity. The poor homeless people of Chinatown are the wards of the people. They have in most cases lost their all, but if there are a few things to be saved, why these should have the earnest care of the authorities. The burned district should be thoroughly and efficiently guarded, and every care taken that the property is preserved for those to whom it may belong.

Credit must be given to the National Guardsmen and the inspectors who have so promptly put an end to depredations of this sort, but too much vigilance cannot be exercised, for with the horrid greed of gain that possesses the ghoul he will return again and again to see if he cannot outwit the guards, and rob the homeless and unfortunate. If there were a high road here, the ghoul should be promptly put on to it and told to walk, with a warning as to what would happen should he return.

"HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL"

The situation has very much changed since it was decided by the Board of Health to ask for $200,000 to enable it to take steps which would empty Chinatown. Chinatown in a few hours was wiped out of existence and the situation solved. The population had to be moved and the citizens turned to and managed to meet the emergency of caring for some 5000 people, supply them with food and shelter, and at the same time guard them and prevent their mingling with the rest of the population.

Even with the $200,000 voted for claims for destroying property, it would have taken a considerable time to empty Chinatown, and there would have been effort after effort made to save this building or that building, and the moving of the people would have been no light task. Now the whole matter is settled and that part of the problem need bother us no more.

But how does the situation look today? Is it any better? Dr. Wood is most emphatic in stating that it is. The main center of disease has been destroyed. Cases must and will crop up elsewhere, but with the rigid methods now employed, these sporadic cases can be dealt with easily—if they are only promptly reported and the inspectors and sub-inspectors do their duty.

As long as Chinatown remained unburned, the disease was beyond the grasp of the Board of Health. With Chinatown gone, it will be, as Dr. Wood remarked at the meeting of the Sanitary Committee, our own fault if we do not stamp it out within thirty days. This is a most encouraging condition of affairs, and every one will feel hopeful at such words coming from such a source.

This does not mean that we can sit down and trust to its dying out. Nothing of the kind. If any thing the efforts must be redoubled. Principally the work of vigilance falls upon the inspectors and the sub-inspectors. But every one is interested and has responsibility in the matter. Every case of sickness, not attended by a physician must be reported and investigated by a Board of Health physician. It is at the price of unremitting vigilance that we shall be able to smash the disease completely. There can be no let up in the work.

But there will be no let up. The citizens are alive to their duties and are willing to sacrifice their time and their strength to assist in the final struggle. Men, who a few days ago did not realize the necessity of all hands turning to, realize it now. The President of the Board and the members of that body are and always have been in dead earnest, and the flood of hope which has come from the destruction of Chinatown, has given them increased strength to wage the battle to the finish. Men ever work the better when success seems within grasp, they may work doggedly and with set teeth when the battle goes against them and the forces of the enemy seem to ever increase, but when victory looks within the grasp, the effort to wind out is inspired.

The President of the Board of Health has proved his ability in the present crisis. He has been untiring in his efforts, he has been ubiquitous, and has directed with skill and intelligence. He has not been swerved aside by feelings of expediency, and he has been thoroughly determined in his course. In the strong attitude he has the public as a unit behind him. The more stringent he has been and will continue to be the more he has been and will be carrying out the popular will. Chance has thrown into our way a helping hand, but unless there had been already the thorough organization of house to house inspection, the chance could not be availed of. The hour always comes to the man, if he is fitted and prepared. The trouble is that so often the man is not prepared and the hour is lost. To have had to begin organizing now, would have been to lose the opportunity given us. Now every sub-inspector is familiar with each individual member in his sub-district, and any new member that enters can be spotted at once.

"LIKE GENTLE DEW."

It is to the credit of our citizens to notice how quickly they are ready to assist when calamity falls upon some section of the community. No sooner were the homeless drafted to the various points than numbers of willing workers sprang forward to assist in organizing, while others came forward with gifts of food and clothes in abundance.

All day yesterday at various points in the city ladies met and sewed from morning till evening preparing garments for women and children. For this there was no lack of willing helpers and the work flew upon the busy fingers and the whirring machines. Today the same good work is being carried on.

All this is being carried on at private cost. No request is made upon the government for material or assistance in any way. Already, also, many of our merchants have given donations to the Chinese societies to help them in supporting their destitute countrymen. In some way or other every individual is doing something towards alleviating the strain.

Isolated as we are, we are entirely self dependant, and there can be no assistance from without. What has to be done, must be done by ourselves, and at no time have the citizens ever been found wanting. The test of the willingness and good heartedness of our people lies not so much in their liberality, it is easy to be liberal if you have the means, but in the readiness with which they give up their time and go actually to hard, and in some cases most unpleasant work. At a time like this there are no class and no church distinctions, but society woman and seamstress, Protestant and Roman Catholic, and free thinker, priest, preacher and liquor seller all unite upon the common ground of humanity to assist their Hawaiian, Chinese and Japanese brethren in affliction.

JAMES DODD DEAD.

James Dodd died at Waikiki shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning of dropsy complicated with other affections. His funeral took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Masonic Temple. The pall bearers were members of Lodge le Progres, Honolulu Commandary, Knights Templar, Hawaiian Lodge Knights of Pythias and George W. De Long Post, Grand Army of the Republic.

James Dodd was born in Belfast, Ireland, September 16, 1848. He became a circus performer, doing the "strong man" act. He came through here with a circus in 1867, and returned to make this his home a few years later. He joined the police force and was the first white captain. Later he went into the saloon and livery business.

He was a veteran of the Civil war. Besides a widow residing here, he leaves three brothers in the United States and a sister in Ireland.

MUST EMPTY THE CHURCH

KAWAIAHAO'S OCCUPANTS TO BE MOVED.

Seventeen Hundred Still There—Difficulties of Caring for Them—Removals Made to Kalihii.

To empty Kawaiahao church is now the problem before the Board of Health. In spite of heavy removals from there, nearly two thousand people are still in the church and grounds. Until they have been taken away, no other people will be sent to Kalihii. "It is impossible to make the place fit for so many people," said Dr. Wood, "and we shall have it in a bad condition if they are kept there."

Kawaiahao church and grounds have been completely transformed in appearance since the first great rush there was made on Saturday afternoon. George Carter, who is in charge of the camp, has had the hardest job of all to keep his place in decent condition. The most vigorous measures were taken from the start, and so far all is well. The people were far from being supplied with all the comforts needed on the first night, but now there is little to be asked for, if rain keeps away. A heavy rainfall now would work fearful hardships, as it is impossible to provide proper quarters for bad weather on the grounds, and the water does not drain off the level space. Tents consisting of canvas stretched from every available tree and fence post, have been put up all over, and many thousand feet of lumber have been brought into requisition for floors. The commissary is in front, and the people inside have not suffered for food.

The hundred people were taken from the church this morning, leaving about 1700 there. The church is swept twice daily and garbage is removed constantly. The sanitation is in charge of Mr. Gear. Up to today, the Board of Health had not been able to supply a physician to examine the people at Kawaiahao. Mr. Carter made rounds regularly, however, and inspected every place. Anyone who showed any signs of sickness was carefully examined, but nothing suspicious was discovered. It is thought that all are in a healthy condition. Messrs Adams, Taylor, Brown and Akana are among the assistants at the church.

On Saturday evening, some of those confined in the Kawaiahao began to ask for blankets. About six hundred blankets and comforters were secured at once, but these were not enough. Mr. Carter took the matting from the floor of the church and had it cut up into pieces for the people to use, and this relieved the situation very much. The matting would have been destroyed in any event. As it was, most of the people had covering enough, but the fact that every piece of paper wrapped around bundles was used for bed clothes, showed that there was none too much.

Kawaiahao church will be emptied of all its population in a few days. Kalihii will probably take two hundred more tomorrow. As fast as more room is made there, the church occupants will be taken away. Then the big church will be thoroughly fumigated and its days as a quarantine camp will be over. There will be great need of cleaning. Even after all the removals the interior of the church is now almost crowded to its full capacity. The galleries, and news contain mothers and children. Some of the better class have places in the large family pews in the rear, beneath the stone memorials to dead members of Hawaii's royal line. Even the pulpit is crowded most of the time and Chinese children are playing on the railings chairs and everything else.

KRUGER'S ADDRESS.

PRETORIA, January 11 via Lourenco Marques.—President Kruger, in the course of a stirring address just issued to the burghers, affirms that Providence is on their side, that their cause is just and that they must succeed.

Reports from Coleberg represent the position there as favorable to the republicans, but the British are concentrating for operations on a large scale. The official list of the Boer casualties in what is called the "Plat-Rand fight" on Saturday, January 6 (the attack upon Teyateyath), shows twenty-six killed and seventy-seven wounded. These figures are described as the "first return."

The embargo at Delagoa Bay upon Transvaal imports is the question of the hour with the burghers. If this be not removed, it is asserted, steps will be taken prejudicial to prisoners and aliens.

SHIPMENTS FROM KAUALI.

Large Quantities of Sugar to Be Moved.

There are now 87,340 bags of sugar awaiting shipment on Kauai, not including that at Waimoa. It is divided among the plantations as follows: Kilauea, 15,000; Kapaa, 2,000; Hanamaulu, 11,000; Lihue, 2,800; Koloa, 7,840; Makaweli, 17,000; G. & R., 1,700.

The Inter-Island steamer will be sent to Kauai this week to take the sugar and two schooners the Robert Lewers and Etha Nelson, are now loading directly at Kauai, so that there will be a large quantity taken away during the next few days.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT

THE HAWAIIAN TRAMWAY FILES ANSWER.

Denies That It Has Done Anything Illegal or Which It Did Not Have Right to do.

The Hawaiian Tramways Company has filed its answer to the bill in equity of the Honolulu Rapid Transit Company by which the latter sought an injunction to prevent the Tramways Company from proceeding with its track laying on King street.

The tram company denies that the Rapid Transit company had any powers or privileges of locating track on King street other than those given and limited in Act 69, session laws of 1898, and that if the Minister of Interior or the Executive Council approved any location or occupation of King street by the Rapid Transit company other than that provided for in this Act, that they had any right to do so. The right of occupation given by the law is alleged to be only the right of Joint use with the tram company of its tracks for a distance not exceeding 1,700 feet.

The answer further asserts that it has not trespassed on the Rapid Transit company's location or that the plaintiff had any location where the tram company's track had been laid or that it would be impossible for the Rapid Transit company to occupy or use King street. It further alleges that the Rapid Transit section of track on King street is not laid for the purpose of operating a street railroad, but solely for the purpose of forcing the tram company into litigation.

Affirmatively the answer alleges that its track laying and track moving on King street is in accordance with authority lawfully given by the Minister of Interior given July 21, 1899, and that by moving its single track it did not abandon any rights of location it had previously acquired. It alleges that the sections of the Rapid Transit company's track laid on King street were without authority from the Minister of Interior which its charter required.

Robert Parker Waipa has petitioned the Circuit Court to be appointed guardian of the estate of Kuakini Waipa, Malia Waipa and Puua Waipa who are each entitled to one one hundred and sixtieth of the residuary estate of the late John P. Parker. Kanily Waipa makes similar application on behalf of Iwa Kuapuanilehua Waipa who is entitled to one thirty-second of the same estate.

Margaret V. Carter has filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint of the Wing Chong Wai Company in the suit regarding rice lands in Koolau.

In the ejectment suit of the John H. Estate, Ltd. against R. Kahinu Mele, the defendant has filed an answer denying every allegation of the plaintiff's complaint.

The cleanest, brightest, safest and really in the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe; nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks."

This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light. Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.

We have a complete stock of everything in its line and have just received a lot of the very latest designs.

RUINS OF PAST SPLENDOR

BUILDING IN BURNT DISTRICT RECALLING MEMORIES.
Dismantled by Fire it is a Monument of the Early Days and the Changes Progress Works.

In the burned over district of Chinatown a half destroyed ruin raises its blackened walls, a monument of the past, and a reminder to old residents of the early days before sugar became king. It is the old two story coral building on the Waikiki side of Nuuanu street near Chaplain lane. It is the building which was unintentionally ruined in the first sanitary fire December 31. Later fires burned all around it, leaving it almost alone in the midst of desolation.

Horace N. Crabbe says it was built before he came here in 1847 and he thinks it was built about 1845. It was occupied for a long time as a residence by Mr. Skinner, an English merchant doing business here, and later by a captain in the Royal Navy whose vessel was in port here for about a year. During his stay this captain kept open house, and this ruined building was the place and scene of much hospitality and entertainment.

Later it was the home of Dr. Gillis and then became the residence of Mons. Perrin, French Commissioner. Still later it became a private residence again and was the home of Stephen H. Phillips, Attorney General. It was again devoted to the use of the diplomatic corps and became the American consulate and residence of United States Consul Merrill.

Following its use as a legation it was devoted to the cause of education. Mrs. Owen kept a private school there for a number of years.

Commerce with its accustomed nerve began crowding residences and schools and consular and diplomatic corps further up town, and seized this relic of former grandeur for its own. It was used for the purposes of trade and finally became a warehouse for oriental merchandise till fire and conflagration with more nerve and tenacity than commerce, reduced it at the age of fifty-five years to a ruin and spectre of the past.

AN AMERICAN REBECCA

PROTOTYPE OF SCOTT'S GREAT HEROINE.

Rebecca Gratz of Philadelphia Limned by the Master Hand of the Wizard of the North.

It is not generally known that Sir Walter Scott, in "Ivanhoe," the most famous of his novels, drew the character of Rebecca, the most attractive of all his heroines, from a beautiful American Jewess—Rebecca Gratz of Philadelphia. She was a friend of Washington Irving, and later, during a visit to Sir Walter Scott at Abbotsford in 1817, gave him an enthusiastic account of her wonderful beauty, her remarkable experience, her firm adherence to the religion of her fathers under the most trying circumstances, her philanthropy and her great charity. Sir Walter Scott was at work upon "Rob Roy," but discussed with Irving the plot of "Ivanhoe," and expressed his intention to introduce into the story the character of the Jewess. When the book was published, December, 1819, Sir Walter sent him a copy and asked him: "How do you like your Rebecca? Does the Rebecca I have pictured compare with the pattern given?"

Miss Gratz belonged to a distinguished Jewish family of Philadelphia. Her father, Michael Gratz, was a merchant and one of the signers of the "non-importation resolution." It has been written of him: "His home was known far and wide as the home of a refined and elegant hospitality, where gifted, distinguished and illustrious statesmen from abroad, whom choice and vicissitude brought to the country, found there an appreciative welcome."

Rebecca Gratz was born in Philadelphia March 4, 1781, and died August 23, 1869, at the age of 88. In her native city there was hardly a charitable institution with which her name was not connected, Christian as well as Jewish. She was one of the founders of the Orphan Asylum of the Female Benevolent Society, the Jewish Foster home. She founded a Sunday school for Hebrew children and compiled the prayers used there. For more than fifty years she was actively engaged in charitable enterprises, and when age prevented her cooperation she was a wise counselor in benevolent work.

In person Miss Gratz was of unusual beauty. Her figure was graceful, her manners winning and elegant, her eyes of exquisite shape, large, lustrous and dark, and besides these attractions she was a woman of remarkable cultivation and force of character. Among the throng of men of culture and ability by whom she was surrounded in her brilliant youth it is said that there was one whose thrills she returned, but the difference in their religious faith—her being a Christian—proved an insurmountable obstacle and she remained unmarried.

AN EYE TO BUSINESS.

"I have just been up in Vermont," said a treasury clerk recently. "The natives have lost none of their cuteness. The town where I was stopping has about 4500 inhabitants. One of the Selectmen runs a hardware store, and two weeks ago his dog was bitten by a neighbor's dog. It was a small enough matter but see what happened. First he raised the cry that the dog had been mad and had bitten other dogs. The Selectmen met and ordered that every dog should be muzzled for forty days, and the thrifty hardware man has sold nearly 500 muzzles at $1 apiece. Staid old family dogs travel around town with leather thongs around their jaws, which never closed on anything more human than a beef bone."—Washington Post.

Benton Boiler Compound

This compound is entirely vegetable, contains no oil or acid, it being a natural preservative for iron or steel. It rots the scale in the boiler and gradually cleans same. After the boiler becomes clean, the compound, if used according to directions, will keep the scale forming properties of the water in the form of solution or pendant, and the boiler can be kept clean, and the scale forming properties of said water can be blown out in the form of mud. It is a great saver of fuel as it will clean and keep clean any boiler. Let us send you a barrel on trial, no pay if not satisfactory. ## THE SONS OF THE MANSE

HONORS WON BY THE OFFSPRING OF MINISTERS.

Conservative Government Elevates a Liberal to the Supreme Bench—Monarchs Who Can Make Speeches.

It is rather singular to note how during the last quarter of a century the prizes of the legal profession in Scotland have fallen to "sons of the manse," says the Luchesse de Belliere in a recent number of the Chicago Record. The late Lord Gordon of the house of lords Appal court was a minister's son; so, too, was his successor, the late Lord Watson. Lord Robertson, who has been appointed to take the place of Lord Watson, is also a son of the manse, and the new lord president of the Court of Session and lord justice-general for Scotland, who succeeds Lord Robertson as head of the legal profession in Scotland, is likewise a son of a Church of Scotland minister. Mr. Balfour owes his elevation to this highest position on the Scotland bench to what cannot be spoken of otherwise than as an act of magnanimity on the part of the present government. It is true that Mr. Balfour has had a most successful career as a consulting counsel and pleader, but in politics he is a liberal. Gladstonian home-ruler, though that latter name is in a manner ceasing to have its old significance. He was Mr. Gladstone's lord advocate in 1881-5; he represented the counties of Clackmannan and Kinross in the liberal interest, and he followed Mr. Gladstone in 1886, when that gentleman repudiated his home rule policy for Ireland.

Mr. Balfour was led to take this position possibly more from personal loyalty to his chief than from any great love for the principle, but in any case he has remained in the outer shades of opposition ever since, and has seen men who have successively acted as his juniors and who have not a tithe of his ability elevated to the bench.

It is a singular thing in connection with judicial appointments in Scotland that they nearly all fall in when a tory or unionist government is in power. The appointment of Mr. Balfour, who is 62 years old, to be lord president of the Court of Session has, however, given great satisfaction to men of all parties.

He is as has been said, a lawyer of outstanding gifts; he is a gentleman of charming manner, and will preside with dignity and ability over the Scottish law courts.

He is no relation. It may be added, of Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, M. P., the first lord of the treasury.

TALKING MONARCHS.

It may be taken as an indication of the growing effects of age on the English queen that within the last few months, for the first time in her reign, she has been known to read from manuscript an address of only a few sentences. Through the queen's public speeches and addresses have been invariably prepared for her, she herself is not lacking in oratorical power, and compares most favorably with other European crowned heads in this respect. William II. is now said to top the list of speechmaking rulers, although the foreign press has severely criticized him for his rhetorical display. He is never embarrassed for choice of words, has a happy knack of finding appropriate remarks for any emergency, and many of his best speeches are his impromptu ones. The Germans say that William I. conquered the French with his steel cannon, but his grandson will conquer them with his silver tongue. The next round on this oratorical ladder is said to belong to Queen Margherita of Italy, though she has very little opportunity to display her gift. The queen is a fluent, eloquent and tactful speaker, and she has frequently regretted her inability to pass the talent along to her royal family. King Humbert has a fine voice, but, once before an audience, he is immediately "rattled." He therefore diligently memorizes his addresses several days prior to the function at which he is to figure.

DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN.

Senator Culberson of Texas has been suggested as the proper man to succeed Senator Jones of Arkansas in the chairmanship of the democratic national committee. He is a young man of fine physique, in his 44th year, and none of the new senators has made a better impression. Senator Culberson's father represented the 4th Texas district in congress for twenty-four years, and is now a member of a commission appointed to revise and codify the laws of the District of Columbia. He was recognized as one of the ablest and wisest members of the house of representatives, although he remained in the background and allowed his influence to be felt in the committee room rather than on the floor. Young Culberson entered politics early in life, made a mark in the legislature, served two years as attorney-general, and was then elected governor by a majority of nearly 60,000. He is liberal in his views, and recognized as a leader of the young element against the mossback faction of the democracy in Texas, but has never been agreeable to fusion with the populists or any other outside element. He managed the Bryan campaign in Texas in 1896, and resisted all attempts to involve the democrats in coalitions with other political organizations.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I want to let the people who suffer from rheumatism and sciatica know that Chamberlain's Pain Balm relieved me after a number of other medicines and a doctor had failed. # STATISTICS OF THE YEAR

Collector-General Stackable is at work upon his annual report to the Minister of Finance, which will contain some very interesting statistics about the business of the year just ended. It will be ready about the end of this month. The various departments of the custom house are now preparing reports to be submitted to Stackable for incorporation in the general report.

Among the most interesting figures will be those in the tables showing imports and exports for 1905, as compared with other years. The exports, mainly sugar, have been published in detail as the year went by, and The Star has printed the statement of the Planters' Association, showing the crop of the year, as reckoned from September to September. The imports will undoubtedly be very large, but there is no means of getting figures till Minister Damon has them.

Exact figures as to contract labor and other assisted immigration, as well as ordinary passenger travel, will be another interesting feature of the report. The year's business in this line has been the largest on record. A resume of published reports, with information obtainable from the agents of the various companies supplying men, shows that the number of men, women and children imported for plantation labor was between twenty-five and thirty thousand. These were nearly all Japanese. This immense addition to the population, almost enough to double the population of Honolulu, is now distributed over various islands. There was one load of Portuguese and Italians, brought by the Victoria some months ago and some Spaniards in the lot, and the through steamers from China have brought small lists of Chinese from time to time. A large majority of the immigrants are contract laborers, though on some of the steamers there has been a quarter or half of the passengers "free." Nearly every shipment has had a few women and children, but the proportion has been small enough to excite discussion during the year. The men probably outnumber the women by four to one.

Since the end of the year 1899 there have been four lots of immigrants received, numbering altogether over 2000 men, women and children. Most of them are on quarantine island, and one lot is still on board the vessel.

From the best figures attainable, the Commissioners of Immigration, the Board of Health, and the shipping columns of The Star, the total number of Japanese, Chinese, Koreans, Portuguese and Italians arriving during the year 1905 was as follows: Japanese, 26,041; Chinese, 578; Koreans, 4; Portuguese (the immigrants by the S. S. Victoria which included Spaniards and others), 243; Italians 19. Total 27,885. Of these about 20,000 came as contract laborers and about 7,000 as free immigrants. While these figures may not be precise they will probably vary from the official custom house figures by less than 100. They are the most accurate attainable at the present time in consequence of withholding all information for December from the public.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Bits of Paragraphs that Give Condensed Notes of the Day.

A bicycle has been found. See advertisement.
A by authority notice closing all churches and indoor meetings is published in this issue.
The Agents of the S. S. Australia publish in this issue an important notice to intending passengers.
There will be a meeting at Mrs. Kerr's this afternoon of the ladies who were to cut out and make up children's clothes.
Copies of Saturday's Star, containing a fine account of the Chinatown fire, can be had of the newsmen or at this office.
R. S. Moore representing the Risdon Iron Works of San Francisco was a passenger on the Hongkong Maru which arrived this morning.
Charles L. Dickerson and Mrs. Libbie H. McEwen were married Saturday evening the Rev. S. L. Pearson of the Methodist church officiating.
The rumor that the Japanese who died yesterday belonged to the Club stables is untrue. Chas. H. Bellina says their Japanese can be seen at any time.

An important meeting of the United Fraternal Societies will be held at 4 p. m. today in the Masonic Temple. Business of great importance is to be considered.
The directors of the Y. M. C. A. have closed all the rooms of the institution except the library and reading rooms. Books will not be allowed to circulate however.
Passengers by the Hong Kong Maru are W. F. Parker, J. A. Byrne, F. L. Dorch, L. A. Hibern, R. Ballentyne, M. F. Chapman, Miss L. Moore, Miss A. Enders, W. P. Barry, R. S. Moore, John M. Donn.

The lady members of the Christian Church are alive to the necessities of the times, and are busy at work upon useful garments. A more perfect organization will take place this afternoon at 4:30.

The official report of the Board of Health announces a total of twelve cases and eleven deaths for the week ending January 20. With the previous reports added, the total number of cases recorded up to January 20 is 46; deaths 33.

The various detention camps are in charge of the following persons: Koro-sene Warehouse, A. L. C. Atkinson; Kalih, L. A. Thurston; Gilman house, J. A. Gilman; Drill Shed, H. E. Cooper; Kawaiahao, George R. Carter; Queen Dowager premises, Punchbowl street, J. P. Cooke; Hackfeld warehouse, G. W. Smith.

The exciting events of Saturday were too much for a number of people and John Barleycorn got the best of them. Sixteen of the victims appeared in police court this morning and were fined for the most part $2 each with an occasional raise to $5 for extra circumstances of aggravation. Most of the men were sailors.

The ladies of the Methodist Episcopal church have organized and are today busily sewing garments for the unfortunate victims of Saturday's fire. The work is being carried on both at the church and at the parsonage. In addition to making clothing the ladies are collecting clothing, assorting it and preparing it for distribution and use.

WELL FOR KALIHI.
The contract for boring the artesian well at Kalihi was let to McCandless Bros. This morning for $3,500. It is to be a twelve inch well and it is expected it will be about 600 feet deep. It is expected to be completed in about three weeks. Minister Young went out there at 1 o'clock with one of the firm to locate the well.

THE BOGIE BOER.
Among a number of amusing school-boys' essays contributed to the current Cassell's Saturday Journal is the following by a youthful essayist, aged ten: "Krugger and Kannerbulism is one. He is a man of bird. Mr. Chamberling has wrote to him sayin' come out and fte or else give up the bird of the English you have took. He is a boarddutchman and a wickid heethin. lord Kitchener has been sent for his goary bird and to bring back hiscanderlus head dead or alive."—Westminster Review.

AN AERONAUT.
Gaston Tissander, the French aeronaut, is dead. Originally a chemist, he devoted himself to the problem of directing balloons and rendered important services during the siege of Paris. His most memorable ascent was made in the balloon Zenith, in 1875 with Sivel and Croce-Spinelli, when, after reaching a height of over 26,000 feet, the balloon became unconscious, and on reaching the ground again, it was found that Tissander's two companions were dead. He was 59 years of age.

PLAGUE IN MANILA.

U. S. Authorities Prepare to Fight it Hard.

Manila is having the active co-operation of WASHINGTON, January 14.—Bubonic plague at Manila is to be combated with all the means modern science has put at the disposal of the medical profession. By an executive order quarantine matters in the Philippines have been put in charge of the Marine Hospital Service, and Surgeon General Wyman is having the active co-operation of the surgeon general's department in the War Department and of the military and naval surgeons in the Philippines.

Colonel Charles R. Greenleaf, assistant surgeon general in charge of the army medical force at the islands, and Passed Assistant Surgeon Perry is at present representing the Marine Hospital Service. Other officers of the service will be sent out in the near future, and already two complete disinfecting plants with appliances for sulphur fumigation and steam disinfecting chambers have arrived and will be set up by Passed Assistant Surgeon Perry.

Surgeon General Wyman believes it will be possible to prevent a serious epidemic of plague in Manila. He said he thought there was every prospect that it would be stamped out before it had made much progress, as had been done in Alexandria. He saw no reason for serious alarm.

GENEROUS GIFT.
Ex-Senator Henry G. Davis of West Virginia will present to that state a home for orphan children. There is at present no such institution in West Virginia, and destitute orphans are boarded at various places until homes can be found for them in good families.
