Insurance.

WHY THE

Equitable Life

Assurance Society
of the United States is the Best company with which to Assure.

I.—Because of its Safety.
Its surplus is larger than that of any other assurance company.

II.—Because of its Promptness.
Of 1,043 death claims paid in 1885,
nearly one-half were paid the very day
proofs were received; while of the remainder, the majority were paid within the following three days. No other company can show such a record.

III.—Because of its Liberality and Reforms.

All policies are INCONTESTABLE after three years. All incontestable policies are payable immediately upon receipt of proofs of death. The Society's policy contract is clear and simple, and liberal in its conditions. Its Non-forfeiting Tontine (or Semi-Tontine) policy affords all the ultimate benefits of the Tontine, and has during its earlier years the surrender value and other material advantages of ordinary life policies.

IV.—Profit.

No other company is paying on its policies, as large profits as are shown under the Equitable's matured Tontine policies with fifteen-year periods. Persons desiring assurance, may obtain estimates of the probable results of similar policies, and of policies with twenty-year terms, which are expected to show even larger profits.

V.—Prospective Advantages.

The unexampled progress of the Equitable in the past is the best guarantee of the increasing future value of assurance with the Equitable.

The Daily Bulletin.

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party. But established for the benefit of all.

FRIDAY, DEC. 31, 1886.

A HOLIDAY.

To-morrow, being New Year's Day, will be observed as a public holiday. The Government offices will all be closed. The DAILY BULLETIN office intends closing, too, so that there will be no issue of the paper.

QUEEN KAPIOLANI'S BIRTHDAY.

To-day is the 52nd anniversary of Queen Kapiolani's birth, and all Government offices are closed in honor of the occasion. All classes of the community, native and foreign, unite in sincere wishes for the happiness, continued health, and long life of the good and unostentatious Queen. Her characteristic concern for her people, and practical sympathy with their sufferings and sorrows, have secured for the Queen a strong hold on the affections of her people. The foreigners, too, domiciled under the clear skies of Hawaii, recognise in Queen Kapiolani a good and noble woman, whose life and character merit their respect and admiration. The spontaneous wish of every man, woman, and child in the land possessed of heart and soul, is expressed in the words, "Long and happily live the Queen Kapiolani!"

THE NEW YEAR.

Standing as we are at this hour, on the very brink of an outgoing year, and about to step forward on the threshold of another year, we feel, and no doubt many of our readers do also, that there is time to reflect, before the life-ebbing year has vanished.

It is not our purpose at this critical moment to elaborate at length on what has passed, taking a retrospective view of the eventful year, (for eventful it has been to us all) but rather let us try to forget what we have done wrong, and continue to repeat, and if possible, to improve upon, what we may have done aright. While wars and rumors of wars are pending in the old world, we ought to be thankful that our lot is cast on these pacific isles. Though peace and plenty have apparently prevailed throughout the Archipelago, yet has there not been unseen poverty and suffering in our midst? That greatest of all virtues, charity, has been exercised to a large extent in this city, and should the occasion of pressing needs arise in 1887, as it did in 1886, we believe that a similar virtue would again be displayed.

As the year 1886 vanishes into the darkness of the Abyss of the Past, let his faults be "not remembered in his epitaph." In handing this last number of the DAILY BULLETIN for 1886 to the public, we wish them all,

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

The Queen's Reception.

Her Majesty Queen Kapiolani held a reception to-day, from 11 A. M. to 2 P. M. At 11, members of the Royal Family and the high officials of the Government were received. At 11:30, the Diplomatic and Consular corps presented their respects to Her Majesty. The Captain and officers of the Chilean corvette Pilcomayo, now in port, and Government officials, were received at 12. The general public were allotted the time from 12:30 to 2 o'clock.

The attendance of the general public was large and included the elite of Honolulu Society.

A Treat to St. Andrew's Sunday School Children.

MR. AND MRS. SCHAEFER, HOST AND HOSTESS.

F. A. Schaefer, Esquire, and Mrs. Schaefer, entertained, at their residence on Nuuanu Valley, yesterday afternoon, the juveniles who comprise the St. Andrew's Sunday School. The weather was charming, the sun shining brightly, its rays being tempered by a moderate breeze. The scene was of a most joyous character, and the girls and boys appeared to be exhilarated over the enjoyment so beautifully provided for them. The tea party was presided over by the affable hostess, Mrs. Schaefer, and the picture presented by the children who gathered around the hospitable board of the varied and light delectables, was such as to cause a glow in the hearts of parents. Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer were most assiduous in their attentions to the juveniles' wants. The Royal Hawaiian Band was, by the courtesy of Governor Iaukaea, placed at the disposal of the host, and played during the afternoon, light and melodies airs suitable to the occasion, thereby adding greatly to the enjoyment of all present. The happy children were overjoyed at the outdoor treat and refection so thoughtfully provided for them.

VOYAGE OF THE SCHOONER MALOLO.

G. B. HOLLAND, MASTER.

Sailed from Honolulu, for Fanning's Island, Oct. 12th, at 5 P. M. Experienced light E.S.E. winds until arrival at Fanning's Island, Oct. 22nd, at 5:30 P. M., 10 days from Honolulu. Learned that the Jennie Walker had sailed for Honolulu on Oct. 5th. Left again at 7 P. M., the same evening. Arrived at Washington Island the following day at 9 A. M., sailing again for the island of Palmyra at 11 A. M., arriving there at 8 A. M. the next morning. Took in freight and return labor, and sailed the following afternoon at 4 P. M., bound for Penrhyn Island. After a tedious passage of 15 days, arrived at Penrhyn Nov. 8th, having experienced thick squally weather the whole passage. After paying off return laborers, sailed for the island of Manahiki on Nov. 15th, arriving there the same evening. Remained at Manahiki over night, sailing again for Rakahanga on the afternoon of the 16th, arriving there at midnight. Having shipped 4 men at Rakahanga sailed the following morning for the Hervey group. Experienced thick squally weather until arrival at the island of Mauki, Nov. 25th, at 9 P. M. Remained there two days. Not being able to obtain any labor, left for the island of Mangia, arriving there at 7 P. M. on the last day of November. Left there on the following morning, not being able to obtain any labor. Arrived at Rarotonga, Friday, Dec. 3rd, at 6 P. M., being too late to enter the harbor, stood off and on all night. At 8 A. M. the following morning, the pilot came out and took the vessel into port. Took in firewood and filled water casks; and shipped 22 men. Left Rarotonga Dec. 6th, at 5 P. M., for the island of Aitutaki, arriving there the following afternoon. Left again the next afternoon, having shipped 31 men, (making a total of 57 men shipped), bound for Honolulu. Experienced light E. and N.E. winds until Dec. 26th. Lay becalmed off Hawaii till the evening of the 27th, when had light S. and S.E. winds to port.

Tried to fetch at Starbuck Island, having heard that there were 4 shipwrecked seamen on the island, but owing to head winds, could not fetch it.

YET ANOTHER XMAS FESTIVAL.

The annual Christmas festival of the Sunday school of the Bethel Union Congregation, postponed last week, on account of the rain, came off last evening, at the Lyceum, and was of a character highly satisfactory to all concerned. The proceedings opened with a short programme of vocal and instrumental music in which the children of the Sunday school took the principal share. There was a large attendance, the room being well filled by the young people and their parents and friends.

Entering the building, everyone's attention was arrested by a quaint old-fashioned rustic looking porch, with half-blinded window and brick chimney, on the platform. The whole structure was artistically covered over, as with a recent fall of snow. The representation was verified by all who have lived in northern latitudes as admirably true to the reality. At the close of the musical programme, the jingle of a bell was heard in the distance, when a well-got-up Santa Claus entered by a side door, with a ladder which he placed against the little cot, climbed up and went bodily down the chimney. Immediately the door of the cot opened, Santa came forth, and proceeded to unload a stock of candy, a bag of which was given to every juvenile and adult member of the Sunday school department of the congregation.

The success of the entertainment reflected very great credit upon all who had any hand in it, particularly Mrs. Oggel who superintended the preparatory arrangements.

New Mail Arrangements on the Atlantic.

The Home News says: The negotiations which have been proceeding between the Postmaster-General of Great Britain and the Atlantic Steamship companies, for the conveyance of the American mails, have resulted in an arrangement being made of a temporary character, by which Queenstown will be retained as a port of call for two out of three of the weekly outgoing steamers. The Postmaster-General in June last issued a circular stating that the agreements then in force would terminate on Dec. 1. The despatch of the mails three times a week, namely, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, from London, and on the following days from Queenstown, having been found the most convenient for all parts of the kingdom, it was proposed to give preference to ships calling at Queenstown; but instead of entering into agreements extending over long periods, it was proposed to take up month by month, or quarter by quarter, the most efficient vessels sailing from Liverpool, via Queenstown, to New York on the days above mentioned, the remuneration to be by a payment per voyage at the rate of 3s per pound for letters and post cards, and 3d. per pound of newspapers, printed papers, and patterns or samples. For vessels not calling at Queenstown the remuneration will be 1s. 8d. per pound for letters and post cards, and 1 1/4d. per pound for other articles, these being for bulk rates equivalent to the rates per letter or paper ordinarily paid for the conveyance of ship letter mails. In October a joint offer was made by the Cunard and White Star Companies to despatch on two days only at the new rates, under exclusive privilege, precluding transmission of mails by other lines unless by special address in the ship named. The Post Office refused this proposal, on the ground that the two despatches were not sufficient. A third despatch was then offered from Liverpool to Boston every Tuesday, the monopoly being still maintained. As the Boston route was regarded as being carried on by slower steamers, the authorities refused acceptance on the ground that the Tuesday mails might be outstripped by the faster Thursday mails. The Post Office, has, therefore, fallen back on other offers, and arrangements have been made for preventing any break in the continuity of the three services per week. The Cunard and White Star Companies will not carry the mails under the new arrangement. The reconstructed Inman Company, which is said to have the intention of adding to its fleet of fast-speed vessels, made an offer, which has been accepted, to carry on the terms required, the Tuesday mail from Liverpool and Queenstown. The North German Lloyd steamers, which are available under the Postal Convention, and are Greenock built, of very fast speed, will convey the Thursday mails from Southampton direct to New York, and the Saturday mails will be carried by the Guion steamers, which include in their number the Alaska and the Arizona. These offers have been provisionally accepted for three months, the authorities hoping that that other ships will be in the field, and that the monopoly will be entirely broken down. In the meantime they possess the freedom of sending mails by any fast ships sailing from any port, which would have been denied to them under the exclusive tenders submitted by the Cunard and White Star Companies. By the new arrangement nine out of the twelve fastest Atlantic steamers are, we believe, available for the postal service with America; and the German-Lloyd steamers will await the Thursday night mail out of London. Another result of the new arrangement is to effect a saving of 25 per cent. The Post Office, however, has not considered economy as the basis of the change, but efficiency of postal conveyance.

BIRTHDAY CONGRATULATION.

At an early hour this morning, about 50 members of the Police force, led by the Reformatory School Band and the Portuguese Band, playing alternately, marched to the Palace, where they paid the customary birthday respects to Her Majesty the Queen. Marshal Kaulikou marched in front of his men with an officer on either side of him.

A HERO'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Captain Grace, of the Atlantic liner America, and Commodore of the National Line, took place on Nov. 20, in presence of a large number of associates and friends. During the recent heavy gales in the Atlantic Captain Grace remained at his post on the bridge for forty-eight hours, though almost starved to death and drenched with the waves. When the gale moderated he went to his cabin, took to his bed, and died in a few hours from inflammation of the lungs.

AN INTERPRETER WANTED.

The first case brought up before the newly appointed Police Justice yesterday, was against a Chinaman and a Portuguese, charged with affray, neither of whom could speak the English language. The Chinese interpreter Mr. Li Cheong, was on hand as usual, but the Government not having provided for a Portuguese interpreter, and there being no one who could, or who would, interpret in that language, the case was postponed for a while until some one was found to fill the void.

ROYAL DECORATIONS.

It has also pleased His Majesty to confer the medals of the Royal Order of Kapiolani upon W. Kauliwai, W. Wana, Mrs. Mahoe, Mrs. Kaaipua and Luakini.

O. S. S. CO.'S TIME TABLE.

Along with this issue of the BULLETIN our subscribers are presented with a time table, showing the date of arrival at Honolulu from San Francisco, and departure from Honolulu for San Francisco, of the Oceanic Steamship Company's steamers, for the year 1887. This table is made up from the Company's published table, omitting the portion relating to Australia and New Zealand, and presenting in concise form that part which is of interest to islanders. This table, we trust, will be serviceable to our subscribers.

At the Lyceum.

The services to-morrow will be as follows:

Sunday school and Bible class at 9:45 o'clock.

Public Worship at 11 and 7:30 o'clock. In the morning the SACRAMENT of our Lord and Saviour will be administered. In the evening the Rev. E. C. Oggel, the pastor, will preach on the opening subject of the "Work of Prayer," as suggested by the Evangelical Alliance, "O Thou that hearest prayer, unto Thee shall all flesh come." Ps. 65:1.

A cordial invitation is extended to all.

DAILY BULLETIN SUMMARY.

No. 4 NEW SERIES.

The fourth number of the new series of our Bi-monthly SUMMARY, is now out. It contains 50 columns of purely local and original matter relating to the Islands, and more particularly to Honolulu. For a full and complete record of political, commercial and general news it is unsurpassed.

To residents on the other Islands it is a valuable paper, and also a desirable journal to send to one's friends abroad. The outgoing mail is due here on the 17th instant from Australia, and will leave for San Francisco the same day. The SUMMARY can be had at the DAILY BULLETIN office and at J. H. Soper's News Agency. Price 10 cents per copy.

HAWAIIAN OPERA HOUSE.

"A Scrap of Paper," Simpson's three-act comedy, was put on the stage and acted, last night, in a manner highly creditable to all concerned. In fact, the amateurs might have passed for professionals, so perfectly did they play their respective parts. Mr. J. F. Brown and Mrs. J. D. Strong sustained the principal characters with such consummate ability that the most severe critic would have difficulty in finding a defect. Mr. F. Bishop was laughably droll, and Mr. H. W. Morse did about as well as it was possible for anyone to do. Miss B. Parke, Miss R. Mahee and Miss S. King merited the same compliment. Miss Z. Atkinson played a pretty little part very prettily. Mr. F. P. Hastings and Mr. J. Dowsett represented character parts that had not much to do, but they did it thoroughly well. In short, no expectation had been raised respecting the performance that was not fully realized. Nothing but the most careful and thorough study could have produced the result that was manifest last night. The audience was large, and evidenced deep interest by close attention throughout. Appreciation was also evinced by frequent applause. His Majesty the King, accompanied by Princes Keliiahonui, Kalaniana'ole and Kawananakoa, occupied the royal box.

Loss of the Swedish Bark Diana, on the Starbuck Island.

For the following we are under obligation to Captain Holland, of the schooner Malolo:—

The Swedish bark Diana, Captain J. Meyer, of Heilsberg, Sweden, bound from Port Townsend, W. T., for Sydney, with a cargo of lumber, went ashore on Starbuck Island, on the night of August 11th last, becoming a total wreck. The captain and crew remained on the Island until October 12th. No vessel having been seen in that time, Captain Meyer, the first and second officers and 8 men, put off in two boats, steering for Maiden Island. Missing that Island, and after being 14 days in the boats, they sighted the Island of Manahiki. After remaining at Manahiki a few days they were taken to Australia by a passing guano vessel. Four of the shipwrecked crew were left on Starbuck Island, there not being room in the boats for them.

INFORMER—MANUFACTURING.

The Cork correspondent of the Dublin Freeman's Journal tells the following strange story:—"From the unquestioned facts, which have recently come to light in Cork, it seems that some persons are endeavouring to procure informers regarding the alleged existence of Fenian societies in Cork, and that large sums of money have been offered with the view of obtaining the required information. It appears that a well-known gentleman in Cork, who was suspected of belonging to a secret society, has been interviewed by two of the most prominent members of the detective force very recently. A detective went into the premises of the gentleman alluded to, and, after some introductory remarks, said if he required plenty of money he could have it by dropping him a line or two per month concerning what took place in Fenian circles in the city. The detective stated that they were receiving information on these matters from three or four persons in the city at present; that they were not at all satisfied that their information was correct, and that they wanted a man like him, who was well up in the secrets of the organization, to give them bona fide information relating to the past as well as to the future of it. The detective also gave a guarantee that if the information was given in the way he wanted he would pass by his informant in the street and pretend that he had never seen him. The attempt at informer-manufacturing was, however, entirely unsuccessful, and the detective was directed to take his departure, and to lose no time about it. Three days subsequently a district inspector called at the same place, being, no doubt, convinced that his underling had played his cards badly. He repeated the detective's offer, which was, however, refused. The district inspector expressed an opinion that there was a Fenian circle working in the Cork Young Men's Society, the Cork Literary and Scientific Society, and the Cork Young Ireland Society, and asked the gentleman to join one of these clubs. He, however, refused, and stated his belief that nothing of the kind was going on, and that the inspector was entirely misinformed."

VACATION DAYS IN THE TROPICS.

BY REV. T. B. G. PECK.

OFF FOR THE LAKE.

Look, look!" exclaimed my companion, as I sat wedged in the crevice of a rock trying to dry my saturated clothes by the escaping heat. A small river of molten fire had suddenly burst through the mass below, and was coursing its way along with convulsion upon convulsion, like a fiery serpent. To the fiery serpent I likened it, creeping through the caverns of the infernal world. Then hissings again, then moaning, gurgling, groaning sounds from here and there and everywhere, as of giants imprisoned therein and giving vent to their inward anguish by signs such as these, till at last, worn and exhausted through excitement and fatigue, we turned our backs upon the scene, and retraced our steps homeward.

And yet we had not seen one-half of what we expected to see. This great lake of molten lava, until four months ago, reached up to the top of the very precipice on which we had stood, and was literally one vast sea of liquid burnings rolling its waves of fire like the surf along the sea-shore, and dashing itself against the rocks in spray of flaming mist. At that time the subterranean noises were an hundred-fold more fearful than those we had heard. Columns of flame, too, leaped up, apparently to the very stars, and immense fountains of liquid fire shot up their spray in flaming geysers. But at the time of the New Zealand eruption, this vast lake almost entirely disappeared, and only within the last few weeks has begun to rise again and assume anything like its former proportions. In the course of a few weeks more it will doubtless be itself again, sending its lurid glare along the heavens, and lighting the mariner leagues away at sea.

It was a long tug back over the ragged surface of the crater to where we had started. The steep declivity which we had descended with comparative ease seemed now to us, worn down through fatigue, interminable in its ascent. Would we ever get up? I began to doubt it; my limbs trembled beneath me; my heart throbbed like the pulsations of an engine, and more than once with a feeling of dread foreboding, came to me thoughts of the poor Englishman whose monument we had passed on the way down. But just then a friendly light gleamed above the dark precipice, and in a few moments more I was sitting before the blazing hearth of the Volcano House, having safely accomplished the most thrilling and fatiguing feat of my life.

Hilo, S. I., is classic in the missionary annals of the church. You doubtless remember how long years ago, in our monthly missionary concerts, the news from the Sandwich Islands was always regarded as the choice morsel of the evening, and how many of those letters bore the date of Hilo. There was the devoted Dr. Coan, whose spirit now seems to be hovering about the valley.

The patient and heroic enduring nature of the men here when coming here was a sacrifice of almost every worldly comfort and advantage, and whose work here until death was crowned with results more signal, perhaps, than those which have attended missionary effort in any other part of the world. These venerable fathers are dead and gone, but the church spires which I see all around me, peering above the surrounding groves of tamarind, cocoa and bamboo trees, testify to their work, and tell how nobly and well it was done.

Many of the descendants of the old missionaries still reside scattered here and there amid these islands, and are among the most respected and influential citizens of the land. Some even, like the Judits of Honolulu, occupy high positions under the Government, and their influence is potent for good. My valued friend, Judge Hitchcock, whose guest at this place I have the honor to be, is the son of a faithful and devoted missionary who first settled at Molokai, and for years preached the gospel there. When I met him at the crater of Kilauea a few nights since, and he urged me to come and visit him, I felt that I would do myself an injustice did I decline his hospitable invitation, and every day since has been full of such varied pleasures that I almost feel that I could spend my life among these quiet scenes and hallowed associations. Yesterday was the Sabbath, and the narrow grassy roads were lined with people going up to the house of God. The variety of color in the dress of the natives lent a sort of enchantment to the scene. The old church in which Father Coan, as they still call him, preached, yet stands, not the one originally built, but another structure in which he held forth in his later days. What scenes transpired under the ministry of that devoted man! To what spectacles have the walls of this and the older church borne witness! He tells us in his biography (which all who love the cause of missions should read) how for weeks and months the natives crowded in from all the surrounding country to hear the word of God, and how the church in which he preached resounded with the cries and supplications of those who sought to find peace in Christ. In one Sabbath 1,700 persons were received into the communion of the church after, as he tells us, a long probation and the most careful examination. In one year 5,244. During the whole ministry here 12,113 confessed their faith in Christ, and though that large congregation is greatly diminished in number, like the other native congregations of the islands, through a decrease in the population, yet the truth as it is in Jesus is still held forth to goodly numbers by native pastors. All over these hills and dales, all over these high mountains and through these deep valleys, those faithful messengers of Christ were accustomed to travel on foot or horseback, and wherever they went native congregations gathered in crowds to hear them. Would that those times of refreshing might visit these sunny isles again.

QUEER FEEDING CUSTOMS.

A couple of centuries ago most of the Kings and Queens of Europe partook of their principal meals in a semi-public fashion. That is to say, the royal saloons were often crowded with courtiers who simply came to witness, and not to partake of the royal banquet. One day at Whitehall the "Merrie Monarch" called to Count Grammont, who was among the loungers, and bade him note how his survivors, unlike those of other European monarchs, served him kneeling. "Oh," replied Grammont, with his ready wit, "I thought they were asking your Majesty's pardon for such a sorry dinner."

Some of the ancient Kings of France invested certain of their important banquets with a barbarous magnificence, and as they sat at table the nobility served them on ho seback. The Maldivian Islanders used to take their meals in the strictest solitude. They would retire to the most hidden parts of their houses and close up their windows so that they may eat unobserved. The origin of this singular custom was probably the fear in savage times of being deprived of their meal by marauders, and superstitious fears of their food being bewitched by some incantation of an enemy also contributed to bring about the feast of solitude. Among the higher classes there was a custom never to eat with any one inferior in birth, riches or dignity, and the great difficulty of settling this matter of quality left the only alternative of an unsociable and misanthropic custom. —[St. Louis Republican.]

CIGAR

THE ABOVE REQUEST IS H daily in cigar stores, saloos, other places where cigars are sold. It is an indisputed fact that most prefer a mild cigar, and that they have for a long time smoked cigars, principally imported from Cuba, after having thoroughly tried them, and finding that the system, surely want a mild cigar, could find the right kind.

How many thousands of smokers suffer from loss of appetite, nervous irritability, asthma, etc. who have tried all possible remedies without success, might be cured if they knew that their sufferings were by the moderate use of strong cigars, and that they should only smoke and properly prepared ones.

ENGELBRECHT'S "Sampler" Health Cigar

Which is made from mild, aromatic particularly selected and prepared tobacco, and contains all the qualities which may be expected from a cigar. It causes no bad effect, is agreeable to the taste, evenly to the end and possesses an aroma. No smoker should fail to try it.
