NUUANU VALLEY PEOPLE AGAIN AFRAID OF THE DAM

THE NUUANU DAM IS PRONOUNCED UNSAFE BY TWO RESIDENTS OF NUUANU VALLEY—STATE THAT THE DAM IS IN AS BAD A CONDITION AS IT WAS BEFORE AND RECONSTRUCTION IS A FARCE. PATTERSON FIGURES AGAIN.

It seems as if the Nuuanu Dam is bound to come again into the limelight. The people who reside in the Nuuanu Valley have received a new scare and yesterday an investigation was carried on which resulted in fortifying their fears. The affair may result in an exodus from the valley for there are a number who despair of having the matter bettered by the government and they do not wish to run the risk of living below the pent-up waters.

Yesterday afternoon J. I. Whittle and W. R. Patterson went up to the dam and spent some time in examining the structure. Patterson is the man whose complaints to Governor Carter brought about the first investigation. They both this morning stated that the dam is in as bad a condition as it was before the reconstruction began. They both say they will leave the valley if the dam is not remedied. They both this morning expressed their despair of ever having that done. They are both now advocating that the citizens of the Nuuanu valley appoint some man to go up there and keep his eyes open in behalf of the people. "That is the only way the people will get their interests looked after," said Mr. Patterson.

According to Whittle the dam is in a very bad state and is even worse than before. "I am afraid to live below the dam," said Mr. Whittle this morning, "and that is the reason I am now looking into the matter. Yesterday I looked all over the dam, examined each and every part and I found many places that were patched over and needed fixing. The core of the dam is not any more solid than it was before."

WHERE IS HOME FOR VOTING PURPOSES?

THE TERRITORIAL GRAND JURY TAKES THE KAKAOKO REGISTER-STUFFING AND HEARS THE STORIES OF THOSE WHO ARE SUPPOSED TO KNOW—"WHERE IS HOME?" MAY PROVE TO BE A PUZZLING QUESTION AS REGARDS SOME OF THOSE CONCERNED.

"Any Old Place Where I Hang My Hat, Is Home Sweet Home for Me," the latest Kakaako popular song, was sung to the Territorial Grand Jury this morning, in forma propria for such a body to listen to it, in the matter of the investigation of the alleged stuffing of the register in the vicinity of Queen and Richards streets. The question of "where is home?" has suddenly become very serious to about a dozen persons who registered from the precinct though, as is alleged, they do not live there, and one legal question that may come up in as to whether sleeping once in a while in the precinct is enough to make the locality a home for registration purposes.

Suppose a man is in the habit of frequenting some of the unglazed palaces of Kakaako and now and then when in the graveyard-yawning hour approaches he is unable to navigate, and is put to bed in the Magoon block? Does this give him a residence in Kakaako, to such an extent that he can legally register from there? This is the question as it may finally come before the courts, for it is said that some of those alleged to have wrongfully registered do now and then sleep in Kakaako, perhaps on the sawdust floor.

POLICE MADE A BIG GAMBLING RAID

CAUGHT 34 CHINESE IN A ROOM AND CHARGED THEM WITH GAMBLING FOR MONEY.

Thirty-four Chinese were before Judge Whitney this morning to answer to charges of having been present at a place where gambling had been conducted, to wit the second story of a building on Maunakea street near Hotel. They were fined $4 and costs each. Notice of appeal was given by Charles F. Chillingworth who defended them. The defence put on no evidence. Officer Apana and his assistant who made the arrests, admitted that they had not seen the alleged gambling actually in progress, but had heard the noise of dominoes and money chinking.

BECKLEY ONCE MORE REFUSES

HOME RULERS TRY TO HAVE HIM RECONSIDER HIS WITHDRAWAL AS A CANDIDATE FOR THE SENATE BUT HE DECLINES TO DO SO—MAKAINAI MAY BE NAMED AND REPUBLICAN FAMILY ROW MAY RESULT.

Several Home Rulers were after Fred W. Beckley today to get him to reconsider his withdrawal as a candidate for the Senate, but they met with no success, and now they are looking for another man, as they propose to try to fill the place on the ticket. Beckley declined absolutely to reconsider his withdrawal. It is said that Jesse P. Makainai is likely to be put up in place of Beckley, as the Home Rulers appear determined to have some one run. In this connection there are reports of Republican influences behind the Home Rule scheme to nominate Beckley or some other Hawaiian, by way of beating Chillingworth. The latter is understood to have practically a Home Rule endorsement, and this makes him certain of election unless the endorsement is voided by the putting up of another man. If this is done there may be a big row in the Republican camp, according to some of Chillingworth's friends, who claim to have evidence of Republican backing of the Beckley scheme.

WITHINGTON AFTER PRESENT CONDITIONS

DAVID L. WITHINGTON MADE AN ADDRESS BEFORE THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION THIS MORNING IN WHICH HE TALKED ON PRESENT POLITICAL CONDITIONS—WHITE RACES SHOULD ASSIST THE ORIENTALS TO DO BETTER.

At a meeting of the Ministerial Association this morning held in the Central Union church David L. Withington made a speech in which he heavily scolded the present conditions in this city. Mr. Withington based his remarks upon the question of whether a low standard of the law should be in effect in Hawaii or whether there should be a high standard with all of the buying and selling of justice which he stated was going on today. Mr. Withington said that this city was a very cosmopolitan place and that it was therefore the duty of all of the white people who have had a higher education to assist the other races in every way to rise to that plane of civilization. While he did not believe that all of the law breaking by these people could be stopped, he did not believe that it was right for justice and law to be bought and sold. He did not believe that Chinese gambling could be entirely wiped out but he did believe conditions could be improved. Mr. Withington stated further that the pay for the office of sheriff should be raised so that one so fitted for the office would be further away from temptation. The point of the entire address was that the white people in these islands should so carry on the government so that they would impress upon the Oriental mind the fact that Justice could neither be bought or sold. Mr. Withington stated that he knew that immunity from the punishments of the law was purchased by the Chinese gamblers from the dealings he had had with them personally. On several times he had been approached by Chinamen who wished to retain a lawyer but he stated that their immunity was always arranged for by themselves. They employed the services of a lawyer merely as a matter of form.

PORTER AND THE MONGOLIA

INQUIRY INTO THE CAUSE OF THE STRANDING OF THE PACIFIC LINER ON MIDWAY.

According to the San Francisco Chronicle the following was elicited on the inquiry into the cause of the stranding of the Mongolia at Midway:

Porter was asked by Bolger whether Cahill's testimony was true, and he said that some of it was true and some was not. He added that Cahill read his reports of the occurrence and approved them, and now he came forward to testify differently.

The log showed that seventeen fathoms was sounded at 10:15, and Martin said his was correct, and that the forty-fathom sounding was previous. Porter asserted that the ship was going dead slow from 9:40, that the engines were stopped at forty fathoms, which was about 10:20 o'clock, and that a few seconds after forty fathoms was reported he saw a white streak and gave the order for full speed astern.

The chief engineer, W. Chisholm, was the only witness who at all corroborated the captain. His log showed that the ship stopped at 10:20 and went full speed astern at 10:25. At 10:27 the ship was reported on the reef but how she got there Chisholm did not know. He could not tell whether the vessel kept going ahead after the engines were stopped, and he did not feel her strike.

Wiesenhaven stated that no signal was given the engine-room to stop the ship until she struck the reef, but Chisholm, who appeared to derive much amusement from the controversy was sure that his log was correct. The time recorded in it was taken from the clock in the engine-room, but he did not take it, and the man who did was not present. Chisholm said the ship was going dead slow for a time—between three and four knots. Schwerin remarked that he did not want to suggest that Chisholm was testifying in any particular to what was not the fact, but he understood from the chief engineer in a conversation with him that the ship was not stopped but was going ahead at four or five knots an hour.

BOARDING SCHOOL IS DOING WELL

INSTITUTION AT HILO HAS BEGUN ITS SEVENTY-FIRST YEAR—STARTED IN STRAW HUTS.

HILO, Hawaii, October 23.—The Hilo Boarding School has well begun its seventy-first year, with its usual attendance. The comparison of the conditions at the time the first straw huts were erected for the school in 1836 with those at present demonstrate the fact that the world does move.

The school buildings, situated near the foot of the first Hahaione hill, surrounded by their 40 acres of farm lands and grounds, are a busy little community with its daily round of duties for each resident. Many lines of industry are represented and the community is able to supply most of its needs, independently of the outside world.

A visit to the school is a revelation to the average resident who has viewed the institution at a distance. Visitors are always welcome there and a Tribune representative spent several hours pleasantly and profitably being given an insight by Principal L. C. Lyman and Mrs. Lyman into the classroom and industrial work of the school.

The morning hours from 8:40 till noon are given up to the work of the classroom. This work is conducted by Mr. Warner, Miss Ellen Lyman, Mrs. Ella H. Westervelt and Miss Searles. On this particular morning, a more advanced class was reciting concerning the life and work of Socrates, about the age of Pericles, and about the Persian invasion of Greece. Younger pupils were being corrected in their use of English, and the youngest were being taught the rudiments of arithmetic.

The afternoon is devoted to manual labor in the industrial department. All of these departments are sufficiently well equipped for practical and through instruction, electric power driving the heavy machinery. The boys are at work learning the methods of farming.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT.
There was a very large crowd at the benefit given Saturday night at the Open House for aged Hawaiians. Old Hawaiian songs were given. A tableau representing ancient customs was shown. The show was a success in every way.

THE SUPERVISORS.
A special meeting of the Board of Supervisors will be held on next Friday evening to authorize the printing of the county ballots. This has to be done in accordance with the law. No other business is expected to come up before the Board.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price, as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its original passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With women assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

HILO SOON TO HAVE LUMBER MILL

THE MACHINERY FOR THE NEW LUMBER MILL AT HILO IS EXPECTED SOON.

HILO, Hawaii, October 23.—Unless held up somewhere in transit, the machinery for the Mahogany Lumber Company is expected to arrive soon. This machinery is, of course, heavy. It consists of a 250 horse-power engine and boiler, large circular saw for squaring up the logs, band saw for sawing up the lumber for shipment, and wire cable apparatus for drawing logs from the timber into the mill.

A water supply presents something of a problem, as the region is without this necessary article, and the rainfall there is slight. This condition will be met by the construction of a half million gallon cistern, and Manager Cant is preparing something new in the way of a condenser that will be a saver of water.

Many difficulties have to be met, Manager Cant says, in the manufacture of this lumber; they have all the ills to be contended against in the manufacture of other hard-wood lumbers,—and others. The koa logs are large, rough and full of defects that have to be worked out.

The logs will work up into lumber of great width, however, which is a feature of value, and there is a great deal of fancy grained material derived from the logs that brings a high price.

The mill will be situated in the forest near the volcano house and the construction of buildings will begin soon.—Hilo Tribune.

Harris For Supervisor

W. W. Harris is another of the Republican candidates whose title to the votes of the people is that of a man who has clearly demonstrated his value as a public servant. Harris' record as a legislator shows him to be just the kind of man needed on the Board of Supervisors. It shows him to possess the sort of business ability which is called for, to handle the complicated work of County administration.

As a young man, inexperienced in legislative procedure, Harris entered the legislature at a time when there were many others equally or almost equally inexperienced. The Republican party lacked a leader of old-time experience. He was made chairman of the committee on finance and at once applied himself to a study of the problems of legislation which make that committee among the most important, in all legislative bodies. All who were present during the sessions in which he participated, know how valuable was the advice he was able to give to his colleagues, and how he came naturally to the front as the Republican leader on the floor. The last legislature was the most creditable the Territory has ever had. It made a record of which Hawaiians may be proud even in comparison with the legislative records of some of the oldest States, and certainly much of the credit is due to Harris,—as much, at least, as to any other one man.

That there should be any opposition within the ranks of his own party to the candidacy of Harris for Supervisor-at-Large would seem to be ridiculous. It should always be remembered that above all things a Board of Supervisors is a business organization. More even than a legislature, it has to deal constantly with the routine of many affairs of business, and these considerations make Harris a better man for the office than his Democratic opponent. There need be no attack upon Frank Harvey, but it is certainly true that he has not Harris' qualifications or experience, to enable him to deal with the work of Supervisor-at-Large. Therefore, Harris, besides getting the votes of all Republicans, should get the votes of that large body of citizens who in purely local affairs do not recognize partisan leadership, but vote simply for the best men, regardless of party. In the case of Harris there is no need for Republicans to scratch, and every reason for the other side to scratch in his favor.

The Fifteenth Amendment

The Democratic candidate for Delegate to Congress has, both on Hawaii and on this island, charged that his opponents have at various times and places urged the Hawaiian voters not to vote for "the haole McClanahan," because if elected he would disfranchise the Hawaiians. In some of his statements McClanahan has charged that Notley at least, if not Kuhio, had said that "the Haole McClanahan" would disfranchise them by securing an amendment to the Organic Act by striking out the words "or Hawaiian."

Beside his denial of any such intention, a denial that the absurdity of the charge alone makes necessary, Mr. McClanahan declares that the Fifteenth Amendment to the constitution of the United States takes it out of the power of Congress to disfranchise the Hawaiians. While the general tenor of the Fifteenth Amendment is probably familiar to all, its exact wording is familiar to comparatively few. For that reason it seems worth while to give it here. It is as follows: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

The section of the Organic Act which Notley charges is in danger, is the last paragraph of Section 60, defining the qualifications of voters. This paragraph provides that in order to vote, a citizen must "Be able to speak, read, and write the English or Hawaiian language." Striking out the words "or Hawaiian," would leave the paragraph "Be able to speak, read and write the English language."

Palma And The Cubans

The publication of the correspondence between President Palma and the Department of State through the Charge de Affairs at Havana, exhibits the late Cuban Government in a pitiable light. From the start the Cuban administration was wholly defenceless. It had made no preparation to suppress insurrection. It was ill-provided with officers, arms or men, and was unable to oppose any resistance to a revolt which, to judge by the arms surrendered, never mustered over 5,000 men, and these scattered.

Though warned, as the Cuban Government was, of its danger to Cuban independence, President Palma urged American intervention. The ensuing correspondence now places on record before the world, and the South American countries in particular, the strong disinclination of the United States to intervene until it proved imperatively necessary in the interest of all. The insurrectionary forces, in Cuba have promptly laid down their arms. The delicate task of disarming, and dispersing a force, four-fifths of whom are plantation negroes, with officers who looked for both office and fortune from their enterprise, has been carried out by General Funston with tact, discretion and firmness, without umbrage to native sensibilities and without committing the United States for the future.

Mr. Taft in his address at the Commencement of the Havana University awoke instant enthusiasm by appealing to Cuban youth to assume the responsibility of the future, to end the popular impression that the learned professions were alone suitable for university graduates, and to assume and exercise an immediate interest and influence on current affairs. In language which could not be mistaken, he appealed to Cuba to improve its capacity for self-government by preventing another insurrection and by maintaining order, without which liberty was sure to disappear.

The Insurance Campaign

Policy-holders in the great life insurance companies, who are being deluged with literature from one or the other of both of the rival groups which are seeking control may be pardoned for entertaining suspicion of both, seeing that the more they read of this literature the more bewildered they are. Most of that which impugns the motives of the other side is peculiarly adapted to arouse and to strengthen this suspicion, not alone of the element against which it is directed, but of that which issues it. No doubt there are thousands of policy-holders who, having the right to vote, will refrain from voting because in the maze of assertion and denial, of accusation and recrimination, they are bewil-ered to the extent that they cannot possibly separate the true from the false. This is extremely unfortunate, as it tends to confirm the view that the work of reformation has not yet gone far enough to put the insurance companies out of the reach of men who want to use them for their own selfish purposes.

Betting on election results is seldom anything more than an index of partisan confidence. The men who bet don't know any more about conditions and factors of results than anyone else.

Raisull, the Moorish chief, seems to have risen from the position of a pretender and a looter to the respectability of a potentate so well established as to have a rebellion on his hands.

Big Bets Offered On Election

A BUNCH OF PROPOSITIONS OFFERED FOR DEMOCRATS OF SPORTING TENDENCIES.

A big bunch of money ready for political bets is being handled round for local voters. The schedule offered covers several propositions both local and national, and offers some fine chances for those who like to back their election opinions. Here are some of the propositions offered.

$250 that Hughes is governor of New York.

$250 that Congress is Republican.

$250 that the legislature of Hawaii is Republican, both houses.

$1,000 that Kuhl is elected.

$1,000 that Brown is elected sheriff.

Some quiet soundings for Democratic money to cover these bets has been done, and it is believed that some of them will be covered. Odds will be demanded, however, on the Hughes, Kuhl and Congress propositions, as New York betting shows odds in favor of Hughes and a Republican Congress and Kuhl is regarded as a sure thing.

Mother Threatens Suicide

WIFE OF KOREAN MURDERER THREATENS TO KILL HERSELF AND TWO CHILDREN.

The wife of Han Sun Wob, the Korean murderer who tried to hang himself a week ago in his cell, called at Oahu Jail again yesterday and threatened to follow suit. She said that she might as well throw her two children into the harbor and jump in after them, and that such was about the best thing for her to do. The woman was allowed to see her husband, who, after a week in the hospital, is still unable to speak.

High Sheriff Henry and the Salvation Army representatives who were present talked to the unfortunate woman and succeeded in comforting her. It was agreed that she and her two children should be taken into the Salvation Army home and looked after. They are destitute and the woman did not appear to know what to do. One of her children is a mere baby and the other is a young girl of about eight. They were allowed to see their father, who lay helpless as a result of his effort to hang himself, and it was after an interview with him that the woman threatened to kill her children and then commit suicide.

It appears now that the reason for the murderer's attempt to kill himself was despondency caused by the visit of his wife a week ago, with news that she and her children were utterly destitute.

When the Salvation Army ladies yesterday took charge of the unlucky woman and her two unfortunate children, promising them a home and taking them away, all parties appeared satisfied. The woman gave up her suicidal notions, and the father seems willing, if he recovers, to settle down to serve his twenty-five years' hard labor.

FINANCED THE CUBAN REVOLT

MANUEL SILVEIRA, THE DEFAULTER, SAID TO HAVE GIVEN FUNDS.

NEW YORK, October 18.—Manuel Silveira, the Cuban banker whose alleged embezzlement of $1,000,000 belonging to J. M. Ceballos & Co., caused that firm's failure, financed the recent revolt in Cuba, according to Havana advices to the New York Times. Part of the money, it is stated, was spent in the purchase of arms. Silveira's activity in the revolution is declared to have been due to a quarrel with President Palma. They had been together in some large cattle deals, Silveira supplying stock for Palma's estate in Bayamo. While these deals were proceeding, Silveira became interested in the Tacon Theater deal, which involved a sale to the Government at $200,000 above the purchase price. While this deal was pending Palma found that he had been badly beaten in a cattle deal, and thereupon frustrated the theater transaction.

Silveira at that moment became Palma's enemy and began plotting revolution. Then he employed Jose Miguel Gomez as manager of his sugar estate. The Government openly persecuted Gomez, sending troops and artillery to coerce people near the estate to refuse to deal with Gomez or Silveira. The result was the dismissal of Gomez, who went to New York. Then Silveira began other negotiations, and when the insurgent leaders took the field he supplied them with funds.

The Government learned of Silveira's complicity and had prepared to arrest him when he purchased freedom by the ostensible gift of 500 horses and the betrayal of Quentin Banderos. Intervention by the United States brought about a situation where Silveira's treasury to both sides was bound to appear, with consequent danger to his life. He thereupon apparently laid hands on what cash was available and fled.

This is the story from Havana. Reports have been current in New York from the first that it would be found that Silveira was concerned in the Cuban revolution, but Juan M. Ceballos of the bankrupt firm declared that in his opinion the reports were wrong. If they were true, Ceballos said he knew nothing about Silveira's work for the revolutionists.

John S. Fiske, a member of the Ceballos banking firm, declared again last night that in his opinion Silveira had nothing to do with the revolt. He declared positively, also, that Ceballos had certainly had no share in any business of that sort.

"Silveira must have been crazy," said Fiske. "I can think of no other explanation for what he has done."

Meantime, no word of Silveira's whereabouts has been found. All South American ports are being watched, but so far nothing has been heard of Silveira or the cattle-carrying steamship in which he fled from Havana a week ago last Tuesday.

A member of the firm of J. M. Ceballos & Co., reiterated the belief yesterday that Silveira had gone to Venezuela and would stay there. He said a brother of President Castro was Silveira's partner in the Venezuelan cattle trade monopoly, and Silveira was a close friend of President Castro. It would have been an easy matter, the Ceballos foreer say, for Silveira to

FEDERAL INSPECTORS ARE COMING SOON

THEY WILL LEAVE SAN FRANCISCO ON THE ALAMEDA NEXT SATURDAY.

Acting Customs Collector Stockbridge and President J. A. Kennedy of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company have been advised of the approaching visit of the Federal Inspectors of Hulls and Boilers. The inspectors, who are August N. Nyquist and Thomas J. Heenev of the St. Michael district, will make the inspection of this district. They will leave San Francisco by the Alameda on November 3. The inspectors sent a request to the Acting Collector advising him of their approaching visit and asking that the usual assistance be given by the collector to the inspectors. To President Kennedy they requested that the vessels of the company be prepared for the annual inspection as soon as possible, in order to facilitate the work.

This matter raises an issue, however, as to whether the inspectors should hold the inspection so early. The dates of when the certificates of the various vessels in these waters expire about February. According to the regulations inspection can not be completed earlier than 30 days before the expiration of such date. It is not improbable, however, that the local company will co-operate with the inspectors in this matter.

It is likely that various men in the navigating and engineering departments will be examined for licenses.

ELECTION SUPPLIES BEING SENT OUT

THE COUNTY CLERK HAS HIS FORCE AT WORK UPON THE SENDING OUT OF SUPPLIES.

The County Clerk has his office force busy today in sending out the election supplies for the county precincts. A number went out to the rural voting precincts by this morning's train and a large number will depart this evening. The supplies sent out consist of the ballot boxes, the ballots, and election supplies such as the books to keep the records in. All are sealed and are sent together with instructions, not to be opened until the morning of the election and in the presence of the entire election board.

The supplies for the Honolulu voting precincts will be sent around during the last of the week. This entire week will be a busy one in the office of the county clerk.

NEW SCHOOLS IN MAKAWAO

BUILDING IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY AND DISTRICT WILL SOON BE IN SATISFACTORY SHAPE.

KAHULUI, October 24.—The new school at Kihel is about completed, the carpenters expecting to finish this week, and the painters taking hold of the work. The school is a two-room affair and will fill a long felt want. Mr. Sullivan, the contractor, has also the contract for the new Wahee school, and expects to move over immediately to Wahee, and start work there.

Work has also commenced on the new one-room school house at Huelo, Mr. Mansfield of Honolulu having the contract for the same. With the completion of the Kihel and Huelo school houses, the District of Makawao will have but one old school house to replace, that one being Paia, but that one needs it badly, as the old school buildings are in a bad way. Then a new school is needed at Keahua, the new camp of the Maui Agricultural Co., with the completion of which Makawao District will be well provided.

MANILA, October 23.—Pulajanes in Samar province attacked a supply boat on the Surigao river. They killed three scouts and wounded one. Five of the Pulajanes were killed.

make small shipments of gold to his partner in Venezuela and send it by a trusty messenger on one of his cattle boats. By doing this in small amounts they say, he would not have attracted the attention of the banking houses in Havana. There was no treaty between Cuba and Venezuela and it would be almost an impossible task to get Silveira.

William Nelson Cromwell, counsel for the assignee, said that if it was found that Silveira was in Venezuela he did not believe that Ceballos & Co. would spend much money to get him extradited.

The Seville Packing Company of this city, importers and packers of olive oil and olives, is the first concern forced to the wall as the result of the suspension of J. M. Ceballos & Co. Ceballos is the heaviest stockholder and his two partners are officers of the company. A petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday against it by attorneys for five small creditors and Harlan F. Stone was appointed receiver.

It was intimated that the liabilities were less than $200,000. In the application for the receiver it was stated that the assets are more than $50,000.

There will be a meeting of Harmony Lodge this evening of special importance. All members are urged to attend.

DEMOCRATS HAVE IMMENSE CROWD

McCLANAHAN'S OPENING ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS OF OAHU ON SATURDAY NIGHT.

One of the largest political meetings ever held in Honolulu was that held by the Democrats last Saturday night at Aala Park, where E. R. McClanahan, candidate for Delegate to Congress, began his campaign on this island. McClanahan in his speech dealt mostly with the Cuban question, and was also well received. The first speakers were H. H. Trent, Frank Harvey and Sam Kalou, the latter decrying the Cuban issue. McClanahan began at once to discuss Cuban annexation as a grave danger to Hawaiian business interests.

"Prior to the Spanish-American war," said McClanahan "the Democratic members of Congress backed up by the best sugar men of the Western States, forced Congress to declare that the war was not one of conquest and that Cuba would be made an independent republic. This declaration was made to the world. "Since that time the war has been fought and Cuba has been made a free and independent republic, but now that republic is almost at an end. During the past few months we have had our eyes opened to the fact that in Cuba for the past years a skillfully planned plot has been hatching to bring about the annexation of that republic with the United States. The cohorts of men who planned this were the ones which fostered, started and supported the recent revolution which brought about American intervention and established an American Governor. It has also forced out the statement that the occupation is only temporary and that Cuba would have another chance.

"What does another change mean but an invitation for another revolution. The statement pledges the government to step in after another revolution and complete the annexation. Some think that the annexation is inevitable. Some think that it is coming soon, others believe that it is some time off, but we all believe that when it does come it means absolute ruin to the sugar interests of Hawaii, for the annexation of Cuba would drive Hawaiian sugar out of the markets of the mainland and close every mill in the islands.

"There is but one thing between us and Cuban annexation. That is the public sentiment of the people of the mainland, the sentiment which forced Congress to declare that Cuba would be free. And until this sentiment is changed we will never see the annexation of the Cuban republic. Those who want it know this as well as we do and their work will be to shape the sentiment and force the course of events so that their ends can be brought about. And to combat this will be the work of the Hawaiian delegate.

"The time will soon come when the people of the mainland will be called upon to vote upon this question and upon this vote will rest the fate of Hawaii. The result of the vote will be the crystallized opinion of the people of the mainland upon the subject and it is our work to so crystallize this popular opinion that the vote will be in opposition to the annexation of Cuba. If Hawaii waits to act until the people are called upon to vote it will be too late. Now is the time to act, now is the time to show the country what Hawaii wants.

"Some are asking what the delegate to Congress has to do with this question. How can Hawaii act? If you look over the field you can see the situation. The forces opposed to the Cuban annexation are among the Democrats on the mainland and if annexation is to be defeated it must be done through the Democratic party. Twice the people of the United States have declared against the question through the Democrats and it is the Democratic party which must force the colonial policy of the country further along this line. The public sentiment, however, belongs to no party and as long as public sentiment stands as it does today there will be no Cuban annexation.

"Now if the public sentiment is going to be worked upon to change it, our plan is to work through the Democratic party against such a change. If you will for a moment forget that you are a Republican, a Home Ruler or a Democrat and remember only the interest of yourself and your country, I will tell you of something you can do to help. But you must forget your politics or you will be blinded to my argument.

"Hawaii can not do this alone. It must have the support of the public sentiment of the mainland. Public opinion knows first, that the annexation must be brought about by the Republican party; second, that the Democrats are opposed to it, and third, that the interests of Hawaii are bound up in her sugar interests. The public of the United States also knows that the people of Hawaii will this November vote on the Cuban question, for this is the question that I am forcing upon my opponents. Now, suppose we should send as delegate as a result of that voting a man who stands as a supporter of the party which stands on the mainland as in favor of annexation. The mainland voter will say: "Why, I thought that Hawaii was interested in this question. I thought that the Cuban annexation would drive Hawaii out of the sugar business, but I find that in an election in which this question was an issue that they have elected a man belonging to the annexation party. I guess I was mistaken about Hawaii and I will now look at the matter from the standpoint of the Cuban planter. I will forget Hawaii, for she has forgotten herself."

KUHIO BEGINS OAHU CAMPAIGN

REPUBLICANS HOLD A BIG MEETING AT PEARL CITY SATURDAY EVENING.

The Republicans' big rally on Saturday night was at Pearl City. Six carloads of people went from Honolulu to attend the meeting and they were met by another big Pearl City crowd. There was plenty of enthusiasm and Kuhio, who was opening his Oahu campaign, was received with cheers and applause. Cupid did not make a very long speech, his voice being in poor condition as a result of too much speaking during his tour of other islands. He referred to his Washington work and expressed hope that he could have the refund bill passed in the coming session of Congress. Cupid said he had been charged with working for the rich element, but this was not true; his interest in the poor was as great as in the rich. He referred to a speech made by W. H. Castle at the Mahonk Conference last summer in which that gentleman favored as qualification for the franchise such as would disbar many Hawaiians. "And that gentleman," he said, "is the president of this Civic Federation that has refused to endorse some of the Republican candidates."

The Rev. S. L. Desha, silver tongued orator of Hawaii, kept the audience almost continuously applauding or in laughter, with an address full of Hawaiian eloquence and humor. He said that Hawaiians of the big island, which he has just been touring, would not throw down their keikee prince for mahini McClanahan. He roared the Civic and said that all the Republicans should stand by their party's ticket.

W. W. Harris repudiated his Civic endorsement again, referring to the Civic's failure to endorse Kuhio. He said the latter had ably represented Hawaii in Washington, and would do so again. Charles Chillingworth made an earnest plea for support for Kuhio against McClanahan. Sheriff Brown was received with cheers. He said in part:

"This is the hardest campaign in the history of the country, but I believe that the victory is sure in consequence. It is the duty of Republicans to stand shoulder to shoulder and defeat the organization of disgruntled Republicans known as the Civic Federation. This same organization failed to support me," he said, "and, as Mr. Harris has told you, gentlemen, that I would sooner stand on the outside with our delegate, unendorsed, than to have their endorsement without him, and it is for you to put your stamp of disapproval upon that body by electing a straight Republican ticket. Iaukea is more the candidate of the Civic Federation than the Democratic party. If you do not believe that, read his speech that was delivered at Puhon last night. I tell you, gentlemen, Iaukea never made that speech; it was written in the Advertiser office and published in that paper this morning. As I appeal for myself, I appeal to you for the whole ticket, not on promises of reward, but on my past record. As you believe in fair play, be true to your principles and the Republican candidates and vote the straight ticket."

Link McCandless made an evident hit. Among the matters he referred to was promotion work, which he said was bringing Hawaii to the notice of all world and would make her prosperous. He also discussed tax matters and roared the Democratic free trade doctrine.

Another Republican meeting was called for the Fort street lot, with Supervisor Lucas as chairman. The Republicans, speakers and all, however, appeared to have gone to Pearl City, and when Lucas called for speakers there were none present. Aylett failed to respond and Kalou was brought forward to fill in the time. Aylett came later and made a short address, and the meeting adjourned early.

"This, I say, will be what the thinking man will say when he hears of the result of the election of a Republican Delegate from Hawaii. If, on the other hand, the Hawaiians, voting on this question, reverse their former course it will be serving notice in unmistakable terms that this is a question which touches us very deeply and that we respond instantly to the touch. It may be that little thing that will turn the scale against Cuban annexation. That little thing may be a great thing. I may be exaggerating, but I may not be exaggerating. Can we afford to take any chances with the question? The question which threatens to strike us down commercially, ruin our industries, our homes and happiness?"

"To the party man I say he has no business putting politics into this question. It is not politics in Hawaii—it is the very commercial life of our country that is at stake. It is not a question of Republican, Home Rule or Democrat here, but a question of the best interest of the country. "The Republican party in this campaign is saying little of the Cuban question, and it is because of the listlessness of some and the blind partisanship of others that the very danger comes. Republicans are engaged principally in ridiculing what I am saying in this matter. Ridiculing a man who is trying to point out the peril of this country. This is the partisanship that is endangering us."

In conclusion McClanahan made further references to the alleged statements by Notley and Kuhio, that he would work to disfranchise the Hawaiians. He emphatically denied any such intention and called attention to the Fifteenth Amendment which he said made Congress powerless to disfranchise Hawaiians.
W. P. Jarrett and C. P. Iaukea followed, both repeating their former addresses and pledging themselves to enforce the law. Moore, Silva, Thayer and Joe Fern also spoke.

STRENUOUS OVER ARBOR DAY

An Opportunity

Commissioner M. T. Simonton will sell at Public Auction at the front entrance of the Judiciary Building, Honolulu, on SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 3, AT 12 O'CLOCK NOON.

Real Estate and Improvements that should invite the attention now of investors who are looking for safe propositions. The property is offered under foreclosure proceedings of the Hawaiian Trust Co., Ltd., vs. Millie Morris, and the sale is ordered by the Honorable W. J. Robinson, third Judge of the First Judicial Circuit.

The land comprises 2 61-100 acres, situate on King street, just Ewa of the Palama rice fields.

Improvements comprise 14 Cottages, each containing Parlor, 2 Bedrooms, Dining Room, Kitchen and Bath. At present the rental returns are $70 per month.

These buildings occupy but a portion of the property; the most valuable part, comprising a piece, approximately 172 feet on King Street and about 236 feet deep to the portion now built on is unoccupied.

There is also an unoccupied space of about 130 feet at the mauka end of the property, giving room for the erection of 4 more cottages.

The Cottages are not old, and find ready tenancy. This valuable property is now producing a good rental, which can be vastly enhanced by improving the unoccupied portions.

All particulars required can be obtained by application to MESSRS. BALLOU & MARX, 205 Stangenwald Building, Or to M. T. SIMONTON, Commissioner, At the Judiciary Building.
