FOREIGN NEWSCrash on Wall Street.

New York, May 9.—Shortly after 11 o'clock all support was withdrawn from the stock market and prices began falling many points between sales. Union Pacific went down rapidly, 4,000 shares sold at 85. A thousand shares of Missouri Pacific sold at 97. Peoples Gas of Chicago, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Amalgamated Copper, Atchison and St. Paul made sensational declines, the like of which had not been seen in many years. St. Paul sold down to 144, Missouri Pacific 93; Erie, 29; United States Steel 87; Atchison 83; Southern Pacific, 45; Western Union, 87; Amalgamated Copper, 96; Erie, 57; Atchison common, 57; Union Pacific, 86; Rock Island, 148; Missouri Pacific, 88; Louisville and Nashville, 99. The tape recorded the sale of 1800 shares of Union Pacific at 80.

New York, May 8.—Wall street today experienced the greatest excitement it has known in years and, while the prices were soaring up and down in the wildest manner, brokers and speculators became almost frenzied. In the mad manipulation of the market the shorts were squeezed until the financial life was crushed out of them.

Men rushed about the floor of the temporary exchange in the Produce Exchange like maddened animals, and the din of many voices raised a noisy discord that reminded one of the panic days of the past, when Jay Gould was a power in the market. From the crowded galleries spectators watched the brokers in their mad rush for money as they would a riot, and women became frightened. They could not believe that the men were merely buying and selling. It looked to them as if murder was being committed.

It is impossible to make rational estimate of the effect of the slump, but old operators declare thousands of margin speculators who were reasonably well fixed this morning, found themselves ruined at night. Thousands of employes are said to be mortgaged for months ahead as the result of negotiating their salaries to risk the money in the financial whirlpool.

Two Shamrocks Ready.

SOUTHAMPTON, May 9.—Sir Thomas Lipton has reached Southampton. Mr. Watson and Captain Jameson will arrive here today but Mr. Eife is not expected until Monday or Tuesday next. Sir Thomas will send the two Shamrocks to Weymouth today for trial in deep water, clear of tides and shoals. It is not likely that further trials will take place in the Solent. At all events most of them will take place outside. The two Shamrocks will anchor for the night at Weymouth, and the new mainsail of the Shamrock II will be bent Friday.

King Sends Greeting.

MELBOURNE, May 9.—After opening the Australian Federal parliament today, the Duke of Cornwall and York read the following telegram from King Edward VII: "My thoughts are with you on this august occasion. Wish the commonwealth of Australia every happiness and prosperity."

President McKinley in a Rose Storm.

REDLANDS, May 8.—President McKinley's welcome to California, extended by Governor Gage and attested by thousands of Californians, was a model of cordiality and good taste. It was an auspicious beginning of what will be a historic tour and remarkable for the continuous outpouring of popular enthusiasm. Covered with dust gathered through the long night's ride across the desert, the train swept past Indio, the oasis on the sands, past Beaumont, with its band of cheering citizens, and down San Geronimo past to the green fields and orchards of Redlands. The travelers were weary and travel stained. For two days they had been in a cloud of dust and sand, intensified by a drive in the environs of Phoenix. Some of the Presidential party were up at dawn, and saw at Indio the hint of freshness that was to revive them during the brief but pleasant stay at Redlands. Before daylight work was being done to complete the adornment of this embowered town. The streets had been sprinkled with oil a week before and were smooth and dustless. Then, with the dew still on their petals, thousands upon thousands of roses were scattered along the street that was to be trodden by the four white horses drawing the President's carriage. Overhead strands of trolley wires, attached to the trolley wires, mingled their colors with the foliage of pepper and orange, and banners and pennants of many hues fluttered in the ocean's breeze.

At 9:30, promptly on time, the President's train drew in town and halted in a mass of people. Cheer upon cheer broke from the crowd as the President, Mrs. McKinley, members of the Cabinet and guests alighted. Grand Marshall J. M. Wallace quickly had the simple escort under march, leading the carriages conveying the Presidential party. The Perris Indian school band led, composed of lads of 20 or thereabouts, followed by Company C, 7th Regiment, N. G. C., Captain Higby, commanding. Company A, Young Men's Christian Association Cadets, in white and gold uniforms, preceded the President's carriage. On either side of the four-in-hand which bore the President and Mrs. McKinley walked a little escort of aged "Boys in Blue," who had seen service in the rebellion with McKinley's Ohio Regiment. Lining the streets near the hotel stood school children with bouquets, rose branches and palms, which they cast under the hoofs of the horses as the procession swept by. All along the line, which was half a mile in length, the President and his Cabinet were greeted with cheers.

Pope to Name Successor.

LONDON, May 4.—The Pope, according to a dispatch to the Times from Rome, is understood to have made a will designating his successor, thus, to quote the correspondent, modifying the habitual mode of choosing a Pope by a conclave. The news of the Pope's will first took shape in a diplomatic note from the Bavarian Minister to his favorite. His theory is simple—the papal power, being absolute, involves the right of naming a successor.

Cronje's Wife Insane.

NEW YORK, May 4.—A cable to the Journal from Amsterdam says: Advice received here from St. Helena, where a large number of Boer prisoners are confined, states that Mrs. Cronje, wife of the Boer General, Cronje, who is with her husband on the island, has become mentally unbalanced owing to her experience in the war and her life in her prison home at Longwood. Mrs. Cronje imagines that she is ex-Empress Eugenie of France. Five other Boer prisoners have also become insane.

Bitten by a Neville.

"I guess I am the only living man that has been bitten by the neville, a venomous lizard of the isthmus of Tehuantepec," said William W. Cloon, a New Yorker with Central American experiences. "This lizard is of the Gila monster family and is a horrid looking reptile with a mottled liver color and is from six to ten inches long. Its bite is deadly, and, as I said, I am the only person known who has lived after being bitten. It was a case of nip and tuck, though, and I didn't get over it for two months or more."

"The brute bit me out of pure malice, for I wasn't doing a thing to it. I had a coffee plantation down on the isthmus several years ago and just before the hot season began, which was in March, I had as my guest Dr. Ferguson MacDonald of the Smithsonian institutions who was in that country in the interest of science. While he was with me we received an invitation to visit the great plantation of Dr. Pedro Arguilles, one of the most prominent men of that country, and we went to his hacienda near Minittlan. The ladies of the family had all gone to Mexico City and as the weather was hot we men loafed around in our pyjamas, the upper garment of which is a big sleeved affair called a camisa."

Tricks of Barnstormers.

"One of the old slang phrases of the stage," said Muggles, who used to be a good actor, was "to pong." This means, or used to mean, using your own language—that is, playing a part without cues of the proper lines, playing only upon a knowledge of the play to carry you through. Years ago on the road there used to be some highly ludicrous situations in consequence of a new play being produced in a hurry. The stage manager, however, had a wonderful genius for patching up a hitch. When circumstances were necessary, he would sometimes lower a front scene and tell the low comedian and chambermaid to go on and 'keep it up,' and while they did so he would arrange how the play had to be continued.

When the Mexicans, who were in that portion of Mexico, which was ceded to the United States, at the close of the Mexican war, became thereby citizens of the United States, they were of course unable to speak the English language, and laws were wisely passed allowing the use of the Spanish language in court proceedings. But in Hawaii the case is altogether different. For many years the English language has been taught in our public schools, exclusively of late, and there is no reason or excuse for the use of anything but the English language for official purposes, either in our courts or in the legislature.

It is a very serious question as to whether the Latin races are really capable of self government. Spain made a failure of it, and Italy a still more pitiable one. France, which is really semi-Latin in its racial structure, is maintaining a republican form of government, but the supreme test will be applied when a partial autonomy is given to Porto Rico and the Philippines. Of course, being in the leading strings of the United States, these countries will have in a measure to keep step, but nothing only disaster could arise from allowing them to establish independent self government.

There is no question but that the majority of the more intelligent class of people on the Islands would favor county and municipal government on strictly American plans. If there were any assurance that the best men would be selected for office holders. But if some of the Home Rulers now performing in the legislature are a fair sample of what the result of county elections would be, it is no wonder that conservative people, who only desire the welfare of the Islands, naturally shrink from trusting the interests of the people in such irresponsible hands.

The attention of Jared Smith is respectfully invited to the matter of the cultivation of caoutchouc or india rubber on the Islands. No better line of experimenting could be devised than that of testing different places on the Islands as to their adaptability for this purpose, and noting results. True, it would require from seven to ten years to thoroughly exploit the matter, but an industry would probably be thereby established which would prove a source of profit for the next hundred years.

There is no stronger or more effective argument than that suggested by an ably drawn cartoon, because it is at once amusing, suggestive and perfectly unanswerable. The Advertiser is armed with a fearful weapon in Yardley's cartoons, and their artful delineation of the calf and the monkey are infinitely more effective than the sharpest editorial utterances. No wonder that Kaiser Wilhelm is rendered furious by cartoons of his majesty.

The Islands are fairly well supplied with newspapers, but there is a good field yet open for exploitation in the matter of a literary paper. The Paradise of the Pacific and the Sunday Volcano are merely indications of what is needed, — a literary illustrated weekly, which will serve as a medium to conserve and diffuse a distinctively Hawaiian flavored literature. Honolulu today offers an inviting field for a literary paper.

The people of the Islands are waiting with considerable interest and curiosity to see what the outcome of the extra session will be. A golden opportunity is now offered to the Home Rulers to redeem the past and enact laws that will prove that party worthy of support in the future. But that is perhaps too much to hope from the class of men who compose the majority of the present legislature.

There is at present no reasonable doubt but that a cable bill will be passed at the next session of congress, and although the Islands have already developed wonderfully in their isolation, yet the first cable message which is flashed from the mainland to the Islands will be the sign of an era of development which is hardly conceivable at present.

The fact that Governor Dole and the Home Rule party were able to agree on two good men is a harbinger of a better era. Now if the Republican party and the home rulers will try very hard, they can doubtless agree on the selection of members of the next legislature who will be able and willing to enact necessary and proper laws.

The young men of Maui are organizing an athletic association should receive the moral and financial support of the people generally, because such sport is not only manly, but it also tends to develop a higher physical and mental tone to the hope of our country,—our boys.

Wonder what sort of American soldiers the Porto Ricans and Filipinos would make? Uncle Sam may need them soon. There is also a large surplus of negroes in the South, who are always fond of a "scrap", and who would prove gallant defenders of the flag.

"I couldn't see what it was, but I knew something about tropical reptiles and I kept perfectly quiet while the doctor caught up one of his revolvers and threw a couple of cartridges into it. He aimed across my body and fired, and as I jumped to my feet a neville at least seven inches long fell writhing to the ground, shot through the head. The bullet and gone on into my arm and came out at the elbow and I was bleeding. Between the bullet marks, though, were the fang marks where the neville had struck its teeth into my arm, and I told the doctor I thought it had got me. As soon as he saw it he gave me some kind of a hypodermic injection in the left leg, the right arm having been bitten, and at once took his knife and slashed me across the fang marks. Into the wounds of my arm he poured a bottle of concentrated ammonia. Almost instantly after I had been bitten I began to grow dizzy and to see what seemed to me to be clouds of light smoke; and when the ammonia struck me I keeled over in a dead faint."

"Five days later I awoke in a mud bath by the riverside, my body twice its normal size and my tongue sticking out of my mouth. They had carried me there as soon as I fainted, and night and day my guide and his daughter had been watching by me, with fires at night to keep off the animals from the jungle. Every 12 hours my arm was lifted from the mud and cleaned, and on these occasions it was always found to be of a green color. As soon as I returned to consciousness I was carried to the house and put to bed, and there for two weeks I remained and then went down to the coast and up to the well known hot springs, where I was treated for two months until every bit of the venom had left my body. During it all I suffered no pain, nor have I ever felt the slightest inconvenience since. What effect the bullet wound in the arm had I don't know. Possibly the blood that came from the bullet wounds saved me. Anyhow something happened that never happened to any other person bitten by a neville, or I wouldn't be here to tell the story."

Mr. Cloon shared his story for the benefit of the listeners, and if an arm ever looked as if it had been through a hard campaign that one did. It was scarred as if burnt with hot irons and covered from the elbow down with all kinds of peculiarly shaped mottled spots of about the same color as the lizard.—New York Sun.

"Say, dad," said the actor who had to read the letter, seeing it blank, 'here's a letter for you. You had better read it yourself, as I am sure it contains good news.'

"But 'dad' tumbled to the occasion and replied: 'No, Tom, you read it. I've mislaid my spectacles.'

"Bless me," said Tom, 'it is written so badly I can't make out a word of it. Here Nelly, you read it.'

"The unsuspecting Nelly takes the letter, and seeing it blank says: 'No, father had better read it. He will be able to make it out better. I'll go and fetch your spectacles. I know where they are.' And off she goes.

"The old man is again equal to the occasion and calls out to her: 'Never mind bringing them, Nelly. I'll come and get them.' Then he walked off and the stage manager had to rearrange the scene.

"Yes, sir: there's a lot in the theatrical business you outsiders never dream of."—New York Times.

Anecdotes of Forrest.

"General Forrest of the Confederate army," said an ex-Confederate officer, "was a military genius of the first rank. Without previous training or any developed taste in that direction he went into the army from a place as overseer and attained commanding rank absolutely by merit. Rough and uncouth at first, he became in later life a courtly gentleman whom it was a pleasure to meet and to know. I remember on one occasion some time after the war coming up the Potomac with him I wanted to introduce a young woman who was under my escort. He said he was flattered by the request, but that he could not meet her unless she knew perfectly well who he was and that he was not held in high esteem by the northern people chiefly on account of the Fort Pillow affair. I assured him that she was fully apprised of his record, and then he went with me to meet her, and she told me later she had never met a more attractive man.

"Earlier in his career—that is, before he had learned to spell—he was asked by a young lady to put his autograph in her album. He wrote his name as requested and under it his title, 'major general of calvary,' as he spelled it. The lady called his attention to it in a very delicate way, and he looked at it a moment, and with a full consciousness that he was lacking in that regard and with a beautiful and scarcely to be expected humility he said, 'Let it stand to show how ignorant General Forrest is.' There are not many men who would have done that, I imagine, and it was the little things that, showed the man's true greatness."—New York Sun.

Whistled as She Sang.

The man who knew many things was instructing the new and verdant stenographer as to the use of the various office appliances, and finally he introduced her to the speaking tube. "Now, see," said the man, "you put one tube to your ear and the other to your mouth, then whistle." "Into which one do I whistle?" asked the guileless stenographer.

"Heavens," cried the man, "which one do you suppose you whistle in, the one at your ear or the one at your mouth?"

"That was what I wanted to know," said the stenographer, "for I whistled as I sing, entirely by ear."—Memphis Scimitar.

Legislative Notes.

Mr. Aebi under suspension of rules, introduced a resolution that each side of the house should have but two speeches on a single item. Resolution defeated.

House bill number one, appropriating $30,000 for the expenses of the extra session and for unpaid bills of the last session, passed third reading. Emmeluth, Mousarrat and Keiki voting no. Emmeluth called for a statement of the items, having his economy hatchet ready, but the introducer of the bill declined to respond.

The Senate is working very slow. At the present rate it is doubtful if the bill can be finished in thirty days, however anxious the members affect to desire it. The Home Rulers have their little hatchets out for everything that comes along. On the Republican side there is also a disposition to cut but the Republicans are far more cautious in the slashing policy.

In reply to Senator Aebi's resolution, asking if other than the appropriation bill might be considered at this special session, the Attorney General this morning submitted to the Senate an opinion of his assistant, J. J. Dunne, in which it is held that Section 54 limits the Legislature to the one object. The opinion covers thirty-six pages of type-written matters, and is a most exhaustive arrangement of authorities and treatment of the subject. Mr. Dunne concludes with the following, which is the final decision:

"I am distinctly of the opinion that Section 54 restrains and limits legislative power, at an extra session, to the consideration of appropriation bills."

Police salaries get many cuts, though that of the High Sheriff and deputy remain the same. The changes in the Attorney-General's department are as follows, the sums being for two years:

Attorney General	$ 9,000	$8,000
Deputy Attorney General	6,000	4,800
Assistant	4,800	3,600
Clerk	3,600	3,000
Clerk to High Sheriff	3,600	3,000
Sheriff of Hawaii	5,000	4,200
Sheriff of Maui	4,500	4,200
Sheriff of Kauai	4,000	3,600
Salary of the Clerk to the Sheriff of Maui	1,800	1,500
Salary of the Deputy Sheriff of Hawaii	3,600	3,000
Pay of Police, Hawaii	65,000	50,000
Deputy Sheriff Maui	3,000	2,400
Deputy Sheriff Kauai	2,400	2,160
Pay of Maui Police	40,000	35,000
Deputy Sheriff of Kauai	3,000	2,400
Pay of Kauai Police	23,000	20,000
Pay of Police, Oahu	160,000	140,000

The following are the amounts allowed for Maui in the appropriation bill:

Salary of clerk, Scediff Circuit	$1,800.
Salaries of District Magistrates, Lahaina, third class	$2,200; Wailuku, $2,880; Makawao, third class, $2,200; Hana, fourth class, $1,650 (passed at $1,200); Kipahulu, eighth class, $690; Honouliuli, seventh class, $800; Molokai, sixth class, $1,000; Lanai, eighth class, $600.

Emmeluth's resolutions expressing want of confidence in Governor Dole passed the House, but was defeated in the Senate.

The first large cut in salaries of heads of departments came in that of the Superintendent of Public Works. The salaries of the Attorney General, Treasurer, and Superintendent of Public Works are cut $500 a year each, from $4,500, that of the Superintendent of Public Instruction is recommended for a cut from $4,500 to $3,000. The finance committee even wants to cut the back salary of the Superintendent, for it recommends a cut of about $1,600 in his unpaid salary for the year just ended. The salary remained unpaid on account of a technicality, the organic act naming the official differently from the title given him in the last appropriation bill providing for his salary, so that warrants could not be drawn.

Fifteen jobs, some of them quite high are recommended to be abolished altogether and thirty-six other positions are marked as doubtful to be continued. The office of executive officer of the Board of Health is abolished and the president made executive officer.

The S. S. Hawaiian from San Francisco reached Kahului on Thursday, bringing 1200 tons of heavy machinery for the Kahului mill. There are 170 pieces weighing from four to eight tons each, and a 15 ton boiler.

The inquiry into the case of Engineer Herlihy of the wrecked Rio de Janeiro is all in and, at the time the Nippon Maru left San Francisco, a decision was expected that would be adverse to Herlihy. No new testimony was introduced.

The Pacific Mail steamer Peru, Captain Pinsbury arriving Tuesday night, twenty-four and one-half days from Panama and five hours from Mazatlan. The Peru which is the best of the Pacific Mail's Panama fleet, has been substituted for the lost Rio de Janeiro on the China route, and is to sail on May 11th on her first voyage to Hong Kong.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—The steamer Helene, Captain Nicholson, nine and one-half days from Honolulu has come to this port for repairs. A short time ago at one of the island ports the steamer's rudder was badly damaged by striking a rock. The rudder was temporarily repaired and this enabled the Helene to make the trip to San Francisco.
