CLOUDS ROLLING AWAY.

BRITAIN'S MARVELLOUS SPEED IN MUSTERING A FLEET.

Emperor William Did Not Mean a Threat of War—Friendly Request from America.

On January 8 it was reported in London that Dr. Jameson had been sentenced by the judges at Pretoria to be shot. Also that he would have been shot by a mob on the street, had the Boer commandant not threatened to shoot the first man who raised a rifle.

It was at that date believed that Emperor William's attitude toward Great Britain was deliberate and long and carefully planned. The Ashantee matter and Britain's support of Italy in Abyssinia are supposed to have caused the Emperor's resentment beforehand. To make matters worse between the two countries, it was supposed in London that the reported intention of President Krueger to demand an indemnity of $2,500,000, on account of Dr. Jameson's raid, was the outcome of the interview the Boer Secretary of State had in Berlin with Emperor William.

Great Britain was determined not to be caught unprepared for war. Orders were sent to Portsmouth, Devonport and Chatham for the immediate commissioning of a flying squadron of warships. It was to consist of the following six vessels; first-class battleships Revenge and Royal Oak, each of 14,500 tons; first-class steel cruisers Gibraltar, 7700 tons, and Thesens, 7350 tons, and the second-class steel cruisers Charybdis and Hermione, each 4360 tons. This squadron was to be ready for sea within six days, and later news shows it was ready a day earlier.

In addition Admiral Sir Frederick Geo. Denham Bedford, commanding the Cape of Good Hope and West Africa station, was ordered to proceed to Delagoa Bay, on Board the flagship St. George, a first class steel cruiser of the same tonnage and equipment as the Gibraltar. She was on her way there, accompanied by another cruiser, before the orders were made public in England. Admiral Bedford was instructed to report immediately what additional ships were necessary to reinforce his squadron and they would be sent him as promptly as possible. At the same time the greatest activity became manifest in the dockyards, and the Naval Reserve lists were being prepared for an emergency. The military authorities no longer attempted to conceal the fact that they were preparing for the possibility of war.

A dispatch to the Times from Berlin said it was explained that the intention of Geamany to send troops to the Transvaal was only for the protection of German residents, that no arrangement had been made previously with Portugal and, after hearing that Dr. Jameson had started, Germany only had time to telegraph an explanation of intended action to Lisbon. The news of Dr. Jameson's defeat arrived before Portugal had time to reply.

The London Chronicle had it upon authority that the German Council did not fully approve of Emperor William's telegraphing to President Krueger, but the Emperor insisted upon having his own way, and handed the message himself to the telegraph bureau, ordering that a copy of it be imparted to the semi official journals.

On the 10th it was announced that a second squadron was to be commissioned, and the combined fleet thus mobilized would form the most powerful one ever put afloat. It would consist of eight teen battleships and cruisers, with fifteen torpedo-boat catchers, and the number might be increased

THE VENEZUELA MATTER

UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN COMING TO TERMS.

Arbitration Resolution in Congress—The London Times Wants Cleveland to Give Crespo a Hint.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Representative Towne, of Minnesota, today, presented a resolution directing the Foreign Affairs Committee to report on the advantage and practicability of the establishment of a permanent court of international arbitration, representing the United States and the British Empire, with jurisdiction extending to all controversies between the two governments, except those involving the honor or the autonomy of one of the parties. Also a resolution directing the President, if not incompatible with public interests, to enter into negotiations with Great Britain, with a view to the speedy and amicable adjustment of the definite location of the boundary line between this country and the possessions of Great Britain from Lake Superior to the Lake of the Woods. Both resolutions were referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee.

London, Jan. 13.—The Westminster Gazette, this afternoon, touching upon the misunderstanding between Great Britain and the United States, says it sees a distinct break in the clouds, and hopes that a satisfactory settlement to Great Britain will be effected with Venezuela direct, and intimates that the Brazilian Minister is closely identified with the last proposed solution of the controversy.

London, Jan. 14.—An editorial in the Times this morning suggests that a strong hint from the United States to President Crespo would be opportune, to convince him of the grotesqueness of the idea that America will support any demands Venezuela chooses to make. "England," says the Times, "is willing for a direct settlement, but Venezuela must take the initiative. The obvious course is for Venezuela to ask the United States to place her once more in communication with Great Britain. If President Cleveland acceded to such a request, it would go far to restore the feelings of amity that subsisted between England and the United States prior to his Message. We are gratified at the spirit displayed by America in face of Germany's attitude and it is remarkably encouraging that Washington sought England's good offices in the Transvaal."

The Chronicle says: "There is reason to believe that England will endeavor to resume negotiations with Venezuela on the basis of a consideration of the rights to the settled districts lying between British Guiana and Venezuela. The question of the actual line of demarkation would be made subordinate to preliminary investigation as to the settlement."

BELFAST, January 14.—A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held today which approved the draft of a letter to the New York Chamber of Commerce in the sense of the proposal of the New York Chamber for the settlement for the Venezuelan question.

Symptoms—"No," he said firmly, "no more beer for me. That last glass took too firm a hold." "Why, you don't show it." "Mebbe I don't, outwardly; but I know when I get to enjoying hearing that band playing Wagner I'm due to stop."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Auntie—Well, Effie, did you enjoy your party last night? Effie—Very much, thank you, Auntie. Auntie—And I suppose mamma was there to look after you? Effie—Oh, no. Mamma and I don't belong to the same set!—Punch.

SATURDAY'S FIELD DAY.

A SUCCESSFUL MEETING BUT THE ATTENDANCE WAS LIGHT.

Interest and Betting Both Centered on the Match Race Between Billy C. and Confederate.

The attendance at Saturday's Field Day of the Honolulu Athletic Association was only fair, although quite a number visited the track later in the afternoon to witness the match race between Billy C. and Confederate. Those who did go out to Kapiolani Park enjoyed a very fair afternoon's sport. Some of the events were tame but others exciting enough to please any body.

At 2 o'clock the riders in the one-mile novelty bicycle race were called up. They were G. A. Martin, Sam Johnson, P. Lishman, Chas. Williams, F. Damon and R. Southgate, but the race from start to finish was between Martin and Lishman, the former winning by less than a yard. Time 3:24 1-5.

The 100-yard handicap running race was won by W. C. Cummings, E. Hapai second. Time 10 3 5.

The half-mile boys bicycle handicap looked as if it belonged to A. B. Giles, but Fred Iaukea put on a spurt about fifty yards from the post and won easily in 1:25 2-5.

The quarter-mile handicap running race was won easily by Tom Pryce in 54 2-5 seconds.

The one-mile handicap bicycle race brought out all the crack riders. It was won by Angus who finished a yard ahead of Dexter and three of Giles. The finish was hotly contested. Time 1:14 2-5.

The running high jump handicap went to E. Hapai, with 5 feet 2 inches, which breaks the Hawaiian record.

The three minute class one-mile bicycle race was won by F. Damon in 2:45 1-5, to the surprise of everyone.

The 220 yard handicap running race was won easily by E. Hapai in 24 3-5 seconds, with J. Spencer second.

The half-mile handicap running race was won by George Clark in 2:18 4-5, E. F. Beardmore second.

The one-mile bicycle handicap turned out to be a surprise, as the good riders were all left away in the rear by P. Lishman and F. Damon, who had 67 yards start. The race at the finish between these two was very close, but Lishman crossed the wire first in 2:25.

The 120-yard hurdle handicap went to H. Hapai in 18 2-5 seconds.

The running broad jump took up some time. There were three entries, E. Hapai allowing the other two ten inches. His best jump was 18 feet 9 1/2 inches, but W. Cummings won the match with 18 feet 4 inches.

The one-mile novelty bicycle race was won by Ruby Dexter, who defeated Angus by a magnificent spurt at the wire. This was a race in which the combination did not work to perfection. The time was 2:42 1/2. In the first three quarters Giles was ahead, the time being: first quarter .43; second 1:20; third 2:02 1/2.

In the one mile handicap running race only four men showed up. It was an easy victory for W. Chamberlain, with B. F. Beardmore second. Time 5:34 2-5.

The three mile lap bicycle race created considerable interest; three points being allowed the winner of each lap, two to the second and one to the third. Angus was first in each lap, the yellow combination shutting out Dexter each time at the wire. Time 9:03 2-5.

The first heat in the match race between Billy C and Confederate was next on the program, and the horses were sent off at the first attempt by starter Wilson. Captain Tripp, Seeley Shaw and Captain Griffiths acted as judges for the race. Billy C took the lead at the start and maintained it to the end, beating Confederate at the wire by a length. Time .52. The second heat was a repetition of the first, Billy C crossing the wire half a length ahead. Both heats were hotly contested from beginning to end, and the result shows the Cornwell horse to be the better of the two.

The prize for putting the 16lb shot was taken by Tom Pryce, who threw it 27 feet 7 inches.

In the half-mile scrub horse race there were eleven entries, Harold Dillingham's Langford Jr winning easily in 58 seconds. This horse was subsequently matched against W. T. Monsarrat's Shenandoah, the latter winning.

The Cuban War.

Havana, Jan. 14.—The most exciting news from the front this morning was received about noon and was in a shape which prevented its accuracy from being denied. The sound of continued artillery firing was heard south of Rincon, not far from Belfueal, the town which was attacked by the insurgents yesterday, with the result that according to the official statement of the affair, they were forced to retreat after a heroic resistance on the part of the Government force defending that place, the battle lasting, it is claimed, five hours. But it is admitted that the insurgents plundered stores in the outlying streets of Belfueal, burned a number of houses, and destroyed the railroad depot by fire.

MEREDITH'S OLD COAT.

FIRST PRESENTATION OF MR. ALLDERDICE'S COMEDY.

Independence Hall Crowded and the Play Well Received—Benefit of Kawaiahao Church.

As previously stated, all the seats in Independence Park hall were sold in advance for the amateur performance on Saturday night. The weather being fine, therefore, it is unnecessary to say that the place was crowded. In the construction of the temporary stage and mounting of the play there was nothing left to be desired, but enjoyment of the performance was somewhat detracted from by the level floor of the hall. It was an illustration of the need of restoring the burned opera house.

"Meredith's Old Coat" is the title of the comedy presented, and its author is Mr. Alderdice of the U. S. S. Bennington, who took a leading character in the cast. The plot is built upon the disappearance of an old coat belonging to the junior member of the law firm of Brown & Meredith. Before the garment went missing the senior member had it on by mistake long enough to place an important document in a pocket, while its owner similarly disposed of two $500 bills that he had borrowed from his partner to pay the expenses of his coming marriage to Ethel Wood. An Irish servant girl, who tended the office, went through the pockets and found the money. Her astonishment at finding so much wealth thus carelessly deposited was not, however, greater than her honesty and she was just returning the bills when a knock was heard on the door. In her flurry she failed to find the pocket quickly enough, so she hastily stowed the money away in her own clothes to await a better opportunity. By and by Ethel Wood came in and spirited the coat away to serve as a pattern for making a smoking jacket for her affianced. Lieutenant Hartwell had been shown by Meredith to a dressing room, where he could dress and shave in preparation for a dinner party. He was not known to any of the other people excepting Gwendolen Wood, to whom he had been engaged for three days two years previously. Inadvertently showing himself in the office before his toilet was completed, besides incidentally furnishing much amusement he fell under suspicion as thief of the coat through information given to the detectives. An unsealed letter left in the coat by Meredith was addressed on the envelope to Mrs. George Meredith, Antigua, W. I. This missive falling into the hands of Ethel, her engagement to Meredith breaks up in a violent storm, in which the fiancée gives her lover no chance for an explanation. An amusing incident in the play is the joining of old man Wood, after deceitful maneuvers to put Mrs. Wood off the track, in a champagne supper with three ballet girls, the other male roysterers being Brown the lawyer and Lieut. Hartwell. The fun of it was that Wood had only the same day, at the supposed desire of his wife, stormily refused the hand of his daughter Gwendolen to the lieutenant on account of the latter's bad habits. In the denouement the coat has come back, Bridget gets a chance to slip the $1000 back into a pocket of it, and there are explanations that serve to repair the broken engagements. With the foregoing synopsis it is only necessary to give the cast of characters as follows for showing everybody's place in the play:

Mr. Montgomery Wood, President of the Cigarmakers National Bank.
 Mrs. Montgomery Wood, Mrs. Graham, President of the Wood family.
 Miss Ethel Wood, Miss May Atkinson, Miss Grenadiers Wood, Miss Molly Atkinson, Their Daughters.
 Mr. Thaddeus Brown, Mr. Mays, Senator of Brown & Meredith, attorney-at-law.
 Mr. George Meredith, Mr. Potter, Junior of the same, and sole owner of the Coat.
 Lieut. Reginald Hartwell, U.S.N., Mr. Alderice, Meredith's friend, just back from China.
 Miss Bridget Mulligan, Miss McGrew, A creature of brooms and dustpans.
 Mr. Michael Hoollihan, Dr. Nichols, Of the Metropolitan Police.
 Mr. Kempston, Mr. Addison, Clerk to Brown and Meredith.
 William, Mr. Mackintosh, Tiger and Buttons in the Wood household.
 Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Gunn, A dressmaker.

It is not usual to analyze the performances of amateurs strictly, especially upon the first performance of a new play, but it is quite proper to indicate marked excellence and not unkind to note faults that should be corrected. Mr. Alderice was certainly the star of the company. His imperturbable calmness and complete submergence of self-consciousness in the character assumed were features of the performance that went far toward removing its amateur complexion. There is a good deal of humor in the character and Mr. Alderice allowed none of it to be lost in the interpretation. His comrades of the Bennington—Messrs. Speyers, Mayo and Addison—played their respective roles well, especially where they had to sustain comical or perplexing situations. Mr. Potter, of the town contingent, carried the title role. He was animated enough and his elocution was not bad, but he showed he needed more practice before the footlights to get rid of a show of effort, and his pronunciation was faulty in a few instances. The Misses Atkinson gave charming renditions of their respective parts, evincing a possession of the artistic talent that is capable of concealing art. They spoke their lines well and executed their business with graceful unconsciousness of their own personality. Miss McGrew had the comic role among the ladies and, at her every entry, kept the audience in merry spirits. Her character action was superb and only her Milesian brogue was rather sharply defined. Mrs. Graham's character was not a difficult one to sustain, but one liable to be overdone to save it from tameness. The general opinion will probably be that it was on this occasion acted up to the author's intended standard. The other performers had subordinate parts and it suffices to say that they rendered excellent support.

It was evident from the signs given that the audience was pleased with the performance throughout. There will be no doubt of the pleasure that comes to the trustees of Kawaiahao church, as the receipts net $400 for their building fund. The comedy will be repeated tomorrow evening.

Wirth's Circus.
 Both at the matinee and evening performances on Saturday the circus tent was packed with people. There was a large percentage of children in the afternoon, but the larger portion of the crowd which filled the canvas at night were grown folks.
 A better show was given than any time since they first arrived here; a number of entirely new acts being introduced, all of which were good. Tonight a new show will be given and Wednesday night will be the last performance.
 This company deserve the liberation they have had while on the Islands, having brought a good show and fulfilled all obligations. The band of the troupe serve a compliment. They have a very difficult part to fill, especially Mr. McMahon the conductor, on account of the rapid changes necessary to cover all the acts.

OBSERVATIONS.

It is gratifying to observe young Hawaiians holding their own in athletic sports with the youth of foreign nationality.

Honolulu for its size can assemble as bright and congenial an audience at a refined public entertainment as any town that can be named.

Readers will appreciate the full summary of foreign news given in this issue from the Canadian mail, especially as that mail does not bring the usual newspapers by which a large number of the people keep themselves well informed on the world's current events.

The silver lining to the war clouds that have lately appeared above the horizon is to be seen in the good understanding that seems to be rapidly developing between the United States and Great Britain for an amicable and at the same time just settlement of the Venezuela boundary question.

It is to be regretted that Honolulu's amateur histrionic talent is not so often in evidence as its musical talent. There is doubtless just as abundant a supply of the former as the latter. Probably the chief reason for the disparity in degree of development is in the fact that, while there is always locally present a professional contingent of musicians to teach the art, as well as to assist in public performances, there is no circle of professional Thespians here to do either for the drama.

German residents are to be congratulated upon the thirty-seventh anniversary of the birth of Emperor William. Above all else the Kaiser is a patriot who esteems the dignity and integrity of the Empire as the most sacred trusts of the imperial sceptre. At the beginning of his reign nearly eight years ago he rather imitated the example of the King of Israel, in rejecting the counsels of the elders of the nation, but he has done much since in a cordial way to repair the breaches thus made. While with increasing years he has exhibited a marked maturing of mind and judgment, he has lost none of his courage in dealing with either home or foreign affairs. The manner in which he has just now stood up for the rights of the Transvaal republic may be criticized by international politicians, but the motive of his action to which he stoutly adheres cannot fail to win the universal approbation of his own people. Long live the Emperor William!

Great Britain's most chronic grumblers are deprived of indulgence in their ancient chestnut, "the decadence of the navy," by the marvellous rapidity with which she gathered a prodigious fleet all ready for action, the middle of this month.

CHEFA AND THE BIBLE.

Pretended Salvation Army Convert in a Bad Business.

Sam Kalalulu was arrested this morning on a charge of peddling chefa tickets. Sam pretended to be a Salvation army convert and went about from house to house, ostensibly on the business of saving souls, but in reality to peddle and collect chefa tickets. He was captured by Detective Kanpa this morning while on his rounds.

Sam's principal stock in trade was an old Bible and a religious appearance. He had both with him this morning when the detective tapped him on the shoulder and arrested him. On looking through the Bible at the Station House twenty-three chefa tickets were found concealed in its leaves. Upon being searched $8.80 in chicken feed was found upon Sam's person, which is supposed to represent the morning's sales of tickets.

Other evidence in the leaves of the Bible led to the arrest of Lono later on by the same officer. Lono yielded up $7.80, nearly all in five-cent pieces, upon being searched. He is accused of being the proprietor of the game and Sam as his agent. They are both being cared for by turnkey Evans, until their trial tomorrow.

Salvation Army Trouble.

The New York Press on Jan. 15 said: Salvation Army men and lassies received a violent shock when it was rumored that an order had come from General Booth in London to the effect that his son and daughter-in-law, Commander and Mrs. Ballington Booth, must relinquish their American leadership at the end of March. It is supposed that the sore point with the London authorities has been the strenuous efforts made by the leaders to Americanize the movement. The commander and his wife recently became American citizens, and have now a large proportion of Americans in the ranks of their paid officers. The removal of the two popular leaders, will, it is feared, cause a large withdrawal of financial help. Commander Booth refuses to say whether such an order has been received. His friends say that if the decree comes, he may resist. Nearly all the property, including the headquarters building in Fourteenth Street, is in his absolute possession.

Called on the Consul.

Consul J. F. Hackfeld and Paul Isenberg Sr. of the firm of H. Hackfeld & Co. kept open house today from 12 to 2 o'clock, in celebration of the Emperor William's birthday. An elegant collation was set out in the Consul's office and visitors were invited to drink the Emperor's health in sparkling champagne. Prominent among the numerous callers were the United States Minister and British Commissioner, Charge d' Affaires Canavaro of Portugal and acting Commissioner Vizavona of France, Captain Pigman and officers of the Bennington, the foreign consuls and leading merchants of the city. The absence of the band made the occasion much quieter than similar ones.

PRESIDENT OF VENEZUELA AND OTHER INTERESTING MATTERS.

President Crespo of Venezuela is a tall, heavy man, with a countenance revealing force and determination. He is very abstemious in his habit and generally goes to bed at 8 o'clock in the evening. He is in the habit of summoning his Ministers to him at sunrise. He is fond of cattle-ranching, and owns a large number of acres not far from the Venezuelan capital. He is a fine equestrian and has an unlimited amount of backbone. He also knows a good thing when a friend puts him on to it. If he lived in Honolulu he would be one of the first to call at the store of the Hawaiian Hardware Company and examine some of that fine cutlery just received by the last Australia. Beyond question we have now displayed on our shelves and in our windows and showcases the finest lot of cutlery ever brought to these Islands.

One of those fine carving sets with ivory or buckhorn handles in handsome plush cases would be just the thing to take the fancy of President Crespo or his great and good friend Grover Cleveland. We have also smaller sets of carvers, designed for game and tete-a-tete dinners.

In the matter of Knives we have a new stock of everything in the line, comprising butter, kitchen, skinning, dessert, table, putty medium, hunting and pocket knives in an almost bewildering variety.

Those little pearl-handled butter knives are dandies and you will want one as soon as you see them.

Another useful little article is a pocket nail-cleaner and file, which is a novelty and quite cheap.

We are entirely out of bicycles, having closed out our entire stock last week. We expect a big lot of the 1896 model of the Tribune and Monarch wheels by the next steamer and shall be pleased to take your order in advance.

We have also on hand a fresh supply of Fresh coffee pots, which sell like hot cakes.

CLOUDS ROLLING AWAY.

before the time of the rendezvous. Until that day the German press had not made much notice of the British warlike preparations, considering them as a political and precautionary rather than a war measure.

The news of the formation of a second fleet, however, caused considerable comment in Berlin. Some significance was attached to the large number of torpedo-boat catchers, as the only point of superiority of the German navy over the British is in the number of torpedo boats.

Workmen in the dockyards toiled at night by electric light. The Government ordered the stores of small cartridges increased from 15,000,000 to 150,000,000. The wages account alone increased by $400,000. To meet the increased expenditure a bill was to be presented, immediately on the opening of Parliament, to devote the estimated surplus of several million pounds to naval expenses.

About this time a change to a more peaceable tone was remarked in the German press. Great importance was attached to an article in the Hamburger Nachrichten, which is said to have been directly inspired by Prince Bismarck, which directly disapproves of the Government's attitude and adds: "The duty of the Government is more to defend the internal and external peace of the country against disturbances, than to promote foreign enterprises."

The London Times on the 11th said, with regard to Germany's attitude: "If all of the outcry is meaningless, we are well content to have been roundly abused. The warning has proved a useful object lesson, showing that England is united and prepared to defend her interest."

The Daily Telegraph of the same date had a dispatch from Berlin which said: "On Wednesday, a special messenger brought an autograph letter from the Queen to the Emperor, whose reply is by now in the Queen's hands. The Emperor remarked to his entourage that he replied in a manner which he believed would prove acceptable to the Queen. It is believed that in brief, graceful terms the Emperor confirms the assurance already given by his responsible ministers that he had no intention of casting a slur upon England's dignity."

"Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's correct attitude is greatly appreciated in official circles here and the Emperor has expressed his admiration of the management by Sir Francis Lascelles, the British Ambassador at Berlin, of the difficult situation."

Great Britain is seriously and steadily preparing for war on a very large scale at sea and on land against Germany or against Germany, France and Russia should they combine against her, says a London dispatch of the 11th. The Emperor William threw down the gauntlet, it was promptly picked up and energetic steps immediately taken by the British Government to back up action by a most imposing display of sea power. It is added that the events of the week had crowded the Venezuela incident almost out of recollection.

"The gravity of the situation may be estimated from the fact that it is asserted that never before in the history of the nations has there been witnessed so powerful a naval armament as is shortly to be assembled in these waters ready for attack or defence against Germany or against the combined powers of Europe. The fleet being made ready for battle is composed exclusively of the very fastest and newest of the British warships afloat and will be ready for sea on Tuesday next.

The report that letters had passed between Emperor William and Queen Victoria is confirmed in Berlin. It is claimed that the correspondence was not altogether conciliatory, the Emperor having made the statement that, while not intending to offend England in any way, he is still of the opinion that Dr. Jameson's raid was criminal and worthy of condemnation.

An official of the German Foreign Office said: "No serious trouble is expected. The main quarrel is one picked by the British press and not by the British Government. Germany insists simply on the status quo, which will suffice for the Transvaal to develop its independence and resources. All speculation beyond that is baseless. In insisting upon the independence of the Transvaal, Germany is backed by the whole of Europe, and Great Britain does not dare to disregard this warning to keep her hands off the soil of that brave little nation."

The London Times of the 13th says it can only truly be said that immediate danger has been averted, but all the evils and terrors which made the disturbance in the Transvaal, with or without Dr. Jameson, still remain unsettled.

On the other hand, the Standard, the mouthpiece of the Conservatives, and very close to the Government, says: "We are enabled to state that President Krueger has not demanded any change in the treaty stipulations," etc., and later on says: "We are authorized to declare the Emperor's telegram to President Krueger was at most, an expression of feeling of momentary irritation which is now past, leaving the relations between Germany and England as friendly as heretofore."

The Pall Mall Gazette invokes the gratitude of Great Britain to Emperor William "for arousing the patriotism of the country, thus leading to a better understanding with the United States."

The Westminster Gazette repeats the assertion that there has been an understanding arrived at between Great Britain and France, and points to the settlement of the Mekong dispute as being the first fruit of this entente.

The Globe says it thinks the pacific completion of the Venezuela question will be due to the Emperor William, adding: "The moment the German sword rattled, Brother Jonathan ceased to finger his revolver. Secretary Olney's appeal regarding the Transvaal, coming from the author of the engagement of the Monroe doctrine, is an olive branch, nor has reciprocity in friendship been lacking on our side."

The latter reference is to a request made by the United States Government, that Great Britain should watch the interests of American citizens in the Transvaal.

The first-class battleship Revenge, the flagship of the Flying Squadron, carrying 732 officers and men, Rear-Admiral Alfred T. Dale, in command; the first-class battleship Royal Oak, the first-class cruiser Gibraltar, and the torpedo catchers Handy, Hart and Havre, were commissioned at Portsmouth 9 o'clock on the 14th. The usual salutes were fired, which made the scene very effective.

These vessels were under orders, and would be ready to leave the harbor as soon as possible. They were to await the arrival of the other portion of the Flying Squadron, coming from Chatham and Devonport, consisting of the first-class cruiser Theseus, second-class cruisers Charybdis and Hermione, and three first-class torpedo catchers, carrying over 2,000 officers and men. All the last-named vessels were also commissioned the same morning.

Five battleships, six cruisers, a torpedo depot ship and a torpedo boat of the British Mediterranean squadron, have arrived at Malta.

"One effect of the present crisis," says a London dispatch, has been to impress Englishmen with a sense of the marvellous diplomatic scent of Paul Krueger, the Boer President. The admiration felt by Englishmen for the South Africa executive, finds abundant expression, even in the face of the sharp reverse he has administered to their policy and their hearty admiration for Dr. Jameson. Sir Charles Dilke declared in a speech today that President Krueger has few rivals among modern diplomats.

Constantinople, Jan. 14.—According to the information collected by the embassies, 3,000 Armenians were killed at Oriah on December 28th and 29th, and at Bredjin, Roumkale and Djibire 600 were killed.

Rome, Jan. 14.—Advices from Massowah say that the Italians inflicted another defeat upon the Abyssinians at Makalleh on Monday. The Italian newspapers announce that England has ceded Zeilab, on the Strait of Bab el Mandeb to Italy.

Rio de Janeiro, Jan. 15.—The Brazilian Government has concluded a contract for the immigration of 100,000 foreigners, Italians being excluded from the provisions of the contract.

Berlin, Jan. 14.—The North German Gazette declares that no communications on the Transvaal question of an apologetic character have been sent to London from authoritative sources in Germany.

It was understood that Admiral Dale was under orders to take the flying squadron, on Saturday, from Spithead to Birmahaven, on the southeast coast of Ireland, with sealed orders relative to the future movements of his vessels. The officers and men are all prepared for a long absence from England. In some quarters it is believed a tour of the world is contemplated.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY. Live Specimens of the Pearl Oyster in Pearl Harbor.

John F. Colburn has discovered live specimens of the pearl oyster, from the former abundance there of which the water took its name, in Pearl River lagoon. A BULLETIN reporter saw one of the live oysters and a half shell at Mr. Colburn's office to-day. They are clearly distinct in appearance from the imported oysters being cultivated by Mr. Colburn in his fish ponds at Pearl Harbor.

It was in the time of Kamehameha V., or about a quarter century ago, that the pearl oyster, once existing in millions there, disappeared from sight in Pearl Harbor. The natives in old times got lots of pearl oysters there.

Mr. Colburn also fished up shells of imported oysters planted in the lagoon by A. W. Bush, late stepfather of H. F. Poor, about a score of years ago. They were a failure and Mr. Colburn has told Agricultural Commissioner Marsden that the oysters planted there by him will not live, on account of the too great salinity of the water.

Country Postmaster Gone Wrong. It is learned that the postmaster of a small office on Hawaii was lately discovered to be short in his accounts to the tune of $750. As the official was making strenuous efforts at last accounts to make up the amount, and had succeeded to within $250, his name is withheld for the present. He is a prominent native Hawaiian, and the cause assigned for his difficulty is "too many irons in the fire." The discovery was made by J. D. Paris, school agent of North Kona, who is a sort of confidential supervisor of Government affairs in that district.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Proceedings in Judge de la Vergne's Court this Morning.

Six drunks pleaded guilty this morning, including one female, and received the usual fine of $2 and costs.

Andy Brown said he was not drunk and demanded a trial. Two witnesses testified that he was helplessly drunk on the corner of Nuuanu and King street on Saturday evening and was not even able to walk to the Station House.

The defendant said he was not drunk, but was subject to fits. A horse jammed him up against the wall and he sat down on the bench to recover himself. He had no money to get drunk with and couldn't possibly do so, as he had no credit. He acknowledged he had been in jail before for drunkenness, and the Court sent him there again until he works out a fine of $3 and costs.

Olelo pleaded guilty of assaulting another native and was fined $15 and costs.

Pipulani, who is charged with stealing a miscellaneous collection of articles, among which were a mosquito net, a pair of spurs and a large hammer, pleaded not guilty and got his trial postponed till tomorrow.

The balance of the morning session was taken up with the trial of Kepano for stealing $3.50 from the money drawer of a Mauakea street store. The prosecution concluded its case at noon and the trial was postponed.

The charge of assault with a dangerous weapon against A. M. Hewett was nolle pros'd, and the defendant pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of assault and battery on one Wing On with a stone, and was fined $30 and $3 costs.

WIRTH'S CIRCUS

The management must here record that no better testimony of the appreciative sense of the public has been evinced with such cordiality and warmth as that manifested toward us since our opening, and the ovation plaudits given to every artist and the highly educated horses was simply more genuine, louder and vociferous, night after night than an audience ever bestowed on any circus performance ever given in Honolulu.

TONIGHT MONDAY, And Wednesday Night, THE LAST 2 PERFORMANCES

Will be given in Honolulu, Arrangements having been completed so that the Circus can visit Kauai.

TO-NIGHT! Another Monster Program, Terminating by request with the sensational equestrian spectacle

COFFEE ESTATE AND LANDS For Sale.

I am directed to sell at Public Auction on Wednesday, May 27, '96, at 12 o'clock noon of said day at my sales rooms on Queen street, in Honolulu (unless sooner disposed of at private sale) the following described property, namely:

A tract of land of about 2,500 acres in fee simple situate at Kolo and Ololeomona I in South Kona, Island of Hawaii, about eight miles by a good road from Hookea, one of the largest villages in Kona. There is an excellent landing on the land itself from where the coffee and other produce could be shipped and a good site for a mill near the landing.

Fifty acres of land are in coffee. Roughly estimated there is about seven hundred acres of splendid coffee land lying all on one block on both sides of the Government Road. Eight hundred acres lying above and to the East of the seven hundred acres above mentioned is also excellent land and although at a higher altitude is no doubt also well adapted for coffee culture. The lower land below the coffee belt is suitable for pineapples and sisal.

There is a drying house, store and work-rooms, a Gordon's Pulper, laborers' quarters and water tanks at the plantation, and the land is partly walled. There has never been any blight on this land, although coffee was planted a great many years ago. Old residents of Kona like the late D. H. Nahinu, J. W. Kuamoku and others have testified to this fact. There is a sea fishery appurtenant to Ololeomona I.

Terms cash or part of the purchase price can remain on mortgage at eight per cent per annum. Deeds and stamps at the expense of purchaser.

A map of the property can be seen and further particulars obtained at my sales rooms.

New Chinese Stamps.

The Wuhu Post Office has issued a new set of stamps, which the Post Master has kindly sent us. This new set numbers ten. The half-cent and fifteen-cent stamps have two pelicans; the former violet and the latter red. The one cent and twenty-cent stamps have the Chinese character Wuhu; the former is blue, the latter carmine. Another half-cent stamp and a five cent bears Chinese characters meaning "prosperity" etc.; the former is orange and the latter green. The six cent and forty cent have a stag's head, the former is brown, the latter is red. The two cent and ten cent have an owl (which is supposed to be crying out "Whoo Ho") the former is green, the latter carmine. They are a very pretty set and no doubt stamp collectors will make a rush for them.—Celestial Empire.

Only a Scar Remains

Scrofula Cured—Blood Purified by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "It is with pleasure that I send a testimonial concerning what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for my daughter. It is a wonderful medicine and I cannot recommend it too highly. Sarah, who is fourteen years old, has been Afflicted With Scrofula ever since she was one year old. For five years she has had a running sore on one side of her face. We tried every remedy recommended, but nothing did her any good until we commenced using Hood's Sarsaparilla. My married daughter advised me to use Hood's Sarsaparilla because it had cured her of dyspepsia. She had been troubled with that complaint since childhood, and since her cure she has never been without a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. We commenced giving it to Sarah about one year ago, and it has conquered the running sore,

Only a Scar Remaining as a trace of the dreadful disease. Previous to taking the medicine her eyesight was affected but now she can see perfectly. In connection with Hood's Sarsaparilla we have used Hood's Vegetable Pills, and find them the best." Mrs. MARIA GRIFFIN, Xenia, Illinois.

STRATHNEVIN SALVAGE SUITS.

Depositions of the Mineola's Crew Have Been Taken.

TACOMA, January 6.—It is believed now that the Strathnevin salvage suits will be tried at the February term of the Federal Court here. Court Commissioner Worden this afternoon commenced taking the depositions of the officers of the steamship Mineola, which towed the Strathnevin from Destruction island to Port Townsend and later libeled the ship for $150,000. The witnesses examined were the chief engineer, first and second officers and a seaman. Eight or ten more witnesses will be examined tomorrow. No details were brought out other than have been printed in the papers.

Depositions in the Miowera's suit cannot be taken before the record of the ship's log is received from Honolulu. Attorney E. C. Hughes, who is here from Seattle representing the Miowera's owners, says that they expect to receive word from Honolulu not later than January 16th that the Miowera reached that port all right.

Tacoma, Jan. 7.—The examination of witnesses in behalf of the steamship Mineola, libellant of the steamer Strathnevin, was continued to-day before United States Commissioner Worden. The evidence was all in by noon, allowing the steamer Mineola to depart for Honolulu. The salvage claim of the Mineola is $150,000. The case will be tried here during the February term of court.

TO ALL WHO USE PAINT:

The undersigned, L. C. Ables and H. P. Walton, purchased from Charles J. Wagner, the inventor of Peerless Preserving Paint, the exclusive right to manufacture, use and sell the PEERLESS PRESERVING PAINT in the Hawaiian Islands.

On the 26th day of September, 1895, the Republic of Hawaii granted to L. C. Ables and H. P. Walton, a patent No. 110, granting them the exclusive right to make, use and vend PEERLESS PRESERVING PAINT throughout the Hawaiian Islands.

Trade Mark for Peerless Preserving Paint. The Republic of Hawaii has also granted to L. C. Ables and H. P. Walton the exclu- sive use of the words PEERLESS PRESERVING PAINT as a trade mark throughout the Re- public of Hawaii for the term of 20 years.

Imitation. Certain parties in San Francisco have recently been sending to Honolulu under the name of PEERLESS PRESERVING PAINT a spurious article not only inferior to the genuine paint, but one which is positively injurious to any metal to which it may be applied.

Beware of Fraud. We hereby warn all persons against being defrauded into using any but the genuine PEERLESS PRESERVING PAINT, which can be obtained only of Ables and Walton.

Warning Against Infringement. We also hereby warn all persons against buying, selling or using any article under the name of Peerless Preserving Paint, except that sold by us, as when buying, selling or using will be a direct infringement of our patent and trade mark, and a violation of our rights, subjecting the persons buying, selling or using such paint to a claim for damages by us in accordance with the Hawaiian Law.
